St. Louis Browns Are Called Good Middle Class Club

By JUDSON BAILEY

DELAND, Apr. 2, (AP) — The St. Louis Browns were being picked for the first division of the American League by many observers at this time last year, and they are as good now as they were then.

In the opinion of the first dividers, the Browns landed in a tie or sixth place last season and they are likely to land in the same general vicinity this year.

The Browns are a good middle class club. They will play good ball and bad, and they are capable of making trouble for some of the upper strata rival-clubs as they have in the last couple of years.

A good year for Third Baseman

Carl Clift would build the Browns into something more feative and Manager Luke Sewell is hopeful. The veteran showed up at camp on time for the first couple of days.

He has a hunch Griffith has an idea Bo-bo might help the Senators. The brittle righthander is one of those rare

others who can win with a bad record. What we'd like to know is when he was practically the sole support of the Browns? When the Cards win

it's news; when the Browns win

it's Newsom?

Nice clean 2 room and private bath apartments furnished with lights, hot and cold running water. Only $3.50 per week payable in advance.

No smoking or animals will be allowed; no electrical applications will be allowed to be used unless arrangements made with management further their use. Apply to

DEFENSE BONDS AND HELP WIN THE WAR

THINGS WE'VE SEEN AND HEARD

By MAYME M. HODGKIN

Here amidst the muffled slapping of the waves and whispering of the palms, and incidentally the screeching of the monkeys, roaring of the lions and walling of the coyotes we sit and wait and pen our unhappy existence. As the winds of March give way to the gentle showers of April, we take to the hills and silently stand away, holding our breath to notice a feather and ye ole Chamber of Commerce and unless things look up pretty suddenly, also bidding adieu to the old pork chop and cornpone. Nevertheless, are we departing to the land of "wonder" what we wish to leave a parting word with our colleagues and sympathetic friends?

Our tourist, whose good will we believe, have enjoyed throughout the winter, we thank them for their grateful thanks. We hope we will not be saying good bye, but not to you a happy summer and speedy return to our midst when winter comes again. We hope that all the happy friendships made here under our roof at times somewhat dimmed, will grow richer with the passing months only to be renewed and enjoyed when you return to us. It has been our sincere effort to ensure that the tourists will be well treated. We hope you will be pleased with our outfit in Sanford and we hope we have created for you a happy warm corner in your hearts.

Though we have lived in Sanford for a number of years we feel that before the advent of our Chamber of Commerce "warren" we were in company with others. We are indeed deeply sensitive and appreciative of the many friends we have been privileged to acquire during our work with the tourists. We hope more than through our efforts to make our position to merit the confidence of those in the business and that it will be permanent. It is a well known fact that we have a happy life.

The Seminole Herald goes on record to say "Thanks". They have given us work their land, spiritual, material and physical, the most valuable gift of all.

This has been our only means of bringing before the citizens of the world we have at the present time, not in any degree, any value or value. We hope we may one day find another outlet to our activities, something more worthwhile, but in simple manners and without a doubt to prove our point.

At the end of those great people who have been so encouraging and inspiring, made it possible to continue our efforts and give our best, it is not possible adequately to express our appreciation. But we hope you understand how much we really feel that we are in this solidly and wholeheartedly supporting the Coka-Cola Company. We hope we may one day find another outlet to our activities, something more worthwhile, but in simple manners and without a doubt to prove our point.

MATERIALS THAT CAN BE USED IN BUILDING THE COMPOST HEAP:-

- 1 Dried leaves
- 2 Grass cuttings from lawn
- 3 Pulled weeds without seeds
- 4 Fallen flowers
- 5 Tops of plants pruned in fallen
- 6 Vegetable tops from the kitchen
- 7 Vegetable peels
- 8 Coffee meal residue
- 9 Thoroughly washed left over table残渣
- 10 Charcoal dust
- 11 Egg shells
- 12 Filter press cake from sugar mills
- 13 Wood ashes
- 14 Coffee pulp
- 15 Banana & sugar can trash
- 16 Tobacco leaf stems
- 17 Sawdust should not be used in building the compost heap because it liberates harmful acids and favors fungus growth.

YEAR OF COLUMBUS

FORTIELO, Colo. Apr. 2—(AP) A fourth grade boy, sent to find an article for his teacher, returned and reported he couldn't find it.

"I should have sent a girl," said the teacher, with a smile. "I never knew a boy or man who could find anything you sent him for."

The boy smiled, too. "Columbus found America, didn't he?" he said, unabashed.

ALL ONE
(Spirit)
Hard earth, and a cold sky
And a lone bird flying.
Sunset, and a hound's cry.
And the tall pines' sighing.
Morning, with its one star.
The low, low hollow;
"Come, come, I come from far."
Follow! Follow!

These speak, and she who walks
Silent, in wonder
Listens, while the earth talks
Over and under.

Listens, and hears a Voice:
"Why are you lonely?
Lift up your head, Rejoice!
All is One, only."

Earth one with sunset star.
Wind one with water.
All people near and far.
All One, my daughter."

"All One." The trees blow.
The wind grows stronger—
And she who walked alone, now
Walks alone no longer.

What this country needs is not so much a Co-ordinator of Bowling—as someone to set up the

We see where Charles Lindbergh has gone to work for whatever became of Musolini?

Coastal towns are being asked advantage of being an inland

The "MacArthur Dip" is said to be the latest dance craze sweeping the country. It seems to be one of those steps where you retreat just so far and no

In the East the Easter business this year is said to almost equal the Christmas rush. Maybe that's because so many people realize this is about their last chance to buy so many things.

Children's toys are out for the duration; at least toys made of metal, plastics and other materials needed in armaments. The children will have to make their contribution to the war effort
the same as every one else.

If the Army or Navy decides to take over Sanford's new-airport as an auxiliary base, that will probably be the first priority for new construction and it is possible to secure WPA funds for such things as swimming pools and hospitals.

The pony express, Hoover veteran, may be revived, E. A.
McGinnis, president of the Indian River Horse Assn., has suggested that it would be possible to have some kind of communication service to keep the pony express running.

On a monument in the grave of an old man in Magnolia Cemetery,
there is a plaque which says, "He was a true American."

The Flower Show

We are glad to see that the Garden Club is going ahead with its plans to hold another Flower Show this year in spite of the fact that the country is now engaged in war and that most folks' minds are more concerned with armaments than with things of beauty or with growing cabbages than flowers. It is a good thing to keep alive as much as possible those things which make life worth living when the world is at peace.

The war will not last forever and in so far as possible Sanford should plan now for what is to come after the war. We had begun to realize the value of city beautification before the war began. We had come to learn that a fine park planted with azaleas and others was a tangible asset to any city. We had discovered that tourists, who have long been the mainstay of most growing Florida cities, come to those cities which are the most beautiful.

The lessons we learned the hard way before this war began will prove equally as true after the war is over. Then tourists will flock again to Florida resorts. They will come in greater numbers than ever before. There will be dammed up savings now going into Defense bonds to spend and there will be the long war years without vacations to get over. People will want trips more than ever before and they will have the money and time to take trips. They will come to Florida and they will stop in those cities which are the most attractive.

A few minutes a day spent in planting trees and shrubs now will pay valuable dividends in the years to come. Fifteen cent azaleas planted now will grow to be dollar plants by the time the war is over. The recreation of gardening if intelligently pursued will help to keep us fit throughout the war and will help to give Sanford the reputation for being the most beautiful city in Florida when the tourists begin to come again.

And so we are glad to see the Garden Club, despite apparent obstacles, going ahead with its good work. It deserves the wholehearted support and co-operation of all right thinking citizens for these flower shows are not only good for the people who participate but they are also good for the town.

Preserving Hats

We don't suppose America can win or lose the war regardless of what men do about their hats, but in view of threatened shortages of certain materials out of which hats are made it is probably well to consider ways and means of preserving them. This, of course, has nothing whatever to do with the new Easter bonnets the women are wearing. As far as they are concerned it is perhaps better to let them wear out as soon as possible.

But for men's hats which are used primarily to keep the cold air off a bald head or the hot sun off a soft one, the following suggestions from the National Hat Style Council, whatever that is, may come in handy:

1. Keep your hat free from dust. If it is dusty, a drop of water will make a mud spot that will soak into the fur and be hard to remove.

2. Brush the hat regularly with a soft bristle hat brush, always brushing gently with the nap and not against it.

3. When you put on a hat, grasp the brim fore and aft. Pulling it on by the side brims is bad for its style-lines.

4. If you are going to lay aside a hat for a while, push but the crown, turn up the brim, and put it away in a hat box. Don't let hat check girls pile your hat up with other hats. The sweatband of the upper hat will stain the crown of yours.

5. If your hat gets rain-soaked, dry it slowly, away from artificial heat—and see that it is not pushed out of shape while drying. Don't put it on a crowded shelf where the brim may be twisted and buckled, or it will stay that way. Best plan is to unsnap the brim, push out all the dents, let it dry slowly, then brush it with the nap, and reshape it.

6. Turning out the leather after a perspiring day preserves the life of the hat. This allows the perspiration and hair oil to evaporate and dry out, instead of being transferred to the hat.

7. The derby—When the derby is put away for any length of time, always stand it on its side on the brim and crown, never upside down on the top of the crown—and never flat on the brim.

8. Straw hats also should be brushed occasionally. Use a soft brush for the fine smooth weaves—and for the rough-weave straws an ordinary clean whisk brush. In straw hats, too, if caught in the rain, unsnap the brim and see that the hat is properly shaped while drying.

9. The high silk hat—Keep it in its box when not in use. Never leave the hat standing on the brim, as it will settle and lose its shape. Turn it upside down and rest it on the flat topped crown.

10. Folding opera hat—Never put it away collapsed. This weakens the springs and wrinkles the fabric. Open the hat and stand it on the crown as you do the high silk hat.

Clubwomen Meet For Monthly Luncheon

Hilper's swastika cannot be derived from the Cross because its angles turn left, symbolizing po-nary, darkness and evil, while Indians, Chinese and Oriental religions who used the swastika pointed its angles toward light and wisdom,"

Mrs. James Moughton told members of the various departments

of the Sanford Women's Club

when they held their monthly luncheon meeting yesterday. The ape man related the symbolism

of the Cross from prehistoric times to the present.

The remaining portion of the afternoon's entertainment "A Pan-American Conference" was under the direction of Mrs. W.

B. Shippy. A board of six members presented political and religious problems of arbitration to the audience who comprised the main body of the conference.

Each of the eight conferences

which have met were reviewed,

looking forward to the culmination of the 1943 conference of the American Industrial Conference to construct a complete economic system.

A color scheme of yellow, white and navy blue was used to decorate

the club house and miniature

Easter eggs made of cabbages and calandales were placed on each of the 12 tables.

JAPS CRACK BRITISH LINE IN BURMA

Fighting Tempo Increases Along Leningrad Front

25,000 Nazis Killed In Last 13 Days; RAF-German Aerial War Hits New Peak

A heavy battle of tanks and men, with the tempo rising constantly, was waged on the Leningrad front as the Russians claimed to have killed 25,000 Germans and captured huge war supplies in 13 days. Germany, pressing offensive land operations, claimed it sank 36 warships, including a British cruiser and eight destroyers, in February and March naval duels. The cross channel aerial war has hit a new peak of fury as RAF bombers hammered Paris environs, docks at Leharve, German-held airfields and the Luftwaffe countered with aerial bombardments at the English south coast.

The fighting around Leningrad gave quick import to the comment of Swedish observers who yesterday said they approached of good weather would make the position of Russia's second-largest city more dangerous and that the Germans might be able to take it if this improved weather were willing to pay a bloody price.

A Russian communiqué said 3000 Germans had been killed in the last 13 days in aerial and ground army operations on that front.

The Germans said Leningrad had been subjected to "heavy artillery fire," and the new front on that front was regarded in London as possibly aimed at quieting the mounting anxieties of Finland.

Temporarily, at least, the Leningrad conflict overshadowed anticipations of a great new campaign in which Germans and Russians will meet head-on in the south.

Dispatches from neutral Stockholm as decisive battle was expected to start within two or three weeks on the southern Russian front, where both the Germans and Soviets are moving up great masses of reserves.

These reports said that while the Red army had preserved the initiative in bitter winter fighting in the south, the actual war front in that zone recently had only aideshow compared with the vastness of preparations behind the lines.

U.S.-Filipinos Hit Back After Japanese Attack

American-Philippines fighters on Batan struck back at surrounded Japanese units which yesterday broke through the main defense line. The War Department announced mopping up operations were being conducted.

The pent-up fury of Japan's long-brewing supreme offensive in the Philippines burst upon Batan peninsula, yesterday, but recently outnumbered American-Filipino forces met the challenge by hurling back two savage drives with heavy casualties to the enemy.

The fierce action was reported in 5 P.M. War Department communiques which said fighting was still in progress but that the main defense lines remain intact.

It also reported that Corregidor underwent further air raids, but that anti-aircraft guns from the big fortress shot down three planes.

Japanese forces had taken a number of islands and had encircled Corregidor and fall into Manila bay. Corregidor's guns have brought down 31 bombers since the start of the war, 16 of them in the past 10 days.

Dr. Alvarez Gets Bond From Group

Dr. Jose Alvarez, first aid doctor who recently issued a $2500 bond to the 20 members of the Old Guard Auxiliary, has now been succeeded in his post by Dr. John C. Gandy, who has assumed the office of chairman of the group.
