

Kiwans Meet

(Continued from Page One) was described by him as the largest in the country. Boys from 12 to 20 are sent there only as a last resort when they have proved incorrigible. He told how a boy is brought to the home, usually by a strapping sheriff. The boy is then searched, his belongings put in a vault, his dungarees and trousers given to him. At meal time he is taught to stand by count and to eat by count.

Boys are put into school and visit shops where they can choose a trade to learn so that when released they will be self-supporting. They are assigned to cottages and go to bed promptly at 8:00 P. M. under bright lights and are heavily guarded. They have daily military drill and those who merit may indulge in athletics.

He declared his "theoretical ideas" and M. A. degree in sociology, he found to be utterly no good without experience, and that of his best friend had been killed by inmates. He taught school with a black jack strapped to his wrist, he said, and earned such a reputation for discipline that Governor John Bricker put him in charge of discipline over all Ohio penal institutions. Ninety percent of the boys committed crime no trouble, he said, but the other 10 percent have to be disciplined.

Boys who had the choice of 15 lashes with the heavy leather paddle or five days extra time, invariably chose the paddle. Making them stand face to the wall under strict military discipline for long periods proved the last of effective discipline, he said.

J. Martin Stinchper sang several songs with Harry Kudell accompanying. Prof. Glenn E. McKay and B. E. Black were welcomed as guests.

Dewey Speech

He added that "we have seen nation after nation crumble before it. We see its active revolutionaries in our own hemisphere and here in the United States we find its organs of propaganda and its tightly organized agents, vastly more powerful than their numbers, using fellow travelers in every way of life."

Dewey said the American Legion "as a group, have long and vigorously fought this menace of Communism."

War Bride

(Continued from Page One) only a few months ago from her native Britain, where she had met and married Poland, said she had no plans for returning to her home.

"I'd like to stay over here," she said. Poland, a cook at the Army's Eglin Field near here, was shot to death in front of the Fort Walton restaurant where his wife had worked. She said he had started suit for divorce, sent their baby away and threatened her life.

She said her first move in the attempt to get custody of her child would be to talk with her father-in-law, C. T. Poland, who came here unexpectedly for the grand jury inquiry from Kentucky.

Teachers Meet

Long debates were held in the House and Senate before the bill was passed, she said, and told of opposition by some members of the appropriations committee. When the matter of raising the requirements of school superintendents to beyond the stage of being able to read and write, one senator termed it unconstitutional, she declared.

The legislators, however, did not heed the citizens' asked and now the teachers' salaries compare favorably with those of teachers in the middle west, she said. She stressed new health programs for children in schools, urged free summer schools and explained the teachers' retirement set up for those who are 50 or who have 25 years.

Oil Company Rocked By Explosion, Fire

WHITING, Ind., Aug. 28 (AP)—An explosion rocked a portion of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana's plant early today, causing the company to lose 24,000 barrels daily capacity in processing crude oil, company officials said.

One worker, Julius Kopaz, 52, of Whiting was missing as flames fought under control, then broke out again several hours later. Three workers, injured slightly, were given first aid treatment and returned to their jobs.

The explosion, which occurred in a pump house serving the company's No. 5 and 6 pipe stills, was heard for a radius of a mile from the blast. Within two hours, flames which followed the explosion were reported under control, but fire broke out again around 9:00 A. M. Company officials, however, said they believed plant firemen could curb the flames.

A company spokesman estimated damage at $75,000, and said that the cut in daily crude oil capacity necessitated by the damage was doubly severe because it was added to destruction of another daily 2400 barrels capacity suffered in another fire three weeks ago.

U N Meet

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko, speaking as a vote approached in the Security Council on the long-debated case, repeated that British troops should get off Egyptian soil as demanded by the Cairo government.

The Brazilian resolution, calling on Britain and Egypt to resume direct negotiations, was described as a means of sidestepping the veto and allowing the council to "wash its hands" of the case. Russia and Colombia were regarded as the key figures in the final voting. The Soviet Union has supported Egyptian demands for the immediate and unconditional removal of British troops, but had given no indication whether she might veto anything less.

Brazil has moved that Egypt and Britain resume negotiations for settlement of their dispute, which also hinges on the future of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. A preliminary unofficial lineup showed United States, China, Australia, Belgium and France behind the Brazilian resolution. Seven affirmative votes are required for passage, and Brazil looked to her Latin American neighbor, Colombia, for the decisive ballot.

Poland, a consistent voting partner of Russia, and Syria, a sister member of Egypt in the Arab League, are strongly opposed to the Brazilian move.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 28 (AP)—Police prohibited a meeting called tonight by the "committee for liberation of the Nile Valley," which proposed an immediate "national struggle" should the United Nations reject Egypt's demand for immediate withdrawal of British troops.

The committee, which asserted it included representatives of all political parties, met Tuesday and demonstrations followed. Members of the Muslim Brotherhood, who led violent anti-British and anti-American demonstrations last Friday, were to listen by radio today to proceedings of the Security Council hearing the Egyptian plea.

The Muslim brotherhood newspaper, El Ekwan El Moslemoun, asserted that British civilians had been instructed to prepare for swift departure from Egyptian cities in view of the UN's expected rejection of the Egyptian demand. The British embassy denied the report.

The newspaper said the British army had placed cities in the Suez Canal zone out of bounds to its troops because of tension and ordered all units to place mines around their camps.

Venetian glass workers were once confined to their own special island to prevent their secrets from being discovered by foreigners.

ing that there had been no epidemic where they had stayed. He praised the new school legislation as having more good than bad features.

Pope-Truman

The Pope continued: "The munificent charity shown by the American people to the suffering and oppressed in every part of the world is a fair token of their sincere desire for universal peace and prosperity. The vast world, we feel sure, share that desire, even in countries where free expression is smothered."

"God grant their forces may be united towards its realization." The President, declaring that "the tasks now confronting us are formidable," said:

"I am privileged to pledge full faith to you once again to work with Your Holiness and with every agency of good the world over for an enduring peace."

"An enduring peace," Mr. Truman asserted, "can be built only upon Christian principles. Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it."

"As a Christian nation our earnest desire is to banish war and the causes of war from the world. I believe that the greatest need of the world today is a renewal of faith in the dignity and worth of the human person in all lands. The times demand faith that is strong enough to struggle if need be for the right."

The Pontiff replied: "Once the state, to the exclusion of God, makes itself the source of the rights of the human person, man is forthwith reduced to the condition of a slave or a mere commodity of the order of God is overturned; and history surely makes it clear that the inevitable result of the subversion of order between peoples is war."

Citrus Ruling

Miller's office here will mail out 12,000 letters to individual growers, each containing a ballot, a copy of the proposed amendment and an envelope in which to return the marked ballot to the Leland office.

Permission has been obtained to use county agent offices in polling places where growers who did not receive a ballot by mail may obtain one and cast their all citrus-producing counties as vote.

Cooperatives will be permitted to submit ballots for their membership. Grower-shippers will be permitted to vote as growers, and also to sign as shippers.

Indian River growers and shippers have sought this amendment. Because of traditional differences in their marketing methods, compared with the remainder of Florida's citrus territory, they claim to have been penalized at times when shipping regulations which were beneficial to the rest of the state were applied also to them.

TO FETE PLAYERS

DELAND, Aug. 28. (Special)—Player appreciation night is scheduled tonight for the DeLand Red Hots when they meet the Gainesville G-Men at Conrad Park in DeLand. Nearly 1,800 fans are expected to witness the contest and the pre game festivities.

Great Salt Lake is the remnant of ancient Lake Bonneville which was once 850 deep where Salt Lake City now stands.

There are more than four times as many cattle in Nevada as there are people; population 110,247 with about 480,000 cattle.

Legion Meet Hears Armed Service Heads

Eisenhower Sees No Immediate War; Nimitz Discusses Unified Defense

By ALLAN FISHER
NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—American Legionnaires, their lengthy campaign for universal military training now backed by the bipartisan support of President Truman and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, today looked to the nation's top military leaders for further endorsement of peacetime conscription at the second session of the Legion's 29th Convention.

General J. W. Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, Army Chief of Staff, told American Legionnaires he saw no immediate threat of a global war but added that United States Armed Forces should be strong enough to make an aggressor realize war would "likely be fought over his territory."

Eisenhower said that "as long as deliberate aggression against the rights of free men and the existence of free government may be a part of the international whatever this may finally mean to us."

He declared "I do not want to be understood as adding a global war as an immediate threat" and added: "We must so gear ourselves that a predatory aggressor will be aware of the risks he runs and will realize, should he proceed."

Dutch To Accept Tendency Of UN Plan On Indonesia

THE HAGUE, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Netherlands government announced today it would accept the general tendency of United Nations Security Council resolutions on Indonesia.

The council voted Tuesday to extend its good offices and set up a council committee to investigate the differences between the Dutch and the Indonesian Republic.

The government said it would extend all facilities to assist at Batavia, Java, to investigate and report on the situation in the East Indies since the United Nations cease-fire order became effective at midnight Aug. 4.

Test Case Falls To Aid Deported Jews

LONDON, Aug. 29 (AP)—The High Court of Justice refused today to grant a writ of habeas corpus that would have prevented the British government from forcing 4,000 Jewish refugees, interned while trying to run the Palestine immigration blockade, to go to Germany.

The refugees now are en route to Hamburg in three British ships. The application, sponsored by the Jewish Agency, sought the writ on behalf of six of the refugees in a test case applicable to all the Jews.

Tax Report

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Census Bureau reported today that the 21 states collected $4,000,000,000 in state taxes during the 1947 fiscal year. Federal tax collections were $31,108,000,000 during the same period ended last June 30.

TWO DEADLY COPPERHEADS are held aloft by the Rev. Gordon Miller, pastor of a multi-cultist congregation at Summerville, Ga., as he preaches to his followers his faith in the sect's religion. The death of a member of Miller's flock, who died after drinking poison to show his faith, has caused the preacher's arrest on a murder warrant. (International)

Injured Prelate Is Placed Under Arrest

BEograd, Yugoslavia, Aug. 29 (AP)—President Vladimir Bakarić of the Croatian Republic was quoted by Tanjug, Yugoslav News Agency, today as saying that Sunday's mob attacks on Catholic priests in Venetia, Giulia resulted from a ruling by certain priests that persons classified as "enemies of the church" would be barred from acting as godfathers at confirmation ceremonies.

Bakarić was quoted as saying that Mgr. Jakob Ukmar, a Venetian prelate who was injured in the attacks after being sent to the area to administer confirmation to Catholic children when local priests experienced hostility, had been placed under arrest, and that "together with other participants in the incidents and their organizers" he would be turned over to the courts.

Big 4 Meet On Korean Issue Urged By U. S.

Note To Russia Suggests Sept. 8 Date; State Department Reveals Proposals

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—The United States called today for a four-power conference to speed Korean independence.

The request was made in a new note to Moscow saying that the present deadlock on a joint Russian-American commission to arrange for a provisional government cannot, in this country's opinion, continue.

"The United States government can not in good conscience be a party to any such delay in the fulfillment of its commitment to Korean independence and proposes that the four powers adhering to the Moscow agreement meet to consider how that agreement may be speedily carried out," the note said.

It suggested that conversations on the problem begin Sept. 8. Nations participating in the Moscow conference on Korea were the United States, Britain, Russia and China.

Argentine Move Delays Approval Of Defense Pact

QUITANDINHA, Brazil, Aug. 29 (AP)—A surprise Argentine amendment to hemisphere defense measures was raised today in what had promised to be a perfunctory session of the Inter-American Conference committee on aggression.

The committee assembled today to study a draft report on the Inter-American zone of maritime security, drawn up by delegates of the United States, Argentina and Chile. It had been expected to approve quickly the outline of a security zone stretching from pole to pole and from Greenland to the Antarctic.

The development delayed final approval of the treaty. Without bringing the amendment to a vote, committee chairman Ricardo J. Alfaro of Panama adjourned the committee until 9:00 P. M.

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 29 (AP)—Renewing "monopoly" charges against the United States, Soviet Russia today rejected a group of proposals for setting up and operating an international atomic control agency.

Republicans Say Labor Deceived By Propaganda

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Republican National Committee is circulating a pamphlet entitled "The Truth About the Labor Management Relations Act of 1947" in which it asserts that there has been "misleading propaganda" about the law's objectives.

The pamphlet says enactment of the Taft-Hartley Act "marked the fulfillment of a major campaign pledge by the Republican Party, a pledge which won sweeping support and approval of the American electorate on Nov. 3, 1946."

Passage of the act, the Republicans contend in the booklet, "established equal rights and responsibilities for management and labor in their relationships, and increased safeguards for the rights of individual workers."

It goes on to say that a recent "objective and non-partisan poll" illustrated "this confusion and showed that 'misleading propaganda' had distorted objectives and benefits of the law in the minds of the very persons who are protected by its provisions."

Floridians Marooned On Caribbean Island

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 29 (AP)—Three flying Robinson Cruisers from Florida are eastways on a tiny island far out in the Caribbean sea, and unhappy about it all.

They are pleading with the Coast Guard and Navy to bring them a plane-load of gasoline so they can fly out of their predicament. But the Navy and Coast Guard have replied with a positive "no."

The men are listed in radio messages received here as Albert James of the Aviation Country Club at Orlando, and William A. Krusen of Tampa and Krusen's son.

U. S. Still Seeks Broad Greek Cabinet

By L. S. CHAKALEZ
ATHENS, Aug. 29 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Lincoln MacVay reiterated today that the United States wanted a Greek Cabinet formed on as broad a base as possible, as the stubborn government crisis entered its seventh day.

MacVay said both were working toward one end, establishment of a government under which the aid mission could function effectively.

MacVay and Griswold again appealed to Demetrios Maximous to accept the premiership he was offered Saturday. The 71-year-old Greek financier saw King Paul today and then MacVay in an hour-long conference.

An informed source said Maximous would try to persuade the Panallian (Royalist) Party leader, Constantinos Tsaldaris, to accept proposals of the opposition parties. The opposition has charged the security minister with incompetence and has disapproved General Napoleon Zervas as minister of public order.

THE WEATHER

Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday, widely scattered showers and thunderstorms this afternoon and again Saturday afternoon. Winds gentle to moderate variable through Saturday.

Higher Production Is Seen As Necessary To Help Country As Well As Europe

By RICHARD KASICHKE
BERLIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—A Western Germany with an industrial capacity about equal to 1936 was envisaged today by the United States and Great Britain in a new level-of-industry plan providing for annual steel production of 10,700,000 ingot tons.

Under the plan, the U. S. and British zones, to relieve the burden on American and British taxpayers, would produce 15 percent more exports than the same areas did in 1936, three years before Germany started World War II, to bring in $2,000,000,000 a year.

The new plan was a revision of the four-power level-of-industry and reparations agreement of March, 1946. In announcing it, the U. S. and British military governors, General Lucius D. Clay and Air Chief Marshal Sir Sholto Douglas, termed the new plan as "unrealistic."

Under the four-power plan, the steel ceiling for all Germany was 5,600,000 tons. Under the British American plan, the British and U. S. zones alone would produce nearly double that amount.

Eight Company's Radio Transmitter Begins Operations

Schritzwave radio transmitter WKTO, of Florida Power & Light Company, has now commenced operation at the Sanford steam electric generating plant as one of 18 radio stations installed and maintained by the power company throughout its territory to direct its fleet of trouble trucks and improve service to customers. H. H. Coleman, district manager, announced today.

Located northwest of U. S. Highway 17, which crosses the St. Johns River, Station WKTO has been licensed by Federal Communications Commission to operate with 250 watts of power. Both the station and the company's radio-equipped trucks use new frequency-modulated sets for extended range.

Operators of trouble trucks can exchange messages over a distance of thirty miles. Operators of the trucks can talk to each other within a range of ten miles. The Federal Communications Commission, Columbia, said has licensed the following local employees of Florida Power and Light Company to operate Station WKTO: D. H. Middleton, G. T. Ray, C. W. Eggle, O. H. Bridges, W. P. Cromer, H. C. Moore, E. L. Whitely, J. B. Phillips and B. F. Bullard. The last four will also serve as operators of trouble trucks.

Criticism Discussed By Chinese Council

NANKING, Aug. 29 (AP)—Strict enforcement of measures designed to improve China's economic position was urged today by Chiang Kai-shek, presiding at a regular meeting of the state council.

Members said the council discussed at some length criticism by Lieut. General Albert C. Wedemeyer, President Truman's special finder, on his departure from Nanking.

Meanwhile, an authorized source disclosed that Foreign Minister Wang Shih-Chieh will fly to Washington, probably early next week, to participate in a preliminary conference on the peace treaty with Japan.

From western Hunan province battlefronts came word that Communist assaults into the Luyang area were weakening. Military experts said the Red army along the East-West Lunghai Railway had but one purpose, to provide an easy escape route to the northwest for General Liu Pocheng, whose troops are on a rampage along the Hunan-Anhui border.

Rain And Electrical Failure Postpones Double Bill With Daytona Beach 1's

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR., Herald Sports Editor

Nearly 1,000 disappointed persons slowly stalked down the exits at the Municipal Park last night after an announcement was made that the contest between the Sanford Celery Fed's had been called off because there were no lights under which a game could be played.

Day before yesterday, during the freak storm that ripped up parts of the fence and the scoreboard, lightning was reported to have struck near the park, knocking out the lighting system for the field.

It had been impossible to complete the needed work before the postponement of the contest. The first game of the scheduled twin bill had already been washed away.

Umpires Lavelly and Cooper called the game at 9:00 o'clock after waiting 45 minutes in accord with the rules of the Florida State League.

Tonight the Feds entertain the league leading and pennant winning St. Augustine Saints in a single attraction, which is scheduled to get underway at 8:00 o'clock. It is likely that Manager John Kridler will send Big Bill Stanton to the hill to face the Saints.

Yesterday the Orlando Senators and the Saints divided a twin attraction in the Ancient City. In the first tilt Manager Lou Bevil allowed his way into an 8 to 3 decision, while in the finale Stan Karpinski silenced the heavy hitting Solons' bats with five scattered singles, and chalked up a 3 to 1 decision. The final tilt annexed the 1947 Florida State League pennant for the Saints.

The Palatka Azaleas blasted 24 base hits in turning in their 18 to 1 victory over the Leesburg Pirates and the DeLand Red Sox. The clubbed the Gainesville G-Men in an 8 to 4 battle.

By BOB MYERS AP Newsfeatures

LA VERNE, Calif. — Former high school Coach John C. Price will remember two of his proteges, Glenn Davis and Ewell Blackwell.

Davis, he recalls, was regarded as something of a brat by the older boys around town, and Blackwell was "just a little squirt" when he came out for baseball at Bonita Union High.

Glenn, of course, soon became the star of Bonita's championship football team and eventually one of the greatest All-America half-backs in West Point history, and Blackwell, shooting up like a reed, today is the ace of Cincinnati Reds' pitching staff and recently won 18 straight games.

"The older boys," says Price, "called Glenn a brat because Glenn, and some of the other youngsters including my own son Dave, were always grabbing up a football or a baseball and trying to play with the bigger boys."

"He was a little shaver then, but anyone could tell the way he handled a football he was a natural."

"And Blackie," Price continues, "well, I only had him the first two years on the baseball team. He played the infield. He was too small to pitch, but I think his father had always planned for his boy to be a pitcher."

Here Price, who retired as football coach and physical education director at the school in 1944 after nearly 18 years in the job, paused. Whatever credit for coaching Blackie in those green years in the late 1920's should go, he said, to Orv Thompson, now with the YMCA in nearby Anaheim, Calif.

The unusual thing about Price, incidentally, is that after holding the coaching job so long and retiring, he was still a popular man with the townfolk; so much so they named him mayor.

It remained for his wife to reveal his official position in this orange-grove hamlet of several thousand, because John Calvin Price, a youngish, wiry man, of 46, just won't talk about himself.

And he is most reluctant to discuss even Davis or Blackie for fear someone will think he is trading on their fame.

It was only when Mrs. Price produced several bulging scrapbooks that he unwound and retraced the exploits of his teams and boys such as Davis and Blackwell.

The Prices' oldest boy, David, or J. D., was a team and running mate of Davis and the latter once whispered in the strictest confidence to him that he was really not so sure about his own future in sports.

ence to his wife that Dave was a really fine end—but Price would never boast about the boy in public.

He merely said Dave and Glenn were good friends, and let it go at that. But in the middle of the visit who should drive up in a new automobile looking for his pal Dave to go swimming but Glenn himself on furlough before resuming his Army career and just finished with a movie.

It might be noted that getting Glenn to talk about Glenn was as futile as getting Price to discuss Price.

"Glenn never did go for publicity," Price said after Davis had left. "He got plenty during his high school days here, but it never turned his head the least bit. Proof of this was there was never any jealousy or bad feeling on the team."

"He just loves sports. As a kid, he was always playing something all night. All day and into the next, Glenn, my boy and some of the others would be playing."

"Girls?" Price chuckled. "Not much. When Glenn came home this summer Dave got him a date. Afterwards Dave asked him if he'd asked the girl for another date and Glenn said no, he hadn't thought of it."

Neither Glenn nor Blackwell were, exactly classroom stars, but Glenn particularly, as Price recalls, studied just enough to maintain his athletic eligibility.

Those years from 1936 to 1943 were big ones for Bonita Union, with Glenn, who once was regularly dunked in the swimming pool for getting in the older boys' hair, the star. In 11 games in 1942 Bonita scored 446 points, Davis accounting for 237 of them.

"But Dave, who called the signals from our single wing, would never call himself for a touchdown play when we were near the goal line. He'd give it to someone else. He made most of his scores from further back around the middle field," Price recounted, adding that Davis always gave much credit to his blocking back, Duane Whitehead, who later became a power with the University of Southern California.

In one game Davis threw two touchdowns, passes. Both were called back on Bonita penalized, and on the third play from the 40-yard line Davis elected not to pass and ran for the touchdown. He weighed around 170 pounds, the same as today, and loved con-

TONGUE TYING MONIKERS ARE FEW IN ORANGE BOWL CLASSIC LINEUPS

MIAMI, Aug. 29, (Special)—Much has been made of the tongue-tying names in football, including the now-famous remark of a college president that his team didn't win many games, but at least he could pronounce the starting lineup.

A check of 670 players who have appeared in the 13 Orange Bowl classics, however, reveals such oral pushovers as Smith, Jones and Walker are far in the majority. The Orange Bowl lineups—which present an accurate cross section of America's football since 1935—show five Smiths, five Joneses and four Walkers in action here with only a sprinkling of names which read like a typewriter operator gone berserk.

As a matter of fact, 47 of the players have names of four letters or less. Five of them—Leo of Georgetown, '41; Ray, Mississippi State, '41; Orr, Missouri, '40; Nix, Texas Christian University, '41; and Ivy, Oklahoma, '39—have three letter names.

The Smiths could almost put on an Orange Bowl show themselves. There would be six if you included Tulsa's Schmidt, and then there is John P. (Clipper) Smith, who coached the Duquesne team in 1937, and Muriel Smith, the 1944 Orange Bowl Queen.

With the Smiths, the five Jones boys could make up the 11 on a Smith-Jones team. As they played in the Orange Bowl, however, the Smiths were on different teams—Bucknell, Auburn, Tennessee, Tulsa, Miami—while Schmidt gave Tulsa a slightly-stretched double-take. Two Joneses performed for Tulsa and one each for Mississippi State, Miami and Rice.

Tied with four men each are the Walkers and the Kellays. The Walker family was split among Catholic, Auburn, LSU and Tulsa, and also contributed an Orange Bowl Queen—Libby Walker for the 1946 game. The Kellays played with Mississippi, Auburn, Holy Cross and Tennessee.

Names appearing three times on the playing list in the Orange Bowl series include Davis, Rogers, Brown and Thomas. The State of Georgia hit the jackpot with the Davis boys. Two played for the University of Georgia in 1942 and the other for Georgia Tech in 1945.

Three families, however, vie for top surname honors. They are the Thomases who were on opposing Oklahoma and Tennessee teams in the Orange Bowl in 1939, the Spinellis who were rivals in the 1946 game between Miami and Holy Cross, and the Armstrong boys who played against one another in the 1947 Rice-Tennessee contest.

State League Play-Off Series To Open Wed. Evening

SILVER SPRINGS, Aug. 29.—The eighth annual Shaughnessy play-offs in the Class D Florida State League will begin next Wednesday night, Sept. 2, instead of Tuesday night, Sept. 2, it was announced at league headquarters here today.

Two four-out-of-seven game semi-final series will be scheduled, to be followed by a final series of the same length.

Opening games will be played on the grounds of the club winning the pennant and finishing in second place. The pennant winner will meet the fourth place team while the second and third place clubs will meet in the other series.

Decision to schedule an off-day prior to the start of the play-off was noted for an important reason. The league has voted to meet the winner of the Georgia-Florida League Shaughnessy finals in what will be the eighth annual inter-league series.

However, the Georgia-Florida League season does not end until Friday Sept. 5, thus leaving a four day gap that might have proved costly to the Florida State loop.

Three, instead of playing the usual three out of five games, the Florida State Directors agreed to extend the series and start it a day late. Further, an open day will be observed between the last game of either semi-final series, and the start of the final series.

The Georgia-Florida League, cooperating with the Florida State, will play two five game series, and a seven game final. It thus would appear that the annual inter-

Towns With Hobbies Are Happier Places

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Newsfeatures Writer

When the Packers, a professional football team—loses a game, the players sometimes sneak down the back streets of Green Bay, Wis. They can't stand the sight of so many sad faces.

That's because Green Bay is a town with a hobby and the fortunes of the Green Bay Packers are the direct concern of almost the entire population.

There are hobby towns all over the United States, in which a leisure project, game or interest is the avocation of almost everyone.

Hobby towns are happy towns. Catching tourists is only an incidental by-product.

Consider Prescott, Ariz. and its annual Snake Dances. Back in 1921 a group of local residents decided to put on an entertainment. Part of it was to be a burlesque of the old Hopi Indian snake dances.

Something happened that switched the project from burlesque to a serious imitation—and a hobby was born. The students of Indian lore banded together as an organization called the "Smoki people." Waving live snakes and hinting that their rituals will bring rain, the Smoki present their dances annually before large crowds.

Ethnologists who have seen the smoki performances say it is hard to tell between the Hopi McCoy and the white man's fasciols.

Seventeen years ago the Gainesville, Tex., amateur theater was on its last, shaky legs. The little theater enthusiasts decided to give a burlesque circus to put the project in the black. That was the birth of a famous town hobby, the Gainesville community circus.

High school kids do the tumbler act, the undertaker takes tickets, a railroad switchman does a trapeze act. It's a real circus, complete with home-trained animal acts, high-wire performers and a troupe of clowns. Last year it netted $25,000.

Apart from the financial returns, Gainesville's happy hobby has brought about decline in juvenile delinquency. It has netted a town of 12,000 in a common cause, providing year-round physical exercises for young and old performers.

Romoke Island, N. C. is a whole hobby land. Ten years ago someone wrote a sympathetic drama, "The Lost Colony" about the founding of the English colony on the island 250 years before and retold the story of Virginia Dare. The island folk whose daily language still sounds like Elizabethan English, put on an amateur production for their own delight.

Today the big show—an annual affair—draws crowds from all over the United States. When the open-air Waterside Theater burned, this summer, in mid-season, volunteers by the score appeared to rebuild it in big time so the show could go on.

Most rodeos are small town picnics where the local boys and girls show how good they are. Around Cody, Wyo., for instance, ranchers and their families spend plenty of time in the early Summer polishing up saddles and chaps and practicing bulldozing. Then at the July round-up, men and women, young and old, perform with only a handful of competition from outsiders.

The hobby of Bemidji, Minn., is spinning tall tales about Paul Bunyan, the lumberman's hero, and Babe, the Blue Ox. Bemidji is headquarters for Bunyan lore and an annual celebration.

New Orleans has its Mardi Gras, a festival which is one of America's great off-season (February) attractions for tourists, vying with ski centers and Florida beaches.

Long before the big show held an important spot in travel agents' pamphlets, the residents of the old French city in Louisiana held their traditional blowout. The Mardi with a year-round membership of around 10,000. One club has 103 courts and a concrete, covered grandstand which holds a cheering section of 500 persons.

But perhaps the most fanatical hobbyists of them all are the 50,000 residents of Green Bay where the football season officially opens Aug. 1.

Football became Green Bay's principal obsession after 1923 when almost everyone in town bought, for a few pieces, shares in a shaky pro club which couldn't even manage $250 to keep its National League franchise. Today the crowd packs a stadium of 24,000 seats for at-home games.

Psychiatrists and physicians prescribe hobbies for busy men and women and for bored ones. The prescription seems to work out well even when applied on a wholesale basis.

Australian Ants Are Brought To U. S.

AP Newsfeatures OAKLAND, Calif.—Meat the bull ant of the Antipodes. "It" may be a lady, but grows to be an inch long and charges like a bull at anything threatening its nest, which is in Australia.

If the Department of Agriculture has its way, this ant will never break up an American picnic.

Australian Naturalist Ellen Clark, of Box Hill, near Melbourne, has arrived with 1,700 of these ants, with which she "sat up" on the 6,000-mile flight across the Pacific.

The idea is to compare the ants with the less belligerent ants of America. Miss Clark has been studying bull ants for a year and is cooperating with the American Research Institute.

Most bull ants, she explains, are not really bulls at all. Most are "chiefs" or sexually immature females who do all the work and fighting.

The male of the species, known as Myrmica, is no great shakes. He flies only on his honeymoon, then dies. His widow, however, tears off her own wings and devotes her life to laying eggs, eight to 10 in a batch.

Miss Clark soon will have to take these ants back to Australia by plane. The Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine is out to see that no Australian bull ant, sexually immature or not, gets loose in this country.

"Pooh," says Miss Clark. "If turned loose they would die. I'm sure of it. They would not climate."

"Besides," smiles this ants' aunt from the antipodes, "these ants are not anticipating."

Ancient Greeks believed the penny was a sacred flower which came from a moon and was protected by the moon.
