Students line up to toss non-dairy cream pies at teachers.

Sixth Grader Leslie Stayton tries her hand at bean bag throwing.

Although the mercury registered low Saturday, spirits were high at Rock Lake Middle School, which opened Jan. 2. The occasion was the Raider Day carnival scheduled to raise funds for the school's audio visual, music and athletic equipment. Activities, which got underway at noon, included the sale of hot dogs, a pie throwing contest, games, a haunted house, tours of the school, an "Anything Goes" olympics, a spaghetti dinner cooked by school Principal Sal Manfre, a band and choir concert, an auction and a dance for students.

According to Jean Porter, the carnival co-chairman, the event was expected to raise about $8,000.

Rep. Kelly Points To Longwood Man

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

U.S. Rep. Richard Kelly's office said today the Longwood man, who got the congressman involved in "Abscam," the FBI undercover operation, may well have been an FBI agent who infiltrated organized crime, or FBI informant. Kelly believed, Purvis said. Bill Purvis, press secretary to Kelly, R-New York, said Kelly suspected soon after meeting Eugene "Gino" Cuzio, 78 Sweetbriar Branch, Longwood, through a mutual acquaintance that Cuzio was connected with the Mafia. Kelly originally met the man in the early fall, 1978, at an Altamonte Springs restaurant, Purvis said. The congressman was introduced to "Gino" by a mutual acquaintance, as a businessman who had experience in "direct mail" and contacts in the labor union movement. Purvis explained "direct mail" is generally use of the mails for business and political purposes, noting Kelly's particular interest in tapping Cuzio for information on whether he would have heavy union opposition in the elections this year and if that opposition could be neutralized. After several meetings, Purvis said Kelly came to regard Cuzio as a "high roller" and became curious about what the Longwood man really had in mind. "From the way Gino was acting, he had more in mind than he was talking about," Kelly believed, Purvis said. "Through Gino, Rosenberg (William Rosenberg of Lynbrook, N.Y.) and Weiss (Stanley Weiss of Smithtown, N.Y.) came into the picture, Purvis said. Newsday, published in Long Island, N.Y., has reported Rosenberg recently completed a four-month term in the Allenwood, Pa., federal penitentiary on a Securities and Exchange Commission violation. Weiss has been identified as Cuzio's accountant for the past 25 years. Newsday also reported that Cuzio was formerly a bodyguard for the head of a New York Mafia family. It has been reported that Cuzio, Rosenberg and Weiss accompanied Kelly to a Washington house where Kelly accepted $25,000 from undercover FBI agents in exchange for the promise to introduce legislation permitting a non-entitled Arab sheik to enter the country. Purvis said today Cuzio arranged with Kelly to go to the house to talk about the Arab's problem. The press secretary said Kelly heard the meeting was actually an FBI undercover operation at about 1:30 a.m. Sunday. Kelly called the FBI from Washington Sunday and arranged to return the money. The money was $20,000 in new $100 bills and $5,000 in $20s. Purvis said the money when returned was short about $174. He said the congressman, believing he was being watched, spent that money for lunches and other small items in Washington and in Florida's fifth congressional district during the period of time from when he received it on Jan. 8 until it was returned. The money was of the same as given to Kelly, Purvis said. None has been converted. Purvis said Kelly believed the offer of money, his refusal, the second offer and his acceptance of the money was the first in what would be a series of events. He said Kelly thought the offer was an attempt to compromise him so he could be put to other use. Purvis said Kelly thought he would be contacted later and through extortion or blackmail would be advised about what was expected of him next. He did not want to disclose to anyone what had happened but rather to follow the thread and see where it led," Purvis said. Asked if he kept a diary of the events or if he had confided what was happening in anyone, Purvis said, "He hadn't told me. I don't know. He did not confide in me." Asked why the congressman feels he was chosen by the FBI for inclusion in the scam operation, Purvis said the congressman doesn't know. "This will probably be developing over a period of time as the story continues," the press secretary said. Cuzio was not available for comment at his Woodlands subdivision home today. A woman at his home referred callers to a Winter Park area telephone number. That number was answered by a man who identified himself as Joe Roer, Cuzio's attorney. Roer said he could not comment on Kelly's remarks. Kelly, one of eight members of Congress implicated in the bribery scandal, is the first public official to admit he accepted cash from undercover agents posing as representatives of a fictitious Arab sheik seeking help with immigration and business problems. Kelly said in an interview with NBC-TV Wednesday night he locked the $25,000 in the glove compartment of his car and then used some of it for lunch money. On Sunday, the day after the FBI operation was revealed publicly, he turned over all but $174 of the money to the FBI. Kelly, 55, said he was investigating what he believed to be shady characters when he went to a posh Washington house with a man named "Gino" to discuss his possible assistance in immigration matters. The man pulled the money out of a drawer and offered it to Kelly, he said. "I would have preferred not to have taken the money but I also did not want the investigation to die there because I

Lake Mary Police Catch Alleged Kidnapper

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Timothy Bollinger, charged with breaking and entering, aggravated assault, aggravated battery and kidnapping by the Lake Mary Police Department, was scheduled for first court appearance before County Judge Wallace Hall at 1:30 p.m. today.

He is being held at the Seminole County jail without bond. Bollinger was apprehended by Lake Mary Patrolman James Horton at the Lake Mary Baptist Mission on Lakeshore Avenue at 1 a.m. today. The police department conducted a four-hour search for Bollinger in the wooded area behind Lake Mary Elementary School Wednesday afternoon after Ms. Deborah Clark, victim of an alleged kidnapping by Bollinger earlier in the week, returned safely to her Fourth Street home in the city at 12:30 p.m. Bollinger is charged with abducting Ms. Clark from her home at 261 Fourth St., at about 11 p.m. Monday. According to police reports, Bollinger caught up Ms. Clark's sister, Linda Willis, while he was attempting to kidnap Ms. Clark. Ms. Willis had surgery for a broken nose Wednesday night at Seminole Memorial Hospital. A second sister, Pamela Collins, escaped from the house while the incident was being beaten and reported to the police department. Bollinger took Ms. Clark away in his car, Det. Sgt. David Higinbotham said. Sgt. Higinbotham said Bollinger, according to Ms. Clark's account, took her to an Orlando motel Monday night and to a Leesburg motel Tuesday night. Running short on money, he drove within a few blocks of Ms. Clark's home Wednesday and, before jumping out of the car near the wooded area, ordered her to get home and pick up her paycheck, left in a pocketbook there. Higinbotham said the police had staked out the Fourth Street house since the kidnapping and were on hand when Ms. Clark drove into the driveway there. Higinbotham said Ms. Clark had a few scrapes and bruises, a lump on her arm, and a hunk of hair pulled from her head during the abduction. She was well when she returned home and declined medical treatment, he said. immediately get a repairman, Walters explained. When Florida Gas was contacted, its emergency crew today after a gas leak forced evacuation of their houses near the intersection of County Road 46 and Airport Boulevard just outside of Sanford. Over a 20-minute series of calls, firefighters were able to convince Florida Gas workers it was their station leaking and that they should send a man. But the man they initially sent knew only about mains, and could not repair a distribution valve. Finally, a metering station repairman arrived to close the leaking valve and five minutes later residents were allowed to return to their homes, Walters said. Because natural gas, which is lighter than air, was leaking, there was never a major danger to area residents, Walters explained. Atmospheric conditions this morning prevented all of the gas from immediately rising into the sky, he said.

U.S. And Iran Near Deal, Newspaper Says

By DAVID M. RAZLER
Herald Staff Writer

The United States and Iran are nearing a "face-saving" agreement that would lead to the deliverance of 50 American hostages, confined for 96 days in the besieged U.S. Embassy in Tehran, the Kuwaiti newspaper Al Anba said today. "The first step toward a settlement will be the establishment of an international commission to look into the crimes of the ousted shah," the newspaper said. "Once the commission finishes its report, the hostages will be handed over to U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim and the United States will lift its sanctions against Iran." Iran's Foreign Ministry, contacted by telephone from London, confirmed information Minister Nasser Minachi, jailed Wednesday, was freed from custody early today.

The government minister's release followed Iranian President Abolhasan Bani-Sadr's open confrontation with Moslem militants whose charges against Minachi led to his arrest. The president chastised the militants for acting like "children who don't know what they are doing." The Kuwaiti newspaper said the agreement between Iran and the United States was possible now that President Abolhasan Bani-Sadr has assumed his duties. The newspaper gave no source for its report, but said: "The United States and Iran are working on the final touches of a face-saving agreement which will not be embarrassing for both sides." The State Department in Washington had no immediately comment on the report. Bani-Sadr denounced the militants Wednesday for their role in the jailing of Minachi, whom they charged with CIA connections. The powerful ruling Revolutionary Council responded by ordering Minachi's immediate release. In a related development, airport authorities allowed a group of 50 Americans invited to Iran by the militants to "study the revolution" to enter the country, Western press reports said. The group arrived in Tehran late Wednesday but was refused entry on grounds that its members did not have entry visas. The Revolutionary Council ruled late Wednesday, however, to allow the group into the country as guests of the militants who occupied the embassy. Speaking on Tehran Radio, monitored by the BBC in London, Bani-Sadr said of the militants: "I think the nation which has voted for me does not agree with this kind of behavior."

Slow Gas-Leak Repair Keeps Residents Cold

Twenty people spent the early morning hours in the cold today after a gas leak forced evacuation of their houses near the intersection of County Road 46 and Airport Boulevard just outside of Sanford. The residents were forced out of their houses from 12:30 to about 2 a.m. while Seminole firefighters waited for a Florida Gas workers to arrive for a five-minute repair job, said Battalion Chief J. Walters. Walters said the department received a call about leaking gas at 12:25 from an all-night sewer cleaning crew located across the street from the Florida Gas metering and distribution station. The officers, aided by sheriff's deputies, evacuated about 20 residents from houses downwind of the gas, forcing them out into the 47-degree night. But firefighters were not able to im-

Sports-Transfer Denials Bring Calls For State Probe

By DIANE PETRYK
Herald Staff Writer

"Investigate me, or let my son play baseball," Lyman High School parent Gene Green demanded of the Seminole County School Board Wednesday night. The board was considering a motion to invite a representative of the Florida High School Athletic Activities Association (FHSAAA) to come into the county and investigate charges of athletic recruitment in the cases of three students who recently transferred schools. And if no evidence of recruitment is found, those students may be allowed to participate in sports, the motion stipulated. It passed 3 to 2. Boardmembers Robert G. Feather, who proposed the motion, Pat Telson, who seconded it, and Roland Williams voted for it. Members Allan F. Keeth and William J. Kroll voted against it. And after his passage, exasperated School Superintendent William P. Leyer said: "Don't you understand it's not your concern, Mr. Feather? The board has no jurisdiction in this matter!" He explained FHSAAA regulations say students who transfer may not participate in athletics unless they obtain a waiver signed by the two principals involved, the chairman of the school board or the superintendent of schools. School Board attorney Ned Julian, Jr., gave his legal opinion that the full board could not direct the chairman of the board to sign a waiver. Thus, Leyer contended, the board is powerless in the matter.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Green, whose son Gene transferred to Lyman High School from Lake Howell High School this school year and was denied the right to play baseball, maintained that Leyer instructed Lake Howell Principal Richard Evans not to sign a waiver for their son. Leyer himself would not sign it and board chairman Keeth indicated he wouldn't also. Feather's motion will invite Floyd Lay, executive secretary of the FHSAAA, to investigate the Green case and those of Sylvester Wynn and Harold Daniels, who were refused permission to join the intercollegiate basketball team of Lake Howell High School after they transferred there from Seminole High School for, they said, academic reasons. The FHSAAA is the governing body of high school athletics in the state of Florida.

Another motion by Feather to direct the board chairman to carry out his first motion failed on a tie vote because Mrs. Telson left the meeting early to attend to a foot injury. Feather made the motion in response to Keeth's expressed reluctance to contact Lay. Keeth said he wouldn't know what he would ask Lay to do or what evidence he would give him. "Unless there's proof, calling on Mr. Lay to come down here and conduct a witch hunt isn't what I would like to see done," Keeth said. Leyer maintained that the board would gain nothing by the investigation and it has no power to grant waivers. He insisted he would not sign any waivers even if there was no recruitment, "because the board overruled its own policy in August." It was school board policy, he explained, not to permit transfers for any reason after July 1 for the next school year. But in August, he said, the board waived this policy and allowed the three students to transfer. The Greens maintain the other students may have been told that but they were not. Minutes of the meeting indicated they were told, but the Greens said the minutes were in error. Previous to Feather's motions, the board unanimously passed a motion by Mrs. Telson to express the board's full support of FHSAAA rules on the recruitment of students for athletics and encourage enforcement of them. Leyer presented a form parents of transfer students will be asked to sign in the future, informing them of the policy on athletic eligibility.

Soviet Forces Preparing To Counter Guerrillas?

By United Press International
Soviet-backed Afghan forces reportedly have been using air strikes and artillery to counter fierce rebel resistance in eastern Afghanistan.
In apparent preparation for a major military operation, hundreds of fresh Soviet troops are being flown into the Afghan capital of Kabul and Afghan units are being built up with Russian soldiers filling the ranks. The Times of London reported today in a dispatch from Kabul.
In Washington, a State Department source today could only confirm "there are preparations for what they would call counter-guerrilla activity."
Estimates of the number of Soviet troops in Afghanistan have been increased from 87,000 to 90,000.

El Salvador Crisis Simmers

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI)—Members of El Salvador's diplomatic corps negotiated with the nation's ruling junta for the release of the Spanish ambassador and seven other hostages held by leftists at the Spanish Embassy, now threatened by attacks from rightist groups.
Earlier Wednesday, right-wing terrorists said they would blow up the embassy if 30 members of the leftist Feb. 28 Popular Leagues did not leave the mission.
"Everything is normal. There is some tension but that is normal under the circumstances," said Leagues spokesman who identified himself as Jacinto Morales.

Gold Price Leaps $30

HONG KONG (UPI)—The price of gold leaped $30 at the opening of trading in Hong Kong today and remained steady through the day, closing at $714.50 an ounce.
The metal closed at $685 per ounce in Hong Kong Wednesday and opened today at $712.
Gold dealers attributed the sharp rise in the opening price to unbalanced reports Chinese advisers were guiding and accompanying Moslem rebel attacks in Afghanistan.

Paper Opposes Clark Move

TORONTO (UPI)—Prime Minister Joe Clark "must not be allowed" to reintroduce the budget that led to his government's downfall, The Toronto Star said in an editorial Wednesday.
Canada's largest newspaper, which endorsed Liberals leader Pierre Trudeau earlier, said voters must be reminded it was the Dec. 11 federal budget that forced this election. And, it added, Clark had pledged to reintroduce the same budget if re-elected.

'Horribly' Your Valentine?

LONDON (UPI)—Just in time for Valentine's Day, Sotheby's auction house is offering some of Britain's most "horribly sentimental" greeting cards for lovers.
"They range from Victorian to Edwardian, up to 1915," said Elizabeth Tall, secretary for the prestigious auction house.
"They are quite decorative, but some of them are horribly sentimental."

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: More snow was predicted today for the Southeast, where unseasonably cold ocean temperatures threatened the white shrimp crop in South Carolina. Snow warnings were in effect for the Middle Atlantic Coast, but New England ski resorts continued to wish for something other than clear skies. At least 12 deaths have been blamed on three days of blustery winter weather that pushed from the Plains to the East. Southern Wisconsin and parts of Illinois got their heaviest snows of the season, and snowplows were pressed into service in Milwaukee for the first time this winter. Schools were shut down in parts of Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia and Tennessee. Heavy snow warnings on the Central Atlantic Coast extended from northern North Carolina through Delaware and eastern Maryland. Travelers advised for snow-covered roads and scattered snow showers reached from southern New Jersey and southeastern Pennsylvania through the eastern two-thirds of Tennessee.

Mills Gets Life For Taking Murder Gun

Convicted murderer Gregory Mills was sentenced to life imprisonment Wednesday for the burglary in which he stole a gun later used to kill a Sanford man.
Circuit Court Judge Roger Dykes sentenced Mills to life followed by five years on the first two of seven felonies Mills stands convicted of.
But Mills may not even live out the lighter of the two sentences. The state's attorney's office intends to ask for the death penalty for the May 25, 1979, shotgun murder of 72-year-old retired Sanford businessman James Wright during a burglary.

Mills was being tried for the crime.
Before Mills receives his sentence on the murder charge from Circuit Court Judge J. William Woodson, he will first be sentenced for armed robbery and false imprisonment, two charges he was convicted of last month.
According to the state's attorney's office, Mills, 22, has a long list of prior convictions for violent crimes. He was first arrested at the age of nine on a theft charge, and since that time has been found guilty of many larcenies, robberies and purse snatchings.
Mills was sentenced Wednesday for burglarizing the home of John Fox, 1820 Magnolia Ave., Sanford, on May 9, and stealing a rifle and shotgun.
The shotgun was later used in the Wright murder and robbery of a convenience store clerk by Mills that month.
At the time of the three crimes, Mills was out on parole on armed robbery charge, a state's attorney's office spokesman said.—DAVID M. RAZLER

Silent Alarm Tips Deputies

School Burglar Escapes With Nothing

By DAVID M. RAZLER
Herald Staff Writer
A silent alarm at the Midway Elementary School prevented a thief from stealing two television sets but the burglar escaped Wednesday night.
Sheriff's deputies say they responded to the alarm at 9:44 p.m. Wednesday to find glass broken out of a door and two television sets and a phonograph moved outside the building.
Although they stationed a man in front of the building while they secured the rear, a suspect was able to run from the scene and deputies were unable to catch him.
Deputies say they will be checking the televisions for fingerprints and other evidence, adding the thief apparently escaped empty-handed.

MAN SURRENDERS ON RAPE CHARGES

A Fern Park man surrendered to sheriff's deputies Wednesday morning when he learned he had been charged in two counts of sexual battery on a 15-year-old woman.
Robert D. Berry, 36, of Apartment 148, 200 Fern Park Blvd., was held in lieu of $100,000 bail on the two charges of battery on a Winter Springs youth last November. His bail was reduced from $100,000 to Court Judge Wallace Hall.

Sources said hidden FBI cameras filmed that scene — and similar ones allegedly involving other congressmen — on videotape.
"I felt that I was simply being compromised at this time," Kelly said. "What was going on in that room about the immigration and all was just some sort of game."
"And I felt as though I had a unique opportunity because I was a congressman to get this information while it was, in my opinion, it was crooked."
Kelly is the only Republican among the congressmen implicated in the scandal. As a circuit court judge, he was impeached by the Florida House of Representatives in 1982 for "judicial tyranny," but the state Senate dismissed the charges.
Also Wednesday, Deputy Attorney General Philip Heymann urged Congress to hold off investigating the scandal for three to six months.
"However, time the cooks may be, one too many may spoil this broth," Heymann said. "We are pretty firmly of the mind at present that the criminal who should be allowed to go forward with his investigation involving trucking deregulation legislation."
The Senate inquiry will focus on Sen. Harrison Williams, D-N.J., in the "Arab scam," as well as possible misconduct by Sen. Howard Cannon, D-Nev., whose name surfaced in a separate FBI bribery investigation involving trucking deregulation legislation.

NO CONTEST IN AUTO DEATHS

A 59-year-old truck driver pleaded no contest Tuesday to three charges of vehicular homicide, stemming from a March 20, 1979 accident in Sanford.

James J. Kelly was charged with causing the deaths of Helen Ross, 53, Arvie Lawson, 56, and Earl Lawson 56, when he drove through a stop sign at the intersection of Lake Mary Road and Airport Boulevard last year.

The three persons in the car he hit with his 1968 tractor-trailer were killed instantly.
Ganey is facing two negligence suits, brought by the families of the dead, seeking damages in excess of $2,500, to be determined by a jury trial.

MAN CHARGED WITH TRAFFIC DEATHS

A Winter Springs man turned himself in to Seminole Deputies Tuesday when he learned he was being charged with two counts of vehicular homicide.
Fred M. Struhm of 570 Trade Winds Rd., Winter Springs, was released on the pretrial release program after he turned himself in on charges he was responsible for two deaths on June 30, 1979.

Florida Highway Patrol investigators allege Struhm was intoxicated at 11:43 that night, and that he drove south on the northbound lanes of U.S. Highway 17-92, slamming into a car carrying Mark Webster, 28, and Joan Cullen, 15.
The accident occurred just south of County Road 427, patrolmen say.

SUITS FILED

Ronald Broome, his wife Linda, and Earl Broome and his wife Lila have filed suit against Roy Oaks, his wife Catherine, and the State Farm Mutual Auto Insurance Company, seeking over $2,500 in negligence damages per couple.
The Broomes charge they were injured when Catherine Oaks negligently operated her husband's car on Howell Branch Road on Dec. 5, 1979, causing an accident which injured the four.

The two suits in the accident case will be heard in circuit court, Seminole.

Bodies Of Blackthorn Crew Begin Floating To Surface

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—When the Coast Guard buoy tender Blackthorn sank to the bottom of Tampa Bay last week, 23 crewmen went to their deaths. Now some of their bodies have floated to the surface in a grim reminder of the tragedy.
As the Coast Guard Marine Board of Investigation wrapped up its sixth day of hearings Wednesday into the Blackthorn's Jan. 28 collision with the oil tanker S. S. Capricorn, a crewman's body — the ninth to be accounted for — was picked up in the bay. On Tuesday, another body surfaced. It was identified as that of William R. Flores of Fort Worth, Texas. The body found Wednesday has not been identified.

Tanker Crew Awaits Rescue

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI)—Wallowing in the Gulf of Mexico, the scorched tanker Aries today awaits an ocean-going tug and a tow away from the scene of an engine-room fire that for more than six hours threatened its cargo of 6 million gallons of oil.
The fire, which began with a series of explosions in the engine room and spread to the pilot house Wednesday, was extinguished by nine crewmen while 22 shipmates drifted nearby in two lifeboats and a rubber raft.
A Coast Guard spokesman in Miami said the ocean-going tug Explorer was due to rendezvous with the disabled Aries at 11 a.m. about 40 miles west of the Dry Tortugas and tow it either to Jacksonville, Fla., or Norfolk, Va.

Shuttle Launch Set Nov. 30

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The space agency has set Nov. 30 as the new target date for the first launch of the space shuttle Columbia from Cape Canaveral, Fla.
The date represents a delay of five months from the June 30 target the National Aeronautics and Space Administration abandoned last month because of mounting problems with the rocket panel's ceramic heat insulation tiles.
John Yardley, associate NASA administrator in charge of shuttle development, disclosed the new tentative launch date Wednesday after outlining the shuttle's status in testimony to the Senate Commerce Committee.

Nuke Storage Site Needed

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—State health officials are scouting areas around the state as possible sites for temporary storage of low-level nuclear wastes.
Gov. Bob Graham has ruled out a permanent storage site in Florida, but is anxious for the development of emergency facilities because of cutbacks in shipments in Barnwell, S. C.
Florida ships approximately 100,000 cubic feet of low-level radioactive waste to Barnwell annually, but attempts to curb that significantly by requiring 300 licenses to compact their waste and take other space-saving steps, Marcia Elder, a government analyst with the State Energy Office, said Wednesday.

Dying Prisoner To Go Home

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—The Florida Parole and Probation Commission Wednesday granted permission to a state prison inmate who is dying of cancer to go home to Eden, N. C., to spend the last days of his life with his family.
Meeting in Tallahassee, Fla., the commission reached the decision Wednesday afternoon and informed Mrs. Sue Berrier, 54, by telephone that she could take her husband, Howard Berrier, 36, home with her to North Carolina today.
"It's official. They're coming by with the papers, today," said Mrs. Berrier, who has visited her husband for 11 years regularly since he was hospitalized. "I feel great. I'm anxious to get on the road."

Execution Delays On Docket

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—The state Supreme Court has under consideration pleas to delay next Wednesday's executions of James Adams and Douglas Ray Mack.
The justices were asked to delay the executions to give statisticians time to develop information to show that some judges impose the death penalty more often for killers of white victims than for killers of blacks. Attorneys say they believe the statistics will show this disparity in administering the death penalty law in St. Lucie and Taylor Counties. A similar charge has been made previously against Orange County.

Professional Hotline Opens

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—It will be easy now for Florida residents to get professional services by doctors, accountants, realtors and other professionals.
The Department of Professional Regulation opened a telephone hotline Wednesday to be used by consumers unhappy with professional services they received.
The number is 1-800-542-7940. Department employees

5-Man, 7-Woman Jury To Decide Bundy's Fate

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI)—Theodore Bundy's second Florida murder trial has gone to the five-man, seven-woman jury whose selection took up one-half the time of the five-week trial.
Circuit Judge Wallace M. Jopling ordered the jury Wednesday to begin deliberating at 7 p.m. after reading to it 40 pages of legal instructions. That capped more than two hours of closing arguments from lawyers.

Waiting for the jury's decision is nothing new to Bundy; he received two death penalties last summer for the 1978 sex-slays of two Florida State University coeds.
This time he's charged with killing 12-year-old Kimberly Diane Leach.
The state spent seven days trying to prove Bundy lured the girl from Lake City Junior High School into a stolen white van while she walked between classes on Feb. 9, 1978. C. L. "Andy" Anderson, a former fireman who was driving past the school, testified he saw a man who looked like Bundy leading a sobbing girl into a white van.
Prosecutors say Bundy raped her twice, killed her and dumped her half-dead body in a bog pen 35 miles away.
In closing arguments Wednesday, Prosecutor Bob DeKle related the "hunting trip" he says Bundy performed in search of someone to murder.

Soviets Say Boycott A 'Crude' Violation

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—A Soviet Olympics official has branded the Carter administration's call for a boycott of the Moscow games a "crude" violation of the Olympic charter that could backfire on its supporters.
"The idea of a boycott is condemned by the international Olympic movement," Valery Brudakov, a member of the Moscow Olympic Organizing Committee, said Wednesday.
"The rules of the Olympic movement prohibit countries from not participating for religious, political, economic or social reasons," he said. "It repudiates totally the idea."
Brudakov, also a vice president of the International Olympic Committee, called the Carter boycott proposal a "very crude violation" of the Olympic spirit and said it could backfire in the administration's face.

Defense Posture Must Be Realistic

The reaction from Capitol Hill is that Congress will go along readily with the increase in defense spending in President Carter's new budget. If anything, the $142.7 billion figure may have to be revised upward. Much depends on developments around the Persian Gulf.

If the military budget is tailored to meet an awakened concern about the ambitions of the Soviet Union, it will re-establish a principle that has been neglected for many years. The principle is that the amount we spend on national defense must be dictated by the magnitude of threats to our security — not by going over competing demands for federal funds and then deciding how much the Pentagon ought to have.

Had that principle not been obscured by wishful thinking during the Johnson years and by self-doubt in the post-Vietnam years, our inventory of weapons and deployable forces would not look so meager today in the face of what the Russians have now made clear about their intentions.

The problem is to return to realism in our defense posture without losing the war we have been fighting here at home against inflation and an audible rasping in the gears of our economy. The Carter budget as a whole suggests that wishful thinking is still in control — that we can make an increased commitment to defense with no sacrifice other than asking young people to register for the draft.

The "restraint" Mr. Carter talks about in a $616 billion budget — up $32 billion from current spending — lies in not calling for new programs of significance in any areas except defense and energy. There is no restraint on those existing federal programs which already are making the federal Treasury a disaster area of deficit and debt.

Mr. Carter is proud that his new budget foresees a deficit of "only" $16 billion. He was proud a year ago when he forecast a deficit of "only" $29 billion for the current year — a deficit which, in two years, turns out, will run closer to $40 billion. In truth, it is hard to say what the 1981 deficit will be, given the contingencies at home and abroad which could affect federal outlays.

Both the president and congressional leaders say they will consider a tax cut later in the year if the anticipated recession calls for economic stimulus. A limited, election-year tax cut could widen the deficit if there is no parallel reduction in spending. As it is, the budget relies on tax increases to produce its $600 billion in revenue. The figure includes $14 billion from the windfall profits tax on oil companies which has not received final approval by Congress. It also counts on a 15 percent increase in revenue from personal income taxes — the result of inflation moving people into higher tax brackets.

Most of the increase in the Carter budget does not stem from defense or energy items but from increases in the cost of social programs as a result of inflation and adverse economic conditions. The administration pleads that these cost increases are "automatic," or "mandated," but the plea is wearing thin. There are reversible only to the extent that Mr. Carter and Congress refuse to think the unthinkable — that some long-standing programs may have to be reduced in scope.

Mr. Carter may have seen the light about the Russians, but he has closed his eyes to the link between deficit spending and inflation. In 1976 he promised a balanced budget by 1980 because he knew that the government was guilty of fiscal irresponsibility in operating at a deficit in a time of prosperity. The bottom line of this, the fourth deficit budget from the Carter White House, is that the president is now in the grip of the same disease he diagnosed from Georgia.

WASHINGTON — President Carter's schemers have tapped into some bizarre and dangerous dream about harnessing Afghanistan into a Soviet Vietnam. Those who have succumbed to this bit of escapism talk deliriously about ferocious Afghan mountain men charging down from their craggy hideouts to disrupt and confound the mighty Red Army. To turn this wishful reverie into reality, the Carter administration is actively searching for a man of destiny to play the role of Vietnam's late Ho Chi Minh. As Secretary of State Cyrus Vance recently confided to associates, the United States is "seeking a leader of the Afghan people." But inherently, there are some serious flaws in the scenario. The nomadic Afghans have already learned how difficult it is to impose a leader upon the Afghan. One ruler after another, such as the Moscovite Alexander, failed to gain the respect of the people. The Kremlin had to send tanks and troops to keep their man in power. VIEWPOINT

Bush Boldly Eyes South

By ROBERT WALTERS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican presidential aspirant George Bush, exhilarated by his stunning victory in Iowa's caucus, is considering a bold proposal to directly confront two powerful opponents in a crucial South Carolina election.

If Bush pursues the plan, South Carolina's Republican primary on March 8 could emerge as a pivotal contest pitting Bush against former California Gov. Ronald W. Reagan and former Texas Gov. John B. Connally.

The Palmetto State primary initially evoked little interest among the contenders for the Republican presidential nomination until several months ago, when it captured the attention of Connally's strategists.

They were intrigued by the fact that the South Carolina election was scheduled for a Saturday, only three days prior to a critical trio of other Southern primaries to be held on Tuesday, March 11 in Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

Connally's operative's decided to mount a major effort to defeat Reagan in South Carolina, assuming that the momentum generated by such an upset would significantly affect the results three days later, thus mortally wounding Reagan in a region of the country where he long has claimed extraordinary popularity.

Although both Reagan and Connally have paid lip service to the importance of the Iowa precinct caucuses and the New Hampshire primary, both have been following a "southern strategy" that assumed the mid-March primaries would be the first major test of their respective political stances.

Bush already has destroyed those carefully laid plans if Reagan loses in New Hampshire as he did in Iowa, for example, he will face an uphill struggle to win the nomination while Connally no longer will be able to claim to be a "stealth" candidate by virtue of a South Carolina victory over a twice-defeated erstwhile front-runner.

The "official" explanation being offered by Bush's campaign aides for his decision to pay the $1,000 filing fee to qualify for the South Carolina primary is that he doesn't want Sen. Howard Baker, Jr., R-Tenn., another GOP presidential contender, to go unchallenged in his bid for moderate-to-conservative votes in that state.

U.S. Should Avoid Afghani Politics

WASHINGTON — President Carter's schemers have tapped into some bizarre and dangerous dream about harnessing Afghanistan into a Soviet Vietnam. Those who have succumbed to this bit of escapism talk deliriously about ferocious Afghan mountain men charging down from their craggy hideouts to disrupt and confound the mighty Red Army.

To turn this wishful reverie into reality, the Carter administration is actively searching for a man of destiny to play the role of Vietnam's late Ho Chi Minh. As Secretary of State Cyrus Vance recently confided to associates, the United States is "seeking a leader of the Afghan people."

The American-enslaved monarch, according to the scenario favored by the White House, would unite the diverse Afghan guerrilla groups, rally the populace and start doing what the Communists did in Viet Cong delta areas in Vietnam. But inherently, there are some serious flaws in the scenario. The nomadic Afghans have already learned how difficult it is to impose a leader upon the Afghan.

There's no reason to believe the Afghans would be any more eager to be ruled by a leader chosen for them by the United States. One exiled leader had this advice for President Carter: "The best course of action for the United States is to be patient and see who emerges as a natural leader."

Although Hospital Corporation of America (HCA) will be building a new hospital in the Sanford area to be completed in about 18 months, HCA officials have pledged not to let Seminole Memorial Hospital deteriorate in the meantime.

"We don't intend to wait," said Lewis, HCA's director of domestic development, promised HCA will start as soon as their lease on the building begins to expire and rooms and hallways and replace some draperies and carpet.

HCA will not delay in the purchase of new equipment either, he said, if it can be transferred to the new hospital.

"We want to build a patient load to transfer over to the new facility," said HCA President Dr. Thomas Frist Jr. "We don't intend to wait."

Frist said HCA will not let the Seminole Memorial Hospital building slide, "because if you don't improve things they get worse."

Lewis, Frist, David G. Williamson Jr., HCA executive vice president and Dr. Thomas Frist Sr., HCA's founder, were in Sanford Jan. 29 to meet with the county commission and doctors and department heads at Seminole Memorial.

"We want your new hospital to be a showpiece," the younger Dr. Frist told the doctors. "And we hope to set new records in getting it up."

Frist said with costs continuing to go up, there may be tough times ahead for the hospital industry. But he said HCA will gain from quantity purchasing and regulations as a powerful group "may make the difference" between forging ahead or being required to cut back services.

"The umbrella approach may be the key to us staying up there as a shining star in the health care system," he said.

Williamson promised to obtain for the new hospital the most sophisticated equipment allowed for 200-bed hospitals. He criticized the federal government's increasing encroachments of the rights of private hospitals to purchase equipment. He predicted hospitals will have to go to court more and more to get what they want.

Williamson also mentioned that he used to serve on the National Council on Health Planning until he was "kicked off" by then Health Education and Welfare Secretary Joseph Califano. He said he was removed from the council for sticking with the opinion that 200-bed hospitals need CAT scanners. The government supports centralizing specialized equipment to cut costs.

"Califano disregarded the cost of transporting patients," Williamson said. "All one of our hospitals is this costing us $5,000 per month."

In addition to the latest equipment, Dr. Frist said HCA emphasizes quality care and local autonomy.

"We don't run any hospitals from Nashville," he said.

Dr. Frist, senior, emphasized HCA's philosophy of delivering quality care with warmth and compassion.

In speaking to about 30 Seminole Memorial Hospital doctors, Dr. Frist said he receives many complimentary letters from doctors and mayors in towns where HCA builds hospitals. One, in particular, he remembered:

"Dr. Frist," they wrote, "you did not do what you promised," he said. "You did much more than your promise."

Washington (UPI) — Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti has picked Texas state legislator Matt Garcia, son of a one-time illegal alien, as his candidate to head the Immigration Service, Justice Department sources say.

President Carter must make the final decision on whether to nominate the San Antonio attorney as commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. But sources said Wednesday Garcia, 52, was Civiletti's top choice.

The selection of Garcia is expected to give the administration a political boost in the Hispanic community, which has been demanding another Hispanic-American be named to the post.

Garcia, known as a civil rights activist, would replace Acting Commissioner David Crossland, who has run INS since Leonel Castillo resigned as commissioner last fall. Garcia was scheduled to meet with Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, today.

Washington (UPI) — Public schools were open to school children today, despite what the Chicago Teachers' Union said would be defiance by teachers of a second back-to-work court order.

Interim Schools Superintendent Angelina P. Caruso said children would be allowed to the schools only if they are admitted "safely and promptly" without violence by disgruntled pickets.

On another labor front, the president of the city firefighters' union expressed cautious optimism about a contract — the first ever — covering the city's 4,300 firefighters and 1,000 supervisors could be reached soon.

Washington (UPI) — President Carter will recommend to Congress that he pass the law providing for registration of men 18 to 26 is already on the books. Sources said Carter will ask Congress for a $10 million appropriation to begin the mail registration of some 4 million to 5 million men in the 18 to 20 or 21 age category.

Carter also will propose, in a separate bill, a new law authorizing the registration of women. Aides said it is necessary to separate the two bills so the budgeting for the male registration does not become bogged down in emotional debate on female registration.

Both House Speaker Thomas O'Neill and Democratic leader Jim Wright have said they are seeking a debate with Carter, who confront him at the consumer gathering.

Press secretary Judy Powell said Carter will deal with both domestic and international issues in his speech.

NATION IN BRIEF

Texas Legislator Garcia

By DAVID M. RAZLER Herald Staff Writer

A Deltona man has been sentenced to one year in jail for breaking into the Eckerd Drug Store in Sanford Plaza on July 1, 1979.

Circuit Court Judge Volle Williams sentenced William S. Pugh to one year in jail to be followed by five years probation for burglary and possession of controlled substances.

Pugh, 21, of 1705 S. Village Dr., Deltona, was arrested by Sanford police inside the store last summer, as he attempted to steal assorted narcotics and syringes. Police arrived on the scene in response to a silent alarm.

Williams also handed down the following sentences Tuesday: — Ronald J. Thurman of Orlando will spend 10 weeks in jail and five years on probation for possession of a small quantity of marijuana.

Thurman was arrested on March 26, 1979, by Casselberry police who raided a house of suspected cocaine dealers. The arrest, at 804 Wilshire Ct., was made after Williams appointed a court-appointed psychiatrist to examine Pugh, which alleged the occupants used code words to discuss the sale and availability of cocaine.

Thurman, now a resident of the house, was there at the time of the raid. Williams also sentenced Pugh to 10 weeks in jail and five years on probation for possession of a small quantity of marijuana.

Williams told Thurman's attorney he was imposing jail time based on the confidential section of Thurman's pre-sentence investigation, a report defense lawyers are not even entitled to see. Thurman's attorney said he will appeal the sentence.

Williams called the attorney to the bench to allow him to read a portion of the report, which contains probation officers' opinions on the character of the defendant.

Lloyd Stacy of Seminole County received four years probation plus a requirement he repay his share of damages suffered when he helped seal a construction site pump last year.

— Karl L. Dixon, an Altamonte Springs man caught with a stolen newspaper vending machine, will be placed on five years probation.

— "You've been on probation two or three times and it never worked out for you," Williams said to Dixon as he handed down jail sentence to Steven J. Studnicka, who pleaded guilty to possession of burglary tools.

Studnicka had entered the plea after the state dropped a charge of burglary on Oct. 12, 1979, after the defendant was arrested by police who searched his home for a stolen newspaper vending machine, will be placed on five years probation.

— An Iranian student living in Orlando may face action from the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service. Following a four-year probation sentence handed down by Williams.

Rasa Bahaband Jamali, found guilty of stealing merchandise from the Altamonte Springs Burdine's Department Store on Nov. 5, was ordered to serve four years probation. The store said late Wednesday the uprising caused at least $45 million in damages and that it would cost another $7.5 million to build a new facility.

The official number of deaths has remained at 33 for the past two days; 89 inmates and guards were injured.

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI) — Suspected troublemakers were transferred from the New Mexico State Penitentiary left in ruins by a 26-hour riot — the nation's most expensive prison insurrection ever. Black prisoners were housed separately to quell their fears of racial violence.

Prison officials said they expected to release a final death count today in the weekend riot.

Press secretary Judy Powell said Carter will deal with both domestic and international issues in his speech.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter will recommend to Congress that he pass the law providing for registration of men 18 to 26 is already on the books. Sources said Carter will ask Congress for a $10 million appropriation to begin the mail registration of some 4 million to 5 million men in the 18 to 20 or 21 age category.

Carter also will propose, in a separate bill, a new law authorizing the registration of women. Aides said it is necessary to separate the two bills so the budgeting for the male registration does not become bogged down in emotional debate on female registration.

Both House Speaker Thomas O'Neill and Democratic leader Jim Wright have said they are seeking a debate with Carter, who confront him at the consumer gathering.

Man Gets Year For Drug Store Robbery

By DAVID M. RAZLER Herald Staff Writer

A Deltona man has been sentenced to one year in jail for breaking into the Eckerd Drug Store in Sanford Plaza on July 1, 1979.

Circuit Court Judge Volle Williams sentenced William S. Pugh to one year in jail to be followed by five years probation for burglary and possession of controlled substances.

Pugh, 21, of 1705 S. Village Dr., Deltona, was arrested by Sanford police inside the store last summer, as he attempted to steal assorted narcotics and syringes. Police arrived on the scene in response to a silent alarm.

Williams also handed down the following sentences Tuesday: — Ronald J. Thurman of Orlando will spend 10 weeks in jail and five years on probation for possession of a small quantity of marijuana.

Thurman was arrested on March 26, 1979, by Casselberry police who raided a house of suspected cocaine dealers. The arrest, at 804 Wilshire Ct., was made after Williams appointed a court-appointed psychiatrist to examine Pugh, which alleged the occupants used code words to discuss the sale and availability of cocaine.

Thurman, now a resident of the house, was there at the time of the raid. Williams also sentenced Pugh to 10 weeks in jail and five years on probation for possession of a small quantity of marijuana.

Williams told Thurman's attorney he was imposing jail time based on the confidential section of Thurman's pre-sentence investigation, a report defense lawyers are not even entitled to see. Thurman's attorney said he will appeal the sentence.

Williams called the attorney to the bench to allow him to read a portion of the report, which contains probation officers' opinions on the character of the defendant.

Lloyd Stacy of Seminole County received four years probation plus a requirement he repay his share of damages suffered when he helped seal a construction site pump last year.

— Karl L. Dixon, an Altamonte Springs man caught with a stolen newspaper vending machine, will be placed on five years probation.

— "You've been on probation two or three times and it never worked out for you," Williams said to Dixon as he handed down jail sentence to Steven J. Studnicka, who pleaded guilty to possession of burglary tools.

Studnicka had entered the plea after the state dropped a charge of burglary on Oct. 12, 1979, after the defendant was arrested by police who searched his home for a stolen newspaper vending machine, will be placed on five years probation.

— An Iranian student living in Orlando may face action from the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service. Following a four-year probation sentence handed down by Williams.

Rasa Bahaband Jamali, found guilty of stealing merchandise from the Altamonte Springs Burdine's Department Store on Nov. 5, was ordered to serve four years probation. The store said late Wednesday the uprising caused at least $45 million in damages and that it would cost another $7.5 million to build a new facility.

The official number of deaths has remained at 33 for the past two days; 89 inmates and guards were injured.

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI) — Suspected troublemakers were transferred from the New Mexico State Penitentiary left in ruins by a 26-hour riot — the nation's most expensive prison insurrection ever. Black prisoners were housed separately to quell their fears of racial violence.

Prison officials said they expected to release a final death count today in the weekend riot.

Lanier Makes 'Nervous' Buck Debut

By United Press International
After all his years in the NBA, Bob Lanier felt just like a nervous rookie again.

Winters didn't go in, Lanier said. "I thought I hit the bottom of the net but when I saw the official signal for two, I thought it must be a dream. I was glad because I fooled the guy at the other end and I thought, 'Oh, now I'm going to be the goal in my first game here.'"

The score was tied with 11 seconds remaining when Dave Meyers inbounded the ball to Bridgeman. With three seconds remaining, Quinn Buckner threw a shot that was well covered by Buckner behind the ball off to Winters, whose winning shot came from just inside the three-point circle. In other games, Boston downed Philadelphia, 128-110, Houston edged New Jersey, 115-114, Phoenix nipped Kansas City, 97-95, Denver outscored Chicago, 122-111, and Golden State ripped San Diego, 117-92.

Cottles 129, 78ers 110
Larry Bird poured in 32 points and Nate Archibald scored all of his 18 points in a second-half surge to lead Boston. The victory moved the Celtics two games ahead of the 76ers in the Atlantic Division.

Gerard led Kansas City with 25 points. Nuggets 122, Bulls 111
Alex English making his first appearance in a Nuggets uniform and Dan Issel combined for 61 points and 24 rebounds to pace Denver.

Seminoles Scalping Records In 1979-80 Warpath Campaign

Bill Payne's fifth-ranked Fighting Seminoles continued roundball success this season as Seminole officials scrambling through old yearbooks and record books in search of past records.

The Seminoles have tied the record for most points in a single game with 97. That record was set in 1959 and tied in 1977.

The front line of David Thomas, Bruce McCray and Reggie Butler broke the record in a single game Tuesday night against Lyman with 81. The previous record was set in 1972.

The victory over Lyman also broke the record for most wins in a single season, 21, set in 1970. The Tribe stands at 22-1 entering Friday night's battle at Lake Howell.

Other records that stand to fall before the season is over is the highest offensive average per game of 67.7 points per game set in 1968. The current crop of Seminoles is scoring at a 70 point per game clip.

A strong reason behind that average is the Tribe's field goal percentage of a current 57. The old record stands at 54 percent from 1970. The Tribe finishes with an average performance that record is easily within reach.

Senior forward Bruce McCray has also broken a pair of individual single game records. Against Deland two weeks ago the 6-4 Seminole punched in 43 points, breaking the previous record held by Larry Keane in 1970 and John Zeul in 1974 and tied by Randy Brown in '75.

Charly stripe ace Glen Stambaugh currently owns a hot 94 percent free throw average and would either have to break an arm or miss the bus for the next five games to miss breaking that record.

USA had for a group of kids who finished the season at 2-13 in their sophomore season.

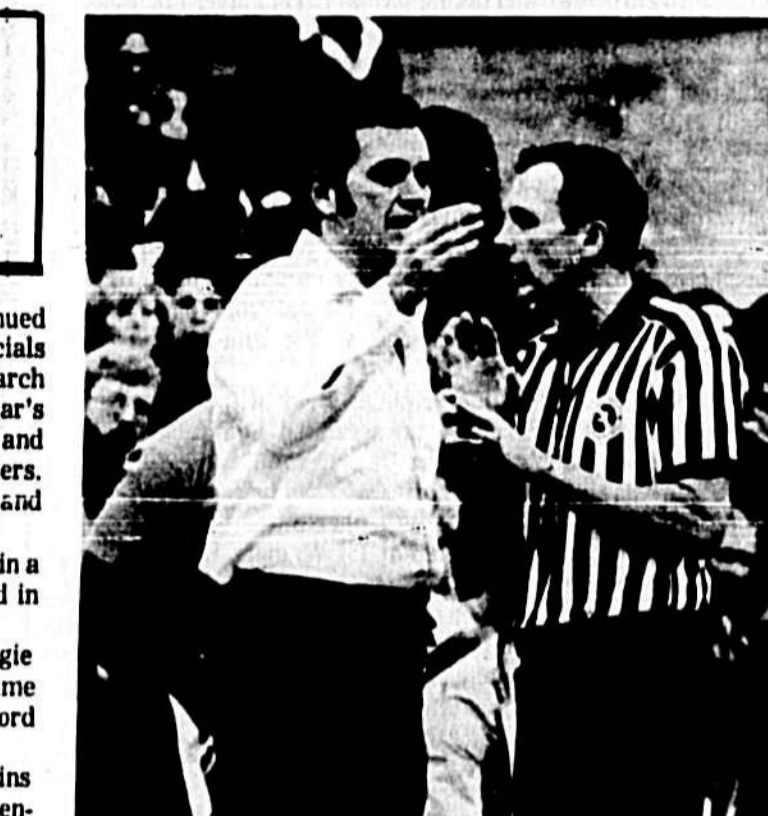

The starting lineup of McCray, Thomas, Keith Whittney and Reggie Butler has been together for three seasons now, obviously a big contributing factor to this season's success story.

The addition of guard Stambaugh through a transfer has nicely rounded out a solid playing chemistry, so the Seminole success really is no secret. And Payne is the first to give the credit directly to his players.

"These guys were 2-18 as sophomores," points Payne. "You look at what they've done this season and you have to give the credit to them. It's been their dedication, their hard work, and their determination that's made this season as good as it's been."

"We have good individual players, and we have good team players," adds Payne. "That all adds up to good basketball."

Sandy Crews A Winner In State Show

A pretty girl with a high fashion collure is like a melody — true. But in the case of Suzi Largent, she's also worth a trophy, to say the least. Sandy Crews, owner of Reflections of Beauty, Sanford, since 1970, chose Suzi for a model in competition at the Sunshine Trade Show at the State of Florida Hairstyling Convention held at the Plaza Hotel, Daytona Beach.

The wave syndrome that Mrs. Crews created for Suzi took third place in the competition.

Mrs. Crews, who has been a hairdresser and cosmetologist for 14 years, said, "I am very, very happy over placing third. This is the first time I have entered in competition. Many (hairdressers) enter a number of times before placing."

Suzi's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Tom Largent, and her brother, Jeff Largent, attended the hairstyling demonstration which came up a winner. — DORIS DISTRICT

Ikebana Demonstration Set

Ikebana, the art of Japanese flower arranging, will be demonstrated at the Seminole Community College Museum Feb. 13 and 14 from 9:30 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Ikebana means "living flowers" in the Japanese language. The philosophy of Heaven, Man and Earth is the fundamental principle of all Japanese flower arranging. This art, practiced originally by priests over a thousand years ago has continued to modern times, and 30 million Japanese practice it in Japan today.

The demonstrations will be by members of the Orlando-Winter Park Chapter 132 of Ikebana International. Several arrangements will be on display at the Museum from Feb. 13 to Feb. 22.

In addition to flower arrangements, the exhibit will include a tokonoma, which originally was an altar for the religious worship of Buddha.

Today, in Japan, it serves as a focal point in the best, and unadorned, room in the house. In the tokonoma is placed a picture scroll, several art objects, and a flower arrangement.

The college Museum is open 3 p.m. Monday through to the public from 8 a.m. until Friday.

He'll Linger Longer if you're in lingerie from Komar & Shadowline. Lovely, lacy gowns, robes and negligees in soft, silky spring colors.

No Gifts, Please, On Second Time Around

DEAR ABBY: Two and a half years ago I married a lovely girl named Ramona. She was 20 and I was 26. It was the first marriage for both of us. On our honeymoon, Ramona was killed. (Thank God it wasn't my fault. Ramona was driving.) I am getting married again. It will be the first marriage for Suzie. She wants a big wedding, which I really don't want. But, for her sake, we are having one. As far as I'm concerned, I've already had my wedding and gifts, so should I put a notation on the invitations saying, "No gifts," or what? My friends and relatives gave already, and once is enough. Or do you think I should leave it up to them?

After Ramona's funeral I asked everyone if they wanted their gifts back, and they all said no.

Also, should I send a wedding invitation to Ramona's folks? I haven't told them about Suzie yet. I can't get up the nerve since they are still grieving.

ANNEX: 6112

GETTING MARRIED

DEAR GETTING: Don't put "no gifts" on your wedding invitations; leave it up to the guests. Even though your friends and family gave once, this is Suzie's first marriage, and discouraging gifts would be unfair to her.

Tell Ramona's folks personally — and soon. If they're still grieving, don't send them an invitation to your wedding.

Good luck. I wish you joy.

DEAR ABBY: Before my husband married me, he had a girlfriend who was the ultimate in charm, beauty, manners, etc.

Let's I forget this, my mother-in-law reminds me every time I see her.

Finally, one day, when I had had it up to here, I said "Listen, Barbara is gone, and I am here, so you can shut the hell up!"

My husband agrees that I am the injured party, but he wants me to apologize. But don't you think his mother was wrong in the first place?

State Prepared To Probe Athletics

(Herald Sports Editor Joe DeSantis, Staff Writer Diane Petryk and Correspondent Sam Cook contributed to the following story.)

The executive secretary of the state's governing body for high school athletics said today he would be willing to come to Seminole County to conduct an investigation surrounding athletic-related transfers if that's what the Seminole County School Board requests.

"I haven't received a written request for the school board as of today," stated Florida High School Athletic Activities Association (FHSA) Executive Secretary Floyd Lay. "But if I do, the FHSA would comply with the request and conduct an investigation."

The Seminole County School Board, by a vote of 3-2 late Wednesday, approved a motion to ask the association to investigate the possibility of recruitment of F. Keith will make the written request, even though Keith expressed reluctance to do so after the motion was passed. Keith was unavailable for comment today.

Feather made a second motion to direct the school superintendent to make the written request, but it failed, 2 to 2. Board member Pat Telson, who seconded and voted for the first motion, had left the meeting by the time the vote was taken.

The controversy that will be the subject of the investigation centers on a four-month case involving high school students Harold Daniels and Sylvester Wynne, and a new issue brought before the school board by Lyman High parent Gene Green. Green charges his son is being unfairly denied the opportunity to play baseball following his transfer from Lake Howell High School to Lyman High School.

school board meeting he told Evans: "I wouldn't sign it if I were you."

Daniels and Wynne are both seniors and have missed most of the current high school basketball season. Green is a sophomore and would have to sit out the year of athletics if he does not obtain a signed-waiver form from Evans in order to play baseball in the future.

A former Lyman student, who also attended Lake Howell, told the Evening Herald late Thursday night of the circumstances surrounding his move from Lake Howell to Lyman two years ago.

"I didn't like the football program at Lake Howell and I thought I'd have a better chance for a scholarship somewhere else," stated Billy Giovanetti, a former Lyman football player now starting for the University of Central Florida.

Giovanetti attended Lake Howell as a freshman, sophomore and junior, transferring to Lyman in his senior year. Giovanetti's best friend and teammate Clark Dickson had moved into the Lyman district prior to the summer of 1978. Dickson attended summer school there and was impressed with Lyman's football program and facilities.

"Clark was a big influence on my going to Lyman," said Giovanetti. "He said the overall program was better and had better coaches. I decided to go."

"Clark was my main influence. I've known coach (Bill) Scott for a long time. When he got the head coaching job (1977-78) I knew I wanted to play for him," Giovanetti said.

Principal Evans, however, felt there may have been some recruiting going on. "There were rumors that the young man had been encouraged to participate in athletics at Lyman," Evans said. "The rumors were coming very frequently from my coaching staff."

"Some people had talked about doing something, but no one ever came in. I knew there was nothing I could do. If a kid's unhappy here, I'll usually let him go," continued Evans.

Giovanetti emphasized that he and Dickson both wanted scholarships and felt Lake Howell wasn't the answer. "I think they've given out a grand total of zero," he said.

"I decided on a business administration class which was offered two hours a day," Giovanetti said of his course choice at Lyman.

Evans, however, countered that the same course was offered at Lake Howell. It was but only one hour a day.

"Mr. (Clark) Henley fought for me though," Giovanetti said about the Lyman principal. "And Laver approved my move."

"I did fight for him," Henley corrected. "There was nothing I could do. I respect a principal's decision to say no."

"There was no fight on my part," said Henley.

Henley went on to say an appeals board made the final decision to allow Giovanetti to come to Lyman.

Did Henley feel that Giovanetti was coming to Lyman for academic reasons? "63. I know it was what Billy Giovanetti and his father told me," said Henley. "That's exactly what they signed up for (business administration)."

Did Evans believe Giovanetti was going for academic reasons? "I just wanted 'Glo' and his father to come to me and look me in the eye and tell me they weren't recruited," replied Evans.

Which they did in a closed-door conference attended by Evans, Assistant Principal Frank Duncan and then Lake Howell football coach Curtis Keen.

"Mr. Evans still wouldn't sign. Then one day my Dad and me got called into the office. He said he would sign. I guess somebody gave him the word," Giovanetti said.

"They asked me a bunch of questions on whether I had been recruited or not. I told them no. I guess I was kind of a smart-aleck because I was happy I was leaving. Anyway, it turned out I was recruited Giovanetti.

BILLY GIOVANETTI ...switched high school athletes in Seminole County. School board member Robert G. Feather, who made the motion asking for the investigation, said today he feels "very confident" board chairman Allan in the Green case. Green contends that School Superintendent William P. Laver instructed Evans not to sign the waiver for his son. Laver told the Greens at the Jan. 23

What Role Did Mafia Play In Kelly Scandal?

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

It may be some time before the truth about the FBI bribery allegations against several congressmen, including Rep. Richard Kelly, is known, if ever.

The entire matter stands muddled today amid charges, countercharges and denials. Was Abram — the term used by the FBI for its operation to determine which congressmen, if any, would accept money for legislative favors — solely an FBI — congressmen activity? Or did the Mafia become involved? Some New York newspapers report organized crime figures had unwittingly become involved.

Was Congressman Kelly duped into accepting $25,000 from FBI undercover agents by shrewd underworld characters who were trying to con Kelly so they themselves could benefit, not knowing the FBI was involved? The same New York newspaper report that it was happened. Kelly denies it.

In fact, Kelly today maintains the only reason he agreed to pursue the matter when approached by what he termed shady characters was to conduct his own investigation.

The congressman said he first learned about the impending cash offer through a Longwood man named Gino and who Kelly now identifies as Gino Cluzio. Cluzio, however, flatly denies he talked Kelly into doing anything ... denies he has any knowledge of Kelly receiving $25,000 and also denies, as Kelly has suggested, that he (Cluzio) is tied in with the FBI.

In Kelly's latest press conference Thursday he told reporters he felt compelled to take the $25,000 (which he has since returned to the FBI, less $174) to find out what the "shady characters" really wanted of him, because, he said, the favor they asked was routine and he would do for any constituent without the $250,000 payment they promised he ultimately would receive.

Kelly said the FBI undercover agents posing as Arab representatives also promised to invest a large amount of money, reportedly as much as $50 million, in the fifth congressional district of Florida, which includes Seminole County.

Kelly told reporters no one but himself knew about his reasons for taking the $25,000.

Asked if he would take a lie detector test, Kelly said: "No. Lie detectors in my experience as a prosecutor in the Department of Justice are notoriously unreliable. And when I was with the Department of Justice lie detector tests were inadmissible as evidence in anything."

Here are the individuals named by Long Island Newsday as involved with Kelly in the matter:

William Rosenber, 52, 2 Fowler St., Lynbrook, N.Y., a former securities dealer who spent four months in jail in 1976 for selling stock a land development firm for inflated prices. He has since been barred by the National Association of Security dealers from doing business in that area. Before he went to jail he was the subject of numerous court injunctions to bar him from pushing stock, according to court records.

Stanley Weiss, an accountant from Smithtown, Long Island, who among other things was an accountant for Eugene Robert Cluzio, 48, now of 76 Sweetbriar Branch, Longwood. Cluzio was acting boss of a New York Cosa Nostra family, according to news reports.

According to Long Island Newsday, here's how it all started: Rosenber "smelling Arab money," contacted one of the Arab representatives (FBI undercover agents) who had set up a dummy corporation known as Abdul Enterprises.

The undercover men were dressed in business suits and used a "hoody-type" accent in their speech.

Rosenber asked the agents what the sheik (the non-existent Arab sheik) might want. The agents said he wanted asylum in the United States if there were an uprising or revolt in his country.

After listening to the problem, Rosenber said they obviously needed a congressman and he could supply one.

Rosenber reportedly contacted Weiss who in turn allegedly contacted Cluzio. It was the understanding of the undercover agents that Cluzio controlled Kelly and could deliver him, the newspaper reported.

Cluzio was told to deliver Kelly to the house on W. Street in Washington. Rosenber, Weiss, and Cluzio allegedly accompanied Kelly to the townhouse. Cluzio denied he was there.

BANI-SADR ... gains power

U.S. Hopes Bani-Sadr Finds Key

By United Press International

Iran's new President Abolhasan Bani-Sadr has won the blessing of both Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini and the ruling Revolutionary Council to run the country with full executive powers, Tehran Radio reported today.

Bani-Sadr previously was named acting head of the council but with no power over its ministers.

In a related development, the new president stepped up his moves against 50 American hostages by barring them from broadcasting on the state-run radio.

Bani-Sadr's growing consolidation of power within a week of being sworn into office has raised hopes at both the United Nations and Washington that a settlement to free the captives in their 97-day ordeal may be near.

Tehran Radio in a broadcast monitored by the BBC in London today said Bani-Sadr was appointed head of the Revolutionary Council at a Thursday night session, "with the consent of the Imam (Khomeini)."

The new president, who has supported a negotiated end to the hostage crisis, will have full executive powers over the Revolutionary Council and government ministers "to harmonize proceedings," the radio quoted council spokesman Hasan Habibi as saying.

The radio, reading a dispatch from Iran's official Pars news agency, said Bani-Sadr attended the meeting, which considered two alternatives to govern the country until a Parliament can be elected March 7.

The alternatives were that Bani-Sadr form a government now and the Revolutionary Council consider its mission completed, or the Revolutionary Council remain in its present form with Bani-Sadr as its head.

Khomeini chose retention of the council

Proper Treatment Slows Glaucoma

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — My nephew who is a traveling salesman told me that his eye specialist said he had glaucoma. My nephew says he will go blind and he is very much discouraged. I knew a woman in my office who has had glaucoma for 12 years and she's under the care of a specialist. She uses drops in her eyes every day. Her doctor told her to keep working and she could live her life span and not go blind.

I looked in my dictionary and it said that glaucoma was a disease of the eye affecting vision and probably leads to blindness. Everyone in the office is very concerned. What can the rest of us do to prevent this disease of the eye, for example, in terms of diet?

DEAR READER — The common form of glaucoma is an increase in pressure inside the eye. The common form is filled with semi-solid, jelly-like substance. Fluid is constantly secreted into the eye and also drains out of the eye. Glaucoma is associated with a defect in drainage of fluid from the eye and so the fluid accumulates and increases the pressure inside the eye. As the pressure increases, it can result in eye damage which, in its ultimate form, can produce blindness.

The fact that blindness can occur does not mean that properly treated ordinary glaucoma will always cause blindness. In fact, modern treatment begun early enough can usually control ordinary glaucoma. The best approach is early diagnosis. This will enable early treatment and prevent the damage that could lead to blindness.

I certainly think your nephew should see an eye specialist who puts him on regular treatment and examines him periodically. The case you describe of the lady in your office is relatively typical. Eye drops are commonly used to help control the increased pressure in the eye. Finally, if the pressure can't be controlled with medicines, there are some surgical procedures that can be used to help relieve the pressure.

There are some other forms of glaucoma. A mature cataract may create pressure on part of the drainage mechanism inside the eyeball and cause glaucoma.

Frequently, people do not have any symptoms of the disease as far advanced and starting to cause significant damage to eye. The common form usually doesn't occur until after 50 and an ordinary eye examination won't reveal its presence until it's far advanced.

That's why it's necessary for the eye specialist to measure the pressure inside the eye. After age 50 individuals should have an eye examination at least every two years and perhaps every year which includes a measurement of pressure inside the eye. Ordinary visual acuity may be perfectly normal while the pressure is starting to increase inside the eye itself. There's nothing which you can do in terms of diet or various aspects of your lifestyle that will prevent glaucoma. The best approach is early diagnosis. This will enable early treatment and prevent the damage that could lead to blindness.

WIN AT BRIDGE

If South knew he had 21 points he would have opened two no-trump, allowing West to bid a slam. In a related development, the new president stepped up his moves against 50 American hostages by barring them from broadcasting on the state-run radio.

A misbid through miscounting values or not hearing the action properly usually leads to disaster. In today's hand however, declarer miscounted his high-card points and later bragged about it.

It only depends upon a winning game on a winning night. Although both declarer and defender are offside in the diagrammed hand, declarer was able to make the contract by an unusual end play against West.

For Friday, February 8, 1980

YOUR BIRTHDAY February 8, 1980

Conditions more to your liking could happen for you this coming year because you won't sit idly by, waiting for someone else to make it so for you. An increase in your bank account is possible as a result.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Considerable change is your cup of tea today. That old fight in you will come to the fore and help you grab the new opportunity that is ahead, however. Find out more what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for the copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 400, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10101. Be sure to specify birth date.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Once you set your mind on a goal today you'll be very aggressive about seeing it realized, even though you may have a negative person trying to discourage you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Most of your energies today will be devoted to doing things for others you'll enjoy. Be careful, however, not to let yourself be used.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Projects around the house give you the most pleasure today, but if you expect them to come out well, reject well-meaning advice.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Make it a point to get together with some fun friends today. You'll be looking for a client, and the best way to find it is with them.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Nothing is too good for your family today. You'll demonstrate this in every way you can. This car, however, you'll become overly solicitous regarding their welfare.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You won't wait for things to come to you today. If what you want isn't happening fast enough, you'll take the bull by the horns and direct the action yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Trust your instincts today to guide you toward acquiring a material desire, and to ignore those who'd try to sell you a "get-rich-quick" scheme.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) Better make plans to get out of the house today. You're far from restless and need to be around stimulating people who can sweep the cobwebs and doldrums away.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You make such a fine impression that others want to do nice things for you today. A business endeavor, however, may have a few unkind things to say about this.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It won't be difficult to put into immediate practice anything you are taught today. Seek out the teachers who can help develop your skills.

State Officially Clears Porter

Seminole-Brevard Public Defender David M. Porter was informed this morning that a state investigation of his office practices, initiated in November, found "no actionable misconduct or criminal wrongdoing" on his part.

Gov. Bob Graham's general counsel, Dick Schollich, also informed Porter no further action in the case is contemplated at this time.

Porter will receive a formal letter to this effect, Schollich said.

The investigation into alleged favoritism and sex discrimination in the public defender's office was undertaken by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement after complaints were received by the governor from disgruntled employees working under Porter.
