Capitol Dome Once Again Open to Capital Visitors
Washington Tourist March Out-of-Bounds During War

WASHINGTON — The dome of the nation's Capitol is open again to the public. Hundreds of feet are again daily tramping the long, winding steps that lead to the dome, closed during the war as a defense measure.

With its opening, one of the capital's feature attractions has again become the mecca for thousands of tourists.

Four years have elapsed since the dome, which dominates the Washington Vista, has been closed and the steps leading to it are somewhat dilapidated.

Climbing the 365 steps, one for each day of the year, which lead to the top gives the visitor an unparalleled view of the capital city 285 feet below.

Countless thousands have climbed the steep stairway since the dome was completed in 1865.

According to David Lynn, architect of the Capitol, no count has ever been kept of the people who have trudged the long, winding stairway, but they have come from every state in the union.

On the veranda underneath the statue of the Goddess of Freedom, high above the street, they have etched and written their names into the stone and cement.

The dome of the original central building of the Capitol was constructed of wood, covered with copper. This was replaced in 1866 by the present structure of cast iron, the work being completed nine years later.

Construction of the new dome was made necessary by the building of the present House and Senate wings, in order to maintain the architectural symmetry of the Capitol.

The weight of the dome is 8,909,200 pounds, surmounted by the bronze statue of Freedom weighing 11,985 pounds.

Visitors to the dome are able to climb to the base of the statue, which was modeled by Thomas Crawford, father of Francis Crawford, the novelist, in Rome, Italy.

The plaster model of the statue was shipped to this country and the statue was cast in bronze. It was placed in its present position on Dec. 2, 1863. Its cost was $23,796.

Visitors to the dome also obtain a striking view of the beautiful paintings which adorn the ceilings of the rotunda inside the Capitol.

Galleries permit tourists to obtain a close-up view of the paintings and to peer down 180 feet to the floor below.

The rotunda is 97 feet in diameter and light is furnished through 105 windows in the dome, as well as by artificial means.

During the long years of war the dome was not only closed to the public but was blacked out as well at night.

Following V-E day, however, the giant arc lights which bathe the Capitol at night in brilliant light were again thrown on and the dome is once more visible for miles around.

In anticipation of victory, the dome also received a thorough cleaning outside, the first in years, the entire surface being painted.

Other parts of the Capitol were also painted and stone portions were washed by city firemen who directed their hoses against the accumulated dirt.

Spruced up, the dome is again a mecca for visitors.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster— Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 12 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Fighting Again Breaks Out In Batavia Area

Roosevelt Files On Pearl Harbor—64 Bales Of Hay—Made Available To Probe

By Associated Press
Sporadic fighting flared anew in the northern section of Batavia during the night as new British reinforcements maintained a firm hold on the situation at the important Soerabaja naval base.

A British communique described the situation elsewhere as quiet during the past 24 hours, but acknowledged it is "tense." The news was limited by a British decision to hold no more press conferences on military developments which brought strong protest from foreign correspondents.

In Nuernberg, Supreme Court Justice Robert Jackson witnessed a dress rehearsal for the Nuernberg trial of top German war criminals today. A mock trial was the first of several scheduled to make sure there are no kinks in the elaborate mechanical system by which the proceedings will be conducted in four languages. Jackson said the United States will be ready to proceed with the trial on Nov. 20, but the opening may be delayed if defense requests for additional time to prepare.

Plans Are Made By Lions Club For Boxing Tourney

James Robson, Jr., publicity chairman of the Lions Club boxing promotion program, was in Sanford today, Friday, to hold a meeting with the club members to discuss the details of the tourney.

This highly publicized boxing tourney, which will be held at the four corners of the sporting world, was to the effect that at the Lion sponsored boxing contest at the Lakewood Ball Club, Wednesday evening, other than "those matchless sluggers," Happy Carnier and "One Punch" McGee, would have it out.

Joe Moss, chairman of the boxing committee, announced that the 700 pound boxing ring from Orlando had arrived, that it was in a truck outside and would soon be moved to the site of the tourney.

In the current club membership contest, the Rowland Roundup leads the Ellsberry Pickers 85 to 52 to date, it was announced.

Ingley Discusses Bretton Woods At Rotary Luncheon

J. L. Ingley, president of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank, spoke at the Bretton Woods Luncheon, which was held at a conference of 44 nations in New York City, July, 1944, at the weekly meetings of the Rotary Club at the Mayfair Hotel today.

The proposals consist mainly of two parts, Mr. Ingley, who was introduced by Program Chairman George Touhy, pointed out, one for the United States and the other for the creation of an International Bank for Reconstruction and Development. The purposes of these proposals which were approved by the United States Congress last April were given as:

- 1) To stabilize currencies.
 - 2) To promote international trade.
 - 3) To make loans to member nations.
- Declaring that exchange controls, trade embargoes and other restraints on international trade, as practiced by Germany and many other nations during the past twenty years inevitably result in economic warfare which leads to actual war among nations, Mr. Ingley said that a high level of production and trade, full employment and the promotion of a better standard of living in all nations is essential if the peace of the world is to be preserved.

The Monetary Fund, he said, would have a working capital of about eight billion dollars of which the United States is to put up 2 1/2 billions. This country would be the largest single contributor and as such would have the largest voice in decisions affecting the fund. Headquarters for the fund would be established in the United States when 65 percent has been subscribed by the 44 member nations.

The International Bank of Reconstruction and Development would set up for the purpose of making direct loans to member nations, Mr. Ingley said, and for the purpose of guaranteeing foreign loans made by private investors. Such loans, he pointed out, are essential to international trade and to our own economic security. The capital of the bank would be 10 billion dollars of which the United States would subscribe 3 billions.

Farm Credits To Vets Urged By Farm Union

Plan Offered To Aid Ex-Service Men In Buying Farms And Equipping Them

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5, (AP)—The National Farmers Union yesterday recommended a program intended to give "adequate credit facilities" to World War II veterans desiring to purchase and equip farms.

James G. Patton, union president, criticized the farm credit provisions in the GI Bill of Rights, asserting in a statement that their "shortcomings" are "self-evident."

Estimating that 1,000,000 members of the armed forces will be seeking farms or farm employment and that only 800,000 farm units will become available in the next five years, Patton said "it is quite evident that not all veterans who desire to become farm owners will be able to achieve this objective."

Patton said in a statement that the cost of equipping and operating a family farm may range from $1200 to $13,000, while the amount of farm loans insured under the GI Bill of Rights is limited to 50 per cent of the loan or $2000, whichever is the smaller. He said also that the 4 per cent maximum interest rate is higher than most local rates, and that some states limit repayments to less than the act's 20 years.

Noting that the GI Bill also makes qualified veterans eligible for loans under the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, Patton said this act "best meets the needs of veterans farm purchasers."

The union program announced by Patton recommended:

1. Funds for the purchase of farms by veterans should be provided under the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act at the same rate as loans to other farmers, namely a 3 per cent interest rate, a 40-year payment period, and a variable repayment plan.
2. Such appropriations should be made for a five-year period to permit the administering agency sufficient latitude in the encumbrance of these funds.
3. The size of the loan to an individual veteran for the purchase of a farm should be limited to the average value of efficient family-type farm-management units, as determined by the secretary of agriculture, in the county, parish or locality in which the farm is located.
4. And the amount loaned to a veteran to purchase, repair and improve a farm should not exceed its reasonable value as determined by the administering agency.

Option to Compromise
"5. In case foreclosure threats within 10 years following the initial loan, the veteran farmer should be given the option of requesting the administering agency to re-evaluate the farm on the basis of average earnings of farms in the vicinity of the veterans farm, during the year that the veteran's loan has been in effect. If a re-appraisal of the farm shows that the original loan plus the veteran's equity is greater than the proven earning power of the farm, the administering agency should be authorized to compromise the loan."

President Says People Do Not Like Industrial Strife Hurting Prosperity

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5, (AP)—President Truman today said that the differences between the industrial strike and the struggle to reconvert to peacetime production.

Addressing the opening session of the Labor-Management Conference of 18 industrial and 18 labor heads, the President said the American people do not like the industrial strife that has retarded prosperity, especially after the solemn promise of both groups that they would cooperate with their government.

Outside a picket line had been started before the meeting began by some independent union whose representatives were not participating.

Saying he was anxious to remove all wartime controls as fast as possible, Mr. Truman said labor and management must find a way of resolving their differences without stopping production.

That "without a government directive to either labor or industry—that is your job. At the basis of the problem involved, he said, "is not only the right—but the duty—to bargain collectively."

Approximately 245,000 persons are idle in labor disputes, the management-labor conference opened in Washington to study long-range peace moves.

Generals And Politics

"In vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird." If some Los Angeles politicians never heard this bit of ancient wisdom, they know its truth now. In the effort to get a strong candidate for Congress, some had the bright idea that General George S. Patton, Jr. would be just the man.

Miss Oulla Cole Weds George Talbott

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Augustus Cole, Sr., of Jackson, Miss., was the scene of a lovely wedding on Oct. 24 when their daughter, Oulla, became the bride of George Maris Talbott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Talbott of Oviedo.

The ceremony, beautiful in its simplicity, was solemnized at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon with Dr. G.T. Gillespie, president of Belhaven College, officiating.

Baskets of white chrysanthemums, ferns and tuberose were used to decorate in the living room, forming a pretty setting. The bride was lovely in a blue original Lilli Ann suit with which she wore black accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

Mrs. Talbott received her education in the Jackson School, graduating from Central High in 1942. Entering Belhaven College in the Fall of the same year, she received her B.S. Degree in 1945. She is the maternal grandmother of Lexington and her paternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Cole of Vero.

Mr. Talbott is a graduate of Seminole High School, and was a junior at the University of Florida when he enlisted for service with the Army Air Corps. He is a member of Alpha Eta Chapter of Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole entertained with an informal reception following the ceremony. The dining room was decorated with white chrysanthemums and ferns, and the table covered with a beautiful cut-work cloth, was centered with the white wedding cake, with white tapers in silver candelsticks, flanking the arrangement.

The cake was cut by the bride and groom in the traditional fashion, and was served with iced punch to the guests by the young couple left on the honeymoon trip to New Orleans, where they boarded a plane for Miami and other points in Florida for a two-weeks tour.

After Jan. 15, they will be home in Gainesville, where Mr. Talbott will enter the University of Florida as a senior to continue his study of Agricultural Economics.

The building, beautifully decorated with Fall flowers and Halloween decorations by Mrs. Edna Steele, Mrs. C. Graham and residing senior hostesses, was jammed to capacity.

Stanley Higgins, S. I. lead the station orchestra which included five saxophones and four trumpets. nicely worked into a fine selection with skill which they let go in full volume. Workmen are busy at the store room at 118 Park Avenue, preparing a new location for the Bauer Radio Service, which for the past seven years has been located at 115 Magnolia Avenue. A number of new innovations, including booths to listen to phonograph records, a television theater (awaiting the coming of television to Florida), separate enclosed booths for radio work, indirect lighting and other improvements are promised.

AWVS Tackles Household Organization Would Improve Help Problem Intelligently Status of Domestic Worker

By HELEN ESSARY Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON—If you are simply a nervous wreck, struggling with the servant situation day after day if you are so chastened by running the home single handed that you think the sound of somebody else using the vacuum cleaner is sweeter music than Tchaikovsky's "Patience," done by the Philharmonic, if you would rather rest your weary eyes on a stoutheaded retainer scraping a burnt pan at the kitchen sink just "liberated" than on a landscape by Corot then cheer up my pretties, your day of deliverance is here.

That is, your day of deliverance is about to be here. For a group of intelligent, industrious women with time on their hands, good intentions in their heads and strength in their sinews (shall I say, anemias) is working this very minute while you sit there drooping on that baffling enigma—the domestic servant situation.

To be specific, the successful war-time organization (the American Women's Voluntary Services, Inc.) is developing, or trying to develop, some kind of a plan for so improving the behavior of the domestic employer and the work of the domestic employe in your home that things will go merrier than a marriage bed from now on—Well, almost from now on.

The AWVS has tackled the question as a great nation-wide movement. An educational movement, which aims to explain domestic workers to employers and to teach employes how best to earn a new respect from employers.

"One of the first steps and almost the most important one is to improve the status of the servant, the household servant. This can be best begun, says the AWVS, by stopping the use of the word "servant." Never again say "servant." Say "domestic employe."

Mrs. Mortimer Hess, secretary of the AWVS and enthusiastic promoter of the plan for improving the servant (sorry—domestic employe) problem, says that the first step in her organization's campaign is to educate the employer.

Employers, Mrs. Hess says, are often shortsighted and tyrannical. They must be taught to protect their domestic employes. They must give vacations with pay. Working hours must be rearranged so that they do not straggle along half of one's life. Social security must be guaranteed domestic employes. And, in every way, the domestic employe must be regarded as a respected assistant.

Here, undoubtedly, are justifiable reforms. But they are not quite enough. To me, household work is mighty dreary. I like to do a few light touches here and there. Rearrange furniture. Dust off a few tables. Get dinner on the cook's night out—if she does not go out too often. But, to me, a daily diet of household work is simple drudgery. It deadens the mind and doesn't improve the spirit—that is if you can't escape it regularly.

This, however, can be managed by shorter working hours. When working hours are shortened, the worker must work harder and faster. Here is a most important point in the reform. In some households there is a powerful lot of drooling about by the domestic assistant. The droolers will have to be speeded up.

Fighting Again Breaks Out In Batavian Area

Senator Brewster (R-Me) expects to renew at the Thursday meeting of the committee his demand for authority to look at the War Department's records and inspect the Federal Communication Committee's file on radio monitoring during the period before the attack.

Will Continue Efforts He said that he will continue his fight to obtain more freedom for individual members to search out information on their own initiative. Over the objections of Ferguson and other Republican members, the Democratic majority of the committee has voted that an individual member may not take a look at military government files without the backing of the full committee.

Public Being Squeezed In Labor Battle

PANAMA CITY, Nov. 5 (Special)—The large public which is outside the pale of organized labor is going to be caught in the squeeze if industry and the unions do not speedily resolve their disputes, according to President Water C. Sherman of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce.

The "death grapple" which management and unions have upon each other, Sherman declared, means that somebody is going to be penalized, and the State Chamber's president believes "that somebody" is going to be the unorganized public. He said he did not blame the unions for trying to improve the lot of their members, but that if fair wages are now being paid "sound reasoning does not justify raiding the treasury of a corporation simply because it has a lot of money on hand."

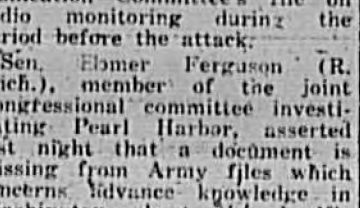

That money, he said, should be used by management in reducing the cost of commodities and otherwise improving production standards. Sherman declared that all contracts between unions and management should be given full publicity, that "such action would steady the hands of greedy unions, politicians and managers alike."

Beans are reaching the Sanford Market and manager H. J. Lehman expects greater amounts this week. Some cabbage, eggplant, squash, cucumbers and peppers will also be offered during the week. Much celery is being set and most of it is starting off well.

The Arcadia Livestock Market handled 719 head of cattle at its last sale. The market was strong and John D. Kelly, Manager, has forecast that it will continue to improve until next July. Calves ranged from $1.25 per hundred pounds to $11.00; yearlings, $4.50; $9.00; cows, $3.00 to $9.20; steers, $6.00 to $11.20; and bulls, $5.60 to $8.90 per hundred pounds. The calves offered were mostly fair and medium, the steer market was "strong with fat steers in demand" and the cow market was steady on all classes.

Strike Crisis Over Country Is Unchanged

Bus And Street Car Operators In Wash- ington Stop Work In Wage Dispute

(By Associated Press)
The idle because of labor disputes across the country was around 260,000 today with little change since Monday.

Major developments were:

- 1) Half the bus and street car operators of the Capital Transit Co. in Washington stopped work in a dispute over wages and a company official said the stoppage in the service was complete. Nothing moved after 6 A.M. EST. A high percentage of some 300,000 federal workers depend on the system for transportation to and from jobs. The stoppage came with little warning when 2000 union members decided to continue in the day an all night meeting.
- 2) A strike of the Greyhound Bus Lines is affecting 27 states with little indication of an immediate settlement.
- 3) Four cotton mills in Maine, employing 7,350 of 10,000 striking textile workers, closed indefinitely.
- 4) The offer of four Portland (Ore.) sawmill operators to compromise wage demands of striking AFL workers was rejected by the union.
- 5) Increases granted AFL meat cutters and food store managers ended a five day walkout in Salt Lake City.

In Windsor, Ont., city officials today threatened to use troops to remove a 1,300 vehicle barricade thrown up Monday near the strike-bound Ford plant by an estimated 5,000 union pickets. The CIO union leaders said no decision has been made yet by the unions whether to remove the barricade.

Two thousand members of the CIO's United Automobile Workers Union went on strike at the Ford Company Sept. 7. Chief union demands were for a union shop and check-off system, like that in Ford's American plants.

Another 2500 auto workers employed in more than a score of other plants walked out today; and many were said to have taken part in the picketing and blockading of the Ford Company.

For a stretch of 1400 yards on the Detroit River borders the Ford plant, was choked with automobiles, buses and trucks in the jam. Drivers left their cars and walked as did bus passengers.

Program Planned British Warned For Celebration Of Armistice Day

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Home Secretary Ede yesterday warned the British people against believing that they never again would be subject to air attack, and urged that the nation's wartime civil defense organization be kept up to date to meet any future emergency.

The service will take place on Monday, Nov. 6, at 10:45 A.M. at the Band Shell on Monday morning at 10:45 o'clock under the sponsorship of the Campbell-Leasing Post of the American Legion, were made Monday evening at the Legion Hut.

Mr. Stenstrom today contacted Mayor Edward Higgins, who announced that he would issue a holiday proclamation for Monday, Nov. 6, for the city of Sanford, Fla., in honor of the Armistice Day.

Mr. Stenstrom also announced that he would issue a holiday proclamation for Monday, Nov. 6, for the city of Sanford, Fla., in honor of the Armistice Day.

Appointment Of Labor Czar Is Proposed

Schwelmbach Says Unions Should Name One Man To Settle Inter-Union Rows

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach, in the first concrete suggestion to the National Labor Relations Board, proposed setting up a "council" for settling inter-union disputes.

He made this proposal in a speech to the opening session of the conference after President Truman told the labor and management delegates that the people had grown tired of industry-labor upheavals and that they had better find some way of living peacefully together.

Truman also chided labor for its jurisdictional disputes and industry for treating labor as a "step-child."

"Too often today," said Schwelmbach, "we find inter-union politics bobbing up in bargaining with management. The public finds it very hard to understand jurisdictional disputes, many of which have created real-world bottlenecks. Surely, with the structure of the great labor organizations represented here, a fair way to determine these questions can be worked out."

The highly explosive question of wages and hours was injected into the conference both by Philip Murray and Secretary of Commerce Wallace in their addresses while Green, speaking for the industry, asserted "the introduction of other controversial subjects such as wages, full employment and legislation for consideration of this conference would make failure of the conference a foregone conclusion."

Murray declared "American workers have joined in a crusade for a very simple objective—the restoration to their pay envelopes of lost take home pay, the maintenance of a human standard of living."

"Strong segments of the American employer group have, to put it mildly, not been receptive to the workers' dilemma—the dilemma of shrinking wages and rising living costs," he said. "It is necessary to have an employer group more disposed even to bargain with respect to workers' restoration demands."

The threatened result, he said, would be a breakdown in labor-management relations.

Since wages are of such vital importance in labor management relations, Murray urged the delegates to confer on a question of the inter-union dispute.

Secretary Wallace stepped into the wage controversy by saying: "If we maintain levels of production and wage income generally, we can meet the demand levels anywhere near approaching full employment there are clear indications that basic wage rates can be raised substantially in many industries without seriously increasing prices and without impairment of the profit position. Unless this is done, the contrast between profits and earnings of workers would generally be no extreme that business quickly would incur public disfavor."

The President made no mention of wages in his address. He emphasized strongly the necessity for agreement of ways and means of reaching industrial peace, and the responsibility of the conference delegates in achieving that goal. Whether the question of inter-union disputes will be decided by the executive committee, which will be appointed tomorrow.

These points were stressed by Mr. Truman:

- (1) The conference must recommend a definite policy in the field of industrial relations.
- (2) Labor and management, in an industry or in a company, must find a way of resolving differences without stopping production.
- (3) Both sides must bargain collectively with an open mind and a firm resolve to reach an agreement fairly.
- (4) Methods must be found for peaceful negotiations of contracts and, once made, contracts must be lived up to.
- (5) Labor must end jurisdictional strikes and find some other method of settling inter-union controversies.
- (6) Management must stop looking on labor as a "stepchild of its business" and stop delaying tactics which defeat collective bargaining.

Pickets Halt Police At Ford Plant Clash

MIXED UP IN THIS MELLEE at the strike-bound Ford plant at Windsor, Ontario, Canada, are pickets, police and bystanders. The mob scene occurred as 100,000 Ford pickets attempted an attempt by police to force entrance into the grounds "to escort plant protection men inside." (International Sunphoto)

100,000 TB X-rays Made By Health Group In State

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 6.—(Special)—A long road of public education ahead of the State Board of Health in its program to make a chest x-ray of each man, woman, and child over 15 years of age in Florida.

Dr. Wilson T. Sowder, State Health Officer, said that the mass x-ray idea is a new one and that it is going to take time to impress upon folks the importance of the program as well as the fact that the service is free. The individual must learn to take the initiative and not wait to be picked up by a public health official.

"Private physicians, he added, the time must come when people think of having a chest picture in the same light as having their children immunized against diphtheria or whooping cough."

Currently, two mobile x-ray units are working on the project of making a chest picture of every possible citizen in the community in which they are assigned. Actually, however, the number of persons having x-rays so far is not gratifying. This, in all probability, is because the free, self-protective phase is not yet understood. Nor is the fact quite clear that the service is free. This is not unusual because an x-ray made by a private technician is usually a pretty expensive proposition. These case-finding surveys are an important however, that the State and Federal Governments are jointly offering the service free to any adult who will take advantage of it. The two units are now working in Volusia and Orange counties.

The units have been concentrating on the mass x-ray work for the past ten months, and a third machine is expected to be placed in service shortly after the first of the year. Nearly 100,000 persons have had pictures made so far. However, this number must be increased materially, if the program is to approach success.

Tuberculosis is one of the State's primary health problems, and a particular effort is being expended to control the disease. But the main step is to know where the cases are, who has them and to what stages the disease has progressed.

The x-raying of every adult is the only way of arriving at this information. Unfortunately, people sometimes are in advanced stages of tuberculosis before the symptoms show themselves. By that time the infected person has subjected numerous others to the disease, and he, himself is just that much more difficult to cure.

Naturally, the sooner the disease is found, the sooner it can be arrested, and the individual placed back in useful circulation. And tuberculosis very certainly can be cured. It is known that proper rest, regulated living and necessary medical care will arrest the disease and save a person's life—if found in time.

Trade Body Plans Homecoming Day For Veterans

The homecoming of Sanford and Seminole County's war veterans will be celebrated in the near future with one of the most outstanding patriotic programs in the history of this section. It was announced today by Mayor Edward Higgins.

The date of the celebration will be set by the celebration committee which has returned to their homes.

A manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Higgins, appeared before the City Commission at a special meeting held Monday evening and outlined his plans for the event. He likewise brought the matter to the attention of the Board of County Commissioners at their meeting today, and reported that both organizations pledged their support for the celebration.

Tentative plans for the celebration as outlined by Mayor Higgins, include a military parade, a parade of decorated floats, a good old fashioned barbecue, boat races, a horse tournament, a band concert and a formal dinner.

The Chamber of Commerce will organize proper committees to handle the program for the date, he declared.

Big Jap Money Monopolies Are Smashed

MacArthur Orders Jap Government To Dissolve Holdings Of Four Families

(By Associated Press)
Tokyo, Nov. 6.—(AP)—General Douglas MacArthur today smashed Japan's four greatest financial and industrial family monopolies and gave notice of his intention to "aid Japanese economic development along peaceful and democratic lines." He ordered the Jap government to dissolve the family holding companies immediately and eliminate their control of Jap finance and industry.

Allied headquarters also announced it had obtained proof Premier Tojo, who was responsible for the Pearl Harbor raid, failed to keep the Japanese diplomatic staff in Washington advised of all developments. One source said that the special Jap envoy to the United States at that time—Saburo Kurusu was "nothing but a plant" to talk peace while Tojo planned the war.

Both Washington and Chungking denied a Communist charge that U.S. Marines had gone into action in China's civil war, now reported "blazing" with renewed violence in the north.

The White House in Washington declared flatly there had been no clashes between Chinese Communists and any American forces, as alleged by dispatches from the Red stronghold of Yenan.

A spokesman for China's Ministry of War styled the allegations "absolutely false."

K.C. Wu, minister of information, declared the Communists deliberately spread the report "to fan up feeling between China and America and provoke American public opinion to demand the suspension of whatever aid the United States is giving the Chinese Government."

Temperature Drops To 47 Degrees Here

Although frost was reported in the upper east coast area Monday morning and temperatures reached a low recording of 31 degrees at Jasper, according to a weather report, Seminole County escaped such low temperatures and frost, according to B.P. Whitner, Sr., local weatherman.

On Monday when Sanford people woke up shivering in the first time in weeks, temperature reached a minimum of 47 degrees, Mr. Whitner reported. This morning the lowest temperature was 50 degrees, a three degree rise that indicated that the cold wave is fading.

Miami had a low of 52 degrees this morning, which was the same as Kansas City, Mo. Orlando, with a minimum of 45 yesterday, and maximum of 62, was about the same as Denver, Colo. which had a low of 44.

Anderson, United States Secretary of Agriculture, will give the feature address on the first day program of the fourth annual meeting of the Florida Farm Bureau Federation opening in Orlando Nov. 15. This will mark the first time in eighteen years that a Federal secretary of Agriculture has paid a visit to Florida.

Anderson will arrive in Orlando on the morning of Nov. 15, and will visit groves, packing house, canning plants and a pump, before making his speech, which will be broadcast at 3 P. M. Later in the afternoon he will visit cattle and dairy ranches in Central Florida.

ABOARD THE DESTROYER ESCORT USS CABANA, TOKYO BAY, Nov. 5.—(Special) A. J. Duggar, admiral of the third class, 1010 Myrtle Avenue, Sanford, served on this ship as the moved into Tokyo Bay, serving as escort for ships supplying fuel to the units of the 3rd Fleet.

Members of the crew previously had seen action in engagements throughout the Central Pacific, including the Gilberts, Marshalls, Salpans, Peleliu and Iwo Jima operations.

Dr. Quillman Is Named Director Of Health Unit

Dr. Frank Quillman, who for the past three years has been assistant health officer in Duval county, will arrive Saturday from Miami to take over his new duties as director of the Seminole County Health Unit, it was announced this morning by Dr. H. L. Dams, former director.

Since his appointment on Oct. 15 as director of the Orange County Health Unit, Dr. Dams will continue to commute to Orlando from his residence at 1518 Sanford Avenue, he said.

For several years Dr. Quillman was county physician in Orange County and later was director of the Franklin County Health Unit at Apalachicola, said Dr. Dams.

Until such time as he can secure living quarters for his family in Orange county, Dr. Dams will continue to commute to Orlando from his residence at 1518 Sanford Avenue, he said.

Chilean Says UNO Erred On Argentine

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Chilean Senator Gabriel Gonzalez Videla branded as "a great diplomatic mistake" today the United Nations admission of Argentina to the San Francisco conference last Spring.

He placed the blame for this "mistake" squarely at the doorstep of former Secretary of State Stettinius, whom he said persuaded the other Latin-American republics to admit the Buenos Aires government.

CITY BRIEFS

An army sergeant by the name of Jones today reported to police that a pocketbook containing $130 in cash had been stolen from him at 2:00 o'clock this morning in the neighborhood of Seventh Street and French Avenue.

The Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will hold a dinner meeting at the Hotel Mayfair at 7:00 o'clock this evening. Reports of heads of various Chamber committees will be received.

FRENCH MEET

PARIS, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The first elected French legislature in five years convenes today, charged with the task of replacing the 1875 constitution with another upon which the fourth Republic will be constituted. There seemed little doubt that Gen. Charles DeGaulle would serve the seventh month period allotted for assembly to write the new charter.

STALIN TO SPEAK

MOSCOW, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Generalissimo Stalin is back in the Soviet capital today after a month long vacation in the south and is reportedly preparing an address to the Russian people on the eve of the 25th anniversary of the "October Revolution." It is believed the talk will center on domestic affairs and future plans for the Soviet citizen. There has been no public announcement of these plans.
