

Britain Is Prepared For Settlement In Cash Of Her Debts

Widespread Interest Shown In Washing- ton Over Plan For One-Lump Payment

LONDON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Reliable sources put stamps of authority today on reports that Great Britain would seek to settle the American War debt immediately with a single payment.

The new British debt commission is expected to offer a flat payment of about one-third of the sum now allocated for settlement in the next 50 years.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Widespread interest was created here today by dispatches from London describing a prospective British war debt settlement plan on a lump sum basis involving amounts from $1,250,000,000 to $2,000,000,000.

For some time reports have been current that Great Britain would make some lump sum offer for final settlement, but usually the sums mentioned have been under $1,000,000,000 or more in line with the Lanning reparations agreement. The sum of $2,000,000,000 would represent a settlement slightly less than 50 percent of the total amount now due.

Barter Exchange Is New Experiment In South Carolina

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 7.—(AP)—The South Carolina barter exchange, a unique community experiment, opened registration yesterday of professional and skilled workers who are willing to exchange their services for goods, stock or produce.

The exchange was founded as a medium of distribution of surplus goods and services. Although it was only announced Saturday, those in charge said the public is evincing keen interest.

Ten persons registered yesterday. Among them were a carpenter, offering his services for goods; a clerk, a seamstress, who would work in exchange for food and shelter; a woman who wants to exchange rabbits and chickens for a calf or other stock and produce; a stenographer who will work for food and shelter.

An attorney wrote that he would accept credit slips up to $25 for exchange of professional services.

The exchange is sponsored by several Columbians. It is a non-profit association and entails no circulation of scrip. Instead, credit slips are to be issued to those leaving goods at the exchange and the slips may be used for any other goods or services offered.

To illustrate the system of barter the exchange gave the following illustration:

"A farmer owning a cow would take it to the exchange and receive $20 in credit slips, which would be of small denomination to allow their ready transfer. If he desired roofing for his barn, he would take the slips to a merchant, who would give him the material and take the slips. The slips could then be presented at the exchange for goods or services the merchant might desire. The slips travel back and forth from the exchange to the public and are not intended to be circulated throughout the community."

Another Blaze Hits Coney Island Resort

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Fire a persistent plague of Coney Island, struck again yesterday at the famous Seaside resort. Blown before a gale in 12 above zero weather, the flames swept through the wooden and paper mashes of the "Luna" ferris wheel, which, with caterpillar ride, water-skiing and two wooden roller coasters, is a favorite attraction of a million thrift of wind-peddled tourists. Origin of the fire was traced to the electrical wiring of the building.

ORANGE COUNTY SCHOOLS ARE ON BRINK OF CLOSING

Financial Plight Of Educational Institutions Is Critical

ORLANDO, Feb. 7.—"To close or not to close," is the question which faced members of the Orange county school board this morning when they convened at 10 o'clock. It was learned on good authority last night. Financial conditions are such that all schools in Orange county may close down in a week or so, maybe sooner, it was said.

Figures secured from the office of the county superintendent of public instruction show that approximately $7,000 in teachers' salaries were not paid on the last pay day, Feb. 3. Superintendent Walker made no comment whatever on the financial situation. He said that the school board would meet this morning to discuss routine matters, including the question of whether or not teachers will be allowed to go to Tampa Mar. 9 to 12 to attend sessions of the Florida Educational Association there.

From other sources it was learned that only $4,000 is now on hand to meet the next pay roll of about $40,000. Just where the balance of $36,000 will be secured no one could say yesterday. It was shown that the board recently borrowed $100,000 and revenues from the state for educational purposes must go to pay off this loan. Consequently no assistance for some time from Tallahassee was foreseen.

Teachers in the Ocoee school did not receive any money last Friday. Not a teacher was paid, though checks were due at that time. Prominent educators declared yesterday that among business which would face today's session of the school board was a charge which would be made that the campaign to oust "loafers" from classrooms was instituted in order to secure a class of "loafers" to be taught by an instructor who specializes in backward pupils. In short that the "loafers" would be counted out in order to create a job. Whether this charge actually would be made today was problematical, though discussion of the matter indicated that sooner or later the alleged move to "create a job would be probed by board members.

Among routine business scheduled for the school board was the question of whether or not children would be allowed a day from school to attend the Central Florida exposition. It was thought that possibly some of the routine business would be more or less pushed into the background when financial matters come up for discussion and when and if charges and counter charges are flung regarding the "loafers" situation in high school classrooms.

No Provision Made For Freeing Bridge At Palatka Limits

PALATKA, Feb. 7.—No provision for the freeing of the Putnam County Memorial bridge from County 10 is included under that specific heading in the tentative road bill adopted by the state road board, according to a copy received yesterday by W. A. Williams Jr., clerk of the court.

The San Mateo to Shell Bluff stretch, 11.54 miles now being paved, carries an appropriation of $300,979.53 according to the tentative budget. This project, 72.9 miles in length, is the first project to be included in the first program to be constructed, according to the bill.

GROWERS WILL EXTEND OFFER FOR CHARITIES

Will Give Celery Free To Children's Home; Minutes Of Meeting In Lakeland Read

Going one step further in their charities, members of the Seminole Agricultural Club meeting in the Court House last night to hear reports of the growers and shippers meeting in Lakeland Friday night, okayed the action of their president and his advisory board in gratuitously offering state institutions all the celery they need, and extended their action to cover the Children's Home Society at Jacksonville.

F. F. Dorner, president of the club, brought the members' attention to this matter shortly after he had asked approval of his donation of Seminole County celery to Governor Sholtz and the institutions under his charge. "I assumed this responsibility because I knew that there isn't a grower in this community who would have done otherwise," Mr. Dorner said, to receive unanimous approval of his action.

Mr. Dorner introduced Rev. F. M. Marler who pleaded the cause of the Jacksonville home for some 100 children. Rev. Marler said that one of the boat lines operating between Sanford and Jacksonville had agreed to transport (Continued On Page Four)

Sanford Ministerial Group Lauds Louttit

Resolutions of deep appreciation of Rev. H. Irving Louttit who leaves Sanford within a few weeks to become rector of the Episcopal Church in West Palm Beach, were passed by members of the Sanford Ministerial Association meeting in regular session Monday afternoon.

Rev. J. B. Root, president of the Association, this morning explained the attitude of his group when he said "Our associations with Mr. Louttit have been such that the ministers of this city feel a personal loss in his going from their midst. He has been a true yoke-fellow, one who would ever ready to co-operate in a most splendid manner. While the ministers regret his leaving, they rejoice that he has received this promotion and commend him in the highest terms to the church and city to which he goes."

Excellent Heads Of Lettuce Given Herald

Through the generosity of C. A. Baumister, Lake Monroe grower, the editorial staff of The Herald tonight and tomorrow will enjoy one dozen of the finest, most compact, and tastiest appearing heads of lettuce ever brought to the office.

The lettuce was packed in a single crate that bore the label of Chase and Co., for whom Mr. Baumister grew the product on the Takach farm on Clergy Avenue. The lettuce is of the iceberg variety, and it drew the admiration of every member of the staff as well as several callers, during the day.

Jacksonville Slayer Surrenders To Cops

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Telling officers that "He broke up my home and I shot him," C. Yates, 22, today surrendered shortly after R. L. Cassey, 32, was shot six times and killed in a paint shop where both were employed. Police said the shooting culminated an argument between the man over Mrs. Yates, who they were informed, was separated from her husband.

Hope Is Given Up For Corbett's Recovery

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Hope for the recovery of James Corbett, former heavyweight champion, seriously ill with a heart ailment, was abandoned today by his physician, Dr. William Dickie. "His condition is such that he might go at any time," Dickie said.

SCRIP MONEY IS WIDELY USED IN SOUTHERN AREAS

Municipally Issued Self-Liquidating Currency Popular

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 7.—(AP)—City-issued scrip money, development of man's age-old custom of bartering goods for services, has come into extensive use in many southern cities, having in some instances attained a greater turnover than cash. In addition, the practice of exchanging services for shelter and food has grown up in localities where formal scrip has not been issued.

The city of Knoxville has been issuing $14,000 worth of scrip monthly to meet payrolls, and additional amounts to pay for city supplies.

Of the slightly more than $1,000 issued since June 14, 1932, half has been turned in as payment of taxes. The paper bears six percent interest and will become redeemable on Feb. 15 and Mar. 15.

Trade Body's Membership Drive Gets Underway In Atmosphere Of Optimism

Off to a heartening start that began at the Valdez Hotel this morning when 74 prominent men and women of this county gathered for final instructions relating to their part in the annual Seminole County Chamber of Commerce membership drive, reports current early this afternoon indicated that over 25 percent of the goal of 1000 memberships in 36 hours had been reached, yet only a few teams had reported.

Pep and enthusiasm were the keynote of the breakfast meeting, featured by the attendance of representatives from every section of the county, words of welcome and courage from Charles Herring, who is director of public recreation at Daytona Beach, and the loudly applauded announcement that three county towns, Lake Mary, Slavia, and Fern Park had reached or exceeded their quota.

Auction Will Be Staged Tonight At Milane With Bidding In Scrip Money

The Milane Theater's Grand Auction, scheduled to take place tonight at 9 o'clock, will bring to a close a week of business stimulation in Sanford since the introduction of "Prosperity Scrip" which will be used in place of money when approximately $150 worth of merchandise will be sold to the highest bidder.

During the week 20 local firms, including the Milane Theater, have issued "Prosperity Scrip" to customers making cash purchases. Tonight each person who has received "Scrip" will have the opportunity to use it as though it were an actual dollar in currency, for at the auction it will be as good as United States money in bidding power.

Although one week is considered a short period for such a plan that has been passed in operation here the sponsors are well satisfied with the results and are confident that local buyers are more than glad that they have taken advantage of what is termed "an unusual offer."

The following Sanford firms have co-operated with the Sanford Herald in the "Prosperity Scrip" movement: The Milane Theater, Lancy Dry Cleaners, Forrest Gatchel's Cash Grocery and Meat Market, Waggoner Furniture Co., Seminole Tire Shop, Briggs-Jeweler, Lancy Drug Store, H. FLETCHER PLAN ANNOUNCED FOR CITY BANKRUPTS

Copy Of Amendment To Proposed Act Is Received In State

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 7.—(AP)—A copy of an amendment to the proposed act to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States, proposed by Senator Fletcher, of Florida, which would take in municipalities and other political subdivisions, has just been received.

Under the Fletcher amendment any municipality or other political subdivision of any state may file a petition, stating that such taxing district is insolvent or unable to meet its debts as they mature and that it desires to effect a plan of adjustment of its debts on a basis of equality to pay. A fee of $100 in addition to other fee in the act, would be provided.

An adjustment plan would include a proposal to modify or alter claims of creditors generally through issuance of new securities, and at the same time provide adequate means for execution of the plan.

Upon approving the petition the judge might require the petitioner to give such notice as the act may direct to the creditors, might require the taxing district, at such times as the judge directed, to file schedules and submit other information necessary to fully disclose the affairs of the district.

Under the amendment the plan of adjustment would not be less than 25 percent in amount of any class of creditor and not less than 10 percent in amount of all the creditors whose claims or equities would be affected by the plan, and rayon doll had spread out; a $5.00 credit on a Crosley $19.99 radio; a $9.75 electric clock; $10 worth of toilet articles; a $5.00 tire; a $7.50 electric sandwich toaster; a $7.50 men's high robe; 60 one-quart buttered tickets; a $7.50 salt water fishing reel; a $10 silk dress; a $10 smoking stand; a $5.00 credit on any lumber order; a $5.00 men's wallet; a $5 pair of men's shoes; a $10 gladstone suitcase; a $10 credit on any model refrigerator.

North Louisiana And Mississippi S1 and For 10-Above C Storm Along Coast

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Announcing the approach from the West of a severe cold wave which may bring a 40-degree drop in temperature far South as New Orleans, meteorologists today issued storm warnings posted along the Gulf Coast area from Florida to Texas.

Precipitate drops in temperature were forecast for nearly all the southern states and Louisiana and North Mississippi warned to prepare for almost snow tonight with mercury dropping as low as 10 degrees in some states and in Arkansas.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Midwest prepared to stock up today as advanced warnings were received of what meteorologists said would be the coldest wave of the season. Cold already has descended in Minnesota, Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin, and Montana with numerous other reporting temperatures of more than 20 below zero. Snow drifts added to the discomfort in Minnesota and North Dakota and some highways were reported blocked.

From Idaho across the Divide, down into the Valley of the Mississippi and the Missouri, now swirled with driving fury last night. There were deaths from exposure; more of them from accidents on icy highways.

The storm was the worst in years at Pocatello, Idaho. All traffic—air, highway and rail—in southeast Idaho was snow-bound.

Far east to the seashore, the Atlantic rolled in rage while the Weather Bureau promised more of the snow that made a white week-end for New York and its neighbors.

Drifts piled over Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah and New Mexico. Below zero was the word in Denver; Chayenne tingled at 8 below; Helena ploughed through a foot of snow.

There was no let-up in the Dakotas and Minnesota as the blizzard drove down the temperatures. It was 25 below at Minn., N. D.

In Pennsylvania, nine persons were killed over the week-end on accidents on roads coated with ice. A man died from exposure. Temperatures were the lowest in 1933.

Around Lake Michigan, where mildness prevailed yesterday, Chicagoans and their neighbors looked over a reversal with sober weather. Another blizzard of zero was forecast for Indiana.

The storm was not without its brief blessing-work. Jobs were employed to clear streets, 10,000 of them in New York.

Barry's Removal Recommended By Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Immediate removal of David Barry as Senate sergeant at arms for writing in a magazine article that some members of Congress were corrupt was recommended today by the Senate judicial committee.

The case comes up in the Senate late this afternoon for final determination. It generally was conceded the committee's recommendation would be adopted, Barry already being under suspension.

A motion by Senator Robinson, Republican of Indiana, to recommend permitting the 77-year-old officer to resign, was rejected.

Immediately prior to the committee action, Professor William Johnston, of Georgia Wesleyan University, denied reports that he taught his political science students there was corruption among national legislators.

Barry had testified he was a leading Congress in an article against the widespread belief that he was corrupt and had cheated on his teaching.

Today's article on the income tax explains who is the head of the family. This should be of interest even to those who are not interested in income taxes.

After all a farmer with a ten thousand dollar mortgage on his five thousand dollar farm is no worse off than a government with four billions of expenses and two billions of income.

John D. Rockefeller's fortune is said to have shrunk from one billion dollars to about 150 million which just goes to show what excessive tax levies have done to the gasoline patch.

The state of New York contributed more to the support of the federal government during 1932 than any other state in the union, and internal revenue taxes on New York last year amounted to over $200,000,000. Florida's total taxes were $7,531,379.

The Golden Text was from John 4:24, "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands."

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science text-book: "The Spirit of God is the life of all things, and he is the life of all things."

What's Wrong?

Complaining of the seriousness of the depression the other day, we were forced to listen to the experience of a friend of ours who explains this economic phenomenon not in terms of technology, political incompetency, and international trade, but of human nature.

He was returning from Orlando the other night, he said, when he ran out of gasoline. He managed to push his car about two blocks down the highway until he came to a filling station with all the lights out. He rained a shout to see if anyone were asleep within. After several cries a weary voice was heard, "Go on away. This place is closed for the night."

This certainly leads one to believe that not everyone is as anxious for business as he might well be. It also reminds us of an article we saw in the Christian Science Monitor the other night in which a Boston man is quoted as saying that the trouble with this country is that the people themselves are not taking advantage of the opportunities which every day are being spread before them.

He insists that he personally paid a young man fifty cents for two hours work which was the first money he had received in a month, and in spite of a hungry family at home, the fellow spent thirty cents of the money on cigarettes and twenty cents in a pool room.

He tells about another unemployed worker, a girl, who had not had a job for six months. A relief agency found work for her in a rooming house and with her first week's wages, she secured a permanent, well-paying, steady job for food.

He also tells of seeing a family of four in a picture show who had applied to the community chest for help the day before, and also of knowing a man who had exchanged a sack of charity flour for a pint of whiskey. He insists he has seen automobiles run by people who have no jobs, no homes, and cannot pay house rent.

We all know that hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions of dollars were spent by the public last Fall to see football games, and yet we read every day that schools themselves are closing through lack of funds, and even the richer institutions are being forced to cut professor's salaries.

We know too that in a time when community chest drives, and Red Cross campaigns are continually falling short of their quotas, slot machine agencies and race tracks report booming business.

Can someone tell us what is wrong with this picture?

Buffalo Hunts Coming Back

The bison, big-headed quadruped of the bovine family, whose hoofs once beat a rhythmic cacophony on the romantic plains of many a western state, but whose numbers until recently had almost dwindled to the point where extinction loomed certain, is coming back into its own.

According to a report by the American Bison Society at its recent meeting in New York, more than 1,400 bison were killed last season in American and Canadian reservations, whereas 20 years ago there were not more than 1,400 buffaloes on the continent.

The society, whose purpose is to conserve these animals in an effort to keep alive as long as possible a memory of the Old West, has done its work so well that the buffaloes have increased in numbers to the point where they are over-burdening their caretakers and are requiring more food and space than are available. As a consequence many of them are having to be slaughtered. The meat is being distributed to Indians who live on the reservations and take care of the animals.

There are eight of these reservations in the United States with one of the largest herds at Yellowstone National Park, where there are 1,016 adults and 200 calves. One of the finest herds, oddly enough, is in the Bronx Zoo in the heart of New York City.

The plan has been suggested that hunting of buffaloes be permitted again, and if the idea is adopted we may see once more the old-fashioned bison hunt, accounts of which in story books have thrilled countless young Americans.

Think of the excitement some may have in riding the hurricane deck of a cow pony, breezing along beside a herd of galloping buffaloes, raising a rifle and shooting from the saddle, or perhaps, leaping from the horse, bowie knife in one's mouth, and the planting its blade into the bison's side after a secure grip has been gotten in the animal's shaggy mane.

This was real exciting sport and furnished the basis for the thrilling tales of the buffalo hunts. Hunting them in any other way, that is stalking them down on foot and blazing away, would have about as much kick as going out in the back yard and shooting the family cow.

WHO IS THE HEAD OF A FAMILY.

A taxpayer, though single, who supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation, is the head of a family, and entitled to the same exemption allowed a married person—$2,500. Also he may claim a $400 credit for each dependent.

For example, a widower who supports in one household an aged mother and a daughter 17 years old is entitled to an exemption of $2,500 as the head of a family, plus a credit of $400 for each dependent, a total of $3,300. The $400 credit, however, does not apply to the wife or husband of a taxpayer, though one may be totally dependent upon the other.

Several factors are involved in determining whether a person who files a return as the head of a family is to be so classified. The element of either legal or financial dependency must exist.

A taxpayer who supports in his home minor children over whom he exercises family control is classified as the head of a family, even though the children may have an income of their own sufficient for their maintenance. If he does not support them, by reason of their own income, but does exercise family control, he can not be classified as the head of a family.

If an individual supported is an adult and there rests upon the taxpayer a moral or legal obligation to provide a home and care for such individual, the exemption as the head of a family is allowed, provided the individual is financially dependent. If the individual is not financially dependent, the exemption, even though the taxpayer maintains the common home and furnishes the chief support, does not apply.

For income-tax purposes there can be only one head of a family and the exemption can not be divided. Not infrequently claims for the $2,500 exemption are received from two or more members of a family.

It should be remembered that a single person, whether or not the head of a family, is required to file a return if his or her net income for 1932 was $1,000 or more, regardless of whether the return is nontaxable by reason of the $2,500 exemption.

A head of a family is defined by income-tax regulations as "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more persons who are closely connected with him, by blood relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation." The exemption allowed a head of a family is $2,500. The phrase "in one household" may be interpreted as meaning the taxpayer's personal residence.

The same ruling applies to husband and wife "living together." If occasionally and temporarily the husband is away on business or the wife on a visit, the common home being maintained, the $2,500 exemption still applies. The unavoidable absence of husband or wife for a considerable period does not prevent the exemption, but if the absence is permanent, the wife or husband at one place and the other at another, the exemption is lost.

MORE MONEY

By H. E. ELLISTON, Christian Science Monitor

There is 20 percent more currency outstanding in the United States today than there was in 1929. To this must be added a percentage, say, another 25 percent, to indicate its increased value. Yet the complaints about the lack of the circulating medium were negligible in 1929 and are widespread in 1933.

Two reasons account for this seeming paradox. One is the contraction of check money. In normal times this kind is anywhere up to 11 times the amount of outstanding currency, and is measured by the amount of bank deposits. Since there has been a contraction of bank deposits totaling more than twice the sum of all the currency outstanding, a great responsibility is vested in this latter money for financing business. The second reason is that currency nowadays is either not used at all or has allowed down in its use. Perhaps as much as the 20 percent increase between 1929 and 1933 is being hoarded, while the velocity, or turnover, of circulation of the remainder (as well as of bank deposits) has diminished enormously.

Of these two currency problems, the decline in the velocity of circulation is of chief importance. It is quite apparent that if a dollar changed hands five times a week in 1929 and 40 times a week in 1933, its present usefulness would be down to one-eighth. Something on this order has actually occurred. And this delayed action of money has kept cotton in the field, textiles in the warehouses, new summer dresses in the stock rooms—all of which are movable only in response to prior offerings of money.

Hoarding is really a great testimony to the government's credit. It is gold, not its paper representations in the form of dollar bills, that is the standard of value and the medium of exchange.

Under certain circumstances it is not necessary that the taxpayer and his dependents live under one roof during the entire taxable year in order that the taxpayer may claim the exemption. If the common home being maintained, the parent is away on business, or a child away at school, or a visit, the exemption is allowed. Moreover, if a parent is obliged to maintain his dependent children with relatives or in a boarding house, while he lives elsewhere, the exemption still applies. If, however, without necessity, the dependent makes his home elsewhere, the benefactor is not the head of a family.

The same ruling applies to husband and wife "living together." If occasionally and temporarily the husband is away on business or the wife on a visit, the common home being maintained, the $2,500 exemption still applies. The unavoidable absence of husband or wife for a considerable period does not prevent the exemption, but if the absence is permanent, the wife or husband at one place and the other at another, the exemption is lost.

Trade Body Drive Gets Under Way Amid Enthusiasm

(Continued from Page One) After 9:30 o'clock confident that the drive will conclude with a large measure of success. A photograph was made of the army which had gathered on the steps of the Court House.

During the breakfast meeting, Mr. Herring, a guest of the trade body, first led the group in songs, accompanied by Miss Carmen Guthrie at the piano. His remarks then related to the trials and tribulations of trade body campaign workers during periods of unusual business depression. He warned the workers that an average of seven persons out of every hundred approached for membership in trade bodies will prove to be entirely opposed to the idea, and practically impossible of being sold.

"Don't get discouraged when you strike what appears to be a hard prospect," he said, "because you won't be able to sell him entirely. Try to line him up, if possible, but, if no success, well, just let him be and be thankful that you've only six more such prospects left."

H. M. Papworth, president of the trade body who introduced the speaker and later thanked him on behalf of the workers for his advice and enthusiasm, asked that public recognition be given Gus Schmah, Lake Monroe pig farm owner, who had donated pork sausage for the breakfast. His request was unanimously obeyed.

As a final speaker at the breakfast, Mayor V. A. Speer arose to plead with the workers "That we don't let our county communities slow down. They've come to this meeting to report their quota either sold out or partly so, and it certainly behooves us in Sanford to work the harder so that we can report as well tomorrow night."

Teams were operating in every section of the county today. They carried with them prospect cards taken from more than 1,000 names on file. Just before noon today enough workers had reported to allow the firing of two aerial bombs, each of which indicated that another 100 members had been sold for membership during 1933. At 3:00 o'clock a fourth bomb had been fired, indicating that 400 members are lined up. Tomorrow at noon, competition among workers is "Free-for-all," meaning that instead of confining their activities to prospects named on the cards, they may solicit any person they wish. That means that every person seen on downtown streets without a green and yellow membership button can expect to be stopped by one of the workers, and asked to purchase one or more memberships.

The goal is 1000 members in 36 hours. Last year the same army of workers with only a few exceptions set out with the same goal, to return 36 hours later with 1264 memberships.
