City Rejects Advice To Continue Land Suit

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford commissioners have declined counsel's advice and formally called for the termination of Yankee Lake condemnation litigation. On Monday night, Commissioner Bob Thomas cast the sole vote in support of counsel's recommendation to appeal the condemnation suit's February dismissal.

City Attorney William Colbert proposed that commissioners continue to dispute Seminole County's ownership of the land by "filing an appeal and being prepared to follow through, but keeping an eye on all city options" regarding disposal of treated wastewater. The Yankee Lake site was to have served the city's needs for compliance with a state mandate to cease disposing treated wastewater in Lake Monroe through the implementation of a land application system.

Colbert said he recommended the appeal due to the city's not yet having resolved its wastewater management woes and that the appeal could be dropped if a more satisfactory solution was secured.

The commission majority cited the condemnation suit's expense and the tensions it caused between the city and county when they voted down Colbert's proposal.

Thomas said he felt the city had no other alternative but to launch the appeal.

Also apparently to be dropped is the $28 million civil claim filed by former Yankee Lake owner Jeno Paulucci in response to the condemnation effort.

Sanford counsel had been scheduled to argue for dismissal of the suit Wednesday, although Paulucci attorney Harris Turner said this morning that a postponement of the hearing will be requested today to enable settlement discussions to begin with the city.

"I believe we will work out a settlement," Turner said. "We're anxious to be good citizens of Sanford again."

The Paulucci suit charged that the Sanford condemnation effort hampered Seminole County's ability to adhere to the contractual obligations it assumed when it purchased the 2,967-acre site from Paulucci in November.

The county targeted Yankee Lake for its own wastewater management program and the city filed its condemnation suit on Nov. 8, two days after the county and Paulucci entered into a purchase agreement.

On Monday night, former City Manager Pete Knowles applauded the commission majority vote to drop the matter.

"I want to compliment you for getting off the Yankee Lake crap," he said. "It never should have started in the first place."

Knowles also stressed that Sanford must proceed with efforts to address not only its present wastewater disposal needs, but also to begin preparations for the disposal needs it will face 10 to 20 years from now.

On Monday night, commissioners undertook efforts to secure Yankee Lake alternative sites and engage in a wastewater capacity study at the Sanford Airport to meet at least the city's present needs, as well as comply with the state mandate to cease dumping treated effluent into Lake Monroe.

A combination of the sites may very well be able to accommodate the estimated seven million gallons of effluent Sanford generates each day, according to Engineering and Planning Director Bill Simmons.

Nuclear Fire

Soviets Ask Help In Worst Nuclear Accident Ever

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union asked the Swedish government for help in putting out a nuclear fire — considered worse than a meltdown — at a giant nuclear power plant in Kiev, a Swedish diplomat said today.

One Soviet diplomat called the disaster outside the Ukrainian capital of Kiev the worst nuclear accident in history.

There was no report of deaths but a Western diplomat said an unprecedented Soviet decision Monday to issue a statement on the accident at the Chernobyl power plant 80 miles north of Kiev "almost certainly indicated that the death toll was high." A Western nuclear expert said the accident could be catastrophic.

The Swedish diplomat said Soviet authorities had not contacted the Swedish Embassy in Moscow but were dealing with Stockholm, the capital. No other details were immediately available but a fire is considered to be worse than a meltdown at a nuclear reactor.

In Kiev, officials commandeered buses to aid in the evacuation of residents forced from their homes by the accident, residents said.

On Guam, White House Chief of Staff Donald Regan said the Soviet Union did not formally notify the United States about its nuclear power plant accident "nor have they asked us for help."

But Regan said the United States could aid the Soviets. "We could be helpful, and would be if asked," Regan said. "We have a lot of experience handling these things, both medically and scientifically."

A Soviet diplomat in Helsinki, Finland, said the accident at the huge nuclear plant was "the worst ever in the world." He did not elaborate.

The worst previous accident — an explosion of nuclear waste — occurred in the Soviet Union in 1957 but the Soviet Union has never acknowledged it. It turned some 30 villages into ghost towns.

The latest accident occurred at the restricted Chernobyl nuclear plant in the heart of the Soviet "bread basket." The number of people injured was not immediately known but the statement by the Soviet Council of Ministers said "aid is being given to those affected."

There were reports that drinking water had been contaminated but diplomats said they could not confirm the reports.

No Danger To U.S., 2A

Residents of Kiev, the nation's third largest city and capital of the Ukraine, said today all bus service in the city was stopped so the vehicles could be used to evacuate the accident area. No details were available on the number of people involved in the evacuation.

"They're bringing (evacuees) to Kiev, but we haven't seen anyone yet," a Kiev university student said. "We didn't see or hear any explosion."

"Most people weren't aware of it until the TV news," a special education teacher said. "I hope we know more tomorrow."

The accident sent the radioactive cloud drifting north from Chernobyl over Leningrad, the nation's second largest city, and then to Scandinavia, 1,000 miles away.

Scandinavian officials reported elevated radiation levels but said they posed no immediate danger. The radiation cloud was moving north on a polar route the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency said could take it to the West Coast of the United States in five or six days. But White House spokesman Larry Speakes said, "We understand there is no danger to the United States."

Stanley Auerbach, of the federal Oak Ridge Nuclear Laboratories in Oak Ridge, Tenn., told "CBS Morning News" the presence of cesium and cobalt in the cloud over Scandinavia "would suggest ... some type of meltdown."

Auerbach said it would be very difficult to estimate the amount of radiation in the fallout.

Dr. Stanley Goldsmith, president of the Society of Nuclear Medicine, told "CBS Morning News" that early reports indicated radiation of "a few millirems per hour. That's an enormous amount."

Goldsmith said a major task for Scandinavia and the United States is preventing possible hysteria that could result from so little information being made available by the Soviets.

Longwood Back To Start On Projects' Funding

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

In a special meeting Monday night, Longwood City Commission voted itself back to square one on funding of proposed capital improvements. The action was taken on the recommendation of the new City Administrator Ronald Waller.

The commission heard financial proposals for funding $6.3 million in capital projects in March from Sun

Bank, Barnett, and Freedom banks and Southeast Municipal Bonds. A decision was postponed until Waller, who only came on the job April 21, could provide his advice.

Waller has been authorized by the commission to get a financial bid package together so that all of lending institutions can bid on the same basis. The deadline for receiving proposals will be June 2.

One of the projects to be funded is the $1 million police station, the site plan of which was approved Monday night. The commission also voted to advertise for bids from contractors on the construction of the building, which will be located between Church and Florida avenues. The deadline for bids will be at 4 p.m. on June 9.

The site plans for the police station were approved Thursday night by the city's Land Planning Agency in a 3-1 vote (with one abstention) subject to changes recommended by city staff. Among items needed to bring into compliance with city code were a sprinkler system and proper provisions for handicapped parking.

Other proposed projects had included a $2.5 million expansion for the sewer system, $2.8 million in street paving and stormwater drainage.

Streets to be paved include Georgia, Park, Short, West Lake, Wilma and West Warren.

Lawyer's Speeding Ticket Appeal Gets Fast Boost From High Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chief Justice Warren Burger, calling an appeal by a Miami lawyer on a fine for a speeding ticket "utterly frivolous," told the defendant he is lucky to be still allowed to practice law.

Burger issued a stinging statement Monday attacking the court's denial of lawyer Bert Clark's appeal of a $100 fine he was ordered by a lower court to pay for continuing to press a speeding ticket he received in Florida on Aug. 12, 1985.

"The merits of this appeal are utterly frivolous," Burger said.

But last the case, will have $100 and attorney's fees paid. The court also ordered Florida state courts to offer's failure to show him the digital display on his radar detector device.

He was appealing to the high court an additional $100 fine imposed by a lower court for not paying.

Burger said he would have been surprised if the court had granted the appeal.

Clark's attorney, who declined comment, said Clark's appeal was "utterly frivolous" and that the court's decision was "a clear and obvious error."

Clark's attorney said he would appeal the court's decision to the U.S. Supreme Court.

0.5% Rise

Economic Indicators Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's broad gauge of future economic activity advanced 0.5 percent in March, the Commerce Department said today.

The composite index of leading indicators compiled by the Bureau of Economic Analysis seeks to predict domestic economic activity three to six months in advance.

The index, which charts the growth of the economy since the base year 1967 at 100, rose 0.5 percent to 176.6 last month following a revised 0.9 percent rise in February.

The economic barometer has risen nine points since March 1985 and has either advanced or remained steady for 10 consecutive months.

The prolonged advance tends to support Reagan administration forecasts of at least 4 percent economic growth this year.

Six of the 11 indicators made positive contributions to the index. Stock prices added 0.59 percent while money supply, or M2, contributed 0.33 percent.

Building permits, vendor performance, the average workweek and changes in outstanding credit also added to the index.

Five indicators were negative. Manufacturers' new orders for consumer goods and materials, off 0.29 percent, led the decliners.

Contracts and orders for plant and equipment, a change in sensitive materials prices, state unemployment insurance claims and net business formation also exerted a downward pull on the index.

Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige said in a statement that the "positive and negative changes among the components of the leading index during recent months reflect some soft spots in the economy."

Mike Evans of Evans Economics forecasting said the advance came as "no real surprise" and predicted stronger growth in the second quarter of this year, led by advances in the services sector.

"In general the services sector is strong but manufacturing is weak," Evans said.

NATION IN BRIEF

President Arrives In East Asia On Trip To Strengthen Alliances

ANDERSEN AIR FORCE BASE, Guam (UPI) — President Reagan flew to East Asia today to strengthen U.S. alliances in the Pacific, but apparently without plans to make a strong pitch for human rights in friendly countries.

Instead, aides said Reagan will seek ways for the increasingly influential allies of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations, or ASEAN, to help pressure the Vietnamese communists to withdraw from Cambodia and release the remains of Americans still missing in action from the Vietnam War.

On arrival at Andersen Air Force Base, more than halfway into a grueling 16-hour trip from Honolulu, to Bali, Indonesia, Reagan told U.S. troops one of the chief goals of his administration has been "to strengthen our ties with the nations of the Pacific."

Reagan will spend three days on the plush spice island of Bali to meet with President Suharto — becoming the first U.S. president to visit the world's fifth most populous nation in more than 10 years — and to attend a conference of ASEAN foreign ministers from Indonesia, the Philippines, Thailand, Singapore, Malaysia and Brunei.

Space Reporter Finalists Chosen

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (UPI) — Eight journalists from the Southeast have been selected to compete with 32 other finalists from across the nation for a reporting assignment aboard a space shuttle.

Eight Southeastern finalists, including two each from United Press International and ABC News, were chosen Monday from among 20 semifinalists.

"I'm surprised and obviously very pleased," said one of the regional finalists, UPI Science Editor Al Rosalter Jr., who has covered the space program since 1963. "The competition was tough."

The other seven finalists were UPI radio correspondent Robert Navias; ABC national correspondents Barry Serafin and James Wooten; Jay Barbree, a correspondent for NBC News; Marcia Bartusiak, a freelance science writer from Virginia; Washington Post reporter Kathy Sawyer, and James Snyder, who goes by the name Jim Slade as a correspondent for the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Carter: Kids Fear Nuclear War

ATLANTA (UPI) — Former President Jimmy Carter says he agrees with a Soviet expert who told a Third World health conference that children everywhere fear they will die in a nuclear war.

Carter, hosting a meeting of health experts and political leaders from around the world, said Monday the fear generated by the nuclear arms race is very real and may be one reason for an epidemic of teenage suicides.

"Many young people in the United States and foreign countries believe they won't live out a normal lifespan because of nuclear war," he said. "That leads to depression and possibly to the high number of teenage suicides, because of the impression that war is imminent."

"I believe it is an unfounded fear," the former president said, "but it's real and it causes terror and even death."

Assailant Gets Max For Rape

NEW YORK (UPI) — A teenager shot by Bernhard Goetz on a subway train more than a year ago was slapped with the maximum sentence of up to 25 years in prison for raping an 18-year-old pregnant woman on a Bronx rooftop.

In ruling Monday, a state judge said James Ramseur, 19, "brutally and callously disregarded the rights of a fellow human being" when he and a partner sodomized, raped and robbed the young woman on the roof of a housing project building on May 5, 1985.

Goetz, 38, shot four teenagers Dec. 22, 1984, on a crowded subway train when he was asked for $5. The electronics specialist claimed he was afraid the youths would mug him.

One victim was paralyzed by the gunshots. The three others have since been charged with various crimes.

Astronaut Remains On Last Trip

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Remains of Challenger's astronauts rested in seven flag-draped caskets today for a solemn ambulance cortege to a waiting plane and a trip to a military mortuary in Delaware — 13 weeks to the day after the shuttle blew up.

Kennedy Space Center employees were expected to line portions of the route of a seven-ambulance motorcade from a NASA medical facility to the 3-mile-long shuttle landing strip where Challenger's crew once planned to close out the 25th shuttle mission.

An Air Force C-141 transport plane was to carry the astronauts' remains to Dover Air Force Base, Del., for final preparations before release to family members for burial.

Deaver Seeks Inquiry

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former White House aide Michael Deaver has asked for an investigation of his lobbying activities, and his long-time associate, Attorney General Edwin Meese, has removed himself from Justice Department action in the matter.

In a surprise move Monday, Herbert Miller, a lawyer for President Reagan's former deputy chief of staff, asked Meese to appoint an independent counsel.

Deaver joins five Democrats on the House Judiciary Committee and the Office of Government Ethics in seeking an inquiry to determine whether he violated ethics laws by lobbying for Canada after leaving the White House in May 1985.

Pornography Panel Splits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Internal divisions on the Attorney General's Commission on Pornography have surfaced publicly, possibly threatening the work that already is under attack by civil libertarians and parts of the entertainment industry.

The American Civil Liberties Union made public Monday parts of a full-scale alternative draft written by a dissenting commission member and meant to substitute for a controversial draft of the commission's final report.

The draft, written by University of Michigan law professor Frederick Schauer, could serve as the vehicle for a minority report in a sharply divided commission.

Dollar Steady As Gold Dips

LONDON (UPI) — The U.S. dollar was steady in cautious trading on major European money markets Tuesday. The price of gold was lower.

Buying of dollars by the West German and Japanese central banks Monday bolstered confidence in the U.S. currency and cautioned speculators against selling, London traders said.

There also was a reluctance to open new positions ahead of next week's Western economic summit meeting in Tokyo.

Radioactive Cloud Could Reach U.S.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Although there is "no way of knowing" what will happen, an EPA official says it would be possible for a radioactive cloud that escaped from a Soviet nuclear plant to reach the Western United States.

Meanwhile, White House spokesman Larry Speakes said the United States apparently was not notified through diplomatic channels of the accident, but added: "We understand there is no danger to the United States."

Charlie Porter, director of the Environmental Protection

Agency's Radiation Facility in Montgomery, said Monday the cloud, which drifted north 1,000 miles to Scandinavia, could reach the West Coast if it rises to a high enough altitude.

"Everything depends on the altitude of the debris," Porter said. "If it's low, it usually stays in the immediate area."

He said it would be possible for strong winds in the upper atmosphere to sweep the cloud over the polar regions, then south to western North America.

"Normally we've seen it as early as three days in cases like this, sometimes as late as 14 days," Porter said, noting that any prediction on the cloud's course is merely speculation.

"There's honestly no way of knowing what's going to happen," he said. "So far we've detected (no radiation)."

Porter said EPA officials believe the radioactive cloud is moving northwest across Scandinavia. EPA stations nationwide will be monitoring for increased levels of radiation, but Porter said the cloud could disperse to the point that monitors would not detect it by the time it reaches the United States. The Soviet Union said a nuclear accident damaged the reactor at the Chernobyl atomic power plant in the Ukraine, sending the radioactive cloud more than 1,000 miles to Scandinavia.

Sweden, Finland, Norway and Denmark all reported high levels of radioactivity believed to be from the accident, which experts said appeared to have occurred during the weekend. Scandinavian officials said their citizens were in no immediate danger from the radiation.

...Accident

Polish television reported today that the radioactive cloud also passed over northeastern Poland but that it was not a health hazard.

Western embassy spokesmen in Moscow today expressed concern about their nationals in the accident area and said attempts to reach them had proved futile.

"We've asked the Foreign Ministry for information on the area and any advice we can pass on to our people there," he said. "We would expect that if our people were in any danger at all, we would be told by the authorities, but we have been given to understand there's no problem."

The Soviet tourist agency, Intourist, said no tours were being canceled.

"We have no official Americans — no students or professors — in the Ukraine right now," a U.S. Embassy spokesman said. "It is possible that there are tourists. You can assume that we are concerned and interested in the problem."

The Council of Ministers statement carried Monday by Tass, the official news agency, said a reactor had been damaged at the Chernobyl plant and that "measures have been undertaken to eliminate the consequences of the accident." It did not elaborate.

The statement marked the first time the government has reported a nuclear accident. It was issued after officials in Sweden, Finland, Norway and Denmark reported high levels of radioactivity believed to be from a nuclear accident in the Soviet Union.

But the Communist Party newspaper Pravda did not report the accident today and there was no update on radio or television news. The Sunday edition of the main paper from the accident region, Pravda Ukraina, which reached Moscow today, made no mention of the accident and no obituaries were published.

James MacKenzie, a physicist and senior staff scientist with the Washington-based Union of Concerned Scientists, said he believed the nuclear accident was very serious. He said that, based on reports of the content of the radioactive cloud released by the accident, he suspected a meltdown.

"You better believe it (is serious)," he said. "I would guess a fuel meltdown. I don't know what else it could be."

The worst U.S. commercial nuclear accident occurred March 28, 1979, when a small amount of radiation was released from the Three Mile Island nuclear power plant near Harrisburg, Pa. About 144,000 people were evacuated during the crisis, which later was blamed on human and mechanical failures. No one was injured.

U.S. experts said the Chernobyl plant probably did not have a radiation containment structure.

"The Soviets didn't start putting containment vessels on until 1979, and two of those Chernobyl reactors were put on line before 1979," said Scott Peters, a spokesman at the Atomic Industrial Forum, a non-profit international trade association.

Paul Leventhal of the Nuclear Control Institute, a non-profit organization that studies nuclear proliferation questions, said: "Without containment vessels ... the consequences could be catastrophic."

The brief statement of the accident from the Council of Ministers was read on the nightly television news program, Vremya, watched by millions of people — a further indication that casualties were extensive.

The accident first came to light after a worker at the Swedish Forsmark nuclear power plant set off an alarm

Monday morning when his clothes registered unusually high radiation levels.

Authorities quickly evacuated 600 employees, but experts could not explain the occurrence until radiation readings were taken in other parts of Sweden.

Swedish energy board spokesman Olle Blomquist said the radiation levels detected were "unharmful for people but clearly unallowable."

Scandinavian officials said the radiation levels were expected to return to normal in the next few days.

Western diplomats and nuclear experts said the Chernobyl plant had four or five 1,000-megawatt reactors. The plant went into operation in 1977 and the last of its reactors went on line in 1984.

The Soviet Union has 50 nuclear plants. Twenty-eight of the plants, including Chernobyl, are graphite-moderated reactor types, U.S. nuclear industry experts said. Graphite technology is an older method of controlling the speed of the nuclear reaction. There is no similar plant in the United States.

According to Soviet Life magazine, which highlighted the Chernobyl plant in its September 1986 issue, the huge reactor at the plant "is housed in a concrete silo and has environmental protection systems. 'Even if the incredible should happen, the automatic control and safety systems would shut down the reactor in a matter of seconds.'"

"The plant has emergency core cooling systems and many other technological safety designs and systems," the magazine continued.

It also quoted Pyotr Bondarenko, shift superintendent at the plant, as saying working at the plant is safer than driving a car.

The government statement said the accident at Chernobyl was the nation's first nuclear accident. But at least one previous major nuclear disaster has been documented and there have been reports of at least two others.

In 1957, an explosion of nuclear waste killed or injured thousands of people and contaminated the Techa River Valley and the surrounding Ural mountains region, according to Soviet emigres. The extent of damage, deaths and injuries from the accident, considered "the worst in Soviet history," is not known.

Builders Group Endorses MTA Funding Referendum

An area home builders group has come out in favor of the June referendum to fund transportation projects in three counties.

Ken Levitt, president of the Home Builders Association of Mid-Florida, said Monday his organization endorses the efforts of the Metropolitan Transportation Authority to provide what he called "local control" over the rebuilding of Central Florida roadways.

The association is the third largest local home builders association in the U.S. with over 2,400 corporate members representing over 25,000 employees.

A referendum slated to go before voters in Seminole, Orange and Osceola counties June 3, if passed, will enable the road building agency to fund road projects in the three counties through a gas tax of four cents and a $1 per $1,000 assessed value property tax.

Levitt, who unveiled his group's support of the MTA during a morning press conference at the home builder association office in Maitland, said the move is a "turnabout" for the 33-year-old organization.

"Historically, the home builders association has opposed efforts to increase the size and scope of governmental structure," he said.

However, the organization is cognizant of the fact that area transportation needs must be addressed, Levitt said.

"Over the last years, our industry has been acutely aware of the need to provide adequate transportation and a road system for the mid-Florida community," he said. "Our existing system has been shamefully neglected and we wish to assure our children that they will be able to live and work in a community that is looking out for their future and not just concerned with today's problems."

Levitt said the home builders association has contributed $5,000 to help bolster the MTA public awareness campaign and plans to utilize its staff and member resources to encourage its members to go to the polls in June.

The issue of roads is "something that will affect all of us," he said, adding that the home builders are "putting our money where our mouth is."

"The massive problems experienced by each of us make us face the reality of the $1.8 billion need for rebuilding our road system in mid-Florida," Levitt said.

The home builders association is urging its members and their employees to go to the polls and vote "yes" for MTA, he said.

Levitt said his organization joins Operation Greenlight, a group of area businessmen and elected officials promoting MTA in the tri-county area.

He cited a recent survey by the Orlando Chamber of Commerce, "which points to the fact that the citizenry of mid-Florida in all three counties overwhelmingly supports the June 3 referendum."

"The MTA is a bold step toward providing a future for mid-Florida that will not be hampered by road and traffic limitations," Levitt said.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: A storm system that hurled tornadoes and heavy rain in the nation's midsection limped toward the East today, bringing some relief from record high temperatures in the 80s and 90s. Rain and a few thunderstorms developed today along a cold front reaching from the eastern Great Lakes across the central Appalachians to the middle Atlantic coast and the eastern Carolinas. National Weather Service meteorologist Bill Barlow said, "We don't expect too much in the way of heavy thunderstorms from this storm." But forecasters said the cold front would bring an end to most of the record heat. Record highs were reached Monday in 15 cities from Michigan to Florida. It was a record 94 in Columbia, S.C., and readings of 88 in Pittsburgh and Cleveland snapped marks set in 1914. "I ran 18 miles today, training for a marathon, and it was the hottest day I've ever encountered," said Shane Hollett, 38, a meteorologist at WKYC-TV in Cleveland. Rain today also reached from the Pacific Northwest to the northern Rockies, and a travelers advisory for up to 4 inches of snow was posted for the northern passes of Oregon's Cascade Mountains. The storm in the nation's midsection — which killed an Iowa girl with a tornado Saturday and prompted flood watches across the Plains during the weekend — pounded the Great Lakes and the Ohio Valley on Monday. A tornado Monday in Bennington Township, Mich., destroyed eight barns, ripped the roofs from five homes and a store and blacked out about 20 homes. Authorities said no one was injured. Strong winds downed power lines at Grass Lake, Mich., and hail was reported in Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and South Carolina. In the wake of the storm, winds of up to 40 mph blew across South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska and Minnesota. Cooler temperatures in the 40s and 50s stretched from the Great Lakes through the upper Mississippi Valley Monday night.

In Nebraska, the NWS extended its flood warning for low-lying areas near the Little Blue River. "It's over the road," said Leana Lotman of Steele City. "I'm sure it will keep some (farmers) out of the fields for a while."

A wintry storm threatened to dump up to 4 inches of snow on the Cascade Mountains of Oregon today, while much of the nation basked under sunny skies. Meanwhile, a storm system that hurled tornadoes and heavy rain in the nation's midsection limped toward the East, bringing some relief from record high temperatures in the 80s and 90s.

Live Rocket Found In Altamonte Springs

A Longwood man who found what appears to be an active rocket projectile behind his Altamonte Springs business cleaned the device by sandblasting it before taking it to a Seminole County gun shop.

The sandblasting removed any markings from the military rocket, and Monday Seminole County sheriff's bomb expert Lt. Marty LaBrusciano was trying to gather specifics on the 10-pound, 11-inch long rocket, which is 4-inches in diameter. LaBrusciano was to contact U.S. military officials in an effort to identify the device.

Sheriff's deputies were alerted to the find after the rocket was taken to the gunshop, which was not named in a sheriff's report.

Sheriff's Capt. Roy Hughey said the rocket would either be given to military officials or would be destroyed by LaBrusciano. It had not been determined early Monday if the rocket was "live," Hughey said.

Don Lincoln, 46, of 208 Atherstone Drive, found the rocket behind his business at 850 Sunshine Lane, Altamonte Springs at about 11:30 a.m. Saturday. The origin of the rocket had not been determined early Monday, Hughey said.

BATTERED & RAN
An 18-year-old Longwood youth, who reportedly ran from a Longwood policeman after he allegedly confronted the officer and tried to shove him several times, has been charged with battery on a policeman and resisting arrest.

The officer had responded to a complaint of juveniles creating a disturbance in woods near the suspect's home at 1404 Wren Court. The suspect reportedly ran into the woods after the alleged assault, but was arrested when he returned to his home and allegedly confronted police again.

Raymond Haubner was arrested at 1:28 a.m. Sunday. He has been released on $1,000 bond to appear in court May 12.

FAKE PRESCRIPTION
A pharmacist at Eckerds, Shops of Wekiva, Longwood, reported to Seminole County sheriff's deputies that an apparent bogus prescription for a controlled pain killer had been called into that store at about noon Sunday.

When a man arrive to pick up the prescription he was charged with possession of a controlled substance and obtaining a prescription drug by fraud.

Bruce Allen Mears, 33, of Orlando, was arrested at the drug store at 1:26 p.m. Sunday. He has been released on $1,000 bond.

Altamonte Springs police who had watched a meeting between two men, both driving pickup trucks, in the parking lot of Bennigans and then later at Conley's Exxon, State Road 436, Altamonte Springs, reported stopping and arresting one of the suspects when both men drove away.

The man stopped was first informed that he had faulty brake lights on his truck and police reported finding a bag of half tablets of methaqualone and less than 20 grams of marijuana in his possession.

SUNDAY
—1:51 p.m., Country Club Road south of Lealie Lane: motorcycle accident. Rescuers were unable to revive the victim of a motorcycle accident. The victim was transported by ambulance to South Seminole Community Hospital where he was pronounced dead.

Court Sentencings

A Sanford man charged with committing a lewd and lascivious act on a child has been sentenced to four months in jail and a year of probation.

Charles Henry Steiner, 18, of 2425 Chase Ave., was also ordered by Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor not to have any contact with females under the age of 17. He also has to pay the Public Defender's office $350. He was given credit for 49 days served.

Steiner was arrested Nov. 17 at his home after a babysitter's mother told police she had checked on her daughter several times as she worked that Saturday and during one check found Steiner atop the girl who was trying to push him away.

Steiner, however, told police he was watching the apartment to make sure a lot of people were going in and out of the home where he said the girl had agreed to let him watch television with her.

In other court action:
—Eloise Warren, 45, of 815 E. 9th St., Sanford, arrested in November after stabbing a 15-year-old boy who tried to break up a fight between Ma. Warren and his mother. She was sentenced by McGregor to one year probation and ordered to pay court costs and the Public Defender's Office $350. According to court records, the incident occurred in front of Richie's Grocery on E. 7th St. in Sanford. While the women fought, Clemie Hudson Jr. joined the fight by getting in-between the women and during the fracas was stabbed in the stomach. He was transported to Central Florida Regional Hospital and treated. The reason for the fight was not reported.

—Walter William Wills, 29, of 385 Frances Ave., Casselberry, arrested Oct. 20 following an accident on State Road 436 at Interstate 4. He pleaded no contest to leaving the scene of an accident with injuries. McGregor sentenced him to two years of probation and ordered him to pay court costs and the Public Defender's Office $350. According to court records, Margaret Toro, 55, of Escondido Way, Altamonte Springs, called police to her home to report her car had been hit from behind in an accident. She complained of neck pain and dizziness but instead of going to the hospital she went with police to the Interstate Mall where, she said, the driver of the other vehicle was believed to have driven after the accident. A car matching the suspect's was found and the suspect located in a theater watching a movie. The man had a difficult time remembering the plot of the movie and said he had been at the theater since 6:15 p.m. The film didn't start until 7:30 p.m., according to the report.

—Ray Grubbs, 22, of 33 William Clark Court, arrested at his home in October on a charge of grand theft in connection with the theft of three buffers worth all tolled $1,000. He was sentenced by McGregor to two years in prison with credit for 26 days already served. The prison time is to be followed by three years of probation. He was also ordered to pay $350 to the Public Defender's Office and court costs. The buffers were taken from Ludy's Detail Shop, U.S. Highway 17-92 in Sanford the same month. They were recovered and Grubbs arrested after the buffers were resold. McGregor, in sentencing Grubbs to the stiffer-than-usual sentence, cited Grubbs' "life-time pattern" of crime as a reason to increase the sentence. The usual sentence for a first-time offender in such a case is up to one year in the county jail.

—Rodney Paul Wisdom, 31, of Melody Lane, Casselberry, arrested June 9 on a charge of grand theft after "buying" drywall supplies for a company. He pleaded guilty to the lesser crime of conspiracy to commit grand theft, and was sentenced by Circuit Judge Kenneth M. Lefler to 30 days in jail and a year of probation. Wisdom bought $444 worth of joint compound and tape in the name of a company he did not work for, according to court records.

Making For Safer Skies

Many environmentalists now say that even President Reagan admits that acid rain is the ruination of rivers, lakes and forests. As evidence of the president's turnaround, they cite the $5 billion acid rain research agreement recently signed with Canadian Prime Minister Brian Mulroney.

Some other people have a very different view of how and why that agreement came about and it has to do with the increasingly controversial lobbying efforts of Michael Deaver, former presidential aide.

Deaver worked on the acid rain problem while in the White House. Shortly after leaving, he got himself hired as a high-pay consultant to Canada. Shortly after that came the acid rain agreement.

Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., is among those who see more than coincidence in the train of events. He has asked the General Accounting Office to probe Deaver's activities for a conflict of interest.

However the agreement came about, it may in reality represent the cover charge for sealing another, more important joint endeavor. Though acid rain got all the publicity, the real business of the U.S.-Canadian summit was the five-year renewal of the North American Aerospace Defense (NORAD) Agreement which expires this year.

NORAD is the bi-national command whose mission is surveillance of the airspace of Canada and the United States. Its headquarters in the bowels of the Cheyenne Mountain near Colorado Springs monitors the airspace over North America, on the lookout for attack by enemy intercontinental ballistic missiles and submarine-launched ballistic missiles. The command would also give the orders to set a network of strategic defense in motion.

In light of Mulroney's political vulnerability, and growing agitation in Canada about SDI involvement, it is entirely plausible that the administration considered the acid agreement a small price to pay for an agreement now on NORAD.

In one sense at least, the environmentalists are correct. The agreement on acid rain will help make the skies over Canada safer.

Standing Alone

The urge to appease terrorists is still strong in Western Europe as judged by the refusal of a single nation on the continent to support the United States' retaliatory air strikes against the Libyan terror apparatus.

Britain's Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher stood alone with the United States in Western Europe while the timid, accommodating Francois Mitterand of France, Chancellor Helmut Kohl of West Germany and other West European leaders cowered at the thought of striking back at Khadafy and his terrorist network. Canada and Israel, to their credit, also backed the United States' retaliation.

Mitterand refused to give permission for American planes to fly over France en route to their strikes against Libyan terror-training centers and bases of operations, causing American planes to fly an added 2,400 miles on this dangerous mission.

Suffering Falls Mainly On The Pained

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Several states are moving to put a lid on corporate liability for pain and suffering.

That brings up a related question: What groups should determine the amount of financial compensation for pain and suffering? Not juries, certainly.

Panels of ordinary citizens are inclined to overvalue the agony in personal injury cases. Such matters are better left to experts in the field. Attorneys, for example.

Lawyers seem to know instinctively how to put a price tag on mental anguish. I agree the states should do more to protect insurance companies that are paying the bulk of the tab and, incidentally, canceling certain liability policies, including those held by the states.

I question, however, whether they are going about it in the right way.

If there is such a thing as non-economic pain, it seems to me the sufferers should be compensated in a non-economic manner.

Rather than limiting damages that may be awarded, the states should require that an offsetting amount of pleasure be provided.

If, as they seemingly can, lawyers can determine how much monetary suffering victims likely will undergo, they also should be able to pinpoint how much pleasure it would take to compensate for the pain.

It still would cost something to provide the pleasure, but not nearly as much cash as an out-of-court settlement likely would call for. So insurance companies still should be able to insure states and other political and commercial entities that may attract damage suits.

Consider, for example, the uninjured victims of a roller coaster mishap in a state-run amusement park.

How do you provide them with enough pleasure to compensate for the mental anguish they might have suffered upon finding, say, an errant roller coaster in the laps.

One type of pleasure surely would be amusement park passes, including parking privileges.

Another pleasurable experience would be free rides on the roller coasters and other thrilling conveyances, such as merry-go-rounds.

I don't know what it would cost to treat suers to these pleasures, as well as pay their transportation expenses, motel and restaurant bills and so on.

Let the lawyers figure that out. I'm only interested in balancing pain with pleasure.

It's also about time weathermen were held accountable for their forecasts, and bakers for what they put in animal cracker boxes.

If meteorologists fail to predict a storm that sinks a fishing boat, rather than the government forking over $1.25 million, forecasters might be required to issue a compensating number of sunny day predictions, when the fish are biting and when it's OK to take a boat out.

By the same token, bakeries should be required to provide the animal crackers they advertise, even to the extent of putting out boxes that contain nothing but alligators.

It may be argued that winning a damage suit is itself a form of pleasure. In which event, I rest my case.

Cheap Oil's True Cost

WASHINGTON (NEA) — While we're all filling our automobiles, pickup trucks and recreational vehicles with relatively cheap gasoline, we're probably setting the stage for a future energy crisis of unprecedented severity.

Energy analysts are virtually unanimous in their conviction that the worldwide collapse of crude oil prices, purposely engendered by Saudi Arabia, is an aberration that almost certainly will not last through the end of this decade.

When the Saudis made the strategic decision last December to disrupt the global crude oil market, their goals included:

— Driving marginal, high-cost petroleum producers out of the market.

— Discouraging new capital investment and exploration initiatives on the part of producers uneasy about volatile prices.

— Generating increased global demand for oil by making it temporarily attractive at low prices.

In the ensuing five months, the Saudis have started to attain their objectives. Almost all of this country's major integrated oil companies — including Exxon, Shell, Texaco, Arco, Amoco, Sun, Unocal and Phillips — have slashed their capital outlays an average of almost 25 percent compared with 1985 spending.

"Stripper" wells produce 10 barrels of oil per day or less, but they account for 12 to 14 percent of this country's domestic production because there are more than 450,000 of them scattered throughout the nation. Almost 100,000 of those marginally profitable wells will be temporarily capped or "shut in" if the market price for crude oil stabilizes at $15 per barrel or less.

The president of the Atlantic Richfield Co. recently estimated that domestic crude oil production, which now stands at just under 8.9 million barrels per day, probably would begin declining this year at a rate of 10 percent annually.

At the same time domestic supply is shrinking, demand is expanding. Some industrial users already are planning to switch to oil from coal or natural gas. Auto manufacturers report increased demand for larger, less fuel-efficient cars.

Saudi Arabia, the world's largest non-communist producer of crude oil, earned a phenomenal $9.5 billion per month in petroleum revenues in 1981 when prices and production peaked. In 1982, that figure dropped to $6 billion per month. In 1983 and 1984, it declined again to $4 billion.

'Displaced' Marxism

Five years ago, politics Professor Bertell Ollman of New York University, a Marxist theoretician, boasted that "a Marxist cultural revolution is taking place today in American universities."

Ollman was correct, and we are seeing some of the results right now. In his prophecy, the key word is "cultural." He means that his "Marxism" is a matter of feelings and symbolic values. It is not the classical Marxism that concerns itself with the ownership of the means of production, collective farms, steel output, a disciplined party vanguard, and so on. I myself call Ollman's cultural Marxism "displaced Marxism" in order to distinguish it from the classical variety, but displaced Marxism is just as hostile and just as committed to conflict as was its older relative. Its representatives are willing to use violence. Officials who have confronted its troops at Yale, Berkeley and Dartmouth recently inform me that a few of them are actually willing to die for their cause.

There is plenty of evidence to support Ollman's prediction of a Marxist "cultural revolution" on the campus.

Ollman's own textbook, "Alienation: A Marxist Conception of Man in Capitalist Society," is now used in more than 100 American universities. By the most recent count, more than 500 colleges and universities give courses on the "philosophy" of Marxism, though Marxism either as philosophy or economics has about the intellectual standing of phrenology. A large number of radical organizations have emerged on the campuses and many publish academic journals. Professor Samuel Bowles, a Marxist economist at the University of Massachusetts, writes in his "Schooling in Capitalist America" that Marxists believe that all of the ills of present day America derive from the private ownership of the means of production. Michael Wallace, a historian at John Jay College of the City University of New York, writes in "The Left Academy" that "Marxism is a long-term historical movement of liberation, and Marxist scholars are those who contribute to the project of building a popular democratic and socialist society."

It is accurate to call the various radical movements on the campus today "displaced Marxism" because they preserve the structure of classical Marxism while pouring a new content into that structure.

Classical Marxism posited a "science" of revolution which was based upon an apocalyptic struggle on the part of oppressed workers to wrest the means of production from oppressive capitalist owners. Once the means of production belonged to the proletariat, "liberation" would set in. Thus we have the classical Marxist pattern: struggle-leading-to-liberation.

The trouble is that it is no longer possible to believe in the older classical content within the pattern. The existing Marxist nations are visible and embarrassing disasters: the Soviet Union, Cuba, Vietnam, Mao's China. The classical theory, moreover, has proved to have zero value in predicting actual historical developments; and it had been subjected to withering philosophical analysis.

During the 1930s and 1940s it was intellectually respectable to be a classical Marxist and an admirer of the Great Soviet Experiment. All of that is dead now.

One-Day Glimpse Of Gold

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It was never a question of whether, but of when.

And last week, with less advance notice than an air raid on Libya and with the speed of an F-111 bomber, the House struck.

Exhibiting commando-caliber stealth, the House decided — long before most of the honorables knew what happened — to lift the ceiling on the amount members can earn on the chicken and mashed potato circuit.

Vote? Oh, no.

The House can stand and up be counted on issues such as aid for the rebels fighting in Nicaragua, easing up on federal gun controls, cutting domestic programs and literally hundreds of others.

But pay and perks? Oh, no. Those issues are much too delicate to be decided by the casting of a vote.

So, on a languid Tuesday afternoon, Rep. John Murtha, D-Pa., with only a few of his colleagues present, asked unanimous consent to strike down hideous Rule XLVII of the House. He was right. Rule XLVII, so, of course, there was no one to object.

By repealing the rule, the amount of money that a congressman can earn giving speeches to groups willing to pay for the privilege jumped $7,510 per annum, to $30,040. That's 40 percent of the annual $75,100 a congressman earns at his elected job.

The starving members of the House had to do with 30 percent or $22,530 since the start of the year while the fat cats in the Senate were raking in the $30,400 — a one-body bonus buried deep in last December's supplemental money bill.

The beauty of the maneuver was that by simply changing a rule, the House did not have to run the gauntlet in the Senate, which is certainly not averse to sticking it to the gentlemen and gentlewomen on the other side of the Capitol.

For one gleeful day, members of the House could daydream about the dollars ready to roll their way.

But it was not to be. About 24 hours later, a chastened House was forced to roll back, rescinding the change in the rules and reverting to a maximum of 22,530 in honoraria. The heat of publicity proved too much.

Conimon Cause, the self-styled citizens' lobby, called the rule change a "sneak attack on ethics" and media wrote about the new largesse.

"When the press picks up on it," Speaker Thomas O'Neill lamented, "the members chicken out."

Few Arab Countries Back Khadafy

By Jack Anderson
And

Joseph Spear
WASHINGTON — In the weeks before the U.S. air strike against Libya, Moammar Khadafy vainly tried to find an Arab intermediary willing to intercede in his behalf with the Reagan administration.

It is a measure of the Libyan dictator's low standing in the Arab world that he tried everyone, but only Morocco, which is allied in a paper "union" with Libya, responded. The Moroccans dutifully made the requested overture to the State Department — and were rejected out of hand.

In explanation, a State Department official said of Khadafy: "We do not trust him."

Khadafy also implored Algeria and Saudi Arabia to help him open up a dialogue with President Reagan. The Libyan leader may have tried to enlist the brokerage services of other Arab countries as well.

State Department sources told our associate Lucette Lagnado that Khadafy has been trying for years to open negotiations with Reagan, but the White House considers the Libyan totally untrustworthy. The State Department official said Khadafy is an expert at "getting people lulled to sleep" with talk of peace and reasonable behavior and then "doing whatever he pleases."

For that reason, the official explained, "We have made it very clear: We have not allowed anyone to act as intermediary."

In fact, Morocco's attempt to do so cost it a few friends in Washington. In fairness it should be noted that Morocco has gained some solid economic benefits from the "union" with Libya, and therefore felt obliged to make the effort.

Khadafy's earlier attempt to get

Algeria's help was in January. In an almost unprecedented display of courtesy, Khadafy flew to a remote part of Algeria for a secret meeting with President Chadli Bendjedid, hoping to get him to intercede for Libya in Washington.

The Algerian, unwilling to get too close to Khadafy, refused his request and reportedly asked the Libyan leader: "Why not try the Moroccans?"

Sources say Khadafy also approached the Saudis.

As administration officials had hoped, several Arab nations have delivered perfunctory denunciations of the U.S. raid on Libya — while privately expressing congratulations and regretting only that Khadafy was not killed or overthrown in the raid's aftermath.

In fact, State Department sources note with satisfaction, two Arab governments hadn't even issued pro forma complaints about the U.S.

military action. They are Iraq and Tunisia.

The Iraqis have resented for years Libya's support for Iran in the exhausting Persian Gulf war, and rejected a recent effort by the Saudis to bring Libya and Iraq together "in the name of Arab unity."

The Tunisians — who were themselves hit by a similar air strike by Israel for harboring the Palestine Liberation Organization — were positively gleeful over the U.S. action. "Why did you not get Khadafy?" a Tunisian diplomat asked a State Department official after the raid.

Tunisia, of course, was nearly invaded by Libyan troops last summer. Only threats of retaliation by Algeria, and a reported mutiny and attempted coup by his own military officers, led Khadafy to call off the invasion.

Bucs: Bucks Will Get Bo

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Tampa Bay Buccaneers, confident they can outbid pro baseball for the best running back prospect in 17 years, today made Bo Jackson the first pick in the NFL draft.

The Buccaneers announced the selection of the 1985 Heisman Trophy winner 53 seconds after the draft officially opened at 8 a.m. EDT. Jackson, a 220-pounder who runs a 4.12 40-yard dash, is considered by scouts the best running back out of college since Buffalo drafted O.J. Simpson in 1969.

"We've had two or three seasons with his representatives, but I think it's rather doubtful he will sign before the baseball draft," said Tampa Bay Coach Leeman Bennett, who added the Buccaneers "came close" to trading the No. 1 pick in the draft.

Jackson averaged 6.6 yards per carry in his 4-year career at Auburn, rushing for 1,786 yards as a senior.

Starving for defense, the Buccaneers faced the prospect of staying hungry despite owning four of the first 40 picks.

Atlanta followed by taking Oklahoma All-America nose tackle Tony Casillas, a 6-foot-3, 277-pounder around whom Coach Dan Henning hopes to build his new 3-4 defense.

Houston used the third pick on Purdue quarterback Jim Everett, just as General Manager Ladd Herzog said he would all along despite expectations that the Oilers would trade the pick.

Everett, 6-5, is tall and mobile in the pocket and had one of the strongest arms coming out of college.

Indianapolis, which filled its quarterback need Monday by trading for Gary Hogeboom, went for defensive help and picked defensive end Jon Hand from Alabama. Hand was considered the top defensive end in the draft, and would probably have been picked by St. Louis in the fifth spot if the Colts didn't grab him.

The Colts traded with New Orleans for the fourth pick earlier this month, originally in hopes of landing Everett.

St. Louis followed with the first surprise pick of the draft, Anthony Bell, a linebacker from Michigan State. Bell, an outside linebacker considered the best athlete among linebacker prospects, was expected to go in the second round behind as many as four linebackers.

New Orleans, picking sixth, needed nearly 13 of the allotted 15 minutes to announce its selection, offensive tackle Jim Dombrowski of Virginia. Dombrowski was the first offensive lineman to go in a draft rich in offensive linemen.

In the first trade of the day, Minnesota sent the eighth pick of the draft to San Diego. The Vikings also gave up their third-round pick in exchange for San Diego's second first-round pick (the 14th) and the Chargers' second-round pick.

The Chargers then selected pass-rushing specialist Leslie O'Neal of Oklahoma State. If O'Neal, a quick 6-3 1/2, 245-pounder, can bulk up his skinny legs he could be an anchor on the Chargers' long-riddled defense.

Pittsburgh pulled a surprise by picking Temple guard John Rienstra ninth. Rienstra, a 6-4, 280-pounder, was the highest rated offensive guard by most scouts but the Steelers were expected to go for Ohio State running back Keith Byars.

Philadelphia then gambled on Keith Byars with the 10th pick. Byars, a 6-0 1/2, 245-pounder, was considered neck-and-neck with Jackson before missing most of his senior season with a broken right foot. Most NFL observers feel Byars will eventually star but he might not play much in his rookie year. Byars becomes Buddy Ryan's first pick as Eagles head coach.

Cincinnati went for linebacker Joe Kelly of Washington with the 11th pick. Kelly is considered excellent against the pass but, at 6-1 1/2 and 217 pounds, might be too small to star in the NFL.

The Lions were happy to find quarterback Chuck Long of Iowa still left and took him with the 12th pick. Detroit was hungry for a quarterback but didn't expect Long to be around by the time they picked.

Long, 6-3 1/2, lacks the size, speed and arm strength of Everett, but is an amazingly accurate passer and knows how to avoid the rush.

Rams, Braves To Light Up Scoreboard Tonight?

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

If district performances are any indication, the scoreboard operator will be in for a 10-finger exercise tonight when Lake Mary's Rams and Boone's Braves meet for the Class 4A-5 Regional championship at Orlando's Tinker Field. Game time is 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $3.

Lake Mary, 29-2, and Boone, 17-12, both worked over the opposing pitching staffs while picking up district championships with three victories last week. Boone dropped West Orange (6-5), Apopka (12-4) and Colonial (20-5). Lake Mary bopped Daytona Beach Mainland (10-0), Lake Howell (9-1) and Lyman (11-6).

Boone rapped out 46 hits while scoring its 38 runs and made a believer out of Apopka coach Sonny Wise. "Boone is really swinging the bat," Wise said Saturday night. "They just hammered everybody I sent out to the mound."

Boone coach Terry Abbott, who is in his fourth year as Braves' coach after replacing the highly successful John Hart, said the offensive outburst was a combination of things.

"We hope we are peaking," he said. "And, we batted against a lot of tired pitchers in the district. But if we aren't hitting the ball now, we never will hit it."

Lake Mary, ranked No. 1 in the state by the Florida Sports Writers Prep Poll and No. 4 in the nation by USA Today's Easton National High School Poll, pounded out 27 hits while scoring its 30 runs.

The Rams looked unbeatable against Mainland and Lake Howell. They flashed the same form for six innings against Lyman — breaking the game open with a nine-run second frame — but a sloppily played seventh enabled the Greyhounds to pull within five runs before Mike Schmit struck out the last hitter with the bases loaded.

Schmit will hurl tonight. Abbott said he is leaning toward senior Jeff Mason or Darren West.

Schmit (13-0) stifled Mainland on two hits. Lyman racked him for 10 hits. Lyman's first run was unearned while the next two came on bloop hits. In the seventh, though, the Greyhounds knocked around a tiring Schmit pretty well for three more runs. Three walks helped out. Two of the runs were earned.

Schmit has carried a heavy load since an injury and an academic problem robbed the Rams of two starting pitchers. He has pitched Tuesdays and Fridays for the past three weeks. Still, his earned run average has

Goose Bumps For Mabie, Banes

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Oviedo's Howard Mabie, coach of the Class 3A-6 District champs, and Gainesville Eastside's David Banes, skipper of the Class 3A-5 District winners, will share the same goose bumps at 7:30 tonight as their teams square off for the Class 3A-3 Regional Baseball championship at the University of Central Florida in Orlando. Tickets are $3.

Mabie, in his 10th year as the Lions' mentor, picked up his first district title last Friday with a 3-2, eight-inning victory over St. Cloud. Left fielder Frank Torres provided the margin of difference when he singled home speedy Mark Merchant with the winning run. Earlier in the tournament, Oviedo, 17-10, zapped Leesburg, 10-0, as right-handed Jimmy Barrett tossed a shutout.

The victory ended a nine-year run of frustration for Mabie. His Lions had won the Orange Belt Conference four of the past five years, but getting over the district, which involved the same teams, had been a chronic problem.

Banes, who played for three years in the New York Yankees' farm system, joins Mabie with the first regional jitters despite the fact he won in his initial season with Eastside.

A hometown product, the 27-year-old Banes played at Buchholz before moving on to the University of Florida. He reached class AA status with the Yankees before calling it quits in 1982. He served as a graduate assistant for the Gators before accepting the Eastside position.

Gainesville Eastside upset conference champ Ocala Forest in the district. It posted 12-1 (Bradford Starke) and 6-2 (Candler Lake Weir) victories en route to the title. OCHS was 17-9 during the regular season.

"We swing the bats," Banes said Monday night about his club. "We have the capability to have pretty good pitching but there is not a lot of depth."

Gerald Williford is Banes' ace. The title game victory over Forest was his eighth in 11 decisions. Williford has a 3.28 earned run average.

Mabie had his pitching coach, David Butterfield, check out Williford and the Eastside gang last Friday. "Williford throws a lot of curveballs and his fastball is mediocre," Mabie said. "Things look fairly good if we can play our aggressive game. They beat a pretty good team in Forest and they hit two fingers (home runs). But the fences are quite a bit further (400 compared to 350 in center) at UCF. I figure it's to our advantage to play at UCF."

Oviedo will counter with Craig Duncan (5-4). The curveballing senior has been a four-year varsity hurler. Five innings

Lady Patriots Hope For 'Uncle Mo' Against Boone

By Chris Pieter
Herald Sports Writer

Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots are hoping to take "Uncle Mo," along with them to Orlando today when they go up against Boone's Lady Braves in the 4A-5 Region playoff at 4:30 at Conway Park.

Brantley, 27-5 on the season, seized the momentum in the district final with a two-out, six-run rally that lifted the Lady Patriots to an 8-7 victory over DeLand's Lady Bulldogs. Brantley coach Renny Betris said his team has been on an emotional high ever since that spectacular rally.

"Scoring six runs with two outs in that inning really helped our confidence," Betris said. "We're going to out and go right at Boone. I feel confident and the kids do too."

Boone goes into the game with a 24-4 record after disposing of Apopka in the district final. It was a bit of revenge for the Lady Braves as they lost to Apopka in the last week of the regular season to enable Apopka to win the Metro Conference title.

"We were doing great up until the last week of the season," Boone coach Wayne Rickman said. "Then we lost a couple of close ones to West Orange and Apopka and that knocked us out of the conference championship."

Boone and Lake Brantley have met three times this season, all in the Lady Hawk Tournament, with Boone winning two, including the final. But Lake Brantley was without starting outfielders Deana Jeffers and Dawn Gebhart in the tournament. Jeffers has been one of the top defensive outfielders in the county all season and she made a number of outstanding plays in the district final. Gebhart has been solid at the plate most of the season and hopes to shake off the trouble in the outfield the past two games.

Offensively, Lake Brantley had four players hit over .400 during the regular season including freshman shortstop Tracy Brandenburg (.418), sophomore outfielder Heather Meyer (.414) and sophomore designated hitter Michelle Weston (.444).

Softball

While the Brantley team is dominated by freshmen and sophomores, a pair of seniors have come through in the clutch in the district. Second baseman Kim Wain has two triples and a double in three district games while first baseman Sherry "Ice" Asplen drove in the winning run against Seminole and had a clutch RBI single in the six-run inning against DeLand.

Boone has been consistent both at the plate and on defense this season as the Lady Braves hit .376 as a team and the defense has shut out the opponent 10 times.

Leading the offensive attack is first baseman Katy Mello who comes in with a hefty .494 average. Mello is followed by Jody Guthrie at .421 and Stephanie Vonarx at .417.

"We've got a pretty well-balanced team," Rickman said. "Most of the team is hitting in the high .300s and defense has been one of our strong points as well."

OVIEDO ENTERTAINS SPARR

Oviedo's Lady Lions look for a repeat of their performance in the regionals a year ago when they host Sparr-North Marion in the 3A-3 Region playoff today at 4 at Red Bug Park in Casselberry.

Last season, Oviedo downed defending state champion Brooksville Hernando in the regional tourney in which the Lady Lions played one of their best overall games ever.

Oviedo is coming off an 8-7 victory over Kissimmee Osceola in the district finals in which the Lady Lions rallied for three runs in the bottom of the seventh to pull it out. North Marion won the District 5 title with a 14-3 victory over Bradford-Starke.

"They (North Marion) look beatable if we play a decent game," Oviedo coach Jackie Miller, who scouted the District 5 finals, said. "The top half of their batting order were pretty strong hitters but they played a sloppy team so I really couldn't tell too much about them."

Miller said there is one big difference between the two teams and that is in the pitching department.

"They pitch totally different than we do," Miller said. "They pitch with a medium arch ball and they walked a lot of hitters because the pitches dropped deep."

Miller said Oviedo has been hitting the ball as well in the past two weeks as they have all season. Leading the way are sophomore pitcher Jodie Switzer (.514 regular season) and junior shortstop Caroline Chavis (.463).

Chavis was impressive at the plate in the district as she went 6 for 7 and Switzer was 4 for 4 in the title game. Designated hitter Debbie Murray also hit well in the final as she went 3 for 4.

Oviedo will look for additional production at the plate from Dee Dee Beasley, Jessica Bradley, Cathy Bergman and Mikki Eby.

Maples Provides Thorn As Cardinal Loses First

By Chris Pieter
Herald Sports Writer

Mike Maples was a thorn in the side of Cardinal Industries in more ways than one Monday night.

Maples tossed a three-hitter and drilled a pair of homers to lead Adcock Roofing to a 16-5 rout of previously unbeaten Cardinal in Sanford Little American League action at Fort Mellon Park.

The win improved Adcock Roofing to 4-0 and gave them first place in the league over Cardinal which now stands at 4-1.

For the game, Maples struck out 13, including the top three hitters in the order eight of nine at bats, and walked none. Four of Cardinal's five runs off Maples were unearned.

Offensively, Maples hit a two-run homer in the fifth inning and slammed a three-run shot in the sixth. Corey Williams and Arthur Polk added three hits each for Adcock.

Matt Wilms had an RBI double for Cardinal while Todd McCall and Willie Williams each had singles.

SUN BANK DRAINS PETROLEUM

Troy Chapman pitched a one-hitter and Dion Edge and Tony Duncan had three hits each as Sun Bank downed Seminole Petroleum, 13-3, in Little American League action at Westside Field.

The only hit Chapman gave up was a fourth-inning single to Tony Flieger. Chapman struck out five and walked eight.

Duncan led the offensive surge as he belted a pair of solo homers and added a single. Edge rapped a solo homer in the first inning and added two singles while Damon McIntyre and Chapman added two hits each.

ATLANTIC BANK BONDS FORD

Atlantic Bank piled up 17 runs in the first two innings Monday on route to a 19-5 thrashing of Seminole Ford in Little American League play at Bay Avenue

Field.

John Jones led off the bottom of the first with a solo homer for Atlantic Bank which went on to score seven more runs in the inning. Atlantic Bank pulled away with nine runs in the bottom of the second with Neville Fuller's two-run homer and Tyrone Williams' two-run triple leading the way.

While the offense got going early, Williams turned in a strong effort on the mound as he tossed a four-hitter, struck out five and walked 10. Bill Kerne had two of the four hits for Seminole Ford.

SMITTY'S MOWER WAS FIRST

Von Eric Small rapped out three hits and also was the winning pitcher as Smitty's Mower won its first game of the season, 15-11 over Ball Mower Line in Sanford Junior League action Monday night at Westside Field.

Small went on to hit a single in the third inning, belted a two-run triple in the fourth and added a two-run double in the sixth. He also scattered seven hits in going the distance on the mound, struck out 10 and walked nine.

Calvin Donaldson added a pair of singles for Smitty's while their only other hit was a single by Elisha Grooms. Smitty's Mower also took advantage of 12 walks in the game.

Mike Hartman had three hits to lead the way for Ball Mower Line including a single, double and triple. David Roberts added a single and triple.

KNIGHTS LAUNCH ROTARY, 14-11

Knights of Columbus scored eight runs in the first two innings en route to a 14-11 victory over Rotary in Monday's first game at Chase Park.

Kerry Higgins had an RBI double and Mike Taylor a run-scoring single in the three-run first frame for the Knights while Derrick Fritton unloaded a grand slam homer in the five-run second.

Ron Confield had three hits to the game to lead the Knights while Taylor and Fritton added two each. Jason Hill was the winning pitcher.

Tim Hampton had a two-run triple in the five-run first inning for Rotary. Still, though, held Rotary to three hits after the first frame.

Rinker Angels, Are Tied

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer
Forest City Rinker Materials and the Forest City Angels finished in a tie for first place in the Seminole Softball Club Eagles Division first round but both had to stave off upset bids to do it.

Rinker Materials built up an 8-0 lead over Casselberry Trivision Chevron but had to hold on tight as Trivision rallied within 8-7 before bowing out.

Dawn Gebhart led the way for Rinker with three hits and three RBIs while Cindy Lupinski drove in two runs with a pair of singles. Missy Martinez had two singles and two RBIs for Trivision.

It took a five-run seventh inning rally for the Angels to fight off Casselberry Rotary Club, 9-7.

Tewana Chisholm rapped two triples and knocked in four runs for the Angels while Tammy Laazac and Lisa Silverstein also drove in runs. Becky Miller had two hits for Casselberry.

The victories by Rinker and the Angels left both with 9-1 records at the end of the first round.

Fern Park OPUS Computer Products was right in the running for most of the first round until it ran into Oviedo Wiginton Fire Sprinklers. Sprinklers doused any OPUS hopes of a three-way tie for first with a 20-14 victory.

Cheryl Buntz drilled a pair of two-run singles for Oviedo while Corrie Lawson drove in four runs with two singles and a home run. Tiffany Kracht added three RBIs to the offensive attack while Anna Hollis was 4 for 4 with two RBIs and Jodie Switzer added three hits.

For OPUS, Amy Houston and Brooke Burns had two hits and scored three runs each while Rixja Millwood added a pair of singles.

In one other Eagles Division game, Altamonte Springs Goodings scored four runs in the bottom of the fifth to pull out a 10-9 victory over Trivision Chevron. Jenni Eichberger and Cathy Eichberger drove in three runs each for Goodings while Adele Portnoy added a pair of singles and Missy Cox contributed an RBI single and also made the defensive play of the game as she turned an unassisted double play.

HOMES WINS A PAIR
Casselberry Construction by Home Sweet Homes picked up a pair of victories in Seminole Softball Club Starling Division action including a 14-7 win over Sanford East 46 Transmission and a 12-8 decision over Lake Mary Veterinary Clinic.

In the win over Sanford, Tina Leman had the hot bat for Home Sweet Homes as she rapped out two homers, two doubles and a single and drove in four runs. Jessica Dancy added two singles and three RBIs while Carolyn Taylor had three singles and drove in two runs. Kristi Richard had two hits and drove in a pair of runs to lead Sanford.

In the win over Lake Mary, Michelle Bishop drilled a single, double and triple and knocked in five runs to power Home Sweet Homes. Leman and Tanya Miller added two hits each. Amy Bourale had three hits for Lake Mary while Tammy Troy added two singles.

Winter Springs Environmental Services used the hitting of Stacy Ritter, Jenny Miller and Kelly Mayberry and the defense of Tatyana McCall to claim a 9-8 victory over the Longwood Stars.

Ritter had two singles and a double and drove home three runs while Miller and Mayberry had two hits and two RBIs apiece and Kristi Colamarino had one hit and scored three runs. McCall made the defensive play of the game when she knocked down a smash at third base and forced a runner in the top of the seventh.

Forest City Rinker Materials rode the pitching of Buffy Staggs and the hitting of Jill Goldschmidt to an 11-8 victory over Environmental Services.

BURGER KING ROMPS
Forest City Burger King pounded out 24 hits en route to a 15-4 victory over Altamonte Springs Chek Beverages in Hawks Division action. The win improved Burger King to 11-2 overall for the season.

Nicole Gorska smashed a single, triple and homer and drove in three runs while Sandy Adams drove in four with a pair of singles. Carol Rabaja added three singles for Burger King while Christine Riese knocked in three runs with a single and double and Nicole Rathbun added two singles and two RBIs.

Ann Brewer had four hits to lead the way for Chek Beverages.

Lady Raider Winners

Three of Seminole Community College's basketball players recently honored were (from left) Carol King, Aileen Patterson and Kim Lemon. Coach Ilena Gallagher named King for her Leader Award, Patterson for her Hustle Award and Lemon as the Top Free Throw Shooter (80 percent). Elizabeth Dietrich was named Most Improved. Vikki McClurran, Renea Ivey, Anifa Brown and Fatima Lafond, like the other four, received certificates for their contributions. SCC finished 18-8.

Rogers Switches Builders, Captures 18th Feature Win

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — After losing a motor the previous week, late model pilot David Rogers switched engine builders and came back to score his 18th feature win of the current season on Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway.

With power by Ronnie Viccaro's Bullet Racing Engines of Miami, Rogers turned fast time, then led every tour of the 50-lap End of the Month Championship event. He was at the wheel of the Wayne Dennis Budweiser/Gambler Bass Boats, McCreary-ahod 1986 Firebird.

Current high point man Lee Faulk was second, followed by Mike Goldberg, LeRoy Porter and ALL PRO regular Bill Bigley Jr. of Naples.

The End of the Month title for the thundercar division went to John Cochran in the well-prepared J.B.'s Fish Camp Pontiac Firebird.

Driving a brand new car, fast timer Harry Brazee was flying low, but he could not get by Cochran and had to settle for a close second.

Finishing strong third was newcomer Joe Jones, a former Alabama resident, in the potent Coastal Tires machine. The new bright orange car, still free from dents and scratches, is one of the best appearing race cars in that extremely competitive division. Fourth and fifth were J.T. Rook and Granny Tatroe.

After a red hot duel, Jerry Symons went by Gene Van Alstine to win the four-cylinder

Calapa Whiffs 16, Salvagio's Is 10-0

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

B.J. Calapa may not have reached the level where he can be called "Dr. K." but he's putting in a pretty impressive internship in the Seminole Pony Baseball Bronco Division.

In tossing a one-hitter at Lake Mary Travel, Calapa struck out 16 of the 24 batters he faced and walked just two to lead Salvagio's Boys to a 5-1 victory. Calapa's gem improved the Boys to 10-0 at the end of the first round of the season.

Kevin Twigg led the offense for Salvagio's Boys as he roped a pair of doubles for two of the six hits off losing pitcher J.G. Rombough. Jason Steiner added a double while Calapa and Hudiek both singled and scored a run.

Calapa also picked up the pitching victory in a 14-3 rout over Sanford Scale Company. In four innings of work, Calapa allowed two runs on just two hits.

Offensively, Hudiek and Twigg carried the big sticks for the Boys. Hudiek was 4 for 4 and scored four times while Twigg belted a homer and a single. Mike Wasman also homered for Salvagio's Boys and Calapa had one hit and scored three runs.

In other Bronco Division play, Todd Carpenter hurled a no-hitter as Sanford Scale Company downed Post Time Cafe, 10-0. In a game that was ended by the slaughter rule after five innings.

Scale had 13 hits in the five innings including three by Jeremy Chumat and two each by Ronnie Allman, Carpenter and Brian Albers.

Longwood Barnett Bank got a six-hit shutout from Donnie Bazler in a 6-0 victory over Lake Mary Travel. Bazler also slugged three doubles to lead the offense while Steve Reyes and Jason Goodpaster drove in three runs each and Subinoy Das added a pair of singles.

FRANK'S YOGURT ROLLS ON
Frank's Frozen Yogurt continued to make pudding of the rest of the Seminole Pony Baseball Pinto Division as it picked up three more victories including a 17-6 shattering of Discount Door & Glass, an 11-4 broiling of Burger's Boys and a 10-9 edging of Salvagio's Boys II.

In the win over Door & Glass, Tony Morgan and Aaron Black had four hits each, with one of Black's being a two-run homer, for Frank's while Dwayne Edwards added a pair of singles. Ryan Dupont and Chris Loumsa had two hits each for Discount Door & Glass.

Against Burger's Boys, Shaun St. Dennis and Eddie Tooke rapped out four hits each for Frank's and Black smashed another homer, this one a three-run shot. Shawn Burger had a single and double for Burger's Boys.

Snow Chief Projects Winning Image
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Snow Chief arrived at Churchill Downs Monday looking — and being treated — like he had already won the Kentucky Derby in which he is favored.

Baseball

Against Salvagio's Boys, Black's two-run homer in the bottom of the seventh gave Frank's Frozen Yogurt the victory. Joseph June added a single, double and triple and Robbie Shapiro a pair of singles. Jon Hall had two singles for Salvagio's.

MARAUDERS WIN A PAIR
Mario's Marauders picked up a pair of victories in the Pinto Division, 6-2 over Orange Powering, and 12-8 over Lake Mary II.

Against Orange Paving, Warren Janhunen provided much of the offensive punch for the Marauders as he smacked a double, triple and homer and drove in five runs. James Bishop added a double and triple.

Against Lake Mary, Tommy Powers drove in four runs with four doubles while Liam Andrews added a triple and homer and Ian Anderson and James Gipple contributed two hits each.

In other Pinto action, Shadow McClung, Carlos Martinez and Shawn Payne combined to drive in 15 runs as Advanced Brake maulled Lake Mary Police Department, 20-3.

Martinez knocked in six runs with a double, triple and homer while McClung drove in five with two doubles and a homer and Payne's three doubles accounted for four ribbies. McClung has now hit six homers in four games.

Discount Door & Glass rapped out 24 hits in a 16-8 victory over Moran's Braves.

Danny Purcell had three hits for Discount Door & Glass while Chad Sheffield, Lee Williams and Shawn Brooks added two each. Andy Hall and Ryan Hall had three hits apiece for Moran's with Michael Faulkner added two hits.

HARDEE'S CLIPS ROTARY
Chris Dowling drove in three runs and Brad Dyess knocked in a pair to power Hardee's of Sanford to a 12-8 victory over Lake Mary Rotary Club in Pony Division action.

Dowling smacked two singles and a double while Dyess slugged four singles. Brent Driscoll was the winning pitcher for Hardee's as he pitched shut-out ball the last three innings.

PANTS TRIPS ALBERTONS
Pants USA pounded out seven extra base hits in the game en route to a 15-12 victory over Albertons in Mustang Division action.

Eric King had a triple for Pants while Shawn Shapiro clubbed a pair of doubles and Chip Polito, Robert Gaffert, Shawn Stuart and Steven Chandler all cracked doubles.

Greg Hirsch was the winning pitcher for Pants USA which ran its record to 9-2.

Coleman, Cards Snap Skid

Dernier's Double Lifts Cubs; Valenzuela Tops Pirates

United Press International
The only thing that could have stopped Vince Coleman Monday would have been an automatic tarpaulin. The San Francisco Giants certainly couldn't.

Coleman rapped three hits, and what proved to be the decisive RBI, stole two bases and scored twice to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to a 5-4 victory over San Francisco in 12 innings.

The triumph snapped a seven-game losing streak for St. Louis. Manager Whitey Herzog pointed to Coleman as the difference.

"He's the key to our whole offense, and he did what we needed today," Herzog said. During the Cardinals' drought, Coleman had failed to steal a base.

"When Vince Coleman gets on base, we score runs," Herzog said. "When we were losing, he wasn't getting on base."

With the score tied 3-3 in the 12th, Jerry White scored Terry Pendleton with a sacrifice fly to put the Cardinals ahead. Coleman followed with an infield single to score Tom Lawless with an important insurance run, as the Giants scored one in the bottom of the inning.

Center fielder Willie McGee said Coleman was the Cardinals' catalyst at the beginning of the game.

"Vince got us started, and we just kept going," said McGee of Coleman's first-inning single. Coleman stole second, and eventually came home for St. Louis' first score. In the eighth, Coleman singled, stole second and scored all the way from second on Tom Herr's routine grounder to short.

N.L. Baseball

"Our pitchers kept us in the game until we could win it," Herzog said.

Giants manager Roger Craig called it "a crazy game that either team could have won. We lost, but we battled. We had so many chances to win, but we couldn't take advantage."

Cubs 4, Padres 3
At San Diego, Bob Dernier doubled in a pair of runs with two out in the ninth inning to lift Chicago. Dernier scored Keith Moreland and Jody Davis with the hit off loser Rich Gossage, 2-1. Matt Keough, 1-1, pitched the eighth for the Cubs, and Jay Baller struck out two in the ninth to earn his third save.

Dodgers 9, Pirates 1
At Los Angeles, Fernando Valenzuela hurled a six-hitter, and Steve Sax scored on a two-out, bases-loaded balk in the fourth by Pittsburgh's Bob Kipper, giving Los Angeles the victory. The Dodgers won despite getting just four hits. Valenzuela, 3-1, struck out nine and walked one. Kipper fell to 0-2.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Snow Chief arrived at Churchill Downs Monday looking — and being treated — like he had already won the Kentucky Derby in which he is favored.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Tourist Shootings May Have Been Work Of Terrorist Squad

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Saying the murder was to avenge Britain's role in the U.S. attack on Libya, a Palestinian terrorist group claimed responsibility for the weekend slaying of a British tourist in Jerusalem's Old City.

"As we claim responsibility for the execution, we promise our people, the (Arab) nation and our (Palestinian) martyrs to carry on the military struggle until crushing and defeating the Zionist and imperialist aggression on our lands," said a statement released Monday.

In a typewritten statement sent to a Western news agency in Moslem west Beirut, terrorist Abu Nidal's Al Fatah-Revolutionary Council said the killing was in retaliation for British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's decision to let U.S. jets use Britain as a base for the strike against Libya April 15.

Also Monday, a spokesman for the Abu Nidal organization said it would launch attacks on Americans, also in retaliation for the air raid April 15.

Soviets Propose Broader Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Soviet Union has outlined a plan that would replace the current Vienna negotiations on reducing NATO and Warsaw Pact conventional forces in Central Europe with talks covering a much wider scope.

The description of the proposal at a Soviet embassy news conference Monday drew a sharper picture of the plan unveiled on April 18 by General Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev in East Germany.

The State Department said that it has still not been given a clear explanation of the plan.

As explained by two arms control specialists at the embassy, Vitaly Churkin and Sergei Kislyak, the plan would be much broader in geographical scope and in the type of weapons covered than the current U.S.-Soviet talks on conventional force reductions in Vienna.

The Soviet proposal, according to Churkin, would include short-range nuclear weapons and tactical aircraft. Geographically, the area would be widened to include the European part of the Soviet Union, that area west of the Ural mountain range, which divides the eastern and western halves of the Soviet Union.

He said an important part of the Soviet proposal would involve verification, including "national technical means," a phrase that includes satellites, radar and other surveillance. He said it would also include international on-site inspection, including inspection of areas in the western half of the Soviet Union.

Hirohito: 60 Years As Monarch

TOKYO (UPI) — Emperor Hirohito, who is the world's longest reigning monarch, today celebrated his 60th year on the throne with rare public appearances and a simple ceremony at a sumo arena.

Thousands of flag-waving well-wishers cheered "banzai" when Hirohito appeared at the Imperial Palace and more lined city streets as his motorcade traveled later from the moat-ringed palace to the downtown sumo, Japanese wrestling, stadium.

Security was unprecedented as police sought to avert threatened disruptions by radicals.

The celebration was held on Hirohito's 85th birthday. He ascended the throne after the death of his father, Emperor Taisho, and was revered as a living god until the end of World War II, when he became "the symbol of the state," a powerless ceremonial monarch.

The emperor's reign began Dec. 25, 1926, and saw Japan's pre-war buildup, conquering of Asia and devastation at war's end, culminating in seven years of American rule before the country rebuilt into an economic giant.

More Violence In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Blacks stoned and torched a delivery van, killing the driver and seriously burning a passenger, and a ghetto gunfight left two men dead and two police officers wounded.

Blacks hurled rocks at a minibus carrying former French Prime Minister Laurent Fabius near Cape Town's Crossroads shantytown Monday. Fabius later told reporters he and an aide were not hurt.

Later Monday, blacks stoned a delivery van in a black area of Cape Town, police said. A firebomb was hurled into the vehicle after it went out of control and crashed into a tree. Authorities said the driver was killed and a passenger suffered serious burns.

Police said they fired at a crowd at a mixed-race university campus near Cape Town after a car was attacked and set afire. A man was reported shot and wounded but police failed to detain him.

Army Kills Alleged Kidnapper

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI) — Government troops, according to an army statement, killed the leftist rebel commander who planned and carried out the kidnapping of President Jose Napoleon Duarte's daughter last year.

In another development, government sources confirmed that Guatemalan authorities have detained Lt. Carlos Alejandro Zaca and wealthy landowner Jorge Cornejo Arango, who fled the country after being implicated in a right-wing kidnapping ring.

Several military commanders have been detained but not charged in connection with five kidnappings of wealthy businessmen by military personnel posing as leftist guerrillas.

Libya Raid Called 'Senseless'

VIENNA, Austria (UPI) — Former Austrian Chancellor Bruno Kreisky, reputedly the closest Western contact of Col. Moammar Khadafy, called the U.S. air strike on Libya "senseless" and said it made Khadafy "the hero of the Third World."

Kreisky, chancellor of Austria from 1970 to 1983, said in an interview Monday that "it is possible to negotiate with Khadafy" and that the Libyan leader asked him to mediate the Gulf of Sidra dispute but Washington refused.

Kreisky criticized Washington's labeling of Khadafy as the source of all terrorism. "It is ridiculous to say Khadafy every time there is a terrorist attack," he said.

"There are hundreds and hundreds of terrorist groups and he is only one among many others," Kreisky said.

...City

Commissioners have also not shut the door on a challenge of the state edict. However, acting on cautionary words from City Manager Frank Falson, before filing the appeal of the Department of Environmental Regulation's ruling to cease lake disposal, the city will try to find out if the state will react to the challenge by pulling the $7 million in grants and the assistance it is providing Sanford's efforts to secure land disposal sites.

Falson said the DER will do just that, especially in light of actions commissioners took Monday night to exercise purchase and lease options on nine potential waste disposal sites. The DER grants, as well as the necessary DER permits to dispose at the sites, "could very well vanish," if the challenge is pursued, according to Falson.

"The appeal could fly in the face of our relationship with the DER," he said.

Falson also reminded commissioners of the two years they have to comply with the DER edict and said the time could easily expire before resolution of any city challenge to the ruling.

Colbert recommended commissioners pursue the challenge, although he gave it a less than 50-50 chance for success. He said the recommendation was based on past attempts to overturn the mandate having been addressed by state agencies, whereas now, the most recent ruling against the city has freed it from the state hearing process and given it opportunity to be pursued in appellate court.

Knowles, who spearheaded the city's challenge of the edict a year ago, sided wholeheartedly with Colbert during Monday's commission meeting. He said the city must challenge the DER ruling to be able to address future disposal needs.

"I think it's necessary that the city have more than one plan (regarding effluent disposal)," Knowles said. "I hope you will tell your attorney (to file the appeal) so that you'll have the other alternative in your hip pocket."

Knowles also cited a bill before the state legislature which, if adopted, would perhaps bolster Sanford's appeal.

The measure would require the DER to consider the financial ramifications its mandated wastewater management programs hold for governmental entities before requiring their implementation and also place the burden of proof with the DER regarding the adverse impacts that effluent has on waterways, Simmons said.

Under present law, which the Sanford challenge addresses, the governmental entity is required to prove that its waterways are not adversely affected by effluent disposal.

According to Falson, however, the bill may not be adopted in time to assist Sanford's case and he said he believes the city can find land sites for disposal needs.

Commissioners struck an apparent compromise, directing counsel to draw up briefs for the appeal, although not to file them until the state's sentiments regarding the challenge can be discovered. The city has until May 22 to file the appeal and commissioners said they will vote on whether to proceed with it when they meet on May 12.

Also Monday night, commissioners allocated $9,000 to receive purchase options for five potential wastewater disposal properties and lease options for another four. The 90-day options will be used by the city to engage in further study of sites that city and DER engineers have conducted initial surveys at this year. The options do not bind the city to lease or purchase the sites, although they do bind the owners to relinquish the properties if the city determines them as being viable for its waste disposal program from both an economic and effluent disposal capacity standpoint.

Commissioners are already saying they oppose leasing any of the sites, which all carry 10-year terms, although they approved the lease options in order to enable staff to study the sites, if deemed suitable for the waste program, commissioners said they may offer to buy the properties.

All of the sites are all privately owned. Two lie east of the city, on either side of Lake Jesup, and seven are located west of the city, in orange grove areas between State Road 46 and Route 46A.

Although the properties west of the city are smaller and more expensive than those to the east, they have a high degree of effluent disposal capability for their size and could also be annexed into the city, Simmons said. All of the properties would require DER permits to be utilized for effluent disposal, and use of the eastern properties must also be approved by Seminole County, because these sites are not contiguous to Sanford and therefore could not be annexed into the city, Simmons said.

The possibility of difficulties in securing county approval was alluded to by commissioners, Simmons and Colbert.

Simmons also said preliminary studies at the eastern parcels indicate one may be able to accommodate all of Sanford's estimated seven million gallons of daily waste and the other, five million gallons of the city's waste.

Simmons has cautioned, however, of the possibility of a "severe" catch regarding these two alternate sites. He said while he has been working with representatives from one DER department to study disposal capabilities at the properties, another of the agency's offices has been promulgating new rules that may impose "severe restrictions" on their disposal capabilities.

Simmons said the city should know more about the new limitations later this spring.

County Does A Slow Burn

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

"We need relief pretty bad, it's been about six weeks since we had a good rain in Seminole County and we need at least two days downpour," Seminole County Agricultural Services Manager Uday Yadav said today.

The National Weather Service in Orlando predicts fair skies and no rain through Saturday. So far this month rainfall recorded at the Orlando International Airport weather station has been .49 inches or 1 1/2 inches below normal for April. The last measurable rainfall there was on April 13.

Yadav said the combination of temperatures in the upper 90s and lack of rainfall is hurting agriculture across the board as well as the home gardener. "People are having to water their home lawns, including the Bahia grass, which is a drought resistant grass. Those with St. Augustine grass who haven't been watering it over the past two weeks have lost it," Yadav said.

Ornamentals are also hurting and azaleas and trees are beginning to wilt, he said. Fern growers and vegetable growers are using a lot of water. Pasture land is not irrigated and depends entirely on rain. It is drying up and there is no new grass for the cattle. The cattle need water to cool down their body heat as well as to drink, he said.

Paul Moore, utilities director for the city of Sanford, said there has been a heavy demand for water in the last day or so due to the lack of rain, higher temperatures and the time change which gives people more daylight time in the evening for watering their yards.

"With no rain in sight and the hot weather, it is bound to get worse. There is only so much water and people should use common sense. They should do their watering in the evening hours when it is not sunny but avoiding the peak hours of 6-7 and 10-11 p.m.," Moore advised.

"Everyone should always try to conserve water because it saves them money as well as helping us," he added.

Jack Jones of the Florida Forestry Service's Longwood station said there's a "BBQ" burning ban at this time but because of the dry conditions and low humidity, he is asking people to postpone burning until after the next appreciable rainfall.

The Tallow Tree Shop For Wedding, Prom Attire

Are there wedding bells in your future or some other occasion that calls for formal attire? The Tallow Tree, a specialty consignment center for women, men and children that carries wedding gowns, formal wear and prom dresses can save you money.

A small, but growing, family business, The Tallow Tree was opened Jan. 2 by owner Carole Lutz.

Carole says she first came up with the idea after her daughter's wedding. "When it came time to sell my daughter's wedding gown," she explained, "I learned many consignment shops didn't accept wedding gowns, so I decided there is a need for a formal consignment shop."

The Tallow Tree has beautiful new and like-new consignment gowns. If you don't see something you like in stock, Carole will be glad to order your choice from the catalog.

Showings and fittings at the Tallow Tree are by appointment only so you can try on fashions in the privacy and relaxed atmosphere of Carole's home with her own personal attention.

Carole is now accepting wedding and formal fashions on consignment.

The drive out in the country to The Tallow Tree is worthwhile for
