MRS. E. L. JOHNSON

Wello There, so glad to be with you again. Our trip to the nation's capital was just wonderful. And I'll let you in on a little secret, it was hotter up there, believe it or not. It is a different kind of hotness. Our first day there we were taken to a restaurant on the Potomac River where we enjoyed a crab boil. Our hosts were my brother Bill, his wife (whom I have adopted as my sister) and a man who was born in Italy and came over here to become a famous chef, Emilio Crocci. He made a mammoth veal out of sugar and gave it to the president. Emilio now owns a big and beautiful restaurant on the outskirts of Washington. At the grand opening of his place he had dinner plates especially made with the name of the president on them.

year and a big wide band around the edge in gold. These were given to special guests at that time and he gave me a set of six and am I proud of them. Our next day there we visited the Museum of Natural History, Smithsonian Institute. For the benefit of those who have never been there, it would take you several days to go through every section of the Institute. While the men were interested in Lindburgh's plane, the old cars, even Colonel Mooby's uniform, General Lee's pistol that he carried through all his battles. The thing they liked the best was the first flag made by Betsy Ross. And to me, well I was entranced by the President's inaugural gown. The way they are arranged you would think you were out on Fifth Ave. window shopping. From Martha Washington on down to Mamie Eisenhower it is really something to see. The widows were fine to represent a room of the White House. The purse on the arm of Martha Washington was made by her. It was of a damask material. High buttoned shoes, fancy handbags, no fancy jewelry. One of the gowns had a very long train and was made of a very thick material. In a separate showcase was Mamie Eisenhower's wedding dress. It was made in 1913. Made real plain and straight out of material that looked like pongee. For the space-age minded youngsters there was one building with nothing but the space age material. Standing outside of the building was the first Polaris rocket. Inside was a replica of Shepherd's ship and you could look inside in three dimension form and see just how he occupied the ship. There is also one that carried the monkey into space. Just imagine that in all these buildings there is everything that makes up this world. From the minerals to the stars it can be found there. For anyone who goes there, prepare to stay all day and then come back the next. The largest elephant on record is in the center of the Natural History exhibit. It was killed in Africa in 1933. Weighing 12 tons, it stands 13 feet and 2 inches at the shoulder. Our next visit was to Arlington Cemetery. The United States acquired this estate in 1864 for non-payment of taxes. There are 200 acres in this National Cemetery. We missed seeing the change of the Honor Guard by about 15 minutes. This is a high honor to do this and it is a volunteer job of the Army boys to do it. They undergo rigid training for this job and sometimes it requires three years to take the training. We were told that sometimes there are as high as 300 burials a day there. By the side of the cemetery is the most interesting place of all to see. That is, it was to me. This was the Custis-Lee Mansion. In 1955 it was made a permanent memorial to Robert E. Lee. It was originally the home of George Washington Parke Custis, the foster son of the first president. Here Lee married Mary Custis, the great-granddaughter of Martha Washington. Lee was at that time a lieutenant in the U.S. Army. They raised seven children and a niece. There are five rooms on the first floor, five bedrooms and a playroom upstairs and on each bed the children's clothes are laid out just as if they were coming in to put them on. And in their playroom there are toys laying on the floor and also a small pair of boots. The dining room table was set and on the small tables in the playroom were silver tea services. The kitchen was downstairs in the cellar. The floor is made of bricks. Corn husks hung from the ceiling, and even the bath tub set out in the middle of the floor. The next room to the kitchen was the wine cellar. The wine bottles were stacked all around the room. There is also a souvenir counter where you can purchase gifts after you have been through the whole house. You can stand out on the balcony and look over into Washington. I am certainly going back to see this mansion next summer. Our last stop was to the mammoth Zoo. On the grounds of the zoo are picnic tables, a large cafeteria and gift shop. By the time we had taken in the animals I had two aching feet. But it was worth it. The Leon Keels, have Mrs. L. D. Allen and children, Beverly, Jean and L. D. Jr. visiting them for a few days from Climax, Ga. The C. E. Little and family spent a few days in Jacksonville last week. They are planning to go to Palm Beach next week. Had you noticed that you can see the Bank Building in Sanford now from Monroe Corner since the trees have been taken down? Tommy and Ruth Swagerly have gone to New Smyrna Beach for a week of sunning and fishing. Ruth's sister, Thelma Sikes probably will join them over the weekend. Hope they catch a lot of fish but sure hope they leave some so I can go over and catch them. Bet you could never guess who we ran into in a restaurant in Orangeburg, S. C. last Friday evening? Mrs. Mae Fort, the beloved Dean of Girls at Seminole High School. She was trying to make up her mind it was me and I was trying to decide it was her. She and Mr. Fort were on their way to Williamsburg, Va. It was sure a strange coincidence meeting someone from your home town that you know. Had a postcard from Annie McArthur, our former Monroe Postmaster. She is visiting in Santa Ana, Calif. I bet she is having a wonderful time! Said she expects to return

Bridge Club Plans Deland Meetings

Members of the DeBary Duplicate Bridge Club, which meets on Tuesday of each week at the Community Center, this week voted to move their playing headquarters to DeLand. Miss Ethel Johnson, club reporter, said that renovations are being made to the Center and the meetings probably will be held in DeLand at the Moose Club, 614 S. Alabama Ave., through September. "Since the new meeting place will be air conditioned," she added, "it is hoped that we have a good representation from DeBary."

Miniature dive bombers — carrying a powerful poison in their bomb bays — may be attacking you in your own back yard this summer. Of course these attackers will be wasps who have built their nests too close for comfort to your outdoor living areas. But if you make after-dark counter attacks on these pests in their nests with chlordane or DDT, you can control them with very little risk of being stung. At least 2,500 different kinds of wasps live in North America, 50 only about 50 species annoy man. Hornets, yellow jackets and mud daubers are among the wasps that can be controlled with these insecticides. I recommend that you apply chlordane or DDT to the nests at night because wasps are less active then, and more likely to be in the nest. Use the commercial 5 per cent solution of household spray in deodorized kerosene. Concentrate your spray on the nest openings.

can be burned, buried, or put in to an airtight can containing a few tablespoonful of carbon tetrachloride. Used on cotton wadding, carbon tetrachloride slows down the activity of these pests and lessens your chance of being stung. In an airtight can, this insecticidal fumigant kills the wasps in 24 hours or less.

Taxpayers: New High In Waste Nears

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If the taxpayers knew or even suspected the score, they would seize a lot of gold braid yard birds in the Pentagon and shake 'em out a window, like a rug.

So doing, the taxpayers might shake some stars off some broad shoulders. Not a bad idea, that. Someone or several someone are responsible in the Pentagon for an outrageous waste of the taxpayers' money. How much is wasted, nobody knows. Who are the wasters? Nobody seems to know much about that, either.

Every newspaper office in the United States has filed away a fat folder of clippings telling of waste in the Pentagon. The master file, however, is in the general accounting office presided over by the comptroller general, Joseph Campbell. Congress should require Comptroller Campbell to add up the wastage each week so that the taxpayers might know.

President Kennedy will have more than $47 billion to spend for national defense in this fiscal year. Too many of those dollars will go down the drain. The House Appropriations Committee protested in early summer that dollar waste was rampant in the military.

The committee reported shocking examples of waste and inefficiency and a disgraceful abuse of laws and regulations. Here are some random samples.

The Air Force paid $41,000 for a screw-making machine even though the Navy had two idle machines in storage.

The military brass permitted defense contractors to overcharge the Navy and Air Force by $60.9 million on 53 fixed-price contracts in the past four years.

There was a waste of $13 million when the Defense Department and the civilian space agency independently developed missiles so similar to the other that one finally had to be scrapped.

When the Army transferred a man from San Antonio, Tex., to Karachi, Pakistan, his household goods were shipped by commercial airplane. That cost $14,830. By surface ship, the cost would have been $1,769 and would have arrived a week earlier.

The Navy spent $607 million for airplanes and radar equipment that were incapable of carrying out their military missions.

In Japan, the U. S. Army ordered more than $55 million worth of tires and tubes but had no place to store them. It was a four-year supply.

With $47 billion of new money to spend, the Pentagon should be able to hit a new high in wasting the taxpayers' dough.

Reds Ready To Talk On Germany

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union in relatively mild notes to the Western Powers made public today said it is ready to negotiate with them on a German peace treaty.

But they left vague the nature of the guarantee for rights of access to Berlin. Nor did the notes give any specific clue as to how negotiations on a peace treaty should be held.

A previous six-month deadline—until the end of 1961—for a settlement on Germany was not mentioned.

Informed sources reported today that East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht had asked Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev for permission to seal the West Berlin border against the flight of refugees. The report could not be confirmed.

The sources said Ulbricht made a secret flight to Moscow to tell Khrushchev that an immediate settlement of the Berlin problems was necessary.

The sources said they did not know Khrushchev's answer but believed he recommended caution until possible East-West talks on Berlin take place.

Despite the lack of official confirmation, weight was given to the report by the fact that Ulbricht was absent from East Berlin early this week.

School Aid Hopes Dim

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democrats were expected to repulse a GOP move to tack on federal aid to impacted school districts today before approving a giant $46.8 billion defense budget bill.

The GOP-backed amendment was made the pending order of business.

A similar maneuver failed Tuesday when the provision was tacked on a $3.1 billion labor and welfare appropriation bill.

Hopes for quick passage of the defense money bill Thursday were abandoned when the Senate dug down into a scrap over funds for long-range manned bombers.

Congress Moves To Crackdown On Sky Pirates

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress moved swiftly today to provide stiff prison terms for sky pirates, and the federal government authorized arming of airline flight crews.

The double-barreled attack to prevent further seizure of U. S. airliners followed the abortive father-son hijacking of a Continental Airlines Boeing 707 jetliner Thursday at El Paso, Tex.

The Senate aviation subcommittee met to consider legislation to provide tough criminal penalties for aerial hijackers. Chairman A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) predicted approval of the measure by nightfall.

Monroney said he expected the subcommittee to approve a modified version of a proposal by Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) which would make hijacking punishable by life imprisonment. The bill would broaden the penalties against piracy on the high seas to cover commercial flights.

Christmas In August? No, Just (Specials) Galore Here Tonight

If the rumors hold true that have been circulating around town on a wave of excitement, tonight's big Friday Night Open-Till-9 p. m. promotion is going to have Sanford looking like the week before Christmas with throngs of downtown shoppers taking advantage of the new hours.

With all the stores advertising bargains, free parking, free tickets on a chance of a trip to Nassau for two, a good child appear movie at the Ritz, and banks open to cash pay checks, it is expected that shopping will be a pleasure.

Many stores are featuring up to 50 percent off on summer merchandise and there are many other sales with first quality articles marked down 20 and 30 percent.

Now is the time to buy needed items for school and early bird Christmas gifts that will put the shopper well ahead of the rush.

Specials are being featured on home appliances at various stores downtown. Toasters, electric irons, fans, clothes hampers, antennas, transistor radios, serving carts, refrigerators and pianos are some of the bargains that are featured.

Starting at one o'clock, the Nassau for two will be held at the corner of First St. and Magnolia Ave. shortly after 9 p. m. when the tickets from all the stores will be placed in one big bowl and the lucky winner will be drawn. You must be present to win.

Longwood Citizens Plan To Continue Paving Requests

The Longwood City Hall again was filled to capacity at the monthly council meeting last night with residents... most of them there to seek advice on how best to continue their appeals to the Seminole County Commission for paving of Orange Ave. from Hwy. 17-92 to the Longwood city limits.

The City of Longwood two weeks ago awarded the bid for its part of the paving which does not include the strip running in front of the new Longwood Elementary School.

A petition bearing 161 signatures was presented at the July 25 commission meeting by residents of the Longdale area asking that the county do something about getting it paved.

They reported to the councilmen Thursday night that "the commissioners were very polite to us but nothing was done about it."

During the following open discussion, the Longdale group made plans to again appear before the county board in the near future and to "get every man, woman and student who is interested in the school and in Longwood to go with us for as many times as it takes to get something done!"

"If the county can't pave the road," one resident said, "then we want to know why and just what good we are getting out of our tax money if none of it is spent in our area."

"This isn't any new problem. I understand it's been coming before the commissioners repeatedly during the past few years," he added.

Another petition for the paving has been placed on the desk of Mrs. Onnie R. Rockett clerk, in the City Hall and officials have requested that every citizen who comes in to the office add his signature. This petition will be brought by the citizens' delegation when it next appears before the county board.

The County Commission, meeting all week on informal budget hearings has not set aside any funds for hiring an administrative aide... Not for next year anyway? Hearings on the budget are tentatively set for early September.

By the way, the commission hopes to wrap up most of the budget requests today with one more informal meeting.

Police Chief Roy Williams has ordered his men to arrest any Greyhound Bus drivers still using Park Ave. south of Third St. to get out of the city. It seems some of the drivers are not following company orders rerouting the vehicles.

County Service Officer Karlisle Housholder has invited a representative of the State Service office of the Florida Department of Veteran Affairs to serve as a consultant on matters concerning benefits for vets. Personal interviews will be available on Tuesday Aug. 22 from 3:30 p. m. until 4:30 p. m. Appointments can be made by contacting Housholder.

The Sanford Library has just received a cumulative index Medicus, published by the American Medical Assn. for 1960. It combines the best resources available and employs the most labor saving methods of medical indexing.

The city firemen were left out in the cold again this year. In the proposed city budget no appropriations have been set aside for Kelly Days. The only way for the firemen to get these days will be for them either to take from the contingency fund... increase revenue or slash the budget another place.

District 3 County Commissioner John Fitzpatrick who doesn't mind a few "needles" once in awhile from us—called this morning to suggest we get an English grammar book. Mr. Fitzpatrick was referring to a headline in Wednesday's paper which was grammatically incorrect. Thanks Joan!

Gen. John K. Rice, of Clermont, president of the Florida Lychee Growers Assn., will be the featured speaker at the Rotary meeting, Monday, 12:15 at the Civic Center.

Mrs. Anna Cowan Dies Thursday

Mrs. Anna E. Cowan, 84, died Thursday following a lengthy illness.

The widow of the late James H. Cowan, member of a prominent Sanford pioneer family, Mrs. Cowan had been a resident of Lake Mary since 1940 and had previously resided in Sanford for 43 years. She was born Feb. 11, 1877, in Emporia and was a member of the Community Presbyterian Church of Lake Mary.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. R. B. Monroe and Mrs. Donald A. Dunn of Sanford; a son, George W. Cowan of Pensacola; eight grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 4:30 p. m. Sunday from Brison Funeral Home with Rev. John W. Puley and Rev. John Adams Jr. officiating. Burial will be in Lakeside Cemetery.

Animal Ready To Orbit Around Earth, Jayces Told

"There will be an animal put into orbit around the earth in the very near future," Major Walter E. Brewer told the Jaycee audience at the Civic Center Thursday.

This follows the National Space Agency's policy of first using animals to test each new step of the man in space program.

"In every phase, animals are used to determine the feasibility of the manned flights, to determine the stress that man will encounter and to train support personnel, in order to have the right personnel in the right place at the right time," stated Major Brewer, who is the veterinarian in charge of recovery of the space animals at the Cape.

"Ham, the chimpanzee who made a recent historic flight into space, batted 1,000," Major Brewer said.

"We learn performance capabilities through these intelligent animals, when we expose them to space conditions."

In the two orbital flights scheduled before the end of this year, it is expected that the capsule will circle the earth three times, each complete circle taking 32.5 minutes for a total of four and one half hours.

Animals are now in training for the much advanced work and conditioning that a four-hour flight will take, as compared to the 15 minutes it took Shepard and Grissom to complete their recent 330 mile down-range flight.

VANDENBERG AFB, Calif. (UPI)—Two straight Discoverer satellite failures did little today to halt speculation that a monkey might ride into space in one of the next satellites.

Discoverer No. 28, carrying an instrument-filled recoverable capsule similar to the one a monkey would ride, failed to go into orbit Thursday.

The Air Force, which was using this attempt to figure out what caused No. 27 to blow up two weeks ago, said the 81-foot rocket did not achieve enough speed—18,000 miles an hour—and fell into the Pacific.

If the rocket had boosted the 25-foot-long satellite into polar orbit, an attempt would have been made in one to four days to recover the capsule off Hawaii.

Mayor Reports 500 New Homes

By MONA GRINSTEAD

North Orlando Mayor Frank Faulstich said today that conferences were held last week by Village officials with Jack Gellis of the Gellis Construction Co. on a new home development in the community.

Gellis, headquartered in Atlanta, has vast experience in the construction business, Faulstich said, and in recent years has built a total of 15,000 homes in Long Island and in Puerto Rico.

He is expected to return to North Orlando late next week to begin work on a reported 500 home subdivision in the area between Moss Rd. and Sherry Rd. which adjoins the property site set aside for the Village Shopping Center.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Three crewmen escaped an Eastern Air Lines cargo Constellation that caught fire and burned fiercely while taxiing at Idlewild Airport for a midnight flight to Puerto Rico.

In the "railroad" business the brakeman's lantern means everything. His "signal lantern" preceded the driver's stop and go light. It must be obeyed. The brakeman, like God, must give us the "all clear." It is the only way we may know the track is clear, the switch in place, for us to move with confidence. How reassuring when we know that God is clearing the way ahead of us.

If you were ever in a business a righteous God could not bless, then, you well know how it hurts not to be able to get His "all clear." But He warned us "There is a way that seemeth right, but the end is death." If one's destination is Heaven, it is important that he get on the main line and keep on going. Let us take the church as our "brakeman." It will not signal us wrong. Let us worship God in her pews every week and support her many programs of service.

Marine Declines Surrender Plea

LOUISVILLE, Ill. (UPI) — An AWOL, reluctant Marine inside a heavily guarded rural estate nestled secure today in his wealthy protector's assurance of divine aid against federal captors.

Dion Davis, 19-year-old would-be missionary who said the Marines "teach men to hate," Thursday rejected an FBI plea to surrender and take his chance on a discharge under "ordinary processes of the law."

Davis muttered "I refuse" and turned back from the dramatic 40-minute parley at the gate to the guarded 100-acre estate of John R. Harrell, mausoleum builder and founder-patron of an anti-Communist "Christian Conservative Church."

FBI Agent-in-charge Robert Gibbons of Springfield, Ill., would not say how the FBI will obtain Davis' surrender. But he told the Greenville, Pa., youth his refusal "could lead to something that might mean your life or my life or the lives of those people across the street."

The youth fled Camp LeJeune, N. C., four months ago and said the Marines flaunt "sin in your face," condone atheism and teach men to be killers. He took refuge on Harrell's estate three weeks ago and Harrell told newsmen of his whereabouts Tuesday.

Harrell, former Methodist Sunday School superintendent and World War II pilot, vowed that sectarian followers whom he supports and houses on his estate would resist any attempt to take Davis by force. Davis was free to leave voluntarily, however.

Harrell backed up his threat by arming guards in 40-foot towers with Mausers and sidearms. He said he has "thousands" of rounds of ammunition and "enough supplies to last for weeks."

Harrell said Divine Instructions for his every move included tactics. "The Lord has told us not to stoop down, not even while reloading," he said. "Love is the thing that makes the greatest fighter of all — love of God and love of country."

"But we don't want to harm them and I don't believe they want to shoot us."

Harrell lives in a spacious garage attachment to his nearly complete replica of Mount Vernon, George Washington's home. Six American flags and a banner of his church fly in the area.

Davis' father, who flew 35 missions over Germany in World War II, pleaded with his son to surrender during a visit to the estate last Sunday. His mother, who said young Davis must have suffered a "mental breakdown," Thursday pleaded unsuccessfully by telephone.

"Both my parents think I'm crazy," Davis said.

Church To Install Air Conditioner

By BETTIE SMITH

Members of the Cavetberry Community Methodist Church hope to have a new air conditioning unit installed and ready for operation at the Sunday morning worship services.

Overwhelming response to a recent request from Rev. Oscar C. Poole for donations towards the purchase of a unit, which he announced could be bought for a cash price of $1,000, brought a sum of $1,145 within a week and more fund donations were made at last week's service.

Rev. Poole also reported that a recent ice cream social was very successful and in thanking all those who helped make it so, said that the proceeds from this event would help defray costs of sending young people of the church to Youth Camp.

Oaklawn Chapel To Have Birthday

The Oaklawn Baptist Chapel on Country Club Rd. will celebrate the first anniversary of its organization at an ice cream social scheduled for 3 p. m. Sunday. All members and friends who have worked towards growth and development of the Chapel during the year will be the honored guests at the event.

Rev. R. L. O'Quinn, pastor, today cited as an example of the accomplishments, the Sunday school attendance, saying that when the first services were held 11 persons were enrolled in the department and that it now has an enrollment of 71.

Rev. O'Quinn also announced that a Vacation Bible School will be conducted at the Chapel during the week of Aug. 21 through Aug. 25 with daily sessions scheduled between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 11 a. m.

Nazarene Church Bible School To Open Monday

The Sanford First Church of the Nazarene will open Vacation Bible School Class Monday.

The school will be conducted daily from 8:30 p. m. until 9 p. m. through Aug. 18 with classes available to all ages between four and 14 years. All boys and girls above this age limit also are invited to attend the nightly sessions.

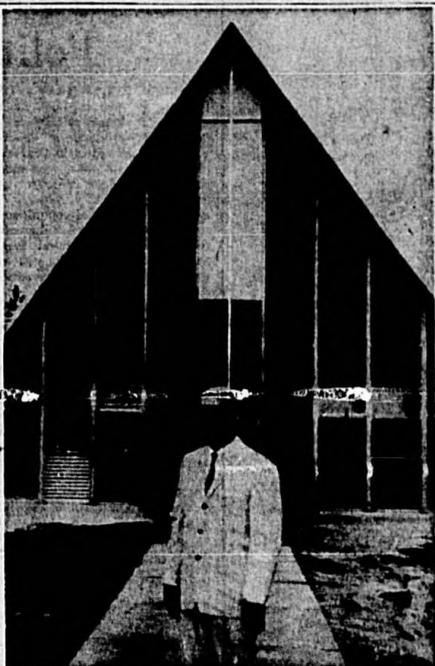

Mrs. Ruth Carter, general director of the Bible School, will be assisted by a corps of 20 teachers and volunteer helpers.

Longwood Church Sets Bible School

Vacation Bible School opened Monday at the Longwood Pentecostal Church, 561 Orange Ave., with daily classes from 9 a. m. until noon to be held through Aug. 11.

Bible stories, games, crafts and songs, plus refreshments and outdoor play fill the hours and all children, regardless of church affiliation, have been invited to share the fun and learning.

Department leaders are Mrs. Jesse Brown, nursery; Mrs. Clyde McCoy, beginners; Mrs. Linwood Dykes, primary; Mrs. James W. Vannoy, junior and Mrs. J. R. Grant, Teenage.

Thousands Of Messages Barrage President After TV Appeal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "As I watched you, I wondered where our boy of a few months ago was. The broad smile, the swaggering gait, the tousled mop, the coat tails flying, and the hand in the pocket, all gone, and before us stands a man, with a grim determination, a troubled look, and God love you, the weight of the world . . ."

This was in a letter written by a woman on Cape Cod, where President Kennedy has spent many of his happiest moments. It was one of about 20,000 messages Kennedy has received since his radio-TV appeal for "your help . . . your suggestions . . . and above all, your prayers" in helping to end the Berlin crisis. The overwhelming bulk of the letters and telegrams addressed to the White House since Kennedy's talk 10 days ago have voiced support for his firm stand on Berlin and his announcement of a military buildup.

FUTURE FLORIDA BUYER: Today, Smile-getter... Tomorrow, Style-setter!

A born coquette, this youthful charmer revels in ribbons and lace-trimmed hats. Fleeting, her sparkling eyes reflect the lovely, clothes-conscious adult she is to become.

But what of tomorrow, when her fashion flair has been trained to the business of buying, perhaps for a department store's millinery department?

Will she be free to choose? Will she select styles of the season from competitive lines . . . judging comparative merits of materials and workmanship, weighing cost against value? This is the role of the commercial buyer in an economy where free enterprise with boundless energy and miraculous ingenuity goes all out to please the selective shopper.

Socialism scores free choice. Bureaucracy ignores individual preference. These are subtle dangers to our free enterprise system which has made America so great. A Deserved Hand

It appears that the county's 1961 property assessments for tax purposes will be more than $182 million, an increase of about $7 million over the 1960 taxable valuations.

This assessment estimate by the tax assessor shows a proper increase in the tax roll based on valuations including new construction and continued adjustment of the revaluation program undertaken by the county in 1960.

It also shows that the thinking of our public officials and most of the public is beginning to jell on the idea of having a realistic tax assessment to keep pace with the increases in needs for money to operate a growing county.

The increase in the tax roll is important, but probably more important is the fact that our people, many of them originally opposed to revaluation for various reasons, now see that the county must plant its feet on the solid ground of reasonable taxation to keep from getting lost in the present day shuffle for progress.

The estimate by Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker that the taxable roll will amount to $182,703,808 clearly shows that the old days of whittling away at the tax source are over.

We congratulate Mrs. Walker for preparing a tax roll which takes into consideration the fact that everybody must help share the burden of the public need. Her estimate should be somewhere near the actual tax roll figure and should allow the county sufficient revenues to pursue an orderly course of expansion.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE J-400; Janice D., aged 29, went berserk after her baby was born and spent three months in a mental sanitarium where she had a long series of shock treatments. Many wives get unstrung during and after the first pregnancy, so I shall present this case for its scientific value. Paste it in your scrapbook.

Janice was a beautiful girl who attracted men as honey draws flies. She had suffered a very unhappy childhood, with a drunken father and a broken home before she left grammar school.

So she was unduly hungry for attention and love. Her vivacity and beauty made social affairs a balm to her previously wounded ego.

Then she married, and within two months found that she was to have a baby. She became frantic with anger and bitterness.

"Dr. Crane, I first tried to have an abortion, but this failed. Then I almost lost my mind with rage when I found I had to stay home from parties.

"My husband's work kept him away a great deal, and now I could no longer travel with him, which had been one of my greatest delights.

"Each day and night that I spent alone at home, I hated the child more, for he stood between me and the only real happiness I had ever known.

"My husband would call me by telephone each night, which was the only thing that kept me going.

"But I raged at Fate for dealing me this unlucky card, and I kept building up greater dislike for my baby.

"In the middle of the night, while alone in our country home, I had the baby. There wasn't even a doctor or nurse in attendance. "I became delirious with pain and frustration. During the following week, every time I heard the baby cry or even move in its crib, I could have screamed so great was my resentment.

"I couldn't even bear to nurse him, although I had plenty of milk. And my once beautiful bust became flabby after he was weaned, so I developed a new cause for hatred.

"Even to this day, and five years have passed, I can't stand the sight of mothers pushing baby carriages.

"They make me so insane with rage that I almost black out. I literally cross the street to avoid passing a mother with a baby.

"Dr. Crane, I realize my attitude is unnatural, but this is just the way I feel, so I am telling you the truth."

If Janice had verbalized her ire years ago, she would have felt less frustrated.

For the very act of talking over one's problems, helps lessen the tension.

And she was not so unnatural as she thought, for it surprised her to know how many thousands of other wives have secretly hated their first baby, at least momentarily. For the pregnancy interferes with their own social life.

If a wife has been coddled, only child and has been unduly spoiled, or if her childhood has been hard and she then doubly relishes the delight of a husband who loves her, it is not unnatural to have secret grudges occasionally against any kinfolk who may spoil her privacy.

There is no inevitable attraction between mother and baby. This love is a learned habit, and usually starts during early pregnancy.

Henry McLemore

ROME, Italy — How far back does your memory go?

This question has been asked by a Rome newspaper in a contest open to all its readers, with a handsome prize to the winner.

I had planned to enter, but then I read some of the early replies and knew right off that I didn't have a chance even for a consolation prize, much less the grand one.

So far, the leader is an electrical engineer from Frascati who has a vivid recollection of everything he did, and what went on about him, when he was four months old.

Dozens of other readers are not far behind him when it comes to remembering. Memories going back to five and six months of age are as common as grapes in Italy, it seems, and the general opinion is that the winner of the contest will have to remember his first week on earth. Or at least his second.

For myself, I can't go back any further than when I was a year old. Everything before that is lost. No matter how hard I try, I can't recall a blessed thing that happened to me around ten or eleven months.

This makes me mad, because in many ways my memory is remarkable. Now if only some newspaper would run a contest to discover the memory that stored up the most trivia, which held on to information that didn't matter with a bulldog grip, then I'd be a cinch.

Fay Henle's

Your Pocketbook

From behind the file cabinet as cleaned up the other night popped a booklet with an eerie title: "Can You Afford To Die?"

Since the hour was 3 a.m., the question did not appear inappropriate. Yet, in broad daylight, I venture the macabre: Can you afford to die?

Possibly because you have an updated will drafted with the help of an attorney, witnessed and resting in a safe deposit box, you suffer the illusion that all would be well with your affairs. It ain't necessarily so, as the song puts it.

A recent study shows that the cost of dying can be high. For a modest $10,000 estate, settlement costs averaged between one-fourth and one-fifth the total. In some 2,700 estates of about that size, administrative expenses took 12.8 per cent. Payment of debts, including income taxes took 9 per cent, and state inheritance taxes took 2 per cent.

This means that the average settlement cost of these estates amounted to 23.8 per cent of $2,380. Quite a chunk out of $10,000!

The study shows that settlement costs for bigger and more complicated estates is still more expensive. In 2,400 estates valued at about $25,000 it cost an average 18.5 per cent or $4,625 to settle.

Now, can you afford to die? The answer is "yes" only if you have figured what you'll be worth dead, and have provided for assets to wind up your affairs. Most of us don't give this enough consideration.

In the case of estates valued at $10,000, the study shows there was an average of only $1,100 in cash to apply to costs. More than $1,200 had to be raised before the estate could be fully settled. There are several ways that you can provide for settlement costs: Perhaps the simplest way is to earmark certain assets for payment of expenses. You might decide, for example, that certain securities or property could be sold. This is risky, however, since both could decline in value, then your estate might be forced to liquidate an asset that could at a later date possibly recoup its value.

You can buy life insurance to cover what you expect it will cost to settle your estate and earmark this particular policy for just that purpose. Thus you'd be able to keep your other possessions intact.

Finally, there are 21 issues of government bonds that you could buy. Regardless of what you paid for these specific bonds, or what they might then be selling for, estate administrators could cash them in for 100 cents on the dollar providing the proceeds are used to pay federal inheritance taxes. Even if you do not expect that your estate will be taxed by the federal government, government securities are a good way to accumulate a liquid asset.

Whatever method you plan to use, make certain that your executors know of your intentions, for if there is one thing that the purveyors of credit have not yet figured, it is how to die now and pay later!

I have to carry my telephone number on a slip of paper in my watch pocket, but I can tell you that the cow that fell in a lime pit in Mrs. Gaskell's "Cranford" was an Alderney, and belonged to Miss Betsy Barber, although I haven't read "Cranford" in 25 years.

I'd hate to bet on whether my wife's birthday is October 10 or October 14, but I can tell you all about John of Gattus, the name of the national archery champion in 1924, and the home town of the Sherpa who went to the top of Mt. Everest with Sir Edmund. (I do not give Sir Edmund's last name because I can't remember how it's spelled.)

What kind of a mind is it that cannot remember the color of his own mother's eyes, but has no difficulty at all in recalling the gearshift pattern of the old Dodge?

Or has never been able to remember the date of Columbus Day but can tell you, to the inch, the height of the Nebraska State capitol building?

Here in Rome the kings, consuls, and emperors stay confused in my mind, no matter how often I read about them, but I remember to a penny what I paid for a bugle in 1916, the area in square feet of Chicago's Merchandise Mart, and the names, plus the colors of the labels, of at least a dozen brands of chewing tobacco.

If there ever was a place where a man needed a memory, Rome is it. Especially when a man goes about acting as a voluntary guide for friends. I "B.C." and "A.D." all over the place; but Constantine, Nero, Augustus, Cicero, and all the others are just a dusty blur. As for planning down Caesar — well, I gave up long ago.

If only Caesar didn't matter. If he had been a ragpicker, or a jockey, or a blacksmith, I'd have all the information stored away forever.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— The business of building up public support for President Kennedy's foreign aid program as it approaches a showdown in Congress has evolved into one of the most complicated lobbies ever set up in the capital.

There is a welter of committees, conferences and pressure groups issuing statements, printing pamphlets and sending out mail in such profusion you need a scorecard with names of all the players to follow the game.

In the limelight now is a Citizen's Committee for International Development Inc., which has just been organized with White House blessing and inspiration. It is not to be confused with the Citizens' Foreign Aid Committee, whose Washington Director is Eric L. Bonner Fellers and whose objective is to have all foreign aid programs killed.

Until early this year there was a Committee to Strengthen the Frontiers of Freedom. This was an outfit set up in 1959 with former Army Secretary Tracy Voorhees at its head. Its purpose was to promote the recommendations of President Eisenhower's Committee to Study the U. S. Military Aid Program.

Under the chairmanship of Gen. William H. Draper, this 18-man group had urged a $400-million annual increase in military assistance, particularly in the North Atlantic Treaty area. In the light of today's Berlin crisis, it was a good idea.

Anyway, when representatives of the Voorhees committee called at the White House early this year and asked Kennedy's special assistant for national security affairs, McGeorge Bundy, what they could do to help, they were told in effect to disband and get lost.

Four months later the White House woke up to the fact that it had no citizens organization supporting the Kennedy foreign aid program, which was in serious trouble in Congress.

Washington Attorney Walter S. Surrey, who worked on the original Marshall planing in State Department, was asked to take six months off to run such a lobby. Not being able to do that himself, he set up an organization to do it — the above-mentioned Citizens Committee for International Development, Inc., and registered as a lobbyist.

It now has over 100 members — tycoons and tykes from big and small business, banking, publishing, broadcasting, labor and other special interest groups. Warren Lee Pierson of TWA is chairman, John J. O'Shea is director.

The full group has never met. But the 20 vice chairmen and 16 members of the executive committee have ambitions to keep going. They are giving some thought to moving in where the Business Advisory Council moved out as a government adviser on a broader range of problems.

There are already half a dozen other organizations operating on their own in the foreign aid promotion business.

In 1958, President Eisenhower asked movie czar Eric Johnston to organize a White House Conference on Foreign Aid. It draw a thousand people to a two-day meeting in Washington. Out of this grew a continuing organization, Committee for International Economic Growth. Last year it formed a Center for International Economic Growth. It moved into a building of its own and set up shop as an information clearing house for all other organizations interested in foreign aid.

The center also serves as headquarters for other organizations supporting foreign aid. They include a professional Society for International Development, made up of people who have worked in the field and the National Conference on Economic and Social Development, oldest of foreign aid groups.

It was started in 1952 to support the original Point Four program of President Truman. It does not lobby itself, but it is supported by 40 organizations that do. Last month it drew about 1,300 delegates from 400 local organizations to a Washington conference on foreign aid. Presumably, the delegates went home and lobbied at the local level. For it is amazing how many people want in on this act.

Village Appoints Defense Head

By MONA GRINSTEAD

Arthur H. Rhodes, officially appointed by North Orlando Mayor Frank Fasula to head Civil Defense in the Village, today invited all interested residents to attend an organizational meeting at 8 p. m. Wednesday in front of the Village Hall.

Seminole County Civil Defense Director A. B. Peterson Sr. will be guest speaker at the meeting and will brief the community on preparedness measures of the county and on material available to all citizens through his office.

Rhodes reported that pamphlets entitled "Home Protection Exercises" have been ordered and will be distributed to every home in North Orlando.

"Plans for setting up a CD center in the Village are in the formative stages," he said, "and, in case of an alert, the participation of all our residents will be needed."

He asked that anyone interested in attending the Personal Survival Course, which begins next Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the Fire Hall, contact him for information and registration.

Mayor Fasula, in announcing the appointment, said "I feel that we have an enthusiastic and capable man in Rhodes and I know that he will do a good job if he gets the help and cooperation of everyone in the Village."

TO OWN YOUR OWN HOME!

Tired of moving on short notice? Dissatisfied with high rents? Want to feel the security of your own home? I have the key that lets me help you unlock the door to a home of your own.

It is an open secret that VAH 13 will leave Sanford in early August. I certainly hate to see them go and I do wish each of them much success and happiness and hope that they will someday return to Sanford.

Many of those who are being transferred have requested me to assist them in selling their homes. In many instances beautiful 3 and 4 bedroom, 1 and 2 bath homes in subdivisions in all sections of Sanford can be bought for very small equities. A number of homes with monthly payments as low as $75.00 a month and with as little as a $250.00 down payment are available.

I want to do everything I can to assist these friends in selling their homes. I want the opportunity to show you these excellent home ownership opportunities. Rental rates on similar type homes in Sanford today are from $100.00 to $135.00 a month. I honestly believe that this is an excellent opportunity to help many of our fine Navy friends sell their homes and it is also an excellent opportunity for you to own a home. My interest is to help them and to help you.

I will be glad to discuss personally with you any of these home buying opportunities and take you and show you these homes—or, I will arrange an appointment for the homeowners to show you the homes because I am confident that you will agree that these are quality homes at prices you can afford. These homes range in price from $8,200.00 at $52.00 a month to $19,500.00 at $125.00 a month.

Bucs Score 19 Runs; Break League Record

United Press International
Christmas came two years and two months too late for little Harvey Haddix of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

As you'll recall, Haddix pitched 12 perfect innings against the Milwaukee Braves on May 26, 1959, but his teammates couldn't score a single run for him. The Braves finally ended the spell with a run in the 13th for a 1-0 victory and baseball's best pitched game wound up in just so much exercise for Haddix.

Standings Close In Bowlerettes

Standings are very close in the Jet Bowlerettes summer league play with only two more weeks to bowl.

Present standings find Adams Paiting on top by a bare half game margin with Mary Esthers close behind.

Only two points separate Ivey's, Lital and Toy Coral, in third, fourth and fifth place, respectively.

Spills were picked up by Betty Allen, 8-8-10 and 5-7-8; Peggy Stone, 8-7; Celeste Smith, 5-7; Beverly Grabarkiewicz, 5-7-9; Tina Parker, 2-7; Verna Bolton, 5-7-8; and Elaine Kastner, 3-10.

Three bowlers made over 200 and received free prizes given by local merchants for games of over 200 or six strikes in a row. Winners were Beverly Grabarkiewicz 220, Betty Allen, 224 and Mary Leighty, 221.

Betty Allen also had a high series with a 504 and Mary Leighty had a 542, the highest so far in the summer league.

Players for the fall league are now being lined up and any new bowler wishing to join the Jet Bowlerettes may do so by calling the Jet Lanes or Fran Mackey.

BALTIMORE (UPI)—San Francisco's double-barreled entry of Ken Venturi and Tony Lema paced the field into the second round of the Eastern Open golf tournament today. But you can't convince Baltimore golf fans that the eventual winner will be anyone except Gene Littler, the sweet swinger from Singing Hills, Calif. Littler, who led from start to finish to win this event here last year, could do no better than a fifth-place 70 Thursday. But this has not discouraged his followers.

CHRIS VON SALTZA, ONE OF AMERICA'S ALL-TIME SWIM GREATS, WILL ENGAGE IN HER FINAL AND COMPETITION IN THE SENIOR WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIPS AT PHILADELPHIA, AUG. 10-13.

Pros Favored In 28th Annual All-Star Football Contest

CHICAGO (UPI)—One of the best College All-Star squads in years will try to upset the National Football League champion Philadelphia Eagles tonight before some 75,000 fans in the 28th annual contest between the pro titleholders and the year's prize collegians.

Weather forecasters anticipated a hot humid night, with the temperature in the 80s, perhaps to give the deeper and younger college squad, coached by Otto Graham for the fourth straight season, an edge.

Graham's teams won over the Detroit Lions in his first appearance as mentor of the college kids, and lost the last two years to the Baltimore Colts. Overall, the All-Stars have won eight games, the pros 17, and two have been tied.

The Eagles, who rang up a record of 11 wins and two defeats last year, were 9 1/2 point favorites for the match, although two major factors in last year's victory string were missing, quarterback Norm Van Brocklin and coach Buck Shaw.

Van Brocklin retired to become coach of the Minnesota Vikings and Shaw yielded to one of his assistants, Nick Skorich.

Graham was optimistic about the outcome of the game, praising the quality of the 50 players on his roster, even though he believed that lack of experience could hurt his team.

"I'd like to take this squad into the league season," he said, "and after five or six games, it would be the equal of anybody."

It was anticipated that the All-Stars would rely on the passing of Norm Snead, Wake Forest; Bill Kilmer, UCLA; and Tom Matte, Ohio State. All three have worked well in drills, and Graham has found some standout receivers, notably Aaron Thomas, Oregon State; Mike Ditka, Pittsburgh; Glynn Gregory, SMU; Bob Crespi, Mississippi; Pervis Atkins, New Mexico State, and Joe Bellino, Navy.

The All-Stars' ground game has not been impressive, even though such "horses" as Art Baker, Syracuse, and Bill Brown, Illinois, have stood out.

The Stars will be of comparable size to the Eagles in the line, both teams boasting numerous players in the 250-pound category, and the Stars learned about pro style last week in a game-condition scrimmage in which they tied the Chicago Bears, 14-14.

Graham held his last major workout last Saturday and since then has worked on polishing his offensive maneuvers. Both the Stars and Eagles worked out in Soldier Field, site of the game, to accustom themselves to its turf and lights.

The Eagles may rise or fall on the performance of quarterbacks Sonny Jurgensen, Van Brocklin's understudy last year, and King

Fullmer Puts Title On Line

OGDEN, Utah (UPI)—Ned Winder, chairman of the Utah State Athletic Commission, announced today there will be no compulsory eight-count in case of a knock-down during Saturday night's Gene Fullmer-Florentino Fernandez middleweight title fight.

Winder said the commission had voted to waive the compulsory eight-count rule for this nationally televised 15-round outdoor bout at Ogden's Municipal Stadium.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please don't tell me to see a psychiatrist because I have already been to one, and he said I was sane.

I have been married and divorced three times since 1951—each time to the same man. I wish we had the money we spent on lawyers. Right now we are divorced, and considering marriage again. I feel like a crazy kid. We have no children, so that's not the reason we keep going back to gether. I can't get interested in anyone else, and he is the same way. If he doesn't call me up before going to bed, I call him, and we talk for hours. I really want to marry him again, but I am afraid of what people will say. Can you help me make up my mind? I am 34 and he is 37.

DEAR LUMP: Don't marry each other again until you both sit down with a clergyman, of a competent counselor, and try to determine why your past marriages have failed. If you can discuss your past mistakes objectively, and profit from them, your chances for a shatter-proof marriage are excellent. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I am eleven years old, and I don't have a boy friend yet, I have had my eye on a certain boy for a long time, but I am not making any headway with him. He is 12 and I think he likes me but is too bashful to show it. Everybody says I am cute and smart. He wears a ring, and I would like to get it. Can you help me?
CUTE BUT MUTE

DEAR CUTE: What's the rush? There is only trouble ahead for the girl who wants to get a band on her finger before she gets the banda off her teeth. Slow up, Honey. You are much too young for such notions.

DEAR ABBY: My two small children and I live with my parents. My father tells my 6-year-old son that he must shake hands, instead of kissing him, before he goes to bed; that he may kiss women, but "big boys do not kiss men." Mother and I feel that my son should be allowed to kiss his grandfather, who must act as a substitute father in this case. My own father kissed his son (my brother) until he was in his teens, and I don't think there was anything wrong with it. How do you feel about this?
YOUNG MOTHER

DEAR YOUNG MOTHER: There is no reason why a six-year-old child shouldn't kiss his grandfather.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MAC: A "guilty-conscience" doesn't always prevent people from doing things. It just prevents them from enjoying it.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50c to Abby, Box 3366, Beverly Hills, Calif.

TV Key Previews

Friday's top television shows as previewed and selected by TV Key's staff of experts who attend rehearsals, watch screenings, and analyze scripts in New York and Hollywood:

Rawhide. — "Incident of the Last Chance." (Repeat). A young couple from the East join the cattle drive and manage to confuse the atmosphere mightily. No, only are they out of place, but there's difficulty between the two and the audience begin to choose their sides. Young John Kerr, who plays the Bostonian, has a face that's suitable in the role, and Hank Patterson is as good as ever. 7:30 p. m. CBS.

"The Troubled Land." (Repeat) — A sobering portrait of Brazil, the wealthiest country in Latin America, where 5 per cent of the people own 65 per cent of the land and 20,000,000 peasants earn 25 cents a day. Naturally, the voice of revolution and Communism has found a willing audience as well as a glib opportunist spokesman named Francisco Julio. This documentary proves why Castroism has made so many inroads in Latin America and is important viewing for the 20th Century American. 8:00 p. m. ABC.

Route 66. — "Eleven, the Hard Way." (Repeat) Forget about the contrived plot and stay tuned in for the gaming table scenes in Reno. There's one in each half of the show, and the nifty performances of Walter Matthau and Edward Andrews shooting the dice will take your mind off the awkward mining-town tale that surrounds them. 8:30 p. m. CBS.

"S. 1963: The Foreign Aid Issue." — CBS correspondents interview new members of Congress and Administration officials, in this special half-hour report on the legislative progress of the foreign aid bill, S. (Senate) 1963. 9:00 p. m. CBS.

Twilight Zone. — "Mirror Image" (Repeat). Pretty Vera Miles does a neat job in this one. She plays a girl in a bus station who sees a double image of herself and becomes fearful of losing her identity. A nice young fellow comes to her aid and soon finds the image business catching. No explanation is offered, but that doesn't really matter. 10 p. m. CBS.

Jack Paar Show. — Tonight's "Best of Paar" repeat has poked-facet Selma Diamond and Marquerite Piazza to recommend it, as well as chatter and conversation from Jack's other guests, Milt Kamen, Dolly Goodman and Eleanor Harris. (Color) 11:15 p. m. NBC.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

It's downright scary how well those who aim their sales pitch at women understand feminine psychology.

What woman, for instance, can resist the word "drastically" in combination with that other seductive word "reduced"? To a woman anything that is drastically reduced is something she can't live without.

Then there is that beguiling little word "just." Tack that on in front of a price a woman might ordinarily consider beyond her means and she begins to think it isn't so high after all. There's a world of difference in the feminine mind between, say, "$80.00" and "just $79.95."

two to a customer." Tell a woman she can't buy more than two of an item and even if she only intended buying one she automatically picks up two. After all, she wants to get what is coming to her.

There's something about the term "easy payments" that gets a woman, too. Women who have been stretching tight budgets long enough to know that for them there's no such thing as an easy payment still can't seem to resist that approach.

And, of course, women are suckers for the word "save" when the idea is that they can save by spending. With a perfectly straight face a woman will tell her husband, after a shopping spree, just how much she "saved" — rather than how much she spent.

And let's not forget those tantalizing words "while they last." If anything can make a woman put on her hat, grab her handbag and hurry out to spend some money, those are the words that will do it. For, after all, if she isn't quick about it some other woman might beat her to a bargain.

That is a fate no red-blooded woman can bear to contemplate. Profitable reading for men is "Happier Wives (Hints for Husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millet Reader Service, c/o The Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 400, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

One of the difficulties with learning defensive signals at bridge is that the play of an unnecessarily high card can mean many things.

1 N.T. Pam 2 N.T. Pam
3 N.T. Pam Pam Pam
Opening lead—4 J

West opens the jack of spades against the three no-trump contract and East plays his lowest spade — the deuce. In this instance the deuce play specifically tells West that East does not have one of the high spades.

Now South leads a club. West wins the trick with his king and East drops another deuce. This deuce conveys another message. It tells West that East holds either three clubs or one club. With one card in a suit you must play it.

With two clubs East would have played the higher one. In this case the high card play could not be read as showing strength because the club suit clearly belongs to dummy.

Aided by these two deuce plays West can and should come up with the killing defense. He must play the king of hearts. This may cost him a trick if South holds the queen, but West wants to beat the contract, not just save an overtrick.

After the king of hearts play South has only one way to go. That way is down!

He can win with the ace or he can hold off and hope that West started with the king and queen, but he is never going to be able to bring in dummy's club suit.

Juvenile Traffic Cases Show Marked Increase

PART 2 IN A SERIES

The number of traffic cases handled by the Juvenile Court totaled 13, an increase of 11 over the past three months period.

In the recent session of the legislature a law was passed authorizing the printing of the names of Juvenile Court traffic offenders. The effective date of this law was July 1 of this year.

It is planned to give the names of all traffic violators to the press at the end of each month," emphasized the Juvenile Judge, "and request that they print the names of the violators, the offense they are charged with, and the Court disposition of the case."

It should again be pointed out that the Juvenile Court is the only Court in the State of Florida which has the authority to suspend a violator's driver's license for all violations for whatever length of time the Judge of the Court desires.

In the majority of traffic violations in the Seminole County Juvenile Court driver's licenses are suspended for varying lengths of time.

It is hoped that the suspension of licenses, plus the future printing of the names of violators, will help decrease the traffic problem with respect to youthful drivers.

As has often been said, the intent and purpose of the Juvenile Court is to rehabilitate, rather than to punish.

The Juvenile Court Law proposes a plan whereby the child may be treated, not as a criminal, but as a ward of the state to receive practically the care, custody and discipline as that which should be given by parents.

The number of cases for the first six months of this year, however, disposed of by official court action and cases disposed of whereby no official court action was taken, total 409.

If this continues for the next six months of the year we will have approximately 1,000 cases referred to the Juvenile Court, a total which we certainly will not be proud of.

The number of dependent cases for this three month period total 28. This figure does not begin to reflect the seriousness of the problem of dependent children in Seminole County.

Only the most extreme dependency cases are referred to the Juvenile Court.

The number referred to the Juvenile Court would be greatly increased if the county had facilities to take care of these sorely neglected and abused children, who have the misfortune of being homeless, neglected, abused and otherwise dependent upon the public for support.

The County Commission is presently considering appropriating sufficient funds to finance a foster home program for dependent children in Seminole County. Those who are familiar with this problem and who have seen and dealt with dependent children know that any money appropriated for this program would be well spent.

"We cannot, in good conscience," Judge Mize emphasized, "continue to turn our backs on these children and leave them in a damaging environment and subject them to continued abuse on the part of their parents and others."

"Many people ask why stronger action is not taken against parents who abuse or neglect their children," said the Judge.

"If we had a place to put dependent children," he pointed out, "the criminal courts would then be able to punish the parents for their actions which cause these children to become dependent."

It should be pointed out, too, that the dependency problem is growing almost as fast as the delinquency problem and in many cases a child is both dependent and delinquent.

Also, a dependent child very often becomes a delinquent child at a later time largely because of his environment.

The placing of these dependent children in good foster homes should go a long way toward saving these children from becoming delinquent at a later time.

"I feel that if everyone gives a little thought and consideration to this problem," said the Juvenile Judge, "they will be in favor of the County's appropriating sufficient funds to finance a foster home plan."

THESE CHILDREN recently finished a two week basic swimming course bringing to 200 the number of children who have completed courses at the NAS base. More classes are slated for August, notification is given one week prior to the beginning of the course. The instructors shown above are Edith Arenel, Cindy Miller, Dot Stolpe, Jackie Caolo and Colleen Stewart.

Shopping Center To Be Built On South Sanford Ave.

A new shopping center will be under construction in two weeks on the northwest corner of Sanford Ave. and Onora Rd. according to owner Joe Gazil. Target opening date is November 1.

An added convenience for neighborhood shoppers will be the new Atlantic Gas Station, also building on that corner.

Borsdorf has lived in Sanford most of his life and attended schools here. He lives with his wife, Grace, and two children at 1701 W. 2nd St.

No Tax Hike Seen In County Budget

The County Commission will be presented with the 1961-62 tentative budget Tuesday with no changes seen in the tax rate and the budget figure around the $2,000,000 mark.

The commission will hold its final informal hearing on the budget this afternoon to "iron out some of the trouble spots."

Chairman J. C. Hutchison said this morning that the commission has had $97,000 more in requests to be provided by the current six mills and "we had to trim and trim to stay within our six mill limit."

Last year's budget totaled $1,911,785 with $579,475 in the building fund; $95,400 in interest and sinking; $215,405 in fine and forfeiture; $512,521, general; and $508,963, road and bridge fund.

Hutchison also emphasized that no decision had been reached on Chamber of Commerce appropriations.

The Chamber has asked for an additional $5,000 in funds.

Chamber of Commerce officials will appear before the Commission Tuesday to cite reasons for an increase in funds.

Clerk Arthur Beckwith reported this morning that he hopes to advertise for budget hearings the first week in September.

A Herald Editorial

We Who Hesitate...

Tuesday morning members of the Chamber of Commerce will appear before the County Commission in hopes of getting an additional $5,000 in appropriations for the new year.

It is likely that the Commission will be polite but it is also likely that it already has made up its mind to keep the Chamber's budget at $10,000.

At an informal meeting last week to discuss the county's budget, two members of the county board argued for slashing the chamber's budget even more. Their arguments were that no tax dollar should be used to support that organization.

At the time, Chairman J. C. Hutchison asked one of the commissioners if he knew what a chamber was and if he were familiar with its job performance.

No one seemed to know.

Is our Chamber of Commerce getting the backing it needs from our public officials? From attending many public meetings recently and from reviewing the latest flux of letters to the editors, it appears not.

We all complain about the need for new industry here. Are we working and cooperating with the chamber to attract industry to our city and county? What have you done as an individual to secure industry? What has the County Commission, School Board or, even the City Commission done recently to help secure new industry and the much needed payrolls for the community.

New industries are coming to Florida all the time. These industries are going to communities where cooperation exists and all-out efforts are being made to attract payrolls—A small group of local men are giving much of their time and effort to interest small industry in locating here. Wouldn't it be nice if a public body should give its support and encouragement.

We should make up our minds. If we don't want new payrolls and progress, let's say so and stand still while the rest of the state grows.

But if we do want progress, let's do something about it. Let's help the few persons who are trying to bring industry here. If we can't help financially, then let's be boosters, not knockers.

Kimball Quits Zoning Post

Zoning Board Chairman Byron Kimball today submitted his letter of resignation to the County Commission.

Kimball has served on the board for two years and was elected chairman in January.

The contents of Kimball's letter were not made public today.

However, the Altamonte Springs realtor did deny that his resignation was a protest move and said that he was quitting because of an illness in his family.

Last week the County Commission overrode two Zoning Board decisions and District 2 County Commissioner James P. Avery declared that it "looked like the people involved here were being run over 'rough-shod' by the zoners."

Unrest Growing Among East Reds

BERLIN (UPI)—There were indications today of growing unrest among East German farmers in the face of Communist efforts to plug the Berlin escape route through the Iron Curtain.

Hundreds of Germans continued to evade Red checkpoints during the night and early this morning to bring to 4,000 the number of refugees who fled to West Berlin during the weekend.

All were in a rush to cross into West Berlin for fear the escape route might be cut off even before any peace treaty between the Soviet Union and its puppet German regime is signed.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has threatened to sign a treaty by the end of the year, but some Germans feared the alarming flow of refugees might force his hand earlier.

Paul Froehlich, Communist Party Central Committee member, in a speech in Berlin, said "some farmers have the illusion they can return to private farming."

"Some are threatening error," he added without elaboration. In the obscure language of Marxism, "error" can be anything from a suppressed desire for freedom to open revolt.

Gerhart Eisler, top East German propagandist since he skipped the United States, warned that the government would use "force" to halt the flow of refugees.

Hungarian Plane Down; 24 Die

VIENNA (UPI)—A Hungarian airliner crashed in a Budapest suburb Sunday, killing all 24 persons on board, Budapest radio announced today.

The victims included 20 passengers and a crew of four. While the announcement did not say so, the victims were believed to have been aboard a DC3 type aircraft used by the Hungarian Malev airline, which conducts Sunday sight-seeing tours over Budapest.

The airline uses a number of old Soviet-built planes and small Western-built aircraft. For its long runs, Malev uses exclusively Russian-built planes.

The tentative budget presented to the County Commission Tuesday will be loaded down with plenty of shocks. One thing we hear is that the commission took a "searching look at the Agricultural Department's Budget and eliminated the Home Demonstration Agent from the budget. Although none of the commissioners told us this, rumors were flying all through the courthouse last week and we hear that this is the WORD.

Word also is around that the commission refused to go along with Tax Assessor Mary Kerk's proposal for an increase in the property tax. We also hear that there won't be any increase for the health department and that the only department that will get its full request will be the sheriff's office.

You might as well get accustomed to reading about budgets—they will be big items this week. The City Commission has called a special budget meeting tonight to go over its 1961-62 budget.

The County School Board will meet at 9:30 a. m. Thursday to review the 1961-62 budget. However, we hear that there won't be any change in the millage despite a $7 million raise in non-exempt property.

If you still haven't learned to swim, please note that this year's final classes for adults begin tonight at the Municipal pool at 7 p. m. and Tuesday at the Navy pool at 8 p. m. Put on your bathing suit, go on down and learn to swim. It may save your life.

Tuesday afternoon is the deadline for merchants to turn in advertising copy for the Friday Night "Specials" promotions.

THESE TWO trucks collided Friday at the intersection of SR 436 and SR 434 near Forest City. Highway Patrol Trooper said a 1950 panel truck driven by Harvey Lanier Love, Orlando was going west on 436 when a pick-up truck driven by David James Lassiter of Clearmont pulled out in front of him. Love's vehicle hit Lassiter's broadside knocking the truck into the ditch. Lassiter was charged with running a stop sign by Patrolman J. L. Sikes.

Spaceman Lands Successfully

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union's second space man landed successfully today from a journey that whirled him more than 17 times around the earth in slightly more than 25 hours. His journey was nearly equal to the distance of a round trip to the moon.

Radio Moscow said Maj. Gherman S. Titov, a 28-year-old Air Force officer, landed "exactly in the planned area" of the Soviet Union following his historic flight.

The United States plans an orbital trip by one of its astronauts late this year or early in 1962.

The official Tass news agency said Titov came down about 400 to 450 miles southeast of Moscow, not far from the landing place of pioneer space man Maj. Yuri Gagarin on April 12.

Titov was believed to have been launched early Sunday from the same place as Gagarin near Oyura Tam, in the desert wastes east of the Aral Sea and southwest of Moscow.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev spoke to Titov by telephone shortly after he landed and praised his feat as an "heroic deed."

Titov told Khrushchev that his trip involved 17 1/2 circuits of the earth, and the Soviet premier hailed him for having "fulfilled mankind's dream" of cosmic flight.

Then Khrushchev told Titov he was immediately promoted to full membership in the Communist party, being advanced from "candidate member," and promised him a personal welcome of great magnitude when he returned to Moscow—probably later this week.

Titov was promoted from captain to major while he still was in orbit.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congressional demands for a speedup in the U. S. space program increased today and there were indications the target date for putting the first American into orbit might be moved up.

The successful orbiting of the second Soviet cosmonaut brought new pressure from the Senate and House for space agency officials to send a U. S. astronaut around the earth this year.

Chairman Richard S. Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee and Chairman Orverton Brooks (D-S. C.) of the House Space Committee were among legislators urging spurred U. S. space efforts.

Lt. Col. John Powers, spokesman for the U. S. man-in-space program, said it would be possible for this country to "buy time" in its space effort by devoting money and talent to achieving orbital flight. This would mean abandoning any plans for more suborbital flights.

Present U. S. plans call for putting one of the seven U. S. astronauts into orbit late this year or early next, with most experts betting on 1961. Brooks wants this country to orbit a man by November.

George M. Low, chief of the space agency's manned flight program, said it would be "quite some time yet" before the United States could duplicate Russia's feat of keeping a man in prolonged orbit.

NASA authorities said that after a space ship makes three orbits of the earth, it is necessary to go on to 17 before the vehicle is in position to come down at the planned landing area. This is because of the spin and tilt of the earth.

Three orbits will be attempted in the first U. S. round-the-world space flight. A 17-orbit trip is expected sometime around the end of 1962. To that extent it can be said the Soviets are some 18 months ahead of this country.

The United States plans three preliminary Mercury men-in-space shots with an Atlas missile booster in the immediate future.

Two Floridians Die In Electric Chair

RAIFORD (UPI)—Norman J. Mackiewicz, a war hero turned murderer, and Robert W. Davis, a homosexual turned rapist, died in the electric chair at Raiford State Prison today after delivering final statements and willing their eyes to the blind.

Their deaths were the 186th and 187th since Florida began using the electric chair in 1921, and were the first in 14 months.

Warden DeWitt Sinclair said both men were calm when they entered the execution chamber and sat in the chair.

Mackiewicz went first. The show was thrown for the first time at 8:28 a. m. and he was pronounced dead at 8:43 after an additional shock. Davis followed at 8:53 and a prison physician pronounced him dead at 9 a. m.

Sinclair said no relatives had claimed either body. If they are not claimed, they will be buried in the prison cemetery outside the institution's walls.
