Defense Work Forges Ahead, Official Says

"Great Progress" In American Production During Past Year Is Reported

More Jolts Due Peacetime Life

Additional Labor And Machines Needed For Armed Forces

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson told a Senate Committee today the past year has brought "great progress" in American defense production but "for total war of the kind raging in Europe today we can never have enough munitions."

Patterson forecast increased dislocation of the nation's normal peacetime economic machinery, adding that "far more of our machines and labor" must be placed at the service of the War and Navy Departments than at present.

President Roosevelt yesterday strongly supported War Department proposals that selected National Guardsmen be kept in service longer than a year, but abandoned at least temporarily legislation to permit use of these soldiers outside the Western Hemisphere.

The decision was announced by Senate Majority Leader Barkley, who spent the weekend on the President's yacht and yesterday participated in a two-hour White House conference with other congressional leaders.

A preliminary Administration check is said to have supported claims of non-interventionists that attempts to raise the hemispheric ban would be defeated. But, Barkley said, that situation did not inspire the separation of the Western Hemisphere proposal from two other Department bills extending the term of service of draftees, guardsmen and reserve officers.

The President and General Marshall, Army chief of staff, and Democratic conferees secret military data intended to substantiate Army contentions that the discharge of thousands of trainees after one year of service would weaken United States outposts in the Pacific and Atlantic.

Roosevelt did not win 100 percent support from the group, but he persuaded the leaders to begin attempts to raise the hemispheric ban without delay. He took this stand in the face of blunt warnings that he faces defeat in both chambers.

The conference was not a compromise measure was not discussed. Experts pointed out, however, that the service extension bill would have less opposition when involved would not eventually become part of an expeditionary force.

England Loses 79 Ships During June

LONDON, July 15 (AP)—Merchant shipping losses of 79 ships totaling 235,524 tons were announced today by the Admiralty.

The tonnage, which included British, Allied and neutral losses, was less than for any month since July 1940, with the exception of last December, and January.

Authorized sources said German and Italian claims of sinking 878,573 tons in June represent an exaggeration of June 1940 losses.

Canada Prohibits Night Gas Sales

OTTAWA, Oct. 15 (AP)—Canada announced today prohibition of the sale, delivery and distribution of gasoline from 7:30 p. m. to 7:00 a. m. in all provinces for all of Canada, effective immediately.

The order, issued by Federal Censorship Board, is intended to conserve gasoline for military and essential civilian use.

Blackout Out New York Harbor

Coast Guardsmen remove the normal 800 candlepower light on a buoy and replace it with a ten candlepower one as part of the blackout test of New York Harbor. The ten candlepower light can barely be seen from a half-mile distance and is invisible from the air. In wartime, buoys would be blacked out entirely.

Papworth Again Named To Head Market's Board

H. M. Papworth, who has served as chairman of the advisory board of the Sanford State Market since its organization with the exception of one year, was unanimously re-elected to head the board for the coming year at a meeting held at the market last night.

Mr. Papworth was introduced at the State market convention in Jacksonville last week as the oldest and first chairman of any advisory committee in the State market system. The chairman has served the Sanford market, oldest in the state, continuously except for 1939, when John Melch, Sr., was head of the advisory group.

W. A. Leffler and Gus Schmal, whose term of office had expired, were re-elected members of the advisory committee. Committee members approved a request of Harry Tooker for coloring rooms and ventilators at the citrus packing house at the market, providing the cost did not exceed $400.

A committee composed of Mr. Lehman, and Alex Johnson reported that they had interviewed dealers concerning the uniform commission to be charged for buying and handling produce on commission. Dealers said they would call a meeting of all those who expect to operate at the market next season and agree upon a uniform rate and would give a report to the committee for consideration and approval.

It was decided that "buyers' cards" would be printed on stiff cardboard, advertising the market on one side and having columns and lines for the convenience of the trucker to list articles bought on the reverse side. These cards will be given to truckers as they enter the market.

Mr. Lehman reported that the roof of the market restaurant needed repairing, and that the rain would ruin the building unless it were fixed. The manager was instructed to take steps to remove the roof.

A report on the market meeting in Jacksonville was given by Mr. Papworth. A law approved by the recent legislature to license and bond dealers and brokers was discussed by board members.

Roosevelt Asks Legislation To Save Power

President Requests Daylight Saving Time For Part Of South, Southeast

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress today for legislation to provide daylight saving time on such a regional or national basis, and for such part, or all, of the year, as he might deem necessary in the interest of our national defense.

Roosevelt in letters to eight Southern governors, including the Governors of Alabama, Florida and Georgia, pointed out that the nation is "faced with a serious power shortage that is impeding the national defense program." The power shortage is particularly acute in the southeast the President said.

Great Britain, denying yesterday that she was taking advantage of American lease-lend aid to promote her own export trade, asserted that she had cut her exports to the home.

The British Embassy issued a statement in reply to criticism in Congress and elsewhere. Representative O'Connor, Democrat, Montana, had asserted American exporters had complained that the British were selling American steel and other lease-lend goods to Latin America. He called for an investigation of such "double-dealing."

The embassy said it would not be in the interest of Americans for Great Britain to abandon its export trade entirely. By exporting, the statement explained, Britain earns foreign exchange to help pay her way and thus her dependence upon lease-lend aid is reduced. It added, however, that the lease-lend program makes Britain less dependent upon exports and these are fast being reduced as standing orders are filled.

Three men, Carlyle Housholder, Charles H. Lee, and Leo Butler, were sworn in as members of the Seminole County Defense Force at its regular meeting at the Armory last night.

One or two men are unable to attend drills, Captain Harper stated, and there are still two vacancies open in the defense force. Those who are interested are asked to see either Captain Harper or one of the other officers of the unit.

Uniforms will be received about July 20 and issued immediately, according to word received from the factory in Baltimore, Md., furnished by the State, the uniforms are nickel gray with touches of orange in the shoulder emblems and caps.

The outfit consists of a shirt, trousers, tie, belt and overseas cap. The shoulder emblem, in "F.D.F." sewn on it. The cap is gray trimmed in orange.

At the drill meeting, the Defense Force took part in close order drill, rifle firing and preliminary marksmanship.

"Considerable improvement has been shown by the entire unit in firing, drilling and other forms of training," Captain Harper declared.

Acting upon a suggestion from the State Defense Council, a permanent office for the Seminole County Defense has been set up at the Armory. Most of the business of the council, which is headed by J. L. Ingley as chairman, will be carried on from these headquarters, Captain Harper explained, in order to centralize the activities of the group.

War Is Preferable To Surrender, Knox Says

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Knox urged Monday a policy of aiding Britain "at whatever cost to ourselves," asserting "a war of defense against Nazism would be infinitely preferable to a surrender to Hitlerism."

In an interview marking the end of a year in the cabinet, Knox observes that "no sane man wants war," but added: "It happens to belong to a school of thinkers who regard as imperative a policy of aiding Britain at whatever cost to ourselves, to promote both our present security and future national welfare."

Sebring Seeks Aid To Enlarge Its Utilities

SEBRING, July 15 (Special)—W. V. Higgins, president of the city council, said Monday the PWA will be asked for a $250,000 grant with which to enlarge city-owned public utilities to meet the needs of extending facilities to the U. S. Army basic flying school which will be established here.

Higgins said $150,000 will be used to enlarge the electric plant, $25,000 for water extension, $75,000 for gas improvements and $10,000 for establishing recreation facilities for cadets at the school.

Government Will Remove Hyacinth Jam From Wekiva

Waterway To Be Kept Clear Of Menace, Engineers Declare

Following presentation of a petition by Sanford residents asking that the Wekiva River be cleared of the water hyacinths which are interfering with boating and fishing, Herrol J. Skidmore, captain of the corps of engineers of the United States Engineer Office in Jacksonville, said today the waterway will be cleared of the hyacinth menace.

Mr. Skidmore wrote Edward Higgins, secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, as follows:

"Reference is made to your letter dated May 30, 1941, relative to the condition of the Wekiva River due to the water hyacinth jam. It is requested that this waterway be cleared of the existing water hyacinth jams.

"I am pleased to inform you that an examination of the Wekiva River has recently been made, and steps are being taken to employ the necessary labor to insure that this waterway in due time will be clear of the water hyacinth menace and kept reasonably clear in the future."

"Your courtesy in inviting the attention of this office to the condition of the Wekiva River is appreciated.

Very truly yours,
"HERROL J. SKIDMORE,
Captain, Corps of Engineers,
Executive Assistant."

U. S. Workers To Aid Britain, Green Says

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—All possible aid to British labor from American workers was promised Monday night by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a transatlantic radio talk with George Gibson, chairman of the British Trades Union Congress.

Inspiring aid to British labor week, Green, speaking in Washington declared over the NBC Blue network that "during this coming week labor organizations throughout the United States will climax a successful campaign to raise funds for the relief of British workers victimized by Hitler's blitzkrieg."

NOMINATION APPROVED

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee approved Monday this nomination: George Earl Hoffman, U. S. attorney for the northern district of Florida.

City Seeks To Cut Out 'Blind Corners'

Sanford residents were asked today by Mayor W. C. Hill to cooperate in trimming high shrubbery to eliminate "blind corners," cited as the cause of a number of accidents in the City limits. The City Commission, at its regular meeting at the City Hall last night, discussed the blind corner hazard, and considered an ordinance against shrubbery over 36 inches high on street corners. Mayor Hill said. It was decided later, however, to ask for the public's co-operation in trimming high shrubs in places of the family and also those men who have been married recently, a letter from the national headquarters of Selective Service in Washington to the local board stated today.

Registrants whose wives work and contribute to the support of the home may not for that reason alone be denied deferment, it was said. "It should be remembered that every husband is under legal obligation to support his wife or children and that obligation is not removed because the wife has chosen to aid in the family maintenance," the instructor revealed.

In the case of a registrant whose financial status is such the local board believes his dependents may support themselves in some fashion, despite his induction, it should be remembered that nothing in the law or the regulations requires a registrant of his dependents to liquidate their capital assets or use up the proceeds before a basis for deferment may be established."

All local boards are instructed to reconsider the cases of all married men or men with minor children who have been placed in Class I-A, the letter stated. In the event the local board does not find it advisable to change the classification it is still the privilege of the registrant to take his case to the appeal board.

During the time a case is being reconsidered, the registrant is not to be inducted until the case has gone through full consideration of the board of appeals.

At an installation ceremony attended by a large group of members of the Orlando lodge, Mr. Taylor, Chicago Odd Fellow, spoke on preparedness and what it means to the nation, Mr. Lovejoy revealed. After the business of the meeting had been completed refreshments were served.

Working Wives May Still Be Considered Dependents

Because of the large number of men in the army seeking discharge because of the need of their dependents, draft boards are instructed to consider carefully the deferment of men whose dependents are in the support of the family and also those men who have been married recently, a letter from the national headquarters of Selective Service in Washington to the local board stated today.

Registrants whose wives work and contribute to the support of the home may not for that reason alone be denied deferment, it was said. Three Regiments Of Enemy Troops Destroyed In South, U. S. S. R. Asserts

German Command Reports Progress

Churchill Says Pact Means Soviet And Britain Are Allies

Russia's Red Armies, striking back on the central front guarding Smolensk and Moscow, were reported today to have launched a major offensive along the Dnepr River, stormed across that vital defense stream at several points and driven the Germans back 19 miles.

In the south too, a Soviet war bulletin asserted Russian troops had won a victory with the annihilation of two German-Rumanian artillery regiments and an infantry regiment driving toward Kiev.

The Nazi High Command again used only a single sentence to describe the mammoth conflict—"Operations in the east are steadily progressing."

In contrast to the Russian claims DNR, official German news agency, asserted Soviet attempts to maintain a defense front in the Dvina, and Dnepr River sectors had been smashed and that the push toward Leningrad was proceeding despite Soviet efforts to bolster their line by hasty reinforcements.

In London, Prime Minister Churchill told Parliament the new British-Russian pact for joint war against Germany was "an alliance," and that the Russian and British peoples now were allies—but that the agreement does not mean Britain intends to fight with the "Communist creed."

The Soviet command reported earlier today that German troops were being cut down in great numbers in violent fighting in the northwest and south, west, but for the first time avoid mention of any town in the battle areas.

The omission—which observed the extent of the German advance, if any—strongly suggested Red reverses.

The Nazis previously had claimed much progress in drive toward Kiev, along the southwestern front; Moscow at the center and Leningrad to the north-west.

Moscow's early morning communique which followed official statements of yesterday that up to that time there had been in 24 hours no substantial change in the Red positions, declared that Russian forces in some areas were counter-attacking repeatedly.

The general impression given was of a desperate, bitter defense, toward the west and all the Russian terminology was similarly uncomplimentary—the destruction of 100 Nazi tanks, along with a great number of other vehicles, was claimed by the Soviet command.

In the southwest, capture of many cannons, machineguns and automobiles was reported, along with "defeat" for German units of 3000 men.

As to the northwest theater no detail whatever was given.

In operations at sea, however, the Russians reported an unequalled success: They declared that two German destroyers, 13 loaded troop transports and a tank-laden barge were sunk and that 19 other transports and an additional destroyer were left afloat.

This was accomplished, it was added, by the Baltic squadron of the Red fleet, by naval aviation and by coast artillery without aid of any sort to the attacking Russians. The implication was that the action occurred off the coast of Estonia.

The German High Command said only the "breakthrough operations" against the Stalin Line were going forward on schedule and that the Finnish allies were striking at Leningrad's northern defenses with twin columns moving on either side of Lake Ladoga to supplement the German thrust toward that city from the southwest.

It Just Couldn't Happen

Things like that just couldn't happen by mistake. It must have been intentional" is one of the most frequent remarks heard by the editor of the average newspaper just before the receiver is banged down on a midnight phone call. By way of the Lake Wales News comes an assorted collection of similar errors which have been made in recent years by newspapers much larger than this one.

For instance an Ohio paper said a wife jailed her husband for abandonment when she was "about to become a father." And in describing a wedding a Maryland paper said that "John McKenny of Centerville will be one of the pallbearers."

A California newspaper declared that "friends of Mr. and Mrs. are parents of a baby." In Wilkes-Barre, Pa., a daily headlined a story, "Mother of 18 Children in Trouble Again." A woman's magazine advises that "if a baby does not digest its milk, it should be boiled."

A Kentucky newspaper describing a party said "the evening was spent in an infernal way." A Peoria, Illinois paper said that a deceased woman had been "afflicted with the Presbyterian Church for 40 years." Over in New Mexico the news was chronicled that a man had fallen and suffered a fracture of his collar "button." The Chenango, N. Y. Telegraph claimed the bride carried a bouquet of "punk" roses. And the Sioux Falls Argus-Leader urged that readers send mother a gift of "hardly blooming roses." Out at Abilene, Texas, the newspaper claimed that a woman had advertised for a husband and got 19 reptiles.

The Topeka, Kansas Capital said a man had been cut and bruised "in his slip-flop," while another paper said a couple wed for ten years had had their first "chill." The Des Moines Register said the bride carried a "bouquet of roses and baby." The Barnesville, Ohio paper said that "Mrs. Dave Miller had a new baby boy, and Dave is just as happy as if it was his."

Another Ohio paper said a drunk driver was charged with "crashing into Miss Miller's rear end, which was sticking out into the road." Another Ohio paper told of a lady who was married to a Walter Jackson and to this "union" was born three children.

A church supper was advertised as offering potato pie and said in the same paragraph that the pastor would preach on a "Night of Horror."

Sometimes they come in pairs. A New Zealand paper said: "By an unfortunate typographical error, we were made to say that Mr. was a member of the 'defective branch of the police force,' whereas this of course should have been the 'detective branch of the police force.'"

Nothing Was Done

While Seminole County is considering the establishment of a Health Unit, financed in part by State and Federal funds, it is important to know the high per capita rate of syphilis in this state and to remember that the eradication and control of syphilis is but one of the primary functions of the Health Unit.

Calling it "Florida's Hideous Record," the Melbourne Times recalls that at the time of the first World War Florida was found to have the largest incidence of syphilis among white men of any other state in the Union. Not much was done about it then, though everyone was sorely shocked to learn the truth, and the condition still exists.

"Twenty-two years have passed since 1917," the Times continues, "and today Florida again holds the disgraceful record of leading the forty-eight states in the incidence of syphilis among white men summoned to military duty! When the statistics are completed in regard to the incidence of syphilis among negroes summoned to military duty, Florida will again stand near the top of the roll of dishonor and shame, for Florida health authorities have long admitted that 25 percent of Florida negroes are syphilitics.

From syphilitics come the blind babies. From syphilitics come the imbeciles, the paralytics, other kinds of mental cases and serious heart ailments. Recognized as a diabolical disease that is vastly more horrible in its effects than the dreaded "infantile paralysis" from which food parents run, yet it is permitted to dig in deeper and deeper into the homes of Florida.

"Florida with a greater incidence of syphilis among its white men than is found in any other state in the Union! The shame of it! The shame of a state that doesn't fight the scourge with all its strength and all its money!"

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

Last Friday the Nation celebrated "Independence Day." Lively lunged orators made patriotic speeches to groups of citizens and parades were more or less the order of the day. I witnessed one such parade.

It wasn't particularly inspiring. It differed little from similar parades I witnessed in past. Soldiers and sailors, military equipment, officials bowing and smiling from open cars. Children marching with tiny flags, veterans and red cross units, veterans. More bands were heard as the flag went by than was the case a year or so ago, but there was little evidence of sincere reverence and no genuine enthusiasm.

I am not being critical, I'm simply presenting facts. I hope to see the American people wake up and realize that the world is not what it used to be. It is not what it used to be. It is not what it used to be.

THE (WISHFUL) THINKER

Stewart Says:

Kansas Publisher Off to Wars Again On Kiddies' Behalf

BY CHARLES F. STEWART
Central Press Columnist
HENRY IS OFF to the wars again. Henry, of course, is that unlikable partner of the inimitable pair of greatcoat "Kansas Journal" Publishers

Henry J. Allen of Wichita and William Allen White of Emporia. This team's volitional activities abroad are not known as they were busy in World War No. 1. They have been instrumental in White's account. The Martial Adventures of Henry and Me. The trip had a serious consequence for Henry. While Bill went home to Emporia to write his book, Henry took a 60,000-mile journey with Henry P. Davidson, all over America, organizing Red Cross membership. Then he returned to France to establish the American Red Cross Home Communication Service in the A. E. F.

Now he's off to the wars again. He's a bit puglier than the crusading publisher who, before a congressional committee, criticized errors he alleged against General Peter Traub of the Thirty-fifth division in 1918. And certainly he's a mellow personality than the hawkfaced young correspondent who, under a man of Spanish shell, watched the Fifteenth Infantry charge up San Juan Hill and the fighting at El Caney about 43 years ago.

His third war trip takes him to blitzed Britain. John Bull's blitzed babies are the objects of his concern. Executive Director John R. Voris of the American Save the Children Federation drafted him, to become chairman of the British Child Aid committee. Scheduled to leave by Clipper for London some time in July, he may be on his way now, to co-ordinate the efforts of the English state's fundraising campaign with those of its Yankee affiliate's.

Arrangements for his visit were concluded between the state department and the British embassy in Washington. That's how I learned that the publisher Henry's friends still call him "governor," since he served both as Kansas' chief executive and as one of its senators on Capitol Hill in 1912.

He is now serving as a member of the British Child Aid committee—such folk as Mrs. Cordeh Hill, Mrs. Woodell L. Wilkie, Alford E. Smith, Bruce Barton, Irvin S. Cobb, Edgar Guest, William Allen White, Ray Lyman Wilbur, Rabbi Rudolph I. Coffe, William Green and Mary E. Woolley.

Under the committee's auspices thousands of blitzed Brits have been "adopted" by American "God parents." For $30 annually an adopter provides his or her adoptee with the extra food and clothing required in that particular little Brit's case. Frequently Sunday school classes, bridge clubs and the like have raised funds for the adoption of several such youngsters. In each instance the American adopter receives a case history of that adopter's adoptee, and usually a picture. If the youngster is old enough, a touching correspondence generally follows, between adopter and adoptee.

The British committee likewise arranges American sponsorship for shelter homes in the English metropolitan centers. For example, suppose a Rotary or Kiwanis club finances one of these homes at an annual $5,000. That home's named after the contributing organization, and a sign's posted accordingly—structurally. "Thank Kiwanis Club Home." The $5,000 covers for about 20 children for a year.

Gov. Allen's mission is to inspect as many shelters and contact as many adoptees as he can, then to return with a first-hand study of the work that's been accomplished and to report accordingly to his committee.

Maritime Commission Buys 4 Italian Ships

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—Edward H. Foley, Jr., general counsel of the Treasury, said Monday that the Maritime Commission has purchased four of the Italian vessels immobilized in American ports.

He told of the purchases in explaining why they were not among the 15 Italian and one German ships against which the secretary has started confiscation proceedings.

The four ships are the Irenia and Confidanza at Jacksonville, Fla., the Colorado at Galveston, and the Clara at Savannah.

Defense Effort Of New England Is Film Subject

How the six populous and industrial states of New England have mobilized for preparedness and are today "falling their full weight" in the national emergency proclaimed by President Roosevelt is depicted in the latest March of Time film, "New England's Eight Million Yankees," which will be shown tomorrow and Thursday at the Ritz Theater.

Of all the states in the Union, the March of Time film points out those comprising the New England group be closest to the Atlantic theater of war. The people of New England, whose indomitable spirit has brought them through many ordeals in the nation's past, have been among the first to accept the challenge of World War II and are now united and prepared for the ordeal to come.

The film shows New England Yankees in action, serving as volunteer airplane spotters, working on defense construction in shipyards and factories, buying defense bonds and savings stamps, and contributing in every way possible to the nation's all-out war effort.

Typical of the 100 percent American community is the little town of Exeter, New Hampshire, where every citizen is today keenly aware of his responsibility to his country and is doing something about it. In a special sequence incorporated in the film, the March of Time shows how Exeter's people are shaping their lives and work to meet the needs of national defense.

"New England's Eight Million Yankees" is the first of a series of "regional" films to be produced by the March of Time. It will be followed by "Midwest's 40 Million Americans," "Midwest's 40 Million Americans," and other stories designed to acquaint Americans everywhere with the special role that each section of the U. S. is playing today in the common cause of national defense.

But we should stop and consider the fact that our children live in the same world and realize that their conflict in ideas and ideologies are no less acute and momentous of their own time. It cannot be avoided and if our children are to survive and enjoy the freedom and liberty that we have enjoyed, it is up to you and me to help them to do so. We should make them aware of the world that they are living in and the responsibilities that they have to it.

But with all that, I made the contrast in my mind between Germany's children and ours. I thought of the children who are being raised in a world of hate and of the children who are being raised in a world of love. WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Things that couldn't happen anywhere else: Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard now knows what the alley gump meant when they yelled, "Cheese it, guys!"

The Secretary suggested that United States cheese consumers might cut down their nibbling and make it possible to ship more cheese to England, where the folks miss their Dutch Scandinavian and Swiss products.

Apparently Mr. Wickard stuck his nose into it, because from the cheese country, especially Wisconsin, has come a fuss such as the kindly gentle Secretary had never heaved up.

Rep. Reid F. Murray of Wisconsin nabbed the whiffwind in Congress. He said that in the cheese country every school boy knows that there is at least two years' supply of that product in the warehouses—and all that in Canada, New Zealand, Australia and the U. S. about 100,000 tons of surplus cheese.

The cheese papers (and a few magazines) in the Washington area pointed out that the cheese business has been full of holes for 15 years and after spending millions trying to get surplus cheese—consumers to get the surplus cheese.

Sanford Legion Juniors Crushed By Leesburg 15-2 Through Costly Errors

Sanford's Legion Juniors were crushed by the Leesburg team in a game played there yesterday as nine hits and six errors accounted for 15 runs while the local club managed to get only three hits and two runs.

The two tallies of the Sanford team came in the sixth inning, but the opposition was so far ahead it made little difference in the score.

One bad inning, the fourth, in which the little Anglers ran away with the contest by scoring seven runs finished the chances of the Sanford team making a comeback sufficient to overcome the early lead of three runs.

Pennington, R. Johnson and Moore were the only Sanford batters to get a base hit, and both Pennington and Johnson made a contribution for a tally.

Scott Wins Bout Over Gomez By Surprise K. O.

TAMPA, July 15. (AP)—Buddy Scott of Washington, D. C., scored a surprise seventh-round knockout over Soltier Tommy Gomez of Camp Blanding last night in a heavyweight bout scheduled for 10 rounds.

It was Gomez's fight through the first six rounds. Scott's three-blow barrage in the seventh that sent the soldier to the canvas for keeps took the crowd of 2,500 by complete surprise.

Scott weighed 184 and Gomez 167.

Gomez had staggered Scott in the second and sixth rounds and appeared to be having things his own way. Then in the seventh, Scott poked a left to Gomez's stomach and another to the soldier's chin, and Gomez, apparently in a daze, was wide open for Scott's whistling right to the chin.

It was the first knockout and the second defeat for Gomez in his short but spectacular career as a heavyweight. Only 20 years old, Gomez had been regarded as a likely contender for the title.

Pruett Sold To Charleston Club

GAINESVILLE, July 15. (AP)—Club President Fred Cone said Monday that negotiations had been all but completed for the outright sale of Jimmy Pruet to Charleston of the class B South Atlantic League.

Pruett played his last game for the G-Men of the class D Florida State League and will probably leave for Charleston today.

Cone said the local club would get $150 when Pruet reports to Charleston and $500 more if he makes good.

Andy K Is Winner Of Ten Point Purse

NEW YORK, July 15. (AP)—Andy K, Tony Pelletieri's speedy colt that easily took the three-year-old "tamperet championship" last year, came back to the races Monday and won the Ten Point Purse, a $2000 overnight sprint, at Empire City.

Packing 125 pounds, he raced five and three-quarters furlongs in 1:09 to win by a head from Mrs. C. S. Bromley's Sungino, Mrs. Alice F. Sherman's Grey Wolf, was a close-up third. Andy K was made a $5.40 for $2 favorite by the crowd of 12,304.

C. V. Whitney's Yankee Chance, rated a 2-5 favorite over three rivals in the mile and a sixteenth secondary feature, barely managed to score by a head over Abbe Pierre, a rank outsider.

Russians Continue Counter-Offensive On Central Front

Enemy Driven Back, Soviet Dispatches From Front Claim; Nazis Still Terse

Red Army Unit Said Destroyed

U. S. S. R. Air Losses Placed By German Agency At 7,182

LONDON July 16.—(AP)—Russia said today that even if Moscow should fall to the advancing Germans, the Soviet Union's widely dispersed industries would be able to keep the Red Army in the field.

German Panzer columns, knifing deep into the Stalin Line toward Leningrad, were reported today to have "wiped out" the Soviet army forces at Bjelaja, 87 miles east of Pskov, but the Russians asserted their Red army smashed the new salient and hurled the invaders back.

Soviet dispatches from the front said the fierce Russian counter-offensive continued on the central front, west of the Dnepr River and that the Germans had been driven back even farther than the 18 miles reported yesterday.

Adolf Hitler's field headquarters again reported today that operations of the 24-day invasion were "proceeding favorably" and that "in several places desperate counter-attacks were repulsed with bloody losses to the enemy."

Moscow war communiques indicated the Germans were making little if any progress toward Kiev, Ukraine capital.

Lacking reports of the spectacular successes such as marked the blitzkrieg sweep through Belgium, Holland and France last summer, the Nazis traced from Hitler's two-entente communiques to press dispatches ascribing the Luftwaffe was spreading havoc among Soviet communications behind the lines.

DMB, German news agency, placed Soviet air losses to date at 7,182 planes.

The Russians claimed today to have virtually annihilated advanced German motorized forces striking at Leningrad from the Pskov-Parkhov sector, some 175 miles to the north and to have held fast at the Red center about Vitebsk in violent fighting that cost many dead on both sides.

Along the Ukrainian front, Moscow by radio, war communiques pictured the Nazi drive on Kiev as halted and arrested, moreover that German tank units had not so far advanced as to be in a difficult situation.

This estimate of the situation was almost diametrically opposite to that of the Germans, who claimed successfully that their northern forces had reached nearly to Novgorod, which is only 100 miles southeast of Leningrad, and that the last, counter-attack of the Stalin army in the Vitebsk area before the city was occupied by Nazi troops.

About Pskov-Parkhov, the Soviet command's communiques said, German tank units were surrounded and destroyed "with heavy losses" while the remaining Nazi troops in that area were driven back to the west.

Summer Camps Termed Vital Help To Boys

Kwanis Told Boys Learn Self-Reliance At Camp

"Summer camps do something to the boys self reliance and the spirit of give and take that no other agency can do," J. H. Morris, director of Camp Winona and principal of the Junior High School, said yesterday.

These camps give the boys their regular weekly luncheon meeting at the Valdes Hotel today.

Mr. Morris, after describing the activities and program of Camp Winona, introduced three of the young campers, Charlie McMillan, Holden David and Ted Hayes, each of whom told what the camp meant to them.

Typical of the reaction of boys who attend the annual sessions of Camp Winona at DeLeon Springs, Mr. Morris said, "I don't know how to describe the camp, but it is a little cooking and wash dishes."

The boys are placed in groups of eight or nine in the cabins, the director explained, and learn to take care of themselves.

Mr. Morris was introduced by Dr. W. P. Bahaman, who was president of the group. J. P. Harrison, president of the meeting, and Frank Sandler of La Grange, Ga., brother-in-law of Kwanian Frank Sandler, was introduced as a visitor by G. D. Workman.

Japan's Cabinet Quits Suddenly; Matsuoka Leaves

Group Placed Nippon In Axis Line-Up, Made Soviet Pact

HAVANA, CUBA, July 16.—(AP)—The Cuban cabinet resigned today to facilitate the reorganization of the government by President Fulencio Batista.

TOKYO, July 16.—(AP)—The cabinet of Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye, which put Japan in the Axis line-up and bound her in a neutrality accord with Soviet Russia, resigned suddenly today.

A palace announcement asserted the resignation en bloc was to strengthen the government's policies in facing the situation at home and confused problems abroad.

Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka, influential in involving Japan in the two major pacts which now are the keystones of her policy, was among those who went out.

Speculation was that Japan might be planning a stronger pro-Axis policy, or possibly to withdraw from all European commitments.

Elsewhere on the war front, twenty-one years of war in Syria and Lebanon, ended yesterday as the mandate was turned over to British occupation under the terms of Monday's Armistice.

These terms gave to Great Britain and her Free French allies all naval and military aviation facilities and equipment in Syria and Lebanon, including ships, planes and fuel.

However, Paris newspapers reported that before the armistice most French munitions and reserve stocks of gasoline had been destroyed by order of the French High Command in Syria; all French boats were reported to have left Syrian and Lebanese ports and French airplanes to have been flown to Turkey and North Africa so that they would not fall into British hands.

Mr. Higgins said 191 airports in the United States were submitted for defense funds, and the committee selected 149 from this group after hearing last week.

"The amount of money to be spent and the type of improvement to be made will be released through the United States Public Relations Office in a short time," the chamber secretary stated.

Harper Explains Set-up Of Guard Unit To Jaycees

Clyde Ramsey To Replace Delgado As Citrus Chairman

E. C. Harper, captain of Company 18 of the Florida Defense Force, explained the set-up of the home defense unit at a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce last night at the Palma and Pine dining room on the Sanford-Orlando Highway.

Two new heads of committees were appointed at a business session during the meeting. Clyde Ramsey was named chairman of the Jaycee citrus committee to replace Eloy Delgado, who has been transferred to Orlando.

Four new members were appointed to the principal activities of the Defense Force at present are firing sub-caliber rifles, learning military discipline and formations, and handling 30 caliber rifles.

Men from the ages of 18 to 45 are eligible to become members of the unit, Captain Harper said, and the term of enlistment is for three years. Discharges may be granted, however, if a member leaves for town or has some other valid reason.

Those in the Defense Force serve voluntarily and without pay, Captain Harper said, except when they are called to active duty in times of emergency such as fires, storms or mob violence.

They also may be summoned when martial law is declared, which has only happened twice in the history of Florida, Captain Harper explained. One of these times, he added, was in the Jacksonville fire of 1901. When called to active duty, the Defense Force members would serve under civil authorities such as the police, it was stated.

Stolen Auto Is Recovered In 3 Hours By Police

"Efficiency plus" might well be adopted as the motto of the Sanford Police Department, based on its quick action in recovering a stolen car belonging to John Kader early this morning.

Mr. Kader telephoned the Police Station at 12:05 A. M. today that his car, a 1930 Chevrolet coach, had been stolen. Chief W. Williams said immediately a call was radiated to the police cars, which were asked to be on the lookout for the automobile.

Officers Charles Dunn, Jr., and Louis Barberis were coming north on Mellonville Avenue in their police car when they saw a car heading east traveling at a high rate of speed. Chief Williams related.

The two officers chased the car, and when they were nearer saw that it had its motor plate. When they stopped it, they found to be the stolen car. The time was 2:30 A. M., less than three hours after Mr. Kader had made his complaint.

Four negroes were occupants of the stolen auto, and all were arrested and taken to the Police Station to await trial. The driver, Webster Thomas, was arrested for larceny of an automobile and for speeding.

Americans Urged To Have More Children

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 16.—(AP)—Harvard sociologist, Carl C. Zimmerman called upon the American people today to have more children.

Speaking at a Harvard summer school conference on tomorrow's children, Zimmerman advocated an immediate increase in the birth rate, saying:

"We need to encourage parents to have their third and fourth children right away, and we must encourage young persons to have their children now so they'll have their third and fourth before they are too old."

He said a mother should have her last child ready for high school by the time she is 40.

They will be followed before the end of the month by the 31st and 43rd Divisions from this camp, the fourth division from Fort Benning, Ga., and special fourth corps units from here and from Jacksonville.

There had been reports that neither the 43rd Division nor the 31st Division would make the trip to the war games but the fourth corps headquarters announced that only the 74th Field Artillery Brigade will be left here to do guard duty while the other troops are away. The brigade includes the 17th Regiment from Georgia and the 172nd from New Hampshire and the 35th from the regular Army.

The 31st Division and the 118th Engineers Regiment of the 43rd Division preceded the other troops to the maneuver area rendezvous near Fort Benning, Ga., to prepare roads, bridges, sanitation facilities and water supply places along the lines the motor convoys will follow.

Axis Assails Roosevelt For Foreign Policy

President Said Circling Like Vulture Over Cape Verde And Azores Isles

Aggression Is Charged To U. S.

Spokesman Says Two Powers Are Ready To Meet America

BERLIN, July 16.—(AP)—German newspapers vied with each other in bitterly assailing President Roosevelt today after Deutsche Diplomatisch-Politische Korrespondenz, foreign office mouthpiece, accused him of trying to push the United States into war "arm in arm with Bolshevism."

The Borsen Zeitung said Roosevelt is "circling like a vulture" over the Azores and Cape Verde Islands.

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung declared the President "breaks his word, constitutional law and international law" while the Lokal Anzeiger observed: "Truly Roosevelt has raised gangsterism to be a symbol in American politics."

Germany and Italy are ready with the "necessary forces" to meet United States "aggression," Virginia Gayda, authoritative Fascist spokesman, asserted in Rome today, charging that President Roosevelt is planning to take advantage of the Axis war against Soviet Russia.

If United States warships fire without warning on Axis vessels, they would reply, Gayda declared, and Japan would do what he said is "her duty."

President Roosevelt warned yesterday that the Army faces disintegration unless Congress revises the selective service law to retain selectees, reservists and National Guardsmen for the period of the national emergency.

The President said at a press conference that the problem is a serious one and he placed the responsibility for finding the answer squarely up to Congress.

He rejected claims coming from many congressmen, including some of his own lieutenants, that extension of the law to retain selectees, reservists and National Guardsmen would constitute a breach of faith with them.

The warning was issued by the president after Undersecretary of War Patterson had urged Congress to approve the extended service plan up to the anticipated restrictions which specify that not more than 500,000 drafted men may be in training at one time.

It was revealed that General Marshall, Army chief of staff, told the Senate Military Affairs committee last week that demobilization of the Army now might lead to a "national tragedy."

The President, who Monday persuaded reluctant congressional leaders to open a drive for retention of the Army's temporary soldiers, said the dispute boils down to this question: In times like these do we want to disintegrate the Army of the United States?

The decision, he said, is up to Congress.

If the law is not changed, he said, the Army—which he described as one of the mainstays to the world—soon will disintegrate, with two-thirds of its personnel returning to private life and their places filled by raw recruits.

The selective service law specifies that reservists, draftees and guardsmen serve only 12 months in the Army unless, in the interim Congress declares a national emergency. In that event the President can extend their service until the emergency ends.

Defense Industry Classes To Start Within Few Days

Young Men Interested In Trade Asked To Register Now

Classes designed to train young men in the ages of 17 to 25 for jobs in defense industries are expected to be started in Sanford in a few days, Alex Johnson, instructor, said today.

"The money has been approved for the course and we are just waiting orders to start," Mr. Johnson said.

Those who are interested in learning a defense trade were asked by the instructor to register as soon as possible, so that he may know how large a class to prepare for. The number allowed to take the course is limited, he said. Federal funds are provided for the classes, and there is no expense to the students, Mr. Johnson pointed out.

The class is expected to be formed in metal work, which will include welding, blacksmith and sheet metal work. Another class will be organized in motor mechanics, and it is hoped to start a third class in small boat building, Mr. Johnson said.

Last week Mr. Johnson attended the conference of agricultural teachers and national defense training supervisors held at Daytona Beach, where the need for industrial training was pointed out. It was shown that at the start of the present war, Germany had 12 million skilled workers whereas the United States had only four million.

It was estimated, Mr. Johnson said, that a minimum of 12 million skilled workmen will be needed in defense production in the United States during 1942. Classes similar to the one in Sanford will be held all over the country to help supply the need for workers.

Those interested in signing for the defense training classes may see Mr. Johnson at the Seminole High School Farm Building.
