City Engineer Reports Progress in Laying Pipes and Reconditioning Gas System

Permission of the United States War Department for the City of Sanford to proceed with the bulkheading of Lake Monroe east was presented at the meeting of the City Commission Monday by City Engineer Fred T. Williams following receipt of documents from the office of the district engineer at Jacksonville.

The city waterworks were declared to be more than 95 per cent complete in the report of the city engineer. There remains work to be done on the reservoir before it can be placed in use but this, according to the report, will not hinder the putting into use of the remainder of the system as pipes have been so laid that water can be pumped from the wells directly to the elevated tank.

U. S. Submarine S-19 Goes Ashore in Fog

CHATHAM, Mass., Jan. 13.—The United States submarine S-19 with a crew of 35 men went ashore in a heavy fog on Naussett Beach between Wellfleet and Eastham early Tuesday. It is expected to be floated at high tide at 10:30 o'clock.

Shortly after 9:00 o'clock the S-19 sent out a message saying her position was dangerous due to heavy seas. Waves were breaking over the bridge of the submarine which had a list of 20 degrees. The message said the vessel was rolling in mud. Word was received from the coast guard cutter Acushnet, which expected to reach the submarine soon.

ANNOUNCING OAK HILL

Next Monday, one week from today, Lots in Oak Hill, the Suburb of Opportunity, where sensational rises in property values are predicted by wise realtors, and where the margin of profit will be unexcelled for those who are shrewd enough to take advantage of this exceptional opportunity, will be offered the investing public.

LOCATION

Lying just outside the present city limits, Oak Hill is located exactly two miles from the heart of the business center of Sanford. Close enough to make it easy for the busy business man to go to and from his office and yet far enough out to get away from the hustle and bustle of the city, Oak Hill is so situated as to be a most desirable residential center.

Facing on Geneva Avenue, east of the Oviedo branch of the railroad and extending as far as Mellonville Avenue, the new tract is in a section of Sanford which is developing most rapidly. Without doubt Geneva Avenue will be included in the county road bond issue soon to be called by the county commissioners.

On high ground, formerly a farm noted for its rich productiveness Oak Hill will soon grow into a residential district which will be second to none for its beauty.

There are two ways to reach Oak Hill. The most direct is by way of Sanford Avenue to Geneva Avenue and thence east, a ride of perhaps ten minutes. The second route is by way of Union Avenue to Mellonville Avenue and thence south passing the municipal athletic field and various high class developments.

DESCRIPTION

Oak Hill, the newest subdivision to be placed on the the market in Sanford, consists of forty-seven acres of relatively high ground of fertile soil and tropical growth. Already the lots have been staked off and wide streets are under construction and the fulfillment of the promise of a splendid development is made obvious.

As the name Oak Hill implies, the subdivision is situated on a little knoll whose soil nourishes a number of gorgeous old oaks, generously lending shade and beauty to the setting. Stately pines and foliage of the tropics add further to the picturesque scene. But the attractiveness of this place does not end here.

As the streets are being laid out and paved, the inducements of shady thoroughfares did not fail to make themselves felt. At great expense many beautiful palms have been brought in and planted on the edge of the streets at intervals of about twenty feet and now as one gazes down between these rows of overhanging palms he gets a glimpse of the future possibilities of the place and the picture is complete.

until a lease can be obtained.

Senator McKellar denied that a vote for the Norris bill was endorsement of the principle of government operation. He declared the Underwood bill dedicated Muscle Shoals to private interests instead of to national defense. The Tennessee senator charged supporters of the Alabama senator's measure with following the Republican organization.

Senator Heflin replied that he was getting more informed on "the difference between a Democrat and a Socialist" adding that George Norris will get my friend from Tennessee into quick-sands so fast he soon will be buried. He declared Senator McKellar had been with them on the Ford bill, which also was favored by President Coolidge.

"The president," he asserted, "has now come to our aid and the senator from Tennessee has deserted us."

Cheap Fertilizer Promised.
Declaring Senator McKellar apparently endorsed the Jones substitute, Senator Heflin said he did not believe it would get "more than a half dozen democratic votes."

"Senators, who vote against the Underwood bill," the Alabama senator shouted, "will be placed in the attitude of stabbing to death the only measure which offers cheap fertilizer to the farmer."

Shoals question and Senator Heflin countered with the charge that the Tennessee senator had become an adherent of "Bolshevistic Socialist theories."

The debate hinged around the vote to accept either the Norris or the house bill leasing the property to Henry Ford. On this vote, Senator McKellar supported the Norris government operation power measure and Senator Heflin voted for the Underwood leasing bill to produce nitrogen with profit. The Tennessee senator said it was "inconceivable" to him how senators could vote for the Underwood bill, which would turn Muscle Shoals over to the Alabama Power Company, an alien corporation.

A request from the Mellonville Development company for gas and sewerage mains in Pine Heights was disposed of with the statement that such improvements were to be installed. It also was asked that Mellonville Avenue from Paces Lane to Eighth street be paved, Summerlin Avenue from Paces Lane to Eighth Street and Eighth Street from Summerlin Avenue to Mellonville Avenue be opened as a public street and that water, gas and sewerage mains be installed. The matters were referred through the usual channels for investigation and action.

The commission indicated that favorable action would be taken on a request that the plan of surfaces treating Mellonville Avenue from Celery Avenue to Paces Lane be changed to call for asphalt.

Attention was called to the fact that the City Planning Commission has authority to determine the nature of buildings erected within a mile of the city. This authority, which was taken as a means of insuring observance of building lines, and location of buildings in accordance with the city zoning law, does not apply to residences.

Bids to install a water system and erect a pavilion in the Lake View Cemetery were accepted by the commission. Hoolehan and Coleman were awarded the job of building the water system and W. S. Price will erect the pavilion. City Manager Williams was directed by the commission to draw up the contracts.

Miss Ellen Hoy was appointed to succeed Alfred Foster in the capacity of tax collector. Mr. Foste has served as collector since during the past four years while Miss Hoy was deputy collector.

ENGLAND PLANS HARSH DRIVE ON ALL CONTRABAND

Airplant Patrol Is Added To Other Forces Now Trying To Stop Ingress of Durable Goods to Kingdom

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Hundreds of miles of lonely stretches along the coastline of England and Scotland will shortly come under the eagle eye of the revenue department focused from the skies in an airplane. A fleet of machines has been added to the existing equipment to protect the northern and eastern Scottish coasts, long suspected of being the favorite stopping off places of international smugglers.

Patrolling the long coast line surrounding England, when almost every section is within a day's run from countries producing dutiable goods, has always been a problem for the British government except for the few intervals when the Liberal Free Trade party occupied Downing Street. In Victorian days only in the populous sections was any permanent endeavor made to guard the coast line against smugglers. Revenue ships often made circuits of the island, or busied themselves in some locality suspected of harboring defaulters against Her Majesty's rightful duties, but daily patrolling of some 3,500 miles was not even attempted.

Faster traveling which developed after 1895, found the government also in a comparative condition of speed, and in a single year the personnel of the coast guard was trebled and all of the English coast and much of the inhabited Scottish coast was patrolled. Certain sections in northern Scotland where several hundred miles are not broken by a single village or cabin always have been a source of trouble to the revenue. Heavy seas have not allowed the small revenue boats to be used, and the cold winters made it impossible for man or beast to make such a long journey without shelter in sight.

During the war it was necessary to use the personnel of the coast guard for other work, and the smugglers were handed over to the watchfulness of the British Navy. The navy and the war succeeded in reducing smuggling to almost nothing, but after the armistice and before the end of the years necessary to reorganize the guard, smugglers became more active than ever before.

According to reports there were 890 convictions last year for smuggling and about $15,000,000 worth of goods were confiscated.

The revenue department has now obtained a fleet of hydroplanes which will cover all the bare spots along the coast, and for the first time in history every bit of coastline of the islands of England, Scotland and Wales will be under surveillance.

Economy Deprives Editors Of A Safe Guide In Spelling

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The economy policy of the Coolidge regime has had, it is felt even in the drawing rooms of fashionable Washington society.

One of the latest items of evidence to be clipped from the annual budget is the small, but much sought after monthly publication called the Diplomatic List, wherein the names and official titles of all members of embassy and legation staffs heretofore have been made available by the State Department.

Department officials have decided that new editions of this diplomatic book will be printed hereafter only when there has been an accumulation of necessary revisions. Consequently no hostess now can be certain, without special inquiry, of the precise rank of diplomatic officials, or of the correct spelling of some of the law-breaking names of those sent here to represent distant countries.

Such change has been a particular cause of disturbance to social secretaries and society editors, accustomed for years to the possession of ready-reference tabulation of all Washington diplomats.

Specialists Declare Pig Raisers In Need Of Concrete Floors

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 13.—"One of the east-to-make improvements a hog raiser can have is a concrete feeding floor," declares Frazier Rogers of the Florida College of Agriculture. A concrete floor keeps the hogs in a more healthy condition, as they do not have to eat mud in order to get grain and they do not get large amounts of dust into their lungs during dry weather, which is unavoidable when hogs are fed on the ground, he added.

Professor Rogers advises that the concrete feeding floor be placed as near the crib as is convenient and on a well-drained spot. When the ground is firm the concrete may be laid on it after the grass, roots and other perishable matter have been removed and soil brought to the proper level and firmly compacted.

Concrete feeding floors should be made at least four inches thick. What is known as one-course construction is suggested as very satisfactory. In this the same mixture all the way through can be used. A mixture consisting of one bag of cement, two cubic feet of clean sand and three cubic feet of gravel or broken stone (the diameter of which should not be more than one and one-half inches) is recommended for the feeding floor.

In making suggestions for concrete floors, Mr. Rogers says it should slope toward one end so that it will drain quickly after a rain. A quarter of an inch to the foot is sufficient slope. In making forms, two-inch material should be used and it should be well staked. Finishing should be done with a wooden float instead of a steel trowel, as it leaves the surface rough enough that the hogs can stand on it easily.

A curb around the edge of the floor extending about two inches above and six inches below the top and bottom of the floor will prevent the loss of grain and keep the hogs from rooting under the floor.

Another Session Of Congress Is Urged By Borah

This was one point in Senator Borah's discussion of the farm problem. He said that if there was delay until the new congress met in the usual course next December there could be no legislation for at least a year. Then, he added, congress would be acting with another election impending and would be guided to a great degree by expediency instead of logic and reasoning.

Reminding his colleagues that the Republican party had pledged itself to farm relief and that this pledge stood right up to "the time of the counting of the last vote; until the last voice was heard," Senator Borah said the time to renege that pledge was just as soon as the power had been given to renege it.

Wonderful Vision of J. D. Hood Realized

Annual Meeting of Lake Front Improvement Company Held Last Night at Valdez Hotel

J. D. Hood, of Sanford Re-elected President
Hon. S. A. Wood, of Deland, Vice-President
Judge Cary Landis, of Deland, Secretary
Erskine W. Landis, of Deland, A Director

Look at The Sanford Herald of March 18, 1921—there you will see a picture of J. D. Hood's vision of a greater Sanford, and his idea of the wonderful development of the water front. (See picture reproduced below). When you have done this, then go to the water front and look about and you will see the magnificent buildings and improvements actually being constructed in fulfillment of the idea of our foresighted citizen, J. D. Hood. Many look backwards into the past, but few have the sagacity, wisdom and power to open the windows and gaze into the future as has been done by J. D. Hood. No citizen has worked harder, or labored longer than J. D. Hood in the development of the great possibilities of Sanford's Water Front. He looked across, over and beyond the small hills of improvement to the huge mountains of success, and valiantly fought his way to his goal which he is now approaching and realizing as an accomplished fixed fact. We owe much to Mr. Hood, and let us be grateful to him for his wonderful efforts and aid, and assist him and his new associates in building a city with a water front without equal in this country and a parallel to the water front of the world famed Italian Lakes. The Lake Front Improvement Company, of which J. D. Hood has been the President and guiding spirit from its beginning, owns the large vacant lands surrounded by the Valdez Hotel, Seminole County Court House, New Masonic Temple, New City Building, Clyde Steamship Terminal, and the magnificent Boulevard on Lake Monroe. The holdings of this company are beyond question the most valuable of the kind in Sanford, if not in the State of Florida. When J. D. Hood interested such men as S. A. Wood and Cary D. Landis, who are now large owners of stock in this company, he signed, sealed and delivered a guarantee of success to the future of this company which means much for the onward progress and miraculous development of our city. It is a splendid omen indeed when such men as S. A. Wood and Cary D. Landis, citizens of our sister City, DeLand, Come here and affiliate themselves in a large way in our growth and prosperity as they have done. The Honorable S. A. Wood is a banker of forty years experience—a banker second to none in Florida—a banker whose services and advice are now being sought by the Bankers of the South in their effort to place him on the Board of Directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, Georgia. Mr. Wood is President of the Volusia County Bank and Trust Company, of DeLand, Florida, Vice-President of the Merchants Bank and Trust Company, of Daytona, Florida, a past President of the Florida Bankers Association of Florida, a member of the Board of Trustees of John B. Stetson University, and connected with many other large enterprises in Florida. He is a man of proven worth, unquestioned integrity and a man whose business judgment is unquestioned. He is a man whose history of nearly half a century is that he does things, and the Lake Front Improvement Company is most fortunate in having him as one of its active officers. Judge Cary D. Landis is a man known throughout Florida, formerly State Attorney of this Judicial Circuit, and at one time City Attorney of Sanford, covering the period of the instillation of our present Charter Government. He is a lawyer of recognized ability, indisputable integrity and a man who for many years has stood at the very head of his profession in the State of Florida. He has invested heavily in property in and adjoining DeLand, and is a loyal supporter of every movement tending toward the development of this section of the State. Mr. Wood and Judge Landis are both men of large means and now that they are interested and affiliated with us, we extend to them the warm handclap of welcome, and predict great success for the Lake Front Improvement Company.

THE COUNTY FAIR AT LONGWOOD

For the first time in twenty-five years citizens of Seminole are to be treated to a county fair when on Wednesday and Thursday of this week the plans of the Longwood Chamber of Commerce are consummated.

It will be a week of great excitement with much doing in Longwood. The famous Johnny J. Jones shows, so familiar to young and old of this section, will be on hand to entertain in their usual thrilling way.

Among these many exhibits there will be twenty-five from Sanford which on that account should be of additional interest to residents of this city.

It is the plan of the Longwood Chamber of Commerce to make the fair an annual event and if the one this year is given sufficiently generous support, there is no doubt but that the advisability of having other fairs in years to come will make itself felt.

The actual organization of this commission is of minor importance. It should be composed of persons of enough artistic vision to see the possibilities of beautification in Sanford combined with "common sense" enough to go after it's goal in an efficient manner.

After the actual creation of the board, the most vital thing is adequate financial arrangements. It isn't necessary that money be sprayed as though it were a cheap disinfectant but it is necessary to buy the trees and shrubbery suited for the purposes for which they are to be used.

This commission should be subject to the city commission alone. All matters pertaining to the beautification of the parks and streets should be the province of this commission.

It will be a week of great excitement with much doing in Longwood. The famous Johnny J. Jones shows, so familiar to young and old of this section, will be on hand to entertain in their usual thrilling way.

Among these many exhibits there will be twenty-five from Sanford which on that account should be of additional interest to residents of this city.

It is the plan of the Longwood Chamber of Commerce to make the fair an annual event and if the one this year is given sufficiently generous support, there is no doubt but that the advisability of having other fairs in years to come will make itself felt.

The actual organization of this commission is of minor importance. It should be composed of persons of enough artistic vision to see the possibilities of beautification in Sanford combined with "common sense" enough to go after it's goal in an efficient manner.

After the actual creation of the board, the most vital thing is adequate financial arrangements. It isn't necessary that money be sprayed as though it were a cheap disinfectant but it is necessary to buy the trees and shrubbery suited for the purposes for which they are to be used.

This commission should be subject to the city commission alone. All matters pertaining to the beautification of the parks and streets should be the province of this commission.

As Brisbane Sees It

Sausages, Pancakes, Law, Ghost Drama and Religious More Happy Lambs. Bolivia's Richest Man. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1924)

JUDGE GRAY, biggest man in steel, and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., biggest man in oil, ate breakfast and discussed prohibition enforcement with President Coolidge yesterday morning.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE permits no alcoholic drink in the White House, drinks no stimulants himself. He represents a minority of one in ten among officials.

BOOTLEGGERS. BOOTLEG whiskey, bootleg crime, hijacking, hold ups, increase in drug use, bribe taking enforcement officials all the drink they want for rich men, etc., have turned the public mind toward the idea that prohibition does not prohibit.

SANTA CLAUS is agitated about ghosts that disturb a young boy and girl. Trances, the neighbors call the sleep in which strange visions frighten the children and superstitious neighbors.

THE CAVE MAN, seeing his dead father in a strange dream, said on awaking, "Then he's not entirely dead after all. I wonder where he went."

STOCKS WENT UP again yesterday, interest rate on call money went down. That is a combination as sweet as Spring grass to the little lamb. Money for stock speculation is plentiful.

THERE IS lots of money if your credit is good or you have security. The big telephone company borrows $150,000,000 with the greatest ease.

RAILROADS THAT owe the Government millions says they want a lower interest rate, and will probably get it. That is fair as the Government lent at six per cent, war rates, and can now borrow for four per cent, but the man that put a mortgage on his house at six per cent cannot arrange the rate so easily.

MUSCLE SHOALS AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT

Headlined on its front page Wednesday, the Tribune carried the story of the success of Senator Norris in blocking a vote on the question of Muscle Shoals. The senator, who is the chief sponsor of the government ownership plan for operating the project, announced that he would not consent to the vote until the senate had first disposed of the Underwood bill.

NOTHING IN THE PAPER TODAY

"Huh! There's nothin' in the paper today." How often one hears this remark concerning local papers in whatever town he may be. There is one fact which should be firmly impressed on every citizen of Fort Myers and that is this: "A newspaper is only a mirror reflecting the activities of the community."

HEROISM OF A KENTUCKY CUR

In this column last week mention was made of a New York dog that saved a family from death in a burning house. Rover, creeping from door to door, barking, aroused the sleeping household in time to enable them to escape.

WELL DONE

Thursday night a railway train was hurrying into Spartanburg, S. C. over the Charleston and Western North Carolina railroad. Looking out of his cab window the engineer, W. W. Bartlett, saw a two-year-old child playing upon the track.

DAN DOBBS SAID

The only reliable antidote for cross-word puzzles is carbolic acid. Ho hum. Snakeskin boots popular in Berlin. Popular with the women. Not with the men. Women jurors saved King Coy's life. Wouldn't hang. He's a prize fighter. Men won't hang shimmy dancers.

Boulder to Mark Site Of Old Fort Mellon

The watchword of the Sallie Harrison Chapter N. S. D. A. R. "Advance Never Be Discouraged" is to be realized soon with placing of a boulder to mark old Fort Mellon at Mayfair. Mayfair is one of the loveliest spots in all Florida. When Sanford was in its infancy a New York millionaire was most desirous of that most lovely track of land. It was through the efforts of Mrs. W. E. Watson, past regent of Sallie Harrison Chapter and the generous gift of Mrs. R. S. Keeler of New York, that a fund given a year ago reached this culmination. When the Sallie Harrison Chapter in the near future unveils this marker it is felt that every citizen of Seminole county will take just pride in the knowledge that near this spot is the beginning of the military trail starting at Fort Mellon and ending at the Fort in Tampa.

Marriage of Interest To Sanford Friends

The following announcement will be received with interest in Sanford as Mr. and Mrs. Marshall have many friends here. Mrs. Julia Earnest announces the marriage of her daughter Clyde Vivian Olmstead to Edward Otto Marshall on Monday, Jan. 12 nineteen hundred and twenty-five, Jacksonville Florida.

George Herbst Returns With His Bride

Mr. and Mrs. George Herbst arrived recently from the north and are at home on the West Side. The following account of their wedding appeared in the Secaucus papers: A very pretty home wedding took place on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. John Engelbrech, of 201 Franklin Street, Secaucus, when her daughter, Miss Margaret Anna Engelbrech, became the bride of George Herbst of Sanford, Fla. The ceremony was performed under a large wedding bell in the parlor of the home at which the Rev. Henry C. Beckman of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, officiated. Miss Minnie Fossel, of West New York, acted as bridesmaid, and George Raabe of Maywood, was the best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held, at which only the most intimate friends of the families were present. The newlyweds left yesterday for their future home in Sanford, Fla.

Ladies Union Holds An Interesting Meet

A meeting of the Ladies Union of the Congregational Church was held at the home of Mrs. Peter Thurston Monday afternoon with Mrs. Peter Thurston and Mrs. Harry Thurston as hostesses. During the regular business session three new members were received and plans for the building of a new parsonage were discussed. A delightful social hour followed the business of the afternoon at which time the hostess served delicious shortcake and coffee.

Income Tax Talk Number One

Your income tax for the year 1924 is less, in proportion to your income than was the tax for 1923. A rate reduction, however, is not the only benefit afforded by the revenue act of 1924. Increase in the exemption for married persons, a 25 per cent reduction on "earned income" and other changes in revenue legislation are of immediate interest to every taxpayer. The revenue act of 1924 requires that returns be filed by every single person whose net income for 1924 was $1,000 or more, or whose gross income was $5,000 or more, and by every married couple whose aggregate net income was $2,500 or more, or whose aggregate gross income was $5,000 or more. Last year returns were required of married couples whose aggregate net income was $2,000 or more. Husband and wife, living together, may include the income of each in a single joint return, or each may file a separate return showing the income of each. Net income is gross income less certain specified reductions for business expenses, losses, bad debts, contributions, etc. The period for filing returns is from Jan. 1 to March 15, 1925. The return accompanied by at least one fourth of the amount of tax due, must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer has his residence or his principal place of business.

U. S. Dominates Auto Market In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 13.—The United States practically absorbed the importation of automobiles and motor trucks to Argentina in 1924, according to a report just issued by the Motorcar Importers Association. The report, which is based on official records, shows that out of a total of 30,024 motorcars that entered Argentina during the last year, 29,294 were of North American manufacture. The value of the cars amounted to 13,201,114 gold pesos, and to this sum must be added a further 3,750,779 gold pesos which is the value of motorcar accessories imported during the same period. The report dwells on the considerable development of the automobile trade in Argentina during the last year, saying that the increase of the importation was 53.2 per cent over 1923, when the trade reached its highest level. In the city of Buenos Aires there are at present 19,222 motorcars, compared with 5,824 in 1915.

Berlin Falls For Sandwich Peddler

BERLIN, Jan. 13.—"Eat while you walk to your office" is the slogan of a new species of street peddlers which has recently invaded the downtown section of Berlin. Imitating Swedish models, these peddlers wheel an immaculately white cart through the city on the top of which, under a glass globe, are exhibited appetizing sandwiches at a price of three for 50 or 75 pennings, depending upon the quality of the meat or cheese offered. The peddlers themselves are also in white, in the familiar garb of a chef. They report a good business thus far. Hustlers who are disgruntled at the slow method of serving which is characteristic of European restaurants generally, welcome this means of getting away with a noodly lunch as they rush from one appointment to another. Fire protection is everybody's personal problem; not only the obligation to go and help in an actual conflagration, but also to help in preventing fires.

WANT CHANGE IN FINANCE PLAN OF DRAINAGESYSTEM

Ernest Amos, State Comptroller, Proposes Plan That Includes a New Bond Issue, Extension Drainage District

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 13.—A resolution suggesting presentation to the legislature this spring plans for a new plan of financing the Everglades drainage project has been drawn up by Ernest Amos, state comptroller, and submitted to Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund for consideration. Copies of the resolution, which has been informally presented to the trustees with the request that it be tabled temporarily, have been furnished to each member for study. The resolution, if adopted, will result in the board of trustees making application to the legislature for: First: To extend the boundaries of the Everglades Drainage district east and west upon which an ad valorem tax may be levied of not more than one-half of one mill on the dollar along with the other portions of the district. Second: To extend the boundaries of the district westward and northward to take in the Kissimmee River Valley section, to which the beneficial taxes will be applied. Third: To authorize a bond issue sufficiently large to complete the drainage work as rapidly as possible, and also refund the outstanding bonds at a lower rate of interest, the same to be available as needed, the interest rate not to exceed 5 1/2 per cent with maturities pushed as far into the future as practical. Fourth: To authorize the laying of aqueducts from Lake Okeechobee to the Palm Beaches and down the East Coast to Miami, or below, for furnishing water at wholesale to cities along the route. To provide a bond issue sufficient to carry out this purpose, to be secured by the revenues from water sales. After providing for retirement of principal and interest on the bonds the residue to be used on the obligations of the Everglades Drainage district. Under provisions of the resolution the chief drainage engineer would prepare estimates of the district to carry out the provisions outlined. Together with the engineer, the attorney of the board would prepare bills to be presented to the legislature to carry out along practical lines ideas expressed in the resolution. In submitting the resolution to the board, Mr. Amos points out the following reasons for its adoption: "Funds for drainage operations in the Everglades will be practically exhausted by the time the legislature convenes, leaving a bonded indebtedness against the district of $9,500,000, the major portion of which carries a 6 per cent interest rate; the unissued reserve of $1,300,000 being wholly insufficient for our needs, making it imperative for further bonds to be provided at the coming session, and "The board has heretofore been on an enforced budget of $95,000 per month which has held back its operations and retarded the work considerably, but now the time is opportune for making provision at the coming session of the legislature for enough funds to complete the work to be available as needed from time to time, so that the work may be pushed intensively along all fronts, and "Owing to the low assessed valuation and small population of the district it will be impractical, if not impossible, to float additional bond issues without overcoming these conditions, and "The work should not stop nor allowed to be halted, but rather speeded up intensively to make that vast fertile region, the back country and future hope of the lower East Coast and elsewhere, available now and safe for crops at all seasons of the year, and "By extending the boundaries East and West and levying a small ad valorem tax, never to be more than one-half mill on the dollar, over the whole district as enlarged, the operations can be readily financed to completion and the present outstanding indebtedness funded advantageously at a lower rate of interest, and "By extending the boundaries westward and to the tax thereon the Kissimmee river can be brought under control and a canal, the equal of the St. Lucie, be dug through the Caloosahatchee river to furnish additional insurance against lake overflow and incidentally provide a practical water route from the Atlantic to the Gulf, and "In order that the tax burden may not bear too heavily upon the land owners before the lands are brought into productivity the bond maturities can and should be extended as far into the future as practical, and "That redemption of lands held by the trustees under drainage tax certificates be allowed to be made hereafter by bona fide owners thereof and their successors, in title, in the same manner as state tax certificates may be made, that is by paying the face of the certificate, all omitted taxes and penalties thereon, and "From what has heretofore transpired before this board from time to time it is evident that the water supply of Miami, if not the entire lower East Coast, is wholly inadequate, quite unsatisfactory, and likely to become acute in the near future, and water—good water and plenty of it—is the one absolute necessity of every community everywhere, and

Lake Okeechobee is an asset of the whole district of great potential value, that can furnish an inexhaustible supply of good water to the whole of the East Coast region as well as afford bountiful supply for irrigation which will be sorely needed in time to come, not far off, and

"The furnishing of water at wholesale to the cities along the East Coast from the Palm Beaches south by aqueducts from Lake Okeechobee is not only a practical proposition but one that will prove highly remunerative on a low rate; moreover, it is a project that can be financed by a bond issue against prospective revenues from water sales upon which the principal and interest would be a first lien; the surplus, which is sure, may then be used to assist in carrying and retiring the Everglades Drainage district bonds, and "These two great projects are indissolubly bound together and are of such vital public importance, that they should be carried out by this board, pushed energetically, and be finished during this administration as one of its greatest and most beneficial accomplishments."

Notice to the Public

Some one for reasons best known to himself has circulated in this city and Lake Mary that we have sold our large paint and wallpaper business, located on First Street.

We would kindly inform our many customers and friends that this is not true as I am still the owner of the business.

When I sell my paint and wallpaper business I shall publish it in our papers. Until then, I am the owner of the business.

A Hint for Beginners

The cross-word puzzle diagram is merely a means of concealing words which are synonymous to those listed and which will interlock perfectly and so read equally well crosswise or downwards. Always look for the number of the synonym on the diagram. If horizontal, you must find a word to fit between that number and the first shaded stop to the right; if vertical, you must fit your word between the number and the first shaded stop below.
