By Ruse White HERALD STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - An intense year-anda-half search for decency ended just after midnight in the county's chambers of good and evil. Some are pleased, some are not. Decency, they discovered, is not always easy to define.
A motion for the County Commission to adopt a Public Decency Ordinance failed, 3-2, lenged the signatures on a petition by the Seminole County Citizens for Decency. He claims there was voter fraud. This petition is what necessitated the commission vote. Peters was not allowed to present his case Tuesday but says he isn't through.

Tempers flared at the close of a 5-hour public hearing that included several land use amendment resonings. County Commissioner Daryl McLain, and Longwood Commissioner Paul Lovestrand had words. The politicking

Paul Lovestrand had words. "The politicking here disgusts me," McLain said.

More than 200 attended the showdown between two diverse camps - the Christian right and those with more moderate views.

"Be careful what you wish for," said David Mayne, a father of four who said he sells food to several of the adult clubs.

"Nude dancing is simply live pornography," said resident Nancy Ross.

Lake Mary OKs land purchase needed for police station

HERALD FEATURE EDITOR

LAKE MARY - Police Chief Richard Beary was visibly de-lighted when the city commission unanimously approved the purchase of the first of six pieces of property needed to build a new police station in downtown Lake Mary.

The commission authorised City Manager John Litton to sign a contract with Lake Mary First Church of the Nazasene for purchase of the building and property on East Crystal Lake Avenue. The price is $220,00 and the church will receive a waiver of building permit fees of up $10,000 if it rebuilds in the city within the next five years.

The property was appraised at $205,000.

The city will pay for the property out of the General Fund balance, but a 1995 Community Bond Improvement, voted on by the citizens, will pay for the building of the new police station.

The church occupies the largest portion of the property

the city will need for the new complex. Negotiations with three homeowners, for the purchase of their property, have begun. The city earlier cleared a deed restriction from a lot, adjacent to the church, which was part of the "stair step" park system.

In a separate action, the commission awarded H.C. Connell, inc. the contract for installation of a water line along Sun Drive and a gravity sanitary sewer line along Fourth Street.

The sewer line will serve City Hall, which is currently on a septic system. Duryen saled Litton if the sewer line could be extended to the intersection of Fourth and West Crystal Lake Avenue, as the proposed sewer line serving the new police station will run the length of Crystal Lake Avenue.

Road name to change

SANFORD - Despite a rejection from the Sanford City Commission, Seminole County Commissioners Tuesday voted 4-1 in favor of renaming County Road 46A to H.E. Thomas Jr. Parkway. Chair-man Randy Morris was the one dissenting vote.

The county had requested input on the suggestion from Sanford. At the July 27 City. Commission meeting, the decision was against renaming the roadway with a letter to be forwarded to the county rejecting it, but suggesting the county name a park or new roadway in honor of Thomas, a deputy sheriff killed in the line of duty near Geneva.

With the county's approval of the request, the road is to be renamed beginning at U.S. Highway 17-92 in Sanford, west, to Orange Boulevard.

Signers on safari speak to deaf visitors at zoo

By Mary Rowell HERALD CORRESPONDENT

Everything is easier to un-derstand when you learn it in your own language. English speaking people understand science better when they're taught in English. The lan-guage is very different, but the same is true for the deaf. It's easier to understand the world around you when you learn about it in sign language.

Steve DeCresie, a member of the staff at the Central Florida Zoo, decided he needed to provide a zoo tour in sign language. So he started the Safari Signers. Some of the signers who joined up already had some experience in signing. Some had none. But they have all learned from each other. The Salari Signers is made up of some staff and a lot of docents. Docents are trained volunteers who go through a mini-zoology course to be able to work with animals and teach people about them.

Currently, the Safari Signers has a sign language tour worked out. But it's important for people to understand that members do not yet interpret. In other words, they cannot read everything that is being signed to them. This is, of course, how it is with any language. One must learn to speak (sign) a language before one can read (interpret) the language. Just as handwriting is different from person to person, everyone signs a little differently. But all of the Safari differently. But all of the Safari Signers are progressing very well. They hold regular meetings where they practice and improve their skills.

The Safari Signers held its first tour in July, it was a very small tour, by design, to give the Safari Signers experience. They're now ready for a little more experience. The next Safari Signers tour will be Saturfart Signers tour will be Satur-day, August 15 at 11:45 a.m. It is important to call the soo and make a reservation as the space is limited. As members of the Safari Signers grow and learn, they will be able to handle larger crowds. If you are interested, please call the Cen-tral Florida Zoo at 323-4450.

Cops reward with frosty drinks kids' positive actions

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Law enforcement agencies are re-warding good deeds by kids with coupons for frosty drinks. In its fourth year, the Opera-tion Chill program is spon-sored by 7-Eleven stores in 15 upons for a free Sturpee bev-age. spiked high heel shoes. "It is not right to be judged where you are employed. I'm a single parent, I spend quality time with my children. I'm a member of the PTA."

The Seminole County Citizens for Decency argues that nude dancing has made Seminole County a magnet for crime and sleazy individuals. Sheriff Don Elsinger agreed with them. "We are a magnet - the only "jurisdiction that allows nude dancing," he said, "We've tried to should this We've made arrests. We've month change this. We've made arrests. We've monitored these places."

Two of the commissioners who refused to approve the amendment agree that many of those who signed the petitions are good, de-cent people concerned about their community.

"I don't question their motivations." Com-mission Chairman Randy Morris said. "But I do question your, your and your motivation." he said to fellow commissioners Grant Maloy and Dick Van Der Weide and pastor Mark George. "You've pushed this to the political limits. I cannot support it."

McLain called the issue "the largest political football since I've lived here - in 50 years, We have a strategy in place that has been very successful. Your strategy has been to be dis-ruptive and make some commissioners look like we are pro adult entertainment. I certainly am not.

Commissioner Win Adams who also voted against the amendment repeated his alogan, "I'd have ordered air strikes against these places." He also said, "I don't think five white mys (the commissioners) can make decisions for the public. Let this go to the public."

Pastor George compared this to Pontius Pi-late washing his hands and turning Jesus over to be crucified.

Morris disagreed with the analogy as did others. "I know how deeply many people feel about this."

Attorney David Wasserman asked the com-mission to table its decision and wait until FBI handwriting experts could check the signed pe-titions. This, Morris said, was not within the commission's jurisdiction. The Supervisor of Elections validated the signatures and sent them to the commission.

Those seeking to pass the Public Decency Ordinance want the nude dancers to cover up, and wear at last a French-cut bikini. The pub-lic nudity ban would also apply to streets, parks, restaurants and other public places but not to back yards.

"What bothers me is that the people making all the fuss have never been in any of the clubs they are trying to change," Bruce McKay told disabled. They have been married 58 years and they live in Fern Park, where many of the adult clubs have flourished for years.

They lovingly held each other's hands and applauded when others who supported the ordinance spoke. They, too, spoke, "We're just old folks," Edith Gildart said, "but we know what's stable or meaning a medical the second of t what's right or wrong. I predict the voice of the people will prevail."

TEA provides employers with tax breaks

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - Employers providing public transportation and vanpool benefits to their and vanpool benefits to their employees may now consider this benefit a fringe benefit as a result of the passage of the Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century. The act, better known as TEA-21, authorized transit and highway program funding and made several changes to the internal eral changes to the Internal Revenue Code when it was signed into law by President Clinton this past June.

Under changes made by TEA-21, employers may provide transit and vanpool benefits to their employees in lieu of existing compensation. This gives transit and vanpool benefits the same tax treatment as parking benefits under the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997.

Under TEA-21 and the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1987, public transportation and vanpool qualified fringe benefits can be used as follows:

* Employers may give their employees up to $65 per month in benefits to commute to work by public transportation or eligible vanpools that are tax exempt to employers and employees.

 Employers may permit their employees to set aside some of their pre-tax income to pay for public transporta-tion of eligible vanpools.

• Employers may share the cost of commuting with their employees.

* Employers may establish a parking cash out program where employees may choose to cash out the value of their employer-provided parking, forego parking, and receive the taxable cash value of the parking, or receive a tax-free transit or eligible vanpool benefit up to $65 per month.

According to the Federal Transit Administration, providing public transportation benefits in lieu of salary will not increase cost to employ-ers, but will actually reduce payroll costs since payroll taxes do not apply to these benefit amounts.

Employers interested in es-tablishing public transporta-tion programs for employees, including vanpools and Lynx Bus Passes, should contact

Ann Joslin at Lynx at 841-2279, ext. 3204. Specific questions concerning changes to the Internal Revenue Code should be addressed to the in-ternal Revenue Service at 1-800-829-1040.

Lynx, the Central Florida Regional Transportation Authority, is committed to providing efficient multi-modal transportation services for area residents and guests. Lynx operates fixed route bus service on more than 50 routes; A+ Link; Lymmo (Downtown Orlando's bus circulator); car and vanpoot matching services; Highway Helpers roadside assistance and will operate the region's first light rail system beginning in 2002.

Super slammers in Sanford

Historic Memorial Stadium to host nation's 10 best teams

By Dean Smith HERALD SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD _ The City of Sanford and the Seminole County Convention and Visitor's Bureau will host the ASA National Men's Super Slow Pitch Softball Tournament starting Thursday evening.

Ten teams from across the country will compete for the second leg of the Grand Slam of major slow pitch softball on Rinker-Stenstrom Pield at Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium.

This is the second straight year the tourna-ment will be held in Sanford. Last year's event drew over 600 speciators daily. Because of the success of the 1997 tournament and the impression left on the teams by the refurbished stadium, Sanford will also host the event in Waterbury, Connecticut-based Ritch's Superior came out of the Loser's Bracket to beat Shen Valley 21-18 and 30-29 (with the two teams combining for 30 home runs on the regulation baseball field) to win their second straight ASA championship.

Ritch's Superior second baseman DeWayne Nevitt was named the tournament Most Valuable Player after going 24-for-38 (.683) with a tournament high 20 home runs, 28 runs scored and 37 RDI.

The favorite for the tournament, at least on paper, would figure to be Team TPS, a squad made up of a combination of players from Ritch's Superior and Shen Valley.

But Team TPS lost two straight games in the ISA National Tournament in Gastonia, North Carolina last weekend, giving hope to the other teams this weekend, especially Lighthouse and Steel's, both of which have been hot of late.

In fact, five teams are given a better then even shot at winning the title of the double climina-Please see Nationale, Page 28

Johnston's family moved to the Winter Springs district last year. Johnston was the leading scorer in Central Florida last season at Ovisdo High. She was a quarter-back who broke defenses and almost single-handedly carried an undermanned Liona team before a loss to Lyman in districts ended the campaign.

Post 53 on the road to Tennessee

By Boss Smith HERALD SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD _ Nothing can beat experience.

A year ago, winning the American Legion World Scries champtonship was a new feeling for the entire Sanford Post 53 squad.

But when memager Rod Ferger-son looks down his rooter this year he accs seven young men who played on the 1997 team, five of whom started the majority of the games.

And that gives a lot of accurity to Fergerson, who acknowledges that this year's team is not as talented as last year.

"We won most of those games in the State Tournament because of our experience," said Fergerson. The gays knew what to expect and how to win. And they never panicked. We have a lot of talent on this team, just not quite as much as last year.

Senford trailed in all five of its victories over the weekend and won two games in about as exciting a fashion as you can imagine.

And the experience gained by the new players in the state tournament should bode well for Forger-son and Post 53 when they open play in the Southeastern Regional at Volunteer State College in Callatin, Tennessee on Thursday.

Breaking the bank calls for party food

A large number of the parties and dinners I cater involve menus that are really quite basic. Sometimes it's due to basic. Sometimes it's due to budget, sometimes it's due to the host's attempt to please the "picky eater" at the expense of the other guests that love good eating and occasionally it's just plain lack of imagination and too much colorie counting calorie counting.

Recently, I catered a party for a couple who reflected my views on "party food" - "the devil with cholesterol and calories". It's a party, let's eat. After all you don't attend

After all you don't attend dinner parties or celebrate every night so why not enjoy something special to eat on a special occasion.

The first word in "dinner party" is dinner. If you serve an average dinner it's an average party soon to be forgotten after the next party. While a truly exciting meal can be remembered for years as one of the all time best parties.

One example of the dinner being remembered from a party occurred when a gentleman broke the bank at Monte Carlo and threw a party for 36 people at the Savoy. The man had won on a bet on red at the roulette table and requested everything table and requested everything at the party be red including the food and decorations. The 10-course meal has become known as the legendary "Red dinner at the Savoy". It was

THE FIRST THING YOUR GLASS ...

DEAR DR. GOTT: I was diagnosed as having polymyalgia rheumatics. I'm taking 12-1/2 milligrams of prednisone daily, but suffer from side effects. Is this disease curable? What can I expect?

DEAR READER: Polymyalgia rheumatica is a type of arterial and muscle inflammation. The problem usually will go away on its own; but you will need to take prednisone until it does, because the active disease is associated with serious complications such as stroke, blindness and heart attack. Taking the medicine on alternate days may reduce the incidence and severity of side effects. Ask year dector about this.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What is a specification, and does what I out affect it?

DEAR READER: Specific colon, or irritable bowel, is a common condition, that presence various types of intentivous tension and stress stimulate the colonic nerves to overact.

A change in diet or the use of a bulking agent, such as Metamucil, might help control the spastic colon's intestinal overactivity. Declars often recommend avoidance of stress to relieve symptoms, but in my experience this is seldem practical. Make sure that your physician has ruled out other causes of hovel maifunction; for example, hintal bernia, colitis and other intestinal abnormalities can mimic spastic colon.
