The hearing this morning, called directly to the attention of the public, was the first of its kind in the history of the state and was held in the 15th largest hall in the city of Sanford, Fla., at 10 a. m. The hearing was held in the immediate construction of the proposed canal.

Dr. Bradley pointed out that the engineers had failed to give full value to the recreational benefits by utilizing any benefits of the canal to outdoor boats and in estimating benefits of fisheries they had failed to protect them to the future. "We are claiming $200,000 annual benefits over the next 20 years against $20,000 the engineers had allowed," he said.

John Kridler presented the resolution of the Chamber of Commerce with a "unanimous endorsement of the Sanford-Titusville Canal." He also brought letters into the evidence from FPL Co., Florida Power Corp., and Indian River City.

George King, manager of the Port Canaveral Authority, stated that "the Sanford-Titusville Canal is an integral part of the Waterways System of Florida, as proposed by the Florida Waterways Commission." He pointed especially to the fact that "the canal is a very vital connection to insure completion of the Port of Canaveral Project with its large canal from the intracoastal waterway to the port and the lock to allow passage of vessels to the large canal into the jetty protected harbor." Witnesses were introduced to the Board of Engineers this morning by Senator Spearhead Hol-

Mental Hospital Rolls Decreasing For First Time

The tragedy of mental illness, which strikes more American homes than any other affliction, will be confronted next month (May) by the largest force of mental health volunteers ever assembled.

They've been enlisted in the annual Mental Health Campaign for funds to support the program of the National Association for Mental Health — a national campaign to bring about a more effective research and rehabilitation and more clinics for early treatment when it is most effective.

300,000 Women to March
The campaign will be concentrated on Mental Health Week, April 27-May 3 and will continue during the month of May. This year's effort will emphasize more strongly than ever the annual "March of the Bell Ringers March for Mental Health" on Monday, May 3, in which some 300,000 women will solicit funds from door to door or seek pledges via telephone.

Reappraisal of fresh fruit grades was requested by the Florida Citrus Packing House Manager's Association in a letter to the Commission on April 11. R. V. Phillips, secretary-treasurer of the Association, said, "We are especially interested in some consideration of more freeze damage tolerance. There are other phases of the grade which should be considered."

The meeting was held in the Commission headquarters here.

No Major Mishaps Reported Here Over Weekend

The Sanford Police Department enjoyed a relatively quiet weekend, with no major mishaps.

An unapprehended driver ran over a fireplug at 20th and Grandview Sunday afternoon. The accident was investigated by Sgt. Leo Rock and Ben Butler. The driver left the scene before their arrival, and has not as yet been identified.

In another Sunday afternoon traffic accident, Leroy Dixon, Sanford Negro, hit a parked 1937 Ford sedan when he turned east on Fifth St. off Pecan. Damage was estimated at $250 to the parked car, and $30 to Dixon's 1936 Ford sedan, according to investigating officer Leo Rock.

Dixon was charged with driving while intoxicated and improper brakes.

14 Building Permits Issued Here Last Week

The week ending April 23 showed 14 building permits issued from the Sanford Building Inspectors totaling $30,357.00. Fees charged were $177.00.

The County Zoning Office reported that 34 building permits were issued in Seminole County during the same period. Fees collected for the permits were $241.00, $1 electric and $1 plumbing permits at $118, and $126, collected in fees, brought the weeks collection to an estimated $167,967.

Slum Housing Church Women's Latest Target

United Church Women's Convention since the days of Carrie Nation, public officials have had a healthy respect for the organized wrath of American womanhood.

It has become one of the axioms of U. S. politics that the surest way to get action on a social reform is to get the women — and especially the church women — aroused about it.

Fair warning is hereby served on civic functionaries that this potent force is again being mobilized in communities across the nation. Its target this time is slum housing.

The mobilizing is being done by United Church Women, a department of the National Council of Churches, which represents some 10 million women in 24 major Protestant denominations.

Local Activity
United Church Women has called on all of its local affiliates — the Ladies Aid Societies and Women's Auxiliaries of 200,000 congregations — to take on the job of "alerting their communities to the urgent need" for slum clearance, low-cost housing, and neighborhood rehabilitation projects.

Next Friday May 3 church women's organizations in scores of cities will sponsor "Come and see tours" of the slums. This idea was originated by the church women of Annapolis, Md., several years ago.

Church women have learned that the actual sights and smells of the slums are the most eloquent arguments that can be made for community improvement programs.

If any civic leader remains unconvinced after a first-hand inspection of the blighted areas of his city, the ladies are armed with facts and figures. These show how the slums serve as breeding grounds for crime, juvenile delinquency, narcotics addiction and disease. They document the incredible overcrowding, the lack of privacy and subhuman living conditions that prevail in rundown sections.

Victory Not Easy
No woman's organization which joins the battle for decent housing should expect to win a victory with one "come and see tour." In Annapolis, church women encountered strenuous opposition, ridicule, even threats when they began badgering City Council to clean up the slums. With the help of a local newspaper, however, they managed to get the issue before the public, and keep it alive.

Annapolis is now undertaking a slum clearance and low-cost public housing project.

In Grand Rapids, Mich., and in Portland, Ore., church women have directed their attack primarily at racial and religious discrimination in housing which forces minority groups into high-rent ghettos.

Miss Ester Stamata, social relations director of United Church Women, said the women are in this fight to stay.

"They have seen for themselves the scandalous conditions that exist in the slums," she said. "They know that no woman can give her children the right kind of home life in such surroundings. They do not see any excuse for the richest nation on earth to let 10 million families live in sub-standard housing."

Two Resolutions Ok'd By Delegates At Diocese Confab

Local Episcopalian attending the recent Convention of the Diocese of South Florida in Orlando returned to Sanford "enthusiastic, but tired, Friday night," a spokesman said.

Twenty-six new clergy were introduced. The minutes have been adopted during the past year. A schedule was adopted to rotate the meeting place every year to encompass all areas. Every third year, however, the convention will meet in Orlando at the Cathedral. The Rt. Rev. Henry Louth of Orlando is Bishop of South Florida.

Plans were heard for the international convention in October. At this time an estimated 18,000 Episcopalian from the United States, Hawaii, Canada and Alaska will pour into Miami Beach.

THE LONE DEPUTY

By Louis Cassels
United Press Staff Correspondent

Price was the only man who had ever seen with certainty two gun-fighters who were as good as not-guilty. He was average height, average weight, average in every way, and therefore he was the only man who was not a second guess in a crowd, yet Price sensed he was a dangerous, cold-blooded killer.

Price had been in the Elk River country about two months. Who he was and where he had come from were questions Price could not answer. The talk was that Weston had brought him here to kill Price, and Price believed the talk.

Irritated by Weston's contemptuous silence, Price said, "You should have known that Weston had brought you here." "No hurry," Weston said. "You handle yourself pretty well, Regan."

"I've been here a year," Price said. "You should have known that Weston had brought you here." "No hurry," Weston said. "You handle yourself pretty well, Regan."

"Always before Ralph let you pick your man, but some of the folks hereabouts thought it would be a good idea to have a deputy who wasn't your man."

Price saw interest sharpen in the cattlemen's expression. He asked, "Who?" "Ralph didn't tell me."

Weston looked past Price at Blue, who hadn't stirred, then brought his gaze back to Price's face. "Regan, I've been a patient man, but I'm about done waiting. What are you going to do with Cronin and his woman?"

"Nothing until I've got evidence against them," Price said. "I've already told Barry Maden. Then the anger that was close to the surface broke through. 'You had it set up fine, didn't you? Real fine. Barry Maden says he's about done waiting. I don't take it, so he tips you off and Curly jumps me. Then after I get banged up, Nance is supposed to smoke me down.' He wheeled to face the gunman. 'Any time, Pete. I'm tired of waiting.'"

"Why, now, Nance said in his soft voice, 'so am I, but the boss is kind of careful. We wait, but I don't know why. You'll have to wait.'"

Russia Renews Call For Bomb Flight Halt

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — Russia today renewed its call for the United Nations to end United States atomic bomb flights and urged that the projected summit conference take up the question of safeguards against surprise attack.

Shortly before the Security Council was convened to discuss a U. S. proposal to start immediate discussions in the face of a certain 5-1 defeat — just before it was due to be voted on.

At the outset of the meeting, Soviet Ambassador Arkady A. Sobolev suggested that U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge step down from the presidency during the discussion of the Atomic Energy proposal. Sobolev, who accused Lodge of "gagging" the council as its president when it debated the Kremlin's H-bomb charge last week, said it was difficult to understand when Lodge's statements as president ended and his statements as U. S. representative began.

Britain, France and Panama immediately objected to Sobolev's suggestion and Lodge declined to give up the chair. He said a president should do so when the question before the council involved a "selfish national interest of his government."

"That is not the case today," he said. "It involves immediately all the countries in the Arctic zone and involves only a little bit less the whole world because it is a matter of world peace."

To forestall a Security Council government debate, which the Kremlin opposed in conformity with its opposition to further action in the U. N., the Soviet resolution stated:

"Mindful of the necessity for taking steps as soon as possible to avert the threat of atomic warfare and ease international tension, the Security Council notes with satisfaction that preliminary talks are in progress between the interested states with a view to the convening of a summit conference to discuss a number of urgent problems, including the question of drawing up measures to preclude the danger of surprise attack, and expresses the hope that the summit conference will be held at the earliest possible date."

Opposing Testimony To Canal Non-Resistant

Witnesses appearing before the Board of Engineers, Rivers and Harbors returned to Florida last night after presenting what was termed "an astounding volume of testimony in behalf of the construction of the Sanford-Titusville Canal."

Technical support of the canal which would open the St. Johns River on to the coast at the Port of Canaveral was given by Col. Herbert Gee, of Gee and Jenson, West Palm Beach and Dr. R. W. Bradbury, Professor of Economics, University of Florida.

More than 24 witnesses appeared before the Board of Engineers headed by Major General Chas. G. Halle. Other members hearing the testimony were Major General

Louis J. Rumaggi, Brig. General F. Cassidy, Brig. General Alden K. Sibley, Col. Rudolph E. Smyser Jr., Col. Clarence Renshaw, and Col. Gunnard W. Carlson.

Senator Spessard Holland introduced members of the Florida delegation testifying for the construction of the Sanford-Titusville Canal.

Senator Smathers told the Board of Engineers "I think you will be convinced at the conclusion of this hearing that the project is economically feasible."

"I request that you give earnest consideration of the testimony of these witnesses," he said.

Senator Holland stated emphatically "We are convinced that consideration will be justified."

Congressman Syd Herlong stated to the Board of Engineers "I am strongly in favor of it."

Congressman Charles Bennett of Jacksonville explained "I am interested in having the canal built and, the St. Johns River changed from a dead-end street."

Testimony from opponents of the canal's construction was pleaded and non-resistant. Witnesses dwindled at the afternoon session set aside for them. The opposition to the construction of the Sanford-Titusville Canal was led by an attorney for Florida railroads, David E. Wells.

J. G. Middleton, Asst. Freight Traffic Manager for the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, attempted to oppose tonnage available for the barge operations.

Dr. H. R. Wilber of DeLand, who stated that he represented 14 Florida organizations exhibited letters from the various groups including a letter from Chase and Co. and Sidney Chase of Sanford.

Col. Dowell Guillart referred to 1955 tonnage on the St. Johns River by barge and stated "There is no reason to believe that the Sanford-Titusville Canal would change this."

No indication was given as to when a decision of the Board of Engineers would be reached. General Halle stated that all members would study testimony closely and thoroughly before attending the next meeting of the Board.

Big Three Plans Speedy Rejection Of Russian Demand

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Western Big Three plan speedy rejection of Russia's demand that Poland and Czechoslovakia be included in all pre-summit negotiations in Moscow, diplomatic sources said today.

But there were reports from London that the United States, Britain and France might temper their rejection by agreeing to let the two Soviet satellites join in the discussions if subjects affecting their interests arise.

Consultations on the Western reply were being held here by the British and French embassies with the State Department. A reply is expected to be dispatched to Moscow in a few days.

Russia suggested Saturday that Poland and Czechoslovakia be included in pre-summit discussions. The suggestion was part of an answer to a Western note calling on the Soviet Union to meet immediately and jointly with the U. S., British and French ambassadors to determine whether a summit meeting would be worthwhile. Russia had been talking with the three envoys in separate meetings only.

CoFC Banquet Will Be Held Tonight

W. Thomas Rice, president of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, will arrive in Sanford late today to speak at tonight's Seminole County Chamber of Commerce annual banquet.

Rice, known throughout the country as an able leader and railroad executive, is expected to speak on "The Future of Railroads in 1958."

The railroad executive will be accompanied by members of his staff in this area at tonight's affair to be the largest banquet in local chamber of commerce history.

Already the reservation quota has been exceeded and more than 300 are expected to attend tonight's banquet and meeting.

George Touhy will serve as master of ceremonies for the dinner meeting with Mervin Crandall as chairman of the annual event.

Tonight's Chamber of Commerce Annual Dinner and Banquet will be the first affair to be staged in the brand new Sanford Civic Center.

Although the center has not been completely finished, the meeting will be held there.

Facilities, say local officials, are nearing completion and in a position where the banquet can be held.

Avenue Improvement Assn. Organized

A Sanford Ave. Improvement Association has been organized to "assist merchants in the planning of commercial improvement of Sanford Ave." It was revealed last night at the meeting of city commissioners.

E. J. "Bud" Moughton Jr. is president of the group with Melvin Siskin the secretary-treasurer. City Manager Warren E. Knowles reported on the cost of widening Sanford Ave. He gave paying and street construction as $9,675 with street lighting improvements set at $5,000.

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners approved the plan for street construction on Sanford Avenue from First Street to 5th with funds for both paving and street lighting to be included in the 1958-59 budget.

The street, according to plans proposed last night, would widen the avenue eight feet on the west side. The City Manager was authorized to discuss off-street parking with the new association set up.

In a lengthy 90-minute discussion last night, the Board of Sanford City Commissioners killed a resolution supporting the Atlantic Coast Line in taking off trains 50 and 52.

Representing the ACL at the commission were LeRoy Anderson, superintendent and Jim Shippman.

The unions were represented by Rudy Sloan and Mr. Meeks. Ed Kirchhoff spoke in behalf of shippers of perishable goods.

The commissioners denied a request to waive the Percentage Lease on property occupied by Radio Station WTRR but expressed interest in a proposed purchase of the land at appraised value.

Commissioners authorized the Mayor, Merle Warner, to execute a contract with the Florida Development Commission for the services of a planning consultant, George Simons of Jacksonville. The Development Commission will in turn contract with the consultant. Federal funds are expected sometime after July.

A franchise to be sent to the Sanford Gas Company was authorized to waive the percentage of city commissioners.

Also under consideration and approved was the transferring of funds to construct a dance and skating patio at the Sanford Civic Center at the Youth Wing.

A request to change parallel parking of Magnolia Ave. to angle parking by James Gut Jr. was denied. However, a vote of the decision was tabled until Gut could attend the meeting.

The resolution authorizing the loan application to IHFA in regard to planning funds for the proposed Docks and Terminals project was tabled until results of the Washington hearing on the Sanford-Titusville Canal are made known.

Mental Health Forum Has Positive Response

Approximately 60 attended the mental health forum last night at the Pinerest School. The forum was sponsored by the Seminole County Mental Health Association.

After an hour and a half of questions and speedy answers, audience reaction to the information resulted in a victory for the association.

Senator Douglas Stenstrom posed the question to the audience, at the conclusion of the forum. "If South Seminole County should be awarded the fifth mental hospital in the state, would you support the decision?"

The response was almost unanimous in the affirmative. Senator Stenstrom explained that South Seminole County is the most central location for surrounding counties, and the logical spot for the institution. He also stated that Florida leads the nation in the use of tranquilizing drugs for mental patients. The drugs have been highly successful in returning the patient to a normal state.

The forum was moderated by Mrs. Stanley Piskoraki, secretary of the S.C.M.H.A. Other members were Mrs. Margaret Reynolds, representing schools, George Touhy, past president of the Association, talking of accomplishments and hopes, Mrs. Vernon Hardin, public opinion and retarded children, the Rev. A. G. McInnis, the clergy, and Mrs. Robert Conn, press and Navy. Chaplain Nihilus Hubble joined the group from the audience to further explain the Navy situation. He also stated that Mrs. Reynolds announced that two Seminole County Schools had been selected as "Pilot Schools". Next year both gifted and retarded children will be taught in special instruction. If the plan works satisfactorily, all schools will accept the program.

Questions from the audience were brought to the platform by members of the Pilot Club, official hostess for the evening. As the evening grew on there was more and more audience participation. Two representatives from each club in town attended to ask questions.

Mrs. E. E. Chapman, president of the local association, introduced the panel and closed the evening with the hope that "the public would accept their responsibility—that of receiving those who had been cured of mental illness, and helping them to become part of the community once more."

Four local organizations have taken Mental Health as projects: The Seminole Medical Society, the Pilot Club, Xi Beta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, and the Sanford Woman's Club.

Group Suggests Orange, Grapefruit Standard Changes

LAKELAND—A special committee appointed by the Florida Citrus Commission to appraise fresh fruit prices today recommended two changes in orange and grapefruit standards and called for a market opinion survey to determine whether discoloration on the outside of the fruit makes any difference to the housewife.

The recommendations will be presented to the Commission at its next regular meeting in May. J. Dan Wright of Sanford, a member of the Commission and chairman of the 11-man special committee, appointed two sub-committees to study internal and external grades of oranges, grapefruit, tangerines and Temples on a continuing basis. R. V. Phillips of Haines City heads the sub-committee studying oranges and grapefruit while John Arko of Orlando is chairman of a group looking into tangerines and Temple oranges.

At the request of John T. Lesley of Tampa, the Committee went on record as favoring research on susceptibility of fruit to skin breakdown. In the past, fruit that was perfect in appearance when it left Florida arrived in the Northern markets with bad defects in the external appearance. Lesley pointed out that the U. S. Department of Agriculture had overcome similar difficulties and devised a test for predetermining breakdown in the skin of potatoes.

The Committee recommended changes in the U. S. grades for both oranges and grapefruit. Under the proposal, the U. S. Number 1 grade would be amended. (Continued On Page Seven)

New Road To Better Altamonte Springs Traffic Conditions

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS—Altamonte Springs is looking forward to an improved traffic condition in the early days of 1959. An appraiser's survey has been made in regard to Milland Ave. (State Road 487) from Rt. 486 south to the Orange County northern boundary.

By the first of next year work on this thoroughfare will be well on its way to becoming much less an accident hazard. The plans call for a new road to be built with an eighty foot clearance and it will be a substantially-based black top of twenty-four feet.

The Board of County Commissioners has arranged to borrow the money needed for this project in the form of a bond issue in this district. The money will be paid back to the state with gasoline tax money. The estimated cost of this type of paving is $60,000 to $80,000 per mile.

"This has been a long dreamed of and needed improvement," said County Commissioner Lawrence S. W. Ford when interviewed. "There will be those who will be unhappy that progress means sacrificing some of the beauty of this road, but the lives of the people certainly are more important than anything else. In the light of increased traffic, and the growing population in this area, we have to sacrifice some things so that we can grow with and keep in step with the times. We cannot live as in the past, and we cannot plan only for the present, he continued. "We have to try to gear our thinking and our actions with our sights on the future. From every indication this district has a full calendar of steady growth," he concluded.

Vanguard Crashes Into Ocean

CAPE CANAVERAL (UP)—The Navy flung its Vanguard into space Monday night, but the rocket's third stage failed to ignite and crashed back into the ocean still clasp the hoped-for fourth U. S. satellite.

The Navy is now pushing plans for launching another Vanguard in less than a month carrying a similar 20-inch artificial moon.

"We will go right at it," said John P. Hagen, Vanguard Project director for the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington. He admitted, however, that the unsuccessful flight "was a great disappointment."

Spokesmen said preliminary data received during the Vanguard's flight indicated all went well for about 10 minutes—until the crucial instant some 300 miles above the ground when the solid fuel third stage was scheduled to ignite and kick free of the second stage.

What went amiss would not be known until data received here and at the Air Force's downrange tracking stations was sorted through by technicians of the Naval Research Lab and the Martin Company, prime contractor for the Vanguard.

The third stage evidently never separated from the second stage and plunged like a ballistic missile into the Atlantic some 1,500 miles southeast of the launching site, dooming the "chirping" sound of the satellite's radio voice to the silence of the sea.

The second stage was scheduled to land about where it did, but not with the third stage still attached.

The Defense Department said there was no chance of recovering the rocket's remains.

The instrument-bearing artificial moon was attached to the third stage of the rocket and would have been sprung free traveling at 18,000 miles an hour, had all gone as it should have.

The 11-ton Vanguard surged with a fiery splash from its launching pad at 10:33 p. m. e. s. t. and sped straight up for about 10 seconds before arcing over toward the southeast.

The second stage, containing the rocket, burned out in view of observers on beaches near the Cape about four and one-half minutes after blastoff, then coasted on for another five minutes to orbital altitude to keep the rocket on course. There the third stage should have blasted free.

3 Members Of Family Killed With Pickax; Father Is Charged

ROANOKE, Va. (UP)—Police kept a close guard today over a 40-year-old auto mechanic charged with killing his wife and two children with a pickax, critically injuring a third child and remaining with their bodies for more than 24 hours.

Officers had to wrest Grover Lucas from the hands of two men who joined an angry crowd of neighbors Monday night minutes after police broke into Lucas' apartment here and made the grim find.

Scattered through the second-floor apartment were the bodies of Lucas' wife Connie, 48, his 11-year-old daughter, Mildred Joyce, and 9-year-old son, Dennis.

Miss Dorothy Smith, 25, Mrs. Lucas' daughter by a previous marriage, was found critically injured in the apartment. She underwent surgery during the night, but doctors said the were not sure whether she would live.

A bloody pickax was found in the apartment's bath room.

Police said Lucas had clubbed his victims to death with a pickax Sunday morning and evidently had lived in the apartment with the bodies and his injured stepdaughter until police broke into the home and made the grim find Monday night.

The bodies were discovered when Mrs. Fred Williams, sister of Mrs. Lucas, called police and reported Lucas had told a local laundryman that his wife had been killed in an auto accident.

Mrs. Williams said the laundryman, Mrs. Lucas' employer, told her Lucas had asked for his wife's paycheck, saying she had been killed in an auto wreck in West Virginia.

The laundryman called Mrs. Williams to confirm the death, and she went to the Lucas home to check on her sister.

She was unable to get into the apartment and called police, who broke into the home and found the bodies.

Many Home Wiring Systems Outdated Or Inadequate

In modernizing the home, electrical housepower should be a major consideration.

If your home was built before 1940, has not been rewired, and you own modern electrical appliances — you can be almost certain your wiring is inadequate.

The kitchen, breakfast room and laundry area are perhaps the greatest sources of electrical expenditure.

However, in many inadequate home wiring systems, other rooms may be affected by the kitchen area.

If your wiring is out-dated, you cannot expect to operate your modern appliances so they serve you efficiently and conveniently.

Electrical contractors are aware of the need for better home wiring, and most of them will give you a free estimate.

If you do not have the necessary wiring to handle your appliance load, your contractor will make a Housepower rating form.

This Could Be A Matter Of Life Or Death: Check And A Checkup

What has cancer done to Americans in the past 12 years? The answer to this would be staggering if it were humanly possible to calculate its ravages.

But we do know that if cancer had been conquered a short 12 years ago, . . . nearly 2,500,000 Americans would not have fallen prey to its fatal scourge; . . . more than 1,000,000 family heads would not have died of cancer; and . . . more than 85,000 children would not have been counted among its victims.

The list of dead following an airliner's crash or a ship's sinking causes widespread grief. But the list of great Americans who in the past 12 years were pronounced dead of cancer is one of the most cruel things this country could experience.

Grant that mankind has extended its life expectancy beyond the once-allotted three-score and ten. Then consider at what age some of our most brilliant and fearless Americans have dropped out of rank.

Senator Robert Taft of Ohio was 64; Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan was 67; and Senator Brian McMahon of Connecticut was 48!

The Air Force Chief of Staff General Hoyt S. Vandenberg was 55. In the prime of life, General Joseph (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell was 68 but not "old".

Dr. Enrico Fermi, known as "father of the atomic bomb" was cheated of more than two decades of life and the world was cheated of his brilliant deductions because cancer cut him down at 53.

Another 55-year-old cancer victim was Dr. John von Neumann, a brilliant mathematician who himself was given the Enrico Fermi award.

Show business has lost many of her most glittering and scintillating stars. Gertrude Lawrence was 51 when she died; pianist Eddie Duchin was 42; Negro actress Hattie McDaniel was 53; concert contralto Kathleen Ferrier was 41; Susan Ball died at 22 just as a promising career began to bud; Damon Runyan managed to live painfully until he reached 69 but his short stories were so matchless that his wit and wisdom shone very brightly to the very end; film star Humphrey Bogart was only 58 when he died a horrible and painful death because of cancer.

How many Americans will have given in before the judge for so many traffic violations that his license finally was revoked. A few weeks later, the judge saw the young man in the line-up again.

"What are you doing here?" demanded His Honor. "Wasn't your license revoked?"

"It was," admitted the culprit meekly. "This time they got me for jaywalking."

In Officers' Training School, a lieutenant was questioning a candidate. "Say you're going out on a pitch-black night," he proposed. "Suddenly somebody sneaks up behind you and wraps two arms around you so tightly you just can't use your rifle. What would you say?"

Without a moment's hesitation, the candidate barked, "Let's go, honey!"

A prominent candidate for Alcoholics Anonymous refers to his wife as "my highball and chain."

This Is The Age Of Paper

The twentieth century is many things, some of them wonderful, some frightening. Some magnificently confusing. Among them is the Age of Paper. And because it is that, it is also the Age of the File Cabinet.

This is the day when single copies of anything seem to indicate unpardonable inefficiency. Duplicate and triplicate forms are basic. Since you don't dare let the stuff pile up on your desk—unless you happen to be in the newspaper business—you file it.

Government, of course, is great in this line. We've all seen those acres of file cabinets the FBI keeps. Social Security Headquarters must compare pretty closely on the same square footage basis.

Some of the big corporations have found themselves owning or renting warehouses just for their old files. A fellow who goes over to dig something out needs everything but a passport.

Every now and then some company holds a top level meeting at which it is decided it is now safe to burn or throw away files for the years 1918 through 1918. Like as not, a complaint pops up the following week, and the facts are all in the incinerator.

With all this mad filing, it's inescapable that some things get lost or misfiled. The Internal Revenue Service is forever sending out notices claiming they have no record of tax returns that were quite properly filed. The state motor vehicle bureaus sometimes can't keep track of what car is licensed to whom. Some magazine subscription departments would baffle the most diligent spy.

There's so much of this, in fact, that one can't help wondering how much of the taxpayer's money, and company cost, is reflected in time consuming efforts to set the record straight.

It might be instructive to have a little inquiry into this matter. Only one trouble looms. They'd probably misfile the results of the survey and we'd never know what it showed.

Citrus Mutual

LAKELAND—Current "generally good" growing conditions in citrus groves of 14 Florida counties were noted today by Robert W. Rutledge, General Manager of Florida Citrus Mutual.

Rutledge reported on the citrus crop condition and outlook following a "random sampling" by members of Mutual's field staff. "Generally speaking, we find that citrus trees which were badly damaged by last winter's freezes are showing slow recovery and that the mortality rate in young trees will be much higher than first expected," Rutledge said. "However, the outlook for next year's crop on older trees is relatively optimistic."

Following are the counties included in the sampling reported by Rutledge and the condition and outlook in each:

POLEK AND HILLSBOROUGH: Crop-wise for older trees growers are optimistic as the heavy bloom promises to set an excellent crop. However, tangarine growers are worried by the heavy tangarine bloom, expecting a heavy set which usually results in production of extremely small fruit.

PALCO AND HERNANDO: Growth response on badly freeze-shocked trees very slow. Trees under 10 years old causing greatest concern.

LAKE, CITRUS AND HUNTER: Good moisture and good growing conditions have materialized to give luxuriant new growth on lesser damaged trees. Heavy bloom on these trees shows signs of setting a good crop.

ORANGE, SEMINOLE AND OSCEOLA: Some growers say the tangarine bloom is the heaviest they've ever seen. Concern is for fruit sizes if the bloom holds. Steady increase in pruning activity in orange trees.

HARDEE: Growers pretty generally are on a Melanose control

Conservation News

By GAYLORD P. GOODWIN
 United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—A study by the Agricultural Research Service shows that farmers are putting land into the conservation reserve of the soil bank for a variety of reasons. In addition to the government payments they receive, the conservation reserve is the long-range action of the soil bank. The program is designed to take general crop land out of crop production and protect it with grass, trees, or wildlife habitat plantings, or use it for water storage. Farmers who enter the program do so on the basis of three, five, or 10-year contracts. For these agreements, farmers paid up to 60 per cent of the cost of establishing the conservation practices and annual rental payments each of the years their contracts are in force.

Money was not the sole reason for putting land into the conservation reserve, the study showed. Many farmers are using the reserve to get fields not well adapted for cultivation shifted to permanent cover. Some operators of large farms are using the program to reduce the size of their operations and need for hired labor. Others are reducing the size of operations because of health or age.

Covered Six States
 The study was made at the request of the soil bank division of the Commodity Stabilization Service which administers the program. The researchers interviewed about 500 farmers in six states who had retired all or a part of their eligible land in the conservation reserve in 1936 or 1937.

The study covered farmers in the Maine counties of Arnoctoch, Franklin, and Kennebec; the Wisconsin counties of Adams, Jackson, Juneau, Marquette, and Washburn; the South Carolina counties of Allendale, Bamberg, Barnwell, Calhoun, Hampton, and Orangeburg; the Texas Panhandle counties of Deaf Smith, Floyd, Lipscomb, Moore, and Swisher; the South Dakota counties of Edmunds, Potter, Lincoln, and Union; and the Oregon counties of Gilliam, Morrow, Sherman, Umatilla, and Wasco.

About 40 per cent of the participants in Wisconsin and 30 per cent of those in Wisconsin put all crop land in the program. In Maine, about one-third of the participating farmers said they were using the program to conserve or improve productivity. About one-fourth said they needed the payments to pay taxes or meet other income needs. Other reasons listed were age, too much land, over-cultivation, labor hard to get, lack of capital required to farm the land, or that the land was inconveniently located.

Resulted Listed
 The study showed that 25 per cent of the farmers in Wisconsin and 20 per cent of those in South Carolina wanted to improve the soil.

Tree planting ranked highest among the conservation uses in South Carolina. In the study counties there, 25 per cent of the land reserved in 1936 and 1937 was being planted to trees. In the Wisconsin study counties, 12 per cent of the retired land was going to trees. In Maine, trees were being put on about one-half of the re-

Average Person Knows Little About Disease

By HENRY H. HARRIS, M.D.

EVERY now and then some readers apparently don't like the way I write some of my columns. They complain that I should not discuss specific symptoms of various diseases.

They argue: "You don't want readers diagnosing their own illnesses, do you?"

Danger Signals
 Of course I don't and I have said so repeatedly. But I do want to drum these various danger signals into your mind until you recognize them as distinct signals to see your doctor.

It is astonishing how little the average person knows about his own body.

Recently an extensive survey was made among 74 medical out-patients at New York Hospital. The test was devised to determine just how much these persons knew about such common conditions as diabetes, ulcers, tuberculosis, asthma, coronary thrombosis and other ailments.

Answered Incorrectly
 Only about half the answers—55 per cent—were correct. About one-third of those filling out a multiple-choice questionnaire answered 75 percent or more of the questions correctly. However, about one-third answered less than half correctly.

The questions most persons answered correctly concerned tuberculosis (75%), diabetes (71%) and syphilis (65%). The majority missed questions about coronary thrombosis, leukemia and, believe it or not, stomach ulcers.

The degree of education a person possesses apparently makes a difference in his knowledge of disease and general health.

High school graduates answered two-thirds of the questions correctly. Patients with seven years or less of schooling answered only one-third correctly.

However, even high school graduates knew relatively little about stomach ulcers, leukemia and coronary diseases. Only half of them gave the right answers to these questions.

Confirms Belief
 This study, I think, confirms the belief of most doctors that the public doesn't know enough about disease and—even more important—it doesn't know enough about early symptoms of disease.

Since symptoms are what send you to the doctor for treatment, the more you learn about them the better off you will be. So I'll just continue to write about them, if you don't mind—or even if you do.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
R. B.: When I wake up in the morning, my fourth and fifth fingers are pushed all the way down and it is hard for me to bring them back to their normal position. This is becoming progressively worse.

What can I do?
Answer: You may be suffering from a disease known as Dupuytren's contracture. It is due to an inflammation and hardening of the connective tissue of the palm of the hand, causing a contraction of the muscles. Surgery is sometimes of great help in relieving this condition.

Mrs. M. Jackson Honored Sunday At Family Service
Mrs. Margaret Jackson, former Holy Cross Episcopal Church secretary, was honored Sunday when a surprise presentation was made during the Holy Eucharist service at 9:15.

Mrs. Jackson thought she was to present Miss Carol Stone, outgoing Auxiliary president, with a gift. Instead, she was the recipient of a scroll and gold cross and chain.

The gifts were given in an attempt to show Mrs. Jackson how much the congregation appreciated her countless efforts during the twelve years of her work as secretary.

Wash And Wear Latest For Men In Formal Dress

The latest flair in formal wear is automatic wash and wear! "After-Six Formal," the latest manufacturer of evening attire in the United States, after four years of experimentation, has placed on the market a fully-lined, white dinner jacket that means do-it-yourself when it comes time to wash and clean the garment.

The jacket is a 50% Dacron polyester fiber — 50% Orlon acrylic fiber blend.

The garment can be worn after several washings with no ironing, and then slight hand touches if wanted by the wearer.

Making the garment fully lined presented a major problem and required special tailoring techniques. A construction incorporating new cuts, threads, tapes, and seams was developed.

A bleached interlining is used so the jacket will not show suspenders or colored shirts beneath.

Disputed Home Run Causes Near Riot At Miami Stadium

MIAMI — A disputed home run resulted in a near riot at the Miami baseball stadium Sunday and police protection for the game.

Toronto's Archie Wilson sent a hard-hit ball down the left field foul line and over the fence in the final inning to break a 5-3 tie and give his international League team a 5-3 victory. Plate umpire Angelo Guglielmo threw the ball cleared the wall "three feet fair."

But manager Kirby Farrell of Miami and nearly all of the 2,000 home fans vigorously disagreed.

Farrell stormed out of the dugout and was promptly ordered as the crowd began shouting the field with paper cups, seat cushions and beer bottles. Later one spectator was escorted from the park by police after taking a swipe at the umpire as they walked to their dressing rooms.

Another fan, John P. Fishery, said he saw great charges against Guglielmo for an alleged shirkish after the game. Fishery said he was walking by the umpire's dressing room when Guglielmo hit him on the elbow with a baseball bat without provocation.

"I was sitting in the ump's room," Guglielmo said, "when somebody knocked on the door and said it was sports service bringing our post game refreshments. Pete D'Ambrasio, another umpire, opened the door and a bunch of fans tried to get in."

"One of them popped me," he said. "Naturally we defended ourselves and pushed them out. I didn't see anybody use a bat though."

Police said they chased a mob of about 20 riled fans away from the locker room.

And Farrell, who said the umpire made his call before the ball ever left the park, said, "The whole thing just makes me sick, sick, sick."

'Light Car Club' Holds Economy Run

Gulfstream Park Plans '59 Meet; Improvements Set

GULFSTREAM PARK, HAL- LANDALE, Gulfstream Park had no corner closed its gates last Wednesday on the 1959 racing season. Plans were immediately underway for the 1959 meet which is scheduled to open on Wednesday, March 4, and continue through Wednesday, April 22.

Major improvements for the coming year, according to James Deas, president of the seaside course, will be the addition of a turf course and the possibility of a $25,000 stakes event to be run over the grass. Track officials have long been contemplating such an infield strip, but were plagued by a land crab invasion which made construction of the course impossible. This problem has since been solved, and work on the turf will get underway as soon as the necessary fill has been obtained by dredging the lake.

The lake, now approximately six feet deep, will be dredged to more than 20 feet, according to Fred W. Cooper, who is to be in charge of operations. This will provide sufficient fill to not only take care of the infield running course, but will also permit the track to pave all parking areas presently covered with grass.

Gulfstream Park will also make a drastic switch in its 1959 stakes program. The Florida Derby, heretofore run on the last Saturday of March, will be set back a week to the first Saturday in April because of conflict with Easter Week. Two new races, the $10,000 Orville Stakes and the $25,000 Donn Stakes, will feature the season, the former for fillies and mares 2 to 4 and one-half furlongs and the latter for older horses at a mile and a sixteenth, probably

The "Sanford Light Car Club" held its first event, an economy run from Sanford to Dunellon, Sunday. Dunellon is the scene of the first annual sports car road race in that area.

Two trophies were awarded; one to the car bringing in the best over-all gasoline mileage and one for the car having the best ton mileage.

Taking top honors in the best over-all mileage class was Archie Wise driving his 1958 Renault Dauphine for 48.53 m. p. g.

Close behind Wise, in the same class, was Dave Bielawski for 46.53 m. p. g.

Mills Boyd in his Crosley Super and Jean Bell in her Volkswagen tied for third place with 32.41 m. p. g.

In fifth was Dave Smith, also in a Dauphine, with 30.44 m. p. g. and sixth, Clay Smith in a Volkswagen with 28.24 m. p. g.

In the ton-mile class, which is designed to give the heavier cars an even chance, Lovella Slinard driving a Volvo, averaged 48.26 m. p. g. for first place.

Ed Hoffman in a Rodiac had 48.12 ton/m. p. g. for second and Dick Escudier in a Jaguar placed third with 38.82 ton/m. p. g.

After the 80-mile run, which lasted about three hours, the club attended the road races at the Dunellon Airport.

This was the first event to be held by the club and those participating rated it as a "great experience."

Anyone interested in joining the competition between light and/or sports cars can get further details by calling Jean Bell, FA 2-7493.

AAU Picks Grand Bahama For Tourney

PALE BEACH—In a special meeting of AAU officials here last week, George A. Birt, national AAU skin-diving chairman, announced that the Aug. 27, 1959 AAU skin-diving championship tournament has been awarded to the Grand Bahama Club, 61 West End, Grand Bahama Island.

Selection of the site was the unanimous approval of all delegates at the annual AAU conference held in Washington, D. C. recently, according to Birt, marking the first time in the history of American sports that a championship tournament will be held on foreign soil.

The Grand Bahama Club, located on the Gulf Stream 65 miles due east of Palm Beach, won AAU approval, Birt said, because of its easy access to some of the most outstanding year-around skin-diving waters in the world.

In the area bounded by coral reefs, flats and deep seas, almost every type of fish and diving equipment is available for an excellent contest. Tournament boundaries will be selected at a later date by AAU officials, Birt said.

A novelty for this year's meet is the organization for the first time of a U. S. A. Women's Open Invitational to be scheduled a day ahead of the men's tournament at Grand Bahama.

Presiding at the Palm Beach meeting was Eugene Vesnani, national chairman for the tournament. In attendance with Birt, general chairman, were George Kravie and Dr. Jack Wickham representing the Georgia Association for competitive skin-diving; John Slock of Miami and Harold Aycock of West Palm Beach representing the Florida Association; and "Buss" Campbell, skin-diving instructor and representative for the Grand Bahama Club.

Fleischer Nearly Breaks Tallahassee Course Record

TALLAHASSEE (Special) — Two members of Florida State's intercollegiate golf team narrowly missed breaking the Capital City Country Club's course record of 68 here last week.

Mel Fleischer of Sanford and Sam Noble of Montgomery, Ala., fired eight-under-par 68 on Sunday in a non-competition round.

Ed Jenkins of Jacksonville and Billy Thornton of Jupiter share the Tallahassee course record with 66.

Fleischer, All-Marine Corps champion in 1957, had eight birdies in finishing a 28-28-24. He hit 16 greens in regulation figures and scored 20 putts. The 21-year-old junior three-putted the second green and missed two other putts of five and seven feet that would have broken the course record.

Noble's hot round came Wednesday, when he scored the front nine in 30 and the back nine in 34. Noble missed a 18-foot putt on No. 18 to miss tying the course record (68) on the front side. He had six birdies and one eagle during the 18-hole round.

It was the lowest score ever recorded by Noble, who fired a 66 at Montgomery's Bonnie Crest Country Club in 1958.

Fleischer once had a 66 at Gasania, N. C., and holds the course record at Paradise Point Country Club, Camp Lejeune, N. C., with a 67 made last August.

35 Players Sign Up For Spencer Memorial Tourney

Thirty five players have signed up for the G. W. Spencer Memorial Tournament, according to Ken Torbett, secretary of the Mayfair Men's Golf Association.

Low qualifier so far is George Herndon with a 73; Sonny Powell had a 74. Defending champion Harold Ring, who was not required to qualify, lost his chance as a medalist when he shot a 75 Saturday after deciding to forgo qualifying.

Qualifying rounds will continue through Wednesday, April 20.

THE LONE DEPUTY

WHAT WAS HAPPENING? Price rode on, glancing at the Rocking C buildings across the river to the south. A sprawling stone house, big barn, corral, sheds; all set on the slope above the river with hay meadows above and below the buildings.

The range to the north belonged to the Mohawk boys' Broken Wag. Price had never been to the headquarters ranch, but he knew it was several miles from the river. On West of the Yellow Cat lay Red Sanders' bridge. Both were smaller spreads than Weston's Rocking C. Hill, they were big outfits dwarfing the little ranches that clung to the tiny valleys in the foothills or lay far to the west in the arid badlands that stretched on to the Utah border and beyond.

All of this, Price thought, was an old and familiar pattern in the cattle country. The first man to reach a new range took what he wanted, and if, like Cole Weston, he was smart, greedy, and unscrupulous, he grew with the years.

Weston was ahead enough to include the Mohawks and Red Sanders in a sort of unofficial cattlemen's council. Barry Madson was part of it, too, because he had the bank, and a bank was an essential part of Weston's broad scheme of holding the River country and keeping settlers out.

Price learned his thoughts on the possibility of a split between Madson and Weston, as he often did, but he had never been able to make up his mind how far Madson would go in backing the government, and he couldn't now.

When Price reached Cronin's store he tied his roan at the hitch rack in front. On the other side was the road from Cronin's store to his woman's cabin. She was called Rose.

The fact that Cronin had survived for better than a year was proof of his courage and fighting ability. He'd been shot at and hit twice; he'd shot back and killed at least one man. He was still here, a constant thorn in the side of the cowmen; but judging from the look of the man, he would not be long before the pass was open.

When it was, Price would ride over the range and have a talk with Ralph Carow.

The old sheriff had held his job for a generation. He had been elected sheriff after the Thorn-burg fight and the Meeker massacre had given the politicians an excuse to drive the Utes out of Colorado and open the western slope for settlement. Within a few years he had tamed the east half of Tremeine County while the west end was still a wilder-ness, with Cole Weston and his Rocking C crew the only inhabitants.

Number 2 grade would be changed to permit an additional tolerance of 10 per cent for oranges or grapefruit showing serious damage (one-half inch cut) caused by dryness.

Standardization of containers as well as grades was considered by the Committee with Chairman Wright appointing J. R. Graves of Vero Beach to head a sub-committee on this subject. Graves' group will take a poll of the entire fresh fruit industry, by written questionnaire, with a view toward reducing the number of containers allowable in interstate commerce.

The Florida Citrus Commission will be asked to furnish funds for the market opinion survey to determine at what point of discoloration the housewife will refuse to buy. The test will be conducted probably by Benton & Bowles, Inc., the Commission's two marketeers. They hope to learn also whether discoloration of the orange or grapefruit causes any psychological objection to internal quality, though it may be as good as the more highly colored fruit.

Wright indicated that his Committee would probably be active a year or more before all grade reappraisals could be completed. He said weekly or monthly meetings during the fresh fruit shipping season would help in their deliberations.

"Following the freeze last winter, the new season will be an ideal time to conduct our tests," he said. "Multiple blooms and condition of the trees will give us a better idea of how to establish equitable grade standards under the most adverse conditions."

Wright added Sam Banks of Lakeland Packing Company to the original Committee.

Women Vary In Ability To Love Their Children

By HERMAN A. SCHUBERT, M.A.

ALL women do not have the same capacity for motherhood. You don't automatically acquire the proper maternal instinct simply by becoming a mother. You either have it or you don't have it.

Have Limitations
While it realizes that the vast majority of you mothers love your children more than life itself, there are some women who just don't have the capacity for such love. They are born with limitations in their maternal drive.

The sooner these women and society come to realize this, the better off these mothers and their children will be.

This was brought to my attention awhile back at a meeting of the American Congress on Maternal Care here in Chicago. Dr. Phillip Stern of the Chicago Institute for Psychoanalysis pointed out this lack-of-mother-love theory after discussing the maternal habits of various animals.

Reject Their Young
Some animals, he reported, show they reject their offspring by throwing them out of the family home, or by not seeking to recover them once they are taken away. Women, also, he found, have varying abilities to love children.

Women who teach in nursery schools or serve as nurses in hospital nurseries and pediatric wards generally have a surplus capacity for motherhood. So do many social workers, he learned. They may love any number of children.

Yet other women might have the capacity to love one person, but not two.

Usually such women feel guilty about not loving all their children equally and overextend themselves trying to compensate for it. This usually makes them resent the child even more and the child, realizing it, will reject the mother's affectionate attitude.

The first step toward solving the problem, Dr. Stern recommended, is for society to realize that all mothers are not perfect; that some do not have the capacity to love all their children equally.

The mothers also must recognize their true feelings.

Realistic Plans
Once a realistic evaluation of their capacity is made, they generally will be able to do a better job with whatever capacity they may have. They can make realistic plans.

For some, this may mean obtaining additional mothering for their children by sending them to nursery schools and the like.

Other mothers must not feel inadequate. They are born with limitations in their maternalistic compass and there's not much they can do about it.

Overcome Aches
E. M.: Several weeks ago I had an attack of shingles. The pain over the area where I had the shingles has persisted. What would you advise?

Answer: Shingles, or herpes zoster, is due to a virus infection of the skin nerves which produces small blisters over the area affected. Usually, most of these cases do clear up spontaneously. However, pain may last a few weeks or months after the attack.

In a few cases, local nerve blocks may relieve the pain.

600 REBELS HELD
ALGERIA (UP)—French military sources said Monday night that about 600 Algerian rebels were killed throughout the country in fighting last week. French casualties were not disclosed.

POLISH SHIP SAILS TO U. S.
GYDNIA, Poland (UP)—The motorship Okrasa was en route to the United States today as the first Polish ship in nine years to sail for a U. S. port on a regular schedule. She carried a cargo of Czech cars, crude iron and rolled steel.

IRAN APPROVES DEAL
TEHRAN, Iran (UP)—Iran has accepted a deal with Standard Oil of Indiana to exploit offshore deposits in the Persian Gulf. Informed sources said Standard Oil was offering Iran 75 per cent of all net sales and that Iran's National Oil Co. had accepted the offer.

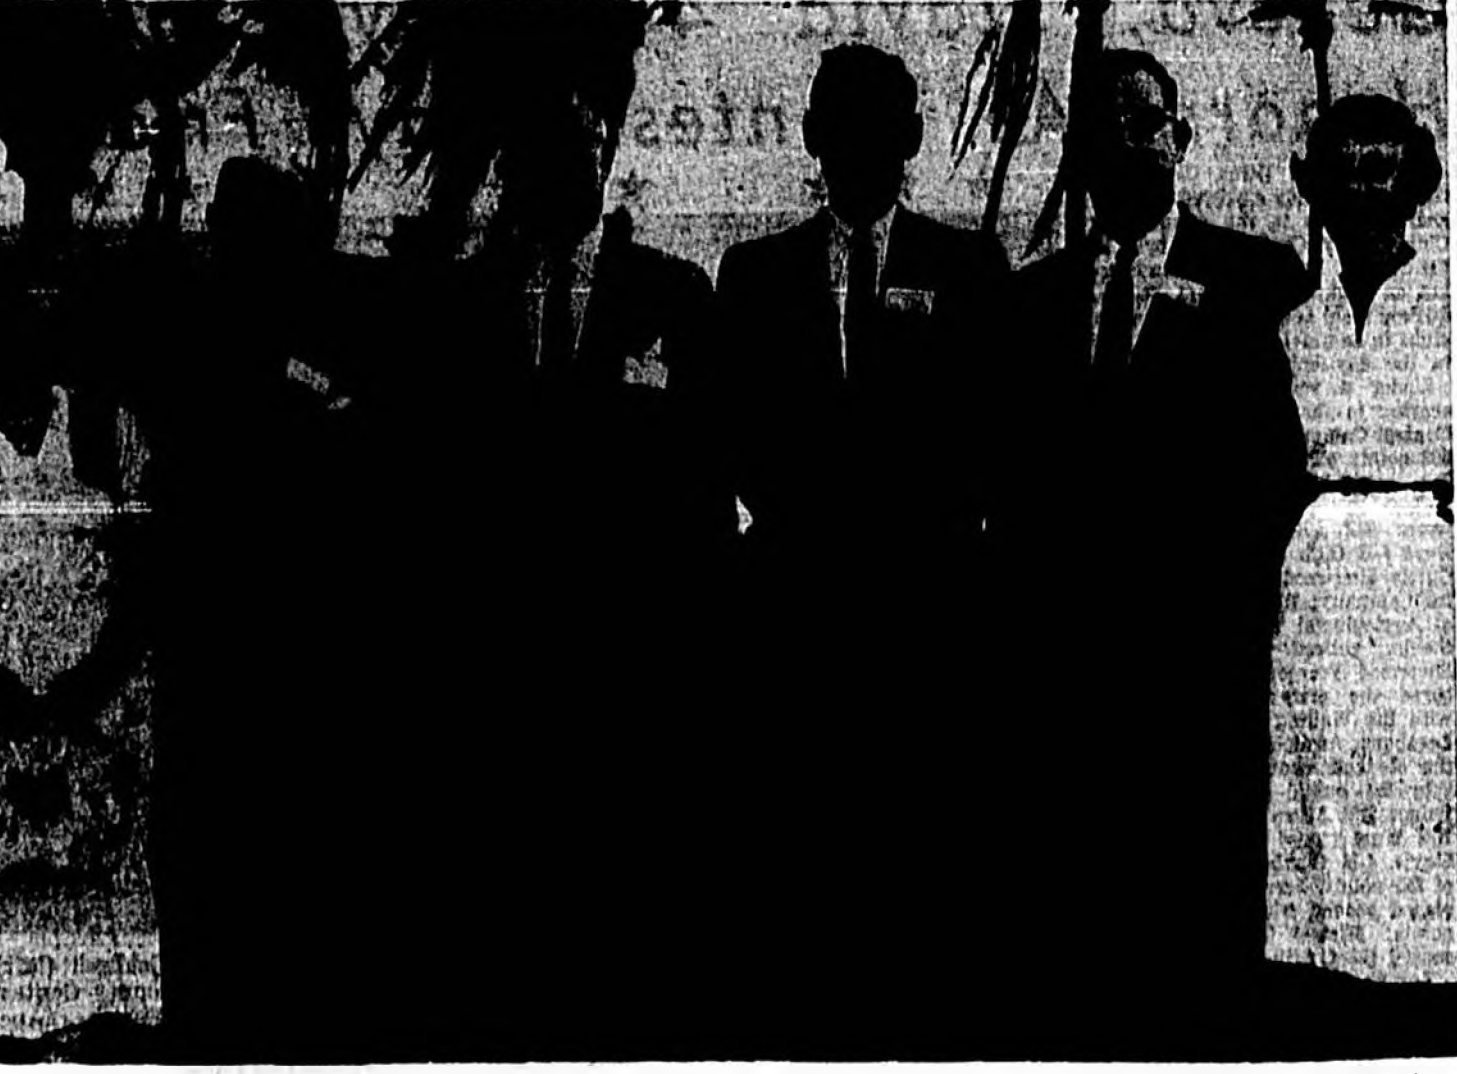

BED WETTING

Bed wetting among children is a very common and embarrassing condition and many is the child who is punished repeatedly for this offense, who is actually suffering from a condition over which he has no control.

A Chiropractor realizes that the cause of this condition is a weakness of the muscles guarding the opening of the bladder. This is present because the nerve fibers supplying them with the power of relaxation and contraction are impinged where they pass through the spine. The Chiropractor does the only scientific thing to do, he adjusts the vertebra that is causing pressure on the nerves leading to the muscles of the bladder and as a consequence the muscles regain their proper tone and strength in the natural, normal way. By removing the cause of this condition, the Chiropractor brings about permanent results.

Yellows Discovered In Cabbage Field In Sanford Area

Yellows, one of the most dreaded diseases of cabbage, has been identified for the first time in the Sanford area by Dr. John Darby, Plant Pathologist, Central Florida Experiment Station. Yellows is a disease of cabbage and closely related crucifers; however, cauliflower, broccoli, collards, and brussels sprouts seem to be resistant to this disease.

Although yellows was first observed in Florida at Sanford in 1956, it was not known to be present in any other section of the state until 1958 when it was noted in the Hastings area. The disease was introduced into Hastings in plants grown in Virginia and other states.

So far in the Sanford area, yellows has only been reported in one field. These infected plants came from Georgia.

There is no control for yellows except to plant disease resistant varieties in those fields where yellows has once appeared. The organism causing the disease is a fungus, which once in the soil lives there indefinitely. The fungus thrives best in warm weather when temperatures range between 75° and 85° F. Because of this, it is extremely destructive to late spring and early summer cabbage. Usually affected plants die within two or three weeks, although some may live through the season, but produce imperfect heads.

Yellows is a systemic disease; the fungus travels up the water vessels from the roots, and signs of the disease develop progressively from the bottom to the top of the plants. When healthy plants are set in infected soil, or infected plants set in clean soil, the characteristic yellow color becomes apparent in two or three weeks. Usually the yellowing is more intense on one side of the leaves and stems, although occasionally it is uniform on both sides of the mid rib. Distorted plants become stunted, and the leaves and stems curl to one side, giving the plant a distorted appearance. When affected stems and leaf petioles are cut lengthwise, the water vessels show a yellowish-brown streak. In cross sections they show dots of that color. As the yellows disease ages it turns brown, dies and becomes brittle so that the leaves shed prematurely.

It should be emphasized that since the yellows organism persists indefinitely in the soil, the disease cannot be controlled by crop rotation. Only yellows resistant varieties should be planted in infected fields. Some of the recommended yellows resistant varieties are: Marion Market and Resistant Glory. Growers should take every precaution to see that only disease free plants are planted on disease free land. The best transplants to use in setting fields free from the disease are those grown locally in soils treated with methyl bromide gas. "Now is the time to inspect for yellows," said Cecil A. Tucker, County Agent, today. All suspicious areas in the field should be checked closely for yellows. Samples can be brought either to the County Agricultural Agent's office in the Court House or taken to the Experiment Station on Celery Ave.

Vets Get Over $35 Million Last Year In Benefits

A total of $135,625,633 in cash benefits and services was distributed during fiscal year 1957 to veterans and their families in Florida, the Veterans Administration announced today.

The distribution is outlined in its 1957 Annual Report now on sale at the Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., at $1.00 per copy. Benjamin S. Beach, Officer in Charge of the Central Florida VA office, said today.

Compensation for service-connected disabilities and pension for total and permanent non-service-connected disabilities were paid to 82,760 living veterans in the amount of $64,162,932.

Death compensation and pension were paid to the dependents of 37,897 dead veterans in the amount of $19,495,759, Beach said.

Certain GI insurance and indemnity payments totaling $7,449,319 were made to veterans and their beneficiaries in Florida.

An average of 404 disabled veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict period in Florida trained during the year under the vocational rehabilitation act to overcome the handicaps of their disabilities. They received $1,151,248 in subsistence, tuition, supplies and equipment.

Tigers Victors Over Giants 1-0; Powell Pitches

The Tigers backed up Steve Powell's pitching Monday as they eked out a 1 to 0 victory over the Giants in the Rotary league.

In spite of the fact that the winners got only two hits against their opponents four, the one that Johnny Wheelchel garnered in the fourth frame scored Johnny Emerson who got on base through an error and took second base on the overthrow at first. Emerson's single in the first inning was the only other safety off Butch Casube's pitching.

Singles for the Giants were tracked up by Phillips, Larry Davis and two that Jerry Dillard picked up.

15,208 veterans trained during the year. They received $30,455,839 in cash allowances.

The remainder of cash benefits, services and other VA expenditures in Florida during the year totaled $18,606,555.

These cash benefits and services included war orphans' educational allowances, hospitalization, automobiles for the disabled, wheel chair homes for the seriously disabled, administrative costs, and miscellaneous items, Beach pointed out.

Dreaming of college and earning his way, Covering a route with the news of the day, Now just a newspaper carrier is he, But doctor or priest of tomorrow to be.

Great men but yesterday once did the same, Took, as a news (paper) boy, their first steps to fame, Lads who went laughing and whistling their way, But judges and artists and merchants today.

Striving to please, but at times to annoy, That is the way of the newspaperboy. Head full of dreams but a heart that is stout Man of tomorrow that's just starting out.

Eyes on the future! I watch him go by And remember just like him at one time was I. Loving with memories time don't destroy When I was just somebody's newspaperboy.

Judges for this contest of skill were: Bill Allen, Assistant State Boys 4-H Club Agent Gainesville; Curtis Sherwood, Sherwood Tractor Company; Bill West, Vocational Agricultural Teacher; and Ben Steele, retired school teacher. Sherwood Tractor Company sponsored the prizes for this event with the Walling Crute Company, Leesburg, furnishing the posts for the obstacle course.

In the public speaking contest judges Bill Allen, Ben Steele, and Bill West scored Loy Caldwell, a Slavia 4-H Clubber, with a total of 248 points. Jerry Arndt, Orlando, placed second with a total of 230 points. Mickey Trainak, Slavia, scored third with 200 points.

Farm Income Is Predicted To Match Last Year's Record

WASHINGTON 25—Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson has predicted farm income this year will match the record set in 1957. "Farm prices today are running 11 per cent ahead of a year ago, 18 per cent ahead of two years ago, and prices today are 9 per cent above what they were when we left the so-called supports," he said Sunday.

Benson made the remarks in a filmed television interview with Rep. Harold C. Ostertag R-NY on three New York state television stations.

Democrats and some Republicans in Congress have been demanding revision of the price support program. However, Benson said, "We feel that the price support mechanism can be used to give some stability to our farm economy, but those supports ought to be on a flexible basis."

"We must put our emphasis on markets, the expansion of markets, the development of new uses for farm products, and less emphasis on government regulation," he said.

U.S. Billionaire Sales Giants Have Banner Year In '57

NEW YORK 25—The nation's billionaire sales giants enjoyed a banner year in 1957 despite the recession, a United Press survey showed today.

A total of seven companies joined the ranks of firms doing an annual volume of business of one billion dollars or more, swelling the list to 48.

These 48 companies sold $118,473,277,000 worth of goods and services in 1957, against $103,000,000,000 in 1956.

Their aggregate sales volume worked out to around $700 for every man, woman and child in the nation. The billionaires sold everything from giant turbines and automobiles to toasters, cigarettes and cheese.

Tobacco Firm Leads

The seven new members of the sales club are R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Ciba Service Co., International Business Machines, United Aircraft Corp., North American Aviation, Inc., and General Foods Corp. Reynolds led with $1,053,328,000.

Despite the slowing down of business in the last half of 1957, only four did a smaller volume of business in 1957 than in 1956.

The growth in the billionaire sales ranks closely parallels that of the nation as a whole. In 1957 there were only two such firms in the country—General Motors Corp. and American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Since that time, the ranks have been swollen by wars, inflation, and heavy spending by consumers, industry and government.

The 48 companies in the list took in a lot of money in 1957—almost half again as much as the federal government will spend this year—but they also paid out a lot of money for supplies, salaries, dividends, expansion and taxes.

General Motors headed the list again this year with sales in excess of 10 billion dollars. Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Telephone, Ford and Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. rounded out the top five.

The sharpest gains in dollar sales during 1957 were rung up by such "blue chips" as Chrysler, Boeing, General Dynamics and International Business Machines.

Barge Tonnage, Loadings, Earnings Decline Reported

A 19.7% drop in barge tonnage, a 18.1% drop in barge loadings and a sharp decline of 15.8% in gross freight revenue for 1958, compared to the same period in 1957, was reported today by A. M. Thompson, president of the Inland Waterways Common Carriers Association.

Thompson said the last quarterly report from the common carrier barge line companies showed barge loadings dropped from 8,768 in 1957 to 7,707 in 1958. Tons transported dropped from 9,540,514 in 1957 to 7,639,805 in the similar period of this year. Gross weight revenue declined from $19,641 in 1957 to $16,347,970 in 1958.

The Association represents the leading common carrier barge lines servicing 28 states on the Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio rivers and their tributaries and the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway.

The Association president attributed the drastic drop in barge tonnage and revenue to the general decline in business conditions throughout the country. "Even though we are the most economical method of transporting mass commodities," said Thompson, "the drop in orders and the curtailment of plant expansion on the part of our customers has affected our business."

"Some of the measures proposed by the railroad in the recent Senate Sub-committee Hearings," said Thompson, "could serve to further damage the position of the barge industry and the industries that depend on water transportation."

Blaze Of White Seen For Summer

There's no better refreshment for warm days a-coming than the bright blaze of white that flashes on the fashion scene!

Already the fashion prophets foresee a blazing challenge of popularity for the whitest whites to inspire your warm-weather wardrobe.

Alone or in combination with other colors, or as background for gay florals or stripes, white is the immaculate touch you'll find in the new season lineups, silk, linen, sharkskin, cottons and blends galore.

In addition to the many white long and short coats for spring-into-summer wear, there are exciting shirt sheaths, slim, semi-fitted sheaths, the many variations on the chemise... all in dramatic white.

White, coming in on the crest of the high fashion wave, will still rule summer in two-piece dresses, Chanel-type blouses over pleated skirts, box-jackets with slim skirts, two-piece coordinated with the one-piece look and in a wide variety of daytime classics.

With gay trims of flag colors, or boldly accented with the newest shock colors, white will salute the sportswear scene in sport pants with jaunty overblouses, in nautical-looking mid-calf pants, in the shortest shorts, in cardigan jackets, in dozens of variations of the middie theme and in all the many exciting new swim suit styles.

White, too, will step smartly into the after-five mood... definitely elegant to mid-off man-bloused slacks in flowing chiffon, crisp broadens, silk organzas, or uncluttered linens.

Yes, you'll love this direct approach to smartness in flatterings-to-all-whites!

Physician Not Nazi

BERLIN 25—A West Berlin denazification court has ruled that Hitler's physician, the late Dr. Theodor Morell, was not an active Nazi. The verdict announced Thursday cleared the way for Morell's heirs to claim property he left valued at $7,000. He died in 1948.

Hold That Line!

Although the term "easy" describes the favored silhouette for spring — so often the lime shape of the chemise and its variations is a "hard" shape to wear without the proper foundation to smooth the way.

The unchallenged star of daytime wear for spring will be the chemise, an "easy-fitting" fashion that de-emphasizes the bustline, sooms past the waist and comes to rest on the hips.

Actually, the chemise is not one, but many silhouettes. Sometimes it consists of almost straight middie or over-blouse and separate narrow skirt (1); sometimes this same two-piece look is achieved in a one-piece dress. It can be a completely unfitted look, dropping in an almost straight line from shoulder to hem. It is interpreted in suits (2) in a slightly fitted or bloused jacket that first hits the body at the hipline. It can be nearly fitted in front but free flowing in back (3) or it can have a softly draped look (4) that lends an illusion of fit.

For that Block Look

Whatever shape they take, chemises have three under-cover requirements in common. Beneath them, bustline must be high and rounded; back, front and hips must be slim and well-controlled, thighs must be sleek.

Seen in profile, the slim appearance of the chemise depends on a bustline that is modified, never jutting, on a flattened abdomen and, in most cases, on an equally flat derrière.

Viewed from the front, it starts to narrow at the hips, which means that hips must be controlled. Almost invariably, the skirt tapers, demanding the underlying of a thigh-controlling foundation.

Assessment of Skyles

Waistline girdles, long-leg panty girdles, the full corselet and long-line bras for spring, all stress the hip, back and front control so necessary for the chemise style.

THE CARD OF THANKS
Very often a Card of Thanks in the Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes but also courteously acknowledges the services and kindnesses of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed.

Newspaper Cards of Thanks are accepted as socially correct. Emily Post, the noted authority on etiquette, feels they convey many good words.

There is no prescribed form for a Card of Thanks. It can be as brief or as detailed as you desire. When the occasion comes you will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you.

THE "IN MEMORIAM" NOTICE
It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "In Memoriam" notice in newspaper classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation of selection of a suitable verse brings help to those leaders, pleasant recollections. As Eliza Cook, the English poet has so beautifully expressed it:

"How cruelly sweet are the echoes
That play on the heart,
What memory plays an old tune
On the heart."
Most frequently an In Memoriam is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates which are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.

If you are hesitant to express your tender thoughts in poetic form, you may avail yourself of the Herald's collection of original verses. These express in poetic beauty the emotions of the heart-strings. Among them are verses appropriate to any circumstance.

THE RATE
Cards of Thanks and In Memoriam notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

Moderate Use Of Alcohol May Perhaps Be Helpful
By HERMAN H. BUNNING, M.D.

In many European countries, mildly stimulates digestion by wine and/or brandy are considered helpful. The gastric glands to secrete a part of the main meal of the day, and it seems as though this practice is being widely adopted in this country.

As a matter of fact, reliable surveys indicate that about 60 per cent of our population over the age of 17 regularly drink alcoholic beverages of one sort or another.

Moderate Drinking
And an estimated 80 per cent of our physicians take a drink occasionally. Many regarding moderate drinking as beneficial in certain conditions.

A cocktail, a drink of whiskey, a wine such as sherry or a spirit like cognac often helps to stimulate the appetite. This is especially true for many elderly persons who are sometimes troubled with a poor appetite.

Very often these beverages will eliminate that feeling of fullness that prematurely reduces the appetite, thereby cutting down in the quantity of food consumed.

Aids Digestion
A glass of an alcoholic beverage before or with a meal may aid the digestive process. When taken in moderation, alcohol

High in Calories
However, the caloric content of beverage alcohol might be a problem for those of you who must watch your weight.

Dr. Harold H. Levy of New York reported recently in an article appearing in the International Record of Medicine that the caloric content of spirits is roughly equivalent to the proof. Therefore, a spirit of 80 proof can be expected to contain approximately 80 calories per ounce.

From all this evidence, it appears that a drink before or with a meal may be a definite aid to appetite and digestion when judiciously taken.

Answer: Unless there is accompanying heart failure, I see no reason why air travel should prove harmful or bring on an attack of asthma.

Boy, 5, Kidnaped While Playing In Front Of Home

MIDDLESEX, N. J.—A bus driver's five-year-old son was kidnaped from in front of his home by two women and a man Tuesday.

Police said the boy, Michael Sickle III, was riding his tricycle when the trio drove up in a pickup truck and spirited him away.

Early today, more than 18 hours after the abduction, no ransom note had been received, nor had anyone contacted the boy's father, Michael Sickle II, according to Middlesex Borough police.

Police said the 27-year-old Sickle, a school bus driver, was a man of modest means and an unlikely prospect for ransom.

A neighbor told police she saw the truck pull up in front of the house with a man and two women inside. She said one of the women got out, took the boy by the hand and led him, crying, into the cab of the truck. The truck then drove away.

Moments later, the boy's stepmother came out and called for Michael, whereupon the neighbor told her of the abduction. Mrs. Sickle then telephoned police. Young Michael was described as having dark brown hair and weighing about 45 pounds. He was wearing blue dungarees, a blue coat, gray hat and brown overalls.

Aims of the American Cancer Society were clarified at a meeting held in the recreation building, Fort Mellon Park.

Mrs. Anne Buczowski presided. "Primary aim is to go out of business. Of course, this would mean that there would be no more disease would disappear. To that end thousands of workers must be enlisted to support the scientists who are trying to find a cure," the president stated.

On a local basis the local society attempts to educate the people about cancer and its danger signals, collect money to be used in research. The American Society owns no hospitals; it determines the need and finally by the welfare department.

Board members present at the meeting were Mrs. Ruth Boutwell, Mrs. Ruth Gallagher, Mrs. Eva Hunt, service chairman, Dr. L. L. Larsen, medical director, L. H. Peterson of Tampa, executive vice-president of the Florida Division of the American Cancer Society, attended the meeting and spoke to the group.

Heading the list of volunteers is Mrs. Nancy Jolly, fund chairman at Scott Burns. "C" Day will be conducted May 1 from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m. Beta Sigma Phi Sorority is assisting the chapter.

'U.S. Railroads Sick' Declares CofC Speaker

"The railroads of America are sick," W. Thomas Rice, president of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, told a Seminole County Chamber of Commerce annual banquet audience last night. He later added that "it's your problem whether you ship or travel by rail or if you are a taxpayer."

A battery of vice presidents heard the ACL president speak to the Chamber of Commerce audience in the history of the local organization meeting for the first time in the new Sanford Civic Center dining room. Accompanying Rice were P. J. Lee, ACL vice president; F. D. Lemmon, vice president-treasurer-director of the ACL; L. S. Jeffords, vice-president in charge of operations and L. F. Ormond, vice president.

"Your railroads are sick because they cannot compete in the market center of the nation," said Rice as he spoke of Senator George Smathers' instigation of an investigation into the condition of American railroads.

Pilot Remains In Flaming Jet To Save Major

ABILENE, Tex. (UP)—Air Force doctors today treated the wind-burned eyes and frostbitten face of young 1st Lt. James E. Obenauf, who remained in the open cockpit of a flaming jet bomber to save an unconscious comrade and the plane.

Obenauf, 24, piloted the aircraft 300 miles Tuesday with a sub-zero, 400-mile-an-hour wind tearing at his face after discovering a crewmember was unconscious and without a parachute.

The aircraft commander, Maj. James M. Graves, 38, of Fort Worth, Tex., and the navigator, 1st Lt. John F. Cobb, 35, of Elko, Nev., had already bailed out when Obenauf set the controls and started to jump.

On his way to the nose escape hatch, he stumbled over unconscious Maj. Joseph B. Maxwell, 35, of Portsmouth, Va.

Obenauf, who had been in the cockpit of a Grayslake, Ill., bomber that had already bailed out when Obenauf set the controls and started to jump.

He landed the two-and-a-half million dollar plane on five engines 30 minutes after the fire started.

"In addition," he said, "we have established a promotion to attract retired people to Sanford and Seminole County."

The Chamber of Commerce President paid tribute to the work of J. Bralley Oulham and his Long Range Highway Planning Committee, to John Kridler and his staff, Mrs. Camilla Bruce and Mrs. Georgia Hall.

Others introduced last night included Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr., Mayor and Mrs. Merle Warner, Mrs. George Touhy, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McKibbin, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Anderson, Chaplain and Mrs. W. C. Fuller, L. T. Oliver, Gen. Supt. J. J. Stafford, P. L. Harper, C. H. Ethridge, Roy Pascoe, J. L. Williams, R. L. Lightfoot, J. L. Kennedy, J. H. Pitts, Linton Allen and Dr. J. C. Buntin.

Mervin Crandall was chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Committee planning the annual banquet event.

Electrical Timing Device Will Be Shown Jaycees

Jaycees will learn tomorrow how they can be "caught speeding" without a screaming siren and police officer chasing them.

Sheriff J. Luther Hobby will demonstrate the new "electrical timing device" that was recently purchased jointly by Seminole County and the City of Sanford.

Used to time the speed of vehicles on highways, the electrical timing device has recently been put into operation on county roads and city streets.

Sheriff Hobby will be the principal speaker at tomorrow's noon luncheon meeting of the Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Czechoslovak ambassadors which would have amounted to recognizing the two Soviet satellites as equals of Britain and France.

In London U. P. diplomatic correspondent Joseph W. Grigg said the West today completed drafting its note, accepting separate talks as the "lesser of two evils" and would submit it to NATO for routine approval before delivering it in Moscow, probably Thursday.

Agree Reluctantly He said the brief note will: Agree reluctantly to the separate meetings.

Point out that this is a "cumbersome" procedure and likely to result in further heavy delays in getting summit talks under way.

Ignore the Soviet's alternate offer of meeting with Poland and Czech envoys, thus rejecting the claim without mentioning it.

Grigg said British officials, convinced at first the Russians were highly anxious for a summit meeting, have begun to modify this belief as a result of the Kremlin's latest maneuvers including the wrangle over Poland and Czechoslovakia, the curt rejection of the U. S. Arctic inspection plan, refusal to discuss disarmament and indications it may refuse a summit conference unless America calls off its H-bomber flights.

Compared With Nazis The Soviet's propaganda blast against the United States went as far as to compare U. S. military policymakers with the Nazis, and United Press correspondent Henry Shapiro reported from Moscow such "war mongering" charges were likely to continue right through the summit preparations.

Ike Urges Russia To Accept War Prevention Plan

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today called Russia's denunciation of the U. S. Arctic war-prevention plan almost silly. He appealed again to Russia to accept it.

The President said the plan was put forward seriously and honestly in the U. N. Security Council to allay Russian fears about U. S. H-bomber alert flights over the Arctic.

He said the United States hoped Russia would accept the proposal as sensible and therefore perhaps a first step toward broader disarmament agreements.

The President said his reaction to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's attack on the U. S. proposal was one of sadness.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko called the proposal for Arctic aerial inspection "sheer publicity" and said it was designed to collect intelligence from the Soviet Union.

County Cub Scouts To Put On Circus At Market May 31

One hundred and twenty-five Cub Scouts in Seminole County are planning a Circus May 31 at the Farmer's Auction Market on U.S. 92. Under the direction of Phillip Simpson, commissioner for Cub Scouting, the boys will present four main events, a slide show, games of skill, main ring and concessions.

A meeting of the Circus Committee, consisting of den leaders, will be held tonight at 7:30 at the First Methodist Church. Responsibility will be delegated to each den at this time.

COPTER SAVES GIRL FEIBURG, Germany (UP)—A U. S. Army helicopter was credited today with saving the life of a four-year-old German girl. The copter, dispatched from Frankfurt on an emergency basis, flew Marlene Gormuller here from Goettingen for a life-or-death kidney operation. She was reported very ill today but out of danger.

Senate Okays Pay Hike For Servicemen

WASHINGTON (UP)—Most members of the Armed Services today were all set for faster pay checks soon following the Senate's approval of a pay raise.

Barring unforeseen hitch the pay raise should become effective June 1. The rates and other provisions of the new bill are designed to keep a career force in the armed services.

The Senate passed its bill, 87-0, Tuesday. The House was expected to agree to a Senate-House compromise to adjust differences between the Senate measure and a 600-million-dollar raise previously approved by the House.

A compromise is worked out in time for presidential approval.

TV Program Will Feature Sanford Talent Tomorrow

TV viewers are urged to watch the "Florida Room" tomorrow at 8:30 p. m. when local talent will be featured on Fran Conklin's show on WLOF-TV, Channel 9.

"The Corns," Mrs. James Harrison and Dave Harsell, who will appear in "For Better or for Worse," are guest artists on the show tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Ernest Cowley, co-chairman of the May 3 production is also a guest on the TV show.

Williams Delivers Resolution. At Canal Hearing

Judge Volle A. Williams Jr., Circuit Judge, Ninth Judicial Circuit, represented the City of Sanford at the hearing Monday before the Board of Engineers, Rivers and Harbors in Washington, D. C.

The City of Sanford provided Judge Williams with a resolution supporting the proposed Sanford-Titusville Canal.

In delivering the resolution, Judge Williams spoke to the Board, headed by Major General Chan. G. Halle, in behalf of the construction of the canal supported by organizations, municipalities, and other groups, as well as nationally known individuals.

His remarks, in their entirety were as follows:

"First, let us recognize the fact that it would be both unnatural and untruthful for the City of Sanford's representatives to pretend to be interested in the outcome of this hearing is one of an altruistic nature. Admittedly, our interest is high, and to some degree, at least, might be classified as selfish."

"Since we realize that your duties under the law require so many hearings of this nature, our hope is that you have not fallen prey to the likely inclination of viewing this hearing as one of a stereotyped nature."

"Naturally, we believe your District Engineer erred when he submitted his unfavorable report, else we would not be here today. It is not my purpose, nor will I discuss the technical aspects of either the District Engineer's Report or the Benefit to Construction. There are expert witnesses here today who are much more knowledgeable along those lines than I."

"I would take your time to remind you that it is estimated that by 1960 Florida will rank 13th among the states in population. By 1975, it is anticipated we will rank 4th or 5th in population."

"The tremendous opportunities for the development of commerce between our country and the countries of Latin America and South America are finally being recognized but have not yet come into fruition. Surely, the Sanford-Titusville Canal—over a 50 year period—would become as profitable to our society as has the Houston Canal and as will the St. Lawrence Seaway, both of which, in their inception, in the eyes of some, were doomed to dismal failure."

"It appears to me that not only must we have vision—foresight—or whatever we might call it, among our political and industrial leaders. We must also have it."

Armed Forces Day Committee Meets Tomorrow, 4 p.m.

A meeting has been called for tomorrow afternoon, said Joel Field, Sanford Postmaster, of all committee members of the Armed Forces Day committee.

Each organization interested in participating in the parade, said Field, is asked to attend the meeting.

The session is slated for 4 o'clock in the City Commission Room of the City Hall.

Over the next 30 years, even the experts cannot reasonably predict the growth of both industries and population of our state.
