

ATTEMPT MADE TO HI-JACK RANSOM CASH

Emissary With Large Sum For Release Of Gettle Shoots His Way Out Of Trap

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—(A.P.)—Kidnapers of William F. Gettle, oil millionaire and their victim were hid safely away today after a night of sensational episodes in which an emissary carrying a ransom of $60,000 escaped presumably from hi-jackers after repeated attempts to contact the abductors.

The disappearance of a large sum of money came about 10 A. M. when the intermediary, traveling in a small car with a hatch containing the ransom in five and ten dollar bills shot his way out of a trap.

Before he whipped out a revolver to protect himself from a group he believed to be hi-jackers, he had spent nearly five hours driving through metropolitan Los Angeles picking up at intervals instructions which were to have led to the actual delivery of the ransom.

After coming upon the third of these notes and while driving up a dark street between the old rear bridge and the City of Maywood about eight miles southwest of the Los Angeles business district, three machines closed in upon him, police reported.

Quickly sensing from the tenor of the notes that the machines could not possibly contain the kidnapers, and fearing an attempt by outsiders to take the ransom away from him, he opened fire. Shots were exchanged.

The emissary, whose name upon police request is withheld, fled to a telephone, notified police headquarters he was safe, and moments later was whisked to police protection.

Officers said that two notes pencilled in Gettle's handwriting and with his Shrinie name and membership card attached indicated that the ransom payment instructions were leading to the end of his trail as a prisoner, and that he is still alive.

Quickening Of Retail Trade Brightens Past Week's News; Business Confidence Drops

Sales Volume Running 12 To 20 Percent Better Than Those Of Spring Of 1933

NEW YORK, May 14.—(AP)—Reports of the most substantial quickening of retail trade since March served to brighten the business news of the past week, which dwelt primarily upon evidences of seasonal slackening in industry.

Dun and Bradstreet said warmer weather had brought out a large number of shoppers, and the reports from many parts of the country indicated sales volumes running 12 to 20 percent over a year ago, although drought conditions became so severe in parts of the Middle West as to impair business.

Steel production continued to gain, with "Iron Age" estimating output at 60 percent of capacity, up two percentage points and the best level since 1930 but a weakening of scrap prices and the knowledge that consumers were taking advantage of price protection existing until the end of the quarter to cover requirements tended to detract from the favorable operating rate.

Automobile production declined substantially, although retail sales reports remained favorable.

Cram's reports, nevertheless saw in the second successive weekly contraction in output "increasing evidence that the industry's peak operating level for the year has passed." Freight carloadings declined a little in a week in which a small gain in the seasonal average and electric power output was off about two percent, but the report reflected the first week of daylight saving.

Moody's seasonally adjusted index for steel production rose to 64, up 2.1 points, but the figures for freight movement and power production contracted a little, with the result that the combined index for the three factors declined 0.2 of a point to 77.1, after reaching a new 1934 high last week.

Retail trade reports indicated the greatest activity in apparel and shoe-furnishings, but interest spread to many other divisions.

Retail sales at reduced prices were said to be less in evidence, and merchants uneasiness over possible inventory losses appeared to have abated.

HEAVY SLASH IN VETERANS' LIST PROPOSED

Economy League Head Says 37 Percent Of Men On Rolls Do Not Deserve To Be Paid

NEW YORK, May 14.—(AP)—Henry H. Curran, director of the National Economy League, declared yesterday that 256,000, or 37 percent of the 687,000 war veterans and dependents now drawing government pensions should be stricken from the rolls.

To these pensioners the government will pay $130,000,000 this year, Curran said in a survey of veterans' benefits under the independent office appropriation bill.

This money, he said, will be spent "in violation of the principle of generous treatment for truly disabled veterans and their dependents, but no gratuities for those who returned from war whole and well," for which the National Economy League stands.

Citing the elimination of 100,000 World War veterans from the rolls, Curran called the saving involved "a great victory" for "those who have been fighting for sound principles in veterans' legislation."

The report said 222,000 Spanish-American War veterans have been restored to the roll under the bill. The League contends 200,000 of these should not be there.

Of the 687,000 World War veterans drawing pensions, Curran declared 430,000 should be eliminated.

These unqualified pensioners are the American people $95,000,000 a year in contrast with the total annual cost of all pensions of $130,000,000, Curran asserted.

"This last figure refers to pensions alone and does not have to do with costs of administration, hospital treatment, insurance, loans and other matters, which come to over $250,000,000 a year, being the total federal cost of veterans' benefits to about $620,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1934."

Italians Hop Off On Flight To Rome

BROOKLYN, May 14.—(AP)—Captain George Pond and Lieutenant Cesare S. A. Belli soared away from Floyd Bennett Field today with the announced intention of reaching Rome without a stop. They said their biplane could make the 4,500 mile flight in about 40 hours. The plane carried enough fuel to last more than 10 hours. Weather reports indicated favorable winds but noted a low pressure area over the North Atlantic coast which the fliers said they would fly over.

GREEN CLAIMS MORE STRIKES ARE IN OFFING

Labor Leader Warns Against Letting Fisher Body Strikers Lose Demands

WASHINGTON, May 14.—(AP)—William Green, president of the American federation of labor, warned yesterday that strikes in many branches of the automobile industry would occur unless strikers' demands were met.

"The strike of the workers employed at the Fisher body plant at Flint, Mich., reflects the spirit of unrest and discontent which prevails among the automobile workers at the present time," Green said.

"It is of a serious nature and it is my opinion that unless the workers secure redress for grievances about which they have complained over a period of time, strikes will occur in other manufacturing plants of the automobile industry."

"There will be no peace in the automobile industry," he added, "until the grievances of the workers are fairly settled, discrimination and coercion stopped, and the right of collective bargaining established."

Pay Your Poll Tax

With nearly 3500 persons registered as voters in this county, less than 1100 were qualified to vote in the June primaries this morning, a condition which all candidates declare as harmful to the best interests of the county. With all candidates agreed that the coming session of the Legislature promises to be one of the most important in years, hope was expressed this morning that all persons who have so far failed to pay their poll tax for 1932 and 1933 will do so before Saturday night at 9:00 o'clock after which it will be too late. Tax Collector Jno. D. Jenkins, at noon today, had issued 1342 poll tax receipts for 1932 and 1078 tax receipts for 1933. Pay your poll taxes before Saturday night!

U. S. FINANCING OF NEW HOMES IS PROPOSED

Roosevelt Calls Con- gress Into Action On Employment Aid Program For Nation

WASHINGTON, May 14.—(A.P.)—Government insurance of private financing for home construction and repair was proposed today by President Roosevelt in a message to Congress.

The President urged action at this session on a two-fold program which he said would add to employment and provide "tangible, useful wealth in a form for which there is great social and economic need."

Loans for modernization would be made by private agencies which would be insured by governmental agencies against loss up to a certain percentage of their advances.

Mutual mortgage insurance, under governmental direction, to enable private agencies to make first mortgage loans on newly constructed houses up to 80 percent appraised value of the property also would be provided.

New mortgages would be allowed on existing homes up to 60 percent of the appraised value.

The President proposed further federal insurance for shares and certificates holders in building and loan associations similar to the insurance provided for bank depositors.

It had been planned also to submit a request for a carry-over of $22,000,000 appropriation out of which public works and other aspects of recovery program would be financed in the fiscal year beginning July 1. The day was already full, however, so its money surplus was deferred until tomorrow.

Girl Has Heart Which Often Stops Beating

DENVER, Colo., May 14.—(AP)—Katherine Anderson's heart takes a brief vacation now and then, but she was confident yesterday that she has a long life to add to her nine years.

Since birth, physicians said, her heart has appeared to stop beating and then started again. The family physician told Katherine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Anderson, that there was no explanation.

At the time of the heart's "stopping" physicians said, they were unable to detect heart beats with their instruments and that so far as that was concerned the girl was "dead." Each time she has quickly revived and has experienced periods of normal health.

"It doesn't worry me," Katherine said. "I will outgrow it."

The child weighs 33 pounds about 30 pounds below normal.

CHAS. R. DAWSON IS RECOMMENDED AS COUNTY AGENT

Oviedo School Official To Get $2700 Year Starting On July 1

As a result of action taken at a meeting of the Board of County Commissioners this morning, Charles R. Dawson, principal of the Oviedo High School and assistant vocational agricultural teacher at Seminole County, will resign these two positions at the end of the school term and become the county agent for Oviedo.

His salary will be about $2700 per year, $1500 of which is to be paid by the county. The board has been considering the reorganization of the old office of County Agent for some months, and this morning's action came as the result of agitation begun nearly a year ago.

Before authorizing the creation of the agency, the board listened to H. G. Clayton of Gainesville, State Superintendent of County Agents, in a talk in which he outlined the duties and responsibilities of county agents and what they mean to a county.

The commissioners then moved unanimously that $1500 be appropriated in the next budget to pay a county agent $250 per month salary and $50 per month for expenses.

Upon motion of Commissioner W. H. Williams of Oviedo, seconded by Commissioner S. F. Long of Hulmeville, Mr. Dawson was recommended for the appointment, beginning on July 1, 1934.

In an interview before he returned to Gainesville, Mr. Clayton stated that the county agent is the representative of the Secretary of Agriculture, Wallace, as well as the Agricultural Extension Service of the United States and the state of Florida.

The state and government will contribute about $1200 per year toward Mr. Dawson's salary while the county will contribute $1500.

Although the board of control for the State of Florida and Secretary Wallace must approve the appointment of Mr. Dawson, Mr. Clayton stated that there is no (Continued On Page Four)

CLAIMS AGAINST UPPER ST. JOHNS DISTRICT PAID

County Taxpayers Are Saved $6956 Through Commissioner's Move

All outstanding claims against the Upper St. Johns River Navigation District which was created in 1926 for the purpose of erecting a canal between the St. Johns and Indian River for drainage and navigation purposes, were wiped out by the Board of County Commissioners this morning when they authorized issuance of checks totaling $7915.

The morning's action not only concluded a series of negotiations which resulted in a direct saving to the taxpayers of the county of $6956, but it also serves to relieve the county of the two mill tax levy which has been assessed since late in 1932.

The board has been endeavoring to settle the indebtedness existing against the District for some months.

Last June a payment of $6800 was made to the creditors, and hope was expressed at that time that a complete settlement might come this year after the payment of taxes collected under the two mill levy.

The commissioners' action today was taken upon the advice of their attorney. He had advised the board that he could arrange an assignment of all judgments existing against the district for $7000, or a saving of approximately $2015.

He also had arranged for the settlement of a bill for $1500 due John D. Sheppard for legal services rendered the District some time ago, and he had arranged to settle a bill of $684.55, due to the county for holding an election for the District, for $550.

Since the payment of all these indebtedness against the District, its taxpayers of the two mill tax levy for such purpose during the coming year, the board declared itself of the opinion that the settlement proposed is to the best interest of the county, and checks were ordered drawn at once.

In addition to the checks which are to be issued in favor of G. P. Garrett as attorney for the judgment, (Continued On Page Four)

Continent Spanned By Plane In 11 1/2 Hours

NEWARK, N. J., May 14.—Jack Frye, flying mail from Los Angeles to New York yesterday broke the transcontinental speed record for transport planes by covering the distance in 11 hours and 31 minutes.

The flight precursors regular overnight delivery of mail to New York, from the westward coast, the plane, a warily streamlined Northrup Gamma, was designed in response to the Postoffice Department's request for two year ago for equipment to perform such service.

Frye, alone in the ship, carried 355 pounds of mail and 85 pounds of air express.

The pilot achieved terrific speed by ascending to 14,000 feet. Meeting bad weather over the Mid-West, he rose to 17,000 feet but found his motor lost some of its efficiency in the stratosphere.

'Country' Politics Not New To Roosevelt

NEW YORK, May 14.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, said Postmaster General Farley yesterday, has had a thorough grounding in "cracker-box philosophy," and in that respect, he believes, the nation is fortunate.

"The President knows small town politics from the ground up," he said. "He is in sympathy with the opinions of the small town storekeeper as well as with those of the most advanced political theorists."

The postmaster general spoke before members of the Holy Name society of the Immaculate Conception Church of Astoria, N. Y., at the communion breakfast.

He praised President Roosevelt's foreign policy as adding to the "goodwill" of the nation, and said the complete story of repeal of prohibition hasn't been told yet.

"It didn't just happen," he remarked.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

REACH DOWN, SWEET GRASS
Reach down,
Oh long grass sisters,
Touch her hair
And stroke—softly—her tired eyes—
Make soft
The pillow there
Beneath her weary head,
And maybe, then,
She will not care
That she is dead!

And when
The wild things cry
Their mating songs,
And pregnant time makes ready to bring forth
Her issue,
Gentle grass
Caress her still,
And loose the earth a bit
So she may bear
The birthing sounds
Of lovely spring
This year.

Then Beauty
Such as you have never known
Before, dear grass,
Will come to you, I swear,
For being kind to her
Where, quietly,
Alone, yet
In silence—there!

Sweet grass
Reach down
And let her know—
When it is time, this year—
That spring
Is here—Because
She loved it so!

A Little White Rabbit

In a campaign speech for the United States Senate, delivered in Sanford last Wednesday night, Charles A. Mitchell, brilliant young Vero Beach attorney, paid a glowing tribute to President Roosevelt and vigorously complained the results of his first year in office. He praised the leadership of the President at such length that a listener should hardly be blamed for assuming that the candidate, if elected, proposed to follow that leadership.

Having concluded this portion of his address, Mr. Mitchell then launched his own program. It included: (1) the payment of government bonds with flat money; (2) the immediate payment of the soldiers' bonus; (3) the restoration of salary cuts to all government employees; (4) federal aid to public schools sufficient to provide "full terms and adequate salaries"; (5) high tariff on Florida products, of course; and (6) full compensation for fruit fly damage. It is well known that President Roosevelt opposes all of these measures.

Another of Mr. Mitchell's proposals is the payment of old age pensions by the federal government. There is reason to believe that the President favors this in some form or other, as practically all liberal minded citizens do. There is a great deal which could be said in favor of such pensions. The only question about the enactment of this law is whether the country in its present state of economic dependency can afford even so praiseworthy a luxury.

Obvious as it is from Mr. Mitchell's platform that he is merely bidding for votes, we would like to discuss one of his proposals, not with the view of influencing voters against his candidacy, but purely for the academic interest involved. Should he be elected, Mr. Mitchell would simply be one senator among many and the chances of his putting through any considerable portion of his program would be slim. But his proposal for saving the government $600,000,000 in annual interest charges sounds sufficiently plausible to warrant further comment.

It seems so simple and so practical "merely to exchange a piece of paper that does not bear interest and that can circulate among the people, for a piece of paper that bears interest and does not circulate" that one wonders why no one ever thought of this before. We do not mean to disparage the financial ingenuity of the Vero Beach attorney, but it does seem that if such a plan were feasible, President Roosevelt, who even Mr. Mitchell admits is doing everything he can to help the country, and all the economic advisors who surround him, would have hit upon such a plan long before this.

If it is practical to pay government bonds with printing press money, we are moved to wonder why government bonds are ever sold in the first place. Bonds are simply the evidence of a debt. The government needs money, which it doesn't have, so it borrows the money and gives its bond as proof of its intention of repaying the loan. Now why doesn't the government, instead of borrowing the money, when it faces a deficit and requires additional funds, simply print its own money on its own printing presses? Why go through this superfluous and unnecessary step of first borrowing the money and later paying it back with fiat money?

It can, of course, be charged that President Hoover borrowed money during his Administration because he was under the influence of Wall Street and he wanted to help the big rich by borrowing money from them so that he could pay them interest. But surely this line of reasoning doesn't apply to the borrowing which President Roosevelt has allowed. He has borrowed almost as much money in a year's time as President Hoover did in four years. Why didn't he print it?

And surely Mr. Mitchell would not contend that our beloved Democratic statesman, Woodrow Wilson, was a tool of Wall Street? It will be recalled that it was President Wilson who, during the war period, when it was necessary to finance our huge army and navy expenditures and lend vast sums of money to our Allies, borrowed more money than any other president in the history of this country. He pushed our government debt up from one billion dollars to 26 billion dollars, and he borrowed every cent of it. Why didn't he use the printing presses?

History is filled with instances where governments have been in financial necessity. The extravagances of the Louis's and the Henry's, and the wars of the Fredericks and Napoleons, must have created budgetary emergencies where taxes were oppressive and uncollectible, and the best financial minds of those troublous times racked their brains in futile efforts to make both ends meet. Why didn't they simply print the money? Why should Napoleon bankrupt his government with borrowings while the printing presses stood idle? Did the money interests control him too?

When national governments first made their appearance on earth, why was one of the most difficult problems with which they had to contend the subject of taxation. Governments had to have money in order to operate and they raised it by levying taxes against their people. Protests have always arisen against such taxation. The greatest outcry to which governments have always been subjected has been connected with the subject of taxation. Why did governments ever antagonize their people at all by levying taxes? Why didn't they just print whatever money they might need, as it is now suggested that our government print the money it needs?

Has no one throughout all history ever hit upon the idea of financing government expenditures, whether for bond payments, bonus payments, or ordinary expenses, by the simple and painless procedure of printing the money? Has it remained for a Vero Beach attorney, after centuries of burdensome taxation and budgetary problems, to hit upon a financial scheme which, if practical, far surpasses in its brilliance and expeditiousness an Aladdin's Lamp? The answer is, of course, that it has not.

Such "patent medicine" cures for governmental blundering have been tried time and time again throughout the ages. They are always the last resort of stupid and extravagant regimes. In more enlightened times such orgies of inflation have become less frequent, but fortunately recent history affords one notable illustration which should be sufficient to save modern countries from the disaster which Mr. Mitchell advocates.

Germany after the war plunged over the same precipice after being lured to the brink by the honeyed words of selfish demagogues who promised the millennium at no cost at all. Floridians, we believe, are too intelligent to follow any such leadership.

Green said the union hinged on the issue of company unions and that automobile workers were "resentful" that the settlement of the threatened automobile industry strike a few weeks ago was generally hailed as a triumph for the company union and a defeat for organized labor. Dissatisfaction has been accentuated, he added, "because of the failure of the automobile labor board to function properly and effectively."

Green criticized alleged delay of the board in acting, saying that although the board was appointed about seven weeks ago, "the workers allege that thus far no decision has been made upon the merits of any case of discharge or discrimination for union activity and union membership, this notwithstanding the fact that the board was appointed for the specific purpose of making decisions upon cases of discharge and discrimination presented, with the understanding that the decision of the board would be final and binding upon both employers and employees."

"The workers complain that their grievances have not been adjusted, their right to bargain collectively has been denied, the company union is imposed upon them, and they are still being coerced and intimidated in the efforts the companies are putting forth to compel them to become members of the company union."

The labor leader said the automobile workers have accepted section 7-A of the National Recovery Act as according them the right to organize independent unions and through them to bargain collectively with the plant management. The industry, he said, is "interposing the strongest opposition possible" to efforts of the workers have been "intimidated and coerced" into joining company unions.

"The workers," Green asserted, "believe this is a violation of section 7-A of the National Recovery Act."

Jasper J. Mayer, chief of the correspondence division of the FERA in Washington said, in a letter received here Friday, that "this Administration has made plans for more permanent relief for needy, able-bodied persons."

"These activities in your state will be under the direction of work divisions. Your state emergency relief administration is the agency through which federal emergency relief funds are being administered in your state."

"All work projects for the benefit of persons on relief will necessarily be under the supervision of that Administration. The letter was to Verin Palmer, officer of the Dade county unemployed citizens league.

U. S. Team Successful In Defense Of Cup

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 14.—(AP)—The United States successfully defended its Walker cup international amateur golf trophy by trouncing their British challengers Saturday in singles competition after capturing three of four foursomes Friday.

The Americans, needing only three singles wins and a tie to retain the cup for the eighth successive time, quickly clinched the team battle by piling up lousied margins in the first five singles matches.

"It is an injury done to world trade and world recovery if we are to contemplate the transfer of enormous quantities which we indeed receive in the form of goods but which we are asked to pay back in the form of money."

Engand Says It Can't Pay Its War Debts

LONDON, May 14.—(AP)—Arguments that Great Britain can pay her American war debt because she has a budget surplus were branded Friday as "fallacious" by Sir John Simon, the foreign secretary.

"First, because that which lies at the back of the difficulty in connection with these vast international payments is not the question as to whether a particular country has a budget surplus."

—and they do something like that to mellow good tobaccos

WHERE THE RARE WINES come from they know that the two most important things in wine-making are the selection of the grapes and the long years of ageing in the wine cellars.

IT'S VERY MUCH THE SAME in the making of a cigarette. You have to get the right tobaccos, then put them away to age and mellow in wooden casks.

You can't make a good cigarette like Chesterfield in a day. It takes over two years to age the tobaccos for your Chesterfields—but if adds something to the taste and makes them milder.

Everything that modern Science really knows about is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.

MORE RELIEF MONEY ASKED BY PRESIDENT

Roosevelt Wants Over Billion Next Year To Taper Off His Recovery Program

WASHINGTON, May 15. (A.P.)—President Roosevelt today asked Congress for $1,320,000,000 to taper off emergency recovery expenditures during the coming government year.

The main portion of the fund, $941,000,000, was assigned by the President for general relief and public works purposes.

He asked discretionary power to use it as demands required.

Out of this, however, he has tagged $150,000,000 for road construction; $40,000,000 for starting the Navy ship building program; $48,000,000 for the Tennessee Valley authority; $35,000,000 for public buildings construction; and $5,000,000 for an inter-American highway.

The President today ordered Norman H. Davis, American Ambassador-at-Large, to return to Geneva for the reconvening of the World Disarmament Conference.

The President also signed the Johnson bill barring federal courts from taking jurisdiction over state utility rates decisions.

Congress headed into the adjournment stretch with communications control and unemployment insurance hurdles in the offing.

COMMISSION TO ACT IN FACE OF DISEASE MENACE

Prevalence Of Many Communicable Ills Results In Action

Seriousness of a growing epidemic of contagious and communicable diseases, called to the attention of the City Commissioners last night, resulted in their decision to order strict enforcement of an existing ordinance which declares it to be a crime punishable by arrest and fine in police court to permit persons with communicable diseases to be seen in public places.

Mrs. Dorothy Lamb, school nurse, was the Commissioner's informant of conditions which she termed "alarms." She asked that the ordinance requiring all persons afflicted with infectious diseases should be enforced and that all persons should be quarantined until the illness subsides and is eliminated.

"We're having an epidemic of small pox, measles, chicken pox and even mumps," she told the Commission, "and unless this ordinance is enforced and persons are taught, probably by arresting some of the violator, and making (Continued On Page Two)

State Officers To Prepare For Duels With Any Gangsters

TALLAHASSEE, May 15. (A.P.)—Florida law enforcement officials are heading toward preparations to repel a probable invasion of the state by John Dillinger et al.

Instruction in manning machine guns, use of tear gas, and other implements of modern "warfare" on crime will be given sheriffs and other peace officers at a "school" to be conducted July 11-12 at Camp Foster, near Jacksonville.

The state cabinet has already stamped its approval on the plan of Governor Sholtz for the school. It was declared the state will prepare its officers "to deal with these men without mercy," should such an invasion be made, singly or in gang numbers.

A system of short wave radio communication for officers was also advocated by the governor.

The department of justice has been asked to detail a representative to the "school" for additional instruction. Officers of the national guard and other officials, who are experienced in implements to combat crime and criminals will have charge of the instruction.

SENATE PASSES BILL AIMED TO AID BUSINESS

Measure Would Make Half Billion Available For Credit To U. S. Industries

WASHINGTON, May 15. (A.P.)—A bill to help business obtain the money it needs to operate, was passed late yesterday by the Senate after a series of votes that closed Reconstruction Corporation efforts to other proposals but forbade political considerations from playing a part in loan negotiations.

The measure would make available $500,000,000 of Reconstruction Corporation and federal reserve credit to industries.

It provides for the creation of a $250,000,000 fund in the Federal Reserve Banks, for rediscounting paper, representing five year loans to industry and for setting up a $250,000,000 revolving fund in the RFC for direct loans to business.

Individuals desiring loans through the RFC would apply to its regional offices. Terms of the collateral offered would be fixed by the RFC board in Washington.

Under the federal reserve section of the bill, borrowers would apply at the Federal Reserve Bank in their district, if they had been unable to obtain credit through the usual banking channels.

Rejected amendments would have permitted loans to municipalities on tax anticipation warrants, twenty year loans to municipally owned power plants, and more liberal loans on collateral furnished the RFC by closed banks.

Miss Betty Brown, Lake Mary Scout, Gets High Honor

Miss Betty Brown, 13 years of age, who is a member of the Lake Mary Girl Scouts, has received recognition from the National Girl Scout Headquarters for her efforts in rescuing a small child from drowning.

A parchment certificate, signed by Harriet C. Barnes, chairman of the National Committee on Badges and Awards, was presented to Miss Brown at a meeting of the Lake Mary Troop held last Tuesday afternoon in the presence of the Troop Committee and mothers of members of the troop. The presentation was made by Mrs. James Thompson, chairman of the Troop Committee, and a bouquet of cut flowers was presented to Miss Brown by Miss Claire Evans in behalf of the troop.

The certificate read as follows: "Certificate of Honorable Mention Girl Scouts. The members of the National Committee on Badges and Awards of Girl Scouts National Committee wish to commend Girl Scout Betty Brown for her presence of mind and demonstration of Scout spirit in going to the rescue of a little child in danger of drowning, Lake Mary, Fla., August 1933. Harriet C. Barnes, Chairman National Committee on Badges and Awards, Apr. 23, 1934."

The incident for which Miss Brown received the certificate took place in August, 1933 at the Sunday School picnic of the Lake Mary Community Church at Evansdale Park when Marion Reeves, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Reeves of Lake Mary, jumped off the swimming pier into water over her head. The child, who was unable to swim, was going down for the third time when Miss Brown, realizing the danger, jumped in with her clothes on and carried the child to safety.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown of Lake Mary, a leader of the Clover Patrol, Lake Mary Girl Scouts, and a student in the Seventh Grade at the Lake Mary School. The recognition was brought about by the efforts of Mrs. R. E. True, captain of the Lake Mary Troop.

After the award had been made, the Girl Scouts entertained their mothers in honor of Mother's Day. After regular exercises, refreshment meals were served which were prepared by the members of the troop.

ITALIAN FLIERS BELIEVED WELL OVER ATLANTIC

Worst Part Of Journey Behind Them, Pair Not Reported On Non-Stop Attempt

NEW YORK, May 15. (A.P.)—Two men in a monoplane streaked over the Atlantic today headed for Rome.

With the worst part of their journey behind them, Captain Giorgio Rond and Lieutenant Cesare Sabelli were believed well on their way to Europe. The fliers, who are attempting a non-stop flight from New York, glimpsed their last bit of North American soil as they passed over Bell Island off Newfoundland late yesterday and headed for the open sea.

Good flying conditions prevailed over the Atlantic after the fliers made the first part of the trip up the American coast in murky fog.

Rome is making preparations for their well come. They were unreported since last seen off Newfoundland.

Italians last night were eagerly scanning reports on the flight of Captain Rond and Lieutenant Sabelli, flying the Atlantic toward Rome.

Everyone, from Mussolini, who was informed shortly after the aviators hopped off, on down, is hoping the fliers will overcome the apparent hurdle on the United States-Rome route.

Sabelli's seven-year struggle to get away on the flight to Rome was described by his brother, Franco, employed in the office of the minister of public works, in an interview yesterday.

"Cesare emigrated to Brazil when he was only 17," his brother explained. "He took up aviation there and made several flights in other South American countries."

He returned to Italy to fight in the World War as a member of the Italian air force. After the war he went to the United States, where he took out an aviator's license in 1926.

"His plans for the flight to Rome were taking shape as long ago as 1927. The enterprise was financed by wealthy Italians, including the tenor Beniamino Gigli, who gave $50,000 and the chocolate manufacturer Marsignelli, who gave $40,000 for the trip."

William F. Gettle, June Robles Are Found, Unharmed

Girl Found Chained In Desert In Hole; Both Released Without Ransom

(By The Associated Press)
Two victims of kidnapers, little June Robles of Tucson, Arizona, and William Gettle of Beverly Hills, Calif., have been rescued alive, and without the payment of ransom.

Their rescues came yesterday within a short time of each other.

Abductors had demanded $75,000 for the return of Gettle, and $15,000 for the return of the six-year-old Tucson girl.

Gettle was found in a house at La Crescenta, a foothills town near Beverly Hills.

He was bound to a bed, and his lips were sealed with caulk. He was unharmed. Four men and two women are held as suspects in his abduction.

June Robles was found in a desert grave roofed with tin burlap and cacti. She had been held there 10 days, but was unharmed, although dirty and sunburned and chained to an iron post driven deep in the ground.

An unsigned letter to the Governor of Arizona from Chicago led to her rescue. No arrests were made in that case.

Three men, arrested in the kidnaping of William Gettle were reported by authorities today to have confessed participation in the abduction of the Beverly Hills millionaire.

Statements of the three named Jimmy Kirk, 36, salesman as the "brains" of the gang; Larry Kerrigan as the man who guarded Gettle, and Roy Williams as one of the pair who seized Gettle.

Kirk said he knew nothing about the two women held in connection with the plot, and declared that only three of them are connected with job.

Gettle, worn and haggard but unharmed, was delivered from his kidnapers last night in a spectacular raid on a small La Crescenta home by sheriff's officers and police.

Acting on a tip received earlier in the day, the officers raided a house at 4256 Rosemont Avenue, La Crescenta, north of Glendale, and arrested a man who gave his name as Roy Williams. A second man ran from the house and escaped.

On a bed inside the house the officers found the Beverly Hills millionaire, who was kidnaped from his country estate at Arcadia last Wednesday midnight as an all-day party was drawing to a close. Gettle lay flat on his back, his hands bound and a court plaster mask over his face.

Officers said he was unable to speak for a few minutes, but en route to the sheriff's office told them the man who escaped was the "real brains" of the kidnap gang.

"I was not motivated in any way," Deputy Sheriff R. S. Rowe, who rode beside Gettle from La Crescenta to Los Angeles, quoted (Continued On Page Four)
