Admiral Says Subs Eye U. S. Defense

HONOLULU (UPI) — Rear Adm. Benjamin E. Moore revealed today that Russian submarines and surface ships have been "snooping" along the Navy's Pacific barrier between Midway and the Aleutians.

Moore commands the 1,500-mile electronics fence whose ships and radar planes extend the DEW (distant early warning) system to the sub-Pacific.

The admiral said Navy reconnaissance and destroyer escorts have made numerous contacts with Soviet naval units all along the Pacific barrier area.

"Their surface ships," the admiral said, "have patrolled the length of our Pacific barrier, and we've spotted Red submarines snooping the area."

The Barbours Point based admiral said because of security reasons, it was impossible to specify the times, locations and further identify the Soviet ships.

A spokesman for the 4,000-man naval command said contacts around the clock and the patrols are now being run on the length of the north Pacific where Japan sent its warships to attack Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

High altitude winds of more than 100 mph hour bring northwesterly American and Canadian cities within four hours of being hit by the Japanese.

Admiral Moore led 175th Airborne Cavalry Group to certain the Russians were in the barrier area and had now reached a fully operational stage.

T. A. Green, VAN-7, was taken to the dispensary at N.A.S. Sanford with a deep laceration of the face, when the car in which he was riding struck another on Park Ave. early today.

Two Duel To Death In Hollywood Home

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Two men killed each other today after a room-to-room gun duel in a Hollywood home.

Killed was ex-convict Barney Silva, 35-year-old restaurant chain co-owner, and jazz musician Jack Boris, 47. Boris was Mrs. Chester's cousin.

Police said Boris, who lived with Simon Chester, went to the residence shortly after 9 p. m. and found Silva there. He began to argue with Mrs. Chester about her relationship with Silva and ordered her to stop seeing him.

During the quarrel Boris whipped out a .38 automatic and began to beat Mrs. Chester on the head and shoulders.

Silva then drew a .38 revolver and fired at Boris. The two men exchanged fire as they moved through the house.

Mrs. Chester ran from the house, telephoned her husband and asked him to call police.

When police arrived they found Silva dead and Boris dying.

Commission Says County Home Issue To Be Settled

The County Commission yesterday rejected charges of the Longwood Citizens League about conditions of the Seminole County Home.

In a resolution in the press last week, a spokesman said reports had been received that funds from the home's budget had been diverted to other purposes.

The statement was rejected by Commission Clerk G. P. Herndon yesterday. He said $1,200 was added to the fund last year when the home was short of money.

"This board has always taken care of the requests from the home. The state continues to do a clean bill of health on the county home. I am sure they will provide the proper money for anything within reason."

In answer to statements that an audit would be demanded, Herndon added, "The state audited our books through Sept. 30 last year and gave the county a clean bill of health."

John Krier said, "We are not covering up anything at the county home. This is the last place for people whose families have living relatives. It shouldn't be considered a high class nursing home. We have never allowed them feed or anything that the management needed money for.

"We have just employed an engineering firm to survey all the public buildings. Now isn't the time to put new furniture in an old building, if we may tear it down. Certainly, there are no frills on the windows and the oil clock is cracked, but we are concerned with food, medical care and attention."

Present at the meeting were Grady Scott, superintendent of the home, Mrs. Abbie Boyd, County Health Dept. Director, and her assistant, Mrs. Irene Vernay.

Scott told the Board that he could manage "pretty well" on the budget of $22,000 a year. He told Commissioners that the patients seemed happy and had gained weight since he came to the home last October.

"We definitely have a problem," Krier said. "The building is old and the condition has accumulated over the years. No one has paid much attention to it."

Commissioners said they had visited the home and found the food good and the residents "well pleased."

Mrs. Boyd told the Board that up until three years ago her department had made weekly trips to the home until told that "we weren't needed anymore, as there were too many beds."

"It is the Commission's responsibility to take care of the citizens in the county home. We brought conditions to the home up several times, but we just talked about it. Nothing was done. Requests were made in connection with the State Board of Health's recommendations, however," Mrs. Boyd said. She added that attention should go to Commissioners before protesting in the press.

The Board cited improvements made by Scott since his installation as superintendent. Last week alarm bells were installed in the halls in case of fire. A telephone in the infirmary was considered another safety factor.

Krier emphasized that the building would be considered under the present survey by James Gamble Rogers. Mrs. Boyd was authorized to conduct a monthly inspection of the home, and Scott was told to get the locking red in the infirmary fixed.

Krier concluded the session by saying, "If we are going to remodel the home, it will be reformed. These tables haven't even been cleaned yet. We are talking about."

Farm housing loan funds now are available to eligible farmers, ranchers, grove owners and other agricultural people in Seminole County, Curtis J. Green, local Farmers Home Administration supervisor, announced today. He said that an adequate supply of direct federal funds now is on hand to supply the building needs of any eligible applicant.

Loan funds may be used to construct, improve, alter, replace, or repair farm homes and other essential farm buildings. The loans may be made for periods up to 15 years and the interest rate is four per cent per year on the unpaid balance. Spring Three Days Away, But Winter Holding Fort

United Press International Winter held the fort against the crushing spring season today, scattering snow flurries across the northeast and driving cold air into Dixie.

With spring due officially in three days, overnight readings plunged into the 30s southward into North Carolina and sections of Georgia and Alabama.

Sub-zero temperatures were common in the northern Great Lakes region, with Grand Marais, Mich., reporting 20 below.

Snows Tuesday buried St. Patrick's Day greenery under a blanket of white in parts of the Midwest and the East. A surprise snowstorm and high winds battered 130,000 marchers in New York City's St. Patrick's Day parade. But despite the storm, the turnout set a record.

A half-foot of new snow hit lower Michigan, and the Niagara, N. Y., area was blanketed by four to six inches. A five-inch snowfall in the South Bend, Ind., area fouled off a rash of traffic accidents, two of them involving school buses. However, more than 50 children escaped injury.

Emphasis will be on perfect fit. "If we can't fit them, we won't take their money," Hutchins said. "Our policy is to inform the public as to the exact quality of the merchandise. We do not carry so-called trade names."

Hutchins is not new to the clothing business. He is now entering his 40th year in the mercantile field, and has two stores in Massachusetts. Although Hutchins lives in S. Lancaster, Mass., he will spend much of his time in Fern Park.

MILWAUKEE.—(UPI)—Edward Dann received a letter from a man asking if he operated a tailoring shop in Milwaukee in 1928. Dann replied he had for 25 years before retiring in 1948. Commission Seeking Home Rule Authority

The Seminole County Commission has submitted to the local legislative delegation an 11-point program which would bring the county more home rule.

Local legislators are in agreement, generally, on the program. Reps. Mack Cleveland Jr. and Gordon Frederick and Sen. Douglas Stenstrom have expressed the view that the Commission should have more authority in local matters.

The county government now has the responsibility, but very little authority. This type situation always leads to problems, whether in government, business or otherwise. Authority and responsibility go hand in hand.

Commissioners are responsible for direction of the county's affairs. They must see that adequate roads and highways are maintained, that county finances are sufficient to meet needs, that money is expended correctly and wisely. Yet, under the outdated system which now exists, they have very little authority in their various fields of responsibility.

As an example: the county has a chance to obtain a fine airport (Oscola) for the very nominal sum of $1. Before Seminole County can take advantage of this opportunity, the Legislature must enact a special bill to give the Commission authority to own and operate such a facility.

This example isn't far-fetched. The item is included in the 11-point program the Commission is requesting from local legislators. Most of the other requests fit into a similar category. They are things which the County Commission should be able to do without special approval from the Legislature.

If County Commissioners are employed to run the county, they should run it. If a majority of the voters are displeased, they have direct recourse at the polls.

If the proposed new State Constitution does not correct this deficiency, it should be overhauled before it is presented for approval.

Nikita, Take Notice

President Eisenhower is willing to meet Nikita Khrushchev at the summit, but the U. S. won't back up "one inch" on its rights and responsibilities in Berlin.

That, in brief, was the President's message to the American people Monday night. He is in favor of talking, as long as there remains something constructive to talk about.

The President made one fact very plain: the U. S. doesn't want to fight to retain free access to Berlin; the Allies will, however, if this becomes necessary. He reminded his listeners that the free men have died before so-called "scraps of paper" which represented duty, honor and freedom.

Eisenhower refused to accept any Soviet deadline on doing anything. That, it would seem, should let Khrushchev know that he isn't dictating to the U. S. as he does to Iron Curtain satellites.

Witness May Give Ambush Death Clue

TAMPA (UPI)—Police say a surprise witness has turned up here who may be the key to the unsolved killings of both local produce dealer Bernardo (Bennie) Lazzara and the mayor of a small Alabama town.

The witness, who officers refuse to identify, claims to have seen Lazzara gunned down from ambush the night of March 8 when he stepped from his automobile at his own yard. However, Detective Capt. Neil Brown said the man may be lying in order to win a $10,000 reward offered by Lazzara's family and friends.

Finding Lazzara's killer also may lead to who killed Mayor O. L. Driver of Saraland, Ala., police said. Striking similarities in the two killings had officers in two states looking for a possible link.

Driver and Lazzara both were killed from ambush by a 12-gauge shotgun blast. Police said both looked the work of a professional killer, and there was no apparent motive in either case.

Driver was killed Aug. 6. Two Tampa detectives spent four days in Saraland last week, but police declined to say what was discussed.

Assignment Washington

By Ed Koterba
 WASHINGTON — Wonder if Senator Gordon Allott (R., Colo.) knew what he was bringing onto himself when he turned in his resolution to make the carnation our national flower.

What he did was like stepping into a garden packed with angry bees. I would say he committed a grave political error. He shoulda' stayed neutral.

A couple of weeks back I made the tactical mistake of not staying neutral in a piece about an earlier flower feud between the rose and the corn tassel. Gently, I had cast my vote for the tassel as our national floral emblem. And the things that the housewives wrote did not sound much like flowery phrases.

The ladies swung everything from backyard brickbats to garden clubs. They claimed other blossoms as their absolute favorites, and this included everything from the yellow dandelion to the purple wisteria.

Maybe the carnation is the grandest floral symbol of all. But that's beside the point. No Senator in his right mind would take the chance of losing an election by voting for anything other than his state's choice. Housewives may not understand ponderous legislation, but they know their flowers.

Allott must have sensed that his flower cause was going to pot less than two hours after he presented his bill. A half dozen Senators, wearing in their lapels the Senator's free carnations, jumped up on the Senate floor to protest the resolution.

Allott's first error, of course, was when he referred to the flower feud as a "weedy situation." I'd say he was trodding on somebody's grass, namely Senator Thurston Morton's (R., Ky.), who's plugging grass. In fact, he expects to introduce a grass bill presently.

But even the man from Kentucky is on the spot. He'd like to push Kentucky blue, which sprouts an artistic seed head and is universally popular, but the Kentucky No. 31 fescue people down home, he fears, would get sore.

The carnation man from Colorado bruised the rose people when he said, "I've been injured by thorns," though he did manage to say he had no malice toward the flower.

Then he ranted Senator Paul Douglas (D., Ill.), who's promoting the price-supported corn tassel, by hinting strongly that the tassel is not truly a flower.

The carnation crusader didn't mention the marigold, another contender, and this probably dismayed our latest official lobbyist, David Burpee of Bucks County, Pa., the seed man, who's been angling for some free publicity.

Now, if all these gentlemen were smart, they'd drop the whole thing and turn to less controversial matters like the unbalanced budget and the intercontinental missile.

But now they can't. This week they committed themselves to a debate on May 3, arranged by a Senate staffer, Ben Strong, an official of the Falls Church, Va., Garden Club. The debate will be limited to vegetation mentioned above.

I predict emphatically that their caucus room will be picketed by the dahlia folks of Ohio, the wisteria people of Maryland and the orchid growers of Hawaii, not to mention the proponents of snow trees from Alaska.

If these controversial gentlemen persist in naming a national floral symbol, they ought to pick out a common denominator. That would be crab grass. It'll be an uncontrollable nuisance again this year. And as long as we can't beat it, we ought to glorify it.

Washington Calling

By Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Thanks to the Pentagon censor and the inevitable restraints imposed by the Berlin crisis, the current inquiry into our defenses is unlikely to bring into focus the real nature of the dispute over our preparedness or lack of it.

Put in the simplest possible terms the question posed is: Have our conventional forces been so cut back for reasons of economy that our capacity for limited war has been reduced dangerously close to zero and our entire reliance placed on nuclear retaliation? In other words, is the choice between suicide and surrender?

Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Chief of Staff of the Army, believes that the defense budget must be $45 billion a year for five years if the Army is to overcome the grave deficiencies of recent years.

This is $5 billion more than is in the President's defense budget for 1960. In General Taylor's view it would enable the Army to carry out a minimum modernization.

Some of this he spelled out in his testimony before the Johnson preparedness subcommittee. But the basic contention he put on the record in a speech last December. He said that 70 percent of the equipment of the Army was of World War II or Korean War vintage or older.

As a result, he told an audience in Pasadena, Calif., the Army needs second-generation missiles, light atomic weapons, improved conventional weapons, many new types of air and ground vehicles, and improved and newly designed electronic communications equipment. It is vital also to plan the contingent use of air and sea lift for limited war. In short, the Army is equipped with the weapons of the last war to fight a new war on the ground. In contrast, the Russians have pushed modernization very far in their 175 ground divisions.

Of the four members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General Taylor is the only one due to retire, after two terms as Chief of Staff. The others as continuing members of the Eisenhower team have a demand on their loyalty.

When he retires at the end of June General Taylor intends to take his case to the public. He will argue first in a series of magazine articles and then in a book that "massive retaliation" is a strategic trap into which the United States has fallen. It is a death trap from which we must extricate ourselves if we are to continue to lead the Western coalition, he contends.

The odds would seem to be against his success. The power of the aircraft industry is very great and if the Eisenhower economy wall is to be breached, with or without the President's consent, it would seem likely the additional money would go into missiles or aircraft. How much interest the public is paying to the defense controversy is in any event questionable.

Yet, General Taylor's effort should not be entirely discounted. His predecessor as Chief of Staff, Gen. Matthew Ridgway, more than any single individual blocked those who were bent on an atomic strike when the French had dug themselves into the futile jungle post of Dienbienphu in the Indo-China war. The country's debt to him on this one score alone is great.

General Ridgway also made the case for a modernized Army of reasonable strength. While he was not reappointed to a second term as Chief of Staff he had a wide and respectful hearing.

Before he retires, at the end of his second term, General Taylor will go to Europe for a lengthy meeting of NATO military planners. About mid-May he will be in Berlin. Ostensibly this will be for a formal farewell to the American troops stationed there.

In fact it will be a morale booster for the garrison. From 1945 to '51 General Taylor was commander of the American contingent in Berlin and he has a deep attachment to the city. When this spare, handsome soldier inspects the troops in battle formation with the deadline of May 27 only a few days away, it will be a moment of high emotion.

What is coming out of the current preparedness hearings should leave Moscow in no doubt — this country will not retreat from Berlin no matter how grim the choice. But a choice between suicide is something quite different.

It is the case for readiness to meet the limited challenge that General Taylor wants to carry to the court of public opinion.

I will not be responsible for any debts incurred by anyone other than myself.

Decisions 'Joint,' But Papa Pays Bill
ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (UPI) — Between a quarter and half of all the major economic decisions made by American families are shared equally by husbands and wives according to Dr. Elizabeth H. Wolcott of the University of Michigan Research Center.

But where the decisions are not reached jointly, she said, the husband is more important in deciding when to buy a car while his wife has more to say about saving, handling the bills and buying household goods.

Garden Clubs Meet

ROSE CIRCLE
Rose Circle enjoyed a distinctive and memorable program last Friday at the home of Mrs. D. H. Mathers.

Following the usual business meeting, Mrs. W. A. Morrison presented a delightful talk on "Gardens of the Bible," commencing with the first garden—the Garden of Eden—and finishing with the Garden of the Sepulchre.

Mrs. Morrison said that though the Scriptures abound in reference to plants and trees and their growth processes, the word Garden and the simile of well-watered versus parched gardens are frequently mentioned; yet specific gardens identified by name or location are very few.

The first chapters of Genesis unfold this first garden and give the first lesson in Botany, dividing plant life into three types; grass, whose seed is in itself. Also, a lesson in horticulture "And a river went out of Eden to water the garden." "And out of the herb yielding seed; and fruit, ground made the Lord God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil".

The tradition generally accepted as to the forbidden fruit fixes it as the apple, but there is no evidence in the Bible that the tree of knowledge was an apple tree unless the remarks in Song of Solomon "I raised thee up under an apple tree" be held to apply to our first parents. The only tree in this garden mentioned by name as known today is the fig tree.

The location of Eden has been the subject of many speculations. The garden was undoubtedly of a tropical nature because of the nudity of the first parents; the aprons of fig leaves being for modesty. The coasts of skins with which God clothed them after their sin were probably for protection from the "thorns and thistles" in the land to which they were driven rather than for warmth.

There has been some speculation as to the botanical identity of the tree of life. However, it is usually accepted in a metaphysical sense. It makes its final appearance in Scripture in Revelations gracing the banks of "a pure river of water of life, bearing 12 manner of fruit every month," and the leaves of the tree were for healing of the nations. And again in Revelations it is a promise of the Holy Spirit "To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life which is in the midst of the Paradise of God."

The other garden in the Old Testament which deserves our attention is Solomon's garden. "For lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear on the earth, the time of the singing of the birds is come, and the voice of the turtle (dove) is heard in the land".

It is read in Scripture that the age of Solomon, in the 10th century B. C. is known as the Golden Age of Israel. The story of Solomon is one of the most fascinating in all history. The account in the Bible of his life, his possessions and his accomplishments seems so fabulous and at times incredible that it was among those parts of the Bible about which there was a great deal of skeptical criticism especially during periods of the 17th and 18th centuries. They were often regarded as mere fanciful or pious tales. But for the past century and especially during this first part of the 20th century, American, French, English and German scholars, using the Bible as a guide, have made startling discoveries proving that this Book written by the Jews in the light of their relationship to God, is remarkably accurate from an historical viewpoint. The location of his mines, his vast building projects, even his stables and Solomon's garden, have been discovered just as they are described in the Bible. In the words of Solomon "I made me great works; I builded me houses; I planted me vineyards; I made me gardens and orchards; and I planted trees in them for all kinds of fruits." "I made me pools to water therewith the wood that bringeth forth trees".

Today most Bible gardens would be called orchards because of the emphasis on trees. Solomon's garden, while including trees, was much more extensive. There are many references to specific plants and with especial emphasis on their fragrance.

There must have been many gardens in Palestine in Jesus' time. Bethany, the village near Jerusalem so intimately associated in the mind with the most familiar acts and scenes of the last days of the life of Christ means "the Gardens" yet there are only two gardens mentioned specifically and described in the New Testament.

The teachings of Jesus are colorfully interspersed with his intimate knowledge of the plant life of his native land. He loved the friendly earth. Palestine is said to be a flower lover's paradise, and the people seem to have a weakness for highly scented or highly flavored plants or seeds.

Many native flowers in Palestine have been called lilies. More brilliant than all the others is the anemone, or wind flower. The plant, growing from a bulb, springs to life every year after the early rains, and botanists generally agree that these were the "lilies of the field" of which Jesus spoke.

A favorite haunt of Jesus and his disciples was an old garden adjoining an olive grove just outside Jerusalem at the foot of the Mount of Olives. The name Gethsemane means "olive press". There must have been an olive press among the trees in the garden. There, Christ went with his disciples the night before his death; there he prayed and awaited the arrival of the soldiers, led by the traitor Judas.

As Eden means Paradise, symbolic of a state of bliss or happiness, Gethsemane is symbolic of anguish. Christianity reacts to the Garden of Gethsemane in sorrow and sadness. To Easter visitors in the Holy Land, Gethsemane today is a simple garden of beautiful flowers and well-tended hedges attended by Franciscan Fathers in skull caps and the brown habit of their order. There are eight ancient olive trees in the garden, some of them have split apart and one has broken in half. Out of the fallen trunk small shoots are growing. The largest and probably the oldest measures some 40 feet at its base. Its massive trunk has become a pedestal from which numerous smaller trunks have grown.

The Irish Franciscans in charge have a botanical report which indicates that the largest of the trees are at least 3000 years old. They are sure these trees form part of the grove under which Christ prayed.

After the crucifixion the body of Jesus found rest in an unfamiliar garden—the garden of the sepulchre.

It was heartwarming and inspiring to hear the story of the living Christ related so beautifully and delicately to "living gardens."

The Mathers home was lovely with flower arrangements. Coffee and sweet rolls were served to the members and their guests.

Hibiscus Circle
The Hibiscus Circle of the Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. David H. Fauver on Myrtle Street which was assisted by Mrs. R. F. Moule and Mrs. A. H. Stevens.

An interesting talk on "Flowering Trees" was given by Mrs. H. C. Hietel.

Delicious refreshments were served to the twenty-two members present and the St. Patrick's Day theme was used in decorations.

Jacaranda Circle
Jacaranda Circle met with Mrs. J. C. Andrews with Mrs. E. G. Mossman and Mrs. Dewitt Hunter as co-hostesses.

Speaker was Mrs. W. B. Brinson who talked on "Gorsage Making." A collection of orchids, given by Mrs. R. S. Anderson, was used in the demonstration. Sixteen members were present.

Mimosa Circle
A trip to the Clock Shop in St. Cloud was enjoyed by the members of the Mimosa Circle Friday morning.

Mrs. Theresa Budinger, owner, showed the garden which is a Bird Sanctuary. Birds of other countries which are rarely seen in Florida have taken refuge in the trees. The bird feeders were made from discarded articles of furniture, lamp shades, etc. They use twelve

Providence Upsets Favored St. Louis In NIT Tourney

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Invitation Basketball Tournament, true to its upstart-happy tradition, headed today for a surprise semi-final with Bradley the only seeded team still "alive" and Providence the merriest madcap of them all.

"How the heck did we do it? I don't know," shouted Coach Joe Mullany of Providence in the wild jubilation following the Friars' double-overtime, 75-72 upset of third-seeded St. Louis Tuesday night.

A crowd of 14,200 at Madison Square Garden roared at the Friars' triumph and then shuffled their feet uneasily through the second game as New York University drubbed fourth-seeded Oklahoma City, 63-46, in the most lopsided game in the tournament.

Providence earned the right to meet St. John's (which previously ousted third-seeded St. Bonaventure) in one semi-final Thursday night while NYU qualified for a battle with top-seeded Bradley.

Providence seemed beaten at least twice by St. Louis, a team which boasted a two-inch-per-man height advantage and one of the nation's top "big" men in 6-8 Bob Ferry. The Billiken took an 18-0 early lead, only to have Providence tie it at 18-18. St. Louis led, 32-30, early in the second half but the Friars came back again.

Len Wilkerson one-handed with 46 seconds left gave Providence a 61-61 tie in regular time. Ferry's tap-in earned St. Louis a 62-61 tie after the first overtime. Providence held a 71-70 lead with 46 seconds left in the second overtime when Jim Swartz' two free throws made it 73-70. Ferry's hook cut it to 72-73 but two free throws by John Egan clinched it.

Oklahoma City gave a lackluster performance and Coach Abe Lomas commented, "I'm sorry for the boys, because they're really better than this."

The Chiefs trailed by only 27-26 with one minute left in the first half as NYU played sloppy ball, but then the Violets sank three quick points for a 30-26 halftime margin, opened the gap to 41-34 with 11 minutes left and romped home. Cal Ramsey led the Violets with 20.

California Quint Ready For Battle In NCAA Action

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—California's early arrival at the scene of battle today reminded fans that the Golden Bears are in the NCAA basketball finals this weekend too, and don't in the least consider it a neighborhood party among Cincinnati, West Virginia and hometown Louisville.

Ohio Valley fans know all about the other three teams, but the Bears came over the mountains as strangers to this vicinity.

Coach Pete Newell and his team were due to arrive in time to work out this afternoon at Freedom Hall, scene of the tournament play Friday night when California meets Cincinnati and Louisville tangles with West Virginia in the semi-finals.

California showed up for the NCAA finals bearing a 14-game winning streak, a 28-4 season record, the Pacific Coast Conference's last basketball title before it disbanded, and the nation's best defensive record.

Celts Are Picked In NBA Playoffs

United Press International
The Boston Celtics and Syracuse Nationals tangle at Boston tonight in the opener of the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division final round playoffs.

The Celtics are heavy favorites to win the best-of-seven series and gain a berth in the championship round for the third straight year.

Minneapolis and Detroit also clash tonight at Minneapolis in the wrap-up of their opening series, with the winner meeting the St. Louis Hawks in the Western Division final.

Boston, which won a record 82 games during the regular season, captured the NBA championship in 1957 and lost it last year to the Hawks.

The Nats, who won five of 12 games with Boston during the campaign, swept their opening series with the New York Knickerbockers. The Nats' "old pros," Dolph Schayes and George Yardley, along with John Kerr, have always meant trouble for the Celts.

Bosox Beat Giants, Tribe Tops Cubs

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
There'll be a pair of the pennant races after all this year if the current Grapefruit League standings are "for real."

Everybody seems to be conceding the races to the New York Yankees and the Milwaukee Braves but both defending champions are under .500 today while the Boston Red Sox and Los Angeles Dodgers are playing sensational ball.

The Red Sox defeated the San Francisco Giants, 6-1, at Scottsdale, Ariz., Tuesday to raise their spring record to 6-1. The Baltimore Orioles are the only other American League team over .500.

The Yankees have lost five of nine games and the Chicago White Sox, rated the AL's other chief contender, are last with a 3-4 mark.

The Dodgers, idled by rain Tuesday along with most of the other teams training in Florida, have a 5-3 record that is by far the best in the National League.

The Braves stand only 3-3 and the Pittsburgh Pirates, who finished second last season are 5-4.

Frank Sullivan, as likely an opening-day pitcher as you'll find from the Grand Canyon to the Florida Keys, went six fine innings Tuesday as the Red Sox kept up their fast spring pace.

Sullivan yielded four hits but struck out six and Herb Melrod, who held the Giants hitless the rest of the way, fanned four more.

Ted Lepcio cracked the first homer of the spring at Scottsdale, thereby earning a collection of 16 pennies from local merchants and pacing the nine-hit Red Sox attack. Pumpsie Green, Gary Gauger and Jackie Jensen also delivered key blows in the Boston assault.

The Indians overcame three Chicago homers to whip the Cubs, 10-5, at Mesa, Ariz. Ernie Banks, Lee Walls and Bobby Thomson homered for the Cubs but the Indians broke a 3-5 tie in the eighth when a double by Jim Bolger, singles by Ron Graber and Gene Leek and Woody Held's double produced an 8-3 lead. Dick Drott, in his first appearance for the Cubs since getting out of the Army, walked eight batters, made two wild pitches and committed an error in three innings.

Chuck Stobbs' and Dick Hyde spaced out 11 hits as the Senators topped the Pirates, 4-1, at Ft. Myers, Fla. The Senators scored all their runs off rookie Reedy Daniels, who went the first six innings for Pittsburgh.

Cincinnati vs. St. Louis at St. Petersburg, New York vs. Philadelphia at Clearwater. Kansas City vs. Milwaukee at Bradenton and Detroit vs. Los Angeles at Sarasota were rained out.

Emhke, Ex-Pitcher For Connie Mack Dies Unexpectedly

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Former Philadelphia Athletics pitcher Howard Emhke, whose record of 13 strikeouts as a surprise starter in the opening game of the 1929 World Series stood for 24 years, died suddenly in a hospital Tuesday at the age of 64.

Private funeral services will be held on Friday for the tall right-hander, who was in the fading years of an outstanding 15 year American League career when he made baseball history against the Chicago Cubs for Connie Mack's Athletics.

Emhke had a season record of 7-2 and had appeared in only 85 innings when Mack named him to open the World Series in Chicago to the astonishment of the baseball world and even his teammates.

During the season he had left the club presumably with a sore arm and didn't travel on one road trip. The big hurler was busy working out quietly at the old Phillies ball park in Philadelphia and scouting the Cub batters on his own.

He pitched a masterful 3-1 win over the Cubs and his strikeout record stood until 1953 when Carl Erskine of the Brooklyn Dodgers fanned 14 New York Yankees.

After Erskine broke his record, Emhke commented: "I'm glad it's over. I had it for a long, long while, but it actually was a strain after the first glamour wore off."

Simla is favored in Track Feature

Simla, star of recent weeks at Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, is heavily favored by eight-to-five odds tonight to cop laurels in the Wednesday Hot Box 10th event of an 11-race slate.

The 57-pound white and brindle lady is fresh from a four-and-one-half length victory over Elaine Nug. The fleet daughter of Master All and Hatchet Roll drew the third post position for tonight's featured 10th.

When outrunning Elaine Nug and six other top-flight stalwarts, Simla was clocked at 31.08 seconds over the five-sixteenths-mile distance.

In 25 starts this season, Simla has finished in 18 quintiles, including eight triumphs.

Another hound vying for championship honors is Bel Del, who gets the five box for the feature. Bel Del also is out for two straight wins, having marched past Edge of Nile by two lengths in her last encounter. The 58-pound brindle lady's nine season victories stands as one of the club's top records.

Morning line figuring rates Bel Del at four-to-one. Third best early odds will ride with big Hornswoggled, in the sixth post position.

Elaine Nug is ranked tops by early odds in the Grade-A ninth tilt. Action starts at 8:10.

Football Ties Cut
CHARLESTON, S. C. (UPI)—The Citadel will sever football relations with Wofford after the 1959 season. The reason given was Wofford's alleged failure to comply with NCAA eligibility rules. The Citadel has lost four straight to Wofford.

CANNES, France (UPI)—Straight Clark of Los Angeles beat Christian Viron of France, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, Monday in the opening round of the Cannes International tennis tournament.

Redlegs Need More Pitching

(Editors Note: This is the third dispatch on the prospects of the major league clubs for 1959).

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor
TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Manager Mayo Smith feels the Cincinnati Reds have everything it takes to win the pennant "except perhaps pitching."

"That's why they are trying so hard to swing a deal for an established starting pitcher. It looks like they have the hitting and the fielding. Smith concedes, however, there are "some ifs" besides pitching. Rookie Vada Pinson has to make it in centerfield and he admits the Reds "might" be in trouble if anything should happen to catcher Ed Bailey.

"I'm not worried about those ifs," said Smith. "But I would like more pitching. What club in the league, outside of Milwaukee, wouldn't?"

Now he has only four pitchers he can count upon as starters—Bob Purkey (17-11), Don Newcombe (7-13) overall with the Dodgers and Reds), Brooks Lawrence (8-13) and lefty Joe Nuxhall (12-11).

"Newcombe started looking like the old Newk late last season so I'm not concerned about him," Smith said. "And I know what Purkey, Lawrence and Nuxhall can do."

Needs More Starters
"But four starters in a league as tough as this one isn't enough."

He is looking for Whammy Douglas, 16-10 last year at Columbus; Tom Acker (4-3), Bob Mabe (3-9 with the Cardinals), Orlando Pena (11-10 at Havana) and Jim O'Toole (20-8 at Nashville) as their possible starters. He hopes to use Hal Jeffcoat (6-8) as a middle-inning hurler with Willard Schmidt (3-3) as the relief specialist.

Charles Rabe, who had an overall record of 7-13 with the Reds, Seattle and Montreal in 1958, is a bullpen possibility. There are only four other pitchers on the roster and none of them appear to have a chance of sticking.

Smith calls his infield of Frank Robinson at first base, Johnny Temple at second, Roy McMillan at short and Frank Thomas at third "the best hitting one in the business." McMillan and Temple for more of the best second base combinations around.

Predicts More Homers
Thomas, secured in the big deal with the Pirates, thinks he will hit "at least 10 more home runs playing on Crosley Field for 77 games" than he did last season. In 1958 with Pittsburgh Thomas rapped 35 homers and batted in 109 runs. Robinson hit 31 homers and drove in 83 runs. Both Thomas and Robinson also can play the outfield, but Smith hopes he won't need them there. If he should, Walt Dropo would take over at first and Eddie Kaso at third. Jim Pendleton and Bobby Henrich are other infield reserve possibilities.

Unless a deal is made for a pitcher, the outfield figures to be Jerry Lynch in left, Pinson in center with Gus Bell, against right handed pitching and Dennis against southpaws, platooning in right. Lynch, however, appears to be the player most other clubs ask for when the Reds start talking trade.

Lynch, no field great, hit .312 last season. Pinson, one of the fastest players in the game, batted .313 at Seattle with 11 home runs and 77 RBIs.

Better Than Ashburn
"As of now, I wouldn't trade him even up for any player on the Philadelphia roster," Smith said of Pinson. "He has things to learn in the field but right now I'd have to rate him a better prospect than Richie Ashburn was at the same stage of his career."

Smith was fired as manager of the Phillies late last season. "I'm not feeling bitter when I say that," he went on. "I'm just saying how I honestly feel."

Bell, who has been playing center for the Reds, had an off-season in 1958, hitting only .252, while Ennis, with the Cardinals batted only .261.

"But I know they are better hitters than that," Smith contended.

Back of those four are Pete Whisenand, whom Smith says "can hit the hell out of left handed pitching," and Bob Thurman. Thurman, however, could lose out to John Powers, who hit only .183 for the Pirates last year but who has looked good this spring.

"I know it sounds trite, but let me sum it up this way," Smith concluded. "We'll go as far as our pitching takes us. We have all the other horses."

Bassey To Defend His Title Tonight

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Explosive Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria tonight makes his second defense of the featherweight championship against top-rated challenger Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio, in a 15-round nationally televised bout that could be one of the best fights of the year.

The fight ends a year and a half campaign by Moore to get into the same ring with Bassey and the challenger was confident that he will emerge from the bout in Olympic Auditorium the new champion.

Interest in the championship clash mounted in the past week with the demand for tickets reaching a peak the final three days, indicating a near-capacity throng of around 11,000 and a gate somewhere in the vicinity of $100,000.

The fight is blacked out in southern California for a radius of 250 miles from Los Angeles. But the rest of the nation will be able to see it on television (ABC) with the championship bout scheduled for 10 p.m. e.s.t.

Although wagering was brisk on the bout, it remained at 6-5 and take your choice on even money in man-to-man action.

The fight took on a grudge aspect last Sunday when Moore failed to appear at a public workout in Olympic Auditorium. Bassey, who showed up, took Moore's failure as a personal affront and vowed he would give his opinion of the challenger's lack of courtesy in the ring tonight.

Pore Little Eddie Lost Show, Dough; But He's Got Liz

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Singer Eddie Fisher, dispossessed of his television show by his sponsor and his life's savings by his former wife, today looked forward to a future of work — and maybe marriage to actress Elizabeth Taylor.

The boyish-looking 29-year-old crooner closed out his regular TV program Tuesday night by warbling a medley of the songs that made him one of the country's most popular singers and lifted him from the streets of Philadelphia to the center of one of filmland's most sensational triangles. Raven-haired Liz Taylor, 27, watched from a special booth off-camera as Fisher performed. She later accompanied him to a small party.

"It is the end of something," he said after the program. "I'm a little bit sad and a little bit relieved. I feel a little bit peculiar."

"But I've got the future to think about."

Fisher lost all his savings to his former wife, actress Debbie Reynolds, 26, last month when he signed a whopping property settlement with her to clear the way for her to get an uncontested divorce, according to his business manager.

But Fisher has a 12-year contract with NBC which would pay him upwards of 7 million dollars if the network can find work for him.

Bandits Captured; Buckshot Hits One

OCEAN SPRINGS, Miss. (UPI)—Two heavily armed fugitives wanted for the theft of money and narcotics at Norfolk, Va., were captured here, today.

Wilbert Bection, 22, of Satsuma, Ala., was wounded by two blasts from a 12-gauge shotgun when he tried to pull a gun.

Bection and Clarence Fuchs, 23, of Norfolk, were caught at about 12:45 a. m. in a 1952 Packard sedan officers said they bought in Washington with most of the $2,874 taken from a Norfolk drug store. Fuchs was jailed here and later transferred to Pascagoula.

Ocean Springs Police Chief W. T. Broome said the men had $361.50 in cash of which all but $147 was in silver, a satchel of narcotics and an arsenal of two .30 caliber pistols, two .25 caliber semi-automatics and a .32 caliber pistol.

It's Habit Forming

WINGOSKI, Va. —(UPI)—State Sen. Russell F. Niquette decided that the city clerk's office should remain open on Saturdays as it has for the last 20 years because "the people are used to it now."

haired little lady from Indiana, committed hundreds of petty thefts.

Today, she occupied a cell in the Dade County jail. The charges were breaking and entering and petty larceny.

Mrs. O'Neill, 56, told police she was from a once prominent Anderson, Ind., family and had a brother who used to be the law partner of a U. S. senator.

But for the past year and a half, she admitted, she had been living alone usually in cheap hotel rooms, stealing enough week by week to pay her bills. She said she couldn't keep a steady job because she suffered from cancer.

Detective John Haywood said it was almost impossible to tell how many offices she rifled during the past months, or how much money she took. But he said she never stole anything large.

"Public funds," she said, "every bit of it. Didn't hurt a soul. Sometimes I found hundreds of dollars, but I never took more than $5 or $10—just enough to support myself."

"Of course it's stealing," she said. "That's what I am, a petty, common thief."

But she added: "This country certainly owes me a bare living. I've seen billions handed out to foreigners in the halls of Congress."

There ought to be something for me."

Committee Okays TVA Finance Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Public Works Committee yesterday approved a self-financing plan for expansion of power in the Tennessee Valley Authority area.

The committee by a 19 to 14 vote approved a bill to allow TVA to sell bonds to the public to raise 150 million dollars to finance further expansion of its power facilities.

President Eisenhower recommended the legislation, but proposed that the bond-issuing authority be subjected to control of the Budget Bureau. The committee rejected budgetary control, leaving the bond issuing authority to the discretion of the TVA.

The controversial self-financing plan was proposed after Congress had repeatedly refused to appropriate funds for construction of additional TVA power-generating plants.

TVA has long since tapped the fully hydroelectric power potential of the area, requiring use of steam plants to provide additional power.

The self-financing plan won Senate approval last year and cleared the House committee near the end of the session, but the bill died.

Speaker Sam Rayburn promised at that time that he would see to it that the bill reached the House floor for a vote this year, if its backers could push it through the committee early in the session. They did that today.

Oklahoma To Vote On Whiskey Issue

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—What Carrie Nation tried to do a half-century ago — make Oklahoma a bone dry — is the aim of an unprecedented law enforcement drive now underway in this state, one of the two in the nation where liquor is banned.

But Oklahoma authorities have somewhat different reasons and methods for their campaign than Carrie had for hers.

When she wielded her hatchets and words against Demon Rum at the turn of the century, her purpose was to eliminate the saloon. In fact, the Kansas temperance leader was instrumental in having Oklahoma admitted to the Union as a "dry" state in 1907.

The only other state is Mississippi. Although a black market tax allows some liquor selling in border counties.

The current enforcement campaign in Oklahoma, instituted by the state's new governor, 33-year-old Howard Edmondson, and its Safety Commissioner, Joe Cannon, is designed to give the voters "a clear choice between enforced prohibition and repeal."

For the past 51 years, the state has stood midway between those two extremes. Technically "dry," Oklahoma has been the site of widespread bootlegging. Now, the question is whether to repeal prohibition.

Income, Output Up During February

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Americans earned money at a record rate last month and the output of the nation's factories climbed back almost to the pre-recession level.

In separate reports Monday the Federal Reserve Board said the industrial production rose for the 10th consecutive month and the Commerce Department said personal income climbed to an all-time annual rate of $361,500,000,000.

Incomes were $1,500,000,000 higher than the January rate and $7 billion dollars above the recession low of February a year ago. The increase resulted largely from payroll hikes and higher Social Security benefits.

The production index, based on a 1947-49 average of 100, moved up to 114. This was one point below the pre-recession level of August, 1957, and two points below the all-time high of February, 1957.

Hawaii 'Mostest Of Very Mostest'

Editor's Note: If the following footnote to Hawaiian statehood seems prejudiced, it's because the writer is crazy about the place.

By DOC QUIGG
United Press International
The new national American dish seems to be pizza. One of the big fishes of Hawaii is poi. Hawaii is going to become a state. So now the wags are saying, we will have pizza poi.
This awful joke may be the first of a new crop of jokes springing up around Hawaii as it moves to statehood. Most of them will fall flat. You really can't joke much about paradise.

"Paradise of the Pacific" is no idle name—Hawaii is heaven on the high seas, as far as climate and environment department go. The name "Sandwich Islands" was pinned on them by Captain Cook, the explorer, in ostensible tribute to the Earl of Sandwich. Actually what happened was that the captain discovered a place sandwiched between beauty and bliss—and named it accordingly. In Hawaii the air is the dreamiest, the breezes the balmiest, the skies are the meltingest, the rainbows the runniest, the temperature the (tim)dest, the flowers the boldest, the surf the ridigest, the moon the closest, the legends the looniest, and the monology the humdrumest that man has ever inhaled, felt, gazed at, marvelled over, luxuriated in, sniffed, wallowed in, reached for, swallowed, and submitted to.

In short, the place is exactly what the last two syllables of Honolulu say it is, a lulu. You wouldn't believe it unless you lived it. The air is so waxy with the smell of flowers and sea-heavy but not oppressive—that every afternoon about 4 o'clock everybody stifles a "hamma" (yawn) of sheer languor and thinks happy thoughts.

Sheriff Retires; 32 Years On Job Minus Gun, Cuffs

SLAYTON, Minn. (UPI)—Trigger-happy sheriffs on television are just a joke to George Nelson, who has retired after 32 gunless years as sheriff of Murray County, Minn.

But Nelson, who never wore a star either, said he could understand why lawmen on TV need six-shooters. "I guess they have to make it exciting to get people to watch," said the 78-year-old former lawman.

Nelson was only the third sheriff of Murray County in 101 years and none used weapons.

The first, Loren Mason, served 37 years beginning in 1847. His only on-the-job injury was a nicked shoulder suffered when an angry woman shot off a rifle.

Nelson recalls tracking down escaped convicts and disarming dangerous criminals, all without benefit of firearms. He was even unarmed—and skipped the handcuffs—when he took prisoners to the state reformatory at St. Cloud and Stillwater.

Such trips, he said, always started with coffee at the Nelson home for the prisoner and the sheriff. None ever led to trouble.

Nelson said he just treated his prisoners "like human beings and I never mistreated them. There's a way to win a man's good will that works a lot better than hand cuffs or a gun."

Republicans Told Get Union View

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A labor member of the committee mapping long-range Republican Party goals said today the GOP will "get its ears pinned back" at the polls unless it revises its outlook on unions.

Lloyd A. Mashburn, president of the 20,000-member Lathens' International and one of two labor representatives on the 43-member Republican study group, made the comment in an interview.

Mashburn's first advice was for the Eisenhower administration to abandon its union reform bill and get behind the proposal introduced by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

Secondly, he believes, the Republicans should advocate the same 19 changes in the Taft-Hartley law recommended by ex-Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin in 1953.

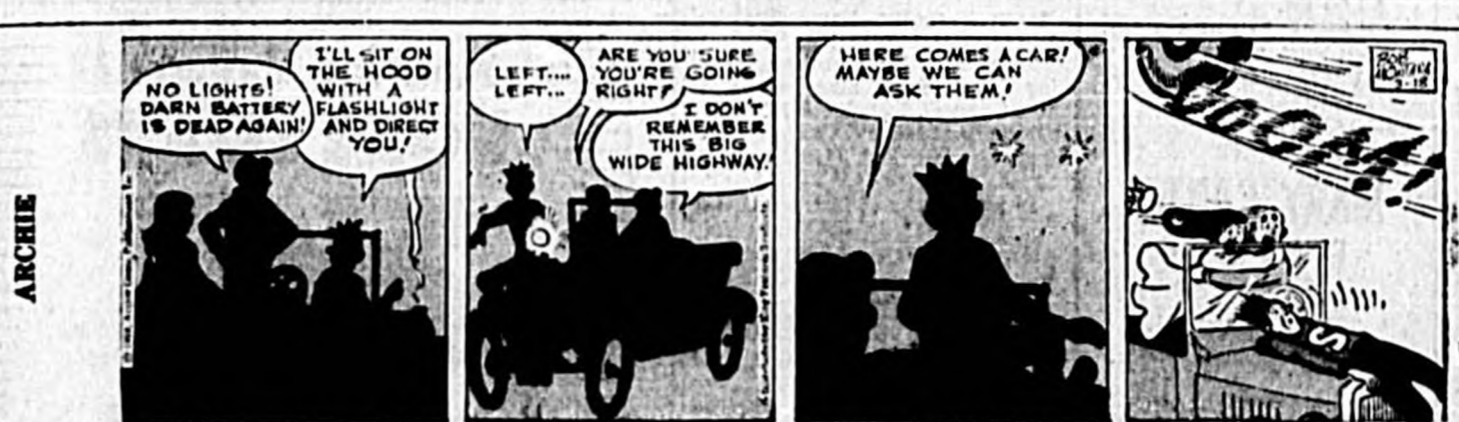

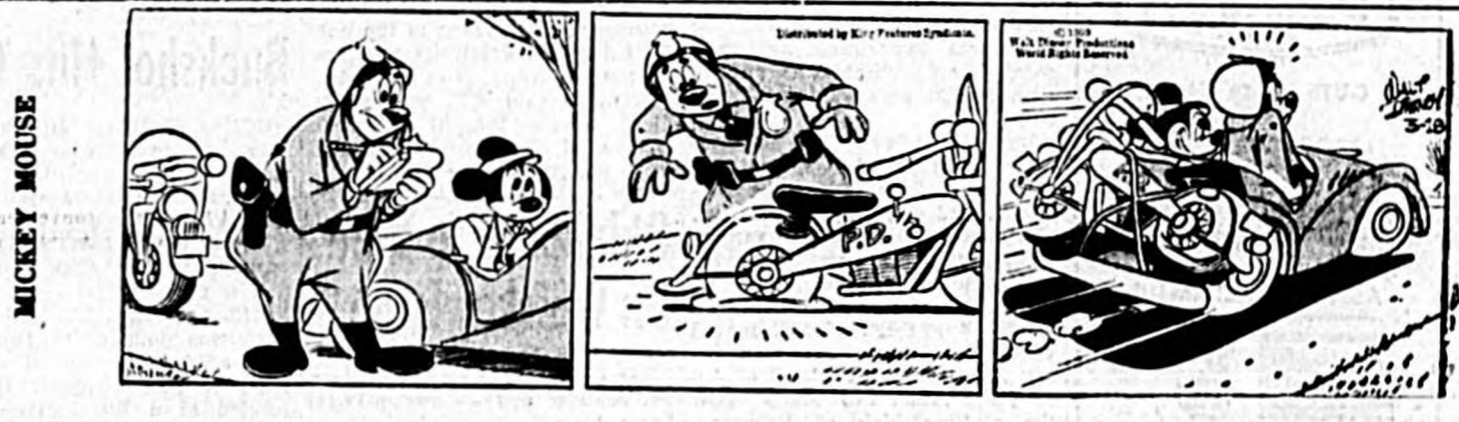

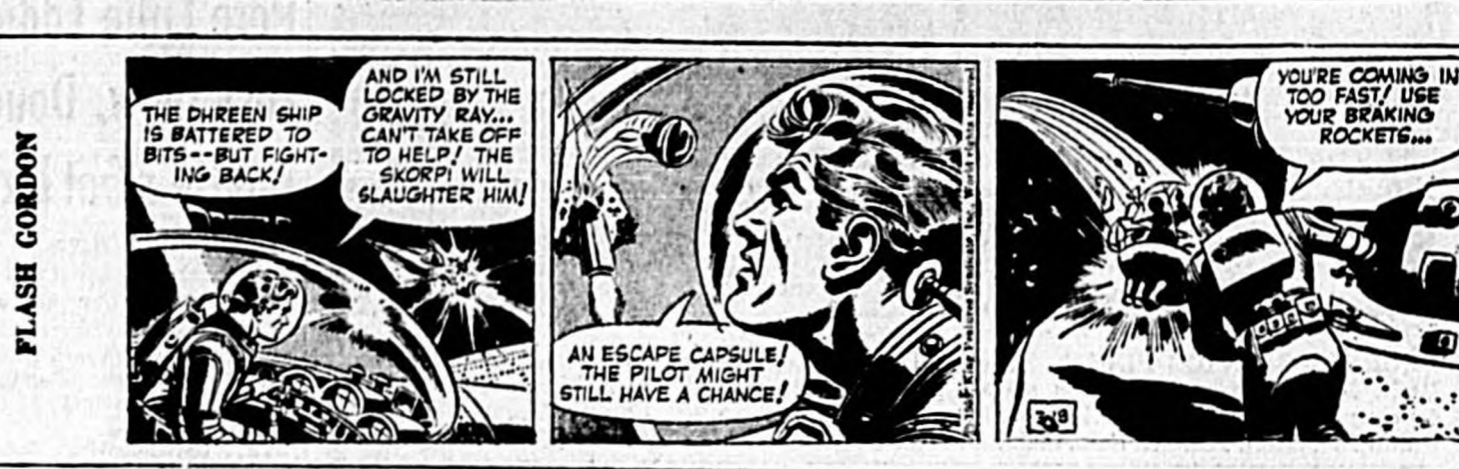

Durkin, former Plumbers' Union president, quit his cabinet post after charging that the administration reneged on promises to support the revisions in the Taft-Hartley Act.

Mashburn, who resigned as undersecretary of labor for the same reason, also recommended that the Republicans go half-way on Democratic proposals for new federal spending on housing, airport and school construction.

Hollywood Spawns Ghoulish Greeting

CINCINNATI—(UPI)—Hollywood, blamed for so many things, is blamed by the Barker Greeting Card Co. for its newest line—"horror cards."

The firm's Al Barker explained he took his cue from the fact horror movies do such big business at the box office. Sample birthday card: A drawing of an occupied coffin on the outside, and the legend inside, "How old would you be today if you had lived?"

Crazed Ex-Con Kidnaps Four; Will Trade Them For Convict's Head

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A crazed ex-convict bargained today with the governor of West Virginia—the life of his own son in exchange for the lives of a kidnapped mother and her three small children.

In a letter delivered today to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood, ex-convict Richard I. Payne, 23, explained his "screwball" scheme for vengeance on his worst enemy, whom he identified as "Burton Junior Post, better known as Junior Starcher" a convict in the state penitentiary at Moundsville.

Payne, released last week from Moundsville, kidnapped Mrs. Elma Baldwin, 29, and her three children, Kenneth, 10, Danny, 7, and Susan, 3, from their South Charleston home at gunpoint Wednesday.

Scores of police, aided by FBI agents, joined in the hunt for Payne, described by State Police Capt. W. R. Callaghan as "extremely dangerous in view of his apparent mental condition." Roadblocks were set up throughout the southwestern portion of West Virginia.

Payne, in the letter to Underwood, said, "I have kidnaped some children who are citizens of West Virginia . . . which you govern. Only you have the power to save them from certain death by granting my demands. I don't want money—I want VENGEANCE.

"My purpose is to kill and take the head of my worst enemy who is now out of reach. He is in West Virginia penitentiary at Moundsville.

"I demand that you cause the convict whose name is Burton Junior Post, better known as Junior Starcher, to cooperate with me. I HATE him with all my existence. Now I must kill him or go mad. I am honorable. Do as I say and I will prove my honor."

Payne then elaborated on a scheme for what he termed "the death circuit" which, he said, was devised by Spencer and Salem. He apparently intended that Post drive in this area, and then Payne would exact his "vengeance" at some point to be determined by himself.

Payne gave the governor few alternatives.

"If you (Underwood) succeed, when I will release half the kids as soon as I can, I release the rest at the time I get Post. If Post refuses despite all I can do, I will release half the kids anyway but will torture the others to death," Payne threatened.

At another point the five-page letter said, "If Post refuses because you just want him to die . . . then all my captives will be tortured to death. I have spoken."

A three-day deadline was imposed by Payne.

"By the night of the 21st, I should have his head," Payne said. He specified that Underwood, an FBI agent and a "parent" of the Baldwin must broadcast their assent to the plan from a local television station in South Charleston.

Nikita Okays Berlin Parley

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev today accepted the West's invitation to a foreign ministers conference on Germany May 11. But he urged full scale talks by all World War II Allies to write a final peace treaty with Germany.

Pupil Assignment Legal, As Written

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—North Carolina's pupil assignment plan upheld by a federal appeals court today and Negroes were told to follow the plan's provisions before asking for a court integration order.

The U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals upheld lower federal courts in ruling that a Negro boy in Raleigh and 45 Negro children in Montgomery County must exhaust the remedies prescribed under the state plan before federal courts could intervene.

The appeals court warned, however, that the federal courts would be open to the Negroes if it were shown the plan was applied in any discriminatory manner.

It said hearings on the applications prescribed by the North Carolina plan should be held promptly, and indicated any unreasonable delay would be interpreted as intentional discrimination.

The same court told the Arlington, Va., school board it had been discriminatory in dismissing the applications of 25 Negro children for white schools and ordered it to reconsider them at once.

Odum Says Option 'Calculated Risk'

TAMPA (UPI)—Assistant Atty. Gen. Ralph E. Odum said today that the parent option plan being pushed by top state officials to avoid compulsory attendance in integrated schools.

Odum pointed out it has never been tested in federal court "and no one can foresee what new things and arrows may be hurled by some outrageous court."

But it's a calculated legal risk Florida should take, he declared. There seems to be no other way for the state to provide an education for those children whose parents won't send them to an integrated school.

Odum, one of Atty. Gen. Richard Erwin's top aides, has handled integration matters in the courts for Florida for 10 years.

Erwin and state school Supt. Thomas D. Bailey are the authors of the parent option plan which Odum outlined in detail for county school superintendents and school board members, here for the Florida Education Assn. convention.

Under the plan, parents could withdraw their children from integrated schools and get a state subsidy to educate them privately.

Odum, who was in Virginia last week to inspect its school problems first hand, said many private schools are being set up in that state and so far have accepted state tax money without federal interference.

Weather

Cloudy and cool with occasional rain tonight. Rather windy. High today 66 to 68, low tonight 53 to 52. Friday considerable cloudiness with showers likely and a little warmer. Northeast and east winds 10 to 25 miles per hour.

City Ponders Sewage Treatment Plant

City Commissioners this week are poring over a massive report on the proposed sewage treatment plant.

Included would be a reserve capacity for 25 per cent population increase and a hydraulic capacity three times the average flow.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles thinks that 25 per cent reserve capacity is too low. Commissioners Earl Higginbotham says the public doesn't realize that the lake will not be cleared enough to be usable. State Health Department officials say it is a necessity.

Raw sewage now is dumped directly into the St. Johns River and Lake Monroe. The population of Sanford now is estimated at

Legislators Face Problem Of Raises For County Offices

Salary raises for all elected county officials have become the problem of the Seminole County legislative delegation.

Latest to join the "more pay" requests are County Commissioners, who want $200 a month and $100 a month travel expenses.

The delegation already has been asked to keep an "open mind" toward raises for the clerk, tax assessor, sheriff and tax collector. County Judge Wilson Alexander, who received a salary hike last year, is the only exception.

Commissioners based the request on frequent meetings and constant travel. In an earlier session with the legislative delegation, the board said it would not ask for a raise, although it felt the $1,800 a year salary not in keeping with the responsibility and work involved in running the county.

The delegation will be asked to provide local legislation to raise the salaries and provide for expense items.

The four other county officials withdrew their request for a $2,400 annual salary raise, after public protest was voiced. However the administrators felt their salaries should equal those of surrounding counties.

Wilson Proclaims 'Wildlife Week'

This is National Wildlife Week throughout the nation.

Sanford Mayor A. L. Wilson has signed a proclamation, setting aside the week "for people to give special attention to the pressing problem of providing proper care for the lands and waters upon which all must depend."

The 1958 Wildlife Week campaign focuses attention on the need for teaching young people how they can meet the responsibilities of this stewardship.

The goal is to stimulate public action to bring more conservation into the school program of universities, colleges, grade and high schools.

All citizens and public and private agencies of Sanford were urged to further this objective by helping "to assess and publicize the need for conservation training in the schools so that the education of the young people in this vital area can be expanded through public understanding and support."

Higgins Indicted For Axe Murders

Harry Gifford Higgins yesterday was indicted by the Seminole County grand jury on three separate counts of first degree murder.

Forty-year-old Higgins will be tried for the Jan. 18 axe murders of his wife and two of his four children.

No date has been set for arraignment or trial in Higgins' case, but that of two Negro women who were indicted for second degree murder.

Mrs. Annie Ruth Shaw, 30, will stand trial for stabbing her husband, K. D. Shaw, on Nov. 21. Betty Jean Baker, 26, was indicted for stabbing her common-law husband, Ira Goodley, Feb. 12.

No indictment was filed against Arthur Shields, Oviedo Negro, who had been charged with manslaughter in an accident causing 17,200. Officials estimated the population would have to be 30,000 before an epidemic condition would arise.

Commissioners pledged construction of the plant several years ago, and were granted a delay until the completion of a capital improvement program.

Now they are on the spot. Will the plant, estimated to cost $325,000, be sufficient for the projected growth of Sanford? Will it remove enough contamination to be economically feasible? And how will it be included in the future budget operation?

In 1955, estimates Knowles, the plant would meet its proposed load. More growth would bring added construction.

A bond issue would have to be passed by the people of Sanford

Reapportionment Plan Unveiled

It Rained, And Rained; Local Sports Postponed

It rained, and rained, and rained. It rained so much, residents wondered whence it came.

The forecast? More of the same today, tonight and tomorrow. The weatherman used "occasionally" when referring to showers forecast for tomorrow. But, he had used the same term in predicting "showers" for today.

Appointment of a weather committee by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce didn't help. At least, not yet. Perhaps, the committee hasn't really gone to work as yet.

As the "liquid sunshine" continued to pelt the Sanford area, sports virtually came to a standstill. Minor league teams of the San Francisco Giants continued to rest; Seminole High School, rained out Monday night, called off its "retreat" game tonight against Lyman of Longwood.

The Corpus Christi team of the Texas League, scheduled to play the Tulsa Oilers of the same league in Daytona Beach yesterday, didn't. It rained there, too.

The weather forecast raised serious doubts about the scheduled game between the Phoenix Giants and the Rochester team here tomorrow. Corpus Christi is in the same boat (this might not be a pun) about its scheduled game with Houston, Tex., in Daytona Beach, also tomorrow.

The expert said the Thomas Gospel appeared to be an apocryphal work dating in part from the second century after Christ.

Cullman described some of the new sayings as "pearls" and said their interpretation would occupy scholars for decades to come. Some of the "pearls," he quoted were:

"Jesus said: He who is near me is near the fire, and he who is far from me is far from the kingdom."

"Split a piece of wood—I am there; lift the stone and you will find me there."

"Jesus said: If those who lead you say you: Behold, the kingdom is in heaven, then the birds of heaven will precede you; if they say to you that it is in the sea, then the fish will precede you. But the kingdom is within you and it is outside of you."

Bible Expert Says Sayings Of Jesus May Be Authentic

NEW YORK (UPI)—A noted Bible authority said today that an ancient Coptic manuscript found in Egypt in 1916 contained 114 sayings of Jesus which may be as authentic as those found in the New Testament.

Dr. Oscar Cullman called the discovery of "the Gospel of Thomas" of greater significance to scholars than the finding of the famed Dead Sea scrolls.

Cullman, professor of early Christianity at the Sorbonne in Paris, is a visiting professor at the Union Theological Seminary. He said in a lecture he had been in possession of the text of "the Gospel of Thomas" since 1956 and had found many sayings and parables attributed to Jesus that have no parallel in the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke or John.

The expert said the Thomas Gospel appeared to be an apocryphal work dating in part from the second century after Christ.

Cullman described some of the new sayings as "pearls" and said their interpretation would occupy scholars for decades to come. Some of the "pearls," he quoted were:

"Jesus said: He who is near me is near the fire, and he who is far from me is far from the kingdom."

"Split a piece of wood—I am there; lift the stone and you will find me there."

"Jesus said: If those who lead you say you: Behold, the kingdom is in heaven, then the birds of heaven will precede you; if they say to you that it is in the sea, then the fish will precede you. But the kingdom is within you and it is outside of you."

County Would Get Full Senate Seat

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. LeRoy Collins recommended a novel reapportionment plan today that would permit a maximum of six senators for Florida, including a second senator for populous Duval County.

The new seats, under a population formula subject to change every 10 years, would go to Bay, Monroe, Manatee, Okaloosa, Seminole and Duval counties.

The new formula puts no limit on the number of state Senate seats except population. It provides a senator for every ninth-tenth of one per cent of population.

Dade is the only county likely to reach the population bracket giving it two senators of its own. The House would be reapportioned on much the same basis in 1961.

The reapportionment change in one of dozens recommended in a sweeping revision to Florida's basic law, which still reads about the same as when drawn in 1885. It provides for a lieutenant governor, but requires that he and the governor run as a team.

A new feature is elimination of the requirement that real estate be valued for tax purposes at its "full cash value." The proposal merely provides for "just value," but requires that all property in all counties be valued on a uniform basis.

It also would up the maximum millage which can be assessed for support of schools locally from 10 to 20 mills.

It recommends no changes in articles dealing with homesteaded tax exemption, married women's rights, public health, local option, county officers and the Constitution's schedule.

It permits the Legislature to provide by act, without a public vote, for home rule in any county, and allows cities to make charter changes, subject to local vote.

Jaycees Reviving Easter Egg Hunt

Seminole County children from one to ten years old will hunt for Easter eggs, March 29, at 2 p. m. in Fort Mellon Park.

The Easter egg hunt is sponsored by the Sanford Seminole County Jaycees, under the direction of Jack Erickson.

Special guests at the hunt will be children from the Lutheran Haven Children's Home in Slavia. Two years ago, several hundred youngsters attended the Jaycees egg hunt. Far more are expected with its revival this year.

Donations of eggs for the hunt may be made at the Jaycees Information Booth or by calling FA 2-5481. Contributions toward the special event also will be welcomed.

Best Aid To Aged: Something To Do

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—A nationally known specialist on problems of the aged said today that elderly citizens can best be served by finding ways they can help the community—not how the community can help them.

Dr. Halbert L. Dunn, chief of the National Office of Vital Statistics, Washington, D.C., pointed out that when the senior citizen retires from his job, he gives up his independence and may feel no sense of purposefulness or achievement.

"The older person needs a community in which he can live a useful, creative life," Dunn told delegates to the annual Southern Conference on Gerontology. "Personal dignity and a valued place in society are essential for the older persons to achieve high-level wellness."

Dunn noted that conscientious persons become more concerned about the welfare of the man whom they "respect for what he was and not what he is."

But the gerontology expert said "service is a two-way street" and the community should concern itself with finding how the elderly can maintain their dignity.

Ballgame Postponed

Sanford Mayor A. L. Wilson has signed a proclamation, setting aside the week "for people to give special attention to the pressing problem of providing proper care for the lands and waters upon which all must depend."

The 1958 Wildlife Week campaign focuses attention on the need for teaching young people how they can meet the responsibilities of this stewardship.

The goal is to stimulate public action to bring more conservation into the school program of universities, colleges, grade and high schools.

All citizens and public and private agencies of Sanford were urged to further this objective by helping "to assess and publicize the need for conservation training in the schools so that the education of the young people in this vital area can be expanded through public understanding and support."

Court May Secure Jury From Street

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—Prospective jurors may be picked off the streets today to try Connie Nicholas on murder charges.

Judge Thomas Faulconer expected concern that the court would run out of potential jurors from a list of 214 before 12 persons could be approved to try the divorce.

It appeared that when the special venire is exhausted, sheriff's deputies would be sent out the courtroom to the busy downtown streets of Indianapolis to pick up perhaps as many as 50 persons for another special venire.

Six persons in a row told the court today they already had formed an opinion on the innocence of guilt of the 44-year-old Mrs. Nicholas, who is accused of murder in the slaying of her married lover, Forrest Teel.

One man said he could not bring himself to pass a death sentence if Mrs. Nicholas is found guilty of first degree murder.

The attorneys had gone through 116 prospective jurors without yet having given final approval to a single one. Faulconer took steps to issue summonses for a number who failed to appear.

Police said the dual rear wheels of the rig caught the left front door and rolled it back into the automobile, just as Don Albert Wilson, Sanford, started to step onto the pavement.

Damage was estimated at $106.

Atomic Tesis Aid In Missile Defense

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Deputy Defense Secretary Donald A. Quarles said today that secret high altitude atomic explosions over the South Atlantic had advanced America's ability eventually to develop defense against ballistic missiles.

He told a news conference that the three explosions of "very low yield" nuclear devices "advanced the basis of knowledge" for defense against intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Quarles and Dr. Herbert York, defense research director, met reporters in a nearly two-hour session, marked by unusual caution in answering questions, after news of the tests last August and September was made public.

They said the explosions verified that an artificial band of radiation could be created at a high altitude around the earth.

While Quarles said the tests enhanced ultimate development of defense against missiles, an atomic authority dropped a strong hint that a major line of the tests was to see if radio and radar communications could be disrupted by erasing the artificial radiation hundreds of miles above the earth.

This might block out Russian—or American—systems for detecting missiles and airplanes.
