

FORREST LAKE HOTEL LEASED BY MIDDLETON

Formal Opening Is Set For New Year's Eve With Legionnaires In Charge Of Program

Hostelry To Be Open Year Round

Experienced Hotel Men Will Have Supervision Of Local Place

Lease of the Hotel Forrest Lake to R. O. Middleton, prominent hotel man of Palm Beach and New York, was announced today by Edward Higgins, managing director of the Sanford Hotel Realty Co.

Under the terms of the lease, which is for a long period, the hotel will be operated the year round, a formal opening will take place on New Year's Eve with the Legionnaires in charge of the arrangements. The hotel with all of its facilities will be offered for the use of the Legionnaires and the affair is anticipated as one of the season's outstanding social events.

Another feature of the management's greetings of Sanford citizens will be the Christmas tree which will be given Friday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Every boy and girl in the city under the age of nine is cordially invited to attend.

The new lessee of the hotel has identified with this line of business for a number of years. He is the Wardman Park Hotel, Washington, D. C. and also holds leases on the Devon, Russell and Ilex hotels, all of New York City. The Bath and Tennis Club of Palm Beach, one of the most exclusive clubs of the winter colony, is frequented by many of the prominent personages of America, is also under the operation of Mr. Middleton.

R. Y. Middleton, brother to R. O. Middleton, has been named as manager of the local hostelry and is expected to assume his new duties. Like his brother he has been associated with the hotel business for many years.

J. A. Schlosser has been appointed manager, coming here from Palm Beach where last year he managed the Bath and Tennis Club under Mr. Middleton's supervision.

Schlosser formerly managed the Heckley-Cartwright Hotel in Asbury Park, N. J., and the Harding Hotel at Long Branch, both of which are large tourist hostels. He has managed the Pine Hill at Passapatan, Miss., for several seasons.

It is our purpose to serve the best of the city and to give them a hotel of efficient management. We intend to make the Hotel Forrest Lake an establishment where all forms of entertainment, dining room will also be available for dinners and banquets.

As far as is possible local help will be employed. Mr. Schlosser stated that several members of the staff have already been engaged and others are expected to be retained within the next few days.

The hostelry is undergoing thorough renovations preparatory to reopening, a score of workers are engaged in making the place ready for occupancy.

Plans To Give Yule Party For Children

Mercury Tumbles 43 This Afternoon

Sanford shivered today as King Winter arrived in full force. Chilling winds aided by rains, ranging from a drizzle to a downpour of several minutes duration, sent the mercury tumbling to 43 this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The approach of cold weather was announced by a sudden drop in the temperature on Sunday. Last night at 8 o'clock the thermometer reading was 50 and this morning at the same time it was 47. A gradual drop of the temperature is expected tonight with near freezing weather forecast.

Frost was predicted for the central section tonight. Reports received by The Herald by the International News Service indicate that the Southland is in the grip of a severe cold spell. Sleet and snow fell at Defiance, Sprague, this morning, the first time this has happened in 15 years. Similar reports came from towns nearby on the Gulf coast.

LIVING YULE TREE IS URGED FOR USE BY LOCAL PEOPLE

Sanford Garden Club Sponsors Move To Encourage Living Yule Trees As Best Way To Picture The Spirit Of Christmas

Living Christmas trees as the best means of typifying the Yule spirit are being urged by members of the Sanford Garden Club as part of a nation-wide movement, according to an announcement today by Mrs. Henry Wight, president of the local organization.

"All over America," said Mrs. Wight, "women clubs and kindred organizations are urging the use of living Christmas trees, either in the illumination of some evergreen tree already in the home grounds or in the planting of one to be used annually for this purpose."

Mrs. Wight cited examples of cities which have taken the lead in the movement, which is described as one of such importance, in a California town, Mrs. Wight said, there is a thoroughfare known far and wide as the "Street of Christmas Trees," where thousands of trees are planted in the long lines of gay lights. Jacksonville plans to have 25 lighted trees in the parks, the expense to be borne by the city government. In addition there will be hundreds of smaller trees in private gardens.

Speaking further upon the subject, Mrs. Wight said, "The custom is so beautiful, so practical and so eminently suited to Florida climate and conditions that it will surely soon prevail all over the state. Sanford, through the initiative of the Garden Club, is falling promptly into line, and its members are urged to light one in their gardens wherever this can be done. Strings of lights may be obtained from ten cent stores and from electrical firms of the city."

"Of native trees the myrtles and the cedar transplant well and take pruning into shape very kindly. The local nurseries will furnish the specimens of Arizona cypress and the various arbor vitae and junipers to order."

"A committee from the Garden Club composed of B. F. Whitner Jr., Roy Smykes and Henry Nickel have arranged for the planting of a very fine young evergreen in the square at the foot of Park Avenue, which Mayor E. F. Housholder will accept as the Christmas gift of the Garden Club to the city. After this tree has attained suitable growth it will be lighted annually for the holiday week."

"Arrangements have already been made for the lighting of a tree in Central Park at 6 o'clock on Christmas evening."

Hundreds Slain By Anti-Red Forces In Bloody Massacres

LONDON, Dec. 19.—(INS)—More than 700 men and women Communists and suspected Communists following the defeat of the red forces at Canton and the occupation of the city by Nationalist troops, according to a Central News dispatch from Hong Kong this afternoon. The telegram said that only five have been actually identified as Russians, the victims including Soviet vice-consul Harlas.

It is reported that, on the last day of communist occupation of Canton, the Reds, acting defiantly, began firing indiscriminately killing more than 2,000 Chinese. The angry Cantonese thereupon began a bloody campaign of revenge.

The Central News Correspondent reported that chaotic conditions still prevail at Canton, that the anti-Reds are still making their way through the city, and that thousands of Chinese, fearing further massacres, are in flight to Hong Kong.

HOLIDAY RUSH FINDS SANFORD STORES READY

Gaily Decorated Shop Windows Display Fine Assortment Of Christmas Goods For Local Buyers Of Dressing Fastes

Last Minute Shoppers Fill Business Houses

Several Establishments Stage Sales To Furnish Patrons Yule Goods At Low Prices

The Spirit of Christmas, which during the last two weeks has seemed to lag behind its usual time, hit Sanford today with the week-end rush of cool weather from the north and brought out the glittering Christmas decorations to make every store in the city festive for the final week of holiday shopping. Every merchant in Sanford expects a week of excellent business.

The annual rush of last-minute shoppers will find every store gaily decorated and brilliantly lighted tonight, when practically every store from the largest to the smallest will be open for evening shoppers. Ample holiday stocks will greet the gift seeker in every shop and in some pre-Christmas sales will lure on the bargain hunters.

At the head of Magnolia Avenue on First Street, the Postal Telegraph's new office attracts those who wish to greet friends in other places with a wide assortment of holiday greeting telegrams. Bright colored decorations and a lighted Christmas tree complete the window display.

Next door, the windows of Woodruff & Watson's store are packed with many gifts for men and paper dolls. Included in the gift display are ties, socks, pajamas, traveling bags and sweaters for men and hose and shoes for women. Crepe paper covered with jolly Santa Claus pictures form a background.

In the windows of the Sanford Drug Company is a fireplace of bright red brick in which a cheerful red Christmas fire is burning. The windows glitter with tinsel and red and green, the Christmas colors, and the gifts on display include kodaks, leather accessories for the smoker, candles in holiday boxes, stationery, stationery and decorations for the Christmas tree. Inside the store is festive with colored paper ropes centering on a huge Christmas bell.

The Yowell Company's windows are bright with ropes, tinsel and other holiday decorations. In the right window is a display of men's wear and in the center window are gift suggestions for the women. The left window is filled with lingerie, dresses, Spanish shawls, furs, hats, toilet articles, pocketbooks, hose and a host of other things including French dolls.

Inside the Persons Company store is decorated with bells and ropes with little trees at regular intervals along each side. The wreaths and tinsel. In the right hand window are men's accessories and in the left window are gifts for women.

Crepe paper, ribbons, wreaths and tinsel make Lloyd's Shoe Store attractive. The bargain hunters seeking shoes at the big sale which will continue until Christmas Eve. Many attractive slippers are displayed as possible gifts.

In the window at McKinnon-Markwood's are attractive Christmas posters and a large display of men's wear including slippers, ties, belts, pajamas, bathrobes, handkerchiefs, shirts and traveling bags. Many of the articles are displayed in gift boxes.

Houmilit and Anderson's Drug store is decorated with wreaths, bells and tinsel. In the window facing First Street is a big cardboard Santa Claus. On display are kodaks, thermos bottles and jugs, perfumes, candies, manicure and toilet sets, cocktail shakers, gifts for the smoker, stationery and Christmas cards and seals.

In the right window at Church-wells are men's suits, ties in gift boxes, gaily decorated handkerchiefs and men's shoes. In the center window is a Christmas tree covered with decorations and presents in neat packages grouped underneath. There are also numerous gift suggestions, dresses, bags, purses, gloves and hats. Both windows are bright with colored ropes and tinsel. The store is offering exceptional bargains at a big yuletide sale.

Big Santa Claus posters attract attention to B. L. Perkins' windows. On display are all sorts of gifts for men in Christmas boxes. There are also robes, dressing gowns, brightly striped galluses, belts, socks, gloves and slippers.

Guhmen Attempt To Shoot Editor

FLINT, Mich., Dec. 19.—(INS)—Two gunmen who attempted to assassinate J. R. Taylor, crime-fighting editor and general manager of the Flint Daily Journal, in his home last night, were caught today. The men escaped after firing one ineffective shot at Taylor when he opened his front door in response to a ring of the door bell. Flint was greatly disturbed at the attempted crime, which is similar to that in Canton, Ohio, where Don Mellett, newspaper editor was killed. Taylor has bitterly fought crime since he came to Flint seven years ago.

LINDBERGH SEES BULLFIGHT FROM PRESIDENT'S BOX

Arrangements Are Made For Mother's Reception On Her Arrival; Mrs. Lindbergh To Leave Today By Airplane

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 19.—(INS)—With the first flush of official honor to himself over, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, assisted by Mexican officials, today jet to work to receive fittingly his mother who awaits today on her air trip to be with her son for Christmas.

Mrs. Lindbergh is expected Wednesday or Thursday. Alberto Bravo, arriving in San Antonio, Texas, today, will represent the Mexican Department of Communications and will make arrangements for Mrs. Lindbergh's reception in Mexico. Her first stop in Mexican territory will be Tampico and there port officials will provide facilities for the final four-hour hop to the Mexican Capital.

Lindbergh retired last night after a day of considerable activity not the last of which was one of the best bull fights ever put on in a city where bull fights are irregular occurrences.

The young aviator attended the fight as the guest of President Calles and sat in the President's box near the barrier. The bull ring, which ordinarily holds 15,000 persons, was packed with an additional 3,000. And other thousands were unable to gain admittance. Streamers decorated the ring and bands played at intervals.

Six piled bulls fell before the swords of two toreros, each dedicated to the President and other prominent personages.

This bull fight was one of the regular Sunday afternoon fights earlier in the day. Lindbergh attended a special exhibition of bull-fighting, horsemanship, jassing, and other cowboy stunts. So his presents from individuals and societies in the United States, was two bull fights.

Condition Mrs. Mamie Tolar Reported Grave

The condition of Mrs. Mamie Tolar, one of Sanford's oldest and most beloved citizens, was pronounced very grave this afternoon following a serious illness of several days. Four were entertained that Mrs. Tolar might not be able to survive through the night.

Mrs. Tolar was stricken Friday afternoon with streptococcal infection which has spread rapidly causing the patient's condition to gradually grow worse. Her advanced years have also contributed to Mrs. Tolar's weakened condition. Members of the family have been summoned to the bedside.

MANY women abroad have entered business.

CRUEL MURDER OF YOUNG GIRL STIRS POLICE

Mutilated Body Of California Girl Returned By Kidnappers To Father, Who Paid Large Sum For Her Ransom

Note Threatening Girl's Sister Sent

Woman, Arrested Near Scene Of Crime, Is Held By Police As Accomplice In Murder

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—(INS)—Arrested near the spot where the mutilated body of Marion Parker was flung at her father by the girl's fiendish kidnapper, a woman was being grilled by police today in the belief that she may have been an accomplice in one of the most atrocious crimes in the history of a civilized city.

Four thousand police officers of Southern California today continued their search for the kidnapper and slayer of 12-year-old Marion Parker, whose mutilated torso Saturday night was returned to her father, Perry M. Parker, bank official upon payment of $1500 ransom.

Excitement, already at white heat, was intensified by the finding of a note threatening the life of Marion Parker, the slain girl's twin-sister. This note, police reported early today, had been placed by a man in a fire alarm box in Hollywood, and the alarm turned in. A heavy guard was immediately thrown around the Parker home.

All police officers in Los Angeles have been placed on 16-hour duty in the search for the slayer of the little girl.

A few hours after Perry M. Parker stepped to the road to take to his arms what he then believed was his living daughter, a stockinged woman screaming ran out of the house, two doors away.

"I didn't kill her! I didn't kill her!" the hysterical woman shouted. Holding the woman to be drunk, officers led her off to jail. Being suspicious of the house from which the woman fled, detectives entered to find five bloody heel marks on the floor. They were unmistakably a man's footmarks.

Following the red footprints the investigators were led into a bathroom and kitchen of the house. Here they found dried blood blotches on the floor. A batch of razor blades, apparently blood-caked, had been ditched in the corner of the living room.

Frightened by the intrusion, a man stepped hesitatingly out of a darkened room and met the officers with a blanched face. He falteringly explained that he lived in the house alone and that his "landlady" had gone away and he did not know where to find her.

The man was unable to explain the coincidence when he said the name of his landlady happened to be "Mrs. Parker." He gave his own name as William Long and when taken to police headquarters and confronted by a woman who had run out of the house, he said the suspect was his daughter.

The woman gave her name as Lillian Pudley and after being questioned behind closed doors, finally was placed in an isolated cell on suspicion of murder and manslaughter. The man who said he was her father was released after being subjected to a long grilling.

Heavy Seas Diminish Hope Of Saving Crew In Sunken Submarine

ADMIRAL STATES NAVAL DISASTER WAS ACCIDENTAL

After The Fate Of Imprisoned Men Is Definitely Established, The Navy Will Turn To Inquiry Of Catastrophe

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 19.—(INS)—Admiral Charles S. Hughes, chief of naval operations, announced that the Navy Department does not hold anyone to blame for the collision.

"If there was ever an accident, pure and simple, this was one," Hughes said, after a thorough study of detailed official information from Admiral Brumby. "Thus far, of course, we have not given thought to anything save the work of rescuing the men. We feel, however, from the information which has come to us during the work of rescue, that the accident was entirely unavoidable. We are not blaming the Coast Guard, nor the officers or crew of the Paulding."

After the fate of the imprisoned men is definitely established, the Navy will turn to an official inquiry of the disaster, Hughes said.

Another obstacle offered by the rough seas was revealed in a message to the Navy Department in which Admiral Brumby advised it would be impossible to use float-cranes to pull up the S-4 because of the heavy weather. The Merritt Chapman and Scott Co., of New York offered two floating cranes.

Shortly before noon today, the Navy made public the following dispatches of its most recent communications from Admiral Brumby about the Falcon.

"Continued blowing tanks salvaged during the rescue operation were found to be in a state of disrepair. This is an indication that at least one main ballast tank was water-tight."

The sea is entirely too rough for diving and getting worse. On account of the very serious condition of diver Michael the Falcon is proceeding to Boston to land him at the naval hospital, as it is impracticable to transfer him to her vessel. The Falcon will return to Provincetown immediately.

The Navy Department understands the Falcon left Provincetown about 6 o'clock this morning. Allowing for thorough seas, it may not be able to return until late this afternoon.

Five additional divers from the airplane carrier Lexington are en route from Boston to Provincetown on the Destroyer Sturdevant.

Georgian Officers Are Making Search For Axe-Murderers

SACULA, Ga., Dec. 19.—(INS)—State and county officers today were centering their efforts on the apprehension of a pair of axe-murderers who practically decapitated Jim Dennifield, 55, and his son, John, 19, and robbed them of $500 on their lonely farm near here.

The bodies of the two axe victims were found sprawled across the floor of their home by Joe Bowen, another farmer, late yesterday afternoon when he went to call on the two. He immediately notified county authorities, who launched an immediate investigation, joined by other law-enforcement agencies today. Tire marks from the bad-layers' car and bloody finger prints were the only clues left to identify them.

An inquest into the death of the two will be held at Lawrenceville today.

RESCUE EFFORTS TO BE RESUMED AS SEA SUBSIDES

An Attempt To Send Oxygen, Food And Fresh Water Will Be Made When Weather Permits; Members Still Live

PRONVINCETOWN, Mass., Dec. 19.—(INS)—Hope of saving the known six who are gasping their lives away in the cramped torpedo room of the sunken submarine S-4, a hundred feet below the surface of the pitching Atlantic, dwindled today when the hundreds of rescue workers, divers, engineers and scores of salvaging ships were laid idle by high seas and extremes cold.

Arrival of the huge air filled pontoons which were to be used in bringing the disabled craft to the surface had buoyed up spirits of the rescuers early in the day, but the workers were forced to surrender, as the day wore on, to the mountainous winter seas.

One diver whose heroism kept him in the frigid waters beyond the limit of human endurance, already has been taken to a hospital.

The best naval engineers in the government's service are assembled to perform, if possible another miracle of marine engineering. 40 men went down with the submarine and six are known to be alive, trapped in their steel tomb on the ocean's floor. Six have signalled pitiful pleas for their rescue. They are in a perilous position and their lives hang in the ingenuity of the experts above them.

Air is being pumped into the swamped S-4 which lies embedded in the ocean mud, with the hope of forcing it to the surface but his plan held only the vaguest hope of success, engineers had considered cutting away the torpedo room with its sealed air compartments and its six men with the idea of raising this one section and its human cargo.

But even this daring plan now lies without power of execution as winter gales lash the water into a heaving, pitching sea that even barrels and barrels of oil fail to temper.

Divers who are more than willing to risk their lives in the icy cold waters, their consciousness constantly menaced by the heavy pressure of the water at the submarine's depth, now stand helplessly by.

Without the aid of divers, the score of engineers and salvaging experts are helpless. "Sea entirely too rough for diving and is getting worse," Admiral Brumby reported. A chill northwesterly gale has swept down on the huddled rescue ship, buffeting the sea into froth waves many feet high.

Divers had earlier descended to the broken hull and reported tool-tappings from the six men trapped in the torpedo room. Other faint tool-tappings were heard in the aft section of the vessel but whether they were those of men or floating pieces of wreckage washing against the flooded interior the divers were unable to determine.

Edward Ellsberg, former Lieutenant Commander in the Navy, regarded as the country's foremost authority on submarines, today intimated that raising the entire vessel might be a matter of weeks. The ill-fated S-4 and the tragic and despairing efforts that preceded its final rescue from the clutches of mud and deep water pressure, were recalled as Ellsberg spoke.

The same problems as presented by the S-4 confront engineers here. But the S-4 held no survivors to tap their pleas for relief through the battered hull, no ghost-like messages to add to what almost seems a futile task.

PUMPS FORCE AIR INTO S-4 WHICH LIES EMBEDDED IN DEEP MUD

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Dec. 19.—(INS)—Hope of saving the known six who are gasping their lives away in the cramped torpedo room of the sunken submarine S-4, a hundred feet below the surface of the pitching Atlantic, dwindled today when the hundreds of rescue workers, divers, engineers and scores of salvaging ships were laid idle by high seas and extremes cold.

Track And Water Sports Set Many New Records In The Past Twelve Months

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service
Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Finland has barred Paavo Nurmi from competition in this country because it thinks it has reason to believe that Paavo and C. C. Pyle, the man who preys upon the pure and the innocent, were about to do a little business.

This information was imparted to the writer today by a prominent member of the Finnish-American A. C., who further stated that Nurmi had planned to come here this winter as part of a colossal racket that was to have included Walter the Swede, and the Herr Doktor, Otto Peltzer, of Germany. The Herr Doktor, it seems, had the gun in leaving from the other side on pretext or another, is here at and, with the others, deterring on this moment steadfastly holding a large and very vicious bag.

The climax of the visitation, according to my informant, was to have been a quadrangular race at one mile, featuring Peltzer, Walter, Nurmi and Lloyd Hahn, the latter developed in America since the salad days of John Paul Jones. The race, he said, was planned for one of the biggest amateur meets in the indoor season and he insisted that it may even happen yet.

Just how the promoters of the games hoped to get A. A. U. sanction for a race, in which two of the proposed starters are proscribed from running in America, was not made clear. The Herr Doktor was told in advance by Germany that he shouldn't come. He came. Paavo received the same word from Finland and he didn't. It would appear that the sad separation is almost legal.

Pyle's entrance into the situation is supposed to have occurred when he was seized with the bright idea of persuading Nurmi to turn professional and start in the great optimistic bunion sweepstakes from coast to coast. He might have persuaded Paavo to start, at that. It would have taken Demosthenes to make him finish.

Anyhow, Finland thought it saw a chance of its great man getting of the Olympic Games and it took away from it virtually on the eve of the only means in its power to assure his permanent residence in abode. It operated on him for his expense account and that generally is fatal to an amateur athlete.

Boxing Match Ends As Evident Winner Strikes Low Punch

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(INS)—Boxing fans today had another "fair or foul" controversy to argue about in the hot stove league this winter as a result of the unfortunate wind-up of the junior lightweight title bout here last night between Tod Morgan of Seattle, the champion, and Joe Glick of this city. Glick, who had floored the champion three times and battered him from pillar to post in the first seven rounds, was disqualified in the fourteenth and next to last round when he knocked Morgan down with a low left to the groin. Glick was leading on points when the fight ended. In the fifteen round semi-final Corporal Izzy Schwartz of New York won the decision over Newsboy Brown of Sioux City, Iowa, and will be recognized by the New York Commission as the flyweight champion of the world. If Schwartz meets and defeats the winner of the Ernie Jarvis-Frenchy Belanger scrap at Toronto Monday, he will also be recognized by the National Boxing Association as the successor to the title vacated by Fidel La Barba.

Service Football Relations Doomed Over Playing Rule

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (INS)—The annual Army-Navy football game, most colorful of all gridiron classics, has been put off, because the War and Navy Departments intervened. The threatened break in the traditional relations between the two service schools became a reality today with the announcement of Major General Fusco B. Winnie, superintendent of the United States Military Academy at West Point, that he had refused to assign to the Naval Academy the contingent of Army players for next year's game.

The break resulted from a difference in eligibility rules. The Navy insists that no athlete be allowed to participate in varsity team competition for more than three years, and holds that football players who have played with college teams should not be eligible for the Army club. Navy supporters point out that Harry Wilson, for example, was allowed to play in the fall term at West Point after starting at Penn State seven years ago.

General Winnie declared that West Point will refuse to entertain any young men of established athletic prowess, because a good physique constitutes an asset for any prospective officer.

Six Men Accused Of Transporting Girls Between 2 States

NORFOLK, Dec. 17. (INS)—Six men, accused of transporting young women from Virginia to North Carolina were held under bonds of $5,000 to $15,000 here today, pending several states, who have asserted that they describe as an extensive vice ring.

Additional charges in state and federal courts are expected to be filed against several of those held, it is said.

The federal agents declare a number of young girls were taken to a place known as "hermit's Palace," near South Mills, N. C., where it is charged "wild parties" were held, and several of the girls were brutally maltreated. Attacks on two girls under 15 were committed, the authorities assert, which may result in criminal assault complaints against two men.

A special federal grand jury may be summoned to investigate conditions at "Hermit's Palace" and several hunting lodges owned by wealthy persons, where it is said "parties" were held. The two girls who were attacked claim their clothing was torn off by men who took them to "Hermit's Palace."

Those held include Walter McCoy, Charles Small, Linwood Wilkins, and Alfred Wilkins, and two others whose names are withheld.

HERTZ, WHITNEY WIN HONORS OF RACING IN 1927

Breakneck Kentucky Derby Both Won By Whitney's Entries; Mrs. Hertz Horses In Money At Belmont, Pimlico

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (INS)—The boys were put as busy as usual improving the breed of horses during 1927 and, when the dust finally had settled, found the highlight event, the stakes operated by Mrs. J. D. Hertz and Harry Whitney had brought the match or home. Whitney won both the Preakness and the Kentucky Derby with Assault and Whirligig respectively, and even though neither of the colts were able to go on to the three-year-old championship, the performance of the two winners during the two stakes races of the year gave them a clear berth.

Mrs. Hertz's horse, Reign, owned by Arthur Pechon, came into general recognition as the best two-year-old of the year, the former being regarded as the better of the pair over a distance of ground. He finished second in the Belmont, but was completely out of the picture when he was challenged by Assault in the Kentucky Derby. Whirligig, owned by Harry Whitney, was completely out of the picture when he was challenged by Assault in the Kentucky Derby.

Among the three-year-old, Marshall Field's Nook was the outstanding filly and more than one was from the Godolphin. The filly among the latter was an open contest, with nothing really proved, the Belmont going to J. E. Widener's Osmund and the Whirligig to Cheney shot.

Cheney shot, owned by Mrs. W. Averill Harriman and Dispar of the W. B. Salmon stable, were the stand-out four-year-olds and the best handicap horse was Peppercorn, owned by I. L. Gery. The year was made notable by the failure of the two Man o' War horses, Transfer and Scapa Flow, the big winners in their divisions the preceding season.

MONDAY DEC. 19, 1927. BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY: PUBLIC PRAISE.—I will greatly praise the Lord with my mouth.

HEY SANTA PAL: Outside a cold and shiny window, That befronts a toyshop place, There's an interesting study, If you watch a little buddy.

Hold him there the liv-long day, Bolds wishing, kinda hoping, But it's in the dark he's groping, That's a little poor kid's way.

Queer, but they don't let him touch them; Stand and look—I guess that's all. None to give, nor none to loan them; Looks as though he'll never own them.

Comes the day of Christmas spirit, Cheer for all! Is that quite true? Well, it can be if we'll make it. Droughten up a heart—or break it. All depends on what we do.

Let's remember all these kiddies; Not forget that they are here. Make some poor tot glad he's living. You can do your share by giving. Be a Santa-Pal this year. —Exchange.

Dry Chief Is Shot In Legs—headline. So often that is the part which feels it first.

It won't be long before most of us will be making the mistake of still writing it 1927.

What has become of Sanford's aviation field and the prospects of Sanford as a great airport?

Florida will come back when the people of this state have forgotten that it has been anywhere.

Alabama man fell into a well and drowned the other day. That's one way of going to the bottom of things.

People will soon be saying, "Peace on earth, good will toward men," and wonder how many will actually live that way or not.

Lindbergh may not occupy a position with the state department, but he certainly is the greatest ambassador in the United States service.

Nathan Mayo says that cattle tick is costing this state more than ten million dollars annually. All this, while it is nevertheless possible to eradicate the tick.

Northern papers are already predicting horse racing in Florida this winter. That would be playing horse with the law.—Leesburg Commercial. And taking the courts for a ride.

Tampa banks are said to be in a wonderful condition. Deposits there now total more than sixteen million dollars in excess of what they were in the normal year of 1924.

We will watch with interest whether the scintillating brilliance of Colonel Charles Lindbergh's star of fate will flicker, and perhaps fade, as a result of his decision to attend a bullfight in Mexico despite some sixty odd protests of individuals and societies in this country who do not approve of this sort of entertainment.

We have no doubt that many well-meaning people, who have hitherto regarded Lindbergh with an eye of motherly admiration, not so much because he accomplishes what he attempts or because he appears to be the most thoroughly skilled aviator in the world, as for the fact that he does not smoke and is reputed to have refused alcoholic beverages of any kind while in Paris, will groan at what seems to them the crashing of their idol at the feet of a Mexican matador.

We too hold no brief for bull fights and regard it as the relic of a barbaric age. We hold to this opinion not so much because of the occasional mangling or death of the toreador, the destruction of dozens of bulls in an afternoon of entertainment, or the ripping to shreds of fine thoroughbred steeds, as for the stimulating effect such orgies have upon the hearts and intellect of the attendant mob, upon the peaceful pursuits of the adjacent populace, upon the progress of civilization in such a country.

However, it is not for an ambassador of good will immediately to institute reform. Unfortunately bullfighting happens to be the national sport of Mexico, just as baseball is the national sport of our country.

That America's foremost flier was similarly minded may easily be deduced from his reply to an International News Correspondent who asked him about the protests received. He said, "I think Mexicans are perfectly capable of choosing their own national sport." Certainly it was not for Lindbergh to choose it for them. As an ambassador of good will his mission would have been very promptly ended.

Still Skeptical

Miami Beach has a genius, a sort of composite inventor and aviator, like a combination of Thomas Edison and Charles Lindbergh. This man would put the deeds of Lindbergh to shame. That little hop to Paris, or Mexico City, would be child's play for Robert Condit who now proposes a flight to the planet Venus.

He is making elaborate preparations for the undertaking and has prepared a peculiar sort of contraption enclosed by a high board fence in which he contemplates making the fifty million mile journey. According to his own explanation, "The motive power for the machine to be used in this experiment through the atmosphere will be from an explosive derived from peroxide of sodium, used as a direct propeller."

"After proceeding through the earth's atmosphere, estimated at between thirty-five and forty miles, my motive power will be a network of units capable of being polarized with the attraction of other planets and orbits of meteor streams other than the earth. Beyond the earth's atmosphere, the maximum speed will be about 3,600 miles per minute."

No doubt when Orville and Wilbur Wright used to talk about flying in any sort of fashion, or when Stephenson predicted cars drawn by engines instead of horses, or when Fulton said he could make a boat go without sails or sails, people thought they were crazy. Certain it is, at least, that these inventors had great difficulty selling stock in their ideas.

People nowadays will hate to be placed in the class of those skeptics who could not "see" steamboats, but when a man says he can fly 3,600 miles a minute and keep it up for fifty million miles we are inclined to believe, to say the least, that he is given to an inordinate use of hyperbole.

SLAUGHTER OF CHILDREN STRESSES NEED OF PLAYGROUNDS

According to official figures 400 children were killed and 13,000 were injured in New York City streets last year. Most of the accidents occurred after school hours, from three to five o'clock in the afternoon, and most of the victims were in play.

As a result of this appalling quota of juvenile accidents and deaths, most of them undoubtedly preventable, an additional sum of $500,000 in the proposed new city budget of New York for "children's playgrounds" has been announced. An expert estimate shows that the cost of operating playgrounds under trained supervision is less than $1.00 annually per child, whereas when a child is hurt in a street accident it costs the city $37.33 as calculated from 140 deaths of Bellevue Hospital.

More than 1,000,000 New York children last year had to depend upon playgrounds for their vacation pleasure. The city and private organizations spent not more than $1,000,000 on these playgrounds and the recreation provided covered a period of two months. In the past many of the city's playgrounds had to remain idle because no funds were available to operate them properly. In this year's budget the Board of Estimate proposes the setting apart of $500,000 for keeping school playgrounds open throughout the year and for acquiring playgrounds for some of the older schools that never had them. The appropriation is particularly defended by representatives of civic bodies who urge that such will lessen the loss of life and will result in fewer injuries.

BRADENTON HERALD ROMANTIC REPORTERS

"Hello, is this the reporter?" "This is one of the reporters." "Well I want the reporter who writes the articles for the paper." "This is one of the reporters who writes news for the paper." Happy Turkish Ladies, Eyes Trained Two Ways, The Safest Workshon, China Says "No Thanks," By Arthur Brisbane

MISS GRACE Shannon, of the Y. W. C. A., telling about Turkish women who are freed from compulsory religious education, can get divorces, instead of the bowstring in martial sables, and know how to quote the Koran against their husbands.

ONE Mohammed lady, in Montenegro's Persian Letters, went farther. She invented a paradise for Mohammedan ladies, no husbands admitted, with handsome young masculine angels always at hand to entertain the lady guests from the earth.

Modern women would be interested in these letters which created a furore in France, 200 years ago. They may be out of print, in English, but librarians would have them. The complete revenge of the harem's chief lady, who poisoned the head council, would gratify feminists.

DR. William J. Mayo, one of the famous brothers, says science learns more about diseases from the microscope than in any other way. "Man's brain is a 'visual organ' and must see, to know. The introduction of the microscope, by the late 17th century, in the microscope, has done more to advance learning than any other agent, says Dr. Mayo.

Real learning owes more to Galileo's introduction of the telescope, at the beginning of the seventeenth century, than to the microscope. Seeing the germs that cause disease is important, but less so than seeing distant suns and nebulae, perhaps, as the great German scientist Haeckel suggested. "The eye of the future will see the germs of the future."

LUCY the man whose tools, implements, and machinery, all in his apartment, are inside a safe, says that the man who plays the mandolin, is put to rest by the injury of the finger. He thought after he became deaf, could write a great music and conduct the orchestra, watching the bow of the first violin. When deafening applause stopped the playing he found himself, facing the audience in surprise. He had not heard a sound. Milton, blind, could work as well as ever, dictating to his daughter.

RUSSIA offers China the blessing of her belief, communism. "China should be a socialist state," says a Russian, "and a request to leave China. Everything in Chinese tradition and character is opposed to the socialist idea. A few young Chinese students, taking medical studies, do not counteract the influence of old Confucius. He was a bolshevik."

INTELLIGENT Tex Rickard says Jack Dempsey will fight Finney again next summer. Certainly, and each of the many following summers until death then do part, if the crop of $10 a seat simpletons last.

A cruel government plans to tax each $10 sent $10 but that can be made up by speculative prices, Rickard's good fortune is due partly to the fact that men call enough to enjoy prize fights, are too dull to know when they are being "faked."

IT IS believed in the west, that the tri-state Colorado river commission, representing California, Arizona and Nevada, will reach an agreement to start work on the Boulder dam project. Whatever help one state helps the whole country, Arizona will gain by allowing California to use water and power, now going to waste.

What the country needs is more population to utilize new irrigated lands and consume the country's products, making it independent of foreign markets. The nonsense of immigration laws is a bar to progress. What do those opposed to immigration think would be our condition now had immigration been checked 50 years ago.

months to their mansion. Now read that back to me." "I just look down notes. I didn't take it verbatim." "I didn't want it verbatim. I wanted you to take it the way I read it. That's the way I want it in the paper." "I'll put it in with all the facts correct." "That ain't the idea. I want it put in the way I gave it to you, if I have to pay for it. How much will I have to pay to get it put in the way I gave it to you?" "You'll have to talk to the advertising department about that." "Well, I'll take it to the other paper. I never was so insulted in my life." —Wichita Beacon.

Introduction of the new Ford automobile to the world was preceded by the most extensive advertising campaign ever conducted for a commercial purpose. Millions were spent to advertise the new car before it was unveiled to the public gaze. This country, especially, was literally flooded with advertising.

This in itself may not seem surprising to many, in view of the millions the Ford Motor company is spending in developing its new product and converting its factories for its production on a large scale. It might also be pointed out that an extraordinarily extensive advertising campaign was deemed necessary because the Ford car had been off the market for months.

But it is significant that his unprecedented advertising campaign was conducted chiefly through local newspapers in every city and town in forty-eight states. For

Christmas Programs Presented Friday At Lake Monroe School

A most interesting as well as successful Christmas program was presented at the Lake Monroe school, Friday afternoon before a house filled with citizens of the community.

After the exercises in the auditorium, the teachers and children returned to their respective rooms where presents were distributed from beautiful Christmas trees, the Yule-tide being in evidence throughout the school in many and various decorations of the season. Doors were thrown open to friends and patrons who passed to the class rooms and entered into the happy spirit of the occasion with the children and teachers.

The program in full was as follows:

Opening chorus, "Jingle Bells." First, Second and Third grades. "Welcome," Annie Austin.

Song, "Christmas Is Here." Primary grades.

Recitation, "A Christmas Wish." Arthur Bell.

Recitation, "A Letter to Santa," Herbert Priestley, Billie Holloway, Alfred Driggers, Dickert Richardson and Owen Coop.

Song, "Jolly Santa Claus," third grade girls.

Recitation, "Harry's Christmas," Susie Dunn.

Playlet, "Christmas Symbols," fifth grade.

Song, "Goody Land," fourth grade.

Recitation, "I See Gwine Tell O' Santa," Madeline Foltz.

Recitation, "Johnny's Christmas," E. Holloway, James Boston, Clarence Hittell, Haglund Soderblom and Willard Carson.

Song, "Things in the Baby's Stocking," Lenore Rabun.

Recitation, "Proved at Last," Charles Nettles.

Recitation, "Useful Things," Carl McKenny, Y. Richardson, J. C. Edwards.

Song "First Christmas," sixth grade.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH MONDAY 7:30

The men of the Church are meeting Monday to set up the scenery for the Christmas Pageant to be presented next Sunday evening.

This scenery has been painted by Mr. A. J. Miller and represents the interior of the Bethlehem Stable with the Holy Family and the live stock. Through an open doorway one sees the city of Bethlehem just as the sun is dispelling the darkness. While through a window one glimpses a pair of camels.

TUESDAY

Tuesday afternoon the Children meet a rehearsal for the Christmas party to be held at the church Monday, December 20. It is expected that Santa Claus himself will attend this party and the children are looking forward to meeting the genial old gentleman and hearing from him kindly words of counsel for another year.

FRIDAY

On Friday at 3 o'clock there will be a rehearsal of the Children for the Christmas Party.

PARTY AT COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. James Allen Pittman entertained informally yet most delightfully Friday at a family luncheon at the Sanford Country Club honoring her father, Joseph Garretson of Orlando whose birthday anniversary it was. The luncheon table dainty with its appointments emphasizing the Christmas colors of red and green. The central decoration was a bowl of red roses and poinsettias, with tall red tapers burning in crystal holders at either side. At one o'clock a tasty four course luncheon was served.

At The Milene Today And Tomorrow

"7th Heaven" has been brought to the screen and will be shown for the first time in Sanford at the Milene Theatre. Monday and Tuesday.

This picture, based on the play by Austin Strong, is said by all critics to be one of the finest productions of any type ever screened. Taken from every angle it is perfect, and more than that it has lost none of the appeal or beauty of the original play.

The atmosphere of the Paris Montmartre, where the plot of the story is laid, is accurately carried out in the settings and the photographic effects. The story follows the play itself, but bringing into the actual view those things that could only be talked about in the play, thereby heightening the interest and adding greatly to the entertaining value of the picture.

The characterizations of the players are said to be inspired, particularly that of Janet Gaynor, who appears as the winsome, "Diane," and Charles Farrell, who is the handsome, egotistical, generous and thoroughly lovable "Chic."

"7th Heaven" is the story of two of the lowest types of Parisians, a worker in the sewers of Paris and a waif of the Paris streets. But because of the glorious doctrine of courage which it preaches the marvelous things it does to both of their characters it has been called one of the greatest and one of the most beautiful love stories ever written. The play created a sensation when produced for a record run on Broadway, and the picture is surpassing the reputation established by the play.

Besides the two principals the cast includes Ben Bard, David Butler, Albert Gran, Gladys Brockwell, George Stone, Emile Chautard, Marie Mosquini and Brandon Hurst.

Frank Borzage directed the production.

Movie Actors To Confront New Type Of Light Which Will Cause Tanned Faces

HOLLYWOOD, Cal. Dec. 19.—Will midwinter tan become the trademark of the successful picture player?

This has become a subject much discussed in film circles since leading producers are discarding the time-honored "arcs" and are using incandescent globes for studio lighting.

These large incandescents closely approach sunlight in the warmth and penetration of their rays, whereas the old "Kleigs" emitted a cold light.

And film observers predict that as a deeply tanned society leader who stalks through the Ritz at New York in midwinter holds the focus of all eyes, so will the bronzed actor prove the degree of his place in the Hollywood dramatic hierarchy.

Samuel Goldwyn has issued a challenge to his two stars, Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky, to guard themselves against over-tan. Consequently the obedient Vilma, in the midst of filming "Leatherface," which may not be appropriately titled, has been obliged to take last summer's sunburn lotion down from the shelf and install it in a revived place of importance.

Thelma Todd, who set out from Lawrence, Mass., for Boston to become a school teacher, has landed in Hollywood via the beauty contest route. Acclaimed as "Miss Massachusetts" in 1925, she has been cast for an important role in "Hell's Angels," now being produced by the Caddo Company for United Artists release.

Now the American policeman is to be glorified in the films. The blue coated, white-gloved fellow will provide the heroism for "The Metro" screen epic of the Metro-Goldwyn picture which Hector Turner will produce as a Pathe-DeLuxe special.

Edward H. Griffith has gone to Yale University to pick out locations for "Hold 'Em Yale," in which he will direct Rod La Rocque.

Helen Costello and Robert Frazer are co-starring in "Burning Up

Broadway," now in production at the Sterling studio and in which the wild night life of gay Gotham is reeled off for the edification of Cinema customers.

31—Political Announcement
 IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE TWENTY-THIRD JUDICIAL CIRCUIT OF THE STATE OF FLORIDA, IN AND FOR SEMINOLE COUNTY.
 G. W. DEETCH and G. W. SPENCER, Petitioners, vs. THE BOWWELL REALTY COMPANY, INC., Respondent.
 It being made to appear to this Court that summons directed to the sheriff of Seminole County, Florida, has been returned thereon and that the said summons cannot be served because of the fact that THE BOWWELL REALTY COMPANY is a foreign corporation, organized and existing under the laws of the State of Connecticut, and its principal place of business is at 208 Hospital Trust Building, Providence, Rhode Island, and that you have heretofore been doing business in this State and the other States of the United States, and that you have failed to appoint agents, and have failed to have within this State an office or agent upon whom process can be served and it being further made to appear to this Court that this case is in a suit in attachment against the assets and chattels, lands and tenements of the said THE BOWWELL REALTY COMPANY, a corporation, therefore, these petitioners are, in compliance with THE BOWWELL REALTY COMPANY, a corporation, to be and appear before this Honorable Court on the 2nd day of January, A. D. 1928, otherwise a judgment of default will be entered against you. WITNESS the Honorable Judge of the Circuit Court of the Twenty-third Judicial Circuit of the State of Florida, in and for Seminole County, on this 19th day of December, 1927. G. W. DEETCH, Plaintiff

32—Political Announcement
 AUSTIN, TEXAS, Dec. 19.—(INS)—Discovery by Dr. H. J. Muller, professor of zoology in the University of Texas, that the action of X-ray on the genetic fruit flies speeds up the evolution process of the flies has attracted the attention of scientists throughout the country and has brought forth the prediction that science, in the form of the X-Ray, may revolutionize the breeding of farm animals within a few years.

33—Political Announcement
 This remarkable accomplishment in speeding up evolution in plant and animal life is termed the result of one of the most sensational researches and tests ever conducted in biology. Leo J. Brosemer of Chicago, nationally known authority on scientific live stock breeding and formerly junior animal husbandman in the United States Department of Agriculture, believes that breeders of race horses, cattle, hogs, poultry and dogs should be particularly interested in this discovery.

34—Political Announcement
 Breeders Interested
 It may enable them to breed greater speed in race horses, greater milk production in dairy cows, bigger hogs, super hens and more nifty conformation in dogs. The difficulty up to this time, according to Brosemer, has been to find the desired variations.

35—Political Announcement
 "Until Dr. Muller, with his fruit flies, conducted his X-Ray experiments there did not exist any possibility of solving the great problem of forcing nature to perform more rapidly. In his experiments Dr. Muller exposed the gene creators, who propagate rapidly, to the X-Ray and allowed them to breed. The new generation hatched from their eggs was less numerous than might have been expected. Breeding the first generation's offspring, a second generation was produced in which Dr. Muller began to see results in the matter of surprising development of latent heredity particles or genes.

36—Political Announcement
 After producing at least 100 distinct gene mutations, Dr. Muller found that through the X-Ray the present evolution process was speeded up more than 1500 per cent.
