BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. 'HE'LL PRENT 'EM'---SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

It has just been called to my attention that Hon. Lewis D. Bryan of Kissimmee, a rising young barrister made a most felicitous address of welcome to the Press Club when it organized in that city and made B. J. Holy of the Herald the President. The welcome by Mr. O'Bryan was a gem and has been widely copied, being as follows:

"While entirely appreciative of the honor tendered me in opening the program this evening, I am likewise conscious of my inadequacy to do justice to a real salutation on this occasion. However, I trust that the avocation of these gentlemen, our guests, shall serve as an inspiration for had I possessed in any degree the qualifications, I would have essayed a journalistic career, so being denied the privileges of participation I am doubly appreciative of the opportunity to pay tribute to their power and prestige.

"It is a matter of current comment that charity begins at home, and this being true I am satisfied that an offshoot of the family soon wandered away and found lodgment in the minds and souls of you knights of the type, for the only real charity which passeth understanding is that charity of the press which can clothe the naked truth in a garb of flowery verbiage, trans-forming with the magic of its pen the pettifoggery and briefless bar-ter into the brilliant and successful attorney, the vinegar-viled old maid into the piquant and saucy debutante, and the note-shaving and the gaudious old miser into the philanthropic benefactor; and for these linguistic charities I rise, gentlemen, to call you blessed, and I believe that the recording angel will feature in your record type your names upon his honor roll.

"I am here to welcome you to Kissimmee, but to express in words a welcome would be only a flite and time serving platitude, so I shall not dwell thereon, nor even hesitate, but shall briefly express to you my conception of your magnificent responsibilities. During a debate in the English parliament, Richard Brinsley Sheridan exclaimed in a burst of eloquence, "Give them an corrupt house of commons and a venal house of lords, give them tyrannical princes and servile courts, but give them an unshackled press, and he would defy them to encroach one hair's breadth on the liberties of the people." In your conditional endorsement of this sentiment I will add that they may exploit our social and fraternal organizations for their personal advancement; they may dare debauch our churches for political preferment and power; but so long as the American newspapers continue to express the feelings and sentiments of American manhood in God-fearing homes, so long will the immortal principles of liberty enunciated in 1776 remain the standard of our independence, and the religious teachings and tenets of our mothers be our spiritual guides; and while I make no pretense of personal piety I am confident from the recollections of a childhood memories, that we all here reverence the same divine Creator revered by our ancestors, and despite the prevalence of agnostic creeds and atheistic cults, we know that the same simple, direct and eternal Divinity of the Ages is still in His heavens, and all is well with the world."

We dare say that Mr. Bryan's rigid attitude in favor of grape juice embittered Huerta and stamped his mangy little goat.

Is it possible that in all this Mexican crisis and incidental excitement the coal dealers and miners are going to forget to whipaw the public with the customary strike?

An Enterpriser man, who is somewhat of a chicken fancier, tells me that never in all his experience has he known the hens to be so reluctant to set. Notwithstanding the favorable weather they have absolutely refused to do their duty, whereas, formerly, they were so determined to set that there were not enough eggs to go around. My friend expects to know in my study of the Gainesville bulletins I have discovered any explanation of this. I must confess that I know very little about chickens, either hens or roosters but the explanation occurs to me that perhaps this season the hens are influenced by the feminine movement which figures so prominently in the literature of the day. Very likely the hens have reached the conclusion that setting is indignant and an imposition. If this is the case the situation is indeed serious and about the only solution I see is to train the roosters to do the setting.

During the last week I, like thousands of others, was intensely interested in the Mexican news. I was reminded that as time in the dissemination of news and in our customs. When the war clouds gathered in 1861 we would gather about the newspaper offices and meeting places of our own district, and the latest meager report with intense interest. I believe I am no less patriotic now than I was then, although the present situation is not as serious, but I can't help being impressed by the changed conditions. During the last week I spent my evenings at home and depended on the telephone to keep me informed. And I am told that a great majority of patriots did the same. We are no less patriotic—times have changed.

Beat Train in Speeding.
A man beat a train in a recent race between the two from Groom to Kuraseong, India. A distance of 15 1/2 miles. The victor, a private named Graham, of the Army, beat the train by two minutes. The distance was covered in one hour and thirty minutes by continuous running. Graham walked two days before from Groom to Kuraseong and back, 31 miles in six and one-fourth hours.

He called to the referee and the bell rang. "Come on back, niggah, do am a fight to a finish," challenged the referee of the pair. The battered pug simply sat in his corner head down, dejected. "Yes, an' Iae fight," he groaned.

CONFEDERATE VETS GATHERED TOGETHER IN A BIG REUNION

HOSTS OF GRAY MAKE THE GREAT FLORIDA CITY HAPPY AND GAY

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND WERE IN ATTENDANCE

JACKSONVILLE AND ALL FLORIDA TREATED OLD VETS AND VISITORS TO GOOD TIMES

Jacksonville, Fla., May 8.—Hundreds of persons were turned away from the entrance of Morocco temple at the first official session of the United Confederate Veterans' thirty-fourth annual reunion. The seating capacity of the building was taxed to the utmost and all available standing room was occupied.

Reference to the impending crisis in Mexico was made in the welcome speeches of both Governor Trammell and Representative Clark. The former assured the veterans that "your men would at a moment's call, gladly rally to the flag, and again, undaunted face death upon the battle field."

Representative Clark declared, "The boys of the south are only waiting for a summons, and if it should unhappily come, our full quota will be promptly furnished and no braver troops will march to the attack of the Huerta soldiers than the sons of those who fifty years ago, unflinchingly followed the fortunes of the stars and stripes."

Representative Clark lamented the fact that so many were missing from the ranks of the Confederate veterans. "Soon," he continued, "the last Confederate soldier will cross over the river to the great reunion. The few of you who still are left should be extremely happy. You lived to see this day, but the causes the government of our thirteen states are in the hands of our people and because you know your southland never again shall be overrun by an infamous horde of carpetbag culture and sons of power shall never again be disgraced and desecrated by incumbrance of an ignorant, brutal and inferior negro race."

Your struggles were not in vain. Now that we are in full possession of our own we will maintain it.

The best blood of the south was spilled in the defense of the flag in 1865 when the sons of men who followed Lee and Jackson stepped to the front in the defense of the flag. And even now, while our clouds are gathering over our Mexico, the boys of the south are waiting for the summons. If it should unhappily come, our full quota will be promptly furnished and no braver troops will march to the attack of the Huerta soldiers than the sons of those who fifty years ago unflinchingly followed the fortunes of the stars and stripes."

Many social features of the reunion took place during the week. One of the most spectacular events was the parade of the males and sponsors.

Routine business sessions were held by the Sons of Veterans.

While there is no way by which a roster of the visitors could be made, it is estimated that there will be close to 100,000 visitors here.

All in excitement and bustle along the banks of Hogan Creek, where Camp Kirby Smith is situated. The big camp, well drained and nicely shaded is pronounced by the veterans as being one of the best ever awarded by a reunion city. The brown ducks of which the lake are made does away with the stars that would accompany the use of a higher colored material.

O'SHAUGHNESSY IN WASHINGTON

REPORTS ALL QUIET ALONG THE RIO GRANDE BUT MEXICANS STOLE ALL OF HIS BAGGAGE

Washington, D. C., May 8.—National O'Shaughnessy, chief of the American embassy at Mexico City, arrived in Washington early today. With his family he was driven immediately to a hotel. He planned to confer with Secretary Bryan later.

Misfortune followed Mr. O'Shaughnessy even to the seat of his home government. Having lost most of his personal possessions when Mexicans looted his trunks outside of Vera Cruz the American charge lost more of his personal belongings en route from New Orleans to Washington. Baggage which had been checked could not be located when Mr. O'Shaughnessy arrived here, but he expects it will be traced.

In consequence of his continued lack Mr. O'Shaughnessy's first act after reaching his hotel was to hunt a haberdashery shop. At 10:30 he went to the State Department and conferred with Secretary Bryan.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy assured inquirers that papers of the embassy and his code book were still safely in his possession. He denied, however, that he had resigned. Asked if he thought it possible for a compromise cabinet and compromise President to be established in Mexico pending settlement of the disputed territory, the Mexican charge replied he had suggested to President Wilson a list of prominent Mexicans who might be chosen to take charge of the government there pending a constitutional election.

Washington, May 8.—Carranza's attitude, which excluded him from mediation negotiations, was declared today in the report of his victorious campaign against the Mexican federalists. His declaration to submit his internal troubles to mediation was based on the success in his southward campaign. These reports reported to Katag Zubaran, minister of the interior, who is sure the defeat of the federalist Porfirio Avancena, the capture of thousands of rounds of ammunition, war stores, artillery, field guns and munitions, but did not mention the casualties on either side. Saburen emphatically declared that the rebels would invade Mexico City in a month. It is thought the rebels will now attack Saltillo and then Tampico. Zubaran estimated the rebel troops now at 10,000. These reports overshadowed all else in the Mexican capital today. It is believed that Carranza will recapture Villa, Zapata and Obregon, attacking the capital.

SECRETARY McADOO WEDS MISS WILSON AT NATION'S CAPITAL

THIRTEENTH WHITE HOUSE BRIDE WAS GIVEN AWAY YESTERDAY

GROOM MIDDLE AGED BRIDE TWENTY-FOUR

SECRETARY OF TREASURY WILL BE KNOWN IN POLITICAL CIRCLES - BUILT HUDSON TUNNELS

Washington, May 8.—The wedding of Miss Eleanor B. Wilson to the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. William Gibbs McAdoo, took place at the White House yesterday afternoon. The wedding party was very small, only the vice president and Mrs. Marshall, the cabinet and the immediate members of the two families being present. These plans were disappointing to many in Washington, who had hoped for a large and brilliant wedding. Mrs. Wilson's illness caused a curtailing of the original plans. This is the fourteenth wedding at the White House, but the first time in history that a cabinet member has won the hand of a President's daughter. Mr. McAdoo is 50 years old, while Miss Wilson is 24. He is a widower and has six children. He is the builder of the Hudson river tunnels, and knew the Wilson family before his entry into the cabinet. Miss Eleanor Wilson, the President's youngest daughter, is tall and dark, unlike her sisters, Mrs. Francis B. Sayre and Miss Margaret Wilson, and is fond of dancing, tennis and horses. The secretary and Miss Wilson played tennis together nearly every day last season, and at dances it was remarked that McAdoo's name was on Miss Wilson's program more than any other man's. They are both enthusiastic tangoers. One other thing which threw both together was the attachment between Miss Nona McAdoo, daughter of the secretary and Miss Wilson. The two girls have been inseparable. Miss Wilson's engagement was a large diamond east in platinum, the stone weighing about four and a half carats. It is set in prongs surrounded by an elaborate and delicate filigree studded with small diamonds. On each side of the solitaire Superstition has won out in this wedding. Friends of the couple say Mr. McAdoo was the first person who sat on the dais on which Miss Jessie Wilson and Francis Howes Sayre were married, and that always means a marriage real soon, both Eleanor Wilson and William McAdoo are thirteen letter names. Miss Eleanor got the ring in the piece of bride's cake that Mrs. Sayre cut with Lieut. Gaynor's sword, and their engagement was officially announced on Friday, the 18th. Strictly speaking, Miss Eleanor Wilson will be the "thirteenth White House" bride, that is, the thirteenth bride direct from a President's family, for one of the marriages in the White House was that of a soldier and his sweetheart.

Col. Bill Ellis Here
Col. W. H. Ellis, former attorney-general of Florida and now a candidate for justice of the supreme court of Florida, was in the city on Wednesday calling on his many friends and making new ones. As Col. Ellis is well known here and the other candidates have not been here the chances of Seminole county giving Mr. Ellis a good vote are good. And then he is well and favorably known over the state and will be elected because the majority of the people think he should be a member of the supreme court.

Frank Dealed New Trial
Atlanta, May 8.—Denial of the defendant's plea for a new trial for Leo M. Frank, the factory superintendent, under sentence of death for the murder of fourteen-year old Mary Phagan, was made here yesterday by Benjamin H. Hill, judge of the superior court.

The court's action was taken immediately after the conclusion of arguments of attorneys for the defense, which followed the completion of evidence introduced by the defense and the state.

Judge Hill indicated that he did not care to hear arguments from the state's counsel.

News of the latest verdict was taken immediately by Frank, who is confined in the jail awaiting the final action in his case, which has been in the courts continually for more than a year. His wife was with him at the time.

"I had expected that action," said the former factory superintendent. "I have nothing to say now, but I may have later."

Mr. Frederick H. Rand of Longwood was in the city yesterday. It will be good news to Mr. Rand's many friends in Orlando to know that he will erect a handsome residence in this city and will move to Orlando to live in the fall. He has purchased the late Gen. A. B. Cary place on East Central avenue. Mr. Rand and his attractive family will be acquisitions to the business and social life of the town, and they will be given a warm welcome. Orlando Sentinel.

Never has Geneva enjoyed a more pleasant picnic than on last Saturday when the Methodists and Baptist Sunday schools united and spent the day on Lake Harney. The committee consisted of Messrs. Daniel, Ballard, McLain, Culpeper, Dooley and Doane, who give very great credit for the many provisions made for the pleasure of the picnickers. Swings were plentiful, lemonade in abundance. In the afternoon the autos were kept busy carrying the little ones to ride. A tennis court had been prepared. This with the fishing amused the older ones. Abundance of fish (thanks to Messrs. Ballard and Gresham) formed an appetizing course at dinner. Mr. Whitcomb has improved the picnic grounds very much and expects to do more.

Our citizens are still pushing the new auto road to the beach, a party visited our neighbor, Sanford, recently, who says Orlando can't outdo them, which being interpreted means at least $501.00. It is hard to tell which of the two cities make the best neighbor to Geneva. About one mile of this new road is completed and many hands are at work on it every day.

ENDEAVORS AT WORK

Next Sunday's topic is "Health Hints for Better Living," 1 Cor. 19:19, 20. If possible have the meeting led by a physician. Wonder how many Endeavor ones we have in Florida?

The state secretary had a splendid time in the United Brethren community last week. It did her much good physically and other ways. After the night of April 24 at a comfortable hotel in Tampa, her parents went home to W. O. Beards, and later that day Mr. W. O. Beards came with his automobile. Then there was a fine 10 mile ride to Lake Magdalene. Headquarters were at the home of W. O. Beards and Rev. J. D. Wyandt, state C. E. president. There were callings on the roads to Sulphur Springs. It is not often taken in this strenuous life for such festivities, so this one was indeed a pleasure. Rev. Buckwalter, a fine young pastor was listened to Sunday morning and in the evening was a good C. E. meeting. Almost every one in Lake Magdalene is an active member of the society either Young Peoples or Junior. It was nice to visit Miss Ruth Wyandt, once state Junior Supt., but now Quiet Hour leader for Florida Endeavorers.

Last Sunday the secretary was the est. of Mrs. Etta V. Mendon, shall state superintendent of the W. C. T. U. for Medal Contest. We traveled toward Tampa, attending three services on the United Brethren church there. During the day it was a great treat to have a professional call from our state treasurer, Geo. Gavannah, and attend the society of which he is the efficient president.

Monday came the fine launch ride to the Endeavors of Ringling, where for a week the secretary is to have more vacation. Hoping to be ready for more strenuous days in late May, on the way home to Jacksonville. There were reports dropped on account of illness, which April, are to be picked up on the way home to the well loved Liberty wood business and other busy duties of office life.

Jacksonville Endeavorers are hoping to get more members so that a white local union can be organized before the state convention next spring meets at the largest place in Florida. Tampa young people feel the time for their city union organization is not far off. Since the state convention in Gainesville they have gained two new young people organizations, namely, Herts and Brothers, and First Protestants. The Congregational workers and those of the Christian church are getting in the spirit for the coming year and so it is probable that before long in Tampa, as well as Atlanta, of the Georgia Union, there will be a strong fellowship of Christian Endeavorers.

It is not only just in Tampa and Tampa, many places here are just planning to do the same. We are bringing to pass the goal set by Gainesville. One hundred or more before we meet at the state convention next spring. Mail is forwarded from home and I hope to cover much of the road in May. It is GREAT! MISS E. S. HALL

VALUE OF WATERWAYS

That waterways are of value not only in time of peace but in time of war and that an inland waterway along the Atlantic Coast as a means of national defense would be of even greater value than the Panama Canal is the opinion expressed by Mr. Thompson, Justice of Philadelphia, who is Commissioner of Fairmount Park.

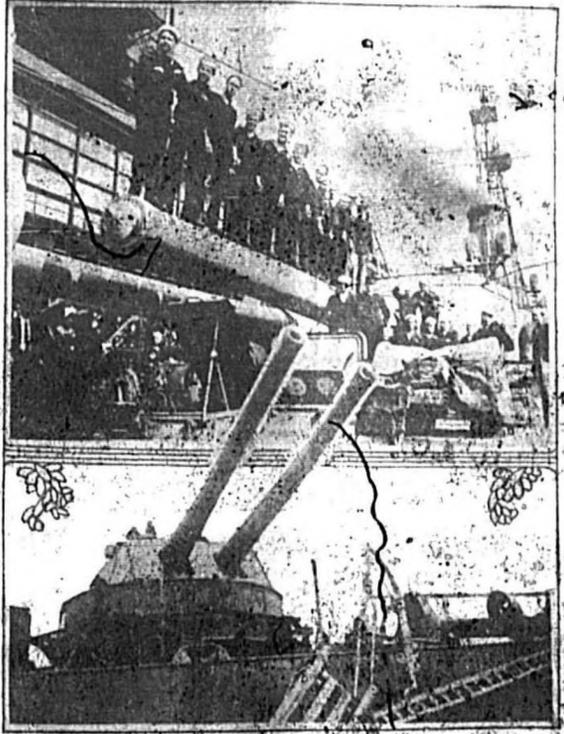

"How many of you realize," said Mr. Justice, "that but for the sinking of the battleship Maine the Panama Canal would today not even have been begun? When we were suddenly facing war we found our feet divided, one part in the Atlantic, the other in the Pacific, and each division liable to being defeated in detail. The long, hazardous trip of the Oregon around Cape Horn was a matter of intense anxiety and aroused the whole nation to the need of the Panama Canal as a means of national defense, so that in case of need, we could unite all our war ships in one mighty fleet and in either ocean."

In my remarks before the convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress in December last, I pointed out that the question whether the Panama Canal, which was wholly paid for by the United States and is wholly within United States territory, is to be absolutely within United States control, had, seemingly, become an international question, and had created a situation which was surcharged with danger, one that might lead to conflict with the whole world united against us, and that the conflict might come upon us as suddenly as did the sinking of the Maine. The danger which existed at that time has been multiplied a hundred-fold by the situation which now confronts us in Mexico.

Under such a peril our greatest asset, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and even Washington, the capital of the nation, might be at the mercy of an invader. European fleets would be able to fully control the waterways that now connect New York harbor with the Delaware river and Chesapeake Bay were dependent sufficiently to allow the passage of torpedo boats.

This inland waterway would be safe from battleship attack and would have all the advantages of a short route free from which offensive warfare might be more safely carried on. The benefit indicated for the section from New York to Chesapeake Bay would be vastly extended and multiplied with the completion of the entire project, creating a protected waterway the whole length of the Atlantic coast.

The broad, national character of such a waterway would be far greater to the people of the United States than even that of the Panama Canal, conceding, as I do, quite as much for the national value of the latter as is claimed by its most sanguine advocates. It is not only just in Tampa and Tampa, many places here are just planning to do the same. We are bringing to pass the goal set by Gainesville. One hundred or more before we meet at the state convention next spring. Mail is forwarded from home and I hope to cover much of the road in May. It is GREAT! MISS E. S. HALL

Uncle Sam's Mighty 14 Inch Guns.

The first battleships in the world to be equipped with fourteen inch guns are the Texas and New York, sister ships, which were recently put into service. They were put into Mexican waters at the beginning of the blockade, but their mighty guns may of course be used in other directions.

Two of the giant guns of the New York are now shown on the deck of the Arkansas, showing the labor standing on one of the two 14-inch guns.

BITTERNESS UNSAFE GUIDE

By Which to Shape Our Views on Governmental Policies
(By John C. Tyler)

He who enlists under the banner of a general who is actuated by bitterness of soul into ignominious defeat and late seldom declines to hand out that which the action asks for. If I had no better excuse for living than hate for the undertaker, I would go and jump in the river and drown. Leaving a note for my distracted people saying: "Give me for nothing, search for nothing; in the realm of creation's plan it is fit for nothing; may be in the belly of sharks it will find its place." Hate is the ever ready weapon of the arch demon of perdition, and bitterness is only spawn. When hate flares forth into existence, bitterness radiates from it like sound waves from a wireless station, exulting in the blasting of human ambition, and caring little how much cannibalism it shuts out of countless lives. Hate is narrow. It sees only the oasis bottle of its own existence, and bitterness is its abject slave. Hand in hand they march down the sands of time, utterly oblivious to the justice of every other of the plans of creation. Extermination is his slogan; and of the righteousness of civilized warfare it makes a hollow mockery. A few days ago, I met the recent importation into Florida journalism, who sees demon spooks lurking behind everything I do, and who reads a meaning more fantastic than the Arabian Nights into everything I write. Normally he is so gentle of spirit and pleasing in appearance that I at once concluded there was a skeleton behind the screen, and went in search of it. Taking advantage of the first opportunity I introduced myself, explained who I was, and then opened up on the subject I felt sure would make him out. Reduced to as few words as possible, here is his story: He admitted that among local optimists there are good men. In fact some of the best friends he ever had were saloon men, but good citizens. He had worked, as Mayor had in hand with them for regulation, but one man in the town had refused to be regulated. Therefore regulation according to his theory is impossible. His brother had cultivated a thirst. Three times he had taken him to a Keeley Institute and "cured" him, but as often he had gone back to the lure of the tirst. This had so "imbittered" him that he would devote his life to fighting rum, and extermination was the only remedy. He could not go to Mexico to fight for his flag as long as the rum demon stalked abroad in our own land. Pathetic, yes! Earnest of purpose, why certainly! But the laws of the Creator are not founded upon pathos, nor is bitterness the Star of Hope by which the footsteps of men can be guided. The fiery eloquence of a Patrick Henry may plunge a nation into war, but it requires the tranquil mind of a Washington or Jefferson to bring order out of chaos, and direct the people again to the paths of virtue, peace and prosperity. Out of the mire of bitterness there never was flected a diadem to adorn the crown of man's matchless achievement. Out of the maelstrom of hate there never tumbled an anthem, or tribute to woman's virtue. Upon the turbulent sea of life human wrecks are being buffeted hither and thither by the violence of their own passions, but they are not normal men or women who deserve the best efforts of the people, or the substance of the toiling masses. He who rescues one of these derelicts is indeed a hero, but it is not proper that a nation should be put in bondage because of their deplorable condition. The eternal principle of law is "The greatest good to the greatest number," not the enslavement of the many for the protection of the few.

are made only for men. In this specialization lies their economy. All hands, all machines, working toward one single end, does away with the waste and inefficiency of diversified efforts.

Furthermore, shoes are as distinctive an article of a man's dress as his shirt or his hat. You'd never expect to get your shirts made by a manufacturer of ladies' waists, nor your derby from a French milliner.

See to it that your shoes are made by those who understand a man's requirements and devote all their time to fulfilling them.

Snow shoes are such shoes.

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought, Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I not only had, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Theford's Black-Draught, and out taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."

Theford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

NEW SOAP MATERIAL

Western Kansas Weed Used Extensively by Manufacturers.

Southwest Has Various Plants That Can Be Used for Purpose But Product of Sunflower State Is Given the Preference.

Washington—Settlers in western Kansas are cutting and marketing soap weed, or Spanish bayonet, to supply the demands of soap manufacturers, according to a report recently received from officers of the Kansas national forest. There are various plants in the southwest locally known as soap weed, called amole by the Mexicans, but the one gathered by the Kansas farmers, technically known as Yucca bacata, a species with exceptionally large fruits, is the most used. The soap manufacturers, however, utilize the tops or the roots. Manufacturers are paying eight dollars a ton for the plant at the railway stations, while the estimated cost of cutting, drying, baling and hauling ranges from five to six dollars, depending upon the distance to the railroad. Since a man can ordinarily get out a ton a day, the gathering of the soap weed affords an opportunity to secure a fair day's wages at a time when other ranch activities are not progressing. After cutting the soap weed is allowed to dry from 20 to 30 days and then is piled up in the ordinary broomcorn baling machine.

For a long time the weed has been made into a soap concoction which the Indian and Mexican women have used particularly for washing their hair, for which purpose it is considered especially suited since it contains no alkali. Present-day soap manufacturers use it for toilet and wool soaps. Its qualities have been known for a long time but the harvesting of soap weed is just now becoming commercially important.

The industry is now operating on lands adjacent to the Kansas national forest and it is expected that the demand will soon spread to that forest, some portions of which bear an abundant supply of the plant. There is a plentiful supply of it throughout southern Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

Forest officers have considered this weed a nuisance since it is a parasite of the plant to spread over extensive areas and kill off other vegetation. It is particularly a pest on stock ranges in line with its policy of range improvement; the government is anxious to rid the forage areas of all such injurious plants and it is the hope of the forest officers that the commercial demand for soap weed will soon reach such proportions that it will not only take an otherwise useless product but also will eradicate a weed which could be utilized to better advantage for the supplying of forage to cattle and sheep.

Proves Worth of Invention.
"Shortly after Galvani's invention came out he visited America, and with a letter of introduction called upon Dr. Doane, medical officer to the Bank of New York," writes a correspondent of the London Chronicle. "He found the family in distress at the death of the infant son. Galvani asked to be allowed to try his battery; the child revived and was christened Galvani Doane. His father was a cousin of Longfellow."

Sugar's Real Value.
A cane sugar solution injected directly into the blood is apparently unfit for assimilation, for it is eliminated by the kidneys unchanged. The real value of sugar seems to be that the carbon obtained from its distillation is available for forming the gas known as carburated hydrogen or methane, which seems indispensable to the growth and respiratory processes of all living organisms. American Food Journal

Wanted Useful Article.
A suit having been brought against a defendant, his counsel interposed a demurrer that had the effect to throw it out of court. Soon afterward the same lawyer was elected to congress and while at his post of duty he was surprised one day to receive a letter from the former client, saying: "I am sorry again. Please send me another one of them things they call demurrers."

Everybody's Doing It.
"A year ago people didn't think of the possibility that a fire had been set," said a New York fire insurance adjuster. "Now they don't think of anything else." The other day I had to investigate a small fire. "What do you think was the cause?" I asked the janitor. "It looks to me," said he, "like the friction between a $500 value and a $1,000 policy."

Family Pride.
Strolling into a grocer's shop the other day, a little boy asked for half a pound of margarine. He was being served, and the shopman was about to wrap the margarine up in paper, when the lad exclaimed: "Please, sir, my mummy wants to know if yer'll stamp a cow on it, 'cos we're having company."—London Farm and Home

"That's just like Jim," said the widow, wearily, after a flapping curtain had knocked over the urn in which all that was mortal of her deceased husband had been placed and spread its contents on the floor. "Always dropping his ashes everywhere!"—Harper's Weekly.

His Turn Coming.
"What are you going to do when you grow up. If you don't know how to read, write and cipher?" asked a school teacher of a lazy, stupid boy. "I'm going to be a schoolmaster, and make the boys do all the readin', writin' and cipherin'." replied the boy.

Personal Will in Pulpit.
The pulpit is not infrequently taken in our own day, but seldom taken the personal form of a sermon divine who, preaching a university sermon at Oxford, ended abruptly by remarking that he "saw it was time to shut his books because the doctor's men had now come, wiping their beards from the alabaster," referring thus to the custom of the mace bearers, who were wont to wipe to a neighboring public house during the preaching and returning only when they thought it was nearly over.

Get Sugar in Other Ways.
It is significant that the nations who consume the most of and light wines, all of which contain greater or less amounts of compound carbon and water, consume the least sugar per capita. The natives of Italy, Greece and Turkey, for example, consume annually but one-twelfth of the amount of sugar per capita that is consumed by the natives of Great Britain.—American Food Journal.

During a general election in England a canvasser called at the home of the late Prof. Froude, the historian. Mr. Froude was out, so the canvasser interrogated the butler as to how Mr. Froude would vote. BULKHEAD STARTS; DREDGE IS WORKING ON THE LAKE FRONT

GREAT WEEK OF BEAUTIFYING LAKE MONROE HAS BEGUN

DREDGE BEGINS WORK NEAR THE CITY DOCK

CONTRACTORS HAVE A YEAR IN WHICH TO MAKE CONCRETE WALL AND FILL

The bulkheading of the lake front has started. The dredge boat arrived at the docks from Jacksonville last week and made ready for business last Saturday and pumped for some time to get the machinery in working order. Yesterday morning the dredging began in earnest and crowds of interested citizens were at the dock to watch the work.

The dredge boat is fitted up with sleeping and dining accommodations and the force is prepared to stay with this big contract until the work is finished and Sanford's lake front is furnished with a concrete retaining wall and filled in level with the end of the streets leading north.

The dredge is not moving much soil at present as the soundings did not disclose the sort of soil that the suction pipes will encounter and yesterday the sand pumped from the river bed did not materialize as fast as the anxious watchers wished but the work is satisfactory to the contractors who have learned to encounter all manner of surprises on the river bottom. A lot of poles, blocks and tackle and other wreckage was brought to the surface yesterday after the pumps had started and this kind of refuse interferes with the work to some extent.

The contract was made by the city with the Seminole Dredging Co., of which firm Messrs. C. R. Walker and F. W. Mahoney of this city are members and the work will be executed not only in first class shape but in record time and when finished will add greatly to the appearance of the city.

The bulkheading and beautifying of the lake front will not only be a great benefit to the city from a civic point of view, but will be of incalculable value from a health standpoint. The water hyacinths, weeds, old wrecks and sheds will now be destroyed forever and the lake front will take its place in the city life as one of the most valuable assets. The lake front has been neglected for years and the dreams of those who have longed for this great improvement have at least come true.

Various city councils have contemplated this great improvement, but it remained for the present council to start the work, and the thanks of the citizens of Sanford are due to them for their united stand upon this question. There is nothing that the city has needed as much as this bulkheading and now that the work has actually started, there is great rejoicing among the people of Sanford and the many winter visitors who in their northern homes learn of this fine improvement at Sanford.

The bulkheading of the lake front means that our tourist hotel will be built and many improvements will follow. The many acres of worthless river front will now take on a new and added value and Sanford should start many improvements this summer in line with the new lake front.

HUERTA MAY BE BLUFFING UNTIL CAPITAL FORTIFIED

THEN THERE WILL BE NO ADJUSTMENT OF THE MEXICAN TROUBLE

DELEGATES LEAVE FOR TREATY PLACE BUT NO ONE HAS HOPES OF ANY PEACE PACT

Washington, D. C., May 12.—Details of the killing of C. B. Hoadley, American, and G. E. Willingham, British, by Mexicans at El Favor mine near Guadaluajara, Mexico, were given in a dispatch from the British vice consul at Guadaluajara, transmitted to the state department today through the British embassy. The dispatch said that Hoadley and Willingham were stabbed to death and horribly mutilated by enraged Mexicans, after the foreign staff, in charge of the El Favor mines had endeavored to search native laborers for silver bars stolen from the mine.

The two victims, he said, had given up their weapons believing they would be spared. All the other foreigners, according to the report, were placed in jail, but later were released. Four schools opened here today with native instructors. If the execution is successful General Funston plans to re-establish the entire school system.

Veracruz, May 12.—Emilio Rabal, Augustine Rodriguez and Luis Figueroa, the three peace commissioners appointed by President Huerta to represent him at the Niagara Falls conference, who will sail later today for Havana en route to Key West are clothed with full powers, nominally at least, to sign any agreement or convention.

The Mexican senate in approving Huerta's nomination of the commissioners, conferred full power and ample authority to judge, counsel, carry on business and sign any agreement or treaty whatever. Many prominent Mexicans, however, do not regard this broad authority as real. Others believe that Huerta has instructed the commissioners to place insurmountable objections to any amicable adjustment believing that failure of the negotiations might result in pushing American intervention. They feel that this, however, would not unite factions but would force Huerta to fight alone. It is the general opinion that Huerta fears no American advance until the mediators have concluded their work.

Consular Agent Williams has received orders from the United States Department to secure the names and addresses of all American citizens who have refused to leave Mexico. He also has been ordered to use all possible means to get word to Americans to leave Mexico until peace has been restored.

ONE GREAT PAPER WILL BE THE HERALD OF TUESDAY, MAY 26

WILL FEATURE SCHOOLS OF SANFORD AND SEMINOLE COUNTY

ALSO CANDIDATES AND DELINQUENT TAX LIST

ONE OF THE BEST BOOSTING AND ADVERTISING MEDIUMS THAT HAS EVER LEFT THE PRESS

The Herald never attempts to hold up the advertiser. We prefer to let them come in each issue and make their advertising pay because every issue of The Herald is better than the last. But there are times when special advertising is needed and holds their attention better than the regular issue or rather a special edition of the regular paper is better than it would be ordinarily because it contains special features.

Such an edition will be the big educational number of The Sanford Herald that will be issued on May 26th and will contain the commencement exercises of the Sanford High School and all the schools of Seminole county. If the teachers can be interested in the work and will let their schools of the various districts. The schools of Seminole county are said to be the best in the state. We have enjoyed that reputation in the past and should continue to enjoy it in the future but the work at large will never know of our educational advantages if we sit idly by and never let the world know about our schools. This we propose to do in the Special Educational Edition of Tuesday, May 26th if we can get the cooperation of the merchants of the county and the teachers.

The big edition will also contain the platforms and aims of the various candidates. This was granted them because they did not desire open meetings and speeches, many of them prefer to talk to the people through the columns of The Herald and the big edition will give them this chance. All the candidates will have their pictures and their advantages set forth in letters to the people. The special edition will also contain the first installment of the Seminole county delinquent tax list, something that every man in the county wishes to read. This item alone will make the special edition very valuable to the advertisers and the man who misses this great opportunity of getting before the people of the county is missing the chance of his life.

The big edition will be a booster paper in every respect and aside from going into every home in Seminole county will also be well distributed all over the state and in many parts of the north and west and any one interested in the future growth of Sanford should send a dozen copies of this edition of The Herald to their friends in other parts of the country, for it will contain much that is of interest to a future investor.

This edition will appeal more to the advertiser than any similar edition that has ever been compiled in this city and now is the time to contract for your space.

Old Citizen Here. A. C. Martin, one of the original settlers of Sanford and long time resident of this city is here on a visit to his daughters, Mrs. J. C. McDaniel and Mrs. George Fox. Mr. Martin is a survivor of the Seminole war and the Civil war and is en route to his home in Miami after attending the reunion at Jacksonville. He is among the few surviving Seminole war heroes having been a member of the cavalry in those stirring times of the early days. He will be here for a week or more and his many friends are giving him a warm welcome. Mr. Martin sees many changes in this city since the early days when he built the first store room at the Melrose dock.

Cafeteria Luncheon. Saturday afternoon and evening the ladies of the Methodist church will serve a Cafeteria supper in the Duckworth store. Delicious home cooked foods will be on sale and everybody is invited.

The Big Picnic and Fish Fry of the Sanford Eagles that will take place on Thursday May 28th at Woodland Park promises to be the big event of the season, not only for the good time promised everybody, but the crowd promises to overflow the beautiful Woodland Park. The good ladies who have worked so hard to make the affair a success have induced all the merchants of Sanford to close their stores at noon and everybody will take the boats for Woodland Park. The following merchants have signed a petition to close on that day and many who were overlooked have also signified their intention to close:

The doctors from all over the state will gather in their first annual convention here on the 15th for a three days session. Thursday evening, Dr. W. H. Warren of Key West will deliver an oration, which will be followed by a barbecue for the visitors at the Country Club. Reporter Star.

Big Barbecue at Chuluota

The people of Chuluota are planning a big barbecue at that place on Thursday, May 21st. Although the complete arrangements have not yet been made it is an assured fact that the barbecue will be given and when the people of the growing little city make preparations for such an event it is not without saying that the barbecue will be spared to give their visitors on that day a fine time.

Chuluota is famous for its barbecues and there is no doubt that the people of Seminole county will be there in force. Further details will be announced later.

Electrical Inspector Here

Mr. J. L. Orr, electrical inspector for the Southern Underwriters, with the aid of local electricians, Jno. Gillon and W. H. Howell has just completed a very thorough inspection of the electrical work of the city. Mr. Orr reports that the work in Sanford was found to be in good shape and far above the average work throughout the county. It is a credit to the city as well as to the local electricians for a report as good as that of Mr. Orr's to go in, as it has a tendency to lower insurance rates and also means the liability of fire.

DELEGATES LEAVE FOR TREATY PLACE BUT NO ONE HAS HOPES OF ANY PEACE PACT

Washington, D. C., May 12.—Details of the killing of C. B. Hoadley, American, and G. E. Willingham, British, by Mexicans at El Favor mine near Guadaluajara, Mexico, were given in a dispatch from the British vice consul at Guadaluajara, transmitted to the state department today through the British embassy. The dispatch said that Hoadley and Willingham were stabbed to death and horribly mutilated by enraged Mexicans, after the foreign staff, in charge of the El Favor mines had endeavored to search native laborers for silver bars stolen from the mine.

The two victims, he said, had given up their weapons believing they would be spared. All the other foreigners, according to the report, were placed in jail, but later were released. WILL REDUCE TAX

Governor Trammell Thinks State Can Cut Millage

Tallahassee, Fla., May 12.—Under the law which provides that the Governor may order a reduction in the tax millage for state purposes, Governor Park Trammell several months ago after some preliminary investigation, was impressed that it would be practicable for him to order a reduction in the millage for pension purposes for the year 1914. He followed up his preliminary consideration of the matter by addressing a letter to Hon. W. V. Knott, Comptroller, asking for information upon this subject. The Comptroller last week replied to the Governor's letter of February 25th, asking for information. In this reply the Comptroller expressed the opinion that the millage can be reduced one mill. This information agrees with the views of Governor Trammell, as he took the position when he began the investigation that the status of the pension fund was such that he could not justify reducing the pension tax millage from two to one and one half mills. The Governor says that he will unquestionably make an order reducing this tax at least one mill, and that he is further considering all the information which he has before him, and it is possible will make the reduction even more than one mill.

Under the law the Governor also has authority to reduce the two mills tax for general purposes if he finds it practicable to do so. The Governor has for several months been considering the advisability of also reducing this millage. He is asking for information from the Tax Commission, the Comptroller, and the assessing officers, and says that while he cannot at this time say definitely that a reduction can be made but from his investigation thus far he is hopeful that he will be able to make a substantial reduction in the two mills tax for general state purposes.

FIRST AND SECOND CHOICE

What Appears to be Complicated is Simple Enough

The law is very plain, and in a few words simply means that in case no candidate receives a majority of first class votes, then the candidate receiving the lowest number of first class votes is dropped, and the two candidates receiving the highest number of first choice votes are to determine who is the nominee by adding the first and second choice votes together and the one receiving a majority is the nominee. If a candidate fails to receive a majority of the first choice votes, the two highest first choice candidates are to receive all the votes cast for them, both first and second choice votes. Read the law, Section 30.

If any candidate for an office shall receive a majority of first class votes he shall be declared nominated for such office. If no candidate shall receive such a majority of first choice votes, then the nomination for such office shall be determined by excluding from further consideration the candidacy of all except the two candidates who shall have received the greatest and next greatest number of first choice votes, or the greatest and equal number of first choice votes, and by adding to such first choice votes of each of said two candidates the second choice votes cast for him by those voters whose first choice votes shall have been cast for any of the candidates excluded as herein provided.

The Junior Civic League's meeting last week was especially interesting. A large number of the members being present. The committee from the Welfare Department in charge are much gratified at the progress made, and have many excellent plans for work. The League will plant a large number of rose bushes in the parks very soon, and large beds of colums are to be planted as soon as the plants arrive. The children have already raised some money by a candy sale and during July will give a play, including about one hundred children.

Shoppers in Shorts

Tallahassee, Ga., May 12.—All the today is in the hands of the shoppers. It was estimated that 16,000 Nobles of the Mystic Shrine had arrived at daybreak to attend the fortieth annual meeting of the Imperial Council of the order, which convened here today. It was expected that many more would be here tonight. The ingress of the shoppers began early yesterday. From that time on special trains arrived at short intervals, and with scarcely a break the air was filled with the blare of trumpets, and the roll of drums as visiting patrols paraded through the streets to headquarters. William J. Irwin, the imperial potentate of Wheeling, W. Va., was expected to arrive during the day. He will be greeted with a salute of 21 guns. Many of the visitors are staying in the special trains that brought them here. The hotel accommodations of the city have been reserved for months, and the railroads have arranged to park the trains for the accommodation of the overflow.
