Annual language 'downsizing'

SAULT STE. MARIE. Mich. - The "associates" who compile an annual list of Words Banned from the Queen's English "went ballistic" in 1992, "downsizing" the language to cut out the fat.

The Lake Superior State University wordsmiths, who released the list Saturday, said they weren't trying to get "in your face" by listing words that are misused, overused and generally uscless.

They just wanted to keep the language on the "cutting edge" and provide the "most complete" attempt to get down to the "honest truth" about the jargon that fills the vocabulary of "the American people."

Some sentences that drew their special scorn: The "armed gunman" found that his "co-conspirator's" "high-powered rifle" was "completely empty." They moved quickly to locate a "safe haven" before their "victimiess crime" was "most complete."

-The "associates" "went ballistic" when they learned of the "definite possibilities" of "downsizing."

The list was drawn from suggestions mailed last year by at least 500 people. It was compiled by the school's three-member public relations department and whittled by a committee.

The school has been compiling the list since 1976.

TAMPA — Somebody swiped Elise Miller's long-distance calling card number and she was left holding the bill — an $11,078 bill.

"I went through it and just got disgusted."

Miller said of the 78-page tally of more than 900 calls to places including Sri Lanka, Morocco. Tunisia, the Netherlands and United Arab

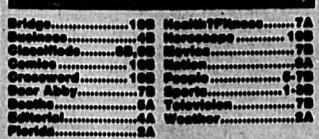

The good news is that OTE Florida won't make Miller pay for the calls that weren't hers.

Miller first noticed a problem last month when her bill jumped from the usual $65 to $70 a month to $387. She immediately contacted the company, which credited her account and canceled her calling card.

"I cut it up in little tiny pieces." Miller said.
But the thief got in $11,000 worth of calls before the cancellation made its way through the computer system. So this month, the company adjusted her bill again and will try to catch the culprits, said John Strickling of GTE

Kudos to sheriff for reorganizing his department

We issue kudos to Seminole County's sheriff, Don Eslinger, for his plans to start the new year with a more community-focused sheriff's office.

As Ealinger says, crime-fighting is a shared responsibility. Our neighborhoods won't be safer unless we work with law enforcement to resolve problems. Similarly, law enforcement officers should view citzens-at-large as partners in crime-fighting, not obstacles.

To this end, Ealinger has put into motion a higher focus on victim prevention and counseling. He has created a gang suppression unit to work with school officials and within communities to identify and curtail this rising threat before young criminals gain control of our schools and streets. He has even proposed creation of a Citizens Police Academy to give citizens first-hand experience in law enforcement functions.

Eslinger has also proposed creation of a Police Athletic League. The youth-law enforcement sports organization will be operated by a board of directors comprised of community leaders. This board will be tasked with developing the PAL program and raising

A PAL can be a great idea, to bring youth, particularly troubled youngsters, together with law enforcement officers to deve respect in a fun, sporting setting. But the PAL may prove to be Ealinger's coefficient idea yet. After some uncertainty of sheriff's office involvement with the new organization, Ealinger announced Thursday the hiring of a PAL director at an $18,000 per year salary.

We encourage Sheriff Ealinger to divorce taxpayer's money from this commendable pursuit quickly, next year. If the PAL is to be an autonomous organization with tax-exempt, fund-raising abilities, then a director's salary should be financed through

In praise of Nicholas

In the past few weeks there have been several articles run in your newspaper that have shed a very negative light on the Seminole County School Maintenance Department. I would like to give you another point of view. I am a maintenance another point of view. I am a maintenance employee. As an employee I am seeing the harm that a handful of frustrated people can do. Because of their frustration they choose to take it out on their supervisors, and more to the point, the director of maintenance Mr. Don Nicholas.

Here is a man who has lived his life in Sanford. He attended and graduated from Seminole County schools. As a life profession he has chosen to be in a very public position, He has decided to promote and, support our school system. This is a very difficult job! Mr. Nicholas carries the weight of this position very well. He does an outstanding job. He has brought the maintenance department to the standard it is today. This task has been brought about by very hard work. He works very closely with the principals of the schools and the people of the maintenance, department. Year after year he receives acknowledgements from the schools about a job well done and passes this on to his employees to share his sense of pride with us. Without Mr. to share his sense of pride with us. Without Mr. Nicholas' efforts, the superior workmanship in all areas of the maintenance department could not be upheld. He demands the best for the betterment of our schools, which in turn produce our future

On a more personal note, Mr. Nicholas, with his open door policy, will lend a helping hand in any way he can. He will help with civic needs and a personal involving one of his employees. Many a time this man is called at home bu some employee needing his assistance. When enlisting help or advice from Mr. Nicholas you can always expect the truth. He is a man who is very considerate of advice from Mr. Nicholas you can always expect the truth. He is a man who is very considerate of other peoples' feelings. Never, to my knowledge has he refused to help with a problem that has arisen, big or small, personal or school-related. He is a dedicated hard-working man. The people of Seminole County should take notice, we need more people like Mr. Nicholas, to be there to support our public schools. If the small group of people who are spending so much time trying to discredit this man would put their efforts into more effective team work they would come to realize and appreciate would put their efforts into more effective team work they would come to realize and appreciate the efforts that Mr. Nicholas puts forth for them. It's time to wake up and smell the roses! Mr. Nicholas is exactly the kind of person we need to have as director of the maintenance department. With his continued leadership we can maintain the high quality of work we produce. Let us not allow a few bad apples to spoil the whole group. Let us keep our focus on the betterment of our schools and jobs well done. Mr. Nicholas is the well-qualified professional that can help us reach our goal.

Oh, what a year 1992 has been!

The pundits predicted that 1992 would be a history-making year. The evolving circumstances and the seeds of change had been planted prior to 1992. The events that transpired dramatically emphasized our involvement as world citizens.

In America, the 1992 national elections absorbed our interest. The number of female candidates and the talk show format were significant additions to the process. Talk shows effectively provided instantaneous dialogue with American voters. This format apparently served both the electorate and candidates well. Former Governor of Arkaneas Bill Clinton was elected president and former Senator Albert Gore of Tennessee became our vice president. The youthful vitality of the newly-elected national leaders was everywhere in evidence. This has sparked a resurging hopefulness that some pervasive problems confronting Americans will be vigorously addressed. At the spex of the agenda are: creating new jobs to replace those that have forever disappeared from the labor market, providing universal health care and decreasing the national debt.

Industrial giants like General Motors, International Business Machines, American Express and Sears have dominated their respective markets for years. However, they are in the throse of candidates and the talk show format were and Motoria have also continued to remain in the top of their industries.

Justice and equality as it mistes to race is an unresolved latent issue in America. The Rodney King verdict became the catalyst that sparked expending tensions in Los Angeles. Conversely, Hurricane Andrew, a natural disaster that engulfed Southern Florida, brought people of all races, creeds together to combat the deviatation.

The international scene has brought the United Nations to center stage. As the world drama of man's inhumanity to man unfolds, the United Nations is attempting to relieve suffering in many places. Probably the scenes that have appeared in the media about Somalia are the most heart rendering. The question posed is how could warring fractions reduce their country to rubble? The fact that the world is responding to Somalia through the United Nations is commendable. Former President Jimmy Carter noted that help should have been given Somalia long before now because the dire situation has existed for several years. President George Bush will be visiting Somalia to view the situation for himself. American servicemen have assumed leadership roles in opening the necessary routes to provide food to the people of Somalia. Troops from other lands have also participated, i.e., Italy, France, Canada, etc.

Another trubled spot is Sarjevo, Bosnia. The Serb campaign of "ethnic cleansing" against Muslim and Croats is a complex problem that the United Nations continues to struggle with and devise some method for ameliorating the situa-

1992 has been quite a year. Sometimes the feeling permeates one's consciousness that almost too much is happening for one to comprehend and react to with any degree of clarity. Do we have sufficient facts about anything to make informed decisions? At any rate, 1992 will have a great deal of space in the history books. 1992, what a year!

Cabinet a diverse portrait

BOSTON — After all was said and done, after all was added and subtracted and shuffled around a bit, Bill Clinton did what he promised. The class photo of his Cabinet presented a more diverse portrait of Americans than had ever been assembled around a presidential table.

This was the official brakdown: Six white men, three black men, three white women, two Hispanic men, and one black women. That's 15 secretaries and a whole lot of counting going

On.

But before we put aside the numbers and get on with the policies, one last observation about the way we divvy up Americans these days.

With all due respect to the president-elect who let off steam at the "bean counters," the people "playing quota games and math games," bean-counting is not a new political pastime. The demands for diversity, for a Cabinet and government that "looks like America" go back over our bistory.

What is different is our tenage of what American looks like. What has changed are the beans.

Without much notice or fenders, the concept of diversity in America gradually and then fundamentally shifted. It is no league a matter of geography, religion, nationally or even class. When we talk about diversity now we are talking about race and gender and, in the case of Hispanics, ethnicity.

There was a time when geography was self-important that the Constitution wouldn't allow a president and vice problem from the same state. More than one chief executive tried to please the porth and the case the porth and the case. etate. More than one obtain executive tried to please the north and the south, the cost and west point; on his constituency, disease. Diversity was a collection of white make from different places on the map.

As for religion, our grandparents were conscious and self-conscious. The first Catholic conscious and self-conscious. The first Catholic made it to the White House in 1881. This came year, Sen. Alse Ribicoff turned down the attorney general's job because, he told Jack Kennedy, it would not help the cause to have a Jewish attorney general putting Negro hide in schools in the south.

Now, quick, tell me the religious background of three or more Clinton Cabinet members? Our grandparents would have known, would have instantly counted any beans of their own religious persuasion, especially if that religion were a minority. Religion to set a most insist in this country, but in political terms, it's muted.

As for nationality, the old urban ticket of political petromage — Italian, Irish, Polish — was no easy balancing act. But as they were admitted, assimilated, Americanised, many European Americans stopped counting. At

Today, in the new diversity game, an Italian Catholic male is another white bean. Donna Shalala's roots in a Lebanese-American family are no more politically selient than her birth as

It is the job and the curse of outsiders to be bean counters — to feel their exclusion acutely and to plead their grievance. The people who have felt locked out most want someone "of their own" at the table. As a symbol and a representative.

This new math can admittedly lead to some odd calculations. We count Robert Reich, the designated Secretary of Labor, as another white male insider.
Yet at 4 feet 10 inches tall, he had his own struggles to Hasel O'Leary, for that matter, sits at the Calders Jobies so both a black and a fermic. Soo Book is not just the Brut female attorney matter but the Brut matter of a promition of the Calders. We are individuals to will as broke.

But there is still comething in the historic record that is reseasting about the future, Critics say that the claims of diversity are splintering America, dividing and subdividing us into our warring parts. Yet Americans have become less — not more — constitute of region, religion, nationality. It can happen with race and gender as well, As we are included, we

For now though, the Clinton Cabinet does ook a lot the America. It's not exactly a melting put. But it's a pretty interesting bean

Prosecutor Walsh is his own worst enemy

WASHINGTON - By the time Caspar Weinberger formally requested a pardon in a Dec. 18 note to the White House, the case for the pardon had already achieved critical mass, thanks to Independent Prosecutor Lawrence Walsh. He's been his own worst

"The one principal person responsible for the pardon was Walsh," said one Weinberger intimate. "Over a period of time people got tired of him. He kept losing in court. He kept getting an-

The second indictment not only charged Weinberger with perjury for lying about his knowledge of the iran-Contra scandal, but contained a note contradicting claims by Bush that he was "out of the loop" in the secret deal that sent arms to Iran in exchange for American hostages.

Regublicans blamed the second indictment Regishicans blamed the second indictment on snuffing out Bush's raily in the polls, and point the finger at lead prosecutor James Issueshian, who was brought into the case in Gentler to replace Craig Oillen. Brosnahan, a preminent Ban Francisco attorney, has contributed heavily to Democratic candiates in the past, arrived in Washington with a partisan baggage that Walsh should have anticipated.

"When (Weinberger's attorney Robert)

Walch's typical report was. "Don't put yourself is concrete."

Had Weinberger net been parkened and stood (rial Jan. 8, the defense beam'e playbook was in place. Joint Chiefs Chairman Colin Powell would have been a flerce advected. SANFORD - Recycling took another dip in November, dropping nearly 1 million lbs. from

A total of 4.9 million lbs. of garbage and yard waste was collected for recycling during November, according to the monthly report released by the county recycling office. The amount was down from the 5.8 million lbs. collected during October and 8 million lbs. collected in September.

The totals can't be compared to 1991 because most areas of the county were not separating yard waste from regular "wet" garbage.

The largest reason for the reduction was the decreased amount of yard waste collections made during November as compared to October. A total of 1.5 million lbs. of yard debris was collected during November, compared to 2.1 million in October. Curbside collections dropped alightly from 2.1 million to 2.0 million lbs. Other part of the highway from Five Points south to Sheppard Road. Remember, the highway in those days was not a four laned divided road like it is today.

in 1932, three well known Sanford young men were involved in a head-on collision. Killed were Billy Morse and Rosco Wallis. Seriously injured was Ford Harrison. The Herald reported the next day over 3,000 people visited Reel & Sons garage on West First Street (across from the present Semi-nole First Federal Building) to view the completely destroyed automobiles.

Not long after that two Catholic priests were involved in another head-on collision. Both were killed. As a result of these two accidents which took the lives of four people, local folks around here dubbed the area as "Death Valley." These were not the only lives lost on that stretch of highway before it was four laned and divided.

Even today should you ask an old timer in Sanford how to get — let's say, to "Big Tree Park," you're likely to be told to take U.S. 17/92 south, pass Five Points, and in the middle of "Death Valley" hang a right on General Hutchison Parkway.

Oh, yes, one more thing. Everybody around here knows that the particular road in ques-tion is U.S. 17/92. But do you know what the state designation for the highway is? You'll know now because I'm going to tell you. It is State Road 600.

Medical groups protest proposal

CHICAGO — The American Medical Association has objected to new federal guidelines proposing that doctors be required to assist in federal executions, denouncing the suggestion as unethical and misplaced.

At a recent news conference, the AMA called for U.S. Attorney General William Barr to revise or withdraw the Justice Department's new execution procedure published Nov.

Justice Department's new execution procedure publishes Nov. 30 in the Federal Register.

"It is highly unethical for physicians to participate in executions and in turn, highly inappropriate for the federal government to suggest we do so." said Dr. Thomas P. Houston, director of Preventive Medicine and Public Health for the AMA.

"The physicians of America call on the federal government to nd any such requirements when it publishes the final rule," he said.

The AMA was joined in its stand by the American College of Physicians, the Society of Correctional Physicians, the American Nurses Associations, and the American Public Health Association.

They also objected to the timing of the proposed policy change during the holiday season and while media attention is focused largely on the incoming Clinton administration.

AIDS virus definition revamped

By LAURAN MERCAA Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA - The number of people diagnosed with AIDS will climb dramatically when a new definition of the disease went into effect Friday, raising demand for treatment and dollars.

Under the new definition, an estimated 90,000 Americans will be diagnosed with full-blown AIDS in 1993, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. That's almost double the current average of 50,000 a year. Since 1981, about 242,000 Americans have been diagnosed with AIDS and 160,000 have died.

The new definition could make it easier for people infected with the virus to collect disability benefits available to those diagnosed with AIDS. It would also enable them to take part in drug trials and qualify for low-dollars.

"All of the services are already the edge," said strained and on the edge," said John Kappers of the National Association of People With AIDS. Under the CDC's current,

5-year-old definition, people infected with the AIDS virus are diagnosed as having AIDS when they develop certain blood in-fections, the skin cancer Kaposi's sarcoma or any of 21 other indicator diseases Activists charged that women and drug users weren't receiving the help they needed because many of the diseases they got weren't included on the list. The new definition, approved earlier this year, adds

In addition — and more important, according to the CDC — the agency approved a new indicator: a dip in the level of the body's master immune cells, called CD4s, to 200 per cubic millimeter, or one-fifth the level of a healthy person of a healthy person. Up to 190,000 of the 1 million Americans infected with the virus have CD4 counts below 200 and most don't know they are infected or have never had a CD4 count, said Dr. James Buehler, acting deputy director of the CDC's AIDS division.

"We hope the definition will draw attention to the importance of testing." he said.

The Ryan White CARE Act

distributes federal AIDS funds to cities according to the number of pulmonary tuberculosis, recurrent pneumonia and invasive AIDS cases, so more cities may be eligible under the new defini-tion. However, the act has never been fully funded, leaving AIDS clinics understaffed and many Americans who can't afford the 8200 CD4 tests.

"People are seeking these tests and being told they have to wait aix months for the next clinic opening," Kappers said. "That's six months they could be taking medicine to prolong their life."

The AIDS clinic at Grady Memorial Hospital, Atlanta's only clinic for indigent patients, is already so crowded it can care for only the sickest patients, said director Curtis Morries.

"This is contrary to everything we know about HIV disease scause treatment is most effective in the early stages," Morrise said.

States spend less on AIDS prevention

IMMIFER DIXON Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON - Local and state health departments across the country may have to scale back their AIDS prevention and education programs in the face of a spreading epidemic.

State officials were warned last month to expect cuts in the amount of federal money available to finance state and local health department programs on AIDS prevention, education.

counseling and testing.

Dr. Joycelyn Elders of Arkansas, president of the Association of State and Territorial Health Officials, said that state and local programs will be forced to cut back on prevention and surveillance unless their budgets receive additional money.

"If we are sincere about trying to do something about the spread of AIDS we must begin to fund educational activities that will make a difference and reduce the number of people who are becoming infected," said Elders, chosen by President-elect Clinton to become the next aurgeon general.

But right now, she said, "we are not reaching the majority of our citizens. ... We don't reach our young people, our poor people, our uneducated people. And that's where we're seeing the greatest spread, where we're seeing the epidemic grow. Every day 5,000 people become infected with HIV and if you prevent just half, look at how much money you'd save."

Doctors conducted the study at St. Luke's-Roosevelt Hospital Center in New York after repeatedly hearing the stories from overweight patients about diet resistance, their inability to lose weight.
"We decided once and for all to set up an experiment to find out what actually is wrong with these patients," said Dr. Steven B. Heymsheld, medical director of the hospital's weight control unit. "There were two alternatives — low metabolism and under-reporting of food intake. Both hypotheses seemed plausible to us."

The researchers carefully followed obese people who had failed many diets and claimed to est less than 1,200 calories a day. They found that these

"These people really cannot invoke some genetic cause as the only explanation for their obesity," said Heymsheid. "The main reason they are overweight is that they are overesting. Let's not blame it on something that it isn't."

Dr. William Dietz of New England Medical Center, who treats childhood obesity, said he has found that overweight teen-agers also often underestimate how much they eat.

"It's an important phenomenon that is critical."

A.H. Sims of the University of Vermont. The Vermont doctors cautioned that the findings shouldn't be taken to mean that "obesity is simply the result of gluttony and sloth." While agreeing that low metabolism cannot entirely explain obesity, they speculated that people's physical activity and even the amount they eat are somehow influenced by their genes.

The study was based on 10 overweight people — nine women and one man — who complained of diet resistance. Some had failed 20 serious attempts at dieting. Despite the small number, the researchers said they felt safe generalizing the experiment's findings to other diet-resistant people. This was both because they measured the study subjects in such minute detail and because their results were so dramatically different from the comparison group's.

The 10 were compared with an overweight group of 67 women and 13 men who said they ate more than 1,200 calories a day and never felt losing weight was impossible.

Those who claimed to be diet resistant said they ate 1,028 calories a day. In fact, they averaged 2,081. They believed they burned up 1,022 calories a day through physical activity, while they actually exercised off 771 calories.

The people in the comparison group ate 40 percent more than they thought and exercised 13 percent less.

"This is something that a lot of us have suspected for a long time. Some people just don't recognise a lot of the foods they eat," commented Dr. Walter Willett of Harvard School of Public The doctors also measured how many calories the diet-resistant people burned while resting, how much their energy expenditure rose after eating, how much they burned while exercising and how much they used up over the course of a day. None of these were different.

No cure for a hangover

By JESSICA ANCKER

ALBANY, N.Y. - Even If you're in no condition to read this, you probably know that aspirin won't cure it and water won't prevent it.

It's the hangover, and it's inevitable if you drink too much alcohol.

The headache, upset stomach and bad aftertaste that accompany a hangover come from the toxic byproduct of alcohol, a chemical called acetaldehyde, said Russell Mankes, associate pro-fessor of loxicology and pharmacology at the Albany Medical College. Dehydration can result from the excessive urination alcohol induces.

Some typical folk remedies — cating cold pizza. taking aspirin before bed or drinking another cocktail - may do more harm than Aspirin and ibuprofin are bad for the stomach lining and popping one when the stomach is already irritated from drinking dramatically increases the risk of an ulcer. Mankes said.

The acetaminophen in Tylenol won't harm the stomach, but it can strain the liver, which is already being damaged by the alcohol, Mankes said.

Drinking water while still intoxicated won't help either. Because alcohol induces urination, all the water that comes in, goes out, taking with it minerals and salts.

Researcher knew of taxol's benefits years ago

Dy MARTHA WAGO

RALEIGH, N.C. — Dr. Monroe Wall was about 30 years ahead of the Food and Drug Administration on the benefits of a cancer treatment called taxol.

In the early 1960s, Wall tested plants selected randomly in the Northwest.

Extracts from one, the rare Pacific yew tree, killed all the cancer cells in a leukemia

Wall and his lifelong colleague, Dr. M.C. Wani, isolated the drug two years later. Wall, chief scientist at Research Triangle institute, named it taxol after the tree's Latin name, Taxus brevifolis. Latin name, Taxus brevifolis.
On Tuesday, the FDA announced its approval of taxol for the treatment of ovarian cancer. The FDA said the drug can only slow — not cure — the fatal disease.

Wall and Wani never got a patent for taxel, so they get no compensation for their achievement. But Wall, now 76, said he has received plenty of recognition from fellow scientists.

"This is something that I don't really lose much sleep over," he said in a telephone interview from his office in Research Triangle Park. "I'm very busy with other research. I don't have time to worry whether the guy next door knows what I've done." Wall repeatedly tried to interest the National Cancer Institute in taxol. The NCI refused, saying further research was impractical because of the scarcity of the yew tree and problems in extracting the drug from the bark. It takes about 60 pounds of dry bark to make enough taxol to treat a patient for a year.

In 1979, a New York researcher discovered taxol can bind with protein receptors inside a cancer cell, blocking the cell's ability to reproduce. The NCI became interested, leading to Tuesday's announce-

Florida political year in review

By CURT ANDERSON Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE - It took months and cost millions of dollars, but the bitter redistricting battle that dominated Florida politics in 1992 produced results: more blacks, Hispanics and Republicans were elected than ever before.

Even as voters were making history, they signaled their dis-satisfaction by amending the constitution to limit the terms of state and federal officeholders to Nick Navarro of Broward eight years.

The nasty business of drawing new congressional and legislative district lines tied state lawmakers in knots for the first half of the year, dashing the slim chances Gov. Lawton Chiles had for an ambitious, unpopular $2.5 billion tax reform proposal.

Despite the best efforts of the Democratic legislative leadership to hold their traditional grip on power, the maps that finally were approved by federal courts gave a boost to Republicans and elected the most minorities in history.

For the first time since the post-Civil War era, Florida has a black member of Congress. Three, in fact: Reps. Alcee Hastings, Corrine Brown and Carrie Meek all won seats designed to elect an African-American.

Rep. Lincoln Diaz-Balart became the second Cuban-American elected to Congress from Florida, joining incumbent Ileana Ros-Lehtinen.

The redistricting year gave Florida four new seats in the U.S. House because of popula-tion growth for a total of 23. But six veteran representatives retired, taking with them 132 years of Capitol experience.

Calling it quits were Democrats Charles Bennett, Dante Fascell, Bill Lehman and Larry Smith and Republicans Andy Ireland and Craig James. Bennett had served 44 years and Fascell 38 years.

In Tallahassee, the elections left the Senate with 20 Democrats and 20 Republicans, the first time that's ever happened.

Senators spent three conten-tious November days trying to select a president, deadlocking on tie votes nine times before coming up with a unique solution: Republican Ander Crenshaw of Jacksonville will serve the first year, Democrat Pat Thomas of Quincy will take the reins in Year 2.

governor in 1994, is the first GOP Senate president in 118

House Speaker Bolley "Bo" Johnson of Milton got a solid Democratic majority but found himself embroiled in controversy over a bridge project in his Panhandle district and a Department of Agriculture job carved out for his wife, who resigned amid a flurry of bad publicity.

Blacks made gains in the Legislature: There are now five senators, up from two, and 14 House members, a gain of two seats. Hispanics added two more seats in the House. There are 57 newcomers in the 160-seat Legislature. The winds of Hurricane Andrew destroyed dozens of polling places in Dade County, delaying a September primary for a week. Chiles spent two weeks in the hurricane zone, raising his political visibility and renewing his enthusiasm for the job. Florida voters overwhelmingly approved the eight-year term limits initiative, brainchild of Winter Park businessman Phil Handy. It bars a state or federal officeholder from appearing on the ballot after eight years in that office.

U.S. Sen. Bob Graham easily won re-election over Republican Bill Grant, but not before he was nearly selected as Democratic presidential nominee Bill Clinton's running mate. Graham reportedly finished second to Al Gore in the vice presidential sweepstakes.

Clinton campaigned hard in the Sunshine State, forcing Pres-ident Bush to do likewise and making Florida a battleground it had not been since 1976. Bush kept the state in the Republican column, but only by a whisker. After winning the election, Clinton tapped Florida Depart-ment of Environmental Regulation Secretary Carol Browner to run his Environmental Protection Agency. Browner had been a top aide to Gore in the U.S.

As 1993 dawned, Chiles was still being cagy about his plans for re-election as he proposed a new tax reform plan to the Legislature.

Depending on what Chiles does, the 1994 fild could include Democrats Lt. Gov. Buddy MacKay and former Orlando Mayor Bill Frederick and one or more of these Republicans: Insurance Commissioner Tom Gallagher, Handy, Crenshaw, and Secretary of State Jim ORLANDO - Lou Johnson scored 23 points to lead the University of New York at Buffalo to a 72-68 upset victory over Central Florida and helped snap his team's 20-game losing streak.

For the Bulls, Johnson's 23 points led the way and Brown added 14. Darryl Davis led the Knights with 25 points.

AROUND THE STATE

Stewart's heroics down FSU

TALLAHASSEE - Scott Stewart hit a 3-point shot to give Florida the lead with 3:36 left and added three free throws in the final minute to preserve the Gatora' 89-86 victory Saturday over 18th-ranked Florida State.

Florida (6-3) led for most of the game and survived a 26-7 Florida State run late in the game, falling behind 75-72 with 6:06 left on a 3-point shot by the Seminoles' Sam Cassell.

The Gators rode the first-half performance of Stacey Poole to a 45-37 lead at the break. Poole scored 17 of his 25 points and grabbed eight of his game-high 13 rebounds.

Cassell finished with 30 points - his third straight game over 30 - and hit 4 of 5 from 3-point distance.

Doug Edwards, who missed Florida State's last two games with a dislocated finger, added 19 points and freshman Derrick Carroll had 12. Stewart, Craig Brown and Martii Kuisma finished with 16 each for the Gators.

It was Florida coach Lon Kruger's second win in as many tries at FSU (8-4) and marked his first road victory over a ranked opponent since taking over the Gators program in 1990.

Florida Tech trims New Haven

MELBOURNE - Freshman Sherman Hamilton erupted with a career high 25 points and Peter Walcott added 24 to lead Florida Tech past New Haven 85-81 Saturday. FTU (4-5) trailed 43-36 at the half and 60-53 in the second half. But the Panthers then went on a 12-4 run to take control of the game. New Haven (3-5) was paced by Dwane

Crawford (16) and Jason Williams (13).

Knight goes for 600

INDIANAPOLIS - Bob Knight's next victory is always his most important, so what's so special about this one?

In his 22nd season at Indiana and 28th overall, he needs one more win to reach 600 for his stormy and storied career.

It could come before a national television audience today when the No. 4 Hoosiers play No. 3 Kentucky at Louisville's Freedom Hall.

Knight would become only the 15th NCAA Division I coach to reach 600. The late Aldolph Rupp leads the list with 875 victories.

Defending champ alive

MINNEAPOLIS - Washington returned to the Metrodome, site of last year's Super Bowl, and left one game closer to defending its title.

The Redskins sprung former option quarterback Brian Mitchell loose on the Vikings and he ran for 109 yards in a 24-7 victory. Mitchell, who had only six carries during the season, carried 16 times. He also returned a punt 54 yards and ran 38 yards on a fake punt.

The Redskins also rediscovered a few old stand-bys: Mark Ryplen hitting open receivers; the Hogs clearing the way for 196 rushing yards, and a smothering defense that held Minnesota (11-6) to 148 yards.

The Redskins (10-7), who improved to 16-4 in postseason play under coach Joe Gibbs, will try to improve that mark next Saturday at the San Francisco 49ers, whose 14-2 record was the NFL's best.

Chargers boit into semi's'

SAN DIEGO - Marion Butts, who fumbled on the Kansas City 9-yard line on the game's fifth play, scored on a 54-yard run with 5:53 left in third quarter to lead the Chargers to 17-0 first-round playoff victory in rainy San Diego.

The AFC West champion Chargers (12-5), who are 12-1 after a 0-4 start, will play the AFC East champion Dolphins next Sunday at Miami. San Diego, under rookie coach Bobby Ross, won its eighth straight game since a 16-14 loss at Kansas City on Nov. 8.

San Diego had lost six straight games to Kansas City (10-7).

Doing it the hard way

Lyman comes back twice in Pizza Hut title match

From Staff Reports

ORLANDO - Sometimes learning something the hard way is the best

The Lyman High School boys' soccer team, ranked No. 2 in the most recent Florida Athletic Coaches Association's Class 4A state poll, learned that they have the ability to come from behind by doing it not once, but twice in the finals of the Pizza Hut Invitational on Thursday.

Playing the Lake Mary Rams at Edgewater High School Stadium. the Greyhounds trailed 1-0 during regulation and 2.1 in the second overtime period before pulling out a 3.2 victory and winning the school's first Pizza Hut Invitational championahlp.

In other games Thursday, Clearwater Central Catholic bested Tampa-Chamberlain 4-2 in the third place game while Lake Brantley knocked off Daytona Beach-Scabreeze 3-1 for fifth place.

"As a coach, you always want your team to play its best, but you know that's not always going to happen," said Lyman coach Ray Sandidge. "But we have confidence in ourselves. We believe that we will find a way to win.

"I'm very proud of the way we played. A lot of teams would have quit, going down twice with only a little time left to play. The main things is, we played together and we played very hard. Nobody got into a panic and we didn't work against each other. We hung together and pulled out a win."

After a scoreless first half, Lake Mary took the lead late in the second half when Keith Baranowski scored during a scramble in front of the Lyman goal following a Ramy

Lyman came back almost immediately, creating several solid scoring opportunities. According to Sandidge, All-Tournament selection Dan McAvoy came within inches of netting the equalizer.

"We came back battling," said Sandidge. "We weren't quitting."

With just under eight minutes left in regulation, Lyman's Frank Cipolla received the ball in corner of the Lake Mary penalty area. He beat two players and launched a shot that, assisted by a fake by team-mate Mike Selis, beat Lake Mary goalie Laki Travios.

"Mike made a move like he was going to go for the ball and that froze the 'keeper," Sandidge said. "When he did that, the ball went right into the goal."

Lake Mary again took the lead in the second of the two mandatory 10-minute overtime periods. Mike Deaver took the flick-on of a throw-in and blasted a shot from point blank range at Lyman goalie Chris Lewis.

The defensive Most Valuable Player of the tournament, Lewis was able to block the shot but couldn't hang on to the rebound. During the ensuing scramble, the ball found its way to Kevin Murphy. who headed it home with seven ☐ See Soccer, Page 3B

Midfielder Dan McAvoy (No. 19, above), defender John Bernard and goalkeeper Chris Lewis, who helped Lyman win its first Pizza Hut invitational championship, were named to the all-tournament team.

Tide made believers 'Canes

NEW ORLEANS - Alabama said it could stop Miami's offense and go through its defense. A lot of other teams said the same thing this scason.

So, how was Alabama able to do it In the Sugar Bowl?

"We knew we had to run the football, stop them from running and be in the plus in turnovers," coach Gene Stallings said Saturday. a day after Alabama won the national championship by beating then-No. 1 Miami 34-13. The Tide did more than beat Miami. It humbled the Hurricanes, making them look like the Temples and TCUs they overwhelm during the regular season. Alabama did to Miami what the Hurricanes routinely do each New Year's Day to even highly ranked teams like Nebraska and Texas.

A shifting scheme of coverage patterns caused Miami to make four turnovers, including three interceptions against Heisman Trophy winner Gino Torretta. Alabama's top-ranked defense became the first team to hold the Hurricanes without an offensive touchdown since Sept. 22, 1984, when Florida State beat them 38-3. The Hurricanes' only touchdown came on Kevin Williams' 78-yard punt return in the fourth quarter. The loss was Miami's worst since a 38-7 beating by Tennessee in the 1986 Sugar Bowl.

Alabama extended its winning streak to 23. It also ended Miami's 29-game winning streak and its bid for a second straight national title. ☐ See Champions, Page 3B

Diane Duber contributed 12 points and five rebounds Thursday afternoon as Lake Mary remped to the championship in the Lady War Eagle Holiday Classic.

Lake Mary girls extend county's hardcourt reign

TITUSVILLE - Seminole County high schools asserted their dominance in girls basketball over the holidays, capped by Lake Mary's romp to the Lady War Eagle Holiday Classic championship on Thurs-

Eight different players contributed points as the Rams employed a balanced attack to defeat host Titusville-Astronaut 68-34 forn the championship. Lake Mary joined Lake Howell (second in the Evans tournament), Seminole (fifth in the Polk Holiday Classic) and Lyman (sixth in the Lady Wildcat tournament in Ocala) in helping county quintets earn recognition around the state.

Karen Morris led the Rams with 16 points while Diane Duber added 12 in a game in which Lake Mary was never threatened. The host War Eagles were led by Amanda Rhodes with 11. Only two other Astronaut players scored over three points.

"It was a good tournament and two good wins for us." said Lake Mary head coach Anna Van Landingham. "I felt we played a lot better Thursday than Wednesday (in a 43-39 victory over St. Petersburg-Lakewood). I'm pleased with the results, not just because we won, but because of the way we played in the two games."

In addition to her points, Morris also finished with four rebounds and four steals. Those totals, along with 13 points in Wednesday's game, earned the senior guard-forward the Most Valuable Player award for the tournament in a vote of the coaches. □See Basketball, Page 3B

Tale of two teams: Marlins set, St. Pete sunk

By JAMES MARTINEZ Associated Press Writer

ST. PETERSBURG - The Florida Marlins finally got players to go with their uniforms and renovated stadium in 1992. But across the state, Tampa Bay's high hopes to land a team suffered yet another crushing blow.

"SAY IT AIN'T SO," demanded the headlines after the National League nixed a $115 million sale that would have brought the San Francisco Giants to the vacant Florida Suncoast Dome.

It was only the latest disappointment in the area's 15-year quest for a franchise that has also included close-but-no-cigar courtships with the A's, Twins, White Sox, Rangers, a NL expansion franchise and the Mariners.

Backers of the effort fought back in court, launching a blizzard of lawsuits they predicted would eventually ask for $3.5 billion in damages.

Jilted investors claim baseball executives misled them into believing they had done everything necessary to relocate the team, but in the end forced Giants owner Bob Lurie to take a $100 million bid from a competing group.

Defendants included baseball top officials and National League owners, including Marlins owner H. Wayne Huizenga, who is accused of working "behind the scenes" to help keep the Glants out of Florida. Hulzenga repeatedly denied speculation that he battled to keep a veteran team from moving to Florida to compete with his expansion-stocked franchise.

"Baseball let us down." St. Petersburg Mayor David Fischer said. "They damaged us spiritually and they damaged us financially. We're not going to take this lying down."

As San Francisco fired back with its own its own flurry of suits, Florida U.S. Senators Bob Graham and Connie Mack fought the battle on

They succeeded in holding U.S. Senate Judiciary Committee hearings on baseball's unique, 70-year-old exemption from the nation's antitrust laws, an exemption they believe allowed baseball to scuttle the Giants deal.

"By preventing the Giants from moving to Tampa Bay, major league baseball has shown it is more interested in preserving its sacred monopoly than allowing the free market to work," said Mack, who conceded getting the exemption revoked would be a longshot.

In the end, Tampa Bay baseball fans were left with a legal battle that could take years, dim prospects that baseball will expand anytime soon and a taxpayer-financed dome that still sits

Meanwhile, the Marlins began putting together the pieces of the team that will make its National □See Baseball, Page 3B

Associated Press Writer TALLAHASSEE — Grambling State University coach Eddic Robinson's 50 years of experience have taught him not to mess with a good thing. The college tootball coach with the most career wins used the same game plan in Saturday's 45-15 Heritage Bowl win over Florida A&M that he used when the Tigers beat the Rattlers 27-10 back on Nov. 14 "Old coaches don't change much," Robinson said. "I told the coaches that our 'ready sheet was the same as last time." Fullback Eric Gant rushed 20 times for 128 vards to lead the Tiger ground game. It was his second 100 yard-plus performance of the season against Florida A&M. The 6-2, 255-pound Gant scored early on a 35-yard run, putting Grambling ahead to stay on the game's fifth play from backed by quarterback Alex Perkins' 224-yard passing day. Perkins, a senior, went 14 of 27 without throwing an interception. Florida A&M (7-5) got field goals of 42, 44 and 22 yards by Tim Camron to keep it close early in the third quarter. The Rattlers then closed the gap to two points with 9:48 left in the period. when Grambling's Norman Bradford fumbled a kickoff at his own 18 and Florida A&M's Arthur Hightower returned it for a touchdown. That left Grambling ahead just 17-15 after a two-point conversion failed.

"He (Gant) made some great plays today," said Rattler coach Ken Riley. "He was just bowling over some of our people. The Tigers (10-2) had 277 yards rushing.

But that's as close as the Rattlers would come Grambling's Perkins passed to Ron Dyson for an 18-yard score, then to Dexter Butcher for a 28-yard strike to make it 31-15 after three quarters. Bradford scored on a 13-yard run and Gant had a one-yard plunge to complete the Tiger Rattler quarterback Tony Rucker went 11 for 27 and had two intercepted after being a surprise starter in place of juntor Tracy Weldon.

The Tiger went into the game as the numberone team in the Sheridan Black College rankings. while Florida A&M was ranked fifth.

Robinson has completed his 50th year as Grambling's head coach, compiling a 380-136-15 record. At 73, he mentions retirement only when someone else brings it up.

He scotted at the suggestion after Saturday's game, saying: "I can't leave all these good football players.

Cooperation the goal of Commission's newest member

Julie Morris, the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission's newest member, hopes to spark a new spirit of cooperation to unite hunters, fishermen, and covironmentalists as joint stewards of Florida's wildlife.

She said there has been a long-time perception that the Commission has a better working relationship with hunting and fishing groups than environmentalists. She hopes to cultivate a sense of teamwork among all the groups and individuals who take an active role in conservation.

Ms. Morris said the various groups have a lot of common interests, such as habitat conservation, land management practices, pollution control, outdoor recreation and the protection of endangered species.

IN BRIEF

Title agency consolidates

SANFORD — GuifAtlantic Title Agency, one of the state's largest title insurance agencies, has consolidated title search operations in downtown Sanford at the same location where company president Dan Wallace began his title insurance career 20 years ago.

By consolidating title operations in Sanford, GulfAtlantic Title is positioning itself to provide title search services for Seminole, Orange, Osceola and Lake Counties from one location.

CulfAtlantic Title is leasing 4,000 square feet of space in the building which was formerly the headquarters for another title insurance company. The building is the same location where Wallace began his title insurance career 20 years ago as a clerk for the Abstract Corporation.

Since founding GulfAtlantic six years ago, Wallace has built a company that includes 17 offices in six Central Florida counties. The company has already relocated its Longwood operations from 1230 N. Douglas Ave., to 480 West Central Parkway. The company also has an office in Lake Mary.

"I'm extremely pleased to be back doing business in the Sanford area," Wallace said. "Our new search department will be an integral part of our expanded Central Florida operation in 1993."

Pizzuti handling rehab facility

SANFORD — Pissuti Realty is representing Nationaliank in the selling of the S0,000 square foot facility to be used as a drug rehabilitation facility in Sanford. The operation, to be located at S708 B. Sanford Avenue, is called Teen Challenge. The property was formerly used for Cardinal Industries. The Sanford City Commission recently approved the re-soning of the property for the new Tean Challenge use.

Handling the transaction for Teen Challenge was Kathy Lestuk of Grover Bryant, Inc.

She's a Gator Dazzler

SHS grad in second year on dance team

By ED KORGAN Herald Correspondent

SANFORD - Shanan Stewart, 20, a 1990 graduate of Seminole High School, has come into her own at the University of Florida. The vivacious co-ed is in her second year as a Gator Dazzler and is co-captain of the dance team which performs at many of the student activities, Gator Growl, and the basketball

The team consists of 16 lovely girls selected from the student body who have had previous dance and cheerleading experience. The team is differentiated from the cheerleading squad in the fact that this team performs choreographed dance routines at basketball games during time-outs and the halftime.

Tryouts are held every year, but being a veteran from the previous year's team doesn't seem to be a factor in returning to the team. The tryouts were hard. Shannon relates, "This is my second year on the team. Last year, my first year, there was probably about a little over a hundred girls who tried out for the team and they picked 14 girls. You went for a week tryout and during the week three cuts were made. They made one cut the very first day which left about 60 girls. Another cut was made in the third day down to 40 and than the final day the cuts were made down to the final 14 girls."

She added, "This year the tryouts were again a week long, but they were a lot harder. There were 250 girls who tried out this year. We had three cuts again. Not only did we have to learn the dances they taught us, but also they just played any music and we had to have already made up eight counts of eight and perform it individually to that music they played. I think that was the real difference on who made it and who didn't."

Shanan' did not know if points were given for being a veteran Dazzler. "We did put it on the application, but out of the 14 from last year, there were 11 of last year's Dazzlers who tried out and only four of us are on it again this year. They did pick 16 girls because so many tried out,"she said.

Shanan feels that this year the qualifications for the team have changed somewhat. It seems like the adjudicators picked girls with more dancing skills and alimmer bodies. She explained her feelings this way. "Last year five of the 14 Dazziers were from an awesome high school dance team in this area. But this year none of those girls made the team even though three of them tried out. I think some of them had trouble controlling their

The team has a professional coach whose background experience has been in the ground experience has been in the dance world and performing halftimes at NBA basketball games. ## 39 and holding He's still at first job after arrival in Sanford

By ED KORGAN Herald Correspondent

SANFORD - Ron McMillan arrived in Sanford 39 years and one month ago. He started to work at Senkarik's on Dec. 7. 1953 and has been working there since with no plans for retirement. He lives in Sanford with his wife Garnet and his daughter Angela.

McMillan explained, "When I first came down here I stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mitchell. At that time he was a mechanic for the Dodge garage which was down on First Street where the Bram Towers is now.

He continued, "I had met the couple the year before when I was down here during the winter. At that time Senkarik Glass and Paint Company was doing a lot of automobile repair work, glasswork you know. Bob was a mechanic and he came home one day shortly after I arrived in Sanford and asked me if I wanted a job. I told him I didn't know whether or not I wanted a job. I had just got here and I was still on vacation. Another mechanic, in the shop, had told Bob about the job over at Senkarik's."

"I went in and talked to Mr. Senkarik senior (John Senkarik, founder and owner). For some son he just took an automatic liking to me. At that time his wife had a sister in Illinois who was living abut 40 miles from where I came from. It was just like old home week as we talked. He wanted me to go to work right then. That was in the middle of the week and I started working on Saturday morning."

Today, Ed Senkarik, part owner and manager, said, "He (McMillan) is very dependenble...very honest ... an ideal employee."

McMillan has seen a lot of changes since that time. He can remember the thriving downtown district before the plaza was built. He talked abut taking in a movie at the Ritz and stopping off at the bowling alley across the street for a small snack befor he went home. He continued, "When I lived with the Mitchells, on Tenth Street, we used to walk down to town two or three nights a week. We never locked a door in the home. Of course, times have changed quite a bit since then.

"I remember the days of the Navy. I lived in a house on the corner of Sanford Avenue and 25th Street right next door to the sporting goods store. It seemed like every night they would start taking off early. I couldn't sleep. in fact, it was so loud I would go down to the store and sleep. I kept a cot in the backroom, at the store, just for those nights."

With the many changes comes new faces and new ideas. He spoke with a feeling of confidence about what is happening in downtown Sanford today. He

THOMAS E. O'DAY

Marine Cpl. Thomas E. O'Day, son of Thomas E. O'Day of 307 Tucker Drive. Sanford, recently received a Meritorious Mast. O'Day was cited for outstanding service while assigned with Marine Fighter Attack Squadron-115, 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing, Marine Corps Air Station. Beaufort. S.C.

A Meritorious Mast is an official recognition from a marine's commanding officer for superior individual performance. It is issued in the form of a bulletin published throughout the command, and a copy is entered in the marine's permanent service records.

The airman was awarded the new rating ahead of other Air Force members by a "below-the-zone" promotion board which considered job performance, military knowledge, bearing, and self-improvement efforts.

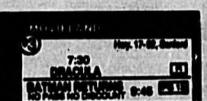

Foster, an inventory management specialist, is the son of Karon D. Mixon of 3007 St... Orlando, and stepson of Glenn E. Mixon of 2440 Lake Vista Court. Casselberry.

woman accomplishes, I have a feeling, will determine just how the downtown grows."

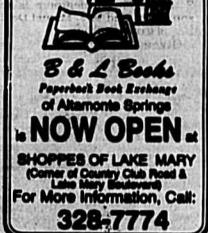

"Senford is continually changing. A lot of our new paint business is people who have bought the homes in the downtown district and are restoring those homes. Most of them are working in Orlando but have decided to live in Sanford. They have really done over many of the homes in this section." "If we could just get a more key stores in the downtown area it would help out tremendously. I think a hardware store would do nicely or maybe a men's shop and a good department store. I guess the biggest problem downtown is there is not enough places to park. It seems like no one wants.

to park and walk to the stores." He talked about the Ritz theater and its inability to get started again. It has gone through many problems including the requirement of an addition of a sprinkler system to bring it to code speicifications, the rewiring of the theater and the roof problems. The new owner would have to spend more money than he could take in just to get a permit to open the theater. "It is just a shame. Such a wonderful landmark and we will probably never see it open again," he exclaimed.

McMillan is hopeful that the next five years will see a lot more changes than what has occurred since he started to work many years back. His job in the store puts him in contact and builders and he feels that Sanford is on the brink of realizing its future potential.
