WHAT YOU CAN DO

IF YOU NEED WORKERS:

Always consider disabled veterans first for your vacancies.

We may have just the man with necessary special skills to meet your requirements.

Please Phone 64, or write 112 N. Park and give the Florida State Employment Service an opportunity to serve you.

You bet he'll make good—thousands of physically handicapped persons are making good every day in all kinds of highly skilled and unskilled jobs in light and heavy industry. In fact, according to a new Department of Labor survey, conducted in cooperation with the Veterans Administration, physically handicapped persons when prepared for and properly placed in jobs, are as good or better workers than unimpaired persons. This survey shows physically impaired workers as a group (1) had fewer work injuries (2) no greater absenteeism (3) production was as good in most cases and better in many.

There is hardly a business, shop, factory, or organization in this area that can't employ disabled veterans to do a job as well as unimpaired employees.

Manifesto Is Issued On Communist Policy

Group Chairman Sees 'Use In Industry As Yet A Long Way Off,' Tells Of Problems

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 6 (AP)—Renewing the A. R. S. fight against proposed partition of Palestine, Foreign Minister Fathi Jamall of Iraq today attacked Zionism as an "aggressive and violent" political movement. He said it was "very much like Nazism." Jamall declared that Zionism "has nothing to do with Palestine except in its aim to penetrate the Middle East."

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 6 (AP)—Dr. Fadhil Jamall, foreign minister of Iraq, declared today that the manifesto issued by the 9-nation Communist conference in Warsaw "is a declaration of war... an ideological war."

News of the open revival of Communist collaboration on an international basis was generally received as a setback to the concept of the U.N. by most delegates. They were reluctant to comment for publication until they had time to study the significance of the Communist move.

A member of the Brazilian delegation who did not want to be quoted by name, said the Communist move put the world "right back where we were in 1933."

MOSCOW, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Central Communist Party of the Soviet Union and its counterparts in eight other European nations served notice today that they do not intend to give an inch in dealing with the United States.

This program of no concessions was promulgated in a manifesto (Continued on Page Eight)

Hood Addresses Rotary Club On Handicap Aids

A total of 1,014 handicapped persons were rehabilitated last year in Florida, Raleigh K. Hood, director of the Rehabilitation Office of Central Florida, told the Rotary Club today. This was accomplished at a cost to the taxpayers of $230,000 and resulted in increased earnings for those rehabilitated of $1,159,000 a year, he added.

Mr. Hood was introduced by A. C. Stine who had charge of the program. Previously a motion picture was shown illustrating the type of work which is being done by the federal government in rehabilitating handicapped war veterans. The picture, "No Help Wanted," was shown by Orville Touchton in connection with the National Employ-the-Handicapped Week.

"The purpose of the week," Mr. Hood stated, "is to impress upon employers the fact that it is good business to hire handicapped persons who have been properly trained for their work. There are cases in Sanford, he stated, who are receiving the attention of his office."

Dr. R. W. Ruprecht, secretary of the Rotary Club, read letters from B. Kendrick Guernsey, international president, stating that the Sanford club has been placed in the Orlando district, and inviting members of the club to attend an inter-city meeting in Jacksonville on Nov. 11 when a number of prominent Rotary officials will appear on the program.

Mr. Stine announced that Oct. 20 has been designated as Ladies Night when a Halloween party will be held at the Seminole Country Club with G. W. Spencer as master of ceremonies.

RETURNS TO ENGLAND LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—The War Office confirmed today that Capt. Roy A. Farran, acquitted of the alleged murder of a young Palestinian Jew, has arrived in Britain. A spokesman said he did not know Farran's exact whereabouts. Farran was found innocent by a Jerusalem court martial more than a week ago in the alleged slaying of a 16-year-old kidnaped Jew.

Hearts That Beat As One Are Now Going Their Separate Ways

SANTA ANA, Calif., Oct. 6 (AP)—Passionate lovers of a few months ago, blond Lucretia Overell and Claude (Bud) Gollum are innocent of charges that they murdered her parents, a jury has decided, but their hearts no longer beat as one.

No sooner had a six-man woman jury decided late yesterday that the young college sweethearts were innocent of killing Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Overell, wealthy Pasadena socialite leaders, than the resolute Louise declared she was through with Bud.

"I can assure you there will be no marriage," she said.

Saar Votes To Make Basin Part Of France

SAARBRUECKEN, Oct. 6 (AP)—Official returns showed today that Saarlanders—who 12 years ago voted to join Nazi Germany—had overwhelmingly elected a parliament pledged to make the coal-rich Saar basin west of the Rhine an autonomous part of France.

The German speaking residents of the industrial area yesterday gave a vote of more than nine to one returns indicated, for three political parties which have advocated merging the entire economic life of the 728-square-mile Saar with that of France.

Of the 50 deputies chosen, 48 were from the three parties favorable to such a move—the Christian People's Party, Social Democrats and Right Wing Democrats.

The Communists, who polled only 8.4 per cent of the vote, received but two seats.

GARAGE FIRE

Fire of unknown origin caused some damage to the private garage of Mrs. Rhoda B. Ewing, 507 Park Avenue at 8:25 o'clock last evening. Firemen on arrival found her automobile enveloped in a swirl of flame, but were able to back it out of the garage under its own power. It was scorched in the upper part of the interior but not otherwise damaged. The fire is reported to have started in a part of the garage used for storage, according to Assistant Fire Chief Thomas.

Giant Executives Here To Prepare Ball Diamonds

Eight Playing Fields Are Being Prepared For 16 Ball Clubs

Even though the thud of the pigskin and the spine tingling school yells are filling the airwaves across the nation and the 1947 baseball season is at an end, baseball diamonds are already being primed for the 1948 season.

The largest baseball training project in the United States is in the making at the Municipal Airport and workers are beginning to prepare eight playing fields on the unused land at the former Sanford Naval Air Station for the New York Giants' farm system.

Hans Lobert, Hal Gruber and C. E. Marian of the Giants executive staff are in Sanford and have begun arrangements for the 1948 spring training of 16 farm clubs for the organization.

Foremost among the farm clubs to be located in Sanford, will be the Minneapolis Millers, a Class AAA club of the American Association, the same league of which the Toledo Mud Hens are a part.

Unseasonably Warm Weather Hits States

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

An autumnal heat wave which sent temperatures as high as 100° in the Midwest Sunday set many persons to digging out their already packed summer clothes, but forecasters promised some moderation today and tomorrow.

Unseasonably warm weather prevailed over the southern and western sections of the country and the plains states with Colorado, Kan., reporting a high of 102 Sunday; Ellis, Kans., 100; Burwell, Neb., 98; Huron, S. D., 97; Philip, S. D., 96; North Platte, Neb., 95; Oklahoma City, 93; Omaha, Neb., and Kansas City, Mo., 91; and Bismarck, N. D., and Alexandria, Minn., 90.

Considerably cooler weather was in prospect for Minnesota and the northwestern sections of Iowa and Wisconsin today, spreading to cover all of Wisconsin, northern Iowa and much of Michigan Tuesday. Southern sections of the North Central states, however, were expected to continue fair and unseasonably warm.

A high of 86 was forecast for Chicago today, a mark which would break the record for the date, set in 1946 with 85.6, and readings of 90 were expected in a number of localities in Missouri, downstate Illinois, Indiana and southern Iowa.

HELD WITHOUT BAIL

BILLERICA, Mass., Oct. 6 (AP)—Burly, six foot William H. Caselden, 48, was held without bail today charged with murdering his pretty neighbor, 30-year-old Mrs. Roberta Dunn, 23.

Judge Richard J. Walsh continued the case in Lowell district court to Oct. 14 and Caselden was taken to East Cambridge jail.

FIRE HUNTERS FINED

Harry Gore and E. K. Gore of Chubuota pleaded guilty this morning before County Judge R. W. Ware of a charge of "fire hunting" and were each fined $100 and costs. They had been arrested by Game Warden W. Corson and B. Burfield, according to G. A. Speer, county prosecuting attorney, who explained that fire hunting dates back to days when hunters of this type burned fire in a pan to light their way. In this case the hunters used a spot light. They automatically lose the right to get a permit for the coming hunting season starting, Nov. 20.

View Given On Atomic Power By Lilienthal

9 European Nations Serve Notice Of Fight To Finish On Marshall Plan

DETROIT, Oct. 6 (AP)—David E. Lilienthal said today the development of an atomic power industry is yet a long way off and the fact of its future possibility should not delay present "sound expansion" of the electrical industry.

In an address prepared for the Economic Club of Detroit, the chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission said it has found there is a "jungle of difficult scientific and engineering problems" to be cut through before the first commercially practical atomic power plant can be attained.

It is probable that within 12 to 24 months electric power on a demonstration basis will be produced from atomic energy, he said, but emphasized:

"What is certainly and definitely not near at hand are large-scale, practical, commercial applications of power from atomic energy."

Lilienthal said he believed it of international importance to make "a frank statement" because stories are being spread abroad that the United States could keep Europe from a cold winter and solve its heating and energy problems by releasing its atomic secrets.

Bates Is Declared Winner Of Herald's Football Contest

Football activity has moved into high gear across the nation over the past weekend, and updates were again the order of the day. In The Sanford Herald Pick-the-Winner Contest, many fans being defeated.

J. P. Bates, Route 1, Box 171, was declared the winner of the contest and will be awarded a two man tent by the Robson Sporting Goods. Miss Peggy Wright of 812 Magnolia Avenue was named the second place winner of the contest being given by Robson's.

Larry Payton, Bobby Axt and Douglas Oglesby were named winners of the movie tickets given by the Ritz Theater.

All winners selected ten games correctly and were judged winners in the order in which they were turned into The Herald office.

John Amann also selected ten winners correctly, but received no prize since the ballot was submitted later than the winners.

Next week the Raymond Studio will offer the first and second prizes for the contest. First prize will be two 8 x 10 gold tone portraits and the second prize will be one 8 x 10 gold tone portrait.

The Ritz Theater will again give two passes to three persons for the third through the fifth prizes.

Churchill Denounced For India Statement

NEW DELHI, Oct. 6 (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi said last night it hurt him that Winston Churchill should have put "party before nation" and attacked the British Labor government again for "its great act in India."

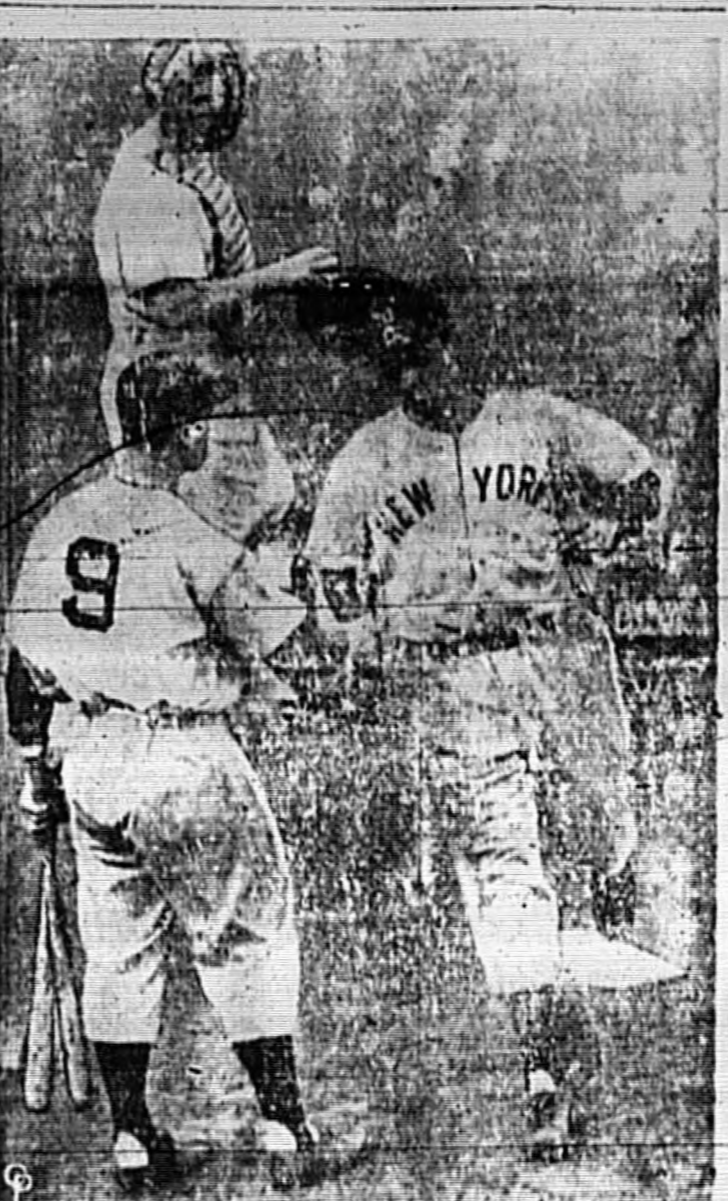

Churchill recalled to a Conservative Party conference at Brighton, Eng., Saturday his forecast last year of "blood and misery" from government moves to grant India independence.

"Alas, I was not wrong," the wartime Prime Minister said. "You can judge for yourselves how far this forecast has already been fulfilled."

Nation's Leaders Pay Tribute To Over 50,000 Carrier Boys

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—The nation's newspaper boys were saluted Saturday on Newspaper Boy Day from nine prominent Americans who started out as newspaper carriers themselves.

They included Associate Justice William O. Douglas, Governor Thomas J. Dewey of New York, Earl Warren of California and Mon C. Wallgren of Washington, Senators Walter (D.N.Y.), Morse (R-Ore.) and Lucas (D-Ill.), Baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler, and Charles Luckmann, head of the Citizens Food Committee.

They joined the American Newspaper Publishers Association, the International Circulation Managers Association and the Treasury Department in hailing the carriers through the advertising columns of several hundred newspapers.

The Treasury's National Newspaper Boys Committee, headed by Howard W. Stoughton, business manager of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, numbers more than 50,000 newspaper boys as members of their clubs.

Comments by the carriers, in part:

Justice Douglas: "Newspaper carriers have a great tradition. I am proud that I was one."

Governor Dewey: "I have known in different places many youngsters who started building their futures by selling or delivering newspapers. I have seen what it does for them by making them self-reliant, responsible, independent."

Gov. W. W. Warren: "Many thousands of successful Americans have a great tradition. I am proud that I was one."

Dodgers In Lead At First But Lose Final Game 5-2

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—The New York Yankees won their 11th World Series title by downing the Brooklyn Dodgers today, 5-2, before 71,548 fans in the seventh game of the richest of all the 44 classics.

Coming from behind after starter Frank Shea had been shelled from the hill, the Yanks knocked out Hal Gregg and continued to attack his successors to nail down the American League's 27th Series victory.

The game-ending double play precipitated a wild scene near the Yankee mound as the New York players swarmed around fireman Joe Page who had pitched near perfect ball after swimming into action at the start of the fifth. He allowed only one hit, a single by Eddie Miksis in the ninth, as he retired the first 13 men he faced.

With about $70,000 the difference between the money going to the winning and losing sides, hanging on every pitch, the left-handed Page, who received credit for the victory over Hal Gregg, was magnificent.

The Dodgers swarmed over Shea in the second inning as the young right-handed rookie, coming back with only one day's rest, faltered under pressure.

With the most exciting Series in recent years reaching its climax, fans completely surrounded the park early, today waiting for the bleacher gates to open. They seemed to be packed three hours before game time but the gates still were being sold. The standing room also was filling up but not as quickly as it did yesterday when a throng of 74,005 jammed the Stadium for a Series record.

Larry McPhail was able to squeeze about 700 more fans into the left mezzanine for the 77th night game with Boston as it is possible, but impossible, that another record might be set.

Once again the big show was (Continued on Page Eight)

Ruark Charges Whitewash In Lee Case Is Failure

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Columnist Robert C. Ruark declared today that despite an "attempted whitewash" by the Inspector General, all of his charges about extravagant living of officers and shabby treatment of enlisted men in the Italian theater, "have stood up."

The Scripps Herald writer said Maj. General Ira T. Wyche, who investigated for the Chief of Staff after a series of articles by Ruark, "imposed and fell flat over enough unburied evidence to force Eisenhower to take action on several marked abuses."

Wyche reported to Eisenhower that he found "minor discrepancies and irregularities" in the Italian theater.

Lake Monroe Nears Flood Crest With Waves Over Road

Seminole Boulevard, flooded to a depth of 10 feet, today was being washed over the bulkhead, flooded in places again due to heavy rainfall in the upper St. Johns Valley. The water is rising two inches daily, said County Commissioner H. B. Pope this morning.

The waves, driven by a strong northwest wind are sloshing over the bulkhead at the foot of Myrtle Avenue near the Legion Hut and water is accumulating along the curb next to the lake. The waves are also going over the bulkhead at the foot of Myrtle Avenue near the Legion Hut and water is accumulating along the curb next to the lake.

Sale Of Licenses Shows Big Increase

Growth of business in Seminole County during the fiscal year ending Sept. 30 is indicated by a $6,000 increase in occupational and beverage licenses over 1946, according to John J. Galloway, county tax collector.

Occupational and beverage license fees totalled $27,000 this year compared to $21,000 for 1946. Indications point to a large fee increase over last year during the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, as already more than $22,000 in license fees have been taken in, said Mr. Galloway.

Ninety days are allowed in which to obtain occupational and beverage licenses without penalty; after which a 10 percent penalty is added to the tax.

There has been no charge in fees for occupational licenses. County and State license fee beverages were increased in some instances, by act of the Legislature.

Another indication of growth of the County population as the 363 increase in applications to date of vehicle drivers licenses at the office of County Judge H. W. Ware. These, to date, total 8,690, as compared with 8,327 last year at this time. Twenty tardy applicants have had to pay the additional dollar penalty, it was reported. Applications mailed on or before Oct. 1, were not subject to the extra fee.

Kwajalein Atoll Is Seen As Sad Place

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD AP Newsfeatures. KWAJALEIN--The GI described Kwajalein, "No wine, no women, no fun at all."

Heat shimmers off wooden buildings lining the airstrip. A black mongrel worries a sand-crab. A great stilts swallows the dog's barks. He trots away panting for porch shade.

Far offshore the waves pound the reef. Dead shells of rusting landing craft line the beach.

Two miles out are many ships, radioactive relics of the Bikini bomb.

Kwajalein -- coral atoll, half-mile wide, two miles long, refueling stop between Honolulu and Guam, population 1,400.

"Tell the veterans it's even quieter now than it was during the war," Maj. C. H. Bird of Fort Davis, Tex., said. "During the war we did average a plane on deck every two minutes. Now, we get about 14 flights through here a day, and believe me, we look forward to them."

Sharks Dangerous. "No, we don't swim--have you seen the sharks?" he asks.

"Two months ago a bomber with seven men took off the airstrip, faltered, and plunged into the ocean. Rescue boats were too late. Seven bloody Mae West jackets bobbed in water, clouded with shark-chaser power.

Fifty Navy and four Army families live on Kwajalein. Some dark, stocky members of the Micronesian races, have returned.

There's no fresh water. You wonder how the people get along before the white man came with his distilling equipment. Major Bird explained they drank coconut milk and when rainwater collected they drank that. Somehow they managed to adapt themselves. "We're trying to do the same thing."

Rust ate at the fenders and hood of the Army staff car. "Everything rusts," grumbled Sgt. Louis Sherack of Crookston, Minn. "The knife in your pocket, engine, camera--people rust."

Same at Guam. The humidity is as bad or worse--at Guam, seven air hours away. Roll up your sleeves, unbutton your collar, good gosh, man, we don't allow ties here. Guam is 32 miles long, four to 10 miles wide.

cause we haven't money to keep them airworthy. This climate eats planes."

"Would a good-sized attacking force find it easy to take Guam?"

"It certainly wouldn't," the general replied. "We could put up a stiff fight. But you should consider what countries would be potential enemies and then you would ask the question--Why fool with Guam?"

Some Japanese Remain

In the underbrush and eaves on the north end of Guam, starving Japanese soldiers still hide unaware the war is over. No attempt is made to find them--one by one they are killed or captured.

Who Do Bobby-Soxers Want For President

By DOROTHY BURROWS AT Newsfeatures EDMOND, Okla.—If the population of the United States were made up solely of high school girls, what kind of President would they elect? Not a dinky lobby-soxer. Not a sober-browed heavy thinker. The would choose a bundle of personality like George Ann Hicks, 18-year-old "queen" of the little college town of Edmond, Okla., and president of the first Girls Nation. George Ann and 81 other girls from 41 states went to Washington as representatives of the Girls State held in their home states under the sponsorship of the American Legion Auxiliary. With in three days, strangers to each other and with plenty of feminine rivalry, they lined up their friendships and formed a national "government."

George Ann, who emerged in the top job, comparable to "President of the United States," is what Americans like to think is a typical high school girl—pretty but no raving beauty, a brown-haired, blue-eyed miss, alert of mind. She has a boy friend and is proud of him, but was a little embarrassed because a newspaper published their picture together after she came home. She plays in the school band but says she has "no talent." "My trombone" as just a means to an end, to get in the band. She loves to dance and swim, but worked every afternoon after school in the local movie theater for her spending money. "I don't know why they picked me," she said. "All those girls were tops in their states or they wouldn't have been there. They had everything. We tried a case just as the Supreme Court does. They brought up things I'd never have thought of. They'd ask me what I thought and I'd just nod my head. The Girls Nation campaign was exciting, but not always too pleasant. "Everything was pretty tense right before the election. Everyone was too nice, sugary sweet. I didn't like that much—but that's politics anywhere."

She was proudest, not of her personal victory, but of Oklahoma's record at the first Girls Nation. Of the four girls nominated for president and vice president, Oklahoma was represented by two—George Ann, the successful candidate for president, and Helen Mary Walker, of Enid, the defeated candidate for vice president. "I bet that never happens again—two girls from one state. I was glad because you know what people think of Oklahoma." Her hope is that the Girls Nation idea can sometime be expanded to a Girls World, with girls from all countries attending. "But they'll have to change the idea some. Our Girls Nation was copied from our form of government, with a president and congress and everything. I don't think some of the other countries would like that." Edmond welcomed its favorite daughter home with a flourish. Hundreds of citizens and the high school band met her at the railroad station in Oklahoma City and paraded her the 12 miles home. Gov. Roy J. Turner greeted her and gave her two dozen roses. The temporarily forgotten man was her boy friend, Bill Reese, son of the pastor of the Christian church here. He couldn't get to her because of the crowd. "Women," observed Bill morosely, "should stay at home. Politics is for a man."

With the first warning of the approaching hurricane along the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, all Southern Bell personnel in the Southeastern states was alerted for action. Orders for equipment were rushed to the Western Electric Company. Emergency crews from adjoining states poured into the threatened area by truck, plane and train. Every effort was concentrated on getting skilled men and materials there ahead of the hurricane. When the full fury of the storm struck, operators stuck to their posts hour after hour... maintaining communications throughout most of the storm-lashed section... helping to save lives and avert injuries, to ease anxious hearts and minds and to bring a feeling of calm and comfort to those waiting out the wind. Typical of this devotion to duty were the two lone operators in a telephone office in Bay St. Louis, who stayed at their switchboard until the last lines went out—then prayed. As soon as the storm abated, emergency crews went to work repairing a damage to telephone facilities that ran into hundreds of thousands of dollars and totalled more than 106,000 breaks in service. Skilled repairmen worked around the clock—wading through miles of swamps and marshes—battling wind, water—even snakes. It was a tremendous job. Yet within a few days after the wind blew itself out, more than 90% of the telephone service in areas affected by the hurricane was back to normal. Fortunately, hurricanes don't happen every day. But it's good to know that, whenever and whatever the emergency, you can count on telephone folks to deliver that extra measure of power in a pinch. It's this tradition of service that gives a value to your telephone that cannot be measured by the price you pay.

He's delivered more than just your newspaper!

WHEN YOU SEE your newspaper boy, streaking down the street on his bicycle... you're seeing a boy who has done—and is doing—a whole lot more than just toss papers on neighbors' porches.

You're seeing a boy who daily delivers a lesson in enterprise... in ambition... in work and thrift... to his entire community!

All of us who've ever been newspaper boys, like the eight famous Americans above, can well testify to the initiative and ambition this job requires. But the United States Treasury Department knows better than anyone else how hard-working and how thrifty our newspaper boys have been.

During the war, your newspaper boy, and tens of thousands like him, sold nearly two billion 10-cent War Stamps. Today, with the same patriotic zeal, these newspaper boys are investing their hard-earned savings every month in U. S. Bonds.

For patriotism, for thriftiness, and for good common sense, our paper boys are an inspiration to all of us!

Who's To Blame?

Washington has the price jitters. Both Republicans and Democrats are on edge about soaring living costs. Both camps of politicians will be looking for something upon which to pin the blame for high prices: the scuttling of the OPA; too large promises of food for hungry Europe; business men intent on keeping up prices in order to make profits; unions' pushing up of production costs through spiraling wage boosts.

The intelligent citizen knows there is no single cause of higher living costs. Complicated adjustments following a gigantic war effort cannot be reduced to simple black or white by any method; certainly not by blaming any one group or cause.

One of the underlying reasons for high costs can be laid squarely at the door of consumers: war-time shortages added to present good wages have made eager buyers of all of us. We are buying our steaks, our radios and new cars no matter what the sales tag is. A little restraint in the purchasing enthusiasm of the ordinary citizen would do much to check mounting prices.

Washington's politicians, both Republicans and Democrats, know this. But it's better party technique to use the other camp as the scapegoat. Must we sacrifice good sense to party rivalry in so serious a time?

Better Or Worse?

In politics getting better or worse? The conviction of Congressman Andrew J. May of Kentucky was one proof that today's public men are not perfect. Against this single instance of corruption the testimony in 1876 of Senator George F. Hoar, for 27 years a highly respected senator from Massachusetts, should be considered.

"In my brief period of public life," Hoar told Congress in substance, "I have seen five judges of a high court of the United States driven from office by threats of impeachment for corruption or maladministration. I have heard the truth that the only product of her institutions in which the United States surpassed all others was her corruption. I have seen in the foremost state of the union four judges of her courts impeached for corruption and the political administration of her chief city become a byword throughout the world. I have heard in the highest places the shameless doctrine avowed by men grown old in public office that the true way to gain power is by bribing the people with the offices created for their service."

This was after the Civil War. While every war has been followed by a decline in public spirit, nothing today can equal the disgrace of the '70's. World War I was followed by the scandals of the Harding administration. Nothing remotely resembling them has occurred in the years following World War II. There can be no doubt that politics and politicians, though far from perfect, are better than they were 70 years ago.

No More Stairs

The one-story house is becoming more and more popular. More than 700 farm women in Minnesota, Wisconsin, the Dakotas, Iowa, Indiana and Illinois were polled by five farm publications with the purpose of learning what kind of homes farmers' wives preferred. A composite of these ideas has been prepared showing rooms on one level. The driveway leads to a front entrance—farm women are tired of having all callers come to the kitchen door.

A utility room at one end includes the laundry, and faces the barn. It permits the farmer to enter here after his chores are finished, wash up, leave his overalls before he joins the family. Adjoining this is a small room for the farm office. The kitchen is large, with modern equipment, plenty of working and eating space. It is arranged in a U shape to avoid having traffic bisect it. The living room uses one end as a dining room. Bedrooms are at the other end, with plenty of closets and cupboards. Farm women want a basement that is cool enough for storing vegetables and their canned goods, with a central heating plant for the hard winters of that middle-western region.

Farmers are buying these plans in large numbers. It looks as if they may be the first in the nation to start new home building in earnest. They have the land, the cash, and the requisite skills to do much of the building themselves. The farm landscape of the middle states is likely soon to change from the high and narrow house of old to the ranch-type stairless dwelling. The result will be much easier housekeeping for farm wives.

THE FOOD WE WASTE

To the American citizen of humanitarian instinct, a winter of want and hunger abroad may seem like a vast, remote catastrophe about which he, as an individual, can do nothing. Many Americans, we are confident, have wanted very much to help, but they did not quite know how. The answer, as President Truman and his citizens food committee are emphasizing lies in the power of the multitude. Just as bond-buying and salvage seal during the war bulked large in the national aggregate, so will the sum of personal efforts assist greatly in fighting the hunger in Europe that creates "despair and chaos."

Individual citizens can help by victory gardening once more. To more immediate point, they can concentrate on the familyarder. They can see to it that no scrap of waste food is thrown out. They can comb over the family menu and dispense with extras. When dining out, they can order sparingly and watch how well public eating places are cooperating.

And not the least consideration is the personal health benefit. Meat of us eat too much. Slimming diets will not only help succor the hungry abroad. They will make us all feel better, physically and spiritually.

YOU'RE TELLING ME!

JUGGERL, THE JACKPOT
 THAT GANG of robbers which looted an Ohio gambling house of $500,000 must have hit the joint when the slot chips were down.

It seems the slick-up boys held three ace-mas, machine guns and cast iron nerves.

After gazing into muzzles of the stuff the looters held the patrons fished over rather than wined up in a speed deal.

Slurp of aristocratic, well-heeled patrons of the place were taken along with the club's bankroll. This made the holdup a clear case of highway mobbery.

The yeggs referred to each other as "Big Boy" and "Other numerals, making their operation a highly lucrative numbers racket."

The most of the next desk says it was nothing more than a slick-up of stock-ups.

The robbers were of coveralls with large pockets in which to stow wallets, watches, neckties and bracelets. This gets a new style in what the well-dressed criminal will wear—the perfect look suit.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE, Foreign Affairs Analyst

Well, now do the doubters finally understand that the Bolshevik world revolution for the establishment of Communism is really under way?

If not, let them study Moscow's announcement of the Red Conference in Poland and the establishment of a headquarters in Yugoslavia for coordination of the Bolshevik drive against American imperialism. Call that organization by any name you will, and you still have the old Confederation—the Third International—General Staff for World Revolution—which Moscow in 1943 trumpeted had been abolished, thereby quelling the fears of a lot of ill-informed wishful thinkers abroad.

The meeting in Poland was attended by representatives of the Communist parties of the Soviet Union, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Italy and France. There you have the nations which either are communized and consequently are dominated by Russia or have strong Bolshevik parties. The new headquarters being established in Belgrade, capital of Marshal Tito who breathes, eats and sleeps as Moscow directs.

Andrei A. Zhdanov of Russia's powerful Politburo presented the international situation as seen through Moscow's eyes. At the conclusion of the conference the delegates—inspired by Zhdanov's pronouncement—issued a joint statement which pointed out that two camps have been formed in the world, and then went on to define them.

"On the one side the Imperialist and anti-Democratic camp, which has for its essential aim the establishment of the world domination of the anti-imperialist and the crushing of Democracy, and on the other, the anti-imperialist and Democratic camp, whose essential aim consists in undermining imperialism, reinforcing democracy, and liquidating the remains of Fascism."

"The struggle between these two camps—between the imperialist and the anti-imperialist camp—is developing under conditions of the continued accentuation of the general capitalistic crisis, the weakening of the forces of capitalism, and the strengthening of the forces of Socialism and Democracy."

That's talking turkey. There's no subtlety. It's a declaration of ideological war to the finish—and that means a continuation of the strong-arm methods which Bolshevism has been exhibiting in eastern Europe.

The declaration called for full resistance to all manifestations of United States policy. European Communists were told not to underestimate their own strength or to overestimate the strength of the "imperialist camp." England and France were urged to America in the Red charge of imperialistic aggression.

The old Comintern was established even before the Bolsheviks had Russia firmly in their hands in 1917 during World War I. They had the idea of starting the war—they could precipitate a revolution that would run around the globe. They tried it in Hungary and other countries, but it fizzled out and Stalin shelved the program until Russia had made strong industrially and militarily, and a more propitious moment arrived.

Stalin was among those who led the "World War II" and the widespread disorder which was bound to follow. Actually the war was precipitated when the Bolshevik leader signed the non-aggression pact with Hitler, and the Fuehrer unleashed his mighty fighting machine on Poland.

So now the Bolsheviks are picking up where they left off after the first global conflict. This time, however, they have had strength to enforce their will on neighboring war-torn countries, and thus are encouraged to regard the whole world as their oyster.

Peruvian Archaeologists have reported finding the ruins of a great pre-Inca city, 11 square miles in area which was apparently abandoned in prehistoric times when intense irrigation of the surrounding valleys resulted in alkali poisoning of the soil.

"GRIDIRON SELECTION OF THE WEEK"

My New York

By MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK—It was a Saturday night, but there were no thousands shuffling and jumping down the steps from the Stillwell Avenue station of the BMT subway, at Coney Island. Only a brave few, wearing topcoats, wandered forth to the land of golden dreams, for summer was dying and bedside mourners were to be few.

Technically, Coney still was alive and glowing—but New York was not to be fooled. It was after Labor Day, wasn't it? Summer ends on Labor Day, doesn't it? You not gonna be caught doin' things inna winta ya should be doin' in summa, are ya, sucker?

However, Labor Day or no, Coney was breathing its last. Bits of paper whipped up Surf-avenue. Ordinarily, Coney's streets are full and noisy, like Times Square's, but tonight the few prowlers on hand were inside—in the girly shows, in the smoky halls where you sit and play poker with rubber balls you roll into holes, in the dusty old Eden Muses with its crudely executed scenes of blood and crime—safe from the cold autumn wind that whistled up the streets.

There is a carousel virtually to every block in this poor man's Biarritz. Around and around they went, this night, the callouses beating their off-key versions of "The Sidewalks of New York," but they were empty, and the operators sat meditatively nearby on rickety benches, listening to this high-pitched death rattle.

A COUPLE OF HOT SHOTS, black shoes glistening and bright, tea sipping defiantly in the night wind, beat their way up the steps of the Stillwell Avenue station. They were few, but they were there. The merry chase of the sexes becomes a grim and depressing thing when summer is breathing its last.

A few couples wandered past the ball-throwing, penny-pitching hoop-rolling concessions, and the barkers cleared their throats and yelled, "I'll tell ya what I'll do, sport. Ya take the little lady and—" but the couples rarely stopped and the shells' last-ditch propositions died in their throats.

A canvas sign flapped in the wind, before a darkened building and if you peered closely you saw that it advertised Milo the Mule-Faced Boy—alive! Where was Milo on this windy Saturday night? Where did mule-faced boys go in winter?

It was strange, this death watch at Coney, but strangest of all was the eerie scene on the beach. From Surf Avenue, a block away, you could hear faintly the little breakers muttering their way up along the sands, and the sound of the ocean is a siren's call to be resisted by few.

I walked out a few hundred feet on the pier jutting far out into the sea, and I looked out over the railing and back toward the beach. Four figures, shifting vaguely in the dark night and waving their arms as if they were celebrating a black mass, stood along the water's edge, the foamy, thin little fingers of surf curling around their feet. Then it was I saw they were surf-casting, flicking their fishing lines skillfully out into the black, cold, muddy water.

IT WAS SATURDAY NIGHT, I thought—Saturday night, when New York explodes regularly in a torrent of noise and drunkenness and lights and shifting crowds. But the scene here might have been a thousand miles from Broadway.

Four men fishing, their wet shoes pressed into the clammy sand, flinging their hooks, resting, paying out lines... saying nothing to each other. In Twenty-One, Mamie Vera de Vera was ogling tall, dark and handsome.

In El Morocco, the quality of Scotch was being argued by two gentlemen in white ties and tails. In the Plaza, dancers were sitting around the little foot sedately. On the beach at Coney, four men were fishing.

From the pier, you could look back toward the ocremils of roller coasters and cotton-candy stands; the lights were still spinning and when the wind blew toward you there still could be heard the hoarse cries of the barkers.

Huge silk parachutes, dirty white by day but dark gray by night, rose slowly to the heavens, paused high in the starry autumn sky and then, as if with a sigh, mushroomed back to earth.

However, it was getting on; it was around 11, and even as you watched, here and there a light blinked out. Coney was shutting up shop. "The fire is out," Dawson wrote, "and spent the warmth thereof." Summer was over.

Severe Typhoon Hits South China Seas

MANILA, Oct. 6, (AP)—The mightiest typhoon of the 1947 season passed across the northern tip of Luzon today and headed toward the south China coast, disrupting shipping and damaging crops and dwellings.

The storm affected shipping within 300 miles of its churning center. The American President Lines' General W. H. Gordon, bound for Manila with hundreds of passengers aboard, halted northeast of Luzon, electing to ride out the rough seas rather than risk crossing the path of the big blow.

At least six other vessels carrying passengers and cargo from China ports to Manila headed for the nearest shelter. Vessels scheduled to leave Manila stayed in port.

Col. Frank P. Smith of Rogersville, Tenn., commanding officer of Camp John Hay, U. S. army post near Baguio, radioed that heavy rains and wind estimated to have reached 125 miles an hour hit the area. He said damage was slight, with two roofs and power lines wrecked.

Do You Have Your "Old Folks" Health Checked?

By W. V. Hitting, Teacher Drug Co.

The years come on apace and before we realize it, there is a member of the family who is really growing old. Good health is entirely possible for the aged, and most desirable. The sunset years can be beautiful and gracious years for those who have kept their zest for living. Health is the first requisite.

See that your aged relative has a regular medical examination. Now is the time when prevention is all important. It is more difficult to throw off the effects of a cold, or more serious illness, when the recuperative powers fall.

Descriptions should be referred to a good druggist. This is the 176th of a series of Editorial Advertisements appearing in this paper each Monday.

Princess Will Have Four-Tiered Cake

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth's official wedding cake is going to be a four-tiered masterpiece of the baker's art, decorated by scenes of royal ceremony, naval battle and sports, the Bakers National Association announced today. The bakers described the cake, which is to be made from ingredients supplied by British government agencies, as follows: Tier one—The bride's crest, the crest of the groom, Lieut. Philip Mountbatten, and representations of Windsor, Balmoral and Buckingham Palaces. Tier two—Representations showing a castle being presented to a freeman of Windsor, Princess Elizabeth taking the salute as colonel of the Grenadier Guards at night battle scene at Cape Matapan, musical ambience, and illustrations of tennis, cricket and racing—showing the King's colors. Tier three—Designs showing a cupid holding shields bearing the initials of the bride and groom, the crest of the Royal Navy, the leaders of the Auxiliary Territorial Service (British equivalent of the WACS) and the girl guides, and a painting of HMS Valiant, in which Lieut. Mountbatten served in the action at Cape Matapan. Tier four—Designs showing the badges of Australia, New Zealand, Canada, South Africa, India and Pakistan. Above the tiers will be a globe carrying the names of all the countries of the British Commonwealth. On top of the globe will be a vase of flowers. The bakers said the cake had been reduced considerably from the original design to meet the Princess' wishes for austerity.

Miss Brown Wed To Mr. Hall In Daytona

The First Baptist Church of Daytona was the scene on Sept. 19 of the marriage of Elizabeth Hope Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Brown of Beckley, W. Va., to Harold Allen Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hall of the city. The Rev. Lee Nichols of Daytona and Dr. W. P. Brooks, Jr. of Sanford officiated at the candlelight ceremony which was performed at 7:00 o'clock. The altar was banked with baskets of white gladioluses and greenery.

Miss Myra Sue Rouse of Beckley, soloist, sang "Because" and "Through The Years" prior to the ceremony. She was accompanied by Mrs. Atwood Taylor of Daytona at the organ. The traditional wedding marches were used. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a soft pink satin gown which featured fitted, shirred bodice with decorative neckline. The full skirt extended into a court train and her fingertip length veil fell from a cluster of white orange blossoms. Her white prayer book, marked with pale pink satin streamers, was topped with a single white orchid.

Mrs. William Carlos Stone of Daytona Beach, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She was gowned in aqua marquisette which featured a low round neckline and shirred cap sleeves. She carried a nosegay of Tuluhan roses and tiny lavender and yellow astors. Similar bouquets were carried by the two bridesmaids, Miss Betty Burroughs of Daytona Beach and Mrs. Howard West of Atlanta. The latter was attired in an evelot gown of pastel blue with a fitted bodice and Miss Burroughs' gown was identical of a soft shade of yellow.

Little Mary Faith Crews of Daytona, wearing a pink dotted swiss frock similar to those of the bridesmaids, scattered rose petals from a white basket. Ushers were Mr. Stone, brother-in-law of the bride; "William," Dale Bowman and Wayne Rucker.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Stone home at Daytona Beach where about 50 close friends and relatives of the couple were received. Late in the evening the couple left for a trip to Miami and Key West. Mrs. Hall wore for traveling a Navy blue and white checked suit with navy and white accessories. Her carriage was of white orchids. Mr. and Mrs. Hall returned to Daytona about Oct. 1 and are now making their home at 926 1/2 South Ridgewood Avenue.

Mrs. Hall was born and reared in Beckley, and attended schools also in Daytona. She graduated from Seabreeze high school and attended Stetson University at DeLand where she was a member of the Zeta Tau Alpha national social sorority. Mr. Hall graduated from Seabreeze High School and is also an alumnus of Stetson University. He served for three and one-half years as a gunnery instructor in the Navy during the war.

Oviedo

Special to the Sanford Herald By MARIAN R. JONES

The Oviedo PTA met at the Home Economics Building last Monday afternoon at 8:00 P. M.

Mrs. R. W. Eddy, president, presided. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting of last year and the board meeting, the meeting was turned over to Prof. T. W. Lawson, county School Superintendent, who was the guest speaker of the day. Prof. Lawson gave an interesting talk on the "Relationship of Friendship on Character."

Some interesting facts brought out in his discussion were: Friendship has more to do with the character of a person than love. "If the schools are going to do anything at all for our children, they are going to make them better persons. Nine out of ten are what they are due to their education."

Mrs. D. R. Uley is replacing Mrs. J. H. Jones, Jr. as homeroom mother for the second grade. It was announced and Mrs. Lawson hands will replace Mrs. E. H. Eddy on the ninth grade.

The eleventh grade won the homeroom count with the seventh grade coming second.

Seminole Holds Powerful Eustis Team In 6 To 6 Tie

Holly Piercy Injured Early In Contest; Aerial To Beard By Deaf Nets Fed Score

EUSTIS, Oct. 6, (Special)—A game that was marred by loose play and fumbles but brightened by a terrific aerial attack by both teams ended in a 6 to 6 deadlock for the Sanford Celery Feds and the Eustis High Panthers here Friday night.

Despite the loss of Holly Piercy, the Celery Fed aggregation showed power afield, and in the air, and hard running and play by both teams held the large group of fans in a constant uproar throughout the tiff.

Starting on their own 47 yard line, the Feds crossed the twin marker into pay dirt early in the opening quarter. A pass from Donald Deal to right end Byron Beard netted the six pointer. The attempt for the extra point was no good.

One of Sanford's aerials found its way into Husky's arms on the Fed 31 in the second period, and a Panther tally resulted in two plays as Husky drove 15 yards and then tossed a pass to Hardin for the tally. The conversion was no good.

Outplaying the Panthers throughout the contest, the Feds penetrated to the Panther's two yard line just as the half ended and on a number of occasions rammed to the Eustis ten yard line before losing the sphere on downs.

The visitors racked up seven first downs to the Panther's six and gained 134 yards on the ground while the home club could make but 80 through the stubborn Fed forward wall.

Donald Deal, diminutive Seminole fullback, sparked the Fed team by gaining 63 of his team's 134 yards. Kirkland and Pugh were the leading gainers for the Panthers with 20 yards each.

Piercy sustained a painful ankle injury on the third play of the contest. As he was carrying the ball, two Eustis players tackled the fleet footed Fed backfield artist, and in the melee Piercy's right ankle was turned. It was underplayed just how severe the injury would be, but it was not thought that there was any bone broken.

Friday night the Seminole High School grid eleven will play hosts to the DeLand High School Bulldogs on the high school athletic field in Sanford.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—"We've been winning them like that all season. Now I wouldn't be much surprised if we'd win four that way." The speaker was Branch Rickey, Jr., after the Dodgers staggered through to their first World Series triumph Thursday and he referred, of course, to the way the Bums clung desperately but successfully to their one-run lead. Even in his wildest dreams Branch couldn't have foreseen Friday's finish—the end of a game that was won with a single pitch and a single hit—not many of the 33,000 spectators who saw Hugh Casey stuff out a Yankee rally the first time he threw the ball and Cookie Lavagetto drive in the winning runs with the first hit of Bill Bevens would be surprised at anything that may happen from now on.

POETIC JUSTICE

Anyway, Casey got even—up to Friday, the most exciting finish of a World Series game in Ebbets field was in that celebrated 1941 contest when Casey drew what would have been the winning strike and the ball got away from Mickey Owen. The Yanks went on to win then, and big Hughie was the victim. Friday he came in with the bases full and the Yanks starting what looked like a scoring spree. He pitched once, fielded Tommy Henrich's topped drive and threw home to start a double play. No wonder organist Gladys Goedding serenaded departing fans with "Casey Walked With The Strawberry Blonde."

FLATHUSH PROLIC

Naturally, a fan swiped Lavagetto's cap while the Dodgers were mobbing him—but a couple of ushers pursued the culprit and got it back. Bevens still owes a few votes of thanks to his outfielders for his 8 2/3-innings of hitless ball. Johnny Lindell dashed over beyond the foul line in the second to make a tumbling catch of Jackie Robinson's drive in the third and he backed up against the wall to snuff Brute Edwards' smash in the ninth. Joe DiMaggio, who was caught trying to score from first on Edwards' heave into right field in the third, made up for that with a running one-hand catch of Gene Hermanski's.

Dogers Made Great Record For Just Holding On

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Oct. 6, (AP)—It's Hugh Casey and nine other Dodger throwers against Bill (one-hitter) Bevens of the Yankees today in the seventh game of the wildest World Series in many years.

What started out to be another steamroller job by the mighty New York club has turned into a down-to-the-last-out tangle that has much of the nation babbling incoherently about characters named Lavagetto and Gionfriddo.

Down and apparently out after two opening defeats, humbled with no hits for 8 2/3 innings in the fourth game, the Dodgers have stumbled up the road from 8 to 1 underdogs to odds 2 to 5 by methods that are almost incredible.

No Dodger pitcher has been able to last as long as five innings while New York has three complete jobs in six games. But the won and lost totals show three each way for both clubs. Somehow or other, as National League managers have learned, Burt Shotton manages to piece together a winning ball club from Casey and nine other guys.

Even for the seventh and final contest, Shotton has no semblance of a starting pitcher. Hal Gregg, who was moderately effective in two outings despite his grim 4-5 record for the season, probably is his best bet.

After yesterday's 8-6 win that squared the Series, Casey had to share the pedestal with little Al Gionfriddo. He's the fellow the Pirates "tossed in" when Kirby Higbe and four other athletes were sold to Pittsburgh for about $300,000. At the time they laughed and said he had been sent along to carry the money bags back to Riskey.

Stealing a base and scoring a run in Friday's victory should have been enough for little "GI" who played last summer only when somebody else was hurt.

With two men on and the Brooks leading, 8-5, Joe DiMaggio smacked one of the longest drives he ever hit in the Yankee Stadium. It soared high and far toward the Brooklyn ball pen 415-feet away in deep left field but little "GI" was after it. Racing back with his little legs pounding up and down in mad rhythm, Gionfriddo made a one-handed running catch that has been accepted by many wise baseball men as the best they ever saw.

That turned out to be the ball game, for Casey soon was summoned from the shadowy bullpen to quiet the Yanks in a last-inning rally.

That's all in the record books now, along with the record of 74-65, the largest ever to see a Series game, and several assorted marks such as most pitchers in a game, 10.

Harris no longer is rich in pitchers, as he was three days ago. It has come down to Bevens, a 20-20 workman all season but a no-hit record-breaker for 8 2/3 frames Friday before Cookie Lavagetto wrecked his hopes with the first hit, a two-run double that beat him.

Yanks get into the finale without their best hitter, Johnny Lindell, who had to leave in the third inning of the sixth game because he had aggravated a cracked rib. Lindell almost definitely will not be in the lineup and Harris has announced that Larry Berra, the Brooklyn catcher who has given the Dodgers so much joy, will be in right field with Tommy Henrich in left and Aaron Robinson, now out of the doghouse, catching.

Allie Reynolds, who tamed the Brooks, 10-5, in the sixth game, had nothing in the sixth contest. After smashing across two runs in the first, with the help of a fly ball single by Jackie Robinson that Lindell lost in the sun, they flattened the "Injun" rightlander with successive record-breaking doubles by Pee Wee Reese, Jackie Robinson and Dixie Walker in the third.

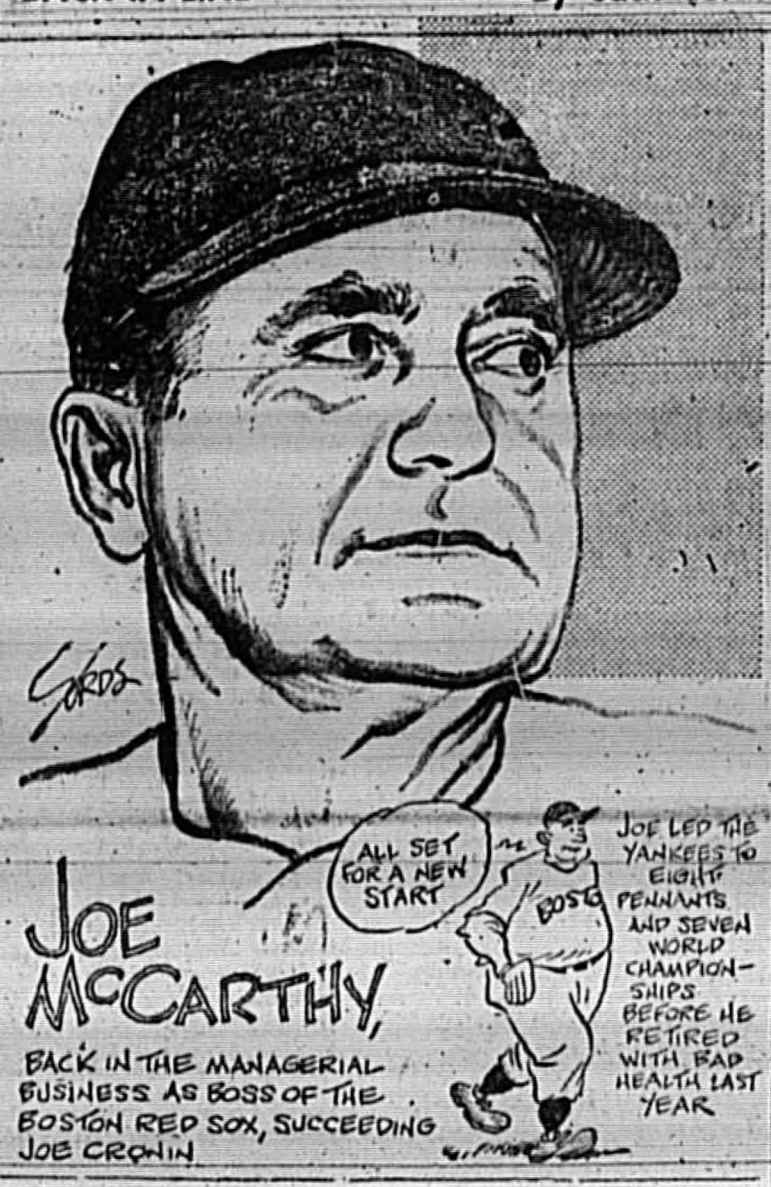

Four Yankee scores in the third routed Lombardi, whose curve didn't, and another, disputed tally made it 4-4. New York's favor in the fourth. That came about when Larry Berra smashed a sizzler down the right field line past first base, too close to the foul stripe for comfort. First base umpire Ed Rommel signalled "fair" and the Dodgers swarmed around him to no avail. Aaron Robinson scored from third on the hit.

Joe Page, who came to the scene when Karl Drews needed help in the fifth, felled the Yanks in the sixth when Brooklyn turned the tide. Bruce Edwards slugged a double by Carl Furillo and a long fly by pinch hitter Lavagetto tied the score. Bobby Bragan's pinch double sent the Dodgers out front. After Eddie Stanky rapped the fourth hit off Page's delivery, Bobo Newton came in to present Reese with a two-run single that sewed up the ball game.

Sanford Fishermen Bag Limit At Osteen

Ted Williams and Hugh Carlton, two Sanford fishermen, fishing in the vicinity of the Osteen Bridge Saturday morning, caught the limit of black bass on live bait, it was reported by Harry Robson.

Just after Carlton started fishing a large bass broke his line. About an hour later the same bass was hooked by Carlton, and the tackle was returned to the owner unharmed.

Georgia Tech Is One Of Nation's Best Grid Teams

NEW YORK, Oct. 6, (AP)—One of these days the folks who have been too busy following the World Series to notice college football are going to find that the grid season already is well under way and that the action to date has resulted in such impressions as these:

1. Notre Dame, Michigan, Texas and Georgia Tech look like the teams most likely to battle it out for the mythical national crown.
2. The little chase in the Pacific Coast Conference threatens to be the dirtiest of them all.
3. Army refuses to roll over and play dead, even though Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard are no longer on the premises.

Notre Dame, the nation's No. 1 team in 1946, arrived on the scene Saturday and, although somewhat tardy, picked right up where it left off last year by crushing Pittsburgh, 40-6.

Michigan, which entertains Pitt Saturday, lambasted Stanford, 49-15, while Georgia Tech blanked Tulane, 20-0, and Texas trounced North Carolina, 34-0, routing the Tar Heel's bid for an all-victorious season with one of the outstanding performances of the day.

Army unbeaten since 1943, was outplayed 47-0 over Colorado, indicating that the Cadets aren't going to be pushed around this year despite personnel losses.

Army's true strength will be tested Saturday when the Cadets risk their 30-game undefeated record against Illinois, 35-12 conqueror of Iowa, at New York in the East's foremost attraction.

Duke, 19-7 winner over Tennessee, plays Navy at Baltimore while Columbia, which stopped Navy, 13-6, entertains Yale, 14-0 winner over Cornell.

Pennsylvania, which opened with a 59-0 breather over Lafayette, invades Dartmouth for another Ivy League struggle. Other eastern highlights include Cornell at Case, Penn State at Fordham, Villanova at Holy Cross and Temple at Syracuse.

Notre Dame this week invades Purdue, surprise 24-0 winner over Ohio State, while Ohio State entertains Southern California and Wisconsin plays host to California.

Indiana, which tied Wisconsin, 7-7, will be at Iowa and Northwestern at Minnesota for "Big Nine" games.

Georgia, which recovered from its loss to North Carolina to dominate Louisiana State's Southeastern Conference hopes, 35-19, goes to Kentucky for another league tilt and Vanderbilt, which upset Alabama, 14-7, entertains Mississippi.

Southern Conference games send Clemson to North Carolina State, Wake Forest to North Carolina, William and Mary to Richmond and George Washington to Washington and Lee. Other Dixie features include Duquesne at Alabama, Florida at Auburn, VMI at Georgia Tech, Texas A. and M. at Louisiana State, Chattanooga at Tennessee and Harvard at Virginia.

Oklahoma, 26-14 conqueror of Texas A. and M., and Texas collide in their annual game at Dallas and Arkansas will be at Baylor in the Southwest Conference. Other southwestern games will have Tulane at Rice, Tulsa at Texas Tech and Arizona at Hardin-Simmons.

Rollins Wins 20-7 Over Richmond Team

ORLANDO, Oct. 6, (AP)—The Rollins College Tars scored in the first, third and fourth quarters here Saturday night to defeat the University of Richmond Spiders, 20-7. It was the Tars' first victory in two starts this season and their first home game of the year.

Approximately 6,500 spectators watched the underdog Rollins eleven upset the visiting Richmond spiders and hand the Virginians their second defeat of the 1947 campaign.

Richmond's lone touchdown came late in the final quarter when Bernie Hoffbauer, Spides fullback, stole the ball from Ed Simmons' arms and lugged it back 29 yards for a score. Frank Thompson added the extra-point from placement.

FISH CATCH

H. W. Yandell, Harley Starnes and Reggie Mason all enjoyed good fish dinners yesterday after catching a fine mess of bass in a lake near Geneva. The largest bass caught by Yandell weighed 8 pounds, 12 ounces, and another weighed 7 pounds and 10 ounces. His catches were obtained by casting from a boat.

GREENBERG MAY SIGN

NEW YORK, Oct. 6, (AP)—One of the hottest tips to come out of the World Series is that Hank Greenberg will be signed by the Brooklyn Dodgers for first base duty with Jackie Robinson moving back to his old post at second. What happens to Ed Stanky? The story is the scrappy second baseman may be offered a managerial post in a Triple A League.

MIAMI, Oct. 6. (AP)—The Federal Storm Warning Service said today that it was "watching a squall area" now located about 160 miles east of Melbourne, Fla., and accompanied by winds up to 35 mph.

World Series

(Continued from Page One) favored by balmy Indian Summer weather that sent the thermometer soaring into the mid 70's. Gold, as well as glory, hung in the balance for the Dodgers and Yanks as there is a record $493,674.83 in the player pool. Victory means approximately $70,000 difference in the amount to be divided among the athletes. It still has not been announced how many shares have been voted by each club or who will get them.

THE SHATTERED MOTOR of a car owned by T. Durkett Ivins, a controversial political figure, is shown after a mysterious blast had wrecked it as the ex-senator stepped on the starter in his garage in Etowah, Tenn. The explosion ripped off his right leg and punctured his body with pieces of metal. He died shortly after in the hospital in Athens. At right is his grandson, Danny, 5, who was injured in the blast. Police Chief C. O. Kennedy said Ivins "was in office a long time and made a lot of enemies."
