Longwood To Grapple With Sewage, Budget Woes

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

How to solve Longwood's mounting sewage treatment problems and a proposal to hire Jeff Etchberger as a consultant will be discussed by the city commission at a work session 7 p.m. Wednesday.

The work session was called at the request of acting City Administrator Greg Manning, who wants to know whether the commission wants to expand the Skylark Sewer Plant as a whole or keep its capacity as it is now. Manning told the City Commission Monday night that he met separately with representatives of the Seminole County Environmental Control and state Department of Environmental Regulation and they both said basically the same thing— "We're in trouble."

New City Commissioner Perry Faulkner proposed that Etchberger, former Altamonte Springs city manager and former Seminole County assistant administrator and director of management and budget, be brought in as a consultant to review Longwood's budget to date for a fee not to exceed $1,000. Faulkner said Etchberger was interested and estimated it would take 67-70 hours to do the job. Faulkner said because of the expertise he has shown in the past he thinks Etchberger could find several thousand dollars in the budget.

Commissioner June Lormann said "I have no problem with Jeff, but we're not ready for it. Let's wait on it, we're going to get a new city administrator coming in."

On the sewer problem, Manning said, "We have a sludge problem. They (environmental control offices) gave a temporary verbal OK to handle it the way we are as a short term solution, but we have to have another percolation pond as soon as possible. They said we are trying to put 10 gallons of water in a five-gallon pail since the capacity of our percolation ponds is 100,000 gallons while the plant has been expanded to 200,000. The plant is currently operating at 140,000 gallons per day.

In a memo to commissioners, Manning said "We need to have some method of removing the sludge from the tanks on a periodic basis. The sludge at the Skylark sewer plant has been examined and judged to have a high copper

Police Chief Asks If Press Can Be Barred From Hearing

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford Police Chief Ben Butler said today he will ask city attorney William Colbert to request a state attorney general's opinion on whether reporters have a right to be present when a board meets to consider disciplining an officer.

The board will convene to consider the case of a lieutenant whose unmarked patrol car he was driving — with its headlights off — was involved in an accident with another officer's car.

Chief Butler said he is opposed to the press being present at the board meeting.

Colbert confirmed today that Butler has asked for an opinion on whether the meeting must be open to the public. Colbert said because of other city business he has not yet reviewed the request but may do so soon. He said, however, he will not know whether he will have to contact the state attorney general on the matter until he has investigated it, indicating he may be able to render the opinion himself.

Butler has called the disciplinary committee action an "internal matter" not open to the public.

In a related matter, Chief Butler said his department also is conducting an internal investigation into whether two of their officers without authorization reportedly talked to the Evening Herald about the early morning traffic accident of Jan. 6 involving the two police cars. The unmarked vehicle with its headlights out also ran a stop sign.

The officers were making one last check of Sanford Grammar School before shift change, according to police. The school reportedly has been the site of several burglaries lately.

Lt. Richard Nooney, the officer reported to have caused the accident by driving his vehicle through a stop sign was not cited for a traffic violation. Sanford police investigated the accident. No citation was issued because the disciplinary committee usually hands out harsher penalties than those called for in state traffic statutes, according to police.

The accident sent officer N.J. Raby, 36, to the hospital for overnight observation and Nooney received minor cuts and bruises.

"Don't call me again," Butler said referring to the pending committee meeting. He said he did not want to discuss the matter further until he and the city attorney had talked about the matter.

Butler said he thinks the officers who called the press have been spreading false information about the accident in an attempt to get even with Lt. Nooney for disciplining them.

Butler denied an anonymous allegation that prior to the accident Nooney and Raby were horse playing and setting off firecrackers.

Listen Up

Both 2-year-old Katrina Yawn of Sanford and her mother Cindy Yawn are all ears during Tuesday Story Time at the Sanford Library. But Katrina seems to be a bit puzzled by the nursery rhymes. If she doesn't figure everything out this time she can come back to hear more at 9:30 a.m. on Jan. 22 and 29 and listen along with other tots. The library is located on the corner of 1st Street and Palmetto Avenue in downtown Sanford.

Olympic Hero Nabbed For Soliciting Prostitute

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Olympic hero Edwin Moses, chosen by fellow athletes to recite their oath at the Opening Ceremonies of the Summer Games, is innocent of charges of soliciting a prostitute and of carrying marijuana in his car, his agent says.

Gordon Baskin, Moses' agent, told UPI Monday that the 29-year-old track star was not soliciting a female undercover officer posing as a hooker on Sunset Boulevard during the weekend, and that the small amount of marijuana found in the athlete's car was not his.

"Edwin is not guilty of the charges," Baskin insisted. He said Moses, recently named co-winner of the Sports Illustrated athlete of the year award, and his wife, Myrella, would discuss the charges at a news conference today.

Moses' lawyer, Harold Lipton, said Monday the track star was

Watts Problems Same 20 Years Later

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Most of the economic problems that ignited the Watts riots 20 years ago remain unresolved and the mostly black community feels "hopelessness, despair and disenchantment," a report has concluded.

"Conditions are as bad, or worse, in South Central Los Angeles today as they were (in 1965)," a joint report released Monday by the city and county human relations commissions found.

The 16-page report is based on testimony from public hearings held last summer.

Poverty remains the basic problem, the commissions said. Nearly 20 percent of the black adults and 50 percent of the black teenagers in the area are unemployed, the report notes, while school test scores remain the lowest in the county and crime and gang activity have increased sharply.

The report said some progress has been made — notably the construction of the county's Martin Luther King Jr. Hospital and improved public transit — since the 1965 that left 34 people dead and thousands either injured or arrested.

But the report indicated that crime and relations between the community and Police Department continue to be major problems. It also said problems of education may be growing and little has been done to improve housing.

"One-third of the residents live in old, crime-ridden public housing projects," the report said. "Of the 600 low-cost housing units authorized, only 300 have been built since the riots, and virtually no single-family housing has been built in the area."

"Testimony before the human relations commissions reflected many feelings of helplessness, despair and disenchantment," the report said.

The report sparked bitter reactions from community leaders and politicians.

City Manager Hunt To Involve Public

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

The Sanford City Commission decided Monday night to seek public assistance in selecting a new city manager.

And area city managers polled on the idea of a citizens advisory committee making recommendations say it sounds "pretty good."

Only Commissioner Milton Smith balked at the idea, broached by Commissioner David Farr. "I think it's a mistake," Smith said. "I think the people of Sanford elected us to do these things for them. If we don't go along with their (the citizens group's) recommendations, they'll want to know why."

But city managers in Altamonte Springs, DeLand, Daytona Beach and Winter Springs said a citizens advisory committee reviewing the 10 applications selected by a group of three professional managers could give the Sanford Commission a different perspective on how the manager ultimately appointed might be received in the community.

Sanford's 32-year veteran City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles, scheduled to retire April 30, declined comment, saying the commission made its decision.

The managers interviewed said the only possible negative in the citizens' committee approach would be if the committee doesn't clearly understand that the commission will make the final decision.

Sanford City Attorney Bill Colbert made it clear to commissioners that they could not delegate their responsibility of choosing a manager to an advisory panel.

Knowles said he expects the three managers to be appointed by the state Association of City and County Managers to screen the nearly 100 applications for the job will be in Sanford during the week of Jan. 23 or 30.

The group is to select the best 10 of the applications.

It is these 10 applications that a five-member citizens committee will review. Farr, who urged

'I think it's a mistake.'

—Milton Smith

the formation of the committee, said each commissioner would appoint one member. The committee would review all 10 applications, submit comment on each to the commission and recommend the top five applicants.

D. Scott Rohlf, city manager of DeLand, said today the committee can be very helpful.

"It sounds like a reasonable idea," Rohlf said. "A city manager finds he must work with all citizens' groups, the chamber of commerce and others and must be able to relate to the community he or she is working with."

He noted when he was hired by the city of DeLand, he was not only interviewed by each city commissioner, but also by each department head. "It gave me the chance to meet the people I would be working for and those I would be working with in the city administration." Howard Tipton, city manager of Daytona Beach, said he sees no problem with a process that includes members of the community providing their comments. "In fact, I think it is excellent. It is a standard and accepted process in our profession. But, ultimately the decision rests with the city commission and that's vital."

Altamonte Springs City Manager Phil Penland said, "I think it is a pretty good thing, if done right. The screening group of city managers will come up with 10 pretty good applicants. They will be able to ask the kinds of questions city managers know and the average person wouldn't know or think about asking."

"The citizens group will bring rapport," Penland said. "When I was hired here, I came for interviews with the city commission and citizens came to the meeting to give their input."

"But it is important that the city commission still have the final say. This person, whoever it is, must work with the citizens of Sanford. It's sort of getting off on the right foot," Penland said.

Winter Springs Manager Richard Rozanasky lauded the proposal of a citizens advisory committee as a good idea.

Brazil Elects Civilian

BRASILIA, Brazil (UPI) — Brazilian congressmen elected opposition candidate Tancredo Neves Tuesday as the first civilian president in 21 years.

Amid a party atmosphere of fireworks, samba bands and folk dancing, the 74-year-old opposition lawyer was chosen to succeed Gen. Joao Figueiredo in March.

Congressmen voting in a 686-man electoral college gave Neves an absolute majority of 344 votes, against 124 for Paulo Maluf who was running for the party supporting the outgoing military regime.

Politicians predicted a final result around 480-175 with some abstentions.

"This is like the birth of a child, a miracle of nature. Today the people have come back into politics," said opposition leader Ulysses Guimarães as voting started in the Congress building.

"The nation has changed. It can no longer be governed without the participation of the people," said Guimarães, formally proposing Neves.

Crowds gathered in city squares throughout Brazil in carnival atmosphere to follow the voting on television, often accompanied by samba bands and folk dancing, while a huge banner outside Congress where the college met read: "Good Morning Democracy."

Second Place Finish

Longwood city officials discovered "what's in a name" when former mayor J. R. Grant ordered a marker put up designating a residential road Second Street, Chaos.

In drawing up the ordinance to designate the street between county Road 427 and 14th Avenue as Second Street the commission thought they were doing what the majority of the abutting property owners wanted.

But some residents were using the former designation "Second Place" while others had adopted "Street." Clarification seemed in order so a public hearing was scheduled. Some said they preferred Second Place East to their street's name.

And the deluge of petitions, surveys, and conflicting opinions presented at the hearing Monday night only confused the issue more, prompting Mayor Harvey Smerison to quip, "I don't suppose we could just continue the public hearing indefinitely."

Tom Brandenburg of 1151 Second Place said that out of 29 residents, 18 petitioned for Second Place. "It was named Second Place in 1914," he said, "the deeds read that way."

However, John Carson, of 1100 Second St., said he lived on the street for 24 1/2 years and it had always been Second Street and it says so on his tax deed.

"This thing has gotten totally out of hand," Janet Davis of 1163 Second Place, said. "How do I know where I live?"

The city commission voted 4-1 to keep the name Second Place with Commissioner June Lormann voting against it. "I feel a correct poll has not been taken," she explained.

Nevertheless, at least some Longwood residents don't mind being in Second Place today.

Christmas Sales Boost Economy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Christmas selling season was strong for most merchants but declining auto sales pulled the total down 0.1 percent in December, the first overall setback since August, the Commerce Department said today.

The fourth quarter, however, ended up 2.5 percent ahead of the third quarter in terms of dollars collected, a boost to the overall economy.

Cash registers rang up $110.8 billion in December sales after seasonal adjustment, capping a 1984 total of $1.3 trillion in sales, 10.4 percent more than in 1983.

But the sharp December decline of 2.3 percent in auto sales, a 1.4 percent drop in gasoline sales and a 0.9 percent reverse in food sales made December's total the first to fall backwards since August's 0.8 percent drop.

Department store sales were up a healthy 2.3 percent from November while furniture and electronic sales gained an even stronger 2.8 percent.

Clothing stores reported a 1 percent increase and even building materials, hardware and mobile homes posted a 2.1 percent increase for December.

November's change was also revised upward to be a 2 percent improvement instead of the originally reported 1.8 percent.

Martens Withholds Decision On Cruise Missile Deployment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Belgian Prime Minister Wilfried Martens, weighing domestic politics against allied pressures, is sending the White House mixed signals about whether Belgium will deploy 48 U.S. cruise missiles in March as scheduled.

The uncertainty grew as Martens signaled to reporters that a final decision on the missile issue — a political hot potato in Belgium — may not come until late March and indicated he would take the matter to Parliament.

The White House was taken aback by the confusing signals. It is especially concerned about what effect a decision not to accept the missiles would have on pending arms talks with the Soviet Union.

The dual-track approach approved by NATO in December 1979 called for the deployment of 572 cruise and Pershing 2 missiles in five European countries in the absence of an agreement requiring the Soviet Union to dismantle its powerful SS-20 missiles targeted on Western Europe.

Feds Bust Clergy Aiding Aliens

PHOENIX (UPI) — Federal agents have arrested 16 members of an "underground railroad" smuggling illegal aliens into the United States from Central America in what clergy members are calling a confrontation between church and state.

The arrests — including two Roman Catholic priests, three nuns and a Tucson Presbyterian pastor — resulted from a 10-month investigation into a Tucson-based "sanctuary movement." U.S. Attorney Melvin McDonald said Monday.

In Tucson, the Rev. John Fife of Southside Presbyterian Church — one of those arrested — said four undercover agents apparently joined the sanctuary movement in May.

"It is a very, very serious matter to place informants in a church," he said. "We expect that to happen in Russia and other totalitarian states but not in the United States."

But McDonald insisted that the crackdown was "not a vendetta against the clergy. We're actively involved in all types of smuggling operations. The motives may be different but those violating the law should be treated equally."

Police Crack Super Bowl Scam

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The biggest ticket counterfeiting scheme in the 19-year history of the Super Bowl has been cracked, but as many as 350 of the phony tickets may have been bought by unwary fans, police said.

Two men have been arrested in the scheme and 800 near-perfect counterfeit tickets were recovered in a sewer by police as pre-game fever rose — among fans desperate to attend Sunday's football contest between the San Francisco 49ers and the Miami Dolphins in Palo Alto and the scam artists anxious to flee the town.

In other incidents, two masked gunmen robbed 50 legitimate tickets from two travel agents selling them from a hotel room.

Prime Dips To 10.5 Percent

NEW YORK (UPI) — Manufacturers Hanover Trust, the nation's fourth largest bank, Monday sliced its prime lending rate to 10 1/2 percent from 10 3/4 percent, effective Jan. 15.

One economist expects the move to spread throughout the industry and looks for further reductions down the line.

"My sense is that the downward movement in the whole interest rate structure is not over yet," said Eric Heinemann, money market analyst who heads a firm bearing his name.

Bush: Coast Guard Will Bag Half Of Marijuana Harvest

MIAMI (UPI) — Vice President George Bush predicted more than half of this year's marijuana harvest would be confiscated through anti-smuggling programs such as the highly successful "Operation Hat Trick" blockade in the Caribbean.

"I don't think it's any exaggeration to say that 'Operation Hat Trick' is the D-Day of our war on drugs," Bush said Monday in a ceremony at Miami's Coast Guard station.

Hat Trick began in mid-November and involves more than a dozen U.S. ships, including at least five Navy vessels, patrolling along a line south of Jamaica across the Caribbean.

Bar Owners To Fight Dram Bill

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Bar owners and party hosts who continue pouring drinks for drunken customers or guests could be sued by victims of injuries caused when a night on the town ends in tragedy.

Rep. Tom Woodruff, R-St. Petersburg, introduced a "dram shop" bill Monday, holding bar owners responsible for damages caused by their customers in drinking-related accidents. The bill would also make any person — including private party hosts — financially liable for damages caused by an under-aged drinker or alcoholic they knowingly serve.

Convicted Child Molester Sued By 6-Year-Old Victim

A Sanford man sentenced to life plus 15 years for the rape and fondling of a 6-year-old boy has been sued by his victim.

Clifford Milliken Jr., 60, of 1201 1/2 Magnolia Ave., was named in a suit filed Thursday.

The victim and his mother are suing for an unspecified amount of damages in excess of $5,000.

In the suit, the boy states he was the victim of a willful, malicious, unlawful and violent wanton assault and battery.

The incidents occurred between Feb. 28 and April 17, 1984, just after Milliken was paroled for child sex crimes.

Police Held Liable In Injury To Bystander During Hot Pursuit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court Monday let stand a $4.3 million award to a Washington, D.C., man who lost both legs after being hit by car driven by a robbery suspect who was being chased by an Arlington County, Va., police officer in his patrol car.

The justices, without comment, rejected an appeal of a jury verdict against Arlington in favor of Alvin and Eleanor Biscoe, stemming from a Sept. 29, 1979, accident where a fleeing robbery suspect, racing through the Capital with an Arlington police officer in hot pursuit, crashed into Biscoe causing severe injuries.

A federal court jury and the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia both found that the police officer had violated proper police practices and Arlington County regulations on high speed chases.

The case began with the robbery of the Arlington, Va., branch of the Washington-Lee Savings and Loan Association and the broadcasting of an alarm over the county police radio and a description of the suspects.

Officer Michael Kyle saw what looked like the suspects driving across a bridge on Arlington County to Washington, D.C. He followed and stopped the men. But during questioning the men took off at high speed into Washington.

Kyle followed and a high speed chase ensued. The suspects drove into Washington and only stopped after careening off another car and pinning Biscoe to a light post. Biscoe lost both legs in the accident.

The Biscoes charged, and a jury agreed, that Officer Kyle had violated accepted police standards and Arlington County regulations by pursuing the suspect at high speeds and possibly endangering innocent bystanders.

Police Arrest Surgical Tech In Drug Incident

An unemployed surgical technician has been charged with obtaining a controlled substance by forgery and possession of a controlled substance after she allegedly presented to a druggist a phony prescription for a codeine-based medication.

Altamonte Springs police reported being called to Albertson's, 503 E. Altamonte Ave., Altamonte Springs, at about 5:45 a.m. Monday, because pharmacist Anthony Andreme had reportedly determined that a prescription a woman had ordered filled was bogus.

Andreme told police he was suspicious of the woman and called Lucerne General Hospital and Dr. W.E. Bradford in Orlando, and determined that Bradford had not written the prescription for 100 capsules of Fiorinal #3, in the name of Donald Webb on Jan. 14.

Police confronted the woman in the grocery section of the store and Andreme identified her as the person who had presented the prescription for the controlled, codeine-based medication, a police report said.

She was arrested and when police searched her purse they reported finding 12 capsules, which they believe also contain codeine, the report said.

Carolyn Cook Gould, 37, of 340 Isabella Drive, Longwood, was arrested at 6 p.m. Monday. She was released on $5,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in court Feb. 4.

SEA CHARGE

A 44-year-old Sanford man has been charged with sexual battery in connection with the sexual assault of a 13-year-old Sanford girl.

The man was arrested at 3:40 p.m. Friday at the Seminole County Sheriff's Department after the girl reported the man forced her to have mutual oral sex on Jan. 9, a sheriff's report said.

FINGERPRINT CONNECTION
An 18-year-old Altamonte Springs man has been charged in the Nov. 18 burglary of Royal AMC Jeep, Casselberry, after fingerprints reportedly matching his were found at the scene, a sheriff's report said.

Deputies reported interviewing the suspect at the Casselberry police station and charged him with the theft of $332 from a cash box at the dealership.

Gerald David Blaine of 124 Jackson St., was arrested at 8:19 p.m. Sunday. He was being held in lieu of $8,000 bond.

MIAMI GUN

Two Brooksville men have been charged with grand theft and possession of a firearm. Sanford police reported finding a shotgun reported stolen in Miami in the men's vehicle.

Paul McLane, 37, and James Thomas Smith, 38, were arrested at 1:45 a.m. Sunday on First Street in Sanford. They were being held in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

HATCHET MAN

Altamonte Springs police charged a man armed with a sheathed hatchet and knife with loitering, prowling and possession of burglary tools after he was spotted wandering between cars in the Altamonte Mall, Altamonte Springs, shortly after several reported vehicle break-ins in the area, police reported.

Police said the man told them he was waiting for a friend, but they searched for 20 minutes for the friend and didn't find him. They searched the suspect and in addition to the hatchet and knife he was reportedly wearing he also had a pair of pliers in his pocket. He also initially gave them a false name, a police report said.

Eddie Lee Butler, 22, of 393 Longwood Ave., was arrested at 6:53 p.m. Saturday. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Marlene Weas, 38, of 118 Clyde Ave., Longwood, reported to deputies a $1,300 computer was stolen from her home Friday or Saturday.

Jeffrey S. Thomas, 13, of 325 Shadow Oak Drive, Casselberry, told deputies his $250 rollerskates were stolen from a pile of skates at Semoran Skating Rink, Casselberry, around 11:30 p.m. Friday.

PROWLER POT

An 18-year-old Orlando man has been charged with night prowling and possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia after a sheriff's deputy found him trying to hide in his car parked at Lake Howell High School, Goldenrod, a sheriff's report said.

The suspect and his car were searched and the deputy reported finding several items of drug paraphernalia and a bag of pot in his sock.

Bryan C. Chadwick was arrested at 12:14 a.m. Saturday and was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

HOME ATTACK

An Apopka man reported to deputies he awakened to find three armed men in his home Saturday. He was hit on the head and the suspects fired a shot at him before fleeing, a sheriff's report said.

Walter Earl Lanehart, 59, of 5721 Bear Lake Circle, told deputies the incident occurred around 12:21 a.m. When Lanehart spotted the three, Spanish-speaking suspects, which he could not describe, walking around in his house he tried to escape through a front door, but was hit on the head, the report said.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Heavy snow, high winds and bitter cold stung the Great Lakes today, killing at least three people, reducing visibility to near zero, closing dozens of schools and exhausting road crews working to clear 4-foot drifts. A 52-year-old vagrant was found dead of exposure Monday in Chicago. Two people were killed in Indiana car accidents on ice-slick roads. Wind and snow today closed about two dozen schools in Ohio. In Upper Michigan, school was canceled near Munising, located on the shore of Lake Superior. Temperatures that reached 49 degrees Monday melted much of the 13.5 inches of snow dumped on San Antonio by southern Texas' worst winter storm in 100 years. Authorities blamed the weather for five deaths and 800 car accidents in that storm. Twenty inches of snow covered Houghton, Mich., today and 6 inches fell by Monday night at South Bend, Ind. Up to a foot of snow was expected along Lake Erie in northeast Ohio, while northwest Pennsylvania braced for 8 inches. Northwest winds gusting to 35 mph combined with snow to reduce visibility to near zero in Ohio's Geauga and Ashtabula counties. Gusts of 40 mph in northern Indiana Monday night made it impossible for crews to clear roads. "We've got 3 to 4 foot drifts right now," said Denny Jones, highway commissioner in St. Joseph County, Ind. "If you cover the road right now, in 15 minutes time it's back to the same place it was before." Temperatures fell below zero today in Upper Michigan, where wind chills of 60 below were expected. The National Weather Service said wind chills between 20 and 30 below could push as far south as the central Appalachians. A frozen intake pipe in Lake Michigan Monday morning cut off water for 7,000 residents of Whiting, Ind. Officials using dynamite and chemicals cleared the pipe about 10 hours later and service was restored.

AREA FORECAST: Today partly sunny and cool. High near 60. Northwest wind 15 mph. Tonight fair and cold. Low mid 30s to around 40. Light north wind. Wednesday mostly sunny and continued cool. High around 60. Light wind.

AREA READINGS (9 a.m.): temperature: 47; overnight low: 45; Monday's high: 58; barometric pressure: 30.15; relative humidity: 63 percent; winds: northwest at 15 mph; rain: .02 inch; sunrise: 7:19 a.m., sunset 5:51 p.m.

WEDNESDAY TIDES: Daytona Beach: highs, 3:55 a.m., 4:16 p.m.; lows, 10:04 a.m., 10:05 p.m.; Port Canaveral: highs, 3:47 a.m., 4:08 p.m.; lows, 9:55 a.m., 9:56 p.m.; Bayport: highs, 10:30 a.m., 8:47 p.m.; lows, 3:44 a.m., 2:55 p.m.

BOATING FORECAST: St. Augustine to Jupiter Inlet out 50 miles — Small craft should exercise caution. Northwest wind 15 to 20 knots becoming north 15 knots tonight and northeast Wednesday. Sea 3 to 5 feet near shore and up to 6 feet offshore. Scattered showers ending this morning. Otherwise variable cloudiness.

EXTENDED FORECAST: Variable cloudiness with a chance of rain Thursday becoming fair and colder by Friday. Partly cloudy and a little warmer Saturday. Lows mid to upper 40s and Thursday and Saturday, but dropping to upper 30s Friday. Highs averaging near 65.

Passenger Says Crash Joke Is No Joke

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — A jury is deciding whether an airplane passenger, who was allowed to use the aircraft's public address system to joke that it was about to crash, is liable for a heart attack suffered by another passenger.

Deliberations begin today in a lawsuit filed by a 74-year-old woman's who said her heart attack was brought on by the other passenger's jokes.

Larry White was returning from Las Vegas with a group of 182 vacationers on Jan. 29, 1983, when he told the Air

California passengers the plane's landing gear was stuck and they were going to make a crash landing at the Rochester, Minn., airport.

But he tried to reassure passengers by saying the pilot had plenty of experience in such landings.

Adeline Miller claims she thought White's joke was true, that she suffered a heart attack during the charter flight and that her life has been ruined because of a nervous condition. Miller says she now has a "fear of flying," is claustrophobic and is even afraid to ride in cars.

"These were fears which did not exist before the Jan. 29, 1983, incident. There was a definite cause and effect relationship," said Jonathon Gallop, Miller's attorney. "The situation has not changed and she still has these problems."

Miller is seeking $50,000 in actual damages from White and Air California Inc. and more than $225,000 in punitive damages from the airline.

Geneva Man Fined $1,000 For Third DUI

A Geneva man had his driver license suspended for 10 years and fined $1,000 for his third DUI conviction.

Danny Michael Ruppe, 35, of Rt. 2, Osceola Road, also was sentenced to 1 year probation and 30 days in the Seminole County jail. He was given credit for 30 days served.

Ruppe was arrested Oct. 17 after his car was seen traveling at 105 mph on state Road 46 east of Sanford.

Charges of driving with a suspended driver license, unauthorized possession of a driver license and having an expired license plate on his vehicle were not prosecuted. Dismissed were charges of unlawful speed and failure to drive in a single lane.

Ruppe was ordered not to drive any motor vehicle anytime.

Drug Production War Comes Home To Roost

By Mark Schwed
 MIAMI (UPI) — The cocaine and marijuana trade in the Americas is undergoing a major shift — a result of forces as diverse as the assassination of a Colombian official and the modernization of pot growing in the United States.

Facing clear evidence that action in any one country will not necessarily reduce the hemispheric drug trade, drug enforcement officials are tempering their delight over Colombia's successes in its own backyard.

The Colombian Justice Minister, Rodrigo Lara Bonilla, was slain gangster-style on a busy Bogota street April 30. He had already begun a crackdown on his nation's extensive cocaine and marijuana trade, but after his murder Colombian authorities dramatically increased cocaine seizures, began spraying marijuana fields with the herbicide glyphosate, and extradited the first fugitives to the United States under a two-year-old drug treaty.

The changes are being felt in the United States where it hurts most — the drug dealer's pocketbook. In eight months, the wholesale price of one kilogram (2.2 pounds) of cocaine in Miami has gone up $9,000, from $26,000 to $35,000.

"We are elated," says Frank Chellino, spokesman for the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration in Miami, who says the price of cocaine is "directly related" to the events in Colombia. "We consider (the crackdown) one of the most encouraging signs we have seen in the narcotics area in years."

But the developments in Colombia also mean bad news for South Florida and America. The drug production problem is coming home to roost, with both homegrown marijuana and home-processed cocaine on the rise.

Cocaine cowboys are bypassing Colombia and setting up shop in the DEA's backyard, and new-wave farmers are making marijuana America's second most valuable agricultural product. It is a frustrating war for lawmen who are outgunned, outmanned, and outfinanced by the drug czars.

"If the American public is looking solely to law enforcement to solve the drug problem, it's not going to happen," Chellino states. "If they're looking at us to curtail it, to fight a containment war, then we're getting better at it."

The Cocaine Connection

Coca leaves are grown in Peru and Bolivia, then shipped to Colombia, where the chemicals ether and acetone are used to process paste from coca leaves into pearly-white cocaine. The Colombian crackdown already has diverted some of the processing to South Florida.

"You plug the hole out of Colombia and now you've got it sprouting up in other places: Venezuela, Central America and South Florida," Chellino says.

In all of 1983 the DEA seized 11 cocaine labs nationwide. In the first eight months of 1984, there were 19 labs closed down, with Florida leading the pack at 18.

"You figure it'll be up around 28 labs for the whole fiscal year, which is almost a 250 percent increase over the previous year," Chellino says.

The latest laboratory closed down by the DEA was in Miami. On Jan. 4, agents from the DEA and the Metro Organized Crime Bureau raided a dusty barn surrounded by cows, horses, chickens, dogs and cats. The squawking barnyard turned out to be a multimillion-dollar cocaine lab. Police found drums of highly flammable ether and acetone, chemicals used to process the drug, hidden under hay, feed and saddles. Also found: about 40 pounds of high grade cocaine.

This was not the culmination of months of investigation by special anti-drug forces. It was luck. Somebody smelled ether and called the cops.

There is no stopping the cocaine cowboys, who swapped six-shooters for sophisticated Mach-10 submachine guns and wage their war on land, sea and in the air.

Glenn Frey, a former member of the Eagles rock band, sings about the "lure of easy money" in his hit song, "Smuggler's Blues." "It's a losing proposition but one you can't refuse."

Those who have been unable to resist the lure include professional athletes, politicians, TV newsmen, famous actors and even federal drug agents.

—Former Miami Dolphins running back Mercury Morris, serving 15 years in prison, with no chance of parole, for dealing cocaine.

—Former Florida Senate President Mallory Horne, indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of laundering drug money and marijuana smuggling.

—Former Miami television sportscaster Harmon Wages (WXIA-TV) indicted Jan. 7 by a federal grand jury in Atlanta in an alleged national cocaine distribution ring that brought "multi-kilogram quantities" of cocaine from Miami into Atlanta for distribution to cities in Alabama, Ohio and Indiana.

—"Mike Hammer" actor Stacy Keach imprisoned in England for trying to smuggle cocaine into the states.

—DEA agent Harold "Slim" Lawrence, instrumental in prosecutions of several big-time narcotics dealers, indicted Aug. 1, 1984 on charges of providing "protection for illegal drug loads being smuggled into the Memphis (Tenn.) area" in exchange for more than $75,000 in payoffs.

Cocaine, once called the "nose candy" of the rich, is working its way well into the middle class. Dr. Arnold Washton of New York's Regent Hospital told the President's Commission on Organized Crime that 10 million Americans use cocaine at least once a month. The fastest-growing abuser group: the baby boom generation, aged 24-40. They are switching from marijuana to cocaine in alarming numbers and there is no way to stop it when the white powder flows like water into the states, mainly Miami. In fiscal 1983, 12,000 pounds of cocaine were seized in Miami — out of a nationwide total of 15,000 pounds. One year later the figure nearly doubled, to 21,500 pounds seized in Miami. Yet 1984 was the year of a cocaine glut, where prices dropped to lows of $26,000 a kilo. In Miami, high-grade cocaine can still be bought for $50 a gram, compared to the standard price of $100 elsewhere.

'If the American public is looking solely to law enforcement to solve the drug problem, it's not going to happen... If they're looking at us to curtail it, to fight a containment war, then we're getting better at it.'

"You need to do away with the coca plants," Chellino says. Despite the odds, the Reagan Administration's $1 billion-a-year war on drugs has had a significant effect in Miami itself. Since the South Florida Task Force was formed 2 1/2 years ago, agents have confiscated 3.5 million pounds of marijuana and 67,000 pounds of cocaine — a wholesale value of about $2 billion.

Daniel Murphy, chief of staff for Vice President George Bush and day-to-day coordinator of more than a dozen federal agencies involved in the anti-drug effort, says the federal task force in Miami has made smuggling more costly and dangerous than ever before.

But the war goes on. Murphy concedes the massive federal effort has not made a dent in cocaine smuggling, succeeding only in diverting a small percentage of shipments to other Gulf states.

The diversion has prompted Texas Gov. Mark White to call a "summit conference" in New Orleans Jan. 17. Attending will be government officials from Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, and Georgia — all concerned that the drug war is moving to their turf. Florida will be represented as well.

But the war is not confined to the Gulf. In Kingman, Ariz., a vacationing detective from the Mojave County Sheriff's Department was checking his coyote traps recently when he spotted two trucks driving away from an abandoned World War II airstrip. Four men were arrested and $1 billion worth of cocaine was seized.

The Homegrown Factor
 The Colombia crackdown may have little effect on marijuana use at home. The National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws believes marijuana has become America's second most valuable cash crop, worth $16.6 billion, right behind corn at $19.5 billion. NORML says 25 percent of the marijuana consumed in the United States is produced by 200,000 commercial growers and 4 million people who cultivate in basements and closets — the "Victory Gardens" of the 1980s.

The DEA disputes the figures, saying the homegrown weed is no more than 11 percent of the worldwide crop.

"I'm not surprised the DEA's figure is way off," says Kevin Zeese, national director of NORML. "Their biggest weakness is intelligence. They're usually several years behind what reality is."

NORML, which advocates the decriminalization of marijuana, listed the top five pot crop states as California, $2.5 billion; Hawaii, $1 billion; Oregon, $850 million; Kentucky, $800 million and North Carolina, $650 million. The organization said marijuana was one of the top three cash crops in 22 states and that it was the top cash crop in 10 states. Including Alabama, California, Hawaii, Idaho, New Mexico, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

"Prohibition has not worked.

They have glamorized the forbidden fruit," Zeese said. "Even before the Reagan administration's war on drugs, Colombian marijuana was having a hard time competing with U.S. growers."

"Colombian growers said, 'Why bother, let's switch to cocaine.' It's easier to transport, less bulk, and more profit," he said.

Zeese believes the only way to curb drug abuse is through education. "If we would reverse the federal budget for education and the federal budget for law enforcement, law enforcement would be out of business," he says.

"Right now, cocaine is where marijuana was 15 years ago — 11 million people use it every year. It could go over 30 million in a few years."

There is some increase in education activities by the DEA and FBI.

Ron Trethric, based at DEA headquarters in Washington, coordinates the Sports Drug Awareness Program, giving coaches and athletic directors "how-to information on developing drug awareness and prevention programs for student athletes, according to Trethric.

"We cover such topics as the profile of an athlete, the impact of drug and alcohol use on a team, how the coach fits in, and some ideas of where the coach can go for help," Trethric said.

"In my time, I saw them all. The penny post card, then the 3¢ stamp. All the way up to Zip Codes and Express Mail.

You don't spend 30 years of your life sorting mail without picking up a few tricks.

So now I'm passing one on: NCNB Extra Checking.

All you have to do is have your pension check and/or Social Security check deposited direct to NCNB, and they'll do something nice for you.

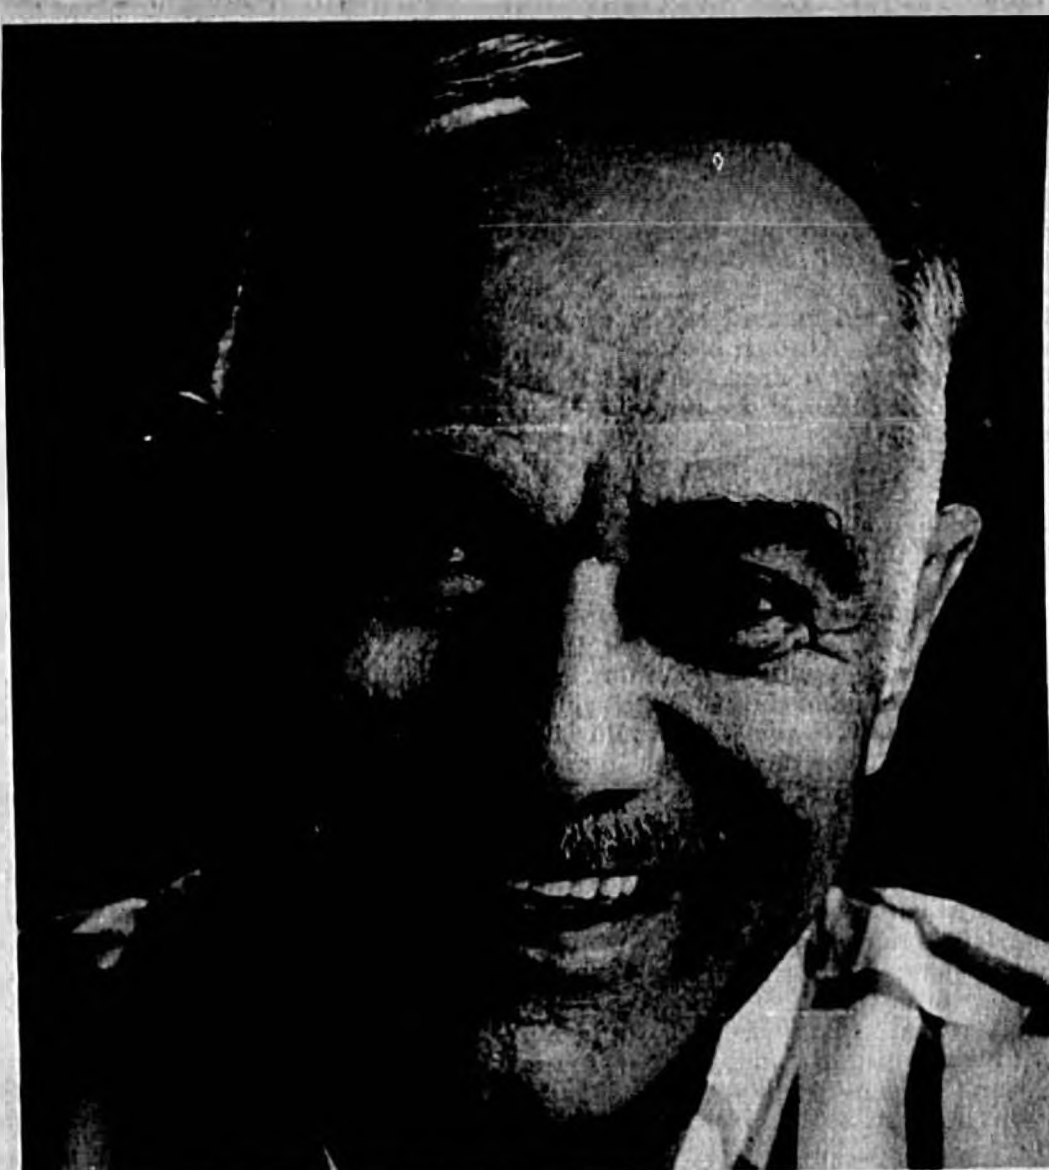

Write all the checks you want at no charge. Have all your personalized checks printed at no charge. You get an NCNB 24 card at no charge. It's good at banking machines all over the country. Plus, you get a standard size safe deposit box free for one full year.

Now, some places may offer some of this, some may offer others, but no other place we know offers it all. Some places make you keep a certain balance; NCNB doesn't.

So, why does NCNB do all this? Well, it's a lot like the business I used to be in: You've got to know the people in your neighborhood, know what they need, and then you've got to work to give 'em your best.

On that score, take it from me. NCNB delivers."

Afghans Alone ...

The most remarkable thing about each successive anniversary of the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan — we've now reached the fifth — is that the outgunned and outnumbered Afghans are still fighting. That fact speaks more eloquently than any words about courage, faith, and the capacity of the human spirit to endure in the face of seemingly insurmountable odds.

But simply congratulating the Afghans for continuing to resist after yet another year of death and destruction wrought by a brutal, rapacious superpower is a hollow gesture. What Afghans need from the outside world is not tributes but help.

One Afghan in every three is now either dead or a refugee. The new Soviet strategy, introduced last spring, of unrestricted bombing and shelling of rural villages and farms has driven Afghans from the land and brought about food shortages of increasing severity. Many of the Afghan refugees, children included, arriving at the Pakistan border show definite signs of malnutrition. And more and more aid requests from guerilla organizations cite food supplies as a critical deficiency.

Militarily, the guerillas have the initiative in much of Afghanistan. But they still lack adequate quantities of anti-tank and anti-aircraft weapons, ammunition of all sorts, medical supplies, field radios, and training. Chronic shortages of these and other essentials are verified by virtually every Western journalist who ventures inside Afghanistan to spend time with the mujahideen (holy warriors) resisting Soviet occupation.

And time no longer appears to be on the Afghans' side. The Soviets, heeding Mao and their own partisan experience during World War II, are out to dry up the population "sea" in Afghanistan that sustains the guerilla "fish."

Unable to defeat the guerillas militarily, the Soviets are using indiscriminate air strikes, artillery fire, and tank attacks to kill rural civilians and lay waste vast stretches of Afghan countryside. In countless hundreds of Afghan villages, farmers must choose either to flee or die. Whatever their choice, it means less food, shelter, and information for guerillas largely depending on the local population for these necessities.

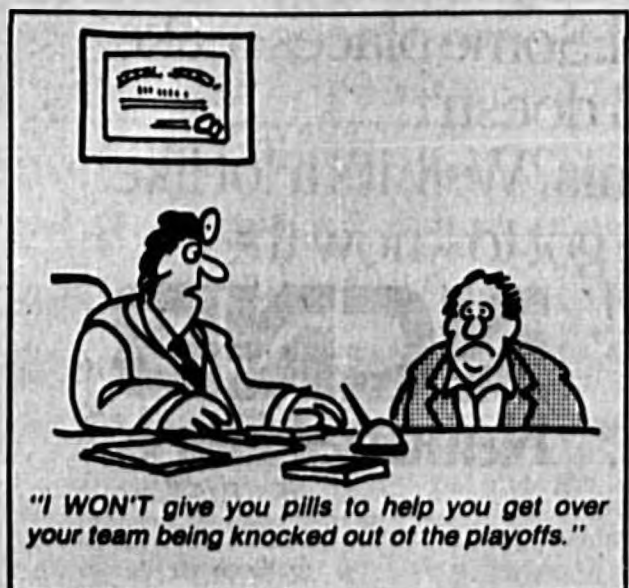

What all of this adds up to is an accelerating emergency for the people of Afghanistan as the Soviets consolidate their latest conquest and move 700 miles closer to the West's oil lifeline in the Persian Gulf. Yet the Afghans are left to fight on almost alone. Among the industrial democracies, only the United States provides direct, albeit clandestine, military aid in the form of arms and ammunition for Afghanistan's freedom fighters. To the great credit of the Reagan administration, this aid is now to be increased.

But most other Western governments offer only contributions for the Afghan refugees in Pakistan (guilt money?) and the occasional, halfhearted statement deploring Soviet intervention. And even these faint protestations now seem timed to avoid upsetting prospects for reviving East-West trade or striking some new arms agreement with the Kremlin. As for any sort of popular protest, the various "peace" movements in the West would rather condemn NATO than deplore half a million deaths in Afghanistan.

Six years ago, in his celebrated commencement address at Harvard University, Alexander Solzhenitsyn said the Western world had lost its "civil courage." That loss, he said, left Western leaders and the West's intellectual elite "tongue-tied and paralyzed when they deal with ... threatening forces, with aggressors." More recently, the distinguished French author and political commentator, Jean-Francois Revel, sounded a similar theme in his new book, How Democracies Perish.

Many in the West dismiss these judgments as unduly pessimistic. Most Afghans we suspect, would probably regard them as prophetic. But then, the mujahideen at least are preoccupied with more immediate concerns. The continuance of their war against the Soviet army.

Portfolio Switch For First Lady?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Veteran Reagan-watchers are pointing out that the first lady is the only first term member of the White House inner circle who is still around after the latest changing of the guard at the Executive Mansion. I don't wish to start any unfounded rumors but this might be a good time for a little speculation about her future.

If Nancy Reagan does take on new duties, I don't look for a straight one-for-one trade, such as occurred when White House Chief of Staff James Baker and Treasury Secretary Donald Regan swapped jobs.

Nor do I anticipate a simple resignation, such as is carrying Michael Deaver, the deputy chief of staff, into public relations.

Nor would I bet that Mrs. Reagan gets another appointment, such as is carrying White House Counselor Edwin Meese to new Senate confirmation hearings as attorney general designate.

No, it seems more likely that any difference in Mrs. Reagan's assignment will come about through merger, assimilation or consolidation, such as may have befallen Energy Secretary Donald Hodel.

Insiders report that when Hodel takes over the Interior Department as Secretary William Clark's successor, he will take the Energy Department over with him. In other words, the latter agency is marked for extinction.

This is the sort of deal I predict will be worked out for Mrs. Reagan, if any change is in the works. But what other arm of government might be taken over by the first lady?

Education is the obvious speculation. The president has spoken of abolishing the Education Department along with the Energy Department. However, Mrs. Reagan may feel she has too much to do as first lady to dismantle a cabinet office as well. I wouldn't be surprised to see her become deputy postmaster general, in addition to other duties.

It is true that Jackie Strange recently became the first female to occupy the no. 2 position in the Postal Service. I remind you, however, that Strange was once a high school English teacher. That would appear to qualify her to replace Terrel Bell as secretary of education.

Do you see the handwriting on the wall? Jackie Strange is again promoted and Mrs. Reagan joins the Postal Service. Or the Postal Service joins Mrs. Reagan. Whichever.

It dovetails beautifully. According to its critics, the Postal Service doesn't deliver the mail on schedule anyway. I have at hand an Aug. 9 Congressional Record excerpt which was delivered Jan. 10.

So Mrs. Reagan should have plenty of time to get her hair done, visit her dressmaker, appear in public service television spots and otherwise continue her functions as first lady.

Plus, she would draw a $72,200 annual salary, which is $72,200 more than she gets for being the president's wife.

This scenario, as previously noted, is highly speculative at this point. But if the first lady soon starts carrying a mailbag, remember you saw it here first.

Lay Catholics Dispute

America's Catholic bishops achieved a more than respectable quotient of headlines and favorable comment for their post-election endorsement of Walter Mondale, in the form of their much-ballyhooed pastoral letter, "Catholic Social Teaching and the U.S. Economy."

Least non-Catholics assume that the bishops have a monopoly on Catholic economic thought, however, a band of brilliant Catholic American economists, philosophers, and ethicists, the Lay Commission on Catholic Social Teaching, produced a prudent and eloquent defense of the American economic system that the bishops think so little of.

The Lay Commission is eminently gentle and differential in objecting to the bishops' premise that obsolescent liberal bromides should be the wave of the future. The bishops' statement, weighed down with moral obfuscation, calls on government to ensure no more than three percent unemployment, "adequate" welfare budgets, massive job training programs, expanded, government-run day care, and to hammer nearly every other plank of the Democratic Platform into the economy.

The Lay Commission respectfully disavows. Their report diplomatically reminds the bishops of the foundations of Catholic social thought — the inalienable dignity of the individual, the social nature of human life, and the principle of subsidiarity, that is, the intricate relationships men create with each other, in families, churches and other groups, including business enterprises. The Commission explains pointedly that "social justice is not a euphemism for collectivism ... Not all who cry 'social justice' speak for the genuine Catholic conception."

While the bishops deprecate entrepreneurship and individual achievement in the name of some vacuous notion of communal justice, the Commission Report reminds them — and us — of the teaching of Pope Leo XIII in his encyclical, Rerum Novarum: "Catholic social thought holds that the right to private property is a natural right, guaranteeing to conscience the means of self-expression, and holding the state in check."

No doubt, non-Catholics wonder at this strange debate within the Catholic church, over matters apparently so far removed from faith and liturgy.

Poland's Leader Man In The Middle

WASHINGTON — An investigative reporter must expect (though of course he does not) to be widely reviled, especially by authorities with a low tolerance for dissent.

My writings have become so intolerable to some rulers that they cannot bear my presence.

Last year, the Mexican authorities took offense at some columns I wrote about their corrupt ways and introduced legislation barring me from Mexico for life. Now I seem to be even more loathsome to the Polish authorities who have barred me from their unhappy land.

For a while they teetered on the awful brink of admitting me to Poland despite my shortcomings. They first rejected my application for a visa; then a Polish diplomat turned up in my office to assure me that no inhospitality was intended and that I would be welcome if only I would apply again.

I did so and was rejected again. When I sought an explanation from the Polish Embassy, a less agreeable

JEFFREY HART

Two Casualties

In a recent column I raised the idea that the premises behind the McCarthy investigations was correct. He was, for all the Barnum-like media publicity he generated, operating on the assumption that there had been a massive penetration of vital institutions by communist agents, and that our loyalty-security program and our counter-intelligence had been ineffective in countering it.

But I would like to return to the case of the late J. Robert Oppenheimer. I have followed the case intensively over the years, but these reflections are prompted by my re-reading of a book by the late Haakon Chevalier called Oppenheimer: The Story of a Friendship, published in 1965.

The general public impression of Oppenheimer was persecuted and forced from public service by the Gray Commission in 1954, which investigated crucial aspects of his career and ended by denying him access to classified material. Oppenheimer had been director of the scientific end of the Manhattan Project and was known as the father of the atom bomb. He was also on virtually every important committee dealing with atomic policy. Central here is the strange "Chevalier incident," Chevalier being the author of the memoir under discussion.

Haakon Chevalier, a professor of literature at Berkeley and a translator, held dual French-American citizenship. Whether he was a member of the Communist Party is not clear, but he was committed to the "ideal of international socialism." He was an intimate friend of Oppenheimer. In spring of 1943, Chevalier was approached by one George Eltenton, an English chemical engineer active in West Coast leftist circles, who asked Chevalier to approach Oppenheimer with the goal of securing atomic intelligence for the Soviets.

Oppenheimer behaved peculiarly. First, he delayed for several months before discussing it with military intelligence investigators. Next, he fabricated — or so he later said — a "cock-and-bull story" that made the whole "incident" sound even more serious.

When the Gray Commission investigated him, he admitted that he had lied. The Gray Commission decided that it could not determine whether he was lying in 1943 or in 1954, and denied him his access.

It seems clear to me that Oppenheimer was a communist for all practical purposes from the late 1930s until the early 1940s.

My own judgment is that until the atom bomb project Oppenheimer had inhabited what amounted to a communist culture. His brother was an open communist who had been killed in Spain. Practically everyone with whom he socialized was some sort of communist sympathizer.

But he began to shift out of this world during the early forties. He was running Los Alamos, seeing FDR. He moved in a broader, political world. He was to become a world figure.

But the communist culture in 1943 was a dark albatross. He knew that our security agencies knew all about it. In the end, his lies and his ambiguities destroyed him.

Sen. Joseph McCarthy was censured and destroyed 30 years ago. No one now thinks Oppenheimer was guilty of anything. Everyone thinks McCarthy was guilty of everything. They were both casualties of a civil war that in various forms is still going on.

ANTHONY HARRIGAN

1985: Year Of Tumult

As the columnist eyes 1985, he discerns the unfolding panorama of American life. It is a landscape full of potential for exciting happenings.

The most important developments take place in our towns and cities and on our farms. These are the basic economic and societal developments that provide the shape and focus of our society. Despite the enormous influence of the Washington political establishment and the major media, the fundamental decisions about the kind of country America will be are made by the people in their homes and communities.

Nevertheless, much of our attention is focused on the political stage in Washington where our representatives are supposed to work the people's will. The action on this stage this year will be very important.

We shall gain a new understanding of the outlook and goals of President Ronald Reagan as he moves into his second term. He is less constrained by politics in the sense that he won't seek office again. That very reason also may limit his ability to attain his goals.

In the four years ahead, many people will attempt to capture the mind of the President. One of the early attempts at this is likely to come in the maneuvers over arms negotiations. Those in the government who are prepared to sacrifice real security for a paper agreement are sure to do everything in their power to get the President to endorse their approach.

Other political centers will be at work. The U.S. Senate has an able and ambitious leader in Robert Dole. His direction of the Senate majority will bear close watching, not out of hostility but out of concern that he adheres to the philosophy Mr. Reagan has brought to the national government. Citizens also will be watching Vice President George Bush to gauge to what extent he develops a larger role in the administration. Indeed one prominent feature of 1985 will be the emergence of a number of figures who are eager to succeed Mr. Reagan in the White House.

Close attention also ought to be paid to the activities and approaches of those major political figures in the liberal camp. Will there be a real move toward a centrist position, or will the Capitol Hill liberal leadership continue to adhere to the failed policies of the past?

All in all, one can be sure that the national landscape will be full of excitement and turmoil in 1985.

diplomat made it quite clear that I am as popular in Poland as a polcat at a lawn party.

The best conclusion that I can draw from the conflicting comments of the Polish emissaries is that they don't want me to get together with Solidarity leader Lech Walesa. I have news for the Polish authorities: Through underground contacts, I have concluded the arrangements I wanted to make in person.

I have helped arrange for Hollywood producers Ralph Andrews and Tom Voias to bring to the screen the gallant story of Lech Walesa. The script will be written by veteran screenwriter Lionel Chetwynd, who can also expect to be barred from Poland hereafter. Incidentally, the Polish patriot won't get a dime for the rights; all royalties will be paid to the Solidarity movement.

Had I been allowed to visit Poland, I would also have sought an interview with the Polish general who rules the country, Wojciech Jaruzelski. Now I must rely instead on intelligence reports.

There is no question that Jaruzelski runs a military dictatorship, maintains concentration camps for political foes and employs all the ugly arts of the police state. As defense minister in the late 1960s, he reportedly had a hand in the anti-Semitic purge that drove many of the few remaining Jews out of Poland.

Certainly a free press has no place in his domestic schemes; he has helped liquidate free expression in Poland. Only last month, his riot police assailed demonstrators in Gdansk and Wroclaw; they also blocked Walesa from laying a wreath at a workers' monument.

Yet Jaruzelski is hobbled by vulnerabilities inherited from a bleak history. He is the son of Polish aristocrats who were executed by the Soviets during World War II. Spared, he retreated from Poland with the Red Army and was virtually raised by the Russians.

He marched back into his homeland as the Nazis cleared out. Despite his noble lineage, he rose through the ranks in the Soviet-sponsored Polish regimes. Apparently, he is trusted by the Soviet military but distrusted by the Soviet secret police.

Our own intelligence analysts tend to see Jaruzelski as a man in a tight corner who played along with the Russians rather than risk the fate of his parents — a leader who now threads his way between the demands of the Kremlin and the needs of the Polish people.

Still, the general — who wears dark glasses because of weak eyes and a back brace because of back problems — remains an enigma to U.S. analysts. They aren't quite sure whether he's a clever Soviet stooge or a cautious Polish patriot.

He presides, meanwhile, over a society on the edge of ruin, bolstered by the multiplication of debts. He has been obliged to borrow heavily from the West, whose news sleuths he holds at bay.

It's Not Easy To Junk A Nuclear Power Station

By Tom Tiede
 SHIPPINGPORT, Pa. (NEA) — The nuclear power industry was born in a few scruffy buildings here in 1957, and the time from infancy to adolescence has been anything but easy. Indeed, it may be that the business has generated as many mega-problems as megawatts over the last quarter century.

Now the crashing atoms are creating one more dilemma. Some of the original nuclear plants have grown old with use, their pumps are corroding and their pipes and valves have become too unreliable to maintain. That means the power industry must now begin the process of getting rid of them.

They can't, after all, be simply closed and forgotten. The plants are potentially the most deadly chambers on earth. They have been manufacturing radioactivity as well as electricity over the years, and much of the stupefying byproduct will remain lethally toxic for hundreds of millennia.

So the plants will have to be dismantled and buried. The industry calls it "decommissioning." The Nuclear Regulatory Commission says that as many as 20 of the nation's 86 plants will be closed because of age in the next decade, and each of them will have to be torn apart piece by piece.

And therein lies the latest problem. No one has ever demolished an atomic facility before. The government has dismantled a few experimental reactors, one of them a 16 megawatt affair, but that's comparable peanuts. The commercial plants wearing out today are from 63 to 1,000 megawatts.

In other words, the industry is going to have to learn how to do it by doing it. And it will start here at the Shippingport Atomic Power Station, 20 miles northwest of Pittsburgh. Shippingport was the first commercial plant put up in the United States, and it will soon be the first to come down.

Decommissioning is scheduled to begin this year.

The job promises to be monumental. Even the contemplation is bogging. Shippingport is one of the smallest as well as the first nuclear power plant, its 72 megawatt reactor is a relatively diminutive 770 tons, but the NRC has spent two years and $6 million to write 12 volumes of instruction on the destruction.

The destruction will take a work force of from 100 to 300 people. And the government says it will take at least 1.2 million man-hours to complete. General Electric has been hired to do the dismantling, and the NRC has assigned John Schreiber, a physicist, to oversee and monitor the work.

Schreiber says the work will start with decontamination. The force will scrub the plant's radioactive infrastructure. Some of it will be done with plain soap and water, some with high-pressure hose. The deeply embedded toxins might be stripped away with a paint film that is like cellophane tape.

In any case, the cleaning will be done carefully. The laborers will have protective clothing, and the technicians will have remote controls and robotics. Schreiber says all tools will be destroyed after use, and water will be sprayed on dust; the idea is to keep the lid on the radioactivity.

Schreiber says the reactor is too big to take away by truck. So it will be encased in concrete and placed with other sizable materials on a barge. The cargo will then be shipped down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, through the Panama Canal, and thence to an atomic graveyard near Richland, Wash.

That trip will be the most ominous part of the Shippingport project. The reactor will be on the water for two weeks, or 9,000 miles. It will be the first time a used reactor has been carried through the states and on the high seas. Even Schreiber admits there is always a chance of an accident.

He doesn't believe it would be a catastrophic accident, however. He says the public would be safe: "We've considered all of the risks, and even the worst ones are not so bad. If something happened to the reactor, for example, we don't think anyone could receive more than five millirems of radioactivity."

Schreiber says that's insignificant. People get zapped more by X-ray machines. They can get comparable exposures in some granite buildings.

Train Derails In Ethiopia

392 Die As Cars Plunge Into Ravine In Country's Worst Crash

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — Police are holding the engineer of a train that crashed in eastern Ethiopia, killing 392 people and injuring nearly 400 others in the worst train crash in the African nation's history.

Officials Monday began investigating why four coaches of the train carrying some 1,000 people from Dire Dawa to the Ethiopian capital of Addis Ababa Sunday derailed and plunged off a 40-foot high bridge into a ravine.

The state-run Ethiopian News Agency, ENA, monitored in Nairobi, said Monday 392 people were killed and 370 were injured in the crash near the town of Awash, some 90 miles east of Addis Ababa. The agency said the engineer was being held pending investigation led by the Ethiopia's Transport and Communications Minister Yussuf Ahmed.

The funeral for 282 people was held at Awash Monday, while the remains of the other victims were claimed by relatives, the news agency said.

It said helicopters, along with health ministry officials, Red Cross and hospital workers, and members of the Ethiopian Army helped get the injured to a hospital.

A high-level team of government officials inspected the crash site and visited the wounded. The accident, the worst in the nation's history, occurred on the 500-mile railway between Addis Ababa and the neighboring Republic of Djibouti, which has been used over recent months to transport foreign food aid for famine victims in Ethiopia.

Some 300,000 Ethiopians died last year in the worst drought in African history.

The line, which is run jointly by Ethiopia and Djibouti, carries about 40 percent of Ethiopia's imports and 60 percent of its exports, and the closure during the Ogaden war cost both Djibouti and Ethiopia millions of dollars.

Weak Laws Allow Strip Miners To Destroy Historic Sites, NBC Says

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Interior Department under Ronald Reagan has enabled strip miners to destroy at least 16,000 historic sites by weakening or failing to enforce laws to protect the sites, NBC News reported.

The network said the department's Office of Surface Mining has failed to comply with the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, designed to protect the 10,000 historic and 6,000 archaeological sites.

J. Rodney Little, president of the National Conference of State Historic Preservation Officers, told NBC the sites range from "significant frontier log cabins to 18th Century historic houses."

"The situation is the worst it's ever been," Little said, referring to the past four years during the tenure of President Reagan.

He added, "The Office of Surface Mining in this administration has interpreted the popular mood toward regulatory reform as a license simply not to obey the law and they're doing it wholesale."

Thomas King of the Council on Historic Preservation also said the Interior Department was not complying with the 1966 act, which requires agencies to consider the effects of their actions on historic buildings and sites.

The Office of Surface Mining said in a statement to the network it was "aware of some concern" over the sites and was meeting with the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation "to improve procedures."

The network also said Sunday former Interior Secretary James Watt seriously diluted federal laws on strip mining near graveyards, threatening cemeteries throughout the Appalachian region.

Several environmental groups have filed suit to challenge the new regulations, the network said.

Yale Students Protest Campus Strike

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — More than two dozen students fed up with a white-collar workers' strike briefly occupied the office of Yale University's president but left after he assured them he would act "in good faith" to prevent the strike from resuming Saturday.

On Monday, the first day of second semester classes after the holiday break, 28 students stationed themselves inside the Woodbridge Hall office and refused to budge until meeting with A. Bartlett Giamatti, president of the Ivy League college.

Although the students initially sought a signed pledge, they departed after 90 minutes and the meeting with Giamatti. Campus police were at the scene but there were no arrests.

Tony Gilpin, a spokeswoman for the students, said they demanded Giamatti "make the commitment to the students at Yale to act in good faith to prevent a strike and substantially compromise on outstanding issues between the university and Local 34 and Local 35" of the Federation of University Employees.

"We would have liked to have a signed statement," said a senior participant who declined to identify herself. "He didn't say anything new but we feel we were successful" in conveying how the students regard the prospect of a renewed strike.

About 1,500 clerical and technical workers suspended a 10-week strike Dec. 3 for the Christmas holidays. They began the strike Sept. 28 over a first contract in which they sought improved salaries, benefits and job security.

Bargaining between the two resumed last Tuesday. Both sides have decided not to comment on the negotiations.

"Today is the first day of classes," Gilpin said. "Students are saying one semester of this is bad enough. We can't go through it again."

Talks on a new contract between Yale and the affiliated Local 35, composed of maintenance and food service workers, have been going on since last December and progress has been reported.

When the mostly female white-collar unit suspended its strike, spokesmen said the strike would resume Saturday if no settlement is reached. The union has accused Yale of economically discriminating against women and minorities.

The impact of the strike was intensified by the 1,000 members of the blue collar union who refused to cross the picket lines at many of Yale's 200 buildings.

The combined disruption led to the shutting down of dining halls, the forcing of 400 classes off campus, accumulations of garbage in dormitories and reduction in library hours.

Some graduate students have voted to withhold tuition payments for the second semester.

'Hey Sailor, You Need A Shave'

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Navy Senior Chief Petty Officer Fletcher Tucker ran his fingers along his clean-shaven cheeks and mused, "My wife and two kids back East have never seen me without it."

The "it" is Tucker's beard of 17 years, which recently had a naval engagement with a razor as part of the service's new uniform regulations.

Shaving has increased sharply in the Navy since Jan. 1, when the new clean-check regulation went into effect.

The 24-year Navy man, attached to the chaplain's office at North Island Naval Air Station, spoke of his late beard like a lost friend.

"It was well kept. It met all uniform regulations. It complied with grooming standards. I miss it."

"I feel like I'm being punished for something and I don't know what," he said.

Many Navy people say the new grooming rules mark an end to the Zumwalt era. Adm. Elmo Zumwalt, former chief of naval operations, liberalized the code in the 1970s, dropping the bell-bottom uniform for enlisted men and letting them grow beards.

"He thought Navy people should look like civilians," said one young officer.

Zumwalt is now retired. Not only are beards disappearing, but Navy people now eat in a mess hall again. Instead of a "dining facility," it's all part of a return to earlier traditions.

Navy Adm. James Watkins, Chief of Naval Operations, said in an order radioed to all Navy commands last Dec. 14: "All Navy men are to be clean-shaven except for neatly trimmed, military-appearing mustaches."

Boys: Changes At The Top

Merthie, J. Stewart Move Up In Points, Blocked Shots

Two changes in leadership and a tie developed following last week's games concerning the county's prep basketball players. Lake Mary's Darryl Merthie took over the scoring lead. Oviedo's James Stewart moved into the top spot for blocked shots and Oviedo's Bernell Simmons tied for the free throw percentage leaders.

Merthie, who helped Lake Mary upset Spruce Creek Friday, poured in 45 points for the week to boost his average to 19.2 and overtake Lake Howell's Efram Brooks. Brooks fell to 17.5.

Stewart, the Lions' 6-4 center, helped Oviedo to the .500 mark (6-6) by swatting away eight opponents' shot to run his season total to 25 and an average of 2.1 per game.

Simmons, in the closest contested battle, pulled into an exact tie with Brooks. Simmons has made 36 of 46 for 78.26 percent. Brooks has connected on 54 of 69 for the same 78.26 percent.

Lake Brantley's Greg Courtney continued to lead the rebounders with a 9.3 average. Despite the 6-8 giant's stats, Lake Brantley coach Bob

Prep Basketball

Peterson said it could be better with a little break from the officials.

"They jump on Courtney like a new ride at Epcot," said the colorful coach.

Merthie, who picked up 10 steals last week, still leads that category with 3.3 per game. Daryl Williams, who quit the Seminole team last week, is the still the assists leader with 4.8 per game.

Along with two of the categories, the Five Star Conference also had a shift in leadership. Seabreeze, the No. 1 ranked 3A team in the state, handed DeLand its first loss and moved one-half game of the Blue Darters with a 6-1 mark.

In action tonight, the Fighting Seminoles are home against Apopka. Lake Mary entertains Lake Brantley. Lyman travels to Spruce Creek. Lake Howell hosts Seabreeze and DeLand welcomes Mainland.

Bates' Jam Sinks VCC

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

There comes a time in just about every game where the "closer" enters. It's his job to put the game out of reach.

Of all the closers who come to mind, Greg "Skywalker" Bates is one of the most dramatic. Take Monday night for example.

Valencia Community College was hanging perilously close to Seminole Community College. The upstart Matadors even led for some time at the beginning of the second half.

And, with 2:28 to play, they were entertaining upset illusions as they trailed by only four points. Enter the "Skywalker." Teammate Linny Bates fired too hard on a close shot and Bates went airborne. He clutched the ball with both hands and viciously slammed it through the hoop.

VCC never threatened again as SCC took an 80-70 victory before 199 fans at the SCC Health Center. The Raiders improved to 13-7 overall and 2-1 in the Mid-Florida Conference. The Matadors dropped to 5-12 and 1-2.

"Coach (Bill Payne) also tells us to crash the boards," said Bates, a sophomore from Lexington, Ky. "The game was kind of dead, so I figured I'd get things moving and pick up the crowd."

The jam demoralized the Matadors, too. "I think it kind of drained them," continued Bates. "They'd been fighting pretty hard to come back, but they didn't expect the dunk."

Bates' acrobatics inspired an otherwise unmotivated showing by the Raiders, something which has Payne and players worried. "There's just not a hell of a lot of intensity out there," said Payne, who made a point of its absence during a stirring halftime talk. "I don't know who told these guys they were great basketball players, but they just can't show up and beat teams."

Which is what SCC tried to do in the first half when it traded baskets with VCC and fell behind, 35-30, at the intermission. A half-court trap ignited a few steals, though, and strong efforts by 6-5 Brent Baird, Kenny Edwards (15 points), Grace (12 points and six steals), Greg "Slim" Johnson (nine rebounds) and Bates (11 points and nine boards) did the rest.

"We just didn't hustle," said Baird, who scored 11 points and played a superb floor game. "If we hustle, there isn't a team in Florida we can't play with. We showed that against Miami Dade North." The Raiders lost in overtime to the state's No. 1 team.

The Raiders picked up that hustle in the final 10 minutes as guard Shannon Greer came off the bench to spark the drive. Greer found Calvin "Kiki" Bryant for a basket to give SCC the lead for good at 55-54 with 10 minutes to play.

Artis Johnson then snatched a rebound at one end and went coast-to-coast for a layup.

SCC hosts Santa Fe Wednesday. There is no charge for admission and the up-off is a 7:30 p.m.

Tribe Gets Breather Before Lady Patriots

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

By the end of the first quarter Monday, Sanford's Lady Seminoles had already run up a 20-8 lead over Apopka's Lady Blue Darters. So when the players walked back to the bench after the quarter a Tribe fan said, "Ya'll are just practicin'."

He was right. Actually, it was a much-needed breather for the Lady Seminoles who have played one of the toughest schedules in the state this season. Four players scored in double figures Monday, led by Mona Benton's 29 points and 12 assists, as the Lady Tribe breezed to a 91-29 rout of the Lady Darters in Five Star Conference action at Seminole High.

Seminole, ranked sixth in the state 4A prep poll, improved to 13-4 overall and 6-1 in the Five Star with the win. Seminole goes up against Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots in a 3A conference clash Thursday at Lake Brantley against the eighth-ranked Lady Patriots. Apopka fell to 1-10 overall and 1-6 in the conference with the loss.

"With the schedule we've played, it's nice to get a breather," Seminole coach Ron Merthie said. "Now we're going to get ready for the big one at Lake Brantley Thursday."

After gaining a 20-8 advantage at the end of one quarter, Seminole outscored Apopka, 27-7, in the second to Lake a 47-15 halftime lead. Merthie had told his team in the first quarter that, "If we can't press Apopka we can't press anyone."

Seminole came out in a 1-3-1

Basketball

press in the second quarter and forced 15 Apopka turnovers.

"I'm trying to get them to do the press right," Merthie said. "They also have to keep working on the team concept. Teamwork is the key to our success."

The Tribe took a 65-29 lead after three quarters and held the Darters scoreless in the fourth quarter while scoring 20 points.

Behind Benton's 29-point barrage, Temika Alexander poured in 18, Catherine "Kitty" Anderson tallied 14, Andell "Soul" Smith contributed 11 and Revonda Wallace did a good job off the bench with nine points.

Beatrice Smith ripped down a game-high 13 rebounds while Anderson grabbed 11. Anderson also dished out seven assists and collected four steals.

LADY HAWKS FALL

In other Five Star Conference action Monday, Donnela Wesley and Michelle Efferson combined for 49 points as Seabreeze's Lady Sand Crabs overpowered Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks, 85-52, at Lake Howell High.

Joyce Shaw pumped in 15 points and grabbed 11 rebounds to lead Lake Howell which fell to 3-12 overall and 1-7 in the conference, the Lady Hawks go up against Lyman's Lady Greyhounds Thursday at Lyman.

Behind Shaw for the Lady Hawks, Patti Rae connected for 12 points, Jolee Johnson added six points and three assists and Sherod Keeton pulled down eight rebounds.

Seabreeze, which dropped a tough overtime decision to DeLand on Friday, put the game away early Monday by running up a 43-23 halftime lead.

Jones Thwarts Oviedo Upset Bid

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

ORLANDO — Oviedo's Lady Lions played their best 30 minutes of the season Monday night at Jones High. Unfortunately for Oviedo, the game is 32 minutes long.

Oviedo committed four costly turnovers in the last two minutes Monday as Jones' Tigers came back to claim a 44-40 victory in Orange Belt Conference action.

"We had the lead for 30 minutes but let it slip away in the last two," Oviedo coach John Thomas said. "We had a chance to knock off the top dog in the conference but we threw some balls away that we shouldn't have in the last two minutes."

The loss dropped the Lady Lions to 5-10 overall and 3-2 in the conference. Oviedo hosts Osceola Kissimmee Thursday night.

After the teams battled to an 18-18 tie at halftime, the Lady Lion came out blazing in the third quarter and outscored the Tigers, 12-5, to take a 30-23 lead into the fourth period.

Oviedo led by as much as 10 points in the fourth quarter before Jones came roaring back. Jones took over the lead with two minutes left and never relinquished it the rest of the way.

Mary Lokera, coming off a back injury that kept her out of the last game, led the Lions with 14 points and nine rebounds. Stephanie Nelson added nine points and nine boards while Natalie Barth contributed six points and Michelle Eck tossed in six points and grabbed six rebounds. The Lions definitely misused the services of Brenda Redway, the second-leading rebounder behind Lokera, who was out sick Monday night.

Arlene Roche led Jones with a game-high 16 points. The Tigers won the game on the free throw line where they hit 12 of 25 shots compared to 6 of 8 for the Lions. Oviedo had one more field goal than Jones (17-16).

"Except for that bad spurt at the end, it was our best game of the year," Thomas said. "We allowed the tempo down a bit and played really good defense. We stopped them (Jones) from getting the easy shot most of the night."

Tribe Freshmen, Lake Mary Girls JV Remain Unbeaten

Seminole High continued to roll through its schedule Monday night with a 59-39 victory over Lake Howell's Silver Hawks in freshman basketball action at Lake Howell High.

The Tribe frosh, 18-0 last year, improved to 11-0 for the season. Seminole takes on Lake Brantley Thursday night at 7 at Lake Brantley.

"We haven't played them (Brantley) yet so I don't know what they have," Seminole coach Bob Klein said. "We're going up to Gainesville on the 26th (Saturday) to play Buchholz. They're the best team we've played this year and I expect a tougher game up there."

The Tribe ran up a 14-4 lead after one quarter and increased it to 19 points, 34-15, at halftime. Seminole sealed the victory in the third quarter and took a 50-26 lead into the fourth.

Andre Whitney again led the way for Seminole with a game-high 17 points and nine assists. Ernest Lewis joined Whitney in double figures with 11 points. Craig Walker played crazy eights Monday as he had eight points, eight rebounds and eight blocked shots. Walter

OVIDEO OFF TO BEST START

In other freshman action Monday, Oviedo's Lions ran their record to 7-3 with a 65-44 victory over Lake Brantley's Patriots at Oviedo High.

"It's the best start ever for an Oviedo freshman team," Lion coach Bernie Barbour said. "Our only losses are to Seminole (twice) and Lake Mary (by six points). We play Lake Mary again Thursday and I think we can beat 'em."

Thursday's Lake Mary-Oviedo matchup will be played at 7 at Oviedo High.

John Pettit, who went into Monday's game averaging 19 points, led the way for the Lions again as he poured in a game-high 21 points. Chris Fore added 15. Robbie King tossed in nine. Pete Lingard contributed eight and J.D. O'Neill chipped in with seven.

IN BRIEF

Expanded Oviedo Little League Schedules 3 Registration Dates

Oviedo Little League will conduct its registration of players in Oviedo at the Women's Club on King Street on two Saturdays, Jan. 19 and 26, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., and on Wednesday, Jan. 23, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Prospective players must bring a parent or guardian and an official certificate of birth. The "donation" is again $25 per player, and this includes a team picture for each youngster for whom payment is made.

The league will operate T-ball, Minor, Major and Senior division baseball with a Big League program to begin later. Due to lack of interest, there will be no softball program. Boys and girls who are 8-years old by Aug. 1 are eligible for T-ball, and the Senior League takes youngsters who are no older than 15 by Aug. 1.

The expanded Oviedo Little League territory includes Winter Springs, all of the Tusawilla area, everything north of Red Bug Road to route 438 to include Casselberry and part of the area south Red Bug to the county line. It continues to include everything north and east of Oviedo within the St. Johns River and Lakes Jessup, Harney and Puzzle, that is, Geneva and Chuluota areas.

The schedule of events following registration is as follows:

- Saturday, Feb. 2 and 9, 9 a.m.: Senior and Major tryouts.
- Saturday, March 9: first T-ball games.

Martina Wins 100th Singles Title

WASHINGTON (UPI) — After becoming only the second woman to earn 100 career singles titles Monday, Martina Navratilova sat back and savored the accomplishment.

"It not only shows that you win a lot, but that you stay around for a while," said the 11-year pro who has completely dominated women's tennis since 1982.

She netted the milestone by downing a peppy Manuela Maleeva, 17, in the finals of a $150,000 tournament held at George Washington University's Smith Center, 6-3, 6-2. The tournament was sponsored by Virginia Slims. "There aren't many people who have 100 tournaments," she added. Not many means one — Chris Evert-Lloyd, who has 132 career singles titles.

Winning the 100th title was "a pressureless type of situation," she said. "There wasn't a lot of pressure on my 100th win. I knew sooner or later I would win it. I could relax."

Navratilova, a seven-time champion of the Washington tournament, took $28,000 for winning, adding to her $8.5 million career winnings.

Jordan Improves, Bulls Triumph

United Press International

It happened again Monday night — Michael Jordan had his best game of the year.

Although it's hard to believe, the brilliant Chicago rookie is improving with each contest. In his first appearance since accomplishing the NBA's most awesome feat — selling out the Richfield Coliseum Jordan recorded 35 points, 14 rebounds and 15 assists in powering the Bulls to a 122-113 triumph over the Denver Nuggets.

Jordan, although entering the contest as the NBA's No. 7 scorer, showed he has that superstar quality of dominating without necessarily putting points on the board.

"They kinda didn't pay much attention to me at first, so I passed off and got some boards," said Jordan, who had only 9 points at halftime. "In the second half, I was able to sneak up on them and score a lot."

Jordan scored 6 points in a critical stretch in the closing minutes to help Chicago, which trailed by a point entering the final period.

"He participated in every phase of the offense," said Bulls Coach Kevin Loughery.

Owners Force Out Simmons?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chet Simmons, who resigned as commissioner of the U.S. Football League Monday, may have been forced out by some of the league's more powerful owners.

No reason was immediately given for Simmons' resignation. However, the shift in leadership shows that some of the new owners wanted their own man.

"We're sorry to see Chet resign but it was not unexpected," said Arizona Outlaws owner and general manager Bill Tatham Jr. "Believe me, it was expected and was the end result of a long period of work of trying to decide what to do as the league evolves and the requirements of the commissioner change."

The USFL was formed as a 12-team spring league. Last year, however, it was announced the league would move its schedule to the fall of 1986 so it could compete with the established NFL.

The league did not name a replacement for Simmons and said a search has begun for a successor. A new commissioner could be announced as early as this week.

Harry Usher, a California attorney who was executive vice president-general manager of the 1984 Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee, is said to be the strongest candidate for the vacant post. Usher has met with league owners over the last couple of days.

Walsh, Shula Ease Into Super's Rigors

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Coaches Bill Walsh and Don Shula eased into the rigors of Super Bowl week Monday night with the aplomb of men who had been through it all before and knew just what to do about it.

"If you have already experienced this, it makes it a lot easier," said Walsh, the San Francisco chief who seemed so relaxed during the week's first large-scale interview session Monday evening that there was some fear he might doze off.

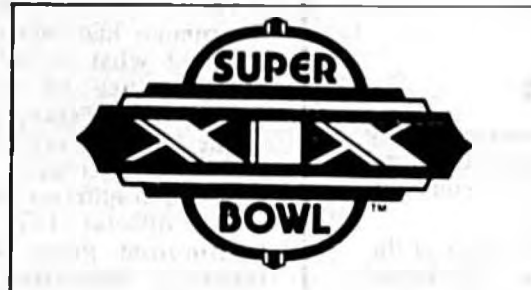

"There are plenty of things you learn to do to take your mind off things during this week."

"You can watch a Humphrey Bogart movie on tape or listen to some nice music or have an Italian dinner with some wine," he said.

Walsh's only trip through the demands of Super Bowl week came three seasons ago, but this is the sixth time for Shula, who brought his Miami Dolphins to northern California late Monday.

After the six-hour flight from Florida, Shula fought his way through a throng gathered outside the Dolphins' hotel in Oakland and plowed right into the questions.

"We were reminiscing coming out here."

said Shula, who first took a team to the Super Bowl 16 years ago. "That things have really changed."

"When we (the Baltimore Colts) went to Miami to play the New York Jets, I remember coming back from practice and there would be 10 or 15 reporters there in the hotel."

"We'd sit around and talk for a while and that would be about it. It's not like that anymore."

The arrival of the Dolphins and the escalation of questions concerning the game itself has turned attention away from the problems which have been created by the Super Bowl's initial appearance.

Most of those center around tickets real and make believe which have been the focal point of those trying to make lots of money without having to work very hard for it.

San Francisco police said they had no been able to locate two men who donned ski masks and robbed two other men of 50 Super Bowl tickets last weekend.

Outage Stalls Racing — Crouch Commits To Series

By John Darveau
Special to the Herald

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — A major power outage, which lasted for over two hours, forced track officials to postpone Saturday night's auto racing program at New Smyrna Speedway.

The complete card, including the demolition derby, the Great American Sack Race and stock car racing in the Late Model, Thundercar Street Stock and Four Cylinder divisions will be presented this Saturday night (Jan. 19) at 8 p.m.

Veteran driver/owner Joe Middleton of South Daytona, a former track champion, leads the Late Model point standings over his protege John Massey, Jack Cook, Greg Froemming and defending champion LeRoy Porter.

The season-long point chase for the Thundercar division is headed by talented young pilot Mark Silla of Orange City. Tommy Patterson, who has only missed one show in six seasons of 52-weeks a year racing at the speedway, is close second followed by Jeff Blehr, Mike Barfield and much improved Granny Tatroe who seems to be getting better as time goes by.

Dale Howard of Lake Helen is on top of the Street Stock point standings, followed by hard-nosed rookie Ted Mitchem of Sanford, Casey Hawthorne, Mel Webb and Lance Smith.

The four cylinder standings show defending champion Bobby Sears of Osteen on top, with Bill Martin, Tommy Ellis, Billy Hooven and Keith Perry rounding out the top five.

CROUCH FORSAKES QUIET WINTER

World Series of Asphalt Stock Car Racing late model entrant Robbie Crouch, who earned $103,000 last year on the way to his second consecutive NASCAR North Stroh's Tour Championship, could easily have spent a quiet winter at home in Vermont, watching sports on TV.

But instead, he will be racing at New Smyrna Speedway from Feb. 8-16.

Crouch will be facing such formidable opponents as 1984 American Speed Association (ASA) National Champion Dick Trickle, three-time National Short Track Champion Joe Shear, Gary "Hot Shoe" Balough, Canada's best Junior Hanley, 1983 ALL-PRO National Champion Freddy Fryar, former ASA king Mike Eddy, Butch Miller and over 50 more.

The NASCAR Modifieds and a super field of 135 Thundercars will also be featured during the nine consecutive nightly triple-header shows.

Purses and awards well in excess of $125,000 have been posted, and the World Series contingency program will be the largest in the history of the prestigious nine-night continuity.

For more information, write the speedway at P.O. Box 1097, New Smyrna Beach, Florida 32069 or call (904) 427-4129.

THE CAT DOES IT ALL
Terry "The Cat" Miller did a little bit of everything Monday night — some bad but most of good.

Lake Mary's freshman point guard scored 18 points, snared five rebounds, nabbed five steals and seven recoveries to lead the Rams to a 60-54 victory over Lake Brantley in junior varsity basketball at Lake Mary High. The Rams improved to 9-1 overall and 8-0 in the Five Star conference.

Miller, who rushed for over 100 yards for the freshman football team, also committed 10 turnovers.

LAKE BRANTLEY JV BOYS (54) — Ken 20, Bill 9, Stark 9, Morris 10, Shirley 10, 4 Totals: 22 10-14 54.

WSON LEADS VICTORY
Lake Mary's JV girls continued to romp over the competition as they used a great pressure defense to steam roll Lake Brantley, 48-30. The Lady Rams won for the seventh straight time against no losses.

"Offensively, we were pretty slow the first half," said coach Bob Wagner. "But we really applied the pressure defensively. We had 29 steals for the game."

Tonya Lawson had the quickest hands as she stole the ball 14 times en route to a game-high 23 points. Marcie Dalziel added 10 points and teamed with Lawson to push the lead to 44-24 at the end of three quarters.

Lake Mary's Theresa Lucarelli and Vernese Chapman controlled the boards with 10 and 11 caroms, respectively.

Lake Mary, 8-0 in conference, travels to DeLand Thursday.

Lake Helen Pair Wins 'Fat' $34,239.20 Pick 6

By Phil "Boomer" Deas
Special to the Herald

LONGWOOD — It would be difficult this morning to convince a Lake Helen couple that "thin is in" when it comes to wagering on greyhounds at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

And, there's a mighty good reason for it, to the tune of $34,239.20 in fact, as Lee Evans and her husband Roger cashed in for that amount after correctly hitting the exciting and high-paying Pick Six on only a $2 wager on rainy and chilly Monday evening.

Now comes the reasoning behind the philosophy that "thin isn't in", especially on an evening where the weatherman didn't cooperate too much and Mother Nature rains on Jerry Collins' winter home of championship greyhound racing.

"I had heard from a friend before that heavy dogs go better on a wet track," explained an ecstatic Mrs. Evans. "That's why we picked the heavier, the fat dogs, we figured they had a better chance.

"Now we know our friend's right. The heavier dogs did it for us. It's unbelievable. We bet two tow dollar tickets and picked only one dog in each race."

"Before this, the most we had ever won at a track was a couple of hundred dollars. We come down here a couple of times a month, and tonight this happens to us. We're all going out and each eat a whole cheesecake to celebrate."

Mrs. Evans, a registered nurse, and husband, Roger, a well driller, certainly did have justified cause for celebration as this marked the initial performance during SOKC's 50th anniversary race meet that a pairon has connected on all six picks in the Pick Six.

Israeli Cabinet Approves 3-Stage Pullout In Lebanon

JERUSALEM (UPI) — A divided Israel moved today toward implementing its plan for a three-stage unilateral withdrawal to end its long occupation of southern Lebanon.

Cabinet Secretary Yosef Beilin said the first stage of the withdrawal — a pullback from the Sidon area to the Litani River and the Nabatiyeh region — will be implemented in five weeks. In the second stage, Israeli troops will back away from positions opposite Syrian soldiers in Lebanon's eastern Bekaa valley. In the final stage, the Israelis will pull back to the border.

Moscow Reduces Emigrations

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — Moscow allowed only 908 Soviet Jews to emigrate in 1984, the Intergovernmental Committee for Migration said today.

This was a fraction of the 51,330 authorized departures in the peak year of 1979, the committee said. Since then, the Soviet Union has steadily restricted the emigration of Jewish nationals.

Nimitz Anchored Near Nicaragua?

United Press International

Nicaragua says the USS Nimitz, the biggest aircraft carrier in the U.S. fleet, is posted off its coast carrying 40 planes armed with nuclear weapons.

In Washington, military sources said the Nimitz left port in Norfolk last week but could not give any details on its destination or mission.

The report on the Nimitz was made in the newspaper of Nicaragua's ruling Sandinista Front on Monday.

U.S. ships were last deployed in the Caribbean off the coast of Central America in November when Reagan administration officials leaked reports that Nicaragua was receiving a shipment of Soviet-built MiG-21 jet fighters. Later reports said the shipment included some helicopters but no evidence surfaced to prove the arrival of any MiGs.

Soviets Cancel Meeting; Chernenko's Illness Cited

MOSCOW (UPI) — President Konstantin Chernenko is suffering from an illness that canceled today's Warsaw Pact summit in Bulgaria, high-level Soviet sources say.

The sources said Monday that the 73-year-old Chernenko had fallen ill, forcing the postponement of what would have been his first trip abroad since he succeeded President Yuri Andropov last February.

They did not reveal the nature of the illness, but many Kremlin observers believe that Chernenko suffers from emphysema.

The official Tass news agency and the Communist Party newspaper Pravda today formally announced postponement of the seven-nation Warsaw Pact summit without mentioning Chernenko's illness.

"By mutual agreement, the regular meeting of the Political Consultative Committee of the Warsaw Treaty member-states, scheduled for mid-January 1985, has been postponed until a later date which is to be agreed," Tass said.

The official announcement appeared to confirm that Chernenko was ill and unable to travel to attend the meeting of the seven-nation defense pact.

Chernenko, who visibly has difficulty breathing, seemed in relative good health when he last appeared in public on Dec. 27 to present awards to Soviet writers.

Chernenko's predecessor, Andropov, disappeared from public view for seven months with officials explaining only that he had a cold up to the day that his death was announced.

This can only be accommodated at Osceola Landfill off state Road 46 near Geneva.

Manning said the city has a great deal of the same problems at the Columbus Harbour sewage plant if not more so.

"We're going to have to sit down and decide if we're going to continue with the expansion," Manning said. Among those who will be asked to attend are the city's engineer, Al Land; Attorney Tom Lang who will be representing City Attorney Frank Kruppenbacher; and representatives of Hospital Corporation of America and Florida Residential Communities.

The Skylark plant has long been looked on as a health hazard as well as a nuisance by nearby residents because of odor problems and emergency situations when sewage ran out into the street.

Manning said that the site plan for South Seminole II Medical Office Building located adjacent to South Seminole Community Hospital had been withdrawn from Monday night's agenda at his request so that the commission could delay action until after the work season on the sewer system.

The request had previously been tabled at the Dec. 17 meeting until more information on the projected impact on the sewer system could be determined.

The commission unanimously approved a motion by Commissioner Larry Goldberg to appoint Capt. Terry Baker as acting police chief while Police Chief Manning is serving as acting city administrator until a new administrator can be hired to replace City Administrator David Chacey, who has resigned effective Feb. 7.

Goldberg wants Manning to receive the same salary as paid the city administrator since he has the responsibility of the position. He asked Kruppenbacher to prepare a resolution giving him the increase.

Goldberg also said he would like to see all of the city's department heads be required to live in the city.

Mrs. Lormann objected to Manning receiving an increase until Feb. 7 because Chacey, 66, is being paid his salary while serving as a consultant until that date and it would mean the city was paying two city administrators' salaries.

A city employee for 10 years, Chacey left a month earlier than planned at the behest of the commission. Chacey's salary is $34,290 a year, while Manning's salary as chief is $30,400 plus $800 incentive pay.

Chacey lives in Sanford and there have been complaints by city officials about his driving his city vehicle back and forth to work. Manning does not live in the city and Goldberg also proposed that "when he becomes police chief again we bring him into town and compensate him for it."

After a discussion on whether the other city department heads should be required to drive hand-me-down police cars, the commission voted 3-2 on a motion by Mayor Harvey Smerilason to allow the city administrator to assign city vehicles and personnel as he sees fit. Commissioners Lormann and Ed Myers voted no. Lormann said "I think all of the cars should be upgraded."

Myers said, "I don't think they should send the mayor or city administrator off in a pile of junk to represent the city."

Manning said he has asked City Clerk Don Terry to do quarterly re-evaluations of all city employees instead of once a year as is now done. Terry, who is in charge of personnel at city hall, is now in the process of doing the end of the year re-evaluations.

By doing more frequent re-evaluations, Manning said problems can be discovered and corrected rather than waiting until the end of the year and lowering the boom.

The city attorney is checking the existing personnel policy to see if it would have to be changed to allow this.

The mixed December performance, with Christmas items up but autos down for the first time since August's 7.9 percent collapse, was still better than suggested by the mediocre gains reported by major retail chains, compared to a year earlier.

Those disappointing figures published earlier this month immediately sent retailing stocks into a skid on the stock market. It appeared that rare pre-Christmas sales cost more in profits than they gained in volume.

But 1984 ended as a fairly strong year for department stores, up 12.9 percent from a year earlier, and furniture and home furnishings outlets, up 14.9 percent from December 1983.

With the December decline and the large August reverse auto sales ended 1984 only 6.1 percent better than a year earlier.

entrapped by police who recognized his car with its distinctive "OLYMPYN" license plate and "... thought he would be a good catch. So Edwin was picked up."

Moses, one of 82 men arrested Sunday during a vice squad sweep in Hollywood, was freed on his own recognizance pending a Jan. 29 arraignment.

Police said Moses, who lives in Laguna Hills in suburban Orange County, approached an undercover officer working with a "trick task force" and offered her money for sex.

Baskin said Moses told him the woman waved him down at a stop sign as he was returning from a disco where he had spent the evening with members of the U.S. Olympic Committee's Athletes Advisory Committee.

"She came around to the passenger side and said something to the effect of, 'What are you looking for?'" he said. "Edwin looked at her and said, 'I'm just out to have some fun.'"

"At that point she asked, 'Do you have some money?' And he said, 'Sure, I have $100.'"

Baskin said the woman then asked Moses to meet her around the corner, but he instead rolled up his window and drove off. He was stopped by police more than a block away.

"You have to have criminal intent and proceed with the act," Baskin said. "Edwin never had a criminal intent and he never proceeded with the act."

Baskin also said the small amount of marijuana found in the car did not belong to Moses.

"Edwin does not smoke marijuana and he never uses drugs," he said.

If convicted of solicitation, Moses could face a maximum penalty of six months in jail and a $1,000 fine, a spokesman for the City Attorney's Office said. If found guilty of the marijuana charge, he could be fined $100.

A policewoman who works the so-called "trick task force" said she doubted Moses' story and added, "They all say they were just kidding."

Moses won the gold medal in the 400-meter hurdles in the 1976 and 1984 Olympics. He has won 109 consecutive races over seven years without a defeat.

He also holds the world record for the 400-meter hurdles, 47.02, and in 1983 won the Sullivan Award as the nation's top amateur athlete.

Afro-American Society Plans Fourth Jubilee

The Afro-American Society of Seminole Community College announces the Fourth Annual Heritage Jubilee, a celebration of black achievement, will be held Friday, Jan. 18, at 8 p.m., in the concert hall of the college.

Miss Eunice I. Wilson, local businesswoman and civic leader, is the 1985 distinguished service honoree.

An evening of historic and contemporary melody and dance will feature Emanuel Luster, singer and musician of Sanford, and Pearl Williams, dancer, from New York City.

Special guests will be The Variables of Seven Dancers, from New York.

The public is invited to this free celebration sponsored by the Seminole Community College Campus Governance Association.

Mount Dora Art Festival Set

Artists for the 10th Annual Mount Dora Art Festival, Feb. 2-3, have been selected for participation.

Over 500 entries, from nearly every state in the nation, were reviewed by 15 jury members to select the 240 artists and alternates competing in six categories.

Prize money is awarded for top three selections in each of the categories, plus a "Best in Show" purchase award of $1,500, bringing the total to over $7,000.

The festival is held in downtown Mount Dora, beginning at 10 a.m. and ending at 5 p.m. daily. Mount Dora is located west of Sanford on U.S. 441.

Writing Competition Announced

Entries for the 1985 Florida State Writing Competition are now being accepted by Florida Freelance Writers Association, the sponsoring organization. Deadline is March 15.

"Last year's competition was a resounding success," FFWA executive director Dana Cassell said. "And this year's promises to be even better. Cash prizes have been increased, the competition will be keener, and some categories have been changed to reflect popular interests."

Categories this year will be: Short Stories (literary, mystery/suspense, science fiction), Articles (open/general, essay, humor), Poetry (traditional, free-verse, Florida theme).

Each entry must be accompanied by two copies of the official entry form. Complete contest guidelines and entry forms may be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped #10 business envelope to: Competition Guidelines, FFWA, P.O. Box 9844, Ft. Lauderdale 33310.

Computer-Based Lessons At SCC

PLATO, a computerized instruction program is now available to community adults. Computer-based lessons teach students a variety of topics including chemistry, physics, algebra, nursing, english and basic math. There is a $5.00 fee for the term.

The PLATO lab will be open

Monday through Friday. For more information on scheduling computer time, call Seminole Community College, 323-1450, Ext. 836.

Long Climb To Sobriety Starts With Slow Steps

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for printing the letter from "Optimistic." The female college student who said she felt as though she had really accomplished something that day even though all she did was go to the mailbox. She said, "I didn't have the guts to go to a meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous, so I wrote and asked for some literature. I just read it, and I feel better already."

Abby, please print this message for "Optimistic": I, too, am a female. I'm now 43 and was in your shoes for eight long, wet, miserable years. I also sent for the Alcoholics Anonymous literature and prayed a lot. I even found the guts to attend a meeting about once a year, but I always arrived late, hid in the corner and left early, afraid of being recognized — then complained (to myself) that it was an "unfriendly" organization.

Last year I became so depressed that it was either treatment or suicide. Even in that state of mind I know that treatment offered me more of a future.

I contacted the Jefferson Alcohol and Drug Abuse Center here in Louisville, and went into its 35-day treatment program last February. It's been slow. Twenty-five years of drinking takes its toll, mentally and physically, but today I know I am a survivor. Eleven months of sobriety is nothing to brag about, but I feel better now than I have felt in years.

Contact A.A. again and tell them you don't have the guts to attend a meeting yet, and they'll send someone to take you, or have someone meet you outside the meeting place. (It's always easier to walk into a large group of people with someone else.) Go early and hang around the coffee pot and just smile. You'll meet a lot of nice friendly people who have been in your shoes. Once you make the commitment to try to work the program, your life will improve.

I know this can be said better, but never more from the heart. I'm still not strong enough to go public, so if you print this, sign me...

RECOVERING IN LOUISVILLE
DEAR RECOVERING: No one could have said it better. Bravo to you, my friend.

DEAR ABBY: College son dating pushy, possessive girl with a lot of hang-ups. What's the best way to discourage this relationship?

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: Keep mouth shut until college son feels sufficiently pushed and possessed to discourage relationship himself. Given enough rope, pushy girl's hang-ups will become apparent.

DEAR ABBY: After 12 years of marriage, my husband and I realized that our sex life was practically dead, so we went to a marriage counselor.

The counselor (a woman) told us that a good way to put a little pep in our marriage would be to tell each other about our sexual fantasies.

Should I tell him about mine? He's not in any of them.

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: Sharing an occasional fantasy can be stimulating. But if you can't give your husband star billing, you'd better not mention the cast.

(Getting married? Send for Abby's new, updated, expanded booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send your name and address clearly printed with a check or money order for $2.50 (this includes postage) to: Dear Abby, Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

Pac N' Send Solves Packaging Problems

Pac N' Send has just completed its first year at its new location at 304 E. Commercial St., in downtown Sanford, having moved from its former building on W. First Street. Owner Elizabeth McDonald thanks all of her customers for their business during the past year and a busy holiday period.

Pac N' Send is not just for Christmas though, it is there to help you with your packing and shipping needs all year around. You can order gift packs of citrus or other fruit such as pineapples, avocados and mangos, sent to friends and relatives in other parts of the country through Pac N' Send. A great gift for all occasions, the fruit is unconditionally guaranteed to be the finest quality and arrive in perfect condition by G&S Packing Co.

Although you cannot ship uninspected fruit from groves or backyards, this fruit has been approved by state inspectors and treated for shipment out of the state.

From Jan. 15 to Feb. 15, Liz is offering free Valentine gift wrap for customers professional packaging and shipping through Pack N' Send.

She is going to expand her gift wrap service to include gift boxes and specialty gift wrap. In addition to packaging, gift wrapping and shipping Pac N' Send offers custom boxes for hard to package items. Instapak Foam System for protecting breakable items, and packaging supplies. Pac N' Send ships with United Parcel Service, truck motor freight, air freight and bus. They can handle articles up to 200 lbs. Among the unusual items they have packaged and shipped are a 15-foot wind surfer and an antique chair made of steers' horns. Liz said she has shipped a lot of crafts made by local artists. "There are a lot of talented people here," she added.

"Call on us with your packaging needs and if we don't do it, we'll try and refer you to someone who can," she said.

Liz is expanding her packaging service to include pre-packaging small items for dealers and manufacturers.

Pac N' Send is open Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and Saturday, 9 a.m. to noon. Call 323-1137.

Auto Parts Unlimited Open In Center Mall

After 12 years experience in the auto parts business in this area, Hal Wilson, a Sanford native, opened his own business—Auto Parts Unlimited—in mid-November with his partner, Paul Biglin. A machinist with many years experience, Paul came here seven years ago from Ohio.

Hal invites all his former customers and friends to stop in and see him.

Auto Parts Unlimited, which stocks parts for domestic cars as well as imports, is located at 2927 Highway 17-92, Sanford, in the Center Mall (next to the Sanford Plaza). They have an up-to-date inventory and should you need something they do not have, they can usually get it for you in a day.

Through the month of February they are offering 10 percent off all Gates belts and hoses if you mention this ad.

Among the other stock brand names which they carry are Wix filters, Fel-Pro gaskets, Royal batteries, the Champ service line, Autolite and AC spark plugs, and AC fuel pumps.

They have a machine on premises for resurfacing drums and rotors. Ask Paul about the engine rebuilding service.

They offer free delivery to dealer accounts. They welcome do-it-yourselfers and are glad to offer advice to guys and girls who are unfamiliar with their

Cajun Crawfish Industry Gets Boost From Woman

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Two years ago, Mary Duvall Williams was appalled to be charged nearly $10 in a Paris restaurant for eight scrawny, mealy and overall inferior boiled crawfish.

Outraged, the 40-year-old New Orleans wife and mother — armed only with limited marketing experience in promoting operas and other charities — set out with the determination of Allies hitting the Normandy beaches to liberate France and the rest of Europe from the crummy crustaceans.

This month, Williams and her newly formed company — Ecrevise Acadienne — began operations in the heart of Louisiana bayous to satisfy European craving for 14 million pounds of crawfish a year.

Louisiana.

To achieve all this, Williams has renovated a Church Point, La., plant to process crawfish with strict quality control, grading standards and top-grade packaging.

She also launched a one-woman effort to promote a first-class product and open new markets in the United States and Europe.

Armed with a slick brochure, she has visited food festivals and seafood fairs across the country and in Europe seeking startup customers for the 20,000 pounds of crawfish she said her plant could process daily.

She already has European buyers and Canadian and U.S. restaurateurs and hoteliers lining up to buy her product.

"We not only can sell everything we can get our hands on, but I'm worried about not supplying enough so people lose interest and give up," she said.

But Williams is most excited about what Ecrevise Acadienne promises to do for a natural resource and for the lives of Cajun fishermen who ply the bayous and inlets of the Atchafalaya Swamp.

"The most gratification I get is thinking about the effect of this on the state," Williams said. "It'll touch every aspect of the state's economy."

To tap the potential, Williams plans to freeze Louisiana crawfish in a way that protects their delicate flavor and texture.

Borrowing a page from futuristic medicine, she said her plant will quick freeze crawfish with nitrogen or carbon dioxide to prevent ice crystals from forming in the meat and destroying cell structure.

Her plant, a renovated seafood processing installation bolstered by $1 million in capital investment, initially will employ 50 people.

'Miracle Boy' Leads Normal Life

CHICAGO (UPI) — "Miracle boy" Jimmy Tontlewicz, literally back from the dead, is growing up a normal youngster who gets into trouble and wants to fix trains when he gets older.

Tontlewicz, 5, was given little hope of surviving a near-drowning accident that left him submerged in the icy waters of Lake Michigan for 20 minutes last year.

Described as a "miracle boy" by some, Jimmy beat the odds and is on the road to a full recovery with the exception of a minor speech problem.

His mother, Kathy Tontlewicz, said Monday her son is now doing all the things 5-year-olds enjoy. "I like getting into trouble." When he grows up, he says he wants to fix Chicago's electric trains.

Last Jan. 15, Jimmy's lifeless body was pulled from the lake after being submerged for an estimated 20 minutes.

The boy had fallen in while being pulled on his sled along the banks of the lakefront by his father, who also slipped through the ice.

Passers-by pulled the father to safety and then notified the fire and police departments of the accident. The boy was pulled out of the water by fire department divers several minutes later.

Jimmy seemed near death when he was diagnosed as suffering severe hypothermia.

Doctors who treated Jimmy said the boy was legally dead when pulled from Lake Michigan. As part of their treatment they kept him in a drug-induced coma in an attempt to raise his body temperature and monitor for brain damage.

Child Abuse Ring Broken

Victims Were Forced Into Satan Worship, Mock Weddings

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Police have jailed five men on charges of forcing children to engage in satanic worship with sex and animal sacrifices, stage lurid mock wedding ceremonies and sip rat blood, court records show.

Deputy District Attorney Rick Lewkowitz said Monday investigators were looking into the possibility that some of the five men also may have produced a snuff movie in which a youngster was killed.

"It is a pending homicide investigation," he said.

Children told Sacramento County deputies that as many as three youngsters may have been killed, one investigator's report said. Lewkowitz said, however, he has not recovered any film that would support that story.

Four of the molested children were between ages 3 and 10 and were from the same family.

"The children were forced to participate in satanic worship in which animals were sacrificed and 'chopped up' with the children being told that the same thing would happen to them if they 'told our secret,'" one investigator's report said.

The children's participation was not known until they became aggressive and displayed open sexual behavior and their grandmother took them to a psychiatrist in June 1984. The doctor diagnosed them as victims of extreme child molestation.

"The children also told investigators of three children being killed during these cult activities. The children are believed to have been kidnapped from the West Coast area," the investigator's report said.

In the "wedding," investigators said, the children would dress "in good clothes" as members of the wedding party and then undress and perform sex acts as part of the "honeymoon."

Children also told of taking part in and later watching "devil movies" in which they performed sex acts. A fully clothed "devil" with a mask and cape also took part in the movie, the children said.

Three of the five suspects, all arrested last week, made a brief court appearance Monday. They are Alan Patrick Arbuckle, 29, of Sacramento, Veryl Lee Baker, 59, and Cuevas, 38, both of Citrus Heights.

Two others, Arthur Gary Dill, 33, and John Paul Holman, 28, both of Campbell, were arrested in Santa Clara County and will be arraigned in Sacramento later this week.

Army Says Goodbye To Colt .45

WASHINGTON (UPI) — James Bond's weapon of choice, the Italian-made Bm Beretta, will become the standard sidearm for the U.S. armed forces, replacing the venerable Colt .45.

The Army's decision fires the final round in a years-long debate over which caliber pistol is best suited for the American military to wear on its hip.

Beretta, whose American division is in Accokeek, Md., will be awarded a five-year fixed-price contract in about 30 days to produce 315,930 guns for the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force and the Coast Guard, a Pentagon statement said Monday.

The State of Florida Department of Transportation, in accordance with the Provisions of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (78 Stat. 252) and the Regulations of the Department of Commerce (15 C.F.R., Part 6) issued pursuant to such Act, hereby notifies all bidders that it will affirmatively insure that minority business enterprises will be afforded full opportunity to submit bids in response to this invitation and will not be discriminated against on the grounds of race, color, or national origin in consideration for an award.

NOTICE TO APPROXIMATE QUANTITY SUBSCRIBERS: NONE FURNISHED WITH MINI-CONTRACTS.

If you wish to be done in accordance with the plans and project specifications of the State of Florida Department of Transportation.

Unless otherwise notified by certified mail, the opportunity to request, bid tabulations will be posted in the downstairs Conference Room of the DeLand District Office, 719 South Boulevard, DeLand, Florida on the 7th day from the letting date. Upon posting, it will be the Department's intent to award to the low bidder. Any bidder who feels he is adversely affected by the Department's intent to award to the low bidder must file with the Clerk of Agency Proceedings, 683 Suwanee Street, Tallahassee, Florida, a written Notice of Protest within 72 hours of posting of the bid tabulations.

A protest filed prior to the notice of Decision to Solicit Bids or the intended decision to award a contract shall be deemed abandoned unless renewed within the time limits provided in Subsection (1). Additionally, a formal written protest setting forth a short and plain statement of the matters asserted by the protestor must be filed with the Clerk of Agency Proceedings within 10 days of the Preliminary Notice of Protest. In accordance with Section 190.33 (5), Florida Statutes, failure to file a protest within the time prescribed in Section 190.33 (5), Florida Statutes, shall constitute a waiver of proceedings under Chapter 20, Florida Statutes.

Orders for these documents should be directed to T. J. George, Mini-Contract Administrator, Department of Transportation, P.O. Box 47, DeLand, Florida 32721-0047. There will be no charge for contract documents.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Some People Allergic To Cigarette Smoke

DEAR DR. LAMB — I pray that you will be able to answer this for my 82-year-old mother. Normally, she would be able to socialize and enjoy life, if it were not for the fact that she literally gets ill from cigarette smoke — I mean really ill.

I would appreciate an answer as soon as possible, since I have made it my main project to give my mother some help at this stage of her life. Could a light stroke that she had about five years ago have anything to do with this?

DEAR READER — There are probably several million people who are adversely affected by other people's smoking. Many people are allergic to tobacco smoke. It can cause them to gasp for breath and even precipitate an asthmatic attack. It is not a minor problem for the person who is already suffering from a medical disorder.

Some recent studies have shown that diseased arteries — those that are clogged with fatty-cholesterol deposits — are particularly prone to spasm when exposed to tobacco smoke. Take her to an allergist, who might establish a program to help protect her from her reaction. She may get some benefit from antihistamines or some other approach to decrease her allergic response, if that is the underlying problem. I wish she didn't have to be exposed to tobacco smoke at all, but I guess as long as so many people don't care how their habits affect others, this simply won't be possible.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I've had hyperthyroidism for a long time. About three months ago, my doctor gave me a small dose of radioactive iodine. He also had me take 20 mg. of Inderal every six hours because of my high blood pressure. I was told that after three months, there would be great improvement and that after six, all would be well and all medication would be removed.

It has been more than three months, and there has been no change. I was told that if after six months there was no change, I would be given another dose.

Could this be harmful? Could it affect my brain or cause any diseases?

DEAR READER — That is fairly standard treatment. When a person has an overactive thyroid, many of its effects are like those that accompany an excess of adrenaline. Since beta-blockers, such as Inderal, neutralize the adrenaline effect, Inderal is commonly prescribed in this situation.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
Many of Paul Soloway's peers place him at the top of the world's great players. He... play of today's three no-trump contract should win him more votes for that estimable position.

The two-club overall by West was an artificial bid showing both majors. In view of the vulnerability, North had no desire to inflict a penalty on non-vulnerable opponents, since he felt his side could do better. He immediately bid game in no-trump, and all passed.

Soloway won the opening lead with the spade 10 in his hand. Who among us would not now play the queen of diamonds? Soloway didn't. He knew that he had nine tricks if the king of diamonds was with West. But if not, he needed to grab a heart trick before the spades were established for the defense.

Accordingly, at trick two he led a low heart. West ducked and declarer went up with the king. Now he played back to the ace of clubs to take a diamond finesse. East won the king and could now take three heart tricks but had no way to set three no-trump.

Try playing diamonds before playing a heart to the king. East will win the diamond and return a spade. The spade suit will now be established. When hearts are led, West will grab the lead with his heart ace and run spades to set the hand.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY JANUARY 16, 1985

There is an excellent chance that a secret ambition you've been harboring will be attained this coming year. You're going to make some new friends who will help bring this about.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You'll be more effective today if you maintain a low profile and stay in the background. Keep in touch with events but don't attempt to influence them. Looking for romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you in your search. Send for it today by mailing $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Things should work out to your liking today if you don't take yourself or your involvements too seriously. Be conscientious, but don't be a sourpuss. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) The odds tend to favor you today in competitive situations. Your resourcefulness and ingenuity may surprise even you when you play to win.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Try to involve yourself today in the types of activities that exercise both muscles and mind. Avoid dull routines that could tie you down.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If someone you trust talks to you today about a unique investment proposal, be a good listener and hear him through. The tip may have potential.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Sometimes it's unwise to put too much stock in snap judgments. However, today you're a fast thinker and your initial conclusions may be your best.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You'll be more productive and also find greater enjoyment in your work today if you're involved in creative projects. Find things to do that test your imagination.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) People who meet you for the first time today will be favorably impressed. Get out and circulate in places where you're not staring at the same old faces.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A situation that has been causing you some irritation could come to an abrupt end today. Dismiss it from your mind and move onward.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Stay on top of matters today that require communication. If you keep your channels open, you could be the recipient of some good news.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today you might acquire something you've been wanting. It may come into your possession through a unique chain of circumstances.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Today you'll have the option to operate independently of others and get several important personal things accomplished.
