SIXTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS HAS PASSED INTO HISTORY AND SET NEW RECORD

HAD FOUR SESSIONS MAKING HIGH MARK FOR FUTURE SESSIONS

EXODUS BEGINS

Today and Members Are Leaving Washington to Its Fate and Prosaic Life

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 5.—The entire country today faced a new unaccustomed prospect of nine months without a session of congress. The sixty seventh congress had passed into history and incidentally with its four sessions to a new record for future congresses to shoot at in extent of time actually spent in legislative halls. The exodus of members and former tolled through the sessions, was in full swing today while Washington was trying to accustom itself to comparatively drab, prosaic life ahead.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Condemnation and praise of the sixty-seventh congress flew back and forth between party leaders here yesterday as the sine die adjournment was effected at noon. The sixty-seventh congress had spent a greater proportion of its two years span of life in actual session than any other in the history of the country.

Chief among adverse criticisms of the congress was a statement by Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, who characterized its record as two years filled with failures and broken promises. Representative Mondell of Wyoming, retiring Republican floor leader, on the other hand, praised the sixty-seventh congress as "the most efficient in handling its responsibilities."

Measures of importance which failed of passage during the closing days of the congress which expired yesterday included:

The administration shipping bill which was filibustered to death in the senate.

The resolution of Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, to appropriate $10,000,000 for the purchase of nitrates and calcium arsenate to aid southern cotton producers.

The constitutional amendment proposal of Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, to advance the convening of congress and presidential inaugurations.

Another constitutional amendment proposed by Senator Wadsworth, Republican, New York, for popular referendums on future constitutional changes.

The resolution of Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, proposing investigation of the sugar situation.

During the last few hours of the session, President Harding, spending part of the time at the capitol, signed the farm credits bill and ninety-eight other measures. No legislation was voted.

Vice-President Coolidge's gavel fell sharply at noon after an almost colorless morning-senate session of two hours, and the house adjourned at 12:06 p. m. after a concert by a section of the marine band and a chorus of popular songs by members and spectators.

Tonight the departure of members, many of whom yesterday answered their last roll call was in full swing with prospective suspension of activities at the capitol until next December brings in the sixty-eighth congress.

Crowds witnessed the closing scenes adjournment and presence of President Harding, cabinet officers, diplomats and other high officials bringing hundreds who packed the senate and house galleries.

The president reached the capitol at 11:25 o'clock and was kept busy reading and signing the farm credits and forty-three other bills turned out during the early morning session yesterday. In the presidential suite of the senate chamber before the noon limit expired, fifty-five more bills received executive approval.

The last bill to become law was the "better butter" bill, changing butter fat standards. An important measure placed on the state books at the last moment was one providing for the return to enemy alien owners of all seized property worth $10,000 or less. Little was accomplished by either

PRESIDENT HARDING AND WIFE LEAVE FOR FLORIDA TODAY ON VACATION TRIP

Party of Friends Accompanying Them Includes Few Cabinet Members and Other Officials

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 5.—With the cares of congress off his hands, probably for eight months, President Harding with Mrs. Harding and a party of their friends, will leave Washington today for a month's vacation in Florida.

When Mrs. Harding leaves for the special train, it will be the first time she has gone beyond the White House gates since she became ill last September. For the president, it will be the first vacation in almost a year.

The president goes away with virtually a clean desk, and the necessity for very few recess appointments. During the last days of the dying congress he disposed of all of the more important appointments with the exception of a few additional federal judgeships and a comptroller of the currency.

Beyond announcement that the first stop will be at Ormond, Fla., no itinerary has been made public. It is understood that most of the time will be spent on the house boat of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. McLean, of Washington, which will drift slowly down the Halifax and Indian rivers. Stops will be made from time to time at various resorts on the Florida coast where the party will go ashore for golf. The principals stops are expected to be at St. Augustine and Miami, with a possibility that the party will accept at least some of the many invitations the president has received to visit Florida cities.

In addition to the President and Mrs. Harding, the party from here will include Secretary and Mrs. Weeks, who will leave the train at St. Augustine; former Senator and Mrs. Prellinghuysen, of New Jersey, who are going to board their own houseboat on the Florida coast; Attorney-General Daugherty, Secretary Davis, Senator Hale, of Maine; John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross; Brig-Gen. Charles Sawyer and Chairman Lasker, of the shipping board.

It is expected that others will join the party as guests of the McLeans in Florida.

McNARY FAILS OF APPOINTMENT COMPTROLLER

WAS OFFERED RECESS APPOINTMENT BUT REFUSED TO TAKE IT

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 5.—James G. McNary, New Mexico, whose nomination for comptroller of the Currency failed of confirmation by the senate, was offered a recess appointment to the place today by President Harding, but replied that he could not accept. It was afterward announced that D. R. Crissinger, present comptroller, would continue in that office for the present despite the fact that he had been confirmed as governor general of the Federal Reserve Board.

Prominent Winter Park Man Has Disappeared, Formerly Bank Cashier

Think He Is Demented and Has Wandered Off Into the Woods

(By The Associated Press) ORLANDO, March 5.—R. D. Barzee, formerly cashier of the Union State Bank of Winter Park, has been missing since Friday. Relatives and friends of Barzee say they fear he has become demented. Barzee has taken a prominent part in Rollins college athletic events and was popular in this community.

senate or house in the last two-hour session yesterday. Members were hollow-eyed and worn from the long sessions which lasted in the house until 3:28 a. m. and in the senate until 1:30 a. m.

Re-assembling at 10 o'clock the senate heard "Swan songs" by Senators Fleringhuysen, Republican, New Jersey, and Sutherland, Republican, West Virginia, a tribute to Senator Williams, Democrat, Mississippi, by his colleague, senator Harrison, of Mississippi and tried vainly to pass a few more bills. A fifteen minute filibuster by Senator Dial, Democrat, South Carolina, enlivened the proceedings before the vice-president's gavel fell in the midst of Senator Dial's speech against an omnibus bill proposed by Senator Bursum, Republican, New Mexico.

Previously Senators Lodge of Massachusetts, and Robinson of Arkansas, Republican and Democratic leaders appointed to confer with President Harding advised the senate that the president "had no more communications to make." When Mr. Coolidge declared the senate adjourned sine die, Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, roared "goodnight" amid laughter.

BABSON FINDS BUSINESS BETTER IN CENTRAL WEST

CAR LOADING 15% OVER LAST YEAR

CHICAGO, March 3.—Roger W. Babson, today released the third installment of his annual survey of business conditions in the United States and Canada. He here—in treats of what he calls the "Industrial West"—that great section immediately tributary to Chicago including Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Michigan and Wisconsin.

"These states were once wholly agricultural, but are rapidly changing into an industrial section. New factories are springing up every day—the younger generations are leaving farming for building, manufacturing and trade. Yet the total area under cultivation continues to hold its own."

"Every section of America," says Mr. Babson, "has its best barometer of business. For New England it is the number of spindles in operation—for Pennsylvania the number of blast furnaces, for New York the total foreign trade, etc. The best barometer for the 'Industrial West' is the total car loadings at Chicago. Since January 1st, 1923 these are running well ahead of the corresponding weeks of 1922—and compare well with the total car loadings for the entire country. For the current month of 1923 the net car loadings were about 2,500,000. For the current month of 1923 the car loadings will show figures over 15 per cent greater, possibly final figures will show an increase of 500,000 cars. Moreover, of this in-

MOB RULE HOLDS AT ESSEN RAIDING STORES

CITIZENS ARM THEMSELVES BECAUSE OF INADEQUATE PROTECTION

(By The Associated Press) BERLIN, March 5.—President Ebert has decreed an espionage aid rendered, with regard to political, economic or military matters, on behalf of any foreign power which has occupied German territory in peace time and also for sheltering or otherwise assisting or harboring persons accused of giving such aid.

Those convicted under the decree are liable to sentences of imprisonment ranging from 10 years to life and to fines not exceeding 500,000 marks. The supreme court at Leipzig will try the cases of persons accused of such espionage.

ESSEN, March 5.—Essen experienced the wildest night since the beginning of the occupation and in the early Sunday morning hours food stores were looted and others broken into by armed mobs, said to be composed of the unemployed.

One of the largest cabarets, the Trocadero, was held up last night and several hundred patrons were robbed of all their cash. This robbery was carried out by fifteen or twenty whom the Germans declared were communists who had taken advantage of the expulsion of the security police, which force has not yet been adequately replaced by municipal police.

This city is virtually without police protection, and many of the citizens, in fear of other robberies or violence by bands in the streets, are arming themselves as best they can for their own protection.

Early today a German workman was shot and killed by a French sentry and another German was wounded while in the railroad yards near the main passenger station in the center of the city. The French asserts that the sentry ordered the Germans to halt, and when they did not reply, he shot to kill, in compliance with his orders.

They charge the Germans with attempting sabotage, but the German authorities maintain that the men did not realize they were encroaching on ground under military control. This station was occupied by the French yesterday and all the rolling stock in the Essen yards was confiscated.

Marked to the amount of 1,000,000,000 marks from the Berlin Reichsbank which were being transported to the banks in Duisburg were seized yesterday by the Belgians. This money will be applied to payment of the cost of the Rhineland army of occupation, on which account Germany is in arrears.

COLOGNE, March 5.—General DeGoutte, the French commander, has notified the Reichsbank that he will not return any portion of the 12,000,000,000 marks recently seized by the French at Cologne. It was added by General DeGoutte if the Reichsbank desired to avoid further similar losses the German government must meet the demands of the French for money for the requirement of the armies of occupation.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The composite farm credits measure, finally passed by the senate and house in the closing hours of the session, was signed yesterday by President Harding.

One of the last measures to be enacted by the sixty-seventh congress, the measure was rushed to the White House after final senate action early yesterday and the president affixed his signature before going to the capitol to sign the flood of last minute bills. Secretary Wallace went to the White House to see the bill receive the final touch which made it a law.

HARDING LOOKS UPON COURT INTERNATIONAL JUSTICE AS WORLD'S GREATEST ADVANCE

GRAND JURY IS SECURED AT BASTROP

WILL INVESTIGATE ALLEGED KU KLUX KLAN ATROCITIES

(By The Associated Press) BASTROP, La., March 5.—District Judge Odom in charging the grand jury drawn to consider the evidence in the hooded mob activities at Morehouse Parish alleged acts of the Klan declared that if he were to form themselves into illicit groups to decide on who is to be punished, there is no need of courts or any kind of government. He further told the jurors that if constituted authorities will not and cannot enforce obedience to laws in such violations, "the day of our doom is upon us and we have seen the end of civilized government."

The grand jury was organized here this morning to consider evidence in connection with the Morehouse Parish hooded band atrocities, and alleged acts of the Ku Klux Klan. Immediately upon the empanelling of the jury, District Judge Odom read the charge.

Engine Trouble Delays Trip of Six Army Fliers

(By The Associated Press) MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 5.—All six of the United States DeHavilland army planes, enroute from Kellyfield, San Antonio, Texas, to San Juan, Porto Rico, arrived here yesterday afternoon at 2:35 o'clock, one hour and five minutes behind schedule. Engine trouble developed during the flight here yesterday from New Orleans, La., in the plane of Lieut. Charles Austin and Newton Longfellow, and a new motor will be installed here before the trip to Arcadia, Fla. Officers state that the motor trouble will probably delay the leaving here until this afternoon or Tuesday morning.

The six DeHavilland army planes covered the distance from New Orleans to Montgomery in two hours and forty-five minutes, the distance being 320 miles, it is said.

No mishap took place on the trip until the planes were within four miles of Montgomery, when the ship piloted by Eric Nelson was forced to land on account of a broken oil line. Necessary repairs were completed within a few minutes, enabling it to continue to the landing field.

Lee Says Fine Chance to Have Stadium Here Many Amusements

W. A. Lee of Lee's Racing Circus in the city today after the big show at the aviation field yesterday said that Sanford needed a big stadium or fair grounds or ball park or all of these amusements combined that would take care of the athletics and ball games and fairs and shows of all kinds. "One affair would pay for the fencing" said Mr. Lee and "I would like to guarantee this to the folks who would be interested." Mr. Lee put on the auto polo and parachute jump and airplane stunts here yesterday with his circus and wanted to state that he had never showed in a better town or place where the people had treated him so nice. He had the best of protection while here and had plenty of deputies to maintain perfect order at the show yesterday afternoon. He just about made expenses while here on account of there being no fence around the aviation field. He expects to return at an early date and if he does not return this year will be here next year with a new line of attractions and hopes to see Sanford with a big amusement park built all ready for the many attractions that would like to come here.

Negro Runs Amuck With a Gun Fatally Wounding Two Men

JACKSONVILLE, March 5.—Ashley Cox, 28, negro, was killed by a policeman here last night after he had run amuck with a pistol, shooting and probably fatally wounding two white men.

William Burger, 52, was shot as he was on the back porch of his home where he had gone to smoke his pipe. The bullet struck him in the left side and passed entirely through his body. Patrolman S. T. Johns, who was off duty, heard the shot and went to investigate. He was joined by Abraham Griffin, 34. Several blocks from the scene of the shooting they met Cox.

The negro was ordered to halt, but instead, he opened fire, a bullet striking Griffin in the breast and penetrating his left lung. Johns then shot the negro, who fired again after he had fallen. He died in a few minutes. The two wounded men are said to have only a slight chance of recovery.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Subpoenas requiring the appearance in court here Wednesday of Attorney General Daugherty and Chairman Lasker of the shipping board, John Barton, former board chairman, all of whom planned to leave Washington today with President Harding for Florida. The subpoenas were issued by United States Marshal this morning at Request Charles Morse in connection with the government's case against Morse charging fraud in war time shipping contracts. Morse's counsel sought the three men as witnesses for the defense. The first efforts to serve subpoenas failed and at a hurried consultation Morse's lawyers and U. S. Daytona has Pappy's Marmalade. We wonder if it is as good as the Orange marmalade.

An Ohio man has been appointed City Manager for Kissimmee. Eventually we will get all of the Ohio people out of jail and into the limelight.

Headlines in daily paper say "Russians Are Anxious for Soaps and Perfumes." Yes, we would think so. After being near a bunch of them just off the ship we had wind of this idea long ago.

Edward Eardom Naugle, B. S., B. V. D., of the St. Petersburg Times says we are a prevaricator because we admit that Sanford is the best city in the world. Why, you old son of a gun, when were you kicked out of the Annunias Club?

This is the time of the year to get rid of the mosquito. Already they are starting in to pester and annoy the people and for some reason or other Sanford received more than her share of the pests last year and unless we all join in the campaign of eradication right now we are up to be bathed with them all summer. Get busy and help the state board of health in the mosquito campaign.

They say that congress has adjourned, but it seems too good to be true. However, all things come to an end sometime and we have been living in hopes that as soon as the taxes could be raised on the poor people and the rich made richer by the present congress that they would come home and ask for compliments. And then they want their wages raised so they can get home. If you left it to us we would let them stay up there.

More auto accidents chronicled every Monday morning. It is a case of people being careless and it seems that they will never get sense. The laws are enforced as closely as possible and even with city and county motorcycle police it is difficult to get all of them. But the danger to life and limb these days on the road and in the cities is heavy. And that danger is responsible for the accident many times out of ten.

The completion of the bridge across the St. Johns River at Osteen Ferry will give the people of Orlando, Kissimmee and Sanford a decided advantage in visiting New Smyrna Beach next summer. Many people hesitated as crossing the river on a ferry, and then with the bridge in operation considerable time can be saved in making the trip. We have the assurance from our county commission that the road to the bridge will be kept in as good condition as possible until the new road is built. New Smyrna Breeze.

You are right, old boss, and now do your stuff and get that road from Osteen to New Smyrna so people can ride farther than the new bridge and Carronado Beach will have more people next summer than you can take care of in one season.

Sanford needs a dozen good apartment houses to be built this summer and Sanford needs two hundred ordinary priced houses for the people to live in and then after the home people have been taken care of two hundred more homes should be built this summer for the new people that are coming down next fall and then there will be some two thousand people left without houses in which to live in Sanford. And while we are wishing we may as well wish that some fellow with a million dollars would come here and make the loan for these new homes.

SPEAKING OF EXCHANGES

The St. Augustine Record the other day published a clipping and labelled it "From the Tarpon Springs (Fla.) Leader," and one wonders why that inert "(Fla.)" Possibly because the clipper, being an East Coast paper, wanted to pretend to think that the home of the clipper, being a West Coast town, would not be located by the reader without the (Fla.), but we like to think it was only a slip. When any Florida paper clips from any other, surely it should be sufficient to name the town—let the state be inserted when the town is in another state.

And this reminds us that Florida has only one paper whose name alone is sufficient; in connection with which neither state nor city need be indicated. The Times-Union of course has a very distinctive name, but that alone would not identify it a long way from home if it were not a great journal as well.

And speaking of Florida exchanges, a particularly outstanding characteristic is recalled in three others. Frankness is something all of us like to pride ourselves as possessing, but few of us really have as much of it as we like others to believe. The three we have in mind are of course not entirely frank upon all subjects, but they are distinctly and distinctively so as to some.

The Ocala Star has a state-wide reputation for an unusual frankness in the handling of most topics that probably any other paper. Perhaps having a headquarters in a small town, the handling of an editor in a partial explanation, but the fact is not worthy among Florida papers.

The Miami Metropolis commands our respect for its frankness in frequently admitting some other city's superiority to Miami in some respect. Certainly the Metropolis is more something, particularly in Miami, in some other city, and closing with the frank suggestion, "Miami ought to have some," or "Miami ought to do it," and so forth. That is courage of thing for a paper in a city like Miami to do.

But our most unbounded admiration goes to the Sanford Herald for the frankness with which it admits the superior excellence of its own city. For growing "city" and "pumpkin" tourist attractions, best support, and so on, the Herald is undoubtedly the most frank of all. It might strike the Herald without the bat of an eye steadily announces that Sanford has no equal on earth. Absolutely no qualifications as to attributes or competitive territory. In fact, the Herald in this respect is the frankest newspaper that we have ever known.

But all Florida exchanges are not so frank. The Herald is the only one that is. And that is a joyous inspiration. St. Petersburg Times.

HOSPITALS NEED THE MONEY

Public hospitals never pay dividends and if any of them break even for the year's work they are doing exceedingly well. The public, however, does not understand this great question unless they have some experience in hospital work and usually they think that hospitals ought to be making big money but nine times out of ten the public hospital will be in debt year after year and only by public donations can the institution be kept operating at all. Each year the hospital needs help more from the public and this is true of every public hospital in the land. It is true that the Sanford hospital and we note that it is true of the Deland hospital as the following would indicate:

"It is with many misgivings that the public learns the situation in which the St. Luke's memorial hospital has come. It was not realized generally that such a sudden decision would be required.

There seems to be but one thing to do—arrange some plan for keeping the institution open. It will not do to close it. A thousand times a year, the hospital will be needed and as the city grows, the demand for it will be stronger and louder.

It is a handsome structure, well located and well equipped. To close it will be a calamity. The News does not presume to tell the people what should be done. Running a hospital is somewhat out of our line. But this paper knows that this institution is one of the greatest importance. For visitors and home folks, for the citizens of the surrounding country, the hospital is worth its weight in the proverbial gold.

Either a subscription should be made of the amount called for by Bishop Mann, or the city should find some way to finance it, or both, or the old trustees should take it over and carry out the original design. We repeat, at this time we will not attempt to point the way.

But a way must be found. There is a way. There always is a way when something must be done. This way may be difficult to follow, it may be easy. But it must be found and followed. The black eye of failure that this city will carry will be an advertisement of the worst sort.

The month of March is left us in which to make an important decision. Every citizen is concerned, and the whole burden should not be shifted to the shoulders of the few who have the work in charge. It is not fair to them to require them to carry the burden unassisted. The citizens should confer with them freely this month, talk over every phase of the hospital situation, determine every point that has a bearing on the situation and then the decision can be the more easily reached.

These are formative days in the city of Deland. Foundations are being laid. A great work has been done in starting the hospital, and this foundation work must not come to naught. As the years pass, the great importance of this institution will be seen and some of these days it will be found that it will rank at the very top of the city's philanthropic assets.

The hospital must be saved! Let every citizen help save it!

PLANNING CITIES FOR COMFORT OF THE CITIZENS

That phase of city planning which is commonly known as the zoning system, is designed for the protection of the city as regards health, convenience, beauty, comfort and safety. The day has passed when people will agree that it is good practice to have a factory or a residence. There is something in the general lines of things that cause a feeling of rebellion against such a procedure. No city could ever be so attractive under such conditions that is the reason why so many communities that have come to a realization of the fact that it is possible to have the desirable things in city life, instead of things that are undesirable and ugly, today, more than 25,000,000 people live in congested cities, towns and villages, according to government statistics. The main purpose of zoning is to keep the business and residential areas separate, such as garages, factories, stores, warehouses and manufacturing plants.

Florida is sadly in need of state legislation enabling cities to follow the practice so common in other states of providing self-protection. As a rule, zoning can best be accomplished by the application of arbitrary things, except in cases of necessity. The process usually followed is to divide and lay out the city in districts in which the uses for which structures may be built, their maximum height, and the area of the lot which they may cover, are established. In line with the zoning plan, certain districts are set aside for residences, for apartment houses, for office buildings, and for manufacturing. A city's recreation is made to consist of parks, playgrounds and industrial districts, but the building of a garage or factory is not allowed to erect it within a residential neighborhood regardless of the annoyance and money losses inflicted on surrounding home owners.

The government's investigation shows that in 1922 zoning spread especially rapidly in smaller places. Fourteen towns with five to 25,000 inhabitants were zoned during the year, bringing the total zoned towns in this class to twenty-three. Twelve places with 5,000 inhabitants or less were added to the list in 1922, bringing the total in that class to seventeen. The percentage of large cities which have already zoned remains much greater, of course, and of the fifty largest cities in the country, twenty-two have zoning ordinances in effect.

In the entire country, 109 cities, towns and villages were zoned on January 1, 1923, as compared with 55 just one year before. New York, the largest city in the country, has been zoned since 1916, and, in contrast, the smallest zoned community has only 131 inhabitants, according to the 1920 census. Eighty-one per cent of the urban population of New York state lives in zoned municipalities. California ranks second among the states with 71 per cent of her urban population in zoned municipalities. Ohio is third, New Jersey fourth, with 57 per cent and Utah fifth, with 55 per cent. The entire District of Columbia is zoned.

In number of places zoned, New Jersey leads with 31; New York is second with 17; California, third, with 14; Illinois, fourth, with 10; Ohio, fifth, with 9; and Massachusetts and Wisconsin follow with six each. Lakeland Telegram.

JIMMY SPILLED THE BEANS

J. Ralph Pickell, editor and publisher of The Round-Up, tells this one to prove his contention that no system has ever been developed that will silence the irrepressible in children. "A short time ago we were entertaining a very prominent lady from Australia. Sometimes when we are entertaining distinguished company we send the children to their grandmothers, for who can tell what a child may say or do? But this evening the whole family was present. Everything had gone well enough, or almost well enough, until Jimmy spilled the beans. The weather (of course) had been discussed. The theatre and America's greatest sports had come in for their share. The soldier's honor had not been slighted, and finally a hell in conversation had brought up the question of health. This gave Jimmy his nerve to be forgotten chance. The head of the house had recently been ill with a fever and chills. The guest had just remarked that she sincerely hoped the mistress would soon recover the full blossom of health when Jimmy pined, 'Mom was sick four days, and we ain't got no new baby yet.'"

Isaac White owned a "beat" that was full of life and pep, and 'twas well betide the chap who forget to watch his toes. When the highways he would race with the throttle opened wide and the kiddies they would chase, looking for a place to hide. One fine morn he cranked it up and down the road he flew, killing Spangler's brindled pup and a vagrant hen or two. Up the pike a big car came—Isaac failed to hear its foot—ran head-on into the same, striking it upon the snout. From the wreck the pulled poor Ike, dander than the king of France, laid him there beside the pike—poor old cuss his name was pance. Yet the people did not mourn, they were glad he'd kicked the pail and no more his raucous horn sounds its toot o'er hill and vale. Ike now sleeps beneath the sod; no one weeps for him, I wot. In this land so fair and broad, all are glad that he was caught. There are other Isaacs rash who are shy on common sense—some fine day there'll be a smash and they'll hang 'em on a fence. As men gather up the mess for the coroner to view, 'twill be done with happiness and they'll hem a tuaw or two. None regret the speeder's fate—only happiness it brings—and him St. Peter at the gate will not pass him any wings. FABLE OF THE GIRL WHO BOBBED HER HAIR

A dandel, rejoicing in the euphonious handle of Jimmy, was the proud possessor of a fine head of hair. Her lustrous locks were the envy of all and sundry other females, who had submitted to the decree of dandy fashion by visiting the local barber, and having the deliah act pulled on them.

Everybody was doing it, and Jimmy who moved in a very fast set, began to feel out of place when the Chans gathered for the hop on Saturday night. It seemed to her that the Swains were alighting her for the short-haired vamps, and Jimmy wanted the Reddy Vaselines to take notice of her once in a while.

She took counsel with her mother, and na scouted the idea of Jimmy following the trend of fashion's fickle ways. Furthermore father put in his spoke and handed out the info that Jimmy had better not come around his domicile looking like a flapping vamp.

There was one swain in the village who didn't take the clipped blondes, however, and he told Jimmy in no uncertain phrases that he liked her because she had sense enough to know when she was well off. Jimmy thought quite a much of this man, and for a time forgot the cold stare of the boob, who passed her up cold on the dance hall floor. But all around her the females continued in over-increasing numbers to have their tresses shorn, until Jimmy was practically the only girl of the old regime left in the town.

She confided her fears concerning her apparent unpopularity to one of the swift skirts one-night, and when the skirt told her that she was all wet in the eyes of the crowd, Jimmy determined to brave the parental wrath, and follow the crowd.

The skirt told her furthermore that no one who had ever known the joys of bobbed hair would ever consider the old fashion again.

What the skirt didn't tell Jimmy was the fact that she, and most of the others in the gang were green with envy over Jimmy's wonderful tresses, and that even now they were all letting their crowning glory grow again.

So Jimmy submitted to the barber's shears, and was shorn, even as the others had been in their folly.

Of course pa and ma raised Cain and his whole family, but Jimmy had respected that, and passed as a martyr to herself. The big reveal for a week, but he was stuck on her, and when she tanned the flood-gates open, he got her and made it up.

And then Jimmy suddenly found out that she wasn't funny for the crowd

MOSQUITO CAMPAIGN STARTS WEDNESDAY, MARCH SEVENTH SANFORD TO CO-OPERATE

Chief Sanitary Engineer of State Board Will Be in Charge

Of late there has been considerable comment and discussion about a mosquito campaign. Every citizen of Florida is interested in this work, and already many cities through their Chambers of Commerce and civic organizations are cooperating and assisting as far as possible the State Board of Health and Municipal authorities in their efforts to wage a successful campaign against a pest, which is responsible for the malignant and fatal diseases of the past and present. The time for co-operation and support is already here, and inasmuch as the winter has been unusually mild, mosquito propagation has been but slightly retarded. The campaign will start in Sanford Wednesday, March 7th. George W. Simons, Jr., chief sanitary engineer of the state board of health, Jacksonville, will have charge of the features of the day.

An attempt will be made to have the city commissioners adopt a mosquito ordinance which is now in operation in other cities, and has proven so effective. An opportunity will be given local people to familiarize themselves with this ordinance and awaken them to the necessity for such an ordinance being enacted. Although March 7 has been officially designated by the Chamber of Commerce as Anti-Mosquito Day, with the assistance of the city officials a continuous campaign will be waged to eliminate mosquitoes from Sanford. In fact it will last as long as mosquitoes continue to prevail or at least until mosquitoes have greatly diminished. Mosquitoes do not respect time limits, therefore it behooves every citizen to observe all the mosquito control measures as embodied in the proposed ordinance.

There are a few preliminary suggestions the Chamber of Commerce would like to impress upon the public at this time, and which are approp of the movement.

1. Examine all rain barrels, cisterns or other artificial water containers about your premises and see that they are properly protected. These are ideal mosquito breeding places.
2. Make an early inspection of your properties and see that no standing water is located thereon. If accumulations are found take steps to eliminate or treat them in an approved manner.
3. Inspect all flower urns or vases which are likely to hold a small amount of water—these are often obscure offenders.
4. Tightly screen all openings to the house. Screen fire place openings and chimneys.
5. Whenever a citizen leaves the community for an extended vacation or visit, it is advised that all toilet fixtures be drained and the water supply cut off.

The city commissioners in the proposed ordinance will be authorized to consider plans for increased inspection service. These inspectors will be instructed to vigorously prosecute all violators of the ordinance provisions. Obviously the success or failure of any mosquito campaign depends solely upon the hearty and enthusiastic cooperation given it by the citizens generally. The Chamber of Commerce hopes to receive such a response and that the coming summer will find fewer mosquitoes in Sanford than ever before.

In the evening a meeting will be held at the court house on the subject of further bulkheading the lake front which is recognized as one of the greatest preventative measures that can be taken to prevent the further propagation of this pest. Everybody is invited. The meeting will begin at eight o'clock and will be addressed by a number of locally prominent people, as well as the State Health Officer, Mr. George W. Simons.

Dade County Officials Indicted by Fed. Jury

Concealing of Assets in Bankruptcy Cases and Aiding Bootleggers

High officials, including Circuit Judge Henry F. Atkinson, of Dade county; Robert C. Baker, sheriff of Palm Beach county, Robert W. Millbourne, former prohibition agent in the latter county; Edgar C. Thompson, former state attorney, several attorneys and business men were indicted by the federal grand jury in session here recently on charges of violating the national prohibition act and the national bankrupt act, it became known here yesterday. Capiases for the arrests of those involved have been issued, William Guber, U. S. district attorney announced.

The case under which Sheriff Baker of Palm Beach county was indicted along with George Drawdy, Millbourne, and Otis R. Parker, attorney, involves, it is said, an alleged conspiracy of sell protection and to accept bribes to persons running boat loads of liquor from the Bahamas to Florida.

The case under which Judge Atkinson was indicted along with his partners, W. I. Evans and Martin Messhon, involves the concealing of assets of the bankruptcy case of Saul Abelson, J. Dickstein and B. Kirshong, proprietors of the Michigan Furniture Company of Miami.

While no information, other than the mere announcement of the indictment, was given out by the district attorney, it is understood the case against the Palm Beach County officials and other men involves an alleged conspiracy to accept money for protection and bribes from liquor runners plyingbe tween the Bahama Islands and the Florida East Coast.

Information concerning the indictments was withheld until capiases for the arrest of the men had been issued.—Tampa Times.

Demand for Lumber Remains Above Normal Production is Light

Demand for lumber during February remained above normal, while production suffered seriously from inclement weather in practically all producing sections, says the American Lumberman, Chicago. The combined barometer of orders, production and shipments of the eight leading softwood manufacturing associations during the week ended Feb. 17, showing bookings at 8 per cent below normal, and shipments at 12 per cent below the same standard. Orders for southern pine during the week mentioned totaled 25 per cent above production, and those for Douglas fir were 88 per cent above output. These figures give conclusive proof of the gradual depletion of stocks that already has reached a serious point, and of the heavily overbooked condition of the mills. This situation is making it very difficult for buyers to place orders, mills as a rule not being willing to commit themselves any further ahead and finding it necessary to decline a big percentage of the business offered them.

There would undoubtedly be many buyers in distress need of lumber at this time were it not for the fact that wholesalers are putting into transit large quantities of material which they bought some time ago, before the lumber shortage had reached its present acuteness and prices had mounted to their present levels. These transit cars are moving into consumption steadily, and there does not appear to be any oversupply that might cause a weakening of the market. Mill prices still continue to strengthen practically thruout the list, and tho the upward movement is not nearly so rapid now as during January, due to the manufacturers' efforts to stabilize the market, it is difficult to foresee what levels will be attained if needs continue as heavy as they have been and the mills are not soon able to increase their production materially. At present, snows, rains and floods are creating great difficulties for loggers and manufacturers on the West Coast and throughout the south and southwest.

Demand for hardwoods remains very strong, and prices continue to show a pronounced upward tendency. Dry stocks are almost impossible to find, and the movement of green lumber shows constant growth. Many northern manufacturers of both the hardwoods and softwoods, who customarily do their logging in winter, are contemplating putting in summer camps this year in view of the prospective enormous lumber consumption and the demand for logs from paper and pulp manufacturers and other industrial concerns.

SCHOLARSHIPS IN GRAMMAR SCHOOLS SUBJECTS FOR ADULT CITIZENS

Men and women of Florida over twenty-two years of age, who, because of misfortune or otherwise were unable to finish their grammar school education, can do so privately and without embarrassment by taking the correspondence study courses offered by the State through the general extension division, of the University of Florida. A large number of mature citizens are taking these courses and the age of the students run as high as 63 years. A number of scholarships in grammar school subjects are available during March in every county in the state. The list of subjects includes: Spelling, Arithmetic, Letter Writing, Penmanship, English, Geography of the United States, Civil Government, History.

He was released on one thousand dollar bond.

Clarke was arrested on a warrant issued by United States Commissioner Carter after receipt of a certified copy of an indictment against him by a federal grand jury in Houston. Big Buildings Going Forward At Rapid Rate Remarkable progress is being noted on the two buildings being built by the Fuller Construction company of New York. The steel frame work on the six story First National Bank building has been erected and the brick on the Paleston-Brumley building has already been laid. The latter building is sixty per cent complete and the contractors advise will be finished by April 1st. Work is also progressing very rapidly on the motion picture house being built by R. J. Gallespie of Jacksonville for the Milane Amusement Co. During the past week initial work on the street paving was started by Hutton & Co., of Savannah, who were awarded the contract for the first four miles of city paving.

Bad Wreck on Road Buick Sedan Ruined, Collision Burned Car

There was a bad wreck on the Sanford-Orlando road last night when a Buick sedan belonging to parties from Miami ran into the remains of a Chandler car that had burned Saturday night and was left on the road near Russell's bay. The parties in the Buick sedan were rushed to the Orlando hospital and the wrecked car was taken to the Williams Garage here for repairs. It is said that some of the occupants of the Buick were injured and the appearance of the car would indicate that several were injured and it is a miracle that they were not all killed.

It seems that the car that was burned was left partly on the road and partly off the road and the Buick did not see the remains of the burned car in time to avoid it.

BADSON FINDS BUSINESS BETTER IN CENTRAL WEST

(Continued from page 1) pleasanter living conditions. The heavy increase in railroad freight rates and the development of good roads should also help the medium sized city.

"The automotive industry which is largely located in this section continues to thrive. Many talk about this industry reaching a point of saturation. Of course, it will some day; but when that time comes it will require fully as many persons as are now engaged in the industry, to supply the cars and parts needed for replacements in order to keep the market saturated. It is true that some of the smaller companies will be forced out of business and all companies will tend to build lighter and cheaper cars, but the industry as a whole will continue prosperous for many years to come. This means much to Michigan, Illinois and Indiana. 1923 will be a good automobile year.

"This section tributary to Chicago is also profiting from the great residential building boom now on throughout the country. I have already referred to the cause of this boom—namely, the exodus of people from the cities to suburbs and the country due to the convenience of the automobile. The first industries to benefit from the building boom were the cement and brick people, then the lumber and steel interests began to prosper. Now the copper, paints, and other industries are picking up. This sequence is invariably true, although when the boom culminates and the turn downward comes, the cement and brick people will be the first to feel the decline. The new roads in process of construction are also temporarily helping this section, although I fear that some of the sections will not feel so prosperous when the time comes to pay off the road bonds which they are now so freely issuing.

"The last great industry to benefit from a building boom is the furniture industry. After a house is built, new furniture is always purchased, even though the family moves from some other house. Now nearly four-fifths of the furniture manufactured in the United States is made in this 'Industrial West.' I forecast great activity for this industry during 1923. There is liable to be even a furniture shortage. Those who contemplate buying new furniture during 1923 should make their purchases at once. The industry is not one that can quickly expand. It also is very dependent upon transportation, which is liable to congestion throughout the year. Remember that there are fewer miles of railroad in our country today than there were ten years ago. Terminals are becoming more congested every year and industries, which like furniture—are so very dependent upon the railroads, should count upon this unfavorable factor. This is also true of the paper industry, which is thriving in this section and which is continually becoming a greater factor in its prosperity.

"I have said nothing about the agricultural outlook for this section because I shall treat it in detail next week, when discussing the purely agricultural states. Suffice to say, I found it improving and very much better than a year ago. The wiser farmers, however, are going more into dairying and the raising of market garden products. Beans, peas, cabbage, lettuce, tomatoes, potatoes, fruits, etc., are becoming the most profitable products. Dairying and poultry raising alone is bringing about $400,000,000 a year into this section. Because of the diversity of income and the increasing profits, I feel optimistic as to the farming possibilities within reasonable trucking distance of good sized cities. When the farmers of this section get a broader vision and realize that each prospers, only as the other prospers, then they all can prosper. The great enemy of the average farmer is not the natural elements without himself—but rather those human elements within himself. Creative nature has been good to the farmer, but human nature has been the farmer's greatest obstacle. When the farmers eliminate jealousy—they will start on the highway of prosperity—but not until. The best antidote for jealousy is co-operation; yes a greater spirit of co-operation is what all Americans need today."

General business as reflected in the index of the Babsonchart is 1 per cent above normal.

SUPLANT JAZZ MUSIC BY THE PROPER KIND SAYS MRS. OLGA BARNES

Her Lecture Delivered Before the Woman's Club Wednesday Was Broadcasted by Radio

Mrs. J. W. Barnes, of this city, believes that jazz music has reached a period where it should be suppressed for the good of the public morals and especially for the benefit of the children. Mrs. Barnes lectured on this subject here Wednesday at the Woman's Club and also gave the same lecture at Los Angeles having it put on the radio. The Los Angeles Times has the following article about the lecture:

The subconscious obedience of man to music, good or bad, the effect of jazz music on the morals of the nation, and the psychological reactions, were the topics of dissertation broadcast last night from The Times Radio Station by Olga W. Barnes.

Popular music that contains an abundance of harmony, yet lacking the elements of jazz, is the solution of the problem facing America today, avers Mrs. Barnes, whose address follows:

"What a privilege to be alive to express today, the day when dreams are coming true. Through the ages the philosophers have told us of its coming, but only today have we realized it. Material science has now come bodily forward with its cold, hard facts proven beyond a doubt in the laboratory, that thoughts are things. In the June number of a recent magazine Upton Sinclair explains convincingly how a thought directed from one mind to another sets up a corresponding rate of vibration in that mind if it is receptive, which means that any thought received by the conscious mind awakens the vibrations corresponding to itself in the physical body. Hence we now know that a new thought responded to often enough means a new body. A royal road to accomplishment has at last been uncovered to all, a short cut to health, wisdom and power, and is graphically illustrated by this very instrument into which you are now listening. An idea is heard not here at the center, but received there by a properly attuned and adjusted instrument. Is there not a striking analogy here to the message broadcast by infinite wisdom at creation, that good is everywhere and will flow to us when the mechanism, the mind, including the nervous system, is attuned to good and good alone. We can receive only that to which we are attuned, remember, consequently it is not of utmost importance that we get in tune as early in life as possible, with the positive, good thought currents everywhere, rather than with the negative or bad ones? The wires for broadcasting were strung by omnipotence at our creation and the receiving station is deep in the heart or solar plexus of every man. Our big business is to attune our conscious and subconscious minds to that which we do not learn to vibrate to the good and pure and express our beautiful dream, we will find that we are negative and before we realize it we are expressing others' thoughts that are circulating in the air which we can only describe as a nightmare.

"Is it not the part of common sense then to face the issue and find out how to become attuned to the vast flowing good in store for us when we are ready to receive it? And is it not delightful to know that joyous, rhythmic movement to constructive thought is one of the greatest helps imaginable in this tuning-up process?

"Psychology has proven that pure love sets up the highest rate of vibration possible to the body and it generates a current of abounding joy. Science also proves the emotional appeal of music. I believe with Anne Shaw Faulkner, chairman of the music department of Women's Federated Clubs, that 'America is facing a serious problem in regard to its popular music; that unwholesome thought currents accompanied by jazz music has been charged by the welfare workers of our country with much of the degeneracy among the young people we hear so much about. Over 600 years ago Andrew Fletcher said, 'Let me write the ballads of a nation and I care not who makes the laws.' Modern psychology has just made the profound wisdom of this statement clear to us, because it has shown that music and dancing attune the mind by the emotional appeal, and the association of the opposite sexes, especially at adolescence, renders the impressions absolutely dynamic. Stirred by these elemental influences impressions are engraved on the mind and heart, or the subconscious cells of the body, be they good or bad. Is it not clear then why laws need not concern a nation if its ballads are pure and true?"

"Thanks to the torch of philosophy and science there are many beautiful popular songs being written today, and I would say to the young, 'Dance and sing all you please, but be sure that the thoughts expressed are pure and true, that you may build peace, prosperity and health into your consciousness rather than in harmony, failure and disease. Then will you sing with 'the bird of the morning' in glad faith, and the happiness, power and wealth of infinite words may be yours for you will have touched the key to the realm of the subconscious mind, with which you may listen in to the music of the spheres, and verily the fullness of the universe shall be yours."

GOVERNOR REGRETS RESOLUTION PASSED BY DAKOTA SENATE

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 5. — No state in the union treats its convicts more humanely than Florida. Governor Cary A. Hardee declared in a letter written to Governor Nestos of North Dakota, resenting the action of the North Dakota senate several days ago in passing a resolution calling for a full investigation into the death at a private convict camp of Martin Tabert of Munich, N. D.

Tabert, a Leon county convict died February 1, last year while under lease to the Putnam Lumber Company at a Dixie camp. The governor pointing out that he had started an investigation as soon as the report of Tabert's death reached him, and that he had assurances that it would be vigorously prosecuted, declared that the resolution served "no useful purpose" but gave the state "unwholesome publicity."

Florida has more than 1,500 convicts in its prisons, the letter stated. "There will occur occasionally instances where the authorities in charge might be accused of improper treatment of the convicts," the letter stated, adding, "I assume that similar situations will occur in every state in the union. Perhaps it has occurred in the state of North Dakota."

The governor objected to the taking of a single instance of alleged mistreatment, he said, and making it the "basis of a resolution which will have the effect of giving to the state of Florida unwholesome publicity." He expressed appreciation of the resolution in that it absolved the state of any wrong doing, but "that does not cure the harm and injury that the passage of such resolution does the state of Florida."

"We can not judge the general policy by some isolated, rare incident," he declared. The governor in describing the care taken of the state convicts said that not only are inspectors and physicians provided to insure their health and general welfare, but "we even provide chaplains for their religious instruction. In fact, every precaution is taken looking toward a policy of humanity. Florida has a convict farm which has been referred to as one of the most human of its kind in the United States. The honor system prevails to that extent that not a single guard is employed."

Governor Hardee's letter concluded, "we invite the people of North Dakota along with those from other states in the union to come to Florida with the assurance that they will find in this land of such splendid climate and matchless resources a citizenship who respect the laws of the country and who do not countenance acts of inhumanity, even to those who have been unfortunate enough to be convicted of crime."

American Legion and Bazaar to Open Here Next Monday Evening

Monday evening, March 12th, at 7 o'clock is the hour set for the opening of the American Legion Circus and Bazaar on the lake front. The big top which is to house the show is being erected and everything will be in ship shape when the first blare of trumpets announces the launching of what promises to be one of the most attractive week's celebrations ever pulled off in Sanford.

The show is being arranged to help the American Legion building fund. It was decided to put the show on in big shape, and the management is certainly doing it. In addition to the various attractions which will fill the big tent a diamond ring, one Ford automobile and other prizes are being given away. One to the young lady selling the largest number of season tickets and one to the holder of a lucky number.

Some of the highest class attractions ever brought to Sanford are being assembled for the week. All of the tent shows and circuses have gone into winter quarters, and there is little trouble in getting acts, so that the management had the pick of the lot.

Young Guthrie, in a flying trapeze act, puts on a thrilling series of stunts. He was formerly with the Ringling shows, and was one of the feature acts.

Cecilia Smith, petite and pretty, remembered here as being one of the main attractions with the Sparks shows, will come for the week in her slack-wire act. She is heralded as one of the greatest performers of the kind in the country.

Carson & Campbell, knife jugglers and throwers and expert rifle and revolver shots, will put in an act that is said to be unequalled. They were formerly with the Buffalo Bill show.

Kono, the celebrated juggling clown will lead the merry-makers. He was a feature for several years with Barnum & Bailey.

H. S. Gatchell and his celebrated dogs, Duchess and Merle, will be a top liner. These dogs almost talk and have been featured as headliners all over the country. There will be many other acts to make the show an event well worth attending.

There will also be plenty of music by an orchestra and a clown band.

OUR WEEKLY CITRUS REVIEW

ORLANDO, March 5.—The weekly citrus review by F. L. Skelly as issued from the office of the American Fruit Growers, Inc., says:

Oranges: The demand has continued good with widespread distribution during the week. Prices generally have been very satisfactory with top figures being realized for fancy oranges in some of the larger markets. Receipts from California during the past week were not as large as they may be anticipated to be during the coming week. Last estimates from California indicate total citrus crop of that state is expected to reach 60,112 carloads. Of this orange and grapefruit shipments are estimated at 48,753 carloads. Up to February 21 a total of 12,242 carloads of California oranges had moved. This would leave 36,511 cars remaining to move from California. Prospects are that good Florida oranges should continue to be taken readily at good prices.

Grapefruit: Notwithstanding the fact that a considerable volume of grapefruit remains to be moved, the demand is good. With the time for severe weather in many of the larger markets practically past the avenues of distribution for grapefruit are considerably increased. There continues to be considerable discrimination in the matter of sizes, but desirable fruit is meeting with a very satisfactory reception.

Tangerines: The supply is now practically exhausted. Recent sales of good quality fruit have been at high prices, though poor tangerines have brought only low prices. For the balance of this season tangerines will be omitted from this review.

Indications of the continuing betterment of the general business situation are evident. Cotton, iron and steel have reached the highest level since 1920. The demand for manufactured products is very strong, with accumulated unfilled orders in many lines reaching considerable figures. The general prosperity thus created is no small factor in assuring the buying power in the consuming centers which is beneficial to all seasonable fresh fruits.

How to Insure Sales for Your Product!

The chief asset of any business is the demand for its product. As long as that demand continues, the business is on a sure foundation. But let that demand subside, and every other asset of the business is in danger of becoming a liability.

In times of prosperity and a rising market there is a general demand for the products of industry that comes to be accepted as a matter of course. It is seldom listed among the assets of the business—it is simply assumed that it will always be there.

But, overnight, conditions may change—as they have done before—and the matter of course demand becomes conspicuous by its absence. The business, once strong and flourishing, is suddenly found to be in a very tight place. The demand had not been insured—and yet the entire business depended upon its continuance.

The modern, economical way to insure the market for any reliable product is by Advertising to the public which consumes it. Advertising creates a steadily increasing number of customers who desire the product, and ask for it by name.

Changes in business conditions have little effect on a steady consumer demand for trade-marked articles of common use. The dealer may carry a lighter stock, and for a short time the demand through the jobber may seem curtailed; but just as sure as customers are calling on the dealer for the product, he is sure to supply it, and orders soon begin to flow in to make up for the temporary curtailment. The total consumption continues about the same.

Any manufacturer who has an article for popular consumption that can be trade-marked has the opportunity to insure his consumer market and retail sales by means of Advertising.

During the present business condition the manufacturers who have insured their demand by Advertising are in a far better position—in every way—than those who have trusted to the current demand that was not of their creating.
