Solution Nears In British Crisis With Cairo Government

LONDON, May 1. (INS)—A solution of the Egyptian crisis seemed in sight today as a result of the decision of the Egyptian
Parliament to withdraw the Public Assembly Bill. It was the in struction of this measure that led the British Foreign Office to demand an ultimatum to Cairo de manding its withdrawal on the ground it would jeopardize peace and menace foreign lives and in terests. The Cabinet will discuss the situation tomorrow and decide upon the policy to be followed to ward Egypt in the future. Both the Chamber and the Senate of the Egyptian National Legisla ture decided to shelve the bill for the present session. As paral lyment will not meet again until November the interior will give opportunity for exchanges be tween London and Cairo to reach a permanent settlement.

Delaney And Sharkey Will Meet Tonight In Fifteen Round Fight At New York

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service
Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Apr. 30.—(INS)—
fighters in with Tunney at one and the same time. Sharkey will make the third who ought to be in there, provided he can clip Delaney on the buzzer. In fact, quite a few remain unconvinced of the fact that he doesn't belong right now.

At that, it is understood that Sharkey has been promised a match with George Godfrey, if he wins, and the bait held out for a Delaney victory is another shot at Risko to a man on a limb, these plans look like a requisition for dynamite with the official challenger getting no chance at the head lines, meantime.

Speaking of a Delaney victory, the possibility is not being taken very seriously. The alleged rapier never has beaten even an ordinary heavyweight and his performances against Paulino and Heeny rather clearly indicated that he fears the worst when he goes in there. Delaney is a master of all holds, including the stoke, and if Sharkey doesn't discontinue him in the piloted forty five minutes of play, it either will mean that he has come back beyond redemption or that Nelson grips since the last time out.

Anyhow they are dying very hard on Sharkey. A lot of them thought he had been a good fighter, but he came back with a rush to see him beat through the Heeny fight. Even his indifferent effort against Risko didn't lift them off. They are saying now that these last two fights, particularly the one against Risko, will bring a new Sharkey into the ring.

This unforeseen optimism has served to create a real gate for Mr. Risko, who had been a more challenger than he is, and he is expected to be a very hot ticket for the night. It is expected that you can't take the fight off the group.

Brooklyn now looks as a real pennant possibility, with the pitcher now leading the league in brought to new heights. Its pitcher today as a result of the brilliant exhibition flashed yesterday by Muzz McWeney and Willie Clark, is a real stranger. McWeney yielded only three hits in the ninth round game, blanking the Quakes 3 to 0.

Controlled by wireless, pilotless planes have recently been made to loop the loop successfully, according to reports from England. Intensive research is being made there in radio plotting, and other amazing maneuvers are made easily possible with a new delicate governing system within the plane, operated entirely by radio waves. A radio receiver set within the plane is designed to intercept and act upon impulses transmitted from a ground control station. The craft is operated by tiny compressed air motors, which are actuated by the master radio set and work the controls without a hitch. Other ideas are also being developed.

Compston Leads Hagen In Match For Rich Purse Of $5,000 On English Course

MOOR PARK, HERTFORDSHIRE, Eng., April 27.—(INS)—
Archibald Compston, British professional golfer, got off to an early lead this afternoon in his match for a $5,000 purse with Walter Hagen, the American star. Compston was two up on Hagen after the first three holes of their twenty-two hole match had been played.

On the first hole, Hagen's approach was short, his mashie hitting the green, taking three putts for a hole. Compston had a four. The Britisher was getting little competition at this stage.

A large crowd had assembled when the players teed off. There was a slight breeze but otherwise the weather was fine. Hagen had made certain that he would not be late for the match as he was in the finals of the British Open Championship in 1926 when he kept Abe Mitchell waiting for some time. He had engaged a detective to watch him early.

Compston was favored in the betting which preceded the start of the match. Hagen was the first to tee off. The first thirty six holes of the match will be played today. The match will be concluded tomorrow.

Compston is determined to wrest from Hagen the title of the "great" match player of his day, and is superbly confident that he can do it. Despite his request for a postponement, Hagen appeared to have lost none of his self-confidence on the links today.

YANKS WIN GAME FROM SENATORS AS RUTH STARS

Herb Pennock Holds Washington Team To Three Hits In Remarkable Performance Almost Ending In Shut-Out

NEW YORK, Apr. 30.—(INS)—
Bucky Harris, manager of the Washington Senators, has revised his opinion of the New York pitching staff today. In an interview yesterday manager Bucky declared that the Yankee staff was on a verge of a complete breakdown. A few hours later Herb Pennock pitched one of the world's best games, held the Senators to three hits, whitewashing them 4 to 0 with the aid of two home runs by Babe Ruth. As a prophet, Bucky is a marvelous second baseman.

Pennock narrowly missed a no-hit game. One of the Washington hits was a fly which Ruth misjudged, and the other two were grounders which might easily have been converted into putouts on a dry field. The Philadelphia fan fancier did not walk a man and retired fifteen batters in succession. His performance was a better one than his world series classic against Pittsburgh last fall.

The Indians broke out into a heap of rash of five errors and Willis Hudlin had nothing but a prayer, so Cleveland dropped a 6 to 2 decision to the St. Louis Browns, tied for first place.

Joe Hansen hit two homers in one Cleveland and the Yanks are now game for the second time this year home game, swamping the Red Sox as the Athletics won their first 11 to 0. This speaker finally got his eye on the ball and contributed four hits.

Fifteen hits failed to help the Detroit Tigers, who lost to the White Sox, 5 to 1 in ten innings.

The Chicago Cubs set off a 7 to 2 bomb under the Pirates. Hartnett and Stephenson hit homers and Sheriff Blake, chalking up his third victory of the season, handcuffed the Pittsburgh hitters in the pinches. Rain kept the New York Giants and Boston Braves idle.

London's big wedding idea is for the prospective bride to entertain in her own home as host to her own friends. The idea took well till it was questioned by both bride and groom as to the desirability of the idea. Another fashionable moment is the "tag party" which the bride-to-be entertains her women friends on the wedding day at the bride's home at his bachelor's party. This gesture of a morning's rights of the bride is much more popular than the "flame" idea, a specialty among brides.

Ambulant Proctology
Treatment of rectal and without hospitalization, ambulant proctology (Ambulant walking, proctology, of the anus and rectum), is an American development. Some fifty-six years ago the name of Ambler, living in middle West, discovered the could absolute eliminate by injecting (with a salt of phenol (carbolic acid), the same such an important idea and there was such a demand his work that it is being sold rights to make give this treatment, receiving a large remuneration for such rights. Gradually educated physicians began to the importance of his work, knowing as they did the value of his work against hospital and cutting operations, it is a relief to them that they could this world better than layers, at the convention in Youngtown, Ohio, last June, which writer attended, there were than two hundred registered surgeons from all parts of United States (Canada and Mexico present, and all were enthusiastic over the results obtained by this non-surgical method.

Leaders In League Race Are Being Hard Pressed To Keep Their Positions

NEW YORK, Apr. 30.—(INS)—
With Big League baseball now in the closing circle ending its first in the run today, Brooklyn, Cleveland and the St. Louis Browns are expected to be the three main contenders for the pennant. Brooklyn is expected to lead the race, but it is expected that the St. Louis Browns are expected to be a very hot ticket for the night. It is expected that you can't take the fight off the group.

Brooklyn now looks as a real pennant possibility, with the pitcher now leading the league in brought to new heights. Its pitcher today as a result of the brilliant exhibition flashed yesterday by Muzz McWeney and Willie Clark, is a real stranger. McWeney yielded only three hits in the ninth round game, blanking the Quakes 3 to 0.

The Robins have won five of their last six starts. They have a real test today when they meet the Giants for the first time this season. The St. Louis Cardinal falters, dropping a 6 to 5 verdict to Chicago Cubs set off a 7 to 2 bomb under the Pirates. Hartnett and Stephenson hit homers and Sheriff Blake, chalking up his third victory of the season, handcuffed the Pittsburgh hitters in the pinches. Rain kept the New York Giants and Boston Braves idle.

Suggestion by Senora Herrera, the charming wife of Senor Luis Herrera, head of the Uruguayan Mission in London, that English girls are not so beautiful as before the World War, has caused a shock and a lively discussion in London. Senora Herrera is a leader of society in South America, and was in London before the war.

Controlled by wireless, pilotless planes have recently been made to loop the loop successfully, according to reports from England. Intensive research is being made there in radio plotting, and other amazing maneuvers are made easily possible with a new delicate governing system within the plane, operated entirely by radio waves. A radio receiver set within the plane is designed to intercept and act upon impulses transmitted from a ground control station. The craft is operated by tiny compressed air motors, which are actuated by the master radio set and work the controls without a hitch. Other ideas are also being developed.

A Dollar Dinner For Four

The Dollar Dinner is now as famous as the Daily Dozen and it is thought by many housewives to be equally healthful. Even in these days of high prices they can make a dollar cover the cost of a good dinner for four people, as is shown in the following menu:

Roast Corned Beef
Salmon and Cream Sauce
New Boiled Potatoes
Deep Dish Cherry Pie
Dessert

SUPPLIES for this dinner will cost as follows: one can of beef consomme, 10 cents; one tall can evaporated milk, 9 cents; one tall can salmon, 13 cents; one can peas, 9 cents; one can cherries, 25 cents; new potatoes, 5 cents; 4 plain rolls, 5 cents; 4 pots of butter, 5 cents; flour and shortening for one pie crust, 6 cents; coffee (at 40 cents a pound), 4 cents; total, 89 cents. These prices are those often obtainable in the cheaper stores. Eleven cents will cover the cost of minor ingredients.

How to Cook and Serve
Serve the consomme in bouillon cups. Bone the salmon and drain the liquid from the peas, saving it for use in soup the next day. Mix the cream sauce, using the evaporated milk diluted only to half quantity, and seasoning with parsley, onion, celery salt and salt and pepper. When dinner is almost ready, drop into it sauce the salmon and peas and serve as soon as they are hot.

To make the deep dish cherry pie proceed as follows: pour one-fourth cup syrup drained from the cherries on 2 teaspoons cornstarch, and mix. Add one cup of the syrup, and after stirring well, boil two minutes. Remove from the stove, add one table spoon butter and the cherries. Invert a heavy cup in the center of the baking dish and put in the filling. Cover with crust rolled a little thicker than usual, and slashed to allow the steam to escape. Bake in a hot oven. Sprinkle with powdered sugar served either hot or cold.

TUESDAY MAY 1

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

PROFITABLE INSTRUCTION: Poverty and shame shall be to him that refuseth instruction; but he that regardeth reproof shall be honored.—Prov. 13:18.

PRAYER.—Lord, teach me, even me.

Have you registered yet? If not, it's too late now.

All roads lead to Miami as far as the Shriners are concerned.

If Hathaway is running on his record, as he says, he is liable to fall through some of the holes.

So far as Catts are concerned, Candidate Carson doesn't observe the Kind To Animals Week.—Tampa Tribune.

Trammell was in Orlando last week, but passed up Sanford. Must be he's a little sensitive about this St. Johns River country.

They say "Laugh and grow fat," but Hathaway has been trying to laugh the Carlton charges off for weeks and hasn't gotten anywhere yet.

To hear the Al Smith crowd tell it, there's no use holding the Houston convention. The New York Governor is already nominated, in their opinion.

Dr. MacKenzie promises some surprising developments in the gubernatorial campaign before long. What's going to happen Doc? Catts going to die and Hathaway withdraw?

Jim Carson and Sidney J. Catts spoke from the same platform in Miami the other night. From all reports Carson did most of the slaying.—Gainesville Sun. Catts aimed too but his claws are not very sharp.

Anonymous contributions never get any consideration in a newspaper office, but the editor thanks some anonymous friends who left two pounds of honey at this office.—Clermont Press. Certainly was mighty sweet of him.

Yes, we've criticized Ernest Amos. We've criticized almost everyone in public office at one time or another. No one can be right all the time and when they're wrong we say so. Just the same we don't know what Amos is the best man in this race.

T. J. Appleyard, who says he is going to run for governor, actually qualified for delegate to the Democratic National Convention subject to the June primary. We sincerely believe that Mr. Appleyard can better serve his state as a delegate than as a candidate for governor.

Kansas City woman is suing the United States government because her son drank legally de-natured alcohol and died. Her son undoubtedly was worth a great deal to his mother, but we doubt if anyone who is fool enough to drink modern alcohol is worth two hundred thousand to anyone else.

According to a news-story in a recent issue of the Tampa Times, a Carlton supporter claims that there has been more money spent in a constable's race in Tampa, than in Carlton's gubernatorial effort. Even the best of friends are reluctant to part with the long green these days to back a campaigner.—Plant City Courier. Someone seems to be shelling out pretty generously in the Hathaway campaign.

The Jacksonville Journal seems to believe that a threatening Republican vote would be a good thing for Florida if Mr. Catts, by chance, turns out to be the democratic nominee, we can imagine a very threatening Republican vote in November.—Sanford Herald. With Catts as the Democratic and a man like W. J. Howey, of Lake county, heading the Republican ticket, it is certain that the Republican vote would be the largest ever cast in Florida. May be so large Catts' ambition would fall of realization.—Ocala Star. Another rumble of what may be a storm.—Palm Beach Independent.

Butt-Headed Editors

It came to us in a round-about way but we have no doubt that a certain person said of us the other day, "Those Herald fellows are altogether too opinionated. They've got to have their say on everything that comes up and are all the time trying to cram their ideas down other folks' throats."

It is easily the most unpleasant part of a newspaper editor's job that he is compelled to express his opinion on a wide variety of topics, not just once in a while, but every day. Much easier it would be to omit the editorial page altogether and publish just those items of news which we receive by wire and which our reporters pick up on the streets.

But the editorial page is as vital a part of a newspaper as the mast head, the classified ad page, or the comic. There is not a newspaper in the country, known to us, which does not have an editorial page. There is not a newspaper in the country, certainly not one of any standing in the ranks of journalism, which is not edited by a man faced daily with the problem of expressing his ideas on various items of news.

If you think he enjoys placing his opinions down in black and white from which he cannot waver, try it yourself some time. You do not need to write your opinions, merely express them to your friends. You know how much simpler it is to agree with everyone. If you know your neighbor has decided views different from your own, on a certain subject, you know how much you prefer to avoid that subject, or if it is pressed, to agree with your neighbor for the sake of avoiding an argument and possible unpleasantness.

Thus you are able to maintain friendships. If you were very outspoken about your ideas, you would find your friends falling away from you. Imagine, if you can, a candidate for office who conscientiously expresses himself on every subject that arises. Suppose a candidate for sheriff, for instance, very bluntly spoke right out from the rostrum and stated his position in regard to every subject of any interest to his hearers.

Suppose he told you what he thought of Catholics, the Ku Klux Klan, prohibition, law enforcement, the gubernatorial race, the present city administration, everglades drainage, the St. Johns Indian River canal, Forrest Lake, the condition of Sanford's asphalt streets, newspapers, local merchants, schools and school teachers, high taxes, this district's congressional representative, banking laws, churches, pastors, and congregations, bootleggers, the world court, the Sinclair trial, and the race question. Suppose he told you, in a public speech where everyone could hear, what he thought about these things. How many votes would he get?

No, it would be much pleasanter for an editor never to offend anyone, never to express his opinion to anyone, except behind the barn, perhaps, on a dark night. He would have far more friends. Everyone would slap him on the back and say what a nice fellow he is. No one would accuse him of being disagreeable or having ulterior motives. He would be a great man, and a fine hands-haker. But his newspaper wouldn't be worth the paper it was printed on.

And as far as our trying to cram our ideas down anybody's throat is concerned, that is the very farthest from our desire or ambition. We readily concede that everyone else is as fully entitled to his opinion as we to ours. We do not care whether he agrees with us or not. We do not condemn him if he does not. Neither do we wish to be condemned if we do not agree with him.

Neither does anyone have to read our opinions, as expressed in our editorials, if he doesn't want to. These opinions are always on the inside of the paper, usually on page two or four. A reader must turn the page in order to find them. The page is labelled; he is never taken by surprise. And if he reads them he does so of his own free will and desire, under no compulsion whatsoever from us or anyone else.

And after reading them, if he still does not agree with us, our feelings are not hurt, and we have not intended to offend him. We would prefer to agree, but we know we cannot agree with everyone on every subject, so we express our opinions conscientiously as we find them, and trust the reader will be broad-minded enough to overlook our failings if he does not think so too.

We have no doubt that any other individual in the city could make a better editor than we, but we doubt very seriously if he could make it pay.

The Shrine Convention

Although many of them mystic order have been crowding into Miami for the past week, and various entertainments of one kind or another have been given for them for several days, today is actually the beginning of the National Shrine Convention now being held in the lower East Coast city.

It is estimated that over one hundred thousand Shriners, including members of their families, are now in Miami taking part and enjoying the festivities. For over a week the highways leading to that city have been crowded by the wearers of the fez, and for several days whole train loads of them have made their way down the East Coast.

It is enough that this vast horde of American people, freed temporarily from the cares of business and the task of making a living, are having a regular college boy spree and as much fun as a ten-year-old boy at his first big circus. It is enough that this convention will bring together men from all over the United States and other parts of the world for an exchange of ideas and a meeting on the common ground of brotherhood.

But we are thinking now of the benefits to Florida in which this convention will result. Many of those attending this meeting have never been to Florida before. Many may have come long ago and are now renewing acquaintance after the vast changes of recent years. Whatever the proportion may be, it is certain that many who knew nothing of Florida as it is will go home singing its praises and widely giving it advertising which cannot be bought.

The Shrine convention in Miami is a great thing not only for Miami but also for all Florida.

POLITICAL RUMORS

OCALA STAR

From now until the date of the primary election you may expect to hear all kinds of political rumors. Some will be denied before they get very far on their way, but others, surreptitiously told in remote sections, will have their effect on the result in some of the more closely drawn contests before they can be found out and refuted. Rumors can be easily disposed of when they are brought out in the open spaces and usually, when they are denied by the candidate they are aimed against, they act as a boomerang.

A case in point is the report circulated by Catts' adherents in the southern part of the state having to do with a Louisiana court decision against James M. Carson, candidate for governor, in a suit he had instituted to recover custody of a child by his first wife. Meeting Catts on the platform in Miami the other night, when they addressed an audience estimated at from 5,000 to 8,000 people, Mr. Carson said that he was glad they had brought the charge out in the open where he could face it instead of leaving it to secret circulation by vicious tongues. "I refuse, as any gentleman would," said Mr. Carson, "to discuss the intimate details of my married life, separation and divorce. I would not discuss it with any private individual, much less publicly, even if the refusal to do no cost me the governorship." As the rumor is current on the streets of Ocala that something very discreditable to the Miami candidate in connection with his domestic affairs has been unearthed, the actual happening as it took place in Miami is given for the benefit of those who have heard the rumor.—Ocala Star.

We asked a perfectly good race horse if he favored Catts for the governorship and the plater gave us a neigh.—Miami Beach Sun.

To The Taxpayers Of Seminole County

When you and I paid our taxes this year we realized that the tax rate extended in this county is high. It not only works a hardship on the tax payer but it decreases the market value of our property. Then we naturally begin to seek some way by which this tax rate can be reduced. There are a part of taxes which we cannot hope to lower. The bonds, roads and schools will have to be paid whether the investment is a good or bad one. The Road and Bridge tax no doubt could be cut some. I understand that teachers draw an average salary of $900.00 per year and taking into consideration the qualifications necessary, the importance of the work and prices paid elsewhere, I do not think any one could ask for a reduction there. I understand that the Office of County Superintendent of Schools pays around $250.00 per month. I believe that any man or woman who is qualified for that office is worth that money. I do not know what the Collector, Sheriff, and Clerk offices pay. I suggest that it be published for the information of tax payers. The office of tax assessor pays $7500.00 per year and in this amount is included the cost of his help. I think that every tax payer will agree that it is too much salary to pay for this office. This amount, however, is fixed by law and the officer is legally entitled to it. I think the law is wrong, it might have been alright at one time, but it's wrong now. It cannot be changed except by an Act of Legislature but I believe that the County Board of Commissioners should fix the salaries for all county officers. (I understand commissioners get $1.00 per day.)

But a law to that effect could not help for four years therefore, I offer for your consideration this plan for tax reduction:

That I announce my self as a candidate for Tax Assessor upon the following basis:

That the County furnish the office and office supplies, pay me $4800.00 per year, which shall include the cost of my help. This alone would save the tax payers $2700.00 per year based on the cost of last year or in a term of four years would save them $10,800.00. That I deposit $10,800.00 cash guaranteeing the tax payers I will return to the county all monies allowed me by law in excess of $4,800.00 per annum. Reserving the right to replace this money with a bond if elected.

I offer this plan for two reasons: first that I believe that the law fixing the salaries is wrong; second that it will partially correct it four years earlier and help to reduce our taxes.

This alone is not sufficient to justify any voter to support any man for office. His honesty, his qualifications, and his past record for performing the duties entrusted to him should be investigated. I have been a resident of Florida for seven years. Two years as principal of High School at Jupiter, Fla., five years employed as construction engineer by Fred T. Williams, Sanford, Fla. I have served five years as County Engineer of Jefferson County, Ill., two years as City Engineer of Mt. Vernon, Ill. I invite you to investigate my home life, my public record. To write the Third National Bank, Jefferson State Bank, Ham National Bank, any County or City official at Mt. Vernon, Illinois and publish your reply.

I do not make this proposition to influence votes but I am willing to back up my views with my time and money and if any other man, with the necessary qualifications will run for this office or either of the others on the same basis I had rather support him than run.

Yours very truly, TONY PITCHFORD

SEMINOLES TAKE PART IN OPENING OF FAMOUS TRAIL

3 Tribes Of Seminole Indians Come To Everglades To Be Present At Ceremony Which Marks Tamiami Celebration

EVERGLADES, May 1.—(INS)—For the first time since they united, 75 years ago to make war on the United States, the three tribes of the Seminole Indians met here on April 25. They came here primarily to meet Governor Martin and other prominent Floridians at the official opening of the Tamiami trail, between Tampa and Miami. Out of it, Seminole leaders believe, will come the adoption of a general policy for tribal relations with the United States government. At present some of the tribes desire to be accepted on the same basis as white citizens. Others want to continue as an independent nation.

The more progressive Seminoles seek recognition as citizens because of the dire financial straits in which they find themselves. Demand for racoon and alligator hides their chief means of sustenance, has fallen off in present years, and crops have not been good. Most of the 522 Seminoles need dental and medical attention.

Selling Souvenirs

Seminole women have begun to sell souvenirs along the new trail and the men are working as day laborers in the million acre development of Barron Collier in Collier county, but most of them believe government recognition would help them more than they can help themselves.

That the outside world may be made familiar with their mode of living, the Seminoles from the Big Cypress nation have erected a model Indian village at Everglades. During the week of the trail opening they will give exhibitions of their camp customs. Men, women and children, dressed in their gayly colored costumes, and under the direction of Josie Billy, chief medicine man, will render dances, sing songs and talk on camp life. Several of the tribe speak good English.

The green corn dance, was the outstanding feature of the exhibit. This dance, usually given in June when the corn is ready for the first harvest, is a religious ceremony.

Murderer is tried for killing his father, but when the verdict is read it is found that the man is innocent. The man is released and the case is closed. The man is released and the case is closed.

Completion of the trail adds some two million acres to Florida's accessible land and create a modern automobile highway around the entire state. Until the road was built there was no highway completely crossing the low 1,000 miles of the state. The trip from Tampa to Miami now can be made by motor car in about eight hours.

The region abounds with game, including black bear, deer, panther, alligators and many tropical alligators and smaller animals. Eagles, cranes and many tropical birds are common. Game is protected for one mile each side of the trail, so the game and bird show little fear of passing motorists. It is not an unusual sight to see a ten mile drive to pass a Seminole camp and see a ten foot alligator slide into a stream, an eagle circle overhead, or a deer leaping into the big cypress or pine trees. Tropical foliage is present in abundance on both sides of the road. No extended attempt has been made to develop farm land to any great extent in the new country.

Every loyal citizen should attend Mass Meeting Friday night.

Question Of Pullman Car Names Has Always Been Big Puzzle To Travelers

CHICAGO, Apr. 28.—Who names the Pullman cars—and why and how?

For years this question has been of interest to travelers and others.

At first a Pullman sleeping car was a remodeled Chicago & Alton day coach and was given a number. Soon it was decided to call the cars "A," "B," "C," etc. but that gave them only 26 letters and soon the cars piled up and it was considered calling them by numbers.

But as locomotives and freight cars are given numbers there was a confusion. Thus names were decided for the coaches.

The First Name

The first car was called "Pioneer" and now rests at Springfield, Ill. It was hastily constructed in 1865 to carry the body of Abraham Lincoln from Washington to Chicago and thence to Springfield.

Generally speaking parlor cars were supposed to be given feminine names also those of flowers and birds. But railroad officers wanted them named after cities on their important runs and this wish is often followed.

Sleeping cars have been named after rivers, lakes, cities, towns, countries, local historic figures, soldiers, poets, authors, battlefields, and camps.

The only Pullman car ever named for an individual alive today is that bearing the title "Colone Lindbergh."

Observation cars are named after mountains generally with the prefix "Mount," "Mount Hope," "Mount Placid," etc. Cars built for the Great Northern railroads have the prefix "Great" such as "Great Falls," "Great Plains," etc. For the Southern Pacific railroad many are called "Sunset Cape," "Sunset Beach," etc. after the crack train "Sunset Limited."

The Santa Fe uses the prefix

"Silver," such as "Silver Bay," "Silver Peak," etc.

A new series recently completed is prefixed by "Saint" and "Mac." Another series carries the prefix "Point" as "Point Bonita."

For Famous Men

The parlor cars built for the Congressional Limited between New York and Washington are named after the signers of the Declaration of Independence and prominent members of old Congresses. Within the last year or two the names of distinguished men have been used, such as Davy Crockett, Daniel Wells, Eli Whitney, Robert Stanley, James Dwight Dana, Robert Penry, Marco Polo, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Davy Crockett and others have appeared.

One Pullman car bears the name of a porter in commemoration of Oscar Daniels, whose heroism in attempting to save passengers resulted in his injury and death.

When the Pullman company took over the Wagner sleeping car it was discovered there were about 300 cars bearing duplicate names. The vice-president at that time, Richard Dean, was a friend of the Chicago public librarian who obligingly that night opened the doors of the library and admitted a host of clerks who delved into histories, ancient folk-lore, Roman and Greek textbooks and about everything else to have a wholesale christening.

That is how some of the cars today have those peculiar names that no one else seems to know what its all about.

Now who names 'em? Easy. A group of officials of the company called the "committee on nomenclature."

If you think it's an easy job, sit down and try to think of 9,000 names of cities, countries, famous men, etc.

Buffalo trails

For miles they stretched across the prairie and up into the foothills, smooth, clearly marked, beaten hard as rock through the centuries by the hoofs of buffalo on their way to the salt licks. When the railways came, and the engineers were confronted with the great bastion of the Rocky Mountains, these buffalo trails assumed a new significance. It was found that they always followed the easiest gradients, that they penetrated the mountain fastness by the most direct and practical route.

London Announces Improvements In General Condition

LONDON, May 1.—Compared with ten years ago, the city of London is bigger, healthier, wealthier, better housed and better educated, but she is more restless, her streets are more dangerous, she has more paupers and more suicides, and her public bodies are more extravagant.

These are the main conclusions to be drawn from the latest Book of Numbers—the Statistical Abstract for London, 1917-1926—which has just been published here.

From a writer of figures and compilations, a number of very interesting facts throw light on the changes that take place in a large metropolitan area which are gleaned from the volume.

Death Rate Lower

The death rate in the London area, the book reveals, has decreased from 19 per 1,000 since 1918, and the infant mortality from 108 to 59. Less than 80 years London lost 477 babies under a year old out of every 1,000 born.

The present birth rate is almost down to the lowest year recorded, 161 for 1927, as compared with 16 in 1918.

Except for an increase in the deaths from heart disease and cancer, the mortality returns are lower than at the beginning of the war, but twice as many people committed suicide in 1926 as in 1917. There were twice as many suicides of men than of women.

Better Living

Vast increases in the supplies to London markets of meat, poultry, provision, fish and fruits indicate

The year 1927 was the biggest marrying year in London since 1922. The total of 11,301 marriages that year is commonly believed to be nearly 2,000 higher than that for 1917. It is commonly believed that people are marrying later in life, but this book reveals that approximately 5,000 Londoners marry before they are twenty-one every year.

Premier Summons British Parliament To Consider Crisis

LONDON, May 1.—(INS)—A special meeting of the British Cabinet was summoned late this afternoon by Premier Baldwin to consider the Egyptian crisis.

Admiralty and Foreign Office officials refused to discuss the Egyptian situation pending the statement which Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain promised to make in the House of Commons.

Unofficially it declared that the government is hopeful that the presence of British warships of the Egyptian coast would have a salutary effect in bringing about a settlement in the House of Commons.
