GERMAN PLANE DROPS WITH 5 HOP TO INDIA IN FUSELAGE

Crash Comes At 11 O'- clock This Morning Killing German Ambassador To U. S.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—(INS)—
Baron Ago Von Maltzan, German Ambassador to the United States, who was home on furlough, and five other persons were killed today when the Lufthansa plane in which they were riding crashed near Schleis, Thuringia.
The crash occurred at about 11 o'clock this morning.

The ambassador was enroute from Munich to Berlin, and was flying in one of the Lufthansa company's passenger planes.
In addition to the German ambassador, those killed were: Herr Keller, director of the German railroads; Herr Venning, traffic superintendent of the Lufthansa company; Hans, a student; Herr Fritz, a student; and his mechanic, Feller.

The cause of the crash, the most disastrous in the history of German commercial aviation, was not immediately determined, but aviation officials said they suspected sabotage might have been responsible. The gasoline tanks of the plane exploded when the plane struck the ground.

The death ship was the Lufthansa
"D-688-Mercator" plane, built by the Dornier works. It was commissioned last May. Carlet was an experienced commercial pilot, having flown several hundred thousand miles during his career. For the past several months he had regularly flown the airway between Berlin and Munich, on which he met his death today.

Witnesses, living in the neighborhood of Schleis, said the plane approached that town from the north flying at a height of about 1,300 feet. They said the left wing apparently became loosened from the fuselage and that when the plane attempted to land, the wing broke off completely.

The left wing was thrown 30 yards from the fuselage when the plane crashed. The pilot attempted to land south of Schleis, on the highway leading to Esch, Bavaria.
When the wing broke off, observers said the plane spun downward like a falling leaf, turning in several circles. The ship struck the earth while upside-down, and the force of the crash drove the forward part of the fuselage two feet into the earth.

All of the occupants, with the exception of the mechanic, Feller, were killed almost instantly. Feller died within an hour. Observers said there was a great detourment immediately following the crash, indicating that the gasoline tanks had burst.

Presidents who rushed to the scene of the tragedy were unable to extricate the bodies from the wreckage, and police assistance was demanded. Officials of the Lufthansa concern immediately dispatched another airplane to Schleis to retrieve the bodies of the victims to Berlin.

Baron Von Maltzan was on his way to visit his wife and children who were staying at the home of the Ambassador in Washington, D. C.

Officials of the Lufthansa concern said the investigation into the crash was proceeding thoroughly and it was expected that within a few days a report would be made as to the cause of the disaster.

The investigation was conducted by a committee of experts from Berlin and the United States.
The committee is expected to report its findings to the German government and the United States government.

The investigation is being conducted in a very thorough manner and it is expected that the cause of the crash will be determined within a few days.

Both Fighters Are Confident They Can Win By A Knockout

Dempsey Paces Sinite Restlessly As Time Approaches For Him To Enter Prize Ring

Tunney Serenely Confident At Camp

Principles Are Heavily Guarded By Police As Mob Arrives

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—"I think I'm good enough to win by a knock-out in seven rounds."

Readily pacing his suite in the Morrison Hotel, like a caged panther, Jack Dempsey made this assertion to close friends today as he waited zero-hour tonight when he will have his golden chance to win back the heavyweight championship of the world which he lost in a down-pour of rain in Philadelphia just a year ago.

And, at the same time, out at his camp at Lake Villa, Gene Tunney, unrolled and serenely confident, blazes to say, "I expect to win without any great difficulty, this time by a knockout."

The principal actors in the dramatic spectacle that is to be staged under blazing arc lights in the vast expanses of the egg-shaped Soldiers' Field before the greatest crowd that ever witnessed a sporting event, had secluded themselves from the public. They were waiting, as calmly as they could, for the last few trying hours to pass before the bell summons them to the center of a twenty-foot ring, placed close to the breezy shores of the lake front.

Heavily guarded by police, Dempsey came into Chicago last night from his training headquarters at Lincoln Field and went into retirement at the Morrison. He was accompanied by his attractive, dark-eyed wife, Estelle Taylor, screen star, who, after kissing her husband good-bye and wishing him "loads of luck" retired to her apartment in the fashionable Edgewater Beach Hotel.

Dempsey was up early this morning, ate a breakfast of bacon and eggs, did light calisthenics in his room and then played cards with friends. Now and then he left the game and walked restlessly around his suite. He was in good humor, however, and joked with his companions. His father, Hiram Dempsey, who came here from Utah to see his son try to regain his lost laurels, visited him and they had a long chat.

Tunney, fresh from a ten-hour sleep, arose this morning in the best of spirits. He jollied Lou Fink, his trainer, and sergeant Bill Smith, his bodyguard, who slept in the same room with the champion.

"It won't be long now," Tunney commented. "Cheer up, you fellows. You seem to be taking it harder than I am."

The champion's main concern seemed to be about the weather. "Hope it will be good and cold tonight," he said. "The colder it is the faster we will have to move in the ring. The faster we quicker it will be over."

It was clear and cold with a biting autumnal wind sweeping across Fox Lake.

Tunney planned to leave for Chicago shortly before noon and is expected to put up at the Sherman Hotel where his baggage now awaits him. The camp was deserted except for detectives and a few of Tunney's close friends. Tunney ate a hearty breakfast at 8 o'clock and then retired to his rooms to wait his departure to Chicago. Two police cars, armed with detectives, arrived shortly after dawn heralding the departure of the champion.

Both Dempsey and Tunney have received hundreds of telegrams wishing them the best of luck. Scores of telegrams came to Dempsey from the motion picture country of Hollywood. Many of the telegrams to Tunney were from business leaders, society persons and statesmen. Theodore Roosevelt and Joseph Tumulty were among those who sent messages to the champion.

Tunney and Dempsey will weigh in at 8 o'clock this afternoon before representatives of the Illinois Boxing Commission. Tunney is expected to weigh about 189 pounds. Dempsey planned to take a short nap this afternoon. Tunney will eat his final meal, carefully selected by a dietitian, at 4:30 P. M. and then will retire to sleep.

In discussing the fight, Dempsey said this morning: "I haven't the slightest fear that I cannot whip Tunney this time. He looked the same to me as the rest of them did from the time I looked out Willard. I expect to knock him out and it shouldn't

CHICAGO IS WILD WITH EXCITEMENT AS BATTLE NEARS

Circus Day In The Old Town As Hundred And Fifty Thousand People Trample Each Other For $40,000 Seats

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Chicago, tingling, truant town of romantic realism, was a cauldron that lived and breathed and seethed in the emotion of its greatest moment today, a melting pot of all that was good and much that possibly was bad among the froth and dregs of a sporting nation; a melting pot that made over all classes into one class, fired with the abiding idea of witnessing tonight the second episode of the Dempsey-Tunney serial for the heavyweight championship of the world.

It was to be circus day at the old county seat all over again, only on a bigger and better scale. And so a record multitude of 150,000 tramped the streets and gorged the lobbies, while late detachments rushed in from the hinterland by air, steel, total more than $2,500,000.

Rome, with its first night show at the coliseum, was just a little, sleepy country village compared with the Chicago that today saw new and new; Nineveh, Babylon and Tyre didn't have a thrill or a throb in them by comparison.

For here was a great town running riot over the greatest show on earth, as another Barnum would have put it, a show that meant a record crowd, a record gate of some $2,500,000 and a spectacle by night such as seldom is given to the eye of man to behold. The fight itself, while the focal point of all the excitement, was merely secondary to the fun and the frolic that has gone with such an occasion since the first day the old circus came to town to present moment of spectators and extravaganza in the heavyweight division.

The wine of keen excitement was in the air itself, for the day was cool and the weather generally fair, which was quite the contrary to the conditions that prevailed at the last great "On that occasion" the hitherto invincible Dempsey was shorn of his proud title in a deluge of rain.

On that occasion, 180,000 persons gloated over the man's downfall because they knew him not and didn't care who knew it. But defeat brought him the popularity that had been denied him in victory and to the fight's great crowd and tonight's gripping drama has been made possible only because the country at large wants to see Jack Dempsey become the first heavyweight champion to win back a title he had lost.

Such a performance, of course, would upset all precedent. But, as that, this has been and will be an unprecedented fight.

No fight in boxing history, for example, ever was fought with the understanding that, if the decision of the referee and two judges is not satisfactory to the boxing commission, it will not be announced from the ringside. Neither had any one ever heard of a provision whereby a referee may be tossed out of the ring in the midst of the bout if his work does not please the commission.

In this event, another of the six nominated would be substituted and the bout would proceed as before farther than seven rounds. I feel like my old self again and that's the most assuring factor of it all to me. I've got everything I ever had. I feel, and that's what makes me sure I am going to win."

Dempsey made no secret of his elation over winning his point not to have to tape his hands in the ring. The bandages will be put on in the dressing rooms, with representatives of the Illinois Boxing Commission and of both fighters witnessing the procedure. Dempsey complained that he gets "cold" if forced to tape his hands after he has entered the ring.

Tunney, in his final interview, said he believed Dempsey will be 25 per cent easier to beat this time.

"I mean to stop him," said the champion. "I feel great. The cold spell has put the proper nip in me. I have planned my style of battle to counter any mode of attack Dempsey employs. I am even more certain I will win than I was when I first engaged Dempsey at Philadelphia last year."

The fight will net the largest profit of $1,000,000, any pugilist for a single battle. Dempsey has been given a flat guarantee of $450,000. If promoter Tex Rickard's estimate of attendance of 150,000 proves correct, the fight will draw 30,000 more spectators than any previous flat encounter. The gate receipts are expected to

CROWDS FLOCK TO CHICAGO AS BATTLE NEARS

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Champion Gene Tunney weighed 189 1/2 pounds this afternoon and Jack Dempsey, the challenger, 192 1/2, when they weighed in officially in the gymnasium of the Illinois Athletic club this afternoon.

They were weighed separately, Dempsey first, at 1:30, and Tunney at 2:30 P. M. It was the first time that the principals in a world's heavyweight championship battle had not tipped the scales in each other's presence. Dempsey had left the building, amid cheers, before Unusual? Yes, but think of a crowd of 160,000, straining with open mouth and lifted ear for an announcement that may never be made. Think of the buzz of words, and comment and speculation that would follow the withholding of the decision, the sly winking behind the hand and the exultant chorus of the "I-told-you-so's," that would make the night hideous.

LAKE VILLA, Ill., Sept. 22.—Preceded by a clamor of drums from his police escort, Gene Tunney left here at 12:10 o'clock today for Chicago to defend his world's heavyweight title against Jack Dempsey in the Soldiers' Stadium tonight. Tunney seemed preoccupied as he climbed into the motor car that was to take him to the scene of the big fight but he summoned a smile and a wave of the hand in farewell to the attaches of the Cedar Crest country club, who cheered the departing heartily.

With Tunney in the car were his three trusted friends, Bill McCabe, Eddie Egan and George Ransberry, and his faithful trainer, Lou Fink.

One police escort car cleared the way for the champion in front, while another protected him from the rear. The run to Chicago was expected to be made in about two hours. After the weighing in there, Tunney will rest on the roof bungalow of the Hotel Sherman until it is time to go to the stadium.

SERIES BEGINNING PITTSBURGTODAY IS CRUCIAL TEST

Giants Now Tied With Cards For Second Place. Take On Pirates In Double Header; McGraw With Club Again

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The most crucial series of the year begins in Pittsburgh today when the embattled Giants, tied with the Cardinals for second place, tackle the Pirates in a double-header. The Giants trail the leaders by 3-1-2 games this morning as a result of Pittsburgh's victory over Brooklyn yesterday, and must take at least three of the four games to remain within striking distance of the Buccaneers in the last short sash down the stretch.

John McGraw, fiery leader of the New York outfit, has rejoined the club following an illness and will be in there telling the Pirates where to get off and the Giants when to get on. He probably will spot Fitzsimmons and Berens at the bugs in today's twin bill.

Meanwhile the Cardinals, who play two games today with the somewhat demoralized Boston Braves, have an excellent chance of forging to the front while the Giants and Pirates are afflicting each others' throats.

In order to clinch the pennant the Pirates must win eight of their remaining 11 games, provided St. Louis and New York both win straight. Even if the Giants and Cards win eight games, Pittsburgh can grab the bunting by taking only six out of 11.

John Miljus, the perennial rookie who was with Brooklyn in 1920, was a life-saver for Pittsburgh yesterday. He beat the Robins 4 to 2, his nites staking him to four runs in the fourth inning. The Waner Brothers put on their famous act and shoved across the winning tallies.

Other National League Clubs were idle. In the Junior circuit, Babe Ruth saved the Yanks from a shutout by delivering his 55th homer. He needs only five more to break Miss 1921 record. Gibson pitched for Detroit and won 6 to 1. The Yanks made no less than six error and the Fans razed them without restraint.

After helping the Athletics lose to Cleveland, 7 to 5, Ty Cobb decided he had had enough baseball for the season and departed on a hunting trip, undecided as to whether he will play next year. Connie Mack offered to renew Ty's salary at the same impressive figures.

Dempsey seemed in excellent condition when he came to the club. He was smiling and happy and was given an ovation by a large crowd of wealthy Chicago sportsmen who had assembled.

Dempsey Has Spent Less Than Four Hours Daily In Training For Fight

LINCOLN FIELDS RACE TRACK, CRETE, Ill., Sept. 22.—(INS)—Only a small portion of Dempsey's average day has been spent in preparation for his contest tonight with Gene Tunney in Chicago. Probably less than four hours a day is devoted by Dempsey to actual training.

Golf cards and the radio claim most of Jack's leisure hours. He is rather skilled and extremely enthusiastic golfer and always ready to wager on his playing. He is most happy when winning from his manager, Leo Flynn, or one of his sparring partners.

Pinocchio is Dempsey's pet diversion. He generally spends two or three hours daily at the game and the last few days before a fight most of his idle time is passed with the cards.

During the evening hours at the champion's camp the radio is working constantly. Dempsey is untrained musically and has no particular choice in radio music except that he likes something lively, but not necessarily jazz in character. An attendant is usually kept busy at the radio dialing from station to station so that lectures, travel talks and similar topics are not heard. Dempsey is a great admirer of banjo music and also has a fancy for the crescendo of a band.

Usually an hour or two the fighter's time is devoted to conversation with visitors at the camp. Because of his popularity it is impossible him to receive personally more than a small number of the fans who clamor for admittance to his quarters. In fact, several guards are constantly on duty to prevent visitors from reaching the boxer.

Sovener collectors, solicitors for agents and hundreds of others are daily denied a hearing with Dempsey. The champion now makes his home in Los Angeles. He formerly resided in Salt Lake City, Utah. Even the casual visitor at his camp from these two cities is often welcomed by Dempsey and an hour spent in a "home town" review.

Dempsey is not a "heavy" eater and allows only a brief time at his table. For breakfast he eats a cornish, some fruit and toast. He does not care for eggs. For lunch, he is served chops or chicken, evening at dinner Jack generally has steak of which he is particularly fond. This summer he has shown marked preference for watermelon and a number of special-ly-grown melons have been served at the camp.

He has a liking for cold, sliced tomatoes and for days at a time eats these at both luncheon and dinner. He is not permitted to eat pastry of any kind.

Before a fight particular attention is given to Dempsey's food. It is prepared with the greatest care and every means taken to provide against an attack of ptomaine poisoning, forms of which have struck on the former heavyweight chief rather frequently. His last meal before a fight consists usually of stomach only the juice. His trainer (believes this prevents the fighter's stomach from becoming

Legion Meet Offers Tunney Best Wishes

PARIS, Sept. 22.—(INS)—The American Legion convention today unanimously adopted a resolution to send a cablegram offering the convention's "heartiest good wishes to comrade Gene Tunney" in his fight to retain his title tonight at Soldiers' Field, Chicago. The vote on the resolution was taken amid a tumult of cheering.

Strong Love Theme Prevails In Film Rose Of Tenements

The influence of a woman on the life of the man she loves is the theme of "Rose of the Tenements," P. B. O's Gold Bonus Special starring Shirley Mason which will be shown at the Milane Theater today. Shirley as Rose plays the part of a girl who is in love with an impetuous, restless but thoroughly lovable boy who is eternally championing various causes. She weathers him through the storms with courage and loyalty, and when the war breaks out and the chap turns Bolshevik Rose is put to the supreme test of love and devotion. However, with the boy's honor at stake she spares nothing in order to inspire him to the right way of thinking and guide him to enlist for his country. After some tense moments and a smothered climax everything is worked out satisfactorily and both find that their roads lead to the same goal of happiness. The boy's part is played by Johnny Harron who imbues the role with sympathy and poignant realism. Others in the cast are excellent. Each part is an outstanding interpretation and the picture made under the peerless direction of Phil Rosen, will be remembered as a gem of a character delineation. The adaptation and continuity were made by J. Grubb Alexander from John Morsos' story "The Stumbling Herd."

41 Members Police Department Fired On Graft Charges

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 22 (INS)—Forty-one members of the Memphis police department will be suspended on charges of having accepted bribes in connection with the sensational Bellomini "payoff" scandal, police commissioner Thomas H. Allen announced this afternoon at the climax of his investigation of the book.

Several of the officers will be dropped from the force tonight, and a new group dismissed each day until their cases are disposed of, Allen said. All officers desiring a trial will be charged with bribery and be given a hearing. There were 51 names in the book but some of the officers have died and quit the department, leaving only 41 to face the charges.

Since the payoff book was discovered at the saloon operated by John Bellomini, Commissioner Allen has been investigating the alleged scandal. A score of persons have been arrested and questioned.

The Shelby county grand jury has the case under investigation and indictments against the officers leading to trials in state courts and perhaps sentences in the penitentiary will probably result from the evidence commissioner Allen has in hand.

LIVE OAK—New high school building to be completed by September 12.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY: GOD'S HOUSE: For a day in Thy courts is better than a thousand. I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of My God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness. Psalm 84:10.

PRAYER: Help us, Lord, to love Thy house more than the attractions of the world.

ALFAFA SONG: Across the blue alfalfa field Your eyes of blue I see; With dancing words in them concealed, Young eyes are calling me. A glimpse of Heaven to earth revealed, A ray from Paradise; Across the blue alfalfa field You call me with your eyes. -Cora A. Matson Dolsen.

Even in this flight Dempsey couldn't resist resorting to fouls. Consideration government goes in today - Gainesville Sun. Better keep your eye on it.

Mrs. Alexa Sterling Fraser is driving straight for the championship. She looks like another Bobby Jones.

As most people look at it, Schlee and Beck called off their world flight just in time to come home safely on the boat.

Mine made a big hit in Paris with his Fife and Drum corps. Maybe next year Sanford will carry one of these honors.

The combination of having to fight in a place called Bold Field, caused too much embarrassment for Dempsey, in view of his war record.

Out of an almost three million dollar rate, Tunney got a million, Dempsey four hundred and fifty thousand, so it looks as the real winner as usual, was Tex Rickard.

Governor Martin has appointed a Miss Helena Nutt as tax assessor for Lake county. The Governor must have a lot of confidence in this girl to appoint her to office.

A sport writer for the New York Times predicted "Tunney will win if the bout is not fixed." Even the most captial must admit that this was one fight that wasn't fixed.

A college girl won the Atlantic City beauty contest. The judges were probably afraid she would pull out her gun and shoot the lights out of them if they didn't give it to her.

Out in Pawhuska, Oklahoma, a police officer, twenty-seven years of age, who claims to be the youngest holder of a police in the United States, speaks up.

Farron Jordan says he isn't a Turk, that his carefully selected strings are only sweethearts, not what he best, he says, that if he had married more than once, he doesn't remember anything about it.

Tunney used his head when he stayed down for the count of nine. And the count would have started sooner if Dempsey had gone on once into a neutral corner instead of contemplating another fight.

President Coolidge's appointment of Dwight Morrow as ambassador to Mexico indicates that the President has no idea of letting the money man have any money in the White House. Mr. Morrow is a P. Morgan, and the money man has been the center of the nation's financial life.

Wheeler's Successor

Who will succeed Wayne B. Wheeler? That's one of the questions that official Washington is asking nowadays as the Anti-Saloon League deliberates upon the qualifications of the men who are available. It is a question that leaders of the dry movement all over the United States are anxious to have answered, and yet they recognize the difficulties in drafting a suitable man. There are few men who possess the versatility of Wheeler and if, now and then, you do run across one it is practically impossible to align him with such an organization as the Anti-Saloon League when there are many more attractive inducements with less cares and responsibilities.

A prominent member of the organization has recently named the qualifications of the man who succeeds Wheeler. Says this dry leader, the next head of the Anti-Saloon League must have (1) a cool head; (2) the gift of humor; (3) adequate political experience; (4) organizing ability; (5) ability on the platform. These attributes are suggested because Wheeler possessed every one of them. It was the use of all these talents that enabled Wayne B. Wheeler to control congress and that's no small task. It will take just as good a man as Wheeler to retain the League's grip on the federal law-making body.

For years Wheeler was the most picturesque figure in Washington. He was a little man but with a magnetic personality that drew men to him and caused others to fight him to the bitter end. There were those who were not in sympathy with his views but they respected him for his conscientious endeavor and for the relentless way in which he sought to achieve his aims. He won many of his victories by coercion, by a demonstration of strong arm methods, but others were scored by a generous use of sugar. He had a cool head under fire and a sense of humor that made him a past master of repartee.

The successor to Wheeler will be selected in December. Many names have been mentioned. Most of them are of men who possess marked ability in certain lines but lack one or more of the requisites, which, it seems, must be possessed by one who would hope to wield the power and influence of Wheeler. A successor may be found who will perform the duties admirably, but Wayne B. Wheeler is dead and his shoes cannot be filled.

Strange Ways

William Gray is a young fellow who lives in Sandy Hook, Kentucky. Recently things had not been going well with him. We do not know whether it was a spotty lung, the little pink slip which means a long walk for another job, or some inaptitude for convincing the lady of his dreams that he was the one for her, but in any case he decided to end it all. He took his little automatic and pointed it toward his heart.

He shot, but did not die. Physicians who examined him later found that the man had a somewhat abnormal anatomy in that his heart instead of being located in its proper place, had slipped considerably over to the right. The bullet had missed it completely and the man will live.

Five years ago, a young girl, apparently disgusted with life's futile attempts, climbed the girders of a high bridge in Tennessee. Leaping out she plunged downward seventy-five feet into the turbulent waters below. Unconscious, but not dead, she was washed ashore near a bend in the river half a mile away.

She is still alive and glad she is living. The strange impulse of that moment has never returned to her since and she seems to be getting as much enjoyment out of life as anyone. Perhaps the young man whose life was saved by the peculiar location of his heart, will also find his place in this world and be glad that the bullet was not the end.

Better Late Than Never

The police department of Memphis, Tennessee, which has been under fire for some time, is taking some heavy jolts from the investigation committee. Since the finding of a so-called "pay off book" in which it is alleged police kept names of dive proprietors and blind tiger operators, and records of fees paid for protection, citizens have been most active in rejuvenating the department.

Yesterday forty-one policemen were ordered suspended and have been arraigned for trial. It is said that other suspensions and arrests will be made before the investigation is completed. In the determination to remove corruption from all departments of municipal government, Memphis citizens are going to the bottom of the alleged crookedness, see that guilty parties are properly punished and that a new organization is operated in the interest of law and order.

The decision of the Memphis citizens is an admirable one. It is unfortunate that they waited so long.

MR. MCADOO WITHDRAWS

Can it be that President Coolidge has set a fashion in announcing his strong preference for private life? His "I do not choose to run" is now followed by William G. McAdoo's "I prefer to stand aside." The phraseology is close enough to constitute an echo, or would be if Mr. McAdoo had been content like the President, to emit his little sentence and stop. Instead he buried it in an appreciation of his efforts for mankind containing almost a column of type. The circumstances under which the two statements were conceived Coolidge might have had his nomination for the asking, or even for the lack of a word declining it (he will probably be drafted, anyway). Mr. McAdoo, on the other hand, was already so definitely out of the running that his withdrawal now is an act of supererogation. He says himself: "I shall not therefore, be a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1928." He uses the simple term of futurity. All of which throws an interesting light on his hint that Governor Smith follow his example. If Mr. McAdoo enjoyed Governor Smith's prospects with respect to the Democratic nomination, does any one in his senses believe that he would be stepping down now? When, in the course of his distinguished career, has Mr. McAdoo been known to turn his back on power that he could reach? The gentleman is, saying as plainly as can be in a letter full of self-praise. "Sour grapes."

MODERN BLACK MAGIC

Accustomed as the public has already become to the use of the radio for broadcasting such events as the recent prize fight it still finds it hard to realize that this instrument has been sufficiently perfected for the human voice to be carried to the opposite end of the earth. A brief Associated Press dispatch on Saturday morning from Australia reported that the broadcasting of the fight could be clearly heard there and within an hour after the conclusion newspapers were being sold in the streets of Sidney containing a full account of it as taken down "off the air." To radio experts this is nothing unusual. But to the lay mind it is still too much harnessed in by old-time superstitions to grasp the full significance of this development of broadcasting. There is still something uneasy in the thought that a man talking quietly to a machine in New York can be heard simultaneously in Australia, South Africa, Europe, and America. Barely nothing in the dreams of Black Magic ever surpassed this.

As Brisbane Sees It

Learn From Danny. How Rich We Might Be. The Baby's Ears. Why Not Dwight Morrow? BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1927 by Star Co.)

FATHERS AND SONS, learn something from Danny McMahon. His father one of the Tammany "big three," Murphy, Haffen and McMahon, gave his son a good education, died and left him $250,000. Now Danny, only 36 years old, having spent his money being a "good fellow," dies in Bellevue hospital, New York, penniless, no friend with him. To leave your son money, without having taught him how to use it, is to make misery your executor.

FIRE BURNS MORE than $550,000,000 a year in this country. The loss is $5.02 per capita for the United States, against 72 cents in Britain, 49 cents in France 28 cents in Germany, 25 cents in Italy, 11 cents in Holland, etc.

YESTERDAY UNITED STATES District Attorney Tuttle said, "The cost of crime is $10,000,000,000 a year, according to the National Surety Company survey. Fences, receivers of stolen goods, alone take in $3,000,000,000 worth of private property."

How rich should we Americans be, if we were all careful, intelligent and honest?

MRS. SMITH HAD a baby in a Cleveland hospital. She and her husband said it was a boy when they gave her a girl baby to nurse. The father says, "They can keep that girl, so far as I am concerned, unless they prove it is mine. Something of a prejudice against girl babies in that, per haps."

One proof offered is that the girl baby's ears are exactly like those of the mother. That is and the "Darwinian tubercle" that sometimes goes with them are often inherited from generation to generation, and prove heredity at a glance. Anyhow, any girl baby will pay pretty any one that takes care of her.

SOME SENATORS OPPOSE Dwight W. Morrow as minister to Mexico. Why? Mr. Morrow is able, intelligent, has made his own career. No senator can question him honestly. He was Mr. Coolidge's classmate at Amherst, and his nomination is based on long acquaintance.

NO ONE OBJECTED when President Harding selected Mr. Mellon, whom Harding described to this writer before he appointed him as "the second richest man in the world" was willing to look after Uncle Sam's finances. MR. MORROW, WHO has resigned from the firm of J. Pierpont Morgan and Company—a step not at all necessary—is well fitted for the work that the President gives him. He understands finance, international relationships, and this country is interested in Mexico's prosperity success and friendship.

ON ALL SIDES there are evidences of increasing business activity, says Mr. Hoover, secretary commerce. The business barometer "indicates prevailing, gratifying prosperity." Ten-cent stores, important as evidence, gain of 11 percent in 1927 against the first months in 1926. "Nothing to worry those that attend to business, refrain from gambling, sleep regularly, breathe deeply, avoid boot-leggers and cultivate a disposition to be pleased."

IN LITTLE ROLLO'S day, a good boy would stoop to pick up a pin. The rich, observant banker would notice him, employ him, marry him to his daughter, leave him his fortune. Economy was the watchword. Modern James McStowe, of Canton, O., says it is an exploded watchword. "In Chicago he picked up a dime from the floor and as he stooped someone stole his pocketbook with $800. The dime will look after themselves."

THE AMERICAN LEGION in Paris yesterday adopted the report of its national defense committee, demanding establishment of a national air force as a separate department, with an "air force secretary" in the cabinet. Common sense. The man that had employed a coachman got a chauffeur when the automobile came in. Intelligent nations will add to their secretary of war and secretary of navy a secretary of the air, now that flying machines have come.

YOUNG WILLIAM B. LEEDS, son of the "tin plate king," started his Fokker three-motor engine flying machine for Chicago yesterday with passengers and a relief pilot. They were to stop at Cleveland last night, then on to Chicago. Young men with money can promote flying in thidday as W. E. Vanderbilt, Jr., and other young men with money promoted motor cars 25 years ago.

Students Of Southern Enjoy Their 1st Social Event Of The Season

LAKELAND, Fla., Sept. 23.—Students and faculty of Southern college enjoyed their first social event of the fall term Tuesday night when they were the guests of the College Heights Methodist church, the affair being given in the basement of the church and almost the entire student body attending. Dr. H. A. Spencer, pastor of the church, stated that this was the first of a series of socials the congregation was planning for the students.

"This is really the critical period of a school girl's life," said Dr. Spencer. "The first week or so they have a tendency to get homesick, and there is no ailment in the world as bothersome as nostalgia. It is up to the church to see that they do not get lonely."

Mrs. Robert Chamberlin was chairman of the committee on arrangements and in selecting Mrs. W. B. Sewall to supervise the program it was proven that more worthy entertainment planner could have been selected. Mrs. Sewall had the attendance of several hundred engaged in various games of community nature in the rooms of the basement throughout the evening. Even the president Spivey forgot his dignity for once and frolicked in games like the peanut race, etc.

During the evening punch was served the guests.

Much Action Seen In Riotous Comedy At Milane Theater

A Madri Gras and Venetian celebration combined can't be more picturesque and colorful than the circus background that figures in "The Life of Riley," the riotous film comedy co-featuring George Sidney and Charlie Murray, at the Milane Theater today.

Elephants and camels, wild men and bearded women, clowns and hula girls in this sequence vie with a carload of fireworks, exploding among the principal players, a riot and a village fire, and many other comedy elements, in providing laughs and thrills.

Rural comedy has in the past been considered natural mirth material, but in combination with such "exotic" thrills it is doubly effective in "The Life of Riley."

The famous comics of stage and screen, Sidney and Murray, are characterized as rural town Fire Chief and Police Chief, respectively, and Sam Hardy, Myrtle Stedman, June Marlowe, Stephen Carr, Edwards Davis and Bert Woodruff have interesting supporting roles. E. M. Asher produced the comedy for First National Pictures and it was directed by William Beaudine.

The story of "The Life of Riley" was written especially for Sidney and Murray by Mann Page, noted playwright and photoplay author, and Howard J. Green adapted it. Curtis Benton wrote the continuity. What ingenious comedy business the trio of noted authors overlooked, Comedy Constructor Jack Mintz injected during the filming of the picture.

Bite yourself an Alphabet

My dear, pretzeleering is so educational

Really, you know, this younger generation is SUCH a problem. Why Junior just simply COULDN'T learn his letters until we FRETZELIZED him. Showed him how to BITE the alphabet. Simply MARVELOUS the progress he's making. You should see him spell out:

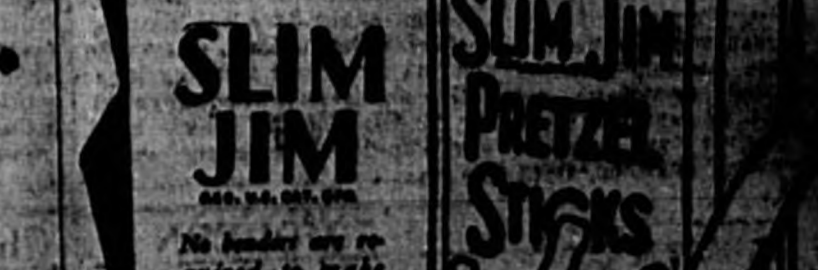

Juniors bite them. Then they eat them. There's no age limit for pretzeleering, particularly if you bite things out of O-So-Guds, made by Uneeda Bakers. They're crispy, and crunchy, and salty. They're good to eat and good for all who eat them.

Try O-So-Guds with soup, with salad, with cheese. Serve them with tea and iced drinks. Have them handy for between-meal nibbling.

The up-and-coming grocer in your neighborhood has plenty of pretzels made by Uneeda Bakers. Ask him.

MINNESOTA may prove a sensational surprise in the conference and some experts already are figuring the Gophers to cop honors. Coach Rockne again has a stiff schedule for his "traveling" eleven and the Catholics meet the leading elevens of the entire country, including games with the Army and the Navy, Georgia Tech and Southern California, as well as Big Ten Schools.

To Test Minnesota Notre Dame will give a genuine test to the Minnesota eleven at South Bend on November 5 and a victory for the Gophers undoubtedly will cast them in the role of one of the greatest teams in several seasons.

In the Big Ten circuit five backfield stars and five line heroes will captain elevens. The various team captains are: Vic Gustafsen, halfback, at Northwestern; Bennie Osterbaan, end, at Michigan; Herbert Joesting, fullback, at Minnesota; Theo. Meyer, guard at Ohio; Ben Rouse, center, at Chicago; E. Chester Wilcox, half at Purdue; B. Byers, half, at Indiana; Robert Reith, center, at Illinois and E. W. Nelson, tackle, at Iowa.

Lindsey Burns His Court Records

after years of service, held a bonfire in one of the city's parks the other night. It was a fire, the judge said, that would "save homes."

Denying that the great pile of records that he burned were court records, the former juvenile judge put the match to the documents that bore tragic stories of many Denver homes.

"Do you think I want homes ruined in Denver?" he said, explaining to the crowd that the records were not court records. "All the young people who have given me their confidence may know now that their secrets are safe."

Above, the judge is shown preparing the bonfire.

BIG TEN LEADERS TO REPEAT THIS COMING SEASON

Nothing New Or Startling Has Appeared On Horizon While Teams Take To Field For Their Preliminary Workouts

CHICAGO, Sept. 23--(INS)--As Big Ten conference and other midwestern elevens climax early training periods, there is nothing new or startling apparently on the "corn belt" football horizon. Early indications are that the outstanding teams of 1928 will continue to topple over their enemies.

Northwestern and Michigan, two elevens which tied in 1926 for the Big Ten title, again appear the most formidable in the Western conference this fall, with Ohio State, Minnesota and Illinois looming as the most likely contenders.

One New Face Coach Knute Rockne continues at Notre Dame and there is only one new face in the roster of mentors in the Big Ten conference. Dick Hanley, former Haskell Indian coach, succeeds Glen Thistlewaite shifting over to Wisconsin. Yost continues at Michigan, Dr. John W. Wilsie at Ohio Dr. G. W. Spears at Minnesota, Stagg at Chicago, Bert Ingersoll at Iowa, Zuppke at Illinois, Jimmy Phelan at Purdue and H. G. Page at Indiana.

Minnesota may prove a sensational surprise in the conference and some experts already are figuring the Gophers to cop honors. Coach Rockne again has a stiff schedule for his "traveling" eleven and the Catholics meet the leading elevens of the entire country, including games with the Army and the Navy, Georgia Tech and Southern California, as well as Big Ten Schools.

Third Man?

George Lytton, millionaire department store owner of Chicago, is being prominently mentioned as likely choice for referee of the Tunney-Dempsey fight, Sept. 22, at Soldier's Field, Chicago.

Moderate Eating Is Urged By Scientists Of Chicago School

CHICAGO, Sept. 23--(INS)--Moderation in eating is counseled by two University of Chicago scientists as a prevention against a defective vision and lethargy.

Conducting a series of experiments on themselves, Prof. J. Frank Percy of the department of psychology and Dr. Thomas Dyer Allen, ophthalmologist, did not stop stuffing balloons into their stomachs and having them blown up when inside, to determine how much one's "tummy" may be stretched.

Here is what they discovered, in the own words: "Distention of the stomach by overeating produces a disturbance in vision. Objects blur, especially near objects. The individual had difficulty in reading, partly due to the blurring and partly due to wandering of attention."

Their report goes on to tell how they filled the balloons in their stomachs with air until a measure of pleasure was exerted against the walls of the stomachs.

The report continues: "That distention of the stomach by air produces effects similar to those arising from eating a large meal is evidenced by the similarity of the symptoms."

Hunts Parents

For seventeen years Harold John McKibben, 21, thought he was Juan Gomez Chavez, son of a wealthy rancher at Parral, Chihuahua, Mexico. When he told Chavez he intended to enter politics, the ranchman showed the boy the court order which disclosed he had been abandoned in El Paso, Tex., in 1910, by American parents. The court had placed him in custody of the rancher. Now the young man is seeking his parents.

At the Trial of Mayor Duvall

An amazing story of bartering of city hall jobs was related on the witness stand at the opening of the trial of Mayor John L. Duvall of Indianapolis. Duvall, shown above between his attorneys in the courtroom, was accused by William H. Arnitage, first witness (shown below on the witness stand), of accepting $14,500 and then breaking campaign pledges.
