British Naval Head Resigns In Protest; Polish Demands Met

Duff Cooper Says He Distrusts Foreign Policy Of Chamberlain's Government

Labor Member Assails Pact

German Troops Move Into Sudetenland Without Shot Fired

LONDON, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Alfred Duff Cooper, First Lord of the Admiralty, resigned from Prime Minister Chamberlain's cabinet today because he disagreed with Chamberlain's foreign policy. The Prime Minister accepted the resignation.

In his letter of resignation Duff Cooper said, "I profoundly distrust the foreign policy which the present government is pursuing and seems likely to continue to pursue."

In accepting the resignation the Prime Minister wrote, "knowing you are sincerely convinced that the foreign policy of the government is a mistake I agree with you in thinking it would not be proper for you to remain a member of the government."

Duff Cooper is a conservative long known as one of the leading advocates in the cabinet of a strong Anglo-French alliance.

Whether Duff Cooper's resignation from the cabinet formed a serious blow to the cabinet was not certain until a few hours before it was announced, however, that Harold Nicholson, national labor member of Parliament, had declared in a speech annulling Chamberlain's peace agreement.

At the headquarters of the German army of occupation at Passau, Germany it was reported that the main body of the German army crossed the Czechoslovak frontier at 8:30 P. M. (W. A. M. E. S. T.) today to start its formal occupation of the Sudetenland.

Reconnoitering units had preceded the main body of the occupation force across the border during the early morning. The force, estimated at about 30,000 men was commanded by Colonel Ritter von Leeb.

It planned to occupy about one-quarter of first zone of the Czech territory today going as far as the Warmer and Moldau rivers.

As the German troops advanced they were separated from the Czechoslovak forces by a neutral zone 5,770 yards wide running roughly parallel to the new frontier.

Military law ruled the occupied zone. Passengers not attached to headquarters and accompanied by women were subject to immediate arrest.

Occupational Licenses Due, Jenkins Says

Revenues From Fees In '37 Show Substantial Increase

The office of the County Tax Collector Jno. D. Jenkins enjoyed a mild flurry of business today as numerous Seminole County business people purchased 1938-39 occupational licenses which are due today.

In urging all businesses to acquire licenses as quickly as possible, Mr. Jenkins pointed to the penalties prescribed by law for failure to procure the license.

As a result of the new law which went into effect last year increasing the license fees for numerous businesses and requiring a license from many who heretofore were exempt, Mr. Jenkins reported an increase of $3,173.17 over 1937.

The amounts collected for State and County Occupational Licenses are as follows:

1937	1938
$4,459.50 State	$6,641.74 State
$2,764.01 County	$3,754.91 County
$7,223.51 Total	$10,396.65 Total

The amounts received from this source are associated by law, Mr. Jenkins pointed out, to the general revenue funds of the State and the County.

However, Mr. Jenkins reported a decrease for the State and County in revenue from the sale of beverage licenses of $1,146.26 over last year. This, he said, was caused by the change in the law at the last session of the Legislature, giving the municipalities 50 percent of the license fee instead of 25 percent as was the case before the change.

Under the old set up, Mr. Jenkins explained that the City and County shared equally one-half of the proceeds while the State was given 50 percent. The funds received from this source by the County are distributed to the General Revenue Fund.

The State's share is allocated by the law which reads as follows: All funds collected by the State under this Act and under the Beverage Act of 1935, except such funds as are used for the expenses of the Beverage Department are hereby appropriated to and shall become part of the old age assistance fund or old age pension fund for the payment of old age assistance as provided for by the Legislature of the State of Florida. Provided, however, that any surplus money existing after payment of Old Age Assistance, Blind and Needy Children as prescribed in this act, the same shall be paid into the State Treasury to the credit of the County School Fund.

The application must be approved by the County Judge and the license must bear his signature before it will be issued, Mr. Jenkins said.

Every person in business will have to pay State and County occupational license tax, Mr. Jenkins stated.

Czechs Surrender At Last Minute To Ultimatum Transferring Polish Section

WARSAW, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Czechoslovakia accepted Poland's territorial demands in full today, thereby averting a threatened invasion. Under the terms of the demands part of the city of Teschen on the Czechoslovak side of the border will be transferred to Poland before 2:00 P. M. Sunday.

Within 10 days Czechoslovakia will transfer to Poland the remainder of the Teschen district and the entire district of Fielstadt.

Matters of other territories and plebiscites will be settled in direct negotiations between Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Czechoslovakia also agreed to release immediately all persons of Polish nationality from the Czechoslovak army and to free all Poles imprisoned for political reasons.

A government communique announcing the settlement stated that "The Polish government meets with great joy the news of the conclusion of a painful quarrel between the two nations and a settlement corresponding to the peaceful intention of Poland."

Czechoslovakia after asking and receiving a one-hour extension on the time limit set by Poland sent her acceptance in reply to Warsaw's "final" note.

PRAGUE, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Stunned populace milled in the streets of Prague early today, bitterly protesting the surrender of Czechoslovak territory to Germany, as Czech forces along the southern border evacuated the areas into which German troops marched.

German troops already had crossed the border and Czech soldiers were falling back to the interior in orderly manner.

The Germans entered Czech soil in "ordinary army kits," a radio announcement said.

Gen. Ludvig Krejci, chief of the staff of the Czech army, issued an order to the Czech troops on the frontier to remain soldiers in the difficult hour through which we are passing.

Gen. Krejci's plea to his troops was made after the government in a communique, acknowledged to the people of Czechoslovakia the acceptance of the terms of the Munich agreement—an announcement that stunned the people and the army, which up to that time had been prepared to fight.

"Soldiers," General Krejci said in the order to his troops, "the government must agree under pressure of the world powers, to cessation of some districts of our state. Our army takes part in deep mourning over the diminution of the legacy of our ancestors."

$432,767 In Back Taxes Are Settled

Records Reveal Owners Made Settlement Under Murphy Bill For $1,907

Decline Shown In Tax Redemptions

Welfare Work Costs County $18,675 For Fiscal Year

In the nine months in which delinquent tax certificates have been sold under the terms of the Murphy Act in Seminole County, a total of $432,767 in delinquent State and County taxes has been settled for $1,907, records in the County Clerks office reveal.

The amount of the certificates which were sold does not include penalties and interest for non-payment but is the actual amount of taxes levied against the property. The amount which was received from the sale under the terms of the act is not the amount bid but represents the amount remaining after deducting incidental expenses of conducting the sales.

Had the delinquent taxes been paid in full, the County would have received $242,013, but from the proceeds of the sales under the Murphy Act, the County received only $1,907 which was divided between the bond interest and sinking fund and the general fund.

The extent to which the school was affected is shown by the fact that had the taxes been paid in full $10,112 of the amount would have gone for the support of schools and settlement of school bonds. In the division of the proceeds from the certificate sales, the schools received $616 of this amount.

The records show the State was entitled to $15,410 had the taxes which have been settled been paid in full. In the final settlement the State treasury received $204.

Tax redemptions dropped from $17,170.03 in 1937 to $6,086.08 for the current fiscal year.

The law affects collection of current taxes because of the decision of the Supreme Court which ruled that the law provided for cancellation of the taxes for the year in which the certificates are sold. It was pointed out that the 1938 taxes will be cancelled on all property sold under the act between January 1 and the expiration of the law.

Faced with the problem of reduced revenues and increased expenses, the County Commissioners increased the operating millage levy for the County from 28 to 31 mills. The levies for 1938 as compared with those for 1937 are as follows:

1937	1938
general fund	3
ine. forfeiture	8
road, bridge fund	9
general school levy	10
health fund	1
mother's pension	1
publicity	1/2
agriculture	1/2
Total	33

Heretofore, no levy has been made for the mother's pension fund and the health fund was created to care for indigent patients since the revenues to the general fund were no longer adequate to care for this expense.

The largest increase in expenditures last year was for County's welfare work. The penditure for relief work last year was double that of 1937. Records show that approximately $18,675 has been spent for the work of the Seminole County Welfare Board this year. This amount does not include amount spent for mother's pensions and the appropriation to (Continued from page four)

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

DO NOT MISS THE GREAT CHANCE. Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near. Isa. 55:6

Waves Placed Against the Waves

(From Ephraim) Now while the sun arches and changes its angle and the glass waves buffet along the shore, let us turn from morning into forgetfulness, from remembrance into afternoon; let us turn to each other with hushed mouths, and that is: Do you want the Anschluss brought about with Goodshed, or without? Take your choice.

And in view of the fact that Mr. Hitler only a few days ago declared that he would have no more territorial demands to make in Europe after the Sudetenland is annexed, the following statement made in the Reichstag on Mar. 7, 1936, two and one-half years ago, before Austria, before Czechoslovakia, is particularly interesting. "I believe I can today regard the struggle for German equality as over. We have no territorial demands to make in Europe."

And yet in spite of this record of treaty violations, deception and absolute falsehood, there are still some who believe him when he now promises to respect the peace of Europe.

Everglades National Park

Pointing out that all the Lions Clubs of Florida, some 52 in number, are now taking an active interest in the creation of the Everglades National Park, the Miami Herald declares that this project "presents a most valuable program of state advancement, and is constantly gaining in support of the people."

"It is a long, hard job to convince state and federal governments, owners of land and taxpayers that in the extreme southern portion of Florida there lies a large section of land wholly tropical in its nature that, when converted into a national park, as it will be, will give the state and the nation a domain entirely different from any of the other great playgrounds of the people now being preserved and controlled by the government," the Miami paper continues.

"It is a unique section where tropical birds still flourish by the thousands, where the trees and foliage are unlike any that grow elsewhere in the country. It is an intensely interesting section of our state and, when made available as a national park, will annually attract thousands of visitors."

"To increase the interest in the park proposition among the people of Florida and to bring them into closest touch with the project and to raise funds necessary to carry on preparatory work, the Lions Clubs of Florida have started a campaign to secure 50,000 members for the park association. Speakers from the Lions clubs are already appearing before audiences all over the state and the campaign has started under the most favorable auspices."

"The campaigners are merely asking that the people of this state respond to the plea for membership, the fee for which is only $1. That plea will be successful beyond a doubt, for the people of this state are beginning to learn that they can take part in one of the greatest enterprises ever planned for Florida. To become a member of the organization will be a distinct honor."

A Dictator's Word

In his recent Berlin speech Chancellor Hitler said that the annexation of the Sudetenland was the last territorial demand he had or made in Europe. In the Four Power Munich agreement Hitler promised to guarantee the new borders of Czechoslovakia once the Sudetenland had been formally annexed and the claims of the Polish and Hungarian minorities had been satisfied.

Just how much credence may be placed in the promises and agreements of the German Chancellor is shown by an article prepared by Leland Stowe and published this week in the New York Herald Tribune. In this article, which is too long for us to quote in full, Mr. Stowe reviews some of the previous promises and pledges of the dictator.

In August of 1933 Mr. Hitler renounced resort to war as a means of obtaining national objectives. "As long as I am Chancellor of the Reich," he said, "there will be no war, save possibly in the event of invasion of our territory from without." Well, so far the Chancellor has kept that promise—but only because his opponents gave up without a fight.

With respect to the Locarno Treaty prohibiting aggression on the part of the leading powers of Europe, to which Germany was a signer, Hitler said in 1934, "At the solution of this question (the Saar), the German government is willing and determined to accept in its innermost soul, as well as external formulation, the pact of Locarno." In other words after the Saar problem was solved, there would be no further aggression on the part of Germany.

In the Reichstag on May 21, 1935, he said, "The German government will adhere scrupulously to each voluntarily signed treaty, even if its conclusion occurred before this government seized power." Paraphrasing it will fulfill all obligations resulting from the Locarno pact as long as other contracting powers on their part are ready to stand behind the pact. Less than one year later, he marched his troops into the Rhineland in violation of the Locarno Treaty.

Again before the Reichstag in 1934, Hitler said, "I reject the contention of the Austrian government that any intervention of the Austrian state has been undertaken or planned by the Reich." And in 1935, he declared, "Germany has neither the wish nor the intention to mix in the internal Austrian affairs, or annex, or unite with Austria."

In 1936 he said, "My proposal for the conclusion of non-aggression pacts on the east and west of Germany was meant as a universal one. There is certainly no exception in regard to it. It applies equally to Czechoslovakia and Austria." On Feb. 12, 1938, he told Chancellor Schuschnigg of Austria, "There's only one thing to discuss, and that is: Do you want the Anschluss brought about with Goodshed, or without? Take your choice."

And in view of the fact that Mr. Hitler only a few days ago declared that he would have no more territorial demands to make in Europe after the Sudetenland is annexed, the following statement made in the Reichstag on Mar. 7, 1936, two and one-half years ago, before Austria, before Czechoslovakia, is particularly interesting. "I believe I can today regard the struggle for German equality as over. We have no territorial demands to make in Europe."

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Basson Manfred von Killinger, German consul-general here, yesterday denied testimony before the Dies committee investigating an Americanism that he had offered aid to the German-American Bund.

"The American German Bund has never been offered help by me, nor received it, nor will it ever receive it," he said.

"I closely follow instructions of my government which prohibits any German citizen from belonging to the Bund and requires him to refrain from giving any help of either a political or financial nature to the Bund."

by comparing their fingerprints through the files of the FBI and it is not uncommon for the FBI to identify for some local police department an escaped prisoner who has been missing for ten, fifteen or twenty years. The Identification Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation represents one of its many service features which are available to each community without any charge whatsoever and these features are maintained by the regular appropriations which Congress allots the G-Men and are not considered in the over seven dollars which is being saved the taxpayers of the country in their investigative activities for every one dollar which is spent in maintaining the cost of operation. I was very much interested in the public enemy file maintained in conjunction with the Identification Division. Here are listed the fingerprints of over thirteen thousand five hundred of the Nation's most dangerous and notorious criminals. Once their fingerprints are placed in this file, it is possible for the G-Men to search latent fingerprints found at the scene of the crime and thus identify the wrongdoers. Crimes are being solved in this manner which ten years ago would have gone unsolved. Director Hoover assures me that his men stand ready to make any of the local officers in Florida by furnishing them with information and material in the science of fingerprinting.

One of the very unique phases of the Identification Division is the method by which the G-Men search fingerprint cards by a sorting machine at the rate of three hundred and seventy-five cards per minute. Through a special system which has been worked out the fingerprint classification on all fingerprint cards falling in a certain technical classification are transferred to a card through the medium of holes which are punched in the card. The machine which is used in sorting the cards has a ball like device attached to it with ten levers each lever representing one fingerprint and these levers slide back and forth on a graduated scale representing the number of ridge counts in the fingerprint impression. STORIES IN STAMPS

Not 50, Adolf Hitler Shakes the World

FAR removed from a pale-faced, spidery-legged youth of Austria is today's Adolf Hitler, who, not yet 50, has power to shake the world. In the place of courts and covenants he stands as the individual on whom depends very largely the decision whether Europe will again march to war, inevitably dragging the rest of the world into the fire with it.

But as a child this same Hitler was a weakling. He was sallow-complexioned, underweight, as a boy playing about the streets of his native Braunau, Austria. He did not lack, however, in personal magnetism, was invariably the leader of his group in games, resented that anyone should question his captaincy.

At an early age he showed his first contempt for the Austrian state, rebelled against his parents' desire that he become an official as was his father. Later he wrote: "From my earliest youth I was convinced that the destruction of the Austrian empire was a necessary condition to the survival of the German race." And apparently at the same time he received his rabid anti-semitism. He distrusted his Jewish school-boy companions, learned to spurn all Jews a few years later in Vienna.

Then the World War broke, crystallizing Hitler's political and social viewpoint. His rise after Versailles was almost inevitable, grounded on the "inequalities" of the treaty and "war guilt" humiliation of the German people. And today he alone may decide whether the world shall fight again.

Here is the bill the Prague government must pay to pay Hitler's price for the return of armed regions.

1. A 100,000-acre zone from the southern border, 200 miles and minimum population of 1,000,000, to be turned over to Germany within 10 days.

2. Other areas along the frontier will be defined by German troops, including British, until a plebiscite determines whether the people wish to remain with Czechoslovakia or be ceded to Germany.

3. A settlement to be made with Poland in the demand for transfer of an area of 600 square miles around Teschen on the northeast border, with a population of about 2,000,000 Poles.

4. A settlement to be made within three months of the Hungarian demands for returning to the border area, populated by 700,000 Hungarians, on the southern east border.

The Sudeten areas, to be ceded to Germany, include several important cities, the famous Spa at Karlsbad and Marienbad, and porcelain, textile and other manufacturing centers, as well as railroad terminals.

The remaining areas of Czechoslovakia would embrace about 175,000 square miles with a population of 10,000,000 people. Prague, the capital, and Pilsen, famous beer and munitions center, would remain within the Czech domain.

"The new Florida Statute has not been changed. This is known as the Occupational Tax and the amount of license is graduated from $10.00 for a license for the amount of $100.00 in each year of fifteen or more shares, plus one-half of one percent for the months in excess of six. The license is collected by the State Comptroller and becomes due on the 1st of each year. Insurance Agents doing business without a license are subject to a fine of not less than $100.00 and not more than $200.00 for each offense.

Elementary school enrollment in the United States dropped 4.2 percent between 1936 and 1937, and it is still going down, apparently due to a drop in the population of children under high school age.

OUT OUR WAY

BY J. R. WILLIAMS

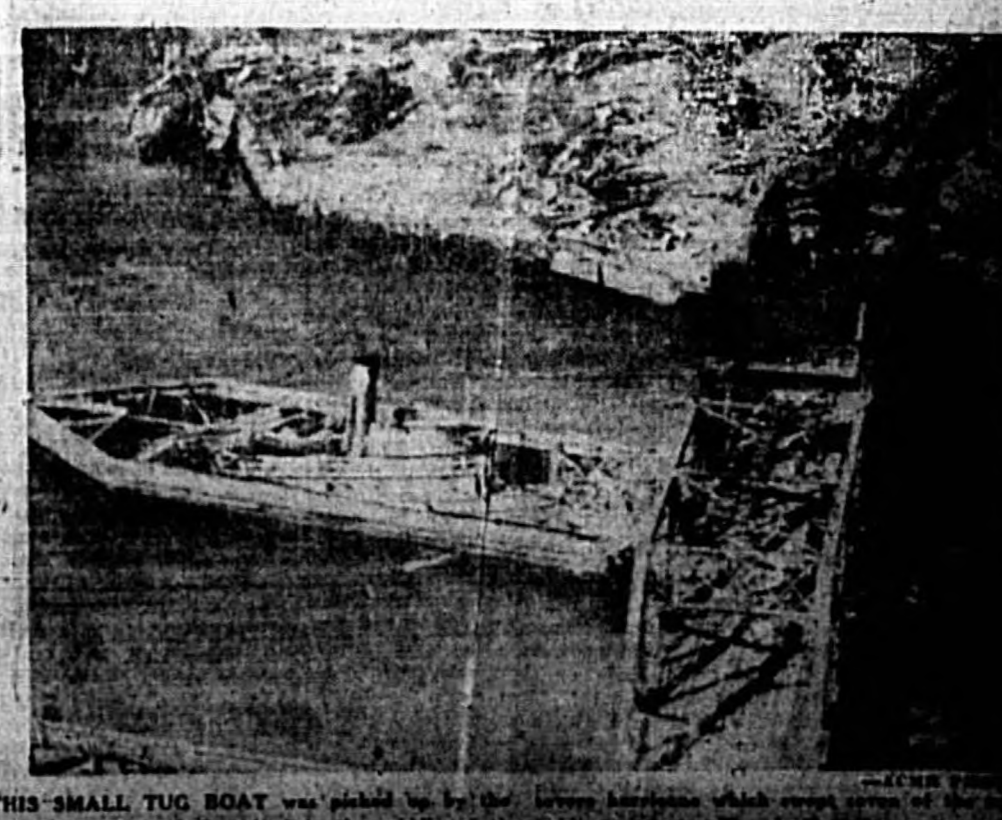

THIS PHOTO which was sent to New York by radio and transmitted by Acme Telephoto shows recruits of the new British army outside London barracks with equipment as England declared a state of emergency.

THESE BOYS from Barnham orphanage in London were the first children evacuated to the country side as was expected almost inevitable. The step was taken by the British government to protect the children from enemy bombers.

THE CONNECTICUT RIVER, which has risen 30 feet—16 above flood stage, brought new horror to Hartford only 24 hours after a devastating hurricane wrecked the town. This photo shows workmen placing sandbags against a railroad embankment as the water rises six inches an hour.

THIS SMALL TUG BOAT was picked up by the waves from a wrecked steamer which swept across the Atlantic shore and beached in the middle of the town.

Forguson's Place Kick Gives Locals Winning Margin

Eustis Delegation Outplays Feds In Nearly Every Department Of Play; Locals Complete 2 Passes

A perfect placement kick for a converted point proved to be the winning point last night as the Sanford High School Celery Feds won their opening encounter over the Eustis Panthers by a score of 7 to 6.

The kick was hoisted between the up rights by Harold Forguson late in the second period after he had tackled on Sanford's first touchdown in a snuff on right tackle from the eight yard line.

Eustis, however, waited until the final part of third period before crossing the goal line. A short pass from L. E. Peterson to Lewis Marshall was good for the points, however, on the fourth play of the game.

The pass by Marshall was blocked down by Fred Gagnier with his legs and hand. However, the Celery Feds kicked on the 15 yard line and tumbled through the double wingback system from their razzled defense and a ball through the Sanford line aimed at well with Marshall. W. Peterson and L. Peterson on one yard, the ball to the Panther tackled up to first down on their march to the goal which took them to the Sanford line. Fred And Ginger Romance, Dance Again To Berlin's New Musical "Carefree"

Famous Duo Reunited In Spectacular And Romantic Story Of "Carefree" Dr. & Girl

Bringing the world famous team of Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers together once more, RKO Radio's "Carefree" presents a glittering, joyous and song-studded film romance published with Irving Berlin melodies, startling dance routines and a deftly-handled story.

Because Ginger keeps backing off her wedding date with Ralph Bellamy, the latter asks Astaire, a psychiatrist, to fix up any lurking inhibitions the lady may have on the subject of marriage. The pretty girl, in complete matters by falling in love with Fred instead of with Ralph.

When the psychiatrist fails to respond, the actress starts a hectic series of madcap adventures, the doctor meantime falling in love with her himself, only to find that he has new resistance to overcome. How the seemingly lost cause is won at the last moment makes for the uproarious climax of the picture, which is said to be both the funniest and most entertaining of all the Astaire-Rogers vehicles.

LOOK CLOSELY and you will recognize Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers, Ralph Bellamy and Luella Gear, all principals in RKO Radio's "Carefree" with music by Irving Berlin. Just now they are seen taking a musical bicycle ride.

"The Texans" Reveals The Tragic And Yet Romantic Post-War Era Of Southwest

Czechoslovakia Is Military Island, Away From Allies

By E. N. THOMPSON
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Czechoslovakia is a military island cut off from friends and allies even before a war starts.

Its main hope is to hold out until its allies find a way to help, and competent authorities point out that ways to help are hard to find.

The big end of the cucumber-shaped republic sticks straight into German jaws. Hungary, to the south, would like nothing better than to get back the chunk carved out of her after the world war to make Czechoslovakia.

To the north is Poland, interested in a piece of Czechoslovak territory.

Off to the west, France, the encircled Czechs' staunchest diplomatic friend, is balked by Germany's rugged new Siegfried line of fortifications.

No one knows how long the Czech army of about 2,000,000 men could last against a German army nearly twice as large and a vastly superior air force.

Of course the Czechs have fortifications—the mountains and the forests that ring the western end of the country and the pillboxes and forts that guard the passes from Germany.

But whether these fortifications help the Czechs hold out days or months, the experts doubt if France could move substantial forces across Germany. The Nazis' Siegfried line, backed by more than 200,000 trained troops already in the area, could be expected to checkmate the French. German to defensive warfare behind its own Maginot line, the French army might be held up indefinitely by the string of German forts.

Switzerland and Belgium bar the way around the ends of Germany's fortified line if they maintained their declared neutrality. That leaves France the alternative of finding a vulnerable spot in the Siegfried line.

Near the Swiss border, France would have to cross the Rhine and break through the line in one operation. Near the Belgian end it would be somewhat less hazardous because she could attack the line without encountering the Rhine until later. A break at either point would com-

Youthful Evangelist To Hold Revival Here

Stephen L. Cloud, youthful preacher, will begin a young people's revival at the Full Gospel Tabernacle, Orlando Road, near Geniva Av. on, next Sunday night. The revival will continue two weeks, with preaching by the evangelist every night, except Saturdays, it was announced today by Rev. Fred A. Dehn, pastor.

The revivalist comes well recommended. Mr. Richey said, and he has preached in fifteen states with outstanding success. As field secretary of the Young Peoples Fellowship Club in Florida, he has been able to contact multitudes of young men and women. It is stated. At the same time, his message appeals to adults.

He is a graduate of Florida Bible Institute, Tampa, and attended the Bob Jones College in Cleveland, Tenn.

The Rev. Monroe Parler, International President of the Young Peoples Fellowship Club, says of Stephen L. Cloud: "He is one of the best young preachers I know. He knows the Word of God, and is loyal to every fundamental truth. He is sane and logical, is on fire for souls, and knows how to win them to Christ."

Rev. Richey stated he would preach Sunday morning on "The Sufficient Christ," and conduct the Communion service.

MORE QUEER ANIMALS IN 'ALLEY OOP' COMIC THAN IN A DOZEN CIRCUSES

The world of a million years ago gave Vince T. Hamlin the idea for his different and uproariously funny comic, ALLEY OOP, appearing in the Sanford Herald every day. Queer animals tall as skyscrapers and flying reptiles larger than airplanes once roamed this earth. Many of these are encountered by Alley Oop as he goes about his heroic, if hair-brained, deeds.

Hamlin has made an intensive study of the prehistoric. An excellent artist, he makes certain his sketches are accurate from a scientific standpoint. To his interesting pictures of prehistoric animals, he adds dizzy-looking cave men, dizzier-looking cave women. He works all these characters in a comic which amuses every newspaper reader. Full of surprises, thrills and excitement, the comic never ceases to be comical.

And now, just to brush up on your prehistoric knowledge, here are a few members of the supporting cast in Hamlin's great feature.

1—the trachodon; 2—the diplocod, which, it seems, laughed occasionally; 3—the bronosaurus, which generally wasn't as fierce as it looks here; 4—the tyrannosaurus rex, the most ferocious of all the prehistoric monsters; 5—the prosody; 6—the triceratops; 7—the stegosaurus.

At the right, you have the lowest and the actors of his comic, Alley Oop, the man and Dany, his pet, Alloxox. Neither is overjoyed at seeing the visitors.

Watch for ALLEY OOP every day in the Sanford Herald. You'll see it!

Budget Figures Are Slightly Higher Than Last Year's

The expenses of the city government were estimated at $247,521 for the next fiscal year in a budget adopted by the Commission at an adjourned session Friday afternoon.

A 30 mill levy, 15 mills for debt service and 15 mills for general operating expenses, was again approved by the Commission and was expected to raise $118,821.25 for the general operating fund and $81,000 for the debt service department. Only the 15 mills for debt service is level up to a valuation of $5,000.

The total appropriations for the general operating fund are $118,821.25. A surplus of $18,000 as of Sept. 30 was carried over from last year's appropriation and re-appropriated in this year's budget, while other sources of revenue of this fund are listed in the budget as follows: miscellaneous revenues, which include revenues from occupational license, revenues from the Police Department, etc., $27,475; profits from the water utility department, $24,162; collection of prior years' taxes, $20,000, while $11,000 is estimated as revenue from the 1938 tax roll.

The estimated cost of retiring bonds and payment of interest is $41,000 and the Commission anticipates collection of $50,000 from the 1938 tax roll and $22,000 from collection of prior years' taxes in care for this appropriation.

The operating expenses for the water utility department this year was set at $16,185, debt service of the department, $22,000; estimated net profits of the department to be appropriated to the department of general government $9,162, making the total anticipated revenue of the water department for the fiscal year of $47,700.

The appropriations of the Commission for this year are almost identical with those made for the fiscal year which ended on Sept. 30.

Last year's appropriation for general government was $118,111.25 while the appropriation for this year is $118,821.25.

The appropriations for the various departments of the city were changed very little for this year. An appropriation of $15,625 was made for operation of the Police Department. This appropriation is slightly higher than for last year since it includes sufficient funds to pay the balance on the police radio equipment.

An appropriation of $9,000 was made for the operation of the Fire Department. One of the largest appropriations was $10,200 for the City's street lighting. This includes $9,300 as cost of current and $1,000 for upkeep expenses.

An appropriation of $8,875.30 was made for the City's parks while the appropriation for the Sanford Country Club was $1,800, the same as for last year. The $2,000 appropriation made for a trailer dump last year was continued this year and $2,000 was again set up for publicity.

Rotarians Hear Report On Four Major Projects

Bagwell Explains Outstanding Proposals For City And County

Four projects either already under construction or in the process of preparation were discussed at the regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club today by Ralph Bagwell, secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, who was the chief speaker on the program sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Bagwell was introduced by the chairman of the committee, Martin Braun, and said that the vocational guidance work of the club will be enlarged this year to include all members of the high school grades, thus serving those who have been the backbone of the club.

The projects explained by Mr. Bagwell were the proposed St. Johns River canal, the proposed municipal yacht basin, the Fort Mellon Park, and the Big Tree project.

The canal to get Mr. Bagwell said, will be strictly a War Department undertaking and has nothing to do with the PWA or the WPA and will not require any local funds for its construction.

The construction of the canal would also require the deepening of the St. Johns river to a depth of 8 feet. The actual canal itself would be only 12 miles in length, from Puzzle Lake to Salt Lake, a distance of seven miles through marsh lands and then for a distance of only five miles through a ridge varying in height from 15 to 30 feet.

The cost of this project, Mr. Bagwell said, would be $2,700,000, not including the cost of a bridge and millways estimated at about $600,000.

The proposed yacht basin, Mr. Bagwell said would cover about five acres east of the present Municipal Pier, and would cost $46,000 of which the City would contribute about 45 percent.

The Fort Mellon Park project is nearly completed, Mr. Bagwell explained, as far as the final unit is concerned. The cost of this project is about $20,000 with the City supplying $9,000. It includes 10 shuffle board courts, 3 roque courts, 6 horse shoe courts, 1 open air auditorium, and 1 tennis court.

The project built around the Big Tree of Longwood was prepared by the State Forestry Board, Mr. Bagwell said. This tree, estimated at 2,500 years of age, is the best means of publicity which Seminole County has next to carry, Mr. Bagwell said.

$16,673 Received From State For Teacher's Pay

Fewer Teachers Reduces Seminole Share This Year

The State has made the first of its monthly appropriations for payment of teachers' salaries in Seminole County today. The amount is $16,673.

The county's share of State funds to be used only for payment of teachers' salaries and transportation is $16,673. This amount will be paid in nine equal installments of $1,852.56 each.

Because of fewer teachers and this year, the allocation by the State is lower this year than last year. Mr. Lawton stated last year $17,100 was received monthly from the state for this purpose.

The reduction in funds was necessitated by the number of pupils enrolled in the County last year, Mr. Lawton stated, adding that the reduction was made through elimination of the East Side School this year. It was consolidated with the other two schools.

The teachers' salaries are not due yet, Mr. Lawton said, but added that they will be paid as soon as reports can be certified after the due date.

Whether the State would be able to meet its obligations to the schools for this month had caused some consternation among school officials before the State advised that the funds were available.

"Loyalty Day" Is Observed By Scouts, Kiwanis

In welcoming his audience of the Congregational church this evening, the pastor, the Rev. J. Bernard Root, said, "It is indeed a pleasure to extend greetings from this church to the Kiwanis Club and also to the Boy Scouts."

These two organizations are interested in each other as they both stand for character building.

He chose his text from the Book of Daniel. Mr. Root ended the Pilgrims to this old Bible character. "They came to America to worship God and promised him that their children should also follow, and for that they were rewarded by having their country become the most prosperous in the world."

"But," the speaker went on, "this country continues to neglect the spiritual side of life, as it has been doing recently. It will crumble as sure as the walls of Jerusalem were torn down."

The United States spends more for education than all of the rest of the world combined. Today we have about 10,000,000 persons going to schools and colleges. And in material wealth, we have 40 percent of all the railroads in the world, and most of the automobiles. Experts have figured out that there are still 12 trillion metric tons of coal still to be mined out of this earth, of which nearly two thirds are within the borders of the United States and Alaska."
