SABIN CARR WILL TRY TO SHATTER VAULTING MARK

Yale Star Proposes To Boost Own Record Three Inches; Lloyd Hahn Will Endeavor To Break 880 Yard Record

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Mar. 3.—Sabin Carr, of Yale, the first man to see the world's Jack did from the top of his bean stalk, will add three inches to his week-old record of 14 feet, 1 inch in the pole vault. At least, the young man says he will try for the altitude in question and that just about settles it. One just can't watch this sky-writer on stilts without absorbing the idea that the old, college try in his case is tantamount to success.

The occasion will be the annual indoor track and field championships of the intercollegiate association and record attempts will be a commonplace. In addition to whatever the regular program may produce in this connection, Lloyd Hahn is advertised to make a special foray upon the world's indoor record for 880 yards, 154-3-5.

As a matter of fact, Hahn's actual race will be at 1,000 yards and, if his intentions are at all serious at this distance, he will pass the half mile post well outside record figures, those made by Eli Parsons, who ran very earnestly for exactly 880 yards and then stopped automatically and without solicitation. For more than 20 years, many other very earnest runners have been doing much the same without visible effect upon Parsons' record, so it may be assumed that it won't be bettered, merely as a casual circumstance, by a man who is occupied with the detail of running 120 yards further.

This matter may become a bit serious, not to say urgent, at this point, for they have lined up Olinde Proudlock, intercollegiate half mile champion; Pinkie Sobel, Sam Martin and Johnny Theobald as Hahn's opponents and all of them are fully capable of running the 1:50 for the half. However, Hahn may beat his own 1,000 yard mark; 2:12 4-5, which is official, which perhaps may Conger's 2:11, which is strictly unofficial.

Carr's proposed program, it seems, is to permit the boys to vault their way up to 12 feet. If they will join the party, they will break the record at 15 feet and his next attempt, then tie his former world's record at 11 feet and finally have the cross piece set at 11 feet 1 inch for his ultimate effort. Meanwhile, he will be adding 5 points to the score of dear, old Yale, but that is merely an incident.

Training Briefs

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 3.—(INS)—Miller Huggins announces that the veteran Joe Dugan will start the season at third base for the Yankees and that Gene Robertson, a fast infielder but a light hitter, will be switched to second base if Tony Lazzeri fails to report; Leo Durcher will be retained as utility infielder.

The pit manager takes little stock in Urban Shooker's announced retirement and says that the split-baller, with Hest, Pennick and Pippas, will make up his list of first-string pitchers. He plans to use Wiley Moore for relief work again and will carry two rookie twirlers, Henry Johnson and Al Shealy.

Red Reeder, famous West Point drop-kicker, is trying out at first base.

CLEARWATER, Fla., Mar. 3.—(INS)—Officials of the Brooklyn Club are reported to have consented to pay Danzy Vance, strikeout king, a salary of nearly $20,000 a year.

Manager Robinson gave all of his pitchers a long workout yesterday and was particularly impressed by the showing of Louis Koupal, former Pirate obtained from Indianapolis.

Roland Locke, famous Nebraska sprinter, has informed Robinson that he will not compete for a job in the Brooklyn outfield because he talks to inquire his amateur standing.

CATALINA ISLAND, Cal., Mar. 3.—(INS)—Manufacture of box scores will begin in the Cubs camp today. Manager Joe McCarthy has divided his squad into two teams for the purpose of staging regular ball games. The teams have been labeled "regulars" and "goofs." The line of classification was not strictly drawn, however, as some

Plans For Big Race Track Delayed By Kansas City Backers

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Mar. 3.—(INS)—Plans for a new million dollar horse racing plant, which was proposed to supplant the automobile speedway here, are being delayed until the promoters of the project know definitely the outcome of Missouri betting laws.

"Contributions on betting" was upheld by the state supreme court last year, following a test case in which H. J. Plotell, of St. Joseph, Mo., was the defendant. Several months later, the court granted a motion for rehearing of the case at the request of North T. Gentry, attorney-general. Recently Plotell died, causing the case to close automatically without a final decision in the matter. Consequently, Missouri at present, is without the legal sanction of betting at the race courses.

A number of racing interests in Missouri, it is understood, are planning a new test case before the supreme court, in an effort to have the betting laws firmly established before Spring.

Richard Will Lease Giants Home Grounds

NEW YORK, Mar. 3.—(INS)—Official announcement is expected to be made today that Tex Rickard, New York boxing promoter, has signed a one-year lease on the Polo Grounds, home of the New York Giants, for use of the National League baseball park as a site for outdoor boxing this summer.

Acquisition of the Polo Grounds will give Rickard a monopoly on New York's two big outdoor fight arenas, as he already holds lease on the Yankee Stadium, American League baseball park, for boxing bouts. When the Giants are playing at the Polo Grounds, Rickard will be able to move his boxing shows across the river to the Yankee Stadium.

Doctors State That Remus Is Now Sane

LIMA, Ohio, Mar. 1.—(INS)—Taking the stand as rebuttal witnesses for George Remus, four doctors—Shelby Mummaugh, A. C. Adams, P. I. Tussing and C. L. Steer—today reiterated their previous testimony that Remus is sane. They said they had observed Remus' reaction in court when he was "goaded" by Walter K. Sibbald, attorney for the state, and that his conduct strengthened their opinion he is sane.

Remus, in the present hearing before the court of appeals, is trying to obtain his freedom. He was sent to the Lima State Hospital for the criminal insane following his trial for the murder of his wife, Imogene, in Cincinnati, where a jury found him "not guilty on the sole ground of insanity."

regulars are in the go of lineup and vice versa.

SHREVEPORT La., Mar. 3.—(INS) In the first White Sox practice game of the season, the regulars or "big shots" beat the scrubs, alias "punks," 8 to 6. Chalmer Cis ell, the $125,000 shortstop incidently, was in the punks' lineup. He batted third and made one hit in three times up.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Mar. 3.—(INS)—The first practice game of the Phillies training camp grind is due today when the "Hunters" meet the "O'Rourke's" in the first of a series of games. Despite the fact the entire squad is not in camp yet manager Ben Shotton has decided the boys need to play ball so the squad is to be divided into two teams for a six or seven inning game. "Pinkie" Whitney, the new third baseman made his appearance in uniform yesterday and impressed both at the plate and at the bat. Billy Sunday, the famous evangelist was among yesterday's spectators.

PASO ROBLES, Cal., Mar. 3.—(INS)—Manager Donnie Bush will put his Pirate crew thru another day of batting and base running practice today, despite the apparent good condition of his squad. Bush said he will not start camp games before Tuesday. Much attention is being given to the showing of Adam Comorosky, now slated for a regular berth in the outfield. Comorosky has been doing some sensational playing in the training practice.

South's Tallest Building To Have Light and Airy Jail In Top Stories

Dade County Courthouse and Miami City Hall, Miami, Fla., Costing $3,500,000, and soon to be occupied as Office Building and jail.

If one must be naughty and get oneself locked up, it is quite likely that upon its completion in a few months the most attractive place to be locked up in will be the Dade County Courthouse and Miami City Hall. For here six of the top stories are to be devoted to a light and airy jail.

Listing twenty-seven stories with its beautiful light gray terra-cotta exterior, the building not only towers above its neighbors in other southern cities, but plans to attractively bring upon its completion in the Florida sun and to attract the attention of the thousands of winter visitors to that section of the state.

At the top of the pyramid will be placed a six-story jail, brightly lit and airy, and light visible for miles inland and at sea to be a permanent light for ships entering the port of Miami.

BLEEDING PILES

A man, 50 years of age, one of the oldest and best known residents of Winter Park, came to us complaining of bleeding piles that came down every time the bowels moved, severe constipation of long standing, headaches and a great deal of gas in the bowels. He had to get up four or five times during the night to evacuate the bowels. He also had high blood pressure and was quite anemic.

He was given non-surgical treatment for the hemorrhoids and constipation and also internal medication. He was given a special diet and told it would take several weeks to correct his condition. He was also referred to Doctor Ward of Winter Park for osteopathic treatment, which he needed.

Improvement in a man of his age was naturally slow but sure and permanent. When last seen, no hemorrhoids could be found, the headaches had disappeared, bowels were doing well, and he was much pleased with his general well-being. He was only having to get up once or twice in the night.

Anyone suffering from a like condition can obtain this gentleman's address. He would be glad to give them any information they may desire regarding his case. Dr. J. C. Howell, 15 years practice in Orlando. Specializing in non-surgical office treatment of stomach, bowel and renal diseases. 200 W. Gore Ave. Telephone 4325. You will be surprised how quickly you will get well without loss of time from business.

Bob Penman is running for legislature. At least he is an optimist.

Wonder if that cropper the other day will make the Prince of Wales jealous of Prince Henry?

Comments are having more trouble raising rents than the landlords ever had in raising them.

What's worrying Miami Life is the dollar a year they pay commissioners down there. It seems that that is too much.

Don't be too hard on the fellow who knocks. Remember there aren't many who ever get on the inside without knocking.

Harry Sinclair's troubles may be attributed to too many bonds, which, if we may be permitted to recall, also proved to be the undoing of others that we might mention.

This is Mardi Gras day in New Orleans. Mayor Walker of New York will be there. His visit, however, has no political significance.

Bob Holly says the political meetings will get under way soon. They will be one held in each precinct, with a big barbecue, furnished by the candidate, scheduled for Chulovita. We are awaiting the talk-fests with eager anticipation to hear some of these office seekers "spoon" will be a treat.

Sanford has a good high school basketball team, but Leebing has a better one, which says a lot for the "Great Future" night.

At the Sanford team made a splendid showing in the district tournament and as a reward for its efforts will have the opportunity to participate in the state meeting this week in Gainesville.

The Catts' Eluder

During the last gubernatorial campaign newspapers throughout the state, almost unanimous in their opposition to the Catts' candidacy, adopted the policy of ignoring his tactics as he moved about from place to place. The result was, as everyone recalls, almost disastrous to Florida.

Many persons familiar with Catts' record while chief executive began to look about for a reason why a politician, so utterly corrupt and inefficient, could hoodwink the people into very nearly electing him.

This year a little different plan is being pursued. The newspapers are covering the Catts' campaign. When he speaks in Miami what he says is put in the newspapers.

In this way it has leaked out that recently while in Miami the Baptist preacher and former governor made the statement that if he were elected governor the dogs could run again and that he would adopt a "broad-minded" attitude toward gambling in this state.

When confronted with this statement of his by some West Florida voters who read it in the papers, Mr. Catts spluttered and fumed and finally declared that Miami and the East Coast had to have gambling and racing to attract and hold the tourists.

But here again Mr. Catts forgot that West Florida people read the papers. West Florida people, as well as those all over the state, know that Miami is entertaining more tourists this winter than ever before in its history.

Mr. Catts is making a mistake in assuming that the people don't know anything, but most Floridians will rejoice that he is doing just that.

Mr. Untermeyer's Indictment

An arraignment of the American legal profession for its decline from a high estate to a money-making trade, was recently made by Samuel Untermeyer, distinguished New York attorney, in an address before the Brooklyn Law School.

1. "That we lawyers are not really respected or progressive. We lack initiative. We cling to precedent and are paralyzed by fear at the thought of a radical departure from the beaten path."

2. "We are prolific talkers and poor performers. Day and timid in action."

3. "The profession of the law has abdicated its high estate and noble ideals and has degenerated into a money-making trade. Advocacy has become a lost art."

4. "We are so engrossed in the money struggle that there is no time for public service. If the great physician were to give as small a fraction of his time and talents to public service and charity work as the great lawyer, he would be an outcast from his profession."

"If the practice of law," the Columbus Enquirer-Sun notes, "has not in at least some cases degenerated into a money-making trade, then it is not easy to understand certain recent performances by members of the bar."

The Georgia paper refers to the trials of Fall, Doheny and Sinclair and opines that no doubt attorneys for the defense were given enormous fees to obstruct and defeat justice, and declares further that if they have "won honor for themselves or rendered a public service, those terms do not mean what they used to mean."

We think one of the principal causes for the conditions, which Mr. Untermeyer points out, is due to the fact that too many irresponsible and half-trained men have become members of the legal profession.

They have been sent out by schools everywhere before they were capable of being lawyers. We are inclined to believe that if law college requirements were increased and more strictly enforced, the situation would be bettered materially.

FLORIDA'S POSITION

ST. AUGUSTINE RECORD

During 1925 there were 1113 Florida corporations, that reported aggregate incomes of $78,223,270, according to the preliminary income statistics for that year made public by the United States Bureau of Internal Revenue.

States with larger populations than Florida, but with smaller corporation earnings include Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nebraska, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Washington and West Virginia.

Florida will always be economically sound, intrinsically valuable and financially prosperous, because it has for its back country the greater part of the United States.

Florida's wealth does not have to be created within its boundaries and wholly out of its own resources. Its God-given climate brings the wealth of other states to Florida for investment, to be put in circulation.

HONESTY AND LAW OBSERVANCE

ORLANDO REPORTER-STAR

Two timely subjects were discussed before the Orlando Rotary Club at the Monday luncheon Wednesday.

One of the qualifications for membership in a Rotary Club is that the personal credit of the candidate is good.

The other subject discussed was law observance and the discussion was by Judge Tilden, who by education and experience is qualified to discuss this subject intelligently.

When individuals who claim themselves to be law-abiding citizens make it their business to observe the law, the mission of enforcement is not so much to punish as to educate.

New Ladies' Shop Is Opened On Saturday

The latest acquisition to the business life of Sanford is "Sadye's Specialty Shop" which held its formal opening on Saturday in the location formerly occupied by the Baumel Specialty Shop. The shop is most attractive, having been re-decorated and re-painted in the colors of green and gold. Quaint draperies harmonizing with the color scheme also add a most pleasing effect. On this occasion, numerous baskets filled with golden calendulas, pink and white snap dragons were placed about the shop adding a springlike touch.

Mrs. Baumel has recently returned from New York where she purchased a most complete line of ladies ready to wear, millinery and accessories. Among the models displayed were bright colored printed smart ensembles, hand-made afternoon and sport frocks. One and two piece flannel, and linen sport costumes were also much admired. A very attractive display of lingerie in silk crepe, georgette and satin was arranged. A number of kiddie frocks of pastel shaded georgettes with taffeta trimmings as well as the ever popular printed were shown for children of all ages.

A varied assortment of hats both large and small and suitable for all occasions are shown in a wide range of colors.

Music was furnished throughout the afternoon arranged by the Sanford Music Shop, and favors of large balls of candied pop corn in green wrappings were given. A large crowd not only of local people but from neighboring cities attended this opening.

An abundance of calendulas and other lovely spring blossoms were used in profusion about the rooms where the card tables had been spread for play. The bridge accessories were in keeping with the decorations and after the usual number of progressions had been played, scores were counted and the prize for top score, an embroidered guest towel went to Mrs. Braxton B. Baggett.

Refreshments of fruit salad, salamis, nut bread, sandwiches and coffee were served following the bridge game by the hostess.

"Beau Sabreur" Is Desert Story Of Adventure, Romance and Thrills

A year or so ago, Paramount brought forth a picture production called "Beau Sabreur," the story of the Foreign Legion and brotherly love, and at that time it was acclaimed.

Now comes another, a companion to the former and one containing more thrills, more heart interest and an occasional mingling of laughs. It is called "Beau Sabreur," and was written by the celebrated Percival C. Wren, whose "Wages of Virtue" and "Beau Geste" have made his works the best sellers in bookstores.

"Beau Sabreur" comes to the Milane Theatre today.

"Beau Sabreur" tells the story of a young French officer Major Henri de Beaujolais, who vows to his uncle that he will live and die for France and forget that such things as women exist. Then he becomes mixed up in a series of desert battles, in which he has his work cut out so that France may triumph. He has been introduced to a beautiful American girl, Mary Vanbrugh, and she, to save her own life, joins his party. Henri is racing toward the Great Oasis to obtain the signature of Sheikh El Hanel on a treaty, and he falls in his mission, the sheikh casting covetous eyes on the girl. But she learns the sheikh's secret, and has the treaty signed. Henri is torn between his vow giving his love to France, and his love for the girl. It is a ticklish position for a man to be in—but he makes good on both.

Gary Cooper plays "Beau Sabreur," the beautiful swordsman. Paramount could not have found a better lead than Cooper. He is handsome and virile and fairly lives the role. Evelyn Brent is the girl. The others in the powerful cast are William Powell, Noah Beery, Arnold Kent, Mitchell Lewis, Louise Knapp, Joan Standing, Frank Reicher, Oscar Smith and Raoul Paoli.

"Beau Sabreur" was directed by John Waters, under the supervision of Milton E. Hoffman. The way they have staged the spectacular battle scenes is amazing. J. Roy Hunt photographed.

It is sometimes hard to tell whether the United States is mixed up in Latin-American affairs or just mixed up—Virginia-Pilot.

CHINA'S LACK OF ECONOMIC SENSE CAUSES POVERTY

Overpopulation As Reason For Nation's Backwardness Discarded In Opinion Of Sir Kenneth Stewart, Britisher

LONDON, Mar. 5.—(INS)—An incredible lack of economic sense and not overpopulation, as is generally believed, is the chief cause of China's backwardness and poverty, in the opinion of Sir Kenneth D. Stewart, who served as British delegate to the International Conference on the Revision of Chinese Tariff Laws in 1925-1926.

This explanation of present conditions in China was offered by Sir Kenneth during the course of a recent lecture at the University of Manchester.

"China is a country of boundless resources," Sir Kenneth declared, "its people are intelligent, hardworking and adaptable, and yet the country is just one jump ahead of starvation the while time.

"If $75 a year were taken as the lowest amount on which a Chinese family of five could exist, then more than half of the and four-fifths of the people of the northern provinces, and the northerly provinces, are below that poverty line.

"According to investigations carried out by the Nanking University, there have been 1,828 families in China in the last 2,000,000 years. This is a remarkable state of affairs in a country with such natural riches, and among a people capable of a high state of civilization.

"Overpopulation is said to be the great cause, but I think that it is exaggerated. More important, in my opinion, is the fact that the people are altogether without any economic sense, and almost completely without any idea that things could be bettered by altering their internal arrangements.

"Transport is incredibly slow, the maximum rate being about 25 miles a day. There are only 7,000 miles of railway, and all sorts of tolls and similar barriers as impediments to trade.

"The Chinese people have learned little or nothing from the great foreign commercial and industrial interests which have been built up in their country. They still believe that to send any commodity out of the country, even in the way of trade, is nothing but robbery of their native land.

"China produces wonderful silk, and grows the finest tea in the world, but the possibilities of trade in these articles are woefully neglected.

"Sir Kenneth said there was much room for hope for Chinese improvement.

"A few Chinese are learning," he said in conclusion, "how they might turn their magnificent country into the wealthy land it might easily be."

Russian Peasants Stage Lynching Of Three Holdup Men

MOSCOW, Mar. 5.—(INS)—What is called the most savage lynching in recent years was perpetrated virtually at the gates of Moscow by 50 irate peasants who literally tore to pieces three bandits who attempted to hold up and raid all of the shops in a village. Twelve participants in the affair were arrested and sentenced in terms of from two to five years in prison against the protests of the community.

The bandits had engineered more than 10 successful robberies in the neighborhood. The inhabitants were having for them two weeks when they suddenly savaged down on the village in broad daylight, seized a farmer's home and wagon and proceeded to hold up the bank. An alarm was given, and the bandits fled in the wagon.

A horde of madly enraged peasants gave chase, with clubs and iron bars, overtook the bandits' conveyance in the face of a hail of bullets, and clubbed them until unconscious. Not content with gouging out the bandits' eyes and ripping off their ears, the lynchers tore off their arms and legs, and threw the remains into a ditch.

In a triumphal procession they marched back to town, a half dozen victims of the robberies in the lead with shreds of the bandits' clothing waving at the ends of clubs and iron bars. Twenty were arrested the following day, but convict ones were obtained in only 12 cases.

Special Dry Force Goes To Coal Area

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—(INS)—Special agents from the prohibition enforcement bureau will be dispatched immediately to the western Pennsylvania coal fields to conduct a thorough investigation of liquor law enforcement conditions there, Prohibition Commissioner Moran announced today.

Doran said that the Administrator John Pennington, has heretofore concentrated his efforts on wholesalers, and paid little attention to retailers of liquor in the Pennsylvania coal fields.

Black Gold, Famous Horse That Won Kentucky Derby, Has Pathetic End On Oval

PAWHUSKA, Oklahoma, Mar. 5.—(INS)—Black Gold, one of the greatest race horses the world ever has known—a freak who absorbed human love with his ate, and returned his owners a stream of dollars as great as comes from any of the oil wells washing the liquid for which he was named—was the product of a peculiar wish, and prophecy made by an old-time jockey on his death-bed.

Al Hoots, in his early days a jockey, married an Osage Indian woman; a blanket Indian of three-quarts blood. But they really loved each other, according to testimony of numerous acquaintances in this city, for they were married in the days before the Osages became the richest tribe in the world.

Hoots owned one horse, a mare named "Useit," which had earned for its master a number of tidy purses on Texas tracks. He was a bluff type of fellow, but was known in the sport world as an honest lover of horses. In 1919, Hoots took his prize-winner to Ta Juana, and entered her in a claiming race. Useit was an easy winner over the field, but was taken from Hoots, as is customary in "claiming" races; and sold to two Mexicans. Hoots afterwards swore that he did not realize the race was of the "claiming" variety.

Heartbroken, the jockey parted with the Mexicans for the return of the horse, but they refused to hear him. In the dead of night following the race, and with two big "six-guns" strapped to his hips, Hoots raided the barn where Useit was stabled; took her across the International bridge into the United States, and by easy stages brought her to the race track near Pawhuska. Not for several months did he realize his predicament, for when he tried to run the mare again, he learned that she was barred from every track in America, Mexico and Canada.

Hoots died soon after, and mourning to the theory that his passing resulted from a broken heart. As he lay on his death bed, Hoots called to his Indian wife, and in parting, said:

"If you love me, do just as I say. Take Useit to Kentucky. Breed her to Black Tony. From the offspring, and win the Kentucky derby. You can do it!"

The woman promised, and with faithfulness has kept her word.

Hoots left little money, but his widow managed to raise enough to carry on her promise.

The offspring of Useit and Black Tony was a scrabby little black colt, looked at by experts and hawked by no one, save his owner. When came Hanley Webb, a Cherokee Indian trainer, he had a vision and stayed with the colt through thick and thin. The little horse was named "Black Gold" for it was at the time of the oil boom days, and on the land given Mrs. Hoots by the Indian allotment, sufficient oil was found to insure the thorough training of the colt.

Black Gold was put into training as soon as his baby legs would hold him, and in 1922 was taken to New Orleans for the winter meeting.

Owners fawned on the scrabby racer from "the sticks," but Webb continued to pet and care for his black baby. Finally, as a two-year-old, A. J. Calkins, a professional trainer, and placed in service; others to win a total of $19,000 in races of the year old.

"I took the mare to the Osage J. C. and C. S. Spring, and she refused to race with any man, save her boy, the son of the derby, which paid Mrs. Hoots $17,500. In this race, the colt so far outdistanced his competitors that he had only to gallop the last four furlongs.

The following year came the "big break" and the horse won more than $100,000 for his owner, who followed him always, until Long her Indian tepee on the race course and watching over him as anxiously as his trainer and jockey, J. A. Money, the jockey and Webb always slept in a stall beside Black Gold.

After eighteen months on a farm, which is a claim made his bones soft, he was taken to New Orleans for his last great race.

He was limping when he went to the post, but in the running was well up, being but three lengths behind the leader, when his left foreleg snapped at the 16th of the mile. He stumbled but never fell. Into the stretch other horses, leading Black Gold's ponderous, full-powered and fearless spirit carried him on, until he fell at the five, within only a few feet of the finish. The jockey slid off gently, and with long hands lifted the poor suffering warrior off the track. A veterinary apponment to put Black Gold out of his misery.

At Hoots had said "Take a home for the dogs that tracked on." And Black Gold had made good.

Shrubs, flowers and an American flag mark the horse's grave. In the oval where he ran, his last race. Soon a marble shaft will be erected there.

BRITISH CRITICIZE AMERICAN PLANS FOR IMMIGRATION

Critics Look Upon Watson Bill as Direct Challenge To Policy Of Britain In Promoting Immigration Within Empire

LONDON, Mar. 5.—(INS)—Each British critic of United States policies, prepared to see in the new Watson immigration bill which has the support of Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, a direct challenge to the British policy of promoting immigration within the Empire.

America's efforts to limit immigration on to persons of more than average intelligence are interpreted as a sinister move to tempt the best brains of Britain to settle in the United States rather than in Canada, Australia or South Africa.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express, ever critical of American motives, admits that the Watson Bill is probably inspired by "a genuinely humanitarian desire" to improve the immigration laws and to do away with the scandals and brutalities involved in the forced separation of men from their families.

"In the cross currents of American politics," says a Daily Express leader, "sentiment and a decent respect for the opinions of mankind are never after their absence. But, as in this case, they are usually glibly at the same time with a shrewd self interest."

"Washington realizes that the future of America depends on her building up among her medley of people strong reserves of British, Irish and German stock. They are the immigrants who create, where law abiding, who bring strength and stability to the commonwealth."

"That why a preferential immigration tariff is instituted to welcome and encourage them, America want and is bidding for the best of our folk, the men of brains and industry, and killed industrial attitudes, to supply her own human deficiencies."

"This is a direct challenge to the whole movement for promoting immigration within the Empire. Every family that leaves Britain for a non-British country is a definite loss to the Empire."

Incidentally the Daily Express blames Premier Baldwin and Ministers of Colonies, America, both recently returned from trips to Canada, for not devising effective means for filling the empty spaces of Canada and the Empire "from the surplus population of this island."

Plan For Reducing London Bank Rate On Trial For Deferring To April

LONDON, Mar. 5.—(INS)—The recent rise in the New York rate of discount broke all hopes of a reduction of the British Bank rate for some time to come.

The immediate effect in London of the rise in New York was a fall in the sterling-dollar exchange from 187 3/16 to 186 7/8.

It is now regarded as probable that any movements here will be deferred to April, when the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Winston Churchill is expected to make an announcement that the Treasury and Bank of England rate issues are to be amalgamated.

Preparatory to this announcement the Bank of England hoped to obtain some gold to supplement its reserves and the Governor will not enlarge this prospect by making money cheaper in London.

In the interests of industry, which needs the cheaper money it is to be expected that hopes in this respect are once more to be disappointed, but the trend of events in America are unmistakable and cannot be altered.

The rise in the Federal Reserve rate, will, of course, entail a reduction of rates in London in order to retain the American balances at present employed here, but, so far, the market has not adjusted itself to the new conditions.

Mrs. Helen Lawrence, who has posed as Chisholm's wife, was executed completely in the man's confession, but is being held for further questioning.

The woman admitted that she had complained on numerous occasions about Chisholm's youngsters and the cost of their upkeep, but that she never dreamed he was contemplating any such crime.

Chisholm said he would plead guilty and ask for the death penalty hoping it would be executed promptly.

Oxford's Students Receive Permission To Practice Flying

OXFORD, Eng., March 5.—(INS)—Undergraduate flying, long prohibited by the authorities of Oxford University, has now been agreed to under adequate safeguards, and flying is in full swing on an improved field twelve miles north of the University grounds.

Three planes have been provided by the Air Ministry for the use of the Oxford University Air Squadron, and the arrangements provide for the instruction of ten undergraduate members a day.

which in the opinion of the sheriff reveals the motive for the crime.

"Velma's intense desire to break the shackles of married life and get away from her husband to do what she wished was the motive for the slaying," said the sheriff, who had just grilled Miss Young at length and who three months ago exacted the confession from Velma that she had killed her husband "in a blind rage". The sheriff, who has taken the leading part in digging up evidence against Velma, declared that a warm friendship existed between Velma and Michel since last July.

It was at Miss Young's home in Cleveland, that Velma dashed in her green tanager immediately after she had battered her husband to death in the bedroom of their home in Perry. It was a 35 mile run from Perry to Cleveland. The murder was committed at about six P. M., on the evening of December 6 last and that night Velma played bridge at Miss Young's home at an all-girl party, comprising mostly high school graduates.

When Skirts Were Long A College Education With Side Trips Cost Two Dollars A Week

Oldest Women's College Approaches Seventy-Fifth Anniversary

THESE fifty Elmira College girls of sixty years ago were "unhappy" at Niagara Falls on a tour personally conducted by the late President A. W. Cowles.

During vacation days the education of the college girls would be broadened by sight seeing trips. This two weeks tour of the great lakes cost each girl a sum total of thirty dollars. Those who stayed at college were provided with board, room, and entertainment for two dollars per week. Those were the days!

If you were born one hundred years ago, there would have been some you attached to years of disaffection—only the women's college a girl could attend. That is why only one college of scholastic standing equivalent to that of the men's colleges.

Elmira College founded seventy-five years ago, and Vasor founded two years later, were the pioneers in providing a collegiate education for young women.

If you were born nearly a century ago and had your wish a college education you would have gone to Elmira.

If you were a dutiful and obedient student you would have observed the following rules and regulations taken from the first annual catalogue of this oldest women's college:

"Freshments are not to be present or absent in private rooms, and it will be regarded as an impertinence desiring of special attention for young ladies to meet in companies in such 'private' rooms for purposes of festivity. The faculty and students will meet on study at least once in two weeks, and spend an evening in reading or reciting selections of poetry in regard with vocal and instrumental music, and general conversation."

"Students were expected to bring with them a spoon, an ink-bottle, a pen, a dictionary, an abridgement and a copy of the common law. The list was required to furnish complete sets of sheets and paper cases. The women would provide the oil, and the necessary for the common use."

"Dark material, usually pattern, in all cases to be suspended from the shoulder by a loosely fitting underwaist to which the dress should also be attached. The waist is essential for warmth, but in length of shoulder, size of belt and arm hole, should correspond with the waist of the undergarment."

"The girls of half a century ago were soothed to visit any of the colleges in the States, except in case of special necessity, and when they returned to New York they all carried with them some letters of recommendation from their former professors, and on their return to Elmira they were required to present the same to the trustees of the college."

"Drawers—Turkish, full drawn in with an elastic band at the bottom, falling over a 'Zouzer' some length from the neck as the dress."

"Trimming—In order to secure uniformity, the trimmings should be Gilbert's opera dress, scarlet, in hair band six inches wide, four inches from the edge of the skirt, a lead two inches wide, one inch from the bottom of the above; a belt two inches in width; buttons, steel, three-fourths of an inch in diameter."

A Colonial Dinner

IN honor of George Washington
let us plan a Colonial dinner.
To be sure, we cannot attempt to reproduce actually a dinner of Washington's time, but we can try to introduce into our modern version of the Colonial dinner some of the favorite dishes of the father of his country and also some of the spirit of hospitality for which his household was noted.

For the Colonial Dinner Table
The Colonial dinner table should be of polished mahogany, with shining glass and silver reflected in the candle light. If possible, let us duplicate this scene. In any event, the table should be set carefully with the best silver and linen.
For decorations, white candles in silver candlesticks, with perhaps a simple fruit or flower centerpiece are appropriate. The dishes of apples and jellies and pickles which always on the table in Colonial days can be made to serve as part of the decorative scheme. Tall comports of silver or glass holding the clear jellies, preserves or sandwiches may be placed at either side of the centerpiece. The dishes or pickles of various kinds should be so arranged as to add to the appearance of the table without interfering with it.

Favorite Feast Dishes
Though we may not conform to modern dietary habits, we should at least keep the main dishes from the days of our colonial days.
Scalloped oysters and baked ham were both great favorites.
They may both be included in our dinner just as they were in Washington's without at all offending our modern idea of good taste in food combination. Particularly if we should want to make these birthdays of a better supper instead of a better world, the oyster dish and the scalloped oysters are the most appropriate.
The great success of these dishes can be seen in the fact that their preparation is simple and their cost is low.
These dishes are the best in our Colonial days. They have been served at the table of the President and are still served at the table of the President.

Plan To Ban Gambling Upon Cotton Futures Is To Be Debated At Meet

RALEIGH, N. C., March 3.—
The National Cotton Exchange will meet in Raleigh today to debate a plan to ban gambling upon cotton futures.

An attempt was being made to have the delegates endorse the proposal, which urges passage of the bill introduced in Congress recently by Rep. C. R. Hudson of Texas, designed to ban cotton futures gambling.

The Hudson bill provides a fine of from $1,000 to $5,000 and imprisonment not exceeding two years for violation of its provisions. The bill would make it unlawful for any person, corporation or association of persons to sell any contract for future delivery of any cotton within the United States, unless such seller is actually the legitimate owner of the cotton so contracted or future delivery at the time said sale or contract of sale is made.

Questions Discussed

The curbing of the cotton gambling practice, the planning of a cotton reserve reduction campaign, and the combating of current price speculation, the South will be the larger crop, the price of cotton last year, which is particularly hampered by the current depression will be the main items to be considered at the conference, it was stated.

Governor McLean of North Carolina, Governor Graves of Alabama, Governor Johnston of Oklahoma, Governor Simpson of Louisiana, Governor Harden of Georgia, and Governor Babson of Mississippi already have pledged their support to the plan of the Texas governor, and have appointed delegates from their state to attend the conference.

Broadcasting Blamed For English Weather

MAYTICK, Eng. Mar. 3.—(INS)
—In the belief that radio broadcasting is responsible for the prevalence of bad weather in England at the present time, British spas propose a petition to the Government to forbid broadcasting for a month to test the effect of radio in the weather.

There is an increasing conviction that the bad weather commenced throughout Britain during 1927 and up until the present time has been due to radio broadcasting.

It is pointed out that the early forecasting of a mainly fine but that once the general radio program was started, the weather broke, and it becomes worse as the day goes on and grows and more precipitation are forecast.

WALL PAPER MAKES THE LITTLE GIRL'S ROOM CHARMING

By Louise Fillebrown

rather large floral pattern in soft yellow and green on a pale green and cream stripe background. It was cherished yet softly colored and the suggestion of gaiety and youth it gave to the background of the room was a full keeping with the personality of its young mistress. The hangings were striped silk in the same soft color but the bedspread with its crisp coral and the dressing table lamp shades were a simple rose lawn. Colonial rings on the floor and green painted furniture complete the picture. The furniture was an old ivory set but the fresh paint in the daiquiri color quite transformed it.

The elements of expense were slight but the soft colors of the materials and the scattered colorful flowers on the walls, gave the whole room a charm that the young daughter of the house fully appreciated though she could not explain its origin. Her room was her joy and pride and it was carefully careful and exhibited.

WE don't misuse dainty new belongings and the wise mother who is trying to instill habits of careful housekeeping and dainty cleanliness into the busy mind of her high school daughter will find a room of her own, carefully and charmingly furnished will help her to set a good example. A young girl is proud of its appearance and wants to use it as a place to entertain the other girls whose active criticisms she knows and respects. It will be their meeting place if she likes it. They will never enter it and she will utterly neglect it if she doesn't.

A young girl's bedroom is an easy place to decorate attractively. In the illustration, simple materials have been used, but their color and form have been carefully studied so the effect is charming. The wall paper was chosen for the chief element of design — a
