Roosevelt Ready To Take Hand In Stock gyrations

President Prepared To Do Whatever is Necessary To Check Market Depression

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(A.P.)—The Roosevelt administration is ready to take whatever action it can command if it becomes necessary to stop manipulation of stock and commodity markets by operators seeking to profit only for themselves.

This was evident today as Secretary Wallace moved to develop a definite program to halt, if possible, widespread speculation in grain prices. He gave his approval to the suspension of futures trading for one day at Chicago and other points.

President Roosevelt, himself concentrating on his industrial recovery program is convinced, and his advisers believed this would do more to restore better times than any changes in quoted prices on the exchanges.

Nevertheless, those close to him believe that if price fluctuations endanger his recovery plans he will act quickly.

Following the frenzied trading session in which grain prices took one of the worst hammerings in history of the Exchange, directors of the board of trade last night (Continued On Page Two)

Final Rites Paid To World War Veteran

Friends and relatives of W. B. Knight, 82-year-old World War veteran who died in Lake City Tuesday night, gathered at the Bryson Lake Cemetery this morning to pay final tributes to his memory.

At the funeral home, the Sanford Kiwanis Club quaiet offered several vocal selections accompanied by Mrs. Frances A. Hickson as the piano. Many members of Campbell-Losing Post of the American Legion here attended the services which were conducted by Rev. J. B. Root of the First Congregational Church. Pallbearers were D. D. Welborn, Paul Shoemaker, E. J. Meyer and Brown Miller.

Mr. Knight, a native of Annapolis, Va., is survived by two brothers. They are: W. E. Knight, of Sanford, and M. L. Knight, of Warren, Ohio.

Record Throng Hears Concert Offerings

The record crowd which heard last night's free Sanford Concert Orchestra entertainment program on the Court House lawn indicated to George C. Feltz, orchestra conductor, that the general public is appreciative of the efforts of some 90 local persons who are endeavoring to provide an interesting weekly concert without cost.

All numbers on the program were generally applauded, with the special talent particularly stressed in the applause. This talent included the Misses Ethel Hoyt, Pauline Moran, Josephine Russel and Mary Russel and Eddie Henschel as vocalists.

Organization Meet Scheduled Tonight

Mrs. Ben Packard, president of the local Elks Lodge Auxiliary, today announced the date for the 25th annual meeting of the organization which will be held at 7:30 p. m. at the Elks Hall.

The meeting will be held in the Elks Hall and will be addressed by Mrs. Packard, president of the Elks Hall. The program for the evening will be a most interesting one.

Invitations to these women, among other things, will be made for the purpose of re-organizing the Auxiliary. Many important matters are to be discussed tonight, she said, all of them having to do with a plan for the coming months.

PARLEY PLEASSED
WASHINGTON, July 21.—(A.P.)—The Tennessee general election was postponed until it is clear that the state has recovered from the effects of the depression.

TENNESSEE IS ON WET SIDE BY CLOSE VOTE

Becomes Nineteenth State To Approve Repeal By Margin Of Few Thousand

By The Associated Press
Tennessee, the nineteenth state to vote on prohibition, today became the nineteenth to approve repeal as Oregon preceded to ballot on the question. The margin of victory for anti-prohibitionists in Tennessee was smaller than in any other of the states which have held elections on the proposed constitutional change.

With only a few scattered precincts unreported the repeal led was approximately 8500. Leaders of the repeal movement in Oregon predicted a two to one victory while the dry leaders seem agreed they had no more than a "flying chance."

Swinging across the mountains from the Republican stronghold of east Tennessee, the prohibitionists jumped into an early lead that once went as high as 19,000 votes. Rural precincts, which closed at 4 P. M., also helped the dry cause.

The lead looked good after approximately a hundred thousands of voters had reported after the cities started reporting after closing at 7 P. M., the tide rapidly changed and there was an advance of wet-votes swept in from Shelby (Memphis) county, the republican drew out in front and then on opened up the space between them and the dries as other cities gave the wet cause a majority.

Rural precincts in Shelby county had been reporting majorities of 10 to 1 for repeal but there was no indication of the devastating tidal waves of votes to come.

With Memphis complete the county reported 32,478 votes for repeal and 11,100 against, a majority of 20,000.

Nashville, Chattanooga, Knoxville, and other cities helped the wet cause with majorities although Knoxville, in the heart of mountainous and Republican east Tennessee returned but a 248 vote majority for repeal.

Declines were more severe than Wednesday's, for offerings found (Continued On Page Two)

Election Rules Are Recited By Thigpen

Supervisor of Registration W. J. Thigpen today disclosed several facts relating to the scheduled special repeal election in Florida on Oct. 10, today augmented his statements of yesterday.

Mr. Thigpen today stated that any elector who was not qualified to vote in the last general election will have to qualify the same as he would if there was a general election being held next October.

"This means," Mr. Thigpen stated, "that if he was not registered he will have to register and pay his poll taxes for the years 1931 and 1932. The last date on which such poll taxes may be paid will be Sept. 15."

The general registration books of the county will be open in Sanford from July 23 to Sept. 30, inclusive. The precinct registration books will be open in the precincts from Sept. 4 to Sept. 23, inclusive.

Local Celery Men Are Attending Meeting
Leaders of the local celery industry were in Lakeland this afternoon attending a meeting of state-wide celery growers and shippers who were meeting under the auspices of the Florida Celery Shippers, Inc.

The meeting was called by Loring Raoul, president of the organization. Discussion of a code of ethics for the celery industry, featuring controlled shipments in case of emergency, is the prime reason for the meeting.

Among those from Sanford attending the meeting were F. P. Dorney, George Thurston, Peter Thurston, B. E. Dickson, R. A. Cobb, Henry Nichol, J. C. Hutchison, and W. A. Laffer.

Prohibitionists To Hold Meet Tonight
Local prohibitionists are expected to gather at the Montauk Hotel tonight at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of organizing for the coming fight against the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Rev. W. J. Carpenter, of Ocala, chairman of the Board of Temperance and Social Service of the Florida Conference of the Methodist Church, will be a speaker. It is expected that each church in this county will be represented by its minister and at least three representatives. The public is invited.

Long And Thurston End Long Golf Feud
More than two years ago Peter Thurston and Howard Long, well-known local citizens, challenged each other to a golf match over the Sanford Country Club course. Yesterday afternoon friends of the pair were surprised to learn that each had accepted the other's challenge and that the match would be played yesterday.

Hurrying to the golf course they arrived in time to see Mr. Long tee off from number one.

Three hilarious holes later both players agreed that while the game has its merits, the wear and tear on the mind and body was hardly worth the effort. They gave up.

The score: 10-17-13-39 Long, 10-11-10-31 Thurston.

NATIONAL DEAL TO AID CITRUS IS BEING PLANNED

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(A.P.)—Representatives of the citrus industry voted yesterday to work to improve the return to producers through a national marketing agreement to be submitted to Secretary Wallace under the farm act.

A committee representing the industry in Florida, California, Texas and Puerto Rico was designated to draft a proposed agreement which will be submitted to the general conference of growers and distributors.

Members of the committee at work last night said there was virtual agreement in the industry for the establishment of a code of national trade practices aimed to eliminate price cutting and other competitive means which they said have had a depressing effect upon prices of oranges, lemons, grapefruit and tangerines.

Two general programs were laid before the conference. One presented by Paul Armstrong, secretary of the California fruit growers' exchange, would in effect set up quotas which each of the producing territories could apply to the national market outside of the boundaries of their own states.

Armstrong said he favored the principle of strong national organization. Florida growers and distributors generally favored more local control. They proposed that a national arrangement be provided under which marketing limitations would be fixed in times when there was an established over-supply. They favored a state marketing agreement for each of the producing areas in addition to a national agreement, all to be inter-related but leaving as much control as possible in the hands of the state organizations which would administer the state agreements.

A. M. Pratt, writer having, manager of the Florida citrus growers clearing house association, said all representatives of the industry favor an allocation of shipments from each territory in times of an over-supply.

Armstrong said quotas could be fixed under which the shipments from each producing area would be fixed for each week. A central national committee would keep in close touch with markets and establish the quantity which could be absorbed in each in advance. (Continued On Page Three)

BALBO IS GIVEN ACCLAIM UPON CAPITAL VISIT

Intrepid Aviator Receives Public Acclaim And Then Official Welcoming

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(A.P.)—Through President Roosevelt and other high government dignitaries, America yesterday gave official acclaim to Gen. Italo Balbo and his crew of airmen for their making the longest flight from Italy.

The bearded commander, smiling and wearing his youthful face, sat down to luncheon with the Chief Executive and Mr. Roosevelt joined the hundreds of other Americans who have congratulated him upon the aerial voyage.

Amid the din from crowds gathered to welcome him at Bolling Field, to which he and his men came from New York in American planes, the aviator first received his formal welcome from national leaders—and from countrymen joyously shouting his name.

Unable longer to restrain their enthusiasm for the general a delegation from the Italian American War Veterans Association swarmed through police lines to the flier's side as he walked from the reviewing stand.

Smiling his appreciation at their shouts, the commander walked back with them to the stand, about 40 yards distant, to talk a few moments, while the "queens" of the veterans, Beatrice Lumsden, presented him with a poem's worth.

Luncheon with the President was the highlight of the day's round of official functions for Balbo, who paid a visit to the tomb of America's Unknown Soldier and left a floral tribute, and later was honored guest at a reception at the Italian embassy.

Slightly more than two hours after the five planes leaving the partly of 40 left New York, they were over Washington. Balbo stepped from the Navy amphibian to receive the 19-gun salute of a cabinet officer.

Secretaries Swanson and Roper, Italian Ambassador Rosso, and Assistant Secretary of War Woodring were among those who welcomed him at the field.

Roper, welcoming him and his men, the latter standing a few feet from their commander, praised them for "their courage, vision and interest in world commerce," and with Swanson and Woodring expressed happiness for their safe arrival.

In a brief interview a little later, Balbo said weather conditions would determine his route back to Italy.

More than 200 men from the Washington Navy Yard and other local citizens, challenged each other to a golf match over the Sanford Country Club course. Yesterday afternoon friends of the pair were surprised to learn that each had accepted the other's challenge and that the match would be played yesterday.

Hurrying to the golf course they arrived in time to see Mr. Long tee off from number one.

Three hilarious holes later both players agreed that while the game has its merits, the wear and tear on the mind and body was hardly worth the effort. They gave up.

The score: 10-17-13-39 Long, 10-11-10-31 Thurston.

Roosevelt Appeals To Employers To Aid In Recovery Effort

CHICAGO FAIR IS MODIFYING STAND ON NUDE GROUPS

Management Says Reaction Of Audience Will Be Determiner

CHICAGO, July 21.—(A.P.)—It is known that the World's Fair management is committed to a program of modified nudity.

Bombarded on one hand by the complaints from reformers, on the other hand by protests from the concessionaries of the Century of Progress, bright spots, the management decided yesterday to let the reaction of the audience determine whether the show is in decent.

To censor ex-officio is Col. J. Franklin Bell, assistant manager of the fair.

Wednesday he had prescribed the exact minimum of clothing a performer might wear with impunity—lean breast cloth.

Further, he decreed that actors "must not be vulgar or obscene." The howl of protest and questions from the concessionaries yesterday left him less certain where to draw the line.

"It is difficult, of course," he said, "to determine what is obscene or in violation of public morals. It is more a matter of personal opinion."

And who better than the public audience, then, to decide?

"If complaints are sustained, I send my investigators," said Colonel Bell.

"They are guided more by the reaction of the audience viewing the exhibit. If they report it obscene, then I will view it personally. If it should be closed, it will be closed."

There has already been a modification of the prevailing floor shows. One young lady who wore less than the minimum—a mask and a gauze curtain—was dropped from the curriculum after a protest by a reform association has induced the management to do so.

A student at a scarf or something of the sort was erased from the program of a beer garden show.

"The question is where to draw the line between nudity and vulgarity," said the manager. "A nude figure in itself is not vulgar. What that figure does, how it does it and what it says is something else."

"People have changed their minds in recent years about this question of nudity. Forty years ago a girl who showed her ankle publicly was talked about. Today the girls wear little on the beaches and nobody pays any attention to it."

REPORT ADOPTED BY SCHOOL BOARD LEVYING MILLAGE

Financial And Other Matters Discussed At Thursday Meet

When members of the Board of Public Instruction met at the Court House yesterday morning for a thorough discussion of the county's school system, both financially and otherwise, they were handed at the outset a comprehensive sheet of local school data which set forth a fact widely common in this state today—that where the revenues and expenditures for school purposes have decreased considerably there has been a healthy increase in the enrollment.

The Board, studying this data which was incorporated in Superintendent of Public Instruction T. W. Lawton's annual report to the State Superintendent and the State Comptroller, ordered the adoption of the reports. They were forwarded to Tallahassee this afternoon.

The Board also passed a resolution authorizing the County Commission to revise the county's general school levy recommendation to read 10 mills instead of five mills, in compliance with the mandate of the State Board of Education.

The data which the Board studied compared revenues and other facts for 1931, 1932, and the year just closed. The report covered the years ending on June 30 of those years.

In 1931 the school system's entire revenues amounted to $246,725. The state sent the system $24,381.56 and an appropriation of $290.43 was secured from the Smith-Hughes vocational education fund during 1931. With a 10 (Continued On Page Three)

Youths Involved In Theft Attempt Are Handed Fines

Discovering that it was not legally possible to charge five young Sanford men with the crime of breaking and entering the Dr. L. R. Phillips Atlantic Bank lobby, Judge J. G. Sharon yesterday morning passed sentence on the boys on a charge of petit larceny.

Hollis Ferguson, 22, Wilbur Ferguson, 18, and Ormon Woods, 18, were fined $15 and costs each, or a total of $36.44 each. All had pleaded guilty.

Harold Doker, 16, was fined the same, or $21.44. He pleaded no contest.

Robert "Robbie" Burns, 14, was sentenced to the Boys Industrial Home at Marianna. He had pleaded guilty. He had been brought before Judge Sharon some weeks ago on a charge of petit larceny of a watch. Previous to that he had been before Judge Sharon on a charge of the petit larceny of some animals.

At noon today Mr. Woods and Mr. Doker had been released from jail. Friends had secured 90-day bonds to effect their release.

The Ferguson boys were in jail at noon, no one having appeared to bail them out.

Talmadge Suspend Commission Members

ATLANTA, July 21.—(A.P.)—Governor Talmadge today suspended five members of the Georgia public service commission, and immediately named successors to the five-member board. Georgia law, should the governor see fit to remove the commissioners, provides for the suspension of the commissioners until the next session of the general assembly which meets next in 1934.

In ousting the commissioners the governor charged incompetence and sanction of excessive utility rates in Georgia.

BANDITS' LOOT BANK
BATTLEBORO N. O. July 21.—(A.P.)—Three bandits entering the bank of Battleboro at 9:30 A. M. yesterday, and while one held a revolver to the head of Cashier James A. Daugherty, the others scooped up $5,153 in cash and currency.

Also Calls On Public To Patronize Those Who Cooperate With Administration Plan

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(A.P.)—Every citizen today was summoned to co-operate with President Roosevelt to re-employ the jobless millions by Labor Day.

To more than 5,000,000 employers was addressed a request from the President to join the national recovery administration in its mass attack on the depression by voluntary agreements to lift wages and shorten hours.

To the public went an open appeal for co-operation "by supporting and patronizing employers who are members of the national recovery administration" or signers of presidential agreements for boosting the national purchasing power.

"I am just as certain it will work as I am of sitting here," said Hugh Johnson, recovery administrator, after a conference with the President.

The heart of the plan, in that every employer will receive through the mail on July 27 an agreement addressed to him by the President. Upon signing, it binds him to maintain a fixed minimum wage and a maximum work week during the campaign from Aug. 1 to Dec. 1. Child labor is outlawed. Fourteen to 16 dollars a week and 40 hours for white-collar jobs are decreed. Thirty to 40 cents an hour minimum for a 30-hour week with eight-hour day maximum for factory and mechanical labor.

Equivalent readjustment of pay above the minimum and continuation of forming industrial codes of fair competition.

Free "Feed" Given Baseball Players And Their Friends

A bag of ice cold Jax beer, several plates of sandwiches, and dozens of Sanford made pretzels were made short work of at an informal gathering of members of the Sanford baseball team and a few fans held at Monk's Flugs last night.

The hosts were Jack Scott and E. H. "Monk" Bennett who staged the party in honor of the local baseball club which has its year on the second half Central Florida Baseball League pennant, and the post-season series which accompanied the pennant.

Douling the evening, E. F. Housholder was introduced in the meeting. Mr. Housholder stressed the importance of character in a player, and the cooperation each player is expected to give toward perfecting proper teamwork.

After the meeting, Karl Vatt, one of the owners of the local club, announced that it has been necessary to cancel a scheduled exhibition game which was to have been played here last Tuesday with a team of Atlanta All-Stars.

Those attending the supper meeting were: E. F. Housholder, F. A. Palmer, W. A. Ransel, Joe Ludwig, Earl Varn, Jack Scott, D. D. Wilborn, Frank Mutsch, Felix Schaal, Arthur Branan, Paul Bauer, Bert Chapman, Joe Barnes, Charlie Abbott, Raleigh Parr, Roy Harrison, Bert Maxwell, Cal Deane, Buddy Autrey, Tige Moses, Pope Mike, and D. ITALY REJOICES OVER PRESTIGE BY BALBO FLIGHT

Public Informed By Government As To What Feat Means

ROME, July 20.—All the avenues of propaganda controlled by the Fascist government were devoted recently to informing the Italian public that two simultaneous achievements—the Italian formation flight to Chicago and the signing here recently of the four power pact—had increased the prestige of Italy to a pinnacle never before attained.

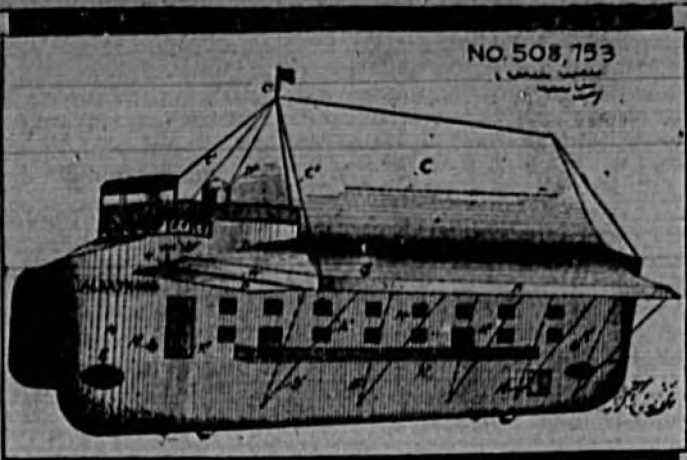

In heavy black type the newspapers displayed quotations from remarks by Premier Benito Mussolini regarding the propaganda value of its Chicago flight, such as "prestige is an indispensable to a great nation as honor to an individual." The newspaper "Il Messaggero" says: "Never since history began has any nation or people shown the world how to live and work so intensely."

A battle for prestige in a world not always receptive has been one of the distinguishing phases of Fascism, and the government's powerful propaganda office recently subordinated all other aspects of the Chicago flight, or political analysis of the four-power pact, in proclaiming the contribution which both had made to the national prestige.

Measured in terms of newspaper space, the ratio to be about two to one, since virtually all the newspapers devote at least twice as much space to citations of comments in other countries as to actual descriptions of the flight or of the signing of the pact.

McNinch Is Named Head Of Federal Power Commission

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(AP)—Acquiescing to the desire of President Roosevelt to have a man of his own selection as chairman of the federal power commission, George Otis Smith vacated that post yesterday to make way for the appointment of Frank R. McNinch.

McNinch, a Democrat who has been vice chairman for several months since the Democratic victory, said shortly after his appointment by President Roosevelt that "no honestly administered power company has anything to fear from this commission, but crooked ones would do well to make straight their paths."

Smith made public simultaneously with a letter from President Roosevelt announcing the change, a copy of his letter of resignation to the White House,

Citrus Industry Is Considering Deal Under Farm Act

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(AP)—Possibilities of applying the farm act to the citrus industry will be considered here Thursday at a conference of representatives of the leading citrus sources.

Citrus growers of Florida, California, Texas and Puerto Rico are expected to discuss their problems with the naming of a national citrus committee forecast.

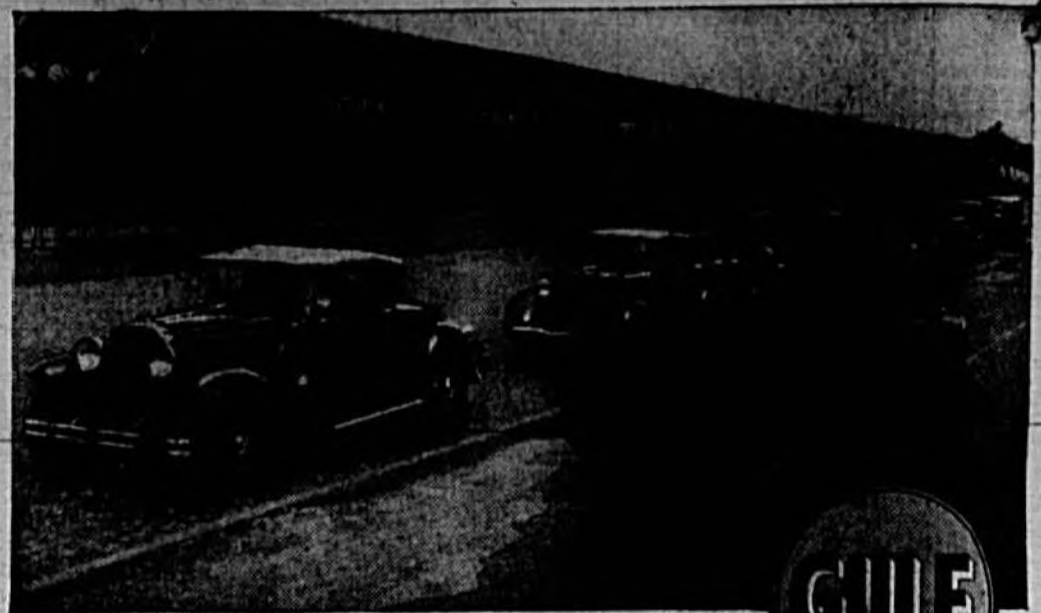

The farm act makes it possible for marketing agreements to be legalized, and exempts them from prohibitions of the anti-trust laws. Any agreement would seek to increase the return to producers and to stabilize prices from grove to consumer. Representatives of the industry, said however, they were uncertain whether the latter could be perfected.

A. M. Pratt, manager of the Florida Citrus Growers Clearing House association, said the conference would seek to establish whether growers "can find a common ground on which to proceed."

Several representatives from Florida were in Washington yesterday preparing for the conference. They included R. H. Woolfolk, of Orlando; W. H. Mouser, of Orlando; Dr. E. C. Auer, of Fort Ogden; C. A. Stewart, of Frostproof; James C. Morton, and C. M. Morrow, of Auburndale.

Representatives from California are expected to be C. C. Teague, former member of the farm board, and Paul Armstrong.

But in no instance did such matters occupy more than half as much space as was given to complimentary articles in the press of other nations. A like ratio was observed in dealing with the four-power pact.

Mussolini, the inspiring force behind Italian aviation, shares honor with Mussolini, the statesman, who is described as having assumed a dominating position in the eyes of the world since the days of Woodrow Wilson.

The radio was utilized to a similar end and in even greater detail, since a distinction is made between what is suitable for newspaper publication and what may be made available to the restricted ranks of the public.

For an eloquent radio description of the flight there were obtained the services of Corrado Zoli, president of the Italian Geological Society. He was even allowed to break silence regarding the cost of the flight, which he estimated as totalling 6,000,000 lire (at current exchange, approximately $453,450). Half of this amount, Signor Zoli said, is to be recovered through the sale of special stamps.

His estimate of the cost of the flight apparently was exclusive of the cost of the seaplanes, the fuel for them and a number of other items.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THE END OF ENMITY—When a man's ways please the Lord, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.—Proverbs 16:7.

AFRAID

I am afraid of fear! So many fall Ere blows be struck at all.

Terror brings failure near, And doubting fashions giants huge and rough.

Out of mere shadow stuff Which chill the heart, Crushing men from the start.

I am afraid of dread! So many stay Facing a rugged way.

Fearful to move ahead; Visioning with alarm All that may strike to harm;

Dooming themselves to fall Before foe of ill-wind as all.

Lord, let me run the chancel Let me not sink Under sick thoughts I think.

Bravely against the doubt, Eye clear the muscle stout Out where the fight is made— To win or lose—unafraid.

Getting New Business

At a recent convention of the International Weather League in Chicago, J. F. E. Nickelsburg, executive secretary of the Lutheran Publicity Bureau, told the delegates who had assembled there that the one big need of the churches today is greater advertising.

"The church should use newspaper space for items of news and insert paid advertising," he said. "The first advertisement was written 3,000 years before Christ and was inscribed on a sheet of papyrus. It was the offer of a reward for a runaway slave. The slave was returned and advertising has been used by smart business men ever since because they know it pays to advertise.

"I have seen successful business men—men who realized the value of proclaiming the merits of their products and did not hesitate to include in their annual budgets large amounts for advertising. These same men I have seen sit in church councils and quibble over spending $10 for advertising purposes. Fortunately, that attitude is swiftly disappearing.

"The business world knows the value of advertising. National advertisers are spending annually $200,000,000 for newspaper advertising. The church which has the 'one thing needful,' engaged in the greatest business enterprise, the saving of immortal souls, penny wise, pound foolish, pleads lack of funds to use printers' ink—to attract attention, arouse interest, create conviction, produce response for its message.

Mr. Nickelsburg is thoroughly convinced that in these days of keen competition when men's minds are engrossed in the difficult task of making a living, the church "should launch a spirited advertising campaign to get new business." He does not believe the churches can well compete with movies, night clubs, and the thousand and one other distracting influences of modern life, all of which are advertisers, unless the churches also advertise.

But if this is true of the churches, which seek only to save men's souls, how much truer must it be of the insurance agent, the bank, the broker, which seek to save men's money, or the industry, the business man, the merchant, which seek to give him something for it! How difficult it must be in this rapidly changing world with its new inventions and constant improvements, and widely fluctuating prices, for the merchant who does not advertise to compete with the merchant who does!

The Witnesses' Responsibility

One of the most difficult obstacles confronting law enforcement officials in warring on racketeers is the intimidation of witnesses which causes them to reverse their stories between the time they first report their grievance and the offenders are brought to trial.

Since it is necessary to have the testimony of persons who have been the victims of racketeering, the protection of them from coercion is essential to the successful prosecution of the offenders. Realizing this a New York prosecutor has found that the best way to do this is to secure a speedy trial, for he points out that a racketeer's prey is much more ready to tell the truth just after he has been made the victim of criminal acts than some time afterwards.

The prosecutor recites one case of a man and his wife who were engaged in the fish business and who, having been victimized by racketeers, complained to the grand jury. The alleged offenders were arrested, the trial date set, and when the time came for the man and his wife to testify they denied that they had been threatened or attacked.

A big help to the prosecutor in such cases has been a provision in the New York State criminal law through which persons, who are present when a criminal act is committed, may be arrested. Of course, bail must be placed at such a high figure that the racketeers cannot meet it, and this is what judges have been doing. In one case the aggregate bond of a group of witnesses was $1,300,000.

One thing is certain that if the public wishes to be freed from the pillaging of racketeers it must co-operate with the courts and must not be frightened into withholding testimony or changing its story. About the most discouraging thing which can happen to a prosecutor is to have his witnesses fall to stick to their previous testimony.

Roosevelt Ready To Take Hand In Stock Gyration

The debacle saw wheat prices falling 17 cents a bushel, rye off 26 1-2 cents, corn almost 15 cents and oats more than 10 cents. Trading was hysterical and at the last the whole market was demoralized. Yesterday's crash had been preceded by a drop of 13 cents in wheat Wednesday. The two-day decline of almost 30 cents a bushel in wheat had wiped out 25 percent of the values quoted Wednesday.

Directors of the board of trade called an emergency meeting at the close of trading and imposed a limit on daily price fluctuations. Wheat was limited to eight cents as was rye, corn to five cents and oats to four.

This action was duplicated by all the other leading grain exchanges in the country, Minneapolis, Duluth and Kansas City.

Various reasons were advanced by observers for the unprecedented crash, which brought warnings from the nation's capital that "if necessary" the licensing power of the farm act would be invoked on traders to bring about more stable prices.

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, said: "The market, helped by inflation, was entirely speculative. We still have a big surplus of wheat. It all shows a great necessity for the President's wheat program. It shows the necessity for acreage control of wheat. The inflated value of all commodities, including cotton, caused the drop."

Wheat traders said it was because stocks in New York were drastically weaker, especially alcohol stocks, but New York Stock traders held wheat declines responsible for security losses.

The general run of traders, though, said "shoe string" speculators caused the market collapse.

"There were too many guys in here with the baby's shoe money trying to run it into a fortune," one bitterly said, "and now he hasn't even the shoe money left." The traders were almost unanimous, though, in declaring that the decline had exceeded the bounds of reason and had become a debacle because of panicky selling. Many of them said wheat was "worth a dollar a bushel" because of the short crop this year.

The sufferings of the wheat speculators were nothing, though, compared to the anguish of rye owners. That cereal fell like a brick, registering a loss of 26 1-2 cents a bushel in the September delivery with no part of the loss recovered. Wednesday, September rye closed at 93 1-2 cents a bushel, yesterday at 67.

It was the most disastrous session in the history of the board of trade. "Black Thursday," Oct. 24, 1929, hitherto was considered the worst day.

Discussing the drastic decline, Ward W. Pickell, president of the Grain Market Analysis Club, said: "Those who have long studied the market have considered that such a reaction was almost inevitable. They knew that it would not alter the supply-demand status of grain but that after the inevitable break came a much healthier status of grain would result. In the meantime, the farmers were getting the benefit of a speculative wave of buying even though that buying took place higher than conditions warranted."

Stock Market Is Quiet After Thursday Drop

Wall Street offered little reaction to the warning given the country's two major exchanges—New York stocks and Chicago grain—by Senator Thomas, advocate of inflation. Stock exchange officials here declined to comment on the suggestion that limits be placed on fluctuations of security prices during a single session or the senator's alternative threat to move for closing the market.

News that Senator Thomas had predicted the government would draw up a code for the markets unless they acted immediately to stop "bear raiding" reached the financial district after the close, but this development also failed to bring comment from the exchange, which has repeatedly declared during the past four years that its policy was strictly against "bear raids."

In brokerage quarters the opinion was freely expressed that yesterday's decline had represented liquidation by nervous holders of securities as well as the forced sale of speculative commitments in a market that had been made top-heavy by a three-month speculative rise. Declines, like advances, it was pointed out, frequently acquire an enormous momentum.

The warning given by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, industrial administrator, that wages must keep pace with higher prices of a crisis was to be averted was widely read in the financial district which had been building a large part of its optimism on the business recovery and evidence of increased purchasing power. The suggestion was advanced that sentiment had been disturbed by fears of an important reversal to business just as it appeared to be getting on its feet after several years of prostration.

Bankers were disinclined to believe that the big advance in dollar exchange had had much market influence. Sterling roped 17 3-4 cents to $4.64 1-2 and other European currencies reacted sharply. The pound's weakness, it was explained, seemed to be an aftermath of the British bond conversion offer, although bankers were somewhat in the dark as to how the plan would ultimately affect holders of the securities.

Dinner's Ready!

Yes, dinner's ready, but Mother isn't ready to enjoy it. With flame-type cookery, constant watching and testing in the hot, stuffy kitchen takes all the fun out of it for her.

Dinner's ready and the whole family's ready too. What a different greeting Dad gets when electric cookery does the work. No oven peeping, no watching. And the heat is imprisoned in the oven, keeping the kitchen cool.

Evening brings no pleasure when you're tired and nerves are on edge. So remember this: Electric cookery releases time and brings you to the evening as "fit as a fiddle" and ready for a romp with Dad and the children. Ask any electrical dealer about this better way to cook.

Report Adopted By School Board Levying Millage

(Continued From Page One) mill general school fund levy in effect, a total of $65,511.03 was secured from that source. These three sources of revenue, plus $123,969.95 realized by taxation for the district and bond levies, made the total 1931 revenue $246,480.98.

In 1932 the entire revenue reached $255,262.39, divided as follows: $82,780.13 from the state; $104,121.24 from the Smith-Hughes fund, $41,851.58 representing a five-mill tax collection in the county, and $126,672.95 realized from special district and bond levies.

For the year ending June 30, 1933, the school system total revenue was only $197,929.19, or nearly $60,000 less than last year. The state revenue dropped to $68,617.25 while the county general school fund levy of five mills produced only $26,491.21. The Smith-Hughes fund appropriation was $54,625.00. The district and bond fund levy proceeds dropped to $97,021.23.

Here's how the teachers' salaries have been reduced since 1931. In total of 155 teachers were paid a total of $126,909. The average annual salary of a white teacher was $1028.72, while that of a negro teacher was $864.50 for that year, or an average salary of $946.61 for both white and colored teachers.

In 1932, seven additional teachers were required and teachers' salaries jumped about $10,000 to $136,521.50 for 162 teachers. The average annual white teachers' salary for 1932 was $1021.46, while that of the negro teacher was $842.34, or a combined average of $842.72.

With over $28,000 less general revenue during the past year, teachers' salaries were reduced nearly that much in comparison with that paid during 1932.

This year, 163 white and colored teachers were paid $113,189.25. The average annual salary of a white teacher dropped from $1021.46 in 1932 to $836.28 in 1933. The average annual salary of a colored teacher dropped from $842.34 to $828.85. The average annual salary of both white and colored teachers dropped from $842.72 in 1932 to $832.41 in 1933.

The pupil enrollment jumped by nearly 550 pupils from 1931 to 1933. In 1931 there were 2505 white pupils and 1839 colored pupils; in 1932 there were 2600 white pupils and 1991 colored pupils. This past year there were 2708 white pupils and 2181 colored pupils. The total enrollment for 1931 was 4342 pupils; for 1932 it was 4591 pupils; for 1933 it was 4889 pupils.

Transportation costs have been reduced during the past three years, the report shows, as has the cost per pupil for transportation. There were nearly 300 more pupils transported in 1933 than there were in 1931, however.

In 1931 transportation cost the school system $20,784 in carrying 951 pupils daily, or an average per pupil cost of $21.43.

In 1932 transportation cost the school system $20,613 in carrying 1127 pupils, or an average per pupil cost of $18.29.

In 1933 transportation cost the school system $18,755.85 in carrying 1239 pupils, or an average per pupil cost of $15.13.

The cost of health work in schools has increased from $1,498.67 in 1931 to $1,671.65 in 1933. In 1932 health work cost $1,792.85.

MISS ROSALIE POPE BECOMES BRIDE OF J. C. LANIER IN GARDEN CEREMONY

Before a large group of intimate friends and relatives, the wedding of Miss Rosalie Pope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Joshua Pope, of this city, and James Churchill Lanier, of this city, son of Mrs. Lucille Lanier, of Tampa, and the late W. B. Lanier, took place yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in the garden of the Pope home on South Sanford Avenue. The Rev. Smith Hardin, pastor of the First Methodist Church, of this city, officiated.

Immediately before the ceremony, a quartette of girls, composed of the Misses Marjorie Tillis, Helen Gady, Elise Adams, of Vidalia, Ga., and Dorothy Pope, rendered "O, Promise Me", with accompaniment by Miss Camilla Dean. Each participant wore a shoulder corsage of pink roses and swansonia.

Attending the bride were her sister, Mrs. Paul Johnson, matron of honor, and Miss Marjorie Smith, maid of honor. The bride's brother, Theodore C. Pope, served as best man, while Maurice Wimbish was groomsman.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, entered the garden from one side and was met at the improvised arch by the bridegroom. The ceremony was performed beneath the arch which was made of ferns and zinnias and other garden flowers in pastel shades. Forming a suitable background were the quantities of shrubs and other greenery in the garden.

Heavy white crepe was the material chosen by the bride for fashion her wedding dress. It was made with a long skirt of plain lines and a high neckline. The sleeves were puffed to the elbow and were tight-fitting from there to the wrist while the waistline was marked with a narrow belt finished with a rhinestone buckle. Completing the outfit were a white turban and small veil, white shoes and gloves, and a large bridal bouquet of white dahlias, swansonia, and ferns tied with white satin ribbons.

As matron of honor, Mrs. Johnson wore a tucked green organza afternoon gown made along plain and tight-fitting lines. A high neckline and flared sleeves were features of the bodice. Her accessories were in white and she carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and fern.

Miss Smith appeared in a blattered pink organza gown also made along plain and tight-fitting lines. The skirt was adorned with one large pleated ruffle. Her accessories were also in white and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and fern.

Mrs. O. J. Pope, mother of the bride, selected for the occasion an afternoon dress of flowered georgette. Her shoulder corsage was of pink rosebuds and fern.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception took place in the rooms of the Pope home which were opened ensuite for the occasion and decorated with a profusion of pink and red radiant flowers, gladioli, zinnias, other garden flowers and ferns.

The large dining table was overlaid with a lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered white wedding cake, topped with a large white wedding bell. After the cake was cut by the bride it was served with a pink and white ice course by the Misses Helen Gady, Marjorie Tillis, Elise Adams, Dorothy Pope, and Camilla Dean. Lunch was served by Mrs. Paul Johnson from a small table on the porch.

Mr. and Mrs. Lanier left after the reception for a short honeymoon. They plan to return here Tuesday and will live in the San Lanta Apartments.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Murray, of Orlando, formerly Miss Elsie Lanier, of this city, the Misses Elise Adams, Mollie Vera Cobb and Arethura Cobb, and J. Q. Cobb, of Vidalia, Ga., and Miss Argriss Cobb and O. H. Cobb, of Lyons, Ga.

Mrs. Lanier was born in Sanford and has lived here the greater part of her life. She attended the Lucy Cobb Academy at Athens, Ga. in 1928 and 1929 and was graduated from Seminole High School in 1930. She then studied for one year at Brenau College at Gainesville, Ga., and since then has been working with R. R. Deas, Inc.

National Deal To Aid Citrus Is Being Planned

H. R. Tolley, representing the farm administrators, said the latter would approve a system of licensing distributors in interstate commerce so as to assure enforcement of any national agreement. These licenses would be automatic, blanketting all distributors, with the permit of each to be revoked in event of violation.

Pratt said the conferences were generally agreed a system of licensing would be necessary.

Members of the committee authorized to draft an agreement for submission today included: Armstrong, C. C. Teague, president of the California fruit growers exchange and former member of the federal farm board; J. C. Chase, Orlando, Fla.; C. G. Comandar, Tampa, Fla.; J. J. Parrish, Titusville, Fla.; L. L. Miller, Westlake, Tex., representing the Rio Grande valley citrus growers' associations; and J. M. Sherry, Mission, Tex.

M. L. Corey, New York, former member of the farm loan board, representing Florida citrus organizations, presided at the conference and also assisted the committee in working out fundamentals of the proposed agreement.

The outstanding bond account of the system has dropped from $776,000 in 1931 to $733,000 in 1933, while the special district notes outstanding account dropped from $8000 to $7000.

The value of school property in 1931 was $1,242,458 upon which $568,100 insurance was carried. The valuation was reduced to $1,117,055 in 1932 and the insurance carried remained in the same amount.

The valuation of school property remained the same in 1933, but the insurance carried was reduced by $100,000.

LARGEST BALLOON IN WORLD MAY BE RECORD BREAKER

Airmen Hope To Soar Higher Above Earth Than Ever Before

CHICAGO, July 21.—Thanks to the largest balloon ever made, the highest gondola and the experience of last year's winner of the international balloon race, man may soar this week higher above the earth than he has ever been before.

Last year's record of 53,152 feet is the mark in the stratosphere to be passed. Prof. Augustus Piccard, who set it, will not be away, but his twin brother, Jean, will climb the skies seeking new heights. New data on the original nature of the cosmic rays are also hoped for.

The flight will probably be made near midnight, the latter part of this week. The balloon will float along, when three miles up, and then start soaring in the afternoon of the following day. It will reach its peak, and descend or during the night.

Twenty to 24 hours is expected to be the duration of this year's venture into the stratosphere. The balloon is expected to alight within 150 miles of the Chicago World's Fair grounds whence it starts.

The progress of the whole trip may be picked up by radio. The National Broadcasting Company is equipped the gondola with a radio apparatus, so that for the

Young Parents Of Baby Tell Judge They Detest Child

DENVER, July 21.—(AP)—The young parents of a 6-week-old golden-haired boy told Judge George Lerg in juvenile court yesterday that they "detest the child," and, at their request, the baby was ordered committed to the state home for dependent and neglected children.

Maynard Erknbeck, construction laborer, said he and his wife "can't be bothered with a baby because we detest him and don't want him around." The infant's mother corroborated her husband's statement.

"We don't want the boy. We want to get rid of him," she said. "I was one of 12 children, and my husband was one of five and we've seen too much of kids to care for them."

In granting the parents' request to take the child, Judge Lerg said he was not doing so to free them of their rightful responsibility, but to "save a baby from any contact with parents lacking in the most fundamental feeling—love of offspring—and to insure protection to its helplessness."

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(AP)—Representative Wilcox, of Florida, said yesterday he was hopeful the federal farm loan bank at Columbia, S. C., would change the ruling under which federal farm loans now are denied farms located in drainage districts.

Explaining that two-thirds of the farms in Florida are in drainage districts he told Washington newspapermen the farm loan board had taken the position that bonds issued by drainage districts were first liens and each farm was liable to its full value for bonds issued, leaving nothing as security for the government in making farm loans.

Recently the Florida supreme court ruled that land in drainage districts could be held only for the special benefits assessed against it and that each farm was not liable for the entire bond issue.

Wilcox has furnished the farm loan board and the Columbia farm loan bank unit certified copies of the decision, emphasizing that it showed farms in drainage districts in his districts retained value in addition to the drainage liability, assessed against them and that the government under such circumstances must change its position and hold such farms entitled to loans.

The flight will take place from Soldier Field, the municipal stadium adjoining the World's Fair grounds. Thus a great audience may see its start. Co-operating in the expedition are a Century of Progress exposition, the Chicago Daily News and the National Broadcasting Company.

Gangster Is Seized In Connection With Factor Kidnaping

CHICAGO, July 21.—(AP)—Roger Tuohy, Chicago gangster, was arrested yesterday in Elkhorn, Wis., and along with three of his satellites was being returned here last night for questioning in the abduction of John Factor, market operator, and scores of other crimes.

Before leaving Elkhorn, Capt. Daniel Gilbert, of the Chicago detective bureau, said he had "positive information" that three of the men participated in the Factor kidnaping.

The prisoners, according to Elkhorn police, were identified as Tuohy, Willie Sharkey, "Gloomy Gus" Schaeffer and Ed McFadden.

Schaeffer had $1,200 in $10 bills in his pockets. Factor's $50,000 ransom was paid in $10 and $20 bills.

The men were arrested when their car was wrecked while speeding around a curve in Elkhorn. In the machine was found a veritable arsenal, including six revolvers, a repeating rifle and an automatic pistol.

On the trip to Chicago, they were guarded by three Chicago squad car crews, three cars of Chicago detectives, two cars of federal operatives and two Walworth county, Wisconsin, squad car crews. At the state line, Illinois highway police formed an escort.

Mayo Advises As To Responsibility Of State Convicts

TALLAHASSEE, July 21.—(AP)—Nathan Mayo, Commissioner of Agriculture and head of the State prison system last night announced the recapture at Gainesville of Walter C. Valiton, youthful Miamian who escaped from the Prison Farm at Raiford recently, where he was serving a life sentence for murder of a Miami traffic policeman in 1925.

Mayo said he was informed by Supt. L. F. Chapman of the State Farm, that Valiton and another man was arrested there on suspicion, following the robbery of a store there yesterday.

Chapman, who said he was leaving for Gainesville to make an investigation, said Valiton was reported to have said he knew nothing of the Gainesville robbery and was voluntarily returning to the prison when arrested.

Chapman said Valiton told Gainesville authorities he escaped from Raiford without any difficulty and made his way to south Florida.

While at Miami, the prisoner was quoted as saying, he decided it was no use to try to dodge the law and determined to voluntarily return and resume his term.

Mayo said he was inclined to believe Valiton's story as he could not account for the fugitive's presence at Gainesville in another way. Gainesville is less than 80 miles from the State Prison.

Local All-Stars Win Interesting Diamond Ball Tilt

The Sanford All-Stars won an interesting diamond ball game from the Colonial Pharmacy team of Winter Park on the lake front diamond last night. Starting in the first inning and again in later innings, the All-Stars drove in nine runs to put the game on ice. Driggers held the Colonial team to three hits for eight innings, but weakened in the ninth to give up three hits which included a home run, triple and double. This was the only display of hitting made by the visitors. It might be added here that this was the first time in eight starts that the Colonial team was defeated.

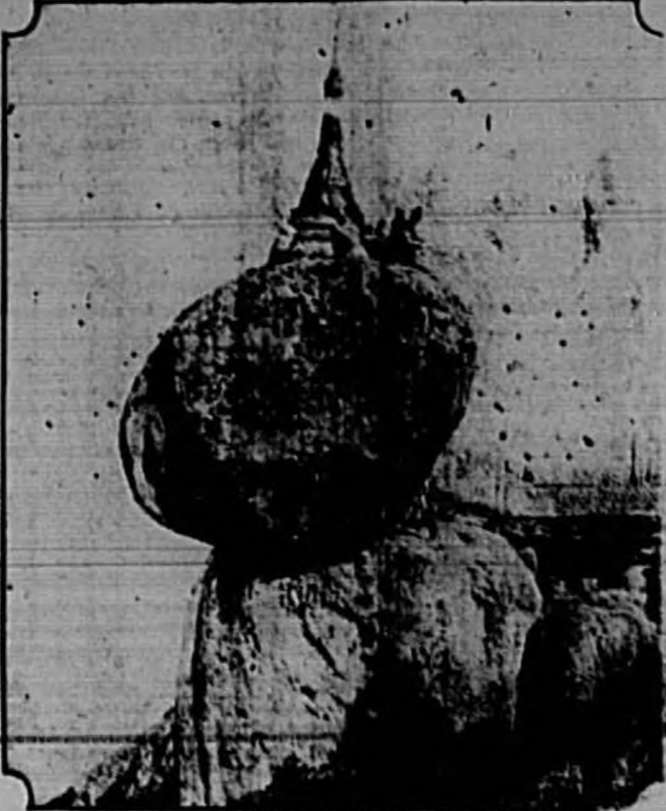

In the first the All-Stars secured two runs on an error and two doubles. In the fourth one was added by two singles. Three were made in the fifth on two walks and Cecil Rines home run to deep center. Another was made in the sixth on a double and an error. The remaining two were made in the seventh by a walk, an error, and a single.

Colonial secured one in the third on two walks and a double steal. In the seventh one was made by a single and two infield outs. In the ninth a home run by Snodgrass followed by a double, triple and a sacrifice fly brought in the other three runs.

The feature catch of the evening was Dissey's one handed catch of a ball hit by Ward that almost got over his head. A double play from Overstreet to Snodgrass in the seventh was also very creditable. Cecil Rines home run was a very beautiful drive, and the hardest hit ball seen around these parts for quite a while.

Tonight Firestone and Medical will meet in the first game since the "pill rollers" returned from camp.

Australia Assumes Sovereignty Over Remote Territory In Antarctic Sea

CANBERRA, Australia—By a bill recently passed by the House of Representatives, the Commonwealth government assumes control over that part of the territory in the Antarctic seas comprising all the islands and territories, other than Adeline Land, situated south of the 60th degree south latitude and lying between the 160th degree east longitude and the 45th degree east longitude, comprising what is known as the Australian section of Antarctica.

When Sir Douglas Mawson, the Australian section of Antarctica, British sovereignty over this sector, he did so at two points, one of which he named Scullin Morolith and the other Cape Bruce.

These two lonely outposts of the British Empire will perpetuate the names of two consecutive Australian prime ministers. Adeline Land is a narrow triangle of French territory bisecting the Australian sector, which covers an area of something like 3,000,000 square miles.

The new Australian territory is yet unnamed but it is likely to be called King George V. Land, a name already applied to a portion of this area. The greater part of the sector was explored by Sir Douglas Mawson in the Discovery in 1929-30 and in 1930-31. The Mawson expedition explored Enderby Land, Kemp Land, Queen Mary Land, and George V Land and discovered and named new areas known now as MacRobertson Land and Princess Elizabeth Land.

On Feb. 7, 1933, a British Order-in-Council was issued affirming that King George possessed sovereign rights over the area and placing this territory under the control of Australia.

The area is of considerable economic value. In 1919, 11,369 whales were captured in these regions yielding 407,237 barrels of oil. By 1931, this production had increased to 40,000 whales yielding 3,250,000 barrels. In 1930, 43 floating factories, 232 whale catchers and 10 transport vessels owned by 33 different companies, mostly Norwegian, set sail for the Antarctic.

The Commonwealth Government will ratify the League of Nations whaling convention providing for international regulation of whaling in these areas to prevent the extermination of this valuable industry. Bird and seal life will also be protected with the same object.

Valiton's Capture Announced By Head Of Prison System

TALLAHASSEE, July 21.—(AP)—Responsibility for state convicts remains with the Prison Division of the Department of Agriculture, Commissioner Nathan Mayo has advised road camp captains and guards.

There has, Mayo said in his communication, apparently been some miscommunication brought to the attention of the State Road Department now has full right to employ and direct captains and guards for convicts working on the highways, responsibility for management and welfare of the prisoners still remains with the Prison Department, which is a part of the Agriculture Division.

"The same rules and regulations," Mayo wrote, "that were in force before are in force now. All irregularities affecting prisoners, such as escapes, recaptures, strikes, deaths or any other matter of unusual nature, must be reported to the Prison Department at once, giving names and number of prisoners involved."

"All convicts, no matter where they are and regardless of who has charge of them, are under the jurisdiction of the Commissioner of Agriculture and the State Prison Department."

Under a new law hiring and firing of captains and guards was transferred to the Road Department, when such captains and guards are employed at State road camps.
