Lutheran Editors Oppose Al Smith

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 6.—(INS)—Lutheran editors claiming to represent 2,000,000 people in the U. S. today went on record as opposed to the candidacy of Gov. Al Smith, Democratic presidential nominee, on the ground that his religion (Roman Catholic) and its teachings and principles are antagonistic to and irreconcilable with the fundamental principles set forth in the Constitution of our country concerning the separation of the church and state. The resolution of the Lutheran editors' association was adopted after being presented by Dr. C. R. Tappert, D. D., of Philadelphia, to a special press committee named by the board of directors of the National Lutheran Editors' Association.

HOSPITAL OWNER INSPECTS LOCAL SITE FOR BRANCH

Dr. Harvey Kellogg of Battle Creek, Mich., who has been in Florida for a fortnight making a survey of various cities with a view to locating a branch of his institution in one of them, paid a short visit to Sanford yesterday afternoon. While here, Dr. Kellogg was in conference with several business and professional men and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce. No statement was given out by him and none could be obtained from those with whom he talked, but it was learned that the institution, head and was shown through the Hotel Forrest Lake, which has been suggested on several occasions as a possible site for Dr. Kellogg's newest enterprise. No information was gained as to what the doctor's impressions were of the hotel or what his reaction was to a proposition that was supposed to have been submitted in connection with its acquisition. It is understood that his mission here, however, was merely to inspect the proposed site and receive an offer. Definite selection of a place for the institution is expected to be made for two or three months.

Some idea of Dr. Kellogg's enthusiasm for Florida is obtained in an interview in Tampa, where he was quoted by the Tribune as follows: "Florida has a monopoly of the sunshine which the entire United States, east of the Mississippi River, is starving for. More and more I am impressed with the fact that it makes very little difference where the institution is located, so long as it is in Florida." "People in the north are just beginning to awaken to the necessity of sunshine. They are spending more and more of their money in Florida." (Continued on page 4.)

HOOVER RALLY PLANNED

ELIZABETHTON, TENN., Sept. 6.—(INS)—A tremendous rally is being planned for Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential candidate, on his arrival here Oct. 1, to open his Southern campaign. Plans are being made to make the occasion an Appalachian rally.

Of New York Wholesale Firms Restored In Florida, Speers Report

Large tourist migration this season, Vivian Speer declared that Florida's winter visitors are already beginning their annual trek, judging from the steady stream of southbound cars which were seen on the highways. Due to the decrease in demand, the prices of ready-to-wear goods were reported to have undergone slight reductions. The Speers made the trip by automobile and reported the roads to be in excellent condition except for several places in South Carolina and Georgia, where recent washouts have resulted in rutting traffic over poorly conditioned roads. On the trip to Gotham, Vivian Speer joined his father in North Carolina and the two motored from there to the Shenandoah Valley route. On the return journey they covered the distance to Sanford in three days and a half.

LYLE WOMACK SEEKS DIVORCE FROM SPOUSE

Ruth Elder's Husband
Files His Action In Canal Zone Court In Seeking His Freedom

Alleges Cruelty In Declaration

Famed Aviatrix Seems
Indignant On Being Informed Of Action

BALBOA, PANAMA CANAL ZONE, Sept. 6.—(INS)—Alleging cruelty because she regarded her home since becoming famous as an aviatrix and moving picture actress, Lyle Womack filed suit for divorce against Ruth Elder today.

Control for Womack appeared in the Canal Court at 11:30 o'clock this morning with the signed papers which were filed with the clerk. The couple were married in 1925.

This was the second divorce experience of Miss Elder. She was married the first time more than six years ago but the union did not last long, being dissolved in the divorce court. It was Womack's first marriage.

When Miss Elder went to New York to attempt her trans-Atlantic flight last year she denied she was married, but later admitted that she had a husband employed in the Panama Canal Zone.

When she returned to the United States, Womack went to New York to meet her but received scant attention. He wanted her to return to his home, but instead she elected to go into the movies. Womack has been living here with his parents.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 6.—(INS)—Indicating that she would file a counter suit, Ruth Elder, trans-Atlantic aviatrix, today expressed surprise that her estranged husband, Lyle Womack, had sued her for divorce.

"If he intended to do such a thing," she complained indignantly, "I think he might have told me of it." "He knows I am here to earn money for the family and I think he would take that into consideration," Miss Elder, who has just completed her first motion picture here, declared.

Heavy Rains Have Injured Crops In East, Says Meisch

Farmers in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York, particularly those engaged in producing truck crops, are suffering a great deal from torrential rains that have flooded the fields, according to County Commissioner John Meisch, who has just returned from a 10-day business and pleasure trip in the East. While away Mr. Meisch visited relatives in New Jersey and New York.

Business conditions up and down the Atlantic seaboard have been rather slow but are beginning to "pick up" some now, Mr. Meisch reported. The approaching presidential election has had its effect in retarding activities in both business and industrial lines, he said.

The County Commissioner found the weather hotter than in Sanford. He reported numerous heat prostrations in the congested centers and said rains afforded only temporary relief.

Mr. Meisch returned home Sunday night in order to be present for the regular meeting Tuesday of the County Board. He made the trip by train.

Seven Cases Are On Police Court Docket

Seven cases, four for drunkenness, were on the Municipal Court docket Wednesday morning. A charge of assault was lodged against James Marshall but the case was continued until Sept. 7. Ross Thomas was turned over to county authorities to face charges of grand larceny.

81 Per Cent Of State And County Taxes Collected; Railroads Hold Up $32,000

Tax Collector J. D. Jhkins, Makes Report;
School Board Announces Appointment Of Two New Principals

Eighty-one per cent of the county and state taxes have been collected by Tax Collector John D. Jhkins, according to reports submitted Tuesday to the County Commissioners and yesterday to the School Board. Completion of the exact amount of collected taxes could not be obtained from the complicated report, but it is estimated at approximately $600,000. Mr. Jhkins was not in his office this afternoon for a verification of this figure.

The total amount of taxes, which were to have been collected under the 1927-28 assessment roll was $749,291.44. Eighty-one per cent of this sum is $606,925.05. The report also disclosed that $22,048.51 owed by railroads has not been paid because of a conflict over valuations put on rail, stock and equipment.

JURY CONTINUES PROBE OF RACKET IN PHILADELPHIA

Proprietor Of Military Sales
Company Faces Indictment
For Selling Guns And Armor To Quaker City Thugs

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6.—(INS)—Edward S. Goldberg, proprietor of the Military Sales Company, believed to have been the man who supplied Philadelphia gangsters with machine guns and bullet proof vests, today faced arraignment before Magistrate E. J. Pennock on perjury charges as a result of the latest development in the inquiry into the underworld here.

Goldberg was arrested late yesterday following his appearance before the grand jury investigating the rum racket. He was released under $30,000 bail for the hearing. District Attorney John Monaghan said he would ask that Goldberg be indicted.

Roots of the Military Sales were traced yesterday by police, and according to Monaghan, they revealed that hundreds of machine guns, sawed-off shotguns and a number of bullet proof vests have been sold by the company to Philadelphia gangsters.

Max Boer, the "king" of the bootleggers by Monaghan, is alleged to have purchased the weapons and armor from Goldberg. Records of telegrams addressed to Hoff were found among the papers seized by police in Goldberg's establishment, Monaghan said.

Monaghan charged Hoff paid Goldberg for machine guns and bullet proof vests after the slaying of John Bremer and the wounding of Mickey Duffy here a year ago. The indicted state they indicated that Frank Dugally, and Peter Ford, the men for whom he is alleged to have bought the guns and vests, will be called before the grand jury. They are now serving terms in Western Penitentiary.

Local Gas Concern Begins Laying Of DeLand Pipe Line

Following the arrival of several carloads of pipe, workmen of the Sanford Gas Company this morning began the laying of a gas line to DeLand, according to an announcement by R. E. Scott, manager of the local utility concern, which recently obtained a franchise to operate in the Volusia county seat.

Work of putting down the gas line is expected to be pushed rapidly now with the assistance of steam equipment of pipe, Mr. Scott said.

The manager also announced that two cases of machinery for installation in the local plant have also arrived and the equipment is now being unloaded. At the same time alterations and repairs on the gas plant are being speeded up in order that installation of the new machinery may follow as soon as possible.

Mr. Scott said he expected no further delay in the company's extensive expansion program, which he announced some time ago, and which is scheduled to be completed by the first of next year.

CHURCH HEADS SEEK FUNDS TO PAY SALARIES

Nation Wide Search Is Being Conducted For Absconding Official

Huge Trust Fund Has Been Stolen

Suit Brought Against Guarantee Company
To Gain Lost Funds

ATLANTA, Sept. 6.—(INS)—While a nationwide search was under way for Clinton S. Carnes, Baptist Church treasurer who was believed to have absconded with $1,000,000, officials of the church today sought funds which he had paid the salaries of missionaries and workers.

Carnes was treasurer of the home mission board for nine years, and his juggling of the millions that passed through his hands has jeopardized the resources of the board. Even a huge trust fund set aside for emergencies has been dissipated, it was reported.

The exact shortage in Carnes' accounts will not be known for some time. The auditors found the books in chaotic condition, and each day sheds new light on the criminal methods of Carnes who was revealed to astounded churchgoers as an ex-convent a few days after he disappeared Aug. 15.

The vanished church treasurer, who served two prison terms for fraudulent use of mails, was found to have dealt with more than 150 banks in the South, borrowing money on his notes as treasurer, and often failing to record the transactions on his books.

A drastic reduction in all operations of the home mission board was ordered today to conserve the remaining funds. Meanwhile, churches were asked to rush their pro-rate share of funds so that missionaries and other workers can be paid their salaries.

Church officials also have taken action to recover the money lost as the result of Carnes' speculations. Suit was brought against the United States Fidelity & Guarantee Company, of Baltimore, and Joel Hunter & Co., accountants, for failure to protect the home mission board.

The Fidelity & Guarantee Company bonded Carnes for $20,000 and the suit charges this company failed to discover that Carnes was an ex-convict. Joel Hunter & Company employed Carnes before he went to the home mission board and recommended him highly.

San Carnes, the missing money, was also explained from disposing of any of his father's assets. The younger Carnes previously (Continued on page three)

RULE COMMITTEE EXPLAINS CHANGE INGRIDIRON PLAY

Doubt Concerning Interpretation
Of Several Football
Rules Has Been Cleared Up
By Explanation Of Coaches

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—(INS)—Doubt concerning interpretation of several football rules have been cleared up today following the publication of questions, submitted by coaches and officials and answers by the American Collegiate Football Rules Committee. The questions were discussed and answers were prepared at a secret meeting of the committee in Montclair, N. J. on Aug. 24 and 25. The members of the committee are E. K. Hall, member-at-large; W. A. Langford, secretary-at-large; T. A. D. Jones, New England states; W. W. Roper, Middle Atlantic states; H. Stegman, Southeastern states; A. A. Hager, Middle Western states; D. X. Bibb, Southwestern states; H. W. Hughes, Mountain states; and G. M. Varnell, Pacific Coast states.

Five of the 13 questions answered concerned rules regarding the shift. The most important of these five according to the answer published, puts a penalty of 15 yards on any lineman breaking into the neutral zone less than one second after a huddle and before the ball is put into play. The committee's decision says that the offending lineman breaks two rules, one against offensive play and the other calling for a full stop of at least one second after a huddle or shift.

The 15 yard penalty for an illegal shift, the greatest of the two, is therefore imposed on the offending lineman's team.

The committee ruled also that any player eligible for taking forward passes cannot return to the end zone to grab a forward pass once he has passed the end line.

A wealth of backfield material was on hand including Lester Fischer, Arthur and Tip Parker, Patrick, Jim Higgins, Crawford, Pender, Kibler, Harkin, Law, James and Lunsby. Parker was a newcomer and is expected to add considerable strength to the team. Tomorrow, one of the star backs of last year's team, was not out for practice.

Line candidates included Captain Blackfield and Yancy, guard.

HOOVER PLANS FOR SPEECH IN BORDER STATE

Republican Nominee
To Deliver Talk In Tennessee In Effort
To Rent Solid South

Fight In Dixie To Be Pushed Hard

Presidential Aspirant
Believes His Chance
In Kentucky Is Good

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—(INS)—The greatest Republican effort since the Civil War to smash down the Democratic barriers of the Solid South will be launched with Herbert Hoover's speech at Elizabethton, Tenn., on Oct. 6 it was indicated today.

Although Hoover has declared that the fight to capture Southern states must be conducted under local leadership, the Republican National Committee will lend every effort and encouragement to the local organizations in the hope of returning Hoover victories below the Mason-Dixon line. The fight in the South, the Hoover leaders felt, also will augment the favorable chances for Republican victories in the border states of Maryland, Kentucky, Missouri and Oklahoma.

Hoover personally discussed the Southern situation, with J. Hill Taylor, Republican leader of Tennessee, and Senator Fred M. Smith, of Kentucky. They seemed to him that the Republican Party has excellent chances of carrying Tennessee, a doubtful state in presidential years, and was certain to carry Kentucky, one of the border line states that goes Republican but seldom.

The Hoover leaders also were watching the Texas situation. They were cheered considerably by the statement of Mrs. J. C. Griswold, Republican National Committee woman from Texas, that Hoover has a good chance to carry the Lone Star State.

Mrs. Griswold told of the organization of women's Hoover clubs all over Texas. Most of the members, she said, were housewives, women who refused to support Governor Alfred E. Smith and who had pledged themselves to vote for Hoover. She declared the intensity of the Hoover sentiment that has swept over Texas has forced the local Democratic leaders to call on Senator Joseph T. Robinson, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, in an effort to save the state for Smith. Robinson has just completed a speech-making tour in Texas.

The Republican National Committee meanwhile decided to send speakers into all Southern states, where the local leaders ask for material help. Senators and representatives from border states, with standing in the South, prominent Southern Republicans and Democrats who have come out for Hoover are being sent out for (Continued on page three)

ATHLETICS CREEP UP HALF GAME ON NEW YORK YANKS

Hugmen Lead May Be Further Cut Into Today When Team Meets Senators Who Have Proved Tough Opposition

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The Philadelphia Athletics, clinging tenaciously to the tail of the Yankees, recovered a half a game by beating the Senators 9 to 2 and are only two games behind.

This lead may be further decreased today when the Yanks meet Washington at the stadium. The Hugmen have shown no adeptness at beating the Senators in recent weeks. Waite Hoyt will probably face Sam Jones in the opener.

The National League race grew a bit more complicated when the Cubs beat the Pirates to climb four percentage points and share the runner-up position with the Giants. Four and a half games behind the Cards. The position of the Cubs is not as sound as that of the New Yorkers, however, because the Chicagoans have lost three more games than the Giants. These games cannot be made up if they are gone—but the Giants still have those golden chances to tighten up on the Cards and the pennant. Cy Williams did the Cards a big favor when he slammed his homer into the great beyond to score Swat Klein ahead of him and win the late season of the Giants double header for the trailing Phillies 8 to 7. After the clan McGraw had romped home to an easy 9 to 4 victory in the opener.

With the Cards idle it was a fine chance to cut a whole game from the margin separating them from the leaders. Today the New Yorkers get another try at the Phils and a victory will reduce the Cards' lead to four games since the Westerners are idle.

The Cubs and Pirates mixed things at the Corsair camp in a nip and tuck affair in which the Cubs repeatedly took the lead only to have the Pirates knock it up again. They entered the last frame with the score of 8 and 4 and it remained for Hargreaves to toss off the game with a wild heavy while attempting a double play. This led in the winning tally and this in turn let the Cubs into second place. Dazzy Vance, Jess Petty, Flowers, Herman and Bissonette, compiled a double win over the Braves at Boston. Flowers' homer in the 10th won the first game for Dazzy 3 to 2, and Del Bissonette and Babe Herman registered two more homers for three runs in the third inning of the night cap to put the Robins out ahead and start them in a rare that ended 9 to 2. Uncle Robbie's boys wasted but one hit in the late season.

Taking both ends of their baseball bat with the Tigers by the same score 3 to 2 the White Sox Ted Lyons won the first over Car made it a row from the Detroiters, rol and Van Gilder after 11 innings and Faber turned in the late game with Holloway on the firing line for the losing team. Lyons had pitched shutout ball for eight innings but he was touched for two tallies in the ninth to knot up the score and it was left for Bill Hunsfield to spank a single off Johnny Nuen's glove with the bases clogged and one out in the 11th to bring the game home. The late game was won in the last of Swanson sacrificed and both were safe on McManus' boot. Falk, pinch hitting, was passed and again Hunsfield delivered. This time a long sacrifice that scored Kamm and gave the Sox their second win.

Willie Hudlin was the victim when the Browns downed the Indians 9 to 6, in the final road game of the season for the Cleveland team. Alvin Crowder, out for the showers in the third and south his 17th victory, was driven to paw Willie went in to hold the Indians.

WOODLAND COUNTY CLUB, WEST NEWTON, Mass., Sept. 5.—(INS)—Fresh from his crushing victories in the Walker Cup matches Bobby Jones with Johnny Farrell for a partner will meet Walter Hagan and Gene Sarazen in a four ball 36 hole exhibition match here today.

The exhibition which is in aid of the Ryder Cup fund, has attracted a great deal of attention as the famous Atlanta amateur is at the peak of his game and it will be his first meeting with Farrell, the Quaker Ridge pro, since the latter beat Bobby for the national open title at Olympia Fields, Chicago. Farrell is also travelling at full steam, having recently established a new record of 10 under par at Detroit.

Greatest Baseball Crowd Is Expected To See Game Between Yanks, Athletics

Present Estimates Indicate That Throng Of 82,000 Persons Will Be On Hand To Watch Crucial Test Sunday

By David J. Walsh International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, September 5.—Just by the way of offering encouragement to those earnest souls who were wondering what could be done about "The American League situation" less than five weeks ago, I am gratified today to announce that the greatest crowd ever to see a baseball game will see in the famous Yankee-Athletic double header on Sunday next.

Present estimates are that 82,000 will view this premiere of a series that figures to be the abiding factor in the ultimate disposition of the American League pennant and the grandstand making ready for a world series riot, reckoned that the turnaways will number 25,000 more.

An ordinary double header on a New York Sunday would be good for at least a 50,000 crowd. This one, carrying all the appeal of a desperate stretch-run between the two leaders, simply can't miss. It may even outdraw the World Series, provided the annual nuisance is visited upon New York. If it isn't, the Sunday games will more than double and World Series attendance in Philadelphia and St. Louis where the capacities of the ball parks are comparatively limited.

Just at the moment, New York is going through a virtual dress rehearsal of the World Series scenes, with a reserved seat sale.

for Sunday scheduled to be opened tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and the prospect of the night lines forming at the general admission gates late on Saturday for the formal opening of the portals at 10 o'clock the following morning. Yankee officials expect to sell their 22,000 reserved seats in less than 24 hours.

It will take them about that long to sell half the club if it doesn't win the pennant, according to stories in circulation. The big idea being that the present Yankees have practically run their race as far as future campaigns are concerned.

Huggins, however, is saying nothing about this with great alacrity; in fact, he went so far today as to intimate that he was content with the Yankees as they stood or maybe he meant hell. Anyhow, he said he didn't plan to use Lyn Larry this year even if Oakland permitted this young man to come East in time for the closing weeks of the campaign.

Mr. Huggins also announced that he thought Herb Pennock would be thought to left hand one game of the Athletic series, but with rare presence of mind, he restrained himself from explaining just how effective a pitcher who hadn't been in a box since August 12 ought to be on an occasion like this. It was gathered, too, that the Yankees are not doing anything more than hope that Tony Lazzeri will return to the pastime, as we domino experts call it.

Boxing Commission Orders Suspension Of Danish Fighter

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Knute Hansen, Danish heavyweight is suspended in this state today for failure to appear before the State Athletic Commission. The big Dane with the various managers claiming his services was ordered to appear before the Commission yesterday to explain his complicated contracts. Only one person, Walter Friedman, appeared and as far as the commission is concerned Friedman is officially Hansen's manager.

However, Billy Gibson, formerly Gene Tunney's manager, issued a statement saying that he was manager of the Dane and that Hansen is to start training in the Adirondacks in a few days for Ted Hickard's heavyweight elimination tournament. Gibson is said to have purchased the Woodman Lawrence interest in Hansen for $12,500 but Joe Woodman of the Woodman and Lawrence firm further complicated matters by denying that the deal had ever been completed.

Army, Navy Will Not Meet For Some Years

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Prospects of another Army-Navy football game seems further removed today, in fact it is entirely possible that Uncle Sam's warriors will not meet on the gridiron for at least ten more years. The army's schedule for 1929 is already completed and arrangements have been made for the big game of 1930 and the navy fails to appear on either list.

This state of affairs was revealed yesterday by Major Philip H. Fleming, director of athletics at West Point, at a luncheon given by Christy Walsh, at the Hotel Commodore here in honor of football coaches Knute Rockne of Notre Dame, Tad Jones of Yale and Biff Jones of the Army.

Von Elm Leads Field In Gold Mashie Play

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 5.—(INS)—George Von Elm, of Detroit American amateur champion in 1926, today is virtually the winner of the coveted gold mashie in the sixth annual gold mashie golf tournament at Ocean Lakes.

At the end of the second day's play yesterday he was leading a field of 15 of the ranking American and British players by 15 strokes, and there remained but 16 holes to be played today. Von Elm has scored 203 for the 54 holes played, leading Watta Guno of Atlanta, his nearest rival, who has 216. Max Marston of Philadelphia is third with 219.

Going out in 34 and returning in 36 for a 70, Maurice McCarthy Jr. of New York turned in the best card yesterday. His tally was two under par. His 34 was the best score for 9 holes.

Famed Sheep Group Will Be Exhibited By Field Museum

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Groups of the famous Ovis Poli and Marco Polo sheep and Asiatic ibex shot by the James Simpson-Roosevelt Asiatic Expedition will be placed on exhibition here at the Field Museum of Natural History it was announced today.

Stephen Sumner, director of the museum declared that these are the first groups of specimens to be placed on public exhibition. The Ovis Poli is the handsomest of all sheep and the most sought after by big game hunters. The ibex has the largest of all wild goats. It has long curved horns 59 1/2 inches in length.

The groups on display have painted backgrounds and reproductions of the natural habits of the animals, and are among the largest and most striking exhibits in the museum.

The ibex were taken by the Roosevelt in the Tien Shan mountains in Turkistan, near the Chinese border. The ibex shot by Kenneth Roosevelt is recorded as having the largest head of any taken by a sportsman.

The groups are installed in William V. Kelly Hall of the museum. Other material collected by the Simpson-Roosevelt Expedition will be placed in the hall in the near future.

70,000 Strike Votes Are Being Tabulated

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The strike vote of 70,000 members of the Brotherhood of railway trainmen and the order of railroad conductors was being counted at the Brotherhood headquarters here today. The vote, according to information given out by officials, is overwhelmingly in favor of a strike providing the officials are unable to obtain favorable consideration of their demands for a 7 1/2 percent wage increase.

A. P. Whitney, president of the trainmen's union organization and E. P. Curtis, of the conductors, declared however that negotiations are under way which may avert the strike, and that conferences to that end are scheduled with railroad officials later in the week, after the strike vote has been duly tabulated and recorded.

Levine Will Depart For U.S. Aboard Ship

PARIS, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Charles A. Levine, American flyer and owner of the trans-Atlantic plane Columbia, hoped off at the Bourget field at noon for Cherbourg to embark upon the liner Leviathan for New York. Levine flew in his new Junkers plane which was piloted by Bert Acosta. Levine in America made it necessary for him to hurry home, thus ending his hope of a trans-Atlantic flight. It is possible that Acosta may attempt the flight with Miss Mabel Bell as a passenger.

JURY WILL PROBE SECRET RECORDS OF WHISKEY RING

District Attorney Of Philadelphia Declares He Will Make Public Name Of Chief Gaffer Among Politicians

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4.—(INS)—The contents of a safety deposit box said to contain secret records of the rum ring operating here held the attention of Philadelphia today as the special grand jury resumed its probe into the activities of the underworld.

Announcement by District Attorney John Monaghan that he would make public the name of at least one of the chief grafters among the politicians and police officials embroiled in the underworld, also served to increase the interest in the probe. At least six new witnesses will face the jury today as will "Doc" Hoff, youthful millionaire manager of prize fighters, who has been termed the "king of the racketeers" by a former chauffeur.

The city's speakasies and vices dens were closed today as a result of Mayor Harty A. Mackey's fiery instructions to his police heads to close every place of lawlessness within 24 hours yesterday when he learned Monaghan had charged the police with not cooperating with him in his attempt to rid the city of criminals.

The police heads also were due to offer their services to Monaghan in person today as instructed by the mayor. A few raids were staged following the mayor's demand but it was reported nearly all violators had been "lipped off" and few arrests were made.

The deposit box that was the center of much speculation today was seized and sealed by the district attorney's investigators and will be opened by the jurors some time Monday. Monaghan charges it contains even more startling information than the books and records seized a few days ago which revealed enormous sums had been paid to police and police officials in bribes.

Information was gleaned during the holiday which led the district attorney to start a probe today in reports that huge sums of money had been wired to Chicago to pay gunmen for work here and also for their activities in Chicago.

BANDITS HOPE SAFE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 5.—(INS)—Nearby St. Louis, Mo., and 1900 in cash were obtained by a masked bandit today. The robber entered the office of the Mushin Realty Company forced the office manager Richard Santur to lie prone on the floor at the point of a pistol and rifled the safe.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 6:
BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY:

STRIKING CONTRAST—The Lord lifted up the meek; he casteth the wicked down to the ground.—Psalm 147:6.
PRAYER—O Lord, the meek are blessed for Thou dost show them Thy way and guide them in judgment.

Unless our eyes are failing us, some of these flesh colored stockings are reaching the acme of perfection.

If the Bridge of San Luis Rey is anything like the little girl's we were playing with for the night, we don't blame it for falling.

Dr. Kellogg was in town yesterday "looking things over". Dr. Kellogg has a sharp mind as well as a sharp knife and it will take a real proposition to even interest him.

We notice from his picture that Dr. Tigert, new head of the University, is bald headed. This does not reflect upon his ability as an educator, but it does reflect... Oh boy, how it does reflect!

"Only one more month," a fellow reminded us the other day, "and summer will be over". Then we will have cooler days, but better still—have you ever noticed how business picks up on the first chilly day of Fall?

There'll probably be a big demand for offices on the seventy-fifth floor of that new Chicago skyscraper. There one would be perfectly safe from gunmen in the streets below, unless they start using anti-aircraft guns.

Dr. John Roach Straton, southern Baptist, pastor of the New York Calvary Church, will speak in Orlando Friday evening. While we do not agree with Dr. Straton on many things, we believe Sanford people, who enjoy fireworks, will be interested in his message on Friday.

Mrs. Florence Knapp was once secretary of state of New York. In that capacity she had something to do with the administration of state census funds. Recently she was sentenced to serve thirty days in jail for grand larceny. Sometimes it is a mistake to be careless with the people's money.

Alfred Sloan, president of General Motors, has announced his support of Herbert Hoover. It is perfectly evident that General Motors stock will not drop no matter who is elected. Raskob, DuPont and Sloan are all Republicans, but the two former are working for Smith and the latter is for Hoover.

Something new in dog racing is anticipated in Jacksonville. There is to be no gambling in connection with it. You simply pay two dollars for the picture of the dog you like best, before the race. If that dog happens to win, the cashier will buy the picture back for six dollars. But there is to be no gambling, no violation of state laws. No sir, absolutely none.

Colonel Billy Mitchell has an article in this month's Atlantic Monthly which would certainly have caused the fur to fly if the Colonel had not already been punished as the limit for similar articles. Someday the country will probably wake up to the fact that the man who led our flying forces during the war knows more about aviation than the gold laced gentlemen who direct the maneuvers of obsolete battleships.

The writer reads a great many columns of "canned" copyright paragraphs in the run of a week's work, and finds them bright in many instances, flat in other instances and not as good as the average run of paragraphs published in Florida daily and weekly newspapers. Many Florida paragraphs deserve national recognition because their work is comparable with the best of them. Florida newspapers will "stack up" with any state in the Union, and many will be on top of the pile when the stacking process is completed.—Florida Times-Union.

A Regrettable Incident

Newspapers throughout the country yesterday carried the story of the defalcations of the missing treasurer of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board. For nine years Clinton Carnes had collected the nickels, dimes and pennies of countless boys and girls, and adults, and during that time had swept into his own pockets perhaps a million dollars, intended by the givers, for charity.

The world has become rather accustomed to big money thieves during the past decade or so. Headlines telling of some corporation president who turns up short a million or more in his accounts, occasions no undue comment. A cabinet official, governor, or other potent politician, who spends for his own use, hundreds of thousands of dollars belonging to taxpayers, creates comparatively little excitement. We grow hardened to such things.

But something about this story, this robbing of boys and girls of their nickels and dimes, their candy money, given in a spirit, as truly philanthropic, as any millionaire's, for charity, to help some other little boy or girl, less fortunate, makes it seem different from the rest. makes it seem a little more heartless and contemptible, more worthy of punishment. One is almost inclined to believe that life imprisonment is too mild for a criminal of this character.

For the really unfortunate part about it is that distrust of charitable organizations will be increased. How often do we hear someone say that he will not contribute to this organization or that one because he suspects that very little of his money, if any, will ever reach the worthy poor? Most charitable organizations are honorable, honestly trying to do some good in the world, and are managed by men and women equally as honest and who are trying equally as hard to help unfortunate people, and their work is made much more difficult because a man in a position of trust proves himself unworthy.

We hold no brief for the missing treasurer and believe that he should be promptly apprehended and given the limit of the law, but we do not think that other charity organizations should be condemned on account of the faults of this one and we hope that the unfortunate skepticism which already exists to some extent regarding organized charities will not be increased by this regrettable episode in the life of the Atlanta Home Mission.

Tax Reduction

How the city of Sarasota lopped off practically nine million dollars from the assessed valuation while allowing the millage to remain at ten; the same as last year, is explained in detail by the Sarasota Herald. It is pointed out that a citizens committee worked in conjunction with the city administration in effecting a twenty-five percent cut in operating expenses in the 1928 budget.

"The total assessed valuation of the city," says the Sarasota paper, "has been cut $8,935,097 but notwithstanding this reduction the millage will remain at 10 mills, the same as last year, this being due to the 25 per cent reduction in operating expenses."

"Last year the assessed valuation was placed at $56,390,705 after 25 per cent had been cut off following joint meetings of the citizens committee and city council. This citizens committee had been organized to assist the council in its work of preparing a budget for 1927. The valuation for 1928 will be $31,578,795, representing a 44 per cent reduction."

"Operating expenses for 1928 have been cut 25 per cent by the new budget. This reduction in the cost of operating the city government is the reason why the millage has been left the same despite the fact that almost nine million dollars have been lopped off the assessed valuation."

"The tentative budget is now ready for inspection by any interested citizen at the city hall. At present there are a few minor changes that may result in a change of a hundred dollars one way or another on certain items."

"The new budget represents a cut of $86,393.89 over last year's operating expenses."

WHO READS EDITORIALS?

LEESBURG COMMERCIAL

EDITORIAL WRITERS are so apprehensive of making a statement which some subscriber may take exception to that they rarely say anything. Donald Rose, writing in the September Forum magazine, takes the newspapers to task for this and asks what they have gained by it. In his opinion, "It has created on most editorial pages a large blank area of unmitigated dullness, wherein the least vital of the daily news is served again without the additional saving grace of substantial opinion. It has made the distinguished editorial so rare that it is greeted with shouts by its patient discoverer, and hung perchance with the garland of a Pulitzer prize—a poor reward for virtue in a world now principally inhabited by monuments, prizes, and memorials. It has destroyed the dynasty of editorial leadership, and given no adequate substitute of newspaper leadership. And by queer irony, it has dignified the most inconsequential elements of the editorial page to the point where a newspaper is known by the columnist it keeps.

"The columnists today ride the Pegasus of the press, and do so with distinguished charm and skill. Jay E. House declared one time the formula which has rarely failed him or his fellows, 'Newspapers,' said he, 'denote much news space and much editorial fulminating to the important, and not more than one reader in a hundred cares a hoot about it. It is the unimportant and trivial that really interests the average reader.'—Leesburg Commercial.

TAMMANY HALL

ST. AUGUSTINE RECORD

St. Augustine, Florida,
August 30, 1928
Mr. Herbert Felke, Editor,
St. Augustine Record.

Dear Mr. Felke:
The following facts are cited for the information of the Record readers who, like William Allen White, the distinguished editor of the Emporia Gazette and a staunch Republican, condemn Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee for President of the United States, for his associations with Tammany Hall.

Some of the most outstanding men in public office in New York City and State have been Tammany men, openly and avowedly so; and Tammany has given to the city and state, and to the nation as well, statesmen of ability and vision who were honest, straightforward and patriotic. The trouble with these however, is that you hear so little about them and their fine work. The tendency is always to emphasize the worst in both politics and statesmanship.

But one thing is certain: Tammany has done much more for New York and the better government of the city than any other political party which has shown its face in the Empire State since the very beginning. As a general thing Tammany spells good government in that the public weal is guarded, the police and fire departments are adequately maintained, streets are well lighted, well paved and well cleaned.

Tammany, at its worst, has never been guilty, for instance, of the political debauchery, the crime and the downright murder which seems to be inseparable from the Republican Gang in Chicago. Yet, though these groups are active in support of the candidacy of Mr. Hoover you hear little about them and only protests about Tammany. Smith has been charged with a failure to repudiate Tammany, as a great and well-oiled political organization, has supported Smith in more than one of his difficult political campaigns. For Smith to repudiate Tammany now would be to write himself into the class of political mountebanks who hesitate not to "bite the hand that feeds." To his everlasting credit it must be said that Governor Smith is not an ingrate and even though his alliance to Tammany may cost him votes, it is stimulating to note that in these days of the most contemptible forms of political hypocrisy, we have a Presidential candidate who is, at least, loyal to those who are loyal to him.

Editor White, who takes Tammany and said hard things against the Democratic nominee at a Kansas Republican rally, says: "It is not that Governor Smith is a Catholic and wet, which makes him an offense to the villagers and town-dwellers, but because his record shows the kind of President he would make—Tammany President. Tammany is Tammany and Smith is Smith. The whole Puritan civilization, which has built a sturdy, orderly nation, is threatened by Smith. His record explains what Tammany means."

The editor of the Emporia Gazette, however, declares he would make a fairly good President. He is "courageous," "honest and capable," a "man of unusual intelligence" who has made a "great Governor for New York," but "his election to the Presidency would menace the nation" because he is "wedded to Tammany and proud of his unholy alliance."

If Editor White and certain others of the opposition who feel themselves constrained to attack the New York Governor would set their own homes in order first the country would profit much thereby.

Is there a man in public office anywhere in this country who does not owe his position to the active support and promotion of his candidacy by the organized political forces which approved it? Where is the United States Senator who is not beholden to some political group? Where is the Congress-

CHERCHEZ LA FLAPPER

NEW YORK WORLD

Some of us were a bit mystified the other day by the newspaper reman or the Governor or the Mayor of our great cities who does not owe his election to these various political groups? Tammany is not one whit different from groups that are spread throughout the land. Indeed, Tammany is not half as bad as most of them. With Gov. Smith at Albany, the State of New York has not been Tammanyized. Of sixty-eight major appointments made by Gov. Smith, only three came from the city of New York and none of the three came from the ranks of Tammany.

Very truly yours,

ports of a big bear market on the Cocoa Exchange. We had never associated cocoa with frenzied buying and selling, for the reason, perhaps, that it had always suggested the quiet dignity of the breakfast table in a family where anything stimulating as tea or coffee was taboo.

The reason given for this slump was that the market had broken under the strain of unprecedented offerings, but that really did not explain. Why the unprecedented offerings? Did they have any political significance; that is, did they foreshadow a modification of the Volstead act and a decline in the demand for cocoa, accompanied by an increased demand for malt and hops? That did not seem likely, for those who have had to go to bed not generally taken up the habit, but have turned to hard liquor.

But now the mystery is explained, and the explanation is simple and so obvious that it ought to have known it all along. It's all due to the flapper. Cocoa in all its forms is essential to the flapper's figure. Flapper has taken to cocoa and at the end of a luncheon she demands cocktails. Days of prohibition, and prohibition tends to suppress the hot one. And so cocoa goes for limbo to which long skirts and corsets have been consigned. As a powerful British cocoa has turned bea-

GOOD FOODS COME FROM STORES THAT ADVERTISE

Why is that true? Because the grocer, butcher and baker that advertises constantly gets the business and if his merchandise is worthy, he keeps it. If his merchandise isn't worthy, he can't sell it, and if he can't sell it he can't get the money to advertise. Consequently, the merchants whose advertisements you see week after week in The Herald are dependable. You can count on them for the best at the lowest price.

He had said he would gladly turn over all of his father's property to the Baptist Church, including a factory for automatic car locks in Chattanooga, a brick plant in North Carolina, an extensive real estate business in Atlanta and a $50,000 villa in which he lived.

It was learned today that Carnes had his life insured for $350,000, the premiums amounting to $15,000 a year. The solicitor general was awaiting a complete report by the auditors before presenting the case to the grand jury. This may require at least 60 and perhaps 90 days.

Carnes sold thousands of dollars worth of securities through the New York stock house of Henry Claws & Company, it was revealed today. Officials there said, according to reports here, that Carnes never bought stocks, only selling securities through them acquired elsewhere.

A message from the executive committee of the Southern Baptist Convention assured 4,000,000 communicants that every obligation incurred by Carnes as treasurer will be taken care of. The executive committee reorganized the home mission, retired Dr. R. B. Gray, for 25 years as secretary, and authorized him to act as treasurer for 60 days. Dr. Arch C. Cree was elected secretary for 60 days.

P. Glen Tryon Star In Milane Film, Is Old Time Trouper

Glenn Tryon, star of "Hot Heels," which will come to the Milane Theatre today, was once a member of just such a small-town troupe as is pictured in this comedy.

"Playing in 'Hot Heels' Tryon," was like living in the past. When I first went on the stage after graduating from high school I got a job with a small troupe of gamblers, being the greatest hazz of them all at the time.

"We toured through the small towns in the summer playing one night stands. It was always a battle to pay the hotel bill and have enough left over for food. We never expected our full salary, and never got it.

"But I don't think there is any more colorful or interesting way of living than that—for a time at least. When I saw this picture on the screen for the first time I was carried back six years and thrilled at the memories evoked—the terrible show, the burlesque costumes, the ringling down of the curtain at the wrong time, the distressing acting and the thousands of adventures.

Others in the cast of "Hot Heels" are Patsy Ruth Miller, Gretel Volts, James Bradbury, Sr., Ted Sloan and Lloyd Whitlock.

His silence spelled His Guilt, and yet...

HER face was deathly white. Her heart seemed to stop beating—as she stared in horrified disbelief at the letter clutched in her trembling hand.

A letter to Dave, her husband—from a strange woman—asking for money! It was preposterous. Unthinkable. Oh, it couldn't—couldn't be true!

And yet—who was this woman? Why had the written Dave this letter? Was there, after all, some romantic episode in her husband's life that he had kept hidden from her?

And now, this—this letter—after ten years of perfect comradeship and devotion! Her happiness threatened. Her life hovering on the brink of ruin. Dave, the man she had idolized, had trusted implicitly, the father of her children—surely there had been some terrible mistake. Surely Dave could explain.

But that night, when she quietly handed him the letter, Dave stood with bowed head, in stony silence—his face a mask, to hide—what?

Torn between love and suspicion, between hope and despair, between faith and disillusionment, she searched her breaking heart in a piteous attempt to learn what she had done to deserve this crucifixion.

All she had loved and lived for seemed to be in crumbling ruins at her feet. God knew she loved Dave—still loved him, no matter what he had done. And yet—

You will want to read the outcome of this powerful, heart gripping story from real life. You will never forget it. Starting on Page 74, it appears complete in the October issue of True Story Magazine.

SENATORS AND YANKEES SPLIT TWIN FEATURE

Sad Sam Jones Turns In Victory For Capital City Boys After Huggins Traded Him

Phillies Lose To Giants By 14 To 3

Athletics Have Chance To Improve Position By Taking Twin Bill

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—(INS)—Sad Sam Jones got even with the Yankees again for trading him down the river to Washington, scoring his fourth victory of the season and his second in a week over his former teammates. The Huggins managed to win the second game of the doubleheader, thus holding their two game lead over the Athletics, who had an off day. However, the net result of the day's play was a loss of three percentage points, and there is no certainty that the pennant race may not be decided by so slim a margin as that.

In the National League the Giants were the only team among the five contenders to see action. With Larry Benton in the box the New Yorkers won from the Phillies with something to spare, 14 to 3. It is Red Larry's third win of the season. As is customary when Benton is on the mound, the Giants played like world's champions, including two home runs by Ott and five doubles by various other young men of Mr. McGraw's organization. Andy Reese was again on second in place of Cohen, and justified his presence by accumulating four hits including two doubles.

The net result of the day's play was to clip a half game off the lead of the Cardinals, who are now four games in front with 21 more to play.

This afternoon the Cardinals and Pirates met in the only game in the National League that has any bearing on the race. Chicago, Cincinnati and the Giants, the other contenders, are idle. For the Giants this is a boon, as they are scheduled to play 11 games in the next six days—three in two days at Brooklyn, and eight in four days at Boston.

The Athletics have a chance today to improve their position in the race. They are playing a single game with the pestiferous Senators. By winning both games Philadelphia will go within a game and a half of first place if the Yankees win and within a half game if the Yankees lose.

Jones held the Yankees to six hits to defeat them 3 to 1 in the opening game. Bucky Harris tried out some of his less well-known pitchers in the second and the results were not so happy. The Yankees found their batting eyes while Lefty Heilmach was doing well with his pitching and won his third game since joining the Huggins a few weeks ago. The final score was 8 to 3.

The Tigers and White Sox, who are playing out the season because the schedule demands it, faced their batting averages in a game which the Tigers won 10 to 2 after dropping four straight to the South Siders. Young Ed Walsh was the chief victim of the Tiger sluggers.

The Braves took both games of a double header from the Dodgers, 9 to 2 and 7 to 1. Manager Robertson paraded six pitchers in the two games, but none of them mattered.

TRIBESMEN ELECT LEADER WITHOUT ANY EXCITEMENT

Osage Indians Hold Election Minus The Usual Ballyhoo Which Has Heretofore Attended Selection Of Chief

PAWHUSKA, Okla., Sept. 6.—(INS)—With none of the strident ballyhoo which marks the presidential campaigns of their white brothers, the richest "nation" on earth, very quietly elected a new chief executive here recently. The election was by tribal vote.

These "nation" is that of the oil rich Osage Indians, where the income of "the poor Indian" resembles the salary of a Wall Street financier. The new head is Chief Fred Lookout, who succeeds retiring Chief Bacon Rind, one of the most picturesque figures among America's colorful and fast vanishing aborigines.

In an interview granted immediately after his selection as Chief of the Osages, the blanketed executive made it evident that there were others besides the Republican campaign leader, who were concerned about the farm problem.

Farm Issue Up
In agriculture, Chief Fred Lookout places the hope for the perpetuation of his tribe.

"Too many of my people intermarry with other people," laments Chief Lookout. "I want Osages to marry one another and keep the tribe from dying out. I want my people to show white brothers that we can live on homesteads and run our farms well. I think my people will be happier if they get out and work on the land. I want them to raise chickens and grow fruit and corn and cows and hogs."

"Then I know Osages will be better off if there is no oil."

"Some day oil will go," said the serious voiced chief raising his arm in a sweeping gesture that took in the surrounding derrick studded fields. "Maybe not in my time, perhaps in my son's. Then what of his children. There will be no fat checks every few months from the Great White Father, no fine motor cars and new clothes."

Practical Farmer

The serious faced Chief is in a position to advise on agricultural problems as he is a practical farmer himself. He lives on a farm four miles out of Pawhuska, owns a home that few farmers could afford and goes in for blooded stock. Too modest to call himself the "model" farmer he has lately turned the running of his farm over to his sons and now will be free to give all his time to business of state.

Home Runs Yesterday

The club, of course, is overdue for a slump, at that, the Yankees are a versatile lot. For all we know they may outslump the Athletics and thus decide the race on the basis that the last one home is it.

Of course, the league in general, outside of New York, is for Connie, 63 if he is a day, and a first sportman during the years of adversity he lived through after breaking up his old champions in 1914. He was censured in some quarters for that decision but the world knows now that the great club was fading—much, in fact, as the Yankees are fading now. And, besides, the league doesn't like New York victories any more than it did when the string of Yankee successes began back in 1921—which means that the league likes them almost as much as it likes rain checks on a holiday.

Roberti Wins Slow Bout With Solomon Who Fights Gamely

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—(INS)—Roberto Roberti, the giant Italian who is being ballyhooed as a prominent contender for the heavyweight championship, had not increased his prestige today as a result of the 10 round decision he won from King Solomon of Panama at Ebbets Field last night.

Roberti's failure to stop the King Solomon was a distinct disappointment to his many admirers who had confidently predicted the big Italian would knock Solomon out. Roberti, however, won every round, several of them by side margins. In the third he put Solomon on the floor for a short count and in the seventh cut his opponent's face so badly the referee seemed about to stop the fight.

The durable Solomon, however, plunged and mauled his way through the remaining rounds and was roundly cheered for staying the limit.

Roberti missed many heavy rights but landed quite a few, too.

Lewis Calls Upon Labor To Continue Battle For "Liberty And Opportunity"

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 6. (INS)—A ringing call to trade unionism to carry on and a pledge that America's 500,000 organized coal miners will continue labor's fight for "liberty and opportunity" were contained in the annual Labor Day message Monday of John L. Lewis, veteran head of the United States Mine Workers of America. Lewis described the struggle of the soft coal miners "for their right to live and enjoy the things that belong to them" as a fierce struggle against vicious tyranny in which powerful influences unceasingly sought to destroy their manhood, corrupt their citizenship, starve their families and break their spirits.

While he made no direct reference to the miners' abandonment of their eight year long fight for the Jacksonville wage scale, Lewis declared that "the miners have fought against the savagery of these powerful interests to the extent of their ability to fight."

"The fight is still on," Lewis said skipping over the miners' recession from the $7.50 a day scale. "It cannot stop until the workers of this land have won their right to live and enjoy the things that belong to them. This conflict is not a mere incident. It is history-making in its importance as time will prove."

Lewis' statement in full follows: "In the year that has passed since last Labor Day it has become more difficult than ever before for men engaged in mining coal to earn a living for themselves and their families. Powerful influences set to work long ago to bring about this situation. Through the use of every known implement of industrial warfare, honorable and dishonorable, benign and brutal, they have unceasingly endeavored to degrade the miners of this country, destroy their manhood corrupt their citizenship, starve their families and throw them out of their homes in order to pauperize these toilers and break them to the will of the coal operators. The miners have fought this savagery to the extent of their ability to fight. Practically lone-handed they have met the barbaric enemy on the field of industrial battle and made the fight for self-preservation. It has been a fierce struggle. Men, women and children have suffered and sacrificed rather than succumb to the vicious tyranny of those who would enslave them."

Stirring Story "In all the history of industry there is no age that tells a more stirring story of loyalty to principle and liberty than the story of the loyalty the coal miners of this country displayed in this battle. As time goes on and more history is created, this story of the struggle of the coal miners of America will continue to stand out as one of the high spots in the age-long fight for liberty and opportunity."

"The fight is still on. It cannot stop until the workers of this land have won their right to live and enjoy the things that belong to them. This conflict is not a mere incident. It is history-making in its importance as time will prove."

"In spite of all that has been done by the powers of oppression, to break the spirit of the miners; in spite of all that has been done with cruel force to compel these men to surrender themselves into poverty and degradation, the United Mine Workers of America still holds its banner aloft, unsullied and unbeaten. The coal miners of America know how to fight and they do not hesitate to fight, even if

GUNS TALK FOR ARMY AS ARMY TRAINS THROUGH SOUND PICTURES

Two scenes from an Army instruction "sound" film, showing a machine gun in action. The "boom" of the gun is represented by the black lines at the left of the film.

Sound pictures especially designed for military instruction purposes are the latest important development in the field of so-called "talking movies." The first of these films has been prepared and privately shown in Washington before a selected group of representatives of the Army, Navy, Coast Guard, National Guard and Army Reserve. It is understood that a number of high officials in the War Department have expressed themselves as favoring the use of such sound pictures for Army training films.

The film shown to the Washington officials was made at the Infantry school at Fort Benning, Ga., through the joint efforts of Electrical Research Products, Inc., subsidiary of the Western Electric Company, and the Fox Case Corporation, producers of Motion picture features, with the cooperation of the War Department. Members of the 9th Infantry, U. S. A., were the participants in the scenes photographed. The picture depicts three training troops. The first group shows the organization of medical and other units, while the second is devoted to an exposition of the assembly and disassembly of weapons. As each scene is flashed on the screen, the voice of the instructor is heard describing and explaining the action by means of the sound record.

The third group shows an infantry battalion acting on the defense. The instructor first gives a blackboard demonstration of the military problem to be worked out, discussing its various aspects. Troops are then shown in action under simulated war conditions, with machine gun fire, the laying down of a barrage, the operation of sound planes, and all the other activities of the battalion both demonstrated and described, inasmuch as throughout the course of the action the voice of the instructor continues to be heard explaining the movements of the battalion.

The Army was the first to use motion pictures for training purposes, having made a large number of training films during the World War. Many of these are still in use. The Army is now pioneering in this sound field with sound pictures.

When buying was one long experiment

"I'll try a pound of this," said your grandmother, "if you are sure it's fresh."

That was some time in the second hour of her morning's search for groceries. She went from one open barrel or box to the next, along an unappetizing row of crackers, teas, cereals, dried fruits, lard and sugar—all in bulk. She shooed the flies away, looked at, touched and tasted each article suspiciously, and finally decided to buy or not to buy, as her judgment directed. She couldn't trust a servant to do it. It was a day's work in itself.

Today, in two minutes, you give the grocer your order. You know that everything you get will be fresh, pure, attractively and cleanly packed. Why? Because you ask for advertised brands.

Advertising has taken hours of hard labor out of every housewife's day, and lines of worry off her forehead. It has made the morning's marketing a matter of certainty instead of guesswork.
