Reagan: 'Fairness, Hope' At Stake In Tax Reform

By Ira R. Allen
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan sounded a battle cry of "freedom, fairness and hope" in reforming a tax system he called "un-American" and his administration mobilized today to enact his proposal by Christmas.

"A great national debate now begins," he said in a nationally broadcast speech Tuesday night. "It should not be a partisan debate, for the authors of tax reform come from both parties, and all of us want greater fairness, incentives and simplicity in taxation."

Reagan put every ounce of his well-known rhetorical polish into an evangelical call for creating a streamlined tax code to promote family values and incentives for business — with only 21 percent of individual taxpayers having to pay more than they do now.

The president called his tax plan a second American Revolution.

"The first American Revolution was sparked by an unshakable conviction — taxation without representation is tyranny," he said. "Two centuries later, a second American Revolution is gathering force again — a peaceful revolution but born of popular resentment against a tax system that is unwise, unwanted and unfair."

By compressing 14 tax brackets into three — 15 percent, 25 percent and 35 percent — and imposing minimum taxes on individuals and corporations that might otherwise pay nothing, Reagan promised the revision "will create millions of new jobs for working people and it will replace the politics of envy with a spirit of partnership — the opportunity for everyone to hitch their wagon to a star and set out to reach the American dream."

The White House today released details of President Reagan's tax reform plan in a 461-page book that revealed the plan would cut taxes for four out of five taxpayers and tax unemployment compensation and most fringe benefits.

The book, withheld from reporters until 11 hours after the president's nationally broadcast speech, showed that taxpayers with more than $12,000 in annual income would have to pay taxes on any unemployment compensation that now is tax free.

It also detailed the enormous shift in taxation that would occur with most deductions eliminated and business taxes raised.

In a highly technical explanation accompanying the proposal, the White House said that excluding "wage replacement payments" (unemployment

Key Provisions In The New Plan:

- Raising personal exemptions from $1,040 to $2,000.
- Raising the standard deduction from $2,480 for a single taxpayer to $2,900 and from $3,670 for a joint return to $4,000.
- Repealing the deduction for two-wage-earner families.
- Switching the child-care tax credit to a less lucrative deduction.
- Taxing unemployment and workmen's compensation benefits.
- Repealing the deduction for state and local taxes.
- Retaining the deduction for home mortgage interest but only on principal residence.
- Repealing deductions for business entertainment.

Commercial Rezoning Turned Down

The Lake Mary Planning and Zoning Board has voted 4-1 to deny a request by eight residents of East Lake Mary Boulevard to change their zoning from residential to commercial.

At Tuesday night's P&Z meeting, residents complained that the value of their lakefront property has gone down because of surrounding commercial property, such as the Groveview apartments, and the traffic it has produced.

"There is no way we are going to get market value for our homes with those apartments across the street," said John Perkins of 371 East Lake Mary Blvd.

Perkins and some of his neighbors said that if Lake Mary Boulevard is four-laned as planned their front yards will disappear. They claim no one will want to live in a home along such a busy road and they want the option of selling their property to commercial interests such as doctors, lawyers and other professionals who might build offices.

But P&Z board members said that if they granted the request and rezoned the area from residential to office commercial, they would be guilty of "spot zoning" because not all the people who own land in the area asked to be rezoned.

Opposing the rezoning, several Lake Mary residents said that commercial zoning would be disastrous to the lake.

"The most important aspect of Lake Mary is her lakes," said one. "Forget property values. It would be disastrous to put commercial along the lakes."

Following the vote, Perkins indicated he will take the matter to the city commission.

Competing Kernels

Oklahoma's corn may be "as high as an elephant's eye," but this 15-foot tall Tennessee corn grown in James Mowery's garden at 5149 Bryant St., south of Sanford, is considerably taller. Mowery said the 10-14-inch-long ears will be ready to pick in about three weeks, but he may need a ladder for the job. A Kentuckian, Mowery, moved to Florida in 1937 and has lived in Sanford for about a year. He said, "People said I couldn't grow this big corn in Florida, so I tried it and amazed myself."

After Heavy Protest

County Rejects Rezoning Bids

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Requests for rezoning of two parcels — one in Geneva and the other in the Sanford area — were turned down unanimously by county commissioners at public hearings Tuesday night after a storm of protests from nearby property owners who turned out en masse.

The Geneva residents complained that a change in zoning from agricultural to single-family residential would spoil the rural atmosphere of their community and set a precedent for housing development. They also stated their fears that overdevelopment would endanger their fragile water supply from what is known as the "Geneva bubble."

Meanwhile, Sanford area residents insisted a change from single family residential to light industrial would allow development in the flood prone area and endanger their homes.

Robert Siegler requested the change from agriculture to the single family residential for a four-acre parcel of land on the south side of Lake Geneva Road and east of First Street. Siegler asked that the property be rezoned so that two houses could be built.

He said he didn't really want rezoning, but that county regulations forbade him from going to the county's Board of Adjustment for a variance to permit the construction because the property had been "illegally" split and sold to two separate owners several years ago.

Herb Harden, of the county's land development department, said a variance had been granted to permit two homes at the site, but the variance was vacated when the property was sold off to two separate owners. He said county regulations call this an illegal split.

However, Chief Deputy County Attorney Bob McMillan said he will discuss the matter with Harden and research the law to determine how the issue can be taken to the Board of Adjustment.

More than 25 Geneva area residents turned out to protest the proposed rezoning.

Lee Voorhees, president of the Geneva Citizens Association, said the rezoning and single family development would be urbanization of an agricultural area into a residential area.

Former County Commissioner Ed Yarborough said a variance to allow two homes would be better than rezoning, but warned the "Geneva bubble" — a bubble of fresh water floating on salt water in the Geneva area — is in danger if too much water is pumped out through wells. He

2 Boat Ramps To Reopen Today

By Rick Brunson
Herald Staff Writer

Two of Sanford's eight public boat ramps at the marina were to reopen today after being closed a month and a half because of damages blamed on the revving engines of the Star of Sanford dinner cruise ship.

Boaters will be able to use the ramps "at their own risk," according to acting Police Chief Steve Harriett. The barricades were to come down this morning and signs were to be installed warning boaters of the ramps' hazards. Five-foot dropoffs near the ramps' edges could swallow trailers and cars as they are backed into the water, according to marina operator Chuck Volk.

As of 10:30 a.m., the barricades had not been moved, Volk said.

The decision to reopen the ramps came after the commission's meeting, during which it had a lengthy discussion on the problem.

Commissioner David Farr said the closed ramps were shortchanging residents and lakeside businesses which depend on boaters for much of their income.

The commissioners agreed but wrangled over who has legal responsibility to repair the ramps. The city says Monroe Harbour Inc., which leases the marina and ramps from Sanford, should repair them. But Monroe says Star Line Corp., which owns the Star of Sanford, should

Overtime To Cost $1M

The U.S. Supreme Court decision requiring time-and-a-half for overtime for city and county employees could cost Seminole as much as $1.5 million for fiscal 1985-86 for the sheriff's department alone.

The only other county department which may have to pay some overtime is the county fire department, but the overtime problem there may be solved by rescheduling firefighters, said David Kornreich, the county's labor attorney.

Betty Simcoe, controller of the Sheriff's Department, said the county's office of management and budget estimates the cost for overtime pay at the sheriff's department at $1 million while the Florida Sheriff's Association estimates $1.5 million.

Berserk Gunman Kills 3, Wounds 7 At Kmart

ST. JOHN, Ind. (UPI) — A disabled former newspaper worker angry at doctors who could not cure his pain shouted, "I am not no cripple," and fired 140 rounds, killing three people and wounding at least seven before police gunned him down.

James K. Koslow, 32, of Chicago, opened fire Tuesday evening with a military-style weapon on a Kmart store in a small northwestern Indiana shopping plaza. Lake County Sheriff's Lt. Michael Higgins said.

Koslow, who was staying with his parents and sister just blocks from the store, had been dependent over "constant" back and leg pain, police said.

As he sprayed bullets in the store, police said Koslow yelled, "This is for all the people in orthopedic hospitals. The hospitals are going to pay for this. I am not no cripple."

An officer said Koslow appeared to be dragging a leg as he ran.

Lake County police said they received an unconfirmed report that Koslow earlier Tuesday called an FBI office and threatened President Reagan. A Secret Service spokesman in Washington was unable to confirm the report.

The gunman's father, Edward Koslow, said his son worked until two months ago in the printing department of the Chicago Sun-Times.

"His father claims he had a back injury that stopped him from working." Sgt. Bernie Johnson said. "His son was in a lot of pain and was having problems getting doctors to help. They couldn't find out what it was."

Koslow and three of his victims were killed in the shootout, police said.

The victims were:

—George Murr, 39, a postman who was riding a motorcycle on U.S. 41 when the shootings began.

—Marlene Jancosek, 35, dead on arrival at Our Lady of Mercy Hospital in Dyer, was shot in the chest.

—Margaret Novak, 53, a Kmart employee who died of wounds to her abdomen and back at St. Anthony's Hospital in Crown Point.

They've Come A Long Way

PALO ALTO, Calif. (UPI) — A nondescript-looking garage in Palo Alto may soon be an historic landmark.

The garage is where the Silicon Valley's multibillion-dollar electronics industry was born almost a half-century ago. It was the first shop of Stanford engineering graduates Bill Hewlett and Dave Packard.

Palo Alto's Historic Resources Board has voted to place the building on the city's inventory of historic sites, the first step toward recognition by state and federal governments.

There the two men developed the "audio oscillator," which was used to improve sound quality in movies. Walt Disney Studios used the device in 1939 for the film classic "Fantasia."

Brother, Sister Jailed On Coke Charges

An Altamonte Springs man and his sister have been jailed after allegedly making a deal with Seminole County undercover drug task force agents for the sale of cocaine on two separate occasions.

The first deal was made on May 3 by the 25-year-old woman who sold agents three grams of cocaine for $240 at Miller Bait Shop, 9411 Forest City Road, Altamonte Springs, a sheriff's report said.

At that time the woman reportedly told agents she could provide them with an ounce of cocaine at a later date. On Tuesday at about 4:35 p.m., the woman again met with agents at Emerson Electronics, Plumosa Road, Casselberry, and told them she and her brother would ride with them to Orlando to pick up an ounce of cocaine which they would sell to the agents for $1,700, the report said.

Agents dropped the woman and her brother off at 200 Magnolia Road, Altamonte Springs, and returned to pick them up at about 5 p.m. when they drove the pair to a service station on state Road 427, Altamonte Springs, and arrested them, the report said.

Charged with conspiracy to traffic in cocaine were Clarissa Elaine Hersey, of Orlando, and Clarence Lawrence Hersey, 28, of P.O. Box 463, Altamonte Springs. Clarence Hersey was also charged with the sale of cocaine. Both were being held in lieu of $10,000 bond each.

GARAGE PUNCHING

A 41-year-old Sanford man has been charged with battery spouse abuse after allegedly punching his wife in the face when she entered the garage at their home, Sanford police reported.

Marilyn Hill, of 102 Drew Ave., reported to police she was attacked at about 12:30 a.m. Tuesday. Police said she had a cut on her cheek and a bruise on her arm where her husband reportedly grabbed her. No reason for the attack was given in the police report.

Robert Hill, of 102 Drew Ave., was arrested at his home at 1:25 a.m. He was released on $500 bond and is scheduled to appear in court June 5.

RECORDER THEFT CHARGE

Sheriff's deputies, following an investigation, charged a 25-year-old Sanford man in connection with the theft and selling of a video tape recorder and a tape.

The man was arrested at his home at 3 p.m. Friday, after he had been reportedly linked to the theft of items from the home of John Dennis, 2300 Center St., Midway, a Seminole County sheriff's report said.

The suspect was arrested following questioning and was charged with burglary, theft and dealing in stolen property, the report said.

Darrell Anthony Johnson, 25, of 2590 Frog Alley, Midway, was being held in lieu of $8,000 bond.

DRUG CHARGES

A Seminole County sheriff's deputy who spotted a man smoking what appeared to be a marijuana cigarette as he drove along U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, charged the Oviedo man with possession of a controlled substance and drug paraphernalia.

The arrest was made at 7:13 p.m. Saturday after the man agreed to a search of his vehicle and the deputy found several partially smoked pot cigarettes, and cigarette rolling papers in his car.

Christopher Shawn Hubbard, 23, of 1111 S. Central Ave., has been charged in the case. He has been released on $500 bond.

SUICIDE THREAT

A 21-year-old Orlando man involved in a dispute with his wife reportedly threatened to kill himself by jumping from the second level of the Altamonte Mall, Altamonte Springs, but he didn't make the leap. Instead he was jailed on a charged of battery spouse abuse.

Altamonte Springs police called to the mall on state Road 436 at about 7 p.m. Sunday were told by mall guards that a man had been cursing his wife, Blanche Riggs, 33, and had threatened to jump from the second level of the mall.

Mrs. Riggs reportedly told police the trouble began when she and her husband were arguing as they drove to the mall. She dumped a cooler of ice in the seat of the car and when they arrived at the mall her husband exited the car and began tossing items out. When Mrs. Riggs suggested he go into the mall alone she said he pulled her from the car, grabbed her by the face and began choking her, telling her she had better stop, a police report said.

The trouble continued inside the mall and when the man threatened to make a jump Mrs. Riggs, who is eight months pregnant, asked mall workers to call police. Police noted she had finger marks on her neck.

Jacques Michael Riggs, was arrested at the mall. He was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

Altamonte's Defending Champs May Not Field Senior All-Star Team

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The Altamonte Springs Senior League, which was celebrating a World Series championship just nine months ago, is in danger of not having a team in this year's post-season all-star tournament.

Jim Hovis, president of the Altamonte Springs Little League, said earlier this week that the league has lost over 20 players to American Legion baseball and that fielding a competitive all-star team for the 14- and 15-year-old age group may not be possible.

A player in the Major, Junior or Senior division cannot play any other organized baseball except Little League, according to Arnold White, director of Little League's Southeast Region in St. Petersburg. White said players could, however, participate in Big League (16 to 18-year-olds) and American Legion, if they so desire.

Altamonte's problem surfaced when Lake Mary baseball coach Allen Tuttle and Lyman baseball coach Bob McCullough opened American Legion tryouts. Once a player made his intent known by attending an American Legion tryout, then he is no longer eligible for Senior League, according to Hovis.

"Some teams lost as many as seven or eight ball players," said

Baseball

'Some teams lost as many as seven or eight players. It sure put a hurt on our tournament season.'

— Jim Hovis

Hovis. "It sure put a hurt on our tournament season."

It also put a hurt on the regular season. Hovis said three teams — the Indians, Cardinals and Yankees — could not finish the season and the three other teams — the Angels, Astros and Dodgers — were going to try and finish the season. Hovis said Top Team play is still up in the air.

Hovis blamed the problem on "peer pressure" and illustrated his contention in this manner: "If two kids are sitting in the classroom and one is playing Legion and the other Senior League, the player in Senior League starts to think that the other kid will have an advantage since the coach is watching him play all summer."

"It was a chain-reaction type thing. He decides he should play Legion, so it puts the kids in a position to make a very tough decision."

Hovis said Woody Woodard, who managed the Altamonte Junior League All-Stars last year, has been appointed to manage this year's All-Stars — if there is a team.

"Woody is going over the talent left this week," said Hovis. "He and I will then decide whether it is worth fielding a team. If we have one or two pitchers, we'll try it. If we have to have tryouts for pitchers, there isn't any use fielding a team."

This is the second year that the Altamonte program has experienced problems with players playing American Legion baseball. Last year, seven of its better players — Mike Schmitt, Shane Letterto, Ryan Lisle, Neal Harris, Anthony Laszale, Dan Beatty and Mark Coffey — attempted to play American Legion but then changed their minds and decided to play Senior League.

All seven were at first ruled ineligible but Don Crawford, District 14 administrator, and Bill James, Altamonte Springs recreation director, traveled to Williamport, Pa., Little League headquarters, and made a special plea for the "Altamonte 7." Eventually, all were ruled eligible but not without some maneuvering.

Pernfors' Showing: Beyond Description

The only way to describe what happened in Athens, Georgia last week is to say that it is indescribable. I was privileged to witness the 101st playing of the NCAA Division I Men's Tennis Tournament, held at the University of Georgia.

For four days the heavyweights of college tennis slugged it out to see who would be champion. For four days, overflowing crowds came and fought very hard for their favorite team (the average attendance was 5,000 per day, and most, of course, were Georgia fans). It was the greatest team tennis tournament that I have ever seen. There was more drama than can be imagined, and the air was thick with tension.

The top 16 college teams in the nation had made their way to the tournament by winning conference and regional titles. The elite of college teams was there. UCLA (a 17-time NCAA champion) was seeded No. 1, Southern Cal was No. 2, Stanford was No. 3, S.M.U. was seeded fourth, Pepperdine was seeded fifth, Georgia was No. 6, Texas was seeded seventh, and LSU was seeded No. 8.

The other teams that had made it to the tournament were Harvard, Miami, Texas A&M, Michigan, Clemson, Oklahoma State, BYU and Arkansas. It was said to be one of the strongest fields in the history of the NCAA, with UCLA, Southern Cal and Stanford having the best chances to come out on top.

Somebody forgot to tell that to Mike Pernfors and his Georgia teammates. When the dust had settled and it was all over, this band of tough and gritty Bulldogs had thrilled and delighted tennis fans all over the South, by being the first team outside of California to win an NCAA title in 25 years. Georgia beat UCLA in the finals 5-1, and had won the 1985 NCAA team championship.

Pernfors was absolutely awesome. He carried the team on his back. He was brilliant under pressure, while winning all four of his singles matches and all of his doubles matches. He wasn't even extended into three sets in singles or doubles.

He had recently lost his no. 1 ranking to Dan Goldie of Stanford, but beat Goldie Sunday morning, 6-1, 6-1 in only 38 minutes. He defeated Todd Witsken of Southern Cal, 6-4, 6-1, in 55 minutes and Mike Kures of UCLA 6-2, 6-3 in the finals. On top of that, he and his doubles partner, Alan Miller, won all of their matches at No. 1 doubles.

Pernfors is now ranked No. 1 in singles and No. 1 in doubles.

It is difficult to describe how I felt seeing Mike on court one, playing before thousands of people, and playing so hard and so brilliantly. Knowing that he came from Seminole Community College, was with us for two years and is now the most elite of the elite in college tennis was such a great thrill.

Several of our other former players were also there. In fact, Seminole had five former players who played No. 1 on major college teams this year. Several were in the NCAA Tournament. Ake Svensson was there. Andy Castle, Greg Miller, and Necvet Demir. It was a great reunion and such a thrill to see Mike carry his team to the NCAA championship.

When it was finally over, I went down to Mike's court and hugged him and told him how proud we back in Sanford are of him and what a great impact he has made on collegiate tennis. We stood there in the middle of thousands of people and both had a good cry (not unusual for me, I cry at Hallmark commercials).

It was over and the ultimate team player, Mike Pernfors, had led his team to the ultimate victory — the NCAA title. The last thing he said to me was, "Be sure to tell everyone at SCC hello."

Atlantic Banks On Myers, Rips Petroleum, 16-5

Baseball

Keith Myers was 2 for 3 with three runs scored and hurled three innings of hitless relief Tuesday as Atlantic Bank crushed Seminole Petroleum, 16-5, in Sanford Little American League action at Fort Mellon Park.

Atlantic Bank scored twice in the top of the first but Seminole Petroleum jumped on starter Johnell Brewington for five runs in the bottom of the inning.

The first two runs score on bases-loaded walks while Antonio Bell's two-run double gave Petroleum a 4-2 lead. Bell, whose double was the only hit in the game for Petroleum, scored the fifth run when Willie Williams walked with the bases full.

Atlantic Bank answered with 10 runs on four hits in the top of the second. A two-run double by Brewington, Myers' run-scoring double and Clarence Ferrell's RBI single were the big hits in the inning. Atlantic Bank also capitalized on eight walks.

Myers then came on in relief in the bottom of the second and shut Seminole Petroleum down the rest of the way. Myers struck out five and walked just three in three innings.

Atlantic Bank had nine hits for the game with Myers, Brewington, Anthony Duval and Walter McDonald collecting two each. Brewington drove in three runs while Duval smacked a solo homer in the third.

MEDECO BURIES FORD, 30-5

Medco Pharmacy used a 13-hit offensive attack along with a multitude of bases on balls to bury Seminole Ford, 30-5, in Little American League action Tuesday at Bay Avenue Field.

Medco opened up a 13-0 lead in the top of the first inning with the key hits including Corey Johnson's three-run homer and two-run triples by Adaryal Jones and Albert Anderson. Six walks and two errors also contributed to the big inning.

Medco added six more runs in the second, was held scoreless in the third, but tacked on 11 more in the fourth. Andre Stokes clubbed a two-run triple in the fourth and Medco took advantage of eight more walks.

For Medco, Jones had three hits while Leroy Kitt, Anderson, Stokes and Johnson added two each. Lakoscia Kennon walked five times and scored five runs. Medco Pharmacy benefitted from 15 walks in the game.

ADCOCK EDGES BUTCH'S

Adcock Roofing built up an 11-4 lead after three innings Tuesday and survived some shaky pitching to claim an 11-9 victory over Butch's Chevron in Little American League action at Westside Field.

The big inning for Adcock was a six-run second with key hits being RBI singles by John Dumph and Cecil Simpson. Six walks contributed heavily to the big inning.

Rotary Breakfast Club Uses 11-Run Inning To Take Title

Softball

An 11-run second inning outburst propelled the Rotary Breakfast Club to the Sanford Laasie League softball championship Tuesday. But Rotary pitcher Natasha Beasley was saying, "Don't you forget about me."

Beasley's four-hit pitching and outstanding defensive play kept Optimist off the basepaths the last three innings as Rotary claimed an 11-4 victory at Fort Mellon Field.

Optimist scored all four of its runs and got all four of its hits in the first inning. Tonya Mitchell led off with a walk and, with one out, Felicia Bennett smacked an RBI double. Katrina Shuler followed with another double to score Bennett.

With two outs, Keishon Hudson tripled to drive in Shuler and Kelsa Peterson's single gave Optimist a 4-0 lead.

Rotary loaded the bases in the bottom of the first but came up empty. Beasley got out of the top of the second inning easily and the Breakfast Club exploded in the bottom half.

Caroline Freney drew a walk to lead off and scored on Chandra Cobb's double. Chitra Burke's single drove home Cobb to trim Optimist's lead to 4-2. With one out, Selena Cobb singled and Tatamisha King smacked a two-run triple to tie the score at 4-4.

Optimist then got the second out of the inning but Rotary wasn't finished yet as Beasley kept it alive with a base hit that scored King with the eventual winning run. Maggie Bucker then drew a walk and Kimkisha Jones singled to load the bases. Freney came back to clear the bases with a triple that gave Rotary a 8-4 lead. Consecutive triples by Chandra Cobb and Burke and a single by Katherine Williams made it 11-4.

In the top of the third, Beasley took care of all three hitters in order as the first two grounded back to the mound and the third popped up to the Rotary pitcher. In the fourth and final frame, Beasley got the first batter to ground back to the mound and the second to pop up to her. After a two-out walk, Beasley coaxed the next hitter to pop up to second for the final out.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Melodie Chance And D.R. Lusk

Melodie Kay Chance, formerly of Sanford, and Danny Robert Lusk were married March 30, at 7 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Cleveland, Ga. The Rev. Tim Barrett performed the double ring and candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Fred B. Chance of DeLand, and the late Rev. Fred B. Chance, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil H. Lusk Jr. of Helen, Ga.

Large clusters of Dogwood, black candles and black and ivory ribbon highlighted the church decorations.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Dennis Turner at the piano and organ. Soloists featured were Harry Musselwhite, Lisa Southwell and Brian Hardie. The Truett-McConnell College singers, directed by Mrs. David George, closed the ceremony with the choral benediction, "May the Lord Bless You and Keep You."

The bride chose for her vows an ivory tissue taffeta gown trimmed in Venice lace and pearls fashioned with a V-neckline, dropped waist, fitted bodice and long sleeves accented with shirring. The modified full skirt cascaded into a graceful chapel train. The bride designed her pearl-trimmed, three-tiered cathedral length veil held by a crown of pearls. As a sentimental memento, the bride chose her father's wedding band. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies accented with fern and a large black ribbon. The bouquet, along with the bridesmaids arrangements, were placed in black baskets for table decorations at the reception.

Dr. Rene Garrett of West Palm Beach, attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Kathi Allen of Cleveland, sister of the bridegroom, Katie Cobb of Pensacola, cousin of the bride, Rose Marice Allison, Cleveland; Sharon Inge, Ft. Myers; Lisa Paxton, Atlanta; and Patti McMahan, Atlanta. Another sister of the bridegroom, Kim Westmoreland of Helen, kept the guest book.

Each attendant wore a black taffeta long-sleeved gown designed to match the bride's attire. The gowns were accented with floor-length ivory sashes attached in the back.

The bridegroom's father served as best man. Groomsmen were Warren Allen of Cleveland, and Jay Westmoreland, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom; David Lusk of Helen, cousin of the bridegroom; and David Caudell, Chuck Gilreath and Glen Brown, all of Cleveland.

Special guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Allison Cobb of DeLand, the bride's maternal grandparents; and Mrs. Cecil H. Lusk Sr., the bridegroom's paternal grandmother from Helen.

The reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. Assisting were Paul Thurmond, who provided the piano music; Dr. Ruth Arnold and Mrs. Ramona Cobb, aunts of the bride; Meredith Kelly and Dana Chance, cousins of the bride; Donna Cuvillo, Gennell Skinner, Renee Eady, Andrea Jackson, Debra Harris, Erin O'Brien and Bill Smith.

The couple spent their wedding night at the historic Cler-

Two Trips Down The Aisle Confuse Anniversary Date

DEAR ABBY: I'm sure there are other couples with this problem, but no one we know has been able to come up with the answer.

I was married six years ago at a big church wedding. After three years we decided it wasn't working, so we got a divorce. We both dated other people and had our flings for a year and a half, then we realized that we really loved each other and belonged together, so we got married by a justice of the peace in a five-minute ceremony.

Our question: Which wedding date should we celebrate as the official one?

Also, how should we figure our special anniversaries? Should we include the time we put in from our first wedding? Or do we have to start counting the years beginning with our second marriage? How about the year and a half we weren't married? Do we have to subtract that from the total of the two marriages? It gets rather complicated.

TWICE WED, SAME GUY

DEAR TWICE: Celebrate your wedding anniversary on the date of your first marriage. Conveniently forget the year-and-a-half break in marital relations. Call that time off for bad behavior.

DEAR ABBY: I am a college senior, soon to graduate. I've invited my mom and brothers and a couple of friends to come up for commencement and a celebration afterward. My brother told me my father has been hinting that he expected to be invited, so just to be sure he didn't come, I wrote him a letter and asked him not to, but he called and said he was coming anyway.

My parents have been divorced since I was in the eighth grade. He stopped being a father after the divorce. I called him a couple of times when I needed a favor (a ride to school, bring me lunch when I was sick), but he never came through.

The divorce devastated my mother. He left her for his office affair. My mother put him through graduate school by sewing Barbie doll clothes and baby-sitting.

I let my father know it would be uncomfortable for both me and my mother if he came. The truth is, I don't want him here. I don't like him pretending to be a part of my life. I'm not proud of him, and I don't want to introduce him to my professors or my friends. He hasn't helped with my education. (He doesn't even know what I'm majoring in.)

Should I just tell him he hasn't earned the privilege of coming, and let him take it any way he wants to?

JUNE GRAD

DEAR GRAD: Leave nothing to chance. Tell him that you do not want him at your graduation, and tell him in straightforward language so he will know exactly how strongly you feel about it.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 years old. I bought a motorcycle. It is not registered, is not insured, has no inspection and has my father's old plates from his motorcycle. I've been keeping it at a friend's house because my father wouldn't let me have a motorcycle. He said they're too much trouble.

Well, I was riding it and hit a brand-new car, and I'm being sued for $3,000. I don't have enough money to pay it. If I tell my father, I will get into trouble. What should I do?

ALL LOUSED UP

DEAR LOUSED: Tell your father, and the sooner the better. You're in trouble both ways, and since your father is responsible for you (you are a minor), there's no way you can keep it from him. Confess, take your lumps, and good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I must respond to "Money Wasted," whose husband died after his dentures were flushed, and the dentist refused to give her even a partial refund.

I went through a similar experience, only the results were exactly the opposite. My 24-year-old son died suddenly a few months ago. Just one week before he died, he had gone to an optometrist for an eye examination. He took his prescription for eyeglasses to Pearle Vision, selected the frames, and was told to pick up his glasses in about a week.

When I notified the folks at Pearle Vision about my son's sudden death, even though the glasses were ready, they expressed their sorrow and told me not to worry about paying for the glasses. They even sent back his deposit.

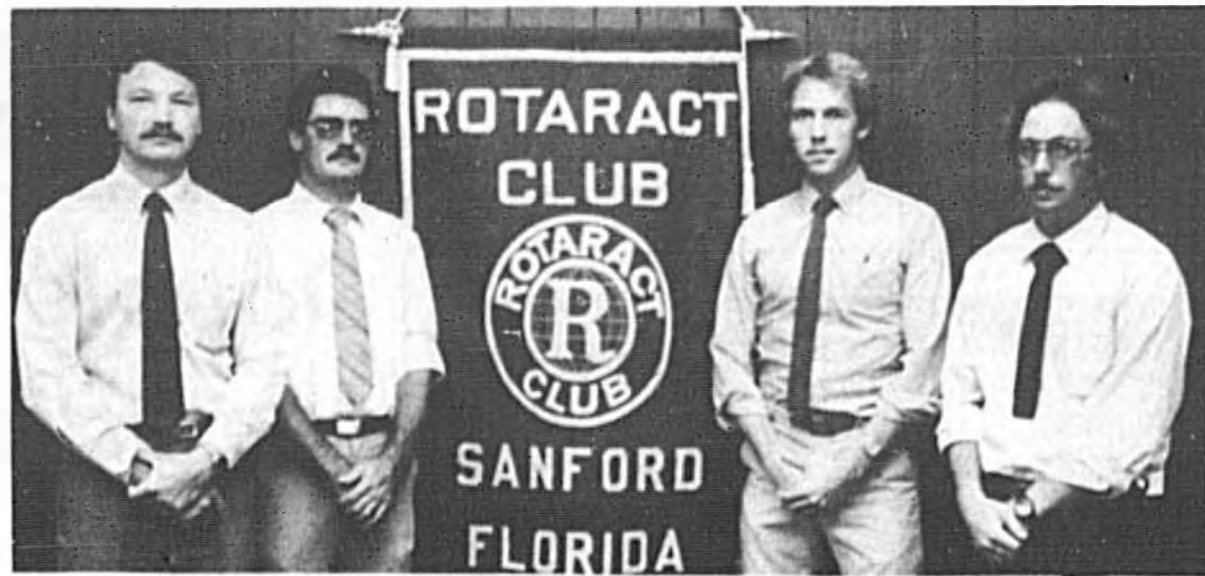

It didn't stop there. My son had his own apartment, and as his bills came in — electric, telephone, etc. — I contacted each one and explained the situation. All his creditors offered sympathy and not one would accept a cent from me.

So please tell "Money Wasted" not to judge everybody by that one dentist. There are still a lot of people who put human caring ahead of money.

FROM VIRGINIA

DEAR FROM: I'm glad you wrote. I thought all the angels were in heaven. Some must have settled in Virginia.

CONFIDENTIAL TO F.L. IN ALASKA: One's character is made up of what he (or she) does when nobody is looking.

Diet, Vitamins Won't Treat Emotional Ills

DEAR DR. GOTT — Is it really possible to control emotional and behavioral problems by following a special diet and taking vitamin supplements?

DEAR READER — Most of us feel better when we eat correctly and take care of ourselves. Sometimes we can't — or won't — eat balanced diets that provide adequate supplies of vitamins. We then run the risk of illness or, rarely, emotional instability due to malnutrition. In general, a properly balanced diet is appropriate for both physical and mental health.

There are some people who believe that special diets and megavitamin therapy can help control emotional imbalance and behavioral aberrancies. I am not aware of any valid study that shows this to be true. Despite testimonials by occasional "media personalities," the value of diet- and vitamin-therapy is, at best, anecdotal and unproven. It's important to remember something called the "active placebo" effect. Human nature being what it is, we all derive benefit from any treatment that we believe to be effective. This fact of life confuses more doctors and fouls up more experiments than you can imagine.

DEAR DR. GOTT — How often should I (a diabetic) go for a checkup to see if there needs to be a change in the amount of insulin I should take?

DEAR READER — This is a question that only your doctor can answer. Diabetics vary enormously with respect to the severity of the disease and the response to treatment. If you have been well controlled on a consistent amount of insulin, take good care of yourself and have no obvious complications of the disease or the treatment, infrequent routine followup would be all right.

If like many diabetics, you have problems in one area or another, more frequent medical evaluation would be appropriate.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Is there a surefire way to rid oneself of plantar warts?

DEAR READER — Because they occur on the plantar surface

(sole) of the foot, plantar warts are sometimes resistant to treatment. They become painful because, like a stone in the shoe, they cause a build-up of dead skin that is hard and presses on the deeper skin of the sole.

Sandpapering the callus and then treating the wart with topical medicine, like Vergo, usually takes care of the problem. Acid treatment, freezing and local excision are more complicated therapies that may be necessary. They may have to be repeated but, after awhile, the warts do not return.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, Ohio 44101.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
In bridge, one of the questions that will be asked until the end of time is, "Should I but in with an overcall?" The corollary question, used more in poker than in bridge, is, "Should I stay out of the pot?"

Human nature and the power of persuasion being what they are, if you ask yourself the first question, you will probably be in the bidding too often. If you ask yourself the second, you will surely not be in the bidding often enough.

The best course is to remember both questions and try your regular opponents will be a little confused. I wish I could tell you how to prevent your partner from getting confused.

Today's East answered the first question in the affirmative with his one-spade bid, non-vulnerable. The opponents quickly and a mite aggressively reached six hearts. The declarer won the second spade with the king, cashed dummy's K-Q of hearts, and then successfully finessed against the jack in East's hand.

Three rounds of diamonds disclosed that East had started with three of that suit. It became easy enough to play West for the club queen, since if East had started with five spades for his overcall, he could have no more than a singleton club.

It's obvious that if East had "stayed out of the pot," South would probably not have bid the slam. (His spade king might not look so well placed.) If the slam were bid, it would not be so easy to count out the hand and guess the location of the club queen.

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY MAY 30, 1985

Advancement in your chosen field is a strong possibility in the year ahead. When you are asked to take on greater responsibilities, do so willingly because these will provide you with opportunities.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Regardless of how well you conduct yourself today, you will still be judged by the company you keep. Avoid people of questionable repute. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it.

The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Keep in mind today that blood is thicker than water. If you are injected into a sticky situation, take sides with a family member over an outsider.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Protect your principles today. It's OK to bend a bit to get along better with others, but do so without lowering your standards.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This is one of those unusual financial days. On one hand, you're apt to make gains, on the other, you may throw them away.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You'll be willing to pull your own weight in collective involvements today, but this might not be equally true of people with whom you are associated.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Normally you're not the type of person who looks for a free handout, but today you might demand a piece of the action that you don't deserve.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Beware of tendencies today to reward the undeserving while ignoring those to whom you owe a great deal. Keep your priorities in proper order.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your chances for worldly gains look excellent again today, but, because of misplaced pride, you might trip over your own ego.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Assessing situations realistically today is not your problem. The trouble begins when you act contrary to your better judgment.

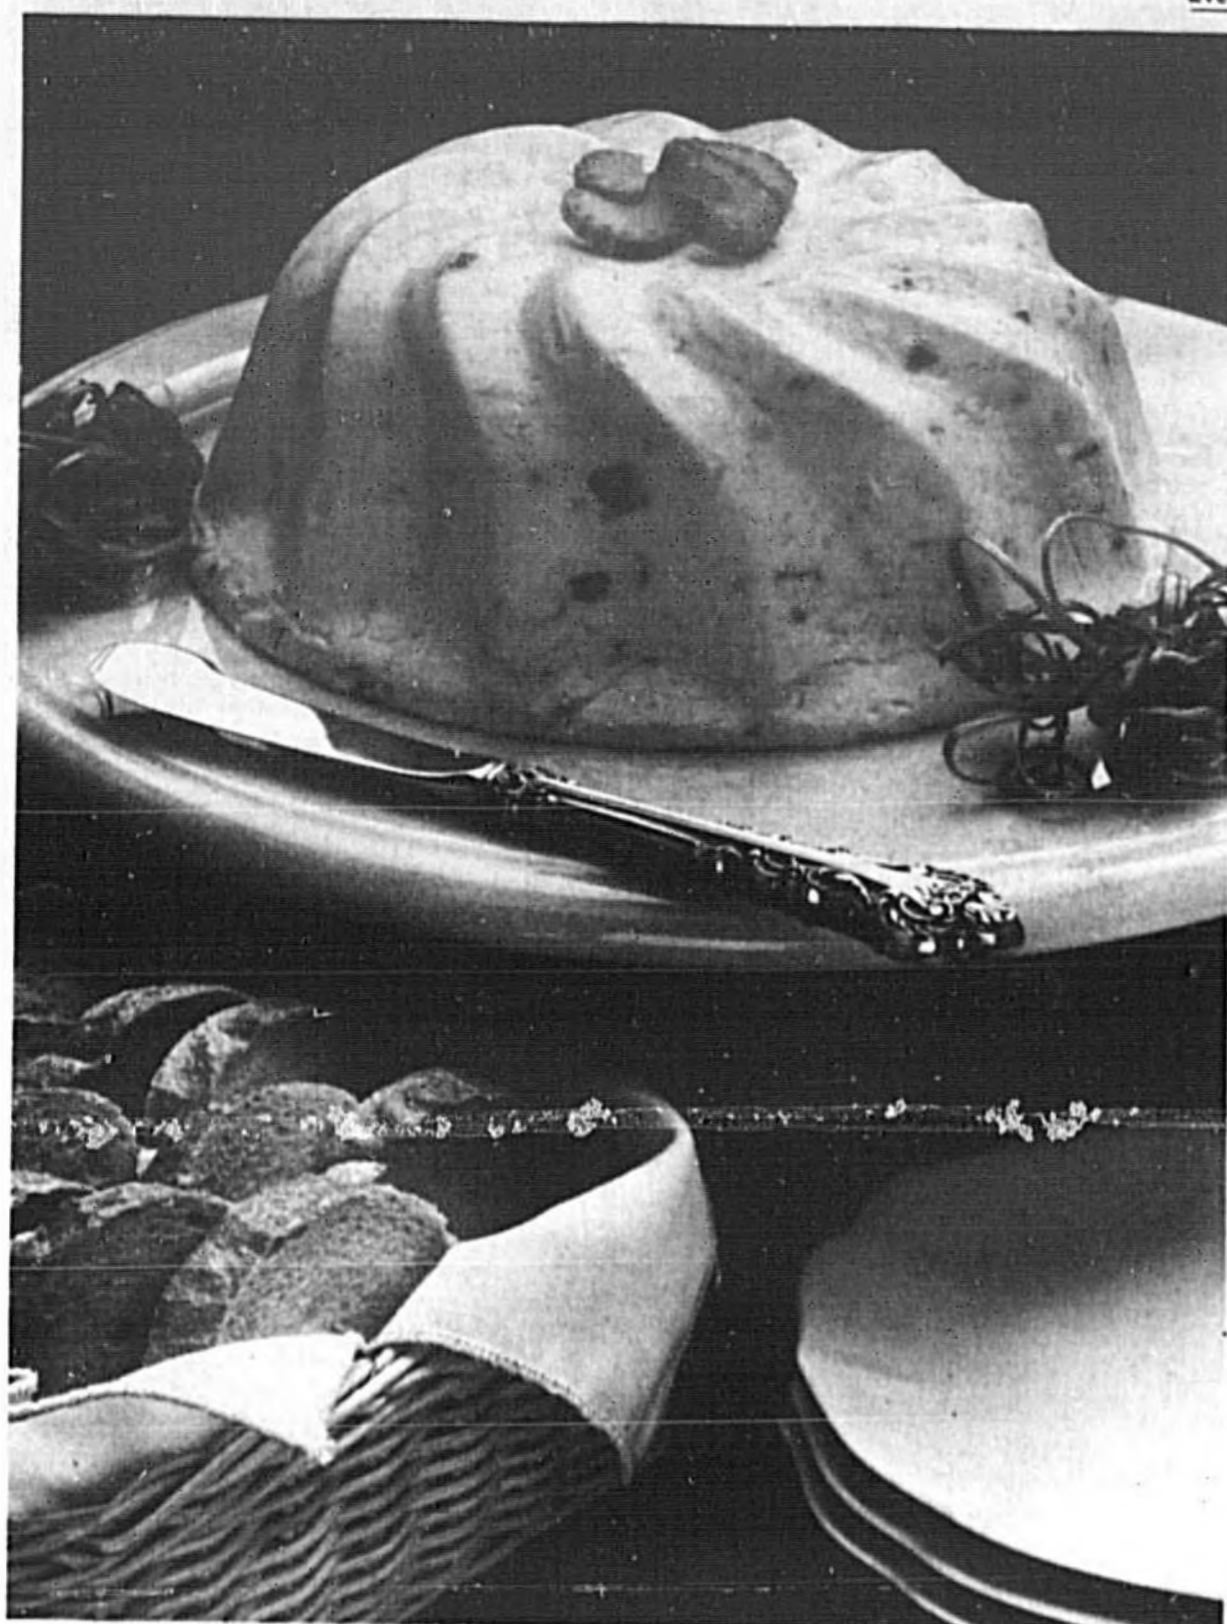

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Watch your step in commercial dealings today. Someone you may have to do business with could be a might sharper than he appears.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your energy level will be in high gear today and you'll be eager to get things done. However, a sluggish associate could hamper your progress.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) The work you perform today will be worthy of proper compensation, so ask for what you feel you're entitled. Don't let a smoothie grind you down.

Liberty mold a favorite of Washington's top hostesses.

Liberty Seafood Mold An Elegant Side Dish For The Perfect Buffet

Planning a large party for a June graduation, wedding or family reunion can make any hostess nervous! "Entertainment experts" in Washington, D.C.'s society circles say they relax by keeping the event simple, even when guest lists include the President, First Lady, senators or celebrities.

"Organizing details and planning the menu well in advance before the party can save time, energy and reduce anxiety!" says Frankie Hewitt, executive producer of Washington's historic Ford's Theatre.

Ms. Hewitt and a committee of prominent Washington women are presently planning a presidential gala weekend for more than 500 corporate executives, politicians and popular entertainers. Activities will center around a command performance television special for President and Mrs. Reagan entitled, "The Kraft All-Star Salute to Ford's Theatre." Celebrities from all areas of music and entertainment will perform on the program, to be broadcast Wednesday, June 12 from 8-9 p.m. (ET) on CBS-TV.

"The first thing to consider in planning a party may be asking a close friend or relative to co-host, especially if you are inviting more than 25 guests. If you do ask someone to co-host, include her/him in on the planning from the very beginning," says Hewitt.

"Invitations set the scene for the upcoming celebration and should be mailed 3-4 weeks before the event," she advises. "In fact, our Gala Planning Committee even sent 'save the date' notes to extra busy guests six weeks ahead. If you are planning your party for a popular holiday, these notes might be especially appropriate."

"Include information about an expected dress code on the invitation," says Hewitt. "The words 'black tie,' 'casual,' or 'super casual' (jeans) could avoid a potentially embarrassing situation."

Buffet-style dinners are recommended by the Washington hostesses for large parties. "It's not necessary to plan an extravagant meal with pre-arranged seating," Hewitt insists. "A buffet can be dressed up to fit the bill for even the most elegant occasion."

The experts suggest planning two or three simple main entrees so guests don't have to make "big decisions" about what to try. Then use side dishes to bring in the spice and variety.

Senator Paul Laxalt's wife, Carol, general

co-chairman of the Ford's Theatre Gala, likes to prepare Liberty Seafood Mold, offered, here, as an elegant buffet side dish. "This recipe adds an interesting twist to the traditional gelatin dish. It's perfect on a buffet table because you can try a little and the flavor goes a long way," she says. "It's also a wonderful addition to a more intimate dinner setting." Teated in the Kraft Kitchens, this seafood recipe can be prepared the day before serving.

The presentation of foods in a buffet can be as important as the preparation. Instead of one long buffet table, Hewitt recommends separating the courses such as salads, main entrees or side dishes on smaller tables. "Guests don't have to wait in line when several tables are arranged with select menu items," she explains.

Finally, balance the buffet setting with fresh fruit as decoration and dessert for those who wish to go light on sweets. A separate dessert and table can be attractive. "I once prepared a 'chocolate' table of candies, cakes and other goodies my friends still rave about!" says Frankie.

When the guests begin to arrive, everything should be ready. "The last important ingredient to a successful party is for the hostess to relax," Hewitt concluded. "The best advice is to take a deep breath and let the party flow. When the hostess is comfortable, the guests sense that feeling so everyone relaxes and has fun. After all, that's what parties are all about!"

Cook Of The Week

High School Senior Experiences Joys, Failures of Homemaking

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

There's a bright future in store for young Eva Johnson of Sanford, our Cook of the Week.

Eva is a student in her senior year at Seminole High School and, under the careful guidance of Mildred Patterson, one of her home economics teachers, Eva is already experiencing the joys and failures of homemaking. "Sometimes things don't turn out right, but most of the time they do," says Eva.

A "mostly A's and B's" student, Eva is the next to youngest of nine children, six girls and three boys. Her father, Irvin, is a retired Naval officer and her mother, Madie, is a busy wife, mother and homemaker.

Eva says her mom is a "really good cook," and the family enjoys her cakes and pies, especially her Sweet Potato Pie. "Mmm, that's my favorite," Eva says. All of the members in the Johnson household have to pitch in and help in the kitchen. "Whoever is home first usually starts supper, and we all help," says Eva. "We all have to take turns helping with the housework and laundry, too."

Eva's busy school day has included courses in child development, family living, cooking and sewing. Some of her actual hands-on learning takes place in Mrs. DeWitt's child care class where 3-4-year-old toddlers are taken care of by the students. About 15 youngsters are enrolled in the program and the students work together to teach the children their names, the ABC's, numbers, songs, etc. "I love to work with children," Eva says, "and I really like the classes I'm taking."

This year, a typing class is part of Eva's plan for her future. "When I graduate in June, I would like to work for a year to save enough money to go to secretarial school," says Eva.

Like most young people, Eva spends her after school time doing plenty of homework. On weekends she enjoys playing volleyball or a game of tennis with her sister. Music is another favorite pastime for Eva and today's most popular rock groups such as Shalimar, Midnight Star and Prince head the list.

Back at Seminole High School, a fully equipped kitchen and skilled instructors are helping to prepare today's young students for a future in homemaking and family life, and Eva is well on her way to becoming an outstanding member of the community.

Following is a list of nutritious foods which have been prepared by the students and which Eva enjoys making at home. Each

BEEF POT PIE

4 slices bacon
1 onion, chopped
1 lb. cooked beef, cut into bite-size pieces
1 1/2 cups gravy, leftover or improvised
4 carrots, cooked and sliced
3 potatoes, cooked, peeled and sliced

1/4 tsp. cinnamon
Salt and pepper
1 pastry shell for 9 in. pie

Fry bacon until soft but cooked and drain on paper towel. Discard all but 3 tablespoons of the bacon fat in the skillet, add the onion, and cook until soft. Add the beef, gravy, carrots, potatoes, and cinnamon, stirring constantly until bubbling. Salt and pepper to taste. Put beef mixture into a deep pie dish or shallow casserole. Prepare pastry and place on top. Crimp edges and cut a small vent on top. Bake in a preheated 425° oven about 20 minutes, or until bubbling and top is golden. Serves 4.

4 slices white bread, crusts removed
1/2 cup milk
4 medium onions, sliced

dried
1 1/2 cups sour cream
Paprika

Soak the bread in the milk for 20 minutes. Meanwhile, saute the onions in the butter very slowly until translucent, not brown. When the bread is swollen with milk, break up with a fork, and pour off any extra liquid. Mix the bread lightly with the ground beef, adding salt, pepper, parsley, and mustard. With a light hand, form the meat mixture into balls just a little smaller than golf balls. Put the meatballs in with the onions, cover, and cook gently, turning each one carefully after about 10 minutes. Cook on the other side about 5 minutes. They should be soft, not browned, and just cooked through. Add the sour cream and heat, stirring it in gently around the meatballs. Dust with paprika and serve with rice or noodles. Serves 4.

Peaches add flavor to chicken.

Peaches And Chicken Marry With Interesting Results

Fresh fruits highlight the flavors of meat, poultry or fish and fit into the trend toward less heavy meals.

An interesting combination marries peaches with chicken cutlets. These cutlets were dredged in a Parmesan cheese-bread crumb mixture, sauteed briefly and then baked.

Serve with steamed green beans with lemon and mixed herbs for dessert.

PARMESAN CHICKEN CUTLETS WITH PEACHES

4 half breasts of chicken, boned, skinned
 1/4 cup fine soft bread crumbs
 1/4 cup Parmesan cheese, grated

1/2 teaspoon paprika
 1 large egg
 2 teaspoons water
 1 1/2 tablespoons flour
 1/2 teaspoon tarragon, finely crumbled
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon white pepper
 2 tablespoons each
 butter and oil

2 large fresh peaches
 2 tablespoons white
 table wine (or apple juice)

Loosen small inner muscle of each chicken breast along inner edge and fold outward to flatten breast. Pound lightly between sheets of waxed paper.

Mix crumbs with cheese and paprika. Beat egg with water and turn into pie pan. Mix flour with tarragon, salt and pepper. Dip chicken breasts on each side in flour mixture, shaking off excess. Dip in egg to coat both sides lightly, allowing excess to drip back, then roll in crumb mixture.

Heat butter and oil in 10-inch skillet; brown cutlets slowly on both sides.

Meanwhile, halve and skin peaches; cut into thick slices. Roll in remaining crumb mixture. Place browned cutlets in single layer in shallow baking pan and arrange peaches at edges. Drizzle any pan drippings and wine over chicken.

Bake in 350-degree oven for 15 minutes. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.

On lightly floured board, knead gently for 10-12 strokes. Roll out into circle with rolling pin. Brush dough with oil, top with tomato sauce. Add pepperoni, mozzarella cheese, or any other topping of your choice. Bake in a 450° oven for 10-12 minutes or till crust is golden. Makes 1 large pizza.

SPANISH RICE

2 cloves garlic, crushed
 1/4 cup chopped celery
 1/4 cup vegetable oil
 1 can tomatoes (28 oz.)
 1 can tomato paste (6 oz.)
 1 1/2 cups uncooked regular rice
 2 tsp. salt
 1 bay leaf
 Dash of red pepper
 1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
 1 tablespoon chili powder

Combine tomatoes, tomato juice, tomato paste, rice, salt, bay leaf, and red pepper. Add to garlic and celery mixture, stirring well. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Cook ground beef and green pepper until beef is browned; drain. Stir in chili powder, sugar, and beef broth. Combine rice mixture and beef mixture. Place in a 13x9x2-in. baking dish. Bake at 350° for 35 minutes. Serves 8-10.

Chicken Picante takes on a Mexican-inspired flavor.

Recipe Wins $10,000

Chicken Picante Is Light, Creative, Tasty And Easy

The innovative preparation of boneless chicken breasts with a Southwestern, Mexican-inspired flavor won $10,000 for an Oregon homemaker in the 36th National Chicken Cooking Contest held in Asheville, N.C.

Sally J. Vog of Springfield, Oregon, placed first among finalists in the Cook-Off at Grove Park Inn. Judges said her recipe called Chicken Picante, "had everything going for it — it's light, creative, tasty and easy to prepare."

Two of the six male contestants in the competition were among the five top prize winners. Gerald E. Payne of Ashland, KY, a physician assistant at the Federal Correction Institution, placed second and won $4,000 for his Basil-Garlic Chicken Pastries.

Winner of the fourth place $2,000 prize was Frank Mullin, an artist and interior designer from the District of Columbia. He called his Teen's Easy Cheesy Chicken "a healthful alternative to pizza and hamburgers."

Other winners in the competition, sponsored by the National Broiler Council, were Mary E. Cummings of Harwich Port, MA, third place and $3,000 for Puffed Chicken Chili Rellenos; and Maxine M. Bullock, Spring City, TN, fifth and $1,000 for Spicy Herb Broiler Chicken.

Mrs. Vog's luck — or skill in the kitchen — held up for the second time. She previously was grand prize winner in a baking contest, the first cooking competition she has ever entered. She and her husband, Donald, a bakery driver-salesman who accompanied her to the Cook-Off, have two married daughters and are expecting their third grandchild next month.

Winning recipes were selected by a panel of 15 national food editors and culinary experts who spent more than three hours sampling the chicken dishes. Cook-Off finalists — one from each state and the District of Columbia — were unexpectedly reduced to 50 when the Arkansas contestant, Dora Berry of Benton, became ill and did not make the trip to Asheville.

In the winning dish, boned and skinned chicken breasts were marinated in a combination of taco sauce, Dijon mustard and fresh lime juice. Each serving was topped with yogurt, a lime segment and chopped cilantro.

The second place winner, father of a 16-month-old son, cooks as a hobby. His contest recipe, which he developed to use phyllo pastry sheets, is also made with skinned and boned chicken breasts. It is served with a cream sauce delicately seasoned with basil, garlic and ginger.

The third, fourth and fifth place winners had all been finalists in previous chicken Cook-Offs. Cummings and her husband, Tim, are both retired and she spends much time during long Cape Cod winters experimenting in the kitchen. Like the winner, her third place recipe has a Mexican flavor. Boned chicken breasts are flattened, dredged in cornmeal and rolled with green chilis and cheese before being cooked and topped with taco sauce.

Mullin was successful on his third try at a Cook-Off prize. Although a bachelor, he created his recipe to appeal to teenagers. Chicken breast halves were topped with tomato slices and a cheese sauce.

The third try also proved to be lucky for the Tennessee contestant. She marinated cut-up chicken parts in a sauce seasoned with mint, soy sauce and vinegar before broiling the chicken and adding yogurt to the sauce. Although she has always cooked for her family, she says she now concentrates more on good nutrition.

Recipes of all Contest finalists and other winners from previous Cook-Offs are included in a new edition of The Chicken Cookbook, which made its debut at the Contest. It may be ordered at the special price of $1.75 by sending a check or money order with name and address to: Chicken Cookbook, Department NBC, Box 307, Coventry, Connecticut 06238.

CHICKEN PICANTE

6 broiler-fryer chicken breast halves, skinned, boned
 1/2 cup medium chunky taco sauce

1/4 cup Dijon mustard
 2 tablespoons fresh lime juice
 2 tablespoons butter
 6 tablespoons plain yogurt, divided

1 lime, peeled, sliced into 6 segments, membrane removed

cilantro, chopped

In large bowl, make marinade by mixing taco sauce, mustard and lime juice. Add chicken, turning to coat. Marinate for at least 30 minutes. In large frypan, place butter and melt over medium heat until foamy. Remove chicken from marinade and place in frypan. Cook, turning, about 10 minutes or until brown on all sides. Add marinade and cook about 5 minutes more, until fork can be inserted in chicken with ease and marinade is slightly reduced and beginning to glaze. Remove chicken to warmed serving platter. Raise heat to high and boil marinade 1 minute; pour over chicken. Place 1 tablespoon of the yogurt on each breast half and top each with a lime segment. Garnish with chopped cilantro. Makes 6 servings.

Brandy-Spiked Sauce Enhances Casserole

Subtly blending the flavors of turkey and fresh asparagus, Asparagus Turkey Divan is a springtime delight for busy cooks. elegant enough to serve to guests, yet quick and easy enough to feed a hungry family.

This casserole entree, specially developed for microwave preparation, layers rice, cooked turkey cubes, and barely blanched asparagus with a thick brandy-spiked sauce. Toasted almonds on top add a distinctly nutty flavor and crunchy texture to the dish.

Besides offering a colorful and tasty touch to the meal, asparagus is also high in nutritional value. One cup of cooked asparagus contains 85% of an adult's recommended daily allowance for Vitamin C, 1/2 the requirement for Vitamin A, and nearly a tenth of the iron requirement.

Changing Styles in Eating

In 1935, America was in the midst of the Great Depression. The American diet was bland, spices were few and red meat took the place of honor on most middle class tables. The healthiest diets were found in the homes of recent emigrants who brought their spices and herbs with them and continued to cook as they had in the old country. Italians imported olive oil and oregano, planted artichokes and eggplants and other exotics and had a rich and nutritious menu. Germans brought dill and their recipes for sausage and slaws along with their love of pork and pork products. Other nationalities retained their cooking identities but only Hungarian Goulash and a few other classics became popular with the average American housewife. Chinese food, for example, was available in almost every town in the country but the techniques were not duplicated in home cooking.

Two new inventions came along that were to change the pattern of American dining. The new mechanical refrigerator was introduced and Clarence Birdseye invented the process for fast freezing vegetables.

The Second World War brought food shortages and food rationing to the public. Victory gardens sprang up all over and Americans were introduced to avocados, zucchini and other vegetables not familiar to their palate.

America has yet to recover from the fast food binge. TV dinners entered the picture while the passion for red meat, once again available, was satisfied in the barbecue, the nation's favorite outdoor pastime.

In 1946, the Florida Department of Citrus developed the process for making frozen orange juice concentrate in their scientific research station and history was made.

By the 60's, we had a man on the moon and, while fast food operations proliferated, there also emerged a serious interest in serious foods. Julia Child brought French cooking lessons into our homes and suddenly, cooking schools sprang up everywhere, attended by men as well as women. Cooking became an avocation to middle class America and food a subject for conversation and an outlet for creativity. Chicken Kiev, Beef Bourguignon, gazpacho, tempura and the hibachi became part of our vocabulary. Artichokes were found in every supermarket and produce from around the world began to appear locally.

The 60's created a counter-culture, on the one hand, fast foods, on the other, home baked breads and a simmering pot au feu — often in the same household. The busy, often working wife mother, might take her family to the drive-in one night and serve a five-course, made-from-scratch meal the next.

Hispanic foods came next, quickly adopted by the now sophisticated public, followed by the Near-East cuisine.

Nouvelle Cuisine arrived in the 80's and America started on a health kick. While some of it was faddish and quickly disappeared, the technique of using vegetables for thickening sauces and quick-steaming vegetables, so that they retain their taste as well as vitamins, remains part of every knowledgeable cook's repertoire.

The All-American Hot Dog, a specialty eaten around the world, has gained a reputation for convenience and versatility

Hot Dogs Get Dressed Up For Gourmet Fare

When does a hot dog become a gourmet meal? When it's dressed up fantastically delicious in honor of National Hot Dog Month, suggests The National Hot Dog & Sausage Council who sponsors the event annually.

Today the All-American Hot Dog is a specialty eaten around the world. Whether it's called "shien chaud" in France or "chucharro quente" in Brazil, the hot dog has gained a reputation for convenience and versatility. As a ready-to-eat processed meal, it also offers unlimited opportunities to create terrific gourmet using either cool condiments or warm melted cheeses and sauces.

Now, make your selection from among these topping ideas:

KRAUT DOG - Heat sauer kraut with caraway seeds, 1 chopped dill pickle, and 1/4 teaspoon sugar.

HAWAIIAN DOG - Combine crushed pineapple, sweet and sour sauce and chopped green peppers.

GREEK DOG - Spread with chopped olives, top with a dollop of sour cream, onion dip or yogurt.

TWIN CHEESE DOG - Mix shredded cheddar cheese and shredded mozzarella cheese; sprinkle over hot dog; broil until cheeses melt.

SALAD DOG - Top with shredded lettuce, chopped green onions, celery and tomato. Drizzle with 1 teaspoon favorite salad dressing.

DALLAS DOG - Top generously with chili; sprinkle with finely shredded cheddar cheese.

SWISS REUBEN DOG - Wrap hot dog in slice of Swiss cheese and place in center of hot dog bun. Top with serving of sauerkraut, drizzle with 1 teaspoon thousand island dressing. Broil until cheese melts.

PIZZA DOG - Top generously with prepared pizza sauce; sprinkle with shredded mozzarella cheese. Broil until cheese melts.

SALSA DOG may be prepared similarly using a zesty salsa sauce.

APPLE DANDY DOG - Top with apple sauce; sprinkle with finely chopped pecans. May be eaten cold or heated.

SLAW DOG - Cover hot dog with your favorite style slaw - tangy or creamy. Drain off any excess liquid before using.

VEGGIE DOG - Combine your favorite raw vegetables sliced thinly such as tomatoes, mushrooms, cucumbers, chopped green onions. Top with alfalfa sprouts. Sprinkle with celery seeds, if desired.

BARBECUE DOG - Drizzle barbecue sauce over hot dog; top with crushed potato chips. To highlight the barbecue flavor, use barbecue-flavored chips.

OLD FAITHFUL DOG - Sit hot dog and fill with cheese; wrap with bacon. Broil until bacon is crispy. Use toothpicks to hold wrap tightly in place.

CHINESE DOG - Drizzle over hot dog a sauce made of half Chinese mustard and half sweet and sour sauce. Garnish with crisp noodles, bean sprouts or alfalfa.

CHEEZY-BACON DOG - Cook and crumble bacon in bits; mix with shredded cheddar cheese. Spread over hot dog in a bun. Heat under broiler until cheese begins to melt.

ITALIAN DOG - Spread a layer of spicy spaghetti sauce; length of hot dog; sprinkle shredded mozzarella cheese over top. Add a few sliced black olives. Broil until cheese begins to melt.

NACHO DOG - Mix together equal amounts of taco sauce and process cheese spread. Spoon over hot dog; broil until cheese begins to melt. Sprinkle with choice of chopped onions, green or jalapeno peppers, chopped tomato or shredded lettuce.

CREOLE DOG - Top with heated creole sauce.

CORN DOG - Top with prepared corn relish or make up a mixture combining whole kernel corn, chopped green peppers, chopped green onions and seasoned with Italian salad dressing.

HOBO DOG - Cover hot dog in a bun with heated mixture of pork and beans; sprinkle with chopped onions or shredded cheddar cheese.

POTATO DOG - Top a hot dog with fluffy mashed potatoes. Season with butter, salt and pepper.

NUTTY DOG - Spread a layer of crunchy peanut butter the length of a hot dog. Sprinkle with crushed corn flakes or shredded coconut. If desired, place under broiler to toast coconut and slightly melt peanut butter.

TROPICAL DOG - Mix drained, crushed pineapple with orange marmalade or current jelly. Spread mixture over hot dog. Top with pecan bits or sprinkle with coconut, or both.

CARROT DOG - Finely shred 1/2 cup fresh carrot. Add a tablespoon of crushed pineapple and mix together. Spread along length of hot dog. Sprinkle with celery seeds, if desired.
