Energy Crisis Created?
Oil Companies Facing Trust Suit

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)— The Florida attorney general's office will file an antitrust suit against major oil companies on grounds they created the energy crisis, Deputy Atty. Gen. Dean Dearing said today.

Dearing said the companies created the crisis to try to drive their competition out of business and "to get the ecologists off their back so they will have free rein" to drill for oil in the Gulf of Mexico.

The state's plans were revealed today in a copyright story by the St. Petersburg Times.

Dearing said in an interview he hoped to file the suit in federal court within two weeks but he was uncertain which of the major oil companies would be named.

"There may be a legitimate shortage of gasoline brought on by increased demand," he said, "but there is a broad difference between a gasoline shortage and an energy crisis."

The oil companies had to create "a sense of urgency" to offset public support of environmentalists for high water pollution control standards, Dearing said.

"They also need to have a crisis to guard what they are doing to their competition," he said.

He said that because of the threat of foreign countries to increase restrictions on, or nationalize oil fields in their borders, the companies need to shift profits from the crude oil level, where they have been in the past, to shipping, refining and pumping at stations.

But to increase their prices the companies must eliminate their independent competitors, and they are trying to do this by cutting oil supplies to independent refineries and to small stations, he said.

"When I see General Motors putting four-cylinder engines in their cars and quit producing eight-cylinder engines, then I'll believe General Motors believes there's an energy crisis," Dearing said.

'Hot Pursuit' Police Chase Has Speeds To 110 m.p.h.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A 13-year old boy fleeing Wildwood police killed himself and his passenger when he lost control of his car and it slammed into a tree and then a telephone pole, the Florida Highway Patrol says.

Wildwood police tried to stop Harold J. Balthazar Jr. on a routine traffic violation Sunday when the youth pulled away, reaching speeds of 110 miles per hour on State Road 33 in Marion County, troopers said.

Officers said the youth apparently fled because he was under Florida's legal driving age.

Killed were Balthazar and William J. Garland, age unknown, both of Orlando, troopers said.

The two were among 13 persons killed on Florida roads during the weekend.

Troopers gave the following account of other accidents:

Two persons were killed in a head-on collision Sunday on State Road 60 in Hillsborough County. Dead were David Simmons, 22, of Plant City, who ran a stop sign, and a passenger, Bryan Burnett, 17, in the other vehicle.

Linda Rae Henphill, 28, of Tampa, was killed early Sunday in a head-on collision on State Road 687 one mile north of SR 686 in Pinellas County.

Mark Rogers Cook III, 27, of Pensacola died early Sunday after he lost control of his car Saturday on SR 292 and struck a utility pole 10 miles west of his hometown.

Michael J. Gallagher, 28, of Fort Lauderdale was killed early Sunday in a one-car accident on SR 5 four miles south of Rockledge in Brevard County.

Wayne Everett Brown, 30, of Jasper was killed Saturday on SR 940 in Monroe County 2.4 miles west of SR 5.

Ronnie Eugene Decker, 18, of Leesburg, died Friday four-tenths of a mile south of his hometown on SR 254 when he lost control of the car he was driving, skidded 300 feet sideways on a curve and struck a palm tree.

Cedric Dione Collins, 5, of West Hollywood, was struck and killed Friday while crossing a street in his hometown.

Authorities continued to withhold the name of a person killed in a one-car accident Friday on the Florida Turnpike, 6.2 miles north of the Fort Pierce toll plaza.

Carpenter's Crews Are Finishing Castle

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)— Crews of carpenters and electricians are putting the finishing touches on a $3.5 million marbled medieval castle for embattled businessman Glenn W. Turner in sleepy Central Florida.

Turner's 41-room showplace sits on the edge of a secluded lake in Seminole County in the heart of Florida's flat citrus belt far from the hustle and bustle of the city.

Outer work on the four-story structure is complete and the carpenters and electricians climb daily among the beams installing wiring and finishing walls for the December unveiling.

Turner's 12th-century style dream house is reminiscent of kingly palaces built during the Crusades.

The castle rivals Cinderella's in Walt Disney World's fantasyland 45 miles to the west.

Turner, a 38-year-old sharecropper's son, climbed from plowfield to penthouse with a borrowed $5,000, a bottle of mink oil and a hard sell. In five years the flamboyant super-salesman built Glenn W. Turner Enterprises Inc., once a 70-company conglomerate. Today the firms have dwindled to a handful through sales, mergers and phaseouts, his aides say.

Oooops!

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)— Sixty-two passengers on a United Air Lines jet landed in Miami Sunday night but quickly discovered they were at the wrong airport — eight miles from their original destination.

The pilot of United's Flight 475 out of Cleveland had put the jet down by mistake at OpaLocka Airport, a small field used by the Coast Guard and light aircraft.

Officials said visibility was perfect and the landing, even if it was at the wrong airport, was beautiful.

The passengers were bused to Miami International Airport where they were supposed to have landed.

The pilot would not comment on the incident.

Graduation Thoughts.

(Ed. Note—Many of our high school students step forward to accept their graduation diplomas at various graduation exercises throughout the county tonight. We offer for their benefit Herbert Kaufman's This Is Your Hour.)

This is your hour—creep upon it! Summon your power, leap upon it! Grasp it, clasp it, hold it tight! Strike it, spike it, with full might! If you take too long to ponder, Opportunity may wander. Yesterday's a bag of sorrow; No man ever finds Tomorrow. Hesitation is a mire— Climb out, climb up, climb on higher! Fumble, stumble, risk a tumble, Make a start, however humble! Do your best and do it now! Pluck and grit will find out now. Persevere, although you tire— While a spark is left, there's fire. Distrust doubt; doubt is a liar. Even if all mankind jeer you, You can force the world to cheer you.

Nixon's Lawyer Reveals Tie-In

WASHINGTON (AP)— Herbert W. Kalmbach, President Nixon's personal lawyer, was officially quoted today as saying payments made to Watergate defendants and their lawyers were a "White House project."

Kalmbach solicited $75,000 from the Finance Committee to elect the President June 29, 1972 for an urgent project that he said "had approval of high authorities"; the committee said in a report to the General Accounting Office.

A spokesman for the committee confirmed that this is the same sum Kalmbach had previously told the GAO he included in payments to the Watergate defendants and their lawyers.

In all, Kalmbach solicited and paid $210,000 for this purpose, but only $75,000 came from Maurice H. Stans, chairman of the finance committee. The committee said it never had reported the expenditure publicly because Kalmbach told committee officials it was unrelated to the campaign.

But the committee said it was reporting this expenditure along with a great many others about which questions have been raised in recent months, in the interest of full disclosure.

News reports have said that Kalmbach is ready to testify that he solicited the Watergate money on instructions of former White House domestic adviser John D. Ehrlichman. These reports said that Kalmbach said he balked at raising more money when asked to do so by former White House chief of staff H. R. Haldeeman.

The Nixon committee report to the GAO said that on June 29, 1972, Kalmbach also was given $30,000 which was contributed on June 29, 1972 from Philippine nationals.

Supreme Court Divided

Hands Environmentalists Victory

By VERNON A. GUIDRY Jr., Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—An equally divided Supreme Court today handed environmentalists a major victory by upholding a lower court order forbidding any substantial degradation of clean air.

The 4-4 deadlock does not settle the issue on its merits, but rather upholds the U.S. Circuit Court in Washington, D.C., which had ruled earlier that federal law prohibits substantial new air pollution in regions where the air is still clean.

Burger blocked on Nov. 30 the lower court order's effect until the high court could act. The dispute began when environmentalists set out to protect those areas with air which was cleaner than that required by federal standards.

Altamonte Zoning Law 1st Reading

By MARION BETHA, Herald Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS—City Council at a 4:30 p.m. meeting Tuesday is preparing to "burn the midnight oil" with the first reading of the comprehensive zoning ordinance which has been under consideration for over a year.

There will be two bid openings; one upon a city vehicle and the other upon a well improvement at the West Altamonte plant.

Three public hearings, which have been continued for some time due to awaiting passage of the zoning ordinance will be held Tuesday.

These include rezoning requests from Thomas and Walter on property located east of Maitland Ave., south of Under Oaks and north of Ballard Street. The petitioners are requesting multi-family use.

Another rezoning request is from Thomas Dyer on property located at Grandview and Maitland Ave., requesting items considered by council.

Residents of Highland Street and Magnolia Avenue are requesting commercial zoning.

Final rezoning request is from James Davis on property located along the railroad tracks and Ballard Street in which the petitioner is requesting commercial zoning.

There will also be a public hearing upon abandonment of a plat in the Mud Creek Farms property. According to Mrs. Richards, the meeting for June 19 will be cancelled since there are no pressing bid openings or public hearings and the time will be devoted to making copies from the one available comprehensive zoning ordinance.

The court ordered the woman held in county jail until arrangements can be made for transportation for local treatment at the County Mental Health Center.

Assistant Public Defender Gerald Rutberg, in the defense motion for acquittal on the basis of uncontroverted insanity, said two psychiatrists found the woman was insane when the train was taken from Seaboard Coast Line railroad yards in Sanford and that she is still insane and unable to help in her defense.

Drive Half Completed Consolidation Gets Momentum

By CHRIS NELSON
Herald Staff Writer

Although the drive for signatures on a petition asking the legislature to appoint a county government consolidation study has collected nearly half the needed 7,000 registered voters, many Seminole County residents are not sure the effort is all about.

"This has nothing to do with the charter government study now underway after a similar petition drive in Orange County," comments County Commissioner Greg Drummond, the driving force behind the consolidation study petition.

Seminole's petition, Drummond explains, is designed to compel the legislature to authorize selection of a study committee to report on two basic alternatives to the present municipal governments in the county.

Unauthorized, the study is expected to present voters either with plans for a consolidated county government of perhaps one councilman over 8,500 voters, or a multi-governmental system with unified utilities, police and other municipal services.

If total consolidation is approved, existing city governments and the county commission would be merged into a large council with county-wide power.

A similar study in Jacksonville produced a consolidated government with one commissioner per 22,000 voters.

"I know what I'd like to see, but I'd rather wait for the commission report," Drummond says, adding, "I feel it would be highly improper, for obvious reasons, currently elected government officials to sit on the study commission."

While the signature drive is "right on schedule" with slightly less than half of the 15 per cent of registered voters needed to force the legislature to act, Drummond said, the report itself will take at least 18 months, with another three months necessary for study by the voters.

Israeli Copter Almost Crashes Brandt Escapes Tour Disaster

JERUSALEM (AP) — West German Chancellor Willy Brandt narrowly escaped a crash today when a gust of wind almost buried his Israeli military helicopter off a 900-foot cliff to the Dead Sea desert.

Brandt was unhurt although thrown to his knees as the ramp of the Sikorsky chopper caught on a rock about 10 feet from the edge of the cliff.

German State Secretary Paul

Frank and the Israeli ambassador to Bonn, Elishav Ben-Horin, were slightly hurt in the accident but they required no medical treatment.

"It could have been very serious," said one armed border policeman who ran after the helicopter to stop it.

The incident occurred as Brandt's armed helicopter, loaded with security agents, landed on the sun-scorched plateau of Masada, an ancient Jewish fortress overlooking the Dead Sea.

The camouflaged gunship landed smoothly at the fortress and started to roll toward the cliff as passengers were climbing from the tail exit. A gust of wind then heaved the helicopter and the exit ramp caught on a rock, bringing it to a crashing stop while Brandt was in the ramp.

Brandt then picked himself up, dusted off his sportshirt and said nothing. Later he was asked whether he felt all right after the accident. He laughed and asked, "What accident?"

Brandt flew to Massada to render aid to the Roman empire, which was held off by Jewish defenders held off a siege and committed mass suicide in 73 A.D. rather than surrender to the Roman empire.

The trip followed a breakfast meeting with Defense Minister Moshe Dayan. Few details of the meeting were released, but aides said Dayan discussed the troubling issue of Palestinian refugees in the Mideast and under Israeli control, reaffirming that Israel could not permit a restricted Arabs to return to live in Israel.

Brandt also was to receive an honorary doctorate today from the Weizmann Institute of Science. This is his last day in Israel.

City Manager's Education Urban Drama Plays Classic Role

By MICHAEL J. SNIFFEN
Associated Press Writer

Men who go to school to learn how to run city governments still spend most of their time being taught to draft a budget or prepare a bond issue, but dramatic urban problems are becoming an increasing part of their classroom work.

More and more these men have graduate school training to do this job and that training is more diverse than ever before. "What is being taught is quite a variety," said Mark Keane, executive director of the International City Management Association. "It starts from the premise that there is no limit to what a good urban manager ought to know."

Keane said an abbreviated list of what a good manager should be familiar with includes: psychology and sociology, physical sciences, mathematics and quantitative analysis, philosophy, history and ethics. This is in addition to the standard curriculum of public administration.

Currently 69 per cent of the managers have college degrees or graduate training; 27 per cent have masters or other advanced degrees.

In 1954, 77 per cent of the city managers had a bachelors degree majored in engineering.

usually civil engineering. Today that total is 33 per cent.

"In the old days, a city council would look for an engineer since so many of the urban problems were in physical construction: sewers, roads, parks," said Keane. "Now they are looking for a broader education with a greater focus on management and the social sciences." Thirty-nine per cent of city managers with bachelors degrees have them in liberal arts now and 12 per cent in public administration.

But the model city manager these days, according to Keane, has a masters in public administration and three or more years of experience in urban management jobs before that of city manager.

There are now about 2,200 city managers in the United States running two-thirds of the nation's cities over 5,000 population. About 1,700 city managers run cities under 25,000 in population.

"A boy coming right out of school at age 24 isn't ready to be a city manager of even 500 people with a $250,000 budget," said Childs who has fought hundreds of battles beside managers around the country trying to get his form of government adopted.

"This embodies the right of existence of Israel and secure borders... The fact that we are trying to improve our relations with the Arab states does not mean it is at the expense of Israel," he said.

Defiant Tito Looks Even Better Now

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

For Communism's most durable dictator, June 28 should be a day of victory celebration. Twenty-five years ago, by order of Joseph Stalin, international Communism's big command council, then known as the Communist Information Bureau or Cominform, adopted a resolution designed to destroy Yugoslavia.

Tito not only long outlived Stalin but now is the object of ardent wooing by the same men in the Kremlin who once joined in a chorus of vituperation. Why, then, has Yugoslavia's peasantry which wouldn't tolerate Communist Collectivization, Soviet style. For that, Tito incurred Stalin's wrath.

Stalin raged to Nikita S. Khrushchev. "He will fall!" The Cominform adopted on June 28, 1948 a resolution tossing Tito and his party out of the fold on grounds of being "hostile" to the Russians, reflecting Soviet military advisers and following an "incorrect line" in developing Yugoslavia's economy.

What got in the way of Stalin's acceptance of Tito's defiance at that moment had reached a peak with a Soviet attempt to seize West Berlin by means of blockade. Until then, U.S.-Yugoslav relations could hardly have been worse, but with Yugoslavia threatened, the United States sprang to its aid. The implicit statement of a U.S. stake in Tito contributed much to his survival.

Stalin ordered Tito to renounce his ties with the West. These days, Soviet-Yugoslav relations are warmer than they have been through the whole 25 years. In fact, Tito seems less worried now about Moscow than about his own country.

Yugoslavia is more open than any other Communist-ruled nation has ever been. Its contacts with the West are many. Its government actively solicits business with capitalist countries.

What is all that doing to Communist party control? Tito has spoken out against what he sees as a growth of private property psychology. He has claimed to have defeated forces that tried to undermine the state. He has deplored "non-socialist behavior and phenomena such as speculation, acceptance of benefits without working for them and so forth."

Tito's current virtues as he approaches retirement from active participation in the affairs of state stem directly from the very openness of Yugoslav society. People speak their minds, among them intellectuals who are not enthusiastic for the "worker-self management" system that has evolved in Yugoslavia.

The ruling League of Communists has been interfering actively in university affairs, searching out forbidden ideas. So-called "anarcho-liberal" professors have under heavy press attack.

On the party scene, there have been a number of purges over the years, the most recent in late 1971 and early 1972. More may be coming as outsiders look on with concern about what may happen after Tito.

Elderly Women Out-Living Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are more women than men among the nation's senior citizens, and female domination of that age group is expected to increase, according to a Census Bureau profile.

According to figures compiled from the 1970 census there are 11.4 million elderly women in the nation compared to 8.4 million men over 65 years of age. That works out to 72 men for every 1,000 women.

Average life expectancy was noted as having been 47.3 years in 1900, compared with 70.4 years in 1969.

Overall between 1960 and 1970 there was a 21 per cent increase in the population of elderly persons, a faster rise than that of the population of the country as a whole.

Part of the reason for this was given as a jump in the birth rate between the late 1800s and 1920, plus a flood of immigration prior to the First World War.

Part of the reason for this was given as a jump in the birth rate between the late 1800s and 1920, plus a flood of immigration prior to the First World War.

Men have not benefited as much as women by the declining death rate of this century," said the bureau, but it did not list the reasons for this.

The report noted that in 1930 the number of men and women over 65 was about equal, but between 1960 and 1970 the population of elderly women increased twice as fast as that of elderly men.

Junior Leaguers Top Florida Sheriff's, 13-1

By J. RICHARDS
Herald Staff Writer

Eddie Gowdy and Don Mills all singled for the Sheriff's nine, which scored its only run in the top of the seventh, to spoil Sanford's shut-out bid.

Despite only one hit in the first one and one-third inning, the Sanford Recreation Junior League posted four runs in the bottom of the first inning against the Florida Sheriff's Boys Ranch All-Star nine Saturday, and the tempo of the game remained just that until the end with Sanford taking a 13-1 win on five hits.

Florida Sheriff's Boys Ranch accumulated four singles against a team of four Sanford pitchers who did not give up any free passes to first base via base on balls. The Live Oak All Stars allowed just four free passes to first, all from starting pitcher Tom Gifford, but defensive errors took their toll throughout the game.

Gifford was charged with six runs in his mound start, fanning one, walking four and giving up one hit. Marlon Hall, who hurled the rest of the way gave up four hits and seven runs, collecting six strike-outs with no free passes to first.

After the 4-0 start, the Sanford Junior League team duplicated that feat in the next frame, pushing their lead to a 8-0 bulge in the second inning.

Barber finished with a four round score of 65-67-76-70-278 and earned $17,000, twice as much as he's pocketed since joining the pro golf tour last year.

"Anytime you win $17,000, you have to feel great," said Barber. "I had no idea before the week started that I would do so well."

Barber was particularly happy because he showed the ability to snap back under pressure.

The lanky Barber had pumped a little excitement into the tournament the first two days by outshooting such notables as Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino and Weiskopf. Then he slumped to a four-over 76 in the third round and everybody shook their heads.

"Three of my friends came up from Florida Saturday after reading that I was leading the tournament with 132," Barber said. "They saw me shoot that 76 and said, 'There he goes.'"

Barber came back strong Sunday, however, even with one

Homers, Hurling Halt Sheriff's 9 Sanford Blanks Live Oak, 8-0

By J. RICHARDS
Herald Staff Writer

The Sanford Recreation Little League came up with six hits, three of them home runs that scored five runs, and no-hit pitching from three pitchers to take an 8-0 shut-out of the Florida Sheriff's Boys Ranch All-Star Team in a benefit game Saturday at Fort Mellon Park.

The benefit tilt, which netted $1,784 for the Florida Sheriff's Boys Ranch in Live Oak, was one of two such all-star games Saturday, with Sanford winning a Junior League contest, 13-1.

Home runs by Joe Smith, Mike Link, who both pitched two innings of hitless ball, and Pat Johnson, paced Sanford to an early lead, scoring three of five runs put up on the board in the first inning.

Smith, the first Sanford hurler, who worked two innings maintained a perfect game, striking out all six of his opponents without allowing any hits. He also homered in the fourth inning with one on to give the recreation nine its first two runs of the day.

Link worked the middle two innings, collecting three strikeouts and walking two, while Johnson finished up the game, fanning five and walking two.

Of the four walked batters, one Bill Weiskopf, was put out at second base, while both Ron Overly and David Gay were both stranded in scoring position.

team represented in Sanford's three Little Major League divisions, played errorless ball throughout the six innings it was in the field, and the Sheriff's Boys Ranch nine committed three miscues.

Eugene Sanford lasted three innings for the Live Oak nine, Steven's first inning homer came with two on, while Link's blast in the same frame was with one runner on base, accounting for all the Sanford scoring in the opening inning.

The recreation team benefited in a tally on the board in the second frame, and both teams remained at a 6-0 shut-out until the bottom of the fourth when Smith, capped the count for Sanford, 8-0.

For LeMans Victory Matras Out-Duel Ferraris

By PAUL THEUTHARDT

LE MANS, France (AP) — The French Matra-Sinca sports car team finally has proved it can face the Italian Ferraris in the world's toughest endurance race and also honored the cars were nearly pulled out—and proved that their 1972 victory in Ferrari's absence was not a hollow one.

But Ferrari's second place gave the Italian team more valuable points in the World Sports Car Championship, increasing its lead to 110 points over Matra's six laps behind the leader's early Sunday in the 4.4-mile track and the second-placed Arturo Merzario and B n z Carlos Pace up to 14 laps behind the leaders Saturday in the race which had its usual quota of heartbreaks.

All three Ferraris and three of the four Matras held the lead at various stages of the race. Merzario, 110 pounds in his racing suit and helmet and with a reputation as a go-for-broke driver, set two new lap records in the early stages, once as leader and the second catching up after a split fuel tank cost time in the pits and missed a gasoline burn to his face.

Link worked the middle two innings, collecting three strikeouts and walking two, while Johnson finished up the game, fanning five and walking two.

Of the four walked batters, one Bill Weiskopf, was put out at second base, while both Ron Overly and David Gay were both stranded in scoring position.

Barber finished with a four round score of 65-67-76-70-278 and earned $17,000, twice as much as he's pocketed since joining the pro golf tour last year.

"Anytime you win $17,000, you have to feel great," said Barber. "I had no idea before the week started that I would do so well."

Barber was particularly happy because he showed the ability to snap back under pressure.

The lanky Barber had pumped a little excitement into the tournament the first two days by outshooting such notables as Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino and Weiskopf. Then he slumped to a four-over 76 in the third round and everybody shook their heads.

SANFORD RECREATION DEPARTMENT presents a check for $158 to the Florida Sheriff's Boys Ranch during one of two all star games with youngsters from the Live Oak ranch Saturday.

LACK OF SUPPORT from his Mets defenders doesn't help Jerry Koosman, as he loses his fifth straight game after winning five consecutive starts.

ONE AND ONE is two, the Brewers prove they can count. They're only two games out of first place in the American League's tight Eastern race.

CLEARWATER GOLFER Jim Barber falls four strokes short of winning the Philadelphia Golf Classic, but his final putt puts him second for $17,000.

TOM WEISKOPF, who came up with a 65 third round score as Barber falters, takes home the winners check and is riding a hot winning streak before the upcoming U.S. Open confrontation with Jack Nicklaus.

'One And One Is Two' Brewers Climbing Up Ladder

By BRUCE LOWITT Associated Press Sports Writer

Del Crandall isn't a mathematical wizard. But the manager of the Milwaukee Brewers doesn't have to be. He can add one and one and the result will come out two.

Two games out of first place, that is. "We're getting much better pitching than we did at the start of the year...and we're also getting the timely hits," Crandall observed Sunday. "When you put the two together, it can add up to a winning streak."

The Brewers' streak is a modest three straight games, but it has pushed them back into contention in the American League's East Division, tied for third with the Baltimore Orioles and Boston Red Sox just two games off the New York Yankees' pace and 1½ back of the runner-up Detroit Tigers.

The Brewers got a little of each Sunday against California. The pitching was provided by Jim Stalon, the timely hitting by Bob Coluccio. It added up to a 15-hit, 8-6 victory, a sweep of the weekend series with the Angels and a 500 record. In Sunday's other games, Kansas City beat the Yankees 7-4, Minnesota mauled Baltimore 11-4, Oakland blanked Detroit 5-0, Boston blasted Texas 10-1 and the Chicago White Sox split a doubleheader with Cleveland, winning 5-3 and then losing 9-5.

In the National League, St. Louis won the opener of a twin-bill, 4-2, but then came back with only two runs in the second game with the Braves, who scored five for the split decision.

Philadelphia shelled San Diego 11-0, Los Angeles shut out the New York Mets 4-0, Montreal roused out San Francisco 7-6, the Chicago Cubs outlasted Cincinnati 9-7 and Houston clubbed Pittsburgh 7-1.

Kurt Bevacqua doubled home the Royals' tie-breaking run in a five-run fourth, two innings after John Mayberry had collected his 14th homer of the year, to beat New York 1-0.

Larry Hise, Jim Holt and Bob Darwin each cracked two-run homers for the Twins. But the muscle-flexing wasn't all that necessary. They'd scored seven runs in the third inning to all but knock out the Orioles.

Jim "Cattfish" Hunter kept the Tigers from regaining first place in the East by firing a three-hit shutout for the A's that boosted his record to 8-3. Oakland scored four of its runs off 10-game winner Joe Coleman, saddling him with his fifth loss.

Sony Sebert floored former teammate Carlton Fisk with a pitch. So the Boston catcher got up and sent the next pitch over the left field wall for a three-run fifth-inning homer, then added a sacrifice in the eighth to pave the way to the rout of Texas.

The White Sox, whose West Division lead over Minnesota slipped to just one game, gained a heroic performance to gain a victory in their first game against Cleveland. They got it from Rich Reichardt, who bombed a pinch-hit, three-run homer with two out in the ninth inning. It was the Indians who had the hero in the bottom of the second game—Johnny Ellis. With runners on second and third, he jumped on Chicago relief pitcher Terry Forster's first pitch, lining it to left for the game-winning hit.

Secretariat Good, And He Knows It

By WILL GRIMSLEY AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP)—Once in a lifetime a great champion comes along who makes a shambles of the glorious deeds of his predecessors. He is fashioned for eternity. Such a champion is Secretariat.

He is Jack Dempsey making a gigantic Jesse Willard. He is Babe Ruth hitting 714 home runs. He is Jim Thorpe, excelling in many sports as no man ever did before. He is another Man O' War. He is the heavyweight king of the world.

"He knows he is good," said Mrs. John Tweedy, the mistress of the Meadow Stable after watching Secretariat win the Belmont Stakes in record time and become the first horse in 25 years to take thoroughbred racing's Triple Crown.

"I am in absolute awe of him. His size, his good looks, his astounding speed—must be frightening to other horses. But to me, he's like a mischievous kid."

"He is so full of himself, he doesn't know what to do. He is one big mass of energy, always restless and eager to run. Yes, I think he knows he is a champion. He is a ham."

"All you have to do is click a camera and his ears will perk up and he will strike up a profile. You'd think he was in Hollywood."

Secretariat is an animal of imposing physique. He stands 16 hands, 2. He has a phenomenally large girth of 7½ inches. He has the shoulders of an equine weightlifter and his chestnut skin—lighter than red—glitters like glass.

There were doubts about him when he was beaten in the Wood Memorial, one of his three defeats, and whispers permeated his barn prior to the Kentucky Derby.

Yet he won record Derby time. "I still don't think he is a super horse," Jimmy Jones said grudgingly at the time. Jones with his late father, saddled eight Kentucky Derby winners, including the last Triple Crown winner, Citation, in 1919.

There's something funny about him. His daddy, Bold Ruler, was asthmatic and couldn't run for distance. Secretariat, putting on an awesome show of speed, beat Sham a second time in the Preakness but cynics weren't fully convinced.

Not even Mrs. Tweedy. "I'm scared to death," she said shortly before Saturday's Belmont Stakes.

Ron Turcotte, the jockey, approached him at the time. Laurin, who was nervous and his tension increased when Secretariat put on a burst of speed on the backstretch.

"I thought he might be charging too early," Laurin said. But when Secretariat thundered down the stretch with those 25-foot strides turning the Belmont into two different races, one of them a solo against time, the trainer relaxed.

"He'd have to fall on his face to lose now," he whispered in Mrs. Tweedy's ear. Secretariat won in record time of 2:24-25 seconds faster than the event had been run before.

Even Jimmy Jones was finally convinced. "I'll admit he is a great horse," the former Calumet trainer conceded.

Koosman Looses 5th Straight Game

By KEN RAPPOPORT Associated Press Sports Writer

Jerry Koosman is about to see the New York Mets for non-sport.

You couldn't really blame Koosman for saying it. He wanted to, as the Mets scored only two runs in four games for their ace right hander and Sunday they got whitewashed by the Los Angeles Angels, 4-0.

Koosman started out as New York's hottest pitcher with five straight victories, but cooled off of late with five straight losses.

In the other National League games, the Houston Astros whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-1; the Chicago Cubs stopped the Cincinnati Reds 9-7; the Montreal Expos trimmed the San Francisco Giants 7-6; the Philadelphia Phillies turned back the San Diego Padres 11-0.

Cesar Cedeno knocked in five runs with two homers, leading Houston over Pittsburgh. Cedeno hit a two-run homer in the first inning and a three-run shot in the ninth.

Two home runs by Rick Monday and one each by Pat Bourque and Ron Santo powered the Houston Astros to a 7-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Chicago's Steve Carlton pitched a 10-inning shutout against the Cincinnati Reds, leading the Cubs to a 7-0 victory.

Montreal's Steve Carlton pitched a 10-inning shutout against the San Francisco Giants, leading the Expos to a 7-0 victory.

Philadelphia's Phillies turned back the San Diego Padres 11-0. Cesar Cedeno knocked in five runs with two homers, leading Houston over Pittsburgh.

Monday, who hit only 11 homers all last year, hit a solo shot in the first inning and a two-run blast in the second.

Johnny Bench hit a homer for Cincinnati and boosted his National League-leading RBI total to 48.

Boots Day drilled a tie-breaking, two-run single in the eighth to lead Montreal past San Francisco for a three-game sweep over the NL West leader.

Wayne Twitchell, 5-2, pitched a five-hitter for his second straight shutout and Philadelphia unleashed a 14-hit attack to beat San Diego. The pitcher also had three hits—two singles and a double—to end an 0-for-40 drought at the plate.

Ted Simmons drove in three runs to lead St. Louis to its opening-game victory over Atlanta. Borie Harrison allowed only one hit and slugged a home run before leaving for last-inning relief help, leading Atlanta over St. Louis in the second game.

Crown Fits Secretariat

By BOB COOPER Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—There's a job opening at Belmont Park for Noah Webster. They're still trying to find a word to describe Secretariat.

"Some horse, ain't he? A hell of a horse," trainer Lucien Laurin mused Sunday, but Laurin knew that wasn't enough to say.

After all, Secretariat had become the first Triple Crown winner in 25 years, chopping more than a lifetime chunk off the Belmont Stakes record and winning by 31 lengths.

"He's the people's horse, and I think it was good for to see him do it," jockey Ron Turcotte said. "It's just a shame for those who didn't."

A lot of those who did see it didn't believe it. Turcotte was right. "I knew we were rolling, but I didn't have any idea we were going that fast," he said. "I just knew my horse was running good and setting into a long, smooth stride."

But then the little Canadian cruised down the long Belmont stretch, so alone that the television cameras couldn't pick up anybody else, and even had time to do a little clock watching.

"I saw the (cumulative) timer just as it hit 2:20 and thought, 'Oh, I can make it,' so I did."

"You can't come back later and play better. If you don't win you're just another guy named Joe."

"There is much more pressure in match play."

At the same time Siderowf said he believed match play is the true amateur game and should be reserved for amateur golfers.

Siderowf, a 35-year-old stockbroker from Easton, Conn., gave his views after winning one of the most grueling tests of knockout match play, the British Amateur. He emerged from a field of more than 200 competitors to beat England's Peter Moody 5 and 3 in Saturday's 36-hole final over blistering Royal Portcharwell.

"The cruel thing in match play is that you've got to win," he said.

"You can't come back later and play better. If you don't win you're just another guy named Joe."

30 POUND GAR

JOHN MCCLAIN displays a 30 pound gar he took during the recent Bow Fishing Tournament hosted at the Wekiva River Haven Marina last week. His "catch" took the top honors for the biggest gar, while other awards went to the most gar caught, biggest mullet and most mullet.

The result, very simply, was a Belmont victory in 2:24, nearly three seconds faster than Gallant Man's 16-year-old record of 2:26-3-5, six lengths more than the legendary Count Fleet's margin 30 years ago.

Sigmund Somner's Sham, the only horse thought to have a chance against Secretariat, was so discouraged that he finished last, with Eldorado's Twice a Prince second and Arthur Appleton's My Gallant third ahead of C.V. Whitney's Pvt. Smiles.

Secretariat's Belmont victory put another $90,120 in the Meadow Stable bank account—making him just a little over $100,000 short of $1 million—and had every body asking: "What's next?"

The big, reddish son of Bold Ruler has been syndicated for a record $6.06 million for breeding purposes and already has a stall waiting for him at the famed Claiborne Farm near Paris, Ky.

"Mrs. (John) Tweedy hasn't made a decision yet, but I'd think he'll go in the Travers Stakes in August, with maybe one race before then," Laurin said, referring to the mistress of Meadow Stable.

"But he'll definitely race again," he added.

Nicklaus, the top money winner and a four-time victor on the tour this year, rallied from 10 strokes back at the start of the last round to shoot a five-under-par 67 to finish at 206, six strokes off the pace.

Mills Charges To Ladies Golf Championship

By DAVE O'HARA Associated Press Sports Writer

SUTTON, Mass. (AP)—Veteran Mary Mills charged with a furious stretch drive which carried her to the Ladies Professional Golf Association championship for the second time.

Young Betty Burfeindt accepted the challenge and came within six inches Sunday of forcing a playoff for the title at Pleasant Valley Country Club.

Miss Mills, who won the 1964 LPGA crown a year after capturing the U.S. Open, birdied five of the final nine holes, including the 18th, and in the official scorer's tent when Miss Burfeindt just missed a dramatic bid for an eagle three on the final green.

Miss Burfeindt, playing in the last threesome, knew she was down by two strokes and needed an eagle on the final hole. She put her first two shots to within '84 yards of the green' and used a wedge. The shot couldn't have come much closer.

"I gave it my best effort," said Miss Burfeindt, who lost a tournament by one stroke for the third time this year.

Miss Mills, 33, and Miss Burfeindt, 23, matched three-under-par 70s in the final round. Miss Mills, who underwent surgery on her left wrist last year and who hadn't won a tournament since 1970, collected $5,250 for her winning 288 score.

Kathy Whitworth, the all-time top money winner in women's golf, shared the 54-hole lead with Jane Blalock and Japan's Chako Higuchi. Miss Whitworth, however, slipped to a 74 and finished third with a 72-hole score of 291.

Misses Blalock and Higuchi also had final day trouble. Miss Blalock had a 75 and tied with Donna Caponi Young for fourth with 292, one-stroke ahead of Miss Higuchi, who soared to a 76.

A crowd of 17,775 turned out for the windup, raising attendance for the tournament to 38,765.

Incidents Mar Italian Tennis 'Nasty' Nastase Irks Crown

ROME (AP)—The $135,000 Italian Open Tennis Championships stumbled into its final stages today, marred by a new wave of controversy involving fiery-tempered Ilie Nastase of Romania.

Relations between Nastase and the noisy, unruly Italian crowd never have been good. They sunk to an all-time low when Nastase spit at the stands during his semifinal match with Paolo Bertolucci which was halted by darkness. A fan hurled an empty bottle at the Ror a fan, missing him by several feet.

Bertolucci, angered by the boisterous crowd, smashed his racket to the court and shattered it into pieces. The match was postponed until Tuesday afternoon with Nastase leading 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 3-6, 6-0. The winner will face defending champion Manuel Orantes of Spain for the men's singles title.

The outbreak climaxed the incident-filled tournament which started awkwardly after several players were late due to the rain-delayed French Open.

Then, to compound problems, the international Lawn Tennis Federation barred Yugoslavian Nibke Pille for failing to participate in a Davis Cup match against New Zealand. The Italian federation refused to recognize Pille's ban and allowed him to play. He later was defeated.

Australia's Evonne Goolagong ended a personal jinx by defeating Chris Evert, 7-6, 5-0 in the women's singles final. Miss Goolagong had been beaten by the 18-year-old star from Fort Lauderdale, Fla. in all three previous meetings this year.

Virginia Wade of England and Olga Morozova of the Soviet Union captured the women's doubles crown with a 3-6, 6-2, 7-5 victory over Navrati Torianova and Martin Vranata of Czechoslovakia.

NHL To Review Draft Pact With Canadians

MONTREAL (AP)—The key issue facing this year's annual meeting of the National Hockey League, which gets under way today, will be the league's agreement with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

The pact, whereby the NHL pays the CCHA for players taken by the professional teams in the annual amateur draft, expires June 30 and NHL President Clarence Campbell says the NHL must study "on what basis if any, it wants to renew or amend" the current agreement.

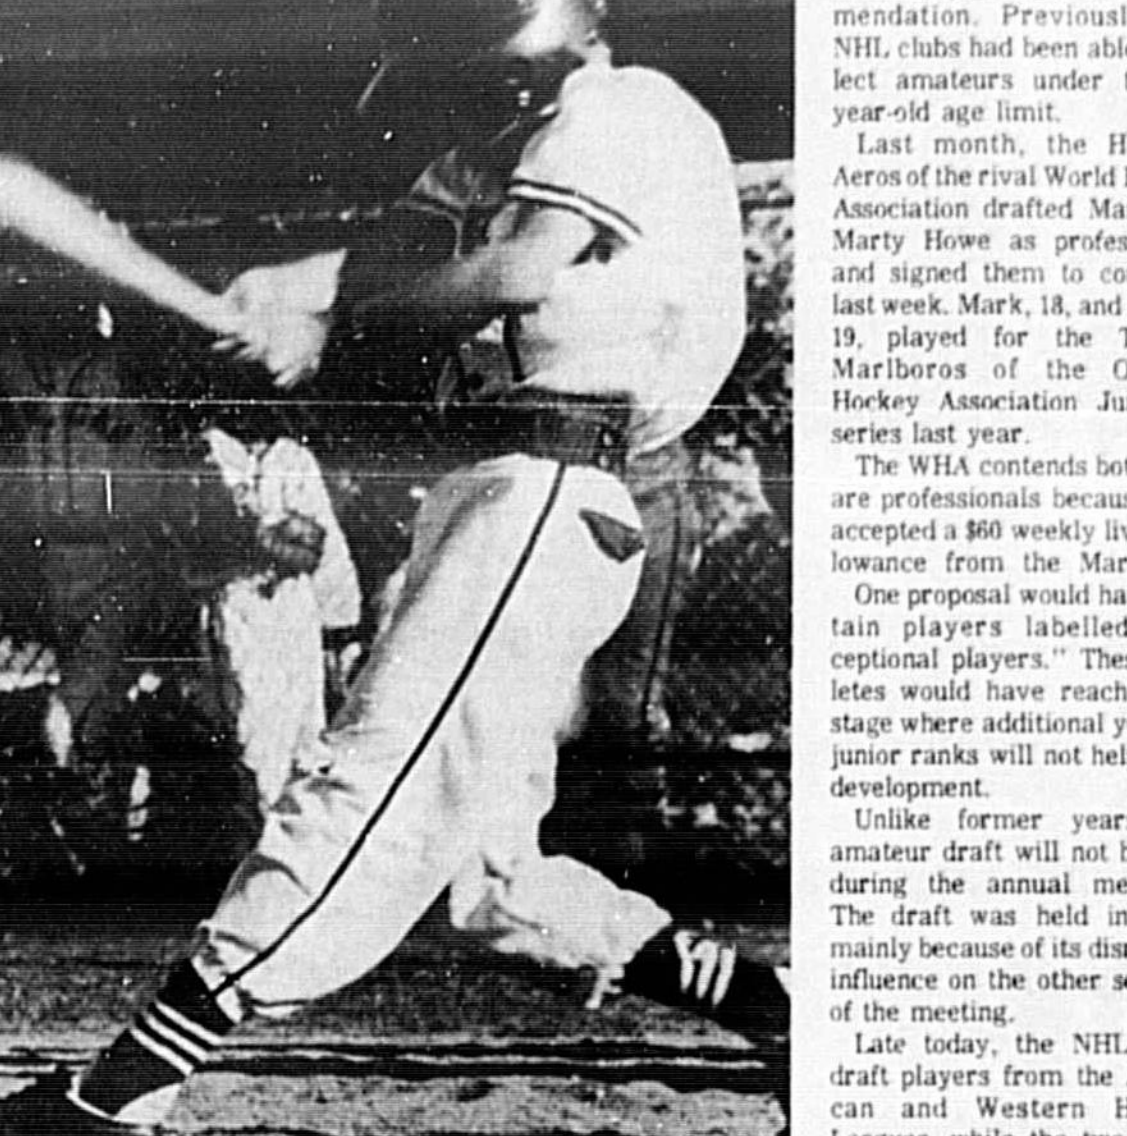

Under the current terms, the NHL agrees not to draft players until they have completed their junior eligibility at age 20. The system was adopted in 1967 after a federal government task force on sport made the recommendation. Previously, the NHL clubs had been able to select amateurs under the 20-year-old age limit.

Last month, the Houston Aeros of the rival World Hockey Association drafted Mark and Marty How as professionals and signed them to contracts last week. Mark, 18, and Marty, 19, played for the Toronto Marlboros of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series last year.

The WHA contends both boys are professionals because they accepted a $60 weekly living allowance from the Marlboros. One proposal would have certain players labelled "exceptional players." These athletes would have reached the stage where additional years in junior ranks would not help their development.

Unlike former years, the amateur draft will not be held during the annual meetings. The draft was held in May, mainly because of its disruptive influence on the other sessions of the meeting.

Late today, the NHL clubs draft players from the American and Western Hockey Leagues, while the two minor leagues have their shot at the NHL clubs in Wednesday's reverse draft. In the latter, each NHL team will protect 37 players.
