He's Paid

another switch when he realized what he'd done. Frantically, he slapped the new reel into place and threaded it as only a man with his many years of experience could. He barely made it in time but the switch came off all right. No one in the theatre ever realized what had been going on behind the scenes.

Vern's hours are rather confining, a fact he's occasionally reminded of by Mrs. W. He reports to take care of any necessary maintenance work. This might include patching a torn chair, taking a projector apart to repair it, or any one of the many things that need to be done every day.

After lunch, he starts the machine and stays with it until supper time, when he enjoys a two-hour break. Then it's back to the projection booth until about 11 when the theatre closes shop for the day. He has one day off each week.

"I still enjoy seeing a good picture now as much as I ever did," says Vern. "Of course, I got a little tired of what you might call 'B' pictures. I keep some reading material handy when they are showing, and besides, even the good pictures get a little tiresome after you've seen them a half dozen times."

He started working at the theatre in 1932 as a relief operator and usher and took over as a regular operator in 1934. He served in the Navy for more than 2 years during the war. His Navy job? That's right, he was a movie projector operator at Lake City Naval Station.

When he first joined the Ritz staff, silent pictures had just bowed out. Since then he has seen many changes take place. Among the more regrettable ones, he recalls, was 3-D. A headache for the operator (and sometimes for the viewer) it enjoyed only a short life locally.

Among the films he lists as his all-time favorites are "Flirtation Waltz" with Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler, "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" starring James Stewart, and "Big Top" with Betty Hutton, Cornel Wilde and James Stewart. As you may have guessed, Jimmy Stewart is one of his favorite actors. Donald O'Connor is another.

He says it's hard to say who would be his choice as No. 1 actress. "I like them all," he laughs. "I don't like them all, some of them."

But after a moment's thought, he decided that Claudette Colbert and Lorraine Day were his favorites.

Asked what he thought of "Gone With the Wind", he just shook his head. "Too long. Few hours and fifteen minutes."

One of the most embarrassing things that has happened to him as an operator was when he accidentally used the "optical" lens, which is designed for use on newsreels, cartoon, etc., on a Cinemascope film. It made the characters appear paper-thin and "about a mile high." Incidentally, the special lenses necessary for Cinemascope cost about $500 each.

Several years ago, Vern decided to try some movie-making himself in his "spare" time. He bought a projector, camera, splicer, reel case, and screen. After shooting just one roll of film, he sold the whole works for $10. "Never have tried it again since," he says.

A buzzer system between the ushers and the booth aids in keeping both sound and picture good at all times. One buzzer means, "Turn up the sound"; two buzzers, "Look at the screen, zee, 'Lower the sound'; and just after Vern finished explaining the system, a three-buzzer signal came in. We both looked at the screen but could see nothing wrong. "I've told the ushers," explained Vern. "To use the buzzer anytime they think anything is even slightly off. It doesn't hurt anything and it could prevent a lot of grief."

So the next time you see a movie and it's stopped temporarily or the sound is not up to par, give the operator a break. Don't whistle or stamp your feet or make any noise. After all, he's got his hair. After all, he's got his hair. After all, he's got his hair.

The player payroll of the Chicago White Sox will be "well over $300,000" this year, says General Manager Frank Lane.

The race horse Nashua gets special drinking water which is bottled and shipped to Hialeah from Hot Springs, Ark.

Former Resident, Mrs. R. Ashworth, Dies In Washington

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. today in the Fort Myers Chapel in Arlington, Va., for Sanford-born Mrs. Sarah Jeanette "Pete" Ashworth, 32, of Arlington, who died Friday in Washington, D. C. at the Doctors' Hospital following a brief illness.

A native of Sanford, she moved to Arlington in 1934. Her husband, Robert Lawrence Ashworth, is a insurance consultant with the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Washington, D. C. She is survived by two sons, Robert Lawrence Jr., six years old, and Joe Carl, four years old. Others include her mother, Mrs. J. D. Chittenden of Sanford; a brother, Joe Chittenden, Arlington; an aunt, Mrs. Bess M. Jones, Sanford; and an uncle, Leroy Chittenden of Fairbank County, Va.

Mrs. Ashworth was known to all her friends as Pete. She was frequently active in community charity work. Within the last month she collected funds for the family of a community milkman who died of cancer. She was a member of the Little Falls Presbyterian Church in Arlington. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Frank A. Erwin, pastor of the Little Falls Presbyterian Church. Burial took place in Arlington Cemetery.

Services Tomorrow For Mrs. E. Tyler

Mrs. Edith B. Tyler, 84, died at her home on Silver Lake, on May 24. Born in Buckland, Mass., on September 14, 1870, she lived in Sanford for the past 20 years. She came here from Altamonte Springs and is the wife of the late Harry C. Tyler of this city.

Mrs. Tyler is survived by two sisters, Miss Clara Drake, Melrose, Mass.; and Mrs. Walter Barber, Adams, Mass.; one brother, Richard Butler, Springfield, Mass.; one grandson, Donald Tyler; one niece, Mrs. Alice Carduf, Chesire, Mass.; and one nephew, Richard Butler, Springfield, Mass.

Memorial services will be at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow at Brison Funeral Home with the Rev. C. Kiser of the First Baptist Church of Melbourne officiating. Burial will be at a later date.

New Mail Service Is Effective Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Summerfield today launched the new certified mail service as a regular part of postal operations.

Certified mail is a simplified form of registered mail. It will provide "proof of delivery" service for items not having actual monetary value.

For 15 cents, plus regular postage, the Post Office keeps a record of certified mail delivery at the local post office for six months in the event the sender should need to establish that the item was actually delivered.

Station Demands Knowledge Of Fate

BERLIN (AP) — Rias, Berlin's U. S. operated radio station, demanded today to know the fate of more than 11,000 young Germans "abducted" by the Soviet Union 10 years ago.

In a special broadcast, RIAS charged the 16 and 17-year-old boys and girls were seized by Russian occupation forces without any valid reason.

The station said the "mass kidnappings" right after Germany's World War II surrender resulted in 16,000 abductions. Of this total, "scarcely more than 4,800 have returned to their homes."

Negotiations Begin On Wage Increase For Steel Workers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — With U. S. Steel Corp. as the initial target, the CIO United Steelworkers will begin negotiations tomorrow with the basic steel industry for a "substantial wage increase."

David J. McDonald, president of the 1,200,000-member union, and other top officials of the Steelworkers organization will meet with a U. S. Steel committee headed by Vice President John A. Stephens.

McDonald said he plans to open negotiations with five other major producers immediately after talks get under way with Big Steel. He will head negotiations with all six steel firms.

The union's Wage Policy Committee instructed McDonald and other officials to seek a "substantial wage hike." Neither McDonald nor any other union official has defined "substantial."

Amoco announces a new way to make gas, a new conception of octane

A few short months ago a man pressed a button . . . the words "on stream" echoed from place to place . . . and a new petroleum giant came to life. Oil pulsed through its arteries. And at Texas City, Texas, the world's largest multi-million dollar Ultraforming unit had begun creating the new Amoco-Gas.

From this mighty oil refinery has come a new, high-octane gas . . . made by a patented method, the most advanced known to science. A clear, white gas with such natural anti-knock quality that it is the only gas that meets modern car engine needs without the use of lead. It's the new Ultraformed Amoco-Gas.

And this great new premium motor fuel couldn't have been born at a more appropriate time. It answers all the bewilderment about octane in a clear, simple way.

The Octane you've heard about—until now

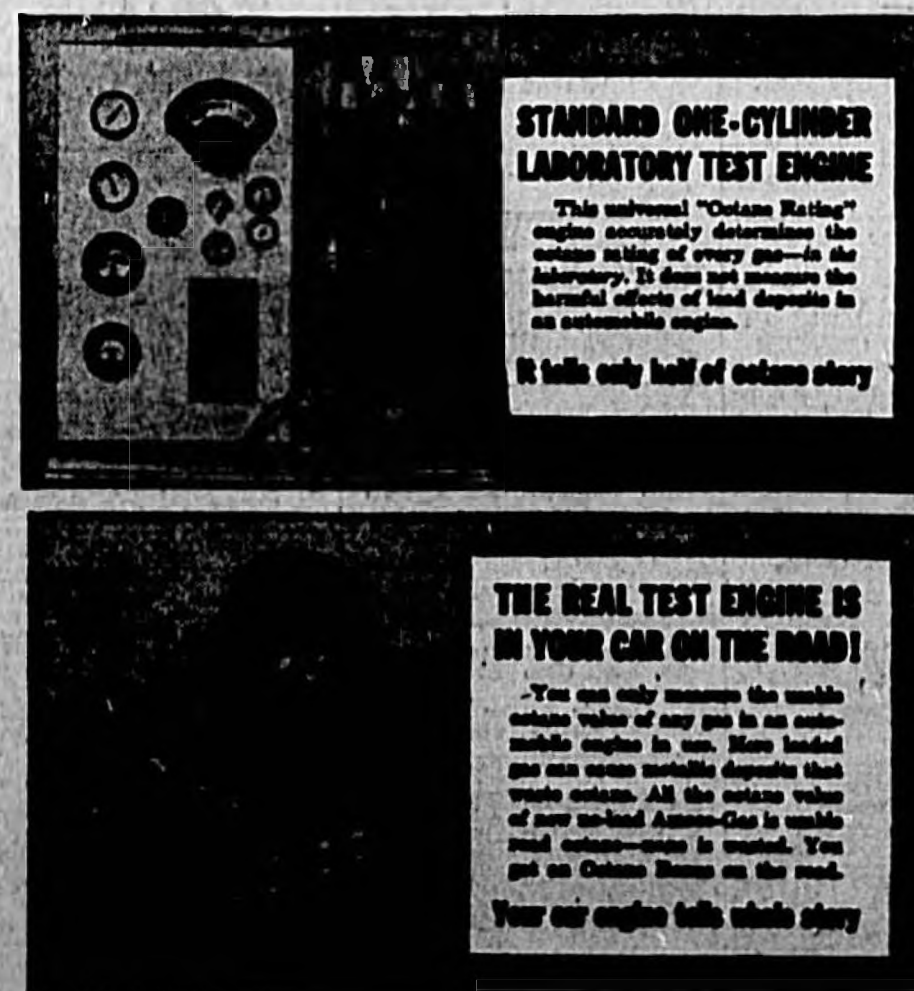

The octane ratings you hear about are laboratory ratings. They are ratings obtained by adding lead. But lead doesn't all burn up. It leaves harmful deposits that can turn your engine into an octane trap—a trap that catches and wastes octane!

The Octane BONUS of the new, unleaded Amoco-Gas

Pure, no-lead Amoco-Gas can all burn—every drop. None is wasted fighting lead deposits. All its octane-energy can go to turn the wheels—it's all usable "road octane."

That's the only practical way to measure octane. That's why we say the new Ultraformed Amoco-Gas gives you an Octane Bonus . . . on the road, where it counts.

Try it—it does something wonderful for your car!

Chase To Head Meeting Of Growers, Shippers In Orlando This Month

A "town meeting" type of approach to the transportation problems of Florida's citrus and vegetable industries will mark the 32nd annual meeting of the Growers and Shippers League of Florida, in Orlando, June 15, according to Gordon C. Stedman, secretary-manager.

The discussions, called a "panel forum", will cover fresh citrus, vegetables, frozen and canned citrus, as well as other problems confronting the industries.

General Motors Faces Possible Midnight Strike

DETROIT (AP)—The giant General Motors Corp. today faced a possible midnight strike as the United Auto Workers drove relentlessly ahead on its grievance wage campaign.

Walter Reuther, red-haired 47-year-old UAW president, said he would take charge of the GM negotiations personally to try to get the auto industry's largest producer to match or better terms already won from the Ford Motor Co.

GM's five-year contract expires at midnight and the UAW's General Motors Council planned to convene today to decide whether to okay a walkout tonight or set a future date to provide more time for bargaining.

John W. Livingston, UAW vice president and head of the union's GM department, said he wanted a GM settlement better than that won at Ford.

"I don't see any reason why we can't do better than they did at Ford," he said. "General Motors certainly can afford it."

Egyptians Reject U. N.'s Proposal For Negotiations

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt has rejected a U. N. proposal that her top officials negotiate directly with Israel to stop the continuing clashes along the Gaza Strip.

An Egyptian spokesman, Col. Salah Gohar, said last night his government prefers to continue negotiations through the U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission established by the 1948 armistice.

Israel is boycotting the Israeli-Egyptian commission, on which a U. N. representative has the tie-breaking chairman's vote.

From Jerusalem, Israeli Premier Moshe Sharett messaged U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld that Egypt's rejection of the proposal "lays her open to a charge of bad faith."

Door Is Left Open For Speeded Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson, leaving the door open to new moves to step up warplane production, says the Pentagon is "taking a very good look at everything we are doing."

Asked at a news conference yesterday whether the Air Force has recommended a speedup in production of any planes other than its most potent heavy bomber, the B-32, Wilson replied: "Not yet."

Asked specifically about the F-100 Super Sabre jet fighter, Wilson parried the question by saying he didn't want to generate "too much pressure" about that matter.

Office Will Close For Three Days

Mrs. Lorraine Graham, executive secretary of the Seminole County Tuberculosis and Health Association, announced today that the TB office will be closed Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

She, along with Mrs. Louise Carmichael, a board member, will attend a field sales study course in Jacksonville.

Little Joey Makes First Debut

BALTIMORE (AP)—The first baby kangaroo in the history of the Baltimore Zoo made a brief public debut yesterday and a photograph of the tiny marsupial was taken.

George Cook got his very candid shot from the neighboring cage, which normally houses a species of the genus papio, or baboon.

Cook and Eddie Nolan, Sanpapee photographers, alternated for 20 minutes in the cage, with Nolan waiting for the baby—or, as they're called in Australia, "joey"—to show his face. The baboon had been moved out.

The Baltimore Zoo's Joey is believed to be about 3 months old. The Joey—hairless, blind and only about an inch long at birth—days fastened inside the mother's pouch until it is about 8 months old. Then it emerges little by little from the pouch—something like Junior venturing forth from the bag line at his first dance—and begins to nibble at the greenstuff his mom eats.

Late in April, someone thought they spotted activity a little south of Mrs. K's mid-section. Photographers waited that time for a shot, but got nothing.

Day before yesterday, Nolan and Cook decided the time had come.

They set up their stakes out in the baboon cage. Nolan, taking the first watch, had just settled down in his chair with his camera and a cigarette when a touring group of school kids came by.

Nolan didn't have a chance. A fresh, young comedian yelled: "Hey, look at that baboon!"

The ordeal ended after Cook had waited for two hours yesterday. The Joey, looking more like a scared pup than a kangaroo, stuck his head out of Mama's pouch, then came more withdrawn from the hairy-belly.

Clara Jobe Clinging To Hope

"I will take that chance," Clara Jobe told doctors in Macon, Ga., when she was confronted with a momentous decision in her life.

Doctors told her that there is a possibility she may gain relief from the gouging pain of an incurable disease at just one hospital in this country. Other than the possibility of some relief, he told her, there is no hope for recovery.

And with a heavy heart and courage that is unmatchable, she wants the chance that might bring her some relief.

With two daughters preparing to face today's world, Mrs. Jobe wants to be spared the pain, suffering, and clouded mind so that she may guide her two girls and prepare them to face an uncertain world.

Lupis erythematosus, brought on by shock, nervousness, strain and worry, is an incurable disease about which the medical profession knows little and she has it.

Since this worthy mother, who struggled against the ravages of this disease while she devoted her time to her community's benefit, wants to make the trip to the hospital prescribed by her doctor, she is not in a position to travel simply because she does not have the funds.

In order to get to this hospital, she must have special transportation, a nurse to accompany her, medical care, bed clothes, toilet articles, medicines, and numerous needs brought on by the disease.

Mrs. Jobe is bedridden and cannot get up to help herself. So it falls upon the shoulders of her sympathetic friends. That is why the "Clara Jobe Fund" was founded with Mrs. Ruth Scott at the Sanford Atlantic National Bank as trustee.

Contributions may be sent to Mrs. Scott at the bank or to The Sanford Herald.

Travel Permission Given To Professor

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 24-year effort by Prof. Otto Nathan of New York University to get permission to travel abroad ended successfully yesterday when the State Department, under cord prodding, gave him a passport.

Dr. Nathan is executor of the late Albert Einstein's will, and he has said one reason he wants to go abroad now is to attend a scientific meeting in Switzerland next month to discuss publication of some Einstein manuscripts.

The U. S. Court of Appeals here ordered the State Department to give Nathan a hearing no later than today and, if it refused to grant him a passport, to specify its reasons.

Testimony Started In Moonshine Case

GAINESVILLE (AP)—Testimony begins today in the federal court trial of George T. Robbins, suspended Levy County sheriff, and five others on charges they conspired to protect moonshiners.

Also on trial are Ernest C. Blair of Ocala, former state beverage department supervisor; Charles T. Henderson Jr., also of Ocala; John B. Deen, Jacksonville; John C. Farlin Jr., Bronson; and Luther M. White, Williston.

The indictment said Robbins and Blair accepted protection money on several occasions in 1954 from a state undercover agent posing as a moonshine still operator.

Ike Offers Address To Military School

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—President Eisenhower called today for "a prudent guard against futuristic expectations that a world, sick with ignorance, mutual fears and hates, can be cured" at the proposed Big Four conference.

The conference will be "only a beginning in a renewed effort that may last a generation" before enduring peace finally is won, he said in an address prepared for delivery at the U. S. Military Academy commencement exercises.

Texas Policeman Given Suspension

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Texas J. Foster, named one of the nation's 10 outstanding young men by the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1953, has been suspended from the Houston police force.

Police Chief Jack Heard said the 28-year-old policeman was suspended indefinitely for "conduct unbecoming an officer." Foster said he will appeal to the city Civil Service Board.

He was honored by the Junior Chamber for his undercover narcotics investigation among Texas teenagers.

Air Weapons Chief Relieved Of Post

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's air weapons chief has been relieved of his job for what the government considers "highly inappropriate" statements. He said another world war appeared inevitable and the West could "beat the pants off" the Russians.

The remarks were made by Air Vice Marshal J. L. Plant, chief of the Royal Canadian Air Force Technical Services, in a speech last Thursday at a meeting of the Aviation Writers Assn. in Toronto.

He said the world was heading for a third world war and the West could "beat the pants off" the Russians.

Two City Prisoners Escape Yesterday From Work Detail

City Police said today no lead had yet been turned up regarding the whereabouts of two escaped city prisoners.

The prisoners, Robert J. Thompson, 24, and Frank Clarow, 24, both Negroes, escaped from a work detail yesterday afternoon at 2nd and Myrtle.

Police said the detail, which was in charge of guard C. C. Bedenbaugh, was engaged in working on water and sewer lines for the new hospital.

The two men fled while Bedenbaugh's attention was elsewhere, police said.

Thompson was serving a sentence for being drunk and disorderly and Clarow was in jail on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Nationalist Planes Sent Out On Search

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist air force planes roared out today from Formosan air bases in a widespread, hour-and-a-half alert caused by unidentified radar sightings.

The Pescadore, strategic islands in Formosa Strait, were alerted as were Quemoy, Wuchiu and Matsu.

Military authorities said it had not been determined whether blimps on radar screens which caused the alert represented Communist or friendly craft.

The alert followed the first action in the Strait in three days. Yesterday Nationalist fighters shot down more than 100 junk planes, air force headquarters announced. It fixed the location at 21 miles east of Quemoy. The junks presumably were part of a supply convoy.

Christian Demos Glad Over Victory

PALESTINE, Sicily (AP)—Premier Mario Scelba's pro-Western Christian Democrats today hailed their victory in the Sicilian regional elections as one with far-reaching consequences for all of Italy.

Complete returns from Sunday's elections gave the government party seven new seats in the semi-autonomous island's Regional Assembly and strong gains in popular support.

Scelba called the outcome a "magnificent accomplishment." Their 27 seats made the Christian Democrats Sicily's biggest party by far, although it did not give them an outright majority of the 90-member chamber.

Woman, Mother Beat Off Intruder Attempting To Kidnap Her Child

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Mrs. Lillian Weinstein, with the aid of her mother, early yesterday beat off a man who attempted to kidnap one of her children.

The intruder left behind a gun and a note demanding $20,000 ransom.

Jesse Moore, 64, a Portland machinist, reported that his 45-year-old son had been stolen Sunday night and he identified it as the one found at the Weinstein home.

Detective Capt. William Brown said Moore was being held for investigation but no charges had been filed. Moore denied any knowledge of the kidnap attempt.

Mrs. Weinstein, an attractive woman in her early 30s, is the daughter of a millionaire Portland manufacturer. She is divorced.

She told police the intruder broke in through a window. She grappled with him and was knocked down several times, once from a blow with the pistol.

He was about to throw a typewriter at her when her mother rushed into the room and shoved him. He dropped the typewriter and jumped back out through the window.

A neighbor, William L. Monahan, aroused by the uproar, fired a shot from his own pistol into the ground outside. That drove the intruder away.

In the room at the time were Mrs. Weinstein's daughter Leslie, 10, and her twin sons Robert and Richard, 6.

"I just knew I had to fight or get killed. I guess I'm lucky to be alive, but I got up in a pretty good fight, don't I?" she said.

Firing Said Stopped In Formosa District, Tension Decreasing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today Russia may now be willing to loosen the reins somewhat on its Eastern European satellites.

In a discussion of Big Four meeting prospects and decreasing world tensions, Dulles also told a news conference that shooting has stopped in the Formosa area and the situation there is less dangerous and hazardous than it was three months ago.

He spoke of the situation as one in which a cease-fire exists in effect without formal agreement.

Dulles linked his hopes of greater freedom for Eastern European Communist nations with last week's visit to Yugoslavia's independent status.

That Communist state broke with Russia in 1948.

Dulles said it seems to him that the attitude of the Soviet Union expressed in this action and in the recent signing of an Austrian treaty after eight years' delay may indicate a changing Soviet attitude toward all of Eastern Europe.

Dulles said the pressing the Soviets to loosen their hold on the Eastern European states, he would rely upon the Yalta agreement as well as others in which the Soviets promised those nations independence.

Two-Month Old Boy Saved By Brother In Trailer Blaze

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Arthur Robinson Jr., 7, suffered severe burns yesterday while rescuing his 2-month-old brother from a flash fire that destroyed their trailer home in suburban Chesterfield, Mo.

Harold Ann, his 9-year-old sister, died in the flames.

The baby escaped injury. Young Arthur suffered first and second degree burns of the face, arms and legs.

Mrs. Arthur J. Robinson, 37, said she was cooking on a bottle-gas stove when flames swept through the trailer "like lightning." She and the boy rushed outside screaming but Arthur returned quickly and got the baby from the sofa.

"I went in too," Mrs. Robinson said, "but I couldn't get to Harold because of the flames. She was in the back bedroom and probably wasn't able to get the door open."

Austrian Officials Divided Over Issue

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Austrian leaders are divided over how large and what sort of army their country will need when troops of the Big Four pull out this year.

Austria intends to declare its military neutrality as soon as its independence treaty, already signed by the United States, Britain, France and Russia, becomes effective.

To protect it from aggression, should this nation have a large force of nonprofessional militiamen like Switzerland or an elite standing army of maybe 20,000 to 30,000?

Police Are Fined For Taking Extra Fish In Exploit

LAKEWOOD, N. J. (AP)—Police Lt. Thomas H. Woods and Charles Fritzsche, both of Cranford, were fined $20 each for "taking" one more than the legal limit of eight trout in an unusual fishing exploit here May 25.

William L. Jeschke, state fish and game division warden, testified he was checking the Meledecoc River, which crosses Route 3, with trout when some of the fish jumped out of the truck and onto the highway.

Woods and Fritzsche, who had been fishing the stream, did what anyone else might have done. They transferred their efforts from stream to highway.

U. S. Files Claim For Loss Of B29

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—The United States has filed a claim for $1,620,245 against the Soviet Union for the loss of a B-29 bomber and its eight-man crew off northern Japan three years ago, the World Court announced today.

The claim charges that the bomber, flying a training trip, was pursued over Japanese territory and then shot down into the sea by two Russian planes.

Moscow is free to accept or reject the court's jurisdiction in the case.

Building Permits Awarded Yesterday

CITY building permits to construct ten $12,000 houses on one block in the Bel Air subdivision were awarded yesterday to Odham & Tudor, Inc.

Clayton Realty of Winter Park also received a permit to add a cafeteria and a classroom building to Crooms Academy. The cafeteria building will be 74 by 53 feet in size and the building which will house two science laboratories will be 108 by 35 feet in size.

The new Odham & Tudor construction will be in the 1900 block of Palm Way and Rose Way.

Senate Is Driving For Fast Showdown On Housing Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate drove today for a fast showdown on a controversial multibillion-dollar housing bill.

Its main feature would authorize another four billion dollars of FHA mortgage insurance—enough to last a year at the present rate.

Its most disputed section, as approved by the Senate Banking Committee, calls for a vast democratic program of public housing. It would authorize construction of 135,000 units of low-rental dwelling space for the needy each year for four years—$40,000 units in all.

The Eisenhower administration had asked only for 35,000 units a year for two years, and Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) announced he will wage a fight to cut the bill back to that level.

Capehart predicted the decision will be close, perhaps by less than half a dozen votes, and he said he expects to win. The Senate agreed yesterday to debate limits on the bill likely to bring final action by nightfall. The House has not acted.

Martin-Lewis Split Has Town Buzzing

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Have Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis decided to split up their successful comedy act?

Film town buzzed with the question today as Lewis prepared to go East for the premiere of the team's latest opus — and Martin scheduled a trip to Hawaii with his wife.

It was said to be the first time the comic duo had failed to get together for an important opening.

Martin, some said, is angling for his own TV show, while Lewis would like to go on a personal appearance tour and play more night clubs.

This is not the first Martin and Lewis feud, but one close friend said it looks like the last.

Lewis declined comment and Martin could not be reached.

Body Is Recovered In St. Johns River

After nearly two hours of dragging by Sheriff's deputies and volunteer helpers, the body of a 13-year-old Milway River boy recovered from the St. Johns River near the Sanford Road Works.

The victim, Willie Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, drowned while wading along the edge of a deep channel cut north of the Osteen Bridge.

A playmate, David White, 13, had been wading with him. David swam across the channel and Willie, who could not swim, wandered too far after the other boy.

Fire Station Gives Drive-In Service

BARTOW (AP)—The Bartow fire station gave drive-in service for the first time recently—in a gasoline truck with 100 gallons of fuel.

Flames show from around the motor after a backfire just as the truck entered the main street. It was 2:30 a. m. and there was little other traffic.

Fearful of an explosion, truck driver Hugh Mahan of Lakeland drove for the fire station as fast as he could. Fire officers W. R. Spenn and C. B. Blumie in a patrol car saw the blazing truck and rushed the fire station.

By the time Mahan braked his truck to a flaming ball, flames were already well under way.

Fire Station 1, at the intersection of U. S. 1 and State Road 10, is a modern building with a large garage and a room for the fire engine.

The station was built by the city and is a fine example of modern fire station architecture.

Henry Fonda Bad For Newspapers' Interview Seekers

HOLLYWOOD — Most of the Hollywood press corps would agree that Henry Fonda is an excellent actor, a fine fellow and a lousy interviewee.

Fonda himself would be the first to admit the latter. Like many Broadway-trained actors, he does not go along with Hollywood's conception of publicity. Unlike other actors, he resists conforming to the system.

He expressed his ideas with unusual frankness during a break in rehearsals for "Petrified Forest," which he is performing with Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall next Monday over NBC. The play has been done before on TV, but the cast obviously places it in the "spectacular" classification.

"When I first started on Broadway," he related, "I turned down the offers to go to Hollywood. They wanted me to come out at $75 a week or so.

"They offered me big money to do the film version of 'Farmer Takes a Wife,' so I came out. I was fascinated. On the stage, we were pretty proud of the set, which showed the blacksmith's shop, the canal over a hill and so forth.

"But at the studio, the blacksmith's shop had a real forge and the canal had water in it. I spent more time talking to technicians behind the scenes than I did acting before the camera.

"Because I was so fascinated by it all, I went along with the publicity routine. But one interview changed all that.

"I came into the publicity department and met a fan magazine writer, a large woman who sat her notebooks on a table and said,

Today's young homemakers are the luckiest and also the smartest in the history of the world, says Dorothy Draper, who has planned the decor of everything from cottages to castles.

"They have learned to eliminate nonessentials," says this famous decorator. "They have pared living down to basics, and have tossed out the useless frills and furbelows that used to clutter up Victorian homes."

In her business of designing interiors for some of the world's most famous resorts, hotels and business institutions, Mrs. Draper is making full use of contemporary materials in fabrics, furniture and floor coverings—all with an eye to cutting down maintenance.

"In this do-it-yourself age, nobody can afford to have a home full of things which are hard to take care of," she says. "Those old-fashioned dust-catching heavy draperies, those bits of bric-a-brac, those lace curtains that had to be starched, those table tops that had to be refinished regularly—we've gotten rid of them all, slowly but surely.

"A painted wooden valance can be just as effective as draperies. Plastic upholstery fabrics can take any amount of wear and tear and need merely be wiped off with a damp cloth. Plastic floorings last forever, and can be cleaned with a mop. Formica table tops look like wood, but you can hit them with a hammer or pour boiling water on them, and it doesn't hurt them."

At one of Mrs. Draper's best-known redecorating projects, The Greenbrier, plush and venerable resort in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., some of the oldtimers gaped with horror when she painted over fine old mahogany chairs and bureaus in gay sunshine colors, replacing heavy damasks with light, bright prints and dressed the staff, from bell boys to maids and from ladies to waitresses in uniforms of cheerful red and green.

Now she is simplifying things even further by using plastic wall coverings and upholstery in public rooms of the hotel.

In another recent project, the Drake Hotel in Philadelphia, she has used white plastic floors with a blue spatter design, and scatter rugs, instead of wall-to-wall carpeting.

"Much easier to care for," says Mrs. Draper. "Looks effective, too."

A Sign Your Life is in DANGER

You're driving on a dark-surfaced highway. The sky becomes overcast. It begins to rain. Traffic bunches up. You strain to see. "Slippery When Wet" warnings keep you tense. Then—suddenly you pass onto light-colored concrete pavement. What a relief! The traffic begins to move out. No "Slippery" signs now. You know you're on a much safer pavement.

Yes, the difference between a sickening swerve and a quick stop often is the pavement. Concrete pavement grips firmly in emergencies—helps avoid accidents. Wet or dry, its gritty surface provides uniformly high skid resistance.

Remember, no driver expects trouble, but if it comes your chances of avoiding an accident are much better on concrete.

All Chevrolet's competitors and most of the high-priced cars tried recently in official NASCAR* trials—and took a licking!

Meet the champ! The new Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"—the most modern V8 on the road today. Here's what happened—

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Acceleration Tests Over Measured Mile From Standing Start. Chevrolet captured the 4 top positions in its class! 8 of the first 11! And on a time basis Chevrolet beat every high-priced car, too—but one! But wait!—this is just the beginning!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Straightaway Running. Open to cars delivered in Florida for $2,500 or less. Chevrolet captured the first two places, 7 out of the first 11 places!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR 2-Way Straightaway Running Over Measured Mile. Open to cars from 250 to 299 cu. in. displacement. Chevrolet captured 3 of the first 5 places!

Columbia, S. C. NASCAR 100-Mile Race on half-mile track. Very tight turns. Chevrolet finished first!

Fayetteville, N. C. NASCAR Late Model Event. Chevrolet again finished first. Because of even tighter turns the driver chose to run the entire 150 laps in second gear! Yet no overheating or pit stops!

These facts you can't laugh off. Sales leader. Road leader. A crowning achievement of Chevrolet and General Motors. Try a Chevrolet... and live in a land of going-away where you win all the arguments! Soon, maybe?

Senior Class Of '55 Honored At Dance Graduation Night

The graduating class of 1955 was honored with a dance at the Mayfair Inn Country Club Friday night after the annual open house held in the Robert Miller home.

Decorations carrying out the theme of the class colors were used throughout the entire building and patio. White gladioli and fern decorated the stairs in the main room and was tied with large white satin bows. Other arrangements of white gladioli and white dyed palms were placed in appropriate spots around the room.

On the patio were hurricane lamps holding burning tapers and surrounded at the base by gladioli and fern. Each individual card table, at which the guests sat, held a lamp with similar decoration.

Refreshments of punch and many delicacies were served from the counter which was cleverly decorated with similar flowers including fern and gladioli. An arrangement was placed on each end to accent the entwining fern and flowers placed above.

Miniature diplomas were given as favors and dancing to the music of the Starlighters was enjoyed until 3 p. m.

As We Were Saying

A woman complained to a friend that the walls of her new apartment were so thin that the neighbors on either side could hear everything she said.

"Oh, I think you could eliminate that trouble," the other replied. "Just hang some tapestries over your walls."

The woman considered the suggestion briefly, then shook her head. "No, that wouldn't do," she replied. "Then we couldn't hear what they say."

American Pilots Have Made Start Toward Jet Stream

HONOLULU, U.S. — American military and civilian pilots have made a start toward turning the jet stream, the mightiest wind of all, into an aerial superhighway across the Pacific.

Fully harnessed, the jet stream could be a powerful weapon in any future war, flashing high altitude bombers across the ocean in half the time they require today. Military experts feel sure that the Russians, if they decided to attack across the Pacific, would ride it at least part way.

In peacetime, the relatively small scale use of its powerful winds has already spelled an enormous savings in time and money.

The jet stream is a river of air, three miles deep and 400 miles across, rushing eastward at high speed over the world. At the core, it reaches speeds of around 400 m.p.h.

Add to that the average cruising speed of a high altitude bomber, transport or passenger plane and you have something around the speed of sound.

No one yet has ridden the core of the jet stream, but military and civilian planes have utilized some of its currents as tail winds of 150 m.p.h.

An Air Force C-97, military version of the stratuoliner, took advantage of such tail winds a year ago to fly nonstop from Tokyo to Honolulu in a record nine hours and nine minutes. That was seven hours under the regular one-stop flying time.

Pan American World Airways started using the winter jet stream two years ago and averages 10 to 11 hours over this same nonstop route.

So far, the jet stream has been flown only in winter, when it oper-

Tell Her It's MURDER

CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN

MRS. CASSERLY had gone home for good, which left Susan alone in the house with Regina. She had had plenty of offers of companionship from Edith and Frederick, from Barry and Amy Redgate. The doctor was still content.

Todhunter came at around 9:30 Monday night. Harry Lofting was with Susan. The little detective had just gone when Jim Andrus arrived. "Hi, Lofting! Hello, Susan, how is Regina tonight?"

Susan said, "Not too bad, Jim. She ate some supper. I'll see if she's awake."

Regina was awake, and Andrus went in and Susan closed the door. Harry was at the front, waiting for her to open the door there. If she went out through the back door and ran across the lawn to the Beneslys—they were nearer than Edith and Frederick... As soon as she reached the edge of the lawn she would start screaming and the Beneslys would hear and would come.

She went out the back door and started to run. She hadn't gone more than a yard or two when something soft and thick was thrown over her head and she was caught and held. She struggled madly to disentangle herself from suffocating folds of some heavy material. The touch of a rumbling hand—she opened her mouth to scream. Cloth was thrust into it. She was carried a short distance and put down on something hard and cold and given a shove. She fell, rolling over and over down the outside cellar steps. Above her a door closed and a padlocked snapped.

Susan wasn't hurt. She was free of the coat in a twinkling, staggered erect in blackness. That rumbling hand—she put her own hand in her pocket. The key to the back door was gone. Regina was alone in the house with Henry Trout.

The door at the foot of the steps leading into the cellar was locked, the door at the top, down which she used to climb, was padlocked. She screamed until her throat was raw, went on screaming. She battered with bleeding fists on both doors, and pounded. She was making such a racket herself that she didn't hear the footsteps on the stairs. She had given up momentarily and was leaning against the door into the cellar sobbing when the door gave and she almost fell.

"Easy, miss. Your mother's all right."

It was Todhunter. The lights were on in the cellar. Their bright neon dazzled Susan. She wiped dust and cobwebs from her face and hair. "You caught him before he got to Regina, before—"

"Yes, miss. Mrs. Felham didn't even know what was going on. Todhunter picked up Trout's pole coat. It was dirty and trampled. He shook it out."

"How did you get here? You went away."

"He went away, but we came back. We had to be careful. The inspector is with your sister, miss. I think he'll want to see you."

Susan was unsteady on her feet. Todhunter helped her up the cellar stairs, through the kitchen and up the back stairs to Regina's room. He knocked.

McKee opened the door. He took a look at Susan. "Sorry we had to let it happen to you, Miss Dwight," he said in a low voice, "but it was the only way."

She brushed that aside. Regina was safe, which was all that mattered.

McKee had succeeded at last in getting Regina Felham to tell what she had been concealing, but only when he mentioned Monica Davies' name, and said that he had talked to Miss Davies over the phone and that she advised telling the truth. Sitting rigid in shadow, Susan listened.

Roger wasn't Regina's son. He was the son of Tobie and Hal Davies. He was a premature baby. They hadn't expected him to be born for another two months, and Tobie, Monica, Hal and Regina were at the Beneslys' lodge in the Rockies north of Denver. Regina had already left Henry. The lodge was isolated and they couldn't get a doctor in time. Monica delivered the baby. She had had nursing training.

Tobie Davies had begun to look queerly five or six months before she had been born. Immediately after his birth she went violently insane.

Hal Davies had known what he was doing when he married Tobie. He knew there was a danger, and disregarded it. He was convinced that it was Tobie's fear of going insane that brought on her mental collapse. He had to bear it for her, but he couldn't bear it for his son, but that if the child could be brought up without fear he would be safe. It was then that the plan was hatched.

Tobie and Hal Davies were the two people Regina loved best in the world. Her own marriage had gone on the rocks and she had no one to consider. When a doctor was a perfect stranger finally raised the lodge, he found a young mother—Regina—on a bed who had been born three weeks earlier, and the beautiful wife of Hal Davies, insane. He signed the birth certificate without question, and Roger Davies became Roger Felham. McKee interrupted there. "But I should think that an examination would have showed."

Regina shook her head. "He arranged it all. The doctor did not examine me. There was no need to. I was fine. It was Tobie who took his attention—and Hal explained that Tobie had lost a baby a month earlier."

Strolling In Sanford

Elks are preparing for a Gay 90's Party Saturday at the club starting at 9:00 p. m. For a reserved table, call "Diamond Jim" Blumher at 80. The table will be held until 10 o'clock. "Chaperones" for the event are to be "Dangerous Dan" Williams, "Frisco" Bill Hardin, "Shanty" Faile, "Bovary" Brack, Perkins, and "Acce-Deuce" Kaster. High lighting the affair will be the Gay 90's barbershop quartet, directed by "Honeyuckle Harry" Robson, and the singing waiters. Members are asked to dress for the occasion.

Capt. J. E. Vose, former commanding officer of SNAAS who is on leave in Coronado, Cal., had this to say about Sanford and the expansion: "We subscribe to the Sanford paper and so have kept abreast of the expansion. I think it is all very fine and know the Navy has made no mistake in building up that air station. I am looking forward to the day that I can be back there putting down some roots. It was the finest community I have ever been in."

The Stroller got a big kick out of this item passed on by Dr. Phil Westgate of the local Experiment Station. A friend of his was very proud of his beautiful lawn until one year a heavy crop of dandelions took over. He tried everything he had ever heard of to get rid of them but to no avail. At last he wrote to an agricultural listing listing everything he had tried, and ended with the appeal: "What shall I do now?" In due time he received this reply: "We suggest you learn to love them."

Eden Is Pressed To Accept Program For Ending Strike

LOSDON, (AP)—Britain's general Trades Union Congress and leading Conservative newspapers pressed Prime Minister Eden today to accept the congress plan ending Britain's 11-day-old rail strike.

The plan was approved yesterday by the striking Associated Society of Engineers and Firemen. It calls for immediate negotiations without a return to work. Eden said Sunday the government, which operates the nationalized railways, would not meet with the men until they return.

There were peace moves too, in one of the other two big walk-outs now plaguing the nation—a strike of 30,000 dock workers tying up some 200 freighters in seven seaports. Leaders of the striking stevedores union agreed to submit their jurisdictional dispute with other unions to a Trade Union Congress (TUC) committee.

But no settlement was sighted in the third dispute, a wildcat walkout by about 800 stewards on transatlantic liners.

Constable Clarence Prevatt, who said he was inclined to believe Nelson's story, added that more than a dozen cities have asked "hold" orders on Nelson.

The automobile salesman said only two persons refused to cash his checks.

Martinique Hotel Is Offered Choice

MIAMI (AP)—The Martinique Hotel came under fire of the AFL Hotel Employees Union today as the latest bid to be offered a choice of negotiating or facing a picket line.

Dave Herman, special organizer for the union, said he expected the hotel management to reply to a letter which Herman sent outlining the union's demands. It would be the 30th to be picketed in the 35-day strike.

The Robert Richter refused to negotiate yesterday and picket lines were thrown up last night. An attorney for the hotel, meanwhile, said he was making a new effort to deliver to what extent hotel revenues are off for the period of the strike, compared to the corresponding period last year.

Refueling Aircraft Crashes

TAMPA (AP)—A KC-97 refueling plane from MacDill Air Force Base developed engine trouble and crashed during a training flight yesterday, but all except one of the crew of 10 parachuted safely.

The tenth man died in the MacDill hospital of injuries received in the jump. His identity was withheld pending notification of kin.

The base public information officer said three others were taken to the hospital with injuries which were not serious.

The crew bailed out over the Englewood-El Joban area about 8:00 miles south of here. The plane, on automatic pilot, crashed and burned in a pasture about 20 miles farther south.

The men were picked up by law enforcement officers and civilians in the area and brought here by helicopter.

One of them, T. Sgt. Donald H. Swanson of Rochester, N.Y., said the order to parachute was given after one of the four engines broke loose and cut fuel lines. He said he did not know what caused the engine trouble.

Electronic Device Is Demonstrated, Proves Successful

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A new electronic device for turning traffic signals red, automatically, as fire engines approach was demonstrated here.

Five trucks had repeatedly roared through the intersection of Western and Florence Avenues to show that sirens weren't necessary—because electronic gear automatically halted traffic by changing the signals to red.

Then, before cameramen had a chance to leave, there came the sound of a siren. A real fire had been reported. Trucks and pumps sped toward the intersection, the traffic lights turned red, and all traffic halted. The fire equipment rolled through as cameras clicked.

Many Ladies Gather For Hospital Meet

Approximately 100 interested women in Sanford attended the meeting of the newly formed Seminole Memorial Hospital Women's Auxiliary held at the Yacht Club last night with Mrs. A. W. Epps Sr. presiding.

Information blanks and applications for membership were handed each person as she entered by Mrs. George Harden, membership chairman.

Mrs. Roy Mann, vice president, explained the rules of the organization and requirements for active membership as follows: first and foremost a genuine interest in the welfare and progress of the hospital, secondly, a member is required to give 60 hours per year in any one selected services and the payment of $1 annual membership dues upon acceptance.

An associate membership, without any specified number of hours duty will be $10 per year. A full membership, or a life membership will be $100.

Each member will be responsible for her own uniform. Which ever service a member selects, she will be required to serve in that particular service at least six months. A change to another service can be made, however, upon a 30 day notice to the board.

Harry M. Weir, hospital administrator, spoke briefly to the group and introduced Mrs. Mary Dejeans of St. Petersburg who has been chosen as head nurse for the hospital. She expressed her desire and willingness to work with the auxiliary wholeheartedly.

Mrs. T. F. McDaniel, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Austin J. Caruso, Mrs. Glen Wilson and Mrs. Arthur Steed of the Orange Memorial Hospital, who outlined the various functions of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Steed, president elect of the Orange county auxiliary, spoke on the importance of public relations in and out of the hospital; Mrs. Caruso told of fund raising campaign and purposes for which the funds are used.

Mrs. Wilson, president of the organization in Orlando, explained the various services that are offered including: sunshine service, which consists mainly in spreading sunshine and good humor among the patients; the pediatric service, which she described as "very worthy" in that the women soothe and comfort children when their parents have to leave them; the hospital cart, which is a "store on wheels" and supplies the patients with toilet articles, magazines, magazines, etc., and the Doctor's library, where books are properly catalogued and kept in good condition; and last, but not least, the latest addition to the hospital, the photographic lab where pictures are taken of day old infants which is proving highly satisfactory in hospitals over the country.

Dr. L. L. Parks, director of the State Board of Health, said the Bureau of preventable disease, vaccine should reach all counties no later than Friday. The new vaccine was cleared by the U. S. Public Health Service.

Set Aside Some Time For Thinking

What are your plans for tonight? And this weekend with the family? And the vacation you are going to take pretty soon? It is a lot of fun to plan, dream and wish!

Clara Jobe once planned the same way with her two lovely daughters. But today, because of torturous pain, Mrs. Jobe is confined to her bed, a victim of a vicious disease about which the medical profession knows very little.

Vaccine Program Queried

Dr. Terry Bird
Attending Meet

When will Seminole County children get their second shots of Salk polio vaccine?

That question remained unanswered although enough vaccine to complete the two shot immunization program in Florida was due to arrive in Jacksonville today.

Dr. Terry Bird, County Health Officer, is attending the American Medical Association convention in Atlantic City and is not expected to return to Sanford before next Wednesday. He may, however, cut his convention stay short, a County Health Unit spokesman said.

Approximately 1,000 first and second grade school children received their first shots in April. The immunization program got under way April 25 at Southside School, and the second inoculations were supposed to have been given two weeks later.

The vaccine "scare" interfered with the schedule, however, and a cloud of uncertainty has hung over the program in Seminole County since that time.

The second shot is more or less a "booster," Dr. Bird pointed out recently. Just how long the first shot is effective is not known, although Dr. Jonas Salk, the discoverer, at one time estimated the period at from two to four weeks, but since he has announced it should be effective for a longer period.

Since school has ended, the children may be given their second shots at the County Health Unit or may be transported to their respective schools on certain days for the vaccinations. Another possibility is that the shots may be given at the offices of doctors who helped administer the first shots.

The Eli Lilly Co. yesterday loaded 146,610 shots of the return on a Florida-bound Eastern Air Lines plane at Indianapolis. It was scheduled to arrive in Jacksonville today.

Dr. L. L. Parks, director of the State Board of Health, said the Bureau of preventable disease, vaccine should reach all counties no later than Friday. The new vaccine was cleared by the U. S. Public Health Service.

Cabinet Gathering Called By Head To Study Invite

BERLIN, Germany (AP)—West Germany Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called his Cabinet together today to study the Soviet Union's surprise invitation for him to visit Moscow. The Russians said "normalization of relations" was their aim.

The Chancellor, staunch exponent of his country's rearmament as an ally of the West, declined last night to comment on the Soviet bid. He was known to be personally reluctant to make such a trip because of his past policy of uncompromising anticommunism.

But pressure mounted from political allies and foes alike. Political circles here generally acknowledged it would be difficult for him to refuse.

Eugen Geisendanner, president of the Bundestag, the lower house of the German Parliament, and a member of Adenauer's own Christian Democratic party, came out flatly "in favor of accepting the offer of the Russian government to resume diplomatic relations."

Premier Pledges To Liberate West From Hoa Hoa Sect

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem pledged in a radio speech to the nation today to liberate west Viet Nam from rebellious armies of the Hoa Hao religious sect.

Diem said the national army's operations against troops of Hoa Hao Generals Tran Van Soai and Huan were proceeding satisfactorily.

"The disintegration has begun and will continue in the days that follow," he declared.

Some 20,000 army troops launched an all-out offensive against Soai's force Sunday, hemming them into a 275-square-mile marshy triangle about 90 miles southwest of Saigon.

Soai's force originally was estimated at about 8,000 men. The government said yesterday about a third of this group had surrendered.

Prospective Groom Faces Trouble

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Jesse Moore, 33, who was to be married last Sunday and needed money, has been charged with attempted kidnapping.

Detective Capt. William Browne said Moore, a machinist, had admitted trying to kidnap a 6-year-old grandson of a millionaire Portland industrialist.

Moore was taken into custody shortly after an intruder broke into the home of Mrs. Lillian Weinstein early Monday and tried to grab one of her twin sons to hold for ransom.

The intruder was driven off by Mrs. Weinstein and her mother, and he fled by diving head-first through a window. But he left behind the ransom note and a gun.

Moore identified the gun as his and said, at first, it had been stolen from him the night before. But after extensive questioning yesterday he broke down and admitted the attempt, Browne said.

Moore became acquainted with the Weinstein family through Mrs. Grace Cheney, whom he was to marry next Sunday. Mrs. Cheney lives next door to the Weinstein.

It was Mrs. Cheney who recognized the pistol that the intruder left in the Weinstein home. She recalled she had seen it in Moore's house. She called Moore to tell him of it and he then reported to the police that the gun had been stolen.

Later he identified the gun as his own, Browne said.

Bail for Moore was set at $20,000.

Mrs. Weinstein, a divorcee, is the daughter of S. J. Eidel, head of a machinery and supply company here.

She raised the narrow slits that her eyes in a garden face and murmured, "God grant me a clear mind that I might guide my girls."

Doctors have told Mrs. Jobe that she will never get well. At one hospital they say she may gain some relief from the pain and swelling and that only for a short time.

Lupus erythematosus is taking Clara Jobe away. She needs funds to pay for a nurse, transportation to the hospital, medicines, doctor bills, clothes to fit a terribly swollen body, and toilet articles. All of these are necessary if she is to have the one chance that is the only avenue toward the answer to her prayer.

The 38-year-old mother of two daughters at one time thought first of the unfortunate in her community... Sanford!

And now her friends are helping, trying to give Mrs. Jobe the chance available that might mean a clear mind to be devoted toward guiding her two girls in this critical period of their lives.

The Clara Jobe Fund was founded at the Sanford Atlantic National Bank with Mrs. Ruth Scott as trustee. Contributions may be sent there or to The Sanford Herald.
