DRASTIC LAWS FRAMED TO CURB PRICE EVIL FROM COAL TO HOUSES

Co-operation of Government Building and Constructing

SPECULATION TO END

SENATE COMMITTEE SEEKS TOO MUCH PROFITTEERING IN BUILDING MATERIALS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Sharp criticism of the national coal industry, which implied a threat of drastic legislation by congress to meet alleged evils of profiteering and speculation, accompanied the partial report of the senate committee on production and reconstruction, submitted to the senate yesterday. In general, the report, which asked power to allow the committee to continue its investigation, suggested government activities to bring about co-operation in building construction, but its three Republican members, Senators Calder, of New York; Edge of New Jersey, and Kenyon, of Iowa, supplemented their findings with additional statements, all of which agreed in asking special legislative attention to present methods of producing and distributing coal.

These, Chairman Calder said, "must be corrected" while Senator Kenyon declared that "if the matter is to go on, I, for one, march as the remedy may be, shall favor taking over the mines." Senator Edge expressed his conclusion that the coal industry cannot bring order out of the prevailing chaos, and give even reasonable relief to the suffering people, so I am ready to modify somewhat, in this case, my opposition to government intrusion into private business, and to advocate legitimate scrutiny."

"Coal profiteering, especially as it has followed the priority orders of the interstate commerce commission has continued unchecked by the department of justice and is a national disgrace," the committee said in its joint report. "Coal speculation has been permitted to monopolize the transportation facilities of the country, retarding necessary construction and increasing the basic cost of manufacture and distribution of commodities in general. It is bled the home owners, public utilities and industries."

Government administration of the production and distribution of coal, the committee said, "should be a last resort," but for the present it was recommended that operators, wholesalers, jobbers and retailers in the industry be required to file full and frequent reports with a federal agency. These reports should show, the committee concluded, "total tonnage produced or handled, size and quality thereof, amount of tonnage contracted for, sold on contract and at spot sale, to whom, and the prices made and received under contracts or sales." The report should be sufficient "to determine costs and profits, and the corporate interrelations or the communities of interest, if any, between companies producing and distributing coal."

In the other field, the committee said, "there exists a serious shortage of housing, not only in the great cities but in the smaller cities as well, even in the far west and south," which it held to have deleterious effects upon public health, morals and industrial growth. Labor conditions also were discussed by the committee.

"The misdirection an exploitation of some groups of organized labor, through grafting leadership, has been revealed in New York City, and has been reported in some other larger cities," the report said. "This has spread to combinations of employers, who, working together with such grafting labor leaders, have combined to force unduly high prices. The department of justice is urged to prosecute the wrong-doers whenever they are found to have violated the federal statutes."

Establishment of more trade schools by cities and states to train apprentices for the building trades, was recommended, as was the creation of a federal bureau to assist in framing building codes which would

GOVERNOR "REINSTATES" ED SCOTT, NOW DEAD

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 15.—The following executive order was filed yesterday morning in the office of the secretary of state:

"State of Florida, executive department. Whereas, upon a report made known to me, charging Ed. Scott, member of the state road department from the First Congressional district of the state of Florida, of being incompetent to rightfully perform the duties of said position, I, as governor, by the authority vested in me under the laws of this state, did on the 8th day of December, A. D. 1920, suspend the said Ed. Scott as such member of the state road department of the state of Florida.

"Whereas, I have been impressed with the fact that perhaps the charges preferred overemphasized the situation and have not been fully sustained by the facts in the case, and being further impressed with the supreme power vested in the governor in such cases, particularly in the absence of the senate, making it impossible to have the suspension reviewed for nearl yone year, and upon more definite information than was available when the suspension was made, I have reached the conclusion that the charges filed, considered in the light of the constitutional requirements and the surrounding circumstances and real facts in the case, are insufficient to sustain the permanent removal of Ed. Scott, and that he should be reinstated.

"Now, therefore, it is considered and ordered that the suspension of Ed. Scott, member of the state road department of the state of Florida, be and is hereby revoked, and that the said Ed. Scott be and he is hereby henceforth reinstated into the office of member of the state road department, effective as of this date.

"In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the state of Florida to be affixed at Tallahassee, the capital, this 10th day of December, A. D. 1920.

(Signed) "SIDNEY J. CATTS, Governor of the State of Florida.

"By the governor, attest, H. Clay Crawford, secretary of state."

Although as is stated above the order bears date the 10th of December, it was not as a matter of fact transmitted to the office of the secretary of state or signed by the latter official until yesterday morning, December 14th.

The above dispatch from Tallahassee will cause a great deal of comment. Mr. Scott died suddenly of heart disease at his home in Arcadia last Saturday, and the funeral was held yesterday. He was one of the original members of the state road department, and was known throughout the state as a man of superior business attainments—yet the governor's order of dismissal issued three days before Mr. Scott's death, and after years of service in the department by Mr. Scott, charged the Arcadia man with incompetency.—Tampa Tribune.

LETTUCE ON LOW NO PRICE

TOO MUCH BEING SHIPPED AND PRICE IS WAY DOWN YONDER

The lettuce market is off. It is not only off but off so far that it looks like "curtains" for any more of it this season. Many things have conspired to work against the growers who had such a wonderful crop of holiday lettuce this year. The first lettuce that was anything but prime stuff brought a wonderful price. This stimulated the growers everywhere to ship everything they had and they did. They shipped all the leaves and scraps and even went so far as to paint the crates green with the idea that maybe some of the Yankees would get real hungry and eat the crates at a higher rate. But like the growers who shipped green oranges and grapefruit early in the season and chortled in glee over what they were doing to them, the laugh was rudely shattered and that fickle jade, the market, turned on them and the result is the cellar for lettuce and fruits at present. Fruit may and undoubtedly will come back later in the season but it looks as though lettuce was doomed for this season as there is so much of it in California, coming right along with our crop and our crop is larger than ever. In order to find out what the prospects were John Russell wired to the representatives of Smith & Holden in California for a lone on the lettuce situation and received the following reply:

"Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 14, 1920.

"John Russell, Sanford, Fla.

"Acknowledging receipt of your night lettergram dated the 13th, replying would advise this state is in position to ship beginning January first an average of one hundred cars of fancy lettuce a day until April first, providing markets can be found.

William A. Brady, president of the National Association of the Motion Picture Industry, and Sidney R. Cohen, president of the Motion Picture Owners of the United States, then pledged the industry to raise $2,500,000.

Big Battleship Program Would Be Knocked Out

EVERY NATION QUITS

ARMING AND MAKES SWORDS INTO PLOWSHARES, MAYBE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—It begins to look as though disarmament might encircle the world after March fourth if the House Naval Affairs means anything by their statements made in a canvass of the situation yesterday in the house. The committee is undecided on the subject of disarmament and does not look kindly upon the suggestions of Secretary Daniels made yesterday in which he stated that unless America was properly armed she could never enforce peace while all other nations were arming and getting ready for another war.

The prevailing opinion of the majority of the members of the house and virtually all the members of the naval affairs committee is that the United States should do nothing more than carry forward the great naval construction program of 1916—the largest ever authorized by any nation at one time, Representative Butler, Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee said.

The 1916 program, according to Butler and other committee men, upon its completion, which probably will be by January 1, 1924, will make the United States the greatest naval power in the world, even allowing for some unanticipated additional construction by Great Britain.

"The completion of the present building program will give the United States a supremacy of 31 per cent over Great Britain in first line battle cruisers," said Representative Britten, Illinois, a member of the committee. "Our first line tonnage will then be 1,118,000 tons compared with 877,000 tons of Great Britain. No other nation would be anywhere near us, as Japan's navy is now less than one-third of ours, and she can complete no huge building program that would endanger American supremacy within the next few years."

Butler pointed out that most of the big battleships of the 1916 program have not been completed, because of the war policy of building smaller craft and that their completion will require large appropriations, without touching an additional program, as recommended by Secretary Daniels.

Butler and other members of the committee also believe that the United States should not authorize an additional program until it is definitely determined whether this nation is to enter some kind of an international association or will agree with other leading naval powers, particularly Great Britain and Japan, on a disarmament policy.

ALL WELCOME IN LUXEMBURG

Little State Cosmopolitan in the Extreme, but Second to None in Patriotic Spirit.

We live at the crossroads of the nations, remarks the Luxemburg Zeitung. We are of all the peoples of the world those most cosmopolitan in spirit. On July 14 there was a French evening on the parade grounds, and everyone was enthusiastic for France. On July 20 we had a Belgian evening in the same place and again everyone was inspired with enthusiasm. Should there be an American, Italian, Czechoslovak or Polish evening any pleasant summer night, the throng would greet it with the same enthusiasm. We like to have people of other nations as our guests. We wish them to feel at home in our midst.

A stranger who does not know us—and many who have lived among us fall to know us—might fancy that we lack national sentiment.

But precisely the reverse is true. Our national sentiment is so deep that we are like a tree whose trunk stands unshaken when its crown is rustled by the wind of sympathy for other countries.

Last Wednesday, after our French and Belgian evenings, we had a Luxemburg evening. The parade ground was too small and the firmament was too low to contain the enthusiasm of the multitude. We were at home among ourselves. The leader had provided a program of old, modern, and very recent Luxemburg music. During the choruses the thousands surrounding the platform stood as reverently as if they were in church. When applause was called for it was so thunderous as to be almost intimidating. The depth and sincerity of a nation's patriotism is not measured by the area of its territory.

FEAR EPIDEMIC OF TYPHUS

British Authority Tells of Danger to the World Because of Bad Conditions in Russia.

Dr. L. Haden Guest of London, who has been investigating conditions in Russia, reports to the Lancet (London) that the whole of that country has been swept by typhus and relapsing fever, and that all indications point unmistakably to a formidable epidemic in the coming winter. Cholera also has made its appearance and smallpox is widely prevalent.

The Lancet warns the world at large that unless immediate and effective steps be taken these frightful diseases will spread through the border states to other countries, and before long will appear all over the world. "The council of the League of Nations has thoroughly studied the situation, with the aid of some of the best-known epidemiologists in the world; they have a reasonable and economical program, and have appointed commissioners, but the actual work cannot proceed until they have obtained money guarantees from the different nations, which so far have not materialized, except in the case of a few countries, including Great Britain and Canada. The future of the matter may well prove, in the parlance of the day, an 'acid test' of the reality of the league as a family of nations, ready to act for the common good and to protect members of the family who are threatened by disaster."

Modern Lover Practical.

"Harry," exclaimed the blushing maiden, "this declaration of love is so sudden that I hardly know what to say. I was unprepared for it. It unnerves me."

"I was afraid it might," said the young chemist, rising with alacrity from his knees, "and I brought with me a bottle of my unrivaled nerve tonic. This preparation, my darling," he added, soothingly, as he took the bottle from his pocket, quickly extracted the cork and poured a quantity of the medicine into a spoon he had also brought with him, "will allay any undue excitement, quiet the nerves, aid digestion and restore lost appetite. I sell it at 50 cents a bottle. This is a dose for an adult. Take it, dearest."

"Floating Fair" From Holland.

A company has been organized at The Hague for the purpose of sending a "floating fair" as it is called, but practically a ship loaded with sample products and commercial agents to sell them, to various parts of the world, particularly the United States. The concern is organized somewhat on a co-operative basis and proposes to send the Messageries Maritimes vessel, the Macedonia, of 6,100 tons burden, to the United States and Central and South America for the purpose of introducing Netherlands products and enabling Netherlands commercial houses to establish import and export connections in the countries visited.—Scientific American.

Ice to Hold Stored Water.

Because the water supply of the small city of Ashland, Ore., is becoming inadequate in the summer, and increasing the storage facilities would cost $100,000, the local engineers are trying an experiment as ingenious as it is simple. High up the side of Mount Ashland, at the headwaters of the supply, a system of piping and sprays is being installed, through which the surplus water of the winter will be directed and allowed to freeze. The damming action of the ice walls thus formed, and the gradual thawing of the ice itself, are expected to provide enough water for all the needs of summer.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

who is to confer with Mr. Harding on Friday. After his talk with the president-elect Mr. Root would make no comment except to say that the interview had been "very delightful and interesting." In reply to repeated questions on specific subjects he reverted to his original description of the conference, giving no indication whether domestic problems or such subjects as cabinet appointments were discussed. Except for the cordial manner of the conference his visit threw no light on reports that he might be asked to become secretary of state in the Harding administration.

Important Reports Made.

Bishop Candler opened the morning session with another of the splendid talks which have been features of the conference.

The board of lay activities urged the enrollment of all departments of the church in the centenary cause; the adoption of the assessment plan and every member canvass; and the using of the laymen to supply needy churches with services.

Full co-operation with the educational campaign was pledged.

L. P. McCord, Jacksonville, was nominated and elected conference lay leader.

The plans of the Sunday school board include: More general observance of Sunday school day; larger training school at Southern College next summer; larger attendance at Junaluska Training school; more efficient district organizations; district Wesley Bible class federations; a greater federation at St. Petersburg in October.

Dr. J. H. Therrell is continued as field secretary, and Miss Lola Lawler as elementary superintendent.

The preachers' relief fund reported nine superannuate homes valued at $20,000; new homes built at Orlando and Miami valued at $8,000. Rev. B. K. Thrower of Tampa was reappointed agent.

The quotas recommended by the commission on finance for the several districts as follows: Bartow, $19,316; Gainesville, $11,415; Jacksonville, $10,524; Miami, $10,455; Ocala, $10,246; Orlando, $11,223; Tampa, $10,743; Tallahassee, $12,278; Latin, $370.

Assessment for orphanage, $10,000. The total askings made by the mission board total $30,000.

Six hundred dollars were appropriated for the summer training school, and $21,000 for expenses of conference missionaries at the summer school.

The trustees of Southern College reported that for ten years the school had been listed by the general board as an institution of accredited college grade; that Southern is the only institution in Florida that must submit itself to an interstate board of classification, but it stands the test. The graduating class last year was the largest in the history of the school. Fifty-two students are enrolled for life service, six volunteers for missionary service, and thirteen are preparing for the ministry. The enrollment is 45 per cent greater than last year's. Increased dormitory facilities were made and still for days before the opening of the school, applicants were being turned away.

The total amount paid this year on foreign missions, home missions, church extension, education, theological schools, negro work, superannuate fund, Epworth leagues, Sunday schools, bishops' fund, general conference expenses and American Bible Society, was $27,376.

ICING MANY CARS

The Southern Utilities Co., are icing more cars this year than ever before in their history. This is being made possible by the large number of cars of vegetables going out at this time and also by the Southern Utilities Co., being in shape to supply the ice when it is needed. It has been a big season for this time of the year and is taxing the ice company and the railroad company to keep up with the procession, but they are doing fine so far and working day and night to give the best of service.

The boys corn, bee, peanut, calf and pig exhibits at the Jacksonville State Fair were excellent. Some were better than dad's. The old folks had better look out or the boys will beat them.

Have You Euphoria?

It takes a doctor to give a high-sounding name to a well-known phenomenon. "Euphoria" means "feeling fit." It is as much a physiological fact as scarlet fever.

Nature makes it worth while to be alive simply through euphoria. The joy of making a good tennis stroke, the delight that a woodsman gets in the open air, the artist's rhapsody—all are due to euphoria. Why do we drink alcohol—when we can get it—or smoke tobacco? To effect euphoria. When a lunatic thinks that he is Napoleon and demands the homage due an emperor, he has euphoria in its worst form.

Too little is known about euphoria. Since it can be effected by drugs and chemicals, who knows but it may have its seat in some gland?—Popular Science Monthly.

Aerial Photography in Sales

Aerial photography has entered the real estate field. Now, if you wish to buy a suburban residence, a downtown property or a country house, you can go to a broker's office and examine, probably with a reading glass, a most interesting and detailed aerial photograph of the neighborhood that you have in mind. The aerial picture very quickly brings the customer to a decision, either, to see the property or to look elsewhere. It saves time and the expense of long and often futile trips.—Youth's Companion.

Plan to Keep the Raisin Busy

There is an unprecedented demand for raisins at the present time because of their use in the manufacture of home brews, but it is anticipated that this will be changed in the course of a few years because the interest in the preparations will decline and it is felt that the Agricultural department is at work in discovering new uses for raisins so that the industry will not be wrecked. When the raisin-growers' product shows signs of a drop the government will step in with one valuable suggestion for its continuance.

Make This a Christmas She Will Ever Remember

You know what she most desires of all things in the world—an enclosed Reo. A cosy, companionable Coupe or a luxurious, 5-passenger Sedan. Of course, if you asked her—which you will not, for you hope to derive more pleasure than she, from seeing her eyes light up in wonder and surprise when she sees that exquisite car gleaming in the sun of the Christmas morning—

But if you did ask her, she would say, "Oh, get me some little thing—for it isn't the intrinsic value but the spirit that prompts the gift"—and all that sort of thing.

And she means it too—bless her heart, women are more frugal than men despite all that has been said to the contrary.

Nevertheless, your own instincts tell you that the spirit that prompts a momentary sacrifice on your part, but gives her her heart's dearest desire, is the bigger spirit.

Of all the gifts she ever has received at your hands—not even excepting the engagement ring—this gift of an enclosed Reo will please her most and live longest in her memory.

Every woman likes to drive—ninety per cent of women much prefer the seclusion of the car to the presence of a chauffeur.

And, that every woman who does drive prefers a Reo, is proven by the fact that a larger percentage of women own and drive Reos than of any other car of similar class.

We said "similar class" deliberately—for there is no other car of this class. Reo is in a class by itself—in quality as well as in price.

Reo is recognized as "The Gold Standard of Values".

That is shown by the tremendous demand for enclosed Reos. Always in excess of possible supply.

We will not presume to suggest whether her car shall be a Coupe or a Sedan—in fact the choosing is so difficult a matter, we prefer to leave that task to you!

See them both—note the wonderful silence, balance, and power of that magnificent Reo Six motor.

Especially note design of body and finish of exterior and interior. Note how carefully little details have been designed and done.

These are the points that will make the strongest appeal to her fastidious eye. She will adore this Reo—and Christmas will be like another honeymoon to you.

Don't wait though—if you do, both of you will be disappointed. If you see your dealer now—at once—and place your order, you can have her Sedan or Coupe at the door Christmas morning.

Delay even a few days, and you will have to give her a certificate calling for later delivery.

To ensure the supreme result and pleasure—to give her that magnificent gift in the hour of hours—order Her Reo now.

Today—won't be a minute too soon.

Sedan seats five luxuriously. Front seat and compartment done in rich leather—rear compartment in rich brocade with silk velour. Window lifters, lamp rings and other ornaments, in exquisite colonial pattern. Vanity pockets in doors.
Coupe seats three liberally with extra folding seat for emergencies. Optional leather or silk velour upholstery.
Both models have Marshall-spring cushions; French plate sashless windows mechanically operated by best type lifters we can find; Rubber foot pads; non-glare lenses; handsome instrument board with clock; rear view mirrors—every convenience and luxury she could desire.

NAPOLEON'S ONE BIG QUALITY

Great Frenchman's Fascination Lay in His Directness, That's All, Says H. G. Wells.

The world has largely recovered from the mischief that Napoleon did; perhaps that amount of mischief had to be done by some agency; perhaps his career, or some such career, was a necessary consequence of the world's mental unpreparedness for the crisis of the revolution. But that his peculiar personality should dominate the imaginations of great numbers of people, throws a light upon factors of enduring significance in our human problem.

Marat was a far more noble, persistent, subtle and pathetic figure; Talleyrand a greater statesman and a much more amusing personality; Moreau and Hoch abler leaders of armies; his rival, Czar Alexander, an egotistical, more successful, more emotional, and with a finer imagination. Are men dazzled simply by the scale of his soundings, by the mere vastness of his notoriety?

No doubt scale has something to do with the matter; he was a "record," the record plunger; but there is something more in it than that. There is an appeal in Napoleon to something deeper and more fundamental in human nature than mere astonishment at bigness. His very deficiencies bring out starkly certain qualities that lurk suppressed and hidden in us all. He was unhampered. He had never a gleam of feigning, or affection, or the sense of duty.

Directness was his distinctive and immortalizing quality. He had no brains to waste in secondary considerations. He flung his armies across Europe straight at their mark, there never were such marches before; he fought to win; when he struck, he struck with all his might. And what he wanted, he wanted simply and completely and got--if he could.

There lies his fascination.--From "The Outline of History," by H. G. Wells.

HOTEL MEN NOT ALL BAD

Wayne B. Wheeler Tells Good Story to Prove the Truth of Assertion He Makes.

Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon league said in San Francisco: "I think we're unjust to hotel men as a rule. We are too ready to accuse them of robbery. As a matter of fact, they are a very fine lot.

"I once knew an engineer who was traveling in Nevada. He had a good deal of money with him, and one night he put up at a very primitive hotel in the wilds. The landlord of this hotel looked like a brigand, and the engineer could hardly sleep for fear.

"Nothing, however, happened, and the next morning he set off with a relieved heart. The mountain trail was a lonely one, and on toward noon, in a wild and desolate spot, three desperadoes fell on him, emptied his valise and pockets, and made off.

"The engineer was convinced that the landlord was at the bottom of this holdup. Accordingly he turned back to notify the authorities. But he had only gone a mile or so when he met a mounted messenger, who handed him a small packet. Pinned to the packet was a note from the villainous landlord that said:

"I inclose your pocketbook containing $850, which you left under your pillow last night. Please send receipt by bearer."

The Marion County Fair, held at Ocala recently presented a greater variety of products than ever before seen from one county in the United States. The exhibit certainly showed Florida's versatility--the adaptability of its soil and climate for the production of staples as well as citrus fruits.

O, lettuce, why hast thou forsaken us?

And after all of thy golden promises at Thanksgiving time.

What a wonderful time we could have had at Christmas if Lily Lettuce had not eloped with Falling Prices.

Our one consolation is that the prices of everything else will fall and if lettuce does not bring anything at the end of the season we can still live on cheaper groceries.

All is not gold that glitters and all is not kale that looks like green goods in the raising of fruits and vegetables although it is just as good a line as the rest of us carry. We all have our ups and downs and the Florida growers are always game to stand one loss if they can make it up on something else. And celery is coming along and looking mighty good.

THIS IS THE WEEK FOR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

The Christmas season is on in full blast. It is now only two weeks until the eventful day arrives.

Thousands of people walk until Christmas week to do their shopping. This is a practice which has been acquired through the years. Although they could enjoy a greater selection of goods to choose from, and also receive more efficient service at the hands of clerks, there is a class of people who will wait until the eleventh hour and consequently they find themselves handicapped in buying. The crowds and the rush disconcert them. At each Christmas time they announce that "next year we are going to do our shopping early," but in the course of twelve long months they forget their resolutions and follow the same old routine.

It is practically impossible to reform this class. They have existed since Christmas shopping became a custom and will follow the old program until Gabriel sounds his trumpet.

But others need not follow their example. Christmas goods are on display. The merchants have a magnificent display this year. And this is the week to do your buying. It will save you many an extra step and unnecessary worry next week. If you have been saving money for the holidays, that money is now available. If you haven't, in all likelihood, you have as much in the bank now as you will have one week from today.

The postal authorities are urging that packages be mailed as quickly as possible. "They can be marked, "Hold until Christmas" and by mailing now the chances are much better that they will not be damaged in transit.

There is no reason why the bulk of Christmas buying should not be done this week. Of course there will be odds and ends that will bob up to be bought at the last hour, but now is the time to attend to the regular season shopping.

MAN! A PERSON SITS ON THE DOORSTEP OF OPPORTUNITY AND, MICAWBERLIKE WAITS, THINKS AND HOPES FOR SOMETHING TO TURN UP WHEN ONLY A LITTLE EXERTION, EFFORT AND DETERMINATION WILL TURN THE KEY THAT OPENS UP THE DOOR TO THE REALIZATION OF HIS FONDEST HOPES. THIS KEY IS A MASTERKEY AND HAS 3 NOTCHES, CONSISTING OF THRIFT, INVESTMENT AND ACCUMULATION, WHICH OPENS UP THE STOREHOUSE OF THE FUTURE. BECOME THE POSSESSOR OF THIS KEY TODAY BY INVESTING IN THE SOUTHERN UTILITIES 8 PER CENT CUMULATIVE PREFERRED STOCK, WHICH CAN BE PURCHASED IN CASH OR INSTALLMENTS. THERE IS NONE BETTER.

no longer than it is tolerated by public sentiment. Florida now has an opportunity to lead in stamping it out forever.

There is no excuse or palliation for hazing. The silly contention that it "hardens" the boys and prepares them for the rough and tumble of life never rested on any basis of fact. The only thing for which a course of applied ruffianism prepares the student is more ruffianism.

All the effects, direct and indirect, of hazing are evil. It is stupid and cruel. It disregards the rights of others. It holds in contempt all righteous authority and public law. It creates a moral and mental atmosphere wholly inconsistent with that which must prevail in a free and orderly community.

Nine-tenths of our social evils arise from the failure of individuals to respect the rights of others and to respect lawful authority. So long as petty tyranny and contempt for law are among the things learned at school, no scheme of social and moral reform can expect success.

The university faculty is making an effort to free the institution from this evil. It needs the support of Florida sentiment and the backing of Florida laws. It is up to the people.

It is due to Herbert Felkel, editor of the St. Augustine Record, to say that he has earned the gratitude of this state by his courageous and manly fight against hazing and his exposure of specific instances of that practice. If other newspaper writers will do as much, the victory will be won.—Lakeland Telegram.

DISARMAMENT AND THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

We regret to see that the League of Nations is not strongly disposed to take advanced ground on the question of disarmament. We remember it was Horace Greeley who said years ago, after the Civil war when the question of the resumption of specie payments was a vital one for this country, "The way to resume is to resume." The country did resume, and all the dire troubles that were predicted in case such action was taken failed to come to pass. We went from an inflated, irredeemable currency to one founded on gold alone, without a single financial upheaval. When the people found they could get gold for their paper notes, they ceased to want it, and we entered upon a long career of solid prosperity.

We believe that experience carries a pertinent lesson for the present time. The way to disarm is to disarm, and the sooner it is carried out the better. No more opportune time will ever come than right now when all the great nations of the earth are staggering under burdens of war debts that are well nigh insupportable. But the Assembly of the League of Nations seems afraid to touch the subject, and is proposing a sort of modified disarmament in three stages. If it cannot be done now with all the horrors of war fresh in mind what possible hope is there for it 5 or 10 or 20 years from now, when the exhausted nations shall have somewhat recovered from their paralysis? They will never be free from their jealousies and suspicions of one another if they are not now.

What excuse is there for France, bleeding at every financial pore, keeping a vast army of 800,000 men under arms, ostensibly to guard against German aggression, although French soldiers are fighting in Syria, and French generals are leading Polish troops against Russia, and munitions of war are going to Poland. English troops are fighting Arabs and Kurds in Mesopotamia to retain her hold on her conquests in the East, Japan says she cannot think of disarmament until the United States points the way, and our army is already twice as large as it was in peace time, and every post office in the land is emblazoned with attractive posters calling for recruits for the army and navy. Secretary Daniels says we must have the greatest navy that floats the seas, and he is scattering contracts for building dreadnaughts and war vessels in every direction regardless of the enormous cost involved, and the probability that they will be obsolete long before there will be any call to use them. We have 20,000 men guarding the bridgeheads at Coblenz on the Rhine. What for? Does anyone suppose that beaten and downcast Germany is in any condition to invade France, and if she were, of what avail would be the little American army on the Rhine? Fifty years from now, when Germany has recovered her health and vigor,—perhaps, but not now. And the surest safeguard against future aggression on her part is to take her into the league of nations and insist on a complete disarmament of all nations. The League of Nations is open to the charge of hypocrisy to be eternally talking of peace and the prevention of war, while all its members are increasing their armaments.—Tampa Times.

AN EDUCATIONAL CRISIS

B. B. Lane, president of the Florida Educational Association, urges the teachers of the state to attend the meeting of the association which will be held in Tallahassee during the last three days of the year. An educational crisis faces the state and the teachers are asked to attend that they may be more strongly inspired to work for the educational development of the state. They are doing their best in the school rooms every day but they are citizens as well as teachers and they should use their influence as citizens to see that the schools are provided for to an extent that will at least supply all parts of the state with teachers.

At present there is a shortage of seven hundred white teachers in Florida. We do not know what is the shortage among colored teachers but both races should be provided for. The shortage is because of the low salaries paid. Except in a few counties teachers do not get enough to live on and in the most favored counties they do not get as much as they should.

The state will be asked to make an additional appropriation for the schools. In a general way we are opposed to additional appropriations but in this case the alternative is ignorance. This is a matter of absolute necessity and it is especially true of the country schools.

The state spends more or less money on provisions for health, for education, for roads and for other matters. Education is especially in the hands of the state and it cannot afford to let its future citizens grow up in ignorance. But it cannot draft teachers and it cannot keep them without paying them enough to meet their necessary living expenses.

The teachers of Florida and of other states deserve high honor for their loyalty to their work when the loyalty was one-sided. Practically all of them are earning less than they would earn if engaged in any other occupation and despite this fact they stick to their work where they are not driven from it by the necessity of making a living. This loyalty should not be one-sided. The people of Florida should show their appreciation of the services of their teachers by paying them at least living salaries.—Editorial in Florida Times-Union, December 14, 1920.

Unprecedented travel by motorists from the North, diverging south from Macon through Valdosta, Lake City, Ocala, and again diverging both east and west from Leesburg for the southern end of the peninsula, is fast establishing Leesburg as a famous basing point in south Central Florida.

WEATHER REPORT

For Florida: Fair, cooler tonight and Wednesday; possibly light frost in North portion tonight.

Lewis Fletcher left last week for New York where he will be engaged in business.

W. L. Morgan is home for a few days and his many friends are glad to have him here again. Mr. Morgan reports a fine business over the state in his line.

The weather is ideal for the winter vegetables just now with the cool, crisp nights and warm days. Great weather for fruit also but it does not seem to stimulate the lettuce or the orange market.

If you have a room for rent, if you have anything for sale, the way to get results is to advertise it through the Want Column of the Daily Herald. This is the market page for the people who want something.

David Price, the supervisor of the Jones' Cash Store, left for Orlando today to arrange for a larger stock of goods for the Sanford store. G. A. Sellers will have charge of the store here in the future.

The ladies of the Catholic church will have a turkey and chicken dinner at the Parish House tonight and tomorrow night to which everyone is invited. The dinner will be from 6:00 to 8:30 and the price is one dollar per plate.

That Million Dollar Band here next week starting in on Saturday will not be so bad for the business of this city. It should attract the Christmas shoppers from all sections and make the week from Christmas to New Year's one big week.

The Sanford merchants are arranging some mighty pretty window displays and our special correspondent will make the round on Friday and try to get a description of them. Show windows and advertising in the Daily Herald will sell the goods.

Jimmy Pierson has arrived in the city and is all fit as a fiddle for his bout with Billy Hoffman at the Princess tonight. This should prove most interesting to all lovers of this great sport.

The people are coming here by the hundreds seeking houses and the houses are being built as rapidly as possible but not rapidly enough. Lumber is coming down and there should be twice as many buildings go up in January as in this month.

The many friends of F. W. Mahoney are glad to see him out again after being confined to his home for many weeks after the amputation of one of his legs. Mr. Mahoney can only get out in his car but will be able to get down to his business in a few weeks.

N. A. Colbert is here from Moore Haven and his many friends are glad to see him after an absence of many moons. Mr. Colbert is one of the pioneers of the Moore Haven section and has grown up with the country, having at this time some fine farming land covered with growing crops.

Twenty-five or more members of the Sanford lodge of Odd Fellows went to Orlando Monday night to attend a meeting of the Odd Fellows of Orlando and surrounding territory. The Orlando lodge put on the degree work and several from Sanford took the first degree and afterward a fine banquet was served in the banquet room of the lodge.

The many friends of Prof. W. L. Harvey are glad to see him back in the music business in Sanford again. He will be associated with H. L. Gibson in the phonograph and piano business and as Mr. Harvey has many friends all over this section the success of the new firm is assured. Aside from being a piano salesman, and tuner, Prof. Harvey is a fine musician and knows whereof he speaks when he talks about a musical instrument.

The man who never looks up is a rank failure when it comes to lifting up.

GREAT WRESTLING BOU TONIGHT AT THE PRINCESS

Sanford's sport-loving public will be treated to one of the finest programs of wrestling and boxing tonight at the Princess Theatre when Billy Hoffmann, the Pride of Sanford, meets Jimmie Pierson, the light-heavy weight champion on the local mat in a handicap match.

Jimmie Pierson agrees to pin Billy Hoffmann to the mat twice in 60 minutes and from all accounts this is some agreement.

The boxing bout is to see two very clever exponents of the manly art of self-defense show their wares when Frankie Howard, of Cleveland, and Young Bennie Leonard, of Jacksonville, meet in their six-round encounter.

COX'S BROTHER TIN-CAN TOURIST

Arriving in the city Monday evening by way of the auto route and camping at DeSoto Park, enjoying the hospitality of the Tin Can Tourists' club, is no less a personage than Wm. Cox, a brother to the Democratic nominee for president. Mr. Cox is about 50 and made the trip from Dayton with his family in a large touring car, especially fitted for camping purposes. Mr. Cox is delighted with the Florida atmosphere and especially with the warm welcome received.

They expect to remain in the city for several weeks and arrived in time to help the Tin Can Tourists celebrate the World Convention of Tin Can Tourists. While visiting the various spots of interest in and around the city they will maintain camping headquarters at the park.—Tampa Times.

FIRE TODAY

An alarm of fire called the department to the Presbyterian Manso today about two-thirty where it was discovered that the roof was on fire, supposedly from the chimney. A large hole was burned in the roof before the department was called and they soon extinguished it after arriving on the scene. Some damage was caused to the furnishings by smoke and water.

"The Store That Is Different"

Flat Feet Treatment successful. War experiences have changed our views about flat feet. It was at one time assumed that individuals so afflicted were destined to lead sedentary lives, and that they were disqualified from partaking in vocations requiring the constant use of the feet, such as military service. This erroneous idea is still universal in Europe and to a large extent in America. It is in weak feet that the bones of the arch drop to the ground, the muscles and ligaments being so weak and flabby that they cannot hold up the arch bones. After a series of treatments in the most chronic cases, the propped bones will gradually rise until they reach their normal height.

"Flivver" Airplanes. From time to time a photograph appears, depicting a new airplane of compact dimensions and equipped with a low-power engine. Such airplanes are generally hailed as "everybody's" airplane and the coming "flivvers" of the air. Yet an examination of these machines soon discloses the fact that they are of little practical value. They are too small to be steady in flight, too low-powered to fly under moderately adverse conditions, too flimsy to last long and, taking it all in all, absolutely worthless for serious work of any kind. They should generally be treated as novelties, except in rare instances.—Scientific American.
