WILEY TELLS JURY BOARD ABOUT SHOCK

Lieut. Commander Declares He Believes Downward Current Of Air Caused Crash

LAKEHURST, Apr. 11.—(AP)—Lieutenant Commander Herbert Wiley today told a naval board inquiring into the wreck of the Akron, that he now believes the shock caused by a "severe gust of wind" a few seconds before the dirigible crashed was caused by her fall striking the water.

Wiley said he based his opinion on the fact that he had not felt any wind blow through the control car, that the "severe gust" was different from any he had ever experienced and that he could not be sure of the exact order in which events occurred just before he was washed out of the ship into the water.

Wiley said he believed a down current of air pulled the dirigible, in the center of a terrific storm, down to destruction. Wiley, who previously argued he did not believe the Akron was struck by lightning, said she might have been struck without suffering any damage.

A naval court of inquiry learned yesterday that the U. S. S. Akron had reports that the weather was unfavorable for her purpose when she took off last Monday on the fatal mission that plunged her into the sea from lighted air.

Lieut. Commander H. V. Wiley, sole surviving officer of the great dirigible, testified that he and the commander had been informed the weather would be adverse. Wiley said he was advised the taking of the Akron was a "highly risky" proposition and that had weather conditions over Michigan were moving northward.

He added, however, that in his opinion there was no feeling of danger or apprehension in starting the flight at that time.

A trim figure in his blue dress uniform and long grey hair, Wiley, speaking slowly but clearly, also informed the court that he thought when lightning fast glared to the south after the ship had left Philadelphia was to change the course of the westward from the southerly direction the ship was making down the Delaware River.

Bank Cashier Turns Table Upon Robbers

ASHVILLE, Ala., Apr. 11.—(AP)—Pinning a pistol and firing instead of obeying the command to throw up his hands, J. C. Dubois, cashier, seriously wounded one of two men who attempted to hold up the savings bank here today. The men entered the bank, asked Dubois to change a dollar, and then drew a pistol. Dubois shot one of them, who was not identified, and the companion fled in an automobile.

MICHIGAN FIRST STATE TO RATIFY DRY LAW REPEAL

Vote Is 99 To One In Favor Of Elimination Of Prohibition

LANSING, MICH., Apr. 11.—(AP)—Michigan yesterday became the first state to ratify repeal of the national prohibition law. In crowded representative halls at the state capitol and to the accompaniment of cheers, hand-clapping and the stamping of feet, a constitutional convention of 100 delegates elected in a plebiscite a week ago voted 99 to one for elimination of the prohibition act from the nation's basic law.

The vote was in accord with the pre-election pledges of delegates. The lone negative vote was cast by a delegate from the town of Grand Haven, who introduced a resolution of commendation for his "courtroom department."

State officials, including Gov. William A. Comstock, delegates, convention guests and citizens who signed the letter, gathered in the grand hall of the capitol to witness the vote. The actual process of ratification required only a few minutes, but the delegates chose to make a "victory celebration" of the event.

They had been successful in two campaigns against prohibition during the last few months—first in the November election and again last week—and in full control, they prolonged the convention yesterday as much as possible.

To clinch the distinction of making Michigan the first state to ratify the repeal amendment, Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald plans to forward immediately to Washington a certified copy of the resolution adopted yesterday.

ST. PAUL, Apr. 11.—(AP)—Minnesota will vote Sept. 12 on ratification of the Eighteenth Amendment repeal under an act sent to the governor yesterday by the legislature.

HOUSE PASSES BILL RETAINING GASOLINE TAX

Receives Measure To Tax Legalized Beer And Give Revenue To School System

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 11.—(AP)—The house today passed 53 yeas to 27 nays the bill to retain the seventh cent gasoline tax. The bill was passed after a long and heated consideration of the measure after fighting off amendments to take revenue from the state.

The house received a bill to tax legalized beer and wine and send the revenue to the schools; to levy a general sales tax of two percent in most cases and to call a convention for revision of the state constitution.

The senate received bills to tax chain stores; to reduce salaries of state officials; to establish a state debt funding commission and redistrict congressional units of the state.

The house also passed bills to amend laws for suing out writs of error and to clarify the law on penalty for embezzlement. The house adopted a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of six senators and six representatives to set up a plan for judicial redistricting.

Reedfield of Citrus, who introduced the sales tax bill, estimated it would bring $15,000,000 annual revenue into the state treasury.

The beer and wine tax bill was introduced in the house which is a companion measure to the bill legalizing 3.2 beer and wines, was sent to the finance and taxation committee.

A bill to tax all retail stores and all chain stores was introduced by Andrews of Greenville to substitute for the 1931 act which the United States Supreme Court held invalid.

Ruth Judd's Lawyers Plan Final Appeal

PHOENIX, Apr. 11.—(AP)—With but a day or to remaining before Winnie Ruth Judd is removed to the death of her attorneys today planned a direct appeal to the state supreme court for her release by writ of habeas corpus. Mrs. Judd, sentenced to die at dawn Apr. 21 for the "Irish" murder of Agnes Leroi, lost another legal move yesterday in a superior court decision denying her a new trial.

ROPER UPBRAIDS U.S. TARIFFS AS TRADE MENACE

Head Of Commerce Department Also Reveals Economic

WASHINGTON, Apr. 11.—(AP)—A stout denunciation of American tariff barriers was made last night by Secretary Roper with a disclosure that the economy program of the administration is taking shape—$10,000,000 being chopped away from the commerce department's $34,000,000 appropriation for 1934.

The secretary in an address described American tariffs as "unreasonable and extreme" and said "any sincere attempt to restore the movement of goods between nations must involve a lowering of existing trade barriers."

"This administration, impelled by the pledge to the people of keeping government expenses within government income has within the last 30 days, carefully re-examined government revenues for 1934," Roper said, "and with the revised figures as a basis is making through the director of the budget a reapportionment."

The department of commerce under this reapportionment can spend in 1934 only about $34,000,000 instead of more than $40,000,000 in 1933.

The secretary said this was the first time in the history of the government that "an administration has suggested that it is not wise or safe to use money which the Congress itself has appropriated."

It was the first definite announcement of the amount that is to be trimmed from the various departments in the move to cut a billion dollars of expenses. Each department has been directed to cut at least 25 percent, and in many, including the postoffice department, this paring away is to be even larger.

LOTTERIES ARE BARRIED BY ACT OF CITY HEADS

Wilson Is Instructed To Draw Ordinance Permitting Sale Of Beer If State Acts

Final passage of a city ordinance prohibiting the possession or sale of bottles, "Cuba" lottery tickets in Sanford, and the reading of Wurt W. Werner's application for a permit to sell beer in this city if and when it is made lawful by a director.

The Roosevelt Administration came face to face yesterday with the forces which split Democratic senators and representatives into liberal and conservative wings at the last session of Congress, as conflict arose among his congressional friends over the new banking reform legislation.

Immediately after the reading of the application from Mr. Werner, who is manager of the Valley Hotel, the Commissioners ordered it filed, and instructed City Attorney E. R. Wilson to look into City ordinances for the purpose of drawing up an ordinance permitting the sale of beer here when it can be sold legally in the State.

In passing the ordinance "prohibiting the sale or possession of any lot, share or coupon in any lottery for money or other thing of value," the Commissioners did so after deciding that too much money is being spent locally in lotteries.

Belief that both President Roosevelt and Attorney General Cummings see the necessity of his Municipal Bankruptcy Bill is expressed in a letter received at the City Hall recently from Congressman Mark Wilcox of the 1st District. The letter was addressed to City Clerk P. S. Lamson who had rendered a prompt service that drew the praise of Congressman Wilcox.

The letter dated Apr. 6 reads as follows:

"Please accept my thanks for the promptness with which you answered my telegram asking for information on the operating and debt service budgets of Sanford for the last few years. I wanted this information to submit to the Judiciary Committee at the hearing on my Municipal Bankruptcy Bill, immediately upon receipt of this information. I prepared a sheet showing the trend of operating expenses in Sanford for the past few years and submitted together with the figures given me by you.

Complete Program For Big Transportation Control Agency Has Been Drafted

WASHINGTON, Apr. 11.—(AP)—A complete program for a huge transportation regulation agency under the commerce department has been completed by Secretary Roper and laid before President Roosevelt. Under the plan as outlined today in administration quarters the interstate Commerce Commission would remain a special unit retaining its quasi-judicial functions while its administrative activities will be transferred to the new agency.

An assistant secretary of commerce would preside over the transportation division with four separate units under him and each headed by a director.

The Roosevelt Administration came face to face yesterday with the forces which split Democratic senators and representatives into liberal and conservative wings at the last session of Congress, as conflict arose among his congressional friends over the new banking reform legislation.

City Attorney Fred R. Wilson, who was instructed by members of the Sanford City Commission last night to prepare an ordinance that will regulate the sale of beer in Sanford if and when the state law is repealed, today discovered that even if the legislature approves the beer bill, this beverage cannot be sold in Sanford under existing ordinances.

It cannot be sold legally because there are three Sanford ordinances which must be repealed before beer can be sold in Sanford. Since state laws govern county law enforcement regulations, the passage of the beer bill in the legislature would permit the sale of beer throughout Seminole County except where city ordinances expressly prohibit it.

Two of the City's ordinances have been in effect since before 1913 while a third ordinance relating to the subject was passed on June 18, 1923.

The ordinances are as follows:

"Section 140, revised ordinance, City of Sanford: Sale of malt brew prohibited—it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or dispose of the drink or beverage commonly known as malt brew or any other beverage of like nature, which contains more than three-fourths of one per cent of alcohol.

FINAL ADVICE GIVEN PUBLIC ON ELECTION

Strict Requirements Are Pointed Out In Casting Ballot For Legislative Group

Aware that there is the possibility that many votes may be thrown away because of "incorrect" spelling and marking, when tellers start counting the ballots cast during tomorrow's special election throughout Seminole County, the four candidates for the house of representatives' seat left vacant by the death of Representative-elect H. S. White today joined voices in asking the electors to "vote carefully."

While this confusion may arise because it is the first time in the history of this county that a blank ballot will be handed to a voter, the actual mechanics of voting is simple.

In order for any vote to be counted, it is necessary that the voter write the name of his candidate on the ballot and after so doing, place an "X" mark below the name. That's all there is to it. However, the candidates name must be written correctly and the initials must be those of the candidate.

According to placards that will be placed in a prominent position at every election place, the correct names of the four announced candidates are as follows: Frank Kay Anderson, W. R. Dupree, C. W. Entlinger, and W. B. Williams.

If for instance, you plan to vote for Mr. Anderson, you must write in the words "Frank Kay Anderson" and place an "X" mark below the name. Your vote will not count if it reads "Mr. Anderson," "Frank Anderson," or any other variation. The same procedure must be followed in the case of the other candidates—write the name as it is spelled on the placard.

The candidates also remind the people of the county that all who vote or were qualified to vote in November, and those who became qualified since that time read up (Continued On Page Four)

EXISTING LOCAL LAWS PROHIBIT BEER IN SANFORD

City Ordinance Must Be Changed Before Brew Can Be Sold

City Attorney Fred R. Wilson, who was instructed by members of the Sanford City Commission last night to prepare an ordinance that will regulate the sale of beer in Sanford if and when the state law is repealed, today discovered that even if the legislature approves the beer bill, this beverage cannot be sold in Sanford under existing ordinances.

It cannot be sold legally because there are three Sanford ordinances which must be repealed before beer can be sold in Sanford. Since state laws govern county law enforcement regulations, the passage of the beer bill in the legislature would permit the sale of beer throughout Seminole County except where city ordinances expressly prohibit it.

Two of the City's ordinances have been in effect since before 1913 while a third ordinance relating to the subject was passed on June 18, 1923.

FIGHT TO FINISH SEEN IN EFFORT AT BEER CONTROL

Organized Gangsters Have Declared War On Legalized Trade

CHICAGO, Apr. 11.—(AP)—Declaring organized gangsters have prepared a united front to attempt control of the legal beer industry, the employers' association called upon Chicago business men yesterday for "a battle to the finish."

"The advent of legal beer," the association said in a statement, "signifies the opening of one of the deadliest battles that has yet developed on the hood unit front."

"The hoodlum bosses of the racket will now go into action in the new field of legitimate beer. . . .

"It is going to be a battle which law enforcement authorities and legitimate business interests outside the brewing industry can not view with detachment or unconcern. . . . Legitimate business is in face to face with a united opposition."

The association listed evidence of gangsters attempting to enter the beer industry.

Elks Will Install New Officers With Impressive Rites

Tomorrow is a red letter day in local Elks lodge circles.

Members will gather at the Elks Club tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock for the purpose of installing their new officers, but also will gather to witness the world's champion, rhythmic team in action. The team is composed of the officers of the New Smyrna lodge headed by Rev. F. J. Downey as exalted ruler.

In order that the championship team as well as Elks from DeLand, Orlando, Daytona Beach, and other cities are properly entertained, officers of the Sanford lodge today were completing arrangements for a general social period at the conclusion of the ceremony.

Plea Is Made To Have Children Inoculated

Inasmuch as a certificate of state funds prevents the appearance here of a state physician for the purpose of vaccinating and inoculating children against smallpox and diphtheria, Mrs. Dorothy Lamb, county school nurse, today appealed to the mothers of school children asking that they take their children to family physicians at once so that this necessary immunization may be completed.

In the past few years, the state has been providing this service, she said, but there has been a drastic curtailment recently. This service, besides being a routine procedure against the two diseases, is a state requirement where the child is entered in the county for Blue Ribbon certificates. For this reason, Mrs. Lamb is hopeful that all mothers have their children immunized at once for so many of them are in the hotly.

Dramatic Account Given Concerning Ogpu Activities

LONDON, Apr. 11.—(AP)—A dramatic account of the OGPU (Russian secret police) method of handling British prisoners accused of sabotage was contained in a second white paper issued last night which set forth further telegraphic and telephone communications between British diplomatic officials in Moscow and the foreign office.

One telegram, mentioning "a typical example of OGPU methods," said that last October, John Cusby, one of the British men facing trial, was approached and requested to do certain work for the Soviet unknown to his country.

"He was offered $250 a month but refused, although approached on several occasions," the telegram said. "In November a Russian woman was sent for by the authorities and instructed to persuade Monkhouse to do this work. She refused."

(Alan Monkhouse, also British, is Moscow director of the Metropolitan Vickers Electrical Company. All of the six British subjects involved in the sabotage case in Russia are affiliated with this company.)

Robed Men Sought In Killing Of Miamiian

MIAMI, Apr. 11.—(AP)—Six automobile loads of "men in white robes" were being hunted today as authorities sought the solution of the slaying of Burton Wilson and the serious wounding of R. F. Eulerson in a house here. Neighbors said the men in white robes drove up to the house and shortly afterward several shots were fired. Wilson, clutching a pistol, was found shot through the temple. Eulerson was wounded in the abdomen. Investigators have not determined the cause of the shooting.

Wilcox Is Hopeful Bankruptcy Bill Is To Be Successful

Belief that both President Roosevelt and Attorney General Cummings see the necessity of his Municipal Bankruptcy Bill is expressed in a letter received at the City Hall recently from Congressman Mark Wilcox of the 1st District. The letter was addressed to City Clerk P. S. Lamson who had rendered a prompt service that drew the praise of Congressman Wilcox.

The letter dated Apr. 6 reads as follows:

"Please accept my thanks for the promptness with which you answered my telegram asking for information on the operating and debt service budgets of Sanford for the last few years. I wanted this information to submit to the Judiciary Committee at the hearing on my Municipal Bankruptcy Bill, immediately upon receipt of this information. I prepared a sheet showing the trend of operating expenses in Sanford for the past few years and submitted together with the figures given me by you.

"This information was necessary as a part of the hearing because the United States Chamber of Commerce in contesting my bill had made the statement that the municipalities and taxing units of the county which are in distress are extravagant in their operations and that if they would reduce their operating costs they could pay their debts. By securing the information from Sanford and numbers of other cities which are in financial straits, I was able to make a very nice showing that the municipalities in Florida have reduced their operating expenses to the irreducible minimum. I also was able to show that in many of these municipalities they could not pay their debts even if all operating costs were completely wiped out."

"We concluded the hearing this afternoon after an all-day argument. This was the third hearing which the Committee has given me. I expect the Committee to make a report sometime within the next few days, and if they report favorably, I will then ask the bill before the floor of the House and try to get its passage at this session. I have interviewed the President and Attorney General and both of them appeared to see the necessity of the law. I believe that if the Committee gives me a favorable report, I shall be able to get the President to include the bill in his emergency program, thereby securing an early passage of it."

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY MAKES PLEA FOR HELP

Fagg Asks Those Who Can To Take Boys, Girls Into Homes

Declaring that the strained financial condition of the Children's Home Society at Jacksonville is such that it is now necessary to place many children in private homes throughout Florida, Marcus C. Fagg, head of the home, today makes the following appeal to the residents of this section:

"Will you take one or two homeless boys or girls into your home just for the summer months this year, and thus assist The Children's Home Society of Florida, to pull through what will undoubtedly be its hardest summer? Last year between 50 and 60 homeless boys and girls were placed in good family homes for the summer—but this year The Home Society hopes to place at least four times that many children—or over 200 Homeless Children, in good homes—in an effort to see that these children are cared for without cost to the Society during the coming summer.

"The Children's Home Society of Florida is facing the most critical financial condition, it has ever faced, during its 30 years of service to over 21,000 homeless, orphan and needy children of our state, and will not be able to provide food, shelter, clothing and care for its hundreds of helpless children, unless many big hearted families all over the state will come to the rescue, and send in funds, food, clothing promptly, or will provide a good home for scores of these homeless children for the summer.

"The Home Society does not place out babies or children under six years of age for the summer, for it has a waiting list of families wanting babies and little children under six years, all the year-round.

"Homes are badly needed, however, for boys and girls from six to 16 years of age. Full information will be given regarding the family history and the personal habits of each child. The Society does not have any delinquent or incorrigible children under its care.

"Work or wage homes are badly needed too, for about 40 older boys and girls from 14 to 18 years of age, who desire to secure homes where they can earn their board and keep, and a little money to enable them to secure clothing and shoes. These older boys and girls must start out for themselves after the school closes in April and May as the Home Society cannot afford to provide for them any longer.

"Any family of good character in Florida may apply for a homeless boy or girl to Marcus C. Fagg, State Superintendent—428 St. James Building, Jacksonville, Florida—or by personal visit to any one of its receiving homes in Jacksonville, Pensacola, Lakeland or the Junior League Children's Home in Miami.

"Full information will be readily given. The children will be ready to leave for summer homes as soon as the public schools close in April and May.

"Who will be the first to take a fine homeless boy or girl?"

STAGE READY FOR ELECTION SLATED APR. 12

(Continued From Page One) placed in front of that name." With the exception of Mr. Dupree, who moved to Sanford from Lake Mary some weeks ago, all the candidates are residents of county towns. They are, however, all well known in Sanford.

Mr. Anderson, who announced his candidacy on Saturday when under the terms of a bill passed by the Legislature last week he became eligible to be a candidate, is one of Florida's better known newspapermen. His connection with the Florida Grower as associate editor brought him into contact with many state personalities and problems, and while he is new to politics, he is thoroughly familiar with the problems of the state. He resides on a large orange grove near Altamonte Springs.

"If the people of the county choose me I shall stand for economy in its fullest sense, and it is the opportunity to aid in effecting vitally necessary legislation which induces me to offer as a candidate," he said Saturday.

Mr. Dupree announced himself as a candidate "at the suggestion of many of my friends and taxpayers." He has resided in this county for more than 12 years, and was one of the officers who helped promote the Seminole County Taxpayers Association last summer. He has promised to work for and support the 17 cents in the League of Municipalities program and the 11 cents in the Statewide Taxpayers Association program.

"I wish to state that I am not a politician or lawyer, and without reference to any one, I feel that we should have more representation by business men who have their hearts with the overburdened taxpayers," he declared in his announcement.

Mr. Entminger, Longwood resident since 1905, was the first to announce. A former representative from this county, Mr. Entminger is not new to political life, for besides his service as a representative in 1929 at Tallahassee, he was for 13 years county commissioner from his district, while for 16 years he was a member of the Longwood Special School District.

In his announcement he said "I stand for any measures that will

Cloudburst Prevents Scheduled Ball Game With Orlando Outfit

The veritable cloudburst which struck this city early Saturday afternoon caused a postponement of a scheduled baseball game between Manager Joe Barnes' Sanford Celerys and Manager Squire Godbold's Orlando outfit. The field was unfit for play after the rain, and the Orlando outfit, disappointed primarily because they were expecting a victory, returned home.

Denied at least one practice tilt before the opening of the season in Orlando next Sunday afternoon, Manager Barnes will spend the entire week getting his boys ready for a fast get-away. Practice sessions will be held daily bringing about economical operation of our government and help reduce taxes so that we can hold on to our homes, our business, our farms and groves," and "I invite the support of those qualified voters who are interested in sound, economical government to assist me in this election."

Mr. Williams, a resident of Oviedo, where he has been a grower since 1928, "HAS" had considerable political experience. He came to Florida in 1910 from Illinois, where, at Mt. Vernon, he served 7500 citizens as mayor for two terms, and as county treasurer and county engineer. A contractor by profession, he built sewers at St. Petersburg and Sarasota, as well as drainage canals in many sections of Florida. He was named as Sanford City Manager in 1923 and served in that office for five years.

"I am for strict economy in all departments of the State Government and I will aid Sanford and Seminole County in every way possible if I am elected to this office," he said in his announcement.

"BOWLING NOTES"

McKnight Cleaners and Ballard's Feed teams of the Sanford Bowling League scored two out of three game victories over the Valdez Hotel and Randall Electric teams on the local alleys Friday night.

John Weaver of the Valdez team was high three game scorer with 534 pins, in the first match, while George Habe of the Ballard team rolled 518 points in three games in the second match of the evening.

As a result of the matches, the Forrest Gatchel and Ballard teams are now tied for first place with eight pins and four losses each.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

ISAIAH 50:2: Your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear.

MOUNTAIN PEOPLE

Who will lament these simple mountaineers when presently they take their holiday in headless dust, or who will pause to say "Avea threnodies appropriately theirs?"

WONDER IF IT WOULD BE CONSTITUTIONAL

For the Legislature to fix the legal rate of interest at 3.25 percent.

As a Minnesota farmer, writing to the Chicago Tribune, expressed what the farmers really need relief from relief.

These days the average farm produces a lot of disappointments. Times-Union. But the markets produce more than the farms.

It seems to be pretty definitely decided that Ruth Bryan Owen will be the first woman to hold such a position in the diplomatic corps.

Many legislators seem to be in favor of the homestead exemption bill. Many citizens of Florida are, too, but they probably don't understand that such a law would bring on more talk about a sales tax.

Don't forget that everyone can vote in Wednesday's election. Candidates are Frank K. Anderson, W. R. DuPre, C. W. Enslinger, and W. E. Williams.

Aiding Florida Cities

Of particular interest to Sanford is the administration measure recently introduced in the State Legislature providing for the appointment of a receiver...

According to its terms, the receiver would have the power to employ technical experts for the purpose of making a general survey of the city with a view to determining its ability to pay interest and sinking fund requirements on its bonds.

Another section of the bill provides that with the millage once set the courts would be prevented from interfering in any way with the tax levies. There could be no mandamus proceedings by some disgruntled bondholder demanding a special levy for his particular bonds.

Particularly interesting in the requirement that bondholders committees file the names and addresses of the actual owners of the bonds whom they represent.

At the same time a state refunding agency would be established which would have the power to sell refunding bonds of the taxing unit in distress or to exchange them for the proceeds of defaulted bonds.

This refunding bill which Governor Sholtz has prepared, to our way of thinking, is the most practical and comprehensive program for alleviating distressed cities and counties we have seen.

We hope the bill will have clear sailing through the Legislature.

Ever The Same

Time changes everything, but even in these days of hurried efforts to discard the old for the new there remains one notable institution which goes on much the same as of yore.

The West Point cadet of 1933 studies the same courses and pursues the same routine and customs which were a part of the military novitiate of his illustrious predecessors like Lee, Grant, Custer, and Pershing.

It is true that some new buildings have come into existence at the "Point" and that, whereas Pershing used to arise at reveille and dash out into the cold winter morning to get his washing water, the men today do their scrubbing in porcelain basins; but the cadets this year strip down beds each morning, fold the bedding and flip the mattresses not only as did John J. Pershing but as did U. S. Grant, Robert E. Lee, or Jefferson Davis.

Since the institution's beginning, 400 men arrive each year in July to begin the first grueling weeks known as "Beast Barracks." During this time the men are grounded in the fundamentals of soldiering and become acquainted with the rigorous routine of cadet life.

During the first year the men are known as plebes and have no social privileges, and may not, as a general rule, have contacts with cadets other than their own classmates.

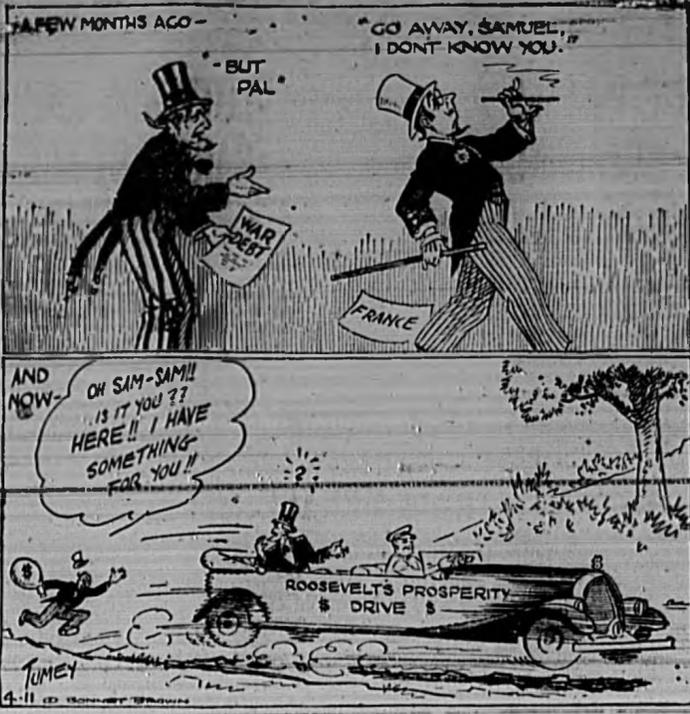

Lee and Pershing, as have all the plebes before them, sat stiffly in their chairs during mess and kept their eyes rigidly on their plates. They, too, pulled in their necks at the demand of upperclassmen.

PRESSING MR. FARLEY FOR JOBS

The Democratic Congressional Committee, unable thus far to raise any great amount of funds for its work, has organized a "League of Sorrow" and is sending delegates to Postmaster General Farley in protest against the scanty supply of patronage which has been forthcoming thus far.

Gene Austin Is Ably Supported By Cast

While Gene Austin is the headline attraction of "Broadway Rhapsody," the Variety Guild production which comes to the Milner Theater Saturday night and night, he is ably supported by a cast of famous radio and stage stars.

One of the chief attractions of the performance will be the Original Brights, red-headed girl orchestra, rated the best female band in the country.

Mr. Farley no doubt will be perfectly objective when it comes time to make the appointments, but neither the President nor he intends to be a rubber stamp for any congressman.

And he has his own idea as to fitness for important positions. For instance, he has selected William L. Austin, of Mississippi, as Director of the Census rather than "John Doe," who brought in a lot of votes in the last campaign.

CHERRY BLOSSOM TIME IS ENJOYED AT WASHINGTON

Crowds Throng To Delight At Beauteous Arboreal Display

WASHINGTON, Apr. 11.—(AP)—Last Sunday was the annual Sunday when, in Washington, life is just a great, big bowl of cherry blossoms.

About the bowl—it's called the Tidal Basin—automobiles circle in endless parade. Over its the gulls and airplanes fly. Along its seawall pedestrians take their yearly stroll.

It's the same lyric scene of pink perfection each spring-time, but the year 1933 brought a new way of seeing it—right from the surface of the centerpiece in a little drive-it-yourself boat.

A fleet of 20 of these boats, bright red and green and orange, with "delicacies" to keep them cool in a good snail's pace, appeared upon the cherry-circled pool.

Little boys, proudly steering, took their mamas out for a boat ride. Young men piloted their best girls. Dad gave the whole family a good time. One boat might have been entitled "Sailor's Holiday," for in it were four blue-jackets of the briny, brightening shore-leaves with amusement of their chere.

But the best little boat of all was out to get really intimate with the cherry-blossoms, so as to capture them at their most picturesque moments with a camera.

It chugged close to the shore to a place where the branches hung low over the sea wall, slightly swaying in the sun-splashing those who passed beneath with shadow.

Lovely ladies in new spring suits-walked there. Little children scampered past and threw sticks into the water. An infant was wheeled past in an ingenious perambulator, collapsible like a camp-chair, with rollers on its long legs.

A policeman walked past, just basking in the beauty of doing duty under the cherry trees.

A little girl who saw him shrilled friendly warning to a woman who had pulled down a branch to pose for a picture. "Lid, don't you pick one o' those cherry blossoms! If you do you'll get arrested!"

Further out west the little camera-carrying boat to get a larger perspective on the tall needle of Washington monument and the white top of Lincoln Memorial with the pinky white

Luckies Please! In every corner of the world, both here and overseas, wherever you find joy in life, 'tis always 'Luckies Please!' Two things that everybody wants! When smart folk gather along the mild and lovely Neapolitan Riviera—how natural it is to see Luckies there... for people the world over want a cigarette that has Character... and Mildness. 'Luckies Please!' because 'It's toasted'
