*************** Altamonte Springs, One of the Beauty Spots of Seminole's Wonderland

TAMONTE SPRINGS has an atmosphere, and so have other places in Seminole County, but Altamonte's atmosphere has the peculiar quality of a Lodestone-it's inhabitants may remove to other places in other climes, but they always return or have a very strong desire to do so, and of course there is that-not very mysterious reason-Altamonte's beauty-for all humanity is drawn to beauty. Altamonte Springs is placed in such a favorable location, that her man-made beauty. combined with the natural beauty, forms the Alta-Monte that we know today. The Altamonte of George Frost of Boston, of Herman Westinghouse of the great Westinghouse Electrical Company-who were among its founders-is not the Altamonte of today. Founded as the home of rich men only, we now reach out for residents of humbler means also, as we realize that riches alone do not make a town livable.

It stands to reason that the state was scoured by these wealthy men to find their ideal before founding their town. Therefore Altamonte's location is the pick of the state.

Altamonte Springs has an altitude of 220 feet-thus getting pine filtered sea air from the Atlantic Ocean 30 miles to the East, and the Gulf of Mexico to the West, forming that wonderful ozone known as the "Atmosphere of Altamonte" and when combined with the odor of orange blossoms and jassamine in season, and this combination comes breezing into one's window 24 hours a day, it is bound to give the ailing their health; and the healthy more health and joy of living. Altamonte Springs has in its territory hundreds of acres of orange and grapefruit groves in high state of cultivation, and has within her boundaries five beautiful lakes with clean, sandy shores, no marshy borders. Lake Orienta (upon which is located the "Altamonte Hotel", famous among tourists all over the country for its wonderful cuisine and excellent management of its owners, George E. Bates & Son) is the largest of these lakes and is noted for its black bass fishing, which is jealously guarded by the owners of the land surrounding the lake, who welcome the true fisherman with sporting ideals.

The "Altamonte Hotel" is located at the east end of this lake, upon a bluff overlooking the full length of its waters. Lake "Adelaide" is across a park to the rear of the hotel. and upon this lake is the "Altamonte Spring" of absolutely pure water.

The paved highway from Jacksonville to Tampa and all South Florida passes through Altamonte. A day's ride in an automobile may encompass two hundred miles in any direction without leaving a fine paved road, making Altamonte an admirable location for automobilists, a fine large garage is under construction and will be open for business in a few weeks, two stores with filling stations are handy and every advantage enjoyed in a city at hand.

Altamonte Springs is located on the Tampa and Jacksonville Division of . the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and gives fine service, Western Union Telegraph office, Express and Third Class Postoffice, Electric Lights, beautiful shady streets of large oaks, within 14 miles on brick highway of Sanford, and 9 miles on brick highway to Orlando. Winter Park, with Rollins College, is on the same road just five miles to the South.

The hotel is the center of social life with card parties, dances, etc., and Altamonte's winter residents and home-folks are of a superior order and of a prosperous, enlightened class. Our surrounding country and neighboring towns of Longwood and Maitland are of the same order and are fine neighbors, and are only two miles away to the North and South. The practical side of Altamonte Springs is not to be slighted in this article, for, aside from her fruit industry, Altamonte is noted as having 40 acres in covered conservatories devoted to raising the beautiful Asparagus Plumosis fern used by florists. This is shipped in season mostly to the north, and the industry represents an investment of over a quarter of a million dollars and a payroll of hundreds of dollars a week. Hon. Charles D. Haines, ex-congressman from New York, heads the largest of these conservatories, The Royal Extension Fernery, Incorporated.

Mr. B. L. Maltbie, of the Maltbie Chemical Works, of Newark, N. J., is one of Altamonte's latest developers, and is planning a great future for us this winter.

Altamonte has a Chamber of Commerce, whose Secretary, W. B. Ballard, is always glad to give information upon request. Altamonte Springs has just recently been incorporated and is officered by unsalaried men of progressive ideas, but within keeping with a low millage.

George E. Bates and Son are men to whom Altamonte Springs owes much, as many coming as their guests buy property here and stay as residents.

Palm Springs, a noted resort, is only two and one-half miles through the pine woods to the Northwest of Altamonte. Here Mr. Lester Beeman has spent thousands of dollars to give a pleasure resort for the free use of the public, and one that is greatly appreciated. Mr. Beeman has a pretty little cottage at the Spring as have others from Sanford and Longwood.

Altamonte Springs has never been boomed or exploited, but is now on the verge of a growth that will not be sporadic, but steady and substantial.

A peculiar circumstance is the fact that there is only one "Altamonte Springs" in the world, and we are "IT". Numbers of "Altamontes" appear in the Postal Guide, but only one "Altamonte Springs."

Who will come across with the money to build more houses here. in Sanford? Don't all speak at once.

Fifteen years ago "Holly's Trolley' was in the public, eye. It will be in the public eye again soon, and this time it will be put over. A trolley line from Sanford to Tampa is as sure to come as Sunday.

Let Secretary Pearman 4now at once if you are going to Orlando. The folks down there want to know if they must prepare for 100 or 200 guests from Sanford. It is up to you, and up to you right now.

Lakeland now has 548 members of the new chamber of commerce, and more of them to follow. Lakeland's oxample in coming into the chamber of commerce in a body and making it unanimous, could well be followed by other cities that we might mention. It is as much the business of every man in a city to join the chamber of commerce, as it is to join church, lodge, club or society.

Sanford needs 100 more houses right now. We really need 500, but 100 would do us a whole lot of good. We are turning people away every day because we cannot accommodate them with houses. What is the answar? More Sanford money invested here with which to build houses. We lack the money to loan out for houses. We have always lacked it. There must be a way out and a way will be found and when it is found the homes will be built and Sanford's greatest problem solved.

ALL ARE GUILTY.

Fatty Arbuckle is the only one before the bar of justice for the killing of Virginia Rappe, but all of those in the party who stood idly by and allowed the girl to be killed, if the testimony is true, are equally as guilty as Fatty. They were mighty poor men who, hearing the cry of distress, did not only ask tha tthe door be opened, but if it was not opened, proceed to open it by force. This would hardly have occurred in any other place except among a bunch of moral perverts, and we say this with all due respect to those of the profession who may not have lost all sense of decency and womanhood and manhood.

MOST MEN HONEST.

In these days when the newspapers record almost daily the sordid details of some embezzling cashier, or some trusted man gone wrong it is not uncommon to have folks declare: "Every liquors and many other ailments and man has his price; he'll steal if the reward of wickedness is big enough." But is this true?

Statistics prove otherwise, A high official of a big bonding company is authority for the statement that not more than one man out of 100 is dishonest. He basis his statement upon the fact that his company has written bonds for 7,000,000 men and of these only one in every 100 has actually stolen and only one in 7,000 went the wrong road out of actual criminal
