SECTION ON LOW MAIL RATE STAYS IN POSTAL BILL

Measure By Senator Butler
Retaining Present Rates
On Religious Publications
Adopted by Senate Tuesday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The senate refused Tuesday to eliminate the present preferential mail rate, allowed religious, educational and philanthropic publications, adopting by a vote of 61 to 23 an amendment to the postal bill which would increase the postal rate to the present rate of 1-4 cents a pound on the advertising sections of such periodicals. The vote had the effect of retaining the recommendation of the senate postoffice committee, which favored a uniform rate for all publications.

After debate on the bill, which centered about proposed changes in the zone rates affecting the advertising sections of publications, Senator George, Democrat, Georgia, moved elimination of all proposed increases in second class rates and a reduction of those in effect in the fiscal year 1919-1920. A vote on his proposal went over until Wednesday.

Elimination of the proposed increases in rates would mean ultimate rejection of the entire bill, providing also for postal salary increases. Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, declared during the debate, but Senator George argued that the reduction he proposed would tend to increase rather than reduce revenue from this service.

STONE MAY BE "Daddy" Three Act QUESTIONED IN Play, Presented By OPEN SESSION HighSchoolAlumni

"Says 'Technicality' Invoked Senator Hefflin contended such a 'technicality' had been invoked to prevent Owenby from being heard in his own defense in the Delaware action when he failed to produce a bond of $200,000 fixed by a court, and that his subsequent failure to answer was used to obtain an affirmation of the decision by the supreme court.

"Colonel Owenby was called," he asserted, "and then was denied a hearing by the court which called him because he couldn't raise $200,000 to buy a permit to be heard. The technicality was raised under an obsolete statute known as the 'Custom of London' but which had been annulled in the British courts 40 years before.

"No bond was required of the Morgan heirs when they attacked the property of Colonel Owenby. No one denied he had the testimony necessary to dispute the allegations set out in the complaint against him."

Senator Hefflin also asserted the court record showed that the Morgan estate had offered $1,250,000 for property of the defendant which it subsequently bid in at a legal sale for $41,000.

The discussion did not end until Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, temporarily occupying the chair, ruled in favor of several points of order against a speech in reply to Senator Hefflin by Senator Sterling, Republican, South Dakota, chairman of the judiciary subcommittee which first considered the Stone nomination.

Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, asserted after the ruling had been made that it was time for the senate to "get in step with the public" and eliminate some of the secrecy of government business.

He pointed out that while the senate Monday was arguing about maintaining the secrecy of its executive sessions, President Coolidge had broadcast to the country by radio a business meeting of the executive departments.

"Daddy," a delightful three-act play was presented Tuesday night at the Sanford High School for the benefit of the Salmagundi, the high school year book. The cast was composed of alumni and members of the faculty.

A small but appreciative audience pronounced the play one of the best amateur productions given here for some time. The leading parts were taken by Byron Stephens as the father and Miss Naomi Scoggin as his debutante daughter, were exceptionally good. Miss Gerry Muriel as the mother, Victor McLaulin as the young doctor and Miss Lucille Echols as the sister pursuing ill health, also elicited much praise for their performance.

Music for the evening was furnished by the high school orchestra with special numbers by John Schirard. Between acts Mrs. J. W. Barnes gave several readings from Edgar Guest and Mrs. W. S. Leake gave a vocal selection. Members of the cast were: Wrexson Brown, just like his fellow men, Byron Stephens. Teddy Brown, his son, pursuing football at College, John Wil-

Paul Chester, a young doctor, Victor McLaulin. Thompson, the Brown's butler, John Lundquist.

Mrs. Wrexson Brown, just like her fellow woman, Miss Gerry Muriel.

Nellie Brown, her daughter, a debutante, Miss Naomi Scoggin. Mrs. Chester, Mr. Brown's sister, pursuing ill-health at home, Miss Lucille Echols. Jane, the Brown's cook, Miss Evelyn Darrow.

Synopsis of Scenes: Act I—Mr. Brown's Study. Act II, Mrs. Chester's drawing room. Act III, Mr. Brown's study again.

Six weeks are supposed to elapse between the second and third acts.

Army Powder Withstands Months Storage Underwater Without Injury

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—Experiments conducted by the army have demonstrated that smokeless powder may be stored under water in cold mountain lakes without deterioration, it was announced here recently at headquarters of the Ninth Corps Area.

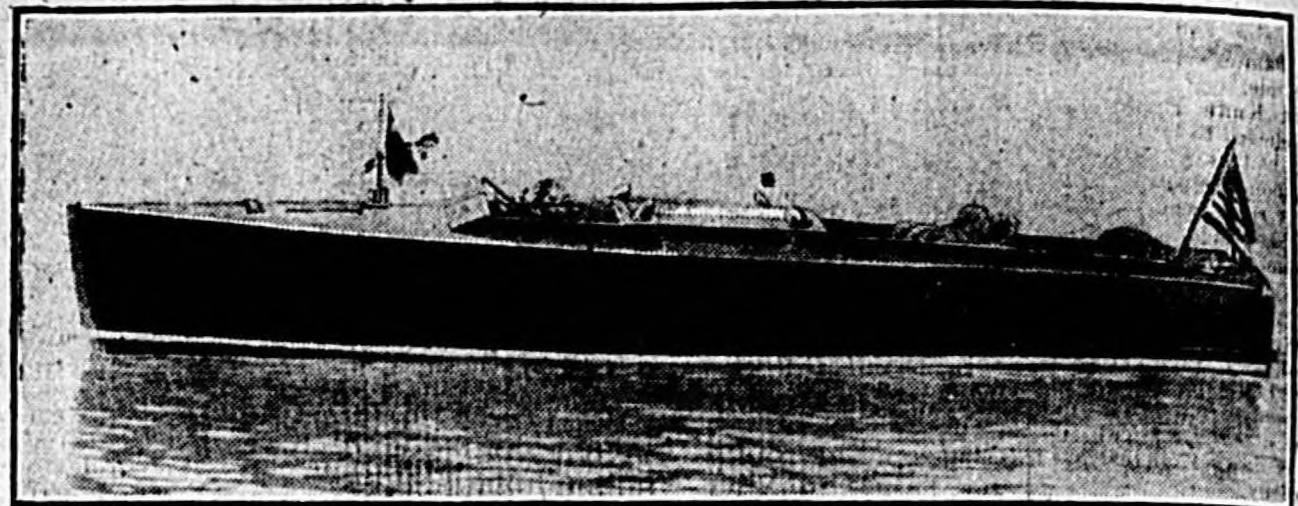

This, it was said, probably will provide a method of storing large quantities of powder without danger of fire or explosion. The con-without appreciable variation in velocity and pressure. These conditions are maintained with little difference whether the powder is stored in sea water or fresh water.

"Three types of powder have been used in the under-water storage experiment. Powder for 75-mm, 155-mm and 12-inch guns was placed in specially prepared boxes provided with numerous openings to allow free circulation of water, and immersed in the lake to a depth of about three feet. For purposes of comparison an equal amount of each kind of powder was stored in a magazine. At

High School Knights Fight To Draw For The Affection Of Pretty Miss

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 28.—In the days of old, the knights used lances and swords fighting for their "ladies fair." Today they use their fists.

Two Wilmington high school students fought to a draw, according to witnesses, over a certain miss and, incidentally, brought about the resignation of the basketball coach.

Chivalry cloaked the girl's name; but according to whispers, it was the (a freshman) who wrote a note to Milton Bradenman, also a freshman. The missive was passed during class and came into possession of Benjamin Cohen, Bradenman accused Benny of reading it. Then the cry was raised for the gloves and the two boys rushed toward the gymnasium. Milton and Benny stripped for action, and I. H. Ashton, the high school coach, was referee.

Almost the whole freshman class was on hand. It was a fierce battle. After three rounds, the bout was declared a draw, and the boys shook hands, Benny's honor vindicated, Milton's right unquestioned.

Now comes the sad story. The superintendent of schools, conferred with the principal of the school and now it is said that the next step would be an investigation by the board of education.

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then set fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithin, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithin-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. Adv.

IS CHARGED MURDERING ROOM MATE

Issued Despite Verdict of Suicide in Nathan Case; Sister Swears She Killed Her Brother

SVILLE, Ala., Jan. 28.—A coroner's jury has rendered a verdict of suicide in the case of Nathan Painter, whose body was found in a rooming house, a warrant for his arrest was issued by the coroner. The warrant was sworn out by sister, Mrs. Edna Sawyer, who said she saw her brother's body in the rooming house. She said she saw the body in the rooming house and that she saw the body in the rooming house.

Women found Painter's body in the rooming house, floating in about two feet of water. A basin tap was running full force and of Painter's room locked outside. A knife found in the room, believed to be the murder weapon, had been started on the floor, the same floor as the room was on. The rooming house was almost totally destroyed.

When the property of the rooming house was found in Painter's room, it had been recently whittled down to a razor. The physical evidence to Sawyer, investigators say, that the room in which the body was found was locked. The facts show that the body was cut from right to left, the natural thing for a right-handed man.

The water tap was left running, puzzled investigators. The body was found in the rooming house and covered up by the fire it would hardly be a running full force, the point out. Quarrelled often, the sister of the deceased, Mrs. Edna Sawyer, and her sister were constantly quarrelling. The sister had not yet established the crime. Neither Painter had any amount of money and the textile workers of the rooming house, when he is charged open crime, merely stares at the crime and grins. He is apologetic. He neither admit the murder and has made no effort to engage an attorney.

Stork Deals Kelly Two Pairs And Full House, Too, On His Fifth Call

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—John Kelly is a simple soul slow to wrath and, despite his Celtic origin, quick to smile. Life to him means home, and his wife, Catherine, working as a steamfitter with the Brooklyn Union Gas Company and a few unostentatious amusements. Saturday, in accordance with the ironclad traditions of fathers-to-be, Kelly paced the floor of his kitchen. In the adjoining room Dr. Shapiro, of the Jewish hospital, assisted by a nurse, awaited the coming of the stork. In due time a door opened, the nurse's head popped in and Kelly heard her say: "It's a girl." "It's a girl," he said down relieved and delighted. "One," he thought. "We'll call her Catherine after her ma." Encores bling. Ten minutes pass, and again the nurse's white-capped head appeared. "It's a boy." Kelly's brown wrinkled. How come? A girl? A boy? Which was it. The curtain again falls to denote the lapse of eight minutes. "It's a girl." Then another period of suspense, and again: "It's a boy." Kelly rose. The was too much. What was it, a boy or a girl? "What's it all about?" he shouted. Dr. Shapiro appeared, smiling. "It's about four," he replied. Kelly's quick smile came back. Matters were explained. Instead of one he had four of them—two boys and two girls. Solves a Problem. The arrival of the job lot of small humanity also solved a vexing problem which had rankled in Mrs. Kelly's mind. Should the arrival be called Catherine or Joseph, with the alternative of Sarah or Edward? Now there was no need to worry. She could use them all. The news made its way to the Grand Avenue police station nearby, as news always does, and the good captain there dispatched a mounted courier to the Kelly home at 720 Pergon Street, Brooklyn, with the following message: "More power to the Irish Kellys." Dr. Shapiro took the four bundles of life to the Jewish Hospital. This is the fifth visit of the stork to the Kellys. Mrs. Kelly is remaining at home to care for the four other young Kellys.

Grizzly Reappears In California After Years of Absence

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—The California grizzly bear, supposed extinct has appeared after a lapse of 40 years, in the Sequoia National Forest, according to a reliable report. At one time the California grizzly ranged the Sierra Nevada and coast ranges in such large numbers that he was made the official emblem of the state and still graces the state flag. He is considerably larger than the Rocky Mountain grizzly, is of a grayish tinge and has a distinct hump on top of his shoulders. As a fighter he was feared by all other animals of the early California days. Yet he was not considered by man a dangerous animal, and he usually took to flight on man's approach. He was even less carnivorous than the smaller black or brown bear and lived largely on acorns, berries, roots and grasses. There must be something in the soil of Iowa and Nebraska conducive to the development of wrestlers, as those States have produced the majority of the mat champions for many years past.

"CONFEDERATE" HALF DOLLAR IS BEING MINTED

Stone Mountain Coins Marking Valor of South's Soldiers, Made at Philadelphia Mint

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—Coining began last week at the Philadelphia Mint of the Stone Mountain half dollar, commemorating the valor of the soldiers of the Confederacy and the carving of the colossal memorial on the Georgia Mountain. The new coins, from designs submitted by Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor, are the size of the standard half dollar and will be turned over to the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial Association at Atlanta in exchange for their par value in current coinage. The Act of Congress authorizing the issuance of the coins provides a maximum coinage of 6,000,000 pieces. The obverse side of the new half dollar bears the familiar "In God We Trust" across the top in an arch. Beneath this are thirteen stars in two groups of four each and one of five. The feature of the obverse side consists of the figures of Gen. Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, both mounted. Lee is gazing into the distance in a direction toward which Jackson is pointing. To the lower left of the mounted figures are the words "Stone Mountain," with the year of coinage. The reverse side, topped with the words "United States of America" and "E Pluribus Unum" directly beneath, has in the center the figure of an eagle sitting on the summit of a mountain. To the left appear the words "Memorial to the Valor of the Soldier of the South." At the bottom is lettered "Liberty," with "Half Dollar" beneath. Incised on the obverse side are the initials of the sculptor, "G. B."

French Flyer Is Knocked Out When He Puts Head Outside Of Airplane

PARIS, Jan. 28.—Adjutant Florentin Bonnet, "fastest man in the world," was completely knocked out and unconscious for fully 20 seconds during his record breaking trial at Istres, Dec. 11, when travelling through the air at the rate of 448.170 kilometers per hour he wrested the world's championship from the American, Lieutenant A. J. Williams. Bonnet, a modest retiring chap, never said a word about it until a few days later in Paris, while watching a boxing contest between two heavyweights. Van der Veer of Holland, a 225 pound man was meeting Marcel Nilles, the veteran French heavy-weight, when the former suddenly walloped a light cross to the jaw with a resounding whack, knocking the Frenchman to the canvas for the count of nine. "I bet Nilles was not hit as hard as I was during my flight," volunteered Bonnet. "I was out for 20 seconds. Yes, I'll let even Dempsey hit his best hitting form never struck any one such a blow as I got on the jaw," he added. Surprised, his friends asked for an explanation. "Well, I forgot myself and stuck my head out from behind the windshield before taking a turn and the wind pressure striking me against the side of the face knocked me clean out," said Bonnet. Cut-away view of Florence burner, showing how flame is focused on the cooking vessel.

This flame heats the kettle ~ not the kitchen.

NO use to hope for a cool kitchen if your cooking stove throws much of the heat out into the room. The Florence Oil Range puts the heat into the cooking and leaves the kitchen a pleasant place to work on a hot day. That is because the Florence is the oil range with focused heat. The Florence burners send the heat directly into the bottom of the pot. Of course this means not only quick cooking but economy of kerosene, which is a cheap fuel. The Florence is simplicity itself to operate. There are no wicks to trim, and a turn of the lever gives you the degree of heat you want. The lever on each foot enables you to place the stove even on an uneven floor. When you examine the Florence at the store be certain to notice the famous Florence Oven, built on the principle of the old Dutch oven. The patented heat-spreader insures even distribution of heat and keeps your roasts and baked things from being burned on the bottom. The Florence is a beauty, and its beauty is not skin-deep, for it is a quality product all the way through. Don't put off going to the store to see the Florence in action. This oil range with the focused heat should mean much to you in the hot summer days to come.

Haughdahl Winner Of Feature Event In Daytona Races

DAYTONA, Jan. 28.—Marked by fast time considering the brevity and frequent turns of the five events on the card and by a record attendance, automobile racing was permanently resumed on the record-established Ormond-Seabreeze Daytona Beach course Tuesday. A series of six meets is to be held before April 1, following which another program for racing will be arranged.

Tuesday's principal race, a 10 mile free-for-all, which was won by Sig Haughdahl, world's dirt track champion, driving a Miller straight eight, in 9:28. Bob Green, Chicago, Frontenac, was second, and Bud Putnam, Providence, Simplex, third.

Haughdahl also won a six mile event for professionals, going the route in 6:00 with Putnam second and Sam Purvis, Fiat, Jacksonville, third.

The Triple Cities sweepstakes, a local event of six miles, was won by Pete Craig, sporting editor of the Daily News, driving an American Special, with Walter Johnson and Norris third. Craig went the route in 6:15.

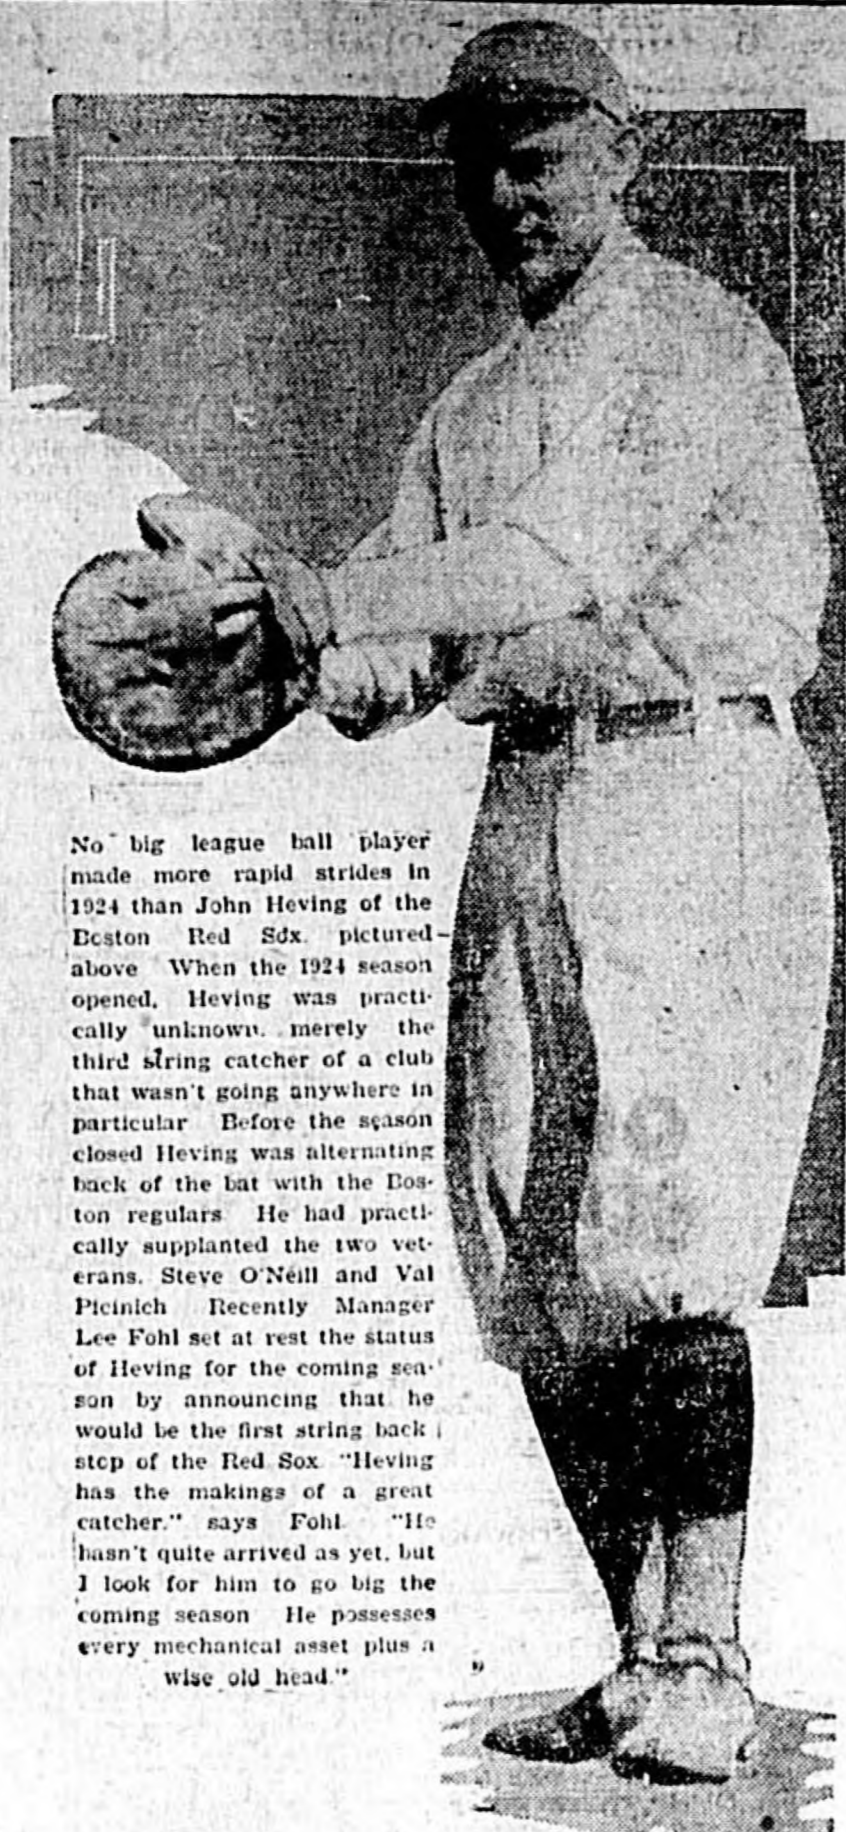

Reports received Tuesday indicate that there would be a decided addition to the professional drivers when the second meeting is held on or about Feb. 15. Twenty drivers competed Tuesday.

The major league record for home runs by one player in a single game is four. This mark was set by "Bobby" Lowe of the Boston Nationals in 1884, and equaled two years later by Ed Delephanty, of the Philadelphia Nationals.

Wins Berth as Regular

No big league ball player made more rapid strides in 1924 than John Heving of the Boston Red Sox pictured above. When the 1924 season opened, Heving was practically unknown, merely the third string catcher of a club that wasn't going anywhere in particular. Before the season closed Heving was alternating back of the bat with the Boston regulars. He had practically supplanted the two veterans, Steve O'Neill and Val Picinich. Recently Manager Lee Fohl set at rest the status of Heving for the coming season by announcing that he would be the first string back stop of the Red Sox. "Heving has the makings of a great catcher," says Fohl. "He hasn't quite arrived as yet, but I look for him to go big the coming season. He possesses every mechanical asset plus a wise old head."

Nurmi Scores Another Sensational Victory In Three Quarter Mile Race

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Paavo Nurmi scored one of the most spectacular victories of his American invasion Tuesday night when he won the three quarter mile race featuring the opening night of the Millrose games, conquering Joe Ray and three other rivals.

The phantom Finn not only beat Ray by 10 yards in a brilliant finish after trailing the latter's pace for seven laps of the eight lap journey, but shattered the world's record for the distance, which he covered in three minutes, three and four-fifths seconds.

Allen Helfrich, Penn State mid-state flyer won the Millrose "600" for the third straight year and captured outright the E. H. Post trophy. Helfrich shot into the lead at the start, fought off challenges by his rivals and won by 12 yards from Walter Mulvihill of Holy Cross the national champion at the distance.

Willie P. Ma, sturdy Finnish-American distance runner, broke the world record for three miles for the second time in a few days when he lapped all his opponents and won a race at this distance in 14 minutes and four seconds. He clipped seven and three-fifths seconds off the mark he set last Saturday at the Brooklyn College games.

Ritola was credited with a second world's mark when officials announced he passed the two and one-half mile post in 11:44 4-5, breaking by two and one-fifth seconds the mark he set last Saturday night for that distance.

Ugo Frigerio, picturesque Italian walker who holds the Olympic championship, celebrated his American debut at the Millrose Carnival Tuesday night with a victory in a three mile handicap event.

Frigerio, toyed with three opponents to whom he conceded handicap of 20 to 30 seconds. The Italian caught his rival at the two mile mark and after jockeying for a few laps, stepped out and won easily by 40 yards over his nearest rival, Irving Boskin, of New York, who had a 30 second allowance.

Seven More Yankees Sign 1925 Contracts

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Seven more members of the New York Yankees have signed for 1925, according to an announcement Tuesday by Edward G. Barrow, business manager of the club.

Miller Huggins, club manager, who will arrive here Friday, forwarded the signed contract of Steve O'Neill, catcher, obtained by the Yankees from the Boston Red Sox.

Two other veterans now in the field are Aaron Ward, second baseman, and Fred Hofmann, catcher. Other signed contracts returned include those of Osborn Gardner, left handed pitcher of the University of Washington, Joseph E. Malley, right handed pitcher obtained from the Richmond club of the Virginia League; Martin Autrey, catcher, and Henry Cullop, pitcher, last season with the Omaha club of the Western League.

Henry Saylor, aged 75, has recently completed a trip with horse and buggy from the Mexican border to York, Pa., where he is visiting relatives.

Mrs. Frank Scott of Jewell, Ia., is the mother of nineteen children, there being five sets of triplets, and two pair of twins, according to a recent press dispatch.

ANOTHER CLUE IS EXPLODED IN BASEBALL CASE

Cunningham Denies Stories That Ross Young Admitted Knowing About Bribe Plan

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Another apparent clue in the O'Connell-Dolan baseball bribery scandal of last fall was exploded Tuesday. Bill Cunningham, Boston National outfielder, telegraphed baseball commissioner Landis that there was no truth in a published statement ascribed to him last Saturday, that Ross Young, Giant outfielder, had admitted knowing of Jimmy O'Connell's plan to offer a bribe to "Heinie" Sand, Philadelphia National shortstop.

Cunningham's telegram from San Francisco said: "Story published Sunday morning relative to O'Connell case nothing but a mass of lies and can only repeat denial given papers here Monday. Made no such statement as that attributed to me nor have I been interviewed on O'Connell case, except when I returned from East in October."

According to the story, Cunningham, who was a room mate of Young, said that Young admitted to him that he, Frank Frisch and George Kelly, other members of the Giants mentioned in O'Connell's statement to Landis, were aware of the fact that O'Connell was to talk to Sand about not "bearing down too hard" in a crucial game, but that it was to be a "kidding" request and was to be passed off as a joke.

Commissioner Landis, on publication of the story, immediately sought information from Cunningham as to the truth of the assertions. Similar action was taken a few weeks ago, in investigation of a story about the failure of the Pittsburgh Pirates dash for the pennant attributed to Emil Yur, a Pittsburgh pitcher. This rumor also blew up on investigation.

Diogenes Gets Honest Man In Guard On Subway Who Returns Sum Of $1573

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—All jokes about the Scotsman are off, particularly the one about the Scotsman and the Irishman who went into a bar for something to drink and walked out again—thirsty. The Irishman was broke.

James Wallace, a subway platform guard in the B. M. T.'s Canal Street station, has shattered the Scotsman theory for all time. Wallace is a Scot. He came to this country two years ago, and since that time he has been saving pennies out of a salary of $32 a week to pay the passage of his wife and two daughters from Glasgow to New York.

Wallace was on duty at Canal Street. He shepherded the mob which always accompanies the 5 o'clock rush at this transfer point. He herded the crowds this way and that. He answered a million questions.

And when it was all over Wallace, walking, flatfooted, kicked a package.

It was a dirty package, mud-stained and trampled. A thousand feet had walked of it. As Wallace's dull eyes fell upon it it was just a crumpled mass of mud, but it retained a semblance of a package. So Wallace groped for it.

He took it gingerly between his fingers; just a muddy ball of something. He felt for stamps, wiping the mud on his trousers. The thing came apart in his hands. James Wallace found himself in possession of $1573. There it was. His fingers fumbled the bills. Fifteen $100 bills, seven $10 bills and three $1 bills. A fortune!

Within his fingers James Wallace subway guard with a wage of $32 a week, held enough money to bring to New York from Scotland his wife, Johanna; his 6 year old daughter Kathleen and baby May, who is three years old.

Then he walked to the spot where the station agent stood. "Here," said James Wallace, Scotsman, "I just found this on the platform."

Mrs. Celia Weisbaum of 2814 West 29th Street, Coney Island, identified the pocketbook and the money as her property. She handed Wallace $200 as a reward.

"I'll admit I thought about it," Wallace said. "I mean here was enough to bring Johanna and the babies over, but then I thought—well, maybe somebody as poor as I am has worked a lifetime to save this much money, and then, of course, I turned it over to my boss. 'I'll bring my family over, all right. In the first place, this reward will help a lot,' said Jim Wallace.

Construction in 35 eastern states during first 11 months of 1924 totaled $4,154,753,100, four per cent over total for 1923, the record year to the present.
