GERMAN RAILROAD MEN STRIKE AGAINST FRENCH; WILL TRANSPORT NO COAL

THAT HAS BEEN REQUISITIONED BY THE FRENCH FOR OUTSIDE USE

ALL NIGHT SESSION

Held at Alberfeld in Which Many Delegates Favored Continuance of Work

(By The Associated Press) ALBERFELD, Jan. 20.—Railroad workers in this zone decided to no longer transport outside of Ruhr, coal requisitioned by the French. This decision was reached after an all night session here in which many delegates favored continuance of work.

DUSSELDORF, Jan. 20.—France is engaged in fighting its economic battle of the Ruhr along the lines of the river Ruhr and the Rhine canal.

Suddenly assuming the offensive in this titanic struggle, after having been on the defensive for more than a week, France tonight has taken the lead in the financial and economic operations and the French mission claims to have Germany retreating along the entire front.

Seven arrests, the extension of the Rhineland penalties to the Ruhr, the requisitioning of 21,000 tons of coal, the re-opening of the branches of the Reichsbank and private banking institutions today, after a half day shut down and failure of the railroad men to strike yesterday afternoon as they had been ordered to do by Berlin government, are the day's successes that a French communique might record if a communique were issued.

The directors of Bernhardsgleuck Westernhold and Rhine and Baden works in the region of Bochum and the director and sub-director of the Malleschette mine in the region of Gladbach, who refused to turn over their records and assist the French in operating their plants, were arrested and joined Dr. Schlutius, president of the Dusseldorf state finance department and Mine Director Rpehstein in the Dusseldorf Central Jail, where the French say they will be treated as political prisoners. French troops occupied the pits and coke ovens which the directors refused to hand over to them and today French engineers took charge of their exploitation.

General Degoutte, the French commander, has lost no time in extending the inter-allied commission's Rhineland penalties to the Ruhr. The decree promulgated last night went into effect at midnight.

Prompt action was taken to meet the situation created by the closing of the doors of the Reichsbank in Dusseldorf and the consequent shutting down of all other banking institutions in the city.

General Degoutte, the French commander, summoned Dr. Gupperman, director of the Reichsbank and issued an ultimatum to him to reopen the bank today or spend the evening in jail. Dr. Gupperman agreed to reopen the institution, which resumed operations this morning. It is probable that all the other banks will follow suit as the reason given by them for the closing yesterday was the failure of the Reichsbank to deliver their currency.

Five more coal and coke magnates were arrested yesterday in the region of Bochum and Gladbach, northeast of Cologne, bringing to seven the total of such prisoners held by the occupational forces.

General Degoutte, the French commander, signed a decree yesterday afternoon extending the penalties promulgated by the Inter-Allied Rhineland commission to include the occupied area of the Ruhr.

BERLIN, Jan. 20.—Baron Rosenberg, German foreign minister, in an interview by the Tageblatt, declares there has been no relaxation in the government's determination to resist the measures taken by the French in the Ruhr for the collection of reparations.

The government, he said, continued unwaveringly along the line laid down by Chancellor Cuno in his speech before the Reichstag last Saturday. Its policy was one of aggressive moral resistance against an act of violence infringing German sovereignty and subjugating German territory to foreign domination.

ECHOES OF FRENCH INVASION, GERMANY

All Banks Close (By The Associated Press) DUSSELDORF, Jan. 20.—All the banking institutions in Dusseldorf, both private and state, closed yesterday afternoon, claiming to be unable to carry on business owing to the seizure by the French of the local branch of the Reichsbank, thus shutting off the supply of marks.

The economic life of the city is at a standstill.

Confiscation of the bank's funds by the French was carried out after the branch had attempted to close and remove its funds into the interior of Germany, according to the French officials. The French took the entire treasury of the bank into their possession and placed soldiers on guard over the premises.

A similar attempt to remove the Dortmund branch of the bank was prevented by troops.

STATE FOREST SEIZED BINGEN, Jan. 20.—The state forest in this region has been seized by the occupying forces. A branch of the Reichsbank here has been put under a French guard.

GRAB BANK MONEY DUSSELDORF, Jan. 20.—The French authorities yesterday appropriated the money in the Dusseldorf branch of the Reichsbank. They also regarded up the automobiles of the depositors who had come to the bank to draw money from the institution, seized the money withdrawn and retained possession of the automobiles.

A demand was made by the occupation authorities for a detail of 40 police to close the streets adjoining the bank but the authorities refused to supply the men.

All Banks Confiscated LONDON, Jan. 20.—All the German banks, credit institutions and tax offices in the old and newly occupied territory along the Rhine have been confiscated by the French, says a Central News dispatch from Berlin.

BLANKENSHIP TESTIFIES TODAY IN BASTROP

SAYS HE RECOGNIZED TRUCK IN WHICH DANIEL WAS PRISONER

(By The Associated Press) BASTROP, Jan. 20.—H. E. Blankenship testified today he had identified the Ford truck bearing a Louisiana license tag number 71,657 as the truck he saw August 24th in which Watt Daniel was made prisoner of the hooded men. Blankenship said two of the masked men he recognized as Oliver Skipwith, the youngest son of Captain Skipwith, head of the Morehouse Klan and Smith Stevenson.

ed him with pride, the foreign minister asserted. He concluded that he was still convinced as before that the French enterprise would end in failure and that the invaders would find it impossible to "pick coal with a bayonet."

ESSEN, Jan. 20.—Fritz Thyssen and five other leading mine operators were arrested today and taken to Dusseldorf.

ESSEN, Jan. 20.—It was reported here this morning that Marshal Foch would arrive in the Ruhr valley during the day.

NEW PRIMARY SCHOOL BUILDING OPENED MONDAY, ONE OF FINEST IN STATE

Beautiful New Brick Building Has All Modern Convenience and Equipment

Among the many new buildings erected in Sanford in the past three months the new primary school building erected on the south side is among the finest and is not only a work of art in the building line but was built strictly according to plans and specifications and is most satisfactory in every way.

The desks and other equipment are being moved into the new building today and the school will open Monday under most auspicious circumstances and will add greatly to Sanford's fine school system. This up-to-date building will give eight more school rooms for the ever increasing primary department and take much of the excess number of pupils that have been holding school in the Baptist church and overcrowding the other two primary school buildings.

The new building is of a different type of architecture than that of any school building in this part of the state and is said to be one of the most complete in every particular in the entire state in the primary departments. Nothing has been left undone to make the new building a place of comfort and convenience for pupils and teachers. Built of brick, the entire building is heated with steam and while eight rooms will only be used at this time there are ten rooms available for use at any time they are needed. Two of the rooms will be used for lunch rooms and the same fine system of feeding the little folks will be used here that is used at the grammar school with such good effects and consistent success. In fact the new primary school will be the last word in primary schools in this part of Florida. Another goal point in the equity of an office for the supervising principal, Mrs. Stella Arrington, the hard-working and efficient principal of the primary schools at Sanford, buildings, each of which are in different parts of the city.

This new primary building makes three primary school buildings in Sanford. They have been placed with the idea of giving each part of Sanford a primary school, making it convenient for the little folks to get to the building. The west side, the east side and now the south side have their separate primary school buildings all of them a part of the fine school system of Sanford and supplementing the grammar and high school of the primary schools at Sanford, buildings, each of which are in different parts of the city.

FORMER SHERIFF KILLED AT MONROE, LOUISIANA, OUTCOME OF CRIME WAVE

That Began With the Kidnapping and Murder of Two Men

(By The Associated Press) MONROE, La., Jan. 20.—John P. Parker, jr., former sheriff of Ouachita Parish, who was shot on the Bastrop road, fifteen miles from Bastrop last night by Carey Calhoun of the Monroe Parish, died at a local sanitarium early this morning without regaining consciousness.

MONROE, La., Jan. 21.—The shooting of Parker is shrouded in mystery. Ouachita parish officials state the shooting was not reported to them until after midnight and that no details were made known. It was stated there were no witnesses to the actual shooting so far as is known. Calhoun was arrested at three o'clock this morning and would make no statement. He said he had been a personal friend of Parker's since boyhood and hated the shooting as much as anybody else.

BASTROP, La., Jan. 20.—Attorney General Cocco announced he would leave this afternoon for Baton Rouge for a conference with the governor. He said the conference was for the purpose of discussing investigation of masked band activities and report made by department of justice agents that the black hooded band continues to operate in the Morehouse Parish.

ALL DEFENDANTS IN HERRIN CASE FOUND NOT GUILTY BY JURY TRIAL YESTERDAY

Had Been Indicted For Herrin Massacre of Non-Union Miners

The verdicts were read in the following order: Leva Mann, Joe Carnaghi, Peter Hiller, Burt Grace and Otis Clark.

All of them are union miners except Peter Hiller, who is a taxi driver. The court room was crowded with spectators when the verdict was read, but there was no sign of a demonstration of any kind.

James Weaver, one of the jurors, said that between 16 and 20 ballots were taken before the verdict was reached. The jury, which retired at 11:15 o'clock Thursday morning, deliberated for 27 hours before arriving at its decision.

The crowd pouring from the court room after the verdicts were read quickly filled the square, but there was no demonstration. Many persons gathered about the jurors to congratulate them while the defendants hurried to their homes.

HENRY FORD'S OFFER ON MUSCLE SHOALS MAY BE TAKEN UP

Virtual Assurance That House Will Act on Offer in a Few Days

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Virtual assurance that the house would take up Henry Ford's offer for lease of the Muscle Shoals nitrate plant was given yesterday by Republican leaders who declared the time had come to define a policy with respect to the property and to let the country know congress could handle big problems in a big way.

After Acting Chairman McKenzie, of the Military committee, which reported a bill embracing the Ford offer with modification, had pleaded with the house to act, Chairman Madden, of the appropriations committee, announced that the time had come for the government to fix a policy and that he would study the question and report prior to adjournment March 4.

Representative Graham, Republican, Illinois, who was chairman of a committee which investigated the Muscle Shoals project in the last congress, and Representative Longworth, Republican, Ohio, both candidates for the house leadership in the next congress, declared they did not know what should be done with it, but that the question should be brought up for speedy consideration. Mr. Longworth expressed the hope that it would be disposed of at this session.

Completion of Dam No. 2 and eight complete power units at Muscle Shoals was agreed to by the House yesterday when it approved a section of the work bill this year and authorizing the secretary of war to contract for the expenditure of $10,501,000 more for hydro-electric machinery and other

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MONTHLY MEETING WAS MOST INTERESTING

From Orlando and Other Cities and All of Them Were Well Repaid

It was a large and enthusiastic audience that greeted Hon. W. T. Bland ex-congressman from Missouri, and now one of Orlando's most prominent citizens upon his initial appearance in Sanford as the guest of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce at their monthly evening-meeting held last night at the Valdez hotel. Though Judge Bland has not recently become an adopted Floridian, he has since taking up his residence in the state, been a careful student of economic conditions, more particularly the vexatious problems of transportation which each year is becoming more difficult of solution.

In his address last evening Judge Bland contended that the only solution to Florida's transportation problem is the development of its waterways. He quoted a record of accomplishments attained by the sections contiguous to the Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio rivers, all of which, through organized effort, had interested the federal government in development. While he did not claim any personal credit for bringing about these improvements for his district while in congress, it is a matter of record that these accomplishments were largely due to his efforts.

The Florida water traffic league proposes to carry through the movement long since started, for the improvement of the St. Johns river and its lateral, Judge Bland as a member of the league, brings to the organization a wealth of practical experience that bids fair to crown its efforts with success. The subject of the development of Florida's Water Highways, so ably presented by Judge Bland in his address last evening, is one that should be of interest to every person owning property in Florida. According to Judge Bland, further agricultural development of Florida is wholly contingent upon the state's securing additional arteries of transportation to make the production which is increasing enormously each year. He stressed the point that it was not the object of the league to supplant present railroad transportation, but rather to supplement it. Judge Bland quoted the late James J. Hill, as stating that during the latter's time it would have required the expenditure of over five and one half billion dollars to provide sufficient railroad facilities at that time for the efficient handling of the nation's business. Judge Bland further stated that there were at present twenty-seven thousand miles of water ways in this country which could be developed and used as transportation mediums for the sum of five hundred million dollars.

Despite the fact that the United States, at the present time, the largest railroad systems in the world, the service they are rendering per thousand miles is smaller than that of the smallest nation of Europe. Statistics quoted by Judge Bland brought home forcibly the necessity of Florida aggressively taking part in the nationwide movement of improving water highways. The state has received an infinitesimal amount of the federal appropriation of one hundred and thirty-two million dollars which has been made during the past years for harbor and river improvements, and Judge Bland declared that with the proper organized effort by broad visioned Floridians, the federal government could be induced to see the necessity of giving Florida its just proportion of the river and harbor appropriations. The Florida Water Traffic League will shortly begin its campaign for a large membership, coordinating them into a militant organization with this object in view.

President Connelly of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce introduced this distinguished visitor from Orlando and Ken Gurnsey, also of Orlando, the song leader for both the Rotary Club and the Orlando Chamber of Commerce, led the singing of a number of popular songs and other written for the occasion. The judge was agreeably surprised at the serene gleam (Continued on Page Three)

It seems to be quiet along the St. Johns.

More quiet than it will be when we get our twenty feet of water.

We note that the Rivers and Harbors have more money in appropriations this year than last. Florida's share will be spent in Jacksonville, we suppose.

What all of this part of Florida needs is a port at New Smyrna and a port at New Smyrna will be the greatest thing that Orlando, Sanford and New Smyrna could put over. A little dredging at the mouth of Mosquito Inlet would do the trick.

West Florida is planting satsuma oranges and intends to become part of the great orange producing state of Florida. Satsuma oranges together with staple farming would make West Florida one of the greatest sections of the state. And they have plenty of lands over there that can be planted to groves.

That case in Miami of the lady arrested for usury is only one of many that will be taken up in a few days. It is the duty of the Chamber of Commerce of this city and of every city to see that usury is not practiced. We have heard of it in Sanford but we hope that it is not true. Anyone loaning money for more than ten per cent ought to get the limit of the law.

If every man in Sanford would join the Florida Water Traffic League we could accomplish something. It should make the Sanford people ashamed of themselves to learn the manner in which Orlando is taking up this matter. Sanford has more to gain by deeper water than Orlando. It is time the committee on this work were getting busy and making another campaign.

Some of the visitors to this city might think it is cold for Florida and the last few days have been colder than our usual January weather but the Floridians must have some cold weather to make life worth living in the summer time. We people who have to stay here the year round must have a change in seasons. A good cold winter usually means a fine summer and that is where we come in.

The French forces in the Ruhr district are seizing banks and customs receipts and coal mines and everything that would promise to help pay the indemnity. No one knows whether they will be able to hold the mines and railroads and work them with French forces or not. Unless they can do this they will be of little use to the French army or the French nation. It looks like the German game is to sit down on the job and see what the French intend to do about it.

If the slacker, Bergdoll, liked Germany so well that he fled there rather than serve in the American army why in the summer breezes does he want to come back to America and hide out the rest of his life in constant fear that some one will bump him off. All those slackers and anarchists who want to go to Europe so badly seem to get enough of the old country in a few weeks. There is no place just like America and if you have any doubts about it try some of the others.

NEW FERTILIZER LAW

"I might also add that Honorable L. M. Rhodes, Honorable J. L. Shepard, and Honorable Harry McKenzie and a very prominent chemist in the state of Florida, have been working with me to draft an amendment to the present fertilizer law to prevent the use of worthless filler in the manufacture of commercial fertilizer. This amendment is aimed particularly at the use of sand in commercial fertilizer. I am now working on a final draft of this amendment, and will be only too pleased to send you a copy of this and the commission merchant law in a few days. I believe that any thinking man cannot but realize that the bill and the amendment above referred to, is an important legislation for the Florida farmers as could be introduced in the next session of the legislature and is to the interest of the Florida farmers, and if the Florida farmers will cooperate by insisting that their senators and representatives support these bills, both of them should become a law, but we realize that we are going to have a hard fight to put either one of them over, but I am confident that if the Florida farmers will cooperate with us and give their representatives and senators to understand that they want these laws passed, they will be passed. —The Lancer in Florida Grower News.

STATE CONSTABULARY IS SUGGESTED FOR FLORIDA

Pennsylvania never had a thorough administration by its peace officers until this was established its state constabulary, and there is now talk of an endeavor to institute the same system in Florida. A bill is being prepared to be introduced in the next session of the legislature to provide for the establishment of a "mounted rural state constabulary," and there will be strong efforts to have the projected measure become a law.

The question has several times been broached in a desultory manner, and has been made the subject of some discussion, in every case, so far as learned, there has been a strong sentiment favoring the plan. Those who have studied the plan of the state constabulary of Pennsylvania, fashioned to a certain extent after the north-west mounted police, and composed of the best sort of men, contained in that splendid and perfect organization, have always declared in its favor; and the more the question is looked into, the more adherents are created for the measure.

The northwest mounted police "gets the man." The state constabulary of Pennsylvania "gets the man." The mounted rural state constabulary of Florida, after it is formed, will be one of the best in the world. The press of the state will bring this matter before the people, and endeavor to determine what the popular sentiment will be. —Palm Beach News.

ENDOW OUR UNIVERSITY

The past decade has seen a gradual but constant strengthening of our state universities. Time was when the privately endowed or corporation college seemed to have all the advantage. It had the prestige which went with a college which charged tuition, that only a favored few could attend. It had the advantage of money—and while money alone does not build a college it goes a long way toward supplying that intangible something which does build a great university. The men who endowed these private schools either had a great vision of service, or they wished to leave a monument to themselves—something more noble than perhaps that which had brought them their riches. What ever their purpose, the fact remains that they put their money where it stood a chance of doing much good.

On the other hand, the state universities had to depend upon the representatives of the people for their monies. The people as a whole are more slow to sense the value or to see the advantage to themselves of great institutions of higher learning. Being supported by the state, perhaps ever so meagerly, the state universities have not been the beneficiaries of large bequests from private individuals. And yet there is just as much reason to give to the state university as to the private college. It just wasn't done.

But it is being done—more and more. The University of Iowa is the most recent state university to receive a large private gift. We can't all of us give thousands, even hundreds. But we can all give something to our state universities beside our rousing support. Every now and then an opportunity arises and in our small way, we can show our appreciation of the fine work which our state-endowed colleges are doing.

The University of Florida is to have a men's building which will house the student activities into which the students throw their enthusiasm. The old idea that the education of a boy or girl gets inside the covers of their text books or within the four walls of the class room is gone glimmering. They get their foundations there. And on the foundation depends the rest. But every college campus is a miniature community, and there the boys get their first practical lessons in citizenship, in cooperation, in leadership, in putting things over. The university at Gainesville needs a center for all these activities. It should have such a building. And it is asking the citizens of Florida to give it to them. Here is a chance for individual citizens to make their contributions to our state university. Everyone will be given a chance to give. Mr. William Jennings Bryan has undertaken the chairmanship of the committee which is to raise the necessary 250,000.

We all pay in taxes to keep the doors of the university open. But that doesn't begin to repay the benefits we receive. We should give in proportion as we can give. The obligation rests just as much on every citizen to help endow our state universities as it rests on the man who for less reason gives his millions to a private college.

THE SUCKER CROP

During the last two years fraudulent promoters have fleeced "suckers" out of $1,000,000,000 according to the computation of the United States Treasury officials at Washington. However, we do not imagine that the crop of suckers is entirely depleted, despite the severe two-year epidemic, as the best authorities on "suckers" gave out the information long ago that one is born every minute.

The figures surely are exaggerated. Suckers do not have as much money as all that. That the suckers have been cheated out of multi-millions of dollars there is no doubt, however. Strange to say, only a few suckers recognize themselves when referred to by that name. They imagine they are investors who lost. They never were investors to be sure. They were wild, hallucinated speculators who never had a chance because they were "suckers" who were being played by sucker seizers. It is a habit of suckers to say, "I'm putting in only as much as I can afford to lose." The theory is that they can afford to risk a hundred dollars or two hundred in the hope of making a thousand, or ten thousand, or a million, as the case may be. But the error in their theory is that they not only do not have a chance to make a huge profit—when being played by the sucker seizer—but haven't a prospect of getting a dollar of their contribution back. No man can afford to lose a hundred dollars. He can lose it without missing it, possibly, but he can't afford to lose it if it would be useful to him. An investment, let it be remembered, is not a gamble. An investment is money put into something whose value stands good for the return of interest at regular intervals and return of the principal when due is desired. A speculation is money put into something whose value does not warrant the assurance that the return of interest will be regular or the return of principal be certain at any time. —Tampa Times.

FROM OTHER SANCTUMS

THE ORDERLY PROCESS OF LAW

The grand jury of Marion county, called into special session by Judge W. S. Bullock to investigate the killing of an alleged speed ordinance violator by officers of the law, returned indictments for murder in the first degree against the chief of police of Ocala, two policemen and a deputy sheriff.

The killing, alleged to have been in the discharge of their duty as officers to arrest a man who refused to halt when commanded, occurred on the 31st of December, and no coroner's inquest, investigation, or even explanation other than that vouchsafed by the officers implicated in the killing, had been made.

Judge Bullock, convening the grand jury, outlined to it the "orderly course of legal procedure when a homicide by violent means occurs," and told it that nothing had been done, that "rumors are rife," and instructed it to make investigation and report; the indictments for first degree murder were the result.

BUSINESS CYCLE A DANGEROUS IDEA WARNS BABSON

CATCH-PHASE WILL UPSET MANY BUSINESS MEN AND INVESTORS

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Jan. 20, 1923.—"I don't know which is the more perilous: to disregard the business cycle altogether or to get a smattering of it without really understanding it" said Roger W. Babson, in a statement issued today. "Many executives think they have got the business cycle by the tail and that their fortunes are made. These superficial thinkers who have picked up the 'business cycle' as the latest catch phrase are simply playing with edged tools and are going to get badly cut.

"It is astounding how the public has taken up the idea. From boot-black stands to international conferences, the latest fad is the business cycle. If it were merely talk, little harm would be done. But many business men, bankers, investors, and even government officials are making real commitments on the basis of an imaginary cycle. It is high time that somebody get up in meeting and do some plain talking, and tell people we are all sitting around a powder keg, if we continue to cherish this delusion of a fixed cycle.

"Strictly speaking, there is no such thing as a business cycle," continued Mr. Babson. "It is a serious blunder to assume that there will be three years (or any other fixed interval) of over-expansion and then three years of depression, followed by another three years of over-expansion and another three years of depression. To nine people out of ten this is what the business cycle seems to mean; a periodic procession of booms and bumps, each lasting the same number of years. There is absolutely nothing in this idea, and any executive who attempts to base his plans thereon will probably ruin the enterprise for which he is responsible. The warning applies to bankers, also, investors and statesmen.

"My advice is to get it out of your head immediately that business fluctuates in three year periods or any other fixed intervals. The real principle of the business movement is that of action and reaction. Namely, a period of over-expansion tends to be followed by an equivalent period of depression. And when I say 'equivalent' I am taking into account the two factors, duration and intensity. Moderate business activity prolonged for several years is equivalent to extreme activity of shorter duration.

"To take the latest example, there was a period of over-expansion covering the years 1915-1919. This would tend to be balanced by a compensating period of depression. But this compensation might take place in a variety of forms. If there had been a prodigious and excessive crash in 1920, lasting only a year, this would have been sufficient compensation. It would have offset four years of over-expansion. Or, if the decline in 1920 had been trifling but dragged out for years to come, this also would be sufficient compensation. What actually happened, was a sharp decline, but the worst imaginable, but a reverse drop. The period has already extended more than two years. Considering both the severity of the drop and the time that has elapsed, it is plain that we have nearly paid the bill in full.

"By itself, time is meaningless. The question whether depression has lasted a month, or a decade, has no significance what so ever. By itself, intensity means nothing. The question whether depression has been dramatic or trivial has no significance. However, when these two are combined when you get the product of time and intensity, you are on a sound basis. This and this only—is the true measure of depression and the real interpretation of the business cycle.

"At the present juncture, what would be the result of sudden and reckless inflation? This would mean that instead of progressing in an orderly way up from depression into prosperity, would be attempting a short cut. We would be trying to evade the full and our own depression. There would be a setback which would last until that quiet was completed. At the moment, there is no sign of such inflation. The indications are that the remaining fragment of the allotted depression will be wiped out in due course; and with a clean slate we shall be ready for the next period of prosperity.

"Will our next period of prosperity be big or small? The question is peculiarly difficult. After a big period of over-expansion, a big action, it is practically certain that there will be a big period of depression; a big reaction. Knowing the action, you can forecast the reaction—but the rule is hard to work both ways. To illustrate, of you stretch a spring a certain amount you can forecast approximately what will be the rebound. But you can't easily forecast how far the spring will be stretched next time. Hence, the roads of prosperity or action are far more difficult to forecast than periods of depression or reaction.

TIGER RESERVES DEFEAT RIVALS ON HOME COURT

The Orlando high school reserves defeated the Winter Park reserves on the local basketball court last evening by a score of 24 to 7. The game was played before a large crowd, which indicated the interest which has been aroused in basket ball here since Coach Billy Boone turned his Tigers into a winning machine.

Orlando had little trouble with the Winter Park quintet, the Tiger guards playing a great defensive game, while Luke Thompson and Vandergrift, the Tiger forwards, scored repeated goals. With the game safely tucked away Boone sent in Hawkins, Phelps, Duncan and Bryan as substitutes for the reserve regulars. The lineup and scores:

Winter Park — Thurman forward; Overstreet, forward (5); Carlton, center; Williams, guard (2); Daetwyler, guard.

Orlando — Vandergrift, forward (6); Thompson, forward (16); Ange, center (2); Macey, guard; Datson, guard.

The Tiger varsity boys and girls teams meet the Seabreeze boys and girls at the gymnasium here this evening in a double bill. The games will start at 7:30 o'clock.—Orlando Sentinel.

KIWANIS WINS GOLF TOURNEY BY BIG SCORE

The Orlando Kiwanis Club scored an overwhelming victory over the Rotary Club in the golf tournament over the course of the Country Club yesterday. Coite W. Hill, S. Y. Way and possibly S. Kendrick Guernsey were the only Rotarians who escaped defeat. Mr. Guernsey's fate is not recorded because the result of his match with H. S. Babcock could not be learned yesterday.

The match was played under rules which made three points possible for the winner. The contestant who was "up" at the end of the first nine scored one point; again at the second nine the leader received a point and the winner for the total eighteen holes annexed another tally.

Coite Hill won his match with L. H. Gedge by three points, while Mr. Way escaped with a margin of one counter over Leon Fort, and that was the end as far as the Rotarians were concerned.

Jimmy Barritt defeated Dr. J. S. McEwan by one point. Walter C. Essington humbled Clarence Brown by three point limit, LeRoy B. Giles scored three points over Merle McElroy, Ed. Beeman administered a similar defeat to Ben Buxton, Seth Woodruff did likewise with Harry Dickson and Jake Yearby humbled Dave Rogers in exactly the same manner. Allison Palmer defeated Waters Howe, while Miller Phillips was humbling Nixon Butt.—Orlando Sentinel.

The Miami Herald a few days ago told of a permit for the erection of another big apartment house for that city; it will be called the Park View apartment, and is estimated to cost $50,000. The place will be built at 41 Northwest Third street, is to be three stories high and to contain thirty-four suites, modernly constructed and finished. The demand for this class of rental property continues brisk, and it would appear that Miami people are determined to have plenty of room to offer the visitors in the future.

FUNERAL OF REID HELD TODAY AT LOS ANGELES

Body Will Be Cremated at His Special Request

(By The Associated Press) LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—The body of Wallace Reid was to go on final "location" today. The body was to lie in state from ten o'clock this morning to 2:30 this afternoon at the First Congregational church. Doors of the church were to be closed an hour beginning at 2:30 and at 3:30 joint services were to be held by the Episcopal clergy and local lodge of Order of the Elks of which Reid was a member. The body will be cremated at the cemetery in Glendale suburb.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—Hollywood's film population and the thousands of friends of the dead screen star, Wallace Reid, last night were planning to pay final tribute to him at a simple funeral service this afternoon at the First Congregational church in Los Angeles.

Hundreds of floral offerings continued to arrive at the Reid home and at the Lasky studio, where Reid starred in many comedies. Directors of Hollywood's many studios arranged to cease work shortly before the funeral so that all the workers in the industry might attend last rites of the actor who lost his life in the fight to conquer drug and liquor habits.

THOROUGH INQUIRY

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Thorough investigation into the banking connections of James J. McNary, of Las Vegas, N. M., nominated by President Harding to be comptroller of currency, was decided upon today by the senate banking committee, which appointed a sub-committee to go into the case in detail.

Sporting column, slim today as the sporting editor was evidently knocked out by the "Terror of Texas" last night. All we have to say is that the Sanford boys were defeated at Jacksonville and the Sanford girls were defeated here by the Lakeland Highlanders so-called because they were all six feet high. Full report in Monday's Herald.

The Arcadia Enterprise announces that Arcadia is to have a band. A number of musicians have formed an organization and propose to appear very soon as a cornet band, which will attract attention and be able to give good service when band music is desired. There is plenty of talent in Arcadia, and the band which has been practicing for some little time, will shortly be heard in public.

Poultry raising has become such an industry in St. Lucie county that the St. Lucie County fair association has concluded to have a poultry expert on duty at the fourth annual county fair to be held at Vero January 23-27. The last installment of material for Fort Pierce's White Way has been shipped and should reach there by Feb. 1, immediately after which installation will begin, according to C. C. Braswell, chief promoter of the white way proposition. The project has been held up on account of several weeks' delay in the shipment of a portion of the machinery, but no further serious setback is expected now.

JANUARY SNOW IN NEW YORK HEAVIEST SINCE 1874

More snow fell up-state during the first two weeks of the new year than during any corresponding period since 1874. A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central railroad said yesterday in a telegram to the Interstate Commerce Commission. Mr. Smith declared that conditions this winter are unprecedented and that to keep traffic moving on anything like normal schedules the New York Central had detailed more than 100 locomotives to snow plow work.

The telegram which Mr. Smith sent follows: "D. H. Meyers, Chairman, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C.

"As a matter of information, I have thought to advise that the fall of snow through Central New York from Jan. 1 to Jan. 14, inclusive, aggregated 26-1-2 inches, according to the records of the United States Weather Bureau at Albany. This is the heaviest fall of snow for a similar January period since the records were established in 1874. Snow has fallen for thirteen successive days, the storm extending from Albany to Rochester, inclusive, and also into New England. Along with this there have been temperatures below zero.

"The New York Central railroad has been compelled to detail 100 or more locomotives to the fighting of snow with plows, flanges, snow trains and other special equipment. This work has taken large numbers of men from other regular service in order to keep the road open and the yards shoveled out. The snow at Syracuse is fifteen inches on the level.

"Very heavy traffic has been moved and is still being offered, but naturally operations are adversely affected because of the absolute necessity of diverting more locomotives, trains or men to digging out the yards, so that cars can be switched. The ice and snow is so deep in places that it cannot be plowed out, but must be shoveled onto trains and hauled out.

"I wire you this because amidst the pressure for transportation it is difficult to appreciate at times what the weather difficulties are, and the extraordinary snowstorms apparently have not been recorded to the country generally."

The work of removing the slush that Sundays' storms left on the city streets was progressing satisfactorily. Street Cleaning Commissioner Alfred A. Taylor said. There were 11,800 men at work yesterday, including the 3,800 regular employees. Mr. Taylor said that all of the streets would be clear by tonight.

The heavy snows up-State have delayed about 40 per cent of the milk trains. John J. Fitzpatrick, sales manager for the Borden company, said that all deliveries had been made, however and officials of the Sheffield company reported similarly.—New York Times.

SEMINOLE COUNTY GROVE AND FARM NEWS NOTES

B. F. WHITNER, Jr., County Agent

On Saturdays the County Agent can be found in his office in the basement of the Court House. At any other time he may be reached through the office of the Chamber of Commerce. Leave all calls there.

COUNTY AGENT - 2 col. headed up Remember that the Mid-Winter Sub-Tropical Fair is to be held in Orlando, beginning February 13th, and that the co-operation of everyone is necessary if Seminole County is to have the prize winning exhibit. Everybody be a booster and help. Agricultural products and by products and the products of any of the industries of Seminole County, will each add a point to the score, if exhibited, where our county makes or fails to make first place. An exhibit of fine or unusual vegetables, a glass of jelly or preserves, a box of fruit, or some article manufactured in Seminole County, may add the winning point. If anyone who is able to make an exhibit will get in touch with the county agent, he will be glad to assist in any way to prepare or arrange for transportation of the exhibit. We have resources unequalled by any other county. Let us show them.

COTTON The prices of cotton are high and the supply limited. Undoubtedly those who can raise cotton for anything like an ordinary profit, can do so at a good profit. During this past season the FOLI WEEVIL was not present in this locality in large enough quantities or early enough to do much damage. The boll weevil is here now. A control has been evolved which bids fair to hold the weevil in check, at a low cost, while the cotton makes. It proved successful where tried last year, and is known as the Florida Improved method of control. Farmers should contemplate growing cotton this year, without using this control. The county agent has and is posting himself in far as possible, about this control, and will be only too glad to explain the principle of it and help in the practical carrying out of it. The bulletin about this control are very clear and complete. The supply is very limited for the present, but anyone who contemplates planting cotton can be supplied with one if he will give the agent his name. It may well be added that his effort is being made to increase the cotton acreage; only an effort to control the weevil wherever cotton is to be planted. In fact it is believed that a smaller acreage, better cared for, better cultivated, and better fertilized will bring a larger net return. The same authorities of the Plant Board also wish to discourage the planting of cotton in close proximity to a citrus grove, especially a Tangerine grove, on account of the breeding in the cotton of the Cotton Stainer which, when the cotton is gone, attacks the citrus, causing at times great damage. It will be remembered that the cotton stainer has showed up in this county during this season. Remember the danger of this pest when planting your cotton.

TWO COMBINED SPRAYS BETTER THAN WHEN USED ALONE Growers of citrus today may use a combination spray for two of their most serious enemies, a spray which has proved effective and advantageous in many ways. This is bordeaux-oil emulsion. It is made by combining regular bordeaux mixture and an oil emulsion. The bordeaux controls the diseases known as scab and melanose, and the oil controls scale insects. Specialists of the Florida Experiment Station and the State Plant Board of Florida declare that it is much better than the two used separately. They say that the main advantages are, (1) it spreads more evenly, (2) remains in suspension longer, (3) adheres to the sprayed foliage better, (4) is less injurious to tender foliage than oil emulsion alone, (5) the oil does not separate from the emulsion in hard water as with some of the oil emulsions, (6) the combined spray does not attack the metal parts of the sprayer as bordeaux alone does. Bordeaux-oil emulsion may be made at home easily and cheaply, and for this purpose the following directions are offered by O. F. Burger and F. M. O'Byrne of the above mentioned institutions: "Dissolve bluestone in a barrel at the rate of 1 pound to 1 gallon of water. To do this, tie the bluestone in a cloth sack and suspend near the surface of the water. "Slake the best grade of rock lime obtainable in just the right amount of water to slake it thoroughly, adding more water until the total amount used equals in gallons the number of pounds of lime used. "In mixing bordeaux, remember to never mix the concentrated solutions together; this ruins the bordeaux.

"To mix 50 gallons of bordeaux of the 3-3-50 formula: Put 22 gallons of water in the sprayer, stir the limestone solution thoroughly and add 3 gallons of it to the water in the sprayer, straining it carefully as it is added. Next put 22 gallons of water in a barrel and add to it 3 gallons of the bluestone solution very slowly into the diluted lime solution, stirring or otherwise agitating it violently while the mixture is being made. While the mixture is still being stirred, add very slowly 3 quarts of oil emulsion. The combined solution is "bordeaux-oil emulsion." The very important uses of bordeaux-oil emulsion, at present, are to control citrus scab and melanose on fruit. To control scab, apply bordeaux-oil emulsion before the spring growth begins. The time to spray for melanose is from ten to twenty days after the bloom petals have dropped.

TO CONTROL SCAB ON POTATOES Scab is a serious enemy of the Irish potato. It has been said that it alone reduces the yield of potatoes by thousands of bushels. It may be prevented by a very simple remedy. G. F. Weber, truck pathologist of the Florida Experiment Station, says that this disease (or its spores) is carried on or near the surface of the potato and that when once introduced into the soil it may remain active there for years. It is said that potatoes may carry the spores for the seedling, but there is no evidence of the disease being carried on its skin. "If seed potatoes are planted in the soil, the spores will be washed away and unobtainable," Dr. Weber says. He continues: "Disinfect the soil. The soil is small and the treatment will cost a clean crop as far as scab is concerned. To do this, soak the potatoes for two hours in formalin solution before planting. Prepare this by adding 1 pint of 40 per cent formaldehyde to thirty gallons of water. Place the potatoes in a galvanized sack and submerge in a large of the solution. After being submerged for two hours, spread the potatoes out to dry. Then cut and plant them. "Forty per cent formaldehyde can be obtained from any druggist. The diluted solution can be used several times."

PREVENTION THE REMEDY AGAINST TOMATO WILT Tomato growers are cautioned to provide against the danger of the fungus disease known as wilt before the winter crops are planted. Even before planting the seed the seedbeds should be sterilized, according to G. F. Weber, truck pathologist of the Florida Experiment Station. "Resistant and early maturing varieties should be selected for the coming crop, land should be selected which has not grown tomatoes in the last three years, and all plants which show any indication of wilt should be pulled up and burned." are other precautions pointed out by Dr. Weber who adds, "No spray or fertilizer can save a plant that shows symptoms of the disease because the germs are already in the sap and are thus carried to all parts of the plant, regardless of any spraying or fertilization."

Tomato wilt is common in Florida and causes great losses, being considered the worst disease of the tomato in many tomato growing districts of the state. Because it is subject only to preventive measures, it is very difficult to control. The fungus which causes the disease lives in the soil from one season to the next, which makes crop rotation necessary. Tomatoes should be planted on "stuck" soil only once every four years.

POISON YOUR CABBAGE WORMS Certain worms will eat your cabbages, whether you grow them commercially or merely for home use. But there is no reason why you cannot feed the worms a little poison and make their period of cabbage-eating very brief. Lead or calcium arsenate or Paris Green is sure death to the cabbage worm and is recommended for this purpose by J. R. Watson, entomologist of the Florida Experiment Station. Put 1 pound of lead arsenate into 50 gallons of water; add from 5 to 10 pounds of caustic whale-oil or fish-oil soap as a sticker and spreader; boil a few minutes in order that the powder and soap may go into solution. Spray with any good spraying machine, preferably a power machine. Lead or calcium arsenate may be used as a dust, if applied when the cabbages are wet with dew or rain. There is positively no danger to be feared in eating cabbages that have been sprayed or dusted with arsenical preparations to kill the worms. A prominent entomologist has estimated that it would be necessary for one to eat a dozen heads of cabbage to get enough poison to produce death. However, if one has any fear along this line, he may stop applying the poison two weeks before the cabbage is to be eaten.

EAST SANFORD

Misses, Roland Morrell and Frank Richdale of Benton Harbor, Mich., a wonderful fruit growing country, have been callers at the Jones farm several times to see the fine strawberries. These gentlemen say they have never seen strawberry plants or berries finer than those grown at the Jones place, and they have spent several winters in Florida and visited all the strawberry growing sections. They are fruit growers and have been for many years. The Jones strawberries are grown on hammock land which seems well adapted for their culture for average in size, flavor and color. Who knows but what the celery delta will also be known as widely as a strawberry center as well, as they have never been grown here to any extent. More laurels for East Sanford.

Rev. Mr. Wainwright will be at the Moore's Station church to preach on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. W. L. Henley of Celery Avenue had as her guests Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Corley, of Commercial avenue, and Mrs. Mollie Wood, of Atlanta, Ga., to assist in celebrating Mr. Henley's birthday. All long time friends.

The C. B. P. S. had its first meeting of the year at 7 P. M. and Mrs. C. G. Clark with their guests and on going to the city to see the exhibition. The Florida State Fair is being held at the University of Florida, Gainesville, Fla., from Wednesday, Jan. 23, to Sunday, Jan. 27. They are visiting the state in a large car. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cummings, of Geneva, who are spending the winter with A. P. Cochran had their first trip to the old home in Geneva, N. Y., on Jan. 15. They were accompanied by Mrs. Cochran and the machine and all were most well with the snow. The trip was held at the Cochran home, retirement at Lake Monroe, Fla. Much joyfully expressed for them in their return. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cummings, of Geneva, were callers at the Edwards home Sunday.

Ray Chappard left Wednesday for Cleveland, Ohio, his home town, after a two months' visit with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Long carried home a new car from Orlando on Friday morning to Dr. Neill. The Stevie boat, on a 10 day voyage was broken into Saturday night and a quantity of meat, flour and other provisions taken. Miss Mamie Steele had some embroidery work sent and thibet taken also. No quo.

LONGWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tullis were visitors in Orlando Saturday. Mrs. E. E. Brady assisted by Mrs. J. S. Dinkel entertained with a card party at the library Friday evening. There were six tables of players. The Longwood and West Longwood Old Settlers Association will hold their annual reunion at the library January 20th. Mr. and Mrs. George LeVigne and family were visitors in Orlando Saturday. H. P. Phipps was an out of town visitor Friday. T. P. Lewis served on the grand jury of Seminole county last week. Mrs. J. S. Sandling, of Leesburg, was a visitor in town Sunday. Miss Olive Dinkel attended the Rachmaninoff concert at Daytona on Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Hall, of Leesburg, were callers in town Thursday. George Smith and F. J. Neimyer visited Orlando Saturday. Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Hooker, mother of Henry Hooker. Mrs. Hooker had been an invalid for several years. LAKE MONROE

Amid cheers of children, teachers and patrons Tuesday morning, Old Glory slipped up the staff, gracefully and unfurled her colors and waved on high over the school and community of Lake Monroe. The scene was awe-inspiring and hearts were touched as over a hundred children gathered beneath the flying colors and with hands to forehead pledged allegiance to the flag and country. The salute, cheer, patriotic recitations and national songs followed, also a brief history of the flag by the higher grades. The honored pupils to lift the flag were chosen from the different rooms as follows: Alvin Johnson, eighth grade; Bernard Lake, fifth grade and Dorothy Bales, primary. The little girl had been chosen alone but the others were asked on account of their help in getting the flag pole. They were assisted in their efforts with the pole by Elmer Bell, Wesley Bailey and Charles Robertson. With the flag flying above each day our boys and girls will be brave, pure and true and seek those things in life that are fine and noble.

Mrs. Martha E. Saltman, age 61, died very unexpectedly of heart trouble on January 10th, 1923 at the home of Mrs. James Oglesby, of Lake Monroe. Mr. and Mrs. Saltman had been in Florida since November and had been living upon the place of Mr. Poosh on First street. On the day of January 10th, they had decided to take rooms at Mrs. Oglesby's and were on the way there when Mrs. Saltman was stricken, she having died shortly after arriving at Mrs. Oglesby's residence. The body was sent to the old home at Pittsville, Ill., for burial. Deceased is survived by a husband, Fred Saltman, also by a step son, William E. Saltman, of Pittsville, Ill. Mrs. Saltman was a well-to-do woman and end of death is pronounced with great fortitude. R. J. Turner, of Tallahassee, State School inspector, and Sam E. W. Lawton, visited the school Thursday morning and after a careful inspection of the premises, manner of teaching and many improvements of the two years passed our school upon the accredited list and issued the Lake Monroe school a certificate of standardization. Our general averages for 1922 are 85.2 per cent, we having last year but only a point and a half. Our graduates will now be admitted to the Freshman class of any high school in the state without examination. Mr. Turner is a most enthusiastic man in his work and wherever he enters the air is literally charged with enthusiasm. Teachers and pupils are alike spurred on by his presence and words.

Miss Harris, of Jacksonville, director in general of the Modern Health Crusade, was a guest of the school Thursday afternoon and made a good talk and encouraged the children in the Health Crusade work. Mrs. Endora Smith of Akron, O., has arrived to spend the winter with her son, B. H. Smith. Mr. Black and his most estimable family have removed from Lake Monroe to Berk Hammock where Mr. Black will engage in the grocery business. The community notes their departure with regret. Mrs. A. J. Purdon, of Jacksonville, is visiting relatives here. Dan Talbot and Ben Lake spent Saturday at Daytona Beach fishing. Mrs. Bartow Mann is recovering nicely after an operation for appendicitis at the Bernall-Laughton hospital. Miss Mollie Shelby is convalescent after a severe spell of pneumonia.

INCREASE WATERWAYS

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Routing and all position, even the house leaders, the rivers and harbors bloc today overrode both the budget and the appropriations committees and increased the waterways item in the Army bill from $37,000,000 to $56,585,000. The vote was taken after one of the stormiest sessions of the present house. Unable to agree on a time for debating the item the house became impatient for a vote and the speakers, including Representative Mondell, Republican leader, and Chairman Madden of the appropriations committee were interrupted by demands for a vote from all over the house. The motion for the increase, made by Chairman Dempsey, of the rivers and harbors committee, was adopted 152 to 44 after the bloc had forced the house to shut off debate. Why do we do 75 per cent of the long distance hauling of Seminole County? Ans.: Because we do it right, at the right price. Lossing's QUICK SERVICE TRANSFER, Phone 498. 241-Th-Fri-Sat-Life

TAILOR-MADE ADVERTISING One great fact must be remembered by those who have made the decision to advertise. The advertising play must fit the business to which it is applied. There are no ready-to-wear advertising plans; each one must be tailor made. The purpose of advertising is to increase business and NOT to relieve any one of his arduous duties. The manufacturer's salesman who regards advertising as a substitute for his own efforts has missed the point. His efforts are needed more than ever to support the advertising and put it across. His reward is larger sales. Likewise, the merchant who chooses the advertised brands because they are "soft and easy" selling, has overlooked the essential idea. Certainly they sell easier; but this is not the big important truth. Rather, he should see that the manufacturer's advertising is an instrument put into his hands for increasing his volume and speeding up his turnover. Looking at the matter in this light, he will bend every effort to co-operate with the advertising and seek to make it pay him additional profits. Advertising is not a form of perpetual motion that goes on forever without human assistance. The biggest problem any man has to settle after he has determined to advertise, and decided HOW to advertise, is this: How can I use my advertising so as to get the most out of it? Without close-linked co-operation it dissipates its force into air. It must be hitched on to a business properly. Then it must be utilized with intelligence. When these conditions are fulfilled it does a type of work for which there is no efficient substitute. (Published by the Sanford Daily Herald in co-operation) (with the American Association of Advertising Agencies)
