

JAPAN SCOFFS AT LEAGUE'S EFFORT IN CHINESE CRISIS

Declares League Cannot Save Face At Expense Of Japan

TOKYO, Nov. 16.—(A.P.) Japan's attitude toward the meeting of the League council in Paris today was summed up by a spokesman for the foreign office last night in these words: "The League cannot save its face at the expense of Japan."

Coming from a conference with Foreign Minister Hirota, he emphasized Japan's position in a calm, deliberate voice, more eager to talk of the council's session than of the press dispatches to the effect that Foreign Commissioner Litvinoff had warned the Japanese ambassador that another Sino-Japanese clash might endanger the operations of the Chinese Eastern railway.

"First, it was talk designed to save the face of the League," he said, "and now it is efforts being put forth to save the face of the League."

"Frankly, we scarcely expect any resolution or decision adopted by the League will help matters. As we have often stated we can see a settlement reached by that route. China appealed to the League without consulting us and we did not like that move, to say the least."

"The League might recommend direct negotiations between China and Japan. That, about the only thing it can do. We have been insisting on that course from the start."

Practical Studies for Wives and Mothers

CARE OF THE BABY

BREAST fed babies have the best chance to survive. The first year of life is the most critical one and for every breast fed baby that dies in the first year, three or four bottle fed babies die. The best life insurance for a baby is for it to be under the care of a competent baby doctor. The money spent in a visit once a week to the doctor in the first few months and later once a month is much less than is spent at one time if the baby becomes ill. Moreover, too often the baby that is sick when the doctor is called is already so low in vitality that it succumbs to some slight ailment which a well-fed sturdy baby does not contract at all.

The best guides to baby's well-being are weight and its own actions. A baby should double its weight in six months and triple it in a year. If it gains steadily, looks happy and acts it there is no need to worry.

If it is necessary for a baby to be artificially fed it should undoubtedly be seen regularly by a pediatrician, that is, a specialist in diseases of children. Cow's milk has to be modified to conform to various conditions—all intended to change the constitution of a cow's milk approximately to the same strength as mother's milk. Only a doctor can do this accurately and judge when the baby's stomach is ready to be given heavier food.

One other fact regarding cow's milk: not only must it be clean when it comes into the house but it must be kept so until used. Even pasteurized milk needs care in this respect.

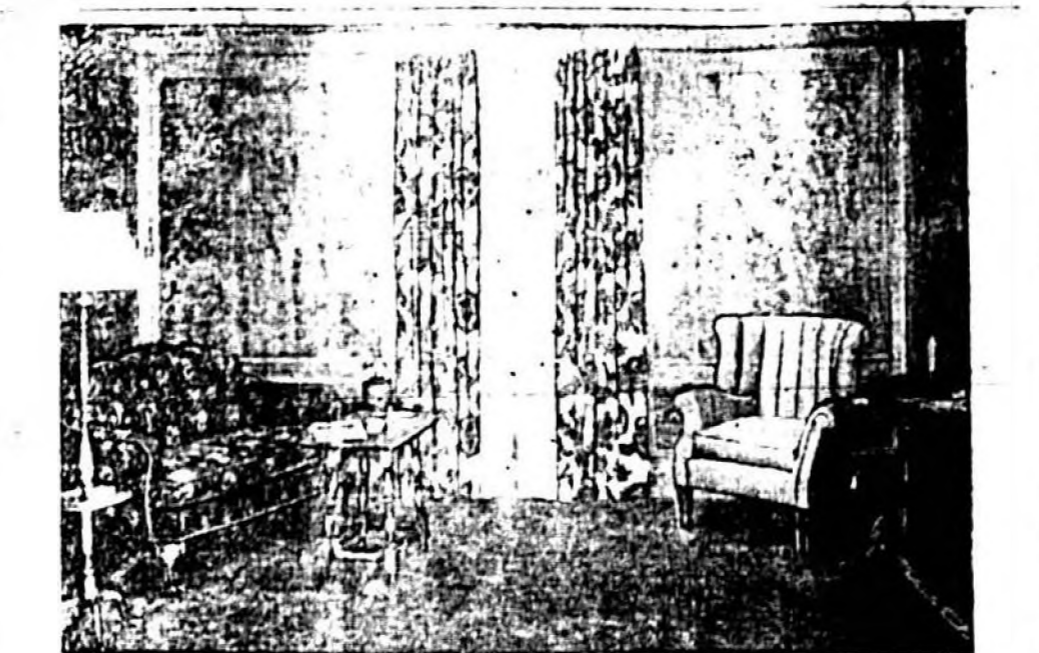

QUESTIONS:

All wives and mothers should be able to answer these questions:

1. What is most critical period in baby's life?
2. What are best guides to baby's health?
3. How should milk be kept after delivery to your home?

This is the sixth of a series of 10 articles on Health in the Home. The series will be on Food for the Family and Diet for Young Children.

HONJO SEEKS TO VINDICATE JAP POSITION

(Continued from Page One) Honjo, who failed to confirm the rumors that he had returned secretly to the capital of his fathers to be enthroned as monarch of the Manchurian realm, independent of Peking and Nanking.

He might be seeking personal safety instead of a throne, it was suggested by some sources.

TOKYO, Nov. 16.—(A.P.) Negotiations looking toward a 10-day truce between the Chinese and Japanese armies in the Nonni River sector of Manchuria were reported yesterday to have failed.

General Mah Chün-shan was said to be planning a general attack today at dawn.

The Hong news agency said in a dispatch from Harbin that the Japanese representatives, General Shionoya and Major Hayaashi, had been unable to conciliate General Mah and had returned to Harbin, leaving the consulate at Taitohar.

Chinese sources in Harbin said the Chinese commander would take advantage of a thick fog and launch a strong offensive against General Honjo's troops to illustrate his reputation of the Japanese warning to evacuate his position by Nov. 25.

Radio Commission Object Of Attack By Bishop Cannon

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(A.P.)—Bishop Cannon yesterday charged the radio commission with "religious freedom" in refusing to renew the license of the radio station of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church south of Los Angeles.

The Southern Methodist Churchman, in a formal statement, denounced the commission's action as "revolutionary."

The license renewal was denied after an extended controversy. The Rev. Robert Shuler of the church caused opposition by his broadcast, in which he frequently attacked officials and citizens.

The commission held "religious strife and antagonism" had been promoted.

"This attack by the radio commission upon religious freedom will not only allow, but will actually promote religious strife and antagonism," Bishop Cannon said. "The commission has exceeded its authority by its action in so unwise, revolutionary and un-American, as to demand an immediate reversal of such position, or the resignation of the commission."

PECAN SHELL KILLS BABY

ATLANTA, Nov. 16.—(A.P.)—Infant Garrett, 10-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Garrett of Spicewood, died in a hospital here Saturday after suffering for a week from a piece of pecan shell she sucked into her lung.

FANNY WARD'S GRANDSON

Asked about reports from Washington, Geneva and Paris that a compromise plan was in the making, he said there were no such suggestions in communications sent abroad by the foreign office.

"Japan has not authorized Ambassador Yoshizawa or Mitropoulos to offer any compromise and there is very little chance of a settlement being reached by those means. We have presented the League with our conditions."

"Unless China is ready to accept Baron Shidekara's five points... the present state of affairs may continue indefinitely or until the Chinese conceive some means of organizations of authority which will give the assurance that our vast interests will not be jeopardized by irresponsible war lords or bands of marauding bandits."

conferences will take place between the many formal functions arranged in his honor.

President Hoover has already studied in broad outline the matters which he expects to come up at the White House talks. He is ready to assure the minister that the United States will go as far as is consistent with American policies to help untangle Europe's problems.

There is only speculation on the extent to which the exchanges of views can be welded into definite actions. The general belief in official and diplomatic circles is that the greatest benefit to be derived from the talks will be a clearer understanding of the position each has taken on the difficult political and economic questions involved.

Minister Grandi recently visited Germany and studied closely the problems of that nation. He feels that solution of Germany's problems is fundamental to the problem of relieving all Europe from the animosities and oppressions growing out of the World War.

He will have the full support of President Hoover in his stand for decreased armament budgets. Likewise, he will find full agreement with the president in his hope for closer economic cooperation. Italy has established its currency and wants to maintain the gold standard.

While the president is favorable to the fullest possible measure of economic cooperation with Europe, he would reject any suggestion looking toward the cancellation of war debts and reparations. The president looks upon the question of economic strain as one requiring temporary relief but one in which Europe must take the initiative. His plan for a one year's moratorium on inter-governmental debts was designed to lift temporarily the burden from nations weighed heavily with obligations.

Hoover will listen attentively to the foreign minister's ideas on treaty revision. The minister is understood to favor a revision of the Versailles treaty, to which the United States was not a party. The American government realizes that the treaty has created more credit in Europe but that the problem of revision is one solely for Europe.

WHY

do more and more smokers say:

"I've changed to Chesterfield"

BECAUSE . . .

THEY'RE MILDER. It's the robustus. The best tobacco—the smoothest and mildest that money can buy—go into Chesterfield. Ripened and sweetened in the sunshine . . . cured by the farmer . . . then aged for two years in wooden hogheads. No wonder you say, "They're so much milder!"

THEY TASTE BETTER. These mild smooth tobaccos are put together exactly right. That's Chesterfield's secret—but millions of smokers agree that the job couldn't be improved! Rich aroma of Turkish and mellow sweetness of Domestic, blended and cross-blended to Chesterfield's own BETTER TASTE.

THEY'RE PURE. Cleanliness and purity, always! Everything that goes into Chesterfield is tested by expert chemists . . . tested thoroughly! The purest cigarette paper made, burning without taste or odor. Sanitary manufacture . . . no hands touch your Chesterfields. They're as pure as the water you drink!

THEY SATISFY. You break open a clean, tight-sealed package. You light up a well-filled cigarette. Yes, sir . . . you're going to like his cigarettes—you know that with your very first puff. And right there's where many a smoker changes to Chesterfield. They Satisfy!

Miss Bell Is Pledged To Pi Beta Phi Group

WINTER PARK, Fla., Nov. 17.—Lucille Frances Bell, daughter of Mr. F. C. Bell, 1124 Park Avenue, Sanford, Florida, has been pledged to Pi Beta Phi, national women's fraternity at Rollins College, according to the announcement of the fraternity.

Rollins is the college which, under the administration of President Hamilton Hall, voted pro-Independent and former editor of The Independent, has effected a system of "individualized higher education," abolishing grades, points, credits, and in their place preparing courses under the Rollins plan of study to fit the needs of each student. Individual progress, including an important factor in character development and the profitable use of leisure, is based on "results achieved" and "accomplishment in fact," rather than on a formal period of instruction or the accumulation of a gross total of miscellaneous percentages.

Miss Bell graduated last spring from the Seaside High School in Sanford, where she was a member of the Little Theatre Club, Theatricals, and H. Y. Club. She was particularly interested in dramatic arts and English.

According to the fraternity announcement, Miss Bell was elected an officer of the Pi Beta Phi chapter and is particularly interested in English, the Women's Athletic Association, swimming, and singing.

Miss Olive Zachary left today for Jacksonville where she will join her mother for a short visit with the latter's sister, Miss Alex Flanagan.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE COURSES

"Methods and Materials" was the subject of the lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientists, on Sunday, November 13.

The Golden Text was from III Cor. 3:18. "We all with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord."

Among the citations which accompanied the lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "What is man, that thou art careful of him?" and the verse of song, "that thou visitest him." These citations led to have discussion over the words of the hymn, "that thou visitest him." "What is man, that thou art careful of him?"

The lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The spiritual man's consciousness and individuality are reflections of God. They are the emanations of His who is Life, Truth, and Love. Immortal man is not and never was material, but always spiritual and eternal." (p. 223).

At the meeting of the American Association of University Women to be held Thursday afternoon, at 4:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. E.
