

Lawyers Probing Into Space Law

NEW YORK (UPI) — The glowing fragment of a Soviet satellite plunged into Lake Michigan early in the morning of Sept. 5, 1962. It raised quite a splash.

And it raised questions that have increasingly confounded lawyers as man's activity in space has increased.

What would happen if the glistening chunk of satellite had hit someone's home? Could he sue for damages? Would he collect?

Man's tentative tiptoes into space have created a body of space law, but as yet no practice. One of the intrigued lawyers is New Yorker Eugene Brooks, who combines an education in international law with his hobby of peering at the moon through a backyard telescope.

Brooks and other lawyers say a foundation of space law precedents isn't going to be established until some accidents occur, so only tentative principles can be advanced. Man's entry into space will not alter that old Latin rule of thumb, "res facta aritur jus" — law follows fact.

The United States' existing Federal Tort Claims Act provides the groundwork for a damage suit. Under that law, if a citizen of the United States was injured by a rocket launched by this country, he could sue for damages. He would have to prove negligence on the part of the government and would probably use the official investigation of the accident as the basis of his claim.

But if the government could prove that the accident occurred as a result of bad judgment, rather than a lack of care in carrying out a decision, the suit would be dismissed. In legal terms, this is the doctrine of "discretionary function."

An example would be an accident resulting from the launching of a rocket under bad weather conditions. The accident likely would be ruled the result of bad judgment, not bad rocketry.

The law shields the government from accidents which occur outside the boundaries of the United States.

As for that falling Soviet satellite, Brooks says it isn't likely that an American would collect if he were hurt by it.

The United States doesn't permit a Russian to collect in U. S. courts if an American satellite crashes in the Soviet Union and Brooks considers it unlikely that the Soviets would be more generous.

Recognizing that an accident could raise international tempers and tensions, the General Assembly of the United Nations adopted a declaration of legal principles governing outer space last Dec. 13.

The UN declaration isn't binding, but it does advance the principle that each nation which launches an object into space and each nation from whose territory or facility an object is launched is "internationally liable" for damage done on earth, in air space or in outer space.

Presumably, by including "facilities", the UN members had in mind rockets and boosters.

The resolution ignored a U. S. proposal that international liability be imposed without requiring the injured party to prove negligence on the part of the launching nation.

Nor does the resolution permit an injured person to sue a launching nation on his own. He must depend on the intervention of his government.

U. S. law does not cloak private companies with the same protection that the government enjoys. A care-less private firm has no immunity from suit to any extent and would be liable, says Brooks, "for any amount, in any court, here or elsewhere, whether the accident happened inside or outside the United States."

This is noteworthy as private enterprise, through the government-created Satellite Communication Corp., enters space.

But lawsuits against private firms, either those that put up satellites or those that play a role in building them, are going to create legal pandemonium.

More than 600 contractors and about 4,500 subcontractors played a role in creation of the space capsule that carried Maj. L. Gordon Cooper around the globe 22 times last year.

Determining which of the 5,100 individual companies was responsible for the flaw had something gone wrong would be quite a job.

The PTO hopes to purchase two overhead projectors, a 16 mm film projector and books for the school library. A total of 700 more books are needed to have an accredited library at the school.

Silver Tea Sunday At Public Library

The Sanford Public Library will be honored Sunday at an open house benefit tea at the library building from 2 to 5 p. m. The event is being sponsored jointly by the Jaycee Women's Club and the Sanford Woman's Club to help provide equipment for the library's new quarters.

Mrs. C. P. Harkey, chairman of the Fine Arts Department, will represent the Woman's Club as chairman. The Jaycee Women's Club will be Mrs. Ed Price.

Librarians will be at the entrance to welcome the guests. Hostesses from both clubs will serve punch and cakes.

Music will be supplied by Peter Dimock.

The Jaycee Women's Club and the Woman's Club are inviting the public to take advantage of this opportunity to view the library and to become acquainted with the librarians.

Casselberry Board Discusses Drainage Plans

Long term planning for solution to the major problem of drainage in the town of Casselberry was discussed at this week's meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

An impression and digest report, as requested from County Engineer Bill Bush and County Superintendent of Roads J. C. Lavender, was presented by Attorney Kenneth McIntosh and reviewed by the board. The report suggested that the town request not less than three qualified engineers give consideration to the problem and submit specifications needed to correct it. Engineers, in turn, would be given the privilege of bidding on the overall job.

McIntosh, authorized to contact area engineering firms on the suggestion, advised that it probably would take some 60 days before survey reports are ready for submission to the board.

Opened bids on a new patrol car for the police department and on a new one-ton panel truck for the fire department were turned over to the respective chiefs for consideration and study before awards are announced.

Purchases were authorized for materials to make needed sign posts and to install a culvert on Quintuplet Drive at Winter Park Drive.

Leap Year Show To Feature 20 Acts

Jim Daugherty, chairman of the Lake Mary C of C Talent Show committee, has issued a progress report for the forthcoming All-Seminole Leap Year Talent Show to be held at 8 p. m., Feb. 29, in the auditorium of Sanford Junior High School.

Twenty complete acts are on the program including a Magician, hula and ballet dancers, hill-billy and popular singers, with the best emcee on record, "Cracker" Donaldson. This will be a two hour show and is highly recommended as good family entertainment.

Tickets are on sale now at a very low cost. Proceeds will go for good works in the community. A few items are still needed: a park bench, flats for scenery, flood lights for stage, some strong backs to help with moving back stage and others to help with costumes.

The merchants in Lake Mary are donating door prizes and cash prizes will be awarded the top act winners, as well as three ten dollar cash prizes for lucky ticket number holders in the audience that night.

Baker's Dairy, of Sanford, was named runner-up in the state Dairy Herd Management Award program, according to the Florida Agricultural Extension Service. Winner was Clyde Yancey, of Myakka City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Laney who reside on the old Orlando Highway were watching television Thursday night when they heard an unusual noise outside their home. An investigation revealed a goat standing up to a window watching the TV show.

The animal turned out to be the black goat the JayCees are using in their annual membership campaign. The goat had been staked out in front lawn of Cecil Tucker's home. The goat is now back in the possession of JayCee president Jim Smith.

Jim had been told earlier that the goat enjoyed television. When Jim returned home he placed the animal in front of his set and—sure enough—the goat settled down and enjoyed the show without a twitch.

Cape Hearing To Be Tuesday

ORLANDO (UPI)—A federal judge has put off until Tuesday a hearing on a Cape Kennedy labor dispute when attorneys for the two sides said an agreement might be near.

Attorneys for the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) and Railroad Telegraphers agreed informally there would be no picketing pending the return to court scheduled for 1 p. m. Tuesday. Picketing on Monday and Tuesday shut down construction operations at the nation's space center.

While the court action was under way here Thursday, Gov. Farris Bryant disclosed in Tallahassee he has been working quietly for some time to end the dispute between the Florida East Coast Railway (FEC) and 11 non-operating unions on strike against it for more than a year. The picketing at the space center grew out of this dispute.

GENESYS HQ To Be At Cape Kennedy

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—The Board of Control designated 20 acres of land just inside the south gate of the Cape Kennedy missile test center today as central headquarters for the graduate engineering system (GENESYS) in east-central Florida.

Satellite facilities were set in Orlando's Central Industrial Park, just south of the Mainland High School in Daytona Beach and a contract was approved with Brevard Engineering College to handle the Melbourne operation of GENESYS.

The board adopted an operating budget for the program totaling $38,568 for the 1963-64 year. GENESYS is the University of Florida's answer to a legislative directive ordering extension of the university's college of engineering to the east-central portion of the state to offer advanced instruction to personnel in the missile and missile-related industries. The central facility and satellite locations will be connected together and with the main school in Gainesville with talk-back closed circuit television. Resident instructors will also be used and students will be granted degrees from the university.

Barry Rocky Attack LBJ

By United Press International Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, ignoring their own intra-party battle for the GOP presidential nomination, aimed their campaign barbs at President Johnson Thursday, accusing him of incompetence in foreign affairs and slipshod domestic policies.

The GOP's woman senator seeking the nomination, Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, continued her unorthodox campaign Thursday in New Hampshire. She discussed the meat-care situation at a Christian Scientist home, crossed a typographer's picket line in Concord to talk with the management, business and editorial personnel of the Daily Monitor and visited Democratic Mayor Roland S. Valdez. She also stopped to chat with the pickets at the Monitor plant.

LBJ May Push Button To Break Ground

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—President Johnson may push a button later this month and blast the first hole for the Florida cross-state canal.

Gov. Farris Bryant said Thursday he has urged the President to take part in groundbreaking ceremonies near the Roadheaver Boys Ranch southwest of Palatka later this month, either the 27th or 28th.

The Army Corps of Engineers awarded the first contract for the canal Thursday and said the President had indicated he will attend the ground-breaking program.

The Corps awarded Tidewater Dredging Co., of Metairie, La., a $196,376 contract for a six mile land cut southwest of Palatka. Parkhill-Gooker Co., of Jacksonville, received a $228,780 contract for a one mile dredging job.

Bryant said Thursday he did not know whether the President would be at the ground-breaking in person, but hoped he could participate by remote control in the state of the Palatka to Yanketown barge canal.

The President plans to speak in Miami Beach on Feb. 27 at a fund-raising dinner.

U. S. Rests Case Against Hoffa

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI)—The government rested its case today in the trial of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa on charges of attempting to bribe and influence jurors.

U. S. Justice Department attorney James F. Neal announced that the prosecution completed its case with the testimony of Albert J. Gasdor, court reporter in Hoffa's 1962 trial on conspiracy charges in Nashville.

Hoffa and five other men have been on trial here nearly five weeks on charges of attempting to bribe and "corruptly influence" members of the 1962 jury. The union chief can be sentenced to 20 years in prison if convicted.

Gasdor testified today about a meeting between U. S. District Judge William E. Miller and a Nashville insurance man, James Tippens. Miller was trial judge and Tippens was a prospective juror in the conspiracy case.

Mightiest Force

If the average person was asked what he considers the mightiest force in the world, he would likely give some sort of vague answer concerning atomic power. Of course, there would be some who would give many other answers. Perhaps there would be expressed the idea that political power is the greatest. Another might say that economic power is by far superior. The important thing is to find the correct answer.

We are a bit apt to ignore posts in our day of "practical matters," however, it is noteworthy to read the familiar words of Alfred Lord Tennyson which tell us, "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of," and then he finished by saying, "For so the whole round earth is every way bound by gold chains about the feet of God."

Maybe many of us would say "yes" to much praise of prayer and then neglect it even as do those who are more reluctant to sing its praises. Dean Inge, who served the famous and inspiring St. Paul's cathedral of London, expressed an opinion that one needs to consider. He said that he felt the average man spends sixteen hours each day with the affairs that pertain to material things and about five minutes for the same time on spiritual matters. He commented further by saying, "It is not surprising that to such people the things of the world should be two hundred times as real as the things of the Kingdom of God."

Our age is supposed to be one to hear and read some deliberations that affords much leisure. It must be true somewhere (not in Florida) because we do have many means of saving labor. Be this as it may many people do not find time available for meditative purposes. Even though we have so many demands made on our time we should realize that there are more important demands made on a more important One concerning our spiritual lives. According to many who have tried it, prayer, not atomic science, is the mightiest force on earth. It is also interesting to note who some of the people are who have claimed great importance for prayer.

Christ is the final authority for many of us and He was absolutely sure that prayer is vital. We find that our Lord considered prayer so important that while others were resting by sleeping He found a greater rest in praying for long periods even when His time was in shortest supply. His disciples were aware of the example that He was setting before them and they also knew that they did not know the secret of prayer, so they asked Him to teach them to pray. Our Saviour gave them "The Lord's Prayer" as a model for their prayers and how thankful we can be for it today. The fervent prayers of our Lord can be seen throughout His earthly ministry.

If we wanted to take examples from the Bible only, we would find them from the first to the last page. Such men as Hesteriah, Elijah, Daniel and David of the Old Testament; such men as the repentant thief on the cross, Paul, and Peter of the New Testament are to mention just a few of the great hosts of men who knew the importance of prayer.

When we leave the Bible for example we do not find our supply exhausted. Such men as Martin Luther, John Calvin, John Knox, John Wesley, Charles Spurgeon, Jonathan Edwards on down to our spiritual giants of today were men of prayer.

Many of us are not known far and near by men, but the ears of God are open just as much to our prayers if we make them sincerely. Let us claim this mighty power that God is offering us and have lives that are more meaningful for Him.

SS Teachers To Attend School

By Jane Casselberry
Workers from the Casselberry Community Methodist Church Sunday School will attend the annual Christian Workers School to be held Monday through Friday of next week, from 7:30 until 9:30 p.m. each day, at the First Methodist Church in Orlando.

For those who find it more convenient, morning sessions will be held from 9:30 until 11:30 a.m. at the Winter Park First Methodist Church. Many prominent Methodist ministers and laymen will serve as instructors for the school.

Courses will be taught on the following subjects: Use of the Bible with Children, the Work of Superintendents of the Children's Division, How to Improve the Church School, Basic Christian Beliefs, the Meaning of Methodism, Paul, the Man and his Work and Enjoy your Family.

Casselberry Community Methodist Church WSCS was the "Role of the Christian Woman" and was led by Mrs. Marvin McClain.

The new carpet in church red, donated by the WSCS, has been installed in the sanctuary and new kneeling pads for the altar rail have been provided by the Sunshine Circle.

Mrs. Arthur Putman, president, announced the district meeting of the WSCS to be held Friday, Feb. 26, starting at 9:30 a.m. at the First Methodist Church in Eustis. Those wishing to attend should contact Mrs. Putman to make transportation arrangements. Rev. DeLima Copeland will accompany the group.

Mrs. Frank Messick, who will direct the Vacation Bible School to be held in June, made an appeal for teachers and workers.

The Esther Circle has donated an adjustable crutch for the church's sick room loan service. The Sunshine Circle announced plans for visiting the patients in Shaner's Nursing Home in Casselberry on Valentine's Day to take gifts and refreshments. Refreshments were served following Tuesday's meeting by the hostesses, Mrs. Ralph Newcomer, Mrs. J. H. Innis,

Superintendent To Be Guest At Ebenezer

Dr. Joe A. Tolle, superintendent of the DeLand District of the Methodist Church, will deliver the sermon for Sunday's 11 a.m. worship service at the Ebenezer Methodist Church.

A covered dish dinner will be held following the service. All members and friends are urged to come, bring a dish of food and stay for the meal and fellowship. Members of the Sunday School department and friends are asked to attend the regular 9:45 a.m. classes this week to help the department meet its goal of 100 persons present at this time.

Rev. Trainor Honored At Farewell Party

By Donna Estes
More than 100 members of the Church of Nativity parish attended a farewell party in honor of Rev. William J. Trainor, pastor, Tuesday evening in the social hall of the church.

Father Trainor will leave Lake Mary Friday to assume the pastorate of St. Mary of the Lakes Church in Eustis. Mrs. John MacFarlane, president of the Catholic Women's Club of the church, and John Kennedy, president of the Holy Name Society, expressed to Father Trainor the sorrow of the parish in losing him and good wishes for success and happiness in his new assignment.

They presented him with a purse and spiritual bouquet in the name of the parish. A tape recorder also was presented by Bill Rogers of the Men's Club.

The pastor, in accepting gifts, stated that he appreciated having had the privilege of founding the Church of the Nativity and urged the people to support their new pastor, Rev. James Honnen, who has been serving the church in Cocoa. The Catholic Women's Club will be hostesses for a reception in the social hall of the church in Father Honnen's honor following the 12 o'clock Mass this Sunday.

Distinguished guests present Tuesday night included Rev. Richard Lyons of All Souls Church in Sanford; Rev. Ralph Kaiser, Catholic

Chaplain at the Sanford Naval Air Station and Mrs. Perry Silar, secretary for the pastor. Representing the various church organizations, other than Kennedy, Rogers and Mrs. MacFarlane, were Albert Foulter, secretary of St. Richard's Council 5357, Knights of Columbus; Joseph Hopkins, vice president of the Holy Name Society; Miss Dorothy Teslo, interim president, and Mrs. Andrew Teslo and Mrs. Joseph Hopkins, past presidents of the Catholic Women's Club; Mrs. George Sommer, chairman, and Mrs. Helen Beam, chairman elect of Our Lady's Circle of North Orlando. Mrs. Thelma Demas, past chairman of Sunland's St.

Anne's Circle; Mrs. John Kennedy chairman, and Mrs. Orlando Fox, chairman elect, of Longwood's St. Catherine of Siena Circle and Mrs. Dorothy Edwards, chairman elect of Lake Mary's St. Theresa Circle.

Coffee and cake were served to the gathering by members of the Women's Club.

Catholic Women's Club Holds Board Meeting

By Donna Estes

An executive board meeting of the Church of the Nativity Catholic Women's Club was held Monday night at the church following a covered dish supper and farewell party in honor of Mrs. John MacFarlane, president, who is leaving to join her husband in Iceland.

Announcement was made that Mrs. Virginia Burke has resigned as vice president since she has accepted full-time employment.

Interim officers appointed to serve until elections are held in March were named by Mrs. MacFarlane. Miss Dorothy Tealo, present secretary, will assume the office of president. Mrs. Barbara Shannon will be vice president and Mrs. Elena Shaw will serve as secretary-treasurer.

A nominating committee was appointed by Rev. William J. Trainor, pastor of the church, and recommendations for the new slate of officers will be presented at the March meeting prior to the elections.

Events announced for the remainder of this month included the Catholic Women's Club Communion Sunday to be held this week at the 8 a.m. Mass and Family Communion Sunday to be held at the noon Mass, Feb. 23.

The regular meeting of the general club will be held at 8 p.m. next Monday in the social hall of the church with Rev. Richard Lyons of All Souls parish as guest speaker.

Lake Mary Church To Honor Rev. Pilley

By Frances Wexler

A farewell dinner for Rev. John Pilley minister of the Lake Mary Community Presbyterian Church, and his family, will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday in the educational building of the church.

All members and friends are invited to attend and bring a fried chicken with a covered dish.

The Pilley's will leave on Monday for Memphis, Tenn. Rev. Pilley will deliver his farewell sermon for the 11 a.m. service at the church on Sunday.

Church To Host District Meet

The new Presbyterian Church of the Covenant of Sanford will be host to a district conference of the Women of the Church on Wednesday, Feb. 19.

Some 125 women are expected to attend from churches of DeBary, Maitland, Winter Park, DeLand First, Sanford First and the host church.

Mrs. Thomas H. Makin is district chairman.

Free Methodist Youth To Sponsor Movie

The feature length motion picture, "In His Steps," based on the world famous novel of the same name, will be shown at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Free Methodist Church of Sanford, corner of Laurel Avenue and Fourth Street.

The movie is being sponsored by the Free Methodist Youth of the church.

The story originally appeared as a book around the turn of the century, written by a Topeka clergyman named Charles M. Sheldon. It is reported to have sold over 50 million copies, and has been translated into dozens of languages across the world.

The film story follows the experiences of Rachel Paice, aspiring young actress, newspaper publisher Ed Norman, and Pastor Henry Maxwell, the clergyman whose unique concept changed their lives.

"In His Steps" as a novel came at a time in American history when vigorous social reforms were underway, especially in industrial communities. The film updates these situations, giving the story a contemporary approach.

Cheryl Lee Morrison appears as Rachel in the film. Russ Reed is cast as Pastor Maxwell and Harry Elders

DEMONSTRATIONS at Monday night's meeting of the Seminole County Council of 4-H Clubs, held at the Agricultural Building, were given by Bill Hein, of the Slavia Club and boys'

Churchwomen To Meet In Longwood

By Donna Estes

Election of a delegate and an alternate to the annual convention of the Diocese of South Florida to be held at Daytona Beach in April will be the main item of business at the regular meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen of Longwood's Christ Episcopal Church.

The meeting, to be conducted by Mrs. Marie Taylor, president, will take place Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Parish House on Church Street.

Future fund raising projects will be discussed.

Following the business meeting only coffee will be served in observance of the Lenten season.

Oviedo Church Gets New Pastor

By Bernice Kelsey

Rev. Cyrus B. Dawsey Jr., new minister for the First Methodist Church of Oviedo, will conduct the 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. worship services at the church this Sunday.

Coming here from Madison, Rev. Dawsey, who has been serving in the mission field in Brazil, recently was assigned to the Florida Conference of Methodist churches.

He and his wife, Marsha Lee, are the parents of four children: Cyrus B. III (Sonny), a student at FSU; Jimmy, 16; Suzanne, 13 and Johnny, 10. The younger children will attend school in Oviedo.

Service Change

Rev. Charles Stewart Jr., vicar of Longwood's Christ Episcopal Church, has announced that the regular Sunday services will be conducted for the next few weeks in the Parish House due to construction presently taking place at the church.

4-H Clubs Plan For April, May Events

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

The Seminole County Council of 4-H Clubs met Monday evening at the Agricultural Center with Margaret Stevens, girls' council president, and Bill Hein, boys' council president, presiding.

Plans were discussed for County Events Day, April 4; State Events Day, May 1 and May 2 and the County Dress Reveal, April 25.

Plans also were discussed for a tentative field trip and guided tour to Cypress Gardens or an Ocala Stud Farm. Definite arrangements, when completed, will be announced.

Demonstrations were presented by Patty Baker of the Lake Monroe Club, who also gave the opening devotion, on how to make cookies and by Bill Hein of the Slavia Club on beekeeping.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served to the boys and girls, their leaders, Cecil Tucker, Ernest Lundberg and Miss Myrtle Wilson.

Mrs. Hazel Dineen of Knoxville, Tenn., was a special guest for the evening.

Area Methodists Announce Plans For Dinners

By Jane Casselberry

Commanders and co-commanders for the Loyalty Dinners scheduled by the Casselberry Community Methodist Church for April 1-3 have been announced. Names of church members to be invited by co-captains were assigned at a meeting last Sunday afternoon.

Commander of the dinners is Marvin McClain and co-commanders are Carlyle Swafford, Frank Messick, Miss Eleanor Ferrell and Skip Hood.

The Friday night dinner will be reserved for young people of the church.

Church Group Plans Sale

By Donna Estes

A bake sale was planned at the regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the First Pentecostal Church of Longwood held Monday evening.

The bake sale will be scheduled early in March with the exact time and location to be announced. Proceeds will be used toward the auxiliary's current project of ceiling the annex to the church.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Obera Young.

The next meeting will take place March 2 with Mrs. Neita Holtzclaw as hostess.

Tax Candidate Tells Platform

Mrs. Marjorie Shepard, assistant county tax collector, an announced candidate for tax collector, today announced her platform:

"In connection with my candidacy for the office of tax collector for Seminole County I would like to state that, if elected, I and the personnel of the office will continue to render efficient and courteous service. There will be no discrimination shown but each person on an equal basis. This is in fact a county office and belongs to the people of Seminole County of which we are well aware.

"Further I would like to state that if elected I would continue to abide by the laws of the State of Florida and rules and regulations promulgated by the State Comptroller, Motor Vehicle Commissioner, Beverage Department, Board of Conservation and Florida Revenue Commission as is now being done by the other counties of the State.

"In recognition of the rapid growth of the county I feel the need of additional facilities for handling tag renewals and it is my intention to provide such facilities beginning in 1965.

"I am qualified for the office of tax collector as I have had 12 years experience in the office, four years as deputy and eight years as assistant to John L. Galloway, present tax collector, who is retiring. I am familiar with all accounts and phases of the work.

"In view of my experience and service I would appreciate any consideration given me in the way of a promotion in this work. I might further state that qualifications are not limited to sex."

A Sanford Son Retires

Forty years of public service will end for Judge A. O. Kanner. And Sanford can be the proudest area in the state.

For Judge Kanner is a Sanford native. He has never forgotten it. He has visited here often during his long tenure as judge of the Second District Court of Appeals in Lakeland.

The venerable judge retires Saturday.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kanner, he was born in this city. He graduated from the old Sanford High School and also from the University of North Carolina. Judge Kanner received his law degree at Stetson University.

His career after graduation from Stetson is a model for others to follow. It includes:

Five terms as a member of the House of Representatives from Marion County; two terms in the State Senate, serving the 33rd District and with his home in St. Lucie County. He later resigned from the Senate to accept his first judgeship.

That was as circuit judge. He was serving in that capacity when he was chosen seven years ago to the position from which he will retire Saturday.

"Retire" is a word not found in Judge Kanner's dictionary. He hopes he will be called back to serve for brief periods from time to time. Practicing attorneys and members of the judiciary have expressed warm approval for the service Judge Kanner has given. They state without dissent that he has one of the outstanding legal minds and the judicial temperament to weigh each situation dispassionately and with complete objectivity.

Judge Kanner is retiring. Sanford joins with his host of friends in offering him a warm thanks. Thanks for the service he has rendered; thanks for having brought to Sanford the honors which accompany the success of a native son.

Major Threat

Accidents are a major threat to the lives of preschool children in the United States, say statisticians of a major life insurance company.

About 5,000 such youngsters are accidentally killed every year, which is almost 80 percent of the entire mortality of children aged one to four. At those ages, more of our young ones die from accidents than from pneumonia, leukemia, measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, diphtheria and polio combined, the statisticians noted.

Although mortality from motor vehicle accidents has been reduced in recent years, as has the general accident death rate for children, these types of mishaps still account for nearly one-third of all accident fatalities among the pre-school youngsters. The pedestrian toll is particularly high.

Fires and explosions rank second as a cause of fatal injuries at ages one and four. The death rate from these accidents has also decreased during the last decade, but more rapidly among young girls than among boys, the statisticians said.

Mortality from burns and scalds by liquids, steam and other substances has shown a more rapid decrease than any other type of accident among youngsters between the years 1950 and 1960. Most of these fatal accidents occur among babies one and two years of age.

Currently, about one-eighth of all accidents among preschool children are attributable to drowning. In spite of the fact that the death rate from drowning has fallen about 20 per cent for boys, the toll among them is still twice as high as it is among young girls, the statisticians concluded.

President Carl W. Buchheiser of the National Audubon Society has given the U. S. Navy four recommendations for dealing with bird problems at Midway, where air collisions with albatrosses have endangered planes and personnel. He urged the Navy to:

"1. Employ a full-time, resident ornithologist at Midway to seek solutions that would save the birds while protecting planes and crews.

"2. Continue research recently started on the use of amplified sounds to keep albatrosses away from the airstrip on Sand Island.

"3. Flag the network of guy-wires or find other means of preventing the loss of up to 100 albatrosses weekly that kill themselves by flying into the huge antennae on Eastern Island.

"4. Keep hands off the nearby Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge."

Buchheiser spent a week at Midway in January as the Navy was starting a bird-control project that involved the killing of approximately 20,000 of the 150,000 albatrosses estimated to nest on Sand and Eastern islands of the Midway group. Acting upon the advice of a government biologist, the Navy removed the nesters from 780-foot strips on either side of the runways by the Navy's radar patrol planes.

M. H. Waring, of Madison, has been named president of the newly-organized Florida Dairy Herd Improvement Association. Mrs. A. S. Hammond, Orlando, was elected vice-president; Dr. Barney Harris, Assistant Extension dairymen, Florida Agricultural Experiment Station, secretary; and Mrs. Mary C. Tompkins, Gainesville, treasurer.

The Players Guild Film Festival at Stetson University will open its third consecutive season of foreign and domestic films with a showing of Orson Welles' "The Trial" on Feb. 19 in Stover Theater. Based on the Franz Kafka novel, "The Trial" stars Orson Welles and Tony Postuma and has never before been shown in the DeLand area.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson has agreed to serve as Honorary National Chairman of National Dystrophy Association of America, Inc. It has been announced by Association President Paul Cohen. "The First Lady's acceptance of this post," Mr. Cohen said, "is most heartening to dystrophy patients and their families. Mrs. Johnson's support will lend tremendous impetus to our all-out effort to further vital research and to provide services desperately needed by the afflicted."

The second program of the 1964 Florida Audubon Nature Theater will feature "The Living Wilderness" narrated by Charles E. Mohr, well-known nature photographer and lecturer of Kalamazoo, Mich. Mohr's work has appeared in Life, National Geographic, Audubon, and many other magazines. He is past president of the Pennsylvania Academy of Science, the National Speleological Society and the American Nature Study Society.

Florida's booming beef industry now has a population of some one-and-a-half million head, reports Dr. T. J. Cunha, head of the University of Florida's Animal Science Department for the Agricultural Experiment Stations. This is an increase from 253,000 in 1928. Beef production has increased from only 48 million to 348 million pounds, while the income from the sale of cattle and calves has soared from $74 million to $97 million. Dr. Cunha states that in addition to these increases, there has also been a significant rise in the quality of Florida's cattle.

NEW TERROR OF THE ECONOMIC HIGHWAY

Bruce Blossat -- Ray Cromley

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — American troubles in Africa are certain to increase in late 1964 and in 1965 when sizeable numbers of the 5,000 African students now being educated in Soviet Russia and Eastern Europe begin returning to Africa.

Even if the Soviet Union is successful in lining up only a tenth of that 5,000 as agents in the Castro style, these few can be extremely dangerous at the right time in a fitful of the weak African countries. Forty Castro agents probably swung the balance in the Zanzibar revolt. Very small numbers of British troops—60 in one case, 100 to 200 in another—put down the revolting troops in Tanganyika and Kenya. These figures indicate what small numbers are required at the right time in the right spot to control the situation or swing it one way or another in many places in confused Africa.

Red China is now offering scholarships to Africans. There are reports that Chou En-lai has made progress in his good will trip through Africa.

There are a number of other cadres in Communist hands. Most of the governments in Africa are weak now. Because of their inexperience in self-government, their shortage of economic resources, their lack of business training and experience, their low level of education, they are likely to remain weak and a prey to small Castro-type revolutionary groups for more than a decade.

In a number of cases the trend is already toward one-party systems. Most of the emerging native governments of Africa are trending toward what they call socialism.

If the Communists consolidate their hold in Zanzibar, they're expected to try, Castro-like, to spread their type of revolution to the continent of Africa. So Africa may already have its Cuba-type training base.

But with all this, say U. S. diplomats, the Communists have real problems in Africa which the United States and the West can exploit if we play our cards right.

There's an open and fierce fight between Mao Tse-tung's Red China and Nikita Khrushchev's Soviet Russia for control of communism in Africa. In some cases they may cooperate, but in most areas they're apparently out for each other's blood.

U. S. government experts see Africanism—rather than nationalism, communism or capitalism—as the dominant force now in Africa. On one occasion an avowed Marxist African ruler threw out the Soviet ambassador on the grounds the Russian Communists were interfering in his country's internal affairs.

Though they're still arguing the point, experts are tending to agree that Africanism in Africa means racism. The Africans are also fed up with "colonialism." This means, the experts reason, that the Africans will shy away from being satellites of any power—especially any non-African power.

The Red Chinese are working on this very point. They're accusing the Russians of being "whites" and playing on the strong African racist feelings. They've attempted to exclude Russians from Afro-Asiatic meetings.

The U. S. experts reason, too, that when Russian-trained agents return to Africa in numbers and when and if Zanzibar agents begin to infiltrate continental Africa, there will be a strong reaction against them.

The U. S. policy will be, they suggest, to be always available to help African governments when we're called on. We'll bend over backward to not even seem to interfere. We'll train as many and educate more Africans than the Russians.

The U. S. government's hope is that when there's trouble, as in Tanganyika and Kenya, the Africans will call in the West, not the East.

Letters

The Herald welcomes letters from its readers on public affairs. The writer may use a pen name provided the letter also carries the writer's true name and address. Letters of fewer than 200 words will be given preference. Letters addressed to others are acceptable provided they do not deal in personalities. Poetry is not published by The Herald.

Barbs

By Hal Cochran

High prices often take the wind out of department store sales.

Throw teen-agers and a juke box together and you have another night club racket.

With the countryside heat there has been little need for the "Keep Off the Grass" signs.

Fact

Birds come tend to be high-priced (parrots correlated with high bird sale of metabolism) and their bearing range across that of humans. Notes tend to be short and arranged in a pattern. It is true that some songs are repeated over and over with but slight variations, but birds may have shorter and weaker memories than we have, so the memories may not be dependent to them.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Diane shed tears of chagrin at breaking up her romance with the leading boy of her high school. But she did so! And he turned to an easy mark, who apparently tried to bribe a boy's favor with sexual liberties. That in itself indicates lack of social charm! So he soon came back to Diane with apologies!

CASE R-42: Diane D., 16, is the worried high schooler whose steady boy friend wanted her to indulge in trial marriage.

"Dr. Crane," she moaned, "it will mean he will hit me if I don't give in to him."

"And that would hurt my pride terribly, for we've gone steady for six months."

"In fact, he says we are just about the same as married already, so why shouldn't we go all the way?"

Don't let emotions stampede your brain. Social pressures, such as being fitted, should NEVER alter the plain medical and psychological facts—all of which veto premarital sexual relations!

Diane's temporary hurt pride, if she were fitted, would be mild compared to what would happen if she got syphilis or dropped out of school prematurely because of pregnancy.

And then the debate as to what to do with her baby would cause untold damage to her morale all her life.

So play the batting averages. It's far better to take a little pain temporarily than a big pain forever!

Besides, those teen-age romances often blow over and in a remarkably short time.

Your high school romances fainted!

If you disbelievers me, ask your older friends who are now at college!

Wither so fast that when you come home from college at the Christmas holidays, you may wonder who you ever saw in your former sweet-heart that made you so in-severe, too, for you can become infatuated several times before you marry, so don't think that the first case of butterflies in your tummy automatically means you have met the "one and only" man of your dreams.

That's malarky!

So pick wisely by using your brain more than your heart. For your heart is often fickle. It can change within a few months.

But logical facts remain forever!

Indeed, you can even learn to love a stranger—all within a few months—just by going through the proper motions so be hardboiled. Think of your parents and also of your unborn children, for you are just the middle link in a 3-link chain.

Your future children cannot vote right now, so you hold their "proxy" ballots. Be sure you vote them wisely.

Cute sideburns or the dancing skill of your present boy friend will not thrill those future children!

Nor will his dad's swanky car. Or even his football letter!

Diane finally agreed to make a clean break with her boy friend, due to his unwise demands for premarital sex liberties.

With tears in her eyes, she severed their friendship. He dated another girl a few times and did his sexual experimenting with her.

Then he fitted that easy mark and came back, spoiled, to beg Diane to take him back—and on her own terms, too!

For men don't admire girls who are easy marks. They may use them for temporary sexual experimentation—but not for keeps!

Remember, any girl who must offer sexual liberties to win or hold a boy friend must thus be lacking in personal charm!

Perk Up Drab Bathroom With These Color Touches

A pretty bathroom is a daily delight and an important factor in your decorating talents. Since you can't change bathroom fixtures without major expense, clever use of color in bathroom accessories is the easiest way to perk up a drab bathroom.

The first way to use color effectively in a bathroom is with colored light bulbs. Since a bathroom is "furnished" with many areas of hard, cold ceramic, use lighting that is warm and soft. Yellow light bulbs impart warmth. Pink is a wonderfully flattering light which creates a rosy glow and gives you a psychological boost as you apply make-up. Fluorescent lights, too, are available in both warm and cool tubes.

If your bathroom is less than perfect in size and shape, careful selection of wall and ceiling paint will help correct architectural faults. Light colors appear to be farther away than they really are. A bathroom that is too small seems larger if painted or wallpapered in the palest of pastels. Bold, bright colors seem closer. An old-fashioned over-sized bathroom will "come together" with ceiling and walls painted red or bright blue. If the room is high but narrow, paint the ceiling an intense color and the walls a pastel in the same color family.

To achieve a unified decorative theme, select bathroom accessories in carefully coordinated colors and patterns. The new matching sets of towels, shower curtains and rugs in striking floral patterns create a custom-decorated effect.

Remember that toiletries are important accessories, too, and should be used to carry out your color scheme. For example, if towels and shower curtain are patterned with yellow and orange flowers, select yellow soap, a yellow space-saver tissue box, and yellow bathroom tissue.

If you have a tub shower, try using two shower curtains.

Mrs. Griffin To Speak At Club

Koelreuteria, or Golden Rain Tree, with masses of bright yellow flowers appearing at the branch tips in October, followed about a month later with clusters of bright red papery pods.

Parkinsonia or Jerusalem-Thorn. This small deciduous tree is unusual and attractive because of the lacy foliage, pendulous habit, yellow blossoms and green bark. The blooming period is April to June.

Brazilian Pepper tree, of rapid growth and bearing clusters of red berries in winter. It is not especially cold resistant, but it comes up quickly from the roots after being frozen, and so persists as a shrubby tree which fruits every year. Birds enjoy the berries.

Among the evergreens, don't forget the Hollies, of which there are many species. The Southern Magnolia is handsome at all seasons, and is especially lovely in late spring, with fragrant creamy white blossoms. The soft, thick, papery bark, slender and upright habit, and the yellow-white blossom clusters make the Melaleuca, or Punk Tree, a favorite lawn and street tree. The Portuguese Cypress is a handsome evergreen, not to be confused with the deciduous cypress which produces lumber. The foliage makes a large rounded head of grayish-green. It needs plenty of space for development. The Loquat is an attractive evergreen at all times, but especially so when covered with clusters of yellow fruit from January until March or April. The flowers are extremely fragrant, filling the garden with a spicy fragrance. The leaves are frequently used in flower arrangements. Pines are always lovely in the garden, producing a lacy shade pattern. Those who are blessed with the mighty oak are indeed the most fortunate of people.

Now—go out and plant another tree or two. In just a few years you will be glad you did.

Do you know that the Palm is exceeded in economic importance by only the grain-bearing grasses? The Saw Palmetto (which grows in all parts of Florida) and the Betail Nut are sources of drugs. Millions of people depend on palms for sugar, oil, alcohol, fiber and thatching. Aside from all this, palms are just plain nice to see. Not all species will grow in Central Florida, but here are a few old favorites that will: The Gru-Gru, which has vicious long black spines along the trunk. If there are cut above head height the tree makes fine speichel or group planting. The Cocos Plumosa, or Queen Palm will grow any place oranges can be grown. Buhia, or Pindo Palm, a slow-growing palm distinctive in its bluish green color. European Fan Palm, a six-foot dwarf, and the hardest of all palms to cold weather. Chinese Fan Palm used widely for lawn and specimen planting. Saw Cabbage Palm, a native with clustered trunks. Needle Palm, a five-foot dwarf used where a low rounded palm is needed. Two other dwarf palms averaging five to eight feet in height are the Lady Palms. The Sabal, or Cabbage Palmetto, is the hardest of our native palms. Saw Palmetto, a four-foot dwarf whose trunk normally creeps along the ground so that the height of the plant is the leaf length. A hardy, slow-growing rather small 10-foot palm is the Windmill. The Washingtonia being of rapid growth becomes too tall too soon for good lawn specimens.

The following deciduous trees are those that have been widely planted and proven above average in desirability: Orchid-tree, or Mountain Ebony, one of the most common flowering trees in Central Florida. Its popularity is due to the profusion of beautiful flowers, vaguely similar to orchids, produced in winter and early spring. It is usually deciduous in late winter, but if the seed pods are cut off when they begin to form, the tree does not become deciduous.

Redbud, a native Florida tree producing tiny rose-pink flowers along the branches in the spring before the leaves appear.

The Flowering Dogwood is one of the delights of spring-time. Even after the leaves have fallen, the tree is unusually attractive among deciduous species because of the whorls of branches which give a pagoda-like effect.

Jacaranda, one of the most spectacular of the flowering trees because of the large panicles of blue flowers that cover the tree in April, May and June. It has graceful feathery foliage except during late winter when the tree is deciduous.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a widower with two grown children. For almost two years I went with a widower. We got along very well and seemed made for each other. He asked me to marry him and I said yes. Then all of a sudden, just before the holidays, he said he needed more time to think things over. He said he wanted the approval of his two older sisters, and he also wanted to talk it over with his deceased wife at her graveside in another town. I haven't heard from him since. Aside from the hurt and humiliation I have suffered, I can't help wondering what happened at his wife's grave. Or do you think he was just trying to find an escape because he changed his mind about marrying me? Can you offer an explanation to ease my torment?

TROUBLED
DEAR TROUBLED: His sisters probably turned thumbs down. What the graveside consultation turned up only the mystic widower knows. Who knows—perhaps you are the lucky one.

DEAR ABBY: I sized

when I read that letter from "GOOD NEIGHBOR" who found two little tots playing inside an old refrigerator he had stored in his garage. He said he scolded them and explained how dangerous it was, and then he gave them each a good swat on the behind so they'd remember it. Then he got a call from their mother telling him it was against the law to lay hands on someone else's child, and he'd be hearing from her lawyer! If I had been that mother I would have baked that man a beautiful apple pie and presented it to him with my own thanks. And then I'd have paddled my kids soundly for going onto other people's property.

ANOTHER MOTHER
DEAR ABBY: How stupid can one be? When that "Good Neighbor" found the two little neighbor children playing in the old ice box he had stored in his garage, he should have been told that if he had turned the ice box with the door up against the wall he wouldn't have to worry about anybody crawling into it and suffocating to death.

SAN DIEGO DOCTOR

DEAR ABBY: We have our old refrigerator out in the garage, but it will never be a death trap for little children, or pets who chance to wander into the garage and find it a cozy place to curl up. You see, we have taken the door off!

Ritz: 'Yum Yum'

JACK LEMMON gleefully intervenes when Carol Lynley and Dean Jones try an experiment in pre-marital "plon tonic togetherness," in Columbia Pictures' "Under the Yum Yum Tree." The comedy runs Sunday through Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre.

"Under the Yum Yum Tree," film version of producer Frederick Brissan's Broadway comedy hit which David Swift directed for Columbia Pictures release, opens at the Ritz Theatre Sunday and runs through Wednesday.

Reportedly a witty, urbane and delightfully amorous, teeming with fast and funny situations, "Under the Yum Yum Tree" stars Jack Lemmon, Carol Lynley, Dean Jones, Edie Adams, Imogene Coca, Paul Lynde and Robert Lansing.

Lemmon plays a landlord who rents apartments only to pretty girls, and then spends his time in unabashed romantic pursuit. Miss Lynley and Dean Jones are young college students who attempt an experiment in premarital "plon tonic" togetherness, in one of Lemmon's apartments. Miss Adams, Carol's aunt and a former resident of the apartment, is unhappily aware of the possible consequences of the youngsters' experiment. . . . and of Lemmon's single-minded devotion to single blessedness with as many girls as possible. Imogene Coca makes her feature film debut as Lemmon's housekeeper, as strongly disapproving of her employer's amorous antics as Paul Lynde, her screen husband, admires them.

When he first read Lawrence Roman's hilarious screen script, Brissan was certain he had an immediate smash success on his hands. His initial faith in "Under the Yum Yum Tree" has been borne out. The comedy, since its New York premiere in 1960, has been performed all over the United States.

TABLE HOPPING

BY JUDY TURNER
Valentine's day is here at last. Lots of red hearts and candy in evidence and there will be lots of fun this evening or Saturday if you just pick one of these places to visit.

Mentioned this last week, but heard a comment recently about the atmosphere at the Caribe lounge . . . especially during the lunch hour, so it bears repeating. Comment was that it is so quiet and peaceful that you really enjoy eating lunch there away from the clatter and racket of everyday life. It surely starts the afternoon out right and sends you back to your job ready to work again. As for tonight, the Caribe will have its usual free juke box music for its patrons.

Celebrate Valentine's Day at Freddie's with a bottle of fine red wine with that luscious red steak. A wine makes the meal and you can take your pick from their wine list . . . the "cellar" is just inside the door.

It is, but it isn't . . . a grand opening that is. Bob and Eloise Small are celebrating their new ownership of the Jet Inn with a big open house Monday night between 7 p. m. and 10 p. m. with low prices and snacks for all. The hit of the evening will be a talent contest with prizes for the best musician. Bring your own instrument and strut your stuff. Eloise has worked at the Inn for several years and she and her husband recently purchased it, so are welcoming the customers with the party Monday night.

A real honest to goodness old fashioned Valentine party will be held tonight at the Capri Restaurant. Joy Manross has gone all out to provide a fun evening for the patrons of the "Sweetheart Party." The Populists will be there tonight only for musical dining and dancing. Coming up soon at the Capri . . . a Dogpatch styled Leap Year dance Feb. 29 . . . costumes and all. Make plans for that one too.

Long Island duckling or roast chicken in wine sauce, in addition to their regular menu. You can enjoy these delicacies anytime between noon and 9 p. m. on Sunday. The Hamilton House is open from 4:30 til 9 p. m. other days.

And last but not least, my good friend the Whataburger. If you want a little hamburger, order a hamburger. If you want a giant, super duper hamburger sandwich, be sure to ask for a Whataburger. Whataburger.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Some experts never open a four-card major suit. Others never open a four-card spade suit, but will open a four-card heart suit. Others tend not to open four-card majors while some open four-card majors with reasonable frequency, but no expert opens four-card major suits indiscriminately.

Thus, even those experts who say they open four-card majors don't do so often. Conversely, many experts who say they don't open four-card majors will do so with a hand such as South's. The four-card heart suit is very strong and in all probability South can handle three-card trump support.

If South opens one diamond it will be difficult for him to get around to bidding hearts later on. When he opens one heart he has convenient diamond rebid.

The key to the play at four hearts is that South must never lead a trump, but instead must plan to make the hand by means of a cross ruff.

Assuming that the defense starts with three spade leads South should ruff the third spade and promptly cash the ace and king of clubs. That gives him five tricks and he makes five trumps by ruffing back and forth.

He is careful to ruff the third and fourth diamonds high, since he is very happy with his four heart contract and has no desire to try for an overtrick.

Biblical Story Featured

"Barabbas," based on the famous Bible story, will have its first Sanford showing Sunday through Tuesday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre. The film, in color, stars Anthony Quinn.

Co-featured will be "The Wheeler Dealers" in color and starring James Garner and Lee Remick.

The Wednesday - Thursday fare will be "The Tall Story," with Anthony Perkins and Jane Fonda, and "The Sundowners," in color, with Robert Mitchum and Eleanor Parker.

Triple feature for Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 21-22, will be "A Ticklish Affair," with Shirley Jones; "H a t a r i," starring John Wayne, and "Days of Wine and Roses," with Jack Lemmon and Lee Remick.

What is a Wheeler Dealer? He's a man who knows you don't go wheeling and dealing for money—you do it for fun. Money is just the way to keep score.

And FUN is exactly what you'll get when you see "The Wheeler Dealers." Metro-Goldwyn - Mayer's hilarious spoof of a wheeler-dealing Texan who takes over Wall Street and a career girl who takes over the Texan. Lee Remick in her first comedy, following on her Academy nomination portrayal in "Days of Wine and Roses," plays Molly Thatcher, the girl who is interested in figures.

IT'S LOVE and laughs, plus a bit of larceny, with Lee Remick and James Garner in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Wheeler Dealers," hilarious spoof of Wall Street, lady brokers and a con man who take both for a ride! Movieland Drive-In Theatre will feature "The Wheeler Dealers" Sunday through Tuesday.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

The professor of psychology was talking to a group of businessmen: "While there can be great satisfaction derived from increasing competence in golf or bowling or other physical activities with which leisure time can be filled, man's most distinctive attribute is the possession of a human head, and perhaps his greatest satisfactions can come from the creative and satisfying use of that head."

Though the professor's words were aimed at men, they are just as apt for women.

Busy young homemakers don't have to worry about filling much leisure time. But there are many years for the average woman, once her children are grown, that provide a great deal of leisure time that is either satisfying or sufficing—depending on how she uses it.

If she fills her days with bridge, aimless shopping trips, gossip sessions on the phone and an endless round of club meetings, she is almost sure to be bored a good part of the time.

But if she regards her new leisure as a wonderful gift instead of empty time to be filled, she can enjoy every hour of it.

Some middle-aged housewives wisely spend the gift of leisure by putting their minds to work on a new or resumed career. Others look for gaps in their education and begin to fill the gaps, by home study or by going back to classes.

Others decide to use their leisure by taking on worthwhile volunteer jobs, not confusing them with the kind of busy work so often offered to women.

It is the aimless killing of time instead of the intelligent use of it that can make a woman's leisure seem more of a burden than a gift.

Any leisure time activity that makes a woman use her brain will keep her from being bored, or from boring others.

Highlights

TV Time Previews

7:30-8:30 p. m. (CBS) The Great Adventure. "The Education of Captain Pratt." Quite exciting is this hitherto untold tale of U. S. Army problems, circa 1875, in rounding up renegade Indians who refused to live within the limits of their prescribed reservations. A particularly reservation group is captured and a youthful captain is assigned the dangerous job of escorting them from Oklahoma to a reservation in Florida. Playing the courageous cavalry officer is Tammy Grimes, Neville Brand and Broderick Crawford in a story about justice and gold.

7:30-8:30 p. m. (ABC) Destry. "The Solid Gold Girl." We have a hunch that ABC is surreptitiously trying to get back to the days of glory when "Maverick" was king. The Destry character is cut from that mold, able but reluctant to do anything brave and heroic. He's hard-pressed in this premiere episode and of course he's forced to engage in physical action much against his will. John Gavin is very well as Paul Burke, former star of the late "Naked City" series. In fine support are Denver Pyle as his commanding officer and Antoinette Bower as his wife.

7:30-8:30 p. m. (NBC) International Showtime. "The Flying Flemish Circus." One of the more intriguing acts is Koringa, a reptile charmer who doesn't stop at snakes. Animal lovers have a chance to see a gang of brilliant pachyderms perform and the football game between two teams of boxers (no not Nony Liston and Cassius Clay)—(dogs.) is always good for a laugh. Aside from the wild life, the balance of the show is made up of jugglers and acrobats.

8:30-9:30 p. m. (NBC) The Bob Hope Show. Bob's show tonight is strictly for laughs and helping him will be Janet Leigh, Anne Bancroft and singers Julie London and Sergio Franchi. Anne Bancroft portrays the nation's first woman president with the added handicap of having Hope as a husband. Miss Leigh has the same misfortune in a skit called "The Busting Point." It opens a Franchi team up as two opera singers outshouting each other over an auto accident. On the serious side, Sergio renders "Night Life."

8:30-9:30 p. m. (ABC) Burke's Law. "Who Killed Carrie Cornell?" This episode misses a great opportunity to be true to itself. The murder victim should have been found floating face up in a vat of coffee in the coffee house where she worked. Failing this logical switch, you're on your own in choosing the murderer from tonight's guest list: Michael Ansara, Jim Backus, Joanie Sommers, William Shatner, Fernando Lamas and Diana Lynn.

8:30-9:30 p. m. (NBC) Route 66. "This Is Going To Hurt Me More Than It Hurts You." This series has tried comedy before with mixed results. This one is an almost hilarious success, thanks to guest star Soupy Sales, who plays an eccentric millionaire with altruistic concern for pretty girls only if they are ill. Three of the "sick" dolls refuse to leave his yacht, so the diminutive playboy pleads with Tod (Martin Milner) to get him off the hook. When Tod refuses, Soupy schemes with Linc to convince the girls that Tod is wealthier than he is. Shades of the Keystone Kops, this one winds up with a pie-throwing finish.

9:30-10 p. m. (CBS) Twilight Zone. "From Agnes With Love." A humorous approach to the weird possibilities of automation. Wally Cox is quite good as a computer expert with a handsome rival (Ralph Taeger) for the love of a pretty office worker (Sue Randall). He's advised in his pursuit of love by the electronic computer—Agnes, by name—he seemingly controls. It's not long before he realizes that "Agnes" isn't all machinery and has the scheming soul of a woman. The finish explains why his predecessor suffered a nervous breakdown. 10-11 p. m. (NBC) The Jack Paar Show (Color). Hit of the show is Bob Newhart (isn't it about time for him to get another shot at a series of his own?) with a wild routine about a newsmen and a photographer invading a nudist camp in order to expose the goings-on.

In speaking of the people of Mexico, peons are members of the laboring class.

Lyman Wins First Round; Oviedo Plays Trojans

Injured Rook Out; Colbert To Substitute

By Joe Warden
Herald Sports Writer

Highlighting cage competition tonight by Seminole County schools, the power-packed Oviedo Lions invade the fair of the top ten ranked Evans Trojans. Tip off time is 8 for the non-conference tilt that should indicate how the Lions stack up against the top prep teams in the state.

Oviedo High's 6-foot-4 center, Seth Rook, will not see action tonight when the Lions travel to Orlando for their contest with the Evans High Trojans, champions of the Metro Conference. Rook is still suffering from a severe ankle sprain. He will be replaced by Tim Colbert.

The Trojans, presently ranked seventh among Florida cage quintets, boast a 17-3 record and are pacing the pack in the Metro Conference. Paced by 5 foot 7 inch senior, Chuck Ferrell, Evans has leaped to cage honors in the state and Central Florida. Aided by a high scoring offense and a stiff defense, Evans has grabbed 17 victories, while losing only three; to Pompano Beach, West Palm Beach Forest Hill, and as a result of illness, Edgewater.

The Trojans possess the ability of being able to hit the net from far out, besides from close under, so the Orange County quintet will be hard to keep down. Evans also possess good height, and should control the backboards in tonight's tilt. The Trojans make few mistakes, and are smooth ball handlers. The Orlando school also has the ability to come from behind and win, as was evident during the Winter Park tilt.

Evans can play nearly every type of game, and it is reported that the Trojans are especially fond of the fast moving, high scoring contest. This type of game allows the Trojans to use the fast break, a kind of offense Evans favors. It is generally conceded that the Trojans will be heavily favored in tonight's tilt, but the Lions hope to give the Orlando school, one of its toughest games of this season.

The Lions, now 14-4, will be hunting their fourth victory in a row and their fifteenth overall. Although aided by the improvement of forward Billy Mikler and center Seth Rook, it is not certain whether the Lions will enter tonight's contest at full strength. Yet, the chances are good that Oviedo will face Evans with their normal starting lineup.

Averaging 85 points a game, the Lions are paced by Jimmy Courcier and Rex Brooks. Although the Oviedo quintet has not had time for sufficient practice, they have gone through some new offensive and defensive patterns that they hope will stop the Trojans.

Oviedo is aware of their chances tonight, but optimism is expressed by all team members and Coach Paul Mikler, who stated: "We hope to do our best."

Oviedo's JV's will be inactive tonight, not having a game scheduled. The Baby Lions, 9-9 for the season, will join other Lion rosters in cheering the Lions on to what Oviedo hopes is victory.

Probable lineup for the Trojans: Bigs and Wiedenbeck, forwards; Ferrell and Arnold, guards; and Huletta, center.

For the Lions: Mikler and Courcier at forward, Brooks and Bellhorn, guards, and Rook at center.

Persuasive
SEATTLE (UPI)—It's going to take a very persuasive referee to sentence Seattle's Tommaso hockey player Bill McFarland to the penalty box in the future. McFarland was one of 30 successful applicants taking the Washington State Bar Association examination, and will be sworn in as an attorney on Monday.

Inter-scholastic Bowling

In the start of the Inter Scholastic Bowling League play this past week, the Seminole High School boys' team took three points from Oviedo High School at Winter Park Lanes.

The local keglers were led by Lenny Reinhart's 178/472 series, high scorer for the event.

This league bowls home and home matches each Monday at 10 different bowling establishments throughout Central Florida. Each of the participating schools have both boys and girls entries and they bowl in competition at no charge to the participants.

In addition, each week not only those listed as regulars on the teams but substitutes as well are permitted three free practice games at their home lanes.

The Seminole outfit practices each Saturday from 12 noon until 2 p.m. If there are any additional competitors, especially amongst the girls, they are asked to be at Jet Lanes on Saturday promptly at noon.

The next regularly scheduled match is at Jet Lanes with Edgewater High School of Orlando rolling the Tribe's keglers.

Watch Your Language

One wit claims that an angler's stature in the fishing world is measured by his mouth as well as his ability to fish.

In other words, if you're going to tell fish stories, you'd better talk like a fisherman.

To foster improved relations between novices and old hands, the folks at Mercury outboards have come up with a few suggestions that will get any beginner off to a good start.

Certain words always ruffle the feathers of the pro. Polo heads the top of the list. Poles are something you would fly flags from or push a boat with. Except for the cans variety, which is an unmentionable in some quarters, poles have nothing to do with fishing. Substitute "rod" and you're safe.

Fish "amash, strike, bust" or "hit" a plug, but never "bite" it. Bites and nibbles immediately reflect the use of bait—never recommended when spinning a yarn.

Call your outboard rig "her." It's the only other gal in the lives of men to which wives never object.

Use local fish names only. A "speckled trout" in Florida is considerably different than a "apeck" in Ontario. A "lake trout" becomes a "mackinaw" in the west, and a "torgus" in the northeast. And you'd better call broom "brim" or be denounced as a carpet-bagger.

So choose your words with care. You may not be able to make other fishermen believe you, but at least you can hold their attention.

Hounds Take On DeLand In Semi-Finals

By Richard Grant
Herald Sports Writer

The Greyhounds of Lyman raced into the semi-finals of the Orange Belt Conference cage tournament in Leesburg Thursday night with a 56 to 50 victory over the Lakeview High School Red Devils.

In other first round contests the Apopka Blue Darters rolled to a resounding 72 to 35 win over the so-called dark horse Leesburg Yellow Jackets and the cellar dwelling Kissimmee Kowboys surprisingly roped the Wildcats of Wildwood, 61 to 55.

In tonight's semi-finals the Greyhounds tackle the top-seeded DeLand High Bulldogs at 7 p.m., and the Blue Darters meet the Kowboys in the evening's closing event.

Saturday night the winners of the Lyman-DeLand affair and the Apopka-Kissimmee encounter tangle for the tournament title.

Bill Tolson with 20 points and Dennis Smith with 18 paced the Greyhounds to victory over the Red Devils. Lyman took a 12-11 lead when the first period closed but added another dozen points in the second stanza while holding Lakeview to an even half dozen. Going into the third quarter leading 24 to 17, Lakeview poured on the steam and came within three points of the Greyhounds. In the quarter the Winter Garden outfit tallied 16 points while Lyman again got its dozen. In the final frame, however, the 'Hounds got off the 12-point standard and racked up 20 while holding Lakeview to 17.

Fourteen of Tolson's 20 points came when they were needed most—in the final half. Tolson and Smith also made another contribution to the Lyman effort by controlling the backboards. In the rebounding effort Lyman grabbed 34 rebounds. Offensively, Lyman hit 84 percent of their shots.

Echaniz, Gastli Win Feature

Echaniz teamed with Gastli to take Thursday night's feature eighth game doubles competition at the Orlando Seminole Jai Alai Fronton. Starting in the handicapped sixth post, the pre-game favorite swept through the field with five straight points to take the victory.

Astiga and Muguerra were the runners-up with Aretillo and Agutlin coming in third. Urquidí won the Daily Double opener, the third game singles event, and Aretillo captured the closer to post a 6-3 combination.

Lake Mary Man In Daytona Race Sunday

By Julian Stenstrom

Sanford in general and Lake Mary in particular will be represented in Sunday's 1,200 mile (2,000 Kilometer) sports car classic at the Daytona International Speedway. Danny Danklefs, a North American Aviation representative at the Sanford Naval Air Station and a resident of Lake Mary, is manager of the team which will attempt to capture the event with a Triumph TR4.

A member of the pit crew, Jerry Mickelson, is also with North American at SNAS and a resident of Lake Mary. The TR4 is a stock model GTO, known as a grand touring car, is owned by Dr. H. St. Johns of Jacksonville. Dr. St. Johns, along with Ron Hutchison and Peter Gregg will be the three drivers since the race is expected to last from 12 to 13 hours and no driver is permitted to drive more than four hours without at least one hour's rest.

The race will begin at 10 a.m. and Danklefs says it probably will be decided between 10 p.m. and 11 p.m. Danklefs said he is planning three pit stops and will schedule the drivers so that his best night pilot can take the wheel for the dark hours of the event.

The car has been prepared for racing by the Hunt Lincoln-Mercury Company, Inc. of Sanford.

The 60 plus vehicles in the event will race in four separate classes. Danklefs says there will be an overall winner in addition to a winner in each classification.

Drag Features Top Drivers

A two-time national champion and a grudge race between two of the Southeast's hottest stock cars headline tonight's drag racing action at the Osceola Airport, near Geneva.

All told, $600 in prizes will be up for grabs as time trials kick off competition at 7 p.m. Eliminations will begin at 10 p.m.

The expected field of 150 entrants will also include a large field of Stock competitors — many of the big names — racing at the Speed Weeks Winter Nationals at Daytona Beach.

By far the biggest name is Joe Jacona, whose Chevrolet-powered AA dragster has carried him to two consecutive national championships at Daytona. The Pittsburgh, Pa. leadfoot will attempt to better the 187.2 mph clocking which brought him the national title last year, when he toured the Daytona quarter mile in a fantastic 8.22 seconds.

A special home-brew "secret formula" fuel helps power him to the lightning quick speed; a jet aircraft type drogue parachute helps him slow down.

Jacona will have some companions in speed, however, if not quite the kind of speeds his skeletal dragster is capable of.

The Hubert Platt Ford team of Atlanta, Ga., will match its 1964 Fairlane against a 1964 aluminum Plymouth entered by the Great Southern Goat Racing team of Lakeland.

Switzerland issued the first coin made of pure nickel in 1881.

Finley Has League On Ticklish Spot

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The American League found itself caught in a legal tangle today, a predicament more serious to baseball than any tangle ever played on the base paths.

The league was maneuvered into its awkward position when Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, failed to reach agreement with city officials on a new lease for Municipal Stadium.

The league ordered Finley four weeks ago either to sign a lease here by midnight tonight or face expulsion from baseball and forfeiture of his franchise.

Neither Finley nor the city was expected to yield in the stalemate during the waning hours before the deadline.

The league must act soon—either to carry out its threat and try to kick Finley out of baseball, or to back down and grant permission to move the Athletics to another city.

And the legal ball already is whizzing about the league's head, even before it has announced its intentions.

The players with the ball are Finley himself, Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., of the Senate anti-trust and monopoly sub-committee, and Mayor Irl Davis of Kansas City. All have made their plans known. All have put the league on a spot-fight in the middle.

If the league attempts to expel Finley, the owner will fight back in court. He has said repeatedly that no one has the power to take the club away from him.

If the league permits him to move, Long said, baseball would be acting as a business and not a sport. The senator said the anti-trust committee wants Finley to explain his actions and has invited him to testify at its baseball hearing Tuesday in Washington.

Long said he will subpoena Finley to appear, if the owner does not respond voluntarily to the invitation.

And no matter how the league acts on the issue, Davis wants the league either to approve or to disapprove publicly the city's position in lease negotiations with Finley.

Davis, in his request for an opinion Thursday to Joe Cronin, league president, indicated that if the league disapproves of the city's stand, then the league should offer a compromise proposal.

Here's the "fine print" that goes with Plymouth and Valiant's 5-year/50,000-mile warranty* on the parts that keep you going.

(READ EVERY WORD. IF YOU DRIVE A CAR, THERE'S NO FINER PRINT AVAILABLE.)

*HERE'S HOW THE STRONG 5/YR WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Chrysler Corporation warrants for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, against defects in materials and workmanship and will replace or repair at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business, the engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings of its 1964 automobiles, provided the owner has the engine oil changed every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first, the oil filter replaced every second oil change and the carburetor air filter cleaned every 6 months and replaced every 2 years, and every 6 months furnishes to such a dealer evidence of performance of the required service, and requests the dealer to certify (1) receipt of such evidence and (2) the car's then current mileage.

These words are written for your peace of mind. All they ask you to do is carry out a normal maintenance schedule that any proud owner does automatically. In fact, this warranty acts as a ready reminder to you when it's time for regular check-ups—just like going to the doctor!

It costs you no more than any normal car-care service, but it gives you a priceless bonus—5 years or 50,000 miles worth of peace of mind! See your Plymouth-Valiant Dealer and discuss the "fine print" with him. Then you'll want to take a test drive in a new Plymouth or Valiant.

Mansion House Reception Opens February Showing

By Mrs. Adam Muller
The Florida Federation of Art, through the Orlando Art

Association, sponsored a reception Sunday at the DeBary Mansion House honoring Frank French of Winter Park who is exhibiting a collection of his father's paintings and wood engravings at the Mansion during the month of February.

Lake Monroe PTO Gets 12 New Members

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson
Twelve new members were welcomed by the Lake Monroe PTO at a meeting of the organization held Tuesday evening in the school auditorium with Mrs. A. C. Doudney, president, presiding.

The buffet table was overlaid with a white linen cloth and was centered with a driftwood arrangement interspersed with bitterweet and flanked by tall white tapers in driftwood candelabra. Also on the table were two crystal punch bowls, trays of cookies and driftwood dishes holding mints.

Hostesses were Mrs. Arthur Richter, who made the centerpiece and Mrs. Leonard Hesseaur and Mrs. D. Lewis, all of Orlando.

A vote of appreciation was extended Bill Hittell for successfully arranging to have safety signs put up on Lake Monroe Road at the school crossing. The group also voted to buy fertilizer for the school lawns and shrubs as requested by Miss Aris Mann, custodian.

Oil paintings included in the French exhibit being shown are "Three Sister Elms," painted at Reed's Ferry in New Hampshire; "Storm Coming," the rocky Maine coast; "Cotton Picker" of Florida and "The Meadow" in New Jersey.

The program was presented by Mrs. Lorraine Graham of the Central Florida Tuberculosis Respiratory Disease Association, who showed a film entitled "Danger Signs of Respiratory Diseases." Mrs. Graham introduced Dr. Kenneth Wing who spoke on tuberculosis and respiratory diseases and led an interesting question and answer session.

Wood engravings are of Abraham Lincoln, The Fisher Boy, Day of Rest, A Letter, Old Fortifications in Canada, Happy Ducky and Mother and Child.

Fireman To Aid CP Telethon

Volunteer firemen from Casselberry and Longwood, city firemen of Sanford and members of the ladies auxiliary of the newly organized Giverville volunteer department will be on hand Sunday to collect donations for the annual cerebral palsy telethon.

Water colors include "Old Hatfield Elm" in Massachusetts; "New Boston Village," "Farm Buildings in Massachusetts;" "The Blacksmith's Shop;" "Old Man of the Mountains;" and among the wood block cuts are "Boy with Kite," "Indian Lad," "Canterbury," New Hampshire; "The Merry-makers," "Nightingale," "The Drowning" and "Beautiful Eyes."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. B. F. Bullard in the school cafeteria following the meeting and program.

HNS Receives Communion

By Donna Estes
Twenty-five men, including six new members, of the Church of the Nativity Holy Name Society received Holy Communion in a group and were presented with Holy Name buttons by Rev. William J. Trainers Sunday at the church at the 8 o'clock Mass.

Members serving on the rummage sale committee, who will pick up donations if called, and the areas they will cover are: Robert March, Longwood; Larry Chunnat, Casselberry; Ralph Moore, Howell Park; Jack Hopkins, Meliland and Harold Mats of Fern Park Mower Service, Fern Park.

Club To Plan Flower Show

By Jean Casselberry
Final plans will be made for the April 4 Flower Show at a meeting of the South Seminole Garden Club to be held at 1:30 p.m. Monday at the Casselberry Woman's Club on Overbrook Drive.

New members who were enrolled are E. E. Rogers Sr., treasurer; George Guzman, Edward P. Daniels, Thomas Ryan, Lenox Fay and Robert Drinks.

Interested men of the parish who have their names placed in the register during the next month will be enrolled and receive their buttons on March 8.

Income Tax Primer - 2

Question Is: To Itemize Or Not

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of 10 articles providing tips on completing your income return. By Charles W. Schoeneman
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

You have to use the long form in order to itemize. When you get to line 9—that's where your adjusted gross income goes—you have reached the time of decision.

If you choose the standard deduction, you are entitled to 10 per cent of the amount on line 9 or $1,000, whichever is less.

VFW Post Sets Rummage Sale

By Donna Estes
Plans for a rummage sale to be held in March were discussed at the regular meeting of VFW Post 8207 held Tuesday night at the Post Home on the Old Dixie Highway.

Remember also that if your line 9 amount is less than $5,000 you can use the so-called "tax table," which simplifies the job of completing your return. But the "tax table" may be used only if you do not itemize your nonbusiness deductions. It allows you approximately the 10 per cent standard deduction.

The time and location of the sale will be announced at a later date.

In asking yourself whether you should itemize, you must know what the deductible nonbusiness expenses are. All nonbusiness interest—even interest on credit purchases, is deductible. Certain specific types of taxes are deductible on Page 2 of your return. Medical and dental expenditures are Page 2 deductions, and so are charitable contributions. Child care expenses are Page 2 deductions. And don't forget casualty losses.

The IRS says that a casualty loss deduction is allowed for any losses from fire, storm, or shipwreck or in any event due to some sudden, unexpected or unusual cause. Damage to nonbusiness property by hurricanes, floods, and acts of vandalism generally qualify.

Valentine Day Just Another At Indiana U

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI) — It may have been Valentine's Day elsewhere but today was no day for romance on the Indiana University campus—at least in the Sycamore Hall women's dormitory.

A controversial rule against kissing in the dorm's lounge remained in effect and it appeared it would remain in effect.

The student Senate Thursday night adopted a resolution condemning the "university dictation of student morals" but calling on the student government's board of standards to study the problem.

The board, which is to report in three weeks, was asked to determine whether there is a problem regarding student conduct in public and, if so, to make recommendations for handling it.

Speculation was that the Senate would wind up endorsing the rule which the counseling staff at the dormitory put into effect last week and which was first enforced early this week.

The major complaint appeared to be the counselors' action in adopting the regulation without consulting the dormitory student council or other branches of student government.

The resolution condemning the rule and calling for the study was approved 16-2 with one of the negative votes cast by a senator from Wells Quadrangle which includes Sycamore Hall.

5-H Club To Meet Monday

Members of the 5-H Club, with their parents, will meet at 7:30 p. m. Monday at the Health Center on French Avenue.

The club is planning a clubhouse and show ring on New Upsala Road.

Winners in recent horse shows at the Lake County Horsemen's Association show and the Apopka Horsemen's Association show were Maureen Scott, Rebecca Giles, Linda Ball and Janice Foy.

Farm Brief

Broilers and fryers will encounter low seasonal prices and low seasonal demand in the next few months. An expansion of production in 1964 of three to five per cent is expected.

Shoemaker Active

Shoemaker Construction Company does not confine its home building activities to the Greater Sanford area.

It is playing a vital part over and above Ravenna Park and Idylwilde in Sanford—in the development of the 87-home subdivision of Mead Manor at Oviedo, a project of Oviedo Land Company.

Suffers Injury

BOSTON (UPI) — Richard Green, captain and defenseman of the Boston University hockey team, will be out of action for an indefinite period after suffering a neck injury during a trampoline exercise.

B Student

Johnetta Mae Gore, of Sanford, is among top ranking freshmen who made a grade point average of 3.0 (B) or above during Trimester I at Florida State University, Tallahassee. She was selected for Alpha Lambda Delta sorority.

West To Speak For 4-H Boys

Charles West of Orlando, district supervisor for the fruit and vegetable department, will be guest speaker at Monday's meeting of the Oviedo Boys 4-H Club.

The meeting will be held at 7 p. m. at the Oviedo High School.

Rybilcki Elected

Ted S. Rybilcki, of Forest City, has been elected a director of the Florida State University Alumni Association of Central Florida.

Installation of all new officers will be held at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Feb. 20, in the First National Bank of Orlando community room.

Welfare Center Meetings Set

Mrs. Marjorie Ryder, leader of the Seventh-day Adventist Health and Welfare Center in Altamonte Springs, announced today that meetings are held at the Center each Tuesday from 9 a. m. until noon to mend and repair clothing donated to the center.

This clothing, in turn, is distributed to those in need. Food also is available in emergency cases. Anyone in need of help may reach Mrs. Ryder at 838-5839.

Donations of old clothes are accepted at the Center which is located at 625 Maitland Avenue in Altamonte.

'Paving' Of Vegetable Fields Outlined Before 100 Growers

By Harry Johnson

"Plant it. Pave it. Forget it."

That's the ultimate goal of experimenting scientists at Central Florida Experiment Station.

It was spelled out in complete technical detail Thursday afternoon at the annual Vegetable Field Day attended by an estimated 100 growers from Seminole County.

The "paving" part of the program is something new and actually involves the use of asphalt to mix with soil.

Tests now under way at the station show that the soil is not only enriched by the "paving" but that the temperature is maintained at a consistent higher degree than untreated soil.

A variance of up to 11 degrees was noted on intricate gauges placed near the testing areas.

And the crops are much more sturdy, sprouting through the top soil with far greater speed. And, scientists say, the growth pace will increase with each passing day. The differences right now are as total as black and white, the comparative colors of the testing areas.

The 100-plus growers spent a complete afternoon getting lectures, illustrated with color slides, a movie showing the development of the "paving" process.

Then they were taken on guided tours of the various testing areas. They saw the "paving" being placed; they checked the various crops, ranging from peaches to carrots.

They even had their coffee break.

With Cecil Tucker, Seminole County's agricultural agent, in charge, the speakers included:

Dr. J. W. Wilson, station director, speaking on "The Control of Cabbage Looper."

Dr. P. J. Westgate, "New Crops for Central Florida."

Dr. J. F. Darby, "Disease of vegetable crops."

Dr. W. T. Scudder, "Weed Control."

Dr. R. B. Forbes, "Plant Nutrition."

Dr. H. L. Rhoades, "Nematode Control."

Local Builder Active In Civic, Other Affairs

A. K. Shoemaker Jr., recognized as an outstanding builder and developer throughout Florida, long has been active in civic and municipal affairs in Sanford and Seminole County.

A native of Sanford, Shoemaker is a graduate of the University of Florida with a degree in construction engineering. He also is an Army veteran, having served as a construction engineer in the Korean campaign.

Shoemaker is a vice president of the Mid-Florida Builders Association, chairman of the Seminole County Zoning Commission, director of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank, a past president of the Sanford Civitan Club and a member of the Armed Forces committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, the Seminole County Builders Association, Alumni Association of the University of Florida, Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and First Methodist Church.

Shoemaker is married to the former Miss Sophia McDougal, RN, and they have two daughters, Tammy, 3 1/2, and Beth, 7.

Mrs. Shoemaker is a graduate of St. Vincent's Hospital School of Nursing, Jacksonville, later did private duty at Orange Memorial Hospital at Orlando and was a member of the staff of Bemole Memorial Hospital for four years.

Tammy and Beth's grandmothers are Mrs. A. K. Shoemaker, of Melonville Avenue, and Mrs. Frances McDougal, RN, of Celery Avenue.

Scientists Eye 'Zero Gravity'

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Everything that goes up must come down. But how much does it weigh in between?

The Federal Space Agency's Lewis Research Center is building a 300-foot tower to find out.

Once the tower is finished scientists will busy themselves by dropping things.

Some of the things may weigh as much as 6,000 pounds.

They figure it will help our space program.

When things fall, they fall free; that is, nothing holds them. While falling an object doesn't weigh anything until it hits you.

This weightlessness is called "zero gravity" by scientists.

You can experience it aboard a fast dropping elevator or by walking off a high diving board.

This is what the space scientists have in mind.

New Ravenna Section Holds Open House This Weekend

Many New Homes Ready For Viewing

Newest development in the growth of the Greater Sanford area is highlighted with the Grand Opening and Open House this weekend of the third section of Ravenna Park.

Ravenna Park, long noted as one of the finer residential subdivisions of Greater Sanford, caught on to the public fancy for better homes to the extent that it has been extended to this third section.

In fact, a number of new homes already have been constructed, purchased and occupied. Many other new homes have been completed, are being shown to prospective purchasers and are available for inspection, and still other new residences are under construction.

Located west of Sanford along Country Club Road, Ravenna Park was originated by A. K. Shoemaker Jr., head of Shoemaker Construction Company, Inc., and today is the home of hundreds of satisfied residents.

Open House is extended and the public is cordially invited to inspect the homes on display. Merely proceed west on 20th Street (Country Club Road) to the site.

Shoemaker representatives, along with Stenstrom Realty and Florida Power & Light representatives, will be on hand to welcome visitors.

Ravenna Park is located adjacent to Idyllwild, another development of the Shoemaker firm.

ROBT. J. DOTSON a native of Bloomington, Ill., has been a resident of Sanford for the last 10 years and construction superintendent with Shoemaker Construction Company, Inc., supervising Ravenna Park and Idyllwild for the last eight years. (Herald Photo)

A. K. Shoemaker Recognized As 'Top Builder'

When A. K. Shoemaker Jr. started in construction here some six years ago, as head of the Shoemaker Construction Company, Inc., his business consisted mainly of speculative building — that is, building homes and then selling them.

However, today his custom building outnumbers his speculative building three-to-one. At present, "Ray" is the largest "one-of-a-kind" builder in the Sanford area.

Shoemaker states that the cost of building a custom home is slightly more than that of building a project-type house but, in a custom home, the owner gets exactly what he wants in the way of individuality, livability and price.

"No matter what the price range of a home," says Shoemaker, "individual attention is unsurpassed."

Shoemaker Homes 'Individual'

Open House Scheduled At Ravenna

Open House at Ravenna Park will be renewed this weekend.

The word "renewed" is used because a clipping from May 1959 tells of the first "open house" when 1900 visitors viewed the original section. Then came another "open house" with the second section.

And now, this weekend, a third Open House with the grand opening of the third section of Ravenna Park.

Ravenna Park is on Country Club Road (20th Street) some 2 1/2 miles from downtown Sanford. Model homes in the new third section are available for inspection. These are on paved streets and have complete and modern equipment.

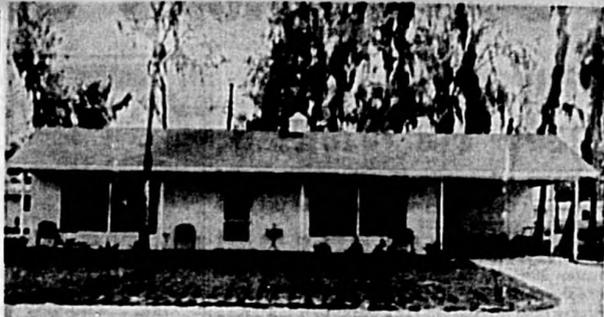

There is a community water system approved by the Florida State Board of Health, "in a quiet neighborhood ideal for families."

Homes have that "custom designed" look and many varied plans are offered, from arrangements for large families to those for retired couples.

Prices are arranged in moderate range, with convenient financing easily available.

A. K. Shoemaker Jr., head of Shoemaker Construction Company, Inc., purchased the original Ravenna Park tract on Oct. 23, 1958, and has gradually and continually developed the subdivision to the hundreds of homes now in the entire area.

Stenstrom Realty Handles Sales

Sales representative for Ravenna Park is Stenstrom Realty, headed by Herb Stenstrom, a native of Sanford. New offices are at 2565 Park Drive.

Stenstrom is a graduate of local schools and Stetson University. He is a member of First Baptist Church, Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Citizens and the Board of Realtors and serves on the advisory board of the Salvation Army.

Associated with Stenstrom Realty is Ned N. Julian, USN (Ret), with the firm since 1960. He is its closing agent, mortgage representative, property management broker and office manager.

Also associated are Merle W. Warner, specializing in residential and commercial sales and leases; Hugh A. McCollum, USAF (Ret), specializing in residential sales and leases and acreage sales; James B. Smith, former teacher and retired attorney, specializing in residential sales and leases, and Mrs. Payllie W. Senkarik, secretary-bookkeeper.

Natural Beauty Is Highlighted

To add to, rather than detract from, the natural beauty of the rolling, wood section of Ravenna Park has been a primary aim of Shoemaker Construction Company in its careful planning of the new third section of that beautiful subdivision.

Accordingly, the grading and landscaping has been given primary consideration.

"Not a single tree that could be spared was removed from the grounds of this new part of Ravenna Park," said A. K. Shoemaker Jr., head of the developing firm.

Located west of Sanford on rolling, wooded, rich ground, well drained and graded, shaded with a variety of pines, oaks and other trees, the new section of Ravenna Park fits quietly into the shaded natural landscape of the countryside.

Outside the homes, shrubs and plants blend gracefully into the natural setting, and highlight the decor of each in its own distinctive style.

Keeping in mind that Floridians spend as much time outdoors as in, each of the new Ravenna Park homes is built along these lines . . . to fit the outside as well as the inside to Florida living.

"These homes of distinction," said Shoemaker, "are the finest in Central Florida in their price ranges."

As an added feature, he said, a handsome portable television set will be presented to the purchasers of new homes.

Candidates To Begin Qualifying On Tuesday

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Most of Florida's candidates for governor and other state offices come to town Tuesday to pay their qualifying fees and put the big spending show on the road.

The official qualifying, which costs anywhere from $1,250 for gubernatorial candidate to $60 for state Legislature hopefuls, heralds big promotion campaigns in various media.

Election officials say this year's first primary will be the longest primary ballot in state history. The first primary is set for May 5, with the runoff on May 24 and the general election Nov. 3.

Balloting will include the offices of Sen. Spessard Holland, 12 congressmen, three Supreme Court Justices, all six Cabinet seats, six district court judges, utilities commission chairman, 10 public defenders, 22 state senators, 112

JOHN FITZPATRICK

Fitzpatrick Won't Seek Re-election

Formal announcement of his decision not to seek re-election was made today by County Commissioner John Fitzpatrick in the following statement:

"It is with regret that I announce my decision not to run for the office of County Commissioner in the upcoming elections. 'Serving as County Commissioner for the last three years has been a rewarding experience in many ways and I have thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity.

"The continued growth of the county indicates to me that the amount of time needed to properly serve the county in this capacity will continue to increase and my responsibilities to my growing family and clients precludes my devoting that amount of time to county affairs."

Eastern Storm Heads For Sea

United Press International — A storm center that bogged New England under snow and whipped up gale winds, headed out to sea today.

The wild storm buried New England Sunday with up to 14 inches of snow and snarled traffic from Long Island Sound to Northern Maine.

The gale force winds whirled the snow across highways and airports, cutting down visibility and building heavy drifts.

FIRST ANNUAL COOKING SCHOOL will be held March 10 at the Sanford Civic Center for the general public. Sponsoring the event will be the County Extension Service: Miss Myrtle Wilson (seated), county home demonstration agent, and Cecil A. Tucker II (right), county agricultural agent. Co-operating will be the Florida Power and Light Company, represented by Miss Lucy Nowlin (left), home economist, and Publix Markets.

Ruby Defense Pleas Rejected As Trial Opens

DALLAS (UPI) — Jack Ruby's lawyers, challenging "the climate of Dallas," demanded at the start of his murder trial today that jurors as well as spectators be searched.

Judge Joe B. Brown rejected the defense demand as well as defense requests for a directed verdict of acquittal on grounds of insanity and double jeopardy.

Ruby, smiling cheerfully entered the court through a little green door and took his seat. His sister, Mrs. Eva L. Grant, and his brother Earl Ruby of Detroit, sat among the spectators in the stuffy room.

The judge accepted the defense announcement that Tom Howard of Dallas, the first attorney to come to the aid of the slayer of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, had withdrawn from the case.

Chief defense attorney Melvin Belli and his assistant, J. H. Tonalill, argued with the judge over security arrangements.

"The records will show that everyone who enters the room has been searched except the jurors," Brown said.

"We want to know why," said Tonalill.

Belli chimed in to argue the jurors must be searched so they know about what he has repeatedly referred to as "the climate of Dallas." The defense contends Ruby cannot get a fair trial in the city.

"Mr. Belli, they (the jurors) won't know anything about it unless you tell them," Brown replied. (Earlier story on Page 2.)

THOMAS S. McDonald, former Sanford mayor and City Councilman, has been honored by the Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce, meeting at Panama City, as one of four "Outstanding Young Men of the Year," according to a UPI report today.

Quick Action By Firemen Saves Station

Possible disaster, which could have resulted when a gas pump exploded in a flames Sunday morning at the Texas Service Station in downtown Lake Mary, was averted by quick response of the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department which had men on the scene within seconds.

Chief Ralph Abell said today that the fire is believed to have resulted during the night when someone apparently backed a car into the pump causing an electrical short circuit in the wiring system. The explosion occurred immediately after current was turned on early Sunday morning.

Abell reported that the department also answered two brush fire calls over the weekend, one in Sunland Estates on Saturday afternoon and another Saturday night behind Crystal Lake Park where approximately two acres burned threatening a nearby orange grove.

Damage at the Sunland fire was reported to be negligible.

Fair May Run For Utilities Commission

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Jim Fair of Tampa, a perennial candidate for public office, indicated today he may run again for the State Public Utilities Commission.

Fair wrote the secretary of State to send him three sets of forms for qualifying along with copies of the election laws and a list of all offices up for grabs this year and the qualifying fee of each.

He did not say what office he was interested in, but his letter of inquiry contained a caustic comment that indicated he was thinking of opposing Utilities Commission Chairman Ed Mason.

Deputy Braves Fire To Save Another Child

Sheriff's Deputy Silas Lackey today was credited with saving the life of a seven-year-old Negro boy, caught in his burning home early this morning. An older brother died as a result of the fire.

Dead was Albert Williams, eight, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, 1020 West 12th Street. The flames gutted the frame residence.

Lackey said he was parked in his cruiser nearby, making out his slightly report, when he noticed the flames. He hurried to the residence. The parents and a daughter, Carol, six, had escaped.

Informed a child was in the house, Lackey crawled through a window and carried out seven-year-old John Douglas Williams, who was unconscious. The deputy applied artificial respiration and revived the child.

It was then Lackey learned the second boy was in the house. The deputy re-entered the flaming building and carried out the body of Albert.

Coroner Hugh Duncan ruled death was caused by smoke and fumes.

Fireman Ed Brooklyna was treated for smoke inhalation at Seminole Memorial Hospital. The two surviving children also were treated for smoke inhalation.

A. B. Franklin, Crooms High School coach, also assisted in the rescue.

Fire Chief Mack Cleveland Sr. reported the blaze started at about 1:30 a.m. from a heating stove. It spread rapidly through the wooden house. He added firemen were delayed in arriving at the scene because a wrong address was reported.

Hoffa Defendant Denies Telling Of Fix Attempt

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI) — A defendant in the trial of Teamster President James Hoffa today denied that he ever told a government informer of an attempt to fix a jury.

Nicholas Tweel, one of six defendants in the jury tampering case, appeared as the first defense witness and contradicted the testimony of Edward Partin, who testified earlier for the prosecution.

Partin, a Louisiana Teamster official who acted as an informant, had testified that Tweel once told him he was asked to "help get to the jury" in Hoffa's 1962 trial in Nashville on conspiracy charges.

Hoffa, Tweel and four other persons are charged with attempting to bribe and influence jurors in the conspiracy case, which ended in a mistrial.

Vigilantes To Use Photo Flasher Units

The Navy today announced receipt of new aerial photographic flasher units which may briefly make evenings a little brighter for some residents of Sanford and eventually, much of the Southeast.

The new flashers are being installed on twin-jet RA-5C Vigilantes, the mach II reconnaissance-attack aircraft currently entering fleet use at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Each plane will have two electronic flasher pods mounted under its wings. Used in missions to illuminate the ground beneath the aircraft, they operate for only fractions of a second at a time.

Officials of Sanford's Heavy Attack Wing One say the flashers are so bright that residents may not even notice the illumination unless they happen to be looking directly at the aircraft.

Most of the training flights using the flasher units will be flown at relatively low altitudes and over sparsely populated areas. The first such mission will be flown tonight.

Flights will continue periodically in the future as Vigilante flight crews are readied for deployment with the carrier striking forces of the Atlantic, Mediterranean and Pacific Fleets.

Wing Commander Capt. James O. Mayo requested that citizens observing flasher operations refrain from calling government agencies or the Sanford Naval Air Station.

He stated that the flasher pods would rarely be in use for more than a few minutes over any one area.

Wirtz Asks FEC Session Tuesday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz today urged both sides in the Florida East Coast (FEC) railway strike to meet with government negotiators Tuesday and work out a solution to their "festering dispute."

Wirtz sent telegrams to both Edward Ball, president of the railroad, and George E. Leighty, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives Association.

He asked the men to meet with Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds in Daytona Beach, Tuesday morning.

Wirtz said both sides had "an obligation to find a solution to this festering dispute."

Eleven non-operating unions have been on strike for more than a year in a walkout marred by violence, including three dynamitings within a week.

Morris To Run For Justice Of Peace

Raymond Morris, a resident of Seminole County for more than 18 years, announced today he will be a candidate for the office of justice of the peace Dist. 6 in the May primaries. Morris is a registered Democrat.

Morris is graduate of the Univ. of Mich. in pharmacy and for 22 years did pharmaceutical detail work. For more than 11 years he has been the Casselberry correspondent for the Orlando Sentinel and is a charter member of the Lions Club of Casselberry, of which he is a past president and serving a fifth year as club secretary.

Last August Morris was named treasurer of the Casselberry Citizens Credit Union. He is a Mason, a Shriner, member of Bahia Temple, Orlando; member of Sanford Shrine Club; a communicant of the Episcopal Church of The Good Shepherd in Maitland. Morris and his wife reside at 230 Sunnyside Rd., Casselberry.

Police Solve Theft Quickly

City police made fast work of solving a car theft Sunday night, nabbing three Negro boys minutes after the theft was reported.

Charged with the theft are the boys, two age 15 and one 18. The driver is also charged with using a restricted license.

Police received the report at 10:45 p. m. from Sammie Wyman, of Castle Brewer Court. Patrolman John E. Dodson hailed the car at 11:02 p. m. called for assistance from Sgt. W. R. Coogrove at 11:04 p. m. and had the youths at headquarters minutes later.
