

At The Capitol

By GEORGE MERRY

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 25—The session to date has been very harmonious, but there is no telling what will happen before it's over. Here hoping though, that we will be able to continue in this vein, and REALLY enact some legislation that will benefit the state.

How is a sample of the average legislator? Up at 7:30 A. M. and after a slim breakfast and a brisk walk to the Capitol, reads his mail, answering as much of it as possible. Then about 9 o'clock, to a committee meeting for the last part of an hour. Then in the House Chamber at 10 o'clock and there until 11 or 12 o'clock. After a short rest and lunch, (the adjective applies to both), to another committee meeting at half past two or 3 o'clock, and at least one more at half past four or 5 o'clock, and he shows until 6 or 6:30 o'clock. Then gets his afternoon mail, and after reading it, and writing and phoning in an attempt to contact many who want something done, to a supper, and in many cases, another committee meeting or public hearing at night. This is not in the way of a complaint, for I really like it, and only want sufficient energy to withstand the entire session, but just to give you an idea of what it really is like here.

I had the pleasure of a very enjoyable trip down to the Gulf of Mexico several days ago, and gorged myself on fresh oysters. The shipping season on them is over, but they are obtainable at the Gulf at all times. There is one beautiful scenery on the way down, but the Gulf itself, with its so-called beaches, cannot be compared, and should not, with the "World's Famous Beach" at Daytona, or the other Atlantic beaches.

The people of this section and west of here, though, seem to enjoy the fishing and bathing as much as we do, so all well.

Many members of the Legislature have been making the trip over to Chatahoochee at some opportune time, but I have been afraid to go in that insane asylum for fear they would not let me out.

It is a very interesting place, however, from all reports. One man states that he saw several tables at which the inmates were playing bridge, and they seemed to play as well as anybody. Then there are many there who are merely sent there to take the "Kaiser Cure." Some steps are being taken to prohibit the admission of many such cases as above mentioned.

Over 1000 were admitted last year. Many hope to have this should not, and it is a large expense on the State. I hope we will be able to have some of the resources and it takes to operate it.

RASKOB WON'T DICTATE PARTY 32 CANDIDATE

Offers Statement On Leaving For Europe; Says He Won't Make Liquor Single Issue

NEW YORK, Apr. 25—(AP)—With the assertion that he did not propose to make prohibition the single issue in 1932, Chairman John J. Raskob of the Democratic national committee, last night said for Europe. He said also that he did not intend to dictate the party's nominee in 1932. Both he and former Governor Smith, who bids him bon voyage, denied any intention of dictating the party's nominee in 1932. "I am not prepared to say," said former Governor Smith, "whom I will support for the nomination." Raskob, recalling a conference here Wednesday with J. Mott Shouse, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, said the only thing discussed at that time was the proposition of raising funds to wipe out a $450,000 deficit of the national committee and (Continued on Page 4)

The message was sent to the President by the association in executive session here. Two Measures Of Major Importance Are Awaiting To Be Signed By Governor

LOS ANGELES IS VICTIM OF QUAKE BREAKING DISHES

Disturbance Only Of 5 Seconds Duration; Populace Is Excited

LOS ANGELES, Apr. 25—(AP)—An earthquake that lasted five seconds shook Los Angeles and the suburbs at 10:28 A. M. yesterday but with the exception of a few shattered store windows and some broken chandeliers, the sole result was a highly excited populace. The epicenter apparently was in the Santa Monica bay district. Several store windows fell in, plaster in offices and homes was cracked and dishes broken. From offices, homes, and apartments, people, disregarding the warnings of earthquake experts, fled into the streets.

Experts have advised that walls of buildings shaken by quakes fall out first and the floors usually are the last to collapse, so that the street is a poor place to seek safety.

In Hollywood, the shock was slight but it was more pronounced in Los Angeles, Redondo Beach, Compton and Torrance felt it almost as strongly as in Santa Monica and small amounts of damage were reported. To the east in Pasadena and Alhambra, the intensity was slight. Pictures and lights sagged in these cities and the housewives dishes remained unscathed.

At Los Angeles, the peak of the 28-story city hall, the tallest structure in Southern California, moved back and forth with the shocks but no damage resulted. Unlike the usual record of earthquakes, there was a forewarning this time. The instruments of the Carnegie Institution of Washington seismological laboratory at South Pasadena registered a disturbance an hour before the earthquake was felt generally. It was the first shock in Los Angeles in nearly a year.

George Perry Widow Quizzed On His Death

SOUTH BEND, Apr. 25—(AP)—Detectives, investigating the slaying last night of a man identified as George Perry, alias George Parker, today questioned his widow concerning a remark that he had made in the "Blackie" case. She is being held as a material witness. She said she and her husband fled to France last February after revelations of the Edward G. Bremer—Myrtle Turner Blackledge fifty thousand dollar farm swindle. At Springfield, Perry was shot as he stepped from the garage of his father-in-law. Mrs. Blackledge's former collector of internal revenue for Northern Illinois, said she was swindled out of the money in a card game.

BUTLER AGAIN IN SPOTLIGHT OF DISSENSION

General Protests Article Of Foreign Envoy Questioning His Right To High Honor

WASHINGTON, Apr. 25—(AP)—Major General Butler today came to the fore in another international dispute today this time with himself as the protagonist. A letter of protest from the stormy petrel of the marine corps against statements attributed to Minister Bellegarde of Haiti in which the minister was quoted as questioning the basis upon which the congressional medal of honor was given Butler was turned over in the state department for investigation.

Minister Bellegarde is quoted in the copyrighted article in the Washington Herald as saying the fact which Butler was awarded the congressional medal of honor for continuing in November 1915 did not exist.

The fact in question was known as Fort Riviere in Haiti. In transmitting the protest to the state department for investigation the navy department said it was taking that course as a matter of routine.

The last time that General Butler became entangled in international controversy was occasioned by a speech in Philadelphia in which the Devil Dog quoted (Charles) Vandenberg, Jr., as to a certain alleged unpleasant incident involving Mussolini. This speech brought resentment from the Italian Ambassador to the United States and almost ended in Butler's court martial.

Jilted Man Admits Strangling Singer He Had Supported

NEW YORK, Apr. 25—(AP)—The telephone pealed in the office of the St. George Hotel yesterday and an anxious voice came over the wire. "This is the People's Theatre on the Bowery," it said. "Here it is certain time and our star, Blanche Summers, 'Blanche the singer,' hasn't showed up. What's happened?" "She won't be down," a hotel attendant said, "she's dead. Strangled to death."

Over at the Mercer Street Police Station, unknown to the theatre management, the homicide squad was finding out about it from Leander G. Stupp, unemployed actor, 32. This is what they said he told them: After the war, in which he was gassed, he worked hard in the theatrical business and saved $22,000. Three years ago in Baltimore he met Miss Sommer, who was 21 and blonde. Three months ago they began to play to be married. She hit him, he said, he gave her all the $22,000. He was broke and forced to take a job as barber outside a theatre on the Bowery, in which you can get a seat for 10 cents. Yesterday morning, he said, she told him she was going to leave him for another man. Stupp walked to the police station to give himself up.

Trade Journal Sees U. S. On Sound Basis

NEW YORK, Apr. 25—(AP)—Brookings said today the country is on a sound basis and there seems less cause for discouragement than at any time since the summer of 1929, but added that there seems to be too much optimism without enough factual foundation. The statistical service cited the improvement in various lines as wool, silk, copper, anthracite, and tobacco but against these gains, it said its figures show nearly all other lines show material losses from last year. Bounding a warning against optimistic forecasts, it recalled a year ago unwarranted hopes were raised by too much expression of "false optimism."

Fess Hurls Back Shouse Charge Of Religion Injection

WASHINGTON, Apr. 25—(AP)—A charge by Chairman Shouse of the Democratic national executive committee that the Republicans injected the religious issue into the last campaign was hurled back at the Democrats yesterday by Chairman Fess of the Republican national committee. "Clearly and unquestionably Mr. Shouse did inject the religious issue," in his recent San Francisco speech, the (Shouse) said in a statement from Republican headquarters.

At the same time he said the Republican national committee circulated an anti-Raskob article by Frank Kent in the 1930 congressional campaign but added it did not refer to the religion of Chairman Raskob of the Democratic national committee—and would have been distributed whether Raskob was a Methodist, a Baptist or a member of any other denomination. The latest development in the Shouse-Fess controversy came after Shouse had attacked Fess' past speeches and dealings with newspapers and denied having said in San Francisco that the Republicans bought and distributed 10,000,000 copies of a magazine containing an anti-Raskob article. In his statement yesterday Fess characterized the rejoinder as "half confession and half denial."

CHANGES ARE AGREED ON IN TAX MEASURES

Delinquent Taxes For '27, '28, And '30 Must Be Paid At Once Under New Proposals

As a result of an informal meeting at the City Hall last night, between members of the Sanford City Commission and a group of taxpayers who presented objections to two of the proposed charter amendment bills which the Commission and the Legislative Committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce had agreed upon, two important changes were effected, subject to approval by members of the Bondholders' Protective Committee.

The first change related to the proposed bill which provides a means of collecting delinquent taxes. Instead of the bill providing that the city may have the right to foreclose, after a one year grace period, on any property upon which taxes are delinquent or may become delinquent, it was stated that immediate steps should be taken to collect taxes now due, and provide a two year grace period on any future delinquent taxes. The bill was therefore amended to provide that it will provide that delinquent taxes for 1927-1928 and 1929 must be paid, or will be foreclosed on immediately, and that property owners be given a two year grace period on 1930 taxes and all future taxes.

The second change related to the proposed bill providing for the election and re-election of the mayor and defining his duties. The taxpayers voiced their objection principally to the clause which provides that the mayor can be re-elected upon a vote of a majority of the other four commissioners, the mayor to have a vote in the election. That clause was stricken from the proposed bill, and the bill referred back to the Legislative Committee of the trade body, for further consideration.

This morning City Attorney R. Wilson informed members of the Bondholders' Protective Committee of the changes asked for last night, and was informed that the plan to foreclose on delinquent taxes and to allow a two year grace period on all other taxes was satisfactory to them.

Special Guards Asked By D. A. R. During Meeting

WASHINGTON, Apr. 25—(AP)—Daughters of the American Revolution called for special police protection yesterday after adopting resolutions denouncing communism. Officers were stationed at every door of the hall with instructions to allow no one to enter on business. Plain clothes men were scattered throughout the audience. With the meeting place of the organization's annual convention thus protected, the delegates listened to an address by Representative Fish of New York, the chairman of the House communist investigating committee.

Fish, whose address had been thus paraded by the organization with his consent, said the state department had not cooperated fully with his committee's investigation of communism. A difference of opinion prevailed concerning the request for the special guard. Mrs. Lowell F. Hubart, the president general, said there was nothing sensational about the presence of the police, explaining an extra guard was sought several days ago to guard the D. A. R. relics. Mrs. William Sherman Alexander, chairman of national defense, however, said: "If special protection (Continued on Page 4)

CHARTER BILLS ARE APPROVED BY CITY HEADS

The City Commissioners in their discretion, direct the assessor to make a list of the delinquent owners of any lands for taxes in the order in which such taxes have become delinquent, forwarding first, lists for taxes which have been delinquent for the longest period of time. Special assessment liens may also be foreclosed according to the bill.

Sections two and three of the proposed bill provide that tax-payers may redeem any property which has been sold in satisfaction of the principal amount of the taxes, together with 10 per cent of the principal and interest at the rate of eight per cent from the date the taxes become delinquent until redeemed, and may redeem property after suit is instituted by paying the same penalty, same interest and such part of the court costs as the court may determine.

Sections four, five and six of the measure provide that all amendments to the City charter referring to the method of delinquent tax collection by the sale of the lands shall be repealed; that all laws or parts of laws in conflict with the new law, be repealed; and that the act shall become effective immediately upon its passage by the Governor or his becoming a law without his approval.

The duties of the mayor and the method of election and re-election constitute the second bill approved by the Commission. In that bill, the Commissioners seek to amend the City Charter so as to give to the mayor, some of the duties formerly assigned to the City Manager, an office which has been abolished.

Under the terms of the bill, the Commissioners, at their organization meeting each year, are to elect one of their members as mayor of the city. A majority vote is required. His re-election may be brought about only by a vote of the majority of the remaining four members of the group, the mayor to have no vote. His duties are defined as follows: As executive head of the City, he shall represent the City for all ceremonial purposes; he shall see that the laws and ordinances of the City are enforced; he shall instruct all employees in the performance of their duties, subject to the approval of the Commissioners or upon appeal by the employe or employee to the City Commission; he shall advise the Commissioners of any measures he deems vital to the interests of the city, and shall report all violation or neglect of duty on the part of any City employees which may come to his knowledge; and he may authorize the expenditure of City funds for City purposes in emergency cases for an amount not to exceed $100 in each instance.

The bill does not go into effect until it is approved by the Governor; all laws or parts of laws which conflict with it are automatically repealed.

Another bill provides for the publication, or posting of any ordinance passed and adopted by the City Commission in the future. The bill further provides: "If said ordinance be posted as herein provided, the City Clerk shall attach to the original ordinance a certificate that the same was posted as provided herein and such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the posting thereof, and if such ordinance be published in a newspaper as provided herein, the affidavit of the publisher of said newspaper shall be prima facie evidence of the publication thereof."

The Commissioners approved a bill which declares valid, legal, and binding, all of the ordinances passed and adopted by the City Commission since 1929, and it will not be necessary to prove the constitutionality or posting thereof whenever any of said ordinances are called into question.

All assessments for taxes for the years 1935 to 1936, inclusive, against personal property in Sanford are to be declared valid, according to the fifth bill approved. The measure also states that all taxes which have not been paid shall bind and valid liens against the property until they are paid in full with all penalties, and that the City of Sanford is authorized to collect such taxes in the manner provided in the charter.

The last bill approved proposes to declare valid, legal and binding the sale of real property in satisfaction of taxes assessed for the years 1935 and 1936, and for all uncollected tax certificates issued by the City against real property.

The bill was brought out at the meeting of the Commissioners held on Monday, April 20, at 10 o'clock, a writ of habeas corpus issued on the order of the United States District Court, giving Judge Abraham, giving the City May 1 to show cause why it should not be dissolved. The writ was granted and the City is now free to proceed with the new charter.

Date For Holding Spanish Elections Is Set For June 21

MADRID, Apr. 24.—(AP)—The new Spanish cabinet last night tentatively set June 21 as the date when the people of Spain will determine by a general election the form of government they desire in the future. On that day they will select a constituent cortes (parliamentary assembly) which will draft a new constitution. The cortes will determine the type of government which will succeed the present regime of Provisional President Niceto Alcalá Zamora. Should the monarchists carry the election, it is pointed out that King Alfonso XIII would restore his monarchy. If the Republicans are victorious a regular constitutional republic will be established.

June 21 was selected last night although some members of the cabinet advocated six weeks delay because they believed it necessary to revise the electoral census. However, according to the government's plan, the census used for the important municipal elections on April 19 will be used for the cortes voting with some modification. Among reforms will be reduction of voters' age limits from 25 to 21 years. Among questions facing the cortes, in addition to the important constitutional matter, is the future political status of the Catalonian and Basque provinces, which have displayed strong independence aspirations. The question of separation of the church from the state also will be brought up.

Some observers believe the cortes will be elected by provinces instead of by districts as formerly. This would mean that the provinces would be allowed to select a number of representatives in accordance with their population.

MEASURED IN MILES

SUPPOSE for a moment that advertising didn't exist—that there were no trade-marked goods—that everything you bought had to be judged solely by its look or feel or taste.

Imagine yourself setting out to do the morning's shopping under such conditions. You'd drive down the street, looking in windows for the articles you needed—the blouse for Johnny, the half-dozen bath towels, the toilet soap, the ginger ale for tomorrow's picnic...

Completed simply in terms of gasoline and tires and maintenance, advertising saves you a startling sum every year. And if you add the value of your time, the amount is vastly increased.

When you buy a product that is advertised you know in advance what you will get, how much it costs and where you can obtain it. That is why, in a world of modern business, the advertiser advertising columns have a daily right to purchase.

Read the advertisements, decide what you want, then buy with confidence.
