VOL. 56 United Press Leased Wire Established 1908 FRI., SEPTEMBER 25, 1964 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 286

Wanna know sompin? We're being surveyed.

When you mention "survey," the inclination is to visualize a group of men with steel tape, rod and transit. And taking a peep through the transit they set up many different kinds of lines. In fact, some of the survey party frequently have pretty good lines themselves, if we are to accept the statements of some of the opposite sex that have had occasion to get acquainted with these tanned toreadors.

But there is another survey in which many, many progressive citizens are most interested. That is the engineering feasibility survey that the City Fathers authorized for our lakefront development. Be assured the "Bankers Group," especially, are eager to learn the outcome of this survey — where nary a transit is used. These fellows feel confident that the results of the comprehensive study will hear out the conclusion made from the fragmentary reports on which they made their plea for the city's wholehearted effort to transform our lake front into the outstanding inland harbor of the state.

The firm doing the work can really feel that they are fortunate in being able to observe this area under flood stage conditions for which adequate provisions may be recommended in their report.

Should the survey indicate that this Marina-motel-restaurant idea is possible, practical from the engineering standpoint, it is quite logical that immediate plans for fulfilling the dream of progress can be formed. This well might include an economic survey to establish the financial potential of the plan. And here we go on ANOTHER type survey.

Oh, we're being surveyed, all right! And isn't it just wonderful that we're moving forward!

In the very near future our area will come under the practical eyes of another team of surveyors. This one will represent the State Board of Education and will be seeing just how really seriously we need a Junior College in our county.

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce's Long Range Planning Committee members are strong in their belief that this survey will heartily endorse the dire NEED for this immediate educational facility. It will show how well it can serve in handling the wave of high school graduates that prefer, from a financial angle as well as the academic wisdom, getting two years of schooling and senior college.

In this age of intellectual growth there are untold scores of adults who will welcome the chance to take additional "schooling." This adult education phase of the Junior College will present a challenge that will astonish the survey crew, the Long Range Planners believe.

So, it looks like the report of THAT survey crew should be positive, too.

Scripps-Howard Backs Johnson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Scripps-Howard Newspapers today announced their support of Lyndon B. Johnson for president.

An editorial published in the 17 Scripps-Howard newspapers said the times called for proven qualities of leadership "and this paramount consideration in our opinion, makes Mr. Johnson a natural choice."

It was the first time the Scripps-Howard newspapers had endorsed a Democrat for president since they supported Franklin D. Roosevelt for reelection in 1936.

Water Supply Of Longwood Called Safe

By Donna Estes
Longwood Mayor A. R. Lormann and Council Chairman R. C. Carlson were authorized today to release a statement to The Herald from Gordon Folke, Orlando, regional engineer for the State Board of Health, which states that Longwood's city water supply is absolutely safe.

Folke said, "Water samples from the city's wells are regularly furnished to the state health department and have on every occasion proved to be absolutely safe. If at any time the water did not pass the bacterial test the city would be notified immediately and the residents duly advised. Analyses of the water showed that bacterial count is less than the one per one million parts of water. There is no indication of effluent pollution from septic tanks and no detergents appear."

Lormann and Carlson explained again that from all information available, solids that appear in the water from time to time are due to its mineral contents and do not have an injurious effect from a health standpoint.

A portion of a letter from the Sanford engineering firm of Leffler, Clark and Dietz, a firm which encourages installation of municipal sewage systems, dated Sept. 4, of this year and quoted by the mayor and council chairman states: "The water analysis done on the city's water Sept. 4 shows excellent quality and no bacterial pollution at this time."

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Florida Public Utilities Commission refused today to order an investigation of rates set by Florida Power and Light Co.

Firm Balks At 'Curbs' On Management

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union and General Motors Corp. today failed to reach agreement on a new three year contract and the union called a strike by more than 260,000 workers at 89 GM plants across the country.

The union left on the job nearly 90,000 workers at 11 plants that produce either key defense parts or vital components for auto firms in the first "selective strike" in auto-labor history.

The GM strike came after the union had already won 54 cent an hour contracts from Ford and Chrysler and was triggered by non-economic issues.

Official word of the strike came 30 minutes after the 10 a. m. EST deadline.

UAW President Walter Reuther said it was with "a great sense of sadness we have to announce we were unable to reach a settlement with GM."

The red-haired union leader told a jammed news conference that a strike was called because GM was "unwilling to meet the standards of decency demanded by workers."

The major stumbling blocks were production standards and union representation—regarded as non-economic problems.

Reuther said the company did not respond the way they should have in light of earlier agreements with Ford and Chrysler. The union sought to make these agreements a pattern for the GM contract. GM said it was willing to match the economic benefits of the other contracts but the two sides never did resolve what Reuther called a "broad question of working conditions."

"GM can resume production any time they want," he said, "if they do sit down and provide the respect and dignity for the workers."

GM Vice President Louis G. Stenton said the strike against his firm was "completely unnecessary and unjustified."

He warned that if the strike is prolonged it will "have serious consequences for our employees, and their families, for our plant communities and for the public and the economy at large."

Stenton said that in the last 16 years "our differences have been composed at the bargaining table in five successive negotiations." He said it was "difficult to understand" why the union broke off negotiations and went on strike "because substantial progress towards resolution of our differences have been made at the bargaining table."

He said GM "made every effort" to settle the non-economic issues. But he accused the union of making demands which would have restricted GM's management responsibility and therefore "we are not prepared to accede to such ungrounded demands. . . ."

Seminole Open Home Football Season Tonight

The SIS Seminoles open their home football season tonight as hosts to the Colonial Grenadiers in a Metro Conference contest at Sanford Memorial Stadium. The game will get under way at 8 p. m.

The Herald was advised shortly before noon today that some 2,000 fans are expected to accompany the Colonial team to Sanford. Principal Andrew Bracken and Athletic Director Fred Ganas announced that an extra ticket office would be set up at the Stadium but advised fans to purchase advance tickets at the high school or at Roumillat & Anderson, Touchton, Liggett or McKeynolds drugstores.

The Oviedo Lions will host Crescent City at John Courier Field in Oviedo and the Lyman Greyhounds travel to Ocoee in other county high school games.

Dr. Roberts LBJ Chairman

Dr. W. Vincent Roberts of Sanford has been named chairman for Seminole County in the Democratic Campaign for President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The appointment was announced at state headquarters by Thomas F. Fleming Jr., state chairman for the campaign.

A native of Georgia, Dr. Roberts has been a resident of Seminole County for 14 years. He is chairman of the Sanford Civil Service Board, past Grand Knight for Seminole County Knights of Columbus, married and the father of three children.

A wartime flight surgeon in the Navy, he is still in the active reserve.

He was out of the city when the appointment was announced, but he had made it clear to friends that he is "all out" for the President Johnson campaign and ready to serve "in any capacity."

"I don't know Dr. Roberts personally, but I know that he gets things done—and that's what we want right now," said Fleming. "We are delighted to have him with us in the campaign."

Response To 1965 Autos 'Pleasing'

"Real good." "Very pleased." "Steady crowd." "Oh, man, going fine." "Lots of action." These are some of the comments made to The Herald this morning after the 1965 edition of the automobile industry was put on display in Sanford.

The general opinion was that response this year exceeded that of many previous years. A number of sales and orders was reported in virtually every instance.

Bill Hemphill Motors termed the turnout "real good" and said he was "very pleased with the response and reception of our new lines. We've got people everywhere."

Hemphill added that his firm "has written several orders" and interest is "the highest in many years."

Ed Hunt, sales manager of Hunt Lincoln Mercury, reports interest "keen, better than all summer." He reported a steady crowd and a bigger turnout than last year. Several deliveries have been made and some orders taken.

Hunt said the fact his company is able to offer all its models at one time contributed to the heavy response.

Dave Tomlinson of Holler Motors labeled the response "more than last year." He added the crowds kept coming until well after 9:30 last night and "we almost had to run them out."

Seminole Motors reported "quite a bit of activity" and said interest was "above our expectations." The spokesman reported interest remains high in the 1964 models and several had been sold during the day.

Gary Hudgins of Strickland-Morrison Ford Motors reported "a 15 per cent increase" in business this year over last.

Navy Resumes Salvage Work

Navy salvage crews have returned to the scene of the ill-fated plane crash earlier this month to search for other parts of the aircraft.

A Sanford Naval Air Station spokesman said the divers were probing the site of the crash where two men died to find smaller parts of the plane.

The twin-jet crashed shortly after takeoff from the local base as it and several others left the area in the face of a hurricane threat.

No reason for the crash has been announced as yet as the investigation is continuing.

A New Chief

One of my Seminary classmates, Rev. Paul B. Long, served for awhile in America but he felt that God's call to him was for mission service so he was sent to the Congo. He, like other missionaries, had many fine experiences but one that illustrates to us how much Christ can change a man is one that I would like to share with you.

One day a runner appeared at the mission station where Mr. Long was working and made a request that he visit his Chief who was named Kalonda. This meant a round trip of two hundred miles through bush country but it was one that must be made.

When the party arrived at the chieftain's hut he found a very sick old man waiting. His several wives were there and were clearly disturbed by this visit. They were not convinced that their husband was not making the greatest mistake of his life even though he had made many before.

Chief Kalonda had been a very powerful chieftain at one time and he was also a medicine man of great fame. People traveled for miles to have him work his magic for them but this so called magic proved to be his downfall.

Chief Kalonda had been a very powerful chieftain at one time and he was also a medicine man of great fame. People traveled for miles to have him work his magic for them but this so called magic proved to be his downfall.

Chief Kalonda saw a chance to make a nice fee so he said his fee would be twelve goats, six women, ten spears and ten knives. The price was agreed upon and the final charm was to be the head of a young woman who would be sacrificed in an elaborate ritual. The head was then to produce the magic of making Chief Kalonda invisible when he held it in his hands. Needless to say the charm did not work and Kalonda was arrested. He was so angry about the false charm that he told how Kalonda murdered the girl for her head, so both were imprisoned for fifteen years.

When Chief Kalonda returned from prison he requested a visit from the missionary. Kalonda realized that he was going to die and his idols had not prepared him, so he wanted to hear of the missionaries' God.

Rev. Long knew that if Kalonda was to accept Christ he would have to denounce his idols so he asked him to remove the charm bracelets from his arm and the old chief complied. Other magic symbols were on his person as well as in his hut. One by one the missionary asked him to denounce and get rid of them which the chief did but at times with fear.

It took sometime to tell this new Christian about his newly accepted God, but it was done and finally he spoke before his people and said, "Kalonda has a new chief. He will lead me through the dark land, and take me to His village, and there I will sit down with His people. Kalonda wants all his people to accept 'Yesu Klisto' as their new Chief and to follow Kalonda on the path to the good land."

What a Saviour and Lord is Christ. How simple is the way and yet how profound. Have we, no matter how great sinners, denounced our idols to follow Him?

Five Deacons To Be Ordained

A service of ordination for deacons will be conducted at Sanford First Baptist Church on Sunday at 7:45 p. m. The five men to be ordained are E. J. Davis Jr., George Pittard, Otto Thomas, Leo Watson Sr. and A. L. Wilson.

Dame, who will staff the St. Mary Magdalen Catholic School beginning next September, were recent guests of the parish.

They are from the Mother House in Chardon, Ohio, and were met at Herndon Airport on Thursday when they arrived by Rev. Hubert J. Reason, pastor of the Altamonte Church, and a group of parishioners.

They visited the school and toured the parish. Friday morning a Mass was celebrated by Father Reason for the intentions of the Community of the Sisters of Notre Dame. The school children sang hymns. After Mass a group of parishioners escorted the Sisters to St. Augustine, where they were shown America's oldest city.

Friday evening they were given a parish reception in Winter Park. Children of the seventh and eighth grades gave a musical program.

Saturdays the Sisters toured Orlando visiting the site of the new Mercy Hospital, Bishop Moore High School and many Catholic Churches in the area before departing.

The Sisters were the guests of the Sisters of St. Joseph at Bishop Moore Convent, where they resided during their visit.

Rep. Chappell To Speak Here Oct. 8 For Goldwater

By Jane Casselberry
Plans for an appearance by Rep. William Chappell of Marion County, former Democratic Speaker of the House, who is now an avowed supporter of the Republican Presidential Candidate Barry Goldwater, were announced Wednesday night by Rep. Jan Fortune, chairman of the Seminole County Republican Executive Committee at the headquarters in Casselberry.

Chappell is scheduled to speak at the Sanford Civic Center at 8 p. m. on Thursday, Oct. 8, at a meeting open to the public and supported by the county Goldwater groups.

Tentative plans have also been made for a fund raising dinner on Oct. 19 with the convention for the Florida delegation was a meeting of the group with Goldwater before the convention opened.

Mrs. Nina Locke of Winter Park, vivacious young Republican State Committeewoman who served as delegate from her district to the National Republican Convention in San Francisco, gave a first hand report at a meeting of the Seminole County GOP Executive Committee.

She said that she witnessed a unique chapter in political history with the control of the party moving from the northeast westward and the nomination of Barry Goldwater.

His nomination, she said, was a genuine grass roots uprising of the people rather than any back room deals by the pros.

One of the highlights of the convention was a meeting of the group with Goldwater before the convention opened.

Mrs. Locke explained what really happened in the case of several events which were played up and distorted by the television networks.

Following her talk Rep. Jan Fortune, county chairman, presided over the meeting of the Republican Executive Committee which was also attended by many precinct workers and other interested individuals.

Plans were discussed for getting more Republicans registered and holding political rallies.

It was announced that more volunteers are needed to staff the headquarters. Anyone interested should contact Mrs. John Border, Pine-wood Dr., Maitland.

Refreshments were served in the school cafeteria by the executive board.

'Whitewash' To Thicken, Says Barry Of Baker

EN ROUTE WITH GOLDWATER (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater stumped politically-shaky New England today with a freshened charge that President Johnson may have been helped toward the White House by a Bobby Baker "kickback."

The GOP presidential nominee scheduled speeches today in five states — broken by an Albany visit with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and elmsayed by an evening address in Louisville, Ky.

But the burden of his effort was aimed at saving New England for himself and the GOP. He was flying from Boston to Portland, Maine, Concord, N. H., Albany and Burlington, Vt. before jetting south to Louisville.

Goldwater charged in a speech prepared for delivery at Albany that the Democrats are reading more "whitewash" for the new Senate hearing in the Baker case. These involve an alleged $25,000 "kickback" to the Democratic party from Philadelphia contractor Matthew McCloskey.

"In fact, the whitewash may be mixed extra thick this time," he said. "After all, the committee is supposed to look into a kickback that could have directly benefited Lyndon Johnson's political career. And, under the rules as apparently laid down by the former leader of the Bobby Baker fan club, Lyndon Baines Johnson himself, the closer the connection, the bigger the whitewash."

The Southside Elementary School PTO will convene for its initial meeting of the current school term Tuesday night.

Parents are invited to visit classrooms which will be opened at 7:30. At 8 p.m. the business meeting will be held in the school auditorium. H. Z. Taffer is this year's president.

Lyman Parents Get Workout

By Jane Casselberry
Lyman High School parents got quite a workout at Tuesday night's PTA meeting, first in an enthusiastic sing directed by Bandmaster John Blair, who doubles as director of vocal music as well, and later in a mad dash around the sprawling campus to follow their child's schedule.

Rev. Martin Foutz, pastor of the Messiah Lutheran Church of Casselberry, presented the devotion.

The new president, Al Lormann, conducted the meeting and a budget of $675 was adopted for the year. Major item in the budget was $200 for the PTA project, a down payment on a Greg Autograph to be used in the business education department.

Other items included state convention, $80; short course, $45; hospitality, $25; carry-over to next year, $75; yearbook, $25; two scholarships, $100; and miscellaneous expenses, $25.

Visiting dignitaries introduced were County School Superintendent R. T. Milwee, Mrs. Harriet Hearn, of Sanford, president of the County Council; Mrs. Lawrence Swofford, Altamonte Springs, vice president of District 4; and Mrs. Frank Steudle of Casselberry, county council parliamentarian.

Mrs. Swofford announced the PTA Leadership Training Conference to be held at Lyman High School at 8 p. m. on Thursday, Oct. 8. Among the courses to be taught are parliamentary procedure, programs, membership, and public relations.

Mrs. Steudle announced that the state convention will be held Nov. 17-19 in Bradenton and reservations can be made to go from Seminole aboard a chartered bus.

Principal Carlton Henley introduced all the members of the faculty prior to the room visitation.

Refreshments were served in the school cafeteria by the executive board.

Thanks Mayor -- Take This!

Anyone who has the urge to run for office may well ponder the case of John Castleberry, of Eclectic, Ala. Castleberry became mayor of Eclectic eight years ago to discover he had inherited an empty treasury and expanding municipal needs. He dug down in his own pockets and gave the town $100,000 for a waterworks system. In 1960 the 1,000 grateful residents of Eclectic returned him to office without opposition. Again the town treasury ran into trouble. Again Mayor Castleberry popped for $100,000—this time for a fire truck, a police wagon, a garbage truck and other assorted civic items. When election time rolled around again this year, Mayor Castleberry felt he should step aside, especially this time there was another candidate for the office. But the people insisted that he give them still another chance to show their gratitude. He capitulated and made the race. When the votes were counted it was found the grateful citizens had elected—the other man. "Everybody loved the mayor," of the voters explained, "but it seemed to be the old story of what have you done for us lately?" Castleberry has not disclosed what he has in mind as his next civic contribution. It is interesting to conjecture.

Worry Clinic

CASE T-483: Tom Anderson is the modern Will Rogers of America. He edits farm magazines with a circulation now of 1,500,000, so he wields tremendous influence. And he should be imitated by all clergymen, for he is a superb exponent of the "change of pace" in public speaking. For example, when he tartly attacks Communism and exposes its follies, he will then insert an illustration that sets the crowd roaring with laughter. In a recent address, he thus described a hunter who was marooned with his dog. Threatened with starvation, the hunter finally took out his sharp knife and whacked off the dog's tail, which he then boiled. After the hunter had eaten all the meat, he tossed the bones to his faithful dog, which then devoured his own tail bones and finally licked his master's hand in gratitude! "That," intoned Tom Anderson, "is what the brains trustees in Washington are doing to us taxpayers." For he then points out that we taxpayers furnish all the money to Washington, D. C., which then returns a small part of it to us in federal aid! And we taxpayers then thank the government! Another of his classical illustrations deals with the folly of sitting down at summit conferences to try to negotiate peaceful coexistence. Tom thus describes a hunter who was drawing a bead on a grizzly bear. Just before the hunter pulled the trigger, the bear held up his paw and said: "Wait a minute, Mr. Hunter. I think we can sit down and negotiate our differences. After all, what you want is a fur coat and what I crave is a full stomach." So the hunter, in typical American fashion, sat down to negotiate. "And after they finally compromised," says Tom Anderson, "both of them got what they wanted. For the bear got a full stomach and the hunter got his fur coat." (Albeit inside the bear!) Will Rogers couldn't improve on Tom Anderson in his salty, farm delivery and his most appropriate stories to illustrate his sound American patriotism. Tom Anderson might be mistaken at first glance for an uneducated farmer, but listen to him even one minute and you immediately recognize that you are hearing a shrewd statesman and patriot. He now wields the vastest influence over our entire American farm population by his editorials and public speaking engagements. One of his most challenging maxims, which all school children should memorize is this: "I'd rather die as a free man standing on my feet than as a slave on my knees." No need for my booklet "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents, and drill your children on its maxims.

British Politics Differ

LONDON (UPI) — Britons, whose respect for tradition includes a generally restrained approach to politics, are getting an introduction to political whoop-ia, American style. Labor party leader Harold Wilson gave the country a taste of it at Wembley at the party's national rally kicking off a campaign which will end in general elections Oct. 15. It could have been the Democrats in Atlantic City or the Republicans in San Francisco. Spectator seats rose tier on tier to the cavernous roof of huge Empire Pool.

Spotlights played upon the stage where African dancers performed and Humphrey Lyttelton's band played a blues number entitled "Thirteen Wasted Years." In the eye of this political hurricane stood the round and slightly crumpled figure of Wilson who hopes after the elections to take over the prime minister's job from his Conservative opponent Sir Alec Douglas Home. What this country needs, he boomed over the auditorium loudspeaker system, is a government of men with "fire in their bellies and humanity in their hearts."

Remarked London's Sunday Observer "... an unashamed imitation of an American convention." Wilson's speech it described as "presidential style." But if British newspapers could compare the rally and Wilson's style to U.S. politics, there remain important differences. In Britain, a candidate "stands" for office. He does not "run." And those two words alone mark a sharp contrast. For, by tradition, the British candidate avoids a personal attack against his opponent. Sir Alex set the stage for the Conservative campaign by saying: "I shall not indulge in personalities, nor do I challenge in any way the sincerity of the Socialist leaders." But then the dig: "But their manifesto is a menu without prices..." British political analysts say it was Winston Churchill's violation of this unwritten rule of fair play which helped cost him the election in 1945. Churchill had just led his country through its greatest war. But he indulged in personal attacks against Labor leaders Clement Attlee and Ernest Bevin. Churchill, the hero, lost and was replaced by Attlee at the Potsdam conference of Allied war leaders. How Britons are to react to Wilson's new campaign techniques will have to await the final proof of election day. Probing the new technique, this was the comment of the Financial Times of London: "Labor has stood for many things in the past but never quite gaiety." Comparing it again to the American style, the newspaper concluded: "President Johnson looks his worst when attempting to echo the Kennedy style, and a song called 'Hello Harold' could also have a hollow sound."

Hubert: 'Best Qualified'

Editor's note: This is the third article on Hubert Humphrey.

WASHINGTON — Lyndon Johnson picked Hubert Humphrey to run with him on the Democratic ticket because he considers Humphrey the man "best qualified" to serve as President should that emergency occur. But being the instinctive politician that he is, Johnson certainly considered the political pluses and minuses of the choice as well. The polls told the President that no Vice-Presidential candidate would make a significant difference in the election contest. The pertinent question, the pollsters said, was which running mate would hurt his chances the least.

Surveys and common sense indicated that Humphrey would surely be a plus for the Democratic ticket in the Midwest, which has been accepted as a doubtful battleground area. In that farm country Humphrey stands high as one of the best friends in public life farmers have ever had. No Senator understands the problems of agriculture better or fights harder to do something to solve them. No one could say of Humphrey what he said of Goldwater last week: The Republican candidate, the Minnesota Senator said, "does not know the difference between a ukulele and a corn cob when it comes to agriculture." Humphrey's presence on the Democratic ticket will reassure Midwestern farmers.

Humphrey also adds a plus in the big cities of the East for his actions on behalf of consumers and minority groups and in the West for his stands on natural resources development and conservation.

In two areas where Johnson was eager to increase his strength, Humphrey's influence, it appeared, would be a minus force—in the South and in the business community. Humphrey's personal political organization was built on farmer-labor support. He had taken a special interest in small business, which he knew from growing up in a family-owned drug store, but his Senate activities had not deeply involved Humphrey with business leaders outside his home state.

This spring and summer Humphrey systematically set about widening his business acquaintanceship. He met with bankers, brokers, corporate presidents and board chairmen in New York, Chicago and Washington, frankly explained his views of business-government relationships, and won a surprising number of new friends in the process.

The publisher of Forbes Magazine, a business journal, reporting on one private meeting in Chicago, expressed the opinion that Humphrey's liberal convictions have not faded but have mellowed and matured. What the Senator told the Chicago business leaders was: "If I believe in something I will fight for it with all I have. But I do not demand all or nothing. Professional liberals want the fiery debate. They glory in defeat, a sort of political masochism. The hardest job for a politician today is to have the courage to be a moderate." After questioning Humphrey, Keith Funtun, president of the New York Stock Exchange, called the Senator "a real capitalist." Minnesota businessmen who value Humphrey as a Senator who can get things done for them have been voicing that opinion for a considerable time.

Having overcome some of his problems as a "minus" factor with the business community, Humphrey, at Lyndon Johnson's urging, is out to ingratiate himself with the South.

President Johnson shrewdly arranged for Sen. George Smathers of Florida to make one of the speeches seconding Humphrey for Vice President and for Sen. Olin Johnson of South Carolina to move that Humphrey be nominated by acclamation of the convention.

Governor Carl Sanders of Georgia turned a Georgia caucus at the convention into a welcoming party for the Vice Presidential nominee and invited Humphrey to come to Georgia to campaign. Candidate Johnson told Candidate Humphrey after the convention to head South and let the Southerners see him. "If they come to know Hubert," the President explained to a friend, "they'll go for him. He should go down there and show he has no horns."

That is what Humphrey was doing in Texas and Arkansas last week and what he will be doing in most, if not all, of the Southern states in the next few weeks.

His first hurdle in making new friends in the South, of course, is his stand on civil rights. Naturally Humphrey will not stress that issue in his talks. But then neither did Senator Goldwater in his tour of eight Southern states last week, for the opposite reason—the possible effect in the North.

"The civil rights law is an accomplished fact," Humphrey contends. "My record in the fields of farm price supports, rural electrification VVA, farm credit, rivers and harbors appropriations — things that have meant so much to the South — will stand the closest scrutiny. It is a record of friendliness." How Humphrey affects the Democratic ticket will depend heavily on how the South reads his record. (The last of three articles)

DETROIT — (NEA) — Future recessions could be milder as the result of new techniques now being adopted by important segments of U.S. industry. The automobile companies provide the best example.

The large contract gains now being won by the United Auto Workers may speed up introduction of these techniques which are designed to cut costs. Among the new developments are:

- Long-range forecasting by computer may take some humps out of capital expansion.
- Such forecasting is now in its infancy. But automobile makers have developed some guidelines — population growth, population shifts from cities to suburbs, family income, number of babies born, size of families and the age mixture of the population — which seem to affect the number of cars to be sold in a given year "X" years hence.
- Extensive use of building-block machines, which can be put together and taken apart like Tinkertoys as requirements change, means quick changeovers from one model to the next without long shutdowns.

- Use of these Tinkertoys-type machines makes it possible to introduce new models in the middle of a model year, thus smoothing out production ups and downs and cutting back on "between model year" layoffs.
- More and more of these machines have complicated "heads" which can be modified to handle components of a variety of automobile models. Shifts in such machine heads can frequently be made overnight between runs.

- Instantaneous electronic processing of automobile orders from dealers, and electronic breakdown of those future auto sales into requirements for materials, parts and components needed from suppliers, may reduce the size of inventories the auto industry must carry and even out the flow of materials, parts and components.
- Economists say less inventory fluctuation by major industries would do much to smooth out ups and downs in the economy.
- More production lines are being made "interchangeable," so that lines producing models not in demand can be shifted to the output of hot sales models—thus keeping the lines busy, reducing worker layoffs and speeding deliveries.
- More parts of different models are being made interchangeable.
- New mathematical techniques for translating body style concepts into component parts for the new model cars may cut sharply into the time it takes to move a "drawing board" idea into production. This will make possible more rapid introduction of new models to meet sales demands and thus help level production peaks and valleys.)

- Some automobile companies are beginning to use computers to make better use of the men on a production line, which must flow at the speed of the slowest operator. The "mix" of cars going down a production line is figured by computer in a way that the men on that production line can be used to optimum capacity without overworking some men, leaving others idle. In one way or another variations of automotive techniques are being tried in other major industries. In time, the cumulative effects should tend to shave off peaks and valleys of production and sales and thus help to level booms and busts. But this overall nationwide result will be years in coming.

Neon Lighted Chapels Give Reno Another Reputation

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — The image of a divorcee casting her wedding ring into the Truckee River has given way to one of a bride darting from a neon lighted marriage chapel.

Reno, long called the "divorce capital of the world," has become also the center of a multi-million dollar industry at the opposite end of the spectrum.

In fact, marriage licenses outnumber divorce decrees five to one. But the around-the-clock marriage industry is not overflowing with bliss.

For the organized clergy has accused wedding chapel operators of "degrading and commercializing the marriage rite."

The operators, most themselves ministers, reply that denominational preachers are angry "because they feel we are cashing in on something."

Chapels dot Reno. They offer 24-hour non-denominational services with plastic bridal bouquets for those who don't want fresh flowers, piped-in music, limousine service and waitresses. The standard minimum is $15.

Why Reno? Because it is easy to obtain a marriage license—no blood tests or waiting period. It's uncomplicated by red tape and inexpensive. The justice of the peace is across the street from the license bureau, or two blocks away there's a wedding chapel.

The bureau issued 23,361 marriage licenses last year. The courts granted 4,366 divorces and the ratio has been climbing steadily for almost 10 years.

But there is a three-way battle over matrimony. The chapel operators don't like the Washoe County Ministerial Association, they don't like each other, and the clergy opposes the chapels.

"We try to stay away from commercializing it," said the Rev. George Flint, the full-time minister of one chapel. "But there's as much cut-throat business among wedding chapels as there is in any other business in this city."

"Chapels feel misunderstood because many denominational churches frown upon the necessary need to charge a definite fee," he said. "Or because they feel we are cashing in on something that is here."

But the Rev. Eugene Duncan, president of the ministerial association, charged that "some of their setups are nothing but front organizations and very questionable."

"We are not a bit concerned about the money. None of our churches are depending

Overeating Termed Defense Mechanism

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Overeating is bad enough but the cure may be worse!

The habit of overeating often has deep-seated psychological causes and an abrupt change in the habit can be a serious threat to a patient's mental and emotional health, says Dr. Roscoe P. Carney, internist at St. Louis City Hospital.

"To state that obesity is caused by overeating is every bit as senseless as relating alcoholism to overdrinking," he said.

Overeating, in many cases, is "a defense mechanism" triggered by some unsatisfactory circumstances in a person's life, Carney said. He cited "a frequently seen case where a housewife eats continually to assuage profound disappointments in her marital relationships," or as a substitute for pride in her husband's accomplishments.

In such cases, he said, eating is a "defense mechanism" and breaking down the defenses "can induce serious behavioral disorders which pose a far greater threat than the obesity."

However, there are overweight persons whose poor eating habits are unrelated to serious emotional drawbacks, Carney said in "Medical Times Magazine."

Drugs should be used with extreme care, he said, because they can "aggravate anxiety," place an increased strain on the heart and become habit forming.

Jackets On Curriculum

By Jerry Sheehan
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — The autumn winds are ventilating the frons on the old campus. The girl back home is a distant memory and a promise to write. The first quiz is a couple of weeks away.

Under these relaxed conditions it is a good time to check the wardrobe (if you haven't done it already).

Have the alphas become too slack? Can you really get by with just two pairs of shoes? Does that dark sports jacket from two seasons ago really cut the mustard? It is in this last province where you are most likely to discover a weakness.

There is nothing quite so out-of-date as an aging sports jacket. Those dark, funeral colors that seemed so appropriate at high school graduation time have lost their charm, haven't they?

Hopefully, for the young male, collegiate or not, there are massive selections of good sports jackets around this fall. Brighter colors continue their forward march into American male favor.

In addition, distinctive styling touches, like flap breast pockets — or no breast pocket at all — have had not so to the '64 menswear scene. American wool blends in a variety of hard and soft finishes are riding high, offering warmth and lightness at the same time.

Buttons, leather, metal, colored ceramic, are everywhere. Unless you are attending a military or reform school this fall, there's no reason to go around wearing a uniform. The choice is wide — so suit yourself.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I accidentally found out from the social security office that the man I married 18 years ago had never been legally divorced. I was advised to have a second marriage ceremony performed. To my dismay, Mr. W. received the news as a job and refused. I am 62 and Mr. W. will be 50 in two weeks. I am worried about my future. My lawyer advised me that according to Massachusetts law I am not Mr. W.'s legal wife, and I cannot claim his estate or get social security. I even got my priest to talk to him, but it didn't help. Mr. W. is the most generous man in the world and would give me the moon if I asked for it, but he will not consent to another ceremony. Can you help me?

"MRS. (or am I?) W."

DEAR ABBY: My mother asked me never to walk into her bedroom without knocking first and I have always respected her wishes. I am 18 and think I should have the same privilege, so I asked her please to knock on my bedroom door before coming in. Now she just bangs on the door once and barges right in and says, "Does THAT satisfy you?"

Then she reminds me that I am living in HER house and she has a right to go into any room she pleases whenever she wishes. What do you think of a mother like mine?

NO PRIVACY

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem. I saw the organist of our church with a married man. And he wasn't hers. Should I tell the pastor to talk to her before she breaks up the marriage or should I mind my own business? I somehow feel that it is my Christian duty to set her straight. Don't tell me it is only my imagination. I had heard rumors about these two, which at first I did not believe. But when you see two people in a secluded spot away from the busy roads, what else can you believe?

DEAR "MRS. (I wish I knew) W.": The priest can tell Mr. W. what is pleasing in the eyes of the Lord, and your lawyer can tell him the requirements of the Law, but you'd better get your generous Mr. W. to skip the moon — and provide for your security right here on earth.

Should I tell the pastor to talk to her before she breaks up the marriage or should I mind my own business? I somehow feel that it is my Christian duty to set her straight. Don't tell me it is only my imagination. I had heard rumors about these two, which at first I did not believe. # Buying Retirement Home?

There are many who encourage a retired person or one nearing retirement to continue to spend his money. How many suggest ways to protect large investments?

Many land-homes frauds, especially, indicate a willingness to take advantage of the couple who want to retire in another area.

With this in mind, Sharp Shopping asked a prominent real estate developer for tips to help couples select land and homes in other states for retirement.

Frank Mackie's family has been in Florida real estate development for more than 50 years and pioneered in retirement home developments there. When they entered the retirement field in 1958, the estimated retirement income was $150. In 1963 it was $286.

The ebullient, yet soft-spoken Mackie suggests a retirement couple buy a home as a package rather than buying the land and then selecting a builder.

"Personally," he says, "if the house is FHA-approved, you can be assured you will get what you pay for."

Once a couple decides to leave home base, there is an urgency to cut all ties.

"Don't," Mackie advises, "insist upon paying cash, though. Always buy a retirement home with resale in mind. Be willing to finance it. And, do not expect to swap your current home for a home in another state. Do not buy a new home without first selling your current home."

If you rent and can get a loan, you can also buy a retirement home.

Never hesitate to ask for advice or research. "It's your money and your future at stake," he says.

He recommends a couple check a developer's reputation through the National Better Business Bureau or the local bank. If still in doubt, ask for an FHA appraisal, for a fee.

When considering a retirement home, determine whether the developer carries through his promises.

For example, when reading an ad for a housing development in another state:

—Question the artist's rendering of a house. Is this the house you will be buying with all the property features sketched?

—Is there a fee for recreation?

—Are the utilities installed and working? Can they be installed without excessive expense to the home buyer?

—If the house is in a planned community (such as Deltona, Fla., a Mackie project), could the property be condemned for any reason, for example, construction of a highway?

—Is there adequate water, access to highways?

"Always look upon the land and house you buy," he emphasizes, "as an investment, whether you are 60 or 70, with limited or unlimited income."

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Gordon Keel writes from Vancouver, B. C.: "South wasted no time blowing the hand. He led the ace of hearts at trick two and ruffed a heart at trick three. From then on he played brilliantly but with conspicuous lack of success. If he had just led the queen of clubs at trick two, his Aunt Tilly could have made the hand."

Unless South's Aunt Tilly is quite a player she still would have trouble but could make it. There are two variations.

West takes his king of clubs and leads back a club. Aunt Tilly wins in dummy, ruffs a spade, cashes ace of diamonds, leads a low diamond to dummy's jack, ruffs another spade with the king of trumps, gets into dummy by ruffing a heart or a club, draws the last trump and dummy is good. It is a little tougher if West doesn't take his king of clubs, but there will be a lot of winning variations.

Here is a rather elegant one:

South leads a trump to dummy's jack and ruffs a spade with the ace of trumps. Then he leads his last low trump to dummy's queen and ruffs another spade with the king of trumps. This sets up West's ten of trumps for what will turn out to be the only defensive trick.

Both vulnerable

Clothes Packed By Size

By Polly Cramer
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR POLLY: — When my second baby arrived, I spent quite a bit of time sorting through old baby clothes trying to determine sizes on items that had long since lost their size tags. Now that the second one has started to outgrow things, I am packing everything away in bags and carefully labeling them "Birth to 12 lbs.," "13 to 16 lbs.," and so on. This includes sweaters, socks, caps, kimono, booties and everything that has a size. Hope to save myself some time when I need them again and, in the meantime, may save some other new mothers' time. — MRS. J.R.E.

GIRLS: — This will not only save your time but also that of one a lot of trying on misfits as well. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY: — To reinforce the frayed seams in my little girl's school dresses and blouses, I saw a white shoe lace between the seams at the armholes. I stitch through the shoelace and the dress material. It really works. — MRS. R.C.

DEAR POLLY: — To always be sure you are sewing on the right side of solid-colored fabric, remove the pattern from the material and put a piece of transparent tape on the wrong side of each piece. The tape can be easily removed and does not leave marks. If your hands are chapped and stick to material as you sew, rub some vinegar into your hands. I always keep some by my sewing machine. — MRS. T.C.W.

DEAR POLLY: — I found an effective way to clean my dust mop. After I mop the floors and shake out the dust, lint still clings to the mop. Instead of picking it off by hand, I scrape the mop along the edge of an outside brick corner of our house. It is amazing how the rough bricks pull off the lint. — E.Q.

DEAR POLLY: — When you go shopping, put the sales slip for your purchases in your purse. Then if you mislay a package and a clerk or someone else finds it, you have proof that it is yours. — PENNY

DEAR POLLY: — When making a dress, I found I did not have a zipper to match. I got out a can of spray paint the proper color and sprayed a lighter colored zipper to match the dress material. Later I also sprayed a black one and it worked beautifully. — MRS. L.L.

GIRLS: — This is a good way to use those old zippers that I am sure many of you remove from worn clothes before they go in the rag bag. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY: — Several months ago I was lucky enough to receive a "Polly Dollar." It was so bright and shiny in its attractive holder and there was a reprint of my letter as it was to appear in the paper. This was so attractive that I sent it to my young granddaughter for a birthday present — dollar, holder and letter. She was delighted. I thought other readers (grandmothers) might like to use this suggestion. — A FRIEND

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Too many wives, resentful of the routine of housework, don't attempt to conceal their boredom or, more important, do something constructive about it.

And it's a safe bet that if you find yourself doing a lot of housework, family life is in such a rut it is boring for every member of the family.

So if you're bored with your own life, try this for an eye-opener. Sit down and figure out if the whole routine of your home life isn't dull and uninspired.

Is meal-planning just a matter of enough food on the table three times a day to keep your family fed? If it is, then get yourself a new cookbook and give your family some surprise eating. Also have spur-of-the-moment dinner guests occasionally — guests the whole family can enjoy.

Do most of your evenings follow the same old pattern? Dad reading his paper, you putting around at odd jobs, and the kids bickering and quarreling until it is mercifully their bedtime?

Then introduce some family entertainment. There are plenty of games a family can play together that are not only fun but make parents and children companions.

Is your social life limited to a few couples you know so well the only real satisfaction you get out of being with them is in discussing their faults, mistakes and peculiarities after they have gone? Then make an effort to keep seeing new people who can give you some fresh ideas and to whom your opinions and ideas will also be new and stimulating.

How long ago was it when the whole family enjoyed a good-natured teasing or shared in laughter? If you have to stop and think about this, then home must be a dreary place.

Stop taking life so seriously. It has its humorous moments. Share them with your family and you'll be stimulated, too. For no one is bored when he's laughing at a good joke.

The Doctor Says: Cutting Of Nerve Roots

By Wayne G. Brandstadt M.D.
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Q — My uncle had a lumbar sympathectomy. What is this operation and what is it for?

A — This is a cutting of the sympathetic nerve roots as they emerge from the vertebral column in the lower back. It is frequently done on both sides. The operation may be performed on victims of chronic pancreatitis, diseases of the blood vessels in the legs and severe elevation of the blood pressure.

Several weeks before such an operation is undertaken the nerve roots are injected with a substance that temporarily paralyzes them. If this procedure results in improvement, the permanent severing of the nerves is justifiable. This major operation is not, however, done as often as it was in the past because medical means of treatment have greatly improved and sometimes the operation results in too great a lowering of the blood pressure.

Q — My brother, 64, has myelogenous leukemia. How serious is that type of the disease?

A — Since leukemia is a form of cancer of the blood, any type is a serious health hazard. Treatment has been improving, however.

Q — What is the difference between acute and chronic leukemia? Are they related to lymphosarcoma?

A — Acute leukemia is usually fatal in six or seven months but persons with chronic leukemia may live for several years, especially when they are treated with X-ray or other forms of irradiation and chlorambucil or other appropriate drugs. Hodgkin's disease or lymphosarcoma is a distinct but very similar disease. The treatment is the same as for leukemia.

Q — What is a Ghon complex and sometimes the operation results in too great a lowering of the blood pressure.

does it affect a person?

A — The first or primary lesion of tuberculosis in a child is sometimes referred to as a Ghon tubercle. This is the extension of the disease to the nearby lymph nodes in the primary or Ghon complex. How tuberculosis affects a person depends on such factors as individual resistance, which is highest in persons who are physically fit, the number of tubercle bacilli that gain entrance into the body, which may be less than 10 or several hundred, and the promptness with which the disease is discovered and given adequate treatment.

Q — In a person past 45 years of age would the prolonged use of isoniazid cause hardening of the arteries?

A — Since isoniazid is given for tuberculosis it should be taken until the disease is cured. The drug does not cause hardening of the arteries.

How Girlish Can You Get?

By Helen Hennessy
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
 Women's Editor
Fashion is an area where things get "cuter" and "cuter."

Take the Paris collections. Everyone loudly proclaimed the soft, pretty, young, feminine look that emerged. Yet the biggest news from Paris was the appearance of pants. These turned up for every occasion from marketing to formal evenings.

In fact, one little evening number by Guy Laroche, in solid blue sequins, consisted of a trim, fitted jacket and straight, slim pants. The last time you saw anything like it was on a girl soft-shoe dancer in the old Hollywood spectacular days. Yet in this year of elegance, it turns up as an evening suit — and it's about as feminine as a plumber's coveralls.

Then look what happened to hair. In this mad rush toward femininity, Jacques Esterel came up with the bright idea of shaving his models' heads for the "bold look." Other designers launched various versions of a short, sleek, behind-the-ears hairdo that's nearly as girlish as the boyish bob of the '20s.

But this hairdo (which no one but a raving beauty can get away with) can be all fixed up so that it looks soft and pretty when you don your evening trousers. You don't, of course, do anything so simple as to fluff out your hair and take it from behind your ears. Main, non! You buy earrings shaped like guinea curls. You attach these to your dainty lobes and presto — cheek curls. Or you top your evening jacket and pants with a genuine mink wig (guaranteed to look like real hair) already done up in a girlish style — even with a side flip. Now you need her own crowning glory with replacements like these at hand?

Women were born with feminine attributes — soft, pretty hair not being the least of them — yet in this year when "feminine elegance" is the watchword shouted from the rooftop of every fashion house, we are shown mannish hairdos and pants as the way to best display our girlish charms.

Like Alice, I'm bewildered. Oh! Chat

Q — "The parents of a boy I met on vacation have invited me to a dinner dance at their country club. I've never met them and want to make the right impression. Does this kind of occasion call for a long gown? I just don't know." — Evelyn W.

DEAR EVELYN W.: Contrary to last season's fling into evening elegance, long gowns this time around are for only the most formal events. Get a pretty, short dress and you'll be dressed in good taste.

Please send your fashion problems to Helen Hennessy in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

'Blind' Typewriter

By Susan Light
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR MRS. LIGHT: When my daughter came home from her first summer typing class, I was shocked to learn she was using a typewriter with the letters on the keyboard exposed. How will she ever learn touch typing? In my day, we always had blank or covered keys. Some students even used a shield so there would be no possibility of glancing at the keyboard.

Do you have any comments on this? — OLD PROO

ANSWER: I'm sure your daughter's teacher will be glad to explain her reasons for using an uncovered keyboard.

Educational methods and procedures are constantly changing. At the present time, many commercial teachers feel that an uncovered keyboard gives the student a feeling of confidence and security, which is necessary for successful typing. Students may become discouraged, they believe, when faced with rows of blank keys.

Two years ago I taught a summer typing class in which the students were permitted to make their own choice between marked and unmarked keys. There was no apparent difference in the results from either method. All of the students learned "touch" typing. Speed and accuracy varied from student to student but bore no relationship to the type of keyboard.

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: We sacrificed to send our boy to summer school for extra help in reading. However, he has made very little progress. He'll still be in the low group,

I'm afraid, as he enters second grade.

Do you really think summer school is worthwhile? — SKEPTICAL

ANSWER: Yes, under most circumstances. The trouble is that too many parents expect summer school to perform miracles.

If your son hasn't slipped back in reading, the experience has been worthwhile. During summer vacation, primary children, especially, tend to forget much of what they've learned the year before, unless there is some reinforcement. Consequently, most of the early fall is spent in review.

Being even a little ahead of his June performance may give your son the extra boost he needs to make the "middle" group.

He Wants 'Peaceful Home'

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence,
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: We have two boys, 5 and 7. We fight a lot, particularly before supper when my husband comes home. As I am busy with our baby girl, I can't keep the boys quiet. But my husband says I should. If he comes home and finds the kids fighting, he either takes the car and eats downtown or starts bawling me out because I am spoiling the boys and don't give him a peaceful home.

ANSWER: Are you asking me to change your husband? I can't, you know. I can't go back into time and alter the circumstances which shaped his conviction that he's entitled to a "peaceful home" without lifting a finger to get one. I can do absolutely nothing about the mother who taught him that all he had to do to get what he wants is to ask a woman.

man to give it to him. I can't do anything about the other thousands and thousands of little boys who are being taught the same manhood-destroying lessons by other Mother Goddesses in America's homes. It's how things are, God help us.

And if the girls they marry don't like it, there are only two things they can do about it: they can walk out on their child husbands or get along with them by becoming their mummies.

But they can't change them into men. That was the job of their husbands' fathers. Psychoanalysts can sometimes do it. But generally speaking, child-men are too comfortable being children to be able to deliver the wish to grow without which psychoanalysts cannot work.

So, if you want to get along with your protect him against his quarrelsome children. Feed them before he gets home at night. Then tranquilize them with television until their bedtime. By filling their stomachs, you can divert their many little energies to digesting instead of fighting — and so produce the unobtrusive, "peaceful" home that is demanded of you.

I think it's a dreadful solution.

But then I am feeling sad today. Because I spent two hours in a police station last Sunday listening to a woman scream hate at a just-raped daughter of 16 while her husband stood by, silent and a little drunk, lifting neither voice nor finger in behalf of the exhausted, terrified child he had fathered. I came home to read your letter about another child-man who doesn't want to be bothered with his child.

The awful thing is that it's our sex which destroys the manhood of little sons. And today it doesn't help one bit to remember that mothers do it, not because they are bad, but because as little girls they never experienced the protective male strength of their fathers.

I RECEIVE SO MANY letters from women who cry that they have gained weight this summer, while on vacation, and cannot now get into their nice fall dresses from last season! Ladies, you can get your figure back to YOUR dress size if you will but follow my "Figure Perfection Diet."

I encourage you to go on this diet, which allows you three meals a day. The average number of calories in this diet is 1200 calories per day. This is a generous allowance when compared to the average of 2,000 to 3,000 calories per day consumed by those NOT dieting. The diet was formulated by trained food consultants who agreed that the average woman could lose 1 1/2 to 3 pounds a week if she followed the "Figure Perfection Diet" honestly and faithfully.

The diet is not extreme, it is pleasant, normal and consists of foods easy to have, to eat, and to prepare. The foods are well within the food habits of the average person whether they eat at home or "eat out."

The average protein content of the "Figure Perfection Diet" is 73.6 gm. as opposed to 60 gm., which is the usual recommended allowance. Higher than average is the iron content, 12.3 mg., and

When you arrive at the dress size you should have, take care to continue eating sensibly and use the diet in my booklet, "Diet and Exercise for Beauty After Forty." This can be a daily guide and then you won't "blow up" again — until you go on vacations and eat too much of the wrong foods! The exercise in this booklet will not reduce you, but they add grace and poise to help to "balance" your figure.

To obtain the diet, send me a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, known in the trade as a no. 10, and enclose TEN cents in coin. Remember, little envelopes will not do, as we do not have the time to re-fold the diet leaflet.

To obtain the "Diet and Exercise" booklet, use the same size envelope but enclose TWENTY-FIVE cents in coin. I will send a "gift" copy of "Diet Breaks" with either

Telephone Hour To Open 25th Season

The 25th season of the Bell Telephone Hour, and its seventh on television, gets off to a gala start on Tuesday, Oct. 6 over NBC-TV at 10 p. m., EDT with an array of top stars. The Emmy Award-winning Telephone Hour's opening show, telecast live and in color, will present Bing Crosby, Burl Ives, The McGuire Sisters and concert pianist Grant Johannessen. Donald Voorhees will conduct the Bell Telephone Orchestra as he has been doing for the past 24 seasons.

The attempt to thumb nail the fabulous career of Bing Crosby in a few paragraphs is like trying to cram the Pacific Ocean into a tea cup. Bing has probably received more fame for more performances in more forms of entertainment than any other living entertainer. In the recording field alone he has no peers. His records have reached an estimated sale in excess of 200 million copies. He has starred in 55 motion pictures and was listed among the 10 top stars for 15 years. His radio career started in 1931 and his weekly network program was one of the most long-lived and highest-rated.

Since the advent of television he has starred in many specials and this season has undertaken a weekly comedy series. Crosby's first break came at age 22 when Paul Whiteman signed him as a member of the Rhythm Boys, the band's vocal group. After appearing in a movie, "The King of Jazz," starring Whiteman, he stayed on the Coast and signed his first studio contract. More than 50 movies followed, one of which, "Going My Way," won him the Academy Award. His most recent picture, released this summer, is "Robin and the Seven Hoods."

Few critics will argue with Carl Sandburg who called Burl Ives "the mightiest ballad singer of any century." However, the famed balladier is more than that. Mr. Ives is both a motion picture and stage actor, a published writer of prose and poetry and an expert sailor. During his junior year in college he was stricken with the wanderlust and set out with his banjo to travel the land. He literally sang for his supper by trading songs for hamburgers. In 1940 his career really began on a weekly network radio show.

After tour of duty in the Air Corps performing in "This is the Army," Mr. Ives' reputation as a balladier started to grow. He was soon receiving more personal appearance, radio and movie offers than he could handle. On the stage he is best remembered for his role in Big Daddy in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," a portrayal he repeated in film version. Mr. Ives has written several songs and has recorded hundreds. Recently his albums have contained big teenage hits such as "A Little Bitty Tear," and "A Funny Way of Laughin'."

The McGuire Sisters, Christine, Dorothy and Phyllis, take their place among the leading vocal groups of all time. The first songs the McGuire sisters sang in public were hymns, sung in the Middletown, Ohio, church where their mother was pastor. Soon they were invited to perform at church socials, picnics and revival meetings. After winning an amateur contest at the local movie house they were determined to make a career of singing.

Following a nine months' tour entertaining Army camps and veterans' hospitals, they were signed in 1952 for the "Kate Smith Show" on television and later that year became regulars on the "Arthur Godfrey Show," both morning and evening stanzas. Since then their popularity has swept the country, appearing in the smartest supper clubs, guest-starring on top television variety shows and recording best-selling albums. The talented sisters are making their second appearance on the Bell Telephone Hour.

Grant Johannessen received his early music training in his native Salt Lake City. When he was 16, he received a scholarship to study in France under the great Robert Casadesu, another veteran of many Telephone Hour programs on radio and television. Johannessen's performance in solo recital and with the great symphony orchestras of the world have placed him among the foremost pianists of his generation.

Johannessen has chosen the finale of Grieg's Piano Concerto in A Minor for his eighth appearance on the Bell Telephone Hour. One of the most successful and popular romantic concertos ever written, it was finished when the composer was only 25 years old and was destined to be the only concerto that Grieg was ever to write. This mature, difficult and brilliant work is simple in emotion yet has a background of tremendous dramatic power.

This first Bell Telephone Hour of the season will be produced by Charles Andrews and directed by Clark Jones. The series is produced by Henry Jaffe Enterprises, with Harry Wood as executive producer. The next Telephone Hour, on November 10, will be an all-Oscar Hammerstein program with Henry Fonda as host.

The screenplay for "The Bridge on the River Kwai" was written by Pierre Boulle based on his novel of the same title; he, too, won an Academy Award.

Sellers At Ritz

Peter Sellers is a man of many moods as he co-stars with Elke Sommer in "A Shot in the Dark" which opens Sunday afternoon at the Ritz Theatre and runs through Wednesday night.

The film is a Mirisch Company production in Panavision and Color by Deluxe and a United Artists release.

George Sanders and Herbert Lom are co-starred in the movie, which was filmed in Color by Deluxe and Panavision on location in England and France.

In "A Shot in the Dark," Sellers portrays Inspector Jacques Clouseau, continuing the comedy role he created in "The Pink Panther," also a Blake Edwards Production for the Mirisch Corporation and United Artists. In the current film, he is called upon to solve a series of murders of which the prime suspect is a saucy, blonde French maid, played by Elke Sommer, whose obvious charms distract and delight the indomitable inspector. The murder chase leads through the Parisian mansion of a French millionaire, played by Sanders, a nudist colony night spot.

Herbert Lom plays Sellers' superior in the Surete, who is driven to madness by the unorthodox detecting methods used by his assistant, Tracy Reed, in a prominently featured role, is the uninhibited wife of the philanthropic millionaire. She recently was seen in "Dr. Strangelove."

About Sports Thinking Out Loud

By John Stenstrom

The Metro comes to Sanford tonight at the Memorial Stadium Metro Conference competition—so far as football is concerned—arrives.

The SWS gridlers will clash with the Granddads of Colonial in what observers are billing as the "game of the week" in the Metro loop.

We're going to go with both Sanford and Orlando observers and pick the Seminoles. In Orange County the "experts" are saying the Tribe will take it, about 20 to 15, which—by the way—is the same score the two clubs posted last year with the locals coming out on top in Orlando.

We haven't had a chance to observe the other seven clubs in the Metro but those who have are rating Seminoles as the team to beat. They, like us, are overlooking the Tribe's performance against the strong Thinsville Terriers last Friday night. One Orange County sports writer—who saw the Sanford-Thinsville affair—says if the same two teams clash again 10 times this season Seminoles would win 'em all.

They're rating Lee Sparkman and Buddy Burton as two of the best pigskin fliers in the Metro. Frankly, you can't argue with them too much about that. Both glittered like gems on their touchdowns galloped last week which at least gave Seminoles a tie with the upstart Terriers.

But picking Seminoles doesn't mean that Pigott's pigskinners won't have their head-scratching hands full tonight!

The Granddads will show up with a power-laden offensive machine, plus Donnie Harrelson—a top notch sphere carrier who tried his best, and was successful—to some extent—in ransacking the Tribe's loopee last season.

And, if our "recollection" is "recollection" we recall the Granddads were "riffle balls" to the warriors pretty badly when "peace" was declared at the game-ending gun last fall.

Although it was anticipated that Colonial would be strong offensively, they found out last week against Coca they were also strong defensively, holding Cocoa scoreless.

So, this leaves us with the big question. Was last Friday's affair just one of those "nighties" for the Seminoles?

We think it was because no Sanford club of late has been capable of just naturally making that many miscues.

As we said, we'll take the Seminoles tonight. But, we'll admit, we might have to eat this column—word for word, paper and all—next Monday.

From the mail bag: "In reading your 'Thinking Out Loud' column I see you brought to mind past members of the Sanford Junior High Braves and the SWS Seminoles."

"Thought you might get a bang of knowing that Mike Morgan is also playing with the Braves this season, and even though he had not had a brother playing with either the Braves or Seminoles before he certainly has a sister, Nikki, who played with the Powder Puff team."

—Mrs. L. E. Morgan
Thanks Mrs. Morgan, a lot of other people will get a bang out of it, too. And we hope for Mike's sake—as well as the Braves—that Mike's performance will be as outstanding as those of his sister.

MOST IMPORTANT
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida State Coach Bill Paterson says Saturday's game with Texas Christian "may be the most important we'll play this year" and adds he hopes defensive star Max Wright will be ready for action.

Baby Seminoles Blank Little Parkers 24-0

Run String To 31 Straight Without Loss

By David Higginbotham
Herald Sports Writer

WINTER PARK — Seminole High's JayVees made it 31 games in a row without a loss Thursday afternoon when they splashed a 24 to 0 whitewash job all over the Baby Wildcats of Winter Park High. The Baby Seminoles were unscathed upon all last season and have at least a good start on protecting their skins this season.

The SWS JayVees wasted no time in getting on the scoreboard. After taking the kickoff the little Parkers miscued and Chuck Pigott pounced on the loose pigskin to get the Sanford youngsters in control.

Ron Dudley picked up 13 yards and Kelly Ogden reeled off 11 before Terry Echols scampered 19 yards to the three. From there, Buddy Stumpf crashed over for the initial little Seminole touchdown. The PAT attempt was missed and the Baby Tribe led 6 to 0 at the quarter.

An intercepted pass put the Seminoles on the move again. Young Ralph Stumpf went 22 yards and passed to Echols for 25 more. Greg Ganas raked up three yards on an end run followed by Stumpf with seven and a second little Seminole touchdown. Young Pigott tried to boot the PAT but it was short.

Another pass interception put the Baby Seminoles on the march again. Later in the drive Stumpf hit for five yards and then dashed 28 more for the third Sanford score. Again the extra point try was short.

At this point in the ball game Head Coach Ralph Stumpf started testing his depth. Bill Frisby and Alan Peoples, along with Chris Acres accounted for 28 yards. This yardage, plus a 15-yard penalty assessed against the Baby Parkers, put Seminoles in possession of the ball on Winter Park's six. Frisby sprinted around end for the fourth and final Baby Seminole tally.

While his offensive tactics paid off, so did Stumpf and Coach John Colbert's defensive plans. Led by Pigott with six tackles, Echols with four, Lee with five, the Baby Seminoles had little difficulty with the Parker offense.

The Sanford squad will go back to work today in preparation for their second event of the season with Boone High's Baby Braves next Thursday.

Reds And Cards Both Set To Strike At Phils

By Fred Down
UPI Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies may not be lost because they hesitated but they sure have created a free-for-all.

First it was the Cincinnati Reds who barged back into the National League pennant race and now it's the St. Louis Cardinals who have moved back into a position which must be reckoned with. Things were getting pretty sticky for the Phillies 24 hours ago but today they know the meaning of the old refrain that "three's a crowd."

That's because it's getting mighty crowded up around first place in the NL with both the Reds and the Cardinals pressing in behind the Phillies and creating all sorts of mathematical combinations that could "rob" the Phillies of their first flag since 1950.

The Phillies had an opportunity to restore their lead to four games when they played the Milwaukee Braves Thursday night while the Reds were idle. But the Phillies blew a 5-3 decision to the Milwaukee Braves.

That enabled the Reds to move up within three games of the Phillies while they sat around their hotel rooms and also provided the Cardinals with the chance to cut their first-place deficit to only 3 1/2 games by sweeping a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2 and 4-0.

And now all at once the two fast-flying pursuers are counting their blessings—the chance to get at the front-runners face to face before the season is over.

The Reds have two games left to play with the Phillies and the Cardinals have three. If nothing else, this means the Phillies can't back in. They've got to beat their closest pursuers or blow the flag.

The Phillies dropped their fourth straight game and sixth in their last seven outings in a fashion that has become typical in recent days—they hit too little and too late.

Two triples by Joe Torre—the first in the second inning and the second in the eighth—drove in three of the runs that created a 5-0 Milwaukee lead and negated a desperation three-run Philadelphia rally in the last of the eighth. The losing pitcher was Jim Bunning, the veteran who so often has been the Phillies' "stopper" this season. Wade Blasingame went 7 1/3 innings to pick up his seventh win of the season.

Last season the Braves and the Hurricanes tangled on two occasions. In the first tilt at Longwood the Braves came from behind so another Head Coach Jim Clark's "south wind" and several weeks later the Braves whipped the Hurricanes again, 13 to 0, in the Peanut Bowl contest in Sanford.

But it was a different story last night. With three minutes remaining in the second stanza Hurricanes halfback John McDermott scampered exactly half the distance of the gridiron for a touchdown and Richard Rubright crashed two yards for the extra point which ultimately proved to be the margin of victory.

Sanford came back in the third period and about midway through that quarter, with the Braves in possession on South Seminoles' 42, Phil Smith electrified Brave backers with a brilliant gallop into paydirt. The attempt for the PAT, however, did not click and that was the end of the scoring story.

All told, it was primarily a defensive battle from gun to gun. Except for the two explosive dashes, 90 percent of the contest was played between the two 30-yard stripes. Once, however, the Hurricanes worked the ball to Sanford's 17-yard line and from that point halfback Dennis Garrett toted it full.

United Press International Sid Gillman is wearing the pained expression of a fighter who has been decked once and sees the same punch coming again.

The coach of the San Diego Chargers, defending champion of the American Football League, saw his 1961 Western Division titlist flattened by injuries to 23 key players in 1962 and finish with a 4-10 record.

Saturday night in Buffalo the Chargers (1-1) will be without half of their championship backfield and with two other firstline players doubtful.

Someone once said, referring to athletic competition, that there was nothing sweeter than the fruit of revenge.

And the Hurricanes of South Seminoles tasted that delicacy Thursday night when they nosed out the Sanford Junior High Braves by a score of 7 to 6 in the season's opener for both clubs at Lyman High Field in Longwood.

Giants, Redskins Kickoff Pro Grid Card

Like the Yankee Stadium tenants who precede them in the summer, Coach Allie Sherman's New York Giants don't push panic buttons.

But if revengeful Sam Huff and his Washington Redskins teammates pin a third straight defeat on the defending National Football League Eastern Division champions tonight at the Stadium, concern will snowball in New York.

The Giants (0-2) haven't won in recent years when quarterback Y. A. Tittle was absent, and they will be without him tonight even though an angry Tittle insists he is well enough to play.

Gary Wood, a rookie from Cornell, will replace Tittle, who is suffering from bruised rib cartilages incurred during last Sunday's Pittsburgh game.

Huff, for eight years the Giants' middle linebacker, returns with Washington (0-2) which hasn't beaten the Giants in 12 games since 1957.

The Redskins are limping badly with six players doubtful performers. They are full-back Don Bosseler, linebacker Rod Bredehoeve, center Fred Hageman, end Angelo, Coia, linebacker Bob Pellegrini and reserve lineman George Seale.

Redskins quarterback Sonny Jurgensen also has bruised ribs but will play. The game will be the first night contest for the Giants in New York in 26 years and the Redskins are a four and a half point underdog.

In games Sunday, the Cleveland Browns (1-0-1) are a nine-point favorite over the Eagles (1-1) at Philadelphia; the Steelers (1-1) are a four-point choice over the Dallas Cowboys (1-1) at Pittsburgh; the Colts (1-1) are picked by three and a half over the Chicago Bears (1-1) at Baltimore; the Rams are a half-point favorite over Minnesota at Los Angeles and the St. Louis Cardinals (1-0-1) are a six-point choice over the Forty Niners (1-1) at San Francisco. Monday, the Green Bay Packers (1-1) are rated six over the Lions (1-0-1) at Detroit.

Jean Kriek led the Sandspur League for the second straight week as she pounded out a 217/563. After two weeks of howling, Jean is the proud possessor of a 177 average.

Other high games were rolled by Dot Johnson with a 172 and a 186, Darkis Owens with 171 and Dot Schattane with 171. Girls turning in 500 series included Marge Kipp—500, Dot Johnson and Darkis Owens with 501 and Jean Kriek — 553.

The leading teams include Team 12 with a perfect record of eight wins and no losses; Betty Anne's Hairstyling seven-and-one-half wins and a half game lost and followed by O.K. Tire Shop with a seven and one log. Team Nine occupies the number four spot in league standings.

Jane Adcock was the only girl rolling a turkey this week but a number of the ladies converted spittles including Marion Farrell and Mary Anderson making the 5-6, Caroline Pjero and Mary Smith the 5-7, the 2-7 by Edith Zeull and Marilyn Ferguson, the 3-10 by Cammy Myers, Jean Kriek and Marilyn Ferguson, the 6-7-10 for Dot Johnson. Marion Farrell picked up the 5-8-10 and 3-6-7-10 washout.

Barbara Rohrer came through with a tremendous 215/574 in the Women's Scratch League last week and helped her team step into the number two spot in the standings as they won three points from Team One. Team Five won three points from Team Two to take over first place.

Other high series were recorded by Jane Spolski (169/462) and Elaine Kostival (176/478). Claudette Behrens and Ann Behrens converted the 3-10 split, Elaine Kostival the 8-6, Ann Morton the 8-10, Jane Spolski the 3-7-10 and Barbara Rohrer the 4-8.

Gators, Bulldogs In SEC Affair

By Andrew J. Reese Jr.
JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Mississippi State and Florida—two strong darkhorse entries in the Southeastern Conference race—collided Saturday night in a battle between two closely-matched teams with almost identical goals.

Both are hungry for national acclaim but face long, arduous schedules. A victory in their opening conference game, could be a big boost to the morale of either team.

A crowd of 30,000 to 40,000 is expected for the 8 p. m. CST kickoff at Mississippi Memorial Stadium in the second half of a major college double-header. Mississippi meets Kentucky in the afternoon.

The Gators, led by halfback Jack Harper, made an impressive start last week with a 21-8 win over Southern Methodist, while State suffered a 21-7 upset defeat by Texas Tech.

The oddsmakers, apparently remembering State's surprising performance last year, have tabbed the Bulldogs a shaky one-point favorite.

Coach Paul Davis said mistakes "simply killed us" in the loss to Texas Tech, noting the Bulldogs lost three fumbles, twice within the Tech 20, and had two passes intercepted.

He praised the showing of quarterback Don Edwards but felt State didn't do enough passing. Davis hinted the Bulldogs would take to the air more this week.

Harper, a 188-pound junior, scored on an 80-yard punt return and set up another by scrambling 56 yards with a screen pass. Larry Dupree, the Gators' star fullback, was hemmed in and ran just seven times for 21 yards.

The leading teams include Team 12 with a perfect record of eight wins and no losses; Betty Anne's Hairstyling seven-and-one-half wins and a half game lost and followed by O.K. Tire Shop with a seven and one log. Team Nine occupies the number four spot in league standings.

Tate Meets Old Boss Saturday

ATLANTA (UPI) — Charlie Tate, former Georgia Tech assistant, faces his old boss Saturday when he sends his Miami Hurricanes against the Yellow Jackets of Bobby Dodd.

Tate, who took over as head coach at Miami this year, served under Dodd for seven years and was in charge of Tech's defense last season.

Thus an expected crowd of 45-48,000 can look for the game between these two top Southern independents to feature similar defense prepared, in part, by the same man.

The leading teams include Team 12 with a perfect record of eight wins and no losses; Betty Anne's Hairstyling seven-and-one-half wins and a half game lost and followed by O.K. Tire Shop with a seven and one log. Team Nine occupies the number four spot in league standings.

SHS To Host Colonial In Metro Contest Tonight

Tribe Is Rated Slight Favorite Over Grenadiers

By Julian Stewart
The curtain will be lifted tonight on Seminole High School's home football schedule when the Metro Conference spotlight is turned on the Tribe's contest with the Colonial Grenadiers of Orlando.

The affair will get underway at 8 p. m. and adding to the color of the occasion will be bands from both Colonial and Seminole.

It will be the first time a Metro Conference football game will be played in this city. Seminole became a member of the Metro last year during the basketball season. SHS baseball and track teams competed in the Metro but this will complete the cycle and the local school becomes a full time member.

Coach Red Kite will bring a formidable Grenadier eleven to Sanford tonight—undoubtedly seeking revenge for last season's 13-20 loss to SHS when the Sanford eleven roared back in the late minutes of the contest to take the decision before a home crowd.

On the other hand, Coach Jim Pigott and aides Jim McCoy and Dick Williams are at the helm of a Seminole squad which they claim is just as determined to again conquer the Grenadiers as the club was last year.

Both clubs have lost some of last year's talent. However, both have returning lettermen which would force observers to rate the contest as a toss up. Nevertheless, Sanford is being given the edge.

Seminole's offensive attack will be led by Lee Sparkman and halfback Buddy Burton. If these lads can come up with a good night SHS should be able to hold its own with Colonial. On the other hand, the locals recall Donnie Harrellson, a Grenadier halfback, who rolled up yardage for the Grenadiers last season.

The Tribe goes into the contest with a 13-13 tie with Titusville on its record following a somewhat dismal opener in the east coast city.

Colonial comes into the fray fresh from a 13 to 0 triumph over Cocoa. The Grenadiers allowed Cocoa nine first downs and posted only six for themselves. But in doing so, they rolled to 169 yards on the ground and 22 in the air. Against Titusville, Sanford posted 13 first downs and 163 ground yards plus 22 in the air.

The outcome of tonight's tilt could well depend upon which club can claim any offensive consistency.

Pigott will probably lead off with ends Larry Watson (210) and Mike Gray (173), tackles Dave Noel (210) and Dave Golhofer (193), guards Steve Harris (173) and Steve Clark (183), center Dave Howe (190), quarterback Ron Hinson (160), halfbacks Burton (193) and Danny Tillis (164) and fullback Sparkman (210).

Greyhounds Will Race Cardinals At Ocoee

By Jim Macchus
Herald Sports Writer

A little over a month ago Head Coach Dick Copeland, end coach Tom Farley and line coach Tom Barnes greeted a group of candidates for the Lyman High football team.

Except for six returning lettermen, they were a green bunch of high school athletes. Tonight the Greyhounds—still green and with those same six returning lettermen—face their initial test of the season. They will go to Ocoee for a contest with the tough Ocoee Cardinals who sport a 14 to 12 win over Apopka last week.

Copeland's starting lineup will include ends Gene Winkelman (173) and John Stuart (175), tackles Allie Buesse (190) and Richard Patterson (185), guards Chuck Wagner (170) and Jody Toole (163), center Dave Mattis (190), quarterback Jack Blanton (150), halfbacks Phil Ferrault (135) and Al Cantrel (150) and fullback Austin Saville (173).

There's a possibility that Keith Salmi (163) will start at one of the tackle slots in place of Patterson.

Another fullback, Terry Toole (165) will probably see some offensive duty and will definitely serve as a defensive linebacker.

Copeland has announced that Wagner has been named captain of the club for this year and that Blanton and Winkelman have been picked as co-captains.

Through the green dimness Copeland sees some bright spots. Among the "rookies" he has some boys who have had junior high experience and have shown in practice sessions that they have potential.

Among these are a pair of halfbacks, Larry Lott and Paul Lambert.

The 'Hounds are anticipating a difficult evening at Ocoee, particularly when they have to face such threats as the Cardinals' outstanding David Grant, a triple-threat back.

Two, the Cardinals have that game under their belt with Apopka and that experience might also make a difference.

However, Copeland and his aides have counted Ocoee well and there is no defeatist attitude among the Greyhounds.

Winkelman will handle the kickoff chores for Lyman while Eddie Long, a transfer quarterback, will do the punting.

The Series will open in the park of the National League champion on Wednesday, Oct. 7, and the second game will be played there Thursday, Oct. 8.

The third, fourth and fifth games if necessary will be played at Yankee Stadium, if the Yankees win the pennant, with no day off for travel if an eastern team wins the NL flag.

That would mean the New York portion of the Series would be played on Oct. 9, 10, 11, a weekend. If required the sixth and seventh games would return to the NL park.

Box seats for the three games at Yankee Stadium will sell for $38 a set and grandstand for $24. An additional $1.00 is required for mailing and handling each total order.

Ticket orders must be accompanied by a certified check, bankers cashier check, U. S. money order or express money order only. No orders post-marked prior to Friday night will be accepted.

GETS OSCAR AWARD PARIS (UPI) — Former world middleweight boxing champion Sugar Ray Robinson has been awarded the French sports writers Oscar for being the most popular foreign sportsman to visit France in 1963.

President Frederic Brooks of Sportvision, Inc., predicted authoritatively today that the return Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston match at Boston on Nov. 16 will be a $5-million fight.

Yanks Announce Acceptance Of Ticket Requests

NEW YORK UPI — The New York Yankees, with their 14th pennant in the last 16 years, practically on, today announced they are now accepting mail orders for World Series tickets.

The Yankees said a limited number of box and reserved seats will go on sale immediately, by mail only. There will be no "over-the-counter" sales of box and reserved seats.

Mail orders will be limited to no more than two sets of World Series tickets per customer. Each set consists of one ticket for each of the three games scheduled at Yankee Stadium.

Crescent City To Clash With Lions

By Marshall Lingo
Herald Sports Writer

The roaring Oviedo Lions, fresh from a victory in their initial outing over the Zephyrhills Bulldogs last week, will seek win number two of the current grid season when they entertain Crescent City tonight at John Courrier Field.

The affair will get underway at 8 p. m.

The Lions will still be without the services of halfback Billy Miller and Head Coach Arthur Scott will call on Charlie Miller to take Miller's spot.

Also unavailable for tonight's fracas will be guard Wayne Jacobs and flanker Jim Bessley. Jacobs was injured up in Oviedo's opener last Friday night and has missed drills this week.

Bessley will be replaced by Arnie Arndt and Paul Lucas will probably see action in place of Jacobs.

Oviedo, operating as an independent, was impressive in flag.

Highlights

TV Time offers preview of television shows by outstanding performers, watching 150 programs, analyzing scripts in New York and Hollywood. Here are their reviews for today:

7:30-8:30 p.m. CBS. Rowdy (Season Premiere) This series has some exciting scenes, but this isn't one of them. It's actually a rather boring return debut, except possibly to remind Rowdy fans. Don't look for any real villains because this trail is centered on a feud between trail boss Gil Faver (Eric Fleming) and second cowboy (Clint Eastwood). Following a quarrel with Faver, Rowdy quits his job and takes on the chore of driving a rival herd to market. Since he and Faver have the same destination, Rowdy is determined to bring in his herd first with near disastrous results.

7:30-8:30 p.m. NBC. International Showtime, "The Wonderful Viennese Ice Revue" (Season Premiere) In a sense, this is a clever way to begin a season painfully. With an ice show, one can never be sure whether one is watching something new or a repeat. This one is brand new. It includes the expected breathtaking stunts, clown and ballet production numbers.

8:30-9:30 p.m. CBS. The Entertainers (Premiere) This promises to be an exciting, entertaining addition to TV's limited roster of variety programs. With a star roster including Carol Burnett, Bob Newhart, Caterina Valente, plus such talents as Tossie

O'Brien, John Davidson and the comedy team of Hendra and Ullet, it's a power-packed line-up.

9:30-9:55 p.m. NBC. Bob Hope (Season Premiere) It's always a pleasure to welcome Bob at the beginning of each season and no matter how good or bad his material may be, it's no chore watching his variety shows and enjoying them. He opens the current season with a particularly strong and colorful hour on which he's joined by a gang of the best clown and entertainers in show business. His monologue deals with TV and politics, he joins Milton Berle and Phyllis Diller in a wild sketch about TV monsters that's at least as funny as the TV series themselves, he clownes with Jack Benny in the audio, he shares a sketch with Dean Martin (who also takes advantage of the opportunity to plug his hit record "Everybody Loves Somebody" with Miss Diller.

9:55-10:30 p.m. ABC. The Life You Save is Yours. This was originally supposed to kick off the series but was switched at the last moment. We don't know what you thought of the premiere episode last week, but this one isn't up to it. However, star Tony Franciosa is charming, there are some choice-looking girls and Eddie Quillan (who did so well as the cook on "No Time for Sergeants") gets another chance to show what a fine old character comedian he is.

47,000 Florida Members To Mark 4-H Club Week

'Learning For Living' Theme Of Observance

Some 47,000 Florida 4-H club members will celebrate National 4-H Club Week next week, with a "Learning for Living" theme.

This year's observance is especially important because it recognizes the Golden Anniversary of the Cooperative Extension Service, of which 4-H is a significant part. W. W. Brown state 4-H club leader, said.

Since 1914, when the Smith-Lever Act authorized extension, and federal legislation first helped to finance and conduct 4-H club work, about 22,500,000 different young people have participated in the "learn by doing" program — now spread far beyond rural areas. All backgrounds and levels of living are represented in 4-H clubs.

One of the purposes of National 4-H Club Week is to increase public understanding of 4-H aims and methods. Seminole County 4-H'ers will climax the week with a banquet.

The Florida State 4-H Club Council will present a "Report to the State" to Governor Bryant and state cabinet members during the week. State 4-H council President Eddie Taylor, of Green Cove Springs, and Mary Hedden, vice-president, of Fort Meade will give the report.

Dr. M. O. Watkins, Director of the Agricultural Extension Service, said, "4-H Club Week is a time when all Floridians can take stock of the value of our youth programs to the state and the need which 4-H fills in meeting the problems of our young people. The Florida Agricultural Extension Service is proud of its record of 50 years' work in Florida youth. The many thousands of boys and girls who have benefited from this program throughout these years are a living testimony to the value of 4-H. It has equipped our young people with training that has helped them become useful citizens."

"4-H has helped them acquire agricultural and home-making skills. As we look to the future we must analyze carefully the needs and problems which the present and future generations will be facing. All of us have an obligation to concern ourselves with building programs, including 4-H, which will meet these needs."

Brown said that popular 4-H projects in Florida include career exploration, automotive care and safety, electrification, health and nutrition, personality improvement, home beautification, entomology, leadership and citizenship development.

Scores of national and local leaders in business, industry, education, and other fields give support to the 4-H program.

The 4-H plan has now been adapted so that 4-H clubs or similar groups exist in about 75 other countries.

VAH-13 Wins Safety Award

The 1964 Aviation Safety Award of the Chief of Naval Operations was presented to Heavy Attack Squadron 13 Wednesday for having achieved the most outstanding safety record among heavy attack squadrons in the Navy.

The squadron flew 5,551 hours, accident free, including 4,458 hours carrier-based and 1,093 carrier landings during the past fiscal year which ended June 30.

Capt. James O. Mayo, Commander, Reconnaissance Attack Wing One, in presenting the Award to the squadron commanding officer, Cdr. C. V. Noka, made the following statement:

"This is believed to be an all-time heavy attack record for safe carrier operations in one year."

"By conducting accident-free carrier operations in the front lines of the cold war, you contributed markedly to the readiness of the U.S. Navy and especially to the readiness of its deployed forces." The award consists of a plaque and citation.

24 Emergency CD Hospitals Okayed

JACKSONVILLE — Twenty-four 1962 (correct) model civil defense emergency hospitals have been approved for location in 14 counties, the State Board of Health said today. These are in addition to 37 older models already positioned in the state.

The hospitals are crated but 40 men can set one up in four hours. They are 200-bed hospitals with provision for 30-day service. Each costs the government $49,500.

The counties are Brevard, Columbia (2), Hillsborough (4), Escambia, Pasco, Bay, Santa Rosa, Charlotte, Palm Beach (2), Polk, Dade (8), Orange, Lee and Leon.

Dr. L. L. Parks, director of civil defense health and medical operations under the state health officer and director of the board's Bureau of Local Health Services, said the first two of the 24 have been positioned in Dade and a third has just been delivered to Lee. No specific dates have been set for the others.

He said construction of storage facilities are under way at Rockledge, Plant City, Belle Glade and Temple Terrace with other sites set tentatively for Lake City, Baptist Retreat (Hillsborough), Century (Escambia), Dade City, Milton, Punta Gorda, Bartow, North Miami, Kendall, Orlando, Ft. Myers and Chaires (Leon).

Locations in Panama City and Juno Beach are under study.

The hospitals can be used upon proper authorization in any major emergency. Counties may utilize existing structures such as schools or other suitable buildings. A permanent hospital might expand to house the facility. Community health and civil defense leaders are responsible for storage of the hospitals and for their use.

Dr. Parks emphasized that where possible, the hospitals should be stored in the vicinity where they will be used. Storage space of approximately 1,200 square feet is needed. An operational site of not less than 15,000 square feet, all on the first floor, is required. An ambulance driveway is needed. Halls and doorways should be wide. The building must have toilets, bathing facilities and food service.

One-day CD hospital training courses will be held in St. Petersburg for physicians and nurses Nov. 18, Jan. 30, Feb. 17 and March 17. Two-day courses for other medical and allied personnel will be held Nov. 19-20, Jan. 21-22, Feb. 18-19 and March 18-19.

Training Set By Red Cross

The American Red Cross Gray Lady in the School training course, twice postponed due to Hurricane Cleo and Dora, will start Sept. 28, at 9 a. m. in the Health Department assembly room, corner French Ave. and Ninth Street.

Because of heavy load of disaster claims in the Red Cross office, no new schedules will be sent out. The new schedule is as follows:

Sept. 28, Red Cross Orientation; Sept. 30, Oct. 5, 7, 12, 14, Standard First Aid Classes; Oct. 10, School indoctrination; Sept. 30, Oct. 5, 7, 12, instruction.

Trained Gray Ladies were of inestimable help in shelters during both hurricanes, assisting with registrations and general welfare of Seminole County citizens seeking shelter, Red Cross officials report.

Anyone wishing to enter class may do so by coming to Health Department on opening day.

Bear Lake HD Club Meets

By Maryann Miles
The Bear Lake Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. L. Dullin with Miss Myrtle Wilson, home demonstration agent, as guest speaker.

The next scheduled meeting will be held Oct. 22 and the time has been changed to 1:30 p. m. instead of the evening. It will be at the home of Mrs. Russell Loomis, Bear Lake Rd., and the subject for the evening will be medical quackery.

Unemployed workers on Cyprus are said to be "sitting" which they do all day to avoid stimulating their appetites.

Stetson Gets $8,400 Grant

Stetson University has received a grant of $8,400 from the National Science Foundation to support an undergraduate research participation program in the Department of Chemistry, according to Dr. Theodore W. Heller, head of the department.

The program is designed to enable qualified undergraduates to grow as independent scholars in science. It will furnish scholarships to four students to carry out research part time during the 1964-65 academic year, and full time during the summer of 1965.

THE MORNING I PLAYED Hooky...

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
 The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

This picture will always live in my memory. It was Sunday morning, and I was about eleven years old. I was on my way to Church School when I met Tom Snyder. It didn't take much urging for me to join him in a fishing expedition. I had always thought it would be fun to play hooky. It came as kind of a shock that it wasn't. I was downright uncomfortable, sitting there with my line dangling in the water. I kept thinking about how nice our Church School teacher had been to me, and about how my parents would be looking for me in Church. And pretty soon I found that inside me I was wriggling. I think that's the first time I ever realized I "ought" to do anything. I didn't catch a fish that morning, but I did learn a big lesson. I learned that there is very little honest joy in doing something you shouldn't be doing. I learned that we have a certain duty to God and to ourselves, and that we can't be happy when we turn our backs on it. From then on, my Church School attendance was 100%. Now that I'm older, I try to maintain that same record. Sunday means the Church to my family.

Did you ever take a shower—a dry shower, that is?

Before you can enter the Navy's new avionics building at the Sanford Naval Air Station a two-minute dry shower is required in a foyer just inside the main entrance. That's to keep out dust particles as small as five microns.

Once inside the structure the visitor is awed at the size and magnitude of the testing and maintenance equipment. If you want to see how defense dollars are expended, well—here's one place you can find out.

The avionics building, Lt. Bill Sharpe told some 80 Chamber of Commerce Coffee Clubbers last Thursday morning, is a pioneering adventure. It's the first of its kind especially designed to support RASC Viliante aircraft. It's also unique in its equipment, Sharpe declared, since there are machines installed which will perform as many as 1,000 tests on aircraft equipment in as little as two minutes.

The structure itself is equipped to provide ideal environmental conditions and temperature controls, especially in the "clean" room.

The North Orlando Company office reports that for the fourth quarter of 1964 real estate shows a steady rise. During the past three months 21 new families have moved into North Orlando from other states, some from as far away as Alaska and Washington State.

Judy Wells, our county editor, is progressing as well as can be expected following surgery last week at Memorial Hospital. Meanwhile, her desk is being capably handled by Jane Casselberry. Jane can be reached from South Seminole phones, by calling 424-8824 during the day or 838-5046 during evening hours.

Bill and Joanne Halback—her's the president of Wall Plumbing—have won the GE "Vacation at the Fair" contest. He and Joanne will fly from Jacksonville to New York Oct. 8 and will stay at the Americana. The trip includes two days at the Fair, a tour of Manhattan, a Broadway show plus dinner and a floor show at the Latin Quarter.

Bill won the "quota buster" award in competition with other heating and air conditioning dealers throughout the southeast. And, it's the second straight year he and Joanne have won the award. Last year they went to Jamaica.
