Strikes . . . Spares

By John Spolaki
Gee, but did you ever have so many different tournaments going at the same time? Real good ones, too.

Locally, I believe our Charles Music Co. Sunday Sweeper ranks with the best throughout the entire state. I only hope that more of our "localites" take part in it again this coming Sunday.

Remember, it's handicapped and is on an equal basis to everyone regardless of your average.

Special recognition to Bill Hall of the Sanford Manufacturing team in the City League for coming thru and winning this tourney two weeks ago.

Squad times are at 1 p. m. and every hour and a half thereafter!

A couple of the fellows from the Jet Lanes team went down to Fairville Lanes in Orlando this past Sunday to compete in the C. O. B. P. A. Team Handicap Tournament. It only costs $6 per man and if your team is one of the top entries (it's handicapped), then your way and entry will be paid into the Southeastern Tournament. Last time to get in on it is this coming Saturday and Sunday.

On the 26th of the month, Saturday, Jet Lanes will be playing host to the Central Florida Monthly Classic. All of the top bowlers throughout the entire state will be on hand trying for the big prizes.

This is a scratch tournament but it's divided into two categories . . . A—176 average and up, and the B Division—175 average and under.

On the following day, Sunday, January 27th, we'll again be the host. This time it'll be for the Junior Traveling League of the Greater Orlando Area.

The Jet Lanes entry is made up of young men who also bowl in our Saturday morning Junior League. I sincerely hope that we have a huge crowd out there cheering for them. It starts at 2 p. m. and it's free. There are some real good young bowlers in this league. They're averaging well over the 170 mark.

Remember, 26th & 27th of this month. . . Sweeper and Junior Traveling Le.

Here's a note from the publicity director of the Sanford Women's Bowling Association, Iltia Stein.

The open meeting will be held Tuesday, January 22nd at 8 p. m. in the American Legion Hall on Highway 17-92. The City Association urges all bowlers to attend and help decide tournament dates and rules. The "Door Prizes" presented will cover all entry fees for tournament and refreshments will be served.

It think it's most important that all of you gal "keglerettes" plan now to attend this very important meeting. It'll be short in duration and NOW'S THE TIME TO BE THERE AND HELP OUT. Be a doer and not a complainer after it's all worked out!

I understand that there are so many different teams wanting to enter into our largest league, Tuesday Night's Navy Intra-mural League, that there's a possibility of expanding the league even past the 20 teams. There would be a second shift on the same night at 9 p. m. More on this later after checking it out with special services.

If Old Santa is listening I surely hope that he would provide me with about two couples who'd make up the nucleus of a team into the Thursday Nite Mixed League.

These fine folks have been having just a bit of a problem and are in real need of filling in a complete team. The league bowls at 9 p. m. on Thurs. If you're interested, please give me a call at the lanes.

A note to this column from Shirley Martin telling me that Etta Dorman has been named to the Legislative and Rules Committee of the BWBA. Etta'll have a box down here at the lanes available for your signed changes to the constitution of the association.

Again, some mighty fine bowling turned in by our "local pros."

Tony Rodriguez hammered home a high series in the City League, 637—Tony had games of 210, 224 & 203! Who rolls that much ball at Jet Lanes?

Individual high was that of Lake Monroe Inn's John Uhr with a 238!

The shooting stars of this same named league this past week were Betty Church with a 183 and Betty Allen and her 478. Hey, there were quite a few of these league cuties rolling games above 180. . . .

Helen Altman 171 & 153; D. Anderson 169; Gene Lambert 160; Dot Johnson had games of 157 & 154; Peggy Pfister shot a 173. Come on John. . . look at those sheets again!

What was the high game? Ooops. . . I see whatcha meant! Special spotlight on Ann Gridley for her tups. . . 195!

That'll do it for this week. Remember, Sunday Sweeper this Sunday. And double interest on the 26th & 27th.

Patronize your bowling sponsor!

VAH-3 Leads Motor Loop

VAH-3 Enlisted Wives, with a 39-25 score, leads the Holler Motor Navy Wives bowling league. VAH-1 Tigers follow closely with 38 wins and 26 losses. VAH-9 Officer Wives and NAM 7 D 1 are tied for third with 37-37.

Clara Barber had high game with 189 and Lucie Mayers had high series with 491.

Tournament rules will be decided at a meeting Jan. 22 at 7:30 p. m. at the American Legion.

Top Team
BOSTON (UPI)—The Green Bay Packers, the National Football League champions, today were voted the top professional team of 1962 in the weekly sports editors' poll.

Locals Play Locals Trounce McCoy Golfers

Leesburg Tonight

The Sanford Seminoles will be out for revenge tonight when they face the Leesburg Yellow Jackets on the local court. Game time is 8 p. m.

Coach Ralph Stumpf said his boys are primed to take Leesburg in retaliation for the two-point defeat when the Yellow Jackets downed the Seminoles 44-42 in the Christmas tournament at Leesburg. "After defeating Wildwood last week," the coach said, "we feel we are ready to take Leesburg tonight."

Winter Park leads the conference with Apopka, DeLand and Sanford tied for second place.

The Sanford Juniors will face the undefeated Leesburg Juniors at 8:30 p. m.

Stetson University will meet Rollins College at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the Sanford high school court.

Sanford faces DeLand there Friday evening and Winter Park here Saturday evening. It's a week filled with basketball," said Coach Stumpf.

John Zeuli Bags Big 639 Series

Action in the Jet Lanes All-Star League last week found John Zeuli having the pins falling his way to the tune of a 639-series. John had games of 205, 221 and 213.

He also helped his team win one game from the Handy Food store men.

Woody Wilson also was having a good night. Woody started off with a Dutch 200 game. This consists of all strikes and spares. He went on with games of 213 and 190 to end up with a 611 series for the Handy Food store team.

In other league action, Meadows Marine took all three games from the Faust Drugs trio to move back into a tie for second place with Handy Food stores. Phil Roche was the high man for Meadows with games of 190, 181 and 194 for a 568 series. Don MacIntyre was high man for Faust with a 534 series.

The Betty Ann's trio managed to salvage two games from Sanford Dry Cleaners. Neal Maxwell was the big gun for the Betty Ann's with a 231/316 series and Harold Herbst was high for the Dry Cleaners with a 519 series.

Then to finish the night off the league-leading team of Larry's Mart 1st two games to Fralley Concrete. Joe Wallace was high for Fralley with a 211/349 series while John Wright was high for Larry's Mart with a 529 series.

Sweeney's 'Tightens' City Loop Standings

Action in the City League last week was pin-pointed on the match between Jet Lanes, the league leaders, and third place holders, Sweeney's.

Taking full advantage of an "off" night for Jet Lanes, and the absence of Woodward from the line-up, Sweeney's blasted the pins for a 4-0 sweep, the first time the league leaders failed to take a single point.

As a result of this loss, Jet Lanes' lead was cut to only four points over 2nd place Lake Monroe Inn and five points over Sweeney's. "Cap'n Paul" was top dog for Sweeney's, leading the way like a good leader should with a 213/350 series. Behre's 233/347 was high in the futile effort by Jet Lanes.

B&W Marine Service, firmly entrenched in the cellar, seems out to prove that any team in the league can be a threat. Although they only took one point in their match, they managed to throw a scare into 2nd place Lake Monroe Inn. Tony Rodriguez led the way for his team and the league by hurling his "big ball" to the tune of a 537 series, good enough to take over 3rd high individual series to date. John Uhr's 238 was high single for Lake Monroe and the league, while Team mates Fox and DePalma contributed 201 and 224 respectively.

Team No. 4, paced by duplicate 527's by Smith and Haney, took a 3-1 win from Team No. 1. Schauttee's 213 for the losers was the only 200 game rolled in this match.

Bonnie Shoots For 2nd Straight

With one feature victory in the bag, Lawrence B. Hughes' Bonnie Abbe will try to make it two straight tonight when she goes to the post in the ninth race, the evening's top attraction at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

In winning the main event Thursday Bonnie Abbe was clocked at a fast 31.21 seconds and crossed the line a length-and-a-half in front of last season's inaugural winner, O. B.'s D.D.T. The Oswald Brothers' veteran speedster is also in the lineup and may turn the tables.

Others running will be Pac Sac, Speed Beam, Texas Lacc, Rapid Roy, Duke Drake and Rank Son.

Cecil Austin's Texas Lacc cannot be overlooked for she already has a grade B win to her credit. She won the eighth race Thursday, her first start since arriving here from Tampa.

Fred Trevillion's Pac Sac, who started at Daytona, schooled here to three straight wins but has missed the money in her two official outings.

Tonight's tenth race will send grade B Greyhounds over the long 3/8ths mile course. Rockin Mollie, Mystery Tamer and Joyce L. have already scored over the marathon route.

Bettors Have Field Day At Rich Jai-Alai Action

Arratibel and Zubi surprised thebettors at the Orlando Seminoles Jai Alai Fronton Monday night by bringing in a win worth the largest payoff this season for a win ticket. Playing out of the number six position, the victorious duo jumped off with two points after the board showed them going off at 29-1 odds. This didn't bother Arratibel or Zubi because they moved right in on their next turn and ran out with five straight counters. Arratibel also won the 11th in the matinee performance, this time with Agustín, although their finish was not as spectacular as the evening performance win.

Raceway Opens Here Feb. 1

Grand opening of Seminoles Park Raceway will be held Friday night, Feb. 1. A nine-race program is scheduled for 8 p. m. nightly (except Sunday) through April 2.

The 32-night meeting will feature harness and quarter-horse races.

Long a winter training center for trotters and pacers, the Casselberry plant has been completely rebuilt, including a 2,500-seat grandstand and a 2,000-space concrete parking area.

Li'L Buggers Hold Loop Lead

Li'L Buggers still hold the lead in the Jet Bowlerettes League with 46 wins and 18 losses. Cut 'n' Curl is second with 43-21 and Karns Insurance third with 40-24.

Jane Spolaki had high game with 207 and Shirley Martin took high series honors with 509.

Unbeaten Tech Topped, 81-69

By United Press International
Mississippi State's home-court invincibility has wrecked Georgia Tech's 11-game winning streak, establishing coach Babe McCarthy's Bulldogs as top dog again in the Southeastern Basketball Conference.

W. D. (Red) Stroud, Mississippi State's skinny backcourt man who beat Georgia Tech with a last-second basket last year, scored 30 points in an 81-69 rout over the Yellow Jackets Monday night at Starkville, Miss. The loss knocked Tech off the unbeaten list, leaving only top-ranked Cincinnati, second-ranked Loyola of Chicago and Niagara, ranked No. 16, on the major college perfect record list.

Start at the rear of this Fleetside pickup. Grab the tailgate and pull hard. No give. Two wedge latches keep it tight. Now unfasten them and let down the gate. Jump up and down on it. Does it sag? Notice how the chains are wrapped in rubber so they won't rattle or mar paint.

Now look at the lower side panels. Two walls. You might dent the inside one but it won't show through. The door will never rust. It's select wood, not metal.

Now please sit in the cab a minute. Comfortable? It also is double walled and the roof is insulated. Let's start 'er up and look for a washboard road. Chevrolet coil-spring suspensions fight road shock better than other types, good for the truck, load and the driver.

There are other things. But you can see why this is a truck that does a job without a lot of pampering. It's built right. Which is why it's usually worth more at trade-in. When would you like us to deliver it?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy asked Congress to approve nearly $25 million in public works projects for Florida today but did not mention the highly controversial Cross-Florida Barge Canal.

The President asked Congress last year for $205,000 to complete planning the canal from the Gulf of Mexico to the Atlantic ocean, and congress granted it only after a bitter floor fight on the last day of the session.

The commission could spark an attempt by Florida congressmen to get initial construction money when they appear before the appropriations committees.

The president requested one construction start, the Canaveral Harbor Navigation project for which he asked $1,500,000.

His total Florida request of $24,642,000, included $239,000 for investigations, $21,323,000 for construction, and $3,000,000 for maintenance.

Investigations requested by the administration included: Canal 13—Middle River, $2,000; Econlockhatchee River, $20,000; Escambia River, $20,000; Everglades National Park, $75,000; Intra-coastal Waterway, St. Marks River-Tampa Bay, $60,000; Martin County, $40,000; Phillip Creek, $4,000; Pithlachascotee River, $11,000; Santa Rosa Island-Sabine Bay, $15,000; and Tampa Harbor, Hillsboro Bay, $10,000.

Construction money was requested for Apalachicola River Channel Improvement, $500,000; Bakers Haulover Inlet, $204,000; Central and Southern Florida, $14,000,000; Intra-coastal Waterway, Caloosahatchee River to Anclote River, $950,000; Intra-coastal Waterway, Jacksonville to Miami, $2,085,000; Miami Harbor, $1,500,000; reimbursement to Palm Beach County for Lake Worth Inlet to South Lake, $9,000; and Port Everglades Harbor, $515,000.

Horne warned Tuesday he would give Gov. Farris Bryant until noon today to complete a telephone poll of the Legislature on the 42-senator, 144-representative plan backed by Bryant.

The speaker said that the governor would probably not get enough backing for the plan, and warned if Bryant did not call a session despite the drawback, he would take steps for a self-called meeting of the lawmakers.

Horne was scheduled to meet this morning with members of the House Appropriations Committee, here for budget hearings, and said he would be in close touch with the other House members in preparation for his move.

He said he had a "self-starter" petition ready to deliver to Secretary of State Tom Adams at noon. The petition contained the required signatures of 20 per cent of the Legislature.

The signatures were collected at the end of the abortive November special session, however, and Horne indicated he would like to recheck with the signers to see if they still felt the same way.

At the same time he called for a peaceful solution of East-West problems.

"We do not want a kingdom in heaven," he declared. "We want a beautiful empire on earth."

"For that reason we act with a sense of responsibility. We do not want war. But if one is forced on us we shall hit back."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—UN troops kept alert near Kolwezi today pending proof that Provincial President Moïse Tshombe will carry out his agreement to end Katanga's secession.

High UN military sources said the troops, poised 45 miles northwest of Jadotville, would continue their build-up.

The Indian contingents could drive on Kolwezi should Tshombe fail to back his words with actions. Kolwezi, a mining center and air base, is Tshombe's last Katangese stronghold.

While UN officials were hopeful that Tshombe would move fast to implement his agreement, they pointed out that several times in the past he made promises only to do an almost immediate about-face.

The Katangese leader announced Tuesday in Kolwezi that he was ready to end Katanga's secession, give the UN force freedom of movement throughout the province, and return to Elisabethville to work out plans for reunification with the rest of the Congo.

Three Policemen Quit

Fasula Fires Fire Chief

North Orlando Mayor Frank Fasula today dismissed Councilman Bob Stephenson as Village Fire Chief and accepted the conditional resignation of three police officers.

The action was taken during a special council meeting called for 9:30 a.m. at the North Orlando Co. offices and lasted less than 20 minutes.

Only after protest from Councilmen W. W. Anderson and Stephenson that he had no authority to "dismiss any appointed and approved official" did the mayor term his action as a "suspension" and set a public hearing to be held after a 15 day period.

The resignations of Dave Tilson, Michael Crosby and Stephenson as police officers were included in a resolution of complaint against Police Chief Jack Sutton.

Included in the document were charges that Sutton "has been incompetent and derelict in the duties of his office; that he has, in public, displayed conduct unbecoming a police officer in uniform and that he has in public violated the peace and dignity of the Village of North Orlando." It stated that if "at the next regular or special council meeting, the council fails to act on these complaints, then this document shall serve as formal resignation of each for reasons cited herein."

Copies of the resolution, in addition to being released to area newspapers, will be sent to Orlando Junior College President Morris Hale, to the Silver Creek Mining and Precision Co. and to a national magazine publication for chiefs of police.

Avery, as well as County Engineer Bill Bush and Road Supt. J. C. Lavender met with SRD engineers L. D. McCallum and G. F. McKinney today to discuss planning for the stretch of road between Altamonte Springs and Longwood.

The first phase of the project—estimated at over $100,000, will extend from SR 426 in Altamonte to SR 431 in Longwood.

SRD engineers said today that planning of the second phase of SR 426 from Hwy. 17-92 to Interstate 4 should be completed within 60 days and then the SRD will proceed at a "fast pace" on SR 427.

The SR 427 project has already been surveyed and a center line alignment conducted, Avery added.

Chamber One Punch Drive Termed Success

Five men won $25 savings bonds for "going over the top" Tuesday in the Chamber of Commerce's membership drive.

Bonds were presented to Charles Tetenbaum, Sheriff J. L. Hobby, Jack Wilber, J. S. Heat and John Kader for meeting their quotas in signing up Chamber members.

Results still are being tabulated, according to Chamber manager John Kridler, but "we are very gratified at the number of new members being signed up."

Members of the winning team and their wives will be guests at a steak dinner. The winning team will be selected when tabulations are completed.

Chamber Manager John Kridler stated today that absolute deadline for reservations will be Thursday. He added that no reservations will be accepted after Thursday because the number already has reached near-capacity.

Special guests at the dinner will be H. L. Hunt, of Dallas, Texas, head of the H.H.H. Products processing plant which will be formally opened Saturday morning; Mrs. Hunt and other H.H.H. Products officials.

Woman Hurt As Car Skids

A 28-year-old Casselberry woman was injured in a one-car mishap on Dodd Road Tuesday.

The woman, identified by Trooper J. L. Sikes as Onale Tyrell Cornelius, suffered from bruises and abrasions in the accident. Sikes said she was going south on Dodd Rd. when the car skidded and turned over.

She was charged with speed too great for conditions. Damage to her vehicle was estimated at $1,200.

Negro Shot In Freak Mishap

A "freak" shooting accident left a Sanford Negro Tuesday in critical condition at Orange Memorial Hospital.

Police said that Pete Knight, 1115 W. 10th St. was bit in the head with a bullet from a rifle that was fired two blocks away.

Chief Roy Williams explained a weapon fell to the ground, fired, and the bullet traveled two blocks, entering a plate glass window hitting Knight in the head.

Councilmen To Be Installed

New members of the Altamonte Springs Town Council, Gene Stephenson and Stuart Fritch, will be installed at today's 8 p. m. meeting in the Town Hall.

Stephenson will represent Ward 3 and Fritch will represent Ward 4.

It's Back To School For Regional Planners

A comprehensive educational program for members of the year-old East Central Florida Regional Planning Council was outlined Tuesday afternoon in a meeting at Mayfair Inn.

In effect, the members will be "going to school" in a long-range schedule designed to educate them in any and all phases of planning for the future for the six-county area.

Chairman Claude H. Wolfe, Orlando, named council members on two panel sub-committees. Planning Director Robert H. Doyle outlined the study program aimed at preparing the council members for the task of drawing up future development plans. This latter program is designed for completion and distribution in mid-summer, Doyle said.

Douglas Stenstrom, Sanford attorney, will be moderator of a panel discussion with consultants representing various governmental agencies and institutions of higher learning. Serving on this panel with him will be Dr. B. Q. Waddell, Indian River county; F. B. Sarguine, Orange county; Paul Kirkpatrick, Osceola county, and Cecil Cunningham, Volusia county.

This panel sub-committee will sit Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 at the San Juan hotel in Orlando. Although not a public session, the discussion will be open to representatives of county, municipal, state and other governmental agencies.

Doyle reported that appearing before the panel will be the following: Doyle E. Conner, commissioner of the State Department of Agriculture; G. E. Dall Jr., executive director of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control district; Col. H. W. Tarkington, state director of the Civil Defense Council; J. B. Cuipepper, execu-utive director, Board of Control; Otis Trimble, Florida Development Commission; C. H. Coulter, Florida Board of Forestry; Dr. Albert C. Hardy, assistant state health officer.

John Wakefield, Southwest Florida Water Management district; Olin C. Lewis, U. S. Department of Agriculture, soil conservation service; Dr. John N. Webb, professor of economics, and Dr. Ernest R. Bartley, professor of political science, University of Florida; Dr. Charles M. Grigg, professor of sociology, Florida State University; Dr. J. Ollie Edmunds, president of Stetson University; T. A. Weybar, Dean Downs, Orange county; William Wallis, Osceola county; C. R. Lee, Seminole county, and William E. Owens, Volusia county.

Doyle explained that invitations have been extended to work with the sub-committee to specialists in population analysis and forecasting, economic analysis of land use, community design, transportation, residential development, commercial and industrial development, open space and recreation facilities, regional facilities such as educational, cultural and special; land development controls and general planning.

These specialists, Doyle stated, will come from throughout the United States for a two-day program next month. They will meet with the panel members in Orlando, have a briefing at Cape Canaveral and a flight over the six-county area.

Then, in May, Doyle continued, these specialists will return for a session with panel members at Daytona Beach. At that meeting the specialists will present their evaluations of their studies made in February.

From all information gained by the two sub-committees they will prepare a development program for the six counties. Council members Tuesday voted not to endorse proposals by any groups for development until it has completed its overall planning program during the mid-summer.

Wolfe announced names of military liaison officers designated to work with the council, as follows: Cdr. Thomas L. Conder, Sanford NAS; Col. Joseph L. Campbell, Patrick AFB; Col. B. R. Rulph, Col. Willard A. Fountain and Maj. Gordon K. Mears, Orlando AFB, and Maj. Russell W. Layton, McCoy AFB.

Boost Vocational Aid, Board Told

An increase in vocational training and a more comprehensive program of trade school courses and apprenticeship employment is being urged by Seminole County by members of the Juvenile Council.

Letters were sent Tuesday to members of the school board recommending that they evaluate the county's need for "an all inclusive vocational program." The letters were signed by officers of the Council.

The action was undertaken after members of the Juvenile Council, meeting in quarterly session, reported that one of the greatest needs of youth of the county is for productive employment.

"Up to a few years ago, the need for this type of educational program has been minor, because the county has been predominantly agricultural," John Angel, president of the Juvenile Council said.

"However," he added, "the economic growth and rising population has steadily increased the need for a manual training program which will fit youths for productive employment."

"Many young citizens of Seminole County are aimlessly wandering about our community seeking employment with no semblance of vocational background," the letter states. "The young people of particular interest to our organization are those who have dropped from the school system with the hope of procuring immediate and permanent employment."

Because of their tender years and inexperience, their desires are rarely fulfilled," the letter reads.

Statistics from national school records show that about 40 percent of students drop out before completing high school, and the number of dropouts in this county has already reached the 100 mark this year, Angel pointed out.

"These youngsters are handicapped from the start by their lack of skills and experience," he said.

The Council members agreed that a stepped-up program of training in the manual trades would better prepare this segment of the population for earning a reasonable living.

"Let's be realistic," Angel said. "Less than a quarter of today's students will continue academic studies toward professional careers."

"This leaves a tremendous number of youthful job-seekers—both drop-outs and high school graduates, who are ill-prepared to earn their way in the highly competitive society of today."

"A more realistic and practical approach to providing actual job-training for these members of the community is imperative," the Council president added.

"Our organization is convinced, following much consideration of the subject, that such a program is immediately necessary to fill a dangerous void in our curriculum," the Juvenile Council's letter to the school board stated.

Nationwide Strikes Idle Hundreds Of Thousands

United Press International

More than 100,000 workers were idled across the land today by transit, waterfront, newspaper and other strikes. Millions of persons were affected.

A million Philadelphia commuters had to find other means of transportation. In Kansas City, Mo., 100,000 bus riders faced a possible strike. Hundreds of thousands of persons still were without a local newspaper to read—in New York, after 40 days and in Cleveland, after 47 days.

An administration official hinted at possible White House intervention in the waterfront strike which paralyzed shipping from Maine to Texas.

The 5,000 members of the Transport Workers Union AFL-CIO, struck against the Philadelphia Transportation Co. over management's insistence on eliminating a "no-layoff" clause which permits dismissal only for incompetence.

The strikers operate bus, trolley and subway-elevated lines. A factfinding committee of three federal circuit judges bowed out of the dispute and said it believed it could serve "no useful purpose."

Leaders of the Transit Workers Union were to meet today in Kansas City to decide whether to call a strike. Gov. John Dalton seized the transit company when workers struck 14 months ago, but the Missouri Supreme Court freed the firm Tuesday.

The union has rejected a company offer of a wage increase of 15-cents an hour.

Asst. Secretary of Labor James Reynolds told negotiators for striking longshoremen and the New York Shipping Association that he will ask President Kennedy to take action unless there is "substantial progress" in negotiations today.

The longshoremen walked off the job 34 days ago the moment an 80-day Taft-Hartley "cooling off" period ended. Most of the 150,000 out of work are longshoremen, but others are truckers and seamen who refuse to cross picket lines.

Shippers estimate the strike already has cost $600 million.

In New Orleans, La., the New Orleans Steamship Association filed charges against six International Longshoremen's Association locals. The shippers accused the locals of refusing to bargain in good faith. A local president denied the charge.

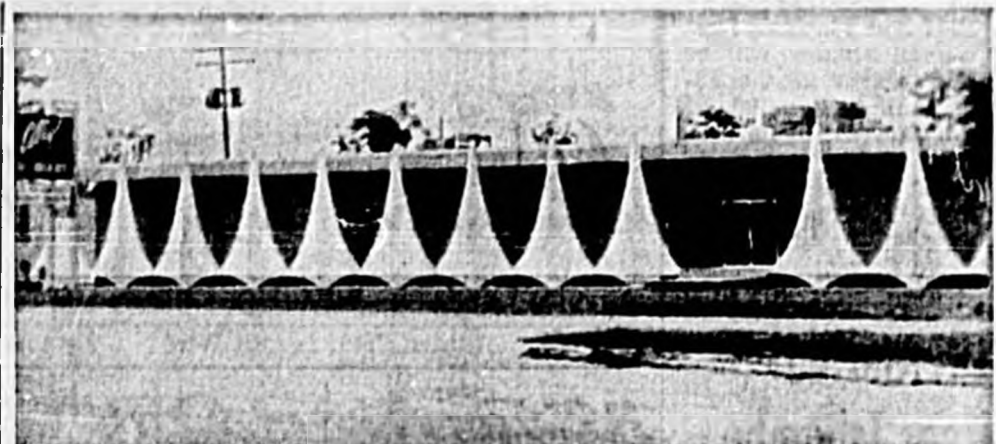

City officials said 75 cents of every New Orleans dollar comes from port operations and an extended strike would mean economic disaster.

The longshoremen have demanded a 55-cent hourly package increase. They have been offered a 25-cent hourly package.

Eight newspapers have shut down and a ninth has suspended publication in New York. Bertram A. Powers, head of an International Typographical Union local, led newspaper strikers and sympathizers in picketing New York Times offices.

Cleveland Mayor Ralph Locher said "significant results" came from talks between the Newspaper Guild and the publishers of the morning Plain Dealer and afternoon Press. Progress also was reported in talks Tuesday involving the Teamsters, who went on strike Nov. 29, one day before the Guild.

Members of nine unions made plans to start publishing a newspaper five times weekly starting Monday.

Memorial Held For Sundvall

Memorial services were held Monday at 11 a. m. at the Naval Air Station Chapel for Chief Harold R. Sundvall, ADC of Sanford, a veteran of 21 years service in the U. S. Navy.

Chief Sundvall was lost when the Navy plane in which he flew as third crewman disappeared in the Mediterranean Sea, Dec. 28th. The plane, which was attached to VAH-5, was operating at sea aboard the USS Forrestal. Unable to land because of weather conditions, the plane was ordered to proceed to the island of Sardinia, but it never arrived and is presumed to have crashed at sea.

Chief Sundvall, known to his friends as "Sunny," made his home at 1802 Rose Way in Sanford for the past six years, with his wife and five sons. He was a past president of the Fleet Reserve, a past Scoutmaster of Troop 244, active in the Little League and in the Sea Scouts.

He was born in Stratton, Ontario, Canada, Feb. 5th, 1922 and joined the Navy in Minneapolis, Minn. in 1941.

Chief Sundvall is survived by his wife, Marie and five sons, Harold, Donald, William, Gary and Timothy, all of Sanford.

Other survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sundvall of Cambridge, Minn.; five brothers, Jim, stationed with VAH-9 in Sanford; Marvin of Zenith, Wash.; Loren of Las Vegas, Nev.; Roy and Roger of Cambridge; one sister, Mrs. Marie Major of Ramsey, N.J.

Services were conducted by Chaplain Robert Deval of the Naval Air Station and Rev. Herbert Goersa of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer.

Pink Ladies To Be Honored

Members of the Pink Ladies, Seminole Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, will be guests of the hospital trustees at an annual luncheon to be held at the Mayfair Inn, Saturday at 1 p.m.

The luncheon will be preceded by the yearly business meeting, at noon which will be highlighted by the annual reports of all the committees of the group.

Recognition of the work of the members and committees, the presentation of pins and plaques for hours worked will take place at the luncheon.

Chairman of the board of hospital trustees, A. B. Peterson Sr., will address the ladies. Other official guests will include the other trustees, Administrator Robert Bessner and Chief of Staff, Dr. John Storgas.

Fronton To Aid Local Eye Bank

The Lions Clubs of Sanford and Casselberry and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Seminole Memorial Hospital are sponsoring a benefit for SHERA, the Seminole Hospital Eye Bank Association at the fronton on the evening of Jan. 22.

The proceeds of the evening are to be given to the North Florida Eye Bank Association. The tickets are for the reserved seat section and may be obtained from McReynolds Drug Store, Faust Drugs, the Hospitality Shop at Seminole Memorial Hospital, all in Sanford.

Wife Worse Than Reds--Powers

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga. — (UPI) — Former U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers told a divorce court Tuesday that his wife was an habitual drunk who sent him "cheap" magazines in a Soviet prison and neglected him to such an extent that "even the Russians got worried."

Attractive Barbara Gay Powers countered that imprisonment had left her husband a changed man, "void of all feeling" except bitterness toward her. "All he wants is his money," she sobbed.

A jury of 12 married men was expected to receive the case today and decide whether the 33-year-old pilot, whose abortive reconnaissance flight over Russia in 1960 sparked an international controversy, must pay his wife alimony.

Powers, 33, petitioned for divorce from his wife of eight years last August, seven months after his release from prison in exchange for Soviet spy Rudolf Abel. He had served 30 months of a 10-year sentence for espionage. Powers charged his wife was habitually drunk and abusive. Mrs. Powers, 28, filed a countersuit, charging that Powers failed to treat her like an average American housewife.

The handsome, soft spoken Powers, whose testimony at times brought applause from spectators in the packed court room, said he went as long as 43 days without a letter from his wife while in prison. She was so delinquent in her writing, he said, that it became a matter of concern to both American and Russian officials in Moscow.

He said he received several packages from his wife but some contained such "cheap magazines" that he had to request other reading matter.

"The only person who ever mistreated me while I was in prison in Russia was my wife, Barbara," Powers said.

Sanford Rotary To Observe Magazine Week

The Sanford Rotary club will join with others of the 11,400 clubs around the world in observance of Rotary Magazine Week, Jan. 20-26. It will be a tribute to the international service organizations' magazines. The Rotarian, that is widely read and often quoted. The Rotarian is printed in English and Spanish and in addition to the members of Rotary the subscription list includes the city and high school here.

In addition to keeping those on the club rosters informed on "what goes on in Rotary," the monthly periodical contains many highly-praised articles on countries, scientific developments, and information in the fields of economics and sociology.

In the anniversary number just released are subjects such as "France's Economic Miracle" by Rene LeCler, "Mining The Universe," dealing with space exploration and editor Karl K. Kruger's "New Day For The Navajos," reciting the economic progress of this once slothful Indian tribe.

Ben Wiggins is president of the Sanford Rotary Club, and the January programs are under Tom McDonald's supervision.

Gambling Probe Opens

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit Lions coach George Wilson and All-Pro tackle Alex Karras have been called to New York for questioning by National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle concerning Lions players associating with known gamblers.

The Detroit Free Press said today Wilson will cut short his vacation in Delray Beach, to meet with Rozelle at the league's New York offices. Rozelle was to huddle with Wilson today and Karras was scheduled for a meeting Thursday.

Karras was the first of four Lions players to become involved in the league-wide probe by the commissioner's office. He was plunged into the picture when it was reported the team management was unhappy with his part-ownership in a Detroit bar.

Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards added to the fire when he submitted a report, concerning associations of Lions players with known gamblers, to the Lions' management and NFL headquarters.

The report, which named John Gordy, Wayne Walker and Karras as being seen in the company of known gamblers, specified that nothing had been unearthed to indicate criminal activity.

Darris McCord also became involved in the investigation but was not named in Edward's report.

All four have volunteered to take lie detector tests to prove knowing alleged gamblers did not affect their play.

The Free Press said Walker had been interviewed by Rozelle by telephone several times and would not be called to New York.

In New York, NFL public relations director Jim Kenil said concerning the meeting, "I'm not saying yes or no. We have decided that we will not disclose any details of the investigation until it is completed. When it is completed we will have a statement."

Browns Ready To Name Collier Head Mentor

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The Cleveland Browns today are expected to name backfield mentor Blanton Collier their new coach.

Collier, a 34-year veteran of the coaching ranks, will succeed his close friend, Paul Brown, in heading the team named for the deposed head.

Collier's appointment is expected to climax a week of speculation after the stunning announcement last Wednesday by Browns president Arthur B. Modell that Brown was fired.

Ray Renfro, the Browns' veteran flanker back, said Tuesday night that Collier already has agreed to succeed Brown. Renfro said he received a long-distance telephone call from Bernie Parrish, the team's player representative, advising him that Collier signed the contract Monday.

Modell, who earlier called the firing "a simple reorganization," admitted Tuesday it was motivated by "no less than seven key players—and these weren't rookies," as well as the Browns' mediocre 7-4-1 finish last season.

Brown was not available for comment. His attorney, Joseph Little, said, "Brown is out of town. Just where even I don't know."

Fit For Bout

LIMA, Peru (UPI)—Peru's Mauro Mina and Eddie Cotton of Seattle, Wash., Tuesday took physical examinations which proved them fit for their light heavyweight bout here Friday night.

The Chicago Cubs always finish first during the winter when it doesn't count.

The Cubs, who were the first major league club to sign all their players the past few years, seem bent on retaining that distinction with 23 players already signed for 1963.

Infielder Ken Aspromonte and catcher Dick Bertell were the latest to agree to terms with the Cubs, who now have only 17 more players to sign.

Veteran right-hander Bob Friend signed for his 12th season with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Since breaking in with the club in 1952, Friend has won 153 games and lost 186. Last year he was 18-14.

Four pitchers, including Bob Caribaldi, the $130,000 bonus baby, signed their contracts with the San Francisco Giants. The others were Gaylord Perry, Ron Herbel and Gerry Thomas, all of whom pitched for Tacoma of the

Top Starters Set For Weekly Hot Box

Eight top sprinters make up an all-star field for the midweek "hot box", the featured ninth race at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight.

Heading the field will be inaugural champ Mac Tray shooting for his third main event win. In three starts he has registered two firsts and a third and is apparently out to try and better his sensational record of last season when he romped home first ten times in 16 tries and finished second three times.

Another greyhound seeking a third feature win is David Robertson's Pretty's Best, who won the main event Monday night and again Saturday.

Rounding out the field for tonight's top attraction will be Cherokee Hulo, Sarasota Egg King, Protocol, Archway, O. B.'s Deacon and Zot.

Cherokee Hulo, Sarasota Egg King, Protocol and O. B.'s Deacon have each triumphed once in grade A while Archway has a grade B win to his credit.

Orville Moses' Protocol will bear watching in this contest. He attained a national A-2 rating here last season by posting six firsts, one second and three thirds in 25 tours of the oval. He won the ninth race Saturday night in 31.07, the fastest clocking to date.

Oviedo Rallies To Nip Ocoee In Cage Play

Oviedo broke a last minute tie in cage action Tuesday night to sneak past Ocoee, 69-58.

With less than two remaining on the clock, Wes Swinson dunked in a field goal to give the locals a two point edge and seconds later Jimmy DeShazo and Jimmy Courter scored two pointers with foul shots and field goals to ice the contest.

Ocoee jumped into a 19-15 lead in the first quarter and at the half led, 20-27.

It was nip and tuck for the final half with the lead changing hands three times. Oviedo, paced by the shooting of Courter who scored 24 points, rallied in the final period to perk up the contest.

For Oviedo, DeShazo scored 11 points.

Tuesday night's big eleventh game was a thriller for the near capacity house at the Orlando Seminole Jai Alai Fronton in Fern Park.

Post one, Badiola and Zubi got off to a fast start with two points and then after two and three were held scoreless the game got tight with four, 1 picking up a point and at one time all points were tied with post one. Then post one broke out and took the lead and were never headed. The efforts of post seven and eight to catch the clever and cunning Badiola Zubi combination provided the crowd with thrills galore, but they failed and Astiga, Elorri, in post eight took place money while Gasti, Urizar in post 7 came in show position.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given by the bride's parents. The bride's table was covered with a red Christmas linen cloth, and tall white tapers burned in crystal candle holders.

The red and white color theme was carried out in the refreshments and the tiered wedding cake was decorated with red carnations. Punch was served from crystal bowls. Young Miss Patty Shook, sister of the bridegroom, kept the bride's book.

Mrs. Shook chose for traveling a charcoal gray fur trimmed suit with matching fur hat and red patent leather accessories. The couple left for a wedding trip in the southern part of the state and are now living in Sanford.

Church Class Meets In McKinley Hall

The Daughters of Wesley Sunday School Class of First Methodist Church held the first meeting of the new year in McKinley Hall with 16 members present.

Opening hymn for the evening was "In The Garden," followed by roll call. Several future class activities were discussed and the treasurer's report revealed that monetary gifts had been sent to various homes to brighten their Christmas.

An interesting letter was read from Ellen Aurbukken and husband, missionaries in Algeria, who are now working in Constantine. They stated that lack of food and employment are two great problems in Algeria. Mrs. Aurbukken, a former Sanford resident, receives financial help from the class through the church.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. L. E. Estes and Mrs. M. L. Wright.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend's coach is ruining my love life. He lined up all the boys on the basketball team and made them take a pledge, "NO SMOKING, NO DRINKING AND NO GIRLS." Abby, does a coach have the right to do this?

I used to see Tom every night, but since he took the pledge I'm lucky to see him on Saturday night until midnight. Tom is a good athlete and I am proud of him, but I might just as well not have a boy friend as one who has to go to sleep with the chickens. What does a girl do in a case like that?

BASKETBALL WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: Tom sounds like a good egg even if he does go to sleep with the chickens. Be a good sport and see him when he's available. If you grumble, Tom might suggest a substitute who didn't make the team.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter has been married for three months to a man who doesn't say one word more to her father or me than he absolutely has to. If I say, "How are you?" he replies, "Fine." (Not even, "Fine, thank you, how are you?") He is not ignorant. He went through college on scholarships and is considered a mathematical genius. We are always friendly to him. He told my daughter he doesn't care about anyone else — only her. Do you call that intelligence? We are respectable people. What is the matter with him?

DEAR BAFFLED: Your son-in-law may be an educated misanthrope. He has much to learn about manners. Warn your daughter that her husband's anti-social behavior could lead their happy marriage into a vacuum. And "genius" alone cannot overcome loneliness.

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion of a man and wife who send out Christmas cards from "Mr. and Mrs. So and So AND son." Their son is 49 years old!

GOT ONE

DEAR GOT: It seems to me that the son is old enough to send his own. However — what's the difference either to you or me?

DEAR ABBY: Do a couple of million people a favor and ask them to get into their cars on a dark, rainy night and drive by their OWN homes to see if they can read their own house numbers. You wouldn't believe the number of houses that haven't a clue (that can be seen from the street) as to what the house number is.

Highlights

7:30-8:30 p.m. CBS. Russians: self-impressions. This program dedicates itself to the proposition that the best commentary on the complex structure of the Russian character and personality is a view of the Russian people as seen by top Russian authors. It is a series of dramatized excerpts from the works of Chekhov, Gogol, Dostoevsky, Turgenyev and Pasternak, played by Jim Hunter, Sam Wanamaker, Joseph Buloff, Jo Van Fleet and George Voskovec. The entire presentation is a boon to the viewer who seeks to go beyond dramatic surfaces. Dr. Ernest J. Simmons is host.

7:30-9 p.m. NBC. The Virginian. "The Judgment." (Color) Star Lee J. Cobb takes over tonight, ably assisted by guests Clu Gulager and Patricia Barry. In flashback, he recounts his early days in Medicine Bow when he attempted to pass a death sentence on a convicted killer whose brother was determined to stop it, even by threatening the whole town. The talented Miss Barry plays the judge's early romantic involvement who also shows a head for the wily ways of the world. Roberta Shore is featured.

7:30-8:30 p.m. ABC. Wagon Train. "The Johnny Masters Story." This one takes place in a fort, rather than with the wagon train, and scout Duke Shannon (Scott Miller) takes over while Wagonmaster Hale (John McIntire) takes a breather. Duke finds the fort woefully undermanned and dilapidated in the face of an impending Indian attack. One soldier can help him build a defense, but he refuses because of his Cherokee blood that has made him despised by his comrades in arms. You'll recognize the uncooperative soldier as former "checkmate" star Anthony George. 9-9:30 p.m. CBS. The Beverly Hillsbillies. Bea Benaderet as Cousin Pearl is coming on stronger and stronger in this series as she tries to inveigle the ruling hand of the Clampett Clan from Granny. As usual in this series, there is a continuous flow of funny sequences, especially Pearl's attempt to loosen up Granny's firm family grip with a little moonshine in her soup bowl. Irene Ryan is featured as Granny, with Buddy Ebsen, Donna Douglas and Max Baer.

Jacoby On Bridge

In international competition it is proper to use as many artificial conventions as desired. The only provision is that they must be listed in advance of play and made available to your opponents so that they will know the meaning of your conventions.

Bobby Jordan and Arthur Robinson have a very special bid after an opening no-trump. Their no-trump is usually in the 15 to 17 range but occasionally they bid with 18 so they use the immediate four unround response to ask for four hearts with a minimum (15 or a bad looking 16), four spades with 16 or a sorry 17,

North holds 18 points opposite his partner's no-trump. He intends to bid at least six, but the Jordan-Robinson bid lets him get to seven when his four diamond response sends South to six no-trump to show a maximum opener. South's 18 plus 19 equals 37 and should be enough for a grand slam.

The grand slam is also a lay down. South has 13 tricks in top cards and does not have to worry about the jack of spades and queen of clubs held against him.

It is also likely that most readers also could reach that nice contract, but the Jordan-Robinson method is certainly an easy one.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Couples who end up in Los Angeles conciliation court, where many rocky marriages are rescued, are required to sign a husband-wife agreement.

According to an article in a recent issue of a national magazine, this is a contract tailored for a couple's special needs. The agreement puts on paper the things that have been eroding the marriage — and, more, provides a script for a happier relationship.

It might be a bright idea for all couples on their first wedding anniversary to draw up their own husband-wife agreement.

This would get out in the open and down on paper just what each expects of the other, and just what kind of a marriage they hope to achieve.

Such a contract couldn't very well be drawn up at the time of marriage, because a couple wouldn't know enough about each other and about the marriage relationship to know what kind of a contract to draw up.

But by the end of a year if there are to be in-law problems, money problems, lack of communication in areas of disagreement and so on, most of them will already have become evident.

So that is the ideal time for a young couple to sit down and talk about their marriage. It is the time to work out aims, plans and promises designed to help the marriage grow, instead of permitting it to bog down in mutual dissatisfaction as so many marriages do.

It's a wonderful thing for a court of law to have a special court whose sole purpose is to keep those heading for divorce to work out their differences and keep their marriages intact.

But if young couples would make an effort to do this on their own BEFORE they get unhappy enough to be headed toward divorce, that would be even better.

Grace notes in marital harmony. Read Ruth Millett's booklet, "Happier Wives (hints for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, c/o The Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 10, N. Y.

Katz Speaks To Opticians

The first meeting of the year of the Central Florida Assn. of Dispensing Opticians was held at the Capri Restaurant in Sanford with Dr. Sidney Katz, new Sanford ophthalmologist speaking on the new Eye Bank here.

A film was shown depicting the work of the national eye bank association and the work of restoring sight.

Dr. Katz described the formation and organization of the Seminole Hospital Eye Bank Assn.

(Neither Daytona Beach nor Orlando has an Eye Bank, and representatives of these two communities showed a vital interest in the possibility of setting up such an organization.)

During the question and answer period which followed the film and talk, Dr. Katz explained how other communities can go about organizing such a facility in their own area.

Internal Combustion

The other day a forum of nine panelists, assembled in Washington, managed to discuss the nation's "transportation crisis" for two hours with hardly a mention of the private automobile.

Yet everyone agrees that the motor car has had immense impact on the country's changing transportation patterns. And government studies suggest that effect will be even greater in the next 12 to 15 years.

At the last official check there were 63 million private passenger vehicles on streets and highways. The figure including trucks and buses was nearly 76 million. At the end of World War II the overall total was 31 million, with some 22 million private cars.

Passenger automobiles in 1960 traveled close to 600 million vehicle-miles. In 1945 the figure was 200 million.

Henry Shryock of the Census Bureau points out that two-thirds of all U. S. workers use a car in getting between home and work. In the metropolitan areas of 100,000 or more people, 82 percent of those who commute to central cities rely on cars.

The official population projections for the years up to 1975 indicate, of course, still further concentrations of our population in urban regions. By 1975, it is estimated, 150 million Americans may live in the 212 largest metropolitan areas. That is just 38 million less than the total U. S. population today.

Bureau of Public Roads officials suggest, furthermore, that passenger car registrations — and motor travel — may in the span rise considerably faster than population itself.

The great push to the suburbs is, naturally, a key factor in all this growth. Only the motor car has proved quickly adaptable to the transportation needs of sprawled-out urban centers.

Not everybody thinks the suburban revolution will continue apace. Ine A. F. Parrott of the American Statistical Assn. suggested in 1960 that the movement is slackening. But Census officials argue that there is scant evidence of this so far.

Meantime, the crush in transportation seems merely to get worse, as does the cost of trying to ease it. Fancy million-dollar-a-mile urban beltways open one day and two months later chalk up bumper to bumper rush hour loads.

If there is a "transportation crisis," it is fair to suggest that this is it. And even those gatherings of experts which do mention the motor car appear to have no ready solutions.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

My brother John is a Ph.D. Harvard political scientist who has taught there, as well as at Northwestern University and elsewhere. But he roamed Europe for 15 years as a columnist for American newspapers. So heed his remarks about the popularity contest in India with reference to American, German, British and Russian engineers.

CASE: 0-433: Dr. John B. Crane is an expert political analyst with 15 years of experience covering Europe for American newspapers.

He is a Harvard trained economist who possesses the "horse sense" so sadly lacking in many of that breed, so he adds wholesome ballast to his college students.

Recently we had a family dinner at the home of my mother. And my brother told me of a public opinion survey in India.

"Here's a problem for you," he began.

"India is overrun with engineers from America, and Germany, England, and Russia."

"How do you think the people of India rated those four groups? Which did they like best and which did they dislike the most?"

You readers might well test your families at the dinner table with this same question. And remember, we Americans have poured hundreds of millions of dollars into India and have been her main protector at the United Nations.

So, of those four national groups, the natives of India are far more obligated to us than to any of the other three.

So what happened on the public opinion poll.

Well, our Americans were rated at the bottom! We were the MOST disliked.

Next to us came the Germans. The English were in 2nd place while the Russians rated top honors.

Which brings out the salient point I mentioned yesterday, namely, that the more you put a person under obligation to yourself, the sooner you will end in his "most hated" category.

In addition to this factor, I also asked my brother to explain why the Americans and Germans were disliked so intensely.

"Well," he added, "our American engineers go over there for mercenary reasons. If they were earning $10,000 per year here, they may get $20,000 per year while in India."

"And if they stay out of the U. S. A. for two full years, then they escape income taxes on that doubled income."

"Meanwhile, they live in segregated modern housing projects, with air conditioning. They have their own swimming pools and Country Clubs."

"And they tend to look down on the native engineers of India, or so the latter at least imagine, because of this aloofness."

"The Germans, too, stay segregated to a large degree and are looked on as disdainful."

"The British, however, have fraternized partially for generations while England ruled India, so they have built up a certain amount of prestige."

"But the Russians have been the smartest. Their engineers must learn the native language before they even go to India. Then they live with the natives and fraternize with them."

"The Russians thus perform more like our church missionaries, who also must learn the native language before they are sent abroad."

"As a consequence, though we have done the most for India as regards money, engineering, medicine, etc. we are still the most disliked by the man on the street."

"And Russia, who takes money AWAY from India, instead of pouring it into India as America does, still comes off the winner in the popularity contest."

"Maybe we need a little more of your Applied Psychology in our State Department, eh?" my brother John added. What do you think?

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Railroad management and railway labor agree on one thing, at any rate: 1963 is going to be a year of crisis for America's transportation system.

Responsibility for doing something about it is being put up to government by both sides, but with different formulas.

In the most far-reaching statement on this subject yet issued by a railway labor union official, President Louis J. Wagner of the Order of Conductors and Firemen has just declared that while:

"We prefer to deal with private ownership . . . If management cannot run the railroads in the public interest and unless there is drastic change in labor-management policies, we will be forced to answer, 'Yes!' to the question, 'Should we have public ownership of the railroads?'"

Nationalization of American railroads has been discussed academically ever since the government took over the roads for unified operation in World War I, but it has never been considered seriously. Europe's costly experience with nationalized railroads in more socialized economies is described by Mackie as a dozen federal agencies and 100 state commissions, juggling bits of the transportation system among themselves.

"Nowhere among the tens of thousands of public officials involved is there one person whose job it is to look after the over-all efficiency of the system."

Kennedy called it "a chaotic patchwork of inconsistent and often obsolete legislation and regulation."

Railway labor and management have their own relations with each other to put in order, as well as their relations with government.

"Government intervention, court rulings and management practices have resulted in a snarl of red tape," says Vice President John W. O'Brien of the Sheet Metal Workers Union. "Issues which must be settled in 1963 include railroad mergers, the work rules dispute with the operating unions and extended job stabilization to ease automation's impact."

In connection with this last-mentioned issue, a presidential fact-finding board has just recommended that Southern Pacific Railway clerks who lose their jobs as a result of automation should have a share of the savings. The clerks, in a dispute going back to 1938, had asked full pay for five years if laid off by automation.

The rules dispute with the operating unions is still pending. Railway brotherhood chiefs are seeking reversal of a U. S. Court of Appeals decision that railroads have the right to overhaul their work rules to take advantage of labor-saving practices made possible by automation.

In another case, a U. S. District Court has dismissed the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen's effort to have the railroads strike insurance agreement declared illegal.

The big showdown comes next May when the 11 non-operating employe unions, with 450,000 members, open negotiations with the Class I railroads for a new wage agreement.

Anyone who wants to become a pen pal with his congressman should benefit from Humble's suggestions, but it seems to me the company omitted the most important thing of all. It is:

Before mailing your letter be certain it has the proper stamp. A congressman's franking privilege doesn't include postage due.

Square Off WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate squared off today for the first round of full-blown debate in its biennial wrangle over changing its rules to make filibusters easier to curb.

"Don't pretend to represent more political influence than you have," it says. I interpret this to mean that you shouldn't threaten a congressman with defeat in the next election unless you are eligible to vote.

Humble also recommends that you "communicate with your senator or representative on issues while there is still time for him to take effective action."

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The current issue of a house organ magazine published by the Humble Oil Co. offers some suggestions on how to write to a member of congress.

This is a timely topic. A new session of Congress begins today so it shouldn't be long before you have a lot to write your congressman about.

Not all oil companies are in a position to offer advice on congressional correspondence. Several years ago, you may recall, one company wrote a letter that was credited with killing a natural gas bill favored by the industry.

I think we may assume, however, that Humble is fully qualified in this field. It divides its suggestions into "do's" and "don'ts," and I would imagine it has had quite a bit of experience composing letters of the "don't" variety.

"Don't repeat the depletion allowance" has been the theme of many an oil company message to Congress. As befits a company bearing its name, Humble advises against taking a pre-emptive approach in corresponding with a congressman.

"Don't pretend to represent more political influence than you have," it says. I interpret this to mean that you shouldn't threaten a congressman with defeat in the next election unless you are eligible to vote.

Humble also recommends that you "communicate with your senator or representative on issues while there is still time for him to take effective action."

Herlong Talks On Congress

By Congressman Syd Herlong

The new session of Congress has opened. The new Members have been sworn in and Speaker McCormack has been re-elected. The first item of business was the proposed change in the rules to make the temporary increase of membership on the Rules Committee from 12 to 15 that was in effect during the previous Congress a permanent change. For the first time in my service in Congress, the White House interested itself in the Rules of the House to the point of strongly importuning Democratic Members to support the change. The burden of their argument was that they couldn't get their program considered by the House unless this change in the Rules Committee was made permanent.

The facts are that any time a majority of the House of Representatives wants to, they can consider a bill, regardless of the Rules Committee, but the impression is created that this is not true and that it should be easier to schedule controversial bills for action.

The net result of this permanent change is that unimportant bills will be a more favorable legislative climate for the more controversial programs that will be put forth by the Administration during this session. I voted against enlarging this Committee as I pledged I would do during my recent campaign. Before doing so, I made my position clear to the House leadership and to the White House. My reasons for voting as I did were, first, that I regard "packing," whether it is applied to a Committee in Congress or to the Supreme Court, or any other body, for that matter, as merely a device to exercise some manner of control or influence—not necessary benign—over the body involved.

Second, I am a conservative, and the Rules Committee as previously constituted was, to be perfectly frank, controlled by the conservatives. Next, I don't necessarily believe that the present elected President of the United States should have control of the legislative process of the Congress if the Executive Department is going to say what bills Congress will consider and enact, then there is no reason whatsoever to even have a Congress. We might as well all go home and let the President legislate by proclamation. You and I both know that that would be dictatorship, and I am opposed to it no matter what Administration is in power.

Florida has now become one of the large State delegations in Congress with 12 Members. My first job as a Member of the Ways and Means Committee, the Democratic Committee on Committees, is to try to get good Committee assignments for the three new Democratic Members from Florida, and I shall do my best, bearing in mind first what I believe to be in the best interests of the people of Florida. With nearly 70 new Members of Congress, of course the competition for desirable Committee seats is going to be quite keen, but I believe our new Members stacked up with those of any other State in the Union. All of them have shown a good aptitude for this type of work and have an ability to get along with their colleagues that is going to be most helpful to them in the future.

Our Democratic Delegation split right down the middle on the vote on the Rules Committee. I suppose we would be more effective if we voted alike on everything, but then the people in Florida don't think alike on everything, and it is the primary responsibility of each Member to endeavor to reflect the thinking of the majority of the people in his District. The leadership here recognizes that. For example, it isn't a foregone conclusion that the people in Billy Matthews' 8th Congressional District in North Florida think like the majority of the people in Dante Fascella's District in Miami. Yet both are members of the same political party. This is why members of a delegation from one State who belong to the same political party vote differently on controversial issues. They must first speak for the people they represent. This is true representative government.

The thrill of viewing the Yona Lisa at her unveiling was somewhat marred by the boisterousness of the crowd and the very unpleasant circumstances under which it was viewed. There simply wasn't room for the invited guests, and the mumbling in the background was such that no one could hear what was said. When we finally got up to where I could see her, I was behind another Member of Congress who obviously fancied himself as quite an art critic. I noticed that he looked at the picture quite carefully and then shook his head from side to side with the sad comment, "The color isn't exactly right." That's the height of something—I don't know what.

Next to us came the Germans. The English were in 2nd place while the Russians rated top honors.

Which brings out the salient point I mentioned yesterday, namely, that the more you put a person under obligation to yourself, the sooner you will end in his "most hated" category.

In addition to this factor, I also asked my brother to explain why the Americans and Germans were disliked so intensely.

Britain Backs Up Market Stand
LONDON (UPI) — Britain officially reaffirmed today its intention to press negotiations for entry into the common market despite French roadblocks.

At the same time Britain stressed its support for the multi-national nuclear force for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization proposed last month at the Nassau meeting between Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Kennedy—again despite French opposition.

Church Meet Is Underway

The Seminole County Legislative delegation will hold hearings relative to proposed local legislation Feb. 1, State Rep. Mack Cleveland Jr. said today.

S. J. DAVIS JR.

Water Projects Speed-Up Told A Critical Must

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The Chairman of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District said today the big water conservation project must be speeded up or the federal government may lose interest.

Riley Miles said under the present construction schedule, the project would be completed in about the year 2009 at a cost of $500 million. But he said acceleration of the project would complete it by 1970, at a savings of about $170 million.

"The federal government has said it would like to see this project accelerated and completed in the foreseeable future," Miles told the final day of hearings on a record $1.3 billion budget for the coming two years.

He said unless the state upped the amount of matching funds there was an indication federal aid might be curtailed or cut off.

The agency is seeking $15,485,000 for the coming two years, of which $9 million would match federal funds totaling about $38.5 million.

The rest of the money would provide for highway bridge relocation and acquisition of water storage areas in the upper St. Johns River Basin.

Georgia Unit System Defended

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The state of Georgia defended its county unit voting system for primary elections before the Supreme Court today on the grounds that it was "sustained by history and by law."

Georgia Deputy Asst. Atty. Gen. B. D. Murray opened a three-hour argument on a voter's challenge to the system.

The case brought the Kennedy family, which already has staked out claims in the White House, Congress and the Justice Department, into action before the Supreme Court.

U. S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and New York attorney Morris B. Abram, formerly of Atlanta, were pitted against Murray and E. Freeman Leverett, another Georgia deputy.

Speaking of letters, Atty. Gen. Beckwith received a letter from Comptroller Ray Green commending our clerk for being "the first county official of Seminole County to have returned as much as $20,000 in excess fees." Good boy, Art.

I wonder when the General Service Administration is going to do something about that old post office?

Which reminds me... Memo to JFK: how about some additional mail boxes along First St. The only one we see is by the Sanford Atlantic Bank.

JFK Sends Biggest Budget To Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy today sent Congress the biggest budget in history—come war or peace—and one of the biggest deficits.

Other stories regarding President Kennedy's budget can be found on the inside pages of today's Herald.

He called for federal outlays in the 12 months starting July 1 of either $98.8 billion or $123.5 billion—depending on your budget approach. One way would mean a $10.3 billion deficit. The other way the deficit would be $11.9 billion.

But Kennedy insisted that such heavy red-ink spending would be succeeded before too long by budget surpluses and widely sharpened prosperity if Congress would approve his new $10 billion tax cut plan.

Lecturing the lawmakers, some of whom are skeptical of reducing taxes without companion spending cuts, the Chief Executive declared:

"Our present choice is not between a tax cut and a balanced budget. The choice, rather, is between chronic deficits arising out of a slow rate of economic growth, and temporary deficits stemming from a tax program designed to promote fuller use of our resources."

Not unexpectedly, Republicans termed Kennedy's spending plans incredible, cynical and illusionary. Democrats who spoke out praised specific programs such as defense and space but were cautious in their ever-all appraisals.

House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana said the taxpayer would be the loser—either through inflation fired by bigger federal spending or by having promised tax savings gobbled up through Kennedy's tax "reforms."

Conservative Sen. Harry F. Byrd, (D-Va.) also was sharply critical. He said that if Congress went along with the Chief Executive's tax cut plan, the federal deficit probably would approach $14 billion. He said Kennedy's claimed savings were "questionable."

As promised in his State of the Union address, Kennedy held the line or made reductions in such non-security functions as agriculture and the postal service. He said he felt obliged to limit such programs in view of the prospective revenue loss under his tax program.

But declaring that "there is no discount price on defense," he asked for $51 billion in military funds, up $2.7 billion from this year. He also sought a record $6.1 billion for space programs, with most of the $1 billion increase going for the program to land men on the moon by 1970.

The President allotted $1.9 billion for foreign aid and urged the lawmakers not to repeat last year's deep cuts. He said Red China's attack on India and Communist guerrilla warfare in South Viet Nam are "current reminders" of the importance of the program.

James Holaren was scheduled to arrive here today to open the talks.

The 11 non-operating rail workers unions are threatening to walk off the job and set up picket lines charging that the AFEC refused to go along with a general raise recommended by presidential committee last June.

About 35 top union officials from across the nation met in Jacksonville Wednesday to discuss the dispute. J. H. Hatley of Jacksonville, vice president of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees AFL-CIO presided over the meeting.

Town Council Reorganizes At Altamonte

The annual reorganization of the Altamonte Springs Town Council took place at Wednesday night's meeting after Gene Stephenson and Stuart Fritch, newly elected members, were sworn in by Mayor Lawrence Swafford.

Keith Nixon was appointed by Swafford to serve as vice mayor during the coming year and Leslie A. Winters was reappointed to the planning and zoning commission for another two year term.

Appointment of Deputy Clerk Jim Palmer to take over as town clerk was unanimously approved and will become effective Feb. 1 upon Henry Hansen's retirement. Palmer's replacement will be appointed at a later date.

Constable Grady Hall also was unanimously reappointed as chief of the police and fire departments.

Council committee appointments made by the mayor, who serves with each group, included Nixon and Fritch, finance; Frank Gerhardt and Stephenson, streets; Stephenson and Fritch, recreation; Gerhardt and Nixon, utility; Palmer, community house; Fritch and Gerhardt, public buildings and Gerhardt and Nixon, water.

Building inspector will be Palmer who also will serve on the building committee along with Fritch and Gerhardt.

State Must Gamble—Bryant

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant said today that Florida must take a gamble it cannot afford to lose in beefing up its system of higher education to meet demands of the space age.

Florida's tremendous population gains have put it in the major leagues among the states of the nation, Bryant said, although its financial resources are nowhere near those of states with which it must compete.

For Water System Additional Appraisal At Altamonte A Must

The Housing and Home Finance Agency has notified Altamonte Springs that further appraisal of its proposed water system, in its entirety, must be provided before final approval can be granted on the town's application for funds.

Correspondence from the HHA stating the necessity for additional information and statistics was read at Wednesday night's meeting of the Town Council by Attorney S. J. Davis Jr., who a few minutes later reported that he will begin validation proceedings by Monday for sale of the town's $350,000 revenue bond issue.

Davis agreed with Harold Radcliffe, consulting engineer on the town water system, that a documented file containing complete records and reports along with an engineer's verification appraisal and report on what has been done should be sufficient to satisfy the agency request.

An invitation also will be included for a government engineer to come down, if necessary, to make a thorough inspection of the system.

In other reports on the town's new water system, Davis announced that the closed sale of Southern Gulf's $32,000 system had been completed and was now the property of the town.

The former owners, who automatically will maintain operations for a few days, offered to submit a monthly cost schedule for continuing the job. However the council will meet within a week to consider hiring its own part-time employee to take over the duties which mainly consist of daily plant inspections and reading the meters.

Radcliffe presented a progress report which included a bill from Hall Builders in the amount of $1,630.98 for tying in Oakland Estates with the existing Oak Park water system, pointing out that the amount was $100 less than the bid price.

The motion was recorded to accept the system, pay the bill and authorize execution of the owner's certificate of acceptance. Payment will be due within 31 days.

The Housing and Home Finance Agency, headed by Dr. Robert C. Weaver, is the agency responsible for coordinating the Federal urban development and housing programs of the Public Housing Administration, Federal Housing Administration, Urban Renewal Administration, Community Facilities Administration and the Federal National Mortgage Association.

James Holaren was scheduled to arrive here today to open the talks.

MACK CLEVELAND

No Chance For 'Compromises' Cleveland Says

Rep. Mack Cleveland Jr. today said he is convinced there is absolutely no chance for a reapportionment compromise that would enlarge the Florida house beyond 119 members.

House members, Cleveland said, are stuck on keeping the house workably small and will not budge.

The senior ranking member of the local delegation added that the maximum he would go for would be a 120 member body.

The governor however, has let it be known that he would accept another plan if it accomplished the same percentage increase in representation for the urban areas. But he is sticking to his original demand that there must be solid agreement in advance on any plan before he'll call the legislature into special session.

Under the 144-member proposal, an increase of 49 over the present house membership, approximately 29 percent of the population would elect a majority of the house.

Only way to accomplish that percentage with a smaller number is for some middle-sized counties with two representatives to give up one.

Major behind-the-scenes bargaining at this point centers on a house formula of about 110 members. Whether it could get through the senate, which has agreed on raising its membership to 42 if accompanied by a 144-member house, remains to be seen.

A number of legislators are in Tallahassee this week in connection with state budget hearings and the governor's conference on higher education. In between meetings, they are huddling with each other and the governor to try to work out a reapportionment agreement.

He will coordinate HHFA's programs for Seminole, Brevard, Indian River, Orange, Osceola and Volusia Counties.

Stocks Mixed

Church Action Plan Outlined

CHICAGO (UPI)—An "action program" for churches and synagogues to combat segregation was outlined today by the national conference on religion and race.

It called for prompt elimination of racial barriers in all religious institutions, including church-related schools, hospitals, welfare agencies, homes for the aged and fraternal organizations.

Effective July 1, the plan would reduce the tax take from individuals by more than 10 per cent—equal to an annual reduction of $6 billion. Another rate reduction of $3 billion would take effect July 1, 1964.

However, the administration does not expect Congress to complete action on the program before late summer or early fall.

Workers Set For Pay Boost

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's workers would get two boosts in take-home pay under President Kennedy's tax reduction program.

Effective July 1, the plan would reduce the tax take from individuals by more than 10 per cent—equal to an annual reduction of $6 billion. Another rate reduction of $3 billion would take effect July 1, 1964.

However, the administration does not expect Congress to complete action on the program before late summer or early fall.
