

QUAKE RIDDEN AREA SLOWLY IS RECOVERING

Seven Hundred Bodies Have Already Been Taken Out Of Ruins By Rescue Parties

MANAGUA, Apr. 3.—(AP)—Two hundred American wives and children bade farewell today to husbands and fathers of the United States marine corps as airplanes began their evacuation from Managua, devastated by earthquakes Tuesday. Many are remaining to superintend relief work out of the lack of accommodations and the possibility of an epidemic. It was decided that the women and children leave the stricken area.

Working under enormous difficulties in the chaos which followed Tuesday's earthquakes and fire, Managua is pulling itself out of the misery of disaster.

Col. F. L. Bradman, commander of the marine, estimated yesterday that 3000 had perished, and 400 bodies already have been taken out of the ruins. Property damage is estimated at $10,000,000.

Two Convicts Who Admitted Starting Jail Fire Indicted

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Apr. 3.—(AP)—Two convicts who confessed they had started a jail fire in Columbus, Ohio, resulting in the loss of 230 lives, were indicted yesterday by the Franklin county grand jury for first degree murder.

The prisoners, Clinton Grant, a black, and Hugh Gibson, a white, were indicted on charges of murder in the electric chair.

Prosecutor Hastings selected three Columbus men to be named in the indictments as the murder victims.

Conviction on any one count in the three indictments, each of which carries a term of life in the electric chair, within 100 feet of the lawn on which the 230 prisoners' bodies were laid the night of the fire.

Grant and Gibson were in the Franklin county jail here today. They were removed from the penitentiary before the confession was made public for fear of a riot. The two men were held in the jail for the purpose of being tried for the murder of the 230 prisoners.

Pantages Is Granted New Trial By Supreme Court In Pringle Assault Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Apr. 3.—(AP)—Alexander Pantages, Los Angeles theatrical magnate convicted of assaulting Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer, was granted a new trial by the state supreme court here yesterday.

The decision, which adopted in the main the opinion of the state district appellate court, reversed the Los Angeles conviction, based on the testimony of Pringle.

Chief Justice William H. Waste, in concurring opinion, referred to Miss Pringle's testimony at the trial as "so improbable as to challenge credulity."

The court pointed out that prosecution misconduct complained of by Pantages' attorneys "warrants the conclusion that the defendant was not lawfully convicted." It added, however, the misconduct on the part of District Attorney Burton Pitts would not "necessarily require a reversal."

The decision ends a bitter legal battle for a new trial waged by Pantages since he was convicted in October, 1929. He was successful in obtaining his release on $100,000 bail and has been treating at Agua Caliente awaiting the court's ruling.

The alleged attack for which Pantages was convicted occurred in his Los Angeles office Aug. 9, 1929. Pantages, who is 54, was arrested after Miss Pringle, who has clothing torn, ran into the street screaming she had been attacked. The girl, daughter of a school teacher, said she went to his office to ask him to look an act of hers on his vaudeville circuit.

After a long and sensational trial Pantages was convicted, but illness kept him from prison. Meanwhile his attorneys started a fight for a new trial.

Chief Justice Waste commented on the "intolerable atmosphere in which the case was tried."

"The prosecution," his opinion said, "no doubt labored under the stress of public opinion and excitement, at times confronted with considerable provocation, but the testimony of the prosecutrix is so improbable as to challenge one's credulity and the jury should have been permitted to consider the evidence uninfluenced by the incidents and errors discussed in the main opinion."

MALAGA, Spain, Apr. 3.—(AP)—Victims of a terrific head-on collision between the French steamer Florida and H. M. S. Glorious Wednesday, more than 30 bodies and upwards of 50 injured persons were brought ashore yesterday from the two vessels.

Seminole Indians Ask Hoover About Transfer Of Lands

MIAMI, Apr. 3.—(AP)—Florida Seminole Indians, through Chief Cory Coocla of the Muscogee village, yesterday asked President Hoover for information concerning proposed land transfers regarding the displacement of the Seminoles from Washington.

The Seminoles said the President had commissioned Chilly Fiah, of Oklahoma, to act as chief for one day on or before June 30 for the Indians in proposed land transfers.

Cory Coocla, who has been acting chief of Florida East Coast Seminoles, since the illness of Tony Tommy, sent the following message addressed to the President:

"We are satisfied with our homes in the Everglades. Our forefathers held this land against the white man and we have lived on it ever since. We do not agree to anything which will take it from us. We have not asked anything but to be let alone in possession of the land from which the white man failed to drive us in 1832."

New Orleans Inventor Plans To Bring Huge Portable Feed Mill To Sanford

A. W. Koons, New Orleans, and C. F. and G. W. Eddy, members of the Boston grain dealing firm of that name, together with Fred F. Danner, local celery grower, spent yesterday afternoon visiting Sanford in Sanford regarding the establishment of a feed mill here within the near future.

Mr. Koons is the inventor of a huge, portable machine which is described as being capable of drying in one operation, hay, corn, and other grains in 45 seconds, releasing them from the machine on an animal food of high nutritive value.

According to Mr. Danner, Mr. Koons is bringing this machine to Sanford in July for the purpose of demonstrating to local farmers how they can get out of their hands their own feed, but also make their own feed. (Continued On Page Three)

U. S. CONSIDERS PLAN TO RAISE MORE MONEY

Reduction In Income Tax Collections Is Cause Of Prospective Fiscal Deficit

WASHINGTON, Apr. 3.—(AP)—The treasury department is considering a plan to raise more money to meet government expenses.

This became known after the latest treasury statement showed income tax collections dropped $24,673,000 in March below receipts from that source for the same month last year. The treasury is expected to report to additional financing on or before Apr. 15.

Meanwhile, Republican Leader Tilton of the House voiced the hope that tax increase could be avoided, adding "It should be the first care of the next congress not to make necessary the levying of new taxes." He said it "certainly was not apparent now that a tax increase is necessary."

At the same time Senator Harris of Georgia, ranking Democrat on the Senate Appropriations Committee, expressed the opinion that the government should hold down federal appropriations to avoid a tax increase.

Tilton, a guest at the White House, also expressed additional appropriations for the farm board, explaining this would aid in reducing government expenditures.

"I have tried to stabilize prices but has failed," he said. "The plan was certainly an honest experiment. I believe the board should continue to operate with the $500,000,000 already appropriated in promoting co-operation in agriculture."

The House leader said he hoped the government could meet the (Continued on Page 2)

After robbing the bank the men went to Mott's home, and got their companions and escaped in an automobile.

Shortly after the closing of the Seminole County Bank the receiver of that institution entered into an arrangement with the Chase National Bank for the joint liquidation of all claims in which the Chase National Bank had an interest and this involved a long series of liquidation.

Shortly after W. H. Tunncliffe was appointed liquidator of the Seminole County Bank he terminated the joint arrangement with the Chase National Bank and for (Continued On Page Eight)

Christ's Crucifixion Is Observed In Rome

ROME, Apr. 3.—(AP)—Black robed priests lay prostrate at the altars of Rome's 400 churches today to commemorate the death of Christ throughout the world. Catholic priests, bishops, archbishops, and Cardinals followed the example. Between noon and 3 o'clock, the hour of Christ's agony on the cross, every stone in the city was closed. There was no traffic, sidewalks were empty. People were either in churches or praying at home.

The jury of Arkansas county farmers, who listened to her defense of insanity, remained out for 17 hours before bringing in the verdict, which carried the minimum penalty possible under the charge.

She smiled faintly when the verdict was announced and at once resumed her impassive, restrained expression that returned on her face during the trial. She was released under $1000 bond pending disposition of an appeal, taken after Judge Chapline overruled her attorney's motion for a new trial.

The girl's only cause for killing her father was her fear the jury would acquit him.

Young Girl Is Found Guilty Of Murder In Second Degree

"We are satisfied with our homes in the Everglades. Our forefathers held this land against the white man and we have lived on it ever since. We do not agree to anything which will take it from us. We have not asked anything but to be let alone in possession of the land from which the white man failed to drive us in 1832."

Parties In Scanty Attire Disclosed In Testimony In Court

LOS ANGELES, Apr. 3.—(AP)—Sensations in the divorce trial of Evelyn Lee, film actress, and Luther Reed, cinema director, advanced yesterday from domestic battles to parties in a natural.

Miss Lee who filed a cross complaint to Reed's suit for divorce followed up her denials of physical attacks on her husband with testimony that she caught him and a girl in a room and "they were clad only in smiles."

With a private detective she said she went to the home of Ivan St. John, a publicity agent in Hollywood, last Nov. 8.

"We went around the house and I heard my husband's voice from the windows of a darkened room. Then I heard a woman's voice. Then I heard sounds of kissing."

With that, she testified, she and the detective broke in the house through a window.

"My husband cursed me and wanted to know what I was doing there, and what a nerve I had breaking in on him like that."

Miss Lee, besides a divorce, is attempting to obtain $2400 a month alimony. Her husband alleged she swore at him, scratched him, threw money at him and got them thrown out of a hotel once because of her outbursts.

Dancing School To Give Scholarship To Winner Of Contest To Be Staged

In co-operation with the merchants of Sanford, The Betty Ball Brown Dancing School is offering five to any boy or girl in either the Junior or Senior high schools of Sanford, a year's scholarship entitling them to be taught any form of dancing which may be chosen.

The scholarship will be awarded to the boy or girl, who, parading across the stage of the Milose Theater on the night of Apr. 17, waiting on a bank across a bathing suit, the name of the store he or she represents, receives the greatest amount of applause.

The only eligibility rules in force are that only junior and senior high school pupils may enter, and that no pupil of the dancing class be included in the entry list. Already several local merchants have selected girls to represent them in the contest, and Mrs. Brown, who is sponsoring the event, is hopeful that at least 50 persons will be entered.

As a means of advertising the event, as well as bringing to Sanford from every section of Central Florida, Mrs. Brown, in connection with The Sanford Herald will begin at once preparing a special section of the Herald which will be issued on Apr. 14, two days before the event.

Mrs. Brown has already secured the assistance of several of Sanford's merchants who are planning to have special dollar day sale on Friday and Saturday, Apr. 17 and 18, and The Herald, printed Apr. 15, will be filled with advertisements regarding the special velvets.

RASKOB SEES LIQUOR STAND PARTY'S HOPE

Says Democrats Have Fine Chance If They Will Take Courageous Position On Law

NEW YORK, Apr. 3.—(AP)—John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, declared in an interview with the New York Evening Post yesterday that the Democrats never had a better opportunity to win the presidency than 1932 will provide—but the party must take a courageous stand on prohibition to turn opportunity into victory.

The national chairman declined to discuss his personal views on what action should be taken on prohibition.

"The party has never had a better opportunity," he said, "providing it has the strength to take a courageous stand in its platform declarations, particularly on prohibition as well as on other economic questions."

"The party should also provide strong leadership that will restore sanity in government."

Raskob estimated the American people pay $3,000,000,000 annually for liquor. The cost of the liquor business proper, he said, is $100,000,000 and racketeering adds $2,700,000,000.

Asked what he thought of efforts to make Tammany hall a national issue in 1932, the Democratic chairman said:

"I don't think they can do it. The Republican party will probably rise on some irrelevant issue, particularly if the Democratic party makes a courageous stand."

The Evening Post said that certain Democratic leaders are negotiating for a platform plank that would commit the candidates elected to Congress to vote for a resolution under which the people of the states would decide whether the Eighteenth Amendment should be retained, or whether the control of liquor should be returned to the states. The paper would avoid the word "repeal."

In the interview, the national chairman had nothing to say about the individual candidate for his party's nomination to the presidency.

VIGOROUS FIGHT TO BE MADE FOR CHAIRMAN SMITH

Notice Is Served That Move To Oust Him Will Be Combated

WASHINGTON, Apr. 3.—(AP)—Attorney General Mitchell served notice yesterday that justice department attorneys would support Chairman Smith of the power commission "as vigorously as they know how" against an attempt to oust him from office.

The announcement completed the lineup for the prospective legal conflict between President Hoover and the Senate. A few minutes earlier Smith had announced that George Wharton Pepper, former Republican senator from Pennsylvania, would serve as his personal counsel.

The controversy arose when the Senate, after once confirming Smith's appointment, sought to reconsider following the dismissal of two commission employees. President Hoover refused to return Smith's name.

The appointment of Pepper gave an added political touch to the controversy. The Senate already had employed John W. Davis, Democratic Presidential nominee in 1921 to represent it in the trial.

In his statement yesterday Attorney General Mitchell said an impression had gained credence "in some quarters that the attorney general intends to cast the burden of defending the appointment on Mr. Smith and counsel retained by him."

"That is not the case," Mitchell asserted.

He explained there was a technical question as to the statutory authority of the attorney general to appear as attorney for a federal official in such litigation, adding that for this reason justice department officials would not appear as attorneys of record for Smith but as "friends of the court."

"In that capacity," he said, "they will be in a position to, and intend to, support the validity of the appointment as vigorously as they know how, and (Continued on Page Eight)

Despondent Geneva Woman Fails In Try To Commit Suicide

Said to have been despondent over continued ill health, Mrs. John Phillips, middle-aged wife of John Phillips, Geneva orange grower, attempted unsuccessfully to commit suicide this morning by slashing her throat with a razor, inflicting three long gashes.

At a late hour this afternoon she was reported as resting easily at her home in Geneva. According to Dr. C. L. Park, who was called to the scene within a few minutes after it occurred, she is expected to recover unless complications set in.

Mrs. Phillips chose a time when her husband was away from home to commit the act. Using an ordinary razor, she made her attempt at about 10:00 o'clock in the bedroom of her home. Mr. Phillips, returning home a few moments later, found his wife in a weakened condition lying in a pool of blood.

The Phillips family has resided in Geneva for more than 10 years and was originally from Georgia. Mr. Phillips is considered a successful grower, and both he and his wife are well-known in that section. They have no children.

BACHMAN IS SEEN AS SUCCESSOR OF ROCKNE AS COACH

Several Others Are In Line To Fill Shoes Of Famous Mentor

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 2.—(AP)—No one took Knute Rockne seriously a few days ago as he jested hearty laughs, by saying 1931 football prospects at Notre Dame were "sad."

But little did he or his audience suspect just how "sad" they would be not just for 1931 but perhaps down through the years.

Gone is Rockne, the great master and strategist of the game, who astounded the football world by his genius, and in the sorrowful wake of his sudden departure has come a sadness and heartbreak that so many times combine to wreck hopes far greater than those nurtured in the hearts of a swarm of husky, rollicking college boys on the gridiron.

What is Notre Dame's future on the football field? No one knows, but everyone is fearful tonight. The fighting spirit of Notre Dame crushed by his death, everywhere gave evidence of coming back to "carry on" for "Rock's" sake tonight, but how long it will last without the guiding touch of the old master was a matter of concern and conjecture that time only will tell.

All the players, past, present and future, felt like Tommy Yarr, the fiery pilot of the 1931 team, whose eyes welled with tears as he said:

"The team of 1931 will have Rockne's image before it as it fights to carry on. We'll fight that much harder because we will know the fighting spirit of that fighting man is with us. We'll be handicapped by his physical loss and his cheer in defeat and disaster and victory, but Notre Dame will fight harder than ever before—not only on the football field but in the school room and in life. Rockne is our ideal. We know what we have to do to live up to such an ideal."

No one at Notre Dame, in South Bend, or hardly any place cared even to talk about Rockne's probable successor tonight, although everyone knew that Notre Dame, like no other university anywhere, had a wealth of material—all Notre Dame and Rockne's material—to pick from. The Rockne system is effect in almost 100 colleges and universities.

Out of the entire field, however, two stood out as the most probable choices. One was Charles Bachman, star Notre Dame guard in 1916 and present coach at the University of Florida; the other was one of the immortal "Four Horsemen," Harry Stuhldreher. Eight others were likely candidates but those who knew Rockne and his style agreed that Bachman and Stuhldreher, now a successful coach at Villanova college, were the foremost candidates.

Bachman was in Rockne's estimation one of the greatest exponents of the Rockne system and it was Bachman that Rockne tried to get California to hire last year. Stuhldreher always has been regarded as probably the man with the clearest conception of the Rockne system. It was Stuhldreher who ran the "Four Horsemen" and whose skill was attributed as 10 percent physical and 90 percent mental.

Heartily "Hunk" Anderson, assistant to Rockne last year, probably will guide the "Fighting Irish" through the 1931 campaign, assisted by Jack Chevigny, the Reichel and others, but chances are that he will not be in line as Rockne's successor by preference. He frankly admits he would rather be just an assistant.

Edward "Slip" Madigan, star of the undefeated 1919 team and present coach at St. Mary's of Oakland, Calif., is another probability. Jimmy Phelan, star quarterback on the 1917 team, who led Purdue to a "Big Ten" championship in 1929 and then went to the University of Washington as head coach, is another.

Other candidates are Noble Kiser, guard on the 1924 team and present coach at Purdue; Jimmy Crowley, another member of the "Horsemen" and now head coach at Michigan State college; Adam Walsh, still another member of the "Four Horsemen," and now line coach at Yale; and Gus Dorais, University of Detroit coach who played with Rockne on Notre Dame's team back in 1913. Nothing will be done to select

Babe Ruth Uneasy On Eve Of Batting To Woman Pitcher

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 2.—(AP)—Babe Ruth is not at all in favor of women entering professional baseball, he said yesterday, admitting he was in a "tough place" in being slated to face Jack Mitchell, Chattanooga's successor for some time, however, probably not until the 1931 season is over.

About 5 feet 8½ inches tall and weighs 130 pounds," replied the reporter.

With this the 200-pound baseball star arose from the chair in which he had been lounging. "Well, I don't know what things are coming to," he concluded.

WAKE RIDDEN ARE A SLOWLY RECOVERING

 are placed at nearly 900,000. American surgeons and doctors from neighboring Central American countries are working in improvised operating rooms, saving the lives of thousands, fighting the danger of pestilence.

Food has come in, and blankets for thousands who must sleep in the open. The United States military hospital yesterday thought the work could recover and go on with the supplies which have arrived in the past two days.

Last night fires still blazed in the ruins, fanned by winds off the Gulf and the smoke-matters were falling in from the mountains brought down by the wind, who follow Augustino Sanjurjo, insurance, were preparing to take the prostrate city.

The survivors were not moved from their homes, but they have enough ammunition to fight off any attack, their officers said. Moreover, they said, they could scarcely believe the reports of an impending attack.

Half blinded by smoke and dust which rose in choking clouds from the fire powder of the adobe ruins, salvages groped through the streets today, searching for their own belongings and for members of their families who have not been reported.

The survivors kept up their gruesome task of lifting out the bodies which have lain under tons of dirt, wood and mortar.

Brown in mind by their awful experience, a handful of natives attempted a searching party yesterday, but the machine stood them off with fixed bayonets.

Once a machine who hesitated to follow the opponent wrestled with an assailant and lost his rifle. His comrades overpowered the man.

Down on the lake front, despairing natives sat all day on the rocks. In the hills hundreds of others were lying and sleeping without shelter. Along the roads out of town, stragglers walked toward Granada.

It seemed likely yesterday that the rest of the government might be saved to Granada, for a military building here were wrecked and all the state records burned or buried.

Evacuees are still too new to make accurate estimates of the number of victims, but Colonel Bradburn's figure is as close as any.

From San Juan on the 29th, there was a report that the number of dead had been estimated at 8000.

Hundreds have lain on the operating tables and it is certain that at least 8000 and probably more were injured.

Terrible as was the disaster itself, and bitter the necessity for burying the bodies of the dead in a yawning fissure opened by the quake on one of the nearby hills, the tents thrown up as surgical operating stations have housed even as harrowing.

Long lines of litters led to the operating tables. Working under terrific pressure, the surgeons performed 10 or more major operations yesterday, amputating crushed arms and legs, setting broken bones, mending internal injuries.

The more urgent cases came first, but dressing stations have been working night and day, handling less serious injuries and giving first aid.

The city is still under military rule and no one without a military permit is allowed in the streets after 7 p. m.

Death Victims in Ship Crash Are Brought Ashore fear she would sink at the dock.

The British aircraft carrier, ripped through the sea by the French steamer grinding wreckage passenger to death, mangled bodies, and twisting the framework of the ship into a tangled mass of steel and wood.

Victor Borrero, Uruguayan consul to Malaga, who was a passenger on the Florida gave the Associated Press a vivid account of the tragedy.

"I was looking from my cabin door at the time of the collision," he said. "It came so suddenly I was unable to get the Florida's Oiler's' bodies upon me out of the fog and struck us a tremendous blow with a terrible grinding noise."

The survivors were not moved from their homes, but they have enough ammunition to fight off any attack, their officers said. Moreover, they said, they could scarcely believe the reports of an impending attack.

Inventor Plans To Bring Big Portable Food Mill To City

 machine busy for many months.

"Making food in this way," said Eddy, "is to my mind the solution of the farmer in every section. There is no reason why he should have to go out of town to buy his feeds when he can make them on his own farm."

At the Sanford section the inventor is encouraged, and it is believed that Mr. Keom's plan will have wide approval.

The plan bears the resemblance of the largest hay and straw cutters in the market.

Eddy said that if ground, mixed and pooled this material in this section on them, it would be a great benefit to the farmer, as it would cover the ground and keep it from being washed away.

There is a machine within a few miles from Sanford, which will do the work, and Eddy said that he had seen it in operation.

He said that he had seen it in operation, and that he had seen it in operation, and that he had seen it in operation.

"SIR, DO TAKE MY LAST VANILLA WAFER" said the noble fellow.

This touching act of self-sacrifice shows how the practice of dunking brings out the best and highest traits of mankind.

Imagine giving your last Uneeda Bakers Vanilla Wafer to a stranger—and you just about to dunk it yourself! Unless you're a Dunketeer, it's no use even trying to understand such nobility, such generosity. Only one with the great unselfish heart of a true Dunketeer would sacrifice his own pleasure to help promote the art of dunking.

And so day by day, this old world moves on to Higher and Nobler Dunking.

For all the delights of cookies and crackers say the words "Uneeda Bakers" and remember the Red Seal.

PARTY HINTS

Here are two Easter games the children will enjoy. Pass around squares of white paper. Whisper to each child the name of an animal that he must tear out of his piece of paper. You should have a list of the children and the animal each one is to make. At the end of five minutes, collect the paper animals and spread on a table. Then everyone tries to guess the animal represented. Those with the best animals and those with most correct guesses win prizes—twigs of pussy willow or yellow daffodils to pin on her or his shoulder.

"Putting Humpty Dumpty together again" is an amusing Easter puzzle. Cut an "egg" about eight inches tall from yellow cardboard and draw a face with black crayon. Then cut "Humpty Dumpty" in rather large horizontal sections. Each child should receive some of the pieces, then carry
