HAWAIIANS PAY HONOR TO TWO U.S. ARMY MEN

Extensive Social Program Arranged For Lieutenant Hegenberger and Maitland
Government Heads Offer Felicitations
2 Fliers Overwhelmed By Numerous Invitations From Notables

HONOLULU, June 30.—(INS)—With all Hawaii anxious to honor them, Lieutenants Hegenberger and Maitland, who flew over the islands yesterday, were overwhelmed today by numerous invitations to a community luncheon.

Cable messages with their refusal to accept a newspaper offer for their personal stories, Maitland and Hegenberger showed no eagerness to capitalize financially upon their flight. They are not eligible to the $25,000 prize offered by James Dole, Hawaiian pineapple planter, as competition for the Dole prize will not begin until after August 12.

The outstanding event of the longest ocean flight in record, the fliers maintained, was their fruitless search for the sandwiches and coffee they had taken with them in the cabin of the big tri-motor Fokker. Upon arrival of the plane, the missing provisions were discovered under a bit of canvas. By that time, however, Maitland and Hegenberger had been without food for nearly 26 hours.

The fliers were slightly over the weight limit, in turn, given them trouble, and that one engine had stalled badly in the early morning hours.

Ignoring the opportunity for a remark to pass on to posterity, Hegenberger's first words were "I'm hungry." Maitland asked first for a cigarette.

Although they had relied principally upon their type "38" compass to steer them through the uncertainty, they were able to find their way to Honolulu.

Warden Snook Avers Gorman Theatrical Producer is Fast Approaching Normal Condition Under Physician's Care

ATLANTA, June 30.—(INS)—Pari Carroll, the Broadway theatrical producer, was reported today as having recovered the strength to walk and to take substantial food at the Atlanta federal penitentiary where he is serving a term for perjury in connection with his famous bathtub party.

Carroll was said by Warden Snook to be approaching rapidly a normal physical condition and to be recovering from the collapse into which he slumped while on the train enroute from New York to the city hospital at Greenville, S. C., to which he was borne from the train. Carroll was brought to Atlanta to begin his term two weeks ago.

"Ever since he has been an inmate of the penitentiary," said Warden Snook, "Carroll has eaten heartily, and now he is in good health, and normal in every particular, except for the invalid he appears to be in Greenville."

Carroll appears reconciled in his surroundings. His appetite is normal, during the last few days he has taken walks about the hospital yards, and in a short time, he will be able to leave his bed entirely, if the present progress continues.

Celerymen And The Hustlers Split Twin Bill Here On Tuesday

Visitors Take Opening Tilt Although Perry Allows Only 5 Hits; Wildness Is Costly Meyers In Superb Form In Nightcap

Portsider Sets League Lead ers Back With Only Six Hits WhiteMatesTake Advantage Of 2 Errors From Visitors

TAMPA Fla., June 29.—Domingo held the league leading Orlando Celts to six hits and no runs and Tampa won 3 to 0. The game was halted in the sixth inning on account of rain. Domingo struck out five Celts during the six innings. Three Orlando errors aided the Smokers to score.

Sanford and Miami divided a double bill Wednesday night at Tilt Park, the visitors winning the first affair and the local capturing the nightcap. In the first game, Perry, hurling for Sanford allowed the Hustlers only five hits but walked five men. Peel, tolling on the mound for the victors, was nicked for 31 safe blows but he was aided by fine fielding when the Celerymen threatened. In the second contest it was a case of too much Lefty Meyers for the Miami team, the local portsider letting down Knapp's crew with two hits.

Frishie and Pug Allen were the batting stars of the first game with Frishie collecting a triple and a single out of three trips and Allan getting a double and a single in four trips to the plate. Reese Allen also hit one for three bases but it availed him nothing as he had there while the next three batters were easy outs.

Rip Dunbar provided the fielding feature of the first game when he ran almost to the fence in left field to make a one-handed catch of Maloney's long foul. A minute later he ran way back to grab Casares' bid for a triple.

Frishie and Knapp also played great ball in the first and in the second. Frishie seemed to be on wings the way he was running around after pop flies and hard hit grounders. Knapp made several fine plays around second for the visitors.

In the first game Sanford scored in the first inning. Dunbar left with a single and Frishie advanced him with a perfect sacrifice. Bessley scored Frishie with a single to right. Sanford added another in the fourth when after Dunbar walked Frishie hit a screaming triple to left center. Frishie died on third as Bessley filed out to right. In the fourth Sanford added the last run when, after Pug Allen had doubled to right, Billy Meyers scored him with a tap to left.

Miami scored twice in the first without a hit and Miami reached second on a sacrifice. Foss hit to Frishie who threw to Crowe to catch Knapp. Crowe missed the throw and Knapp scored Foss taking second. Foss went to third as Frishie was missing Holloway's not grounder. Hayes hit a long sacrifice fly to right and Foss scored. Miami added another in the fourth when Casares singled to center, was advanced by a sacrifice and scored on Knapp's blow to center.

NIBLACK TWIRLS TIGHT GAME FOR CHRISTIAN TEAM

Turns Back Methodists In One Of Best Games Seen During Present Season; Ray Fox Is Star At Bat For Victors

Ray Fox and Leonard Niblack were too much for the Methodist yesterday and the talented Christian team defeated the league leading Methodists, 2 to 1. Niblack, Christian team ball artist, allowed but three hits, while his mates were getting on McCall for enough hits to win the game. Fox, Christian first sacker, had a perfect day at bat collecting two hits out of two attempts and one of his hits going for two sacks. Tillis also hit for two bases.

The Methodists scored first, counting in the second without a hit. McCall walked and took second and third on outs. Tillis let one go through him and McCall counted.

The Christians counted in the fourth when Knapp was hit by McCall, went to second on an out and they are out of the running, and the winning marker went over in the fifth when L. Tillis doubled and counted when his brother singled.

This game puts the Methodists in a bad fix. They must beat the Baptist to tie for first place and if they lose to the Baptists today, they are out of the running, and the Baptist and Presbyterians will have to play off the seven game series to determine the winner of the league championship.

Summary: Two base hits, Fox, L. Tillis. Base on balls off Niblack, off Knapp 1. Struck out by Niblack 3; by Knapp 1. Hit by pitcher: by Niblack (Lambkin). Passed balls: Tillis. Umpire: Muse. Time: 1:00.

Celerymen Bolster Club For Start Of Second Half In Florida State League

With the opening of the second half in the Florida State League scheduled for Thursday, the Sanford club is preparing to bolster its hurling staff and otherwise get in shape for the grind that is to come, according to an announcement made this morning by Floyd Palmer, president of the City Baseball Commission.

"Lefty" McClanahan of Eastis, who had a brief, but hectic, trial with Mobile in the Southern Association, is to join the club tomorrow and is expected to become a regular member of the mound staff.

McClanahan is known as the strikeout king of Florida baseball, having set a record of 19 in fast amateur company. His stay at Mobile lasted only a few days, an alleged fistie encounter with his manager having caused a breach that could not be healed.

With Herman, otherwise known as "Lefty", Meyers going like a trans-oceanic aviator, and with George Cusack and Ferguson certain fixtures in Dr. Palmer's scheme of things it looks as though the pitching in the second half would do most of the time what it failed to do some of the time in the past several weeks. Crowe is bringing West Perry and Emmet Stout along and one of the two will get to stay.

"Mutt" Riddies and Reese Allen are looked upon as the solution to the backstopping problem. Riddies performed on the home lot yesterday for the first time and was well liked by the fans, which counts a whole lot on this ball club. In his debut, Riddies showed that he is a peppy boy behind the bat. His manager will next come in for close scrutiny.

Everywhere else around the diamond and in the outer pastures the club looks like the champion-ship crew it was in 1926. The whole company is performing in big time style.

One major worry is Pug Allen. Something is liable to keep him away after the next week or two. What the rub is no one can find out, but a determined effort is to be made within the next few days to get him tied to the club for the balance of the season. No slip knots wanted either.

That gave the other fellow a chance to beat you to the punch," scolded Leo Dempsey readily admitted the fault.

Byrd Strikes Lindbergh-Chamberlin Trail

The three-motored "America," her crew headed by Commander Richard E. Byrd of North Pole fame, sailed away this morning from Roosevelt Field, Long Island, on the air trail to Europe. Here is a photograph of the "America's" characteristic take-off.

Byrd Rapidly Nears Goal After Battle With Cold Weather

(Continued from Page One) position report, W. T. W. (The America's radio sending signal.) The America's radio was in constant touch with ships as it passed over the ocean, and with the wireless stations on the continent when it reached Europe. French Cable Company advices received in New York late today indicated that the America might not reach Paris until as late as 7 o'clock this evening, New York time. Byrd apparently circled around somewhat after leaving Brest. Byrd was flying at an altitude of 2,500 feet as he soared over Brest. The weather was sultry and stormy, although at this stage the winds were with him. Earlier in the day over the ocean and trying to escape storm and fog, flew at an altitude of 10,000 feet "through a freezing fog."

A huge thunder waited at Le Bourget field eager to see the arrival of the flyers and, according to Paris advices, a great reception awaited them. NEW YORK, June 30.—(INS)—Battling bravely against ocean winds, rain lowering clouds and heavy fog, the giant silver and gold monoplane America was roaring toward the coast of Ireland this morning on its spectacular non-stop flight from New York to Paris. At 9 o'clock this morning, Commander Richard E. Byrd and his three companions were about 600 miles from the Irish coast and averaging 100 miles an hour. The liner Berlin, ploughing its way across the Atlantic, distinctly heard the automatic radio signal of the America, "W.T.W." It was very cloudy and the Berlin could not see the monoplane nor establish radio communication with her. This did not indicate the America's radio apparatus was not working, however, as the radio expert aboard, Lieut. George A. Noville, may have decided to ignore some of the many calls flashed to him from ships at sea. That the intrepid fliers are expecting thrills on their flight over the fog-laden ocean was indicated by a radio message received at Roosevelt Field. The message signed by Commander Byrd said that "whatever happens he would 'take off' his hat to the three men who are with him. "We have seen neither land nor water since 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon," Byrd reported. "Everything completely covered with fog for 16 hours."

The message was received by the liner Drothingham and radiated to the hangar at Roosevelt field. Last messages from the America indicate that Byrd is flying about 90 miles south of the great circle course that he had planned to follow. The America at its present rate of speed should reach the coast of Ireland about 3 o'clock this afternoon. New York daylight saving time, and is no mishap occurs should alight at Le Bourget flying field at Paris between 6 and 7 o'clock tonight. New York daylight saving time. European advices indicate Byrd will have to battle adverse conditions to the very end. The air ministry at London issued a weather forecast predicting rain over most of the British Isles. Early today the America established wireless contact with Ireland. The monoplane communicated with the wireless station at Mull Head, on the extreme northwest coast of Ireland. Later during the forenoon several ships at sea reported that they had heard the signals from the America. Also, the wireless station at Valentia, Ireland, reported at 6:30 o'clock Greenwich Mean Time, that they had picked up a message from the plane in which Byrd said the America was passing through heavy fog. The steady buzzing of the America by ship past sea was optimistic news to the little band of faithful well-wishers huddled about the radio at Roosevelt Field. Advices concerning the flight were communicated to Mrs. Byrd who had departed to her home in Boston. Mrs. Acosta, wife of Bert Acosta, the pilot, and Mrs. Noville eagerly read every scrap of radio news as it was given to them in the "radio room" of the Garden City Hotel. "They'll make it," was the consensus at Roosevelt field. Shortly after 10 o'clock this morning, Byrd flashed a message which was relayed to Roosevelt Field saying that at 7 A. M. the America's position was 49:33 N. Latitude, 18:18 W. Longitude, and that the plane was flying at an altitude of 10,000 feet, in a dense freezing fog. This would place the America about 370 miles from Ireland but considerably south of the original line of flight. Byrd at this point was only a direct line from Lands End the southern tip of England and below Ireland. Radio messages from the America became less frequent after the plane passed beyond Newfoundland, yet the automatic signals that were supposed to be of a comparatively short range were heard on the coast here by the Chatham station of Radio Corporation of America and at the station of Mull Head in Ireland. The Chatham station reported when the plane was 1,000 miles out that the signals were coming "loud enough to knock your head off." This scientific expedition was commemorating the value of radio communication in a trans-Atlantic flight. Word from Byrd that he was in "a freezing dense fog" as he neared Ireland was regarded with some misgivings, as one of the things most feared by the fliers was the accumulation of frost on the wide wings of the plane which might force them down in the ocean. If forced to descend in the water, the fliers would take to the two rubber boats which they have aboard. These boats would be blown up as they were falling, and two men would take to each boat as they dropped upon the water. The boats contain enough concentrated food to keep them alive until picked up by ships at sea. Before he left Byrd's last words were that weather conditions were not ideal but that he hoped to make the best of conditions. That he knew what he was talking about has already been shown. The plane entered a dense fog after leaving Bradford, 10 miles from Halifax and has been battling fogs and adverse winds practically ever since. A forced landing at sea was regarded as improbable by Byrd. He said the chances are 10 to one against it. Should it be forced to descend, Noville would immediately change the automatic radio signal from "W.T.W." to "SOS."

Byrd would seize two small bundles from the tail of the ship. In the bundles are the rubber rafts. They could be blown up with compressed air. In each raft are two small oars. Tucked away in one of the rafts is a small waterproof radio emergency set weighing but 10 pounds. It has a code-sending push-button and a sending apparatus of 20 to 30 miles. A brightly-colored six foot collapsible kit supports the antenna. It also serves as a sail for the raft and a position marker for rescue ships. In one of the rafts, Commander Byrd's is a pistol for firing rockets to signal ships looking for the fliers. There is enough pemmican, a concentrated food, to last six weeks. LE BOURGET FLYING FIELD, PARIS, June 30.—With a fair-sized crowd assembling to witness the arrival of the tri-motored monoplane America, which is making a non-stop flight from New York to Paris, the police tonight took impressive measures to prevent a repetition of the scenes that were enacted when Charles A. Lindbergh hopped here from New York last month. A squadron of mounted police lined the roads outside the airport and a battalion of municipal guards barred all points of access to the flying field. In addition, a strong force of police scrutinized the credentials of everyone entering the airport. It had been announced that the public would not be admitted in any part of the airfield.

Walker Knocks Out Milligan In London (Continued from page one) the ropes but quickly recovering fell into a clinch and in a few moments was fighting back gamely. The bell ended a great rally in which fists were flying in all directions. Milligan's round. THIRD ROUND Milligan proceeded to beat Mickey to the punch in another series of fast exchanges but the American was finding his fighting feet now and, laying back for the counter, he drove both hands to Milligan's body ever time the Scotsman landed. At the bell, Milligan obviously was feeling the effect of Walker's body punching. Walker's round. FOURTH ROUND Both apparently were tiring under the hot pace and, after a minute of hard battling, in which Milligan held a slight lead, Walker proceeded to clinch. The crowd didn't appreciate the American's tactics here and roundly booed him. The round was a scene of intensive infighting in which neither man could gain an advantage. Round even. FIFTH ROUND The lads went to boxing as the round opened and apparently this much to Walker's liking, in any case, he slipped Milligan's leads with his head and came in close for three booming rights to the stomach and Milligan went to his corner well aware of the fact. Walker's round by a shade. SIXTH ROUND Walker settled down to the pace again in this round and his counter punches hurt Tommy every time they landed, which was too often for the Scot. The latter came back with a rush that was almost demoralizing in its ferocity but Walker met him toe to toe and more than held his own.—Walker's round. SEVENTH ROUND Walker came into his own as soon as the bell rang, rushing from his corner with battering rights and lefts. Tommy fought back with frenzy but suddenly was dropped for a count of nine with a hard right hand. The Scotsman got up dazed and again was knocked down for a long count. He was in bad shape when he got to his feet but clutched Mickey in a dying embrace, cleared his head of the cobwebs and at the bell was fighting back gamely, if not to great effect.—Walker's round. EIGHTH ROUND Mickey came dashing out with the sound of the bell and scored with a beautiful left hook to the jaw. He then tore in close to bombard Milligan's body with left and rights but Tommy broke away and, stepping around rapidly, proceeded to massage Mickey's countenance with a series of precise left hands.—Round even. NINTH ROUND Heated by his showing in the preceding round, Milligan came out full of fight and attempted to carry the pace to Mickey. The latter's reply was a terrific right uppercut to the jaw, dropping Milligan to the floor. He arose in a fair-ly good shape, only again to be sent to the floor with another uppercut. A third dropped him again near the close of the round but the game Scot, by backtracking and holding, managed to last until the bell. Tenth Round Milligan hardly was able to stand erect as he was pushed out of his corner and some of the crowd, sensing the end, began to move toward the exits. Feigning for the body, Walker suddenly brought up his left to the mouth and Milligan felt like a stricken bullock. But he was game to the core and again managed to struggle erect before the fatal ten. It was a wasted effort, however, as Walker cool and collected, again measured his man with a left and deposited him on the canvas. This was the last time, Milligan's seconds throwing in the towel before the referee could complete the count. Milligan was so badly battered that he needed medical attention before he left his corner.

"I am sure that he will make it. If little Dick takes it into his head to go some place, he usually gets there. Mrs. Byrd's net name for Byrd is "Little Dick." "Little Dick always promised to take me for a ride in his plane but he never has. He is afraid I might faint or something like that. When he was a little fellow his aunt dared him to go to the grave yard at night. He was just 11 years old but he went out one night walked around the graveyard three times and came home as cool as ever. When he was 12 he went around the world by himself. THE HERALD'S PROGRAM: Economy in city and county administration, deeper water routes to Jacksonville, construction of St. Johns indiar river canal.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY: A GREAT PRAYER: Let not them that wait on thee, O Lord God, of hosts, be ashamed for my sake.

MELLIFLOUS WORDS: The sweetest words we know by heart, are written thus: "Enclosed find check."

We like the ones that end like this: "Lovingly, Enclosed find kiss."

Sweet music to some these afford: "My wife has left, My room and board."

With great delight all like to hear: "This from the wife, 'I love you, dear'."

A lot of these puffed up fellows are really flat liras. Have you made your plans for the Fourth of July? Neither have we.

So far they haven't blamed prohibition for the chicken crossing the road. Mutt Riddle seems to have solved the catching riddle that has been worrying Lee Crowe.

Any old rooster can make a noise but it takes a blond to put the quietus on him. The Snokers are here for a while, but it's our Celerymen who are going to do the smoking out.

"We've been thinking," says an exchange. We thought newspaper-thing rash like that. Wonder when the state egg contest will get under way. They ought to stage it this summer so we can forget the heat.

Congress will discuss the Muscle Shoals question at the next session says a news story. What we want is action on it, not discussion. Doc Opre, owner of the Tampa Snokers is kicking about the attendance at the ball games in that city. It wouldn't hurt if the attendance perked up a little bit here.

A lot of people talk just to be talking and without knowing what they are talking about. Sanford Herald: Yes, and a lot more talk without caring what they talk about—or who—Tampa Times.

Why are you spending the summer in Florida? asks the Gulf Stream in the Tampa Tribune. Well, nine hundred and ninety-nine reasons for our staying here that we haven't the money to go elsewhere.

Success seems to have attended Mayor Lake's visit to New York. Sanford has never failed to come through, especially after the powers that be review Sanford's record in the past, and visualize Sanford's future.

Rejoicing With Canada

On the eve of the sixtieth anniversary of the union of the British colonies of North America, the Dominion of Canada is prepared to observe one of the greatest events in its history. The celebration, beginning Friday and continuing through Sunday, will assume gigantic proportions because the country was prevented by the World War from observing the semicentennial of the confederation in 1917.

While the jubilee will be appropriately observed in every province and while there will be colorful celebrations in every town, the great national celebration will be staged at Ottawa, where an elaborate program of entertainment has been arranged so that thousands of Canadians and visitors from all over the world may join together in paying tribute to a great government.

As Canada celebrates its sixtieth birthday, the occasion should be observed by the United States whose relations with its neighbor to the north have been most cordial and friendly. These two countries, which have become so close to each other, have found real affection for each other in the solving of their common problems and in the promotion of their commercial activities.

Not only have the two countries been knit together by the closest relations in trade and governmental affairs, but as the New York Times points out, "these relations have grown up between individual Americans and Canadians, between their banks and countries, their explorers and developers, and our own. The resultant ties are in some ways stronger than any due simply to governmental action."

The cordial feelings existing between Canada and the United States should continue in the future, and nothing should be allowed to arise that would in any way tend to disrupt the friendship of the two powers.

Let The Farmers Take Stock

How to attain success in the several lines of endeavor has been the message of numerous suggestions that have been handed down from time to time by persons more or less in a position to know. Oftentimes there is much common sense in these suggestions and for that reason there is something to be gained by reading them.

- 1. Grow only one crop. 2. Keep no live stock. 3. Regard chickens and a garden as nuisances. 4. Take everything from the soil and return nothing. 5. Don't stop gullies or grow cover crops—let the top soil wash away, then you will have "bottom" land.

The above rules are somewhat different from the usual ones in that they are suggestions as to how to attain failure rather than success. However, it was for the purpose of making more impressive the lesson of what must be done to make a successful farm that the professors in the agricultural college of Tennessee chose to make these rules in the form of negative instruction.

We were thinking what an interesting study it would be for the individual farmer if he would take this list of rules and find out whether he is making mistakes. It is with the hope that some who perhaps, have been blind to their errors, may profit by these suggestions that we pass them on to readers of The Herald.

THE HORSE LAUGH

Florida's Everglades, for years a subject of inspiration for the after-dinner and plain platform speakers, providing an issue in legislative sessions and used constantly as a football by state politicians, is about to suffer the crowning ignominy of becoming King John's stepping stone to an announcement for the United States senate, it appears.

In laying down his latest verbal barrage at Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, Governor Martin had this to say: "If the Florida senator cannot obtain federal action in behalf of reclamation of the Everglades it is high time the people of the state sent some one to Washington who can obtain action."

THEY WILL MOVE

The most alarming aspect of the situation is the fact that what has been uncovered in Tampa exists in other cities of Florida—especially in Key West, Miami and Jacksonville. These Florida ports are infested with liquor and dope smugglers and it has been found that the number of dope addicts is increasing at an appalling rate.

As Brisbane Sees It

Off For Honolulu. Prosperity's Thin Spots. Tying The Lamb's Leg. Cutting Railroad Time. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

LIEUTENANT MAITLAND, pilot, and Lieutenant Hegenberger, navigator, yesterday morning left the great Oakland airport in a three-motored Fokker plane, bound for Honolulu.

LINDBERGH AND Chamberlin have encouraged flying. Corporations and private individuals that appropriate time values have taken to the air.

Standard Oil of Indiana officials fly from one city to another in an all-metal three-engine plane built by Henry Ford.

William Randolph Hearst has ordered from Fokker a three-motor plane similar to the one that started for Hawaii yesterday. Mr. Hearst will use his machine between Los Angeles and San Francisco, and his ranch at San Simeon, half way between.

THIS COUNTRY IS marvelously prosperous, no other country with it. There are thin spots in the prosperity. Mrs. Marie Freeman thought so yesterday, sitting in the kitchen with her five children close to her, the oldest, 10, the baby, Joseph, on her lap. The father had been killed by an automobile. No damages.

Mrs. Freeman, who had been told the children must go to an asylum, turned on the gas. She was found sitting in the chair with the baby on her lap, the four other children on the floor beside her—all dead.

A LITTLE LAMB on the grassy mead stops leaping and gamboling when you tie a rope around his hind leg.

Your little lamb gamboling on the Wall street ticker shudders and stops his gamboling when "big people," deciding that he has gone far enough, put up the price of "call money" with which stock speculation is done.

THE BIG FOLKS THOUGHT the Wall street ticker needed a rest yesterday and put "call money" to 5 per cent, which is like putting a barrel of cracked ice into a man's hot bath. It is not only when prices go down that big folks get what they want at the right price.

INTELLIGENT Railroad Men know that competition is coming. Yesterday morning Samuel Klein started from Chicago for Los Angeles by motor, promising to cut seven hours from the railroad schedule time. His road will be 100 miles longer than that of the railroad.

REAL COMPETITION will come with flying traffic beginning next August, cutting 33 hours from the best railroad time of 63 hours. Railroads will have time to meet the competition. Flying passengers will be comparatively few at first.

SIR ROBERT CECIL, of Great Britain, and Viscount Ishii, of Japan, hold a secret conference, and Uncle Sam's "observer," as you guess, was not in it. Cecil and Ishii will decide what Japan and Britain want. When that is settled they will tell Uncle Sam what he is to do, and he probably will do it. That's what happened last time.

Little Red Riding Hood's visit to her grandmother was no sadder than Uncle Sam going to a conference with Britain and Japan.

A QUARTER OF A MILLION Britishers will travel north to see the total eclipse of the sun this morning. And scientists have engaged seven-passenger airplanes to take them above the clouds, in case the latter should interfere with the day's event.

Two airplanes are booked by ordinary passengers paying $50 a seat. They really fly in England.

MANITOBA, RID of Prohibition, now opposes the rule that compels them to take their beer home in bottles. They want to buy and drink it by the glass, alleging that "sociability" helps digestion and cheers the soul.

YOU WILL KNOW TODAY or tomorrow the decision of voters. In New Zealand a law was passed largely by women, compelling men to bring the bottle home and drink it there. A little later women voted to go back to the old plan. They found "solitary" drinking not a success.

TOM SIMS SAYS

When you buy on time be sure to pay that way. Baseball isn't such a simple game after all. There's usually a catch in it.

The G. O. P. has put the soft pedal on all third-term talk. Here's a suggestion: Why not call it the non-stop presidential record.

A woman who has had eight husbands attributes her matrimonial success to her cooking ability. We do not like to question her.

George Washington sponsored aeronautics, the historians now reveal. Surely he sent a whole British army up in the air.

Eight golfers out of ten are married, according to the statisticians. Maybe that's what they mean when they talk about hazards.

Sanford Takes Final From Hustlers And Finish In 4th Place

Stout Is Victor Over Barron And Visitors Are Sent Home With Short End Of Series

Meyers, Cusack And Crowe Star

Fourth Inning Is One In Which Miami Got Its First Score

Sanford scored four runs in the first inning to defeat Miami in the last game of the series here yesterday. The final score was 7 to 3. Barron, Miami hurler, pitched good ball with the exception of two innings, the first and eighth. He allowed the Celerymen but six hits. Walks and errors by his team mates proved disastrous. Stout received good support until the last inning when Frisbie erred twice to allow a run to score.

Dunbar started things off in the first by taking a walk. Frisbie followed him by taking four straight balls. Beasley sacrificed to advance both runners and he was safe when Knapp dropped the throw to first to catch Beasley off first and Holloway missed the ball. Dunbar scored on the play. Cusack beat out an infield hit and all hands were safe. Crowe popped out to Foss. Billy Messer, with the hit on an on-swinged to right and Frisbie and Beasley dented the men Cusack stopping at third. Cusack scored as Knapp was throwing Beasley out at first. Allen ended the inning by grounding to Knapp.

Miami came back in the fourth to score twice. Maloney walked and went to third as Casares doubled over Dunbar's head. Reeves singled and Maloney scored, while Casares, who had both scored, went to third after the ball hit the ground and went safe when Crowe dented a perfect throw from Cusack. Frisbie forced Reeves out at second but Knapp scored Casares with a long sacrifice fly to center.

In the eighth the Miami infield blew in and Sanford scored three runs. Beasley was safe when Foss erred on his grounder. Cusack singled to right and Beasley took third. Crowe then hit one which went for two bases and Cusack scored from first as Beasley walked. Meyer singled to right and Alley hit to Knapp who threw to second forcing Meyer. Crowe forcing. Allen ended the rally by going out. Knapp to Holloway.

After one was out in the ninth Miami scored when Frisbie made two wild throws to first. Beasley was safe on second when Frisbie threw his grounder away. Knapp

Prince Of Wales Will Witness Bout Between Walker And Milligan

LONDON, June 30.—(INS)—High society, including at least one member of the royal family—the Prince of Wales—will witness the 12-round fight for the world's middleweight championship between Tommy Milligan, of Scotland, and Mickey Walker, of the American title-holder at the Olympic stadium tonight.

Walker was a slight favorite in the betting although some wagers were posted at even money. Both men are confident.

"I am going to do my best and I have no fear of the result," said Walker.

"I believe I will win for I never felt better," said Milligan.

St. Harry Lander, the Scottish, for his fellow countryman. The American will be on hand to cheer. Lee receipts are estimated at more than $300,000.

Attention To Tires Means Big Saving, Says Local Dealer

Many motorists now realize that just putting a tire on a car and not having any further attention to it is such the waste as operating an auto without a thought for proper or all-essential tire development.

According to Mr. Peterson of the Sanford Tire Shop, Firestone dealer in Sanford, the way to get the most mileage and best service from tires is to have them looked like the old adage about "an ounce of time," a little care will often prevent serious loss of the mileage.

This tread should be inspected for cuts and holes, and any small repairs needed should be made promptly.

It is important to have the wheels aligned and the proper air pressure maintained, if motor-

Jack's General Department In Training Camp Is Much Better Than Last Summer

There are no soap to shoe away intruders and there are no intruders

Yesterday Jack seized a baseball bat and hit some fungoes and then engaged in a game of leapfrog with several friends. Charley Murray, Buffalo promoter, got in the game when he tried to clean Dempsey's back. Jack raised up and spilled Charley on the grass.

These things are mentioned to show the frame of mind Dempsey is in these days. He isn't worrying that's the cure. He feels that he put his physical condition to a thorough test before he left California and accepted the Sharkey fight. It is a question now of turning up his boxing and retaining his punch.

Several more experts dropped to camp and all were impressed by Jack's hitting and his efforts to match the speed of his sparring partners.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, N. Y., June 30.—(INS)—Comparisons of last August and today are being made here now and a few of the expert observers dispute the fact that Jack's general department, in mid out of the ring, is much better than it was a year ago. For one thing Dempsey isn't pushed about by body guards, confined to quarters and on the lookout for trouble as he was when he came back here to train for Sharkey. The crowd down around Laguna Dempsey would come swinging down from his bungalow, he was nervous and alert as he passed through the wooded precincts where process serves of the sheriff are busy with all strangers as a result of these encounters. That again is not upon him now.

Sparring Partners Of Jack Equipped With Chest Guards

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, N. Y., June 30.—Leo Flynn, in charge of Jack Dempsey's training camp here, equipped the former heavyweight champion's sparring partners with baseball chest protectors today. Flynn doesn't want to be hitting new sparring partners every day, so the middleweights and welterweights who are working with Dempsey will wear wild pads that can be blown up to soften Jack's jolts to the body.

For his second day of boxing Dempsey lightened the workout to four rounds with the gloves and three on the punching bags. Although he warned up slowly Dempsey brought a wicked punch into play in the first round when he doubled up Carl Carter with heavy lefts to the stomach. Carter worked only one round but was so badly winded that he had to sit down to take off his gloves.

Martin Burke then spoiled Dempsey on for another round and the big fellow was going good when he faced Allentown, Joe Gans. Against Gans he stayed in close and hit short, light punches.

Jimmy McCullin, middleweight, stopped the fourth round and was badly used up in three minutes of gas exchangers. A left to the body and a short right to the head almost dropped McCullin and Dempsey eased up toward the finish.

We can recite to you the advantages of Chrysler '70's speed of 70 miles plus, its astonishing pick-up of 5 to 25 miles in 7 1/4 seconds.

We can tell you what its scientifically balanced 7-bearing crankshaft and impulsive neutralizer contribute toward its greater smoothness; how much more comfortably you ride because of its low chassis design, its unique spring suspension and its shock absorbers; how much more easily it handles because of its pivotal steering gear; and how much safer you feel because of its four-wheel hydraulic brakes.

But the real way for you actually to discover these things for yourself is to learn them today in an extended test over all sorts of roads, through all sorts of traffic, with you doing the driving.

We gladly accord you the opportunity for such a demonstration.

You Can't Make a Good Ginger Ale Overnight

CLICQUOT CLUB is a veritable vintage that stimulates the senses and satisfies the natural craving for a pure, delicious drink.

The connoisseur who tests a rare old beverage bases his verdict on four cardinal considerations—Color, Bouquet, Flavor and Body.

Lifting to the light a glass of Clicquot Club Ginger Ale, first of all he sees a sparkling glow; next he whiffs a subtle fragrance born of the perfect blending of the fruit flavors—orange, lemon, lime, and the choicest ginger root from Jamaica—a bouquet of alluring aroma.

The first taste tells a story of flavor, which represents the devoted cooperation of skilled craftsmen with the mellowing powers of Time.

And, like fine wine, Clicquot Club has body, which comes into being through the intermingling of the right proportions of sweetening and flavor, plus aging, which supplies that indefinable quality so highly appreciated.

Based on the virgin water of a natural spring, and containing ingredients whose quality is higher than the highest government standards, Clicquot Club is unique in its purity.

Your choice—the rich Golden, or the delicate Pale Dry—and you have the ultimate in a pure, exhilarating drink.
