CANDIDACY OF HINDENBURG IS BEATING STIR

Force For Presidency Becomes Heated As Party Organs Clash Over Their Leaders

Hindenburg Men Display Optimism

Tax Supporters Are Using U.S. Comment To Good Advantage

BERLIN, Apr. 10.—The nomination of Field Marshal Hindenburg for the German presidency continues the subject of heated editorial polemics in the Berlin and provincial press.

The organs of the United Right parties, which have chosen the war idol as their political champion, are supporting him vigorously. In the criticism of high liberal organizations are producing recent statements of conservative journals opposing the nomination of Von Hindenburg. Newspapers supporting the candidacy of ex-chancellor Dr. Wilhelm Marx, nominee of the Weimar coalition, also are giving prominence to comment from the United States and London.

The field marshals campaign managers are displaying abundant optimism in regard to his prospects. Polling highest individual vote in the elections of Apr. 29, their campaigning efforts will be concentrated chiefly with beating the 12,000,000 eligible voters who were by-athomes during the elections. The reichstag on Dec. 7 and in the preliminary voting for a president on Mar. 29.

"A quick asset" in the nature of the United Right is the support given by Von Hindenburg by the various political organizations in Berlin which not only the official German people's party but also various unattached groups and all various political organizations have been on for field marshal. The campaigning campaign largely will be fought out on paper as neither the United Right nor the parties opposing the Weimar coalition are in a position to spend excessive sums for campaign purposes.

The United Right is said to have secured the support of the majority of the Reichstag. The majority of the Reichstag is said to have secured the support of the majority of the Reichstag.

The Socialist are proving the most militant of the Republican parties.

The nomination of Field Marshal Hindenburg came as a surprise to his fellow citizens who until the arrival of Admiral von Tirpitz, the majority of the Reichstag had thought the veteran military leaders refusal was final. Tirpitz, however, is considered as having been the decisive factor in securing the aged field marshal's nomination.

The Hanoverian, who have known Von Hindenburg for many years say he is a purely military man, who has no political views. He is said to be a man of high character and to have a high regard for the president. He is 77 years old.

Loan Sharks Facing Control In England

LONDON, Apr. 10.—Money-lenders who have hitherto charged interest ranging from 5 up to 20 per cent are in for a considerable reduction in their rates. A bill introduced into the House of Commons by Lord Carson has the effect of limiting the rate of interest charged on loans to 10 per cent.

This proposal that the rate of interest charged shall not exceed 10 per cent unless the lender proves that a higher charge is not excessive, is a measure which is expected to be passed by the House of Commons in all probability.

The bill is expected to be passed by the House of Commons in all probability.

land BALTIMORE, April 10. Maryland authorities are stopping and holding up motorists driving through the state with temporary tags issued in Florida. They say motorists must obtain regular licenses, either of Maryland or of their home state. Some drivers have left cars in vacant fields to board trains in order to go after Maryland tags.

SANFORD CENSUS RECOUNT SOUGHT BY TRADE BODY

Chamber of Commerce Believes Population Is Over 10,000; City Commission Asked To Take Action

"Sanford has more than 10,000 population and the fact should be shown" was the stand taken by the Sanford Chamber of Commerce at its meeting Friday noon, when the chamber voted to ask the City Commission to have a recount made.

It also was voted to have Secretary Pearson go to Tallahassee and confer with Secretary of Agriculture, in an effort to have the recent figures omitted in Sanford held back, or excluded in the publication of the state census returns on the grounds that the figures do not represent the actual population. It was suggested that possibly the total figures for Seminole county might be published, but leave the figures for Sanford out.

This action on the census of the city followed a statement of S. A. D. Wilkinson as to the manner of taking the census in this county. He declared that the average family in Sanford was three and one-half persons. He told of the difficulties of taking the census.

Following Mr. Wilkinson's statement there was a general discussion. President Higgins called for a poll of the city, and a group of those who of their own accord knew that they had been counted in the census. Six out of the 32 members present raised their hands.

Robert G. Davis, of Silver Lake, said that he did not think there was any reason to be alarmed about the census situation, and in his opinion the best plan was to hurry the amendment of outside territory, which when taken in would give the city well over 10,000.

Mr. Wilkinson said that a small territory which would give the city at least 11,000.

Secretary Pearson read a circular letter which he had prepared urging the passage of the bond issue on May 5. President Higgins called the members if they had heard the city commission to have the issue except at Lake Mary. It was stated that there was no other proposition. It was suggested that the Lake Mary people be told that by the passage of the bond issue they would get more work on their present road, the county committee already promising that they would get more advantage from the gasoline use. The members were urged to stress this fact in talking to the Lake Mary people.

Secretary Pearson told the chamber of the advertising campaign which was being carried on and showed a copy of the page advertisements which are being run in the various daily papers advertising Sanford and territory.

E. A. Douglas brought up the question of acquiring the light plant. He said that it had already been voted to take over this with the other utilities and that he thought the city commission should take some action.

After some general discussions by Mr. DeCotes and others as to the present situation, the president announced that he would have the municipal ownership committee confer with the City Commission and report back to the body at a subsequent meeting.

COOLIDGE NOTE TO PERU MADE PUBLIC TODAY

President Informs Nation He Considers His Award In Tacna-Arica Matter Final And Upholds Old Time Pact

WASHINGTON, Apr. 10.—President Coolidge informed the American government Thursday that he was constrained to regard his award as arbitrator in the Tacna-Arica dispute between Peru and Chile as "final and without appeal." The communication pointed out that this action agreed with the terms of submission as signed by the two governments and also with the general principles of international law.

This reply will meet and leave the president contented, but he added that, in deference to the nations and to the importance of a correct understanding of the award he deemed it advisable "to make certain additional observations."

The Peruvian memorial deposes several pages to an argument contending that the arbitrator's action in ordering determination of sovereignty in Tacna and Arica through a plebiscite was the consequence of an error of translation which runs through the entire opinion and award.

The complete correspondence between Mr. Coolidge and Solon Polk, president of the Peruvian arbitration commission, was made public within a few hours after the reply of the arbitrator had been delivered to the Peruvian embassy.

The arbitrator's action in ordering determination of sovereignty in Tacna and Arica through a plebiscite was the consequence of an error of translation which runs through the entire opinion and award.

England Makes Car Drivers Delighted To Linger For Gas

LONDON, Apr. 10.—(By the London Times.) The new gas stations in England for the benefit of motorists.

Gasoline supply branch stations are comparatively new here, but the idea has taken hold and spread rapidly, and some of the new houses now going up in and near London for the spring trade are known as "petrol palaces." Quite a number have free "wash and brush-up" rooms as well as quick refueling facilities.

The motor party may satisfy their thirst for tea, cake and sandwiches while the car is being filled with gasoline.

Sanford Joins In Plan To Unite Canal And Drainage Projects In One Measure

As a result of a conference this week at Daytona between P. A. Vans Agnew, of Winter Park; A. P. Connelly and R. W. Pearson, Jr., of the Chamber of Commerce of Sanford, and W. F. Burgeam, president of the Daytona Chamber of Commerce and also head of the Association of East Coast Chambers of Commerce, efforts on the various canal and drainage projects of this section have been united. It was announced. This plan of effort, it is believed, will result in quicker realization of the dreams of the Jacksonville-Key West canal, the St. Johns-Indian River canal and the project for a 12-foot channel between Palatka and Daytona.

The work of this conference, it is further believed, will do more for the bringing about of a great system of inland waterways for this section than any accomplishment within the past few years.

According to Sanford delegates, which returned yesterday from Daytona, it is planned to unite all interests in the forming of a vast drainage district, including the St. Johns, Indian River, East Coast, and taking in the three projects.

At the luncheon meeting of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce this afternoon, Mr. Connelly, of the committee which went to Daytona to confer with Mr. Burgeam, made a report of what had been done, and the plan reached by the committee at this conference was endorsed. Secretary Pearson was instructed to notify Mr. Burgeam, at Daytona so that he could bring the matter before a meeting of the Association of East Coast Chambers of Commerce, to be held at Homestead Saturday.

Mr. Connelly, in his report to the chamber told of divided efforts of the East Coast and the territory lying east of the St. Johns River, their fight for waterways and drainage, and he explained that at this conference in Daytona, that a plan had been adopted to draw an embankment to provide for a line of boats in one vast district for all of the projects combined, each county bearing its own part of the cost of the work. He said that under this plan the east coast would pay for its own work and the territory on the St. Johns for its part, only one county, Broward, being taxed for the two projects. He said that as this county had more submerged lands than any other, that it would also bear assessments for the combined projects.

Following action of the east coast chambers at the Homestead meeting Saturday, it is planned to have Engineer Braxton draw a bill which will include all the projects outlined, and this will be presented to the legislature for enactment.

It is believed that by this union of effort on the part of the backers of two great waterway and drainage projects in the state, that federal aid will be obtained much more quickly and to better advantage.

GIRL MURDERER WINTER CROP OF WHEAT IS UNDER INSANE ASYLUM YIELD LAST YEAR

Seventeen Year Old Dorothy Ellington Adjudged Insane By Jury After Deliberation of But 30 Minutes Thursday

SAN FRANCISCO, Apr. 10.—Seventeen year old Dorothy Ellington, the pretty bronze haired girl whose pursuit of jazz and joy culminated last January in a quarrel in which she killed her mother in a bedroom of her home, was taken to the State Asylum for the Insane at Napa, Calif., Thursday night. Shortly before noon a jury in superior court adjudged her insane.

The murder charge against the young girl was dropped. The jury, impounded to try the case, excused until next Monday will be foundly dismissed then and the matter will be placed on the deferred calendar, perhaps for all time. Should she ever be pronounced sane, the murder charge may be revived.

The girl was bitterly opposed to the sanity proceeding launched by her attorneys. She denounced in open court, once threatened to sobbly convulsively in the arms of her mother, and was not able to leave the room for half an hour.

Thursday afternoon she was brought into the court for the formal act of commitment. She had required her composure and sat steadily while Judge Harold Lombard pronounced the words committing her. The procedure required less than three minutes.

Within another hour she was on her way to the state insane asylum at Napa.

The girl's attorney, Alexander Meadell, chief counsel Sylvester J. McVee and Walter McGovern, issued a statement in which they said: "When we first entered into the defense of Dorothy Ellington, we were immediately impressed with the fact that she was possessed of a very unusual mentality. She failed to cooperate with us from the beginning."

Local Celery Growers Hold Second Enthusiastic Meeting Thursday Night

Enthusiastic action to improve packing methods and to take extra precaution in freezing celery from insecticides which are liable to be injurious to public health, was taken by a large representative gathering of Sanford celery growers Thursday night at the county home.

The meeting, the second held recently to bring about a closer cooperation in the marketing of celery, was marked by a willingness on the part of the growers to adhere strictly to government regulations in a matter of importance.

The meeting was held in the evening at the county home, and was presided over by the president of the growers' association, who stated that several new plants for the celery have been established within the past few days, and that a more thorough cleaning process for the local product. An optimistic note regarding future shipments of celery, was sounded by several speakers at the meeting.

HERRIOT GIVEN ANOTHER VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

No Coalition Willing To Assume the Responsibility of Trying To Overthrow Him Without Listening to Plan

PARIS, Apr. 10.—The Herriot government, which has been reeling under the attacks of the opposition for a week, suddenly sprang a surprise offensive against its opponents, when the premier, in the course of a three hours speech in the chamber Thursday, two-thirds of which was devoted to laying the government's preceding his put it squarely on the chamber to assume the responsibility of overthrowing him before his financial measures relating to increased currency and forced loan could come up for discussion.

No coalition was found desirous of facing the situation which would have been created by the departure of M. Herriot at this stage, and because the sponsors for inflation and capital levy themselves. The Left groups, which have shown signs of disintegration, rallied behind the premier and gave the cabinet a new lease of life. The vote was 291 to 242.

Majority Shrinks

The government, although victor in this preliminary engagement, saw its majority whittled down to 200 votes, for the first time since it assumed power failing to pass the 300 mark of adherents when there was a strict party line division with a confidence clause attached. It will have to face a real battle when the finance bill itself is debated, the end of this week or the beginning of new week, in the Chamber.

Faces Senate Today

How long the governments new lease of life will be also depends on the attitude of the Senate today when it is quite probable M. Herriot will attempt similar operations.

The premier charged the successive governments since the armistice with being responsible for the present precarious situation of the French treasury. The guilty parties, he said, "are those who, since the end of the war by floating both internal and foreign loans at abnormal rates of interest, have written enormous bills, which France must meet this year and in coming years. The guilty parties are those who contracted debts not those who must pay them."

The influence of the foreign debt upon France's international negotiations, the pressure of which can be brought to bear upon the French government at times even menacing France's complete freedom of action, was one of the phases of the situation upon which the premier laid stress.

SENATOR WANTS MARRIED WOMEN "FREE TRADERS"

Bill Introduced in Senate By Etheredge Makes Legal for Married Women To Sue And Be Sued In Their Name

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Apr. 10.—The senate Thursday adopted the rules for the government to its sessions this year, after which the president announced his commissions and the bills which had been introduced were read and referred to the committees.

A spirited debate developed on two of the rules as presented by the special committee on rules. One of these proposed the limiting of debate to 30 minutes for each senator on a given bill, unless he has given an extension of time by permission of the senate.

Senator Malone of Key West led the argument for those favoring unlimited debate. Senator Calkins, spokesman of the rules committee, defended the action of that body. After the question had been discussed by a number of the senators, the senate voted to adopt the rule as presented by the committee.

The other rule which came under discussion was that one providing for the suspension of the rules. The rule as submitted by the special committee provided that seven members voting for suspension may suspend the rules. Senator Malone, of Key West, brought out the point in his argument that to adopt this rule would provide for a suspension of the rules by a simple majority, instead of a two-thirds majority.

Senator Calkins, for the committee, argued for a rule of the majority.

The rule proposed by the committee was adopted.

Two of the bills introduced have attracted wide attention. Senator Hodges of Leon county, introduced a bill providing for the erection of a building to house the offices of the state government.

Senator E. J. Etheredge, of Escambia county, introduced a bill providing for married women becoming "free traders." The bill if passed would provide that a married woman may sue and be sued in her own name; may hold real property; and that the husband shall not be liable for her debts except upon his written consent.

Senator Etheredge said, "I have been requested by some of the leading citizens and jurists of the state to introduce such a bill. Since the women have been accorded the right of a suffrage and are subject to jury duty, I feel that they should be accorded the same rights as those of their husbands."

Discussion of the high traffic line tax and the tax on lubricating oils. Representative Williams stated that in his opinion the two cent increase on gasoline and the five cents per gallon tax on lubricating oils would bring in $2,500,000 additional revenue.

This measure was one of the recommendations to the legislature by Governor John W. Martin in his message to that body.

Insurance Company Loans On Property Here Over $300,000

Although it has operated in local territory but little more than a year now, the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company of Greensboro, N. C., has loaned to Sanford business and residential property more than $300,000, according to figures submitted today by E. H. Jackson, Sanford representative of the company.

The money loaned out is between 75 and 100 times larger than the sum which has been collected in premiums on insurance policies written here. Mr. Jackson further pointed out. During the first week of April, the company negotiated $25,000 in loans and others are under consideration at present.

In bringing these facts before the Mr. Jackson declared that the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company in making loans here, is keeping the money invested in the company in this city and in addition is pouring more money into Sanford. This fact, Mr. Jackson further pointed out, is an indication of the co-operation which the company is showing toward the city. The company is declared to be the pioneer insurance firm offering loans in Sanford. Its operations extend to nearly every city in Florida and its loans have run into the millions. Mr. Jackson declared. Everywhere, he pointed out, its policy of co-operation has brought it increased business in the insurance field.

FOREIGNERS IN U.S. COLLEGES FIND NO CHRIST

Foreign Students From 40 Nations Are Battling Against Inequality and Prejudice, Says Report Issued

Committee Discovers Alarming Situation

Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Leaders Urging Church Take Action Spread Christianity

NEW YORK, Apr. 10.—America has the largest enrollment of foreign students in the world and many of these youths, comprising the greatest student migration in history, are struggling against heavy odds of inhospitality and race prejudice while carrying on their studies, according to the findings of a committee of investigators. An expansion of the Friendly Relations committees of the Young Men's Christian and Young Women's Christian Associations, the investigating group is composed of 24 representatives of many welfare and denominational bodies. It is called the Commission on Survey of Foreign Students in the United States, and its labors in this field have taken three years.

The need for self-support has been a small factor in the lives of these young students from distant lands, the commission found, and many have taken back a sense of disillusionment as to America's ideals and practices. Some from American missionary work were not confirmed by the Christianity they met in the land which sent the missionaries forth.

There are more than 8,000 of these students in colleges and universities of the United States and 6,000 more in secondary schools, the report sets forth. Fifteen hundred are women. The condition of these young people, the problems involved, and suggestions as to their treatment are set forth in the report.

Meeting Searching Test.

"American life and the Christian church never have met a more severe and searching test," says Dr. Robert E. Speer, secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church, "than in the presence of these foreign students. They will not carry back what they do not get, and they will not get what we cannot or do not give."

Dr. Speer points out that not all these students have been disappointed and that thousands have gone home with strength and faith. In general the results of study abroad are more beneficial than detrimental to the cause of international friendship and of the church.

The other side of the picture is suggested in detailed statements by students of painful experiences, and their complaints of political, economic, and social discrimination, racial prejudice, and the lack of opportunity for advancement and personal improvement which they compare with what they have seen and heard of American ideals and achievements. "Some of it comes from intolerance and from lack of energy in appreciating what is best," a Japanese observer writes, "and some from the fact that many of the students who intended to become missionaries and enter American theological seminaries, but later changed their minds and entered education, or business or official service." Elmer Yelton, executive secretary of the commission, asserts that the fact cannot be denied that there is among foreign students in the United States a rising tide of criticism of the world Christian movement.

Suggestions from representative American leaders show unanimity of opinion that responsibility for work among foreign students rests upon the Christian people of an American working through the church and its agencies, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., college faculties and student boards of education, with the special help of the Friendly Relations committees at ready organization.

Data From Many Sources. The data upon which the report is based has come from hundreds of sources at home and abroad. Lists of 40 countries were received from 4,000 foreign students in more than 400 different colleges and universities of the United States. About 25 per cent of college administrators who have to do with foreign students' problems replied to questionnaires. There were also replies from church pastors and Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. leaders.

"We can if we will," says Dr. Speer, "and back each year to their many lands, an army of ambassadors of goodwill and helpful intercourse. The church may find in these thousands of students as many missionaries to carry Christianity back to their own people."

The commission, with 24 members, includes the following:

Lathers Freely in Hard Water
Wonders Root

Coast Guards Will Chase Rum Bandits In Their Own Boats

WASHINGTON, Apr. 10.—The specially designed speed boats which have become common in the illegal delivery traffic between Rum Row and the coast, are to be pressed into service, whenever captured in the war to enforce the blockade under regulations now being prepared in the treasury department. Acting under authority of a statute enacted in the closing days of the 68th Congress, the department is preparing to utilize the authority therein conferred to use vessels and vehicles seized in the process of enforcing the Volstead act.

The new regulations are to be promulgated May 1. In the meantime the government will continue to offer at auction the carriers caught in the coastal and highway nets, but with stricter application of safeguards designed to prevent their purchase by former owners.

While recent figures are not available, the prohibition unit during the year ended June 30, 1924, seized over the country 5,214 automobiles having an estimated total value of $3,225,333; and 236 boats and launches valued approximately at $279,198. The coast guard, during the calendar year 1924, seized 251 vessels.

Home-Grown Tobacco Is Proving Popular

MONTREAL, Apr. 10.—Tobacco growers of Canada produced a crop of 18,710,740 pounds in 1924. Ontario planters had 13,275 acres in tobacco, producing 12,135,000 pounds, and Quebec growers had 8,014 acres in crop, which yielded 6,575,740 pounds, according to a report issued by the federal department of agriculture.

Of the total production, the report estimates that 15,000,000 pounds was shipped to Canadian cigar and tobacco factories for manufacture for domestic use. Exports of unmanufactured tobacco amounted to 2,820,216 pounds.

While the areas of Canada suited to tobacco culture are limited, the report shows they are capable of being expanded beyond the present acreage.

Plan for Holding Non-political Conference of Eastern Peoples at Honolulu in July is Winning Support of Districts

HONOLULU, Apr. 10. — The non-political Pan-Pacific conference of prominent men from seven countries in this area, which will be held here from July 1-15 as a preliminary to a permanent political forum of all peoples of the Pacific, had its inception as a proposed Pan-Pacific Y. M. C. A. conference attended by high officials of that organization, it has been revealed by the Pan-Pacific Union, which is sponsoring the meeting.

From the limits of a Y. M. C. A. conference, it was widened to a Pan-Pacific Christian Conference, and recently assumed its still wider scope as a Pacific model of the Institute of Politics at Williams-town, Mass.

A number of lectures and round-table leaders of last year's Williams-town Institute will attend the Honolulu conference, it is announced. Among those are Yusuke Tsunomi, son-in-law of Viscount Goto; Henry Phatt, C. Fairchild, New York University, and George H. Blakeslee, of Clark University.

Among the members of the institute of last year who are on the American advisory council of the Honolulu council are Charles C. Batchelder, former secretary of commerce, Philippine Islands, an expert on commercial relations, and Stanley K. Hornbeck, of Washington, D. C.

Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams College, A. C. Coolidge, director of the Harvard University library and a member of the institute board of advisors, and Bernard Baruch, who financed the first three sessions of the institute have been cooperating with the American committee in arranging the Honolulu conference.

J. Merle Davis, executive secretary of the conference, will arrive here late this month from the mainland, where he has been obtaining funds, listing American members of the committee.

"You have already felt the pressure of foreign money. Be careful," he warned, "lest this pressure become a summons, should France be unable to do what is necessary to extricate herself from the present situation."

Mr. Herriot pointed out that his government, besides being the first since the armistice to present to parliament for ratification a balanced budget, had sacrificed its own interests to those of the country by maintaining intact the only foreign loan it had contracted, namely the Morgan loan. It was reserving this to use at a moment when the world would become more critical. He admitted a great exodus of French capital abroad, but added that any one caught in such illegal transaction had been and would be severely punished.

Heavy Payments Pending
Reviewing the amounts which must be paid to foreign countries this year by France, Mr. Herriot made reference to $59,000,000 to the United States and more than 11,000,000 pounds to Great Britain as well as nearly 1,000,000 pesos to Argentina and a large amount to Uruguay. These payments represent interest and amortization on loans other than inter-allied war loans, to which he made no reference. They weigh heavily upon the country and affect its liberty of action in its foreign policy.

question of the use of any particular English word in translating the treaty.

"It may also be said that the award of the arbitrator is in entire harmony with the practical construction placed upon the treaty by the parties in their dealings with one another after the expiration of the ten-year period from 1894 to 1912; the parties repeatedly negotiated for a plebiscite and in 1928 agreed on the terms of a protocol providing for a plebiscite which was not ratified by the Chilean congress."

Two Dead Germans Puzzling Customs Officers at Manila
MANILA, Apr. 10. — Customs and health officials are puzzled over what disposition should be made of the coffins containing the bodies of two German subjects who died here during the World War. The bodies, as well as other German property confiscated during the war have been in the customs warehouse for nearly nine years, but cannot be moved in view of a court decision several years ago to the effect that no German property can be sold or in any manner disposed of by the insular government.

The cultivation of sugar cane in Florida antedates its cultivation in Louisiana, there being authentic reports of a sugar cane plantation as far back as the 1518, near where New Smyrna now is, and sugar cane was also raised at that early date in the province of what is now Guyana.

 Or with such sorrow rife.

all, fall, thou withered leaf!
 Nor seem'st like grief,
 'Tis terrible the storm,
 How mournful the deform,
 When dark misfortune lowers.

ush! hush! thou trembling lyre,
 Silence, ye vocal choir,
 And, thou, mellifluous lute,
 Or man soon breathes his last,
 And all his hope is past,
 And all his music mute.

hen, when the gale is sighing,
 And when the leaves are dying,
 And when the song is o'er,
 'Tis I think of those Whose lives are lost in woes,
 Whose cup of grief runs o'er.

There are eight thousand misers in the United States, holding something like forty-four million dollars!

That statement is made on the authority of the United States treasury actuary, Mr. McCoy, following a recent announcement of his department that more than $415,000,000 in legal tender, which should be in the banks of the country, has completely disappeared.

After estimating that there are something like eight thousand misers with their hoarded millions, Mr. McCoy guesses that toy savings banks in the homes of the country hold about $1,500,000, that approximately 500,000 people keep anywhere from fifty to a hundred dollars in cash on hand for possible emergencies, and that two hundred thousand foreigners hoard their earnings amounting to say $225,000,000.

The point is that out of the $3.49 per capita of gold coin which represents the outstanding certificates, at least $2 per capita is hidden away; and in addition, the treasury official asserts, there is not less than $67,000,000 in silver coin cached in the odd hiding places that foolish people find for their treasures.

Not long ago an old book taken from a mouldy trunk under a pile of rubbish in a New York basement was found to contain six thousand dollars in currency so rotten and moth eaten, it would scarcely hold together. The owner of the book had long been dead and there were no known heirs. His money went into the public treasury, and was disposed of accordingly. If he went hungry, if he went without pleasures that his money could have bought for him—if he failed to give aid to needy friends, all because of foolish fear lest he lose his precious green-backs, how crazy that hoarding was! If he had placed the money in the bank for some pleasure and surprise for some one he loved, how the Irraps of Mischance must have intervened!

And it is said that more often than not, hoarded money is lost. Fires and floods, gnawing rats, and often the forgetfulness of its owner as to its place of hiding, are all the time making hidden money disappear forever from its place of usefulness, which is right out in the marts of men, in the banks for safe-keeping, ready for the service it is intended to perform.

Likely as not right here in Sanford there is hoarded money. Little piles of currency in jars on the pantry shelf, tucked away under the mattress, hidden in old stockings, slipped under papers in an old desk drawer, wadded back of the clock—it is amazing how many places there are in a house that seems safe for hiding money, in the minds of people who are unwise enough to keep money in that fashion.

Four hundred and fifteen million dollars, actual money, gone out of circulation! There's material in that information for some interesting thoughts.

Some More Warnings In Forest Fires

Now that some more millions of dollars have been lost in the forest fires of the Carolinas and Tennessee, and the people have again been warned of the inestimably costly damage that forest fires do in other ways besides the mere destruction of valuable timber, it is probable that better protection laws will be enacted, and enforced, for tree-growth in Florida?

"Forest Week"—April 27 to May 3—would be a good time for Florida to start a great movement for the reforestation of its cut-over lands. The present legislature could appropriate money for a program that would provide new forests for the children of coming generations. It could start a program that would insure a steady improvement in Florida's climatic conditions. All that it needs is an intelligent understanding of the value of tree-life, and how that tree-life has been destroyed by greedy humans, willing to rob unknown people of their protection against cold and famine.

For in the destruction of the forests conservationists see the destruction of agriculture and the ruination of orchards. These students have discovered that the removal of a forest greatly changes the soil and climate conditions of nearby lands; and, according to the extent of the forest and its location often lands many miles away are seriously injured. The trees stand as a barrier against freezing winds; they conserve moisture, storing up great quantities during rainy seasons and giving it back to the earth and the atmosphere when it is needed.

But all of these timely facts are known to every member of the state legislature. Each of them must know how much the state of Florida owes to the forests of other days as well as to the forests now growing in its territory. But it remains to be seen how intelligently the 1925 legislature appreciates the need of better forestry laws, and an organized, financed plan for the planting of new forests on thousands of acres of which the state has or could obtain control.

Let's see this long-needed work begun.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

BY IRVIN S. COBB

A noted lawyer down in Texas, who labored under the defects of having a high temper and of being deaf, was trying a case in a courtroom presided over by a young man, for whom the older practitioner had a small opinion.

Presently in an argument over a motion there was a clash between the lawyer and the judge. The judge ordered the lawyer to sit down, and as the lawyer, being deaf, didn't hear him and went on talking, the judge fined him $10 for contempt of court.

The lawyer leaned toward the clerk and cupped his hand behind his ear.

"What did he say?" he inquired.

"He fined you $10," explained the clerk.

"For what?"

"For contempt of this court," said the clerk.

The lawyer shot a poisonous look toward the bench and reached a hand into his pocket.

"I'll pay it now," he said. "It's just debt."

FUTTING ON THE SCREWS

ASHEVILLE CITIZEN

After many private citizens and several Representatives and Senators had been the victims of automobile accidents, the authorities at Washington made up their minds to subject traffic on the streets of the national capital to effective regulation. A week ago they appointed M. O. Eldridge, already an expert on the subject, Director of Traffic for the District of Columbia and told him to do what he thought best. Eldridge went grimly to work. He began with the former declaration that pedestrians must always have the right of way at street crossings and that motorists must accept them this right or suffer severe penalties.

But that was merely a beginning. After consulting with the Police Court judges of the city, he now announced elimination of the collateral system as a means of evading trial for major infractions of the traffic law. There is to be no more of this thing of a major offender's posting ten or a hundred dollars to guarantee his appearance in court and then escaping trial

600 Good Books? Hardly.
 The "No-Man" Husband.
 The Apes Remember.
 Coolidge Common Sense.
 By ARTHUR BRISBANE
 (Copyright 1924)

THE LEAGUE of nations will publish a list of the 600 best books produced in each year. What a fine world this would be if it could produce six hundred books really worth keeping! Of all books ever written you might destroy all but six hundred and still have left everything really important.

THE CALIPH Omar destroyed the magnificent library at Alexandria, saying that if the books agreed with the Koran they were surpassing that of any age? they were vicious and should be destroyed for that reason.

That was too drastic, but if the League of Nations could find six books every year of permanent value, that would be a good many.

MISS NORA Bayes' experience commands respectful attention. Returning with her fifth husband, she says she is on her first real honeymoon, because this husband is a "NO-MAN."

The experienced lady divides husbands into the weak "YES-MAN," and the powerful, manly "NO-MAN."

The "no-man," as you guess harks back to the cave and knows how to say "No." A woman likes to be bossed, says Miss Bayes, and soon gets tired of a "YES-MAN."

An interesting definition of husbands, but there is such a thing as saying "NO" too often. Who knows but No. 6 may be another "YES-MAN"?

PROF. WOLFGANG Koehler, of Berlin, tells Columbia University how the great apes resemble man. They vary in intelligence as men do, but have better memories than men. They know enough to break a branch from a tree, to reach out for a fruit beyond the reach of their hands.

Professor Koehler annoys those who are sure that Darwin didn't know what he was talking about.

HOW WOULD the learned professor explain intelligence of insects far surpassing that of any ape?

How does the mud wasp perform a surgical operation on a caterpillar, paralyzing and keeping it alive all winter, to be eaten by young wasps when they hatch?

WHO TAUGHT the ant to organize cities, establish a nobility of parasites, and take care, like the bees of a queen, because she means the perpetuation of the tribe?

Who taught working bees to let the male drones live until the queen has made her choice and then kill the survivors?

He who denies the importance of evolution is, of course, an ignoramus. He who would use evolution to explain everything is equally foolish.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE talked good common sense on "giving preference to home industry and American workmen." Newspapers say he "defended" such preference but there is no need for defense.

Duty of a nation's government and its chief executives is to work for that nation, and for the working people that have created it.

THE BRITISH are not bashful about giving the preference to British workers. In every advertisement you read "British Made", or "British Built." Too many Americans brag about the fact that what they offer is "Imported from England," as though there were nothing fit to produce or use in this country. If you MAKE your money in America SPEND it in America.

MRS. GEORGIA Hackett Ruggles of Los Angeles, left the bulk of her fortune, $500,000, to the Christian Science Church. The church cannot get the money, because the will was made only twenty-six days before the lady died.

Under California law no church can inherit unless the will was made thirty days before death.

The theory is that, on the edge of the grave, a rich individual is not to be too much interested in his own immediate celestial future, not enough interested in his relatives' earthly future.

IF HERRIOT is forced to call an election, as seems probable, the result will be interesting to European high finance.

French peasants, like other human beings, don't like taxes. Other Frenchmen dislike them also.

But if the average Frenchman hates the idea of paying heavy income tax, he hates even more bitterly the well-known fact that the very rich escape taxation.

IF HERRIOT goes before the country in a fight to hold his place, stabilize the franc and pay the national debt he will say to the little Frenchmen (little financially): "Support me and I will make the big fortunes pay their share, which they are not paying now." The result may not suit the big fortunes.

UNITED STATES financiers ask Mexico's permission to establish fourteen passenger airplane routes above Mexican territory.

It would be pleasant if some other United States financiers would establish a few passenger airplane routes here in the United States.

This country, where the flying machine was invented, is more backward in flying than any other first-class white nation. And compared with our brothers in Japan, we are nowhere.

ENGLISH PROCEDURE IS DIRECT

FORT LAUDERDALE SENTINEL

What is the fundamental reason why the operation of the law in England is admittedly so much more direct, speedy and effective than it is in this country? Perhaps the answer is in a comment made by Prof. Edson R. Sunderland of the law department of the University of Michigan, who is spending a year in England and is a distinguished authority on legal procedure. According to this comment, which is found in the Journal of the American Juridical Society, the English courts have discarded almost everything we regard as essential to the administration of justice. Says Prof. Sunderland:

"They do not return their summonses; they do not file, but only serve, their pleadings; they constantly interfere with the ingenious devices of counsel; they compel disclosure before trial with a ruthless disregard of the sacred principles of strategy; they have practically taken the impaneling of juries out of the hands of counsel; they pay no attention to technical rules of evidence; they expect counsel promptly and frankly to admit every fact they do not in good faith intend to controvert; they usually rely on the judge's notes in civil cases and dispense with a stenographer; opposing counsel accept each other's statements as true, and they have no writs of error, bills of exception or assignments of error. The chief clerk in the office where all appeals are handled, in thirty years had never heard of a bill of exceptions."

Faced with such restrictions and demands as these, a good many American lawyers would find their occupations gone, for there are lawyers who make themselves experts in trying cases, not on their merits, but on their own resourcefulness in employing the devices of a cumbersome, contorted and mucky procedure. This is especially true of a certain class of defense lawyers who make their practice a complex game, regarding themselves and opposing counsel, rather than the defendant, as the winners or losers.

DR. COOK TELLS HOW TO SUCCEED

KANSAS CITY STAR

Dr. Frederick A. Cook, convicted of swindling the public by selling worthless oil stock defends himself on the ground that everybody does it. The government officials who prosecuted him, he says, "merely were inexperienced in business."

Very likely the doctor believes what he says. Apparently he came to the conclusion many years ago that the way to success was through fraud. He acquired his first reputation by his story of the climbing of Mt. McKinley, which was later proved a fake. Then he put forward his claim to the discovery of the North Pole and was driven out of society. Now he applies the same methods to business and is sent to the penitentiary for fifteen years.

UNBEATABLE

ST. PETERSBURG TIMES

As an example of government foolishness the Tampa Tribune tells the following unbeatable bunk:

The steamship Canadian Winner arrived last week in Boston harbor with a cargo of imported small lumber, shingles, laths, etc., totaling 5,195,729 pieces. This ship is now tied to a Boston dock with its cargo still aboard, awaiting solution of an extraordinary question raised by the Boston customs collector on the strength of a decision lately handed down by the board of United States general appraisers in a similar case.

The board held that a recent consignment of lumber, including bunched shingles, coming into St. Albans, Vt., would have to be broken open and each piece marked with the country of origin as required by a section of the Foindey act prescribing such marks where no damage to the merchandise is entailed. Therefore, the Boston collector wants to know whether

An old heavy undershirt does make a beautiful spring sweater.

The only issue decided in most arguments is who can argue the best.

In the spring a young woman's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of salads.

Sometimes we think a spinster is one who used her sense instead of hiding it.

Flivvers look so much alike when one is stolen its owner has to identify it by sound.

A foolish man is one who is kept from being foolish by the fear of what others would say.

A mad last June bridegroom tells us that instead of assisting him she is always insisting him.

Love is something which makes one sorry that you did kiss her or sorry that you didn't kiss her.

And, one might add, in the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns away from thoughts of anything.

Wonder if we just think working girls more sensible because we never see them in evening dresses?

A bachelor tells us a married man is one who once got lonely and couldn't find anything to drink.

Spring arrived just in time. Practically all the long underwear was turning into bell-bottomed trousers.

One tells us a girl has to be entirely too much rouge if she doesn't want to appear conspicuous.

Picnics are dangerous. Opening sardines and pickle bottles may instill the desire to become a safe blower.
