Sewage Plant Expansion Delayed

By Micheal Beha Herald Staff Writer

Neighbors of the Iron Bridge Regional Sewage Treatment Plant near Oviedo won a round in their battle against the plant Tuesday night.

Seminole County commissioners voted Tuesday night to continue until Dec. 13 a hearing on a request from Orlando officials to expand capacity at the plant by 4 million gallons using wayer hyacinths to improve the quality of the effluent discharged from the plant.

"Obviously we're disappointed," said Orlando Public Works Director Robert Haven Tuesday night. "We're going to have to rethink our whole project."

Haven asked the board to approve the increased capacity of the plant even though sound and odor problems emanating from the plant since it opened last year have not yet been corrected.

rejected the Orlando request, telling the city to correct the odor and noise problems before they expand the

It was more of the same Tuesday night as commissioners said the plant should operate for six months without any problems before the increase from the current 24-million-gallon-capacity is approved.

About 50 residents opposed the request at Tuesday's hearing voicing the same complaints about the plant's operation that they have made since it opened more than a year ago.

"I'm not going to try to tell you the plant doesn't smell," Haven said. "It embarrases us. We apologize for what is taking place."

But he promised that the problems would be corrected

"But we have stop odors from escaping, a building to enclose pumps both a fiscal and moral responsibility to the residents of and other machinery responsible for the noise pollution the area and the users." has been contracted for and the manufacturer of a sludge dryer used at the plant is being asked to correct problems with the equipment.

If the dryer is not operating correctly by May 31, sludge will be trucked from the plant, Haven said.

Haven said the hyacinths, the first to be used in a commercial sewage treatment plant, must be planted prior to the onset of cold weather. The commission's decision could jeopardize the entire project, he said.

But Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff said if Orlando has confidence that their efforts to correct problems at the plant have succeeded they can ask that the hearing be

Commissioner Barbara Christensen, who represents the Oviedo area and is a member of the South Seminole Sewage Transmission Authority, called the plant a "white elephant."

Kirchoff said he also wants nitrogen discharges into the Little Econlockhatchee River to be reduced before the hyacinth treatment is begun. The plant has been discharging five times more nitrogen than allowable by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

Haven said efforts are under way to correct the nitrogen problem. But he could not guarantee that the nitrogen emissions would be curtailed by December.

County Move

Commissioners Agree To Use Old Hospital

By the end of the summer Seminole County commissioners, their staff and some other county officials should be housed in the old Seminole Memorial Hospital Building on First Street In Sanford.

Commissioners voted 4-1 Tuesday night to proceed with $1.8 million worth of renovations to the building. Commissioner Robert G. "Bud" Feather cast the lone dissenting vote.

Additionally, commissioners approved plans to proceed with renovation of the County Services Bullding on First Street and Park Avenue for use by the state attorney despite State Attorney Douglas Cheshire's threat to sue commissioners if his office is placed there.

Architect Charles Braun of Helman Hurley Charvat Peacock/Architects of Winter Park said portions of the hospital should be ready for occupancy by the end of the summer.

Commissioners and their staff will the first to move into the building. The supervisor of elections, tax collector and property appraiser's offices will move into the building as space becomes available for them. Braun said the constitutional officers should be able to move into the building by early in 1984. The renovation is scaled down from a $2.6 million plan proposed by the architect earlier this year. That plan called for major renovation to many portions of the building. The new plan will utilize space as it exists in the hospital with only minor renovations such as painting and patching walls to be done unless areas are unusable for their assigned departments. Commissioners had considered the costs of constructing new office space. But after a Monday work session projected deficits of as much as $16 million over the next three years. those plans were shelved.

Assistant County Administrator Jim Easton told commissioners Tuesday that renovation was the least expensive way of creating muchneeded office space. Over five years, renovation and operation of the hospital will cost 83.5 million. Over a 30-year-period the hospital will cost about $13 million.

A lease-purchase agreement on a new building would cost about $9.7 million over five years and about $27.5 million over 30 years, Easton said. Rental space would cost more than $7 million for five years and about $44.6 million over 30 years.

It was the economic consideration which pushed commissioners to end several months of wavering about where their new offices should be. Commissioner Robert Sturm, who had favored construction of a new building through a lease-purchase plan, said Tuesday he saw no choice but to proceed with the hospital renovation.

"If I had my druthers I'd still go with my original recommendation. he said. "But with budget constraints and projections for the next few years It's our only alternative."

Sturm said plans to use the hospital until another office building is constructed may have to be shelved because of the tight financial situation facing the county. "I think we'd better plan on making the move permanent.

But Feather Insisted that the hospital is not a good location for county workers. He said the building is inefficient and will affect the spirit of employees.

He suggested that available space in present county facilities could be utilized to meet much of the county's Impending space need. A 35,000 square-foot building could be constructed with less money than renovation of the 107.00-square-foot hospital.

"There's a way to do it rather than ple in the sky, rather than pouring it into a building in the wrong location." Feather said.

But Sturm stuck to his position. "The practicality of it, the reality of it is that for the next four or five years It's not what we need but what we can afford," Sturm said.

Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff, who supported the renovation option from the start, sided with Sturm. "I would rather have a nice high building . But to best serve the people we've got to operate things without raising taxes an exorbitant amount."

In voting to assign the state attorney to the County Services Building commissioners ignored Cheshira's threat to sue them if they put his office in the building a block away from the courthouse.

Cheshire had proposed converting 7,000 square feet of space in the second floor of the current office in the Courthouse annex into use by his

He said the County Services Build-, ing, a block from the Courthouse, is too far from the Courthouse to meet state requirements for efficient space. Additionally, Cheshire said, insufficient parking is available near the building.

But commissioners went with their plan to assign the Courthouse annex to the Public Defender's office, trial clerk's office and county law library.

They said the law library is the only efficient use of the annex's second Roor. Moving the law library from its current Courthouse location is imperative so that the room can be convertee into a courtroom, Kirchhoff

Sanford Has Big Business License Boom

Herald Staff Writer

Sanford is having a banner year in occupational

Some 550 businesses have applied for city licenses since Oct. 1, bringing the city $103,214 this fiscal year

Those few business people, who are operating without licenses, however, stand to be prosecuted by the city's Code Enforcement Board. Penalties levied on violators can be as high as $250 per day.

Despite numerous notices sent to business owners who have falled to renew or apply for new licenses, some 14 were found who had ignored the warnings. The City Commission recently voted to crack down on the violators, after sending one final notice, by turning the names of the business owners over to the citizen panel for prosecution.

Fran Dietrich, the city's occupational licensing official, id today that all but five businesses responded to the final notice by renewing their licenses or applying for

Those five cases are slated to go to the Code Enforcement Board after March 28, the final day of the grace period, she said. City Finance Officer Henry Tamm noted today that the revenues from occupational licenses fee are somewhat higher than anticipated in this 1982-83 fiscal year, indicating business is better than ever in the city.

While the city received $99,621 in occupational license fees last fiscal year, the City Commission conservatively budgeted $97,000 in anticipated revenue from that source for this year. The receipts to date are more than $6,000 above estimates and some $4,000 more than last year.

License fees range from a low of $2.50 per room annually in a boarding house to a high of $625 per week for carnivals which come into the city for short periods. Some businesses may have to purchase more than one license because different types of businesses are operated by a single individual at a site.

Mrs. Dietrich researched the city records to find whether any businesses which had licenses in past years had failed to renew their licenses. After contacting those businesses. Mrs. Dietrich and building official Gary Winn, who also serves as code enforcement inspector. personally called on the businesses to give further notification.

"In some instances, we could see that the office or business site was being used, but it was locked up," she said. "If they have gone out of business all they have to do is call us and let us know."

Mrs. Dietrich said city law requires every business operating within the city of Sanford to acquire an

Tamm noted that in addition to the $250 per day penalty which the Code Enforcement Board is authorized to levy on the business owner for every day he operates without a license, the violator must pay a 25 percent penalty over and above the listed fee when he does acquire the license.

Goat Lady To Know Fate Of Goats Soon

Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County's "Goat Lady", Ingeborg Morris will have to wait until Monday to know the fate of her six goats taken away by deputy sheriffs Sunday.

A hearing before Judge Vernon C. Mize has been set for 9 a.m. Monday to decide whether the goats should be adopted or what other fate they face, said assistant county attorney, Bob McMillan.

"We assume they will be put up for adoption. We did indicate this at the time of the court hearing on Feb. 28 out it will be up to the Judge what happens to them, " said McMillan.

McMillan had suggested to the court at a hearing Feb. 28 that Morris's home could be given spot checks by deputies to ensure that she was complying with a court order banning the goats from her home at Oak Drive. Forest City.

After goats had been spotted in her back yard, deputies arrested her and charged her with resisting arrest without violence. Deputies said she held the gate closed against them and then let several dogs loose.

She was released from Seminole County Jail Monday afternoon under a pre-trial release program and Tuesday she went to the Seminole County Animal Center to visit the goats.

"She is facing possible criminal contempt charges but It hasn't been decided whether or not the judge will institute criminal contempt proceedings. It is within Judge Mize's discretion." said McMillan.

The telephone manager estimated it operational.

A major telephone outage occurred would be 3 p.m. before all service was

He said about one-third of the 900-pair cable was cut. The cable has remote switching capability which enables it to handle 10 times that number of calls.

The cable provides phone service for industrial customers, such as Stromberg-Carlson and NCR, as well as residential customers.

Strickler said although Stromberg-Carlson is also served by another cable it would be severely hampered with only about 50 percent of its phone lines

Social Security Bailout Nearing Senate Approval

WASHINGTON (UPI) - After months of debate, the Senate readled today for final action on a Social Security rescue plan.

The $165 billion delicately balanced package of payroll tax hikes, benefit curbs and a higher retirement age emerged substantially unscathed after its fifth day of Senate debate Tuesday.

The bill also extends the federal unemployment benefits, due to run out March 31, through Sept. 30 and adds up to eight additional weeks for those who have exhausted their benefits.

Leaders hope to finish Senate action today on the Social Security bill, iron out differences with a House-passed bill in a quick conference committee, and send a finished product to the White House by Friday's Easter recess.

A Paper Submarine?

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Pentagon has created a paper weapon, a new class of submarine the Navy says exists only for accounting purposes.

It saved the Pentagon $11.2 billion in the final quarter of 1982, but also on paper.

Similarly, the quarterly Selected Acquisition Report to Congress the Pentagon released Tuesday is laced with other bookkeeping maneuvers designed to show defense costs have been brought under control, resulting in savings of $18.4 billion from the third to the fourth quarters of last year.

The attempt by the Pentagon to depict cost savings when the price tag of some weapons actually increased seemed certain to infuriate Congress at a time when a bipartisan congressional effort is under way to cut the defense budget by as much as $30 billion for fiscal year

Consumer Prices Down

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Falling gasoline prices at the pump pulled consumer prices down 0.2 percent in February and food and housing costs held steady to account for only the second monthly overall decline in the government index in more than seventeen years, the government said today.

'Old Timers' Indicted In Smuggling Operation

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) - A two-year. 20-state undercover investigation has resulted in the indictments of 82 people charged with smuggling drugs from Latin America, often on vintage World War II aircraft piloted by "old timers" in their 60s, authorities said.

"Operation Screamer," named for a nightflying South American bird, resulted in the selzure of 42,000 pounds of marijuana, 1.2 million doses of methaqualone, 98 kilograms of optum, and small quantities of cocaine and dilaudid, a synthetic opium product."

authorities said Tuesday. "The amounts are not as significant as the organizations. This should have a significant impact on smuggling." said Jack Lloyd, assistant agent in charge of the federal Drug Enforcement Administration's Miami office.

Agents seized more than $2 million worth of airplanes, cars and cash.

Donation Limit Upheld

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - A state law limiting campaign donations to a political candidate or committee to $1,000 is not unconstitutional, an appeal court has ruled.

Noting that the U.S. Supreme Court has upheld similar restrictions, the 1st District Court of Appeal Tuesday said the statute serves the legitimate governmental interest of "preserving the integrity of the electoral process by encouraging the active, alert responsibility of individual citizens."

The 3-0 ruling went against the State Police Charter, a chapter of the Florida Police Benevolent Association.

The police group was contesting a finding of the Florida Elections Commission that it had violated state law by making a $5,000 donation to the Florida PBA Political Action Committee.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Rain and snow tapered off to showers from the Pacific coast to the Plains today but more snow hit the clogged Lake Eric snowbelt in the "last blowout of the year," and frost menaced peach and strawberry crops in the Carolinas. Western New York and western Pennsylvania remained under a travelers advisory for up to 4 Inches of new snow before dawn, in addition to 6 inches that fell Tuesday. Across New England, precipitation dwindled to snowshowers. Up to 14 inches of drifting snow closed schools and clogged highways in northeast Ohio Tuesday. At least 29 deaths were blamed on bad weather nationwide since spring arrived Sunday night. Showers and snowshowers were all that remained of a Pacific Coast storm which spun off a tornado Tuesday and damaged several buildings in soggy northern California. Another storm system was expected off the coast late today, but forecasters said it would not be as violent as those that caused up to $500 million in damage and killed 21 people during the winter. Travelers' advisories were in effect for the mountains of central Arizona and the high plains of Kansas and Colorado. The threat of floods eased in the Northeast as heavy rains dwindled. Freezing conditions iced roads in New York City, triggering an 11-car pileup. A few showers developed over Texas and Louisiana. Freezing temperatures menaced the peach and strawberry crops in the Carolinas, threatening a repeat of the severe damage suffered by last year's crops. North Carolina's peach crop was almost a total loss last year and the strawberry crop was hurt after a similar stretch of warm days was followed by a cold snap. Squalls blowing off Lake Eric spread 8 to 14 inches of blinding snow on Cleveland and its suburbs. Classes in 20 school districts were canceled.

French Cabinet Resigns; New Group Starts Work

PARIS (UPI) - France's new streamlined Cabinet set its first session today group of 15 senior ministers holding a grim mandate to trim inflation, trade deficits and unemployment and revive the flagging franc.

It Was A Frustrating Day For Would-Be Bank Robbers

By Victor Assersohn Herald Staff Writer

It could have been called 'The Gang That Couldn't Shoot Straight II.

A group of "professional" safecrackers broke into a Lake Mary bank over the weekend and worked away at the vault door with an acytelyne torch but ran out of gas. They then tried a carborundum saw, but that didn't work either. The vault door held.

The attempt was made at the Flagship Bank and was the first time police could remember either of the city's two banks had been the target of would-be safecrackers.

The culprits, thought by Lake Mary police investigator Steven Gregory to probably number two or three, wound up getting away with only $1,327.94 after forcing open

The burglary was discovered at about 4 p.m. Sunday by a cleaning woman who smelled a burning odor and called police.

According to Gregory, the gang apparently broke into the bank through a window, replaced the catch and then by-passed the alarm system using a battery they had brought with them. They also cut the wires to the bank's security cameras and pulled one from its

Police would not say how much eash was in the vault at the time of the would-be theft, but said the amount was "substantial."

'These guys were apparently very professional," he said. They were experienced safecrackers. They knew what they were doing. Had they had the proper equipment, they would probably habe been able to burn their way in. I think they underestimated the thickness of the door. They ran out of steam or were scared off." Gregory, who was assisted in the investigation by

Senators Want Parents Told If Girls Get Birth Control Help

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Two conservative senators will challenge a federal court order blocking an administration requirement that clinics notify parents whose teenagers seek birth control pills or devices.

Republican Sens. Orrin Hatch of Utah and Jeremiah Denton of Alabama will join four families and a lobbying group called United Families of America in filing a motion today with the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

They will ask to be included on the government's side in the Justice Department's appeal of the court order that halted implementation of the parental notification regulation.

The rule they support was proposed by the Health and Human Services Department.

It would require federally funded clinics to notify parents by mail within 10 days after dispensing prescription birth controls to anyone under 18. It would affect an estimated 530,000 teenagers and 5.000 clinics nationwide.

Judges in New York and Washington issued injunctions Feb. 25 barring the rule from taking effect. The appeals court is expected to hear arguments on the appeal in May or June.

If the court refuses to allow the senators, parents and the families group to intervene, they said they plan to file a friend-of-the-court brief.

Hatch and Denton said the rule would curtail teenage pregnancies, not spawn them as some have suggested. They said statistics from the health department in Utah, where parental consent has been required since May 1981, show a decline in teenage pregnancies.

"A lot of young people have told me the prospect of their parents being notified has caused them to reconsider premarital sex," said Hatch, an official in the Mormon church and father of six.

Noting the nickname "squeal rule" coined by opponents of the regulation. Denton said: "To those that say the federal government should not inject itself between parent and child, I would say that the family planning industry's current 'sneak rule' is a greater threat to the family than the regulations."

Denton is a Catholic and chairman of the board of United Families of America.

Hatch, head of the Labor and Human Resources Committee, and Denton, who chairs its family subcommittee, also said the judges who issued injunctions barring the rule decided it violated congressional intent.

"The HHS regulations are in complete agreement with Congress' intent to change federal laws that put service agencies between parents and their children on issues of personal significance."

Planned Parenthood Federation of America filed suit Jan. 10 in U.S. District Court in Washington, D.C., arguing the rule would violate the constitutional right of privacy and is contrary to lederal birth control law.

U.S. Recovery To Help Canada

OTTAWA (UPI) - An increase in economic activity in the United States will lead to modest recovery in Canada this year but prospects remain bleak for any break in continued high unemployment, the Conference Board of Canada said Tuesday.

In its Canadian Business Review, the Conference Board said a survey of 17 economic forecasters, including the largest Canadian chartered banks and leading market analysts, showed "the long awaited recovery has finally arrived."

Average growth in gross national expenditure was forecast to reach 1.3 percent by the end of 1983 following a record 6.9 percent slide in real gross national product for the five quarters ending in the third quarter of 1982.

Inflation, the group said, would average 7.4 percent during the year.

Low Oil Prices: A Boom Or Bust?

For several weeks, crude oil has been selling for about $29 a barrel on the spot market. There was little reason for suspense about the new official price of oil that would emerge from the recent round of meetings by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting countries.

The new price confirmed in the recently announced agreement is $29 a barrel.

This comes as no surprise to those who remember from economics class that the price of a commodity is what the buyer is willing to offer for it and the seller is willing to take. The new price is a formal acknowledgment that there are no longer any buyers at the old official price of $34 a barrel in a world awash with oil.

The terms of the agreement do create some suspense, however. On paper at least, members of OPEC have committed themselves not only to a $29 benchmark price but to nation-by-nation production quotas that would hold the organization's total output to a ceiling of 17.5 million barrels a day.

Now we may learn once and for all whether OPEC can function like a cartel in a market heading downward in the way it seemed to function when the market was going up. There was rising income for all when OPEC was ratcheting up prices during the supply panies of 1973-1974 and 1979-1980. With a problem of surplus rather than shortage, members have nothing to share but declining income.

What will determine the trend in oil prices—and perhaps the fate of OPEC— is whether the spot market sees a softening of prices in the next few weeks. If prices fall significantly below the new OPEC benchmark, we may well see the price war which the OPEC ministers hoped to avoid.

The production quotas, which are designed to bring supply and demand into an eventual balance, would quickly break down as producers scramble to sell all the oil they can produce at discounted prices.

Mexico, not a member of OPEC, has announced its intention to stick with the OPEC price and to limit its production in line with the strategy of drying up the market surplus. But the Soviet Union was offering oil on the spot market at $28 a barrel the day following the announced OPEC price, and a cut in British prices below the OPEC level could signal that a price war is on.

A drop in the price to $25 or lower would have an impact on the exporting countries even more devastating than what some of them are experiencing already. Meanwhile, economists are calculating the boon to economies in the oilimporting countries.

Even if world oil prices remain steady in the $29 range, this 15 percent reduction in energy costs is expected to reduce the consumer price index by a full percentage point in 1983 and save the average American household $85 a year.

There is more to do in the United States than wait for the law of supply and demand to assert itself on the international oil market. Our national energy policies have fallen out of step with these new conditions. Those policies are based on the presumption valid until recently that oil prices would be rising steadily in the 1980s.

Falling oil prices are destroying the rationale of the natural gas pricing policy set down in 1978. They are removing the economic incentive for switching from oil to alternative fuels. They could dissipate the momentum of energy conservation programs. The boom in domestic oil production which has helped reduce our dependence on imported oil will turn into a bust if lower prices discourage further exploration and development.

Since the supply scares and price shocks of the 1970s, our primary goal has been to reduce the nation's dependence on foreign oil supplies. If that remains our goal, a case could be made for putting a tax on imported oil so its low price does not cause that dependency to grow. If the nation would be better off enjoying the full economic stimulus of lower energy prices, then such a tax would be counterproductive. What is the appropriate goal?

The administration and Congress need to be addressing that question.

An organizational meeting will be held for the 1983 Sanford Women's Softball League in the Civic Center Youth Wing at 7:30 p.m. on March 29, according to Jeff Monson, superintendent of recreation.

All entry fees must be paid by April 11, one week prior to the start of the league. The entry fee is $290, All rosters must also be in by April 11. Girls must be 16 years old on or before Sept. 1 to be eligible.

In other softball news, tryouts for the Sanford Junior League will be held April 15 at Fort Mellon Park at 4:30 p.m. Girls must be 13 years old on or before Sept. 1 and cannot reach their 16th birthday by that date.

All girls must register at the Sanford Recreation Department and present a birth certificate. This includes returning players. Girls outside the city limits are required to pay a $10 fee.

Girls will be assigned to a team and notified by their coaches. There will be a 15-player roster limit and two games will be played a week. All players must play one inning. At the end of the season, an all-star team will be picked for the state tournament. Sanford is defending champion.

The league begins April 25 and runs through June 10.

One day after the Junior League begins play, the Lassie League opens its season. Lassie girls must be nine years old before Sept. 1 and not be 13 years old before the same date.

Lassies must also register at the Sanford Recreation Department and bring a birth certificate. Returning players must also register. Tryouts will be held on April 4 at Fort Mellon Park at 4:30 p.m.

The roster limit is 15 and girls will be notified by their coaches after the tryout. The Lassies will also have an all-star team picked at the end of the year for the state tournament.

Turning to soccer, the Seminole Youth Soccer Club has a major event planned for tonight when the Tampa Bay Rowdies and the Toronto Blizzard will play a soccer match at the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando. Game time is 8 p.m.

Imagined Illness Is No Joke

By Sam Cook

By AL Rossiter Jr. UPI Science Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Friends can joke about it, relatives may just put up with it and many doctors ignore it, but two psychiatrists say hypochrondria is a problem that needs more attention.

For one thing, they say people who have an abnormal anxiety over their health and imagine they have one disease after another are draining untold millions of dollars from the nation's health care system.

Drs. Arthur J. Barksy and Gerald L. Klerman of the Massachusetts General Hospital say one expert has estimated that the "worried well" are responsible for 50 percent of the cost of adult general health care outside the hospital.

They said hypochondriacs arouse little scientific interest because "they present physicians with illness accompanied by little or no disease."

Barsky and Klerman said it is not clear if hypochrondia is a separate mental illness. They said it may simply be a cluster of illness attitudes and behaviors "that are no more psychiatric in nature than, for example, the cluster of characteristic attitudes and behaviors exhibited by the political activist, the religious crusader or the perpetual attudent.

"Alternatively, hypochondria may simply be an exaggerated interest in bodily function and health, akin to that which occurs in some fashion models and body builders and ballet dancers."

Barksy and Klerman said researchers have developed four concepts for hypochrondria:

—That it is a psychiatric disorder in which one unrealistically interprets body sensations as being abnormal, leading to the fear that one has a serious disease. Pain is the most common symptom and patients balk at any suggestion that any psychological factors might be involved.

-That it is a socially learned behavior in which patients discover that illness allows them to assume a role that will elicit sympathy and attention, excuse them from responsibilities and maybe even provide financial compensation.

—That it is a method of expressing dependency or as a defense against low self-esteem. Some researchers say it may be more tolerant for an individual to feel that something is wrong with his body than to feel that something is wrong with the self.

—That it is a perceptual abnormality in which patients amplify body sensations, believing they are more noxious or intense than would normal people.

Oh, That Green Party

In the recent German elections, the leftist Green Party got a lot of publicity and won a few scats in Parliament, but its chief electoral achievement was to frighten or outrage a couple of million swing voters into voting for Chancellor Helmut Kohl and his conservative Christian Democrats.

The practical effect of the Greens in the electoral equation was thus to advance the political interests opposite to theirs, a tough line with the Soviets on Intermediate-range missiles and a staid and stable conservative domestic politics.

Congratulations, Greens.

This phenomenon, in which an exotic left fragment enhances its enemies to the right, amounts to a kind of law in democratic politics.

In England, a militant Trotskyite faction has been terrorizing the political regulars of the venerable Labour Party.

The Trotskyltes organize at the local level and try to dominate the local Labour Party machinery. They threaten Labour MPs with recall if they don't toe the leftist line. They orate about moving the revolutionary struggle "outside of Parliament."

The sum total of their efforts has served to move British politics sharply to the right.

First of all, a number of the most popular Labour Party leaders — including Shirley Williams and Roy Jenkins — split with the party and formed a new Social Democratic-Liberal Party, which immediately elected Jenkins to Parliament and ran ahead of Labour in the opinion polls.

In a recent election in the south of the Thames constituency of Bermondsey, which had been a safe Labour seat for 60 years, a young Social Democrat-Liberal lawyer trounced the Labour candidate. The latter was a Trotskyite, an Australian who had fled military service in Vietnam, and preached unilateral disarmament and homosexual rights to bemused dock workers.

The militant British left has probably wrecked the Labour Party, and guaranteed the victory of Margaret Thatcher in the likely June election.

The American left pulled the same thing in 1948, in the form of Henry Wallace's Progressive Party, a vengeance effort directed against President Harry Truman for what the left regarded as his hostility to Joe Stalin. Truman had begun 1948 in political disarray, the certain loser to Thomas E. Dewey. Resentment against the New Deal had accumulated. But the pro-Soviet Progressives made Harry Truman look like a centrist, and made Dewey's candidacy seem platitudinous and unnecessary. Wallace ended up carrying Bella Abzug's Manhatten district, the most pro-Soviet enclave in the United States

Per Risk In Chicago

WASHINGTON (NEA) — "Just when we're starting to pick up momentum towards the 1984 elections, the last thing in the world we need is a mess like this."

The speaker is a high-ranking Democratic official, and the "mess" is the situation that has developed in Chicago since Rep. Harold Washington won the city's Democratic mayoral primary.

Washington, the first black to win Chicago's Democratic mayoral nomination, drew 36 percent of the vote in a three-way contest with incumbent Mayor Jane Byrne and Richie Daley, son of Chicago's longtime mayor, the late Richard Daley.

In their concession speeches, Byrne and Daley pledged to support Washington — who, if he wins the April 12 election against token Republican opposition, will become the first black mayor in Chicago's 150-year history. These pledges seemed to indicate that the party machine would rally to Washington's support, assuring him a typically easy Democratic victory.

But official Democratic support for Washington has fallen far short of what might have been expected — so short, in fact, that there's some real question as to whether GOP candidate Bernard Epton might be able to pull the election upset of the decade, if not the century.

The result is the "mess" that the Democrats now see in Chicago.

Washington won the primary almost entirely with black votes and with little or no support from the regular Democratic organization. After his win, Washington did little to endear himself to the party: Flush with victory, he adopted the line that he was the nominee and the party should come to him.

Immediately following the election. Washington almost seemed to be going out of his way to antagonize party regulars. At his first press conference, he said that he would make "no deals" with the Cook County Democratic Central Committee. He also renewed his campaign pledges to take patronage out of the hands of the regular Democratic organization and to fire Chicago Police Superintendent Richard Brzeczek — a highly controversial figure, especially in Chicago's black community.

At the same time, members of Washington's campaign staff told reporters that they were now the Democratic power in Chicago and that alderman Edward Vrdolyak, chairman of the Central Committee, would be ousted quickly.

Nicaragua Can Expect Another War

WASHINGTON — Another civil war is about to explode in Nicaragua, less than four years after Sandinista guerrillas overthrew the U.S.-backed dictator, Anastasio Somoza.

Thousands of well-armed and trained anti-Sandinista rebels have already infiltrated into northern Nicaragua, and their leaders say they're ready to launch an offensive against the Managua regime. They believe their chances of success are excellent Coordinated with this military action, exile leaders of the Nicaraguan Democratic Force (FDN) plan a diplomatic move designed to give their cause international credibility. They intend to create a state-within-a-state — a "Free Nicaragua" — in the area that comes under their control.

By moving into Nicaragua proper from their sanctuaries in neighboring Honduras, the FDN units have already discarded the image of a futile exile movement. Setting up a rival government within Nicaragua's borders would be the next step in the FDN's quest for recognition.

My associate Jon Lee Anderson interviewed FDN leaders in Washington and Miami. They emphasized what they feel are crucial points about their movement:

— Though the core of the FDN's fighting strength is made up of former members of Somoza's defeated National Guard, people from all sides of the political spectrum have joined up. Their common bond is opposition to the Sandinistas' Marxist regime.

— Unlike the Sandinistas, FDN leaders insist, they will hold completely free elections within 18 months; even leftist parties will be allowed to take part.

— The FDN guerrillas say they have no connection with the much-publicized joint exercises held across the border by the U.S. Special Forces and the Honduran army, "We don't have any gringo trainers," an exile leader stressed. "We are all Nicaraguan fighters, fighting inside Nicaragua."

Despite this claim of independence, intelligence sources say the Reagan administration is unquestionably giving at least facit support to the FDN movement.

The reason for this is the administration's belief that Nicaragua is the key to Central America's future. In a sort of reverse Domino Theory, U.S. planners figure that an ouster of the Sandinistas from Nicaragua would cause the collapse of the leftist guerrillas in both El Salvador and its neighbor to the north. Guatemala.

The reasoning behind this theory is that once the Sandinistas are no longer in power, there will remain no direct airlift route for the Cubans to send arms and advisers to a safe haven on the mainland, from which they can be transported easily to leftist guerrillas throughout Central America.

FDN leaders claim to have wide support in their northern Nicaraguan bridgeheads and to have recruited not only many peasants, but disenchanted Sandinista militiamen as well. They say that for months they have been carrying out reconnaissance and infiltration raids deep into the country's interior.

The FDN claims to have about 6,000 fighters in its various encampments; it needs and expects support of city dwellers, mainly those who helped the Sandinistas overthrow Somoza, but hid their weapons instead of turning them in — "just in case." The FDN may also get help from Miskito Indian guerrillas.

Footnote: A former Sandinista diploinat says Fidel Castro may try airlifting troops to Nicaragua if his Sandinista clients are seriously threatened. In this case, it would behoove the United States to impose a blockade on Nicaragua, he said.

Congress ordered DOE to fill the reserve at a rate of 220,000 barrels a day throughout 1983, and stipulated that any leftover money due to falling oil prices should be used to increase the reserve. Pennypinching OMB issued a legal opinion that DOE isn't required to do so, but Hodel responded with a contradictory legal opinion that "the minimum required fill rate is the highest practicable rate." even if it means more than 220,000 barreis a day.

Major Arms Supplier In The World's Wars

By Daniel F. Gilmore

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The United States is the major arms supplier for 20 of the world's 45 warring nations, while the Soviets arm 13 of them, a private study says.

The study also showed 4 million soldiers are directly engaged in combat.

From 1 million to 5 million people have been killed in these wars to date, the study said. About 500,000 foreign combat troops are involved in eight of the conflicts.

The 24-page "World at War" study of conflict over the past three years was released by the Center for Defense Information, a private research group that often is critical of U.S. defense, nuclear and arms policy.

"The most striking aspect 16, is the degree to which conflict violence and international tensions have increased in nearly every region of the world," it said.

Of the approximately 40 major and minor armed conflicts in the world, the study located 10 in the Middle East-Persian Gulf area, 10 in Africa, 10 in Asia, seven in Latin America and three in Europe.

"In many ways, the United States and the Soviet Union are carrying out their battle in these wars," said retired Adm. Gene LaRoeque, the center's director. "The United States arms and trains one side, the Soviets the other, and many of the conflicts could leaed to a direct U.S.-Soviet confrontation.

"Any shooting war between the two would in all likelihood quickly involve the use of nuclear weapons because of the extent to which 'conventional' forces on both sides have been nuclearized. It is high time we got out of these wars." he said.

The group's depty director, retired Adm. Eugene Carroll, said: "Most of these wars are not 'good guy-bad guy' situations. They often involve complex combinations of economic. political, territorial, religious and ethnic factors.

"The main ideological thread woven through almost all the diverse conflicts is nationalism, not communism vs. democraey," he said.

The report listed the 10 most violent conflicts:

A Nicaraguan Foreign Ministry Tuesday charged Honduran soldiers twice fired the weapons Sunday at the Sandinista army border outpost of Vado Ancho in Chinandega province, 80 miles northwest of Managua.

In a note sent to Honduras, the ministry did not mention casualties and claimed its troops held their fire, adding that on Tuesday the Honduran army deployed troops in the same area on the Honduran side of the border.

"These are acts of provocation that fully correspond with interventionist and warlike plans of the government of the United States. whose ultimate end is to destroy the Nicaraguan revolutionary process," the protest note said.

GE To Enter Consumer Phone Business

NEW YORK (UPI) - General Electric, the giant consumer products company. Tuesday said it would invade the fastgrowing consumer telephone business in June with a line of phones featuring two-year service warranties.

The 2-year warranties - which far exceed the standard 90-day to 1-year free service guarantees - along with G.E.'s reputation in consumer products and extensive distribution network are expected to make the company a formidable competitor in the consumer phone business despite its late start.

To date, more than 100 manufacturers have entered the consumer phone business in competition with American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

G.E. said it will introduce five phone models ranging in price from $43.95 for a pushbutton extension phone to $199.95 for a cordless phone system.

John M. Trani, general manager of G.E.'s Audio Electronics Products Department, said in an interview G.E.'s entry into the market is not too late.

"There are 130 million phones in America but only 5 percent of them are currently owned by customers." he said. He predicted industry sales, which reached 5 million last year, will reach 20

In addition he said G.E.'s dealer network consisting of more than 20,000 retail outlets will give G.E. distribution at least as extensive as any other phone maker.

The phones to be being introduced will include a desktop or wall-mount extension phone with pushbutton dialing, one-touch redial and lighted keypad at $43.95; a phone with 12-number memory capacity. including three one-touch emergency numbers at $59.95; a cordless telephone system with anti-piracy and clear-channel privacy features with a one-year warranty for $199.95; two models of a clock-radio and phone combination for $99.95 and $115.95.

Sweden Spots Sub; Soviets: U.S. Shelters Nazis

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) - A foreign submarine traveling on the surface was detected in Swedish territorial waters south of Stockholm Tuesday morning, a defence staff spokesman said.

The submarine was seen heading south by coastal artillery personnel at the island of Melsten, in the southern part of Stockholm's archipelago, the officer said. "There was a further sonar contact in mid-morning in the area," he added. Three helicopters and four search vessels were sent to the area, which is 20 miles south of the secret Swedish naval base of Musko, scene of a fruitless two-week submarine hunt last Fall.

Rail Firm Orders 40 Diesel Locomotives

Rail Corp. announced Tuesday it has ordered 40 new diesel locomotives from General Motors' Electro-Motive Division.

The 3,500 horsepower six-axle units will be manufactured at EMD's La Grange, Ill., plant. The new locomotives, valued at $48 million, will be delivered to Conrail in the second half of this year. The purchase will enable Conrail to dispose of 80 of the surplus locomotives it currently has in storage.

ELKHART, Ind. (UPI) - Negotiations were at a standstill Tuesday in the week-old strike by nearly 1,000 Miles Laboratories Inc. employees, upset over proposed revisions in work rules and benefit packages.

Officials of the company and steelworkers union met with a federal mediator Monday in the first negotiations since the strike. No progress was reported. Talks will resume only when one side or mediator Robert Altemose asks for another meeting, a spokesman

Union members went on strike March 15 after rejecting a company offer that included a 24 percent pay raise over three years. The union is concerned about proposed changes in work rules and seniority rights which the company claims would increase plant efficiency.

CHICAGO (UPI) - Bally Manufacturing Corp. and the principal stockholders of Health & Tennis Corp. of America have signed a definitive agreement for the purchase by Bally of the capital stock of HTCA.

CALGARY (UPI) - The Ontario Securities Commission Tuesday slapped a freeze on the sale of Bankeno Mines Ltd. by its financially-troubled parent Turbo Resources Ltd.

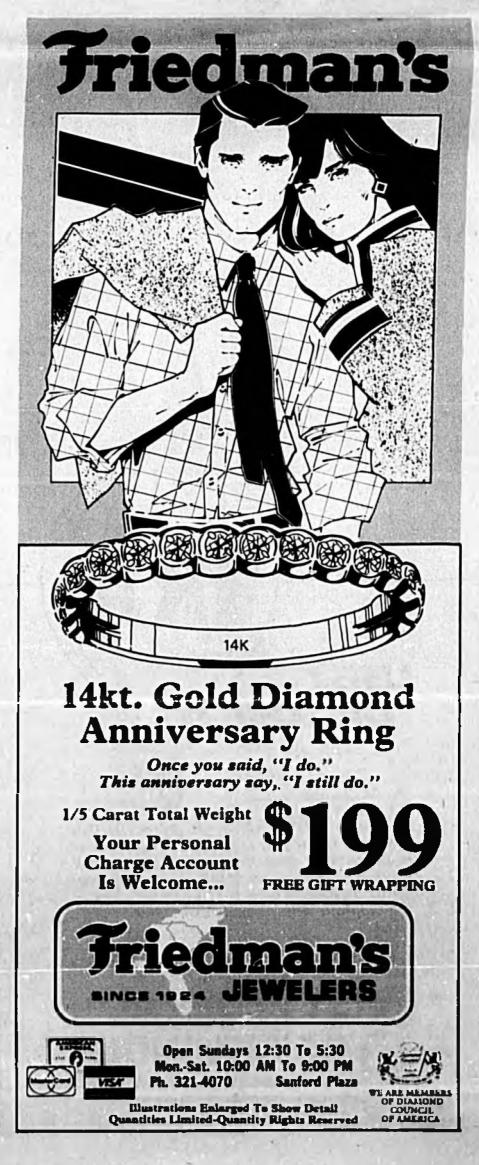

Bankeno holds approximately 50 percent of Merland Explorations Ltd., the subject of an uncompleted takeover offer by Turbo. It also owns significant oil and gas assets, originally held by turbo; a 25-percent royalty interest in the Arvik lead-zinc mine operated by Cominco in the Canadian Arctic; and a small minority interest in Panarctic Oils Ltd.

Trading was halted for 15 days on over 10 million Merland common shares purchased by Turbo from Compass Canada Ltd. in 1981. The order also applies to all Bankeno common shares and warrants for the purchase of Bankeno shares owned by Turbo.

Turbo, Bankeno and the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce were ordered not to dispose of any Bankeno or Merland shares until the order is revoked, a spokesman for the OSC said.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) - Marine Midland Bank Inc. reports it has about $1.4 billion in outstanding loans in five large Latin American countries which have recently experienced "liquidity problems." Winging It To Europe For A Mere Pittance song this year - relatively speaking.

The same goes for May, June and the rest of the summer, be it Paris, London, Rome or other tourist capitals in Europe.

Airlines have cut their Trans-Atlantic fares for the peak spring and summer vacation seasons to levels far below last summer's fares.

Combined with the strong American dollar and a broad array of discount tourist packages, travel to Europe this summer can be a tantalizing bargain.

A number of major U.S. and foreign carriers have chopped roundtrip fares by as much as one-third from last summer's levels.

For example, roundtrip fares to London from New York on regularly scheduled flights have been reduced to $549 from $770 last year; from Boston, $529 compared to $662; from Chicago $699 vs $990 last year and from Los Angeles, $849 vs. $1070.

Paris fares from New York run as low as $599, down from $663; Rome fares are being advertised at $699 versus $899 last summer.

Charter fares are even lower.

Most fares involved are APEX - advance purchase excursion - requiring ticket purchase as much as 21 days in advance of departure, plus minimum and maximum stay requirements. The fares generally are for travel between April 1 and the middle of September.

A few of the fares go up on certain weekend flights and during a few high peak travel weeks. As usual, all are subject to change.

Trans World Airlines, which started cutting European summer fares a few months ago, originally intended to require the purchase of tickets for all special fares by March 31. But that deadline was scrapped for most

NEW YORK (UPI) - April in Paris can be had for a destinations and a TWA marketing executive said there are no current plans to impose a general deadline. But neither could be rule out that the fares being advertised now could change at a future date.

Both TWA's and Air France's lowest fares to Paris are currently scheduled to go up to $629 from $599 for tickets purchased after March 31.

The major regularly scheduled airlines, all suffering from the effects of the world recession on passenger traffic, decided to trim fares to boost traffic and win back some of the market share they lost last summer to charter operators.

After Sir Freddie Laker's low-cost, no-frills British airline went bankrupt last year, major airlines were able to increase their summer fares. But that led many vacationers to seek cheaper charter flights.

In addition to the fares, discount tour packages and bargains are being touted for almost every country.

British Airways is advertising car rentals with unlimited mileage for $17 a day and $18 hotel rooms. Many countries, particularly eager this year to get hold of American tourist dollars, are promoting special "tourist menus" at hundreds of restaurants that have agreed to offer full meals at bargain fixed prices. Americans also will find their dollar stretching further this year in many European countries. In London, for example, the pound has fallen to $1.50 from about $1.75 a year ago.

The strong U.S. dollar, lower airline fares and discounted tour packages will make Europe a spectacular buy this year," said a spokesman for the European Travel Commission.

NATO Wants Modified U.S. Arms Stance

VILAMOURA, Portugal (UPI) -European defense ministers sent a strong signal to the United States to modify its "zero option" position at the Geneva talks on the limitation of intermediate-range nuclear missiles.

Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger said Reagan is studying the possibility of making a new proposal and will take the views of the allies into account. A senior U.S. defense official said on Tuesday - the first day of a planning group - the ministers result in a greatly reduced level of reached a "consensus" in favor of change.

Conference sources said today's final communique would express support for President Reagan's zero option position, which calls for the elimination of all land-based intermediate-range missiles in and around western Europe.

Soviet rejection of the zero option has deadlocked the Geneva talks. The Europeans want the United States to explore the possibility of two-day meeting of NATO's nuclear an interim solution that would movements.

ahead with plans to deploy 572 eralse and Pershing 2 missiles in western Europe starting later this year. These would offset some 600 SS-20, SS-4 and SS-5 missiles now deployed by the Soviets.

The Europeans are anxious for the United States to show flexibility and seize the high ground in the Geneva talks, partly because they feel this would make it easier for them to deal with the anti-nuclear

Reagan Will Release Secret Defense Info

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Reagan, heeding? advice from Capitol Hill, will release secret intelligence information to try to convince a skeptical public his defense policies are needed to counter an ominous Soviet threat, aides say.

Reagan scheduled a televised speech for 8 p.m. to deliver a detailed assessment of Soviet military might. hoping it will help minimize the cutbacks Congress is expected to make in his defense budget in coming weeks.

"There is a knee-Jerk reaction that defense is overblown and no matter what figure you put up there, it's fat and you can cut it," an administration official said Tuesday. "We have to show that the threat is real and this money is needed."

To dramatize his contention that the Soviet Union is engaged in a "relentless drive" that has tipped the military balance in its favor. Reagan planned to release information available until now only in classified briefings.

The information was expected to include satellite reconnaisance photographs showing new weapons and military installations, as well as technical data to help provide a qualitative comparison of U.S. and Soviet Similar information was included in a splashy Pentagon publication entitled "Soviet Military Power." released two weeks ago.

Reagan only last week ordered new curbs against leaks of classified material. He is using his declassification authority to put before the public secret data some Republican lawmakers have seen and found convincing,

"At least a dozen of them have told him that if the American people could only see what they saw in those classified briefings, they wouldn't have any doubts about the extent of the (Soviet) threat," said one presidential assistant. "This gives him more of a basis to prove his policies are right."

The address is the second major defense speech Reagan has made in four months. The first, delivered Nov. 22, focused on the U.S.-Soviet military balance and the "peace through strength" approach integral to his arms control policies. Although tonight's speech was under consideration for weeks, it coincided with House debate on a Democratic budget proposal that has incurred Reagan's wrath during the last five days. White House aides denied the speech was timed to influence the House vote, but acknowledged it is intended to help Reagan fight moves against his defense budget after the Easter recess.

Solo Ocean Voyager Says Solitude Answer

More from Wayne Dickinson, who's too stuffy in San Francisco.' resting up on the rocky isle of Aranmore, Ireland, after 142 days of crossing the Atlantic in his 8-foot, 11-inch boat, "I found the answer in solitude, in complete separation from other human beings, you have to," Dickenson told reporters. The 39-year-old unemployed computer technician from Florida acknowledged, "There were some bad times" during his voyage when he thought he wasn't going to make it. "Eventually, I thought to myself: Well I don't give a damn if I live or if I die - but stop bugging me about it. Let me live or let me die, but don't pester me.'

NAMES

No more "Sister Boom Booms" on the ballot in San Francisco, please. Mayor Dianne Feinstein has signed the "Sister Boom Boom Law" to bar political candidates from using weirdo names in running for public office. The measure requires that candidates use their legal names. The issue arose after a male impersonating a nun ran for a seat on the city's Board of Supervisors last fall. Asked if maybe she and other politicos were taking the matter too seriously, the mayor replied, "I don't think you ever have to worry about politics becoming Dog lovers please note: Italian opera tenor Luciano Pavarotti is putting his mighty voice and international fame behind an effort to spare the lives of some 400 ownerless mutts in Rome. The Italian Association for Animal Rescue says it has run out of funds to maintain stray dogs and that authorities will be forced to destroy 400 of them within a month. The association says Pavarotti "will be launching an appeal for donations from the public" to avoid the destruction of the dogs.

London restaurant critic Egon Ronay has just brought out his 1983 "Just a Bite" guide for budget conscious visitors and says 70 percent of the capital's tourist spots make "British catering look ridiculous the world over." The London Zoo's cafe took the worst drubbing among 1,042 listed establishments. "No outlet in all our visits made a worse overall impression than this grubby, litter-strewn cafeteria, where our inspector sat in a chair so flithy that his trousers literally stuck to it." Ronay's guide says. "The whole place is a

Court Gives Businesses Leeway On Setting Prices

Court, voting 9.0, Tuesday gave businesses more leeway to adjust their product prices to fit geographic territories without violating federal price discrimination laws.

Setting aside a lower court ruling, the justices expanded the use of a key defense against charges of illegal price discrimination by ruling it is not limited to firms that drop their prices on a customer-by-customer basis to meet the prices of competitors.

Justice Harry Blackmun wrote that a firm may be protected even if it raises its prices to numerous purchasers in an

The bottom line, he said, is that a businessman prove "the lower price he charged was generally available from his competitors throughout the territory and throughout the period in which he made the lower price available."

The ruling is a victory for the Department, which had joined the beer pricing case to argue that market-wide pricing decisions are not illegal.

The high court's finding could save numerous firms from the threat of hefty fines for illegal price discrimination.

The case involved a now-defunct Kentucky brewer that charged an Indiana distributor more for its Falls City beer than it charged another distributor 10 miles away in Kentucky.

The Indiana distributor sued Falls City Industries Inc. for illegal price discrimination. The brewery was fined $1.7 million by a U.S. District Court for WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Supreme violating a federal law barring a seller from discriminating against purchasers by charging them different prices for the same product.

Price discrimination is legal, however, if the seller can show he charged different prices in a good-faith effort to meet the equally low prices of a competitor.

Falls City maintained it was covered by the exemption. It claimed the lower prices it charged its Kentucky distributors for "Falls City Beer" and "Drummond Bros. Preferred Beer" were justified because it was simply meeting the prices charged by the major brewers in Kentucky.

The federal district court and 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals had rejected that defense, saying it can only be used when a seller adjusts his prices on a customer-by-customer basis and not when it adopts a market-wide pricing

Although the Supreme Court ruled in Falls City's favor, finding it may be protected by the "good-faith" defense, it said the brewery has not yet fully proved its case and sent it back to the lower court for more proceedings. Falls City, which sold its beer in 13 states, went out of business in November 1978. It was sued by Vanco Beverages Inc., a beer distributor in Evansville. Ind., for losses allegedly incurred from 1972-77 when customers went across state lines into Kentucky to buy the beer for a cheaper price.

Mayor Byrne Is Seeking Easy Write-In Procedures

CHICAGO (UPI) - Mayor Jane M. Byrne has asked the Chicago Board of Election Commissioners to simplify write-in procedures for the April 12 general election by allowing printed ballot envelopes.

Mrs. Byrne, waging an uphill write-in campaign for re-election, Tuesday asked board Chairman Michael Lavelle to allow the ballot envelopes to be printed with the name of the offices, a box for voters to mark with an "x" and a line on which to write a candidate's name. Mrs. Byrne and her attorneys - .two suburban elections law specialists and former U.S. District Judge John Powers Crowley - contend the law provides for such measures. But the Elections Board said previously the voter must write the candidate's name, the office, and draw a square with an "x" in it for the ballot to be valtd. "We think the law is fairly specific and we're going to follow that," said board spokesman Thomas Leach. Mrs. Byrne has said if Lavelle denies her request, she intends to take the issue

Mrs. Byrne said Tuesday she was 'appalled by a debate between her two opponents Monday night.

'As a citizen of Chicago, I was appalled by last night's performance of politics as usual, by the candidates' theater of the absurd, with more attacks on each other, more slurs," said Mrs. Byrne, who said the display made her resolve more strongly than ever to remain in the race.

Rep. Harold Washington - who beat Mrs. Byrne in the Democratic primary and GOP nominee Bernard Epton engaged in a lively debate Monday night. Mrs. Byrne was not included because she was not considered a "major candidate."

She announced her write-in bid last week, barely a month before the general

Washington told a group of Lutheran elergymen he fears racial violence could erupt if the campaign focuses too much on the fact that Washington is black and Epton is white.

"There are people in this city who are on a tremendous high, a good, positive thing," Washington said. "If they get the feeling that this campaign is going to turn into a race war, it might turn evil. and somewhere down the line, it is conceivable that if this thing gets out of hand, some hinocent person a month from now walking down the street may wind up dead because ... in an irrational moment, a hate thing just got out of hand.

Washington called Chicago the most segregated city in the country and urged people to "reach out and try to find things in common."

Raines Just Wants To Stay Out Of The 'Snow' By Sam Cook

Herald Sports Editor

It looks so easy. You've got all that money. All you have to do is play games. Imagine, playing games for a living. Being a little kid all your life - or at least until the talent crodes.

All Tim Raines had to do was play games and enjoy himself. Last year, however, he enjoyed himself more and played the game less. Oh, he was out there 156 times, but something was missing. Raines was missing. He missed buses. He missed games. He missed fastballs down the middle. Some Montreal Expo fans feel he missed August.

He missed a month when the Expos needed him most. A month when they could have pulled away and won the National League Eastern Division. The Expos missed by six games. Too many for a team so talented.

Raines missed because he slipped on some white stuff. No. it wasn't snow - not the snow that's cold and you can wad up and throw around in colder climates. This snow doesn't get wet. If it does, it dissolves. Tim Raines kept it dry and it almost dissolved him.

make you happy - and get you in trouble. For Tim Raines this snow was not cold, it was hot. Too hot for him to handle. It almost cost him his career.

This snow kept him up at night and down in the morning. It kept him in bed and away from the ballpark. This snow stuck on Tim Raines. It got next to him. It got in bed with him. It wouldn't let go. It was like a bloodsucker. It almost sucked a career from Tim Raines.

This snow was the last thing he did at night and the first thing he did in the morning. When he did drag himself to the ballpark, the snow came along. It drizzled between innings in the clubhouse. That's the snow that had a hold on Tim Raines.

"CO - CAINE!" That's how rock singer Eric Clapton shouts about snow. He glorifies it. Screams go up in the audience. Fans lift their beer cans and whiskey bottles in salute. Cocaine is neat, isn't it? It's the "htp" thing to do. The rich man's high. A hundred bucks a gram. You got to be pretty rich to

Baseball

Tim Raines was hip. He was rich. He liked it. Most people that try it do. It's exhilarating. It expands your senses. You're so aware. "Man, I can talk to anybody about anything," some say.

When you make $250,000 a year, you can afford a few grams of cocaine. Tim Raines figured he could afford about $800 a week. At least his mind did, but his body rebelled. And his conscience rebelled too. On a talk show, Raines let it leak that he had tried drugs. A little later in the year, he admitted he was hooked and to what extent his dependency had ate away at this once-marvelous athlete. In the fall, he took the big step. He entered a drug rehabilitation center in Orange County, Cal. One month to sort it out. One month to get his life back together. One month to find out just what the hell happened to me. A nice young man from Sanford, Florida. A guy who was on the merge of stardom until it snowed. Snowed all over a budding career.

The numbers were down, not a rookle year, he fell to .277. His stolen bases were up. 71 to 78, but then again it's not easy to forget 1981 was the year of the strike. The year Tim Raines set the basepaths ablaze with 71 steals in 88 games. Quite a bit better than 78 in 156. And only a little over half of what some predicted of

It took Raines almost six months to admit it was a down year. He used to argue, "a lot of guys would like to have a year like that." They would. But a lot of guys aren't Tim Raines. A lot of guys didn't turn on the baseball world like Tim Raines did as a 21-year-old rookie and make the N.L. All-Star team by write-in ballot. And The Sporting News Rookie of the Year.

Now, he faces the big question. Can he be an all star again? Can he run again like baseball's fastest human? Can he lay back in that George Brett batting style and slash line drives all over the park? Can be break with the crack of the bat in the outfield and run down a deep fly ball?

Well, can you, Tim Raines? He pauses. He's answered this question too many times. He knows he'll answer it too many time again. Should I give them my pat answer? The one he's rehearsed so many times. Raines ponders. Or should I let it all hang He does a little of both.

"It could happen to anybody," he begins. "Doctors, lawyers.

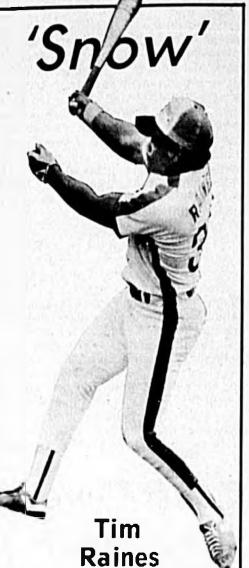

writers, sportscasters, sports writers. I just feel I was caught up in it. I don't really feel mad at myself for it. It was just something I didn't want to happen and it happened.

Now, I feel pretty good about myself."

Good enough to come back? "I don't really think it's a comeback," he says. "I had a good year my first year and a mediocre year my second. You can't say I haven't proved myself. I've already proved myself. I'm not really doing it all over again. It's just playing up to my potential. "I can play at the major league level and I proved it. I'm in the best shape mentally and physcially I've ever been in. I'm just looking forward to staying healthy all year and playing up to my capabilities."

And staying out of the snow.

Reichle No-Hits St. Cloud

ST. CLOUD - Oviedo's Darren Reichle isn't one to let Lake Brantley's Mark Cochran get a step ahead of him. Cochran tossed a perfect game against the Lake Howell Silver Hawks last week. Reichle was almost as good Tuesday against St. Cloud.

The junior right-hander fired a no-hit, no-run game against the Bulldogs as the Lions romped to a 9-0 victory in Orange Belt Conference baseball.

'Reichle wasn't perfect, but he was close," said an elated Oviedo coach Howard Mable, "He pitched a super game."

Reichle walked just two hitters and struck out seven to earn his third victory against no losses. In 20 innings, the hard-throwing righthander has given up just five hits and posted a 1.05 carned run average.

He was in complete control Tuesday, setting down the first five hitters before his first walk. He then knocked down six in a row before an error, got three more before another error and four more before his final walk. The next two hitters popped up before Reichle sinished with a flourish by fanning the final hitter. Oviedo's bats continued to boom. knocking St. Cloud ace David DeYoung all over the yard. In the first. Brian Thayer and Chris Kessinger smacked back-to-back doubles for the first run. In the second, Dwayne Johnson singled, stole second, went to third on a single by Jeff Greene and trotted home on a long fly ball by Thayer.

Skip Cooper led off the fourth with a home run over the left-center field fence to ignite a three-run uprising. Scott Gastley followed with a walk before David Butterfield reached on an error. Scott Bowersox moved the runners up with a nice bunt and one out later, both scored as the second baseman mishandled Johnson's ground ball.

In the sixth. Johnson reached on another error, moved up on Greene's bunt and raced home on

Baseball/Softball

Thaver's single. In the seventh, Butrerfield walked, Bowersox singled to right center and Retchle helped himself with a base hit up the middle to plate Butterfield. Two more runs scored when Greene reached on an error by the first baseman.

The Lions, 12.5 and 3.1, face Bishop Moore in a key game Friday at home beginning at 4 p.m.

Reichie and Johnson, DeYoung and Crabbe. Tribe Tumbles Again; Hawks Nip Bucs, 2-1

In Five Star Conference softball action Tuesday, Sanford's Fighting Seminoles fell for the sixth straight time, losing 12-1 at DeLand. "We hadn't played for eight days," said coach Beth Corso. " knew we'd have problems, but I didn't think we'd be this bad.'

DeLand bunched seven runs in the third inning to turn the game into a rout. The 'Noles pushed across their only run in the seventh when Maxine Campbell stroked her second single of the game and Katie Barbour ripped a triple to left center

Seminole, 0-6 and 0-2, takes on Lyman today at 3:30 at Fort Mellon Park in Sanford. Sanford hosts Seabreeze in another Five Star game on Thursday at 4 p.m. In another Five Star game, Lake Howell eased past Mainland, 2-1, as Barb Heim scattered five hits. The Lady Hawks improved to 2-6 for the year and 1-1 in conference.

Lake Howell scored both of its runs in the third when Heim singled, but forced at second by Shiela Dixon. Mary Johnson doubled in Dixon and Erin Duffy singled in Johnson for a 2-0 lead. Duffy had two singles for Howell.

Derek Tangeman holds off Oviedo's Marty Phillips to win the mile.

Rouse, Murray Break Records, Hadden-Led Oviedo Captures Meet

By Chris Fister Herald Sports Writer

It takes a lot of sweat and dedication to make a successful athlete and the hard work that Mike Rouse has put in this season is paying big dividends.

Rouse, a juntor on Lake Mary's track squad, shattered the school record in the high jump and broke the record in the 120 high hurdles Tuesday in Lake Mary's dual meet with Oviedo's Lions at Lake Mary

Oviedo won the boys meet, 83-57, while Lake Mary dominated the girls meet, 94-29. Rouse cleared 6-5 in the high jump, breaking his previous record by three inches and currently ranking him second to Lake Brantley's Mike Patterson for the county's best jump. Rouse also set a school record in the 120 high hurdles with a time of 15.7, his previous best was 15.8. Rouse also had his second best time, 42.7, in the 330 intermediate hurdles.

"I felt pretty good today," Rouse said after the meet. "I've been coming close to 6-4 the last few days, so I prayed about it, and did it." Rouse said his goal is 6-7 in the high jump and 14.4 in the 120

Another Ram, sophomore Patt Murray, also set two school records. Murray turned in a 21-2 for first place in the long jump and shattered the record in the triple jump with a 41-101/2. The previous triple tump record was 41-81/2 which Murray set in placing second at the Bartow Invitational Saturday.

"I worked on my middle step in the triple jump," Murray said. "I stretched it out longer and now my goal is 45-0. All your jumps have to be good ones in the triple Jump, you can't have one bad jump."

Oviedo benefitted in the meet from winning all three relay events. First place in a relay in a dual meet is five points, while second place gets no points. Jones High was supposed to make it a tri-meet, but it didn't show up. In a tri-meet, first place in a relay is good for 10 points and second place seven points.

'We would have been a lot closer to Oviedo if it would have been a tri-meet," Lake Mary coach Mike Gibson said. "We lost a lot of points in the relays.'

Anchored by the strong running of Leonard Hadden, the Lions picked up 15 points in the relays. "Leonard has really been running weil lately," Oviedo coach Ken Kroog said. "We're strong in the relays and we count on the relays to carry us in the big meets."

Oviedo's team of Hadden, Turner, Lingard and Jefferson won the 440 relay with a time of 44.5 compared to 45.2 for Lake Mary, J.W. Yarborough, who has run a 9.9 100, usually starts the 440 relay for Oviedo, but he has been out with an injury for about a month. "We should place in the state in the 440 relay if we get Yarborough back," Kroog said. "Hadden is the guy that carries us. We look for him to come through when it gets tight, and he usually does."

The team of Turner, Hadden. Jefferson and Phillips won the mile medley relay with a time of 3:49.0 compared to 4:14.3 for Lake Mary. And, in the mile relay, the team of Hadden, Bill McCartney, Dan Lott and Anthony Lingard won handily a.m.

Prep Track

with a time of 3:34.0 while Lake Mary finished with a 3:50.6. Oviedo has the fastest mile relay team in the county with a best time of 3:26.7 which the Lions turned in Saturday at the Knights of Columbus Invitational at Ocala.

Lott also won both the 120 high hurdles (15.3) and the 330 intermediates (40.5). Lingard won the 440 yard dash with a time of 52.0 while McCartney won the 880 with a 2:05.7 and Hadden won the 220 with a 22.9 which is only two tenths of a second off his county leading

In the distance events, Lake Mary's Derek Tangeman won the mile and finished second in the 880. Tangeman ran a 4:39.4 mile, less than two seconds off his best time of 4:37.6, and ran a 2:06.1 880. breaking the Lake Mary school record in the process. Oviedo's Marty Phillips won the two-mile with a 10:50.6.

Lake Mary's Jeff Hopkins hurled the discus 118-3 for first place while Oviedo's Ken Kerkman won with a

"We have a good person in every event," Kroog said. "We aren't very deep though, and, even when everyone's at their best, we still have to struggle to win."

Oviedo is looking for its third straight district title and fourth straight conference crown. "We need to get everyone healthy for conference and districts," Kroog said. "We want to win the third district and fourth conference championship this year beacause we are losing a lot of seniors and next year will be a rebuilding scason.

In the girls meet, Lake Mary's Fran Gordon continues to perform impressive as she won both the 100 yard dash (12.2), the long jump (16-51/2) and the 330 low hurdles (50.9). Gordon's time in the 330 hurdles is the second best in the school's history. Wilease Buggs holds the record with a 48.6.

Lake Mary swepts Oviedo's girls in the relays for a 15-0 edged in points. The Lady Rams team of Anquenette Whack, Mary Buggs. Wilease Buggs and Sonya Walker won the 440 relay with a time of 55.0. Oviedo had a 56.3 but was disqualified anyway. The team of Andrea Johnson. Tina Wade, Mary Buggs and Andrea Beardslee won the nille medley relay with a clocking of 5:02.7 compared to Oviedo's 5:06.8. The mile relay team of Wilese Buggs, Shannon Weger, Beardslee and Gordon won with a time of 4:27.2 compared to 4:46.3 for Ovicdo.

Other notable performances for the Lady Rams included Johnson's throw of 86.3 in the discus, her second best throw ever. Kim Averill's 18.7 and Wilese Buggs' 19.2 in the 110 low hurdles. Whack's long Jump of 15-10 and 220 time of 28.8. Weger's 2:48 880, Lisa Holt's best ever time (69.0) in the 440, Wilese Buggs' winning time of 68.4 in the 440 and Beardsice's 6:20 in the mile.

The Lady Rams will be in Orlando Saturday for the Evans Trojans Invitational beginning at 10 a.m. while the boys travel to Gainesville for the Florida Relays beginning at 9

Payne Inks Kiki To SCC Contract

Stannote Community College basketball coach Bill Payne and University of Florida coach Norm Sloan had something in common this past cage season - they both had nightmares about zone defenes. Everybody knew neither had much when it came to outside shooting, so the zones followed the Raiders and the Gators like the plague.

Sloan plucked Crestview's 6-5 all-stater Joe Lawrence to solve his problem. Tuesday afternoon, Payne signed Seminole High sharpshooter Calvin "Kiki" Bryant to a scholarship to help the Raiders' outside

"Kiki's a shooter with excellent range and that's just what we need," said Payne about the quiet Bryant. Payne is very familiar with the 6-1 senior's ability, having coached him as a junior at Seminole before moving to SCC this year.

Bryant averaged 18 points and eight rebounds for the second straight season for the 'Noles. Again, he was an all-conference and all-county selection. He made honorable mention all-state last year and should do that well or better this year. - BAM COOK.

Tribe's Emotions Mixed

Like most second-place finishers, Seminole track coach Hank Daviero had mixed emotions.

It was nice to be just seven points behind Apoples in the hoys portion of the Freshman-Sophomore Five Star Conference Meet at Lyman Tuesday, but if he would have done this and he would have done that. who knows, maybe the 'Noles would have come home first.

"Overall, we did a good job," said Daviero. "This is the best group of freshmen we've had since I've been here (three years). Still, if we wouldn't have let down in a few areas, we would have won."

Apopka totaled 73 points to Seminole's 67. Lyman (66) was a close third while Lake Howell (57) was fourth. Lake Brantley (31) was a distance fifth.

Sophomore Clifton Campbell turned in the only individual first place for Sanford, taking the 440 dash in 52.7 seconds. Seminole's 440 relay team of Louis Brown, Leo Peterson, Andre Jackson and Dexter Jones won in 45.5. Jones is the only sophomore of the foursome. The mile medley team of Peterson. Jones, Jackson and Kelly Faint took first in 3:56.09, which Daviero pointed out would rank sixth on the county varsity honor roll. All are Brown took a third in the 220 (23.6) and a fourth in the 100 (10.5).

Peterson took seconds in the long jump (21-8%) and the triple jump (40-51/2), although he was three feet short of his freshman record he set Saturday at DeLand in the triple. Campbell ran third in the 220

Freshman Billy Penick was third in the mile (4:53.4) and fifth in the two mile (10:55). Jackson ran third in the 330 hurdles (47.4). The mile relay team of the Jones. Peterson, Faint and Campbell ran 3:41.2 for

In the girls meet, coach Tom Hammontree's Lake Howell Silver Hawks toppled Apopka, 82-77, to keep the Blue Darters from a sweep. Seminole (53), Lyman (52) and Lake Brantley (50) were next.

Individually, Lake Brantley's Joanne Hayward won the mile (5:33.5) and the 880 (2:31.3). The cute sophomore also took second in the two mile as Lake Howell's Lyn Lucas won by almost 17 seconds in 12:18.8.

For Sanford, sophomore Charita Medlock won the long jump (17-2) and the 330 hurdles (48.4). She also ran second in the 110 hurdles (15.4). Seminole's Katrina Walker raced to a win in the 440 dash in Laszalc drew a two-out walk in the top of the seventh, stole second and third and scored on Mike Andrews clutch single. Laszaic then came back to set down the Yankees in the bottom of the seventh to preserve the win.

In Altamonte Major League action, Paul Bowen slapped two singles and knocked in three runs to lead the Angels to an 8-2 victory over the White Sox. David Donovan, Danny Hendricks and David Bane all added doubles to the Angels offensive attack. Hendricks picked up the pitching victory, allowing only one hit and striking out seven in four innings of work.

In Rookie League play, Nathan Warren ripped a singled, double and triple to lead the Angels to a 15-9 victory over the White Sox snapping a two-game White Sox winning streak, Skip McCall added three hits and Eric Weiner slugged two doubles for the Angels. The White Sox had previously beaten the Blue Jays. 18-5, and the Orioles, 12-10.

Tim Romanowski had three hits and three RBI and Bobby Christian clubbed a home run to lead the Astros over the Blue Jays, 18-10.

H.D. Realty Rally Jams Circuits

H.D. Realty, down 11-7 going into the bottom of the seventh inning, rallied for five runs to snatch a 12-11 victory from Central Florida Circuits in Eagle Division play of the Seminole Softball Club at the Seminole Pony Baseball Complex near Winter Springs.

Altamonte's Knutson Does It All For Expos

When Altamonte Major baseball coach Russell Swain first spotted Chris-Knutson, the 12-year-old youngster was tossing basketballs and not baseballs. "But I knew Chris hand so much natural ability, I had to get him on the baseball diamond," remembers Swain. "I could just tell he'd be good at anything he tried." Swain finally got Knutson on the field and he responded by hitting .390 while playing in the Mustang League at the Seminole Pony Baseball Field at Five Points. Swain moved over to Altamonte this year and he brought his little slugger with him. Knutson hasn't forgotten how to hit. Saturday night, the pitcher-third baseman clubbed two home runs and turned in an outstanding defensive play as Swain's Expos held off the Dodgers.

Kentucky Eyes Indiana, Cardinals

If Kentucky and Louisville climb their respective mountains on Thursday, they can raise a feud in the hills back home.

No. 10 Kentucky faces No. 5 Indiana and No. 2 Louisville plays No. 9 Arkansas in the NCAA Mideast Regional at Knoxville. Tenn., and if the two Bluegrass representatives survive, they will meet in a regional final that is guaranteed to grab attention.

Tickets for the possible Kentucky-Louisville game were reported selling Tuesday for $150 each, with some ticket holders predicting the price would surge to

The schools met in the 1959 Midwest Regional with Kentucky winning 76-61. Last year a meeting looked virtually certain until Middle Tennessee upset Kentucky 50-44.

Michael Blair, a Louisville graduate hoping to make it to Knoxville. received several quick offers in response to his classified appeal for Mideast tickets but balked at the asking price of $150 each.

"I'm still holding out for something better," laughed Blair, who said a long-awaited Kentucky-Louisville game "would be great."

Blair said ticket prices might drop after Thursday if a Kentucky-Louisville game becomes a certainty because Arkancas and Indiana fans then might skip Saturday's finals and self their tickets.

faces Memphis State (23-7). The University of Kentucky has historically refused to schedule Louisville even though both are state-run schools located just 70 miles apart in basketball-crazy Kentucky.

Kentucky coach Joe B. Hall, who once ordered a network television crew to stop filming in his office when the issue came up, doesn't like to discuss his reluctance to schedule Louisville but apparently believes UK has little to gain by playing the Cardinals.

Kentucky has won a record five NCAA championships while Louisville won its first in 1980.

Several legislative attempts to mandate an on-court meeting of the schools have failed in Frankfort.

Kentucky should have its hands full dealing with Indiana and Louisville should be wary of looking beyond Arkansas.

The Hoosiers beat UK in Bloomington Dec. 22 and have a Utah, Utah (18-13) plays North 13-11 edge in the series, making Indiana the only school which regularly plays Kentucky to lead the Wildcats overall.

The news was all bad for the Detroit Tigers Tuesday night.

One of their former players, Richie Hebner, had three hits drove in four to a 10-5 victory over the Tigers in a Grapefruit League game.

In addition. Detroit sophomore outfielder Glenn Wilson suffered a possible jammed shoulder attempting a catch and was taken for one run in six innings to receive x-rays.

The Pirates jumped on four Tigers pitchers for 12 hits and six unearned runs to snap a two-game Tiger winning streak.

In the third inning, Lee Lacy sliced a fly ball down the right-field line. Wilson raced to the ball and nearly made the catch, but first base umpire Bob Davidson ruled Wilson dld not have possession of

New Technique Provides Hope For Cancer Patients

By Charles S. Taylor

ATLANTA (UPI) - Last month, Kenneth Miller had a to the lumor. golf ball-size tumor at the base of his skull that was causing double vision, dizziness and pain, but a neurosurgeon refused to operate.

Today, the 46-year-old Miramar, Fla, carpenter is free of symptoms and on the road to recovery, thanks to a great" the next day. comparatively new medical technique called emboliza-

With new refinements, embolization now offers hope to thousands of people with vascular tumors, according to Dr. Ira Braun F. Braun, a neuroradiologist at Emory University Hospital.

Embolization involves the insertion of a small catheter into the femoral artery at the groin. Braun said the flexible tube is worked up through the vessels leading to is released. the tumor. When the eatheter reaches the tumor, thousands of small particles or emboli - polyvinyl those that depend on a blood supply for growth, either alcohol foam — are released, stopping the flow of blood benign and malignant, Braun said.

With the supply of blood cut off, Miller's tumor began to shrink almost immediately, said Braun. The 41/2-hour procedure was done on a Tuesday and except for some minor neck pain. Miller was up and around and "feeling

"My head feels its normal size," Miller said, "I have no balance problem and my lightheadness is gone."

Embolization is not without risk, especially in the head and neck, according to Braun. Misdirected emboli can cause blindness, stroke or death. That's why the technique is preceded by angiograms, a study of the blood vessels at the tumor site to make sure the blood supply will stop only to the tumor area when the emboli

Embolization is effective only for vascular tumors -

Miller, whose tumor was benign, said his problem may have started in 1976. He had influenza at that time and was Ill for three weeks. When he recovered he had lost hearing in his right ear.

About 18 months ago, Miller began experiencing frightening symptoms.

"I had constant dizziness, constant pressure and pain in the back of my head, loss of balance," said Miller.

He went to a chiropractor, a neurologist and a neurosurgeon before the problem was finally diagnosed in February, 1982. But the neurosurgeon declined to operate because Miller, a Seventh Day Adventist, could not accept blood transfusions.

"A couple of weeks ago, a friend saw Dr. Braun explain the procedure on cable television," said Miller. "I called Dr. Braun, he got information and my X-rays from Hollywood (Fla.) Memorial Hospital."

Miller checked into Emory Hospital on March 13th and three days later was ready to go home.

The tumor that caused the trouble "doesn't show on the angiogram," said Braun, and it probably will not return. But if it does, another embolization can be done.

Braun has performed embolizations on many other patients and says, "The ones I've done have all improved." He said there are thousands of tumor sufferers who would be candidates for the procedure.

"A lot of physicians don't know about it," Braun said, explaining that an embolization is not the kind of procedure that can be done in a community hospital.

Embolization will become more important in medical science, according to Braun, because "It's a better technique now.."

'We have better catheters, better embolic materials. It has evolved into a procedure that is a lot more useful than when it was first done," he said.

Herpes

Has A Cure Been Discovered At Last?

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) - The University of Minnesota Institute in Birmingham, Ala. has patented a medicinal gel it says has suppressed genital herpes lesions and prevented recurrence in animals and "looks very promising" for humans.

Robert Vince, medicinal chemistry professor in the university's College of Pharmacy, planned to report on the new drug - cyclaradine - at the American Chemical Society's national meeting in Seattle today.

"We hope to get the drug on the fast track" to speed up testing on humans. Vince said. Because of the thorough tests required by the U.S. government, he said the drug may not reach the market for several years.

Vince said, "cyclaradine looks very promising" more so than other anti-viral drugs developed to fight

Schering Corp., a multinational pharmaceutical firm, is testing the drug along with Vince and colleague William Shannon, a virologist at the Southern Research between outbreaks for the victim's entire life.

Vince said genital herpes is a painful and so far incurable virus, usually transmitted by sexual contact. About 20 million Americans suffer from it, he said, with a half-million more added each year.

Vince said in female guinea pigs infected with live human herpes virus, the cyclaradine gel suppressed the lesions and prevented them from recurring, without causing toxic reactions or skin irritation.

The drug must be applied within a relatively short time after the initial infection - three to 24 hours for animals, probably within weeks for humans, the

Soon, Vince hopes, oral and intravenous forms of the drug can be developed that could more easily attack the virus in the ganglia of the spine, where it lies dormant

Soviet Missiles Up Stakes In The Mideast

By Gerald Nadler

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) - The Soviet Union, its weapons and client nations humiliated in the Lebanon war, has increased the stakes dangerously in the Middle East with powerful anti-aircraft missiles and technicians in Syria.

It is the first time sophisticated SA-5 missiles have been stationed outside the Soviet Union, a measure of the importance Moscow attaches to its foothold in the Middle East.

The surface-to-air missiles have the range to hit not only Israeli warjets flying sorties over Lebanon, but also aircraft from the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean Sea, the symbol of America's stake in the region.

Concern has grown apace in Jerusalem and Washington.

Secretary of State George Shultz says the Soviet gamble makes Syria a Russian satellite. And despite rough spots in their relations, Israel and Washington have exchanged assessments of the missiles, according to Foreign Minister Yitzhak Shamir.

Defense Minister Moshe Arens has characterized the injection of the missiles into the Middle East as a test to peace, calling them "certainly not a stabilizing factor."

Arens, in accounts of a talk to a parliamentary committee, warned that the Syrians could miscalculate if they believe the new weaponry will provide an aerial umbrella.

Arens made no specific reference to Israel's rapid destruction of Syria's Soviet-made SAM-7 missiles in Lebanon last June and the embarrassment Moscow suffered by the poor performance of its Syrian and Palestinian clients, but he noted the Israelis might also find "holes" in the new system.

More bluntly, the outgoing chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Rafael Eltan, warned last week the presence in Syria of Soviet technicians to operate the rocket installations would not deter Israel.

The Soviets, in turn, let it be known in an interview with a Western reporter in Moscow that they would intervene if a war erupted between Syria and Israel. A similar message reportedly was conveyed in Beirut by the Soviet ambassador.

Former Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin says the Russian involvement is aimed at sabotaging American peace initiatives in the Middle East, noting Syria still has 40,000 troops in Lebanon and Israel wants them out.

Health Conscious Actress Shares Gourmet Recipes

By Lou Childers Herald Correspondent

It is obvious when you meel Carol Ann Walsanen that her British accent has a very Scottish brogue to it, and you might even guess that this lady is an actress, but you'd never think that she has a few gourmet recipes up

Carol Ann was born in Balirdardie, near Glasgow, Scotland. From age 12 she studied drama at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art. As a result of her training she began a telvision career at a tender age and moved on to become a film and stage actress. In 1978 she decided to give Hollywood a whirl. It was in California she met and married her husband, Don.

The couple moved to their Tuskawilla home in Winter Springs four years ago and opened their own firm in Winter park, aptly named British American Realty. Their son, Don James Jr., is 3 years old.

Carol Ann says she doesn't "cook gourmet very often. only about once a month." The rest of the time she is very "health conscious" and says, "about 70 percent of our diet is fruit and vegetables."

When she is preparing a gourmet meal, she is likely to begin with Salmon Mousse, serve a main course of her own Invention, Chicken ala Carol Ann, complemented by the addition of a succulent vegetable such as asparagus, and feature as the grand finale, Lime mousse.

Carol Ann says she truly loves America but she misses the hills of her homeland, the people and their wonderful Scottish sense of humor, and especially her family. But, she quickly adds, "One thing I don't miss is the cold weather!'

Her mother, Nan Dunigan, visits here twice a year and is "quite crazy to get to the shops." Carol Ann hopes to visit Scotland later this year where she will, of course, visit her older brother, Draham, and his wife, Linda, and her nieces, Lisa and Kim. Also, her grandmother, Catherine Dunigan, "who is still alert and clever at age husband and I were married for five years. We had gone together for two years, so I thought I knew him quite well. The first two years of our marriage were wonderful, but after that he became less loving and started working nights and weekends. Naturally I suspected another woman. He finally asked for a divorce. When he told me he was leaving me for his homosexual lover, I was shocked! I nearly had a nervous breakdown.

Our divorce was amicable. We sold our home and divided the proceeds of the sale equally. He insisted that I leep all the furnishings.

It's been over a year. We have not talked to each other since, and I plan to keep it that way. However, his mother phoned me last week and asked me if I would please return the silver she gave us at the time of our marriage, as it has been in her family for many years. I told her that the silver now belonged to me, and I had no intention of returning it. She seemed very upset.

I am certain that she doesn't know the reason her son and I were divorced. Should I tell her the truth? And don't you think I'm entitled to keep the silver?

ON THE CAPE

DEAR VIRGO: Concerning the silver: It couldn't possibly mean as much to you as it means to your former mother-in-law, so I would recommend generosity on your part. Concerning the reason for your divorce: Silence is golden.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is probably more common than most people think. I am a battered husband. My wife and I have been married less than two years, and because of this problem, we're both seeing therapists individually and she goes to group therapy. I am writing not only for myself, but for all those men who are beaten by their wives and are too ashamed to tell anyone. We hear a great deal about wife-beating but very little about husband-beating.

Can you direct me to some kind of support group to help me deal with this while my wife and I try to work it out? She is unaware that she beats me, except when she is actually doing it. And believe it or not, we really love

If there are no support groups of this kind available for men in the Manhattan, N.Y., area, how can I go about forming one?

FRIGHTENED IN MANHATTAN

DEAR FRIGHTENED: I know of no support groups for the battered husband, but if there is one in your area, your local mental health association or your therapist can direct you to it. As for forming one, because (as you stated) most battered men are too ashamed to come forward, it would be difficult to recruit members. Ask your therapist if he can put you in touch with fellow victims.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "Holding Out and Proud of It" to be careful. (She's a '27-year-old virgin who is saving herself for the man she marries.)

I fell hard for a man who used to kiss me on the hand when we said good-night. He never made a move to be any more intimate than that. I thought, Bravo! At last I have found my dream man. He respects me!

After 14 months of this, I let him put a ring (engagement) on my finger. He still never made a pass at me. But I returned his ring when I found out he made a pass at my kid brother.

Jayne Kennedy: Still Calling Plays

By KENNETH R. CLARK NEW YORK (UPI) -Jayne Kennedy did not set out to be the female equivalent of Brent Musberger or Howard Cosell, but when it happened she fielded the opportunity as defuly as a wide receiver going for a touchdown pass. It all began when CBS picked her to be Phyllis George's successor on "The NFL Today," and though she longsince has left that showcase, she goes right on grabbing opportunities at a rate that makes her look more like an expert at juggling than quarter-

Not that she isn't trying."

Jayne Kennedy, in New York for a photo session designed to put her classic face in US magazine before leaving on a multi-city tour promoting her new exercise album, has done plenty since leaving "The NFL Today," and nearly all of it has to do with sports.

She will be the first female host next year in the 10-year history of "Greatest Sports Legends," which will be syndicated in more than 85 television markets. nationwide. In addition, she will be co-host with Ken Howard of a "Greatest Sports Legends" special in January.

whose Las Vegas headquarters is jammed at all times with sports celebrities.

"I asked him to videotape me interviewing four prominent sports figures right there on the strip," she said. "I talked him into shooting me with Minnesota Fats, Thomas Henderson, 'Dr. J.' - Julius Irving and King himself.

"I had the cassette under my arm when I walked in for the interview. I don't know if they even looked at it, but at one point, Brent Musberger walked off the set and said, 'it's Jayne or nobody,' and that was that. "I had no idea my career would go in that direction, but it definitely was a turning point."

Bogus Professor Used At Least 13 Identities

By Harry Stoffer

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) - A man whose bogus lives as two professors at separate state colleges "came crashing down" in an investigation may have assumed as many as 13 identities, including those of actual educators in other countries, police

"He led the bright people on a pretty merry paper chase." Attorney General LeRoy Zimmerman said of the grand scheme of impersonation that may have spanned four countries.

The investigation began when officials at Shippensburg State College questioned the credentials of a professor John Byron Hext, Zimmerman said Tuesday. He said the suspect, charged under the name Anthony Williams, may have had his fingerprints smoothed over to prevent

The suspect was in Cumberland County Prison under $150,000 cash bail following a formal arraignment on charges of theft by deception, tampering with public records, forgery and false swearing.

Williams' ball was raised from $40,000 after Zimmerman's agents confiscated 16 boxes of material from the suspect's Lancaster apartment. located near Millersville State College, where he also taught.

The boxes contained what the agents call "identification-related paraphernalia" and revealed what Zimmerman called the biggest fraud of this kind he has seen in 20 years of criminal prosecution.

"He had a lot of balls in the air at one time," said Zimmerman. "They all came crashing down at one time."

The material confiscated from the apartment included a computer terminal and a book entitled: "The New

Paper Trip: For a New You Through New ID."

Also confiscated were credit cards, driver's licenses, academic credentials, letterhead stationery and business cards - all bearing an assortment of at least 13 names and Addresses included Boise and Caldwell, Idaho; Mountain City, Tenn.; Riverdale and Baltimore, Md.; and Staten Island, N.Y. Academic credentials came from universities in Ireland, Great Britain, Australia and New York.

Zimmerman and his agents said, however, they still have no idea of the suspect's true identity.

Deputy Attorney General Kim Daniel said Lancaster police had some difficulty in getting fingerprints from the suspect because it appeared his fingertips had been worn smooth.

Zimmerman spokesman Robert Gentzel said the materials "raise the possibility he (the suspect) may have posed as a professor elsewhere in the

Agents involved in the investigation described the suspect as a quiet person, of medium build, about 50 years old, with graying hair and

He was arrested Monday before a morning business class he has been teaching at Millersville, under the name of Dr. Peter H. Pearse.

The suspect, using the name Hext, had been fired March 10 from a Job he held simultaneously at Shippensburg State College, about 75 miles away, after school officials found his academic creditials to be false.

The agents said the real Pearse apparently lives in Vancouver, British Columbia, and the real Hext in New South Wales, Australia.

A preliminary hearing in the case has been set for March 29.

MX Protesters Say Police Pulled Them Over Boundary

Calif. (UPI) - More than 700 people have been arrested in two days of demonstrations against the MX missile test site but some protesters claim security police pulled them across the boundary line so they could be charged.

The anti-nuclear protesters changed the green lines," he said. tactics Tuesday after a mass demonstration at the main gate Monday resulted in 568 people being arrested by civilian authorities or detained by the Air Force.

Of the 147 taken into custody Tuesday, most were found in the hilly back country of the base. Air Force Staff Sgt. Lorri Wray said helicopters spotted the infiltrators and scores of security troops rounded them up when they got into "convenient locations."

Hundreds of the demonstrators spent the night in custody on the base and were fed C-rations and given blankets.

A spokesman for the Vandenberg Action Coalition said Tuesday night that Air Force security police have pulled many demonstrators across the green of the sprawling coastal base, denied the accusations

"We did not pull a single person over No protesters made it into the MX assembly building area Tuesday where six had been detained the day before after a hike of about 8 miles.

More than 140 demonstrators were given debarment letters, which ordered them never to return to the base for any reason. Three federal magistrates worked until past midnight processing the detainees on a variety of charges. mostly trespass.

There was one minor confrontation at the processing center as a brief scuffle broke out involving a demonstrator who was picked up the day before."

Church, Advertisers Criticize 'Thorn Birds'

By Kenneth R. Clark UPITV Reporter

NEW YORK (UPI) - McDonald's took one look at the prospect of a Catholic priest in a passionate love affair with a girl he practically raised from childhood and decided the scenario was no way to sell hamburgers.

The nationwide fast food chain has issued a memo to its franchise-holders advising them to keep their advertising spots out of ABC's 10-hour mini-series. "The Thorn Birds," which premieres Sunday.

It took the United States Catholic Council to remind ABC that the kickoff was on Palm Sunday and the remainder would be running during Holy Week — a scheduling the Council found unsavory, to say the least, in light of the priest's behavior with his pretty parishioner.

on "Thorn Birds" advertising had nothing to do with the Catholic Council's protest, but the management memo, dated March 15, indicated that consumer pressures were making the mini-scries uncomfortably controversial.

"We have already received numerous letters from television activist groups indicating their position with regard to this program's content," the memo said. "OPNAD (MacDonald's national network time-buyer) will not be associated with this program.

"You are cautioned that if you are involved at a local level, it should only be during the earliest phase of the pro-

The priest, portrayed by Richard Chamberlain, does not violate his vow of chastity until later on in the story, which presumably leaves opening segments at least marginally pure.

Richard H. Hirsch, Catholic Conference secretary for communication, was not impressed by McDonald's partial

"It seems that their decision is an attempt to have it both ways." he said. "This obviously is going to be a program that attracts a lot of viewers and their decision to express concern while telling franchises to advertise early seems to be a neither fish nor fowl response."

Steve Leroy, manager of media relations for McDonalds, said the conference protest had nothing to do with issuance

"Our position is that we only advertise on what we call all-family specials and this is not a family special," he said. "We sponsor programs for children of all ages - through 99. That's the McDonald standard ... We're looking for something the family as a whole can enjoy."

No one was prepared to accuse ABC of deliberate anti-religious bias in the Holy Week scheduling.

Michael Gallagher, film and television critic for the conference and its NC newswire that serves about 100 Catholic newspapers, cited a recent article in A McDonald's spokesman said the ban Public Opinion magazine, which he said "Indicates something like 7 percent of the so-called creative elite of television are regular churchgoers," "It was probably just inadvertent," he sald. "They know about Easter but presumably they don't know about Holy Gallagher said he did not know if the council would have objected to the scenario had it been scheduled at any other time.

"I can't speak to that," he said. "The review which I have written would have taken it to task if it was done in August."

Cal Thomas, a spokesman for the Moral Majority in Lynchburg, Va., said his group has not pressured advertisers to boycott the series, but that he was not surprised at the content, or the Catholic Council's reaction to it.

"It is curious that network television seems incapable of portraying a religious character in a positive way," he said. "Priests and pastors - they never seem to do it to rabbis - are always having illicit affairs, embezzling, fraud ... It's most unfortunate."

A New York network time buyer who asked not to be identified said the Holy Week scheduling was governed solely by a lust for rating points.

Make Memories With Feast of Feasts

Easter is indeed a day for celebration. Spring is in soom and family and friends gather to share the joy of this special holiday. Since Easter is known as the "feast of feasts," it's fitting that the highlight of the day be a gala meal featuring a parade of fabulous foods.

For centuries, tradition has called for the Easter menu to center around an impressive, full-flavored ham. Just right for today's tempo is a boneless, fully-cooked ham that needs only to be heated through before serving. Because this modern ham comes in a wide range of sizes, you'll find one just right for your Easter table. To serve the ham with flavor accents as refreshing as the season, top with a cinnamon-spiced pear glaze that hints

In keeping with the festive spirit of the day, delight young and old alike with Pear Bunny Salads. Whimsical bunnies, easily fashioned from canned Barlet pear halves, are poised on individual servings of lime gelatin that pick up added taste and texture from chopped pears and crisp, fresh vegetables. The quality and convenience of canned Bartlett pears make this salad an ideal choice for your holiday menu.

To cap the feast in spectacular style, bring on a festive "center piece" dessert, Chocolate Easter Egg Cake. It's extra-luscious since it features a very rich, deep chocolate cake crowned with creamy chocolate frosting. The holiday cook with an eye for convenience as well as economy will appreciate that both the cake and frosting are made with unsweetened cocoa: it's ready to use, right from the can, eliminating the need to melt down solid squares. And cocoa goes farther than baking chocolate, saving one-third the cost of this ingredient.

MINT GLAZED HAM

7 to 10-pound boneless "fully-cooked" smoked ham 34 cup pear syrup (reserved from salad below)

1/2 cup light corn syrup

1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon 2 teaspoons each cornstarch, water and snipped mint

Place ham on rack in open roasting pan. Insert meat hermometer so bulb is centered in thickest part. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (325°F.) until the meat thermometer registers 130°F. to 140°F. fallow approximately 15 to 18 minutes per pound). Combine pear syrup with corn syrup and cinnamon, cook slowly 10 to 12 minutes. Dissolve cornstarch in water; stir into syrup. Bring to boil and cook 4 to 5 minutes. Reduce heat, stir in mint and continue cooking 2 to 3 minutes. Brush glaze over ham 20 minutes before end of cooking time.

PEAR BUNNY SALADS

1 can (29 ounces) Bartlett pear halves 1 package (3 ounces) lime-flavored gelatin

1¼ cups water 3 tablespoons whie wine vinegar

1/2 cup finely shredded cabage

14 cup each shredded carrot and minced celery Decorations: Raisins, 6 split whole blanched almonds, very thin carrot strips, 4 marshmallows, halved Drain pears; reserve syrup. Set aside 6 pear halves; dice remaining. Dissolve gelatin in 1 cup boiling water. Add 1/2 cup syrup*, remaining water, vinegar and salt. Chill until partially set. Stir in diced pears, cabbage, carrot and celery. Spoon about 3/2 cup mixture into each of 6 shallow 5-inch round bowls. Chill until set. Top each with pear half, cored side down. Decorate pears with raisins for eyes, almonds for ears, carrot strips for whiskers and marshmallows for noses and tails. If desired, tint almond "ears" and marshmallow "noses" with red food coloring.

Remaining pear syrup may be used for Mint Glazed

Salmon Dish Special Treat For Dieters

Even the best of dieters falls off the food-wagon

When this happens, try a special treat that is high in protein and very satisfying - salmon with green

An easy party dish, serve it with orange-onion salad, garlic bread and fresh strawberries.

SALMON WITH GREEN

FETTUCCINE 1 can (15 1/2 ounces) salmon

14 cup finely chopped onion

11/2 cups sliced mushrooms

3 tablespoons butter or margarine 14 cup flour

14 cup dry white wine Parmesan cheese, grated

2 tablespoons minced parsley 1/8 teaspoon dill weed, crushed

Salt and pepper 34 pound spinach or egg fettuccine

noodles, cooked and drained

Drain salmon, reserving liquid; break into large chunks. Add milk to reserved liquid to measure 1 ¾ cups. Saute onion and mushrooms in butter until onion is tender. Add flour: cook and stir on low heat until blended. Remove from heat; add milk mixture and wine. Heat and stir until mixture comes to a boil; simmer 2 minutes. Carefully stir in salmon, ¼ cup Parmesan cheese, parsley and dill. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Heat, stirring gently, 5 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Serve over hot spinach fettuccine. Pass additional Parmesan cheese. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 6 servings.

1 teaspoon vanilla

21/2 cups unsifted all-purpose flour

1 teaspoon baking powder 11/2 teaspoons baking soda 1/2 teaspoon salt

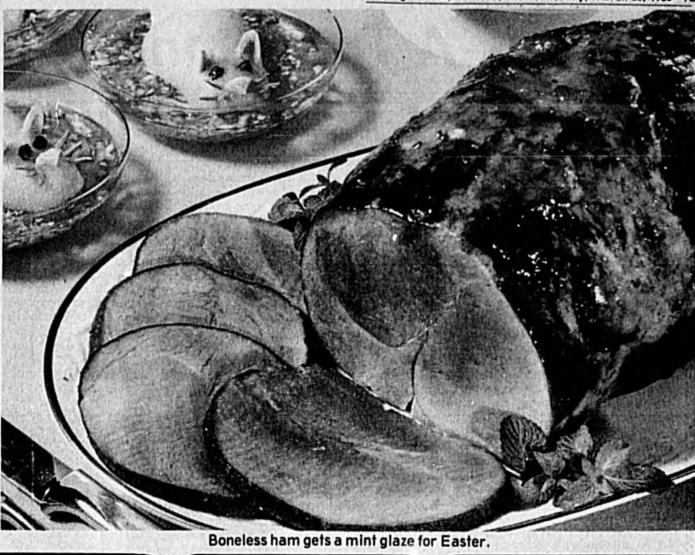

1 cup buttermilk or sour milk. Chocolate Frosting (Recipe below)

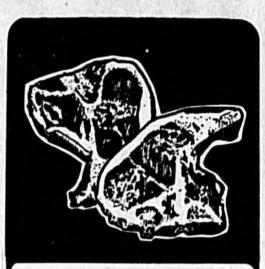

Stir boiling water into cocoa; cool. In large mixing bowl, cream butter, shortening and sugar until ffluffy. Add eggs and vanilla, beating well. Combine flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt; add alternately with buttermilk and chocolate mixture, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Pour into well-greased and floured 9x6-inch egg-shaped pans (or 13x9x2-inch pan). Bake on lowest rack in 350°F, oven 60 to 65 minutes for egg-shaped pans, 40 to 45 minutes for oblong pan, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool. Trim base so cake sits level; trim layers to fit together evenly. Frost; trim with pastel flowers and Easter decorations. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

*To sour milk: To 1 tablespoon vinegar, add milk to equal 1 cup.

CHOCOLATE FROSTING

Combine 23/2 cups confectioners' sugar, 1/2 cup unsweetened cocoa, 6 tablespoons softened butter or margarine, 3 to 4 tablespoons milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Blend until spreading consistency.

for a simple and successful boned leg.

Along with great taste, lamb has less internal and saturated fat than any other red meat, as well as fewer calories. One 31/2 serving of trimmed lamb supplies more than 40 per cent of the RDA of protein for adults and is plentiful in iron and the B vitamins - thiamine, riboflavin and niacin.

Any occasionfor spring entertaining will have a head start on success with either of these marvelous stuffed lamb dishes

PILAF STUFFED LEG OF LAMB

I tablespoon butter or margarine I large onton, chopped (1 cup)

Microwave Magic

Know Your Onions For Meal Appeal

Meal Appeal

Knowing your onlons can be a great advantage for your families' meals, for this most versatile vegetable can certainly add interest and flavor to almost any meal. Strong, smelly onions keep longer than sweet, mild ones. Both can contribute to our meal planning.

When selecting dry onions, choose firm ones with papery skins free from green spots. Avoid fresh sprouts or moisture from the neck of the onion. Buy green onions with 2-3 inches of white stem and crisp green tops. Store dry onions in a cool dry place. Do not refrigerate or store with potatoes, as onions absorb moisture and will decay. Place green onions in plastic bags and refrigerate in the crisper.

The large sweet onlon that we find at the farm markets this time of year is of excellent flavor and will microwave well. If you like to have a cooked whole onion; slice tops from medium onions. Remove root ends. Place onions in a shallow baking dish. Cover. Microwave at 100% power for half the cooking time. Rotate each onion in the baking dish so all sides have exposure to the outside of the dish at some time during the cooking. This will give uniform doneness. Recover and continue to cook until onions are fork tender. Let stand two minutes to complete.

Sauteing of slices or wedges of onions can be easily done in the microwave. A small amount of butter [1-2] tablespoons) or ¼ cup water needs to be added. Cook at 100% power, stir and cook until transparent and fork Whole onions make good cups to serve other vegetables or meat and cheese filling. These onions stuffed with peas are particularly good. I prefer using LeSucr Tiny peas.

STUFFED ONIONS

4 large onions (21/2 to 3 lbs.), peeled 1 package (10 oz.) frozen green peas

4 oz. fresh mushrooms, coarsely chopped

¼ teaspoon thyme leaves 1/8 teaspoon pepper

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

14 cup hot water

1/2 teaspoon instant chicken bouillon granules

Hollow out the center of each onion, leaving 4-inch thick shell. (Onion centers may be chopped and frozen for later use.) Combine peas, mushrooms, thyme and pepper. Place onton shells in 8x8-inch baking dish and fill each with one-fourth of the pea and mushroom stuffing. Dot each onion with 1/2 tablespoon butter.

Combine water and bouillon. Pour over onions. Cover dish with plastic wrap. Microwave at High 7 to 10 minutes, or until tender. Rotate onions once. Baste with cooking liquid. Let stand, covered, 3 minutes. Serves 4. Onton rings cooked in garlie are a good accompaniment for steak.

ONION RINGS IN GARLIC BUTTER

1/2 cup butter or margarine 2 cloves garlie, pressed or mineed

¼ teaspoon sugar

1/8 teaspoon white pepper 2 medium onions (1 lb.) peeled, thinly sliced and separated into rings. In a 2-quart casserole microwave butter at High 45-60 seconds, or until butter melts. Stir in garlic, sugar and pepper. Add onions; toss to coat. Cover; microwave at High 7 minutes, or until desired doneness, stirring after half the cooking time.

Serves 4 to 6.

I usually cream onions if I find they are getting a little old and soft. The nutmeg is a good spice to use with the bland sour cream sauce.

CREAMED ONIONS

16 small onions, peeled, or 4 medium onions, peeled and cut into quarters

2 tablespoons water 34 cup dairy sour cream

¼ cup milk 1/2 teaspoon salt

Dash nutmeg Dash pepper

In 11/2 quart casserole combine onions and water. Cover. Microwave at High 7 to 8 minutes, or until tender, stirring gently once. Drain.

Combine remaining ingredients. Pour sour cream mixture over onions; toss gently to coat. Reduce power to 50% (Medium). Microwave, uncovered, 1 to 2 minutes, or until sauce is heated through.

Makes 4 Servings.

Easter Egg Art Traced To Farmers

LANCASTER, Pa. (UPI) - Most Easter eggs last about as long as it takes to crack the shell.

But German settlers who brought the colorful custom to this country about three centuries ago took great pains to decorate the eggs and often treasured them as

Brown onion skins were the commonest dye used by the Germans who settled central Pennsylvania, said Evelyn Althouse, who practices and teaches the art of egg scratching, or "olergritzele," as it is called in Pennsylvania Dutch dialect.

"Farmers usually had a lot of children and there wasn't too much time to work on those things," she said in an interview.

"Onion skin was easy to come by. It was the most common because everybody had onlons and it was non-poisonous and a favorite flavoring

Egg scratch artists use a pin or other sharp tool to scratch through the dyed surface to the white egg shell. Tulips, hearts and "distlefink," the good luck bird, were the most common designs.

"They were an agricultural people, so vines and flowers and anything close to nature was a motif for their art," Ms. Althouse said. "Then they used Christian symbols, like the sheaf of wheat.'

German settlers also brought the Easter rabbit, or Oschder haas, with them, said Ms. Althouse, who was born in 1918 in rural Lancaster County.

It was the custom to eat eggs laid on Good Friday because they were thought to possess "nealing powers.

Artists generally signed and dated their eggs. These "bring a big price at antique auctions today."

"Binsa-graws" was a favorite method of decorating among the Amish. Ms. Althouse said.

An egg was covered with glue and layered with fibers from meadow rush, a grass similar to flax. Scraps of calico and other material were then pasted onto the egg.

In classes she teaches at the Landis Valley Farm Museum, Ms. Althouse uses marigold petals, red cabbage leaves and grass clippings as well as onion skins for dyeing the eggs.

Ms. Althouse recalls egg hunts, egg rolls, egg-eating competitions and games played with the eggs, including a tapping contest in which the prize went to the person who could crack another's egg while keeping his own

"The prettiest egg you usually saved." she said.

"The inside of the egg would dry up and you could keep it for a keepsake. But today you have problems because the eggshells are so very thin. Sometimes they

"The shell must be strong enough that the gas that forms on the inside doesn't explode it."

The colorful dyes concocted by German settlers inspired a Lancaster druggist to experiment before the turn of the century with paints that do away with the bother of boiling onion skins.

Samuel Hinkle's hobby grew into a business when F.W. Woolworth became a customer. Jane Stockdale. Hinkle's granddaughter, said.

'We would paint eggs for weeks before Easter," said Mrs. Stockdale, whose German ancestors settled in Pennsylvania 275 years ago.

Fresh Fruits Refreshing In Double Parfait

Fresh fruits of the season are a refreshing addition to any meat. A double fruit parfait may be an in-between snack for a dieter or eaten as part of a holiday meal. DOUBLE PRUIT PARFAITS

Va large fresh pineapple, peeled cored, cubed (about 21/2 cups)

1 papaya, peeled, seeded, cubed (about 2 cups)

2 ktwifruit, peeled, sliced (about 1 cup)

1 cup strawberry halves

1 banana 1/2 cup freshly squeezed orangejuice

In large bowl, combine pineapple, papaya, kiwifeuit and strawberries. In food processor or blender, combine banana and orange Juice: process until smooth. Pour banana mixture over fruit; mix gently. Cover. Chill several hours to blend flavors. To serve, spoon fruit into parfait glasses. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 servings.

Ideas For Easter Leftovers

Holidays are fun but often leave the freezer chock full of leftovers. These challenge a cook's Ingenuity.

Easter, for example, has its abundance of leftover ham and eggs.

These make an excellent basis for turnovers for a brunch at a later date since they may be prepared ahead and frozen oncebaked. HAM AND EGG TURN-OVERS

cach) frozen patty shells. thawed

1 egg beaten

In one-quart saucepan. melt butter over medium heat. Stir in flour, cook 1 minute. Stir in mustard; cook 1 minute. Gradually whisk in milk. Cook and stir until thickened, about 5 minutes. Stir in ham, raisins, hard-cooked eggs, ontons, pepper and salt. Cook and stir over low heat 5 minutes. Remove from heat and set aside. Roll each patty shell into a 6-inch circle. Spoon fillings, equally divided, onto circles. Fold over and carefully press edges with fork to seal completely. Place on greased baking sheets. Brush with egg. Bake in 400-degree oven 15 to 20 minutes until puffed and golden brown. Serve hot or at room temperature. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 12 turnovers.

NOTE: Turnovers may be cooled, wrapped and frozen. To reheat in conventional oven: Thaw in refrigerator, place on baking sheet and heat in 350-degree oven 10 to 15 minutes until heated through. To reheat in microwave oven: Microwave each frozen turnover on high power 1 to 1 1/2 minutes until heated through.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby

Some 20 years ago the late John Crawford had just won a pair event with a young partner who was supJohnny was asked about him and gave this reply. "He bids well, has a good feel of the table, but he will never be of world class." When asked how he could be sure, John gave this hand as an example. We will carry on with our recollections of John's story. "I might have bid seven no-trump right away, but wasted one round of bidding with my three-spade call. Naturally, if I had played in seven spades I would have posed to be a future star.

made my contract and would have received an average score. It wasn't too strong a field and quite a few declarers managed to go down at the spade or nofrump grand slam. My partner couldn't wait to chuck his contract. At trick two, he led a spade to dummy's ace and there was no way to recover from that five-zero spade break."

John was correct. There had been no way to guard against five spades in the East hand. However, the simple play of the spade jack at trick two would have allowed South to make his grand slam.
