TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE Civilization cannot thrive on casual unions. Self centered people cannot establish stable homes. Art thruout to a wife, seek not to be loved. Art thou loosed from a wife, seek not a wife. — 1 Cor.
7:27.

No theory is good if it does not work. Experience proves what way is best. Wisdom is justified by her children. — Luke 7:35.

If you have already done your Christmas shopping early, why not do your Christmas mailing early too?

The Mayfair Inn is doing a good job of helping to advertise Sanford with its billboards at strategic locations on Florida highways, as well as in the newspapers of the north.

You can make money by learning to use classified ads in the newspapers. Many real bargains are offered for sale there. But you will also find them of great value in helping to dispose of little used accumulations now cluttering up your attic.

We are glad to see the Junior Chamber of Commerce fostering a little trade-at-home campaign in connection with Christmas shopping. Too many people are doing their buying out of town, and content themselves with complaints over why Sanford doesn't make more progress, doesn't have more money for various projects.

Don't belittle too much the scheduled meeting of President Eisenhower with General MacArthur over the Korean situation. You may not like the way MacArthur wears his cap, but he knows more about the Korean war and the whole Far Eastern problem than any other man in America. He may not be able to get us out of this predicament in which the Truman administration has involved us, but he can do it if anyone can.

The vote in November 4th election has not been officially and completely tabulated yet more than a month later. We move fast in this country, we like to think. Exactly 61,152,069 votes were actually cast, according to final official figures in 44 states and unofficial figures in four states.
California, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and West Virginia haven't finished counting yet. Of these Eisenhower got 33,718,528; Stevenson 27,190,310; and all others 243,231.

The value of the American dollar depends upon the life of Joe Stalin, says famed economist Roger Babson, trying to explain to us the dollar is a rather nebulous measure of value. Babson is convinced that Joe Stalin does not want war with the U. S., and that there will be no war as long as Stalin lives, and that, therefore, not much further depreciation of the dollar will take place. But we believe that the Russian people want war more than Stalin does, and that when he dies there will be a threat of a war that there is now, and hence less pressure on the dollar.

Great Arguments rage before the Supreme Court over whether to allow segregation in the public schools of the South. The Supreme Court will be making new law. If it isn't "separate-but-equal" impositions are not sufficient to meet requirements of the Constitution.
That is the way the law has been for a great many years.
It is a change which segregation, is an interesting to see what steps would be taken when the Supreme Court ruled against segregation. The Supreme Court has ruled against segregation in the past. The Supreme Court has ruled against segregation in the past.

Good Reading And Bad

It is easy to understand the anxiety of those who fear that the lurid books and magazines available at some newsstands may have a corrupting influence on the minds of young people. Some of the paper-bound editions and cheap magazines make a frank appeal to the curiosity of youth and emphasize which some of the publishers place on the more sensational aspects of sex makes them dangerous. A young reader, still immature in his attitudes toward the mysteries of sex, can get distorted ideas from reading material which glamorizes immorality or presents sex out of proportion to its proper place in life.

A congressional investigating committee is studying the problem and churchmen, publishers, authors and civic leaders have been called to testify. When recommendations are concluded the committee will make recommendations as to what should be done. It should be remembered that not all the paper-bound books are guilty of violating good taste and good sense. Many cheap reprint editions make the work of Shakespeare, Shaw, the philosophers, writers and poets of the world available to people rich in literary appreciation but poor in pocketbook.

Some people want censorship. But would it work? Would not the eternal problem of what is decent and what is indecent soon arise to perplex any individual or group appointed to make such decisions? Can standards of morality be legislated?

There is no pat or easy answer. Publishers can avoid censorship only if they take steps to police their own industry. Parents who fall to interest their children in wholesome books cannot expect censorship to protect them.

Groups interested in meeting the menace of obscene literature can help by making good literature available. Confronted with a choice between good reading and bad our young people should be well educated enough to choose the former. Good reading is not only better than bad; it is, given half a chance, more interesting and attractive.

The Unconquerable

Mount Everest, for mountain climbers the most challenging of all peaks, remains unconquerable. A party of Swiss climbing experts have just returned from a climb which took them to a point on Everest never before reached by men who returned to tell of it. Wind and cold made them stop 150 feet from the summit.

The leader of the Swiss group estimated that the summit of Mount Everest is 29,610 feet. His party reached the record point they set by climbing in gradual stages. From the start of their ascent to its conclusion they made camp at several different points along the rugged slope.

In 1924 two Englishmen were seen battling slowly and surely toward the top when they disappeared in a swirling cloud of snow. They were never seen again but some who observed their effort believe that they made the top and were killed after they began the difficult trip down.

It may be a good thing that man has never been able to conquer Everest. In these days when we have found it possible to wrest power and energy from nature almost at will it is good for men to have a few goals which somehow remain in the realm of the unattainable, even if some of them are largely symbolic as is the scaling of Mount Everest.

It is possible that the next attempt to scale the peak will be no more successful than the others. But man's will is indomitable and there will always be hardy men ready to risk their necks for the pure pleasure of standing at a point higher than men have ever reached by their own effort. The top may never be reached but climbers will continue to try.
Browning said, "Man's reach must exceed his grasp, or what's heaven for?"

Christmas Bells

No bells ring out in a truer expression of Christmas than those of the Salvation Army. Each year, at Christmas, members of the Salvation Army take up their posts along shopping streets of cities to solicit funds from the passers-by. The money they collect provides a merrier Christmas for the poor.

Christmas is more than decorated store windows, rainbow-ribboned packages or holiday encoils. It is the birthday of the Christ who came to teach men to love one another.
The unformed bell ringer is a reminder of that meaning and the few coins people drop into the pot as they pass helps them to understand it a little better.

Proposal Approved Norwegian Freighter Sinks In California

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The U. N.'s Special Political Committee today approved an eight-power proposal calling on Israel and the Arab countries to begin direct talks aimed at a final peace in Palestine.

The proposal was approved by a vote of 32 to 13, with 13 countries abstaining.

The plan also called for the U. N. Palestine Conciliation Commission to continue its efforts to aid in bringing the bitter controversy to a peaceful settlement.

Israel agreed to support the eight-nation proposal, but the Arab countries told the committee it was completely unacceptable.

The sponsors of the plan were Canada, Cuba, Denmark, Ecuador, Netherlands, Norway, Panama and Uruguay. It was supported by the United States and Britain.

Fewer Oranges In State Forseen By Federal Estimate

LAKELAND—Federal crop estimators say Florida will have fewer oranges this season than last. This news generally sounds good to the big citrus industry.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates the total Florida orange crop will be 77 million boxes. This is 4 million under the early season estimate and is 1,600,000 boxes under last season's estimate.

Officials of two citrus organizations say the forecast of a shorter crop should mean higher prices for the fruit grower.

This claim came from Robert W. Rutledge, general manager of Florida Citrus Mutual, and Robert C. Evans, general manager of the Florida Citrus Commission.

Evans observed "It's generally agreed in the industry that 40 million boxes of oranges are needed for concentrate this year."

What caused federal estimators to lower their figures on how much fruit would be grown this year? They explained that while both trees and fruit are in good condition oranges have not been rising up as large as first indicated.

Citrus men also say that while the outside branches of orange trees appear to have a good crop, the normal crop of oranges is not in.

The federal estimates on grapefruit and tangerines were unchanged from the first one made this season—33 million boxes for grapefruit and 4,700,000 boxes for tangerines.

So far this season, 10 million boxes of oranges have been shipped out Latin America by air express, reported issues of Dec. 1, 2 and 3 were banned on grounds that they "do not have accurate information on Venezuelan politics and would be misleading to the reader."

The issues contained Associated Press dispatches relating to the Venezuelan election.

Censors at Caracas held up three days' issues of the Herald a year ago because of articles by staff writer Charles Fernandez based on a visit to the country.

Miami Herald Banned By Venezuela Censor

MIAMI—The Miami Herald said today that three consecutive issues of its "Clipper Edition" were banned by government censors in Venezuela.

Maracaibo agents of the Herald, which is distributed daily throughout Latin America by air express, reported issues of Dec. 1, 2 and 3 were banned on grounds that they "do not have accurate information on Venezuelan politics and would be misleading to the reader."

The issues contained Associated Press dispatches relating to the Venezuelan election.

Censors at Caracas held up three days' issues of the Herald a year ago because of articles by staff writer Charles Fernandez based on a visit to the country.

Japanese Shipping Is Paralyzed By Strike

TOKYO—Virtually all Japanese shipping in home waters felt the paralyzing coal miners' strike today.

A 120-hour strike of electrical workers cut down the depleted power supply further and caused brownouts in Tokyo and other Japanese cities. Trains ran late and many runs were dropped.

The 203,000 miners seek higher wages and year end bonuses.

Reds Seek To Block Check Of Delegates

VIENNA—Russian occupation authorities today were reported obstructing Vienna police from checking on the names of delegates to the Kremlin-sponsored "World Congress of Peoples for Peace" which opens in Vienna tomorrow.

But while the Russians acted to "protect" the delegates, the Vienna police themselves briefly arrested for questioning 30 Catholic youths protesting against the Congress.

All persons checking in at Vienna hotels are compelled by law to fill out registration forms for police use. It was reported that the police have forbidden hotel police to collect the registration forms in the international sector, where the Russian sector of Vienna and also in the international sector, where the Soviet troops are in military police control this month.

The Russian action was believed taken to prevent the arrest by the Austrians of delegates who may have entered the country illegally.

The Austrian government has branded the Congress as a Communist affair and the Austrian population has been urged to stay away from it.

In the West, the Congress is regarded as a Kremlin attempt to split the Western alliance and cut down Western rearmament efforts.

Tiny Girls Will Open Big New Steel Plant

MORRISVILLE, Pa.—Two little girls start the production of steel here today as the United States Steel Company opens its 400 million dollar Fairless Works, the largest single expansion of its kind in history.

Seven-year-old Nancy Fairless and her sister, Carol, five, light the first blast furnace and tap the first hearth in the ceremonies opening the works which sprawl over six square miles of Bucks County.

The girls are granddaughters of Benjamin F. Fairless, chairman of the board and former president of the company.

Full production is scheduled for midsummer, 1953.

Shrimp Fisherman Is Lost Off Tortugas

FT. MYERS—A Negro shrimp fisherman, Luther Williams, 30, was lost at sea off Dry Tortugas when he was swept overboard from the shrimp boat Ann Lucy.

Capt. Henry M. Harwell, master of the boat which operates out of here, reported Williams was pulled into the sea by a heavy draught he was handling. Williams was lost Dec. 5. Another fisherman, Annias Temple, also was swept overboard but he was rescued.

Wind Eddies Causing False Radar "Blips"

WASHINGTON—Dense swirling sheets of air high in the sky may have caused false "blips" to show up on radar sets, touching off last summer's reports of flying saucers.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration said yesterday wind eddies can bend a radar beam downward so that it picks up an object on the ground and makes it look like something floating high in the heavens.

When the unidentified blips, or spots on radar screens, were picked up last summer by airport radar sets the popular belief was that only solid objects on which radar was directly focused would show up.

Break-Up Of Big Soap Makers Being Sought

WASHINGTON—The government today sued to break up the nation's three leading soap-makers into a group of smaller competing companies.

The anti-trust suit was filed in the Federal District Court at New York. N. J. Atty. Gen. McGranery announced the action here.

The complaint also named as defendants the Association of American Soap & Glycerine Producers Inc. of New York City, a trade association. It was accused of assisting the three big soap firms in "believing and maintaining their restraints and monopolization."

The suit alleged that Procter, Gillette and Lever together get at least 75 per cent of the national sales of household soap and that they handle about 80 per cent of the never household detergent business, developed in recent years.

The Justice Department said that the soap and detergent business last year amounted to about 710 million dollars.

Evangelist Says He Will Burn New Bible

CRESTVIEW—An evangelist minister has announced he will burn a copy of the new revised standard version of the Bible here Saturday despite a city ordinance banning such action.

The Rev. D. M. Garrett, Chattanooga, Tenn., said he will go through with his plan although the Crestview City Council Wednesday passed an ordinance prohibiting the burning of the Bible within the city limits. The council prescribed a penalty of a $500 fine or 90 days in jail.

HOLLYWOOD by BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Victor Mature has just signed a new three-year contract with 20th Century fox, which will hand him $5,000 a week and whopping yearly bonuses.
That is news in these times when studios are dropping high-salaried stars wherever possible. How does Mature do it? Ah, but something new has been added. In the past year, Vic has given up his old hobby of making publicity and has settled down to merely making money. And that, he explained, is why his studio lifted his option at a handsome price.
"The bonuses are what did it," he said. "Every time my option comes up, the money boys take a look at my salary and say, 'This boy has got to go.' But then they start going over the books and they see what kind of money I have brought in on loanouts. Then they realize they can't get rid of me. The stockholders would scream if they fired me."
By the time the fees are added up, the studio is actually paying him about $1,000 a week. They wouldn't fire any star who was getting only that much."
The situation is different with other stars. They can't get rid of them because their salaries start pushing up to $3,000 and $2,500, the studios start looking for ways to get out. The stars are either dropped outright or signed to one or two pictures annually.
The boxes figure it isn't worth keeping most high-priced stars on a year-round salary. They can save money by letting the players go and hiring them back at flat fees.
But Mature has been working at other studios as much as he has at his home lot. He has been hired to Paramount, RKO, MGM and presently U-I, where he's making "Prince of Baghdad."
"and there are a lot of other loanouts that Fox has turned down," he added.
Why is he so popular with other studios? For once he turned modest and couldn't answer. (What? Mature modest?)
But I think I can supply the answer. He is a big, serviceable actor who can perform in any kind of film—Westerns, musicals, dramas, comedies or adventure epics. Also, he is not harmed by the fact that he starred in the industry's No. 2 moneymaker, "Samson and Delilah."
Mature is well on his way to becoming a retail tycoon. He has sponsored the openings of a TV store, a furniture store and two appliance stores. He's already planning two more. Since he has a normal regard for the dollar, he asked why he signed again with Fox. He could get independent and pocket the money his studio makes on his loanouts.

Sam Byrd Wed To British Ward

LONDON — An American actor has disclosed his marriage a year and a half ago to a British girl who fell off a cliff at his feet on Southern England's invasion beaches in 1941.
Sam Byrd, 44, Charleston, S. C., said he was married to Patricia Ann Bolam, 18, in May, 1951, at Carlisle, Cumberland, Eng.
Byrd, an lieutenant in the U.S. Navy, was beachmaster when American forces were practicing invasion tactics near Plymouth in 1941. Pat, then 12 years old, was watching from a low cliff. A noise startled her and she fell at Byrd's feet. He stopped the practice and took care of Pat who suffered a sprained wrist.
Byrd met the girl's family and became her unofficial guardian. Byrd took Pat to the U. S. in 1947 to have her finish her education here.
He said the marriage was kept secret in permit Pat to complete her education and get a foothold in the theatrical business.
Byrd is to play a leading role in "Staling 17." He has achieved distinction in the plays "Tobacco Road" and "Of Mice and Men."
Byrd lived in Sanford, Fla., for a while and worked on the Sanford Herald. He left in the 30s for New York and later wrote a book "Small Town South," an informal look of life in and around Sanford.

There are many different ways eyes may be served to children so they do not tire of them. Carrot and spinach soups are usually popular and they are eye rich. A custard sauce, made with egg, may be served over cut up fruit. And small fry usually enjoy scrambled eggs with the addition of crisp small pieces of bacon.

Alleged Members Of Klan Indicted By US Grand Jury

MIAMI (AP)—A woman civic leader and three alleged members of the Ku Klux Klan were at liberty in $5,000 bonds each today following federal grand jury indictments charging them with lying.

Mrs. Helen Russell, vice president of the Edison Center Civic Association, and these alleged klanmen were indicted:

William Glenn Orwick, former officer of the John B. Gordon Klavern in suburban Hialeah; Harvey George De Rosier of Hialeah; and Arthur Freeze Udgreen of Miami.

The indictments were submitted Tuesday by the grand jury investigating the dynamiting of the Carver Village Negro housing project, Roman Catholic churches and Jewish synagogues in greater Miami last year.

The indictments charged Mrs. Russell with perjuring herself in sworn testimony before the grand jury; Orwick on two counts and Udgreen on one count of making false statements to FBI agents, and De Rosier on two counts of making false statements to the Post Office Department's loyalty board. De Rosier is a postal employee.

Mrs. Russell was accused of denying under oath that she met and consulted with a committee of klanmen to discuss "ways and means of preventing Negroes from moving into Carver Village."

Atty. Gen. McGranery first announced the indictments in Washington.

Those indicted were accused of lying in connection with an investigation of terrorism here against religious and racial groups.

Maximum penalty upon conviction is five years in prison on each count.

The indictment said Mrs. Russell "well knew" the four Klan officers before the first dynamiting at Carver Village on Sept. 22, 1951, and that she "attended a meeting at a residence in the northwest section" at which the KKK leaders were present.

It identified the leaders as Ira Frank Gibbs, the exalted cyclops; Eugene K. Garber, vice president; Roy Talmadge Luttrell, secretary and T. T. McCallum, treasurer.

The indictments described the Edison Center Civic Association as a "civic group existing during the summer and winter of 1951 and interested in preventing members of the Negro race from moving into a housing development located in Edison Center."

Mr. Truman

MacArthur commander might have for ending the Korean War.

Eisenhower sent his telegram to MacArthur from the cruiser on which he is returning from the Korean trip he undertook to carry out his campaign pledge.

Truman then challenged MacArthur to tell him any ideas he may have for ending the war. He said it was MacArthur's duty.

And some congressmen suggested Truman meet with both the President-elect and MacArthur to try to achieve a program for peace.

Truman came to his news conference today obviously ready to do battle with the two generals. To dramatize the conference, he permitted still photographers and television and newsreel cameramen to make pictures before the actual questioning started.

The TV films were made for later showing. There was no live telecast of the news conference.

Truman said he travelled more than 14,000 miles to see MacArthur at Wake Island and about all he got for it was a lot of misinformation.

Asked what this misinformation was, Truman said MacArthur told him at their historic meeting at Wake Island, Oct. 14, 1950:

1. The Chinese would not move into Korea.

2. It would be possible to send a division of the regular U. S. Army from Korea to Germany for occupation purposes to relieve another division by January, 1951.

3. That MacArthur was sure the war was over.

Truman fired MacArthur April 11, 1951.

MacArthur gave no details of any Korean peace plan in his New York speech last Friday. He did say it would not lead to unduly heavy Allied casualties.

Reporters pressed Truman as to whether he considered Eisenhower's trip announcement a piece of demagoguery.

The President said the announcement was a piece of demagoguery—and of course Eisenhower had to make the trip after saying he would.

At that point Roger Tubby, acting presidential press secretary, got up to talk briefly with Truman.

Truman then turned back to the reporters and said Tubby had suggested some good may come out of the Eisenhower trip.

If it does, Truman said, he will be the happiest man in the world.

More Tasty Cup Of Coffee Seen On Way

BOCA RATON (AP)—A better cup of coffee may be on the way.

A coffee brewing institute to conduct a continuous program of research and development in better coffee brewing was announced today.

The institute, set up as a membership corporation in the state of New York, was announced by T. Carroll Wilson, San Francisco, to delegates at the final session of the National Coffee Association's Convention.

It was established through joint efforts of the National Coffee Association and the Pan American Coffee Bureau.

Every aspect of coffee brewing, from home and restaurant, will come within the scope of activities and it proposes to work closely with manufacturers of all types of coffee brewing equipment.

The institute will also compile and catalogue the mass of existing information and data developed by the national coffee association during the past decade.

Mr. Dillon, who has charge of the only engineering activities of the City, is located in an office which was created by partitioning off a portion of the quarters occupied by the State Department.

Robert Angus and Associates, Jacksonville engineering firm, also is making use of this office in making preparations for the proposed extensive City sewerage project.

The Water Department is being consolidated in the City Manager's former office. Billing and addressing employees of the department are being taken out of the City Clerk's office, Mr. Lemon said, a move which will bring about "less confusion and better efficiency."

The water meter and addressograph portion of the department is being brought in from an office at the end of the hall from the City Manager's former office.

This last office, labeled as the mayor's office but which hasn't seen use as such, will be employed by the Police Department's parking meter division.

Besides considerable repainting and repapering, improvement also is being made to the City Hall through repair of the roof in the rear of the main building.

The renovation activities are being carried on by the City "in the interest of the taxpayers" as such "maintenance prevents further deterioration of the public building," Mr. Lemon said.

These activities, he said, are being carried out "as we go along."

The revision of the office "avoids congestion and confusion, and facilitates more efficiency and better service to the general public," he pointed out.

New Head Of WSB

Truman, faced with this growing clamor for an end to economic curbs, has been insisting he should turn over a functioning stabilization program to President-elect Eisenhower next month.

There was no indication that Truman's attitude has changed. He and his economic stabilization chief, Roger L. Putnam, have been trying to round up enough businessmen to serve in the vacated industry posts on the WSB.

The wage board has been stymied in its work with more than 12,000 applications for W.S.B. approval of wage increases, since Chairman Archibald Cox and industry members resigned last week in protest over Truman's handling of a coal pay increase. The WSB had ruled part of the increase was inflationary, but Truman okayed the full amount.

The NAM's call for ending all controls was issued late yesterday by its new president, Charles H. Sligh, who said:

"The resignations of the chairman and industry members of the (wage) board underscore the futility of any further continuation of the whole wage-price stabilization phase."

Chinese Weatherman Hit For Losing Storm

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Control Yuan—watchdog agency of the Chinese Nationalist government—today censured the weatherman, charging he lost a typhoon.

It declared Cheng Tse-Chung failed to properly chart the course of a disastrous typhoon, so that it struck Formosa Nov. 14 without warning. The storm left 161 persons dead or missing, 302 injured, 9,720 houses destroyed and 14,020 damaged.

Another American In UN Dismissed By Lie

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. Secretary General, Trygve Lie, has fired another American employe on security grounds and has about a dozen other cases under review.

The man discharged was Irving Schiller, an archivist employed at the U. N. branch in Geneva, Switzerland. He was called home recently to testify before the McCarran committee.

Lie announced that in many of the other cases now under review the "adverse comment" supplied by the U. S. State Department on the persons involved was "much too flimsy" to warrant dismissal.

U. S. assistant Secretary of State John Hickerson told a U. S. Senate Internal Security subcommittee yesterday that the State Department had supplied "adverse comment" on 40 American employes since entering into an agreement with the U. N. in 1949 to do so.

Tampa Selected By McCarty To Be Beverage Director

PT. PIERCE (AP)—Sam F. Davis, Tampa business man and first head of the Hillsborough County Crime Commission, will be State Beverage Director in the administration of Gov. McCarty.

The governor Wednesday night named an Associated Press report published Nov. 24 that Davis, 42-year-old former University of Florida fullback and captain, will set the 20,000-a-year position.

He will succeed Director John E. Montgomery, an appointee of Gov. Warren, when McCarty becomes governor Jan. 6.

The beverage director, usually a key man in the governor's little cabinet of major administrative aides, has powerful authority to regulate the liquor industry and police it against undesirable elements.

He directs the state force of officers in enforcement of laws against moonshining. His authority to revoke liquor licenses of places where gambling is permitted makes him a key figure in control of illicit gambling.

His agency collects about 45 million dollars a year in taxes on beer, wine, whiskey and cigarettes.

Davis has been a close friend of McCarty since their college days in the early 30s. He is an infantry veteran of World War II with service in the South Pacific.

He is president of an insurance agency and a mortgage loan company in Tampa. He was one of the organizers and first president of the Citizens Crime Commission, which was established in Tampa in 1950 to focus public attention on illegal gambling activities.

Announcing his appointment, McCarty said Davis has the "full measure of honesty, fairness, integrity and moral courage of the office requires."

"I feel he will be fair both to the people of Florida and the in-

De Bary Doings

By KAY HENNINGHILL

The big news this week was the main meeting which was held last Friday evening in the Court House in Deland, under the auspices of the DeBary Civic Association, Inc. The question under discussion was "Does DeBary need a Community Center?" and the answer was obvious or we would not have been meeting so far from home.

It was gratifying to see nearly every seat in the courtroom filled. Dr. William C. Fuller served as chairman. The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. Hubert Thumler, pastor of the DeBary Church.

Judge Robert Wingfield again showed his interest in DeBary by taking time out of his busy life to be there and remain for the entire evening. He made a short speech of welcome and reiterated his interest in the rapid growth of our community.

He was followed by the chaplain of the association, Vincent Valentine, who read the organizations Creed. The next four speakers represented the people of DeBary and each one spoke for a different age group. Henry Klepper was spokesman for the older folks. Mrs. R. H. Noble spoke for the parents of the 70 or more DeBary children. Miss Suzanne Neider spoke for the teenagers and the younger children, who could not present their own case were represented by Miss Kay Henninghill.

Charles Youman read the report on what the Association has accomplished to date. He reported that the Civic Association owns three lots overlooking Lake Marie. These have been properly surveyed and the deed has been recently filed. His report on souls was gratifying. Commissioner Ryan recently ordered Community Drive to be widened and all other roads leading to the property are in good condition.

Hudson Myers, president, summed up and emphasized the fact that the building committee was interested in keeping down costs consistent with safety and good planning. In other words, he asserted that they planned not to "bite off more than they could chew." A question and answer period followed and before adjournment the audience was asked for a rising vote of confidence. Approximately three-fourths of those present rose, thereby indicating their approval of present plans.

The annual Christmas party of the Civic Association will be on Dec. 19 at the Dickinson Memorial Library at 8:00 p. m. As is customary, this will be an evening for the children, who will furnish the entertainment. Come and bring your friends and see the talented children of DeBary and Santa Claus.

The Home Demonstration Club will have its Christmas party on Dec. 19 at 2 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Harry Brown on Glen Lake. Members are asked to bring some Christmas cookies and a 25¢ gift for the club.

There has been a change of date for another Christmas party. The PTA of the Enterprise School will

Explanation Sought In Officer's Death

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—A Navy board is looking for an explanation of the death of an officer here Wednesday while the apparently was conducting tests on the effects of high altitude flight.

Navy doctors said Ensign Robert L. Feldmann died of asphyxiation. He was found slumped to the floor of a night vision training laboratory at 12:35 p. m.

Feldmann had gone to the laboratory about 10 a. m., apparently to conduct the tests which involve use of nitrogen and oxygen. Lt. Commander J. Zane, public information officer of Jacksonville Naval Air Station, reported.

Zane said the tests were normal procedure for flight physiology of fliers such as Feldmann and that he was well qualified in the field.

Feldmann was a 1952 graduate of Columbia University with a bachelor of science degree in physics, a member of Phi Beta Kappa, scholastic fraternity, and the American Physical Society and had completed a course in aviation medicine at Pensacola before coming here in October.

He was married five months ago and his bride lived with him here. Navy records listed her permanent address as Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Sheriff Is Charged With Hitting Picket

WINTER HAVEN (AP)—A striking union charges a sheriff struck a picket and that Haines City and Citrus County officials were intimidating workers and trying to break the strike of citrus fruit pickers.

Sheriff Hagau Parrish said he had hit a citrus man with his fist when the man advanced toward him with a knife he had been ordered to drop.

Karl Saier, director of the Citrus and Allied Workers Union (CIO) said Parrish struck a picket on the head with a pistol.

The union official also accused Constable William Mock, Bartow, of interfering with picket lines, molesting union men, causing them to be searched and trying to force them to return to work.

Mock said: "I haven't searched one of them. I haven't stopped one of them. I haven't molested one of them. I haven't forced anyone to work. Some of them did stop six trucks on a highway and I told them if they stopped another one I was going to put them in jail. Saier said the union has asked the FBI to investigate.

Maine City Police Chief D. C. Lee said: "They can investigate all they want. We haven't done anything. The only thing we did was to try to keep them from holding back pickets who wanted to work."

Saier said 100 are on strike in Lake Wales and Winter Haven.

U. S. milk production has increased very little in the past 10 years.

Angier Duke To Wed Nobleman's Daughter

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Angier Blidde Duke, America's youngest ambassador and an heir to one of the country's great fortunes, will marry the dark-eyed granddaughter of a Spanish nobleman here today.

The 27-year-old envoy to El Salvador flew in from New York yesterday with his fiancée, Maria Luisa de Arana, 29, and a wedding party.

Duke, of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., will inherit a tobacco fortune and is an heir also of banker Nicholas Blidde. Miss Arana's grandfather is the 10th Marquis de Camp de Cal of Bilbao.

hold their next meeting on Friday, Dec. 19 at 1 p. m. instead of on Tuesday, Dec. 16. There will be a Christmas entertainment, party and play.

A number of DeBaryites are planning to spend Christmas in other places. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Healy leave for New York some time this week to be with their children for the holidays.

John DeBary has left for Miami, after having been here for a short time following an extended vacation in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stearn have as their house guest Mrs. Elsie Hatcher of East Orange, New Jersey. Since her visit with them last year she's done quite a bit of travelling in the U. S.

Mrs. Laura Platt Brown who recently completed the building of her music studio tells us that she already has eight pupils. We feel that our community is fortunate in having such a well known musician and teacher in our midst.

Lodge Enunciates Plan For Nation's Peace Leadership

By EDWARD O. ETHIEL.
DENVER (AP)—Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. believes America must end discrimination and human indignities at home before it can lead the world to lasting peace.

Lodge, one of the architects of President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower's still-forming foreign policy, last night asked leaders of 30 Protestant churches to work for "a durable peace based on justice" in this way:

"Work for an America that is strong militarily, economically and politically; support the United Nations; work to make it stronger; advance tolerance and human rights; encourage private American activity abroad and hold out to all of suffering humanity the hope of liberty."

"Our discriminations," Lodge added, "are not only in conflict with Christian ideals, but they are a real danger to the success of our policy."

The United States cannot defeat the idea of communism with dollars or bullets, Lodge said. It must do it by putting into practice the American ideal of equality and justice for all, he said.

Lodge, a Massachusetts Republican, has been designated by Eisenhower as ambassador to the United Nations. He said the U. S. "has not lived up to all that was hoped for it."

He was cited for his work from May 25 to Nov. 15 of this year as chief of the plans division of the IX Corps plans and operations section.

Col. Buchner's citation states in part: "He demonstrated excellent judgment and keen professional ability in planning the tactical employment of troops."

"His painstaking efforts and uncompromising devotion to duty were commendable and timely understanding of their mission as a prerequisite to their issuance of appropriate implementing instructions."

"Col. Buchner's work has been characterized by thoroughness and a sincere desire to produce plans and studies of the highest order."

The Oak Leaf Cluster was presented in lieu of a duplicate medal.

SANGLANDER KAY KYSON and his wife, former actress Georgia Carroll, smile with pride on the newest addition to the family at Duke Hospital, Durham, N. C. The baby, named Amanda Kay, weighed in at seven pounds, eight ounces. The Kysons now have three girls. (International)

Altamonte Man Is Awarded Bronze Star

WITH IX CORPS IN KOREA—Lt. Col. Carl A. Buchner Jr. of Altamonte Springs, Fla., has been awarded the fourth Oak Leaf Cluster to his Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service in Korea.

He was cited for his work from May 25 to Nov. 15 of this year as chief of the plans division of the IX Corps plans and operations section.

Col. Buchner's citation states in part: "He demonstrated excellent judgment and keen professional ability in planning the tactical employment of troops."

"His painstaking efforts and uncompromising devotion to duty were commendable and timely understanding of their mission as a prerequisite to their issuance of appropriate implementing instructions."

"Col. Buchner's work has been characterized by thoroughness and a sincere desire to produce plans and studies of the highest order."

The Oak Leaf Cluster was presented in lieu of a duplicate medal.

The division of Christian Education outlined an experimental project to educate young people in Christian communities. Set at the local level, it would concentrate on ethical conduct, democratic practices, community programs and stronger home life.

The division of Christian Life and Work recommended churches play a more active role in community projects, participate in world affairs and lead in social welfare work.

The council's general board was instructed to make a study to determine if the International Council of Community Churches meets qualifications for membership in the larger National Council. Further action on the group's application was deferred two years.

The council moved to carry out recommendations of leaders for greater participation in council affairs by lay members. It voted to increase membership in the general board, the governing body, by allowing a member church to name more delegates

Formosa Aid Plan Will Be Submitted

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan to make Formosa self-sustaining with the help of a four-year program of U. S. aid has been submitted to Washington by Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist government.

This was announced yesterday by the Mutual Security Administration. Officials there appraised the plan as "comprehensive and realistic in the character of development planned."

The project was designed to start next year, with American aid in decreasing amounts year by year.

Youth Who Murdered Parents Flees Jail

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Howard Pierson, who as a brooding youth decided his parents didn't treat him right and killed them, escaped last night from the state hospital here.

It was the second escape by Pierson, now 28 and still slight and thin. He was when he shot Judge and Mrs. William Pierson on a lonely road near here in 1935.

With Pierson in this bid for freedom went a 20-year-old patient from Houston, Gilbert Waagner. Police described both men as dangerous.

Judge Pierson was an associate justice of the State Supreme Court on April 24, 1935, when his son, on the pretext of showing Italian relics he had found, lured the judge and his wife to the spot where he shot them to death.

Pierson admitted he killed his parents after years of resentment. They had always favored other members of the family over him, he said.

Friends of the prominent judge knew that the family was proud of the boy and regarded him as something of a genius.

He escaped from the hospital April 15, 1938, and was arrested in Minneapolis more than a year later.

Grammar School By LYNDIA YEACKLE

Everyone in Room 8 is talking and writing about Marineland. We had such a wonderful trip. It was cold but the wind was from the mainland and we found a sheltered spot behind a hot dog stand on the beach for our picnic. And such a picnic! There was enough left over for a second picnic in the afternoon.

The following parents furnished the money for the picnic: Mrs. H. C. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Chase, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. J. H. Briggs, Mrs. H. Z. Sillby, and Mrs. Lowell Oiler.

Carl Remusat's mother came to help us load the cars and we persuaded her to go along too. She looked like she was having a good time. All the grown-ups had a happier after they bought coffee at the hot dog stand.

After the picnic and a run up the beach where we found some Sargassum wood and oyster shells, we lined up to go inside the oceanarium. Then there was a scramble for north and south of "There's a remark" "Oh do come and see the murray eel." "Here is the octopus! He's coming out of his case!"

The small tanks were the most popular because they had all the interesting small sea life we have read about, the sea anemone, the sea horse and the scorpion fish and the beautiful silvery squid.

Some of us saw a king crab turn over on his back and right himself with his tail. We didn't know all of the fish but we have learned the names and habits of many of them and we know the important families. Our teacher calls us Ichthyologists.

Tommy Williams was already a shell collector. Several others have found a new hobby.

Soon it was time to see the food the pupfishes and we found out on time. Only the braver would venture out on such a cold day; so we had plenty of room. But the pupfishes kept trying to bite the lady Sibley, Frances, and the lady Sibley, Frances.

Before leaving we saw of us went to the safe shop to have present for the folks at home. As we were leaving, the man who sells newspapers said to our teacher, "You have a well-labeled corner of beach shells. We've enjoyed buying them."

We had only one in quality. Sally Chase stuck a thumb in her eye and had to go to the first and second room.

Sonny Folds and Bibb Thompson got lost but came a few minutes. On the way home some of us returned to see some of the man-made shells. We have a baby shell and this one was two feet long.

The following people in Room 8 made it in to see the man-made shells: Willie Oiler, Judy Singer, Hester Smith, Linda Sibley and Sally Chase.

Hester Smith, Chairman of the Year, and Lyndia Yeackle, Vice-Chairman, of the Grammar School.

Chorion Miller, Frances Jones and Sally Chase are still our spelling champions.

Lyndia Yeackle, Treasurer, Wilma and Hester and Linda Sibley, to position the fact over a part of each we have a room full of articles.

Cost of membership, including and university in the United States in 1951 was about two billion dollars.

Al Sim, former New York City mounted policeman, is now tall superintendent at Hudson river track.

GEORGE ROBERT WELSH, 49, of Itasca, Ohio, is shown in the act of a new method in the Federal II ship-bearing contest of the International Eureka & Experiment League. Welsh took the throne of champion of a 40-minute and 20-second. He won a $100 scholarship. The winner and he would enter Ohio State University. (International)

Protest Expected On Screening Of Seamen

LONDON (AP)—An official source said today that Britain will protest to the United States against plans to screen foreign seamen before they go ashore in American ports.

New immigration regulations in spring, a London source said, include an inspection of seamen before they go ashore in American ports.

British shipping particularly on the North Atlantic route like the Cunard Line's "Queen" between New York and Southampton will be hard hit, the informant said.

The British protest would follow the line of a memorandum from the Cunard Line which complains that the immigration check party in New York will be on board when the projected screening starts.

Company officials claim it will take four months for men to get a seaman through the expected questioning routine. The situation Queen Elizabeth has a crew of nearly 2,000. The Queen Mary 21, one large carrier almost as big as a transport.

Official sources said it may be level the U. S. government's move was designed to halt the use of seamen as a cover for a spy ring.

New Proof Is Found For Einstein Theory

WASHINGTON (AP)—New proof has been found for Albert Einstein's theory of relativity. It deals with gravity, light rays, and the bending of light rays.

The National Geographic Society reported the news yesterday. It said its field team which studied an eclipse of the sun last winter found the noted physicist on the beam in his predictions 42 years ago.

Einstein was just 100 one hundredths of a second off in his computations. That is one fraction of one degree of a circle which has 90 degrees.

Einstein said in announcing his theory of relativity in 1915 that the force of gravity can bend light rays. That bending of light rays came to be known as the Einstein shift.

Einstein had calculated that a beam of starlight passing the edge of the sun would bend 1.75 degrees of arc.

Photographs of stars were taken last Feb. 25 during the solar eclipse. The same stars were photographed again on May 29. The two pictures showed a variation of 1.75 seconds of arc in the position of the stars.

It's the pull of the sun's gravity which accounts for the shift, Einstein said.

Florida Is 24th In Farm Bureau

WINTER (Special) — Half the nation's state Farm Bureau organizations are now smaller than Florida's.

According to the annual membership report, published this week by the American Farm Bureau in Chicago, the Florida Farm Bureau ended the year in 24th position, 12,346 farm family memberships. Commenting upon the report E. H. Finlayson, Greenville, state president, said: "Compared with big states like Illinois with its 188 thousand members we are small. But Illinois only gained 2 1/2 per cent last year while we were gaining 1 1/2 per cent. Furthermore Florida is one of the youngest Farm Bureaus. In the short space of 10 years we have climbed past much older organizations to our present position. In another decade we should be among the top ten State Farm Bureaus," he concluded.

The top ten State Bureaus for 1952 were: Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, New York, Kentucky, Kansas, California, Alabama, North Carolina and Minnesota.

Military Won't Aid Reporters On Scoops

WASHINGTON (U.S.) — The Defense Department information office says it will not aid reporters get a scoop on a story of "transcendent importance or great security" just because it comes in with the first tip on it.

When that happens, director Andrew H. Berding of the Defense Information office said yesterday, the policy will be:

The reporter with the tip will not be promised exclusive rights to the story; the facts will be withheld if "top people" regard that course as being in the national interest; if disclosure of the facts will not prejudice security, they will be given to representatives of all news media.

Berding said just because one reporter gets a given set of important facts, or makes the right deduction about some development, that doesn't "mean that we must thereupon give him the remaining facts concerning that time, x x x or give him exclusivity concerning it."

Arlington Undertaker Quits Over Army Ban

WASHINGTON (U.S.) — An Arlington National Cemetery funeral director has quit in protest against an Army directive which bans the viewing of bodies at military burial services.

Charles E. Burnett called the order "callous and heartless" when he resigned his Civil Service job with the Army Quartermaster Corps yesterday.

The Quartermaster Corps said its policy has long been to forbid viewing of bodies at military cemeteries, which it operates, but that this has been done anyway "without official authorization." The Corps said its directive six weeks ago reinforced the rule.

Royal Family Will Have Cozy Christmas

SANDRINGHAM, England (U.S.) — It will be a homey Christmas for 15 members of Britain's royal family at Sandringham House, the royal country place in Norfolk. Almost everyone will be there from Queen Mary, 85, to 2-year-old Princess Anne.

Plans for the day center on an informal luncheon. After it, the guests will listen to Queen Elizabeth II make her first Christmas broadcast as ruler to the nation and the Commonwealth. The party also will tune in on the world-wide radio linkup preceding her speech.

Ital Boyle Column

NEW YORK (U.S.) — A pavement plane views moon: Plans for the first commercial rocket flight to the moon are going steadily forward at the Hayden Planetarium.

Thousands of prospective passengers have signed up for the initial voyage, including a number of canny real estate dealers anxious to open new areas of suburban development for Metropolitan New York.

The long waiting list also has on it the names of a number of spinners who wish to see what the Man in the Moon is like. Others want to go simply because they have a desire to go anywhere out of this world.

All that is really holding up the project now is the lack of a few billion dollars to build a proper space ship. Uncle Sam, the only guy around with that kind of money, is still investing it in jet bombers and other earth-bound toys.

Margaret Phelan, the beautiful New York night club warbler, who also is a handy gal with a skill, recently volunteered to act as official songstress and cook for the proposed lunar voyage.

Dr. Robert R. Coles, chairman of the Hayden Planetarium, accepted the offer with alacrity, but pointed out some of the problems Miss Phelan would face in her double role:

"We have already signed up a good fiddler, and I think we could use you, too, in view of the long, frigid nights (two weeks from sunset to sunrise). We shall need plenty of hot music. The big difficulty is that there is no atmosphere on the moon, and therefore no one could hear your stuff unless you retired to the pressurized cabin of the space ship.

"Your offer to serve as cook, also, is particularly welcome, especially if you can make flapjacks. "It is so hot on the moon by day (about 212 degrees Fahrenheit) that you could fry them directly in the sunlight on the floor of a lunar crater. And flapping them would be most fun of all since, due to the moon's lesser gravity, they would rise six times as far into the sky before coming to rest."

Air Force Transport Is Missing In West

BENO (U.S.) — An Air Force C-47 transport with a crew of five and one passenger is missing in the Nevada-Utah border region but the assistant commander of Stead Air Force base is hopeful they made an emergency landing.

"The plane is a tough old bird and the crew is experienced," said Col. Dimitrios Stampados. The C-47 is the Air Force version of commercial airlines' veteran DC-3. "I feel they've probably put down on some prairie and we'll find them this morning."

Names of the six on the C-47, all from Stead AFB, were withheld.

The Air Force transport vanished on a flight from Peterson Field, Colorado Springs to Reno.

Business Mirror
By SAM DANSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The American farmer, manufacturer and business man will have a sizable stake in the latest attempt to get the pound sterling back into some sort of balance with the dollar.

And so will the American taxpayer. The Commonwealth Prime Minister's Conference, just winding up its London sessions, has some new approaches to the problem of the sterling area's financial and economic ailments.

And there are some old approaches that American businessmen have faced increasingly for some time, such as "buy less American goods, farm products and raw materials."

The aim is to make the sterling area in time independent of American financial grants and loans—an aim which can only be pleasing to the American taxpayer who has had to make up out of his own pocket the difference of many billions of dollars between the amount of goods others bought from us and the amount they paid us by selling goods to us.

The new approaches the sterling area is planning are reportedly: A visit to Washington this spring by Churchill to see if America will help with a scheme to make it a little less difficult to get American dollars for any British pounds you may hold;

A drive to get the Commonwealth nations to produce for themselves more of the raw materials and foodstuffs they now buy from the U. S. and Canada; And a stepped-up plan to get the Commonwealth nations to buy more manufactured goods from England and therefore less from American factories.

British Commonwealth nations would like to see the U. S. Congress further reduce the tariffs on the goods they hope to sell here.

They are going to invite more American investments in Commonwealth industries and material resources.

And they'd like Uncle Sam to agree to buy up their raw materials at a guaranteed price for stockpiling here.

Many Americans will applaud the over-all aim of the British attempt to put the sterling bloc's financial house in order. If the Commonwealth nations can live within their means, that will mean just that much less of a load on the American taxpayer's back.

An economically strong Commonwealth means a stronger partner for the U. S. in its struggle with the Reds. It also means Britain would be able to resist the hope of conquering through the economic breakdown of the capitalistic nations.

But while the process is being worked out, it's likely to be painful for some Americans who will see shrinking overseas markets for their farm and industrial products, and perhaps stiffer competition here at home from larger imports of products from the sterling areas.

And the Churchillian attempt to get partial conversion of pounds into dollars may involve a settling up of a stabilization fund with aid from the U. S. Treasury — that

Rural Common Sense
BY MODERN CIVILIZATION

For satisfactory results from insecticides, proper use and attention to details are necessary.

In bringing out that point recently, Dr. A. N. Tissot of the University of Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations emphasized that much insecticide material is wasted and frequently poor results are obtained by gardeners and farmers because the material is not used correctly.

Before they are put on the market, all insecticides are tested as to posts they will control, toxicity, most efficient methods of use, and other important factors. Thoroughgoing research on insecticides is done by scientists of state and federal agencies and commercial concerns to save time and expense that the farmer or gardener would spend in experimenting on his own and also to protect him and his products.

So the farmer or gardener who is careful to follow directions as to the kind of insecticide to use, the amount to use, the method of application, safeguards to observe, and the time of application should usually obtain more satisfactory results than one who is careless with such material.

Before one begins control measures against any pest, he should determine what kind of insect it is. Dr. Tissot explained that an MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The James Ford Bell collection of rare books relating to events which led to the discovery of America and to the exploration and settlement of the Northwest will be housed in the University of Minnesota Library. A special room of Elizabethan design is being built for the purpose.

TRADE CONFERENCE SCHEDULED

MANILA (AP)—The Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East (ECAFE) will hold its second and final trade promotion conference in February in this city.

Harvie Ward, Jr., British Amateur golf champion, was a Southern Conference titleholder for the University of North Carolina.

Insecticide may control one pest, but may have little effect on another. Use the insecticide that has proven effective against the particular pest that is attacking your crop, and use it according to directions.

In applying an insecticide, the entomologist explained, it is important to use the right amount, as too much may be harmful to the plants and too little may not give satisfactory control.

When directions call for safeguards, they should be observed with care to avoid injury and trouble.

Gardeners and farmers can save money, obtain better results, produce better crops, and avoid danger if they use insecticides carefully and properly.

9 Highway Deaths Result In East As Rain, Snow Strike

Eighteen inches of snow knock out one thousand phones in Adirondack Area

By The Associated Press Heavy snow and pelting rain hit the nation's northeast quarter today, causing at least nine highway deaths in New England. In the northern Adirondacks near New York's Canadian border, 10 to 18 inches of snow knocked 1,000 telephones out of service. Communications were disrupted also in northern Vermont. Four to eight inches of snow was predicted generally for northern New England, with six inches in some sections of western Massachusetts. South of the heavy snow belt, rain fell to depths of 2 1/2 inches Thursday in some parts of the North Atlantic region, rain had continued for 30 hours by noon Friday. Three schools were closed because of high water in the Catskill Mountains region of New York. A landslide near Cortland in central New York blocked a rural road and stopped traffic on Delaware, Lackawanna and West. (Continued On Page Four)

Coldest Spell Of Winter Results In Scattered Frosts

Johnson of the Federal State Frost Warning Service says there undoubtedly was some crop damage, the extent of which is not known. Frost was reported as far southward as the Lower East Coast. That frost was inland and in scattered light patches. Homestead, south of Miami, recorded a 37-degree reading. (Continued On Page Four)
