Electric Company, founded by Meyers in Dayton, while the general held a high post in Air Force purchasing during the war.
The arraignment of Meyers required only a few minutes. The bald, 52-year-old retired officer arrived early in Judge Pine's court and waited while several "routine" criminal cases were handled.
He stepped forward briskly when his name was called and the clerk asked him how he wished to plead on each of two indictments.
"Not guilty," he said in a firm voice.
Judge Pine then pointed out that a $2,000 bond posted by Meyers in New York covered only one of the two indictments and said bond would have to be posted on the other indictment.
District Attorney George Morris Fay said it would be satisfactory to have the present bond stand, with $1,000 shifted to the second indictment.

In 1939 and '41 Mr. Chase was president of the Florida Citrus Exchange, and was also a director of the Growers and Shippers League of Florida. In this capacity and throughout his long life he devoted much of his energies and financial resources to the fight for lower freight rates and better transportation for Florida growers and shippers and frequently attended many of the hearings in Washington where he at times battled almost single-handed for better rates.
Survivors include his wife, Mary Justice Chase; one daughter, Mrs. R. C. Lashley of East Windsor Hill, Conn.; five grandchildren; Ralph Chase, Celia Chase, Joahna Coffin Chase, Benjamin Chase, Abigail Chase; two stepsons, Capt. William J. Lee, USN Ret., of Washington, D. land. He said that all the injured appeared to be in serious condition. They were transferred to the Coast Guard cutter Aurora which started for Savannah.
The crash occurred in the thick marshland about three miles off the Wilmington Island airport. The three-lane ship was practically demolished.
The CAA said from reports it had received the plane apparently pancaked into a landing in the almost impenetrable marshland and then broke up. To air observers the part of the fuselage from the door to the tail appeared intact, but the forward part of the plane was scattered over several parts.
A Coast Guard cutter with first aid equipment and Red Cross personnel left for the scene which is about three miles off the Wilmington Island airport. Members of the cutter crew reported they were having difficulty reaching the wrecked plane due to the thick marshland.
In Miami, Edwin Richardson, a Coastal Airlines pilot, said the ship was one of two, the company operates in chartered freight and passenger service. He said he believed Alvin Antonelli, the line's chief pilot, was at the controls.

WEST PALM BEACH, Jan. 7 (AP)—A marine biologist of the State Presh Water Game and Fish Commission, said today thousands of fish that died in Lake Okechobee in the last two weeks "probably caught a cold."

Tax Cut

leave corporation taxes unchanged.

Mr. Truman's 5,000-word message to a joint session of the two chambers also called for:

1. Enactment of the 10-point anti-inflation program he submitted to the recent special session, including standby wage-price control and rationing authority. The bulk of this program was turned down by the Republican leadership.
2. Prompt congressional approval of an initial expenditure of $6,800,000,000 to finance the European recovery program -- the Marshall Plan -- for 15 months from next April 1 as a "decisive contribution to world peace."

3. Quick action to set up a program of universal training as the foundation of a National Security Program, and maintenance of strong armed forces as long as "there remains serious opposition to the ideals of a peaceful world."

4. An increase in the minimum wage from 40 to 75 cents an hour.

5. Extension and strengthening of rent controls which are due to expire Feb. 29.

6. Broadened social security coverage and increased benefit payments.

7. Legislation to protect the self-employment individual.

8. A National Health Program financed by compulsory insurance.

In a message certain to be quoted frequently by Democratic voters in the coming national election campaign, Mr. Truman said he wants to keep revenue collections where they are and still help those who need relief to "buy the necessities of life."

Asserting that corporate profits reached the "extraordinary high levels" of $12,500,000,000 in 1946 and $17,000,000,000 in 1947, the Chief Executive said it was proper to shift "a large share of the load" to big businesses.

"They can well afford" to carry it, he declared.

The proposed individual tax credit would date back to Jan. 1. The President left for future explanation how the increased levels he proposed on corporate profits would operate and gave no details of a suggested "appropriate adjustment for small corporations."

Mr. Truman coupled American economic aid under the proposed European Recovery Plan with armed might as equal necessities in keeping peace.

He said the $400,000,000 assistance program voted last year for Greece and Turkey enabled them to preserve their integrity "against foreign pressures." The President did not mention Soviet Russia or Soviet-dominated countries by name, but said without this help the result might have been radically different.

Continued preservation of Greek and Turkish integrity, he said, "will have a powerful effect" upon other nations of the Middle East and Europe "struggling to maintain their independence."

His remarks were carried abroad as well as to the nation by radio.

The President gave no clue to the size of the proposed budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1. The budget estimates will be sent to Congress Monday.

However, he declared that "government expenditures have been and must continue to be held to the lowest safe levels."

He said expenditures have been cut from more than $33,000,000,000 in the 1946 fiscal year to less than $38,000,000,000 in the current fiscal year ending next June 30, while the number of civilian federal employes has been reduced from 3,750,000 to 2,000,000.

Reaffirming his belief in the "soundness and promise" of the plan to help Europe restore its economy, the President declared that "the ability of free men to overcome hunger and despair will be a moral stimulus to the entire world."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—Here, briefly, are President Truman's recommendations on major issues in the State-of-the-Union message today:

Taxes
Corporate taxes $2,200,000,000 by granting a reduction of $40 for each individual taxpayer and for each of the taxpayer's dependents. This "cost of living tax credit" would be made up by increasing corporation taxes proportionately. After inflation dangers are passed, taxes should be reduced through a revision of the entire tax structure.

Foreign Aid
Congress should promptly authorize an outlay of $6,800,000,000 to start the Marshall Plan for European recovery next April 1 and carry it on for the ensuing 15 months. He described this as an "initial amount" and one that would be a "decisive contribution to world peace."

Anti-Inflation
We must deal effectively and at once with the high cost of living. Immediate enactment of the full 10-point Anti-Inflation Program he proposed to the special session is "essential."

Rents and Housing
Until the housing shortage is licked rent control expiring Feb. 29 must be extended and strengthened. Ultimately, "we must see that every American family has a decent home." An "immediate step should be a long-range housing program, including public housing for low-income people or land of birth. He will send Congress special recommendations on this subject. In the meantime, as part of a civil rights program, statehood should be granted to Alaska and Hawaii.

Military Training
Congress should provide for universal training at "an early date" as the foundation for entire defense program. The action is "of world importance" and "vital" to the nation's security and leadership.

Health and Security
Unemployment compensation, old age benefits and survivors benefits should be increased and extended to "millions who are not now protected." A national health program, keyed to a system of prepaid medical care, is also necessary.

Civil Rights
"Effective federal action" is necessary to combat discrimination based on race, creed, color,

United Nations Leader Raises Security Issue

Trygve Lie Says He Has Discussed Problem With Members Of His Staff Only

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 8 (AP)—Trygve Lie, Secretary-General of the United Nations, said today he would raise the question of a Palestine security force at the opening meeting of the UN's five-nation Palestine Partition Commission here tomorrow at 11 A. M. (EST).

Lie told his weekly news conference he had discussed the Palestine security question with members of his staff but he denied published reports that he had conferred with any member nations on the need for such a force.

Asked whether he was convinced that a security force was needed to restore law and order in the Holy Land during the period ending Oct. 1, when Jewish countries are scheduled to be established, Lie said:

"I will say something on this to the commission tomorrow." Lie said he was working today on the text of his opening remarks.

There were reports that he would issue a stern warning to delegates of the difficulties and problems ahead, along with a special plea for action to overcome opposition and violence if possible.

Members of the commission are Dr. Karel Liskicky of Czechoslovakia, Raul Diez de Medina of Bolivia, Per Federspiel of Denmark, Dr. Eduardo Maron of Panama, and Vincent J. Krausnick of the Philippines. Liskicky represented his country on the special assembly committee (UNSCOP) which went into the Holy Land last summer and laid the basis for the partition plan.

The commission's first major decision on Feb. 14th.

Kaiser Demands Open Hearings On Steel Rationing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser, west coast industrialist, today demanded "goldfish bowl" hearings on any plan for voluntary rationing of steel in order to insure that small business and new manufacturers will not be "starved to death."

He urged the steel industry to create an impartial anti-inflation commission charged with policing a voluntary agreement by industrialists to "distribute their products fairly among all customers at reasonable prices."

Otherwise, Kaiser asserted in a statement prepared for a meeting (10 A. M. EST) of top steel executives with Secretary of Commerce Harriman, "allocations have the danger of crushing the little fellows in new enterprises."

The conference was due to discuss allocation of steel under the (Continued on Page 14)

Celery Planting Is Increased 14 Percent In Local Farm Areas

Celery plantings in the Sanford-Seminole-Oviedo sector are approximately 14 percent greater than last year with a 345 acre increase over the 2,538 acres reported planted here, Dec. 31, 1946, according to estimates by local shippers.

Total estimated vegetable acreage in Seminole County is 4,381 acres, an 803 acre increase or 23 percent over the 3,578 acres estimate of December, 1946.

Cabbage plantings also show an increase. The 959 total acreage here is 345 acres more than last year at this time. Five acres of romaine are listed; but none was planted at this time last year.

There is a trend back to Boston lettuce with 22 acres planted as compared to only three last season. Iceberg lettuce plantings, on the other hand, have declined from 23 to 32 acres, and cauliflower from 10 to 12 acres.

Wendy Interviewed By Betty Crocker

Wendy Barrie, screen and radio actress, today was interviewed by Betty Crocker in a program heard locally over station WJHO, Orlando, and told of the benefits conferred upon her by traffic policemen in crossing crowded New York thoroughfares due to the Deputy Sheriff's badge presented to her by Sheriff P. A. Mero of Seminole County.

The badge referred to is one loaned her by the Sheriff's office until the one with her name on it arrives from the manufacturer, said Sheriff Mero this morning.

Sanford was mentioned twice during the interview by Wendy Barrie, who told of her early life in China, of how in England, Alexander Korda, director, spotted her in a restaurant and chose her for a screen role in "Henry the Eighth," of her later movie career and of recordings she has made for children.

Blood Donors Needed

An appeal was made this morning for blood donors for Mrs. A. L. Barrie, Sanford resident, who is in a serious condition in the Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando. Donors are asked to contact Mrs. Beth Woodruff, telephone 1096 W. or the Rev. W. P. Brooks, Jr., by telephoning 713 as soon as possible.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Jan. 8 (AP)—City councilmen started searching their heads on looking over the 1947 report of Police Chief P. M. Sheffer. Among the figures were: "Automobiles stolen, 23; Recovered, 26; Bicycles stolen, 11; Recovered, 12."

But then Sheffer explained the "super-recoveries" were a hold-over from December, 1946, a bookkeeping practice followed by his department.

Truman's Appeal For 10-Point Plan Meets Frigid Reception

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—President Truman's appeal for enactment of his full 10-point Anti-Inflation Program met with a cool-to-frigid reception from Republican Congress members today.

Even Democrats generally held out little hope for getting many more of the Chief Executive's cost of living proposals on the law books over GOP opposition.

Senator Pepper (Fla.) summed up the reaction of many of his Democratic colleagues with this comment:

"It doesn't look as though the Republicans are in a mood to go any further toward checking rising prices and relieving shortages, and since all they are in control of Congress."

"But we Democrats are going to keep on fighting for controls because inflation is one of the greatest dangers we face today."

In his State of the Union message Mr. Truman told Congress that "high prices must not be our means of rationing." He urged the lawmakers to act quickly on the sections of his Anti-Inflation Program which were shunted aside during the recent special session.

These include rationing and wage-price controls on a stand-by basis, consumer credit regulation, restriction of speculative trading, and extension and strengthening of rent controls.

"The special session did extend export and transportation controls as the President asked, but instead of rationing and wage-price authority it provided for a system of voluntary industry-wide agreements designed to divide up scarce items and indirectly hold prices in line."

Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich.) of the House Banking Committee was quick to make it plain that the Republicans are not disposed to go much farther in the way of statutory controls, with the exception of continuing—but probably not strengthening—rent controls.

Mr. Truman's program generally, Wolcott told a reporter:

"With respect to controls on prices and wages, allocation, rationing and priorities, we should wait to see what the President, the treasury and the federal reserve bank make of the powers Congress already has."

Ball Is Appointed To Realtors' Group

Raymond M. Ball, Sanford realtor, was recently named as a member of the 1948 Budget and Finance Committee of the Florida Realtors' Association at its meeting in Orlando.

The committee, with Jay I. Hearn of Tampa as chairman, was named by Wallace S. Hardin of Bradenton, president of the Association. Mr. Hardin, in a talk to the realtors, predicted that realtors of the state will have a satisfactory volume of business in 1948. Mr. Ball declared.

Mr. Ball also called attention to a statement by Mr. Hardin that Florida could profit by the example of California in encouraging formation of small businesses, such as those around Los Angeles, which enable retired persons to supplement their income. Many inquiries are received in Florida by realtors, Mr. Hardin said, from persons in the north who have $5,000 to $10,000 saved, but feel that they do not have sufficient money to come to this state and substantially retire.

REALTORS MEET

The Seminole County Board of Realtors, of which Edward P. Lane is president, will meet Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at the City Hall. All realtors and real estate salesmen here are urged by R. M. Ball, secretary, to attend.

Need Of Cod Liver Oil, Substitutes

By HOWARD W. BLAKENLEY
Associated Press Science Editor

CLEVELAND, Jan. 8 (AP)—No cod liver oil, or substitutes, are needed for babies getting a single-shot year treatment exhibited to the American Medical Association here by Henry J. Gerstenberger of the Babies and Children Hospital, Cleveland.

When a baby is eight days old, he is given a single, needle injection in the abdomen of vitamin D-3. This is the same form of vitamin that is produced naturally in children's bodies by sunshine.

The shot is repeated once a year. For five years now it has been babies in perfect condition so far as their needs for phosphorus and vitamin D are concerned.

The vitamin shot prevents rickets. It also has other benefits. Dr. Gerstenberger said that mothers report these infants seem to be particularly happy and active.

It may be, he added, that emotional stability is better because of this form of vitamin treatment.

The amount of vitamin given in the annual shot is less than that usually taken in other forms.

James Byrnes Protests F. E. C. Case To Board

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—James F. Byrnes, former Secretary of State, argued before the Interstate Commerce Commission today that it is without authority to force reorganization of the Florida East Coast railway and transfer to the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

Byrnes, representing the Alfred I. DuPont estate, also contended a reorganization plan which the commission approved last April is "unfair."

The DuPont estate, which holds more than $25,000,000 worth of Florida East Coast bonds, originally applied to the commission for authority to reorganize the railway and operate it independently. An examiner's approval of the DuPont plan was reversed by the commission last April when it endorsed a reorganization and merger plan proposed by the Atlantic Coast Line.

Byrnes told the commission it effect that the DuPont estate will go to the Supreme Court to test its power if it finally orders reorganization and transfer to the Atlantic Coast Line.

Citing a long list of Supreme Court decisions, Byrnes said the Reorganization Act gave the commission no power to force sale of one carrier to another without the consent of the owners of the railway being transferred.

Truman Selects Kuter To Succeed Landis As Head Of Civil Aeronautics Board

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—President Truman today announced he is appointing George V. Allen, now Ambassador to Iran, as Assistant Secretary of State for public affairs.

He also today selected Maj. General Laurence S. Kuter for membership on the Civil Aeronautics Board, succeeding James M. Landis.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross made the announcement for the President.

Allen, a native of Durham, N. C., will succeed William Benton, who recently resigned.

The post carries with it direction of the State Department's "Voice of America" broadcasts and other foreign information programs.

Allen, 44, was understood to be Secretary of State Marshall's choice for the job.

Mr. Truman must send a formal nomination of Allen to the Senate which can approve or reject his selection for the post.

Benton resigned last Oct. 1. Since then Holland H. Sargent, who was Benton's deputy, has been acting Assistant Secretary.

The "Voice of America" broadcasts had their origin during wartime.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee recommended yesterday that Congress enact legislation allowing the State Department to continue the broadcasts permanently.

There was no immediate announcement of a successor to Benton.

Greek Army Orders Rifles, Ammunition For Guerrilla Fight

ATHENS, Jan. 8 (AP)—Major General William G. Livesey, Chief of the U. S. Military Mission in Greece, disclosed today that the Greek government has ordered 40,000 rifles and necessary ammunition from England to arm an augmented Greek National Army.

The cost, amounting to $1,000,000, will be paid from frozen foreign exchange of Greek citizens in Britain, he said.

The United States, through its aid mission, approved an increase in the size of the National Guard earlier this week from 20,000 men to 60,000 men. The army is to be increased from 120,000 to 142,000 men and freed of its security duties in order to concentrate on seeking out and attacking Communist guerrillas.

General Livesey told a news conference today.

Francis Albert Temple, 19 year old Seminole High School student, died this morning at 2:00 o'clock at Orange Memorial Hospital where he was taken yesterday after suddenly becoming ill.

Young Temple, who was employed part time at the J. C. Penney Company, would have graduated this year from high school.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Temple; three brothers, Martin C. George M. and Louis H. Temple, all of Sanford; two sisters, Alice Temple of Sanford and E. Lisette Temple, now in Frankfurt, Germany.

Funeral arrangements, not yet complete, will be announced later.

Red Nations Ready To Recognize Greek State

LONDON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Eastern Europe's Soviet satellites are preparing to recognize the Communist Greek "government" of Markos Vafelades despite western warnings that the move will bring about a major international crisis.

High diplomatic authorities representing those countries said here today.

These informants, who said that the ultimate objective of the Communists is to capture Athens itself, predicted that recognition of the Vafelades regime was at most a question of months.

Senate Board Begins Wage-Price Hearings

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee decided today to start hearings Monday on rationing and wage-price control legislation.

Chairman Tobey (R-N.H.) announced the hearings as Republicans in Congress showed little inclination to grant President Truman these and other powers, he says, are necessary to control inflation.

Tobey told reporters the committee voted to complete the hearings as rapidly as possible with government witnesses testifying first.

The Senator said initial testimony will deal with bills by:

1. Senator Barkley (D-Ky.) to grant the administration stand-by authority to impose wage and price controls as requested by Mr. Truman in his 10-point anti-inflation program.
2. Senator Taylor (D-Iaho) to restore price control and rationing at the discretion of a director of price and allocation.
3. Senator Capahart (R-Ind.) to "freeze" prices of all commodities at the levels which prevailed last December 15, pending study of other methods of controlling inflation.

Large Increase Seen In Telephone Use

Telephone installations in Seminole County are now double the number in use in 1941, it was revealed today by E. V. Turner, manager of the local Southern Bell Telephone exchange.

Today there are 2,222 telephones in the county as compared with 1,080 in 1941, he said. During the past year 282 new telephones were installed he said. In January, 1947, there were 2,644 telephones. This represents an 11 percent increase in one year.

This percentage of increase would be higher, he said, were it not for the fact that installation equipment has not arrived to take care of 225 applications.

Two positions have been added to the switchboard, and one to the toll switch board in order to increase service facilities, and these are scheduled to be completed and put into operation by Mar. 1, he said. This additional switchboard equipment will enable the central office to take care of all telephones for which application has been made.

Turner Hall Burns

CINCINNATI, Jan. 8 (AP)—A raging fire that shot flames hundreds of feet into the air gutted the upper stories of historic Turner Hall, on the edge of uptown Cincinnati, early today.

The five-story, brick and frame building, once used as a drill post for the Army of the Republic, now houses the Turner Athletic Association bowling alleys and gymnasium. A U. S. postal substation occupies the first floor.

The top three floors were gutted, firemen said.

Pilgrims Visit Holy City At Own Peril In Jerusalem's Siege

By JAMES M. LONG

HERUSALEM, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Holy Sepulchre, where Christ died and the Holy Sepulchre from which He rose again, actually closed to Christians by the blockade of Jerusalem within the walled old city district of Jerusalem.

Jews are barred from the ancient walled city, now under the jurisdiction of Arab guards, and the walled city is under a siege. The narrow, cobble-stoned streets of the walled city are patrolled by Arab guards, and the walled city is under a siege. None of this is the intent of the walled city. It is the result of the tightening of the walled city. It is the result of the tightening of the walled city. It is the result of the tightening of the walled city.

In evidence that the Holy Sepulchre still may open if pilgrims dare to venture there, I entered through the tightly guarded Jaffa gate and walked three hours through walled Jerusalem, passing through the walled city. Barr Arrives To Make Plans For Umpire School

National League Umpire George Barr arrived early this morning in Sanford to make plans to organize his school for umpires at the Municipal Airport, and was greeted by many fans in the downtown section.

Enthusiasm for being back in Sanford after a successful baseball umpiring season, Mr. Barr predicted that his umpire school would be even bigger than last year when he brought it here from Orlando.

More than 100 members are expected to enroll, and many wives of members are expected here, he said. He said he revealed that he will leave Sanford for Orlando on Friday, Jan. 15, and will return to Sanford on Saturday, Jan. 16.

Senate Board Begins Wage-Price Hearings

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee decided today to start hearings Monday on rationing and wage-price control legislation.

Chairman Tobey (R-N.H.) announced the hearings as Republicans in Congress showed little inclination to grant President Truman these and other powers, he says, are necessary to control inflation.

Tobey told reporters the committee voted to complete the hearings as rapidly as possible with government witnesses testifying first.

The Senator said initial testimony will deal with bills by:

1. Senator Barkley (D-Ky.) to grant the administration stand-by authority to impose wage and price controls as requested by Mr. Truman in his 10-point anti-inflation program.
2. Senator Taylor (D-Iaho) to restore price control and rationing at the discretion of a director of price and allocation.
3. Senator Capahart (R-Ind.) to "freeze" prices of all commodities at the levels which prevailed last December 15, pending study of other methods of controlling inflation.

Marshall Asks Prompt Action On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall today told Congress members that Russia and the communist Party will "sabotage" the European Recovery Program at every turn, but that the United States can undertake it successfully.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall appealed to Congress today for an adequate, prompt and effectively administered European Aid Program and bluntly challenged the lawmakers.

"I urge you to meet the requirements of the problem of Europe," he said.

At the same time the soldier-diplomat rejected outright the Republican-backed proposal to create a new government corporation to administer the projected aid program. He called for a single administrator responsible to the President and working in harmony with the Secretary of State on foreign policy questions.

"There cannot be two Secretaries of State," Marshall asserted.

The main theme of his designation of the "Marshall Plan" for European recovery, appeared before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as the first of more than a dozen high officials assigned to present the Democratic administration's case to the Republican Congress for a four-year, multi-billion dollar program of assistance to western Europe.

Of the need for such aid, Marshall declared: "Dollars will not save the world, but the world cannot be saved without dollars."

Caldwell Predicts State's Colleges Capacity Extended

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 8 (AP)—Governor Caldwell today predicted Florida's institutions of higher learning will be extended to their utmost capacity for the next generation.

In an address prepared for delivery at a University of Florida assembly honoring Klein Graham, retiring business manager of the institution, Caldwell said present plans "adequate for our educational program" must be provided.

"When the veterans, whose return to educational life caused the present peak enrollment, have completed their courses of study, the normal population growth and the normal increase in the percentage of men and women seeking higher education will have taken up the slack and we shall, beyond doubt, find that we have need for even more facilities than will have been provided," the Governor said.

Mild Weather Is Seen In Most Parts Of U.S.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Comparatively mild weather was general throughout most of the country today, with the "January thaw" to continue in most parts of the Midwest.

Temperatures were above freezing from Indiana and Illinois northward into Montana yesterday and reached a high of 63 in Rapid City, S. D.; 53 in Omaha and 51 in Des Moines, Ia. The 71 in Dodge City, Kan., was only one degree below the high in Miami, Fla.

A 24-hour snowfall added from one to three inches of snow in the New England states and sections of eastern New York State. Snow still fell in northern sections of New England and rain continued in the flood-stricken lowland sections of Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

"Coldest temperature" on the 8th morning weather map was 5 above at International Falls, Minn.

Universal Military Training Goes Into Second Year Of Experiments

By MALCOLM PATTERSON

FORT KNOX, Ky., Jan. 8 (AP)—The United States' first experiment in proposed peacetime Universal Military Training started its second year today.

1. A politically hot subject at home in the expressed views of many observers and leaders.

With its possible adoption or rejection by the Congress convening today, in the pronounced opinion of some leaders, bound to have a powerful influence upon this nation's course in world affairs.

2. And with some of its innovations, begun a year ago at this huge military post upon raw recruits to Army life, now being extended throughout the entire ground forces training.

A year ago today, Brig. General John M. Devine, an Army veteran of 35 years, was welcoming the first of 664 teenagers, volunteering for the Regular Army and the first taste of what UMT in peacetime would be like.

Today, the slight, quick-talking general from Providence, R. I., in his own words, has finished "the most satisfying year of any I've spent in the Army."

He reported a survey of cadet-instructors showed 75 percent of the trainees "like it here," during their six-month training period. The second group of about 660 completed the course Dec. 20. Two companies of the third group are to arrive Jan. 12 with the remaining two companies coming in Jan. 23 for the next cycle.

Devine is bidding farewell to the "test-tube" unit, which includes some of those first trainees, now instructors. He said he is leaving Jan. 13 for Fort Monroe, Va., to head the Army Ground Forces G-3 section, which has charge of operations and training.

Some of the things tried here initially, he said, have been adopted by AGF. Others will be extended through the AGF. For instance, a curb on swearing for which legendary sergeants have been notorious, General Jacob Devers, AGF chief, has directed that swearing be cut out.

This is illustrative, Devine said in an interview, of the changed attitude adopted in the UMT unit on the relationship between instructors and student soldiers, the former now leading the latter, instead of driving them.

AGF training centers, he reported, have adopted the trainees' court and merit system originated here. Strict but just discipline is sought here, with the trainees handling their own members' minor offenses, Devine said. He added instructors have found "you don't have to be nasty to get results. Pressure of wartime prevented dwelling upon the individual as a separate personality "sometimes with serious consequences." The wartime commander of the Eighth Armored Division said, "Now there is more time to treat soldiers as individuals. They respond better," he added.

Moral and spiritual training goes with physical and mental training, he said. Citizens' advisory committees, he reported, have been inaugurated at AGF training centers, being patterned upon the committee formed at nearby Louisville when the UMT unit started.

A group of ministers, without saying whether UMT should or should not be adopted, reported after a survey that if it becomes law it should be patterned upon the experiment here.

Devine's successor is Brig. General J. R. Sheets, who has been in charge of the Fourth Army's operations and training, stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Devine said officers here "are not trying to sell" the idea of UMT, but "are trying to show what it would be like." It would not "build the Regular Army but provide a huge reserve."

President Truman's committee on proposed training, headed by Dr. Karl T. Compton, recommended six months' basic army instruction followed by six months of optional training in various branches.

While Mr. Truman has spoken out for UMT, the issue has cut party lines, with various leaders favoring it while others oppose it. Former Vice President Henry A. Wallace hammered against UMT in speeches before an announcement of his presidential candidacy as an independent.

Devine said the purpose of UMT in this atomic age is not to provide specialists—terminating the six months period too short for that—but to turn out "well grounded privates, the kind you can make specialists out of later."

The general declared "We think we have devised a fine course in citizenship" for six teenage Americans, teaching them how to live with one another in close proximity. He added the stress is on duties and obligations of citizenship as well as rights and privileges of Americans.

Dog Deaths May Be Due To Encephalitis

CHICAGO Jan. 8 (AP)—A great many dog deaths attributed to distemper may already have resulted from encephalitis, the American Veterinary Medical Association said yesterday.

The association said the sickness, a virus disease affecting the brain and nervous system, is "much more prevalent than we have heretofore realized."

Declaring that encephalitis has stricken more than 5,000 dogs in St. Cloud, Minn., in the last year, the association said it had set up a special research project to seek a method of controlling the outbreak.

The AVMA said that although the symptoms of encephalitis and distemper are similar, the diseases are caused by different kinds of viruses and call for different methods of treatment.

Anti-encephalitis serum is effective in early stages of the disease, but prevention by vaccination is still in the experimental stage, the association added.

Difficulties Told Of Gathering Documents For The Freedom Train

By SAUL PETT
AP Newsfeatures

NEW YORK—Frank Monaghan had a train to make. He had to make it with a lot of baggage. He made it, but almost blew a fuse enroute.

The train was the Freedom Train now in a 12-month tour of the nation. The baggage was documents representing about 700 years of man's struggle for democracy.

Dr. Monaghan was chiefly responsible for getting the 125 priceless documents together. Historian and former Yale professor, he went to work for the train's sponsor, the American Heritage Foundation, late last July. At first it was planned to carry facsimiles of famous manuscripts on the 33,000-mile journey. Then it was decided to use originals wherever possible.

The train was scheduled to start from Philadelphia Sept. 17. Manufacturers needed two weeks to make the special lute cases to protect the documents. That left Dr. Monaghan and his co-workers less than a month to get ready.

About half the papers were to come from the Library of Congress and that was comparatively easy.

The other half would come from state historical societies and various private groups and individuals. This frequently wasn't easy.

Dr. Monaghan had known about red tape. During the war, he headed an air force colonel who headed a secret project to analyze the possibility of Germany being knocked out by air action alone (the answer was no). Now, he has a book out—"Heritage of Freedom," which tells the history and significance of each document aboard the train. But as to their most recent history, he says:

"It kept me awake nights, but thank God not a single item was mislaid, damaged or lost. We got most of what we were after. No one turned us down flatly. Where we failed or had difficulty it was due to a combination of circumstances, and the circumstances often were harrowing."

One of those "combinations" meant that a certain famous colonial document is not on the train now. The paper was in the local state archives, which was willing to lend it, but state law prohibited its removal from the state.

After much arranging, the state legislature passed a special law permitting the document's removal—everybody was ready to let it go, including the governor. Then the bill went to him for his signature. He vetoed it by mistake. There wasn't enough time left to start the whole thing over again.

The original manuscript of Woodrow Wilson's first inaugural address involved a classic snafu. The document came from Princeton University and made the Freedom Train only two hours before it left Washington for Philadelphia, where the grand tour began officially.

Meanwhile, an aide happened to hear Dr. Monaghan say he would prefer to have the original Covenant of the League of Nations as an example of Wilson's work. This involved permission from the Library of Congress and the widow of the World War I president.

While these arrangements were being made, the aide, without telling anybody, had the original removed from the Wilson inaugural. The train left Philadelphia without it and traveled four days with an empty case.

"The empty case," says Dr. Monaghan, "attracted more attention than the Declaration of Independence. There was lots of hot speculation over our motives in leaving Wilson out. But we finally got the Covenant draft in."

Getting Alexander Hamilton's own volumes of his "Federalist" papers aboard the train involved a long odyssey of telephoning and waning hope. After a dozen calls, Monaghan found the secretary of the man who now owns the papers. The secretary said permission from both him and his wife would be needed.

The wife, it developed after more calls, was vacationing in the Adirondacks. Dr. Monaghan phoned her for three days. On the fourth, they made contact and permission was granted.

And where was the husband? In Honduras vacationing. Cables didn't reach him: Four days later he suddenly turned up in New York, and that's how the "Federalist" caught the train just in time.

Another Hamilton, name of Andrew, didn't make it though. He was the man who defended Peter Zenger in the famous freedom of the press case of 1735, for which New York City presented him with a scroll and a gold snuff box. Dr. Monaghan wanted the scroll; he wasn't particularly interested in the snuff box.

With the case manufacturers assuming they didn't have much time left, investigation turned up the parchment scroll in the Pennsylvania Historical Society, which was happy to lend it.

But in a highly legal paper, the owner of the Hamilton items had stipulated that the snuff box could not leave the society. Dr. Monaghan said fine, all he wanted was the scroll. Three lawyers representing the owner's family were consulted. They conferred with students and it was finally decided that the owner must have meant the restriction to apply to the scroll as well as the snuff box.

There were other odysseys, some successful, some futile, but all had in common endless telephoning, telegraphing and scari-

Why Don't Child Guidance Experts Help Godfathers?

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Child guidance experts never bother to give advice to the people who need it most—godfathers.

Their books on the care and feeding of ordinary children have more rays than a modern land-seen-for-parents—the people who have children. You can find there in how to burp junior, how to decide whether he has colic or cigarette cough, or how to tell him about the stars and who brings Santa Claus.

But a man will scan them in vain for the slightest hint on how to get along with his godchild. This is unfair and undemocratic and discriminates against a large and little appreciated class. Few people give much thought to the matter, but actually there are probably more godfathers in America than there are fathers.

Take a family with four children, for example. They all have the same father—unless mama took a trip to Reno along the way—but each has a different godfather, four in all.

You'd think that with the adult population simply growing with godfathers someone would write a book for them. But no! Their duties, privileges and responsibilities are usually kissed off vaguely by the proud father in this manner:

"You're little junior's godfather. I know that. If anything happens to me you'll watch over him until he can stand on his own feet."

Outside of that pleasant prospect, the godfather has no more work to do than a stand-in for a cigar store wooden Indian.

Some time ago a friend announced he wanted me to be godfather to his son. I accepted gratefully. I like kids but I am still bawling 000 in the paternity league myself, so I thought this would enable me to have some of the joys of child-raising by proxy.

Well, I went over one day and my friend formally introduced me to my squirming godson: "See the nice man, Terry. He's your godfather. If anything happens to daddy, the nice man will send you through college."

The infant took one look at me and let out a wail as if I had scalped him. He wept and screamed and got red in the face, and averted I even glanced his way he broke out in wild calls of terror.

That was a year ago. Every month or so I drop by to visit him. The same thing happens every time. He sees "that nice man" and immediately erupts in a wailing Niagara of tears. If I bring him small presents he will accept them only if relayed through a third person.

At the age of fourteen months he has only one word of greeting for me:

"Ugh!"

Is that any way for a well brought up baby to say hello to his godfather? I got along famously with every other kid in the neighborhood. They even drop by sometime to share their used bubble gum. But all my godson ever says is "Ugh!"

The only thing I can figure out is that the child is allergic to higher education.

Tomorrow I'm going around to see him and say:

"Terry, I don't care what happens to your daddy I'm not going to make you go to college. I'll get you a job rakin' up balls in a poolroom, kid."

Maybe then the little fellow will like me better. But somebody still ought to write that book on how to be popular with your godchildren. Believe me, the fathers have it easy. You have to do more than pass out cigars to loved parties of the first and second

Hygiene Project Is Demonstrated For New York City

By JEAN MEEGAN
AP Newsfeatures

NEW YORK—A modern mental hygiene project is being demonstrated by the National Committee of Mental Hygiene for New York City's board of education.

The first proving ground is Public School 33 in a tenement district. It is one of four all-day neighborhood schools with an enriched curriculum and an augmented staff for after-class activities.

The mental hygiene project, under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Adlerblum, is a unique experiment to find practical means of detecting psychological illness.

"Get at the reason behind a person's behavior—and you can change the behavior," is the project's premise.

"Our five year old, the director says, 'show us stories of themselves at play. We have only to look carefully to find meaning in it. Play is the mirror of a young child's life. In it he shows the world the story of himself.'"

The school's psychological program exists only from kindergarten through the first grade, with a modified follow-up in the second and third grades. The psychological counselor sits out the potential problem pupils in the first three months they are in the school. Mrs. Adlerblum's corrections begin then:

"Those who are shy, over-aggressive, foreign born, or in some other way different are taken out of the class periodically for special play. It is found that play in a small group, guided by a sympathetic adult, helps to reinforce them for the larger class."

shortly for St. Petersburg to confer with government officials in regard to G. I. Bill of Rights provisions for members.

Umpire Barr stated that the National League had enjoyed a very successful season with 10,000,000 paid admissions and he quoted President Ford as predicting that all baseball attendance records will be broken next year.

Inquiries regarding the Sanford Umpire School have been received from all parts of the world, and one recently came from Dublin, Ireland, said Mr. Barr. Frank Seery, Chicago Cub outfielder last year, will be a pupil of the school. The Army is sending three men from Fort McPherson, to take instruction, he revealed.

He also told of a radio interview conducted last summer by Walter "Red" Barber, former Sanford resident and CBS sports director, in which "many favorable comments were made about Sanford."

As during last year, no classes will be held Sundays at the umpire school, said Mr. Barr, in order that trainers may attend church and Sunday school. He also said that he expected more pictorial publicity in Life magazine which will again send a photographer here. He praised the work of Dick McLaughlin, his southern representative in promoting the school, and also aid from Postmaster Joel Field, declared that Sanford is the most friendly place he has ever visited and said that he is "thrilled to be back."

By SAUL PETT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Senator (R-Neb) Clay today said the small-business man is getting a priority in obtaining petroleum products.

"An announcement by Senator Johnston (D-SC) that he will introduce a resolution tomorrow asking for immediate investigation of the oil industry to see if there is violation of the antitrust laws in regard to fuel oil."

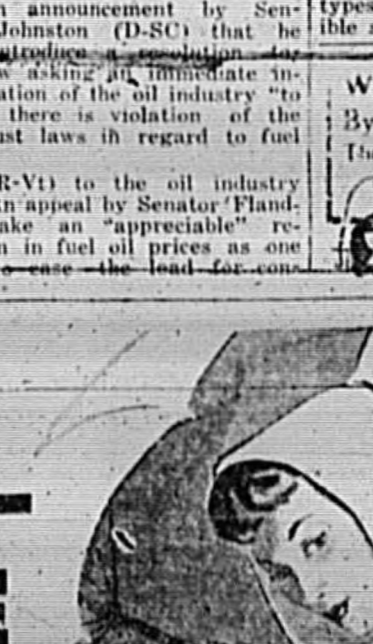

2. An appeal by Senator Fland to make an "appreciable" reduction in fuel oil prices as one way to ease the load for consumers.

Vogel, appearing as a witness before the Senate Small Business Committee, said the 7,000 barrels is a part of America's overall military requirements of 342,000 barrels a day. This includes oil products of all kinds for all the services and for civilian use in occupied areas.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (AP)—The business of buying and selling the Detroit Lions seems to have cooled off a bit since the syndicate that was trying to make the purchase offered Freddie Mandel just about half what he paid for the franchise... but if they try to use the possibility of taking Briggs Stadium away from the Lions as a threat, Mandel likely won't go for it... He had a deal on fire about five years ago to enlarge the U. of Detroit Stadium to 40,000 capacity and move there on a long-term lease and the university probably would be quite interested in renewing those negotiations... The reason the Coaches Football Rules Committee voted a slight change in the free substitution rule in the case of players injured after a team had used up its time out was, of course, that a lot of the coaches were cheating a bit with faked injuries... And that prompted a cynical baseball coach to remark: "Well, aren't all rules made to be broken?"

Greatest Amount Of Old-Age Benefits Given In History

ORLANDO, Jan. 8. (Special)—More persons were receiving monthly old-age and survivors insurance benefits at the end of 1947 than at any previous time in the history of this Federal insurance system. This was reported yesterday by Paul Weaver, manager of the Orlando office of the Social Security Administration in a year-end statement.

Estimates supplied by the central office of the Social Security Administration show that at the end of 1947, some 1,975,000 persons throughout the nation were receiving monthly benefits at an average monthly rate of $38,100,000. This compares with 1,642,000 beneficiaries and an average monthly rate of $41,041,000 one year ago.

Nationally, monthly benefits certified for payment to retired workers, their wives, and their dependent children during 1947 amounted to approximately $300,000,000. Monthly benefits to families of deceased workers (children, widows with young children in their care, aged widows, and aged parents) totaled about $163,000,000. In addition, approximately $30,000,000 was paid during 1947 in lump-sums to survivors of insured workers who were not immediately eligible for monthly benefits.

Reporting on the area served by his office, Mr. Weaver estimated that monthly old-age and survivors insurance benefits paid at the end of 1947 amounted to $110,200,000, an increase of about 24 per cent over the amount in force at the end of 1946.

Emphasizing the family insurance characteristic of the old-age and survivors insurance program, Mr. Weaver said that 52 per cent of the beneficiaries now on the rolls are widowed and children.

Approximately 11,000,000 workers and salary earners in the United States have now attained lifetime insurance protection for themselves and their families under this program through completion of a required number of years work in jobs covered by the Social Security Act, Mr. Weaver said. This is an increase of 3,000,000 since the end of 1946. These workers have at least some insurance protection for life, regardless of their future work history.

The Social Security Administration also estimates that at the end of 1947 approximately 79,700,000 living persons had some wages credited toward old-age and survivors insurance benefits, an increase of 2,100,000 persons over the numbers reported at the end of 1946. During 1947, some 19,800,000 workers received wages in covered employment.

Reds Call Strike In Trieste Against Arrest Of Partisans

TRIESTE, Jan. 8 (AP)—A Communist-sponsored general strike gripped this free city today in protest against the trial of a group of Partisans arrested Sunday at nearby Opicina on charges of illegally wearing uniforms in an unauthorized demonstration.

Dr. General Ridgely Gaither, senior civil affairs officer of the Allied Military Government, terminated the strike "provocative" and broke off negotiations with Communist representatives until the strike is called off.

By noon, police reported that many hundreds of workers had gone to their jobs in shipyards and docks. Some streets and buses were running. Some shops were closed. Officers previously had estimated the strike was 76 percent effective.

The Communist-dominated united syndicate of labor unions called the strike. Thirty partisans in all were arrested at Opicina Sunday. Gaither said he decided last night to arraign seven for wearing uniforms and release 16 others. The other seven were to be arraigned for resisting arrest. Gaither called in Communist representatives and informed them of the military government's decision. When they refused further protests, Gaither said he told them he would not negotiate until the strike was cancelled.

"The general strike was called without warning," he said. "A great deal of your conduct and propaganda is calculated to provoke incidents involving your followers and the Allied Military Government."

Police dispersed a crowd of about 1,000 gathered at the palace of justice when the men were arraigned. Five were arrested.

The union syndicate distributed leaflets calling for the first political strike since Trieste became a free city. The circulars asserted the military government action was "the latest and most serious of provocations recently perpetrated by the occupation government against the free civilian population of our territory."

The Partisans were arrested in a clash with Venetia Giulia civil police when the police dispersed an unauthorized demonstration. Allied Military Government officials said the strike was ordered by the Italian-Slav Anti-Fascist union, a Communist-linked political front.

Members of a rival, anti-Communist union went to their jobs and police were put on an emergency basis. First fights broke out at the shipyards and a squad of 50 police quelled the disturbance.

The Partisans were charged before military court with wearing uniforms without permission and with participating in an unauthorized demonstration.

Seven of the Partisans were arraigned today and all pleaded innocent. Trial was set down for Jan. 14. The others will be arraigned tomorrow.

Henry Kaiser

voluntary anti-inflation bill passed by Republicans at the special session of Congress as a substitute for President Truman's plan of compulsory controls over scarce commodities.

Kaiser, the wartime shipbuilder and now in the steel business himself, said "manufacturers already are in a wild scramble to prove the right of their particular companies to allocation."

He added:

"Steel producers do not stifle the competitive growth of the country by following historical patterns of distribution."

Kaiser said steel production can be increased immediately. Under his plan, he explained, "each steel producer would pledge to produce as much steel as possible, and to join industry-wide efforts to increase overall production."

He suggested that his proposed steel anti-inflation commission consist of national leaders "who have no conflicting business connection with steel producers, steel consumers or the government."

As possible members he named Bernard Baruch, 77-year-old advisor to Presidents during two administrations, former member of the War Resources Board; Owen D. Young, industrialist and former member of the War Manpower Commission; ex-Senator La Follette (R-Wis.); ex-Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York; publisher Walter Hoyt of the Denver Post; President Robert C. Sprunt of the University of California; economist Sumner H. Slichter of the Board for Economic Development; Lloyd Garrison, former executive director of the War Labor Board; President Wilson M. Compton of Washington State College; and Er-Johnston, head of the Motion Picture Producers Association.

Kaiser said any steel industry agreement should have "due regard for the needs of small business, new competitors, export requirements under the Marshall Plan, and for preventing possible diversions to the gray market and non-essential uses."

A special House Committee has been investigating reports of a gray market, consisting of deals of a $1,000,000,000 a year steel at above-normal prices. Steel deals are not illegal.

Steel company representatives have denounced these reports and the committee, headed by Rep. Mace (R-N.Y.) has recessed its hearings to dig for more information.

Charles Michelson, Newsman, Writer Dies

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Charles Michelson, newspaperman and former hard-hitting publicity director of the Democratic National Committee, died at his apartment here today at the age of 79.

Dr. Walter A. Bloedorn, his physician, said death was due to congestive heart failure.

Michelson, who did his most celebrated sharp-shooting at the Republicans in the Hoover regime, had been in poor health for more than two years. He retired from his committee post in 1945, but stayed on in an advisory capacity.

In recent months he has kept to his apartment resting and under the care of a nurse, Ann Reisinger.

Michelson awoke at 7:30 o'clock this morning and asked the nurse to get him a cup of coffee. When she returned to the bedside, she found him dead.

Michelson leaves three nieces and five nephews. A brother, Dr. Albert Michelson, the noted physician, died in 1931.

Michelson's funeral will be held at 11 A. M. Sunday. Burial probably will be in Washington.

Florida State News In Brief

HEAT ON MIAMI—City Manager Richard Danner, a former FBI agent, today issued a warning to gamblers that the "heat" was on in Miami.

"The heat is really on," he said. "It is up to the individual policeman to see that gambling stops, and to go on to direct all my energy towards the racketeers who have had a hand in the corruption of our police department and always seemingly enjoyed some strange immunity."

U. S. BUYS JUICE—LAKELAND, Jan. 8 (AP)—M. F. Miller, field representative for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, announced today the government had purchased 229,067 gallons of citrus concentrate for use in the Federal School Lunch Program.

MAN CHOKED—MADISON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Femi Smith, 26, of Madison, was strangled to death in an automobile accident near here early today, the Florida Highway Patrol reported.

Patrolman A. D. Conson said Smith's car overturned as he attempted to doze cattle on the highway and the youth's neck and arm were caught in the left door of the automobile, choking him.

FLIER KILLED—PENSACOLA, Jan. 8 (AP)—Public relations at the Pensacola Naval Air Station announced today that Aviation Chief Machinist Mate David A. Gillis, 27, was killed following the collision of two navy trainer planes 18 miles northwest of Pensacola yesterday.

STRICKLAND DIES—JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 8 (AP)—Charles G. Strickland, 64, President of Strickland and Randall Insurance Company here and a native of Valdosta, Ga., considered a possible choice for foreign minister of the new Jewish state, died here today.

The commission also was expected to seek early conferences with the Jewish Agency for Palestine and the Arab higher committee. Moshe Shertok, considered a possible choice for foreign minister of the new Jewish state, will represent the agency.

The invitation to Palestine-Arab representatives actually would be only a formality as they have opposed partition bitterly from the first and, with the solid backing of the Arab-Moslem world, have refused to take any role in carrying out the plan.

Probably the two biggest questions to be solved were these:

- 1—When will the British get out and allow the UN Commission to take over?
- 2—How will the UN maintain order in the Holy Land and enforce partition in the face of repeated Arab threats of opposition by force?

granted them."

The Michigan congressman predicted in an address to a group of businessmen yesterday that Congress will set up no new statutory inflation controls.

Charles M. Tobey (R-N.H.), chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, declined to "even hazard a guess" as to whether Wolcott will turn out to be right.

Tobey's committee assembled today (10:30 A. M.) to chart a schedule of hearings on several bills of living measures, including a bill by Senator Capahart (R-Ind.) which would "freeze" prices temporarily while other anti-inflation methods are considered.

Senators Buck (R-De.) and Baldwin (R-Conn.) said they are in favor of Flinders' plan to get set for most rationing, but Senator Bricker said he is "flatly opposed."

Bricker added there is no point in getting ready for rationing "when everybody knows it would not work anyway."

Bricker predicted an extension of rent controls, but said that otherwise "the administration already has enough power to deal with inflation if it wants to."

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS—President Truman's State of the Union message to Congress drew sharply varying reactions from the nation's press today.

Comment ranged from the Omaha (Nebr.) World Herald's critical reception terming the message a "bland, undistinguished plea for votes next November," to that of the New York Times which said the speech, in high-pointing and essentially on the right track.

"Mr. Truman served notice that he 'celebrated' 'swinging to the right' is now a closed chapter," the World Herald editorialized, adding: "That was all very well for the early, callow days of his administration, but now an election is impending and he returns to time-testing techniques, vote-buying techniques of the 'New Deal'."

The Times in a separate editorial, however, took critical notice of the President's tax plan, asserting that legislation aimed at its passage "might in all accuracy and fairness be described as 'the voters' bonus bill of 1948'."

The crucial fact in such legislation would be thoroughly inflationary in character.

Portland (Me.) Press Herald—"Even heavier taxation is a poor way to expand corporation facilities, it is even a poorer way to combat a high cost of living inasmuch as opportunity at once opens for price increases of manufactured commodities."

Jacksonville (Fla.) Times-Union—"He has set the pace for all of the 1948 political actions of both parties in Washington. It's the familiar old technique at times of this kind: to calmulate, yet to stimulate, ameliorate and assuage."

Boston Globe—"Mr. Wallace must wonder where the Truman platform will leave him, and the Republicans, smarting under four years of this kind of thing, whether they will deal's attraction will be as potent under Truman as it was under Roosevelt."

Boston Herald—"A sordid appeal for votes - votes at $40 per head."

Thmond (Va.) Times Dispatch—"There were times when Mr. Truman's contribution to the congressional archives sounded like a budding intellectual at the Independence, Mo., high school and there were moments when he seemed to wrap around himself the spectral opera cape which he inherited from the accomplished radio thespian who preceded him in the White House."

New York Herald-Tribune—"The President's proposals to combat the GOP's proposals to combat (inflation) - 'Neither case is convincing; there are flaws, or at best some pretty hazardous assumptions in both.'"

Holy City

I was regarded with suspicion, but as far as I could tell no harsh or threatening words were passed. In one tiny bazaar street I was invited into a boxlike cobbler shop for Turkish coffee brewed over a coal brazier. The shopkeeper deposited his large, rustic mat on the table beside the coffee-cups.

An old woman came limping past begging alms for her suffering from terrorists outside the walls. Given a few coppers she pulled back her yellow veil to show bandages she said covered wounds suffered in the bombing of the Damascus gate.

Later I saw a robed sheikh in flowing white headgear emerge from the Great gateway to the blue Aued Mosque of Omar through whose open arches could be seen the garden of Gethsemane and the Mount of Olives. He was followed by an attendant carrying a submachinegun under his arm.

The few blue-uniformed Palestine police in the narrow streets made no attempt to disarm Arabs or Christians, but they were plain. They intervene only when there is shooting. Outside the walls it is another matter. There police are committed to disarming anyone found with weapons of any kind - not even the usual Arab street-block of young scimitars - around the huge Church of the Holy Sepulchre. The young Arab ruffians there said he had seen others, other than for Christian Arabs who come daily, in the weeks since partition fighting virtually sealed off the old city.

The vendor in the postcard and relic shop just outside the church offered to cut his prices, then shrugged and said "no one comes now."

Inside, past the tiny crosses crucifixes carved in the stone entry walls, where the great domed building covers both the hill of the crucifixion and the tomb from which the stone was rolled, rituals of the church were carried on quietly by the Christian monks waiting for the day of Peace and pilgrimages.

New Camera Used In Making New Metals

AP Newsfeatures—NEW YORK—A camera with built-in furnace is speeding the quest for better metals and alloys.

Such metals, more resistant to heat and corrosion under high temperatures, are needed for further advances in gas turbines and jet engines.

The corrosion dancer is concentrated in a microscopically thin film that accretes the metal from hot gases surrounding it and the camera takes "portraits" of metal surfaces to learn what happens. Dr. Joseph W. Hickman of the Westinghouse Research Laboratories explained.

The camera, designed by Dr. Hickman, Dr. Earl A. Gulbransen and Rudolph J. Bertl, consists essentially of a five-foot hollow cylinder. An electron "gun" at the top fires a beam of electrons which strike the test sample of metal at an angle and then ricochet off to hit a photographic film at the bottom.

The sample is heated to as high as 2,500 degrees Fahrenheit by a tiny furnace of tungsten wire. The degree of heat and the amount of oxygen can be varied.

"The pictures traced on the photographic film appear as a series of concentric half-circles," Dr. Hickman said. "We measure the distance between these rings to determine the distance between the atoms in the metallic film being studied. This tells us the nature of the film and how the oxidation corrosion takes place."

One of the most significant findings so far with the electron diffraction camera, he said, is that the rate of corrosion increases enormously at high temperatures, jumping as high as 10 times for every 100-degree rise in temperature.

flower from 62 to 51 acres. Michellanus vegetable plantings, including English peas, carrots, lettuce, broccoli and turnips show a sharp reduction with only 72 acres compared with 159 acres last year.

Sanford celery plantings are estimated at 225 golden and 551 pascal on the West side and 740 golden and 718 pascal on the East side. Oviedo reports 405 acres of golden and 253 of pascal; Blavia 103 acres of golden and 31 acres of pascal.

In cabbage, the West side reports 428 and the East side of Sanford, 430 acres. Wagner has 30 and Oviedo 165 acres. Of escarole there are 89 acres on the East side and 50 on the West in Sanford area.

Celery haulings were rather light from here Tuesday. It was reported by R. G. Riser of the Federal-State Market News Service. Demand was fairly good for larger sizes and slow for smaller sizes. The market was fairly steady. Golden heart three and four, 22 to $2.25 to $3.50 FOB, small sizes $2.25 to $3.00. Large pascal variety averaged about $2.05 to $2.85 and four to sizes $2.25 a crate.

conference he had been making a study of the situation and actions of the Greek army for six months.

"All I've seen," he said, "indicates the Greek soldier is good and can defeat the bandits. This has been confirmed by reports recently and now at Konitsa."

Queen Frederika reached Konitsa yesterday and received an ovation from the Greek army garrison which withstood a week-long attempt by the Communists to seize the town as a capital for a Greek Communist state. She brought the congratulations of the king, who is ill.

Discussing the Greek army's equipment, Livrey said:

"This was sufficient, but the situation has changed. The rebel bands have become greater in size and are well organized. This will make a necessary change in our plans."

He said he would approve a proposal that the Greek army be given mountain artillery and machine guns. It was learned that the chief of staff of the Greek Air Force recently asked for American anti-aircraft guns but had been turned down. Military informants said it was possible the guerrillas might launch attacks soon from landing strips in the northern mountains of Greece.

Marshall Requests

The cabinet officer's bristly written, 5,000-word statement sketched the arguments for the huge project, unprecedented in America's peace-time history, today and why he thought it should work, who he considers it necessary and what it ought to cost.

He described the $6,000,000,000 plan for the first 15 months of the plan, as a precision figure, "not a round number, but a serious estimate of requirements. It is not, he said, "an asking figure" based on expected cuts by Congress.

Aid in the full amount, Marshall declared, is required to initiate a program of genuine recovery to take both Europe and this nation out of the blind alley of mere continuing relief.

"As for the whole undertaking, the secretary reiterated earlier estimates that the cost might range between $1,000,000,000 and $17,800,000,000. But he said "the overall cost is not capable of precise determination so far in advance."

"Three principles," Marshall said, "should determine the amount and timing of our aid. It must be adequate. It must be prompt. It must be effectively applied."

lack will be to arrange for consultations with the British who, as mandatory power, still control Palestine. A British spokesman said that delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan was ready to confer immediately and it was understood that he would be prepared to lay a British timetable of troop evacuation before the U.N.

The British have summoned Lord Smith of the Colonial Office and Sir Walter Coker of the Palestine Administration to assist Cadogan.

The commission also was expected to seek early conferences with the Jewish Agency for Palestine and the Arab higher committee. Moshe Shertok, considered a possible choice for foreign minister of the new Jewish state, will represent the agency.

The invitation to Palestine-Arab representatives actually would be only a formality as they have opposed partition bitterly from the first and, with the solid backing of the Arab-Moslem world, have refused to take any role in carrying out the plan.

Probably the two biggest questions to be solved were these:

- 1—When will the British get out and allow the UN Commission to take over?
- 2—How will the UN maintain order in the Holy Land and enforce partition in the face of repeated Arab threats of opposition by force?

Brazil Fight

in the plant formerly used by the Communist newspaper Tribuna Popular, which was suspended for its attacks on the government during the debate on the bill to put Communist legislators.

The chamber of deputies enacted, and President Getulio Vargas immediately signed last night, a law removing all Communists from elective posts throughout the nation. Those affected included a senator, 14 deputies, 60 members of state legislatures and 18 members of the Rio De Janeiro city council. The senate had passed the bill previously.

The Communist Party itself, which claims from 150,000 to 200,000 members and which polled about 800,000 votes in state and local elections last January, was outlawed on May 7, by three to two ruling of the Supreme Electoral Tribunal. That ruling did not affect the status of office holders previously elected with the Soviet Union aid.

Beall broke off diplomatic relations on Oct. 21 because of articles in the Russian press attacking the President and the Brazilian army.

The chamber of deputies approved the new law, 181 to 74, at the end of one of the most turbulent legislative sessions in Brazilian history.

Three deputies pulled guns on Communists but did not fire. First fights on Communists in the chamber broke out. Police clashed with 150,000 inside the chamber and the use of tear gas outside that police arrested had a riot on their hands before quelling the disturbance.

As the banquet ended, spectators in the galleries and the Communist deputies on the floor cried that President Dutra's "Fascist" regime had sold out to "Wall Street and North American imperialism."

"This government is rotten," he shouted, "and will collapse by a movement of the masses."

For Dutra, enactment of the new law was the culmination of a two-year fight against the Communist Party, which was founded in Brazil in 1922 but remained underground for years. Under Dutra, newly returned from Russia, the party staged a revolution in 1935, after which Dutra was imprisoned for nine years.

which he heads at least will want to know the extent of Morgan's grain dealings and whether they extend back to the time he was in the cabinet.

Morgan's name appeared on a new list of corn traders made public by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson.

Morganthau acknowledged that he owned 125,000 bushels of corn futures last June 30, but he said in a statement in New York that he lost money.

"I didn't know whether we will sell him down here," Ferguson said "but we will ask him for information as to his trading and whether it might go back to the time he was Secretary of the Treasury."

ferred or merged.

He said that neither a majority of the stockholders or bondholders of Florida East Coast had approved the proposed reorganization and merger with A.C.L.

To support his contention, Byrnes traced the history of the reorganization Act through Congress and the cabinet's sponsorship of the measure as assuring Congress that it gave no originating authority to the ICC or the courts in reorganizations.

He accused the Atlantic Coast Line of buying and concealing claims against Florida East Coast to win standing in the reorganization case before the commission. He said the claims of approximately $1,400,000 already had been held worthless by the commission several years, but he quoted an ICC examiner as saying that the claims of approximately $100,000 annually through the consolidation of executive and operating assets. They he quoted A.C.L. as saying as employees would be adversely affected by the merger.

A.C.L. proposes to pay approximately $40,500,000 P.E.C. $4,125,000 in cash and the remainder in securities.

The P.E.C. has been in bankruptcy since 1934, but it had a $12,000,000 cash balance in 1942.

Since then he has held many assignments. He was Assistant Chief, Division of Near Eastern Affairs, in 1943 and served that post as Acting Secretary of the United Nations Conference on food and agriculture at Hot Springs, Va.

He accompanied then Secretary of State James F. Byrnes to Moscow Conference in 1943 and attended the Second Cairo Conference that same year.

In 1944, he was made Chief of the Division of Middle Eastern Affairs and later became Deputy Director of the Office of Near Eastern and African Affairs.

In order to clear the way for Kuter's nomination, Mr. Truman asked congressional action on a bill to enable him to serve as a member of the board without disturbing his military status.

Kuter is the United States representative on the council of the International Civil Aviation Organization.

Landis was dropped as CAB chairman, at the end of last year. Mr. Truman gave an explanation of his decision not to reappoint the former New Dealer to the post.

Kuter is 42, a native of Rockford, Ill., and a graduate of the Military Academy.

Marshall Not To Resign If Plan Rejected

Secretary Repeals Demand Of All Or Nothing At All On U.S. Aid To Europe

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall today described as wholly incorrect speculation that he would resign if Congress fails to enact a European recovery program in the manner he proposes. Marshall volunteered at a news conference this information on his attitude.

He had declined earlier in response to a question to add or subtract from his statement yesterday that Congress should meet all the requirements of European recovery plan or else not undertake the job at all.

Marshall said that he had appeared before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday in an advisory capacity and did not want to add or subtract on what he had said.

Then he went on to say that he had noticed implications in some accounts of his testimony that he would return to his home at Leesburg, Va., if Congress either cut or turned down his recommendations for the four-year effort to rebuild western Europe.

That, Marshall said, is wholly incorrect. He added that he thought it would be inconsistent

New York City Plans To Fight State Ruling On Ousted Reds

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—The City Board of Higher Education planned a two-phase fight today against a State Education Department ruling forbidding ousting of teachers on grounds that they are members of the Communist Party.

A request for reversal of the decision was under preparation by the board, it was announced last night, and Dr. Ordway Tead, board chairman, said members also are considering a last-resort appeal to the legislature to "correct the situation for the future."

The department's ruling, announced Thursday, ordered reinstatement, with back pay, of Francis J. Thompson, suspended seven years ago from the city college faculty where he was a public speaking instructor. Thompson was dropped from the faculty after a hearing in which he was charged with being a Communist Party member and of perverting himself by denying it.

The state unionism was issued by acting Commissioner of Education Lewis A. Wilson. It was both defended and criticized by members of the city board.

Wilson's action, said Charles H. Tuttle, chairman of the City College Administrative Committee of the board, "opens the way for the fifth column of the Communist revolutionary movement throughout the world to establish a largehead in the very top levels of American public education."

But another member, Ira A. Hirschmann, praised Wilson for "his courage and consistency in the face of a witch-hunt hysteria that is sweeping most public officials of their feet."

The acting commissioner's contention that the Communist Party was not illegal in New York State was termed by Tuttle "utterly irrelevant to the question whether we should permit Communists to teach in tax-supported schools, particularly when the nation is making a gigantic effort to ston the spread of Communism in the world."

Meanwhile in Baltimore, the dismissed teacher said he plans to remain at Johns Hopkins University as Associate professor of writing and speech.

"I have never belonged to the Communist Party," Thompson added.

Formal steps for appeal of Wilson's ruling will be taken at a board meeting Jan. 19, it was announced.

U.S. Requests Marines Sent To Holy Land

Dispatch Of Marines Would Need British Okay As Britain Rules There

JERUSALEM, Jan. 9 (AP)—Officials said 600 armed Arabs opened fire today on Jewish settlements in northern Palestine and invaded the country from the Syrian hills, killing three Jews and wounding eight before British troops and the Royal Air Force intervened and brought the "situation under control."

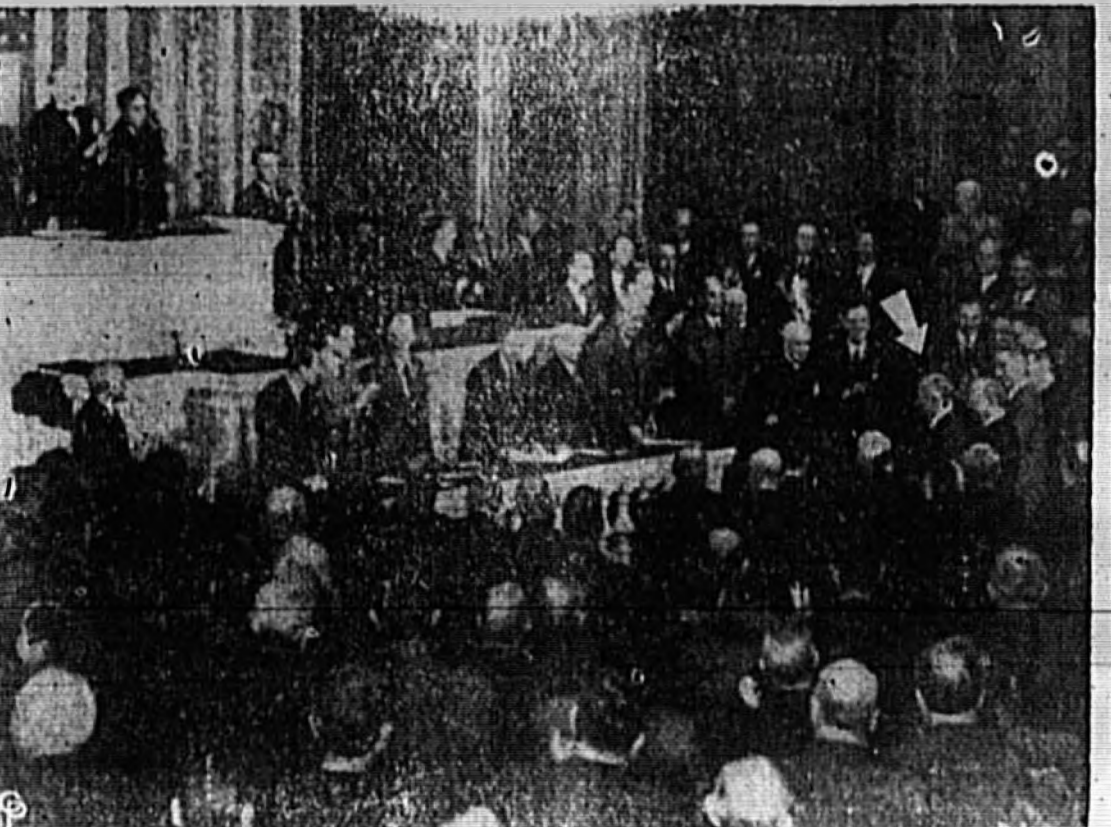

LONDON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Highly qualified informants in Whitehall said tonight the United States has asked and received approval to dispatch U. S. Marines to the Holy Land as a guard for the U. S. consulate there.

One source said he did not know how many Marines might be sent, nor when they would arrive. A contingent of Marines left North Carolina this week with the announced assignment of joining U. S. fleet units in the Mediterranean.

(The Palestine government operates under British mandate, and the dispatch of Marines presumably would have British approval. Whitehall is the area in which the fighting is taking place.)

Pauley Charged With Making A Million Dollars While Cabinet Assistant

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen accused Administration "insiders" of using official information to make a $4,000,000 profit in commodity trading since the war and called for legislation to prevent such activity.

The former Minnesota governor, now seeking the Republican presidential nomination, told a Senate appropriations subcommittee that "I do not think any member of the government should be in the food commodity markets." He added that legislation apparently is the only way to prevent this.

Stassen also testified that:

1. Edwin W. Pauley, special assistant to Army Secretary Harold E. Stassen, profited to the extent of approximately $1,000,000 from his trading, and "did not make a full disclosure" of his activities when he appeared before the committee last month.
2. Brig. General Wallace H. Graham, President Truman's personal physician, was "not truthful" in a recent statement on his commodity trading. "Our information is that, in fact, Dr. Graham did not leave the market immediately after the President's Oct. 5 address on speculators. He did not leave the market until I very specifically said the executive branch of the government was involved."

Stassen also said that Graham did not lose money in the market, adding that "his profit was nothing compared with the million dollars made by Pauley, but it was definitely a profit."

Pauley has testified that he began liquidating his holdings after taking the Army post last Sept. 3 and was "$100,000 worse off" because he did so.

Graham, scheduled to follow Stassen on the stand, recently issued a statement saying he learned last October that he was

U. S. Transfers 4 Fleet Type Subs To Turkish Navy

Vessels Are Among 15 Which Are Being Sent On Aid Bill

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 9 (AP)—A contingent of Turkish navy personnel will depart from the U. S. Navy tanker T-30 tomorrow for the Norfolk Naval Station tomorrow for training preparatory to taking a number of small U. S. Navy craft to Turkey. Two groups of more than 200 officers and men arrived early in December.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—The United States is transferring to Turkey four fleet-type submarines and Navy crews will deliver them to a port of this eastern Mediterranean nation.

The submarines are among 15 Navy vessels of various types which the Navy announced today are being transferred under the $100,000,000 Turkish aid program voted by the last session of Congress.

The announcement came at a time that 1,000 Marines are en route to strengthen crews aboard U. S. warships in the Mediterranean. Some of these ships are in waters about Greece where guerrilla warfare marks the conflict between the Communism stemming from Soviet Russia and her eastern satellites, and western Europe and the United States.

Russia, Turkey's huge neighbor, has repeatedly been reported by Navy officials here to possess one of today's largest submarine fleets.

Fleet-type submarines are large modern vessels capable of operating

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Proposed reorganization of the Florida East Coast Railway was given the Interstate Commerce Commission for a final decision today amid a bitter exchange between opposing lawyers. An three-day hearing in the commission's office in Washington, D. C., was held today. Edward W. There are 13 precincts in Seminole County, stated Mrs. Beal, and the books will be taken to the 13 county precincts to remain open in some convenient location until Mar. 1 when they will then be returned to her office in The Sanford Herald and remain open until Saturday, Apr. 12 at which time they will be closed to prepare for the election.

The books for Precincts No. 1 and No. 2, comprising all of West Sanford as far as Cassin City and Midway, respectively, will be open in the office of the supervisor on Monday, Mar. 1 and will remain open each week day until Saturday, Apr. 17.

Only persons who have reached the age of 21 years since the last registration period or those who have established a legal residence in the State of Florida for a year or more and in Seminole County for six months will be required to register. All those who have registered for State and County elections any time since 1936 will not be required to re-register, said Mrs. Beal.

Mrs. Beal pointed out that it is necessary for citizens who have changed from one precinct to another to call at her office for a certificate of transfer. Persons who have married since registering are asked to have their names changed on the books in order to eliminate confusion at the polls on election day. She also pointed out the necessity for persons acquiring property since registering to report it to her office so that a notation of the fact can be put on the books for bond elections, school elections, and other elections in which only freeholders may vote.

13 Years Of Tuberculosis Study Shows Vaccines Safe To Humans

CHICAGO, Jan. 9 (AP)—A 13 years' continuous experiment with tuberculosis vaccine has shown such applications to humans are safe and effective, an article in the journal of the American Medical Association reported today.

BCG vaccine, a non-virulent bovine tubercle bacillus originally isolated from the milk of a tuberculous cow in 1906, has been administered to an estimated 10,000,000 persons throughout the world.

The controlled study of its effectiveness has been the longest continuous experiment in the United States, the authors said.

The 13-year study covered in the report was made in Chicago, the first three years devoted to animals and the remainder to humans. In the tests, control groups were selected from a population similar to those vaccinated. The researchers reported that in the poorest districts of Chicago but not in household contact with tuberculosis, there were 11 cases of tuberculosis in the vaccinated against 39 in the controls (who lived under similar conditions). The rate per 1,000 person-years was 3.31 times as great in the controls as in the vaccinated. There was one death from tuberculosis in the vaccinated against seven in the controls or a difference in the rates of 6.8 times.
