Directors Approve 40-Hour Work Week As Aid In Decreasing List Of Unemployed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(A.P.)—Approval of the 40 hour week in industry, and opposition to payment of the soldiers' bonus before maturity in 1945, were voted yesterday by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Action was taken on the five-day week and eight-hour day, soon after President Hoover had sought through Henry I. Harriman, president of the chamber, to align it squarely behind efforts to decrease unemployment and speed up business momentum. Harriman said the President had asked the chamber's aid for special business and industrial committees in boosting employment, speeding railroad purchases and otherwise giving impetus to business which Harriman reported "is picking up".

The chamber's head said "There are signs of improvement in many sections but we are not sure how long this sweep will last." He declined to say how long it will last.

Huey Long Forced To Cancel Speaking Trip For Roosevelt

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24.—(A.P.)—Senator Huey Long today announced that he has been forced to cancel his plans for campaigning for Governor Roosevelt in the West and Midwest in October. He said the cancellation was made because of Senate investigation into the recent Louisiana primary in which Senator Edwin Brown was defeated for renomination by Representative John Overton, who was backed by the Long organization.

Acting on a complaint by Senator Broussard, asking that a Senate Campaign Funds Committee be created, Chairman Howell, Republican of Nebraska, of the Senate committee announced a hearing on the Broussard protest would open here Oct. 3.

Calvin Coolidge

ORGANIZATION OF RAIL PROBE BODY SAID COMPLETED

Official Statement Is Expected Soon; Coolidge At Head

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—(A.P.)—Formation of a National Railway Commission, headed by former President Calvin Coolidge, was understood in Wall Street yesterday to have been virtually completed and a formal announcement was expected within the next few days.

The commission, which is to make a thorough study of the national transportation problem with the view of later recommending congressional action to untangle existing difficulties, is to be sponsored, it was said, by the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, other large financial institutions, insurance companies and important public organizations.

While details of the proposed inquiry are being rather closely guarded, it was variously reported agreement had been reached on the following:

1. The commission will be non-partisan and free in every respect and will act upon its own initiative in conducting the railway inquiry.
2. The commissioners will receive no salaries or other compensation for their work but will contribute their services as a public duty.
3. The railroads themselves will have no part in the formation of the commission nor its activities and will be asked to furnish information only, through testimony and statistics.
4. The commission will particularly stress the point that it is representing no one organization or political party; that, fundamentally, it is acting on behalf of the public and the thousands of security holders affected by the operations of the carriers.
5. The expense of the inquiry will be provided by the various sponsoring organizations, and the initial sum to be provided for this purpose may be as much as $100,000, although this has not been actually decided.

FLORIDA COURT HEARS APPEAL OF BOND GROUP

St. Petersburg Said To Have Defied Order Relating To Size Of Debt Service Levy

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 24.—(A.P.)—Charging that the city of St. Petersburg had defied a supreme court writ in appropriating $7,300,000 for payment of bond interest and principal, attorneys representing a group of bondholders presented a demurrer to the city's recent writ of mandamus requiring levy of $1,700,000 for payment of past, due and maturing bond interest.

Oral arguments on the demurrer were heard yesterday. "The action of the city, in appropriating $7,300,000 when the writ demands $1,000,000 is not compliance with, but defiance of, the court's writ," Frank P. Fleming, attorney for the bondholders declared.

Erle B. Askew, city attorney, replied that the city was seeking to comply with provisions of the state laws providing for payment of debt service and current operations, and held in possession of the money which would be used to raise the appropriation, on account of anticipated collections of $2,200,000 on a last of 100 percent collection.

Bondholders' attorneys said they wanted only a valid tax levy, whereas "what the city proposes is an excessive levy."

Mallem Is Speaker Before Meeting Of Young Democrats

Seminole County League of Young Democrats, with John Mallem, Jr., temporary chairman, presiding, met at the Valley Hotel here today with an object to continue the organization of the county and lay a plan of campaign which will bring the vote in November.

Wm. J. Mallem, member of the State Democratic Executive Committee, was a brief speaker, urging cooperation between every group in the county, and stressing the importance of the League which he formed was to be a permanent organization with educational features that are to be taught by the rising generation year after year.

About 100 men and women were present last night to learn that a membership drive is now under way and to hear reports that indicate that the program of the League is progressing as rapidly as might be expected. Another meeting will be held next Monday night, it was announced, when further plans will be outlined and election of officers may take place.

More Than Half Of Atlanta's Milk Supply Tied Up As Milk "Holiday" Begins In Earnest

ATLANTA, Sept. 24.—(A.P.)—"A holiday" in milk shipments to Atlanta involving an estimated 50 to 70 percent of the city's daily supply was ordered into effect yesterday by a group of dairymen who sought to force local milk plants to pay them better prices.

Purchasing agents of various chain grocery stores said they had not heard of a shortage of milk, and Atlantans received their milk as usual yesterday from dairymen. Meanwhile, the city tightened up its enforcement laws governing quality of milk sold here, and Mayor Key offered to arbitrate the strike declared by the Georgia Milk Producers Federation, Inc., in shipments from 20 counties in this general vicinity.

Columbus Roberts, president of the federation, said his object was not being anything by holding out the market, since the dairymen "is not getting enough to pay for his cows' feed and nothing for his labor," after being hauled charges had been paid.

Roberts said the "whole trouble is caused by a milk war between the Atlanta milk plants—the larger trying to force out the smaller, and the bond is being carried by the farmer."

"Not one of the distributors have lost their plants, but hundreds of farmers have lost their farms. The farmers must have relief...."

He said it takes 20 cents per gallon for a pasteurizing plant to handle milk through its plant and that when the plants get 40 cents wholesale for their milk they at the wholesaler price in Atlanta dropped to 20 cents, they made the farmer stand the difference, still maintaining their 20 cent per gallon profit.

Atlanta's milk supply is being held up by a group of dairymen who are demanding better prices for their milk. The city has ordered a "milk holiday" to force the plants to pay better prices.

FEDERAL JUDGE EXCHANGE VOTES AIDS RAIL LINE BY DENYING SUIT

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 24.—(A.P.)—Stating his belief that business conditions will get better, Federal Judge Patton yesterday dismissed the first of two suits to throw the St. Louis-San Francisco railroad into receivership.

In dismissing the suit filed by Charles and D. C. Lewis, holders of $400,000 in preferred bonds of the railroad, Judge Patton said he believed the road should have another chance.

"If I were convinced, as I am not, he said, that existing business conditions would continue to deteriorate, then I would have to consider appointing a receiver here. But I feel that the road, if business conditions do not get worse, will, if necessary, get better. Business depression is here almost in the past, and self-interest has not yet been self-destructive."

"I am not called on to pick out the corner behind which prosperity is hidden," he said.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—(A.P.)—Libby Holman Reynolds, facing two years of life imprisonment and a trial for the slaying of her husband, told Ward Morehouse in a copyrighted interview published today by the New York Sun, "I did not kill my husband. I did not kill South Reynolds."

The fact that within four months I will have a child, my child makes me so strong enough to fight for complete and absolute vindication."

Denying that she had her husband shot, she said she had been told by the Baltimore News yesterday that she had been charged with the slaying of her husband, William Holman, by the Baltimore News yesterday. INDIAN SITUATION REMAINS ACUTE AS GANDHI FASTS

POONA, Sept. 24.—(A.P.)—Leaders of caste Hindus and the "untouchables" who have been fasting for three days to demand a compromise plan on the electoral question, which would halt the death fast of Mahatma Gandhi, reached an agreement late today. It followed several anxious hours when a newly among the agitators arose at the same time that Gandhi's physician announced his condition as growing grave. The plan was to table the agreement in Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald at London immediately in the hope it would be accepted by the British government in time to persuade Gandhi to end his fast tonight.

Hope For Swift End To Electorate Issues Is Dim Despite Confab

HOUSTON, Sept. 24.—(A.P.)—Hope for a swift agreement on the issue of electorates faded yesterday as Mahatma Gandhi passed his 48th birthday without success. Political leaders representing the caste Hindus and the untouchables still were conferring but had been unable to agree on a method of settling the ancient barriers of caste. The deliberations seemed to be stalled over details while the Mahatma waited in his cell at Yeroda prison.

ROOSEVELT IN TALK ON NEEDS OF BUSINESS

Says Government Must Develop New Economic Structure For Interests Of Public

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—(A.P.)—Franklin D. Roosevelt said yesterday he was the task of government to assist business in the development of an economic declaration of rights under which the responsible heads of finance and industry would work together in the public interest.

The exposition of the Democratic presidential nominees' views was given before the Commonwealth club here in an address which preceded his appearance at a Democratic women's reception and at a public meeting in the civic auditorium last night.

Incidentally the New York governor's visit developed an exchange of friendly words between him and Senator Thomas Johnson Republican of California. In his 15-minute address, Johnson said he would support Roosevelt's program and referred to him as "long a warrior in the ranks of true American progress."

Commenting on Roosevelt's remark, the California factor who only the day before had delivered an address extolling the government's foreign policy and fiscal policies, said:

"The attitude of Mr. Roosevelt is in sharp contrast with that of Mr. Hoover. Mr. Roosevelt is in sharp contrast with that of Mr. Hoover. Mr. Roosevelt is in sharp contrast with that of Mr. Hoover. Mr. Roosevelt is in sharp contrast with that of Mr. Hoover."

"Every man has a right to his own property, which means a right to the fullest extent attainable in the safety of his savings."

"By no other means can men carry the burdens of the present day, which in the nature of things, afford no change of labor; childhood, sickness, old age. In all thought of property the right is paramount, all other property rights must yield to it."

"In view of this principle, we must restrict the operations of the speculator, the manipulator, even the financier. I believe we must accept the regulation as useful, not to hamper individualism but to protect it."

"This suggestion, briefly, that the responsible heads of finance and industry, instead of grinding each for himself, must work together to achieve the common end."

"They must, where necessary, sacrifice their individual advantage; and it is not only a duty, but a general advantage to have that formal government public judgment of your business affairs. Whenever in the pursuit of this objective the law would be unethical, unethical, the reckless pursuit of profit should be null whose hand is upon every man's business, to be achieving an end recognized as being for the public welfare, and threatens to bring the industry back to a state of anarchy the government may properly be asked to apply its strength."

"Take as a guide the group and its collective power contrary to the public welfare, the government must be swift to enact and protect the public interest."

"The government should assume the function of economic regulation only as a last resort, to be tried only when private initiative, inspired by high responsibility, with such assistance and balance as government can give, has finally failed."

"As yet there has been no final failure because there has been no attempt; and I believe it is possible that this nation is capable to meet the situation."

Amelia Earhart has gone to the President to demand equal rights for women.

When times are hard throughout the country, conservative men in public office are often replaced by "progressives" or radicals.

The gasoline tax seems to be working very favorably for the nation.

Over-enthusiastic partisans claiming victory for Bill Hovey are reminded by the Tampa Tribune that Shultz got 78,522 more votes in the recent primary than Hovey got in the general election of 1928.

What is marriage? "Marriage," says Schopenhauer, "is a conspiracy in which all women have united to compel every man to support some woman for life."

A great deal of water has gone through the mill since the Eighteenth Amendment was adopted.

The trouble about federal relief is that you cannot help one group without hurting another.

Homesteading Farm Lands

A plan which may prove to be the "golden highway" leading Florida out of the depression, was published last Sunday by a Dade county representative and was published last Sunday in the Miami Daily News.

Such a plan, its proponent J. C. Brown, declares, would contribute $37,500,000 annually to the commercial life of Florida and not less than $8,000,000 a year to the public treasury of state and county.

It is further pointed out that since 80 acres would be the maximum acreage allowed a single individual, the homesteading of 10,000,000 acres would mean an influx of at least 125,000 new home owners.

It is said that with practically all farmers throughout the country heavily burdened with debt and about to lose their homes through mortgage foreclosures, there would be many thousands of them eager to take advantage of the opportunities offered by Florida to start over again free from the embarrassing encumbrances of financial obligations.

There are, however, other phases of this picture, not the gloomiest of which is the possibility that a good many of these 10,000,000 acres suitable for farming are in reality not so suitable.

Moreover, this field is already pretty well overdone in Florida. There is an over-supply of oranges and grapefruit practically every year, with thousands of acres of young trees coming on, soon to further increase over-production.

British Diplomacy

Diplomatic services have always been famed for their polite language. The English especially have excelled in this department.

American spokesmen, whether on international affairs or local politics, could sometimes find a splendid example in the English manner of making positive assertions mildly.

His majesty's government and the whole British people are most deeply concerned to promote the success of the conference (the Geneva Disarmament Conference), and hold that international agreements would not only relieve the world from the burden of expense which is retarding its economic recovery, but would be an immediate and solid contribution toward the preservation of world peace.

Germany has suffered and is suffering from the prevailing economic depression and widespread unemployment, and the other signatories of the Treaty of Versailles have recognized this and have shown themselves ready in consequence to shelve, and, indeed, fundamentally revise, their financial claims upon Germany.

In view of Germany's economic difficulties, the initiation of an acute controversy in the political field at this moment must be accounted unwise; and, in view of the concessions so recently granted to Germany by her creditors, it must be accounted particularly untimely.

That is not all of the English reply, but that is enough to show the inoffensiveness of the remarks.

"Buy the advertised brand" seems to have become a national slogan. But after all the public—the great American public—has found through years of experience that an advertised product is the safest bet. Doesn't it stand to reason that the manufacturer would not spend thousands of dollars annually for advertising purposes if he were not trying to build "repeat" orders or sales? Of course he would not. Locally the most successful and progressive business people advertise. Some cannot afford to spend very much toward advertising, nevertheless they are doing their part to convince you that they want your trade. Patronize them.
