

All-State Teams

With Central Florida being loaded in boys basketball this year, it was no wonder that the Florida High School Athletic Association (FHSA) All-State Teams were dominated by players from this area. Four of the six players on the Class 6A All-State First Team were from either Orange, Seminole or Volusia counties.

I-4 pedestrian bridge will link trails

By Dan Ping
Editor

LAKE MARY — When Seminole County applied five years ago for federal money to build a pedestrian bridge over Interstate 4 it could have been called the "Bridge to Nowhere." The bridge was designed to connect Wekiva Trail on the west side of I-4 to Rinehart Trail on the east of the interstate. Neither existed when county officials submitted the funding application. "We actually got the money before those trails were built," said Randy Morris, Seminole County Commissioner. "It's called vision." That vision became reality with Tuesday's ground-breaking ceremony on International Parkway about a half mile south of County Road 46A. The $3.4 million, 373-foot cable stay/suspension bridge is scheduled to be completed in May 2003. "This is indeed an exciting day for Seminole County," said Daryl McLain, Seminole County Commissioner. This is the first pedestrian bridge across I-4 in Seminole County and links two important trails in our network." The trails program has garnered wide support, but it was Morris who has led the push for countywide system of trails. He's been a proponent of a trail system since his service as Lake Mary mayor a decade ago.

McLain's wife may run for his seat

By Dan Ping

SANFORD — The race to fill Daryl McLain's Seminole County Commission seat may include a familiar name — McLain's.

Barbara McLain is contemplating a run for her husband's District 5 seat should he qualify to run for the U.S. House of Representatives in the newly created 24th Congressional district.

While official qualifying for congress doesn't begin until July 15, McLain announced last month he intends to challenge Florida Speaker of the House Tom Feeney in the Republican primary.

Two candidates, Gary Brender and Brenda Carey, have already announced their bids for McLain's county commission seat. Barbara McLain had no comment on her possible candidacy.

"At this point I'm not ready to make any comment," she said.

Daryl McLain, however, confirmed his wife is thinking about entering the race.

"It's something she is considering," McLain said. "Barbara's been very involved with three countywide campaigns, so she knows what it takes. She's also helped me during my time on the county commission. Your spouse is always your partner in anything that you do."

McLain said the possibility of his wife running is not an attempt to circumvent state law which requires elected officials to resign

A New 'Dog'

Michael A. Signorelli wraps hot dogs for hungry customers. Signorelli is the new manager of Billy Boy's Famous Chili Dogs. The business had to move from its 1st Street location in downtown Sanford after the U.S. Postal Service decided to move its retail facilities into the space leased by Billy Boy's.

Billy Boy's Famous Chili Dogs finds new site

SANFORD — Billy Boy's Famous Chili Dogs is staying in Sanford.

Last Tuesday, the more than two-decade old business opened its doors at a new location a few miles down the road from its original downtown site. The eating establishment's new home is at 2473 S. Park Ave.

"People seem to be really happy about our new location," said Billy Boy's Sanford Manager Michael A. Signorelli. "The people who live in this area seem happy we moved closer to them."

"We were sad to leave downtown, but that happens."

Although many people are pleased with Billy Boy's new location, the move wasn't by choice. In April, owner Jack Wells was told Sanford's new post office was moving into the space he rented for Billy Boy's at the corner of Sanford Avenue and 1st Street.

A few weeks later, the deal was signed between the property owner and the U.S. Postal Service, leaving Wells with few options — he could close the Sanford business or quickly relocate to another site within the city.

Fate must like the famous chili dog recipe. In just a few weeks, Wells and Signorelli found the new site and have established the restaurant at the new location. Loyal customers will still find the same orange picnic tables inside the restaurant, along with a few

Schools earn top grades in Florida

Two-thirds of all Seminole County schools earn 'A'

By Michelle Jeria
Managing Editor

Almost two-thirds of the 51 Seminole County schools posting scores received A's on state report card released last week, ranking the county school system as the best in Florida.

Thirty-three schools — 19 elementary, 10 middle and four high schools — earned A's on this year's report card. Schools receiving A's for the first time included Carillon, Heathrow, Evans (in its first year receiving a grade from the state), and Sabal Point elementary schools; and Lawton Chiles, (in its first year receiving a grade from the state), Milwee, Sanford, South Seminole, and Tuskawilla middle schools.

This year, 10 schools posted B's, and 6 schools posted C's. Only one school, Midway Elementary School, posted a D this year, down from last year's C last year. Red Bug Elementary posted an incomplete.

Eighty-one percent of Seminole's elementary schools earned either an A or B this year. Only two of the 32 schools posting grades saw their grades fall from the 2000-01 academic year — English Estates dropped from an A to a B, and Midway dropped from a C to a D.

Seminole's middle schools had an exceptional showing this year, with 10 out of the 11 posting A's — only three posted A's last year. Sanford Middle School received an A after three years of consecutive C's. The lowest grade was a B posted by Millennium Middle School.

High schools also showed a

Juneteenth promotes race unity

By Marva Hawkins
Herald Correspondent

Juneteenth and Race Unity Observance was held Saturday, June 15 by the city of Sanford Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Steering Committee and the Central Florida Bahai Community of Seminole County.

The weather cleared and the sun came out to make for a beautiful day of celebration for the Goldsboro and Sanford community's 2002 celebration joining together all citizens for a day of history, fun, food, games and fellowship.

Members of the community turned out in force on Saturday to celebrate Juneteenth at Coastline Park in Goldsboro. Juneteenth is the oldest celebration of the ending of slavery. It began on June 19, 1865, when Union troops landed in Galveston, Texas, with news that the war had ended and all slaves were free.

The opening ceremonies were presided over by Sally Sherman, Deputy Seminole County Manager. The Sanford Police Color Guard presented the colors, with the honor guard presenting the gun salute in honor of the deceased and fallen police, firemen and citizens who have served their country. Community Resource Officer Tracey Jackson of the Sanford Police Department sang a beautiful rendition of the National

Luna lauded for 30 years of service to Page School

By Michelle Jeria
Managing Editor

SANFORD — Dr. Charaline Luna usually stays out of the spotlight during her school's annual commencement day celebration. She believes it's a day for her students to shine after a year of hard work and achievement.

Monday, however, the Florida superintendent for Page Private School had no choice but to take center stage when she was recognized by her faculty and staff for 30 years in education. Sanford City Commissioner Velma Williams was also on hand during the ceremony to present Luna with a proclamation from the city.

"Dr. Luna is an outstanding individual," Williams said. "Page Private School is a fine school in my district. It's one of many fine public and private schools in Sanford."

Williams also has personal reasons for appreciating Luna's dedication to education. The commissioner's son, Vashaun Williams, and her niece, Tunisia Latsun, are both graduates from Page Private School's Airport Boulevard campus.

Luna began her career in education as a teacher's aid at one of four Page Private School campuses in California. While working, she continued her education and eventually received numerous degrees. She made her way up the career

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Grandparents must intervene to ensure grandchild's safety

DEAR ABBY: My daughter and son-in-law have a 2-year-old and a 3-month-old. They live in a home with steep front stairs and two garages underneath. It's on a corner lot with an unfenced yard in a neighborhood with moderate traffic.

Dear Abby

My husband and I are very worried. They allow their 2-year-old to be alone outside. When we express our concern, they laugh it off and say they only permit it for about five minutes, and if he wants to come back in the house, he can climb the steps and ring the doorbell.

We have warned them that in the blink of an eye, some pervert could pick the child up and they would never see him again — that he could run into the intersection or get seriously hurt on the steps. Other than this lack of judgment, they are good, loving parents. Are Grandma and Grandpa overly protective?

SCARED AND CONCERNED IN SOUTH CAROLINA

DEAR SCARED AND CONCERNED: Not at all. Now, let me get this straight. Your daughter and son-in-law leave their 2-year-old unsupervised in an unfenced yard, and if he wants them, he should climb the stairs and ring the doorbell? What you describe is child endangerment, and if they don't come to their senses immediately, they should be reported.

Your daughter and son-in-law could benefit from parenting classes so they can understand the various stages of child development. Their expectations of their 2-year-old are unrealistic, and the result could be something they'll regret for a lifetime. Please act now.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17. My boyfriend of 2 1/2 years recently broke up with me. He said he loved me, but was no longer in love with me and wanted to date others. He wants us to be just friends.

I am devastated. I can't eat, sleep or concentrate, and the thought of seeing him with another girl makes me physically sick. I don't think I will ever be able to set foot in his home, much less be his friend. He broke my heart, and everything reminds me of him — a song, his favorite foods, places we've been, movies we've seen — everything.

Abby, we had talked about marriage and having a family someday. I simply cannot accept that it's over. I'm in such denial I haven't even shared this terrible blow with my parents. Help me, please.

BROKENHEARTED TEEN IN MAINE

DEAR TEEN: I'm sorry for your pain, but trust me, it hurts only for a while. Let me share with you what I've written about breaking up in my booklet, "What Every Teen Should Know":

"Keep busy. Avoid 'old reminders,' which tend to make you moody and broody. Get rid of the pictures, photos and gifts ... unless you enjoy punishing yourself.

"Attend parties and school affairs, and develop new interests.

"Speak only well of each other — or not at all — after the break.

"Turn a deaf ear to those who want to pry or question you.

"Once it is over, all of the note-writing, phoning or conniving will not help your cause. Don't ask a mutual friend to help you 'get him back.' It will only make you appear foolish.

"Chalk it up to experience and a part of growing up. There is no growth without a little pain."

This booklet may be ordered by sending a business-sized, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $5 (U.S. funds only) to: Dear Abby Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, IL 61054-0447. (Postage is included.)

Pauline Phillips and her daughter Jeanne Phillips share the pseudonym Abigail Van Buren. Write Dear Abby at www.DearAbby.com or P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, CA 90069.

Hawes participates in two-week military exercise

Air Force Airman 1st Class Elliot C. Hawes, son of Elaine V. Robertson, Lake Mary, nearly two weeks training alongside 7,500 fellow service members from all services during the air combat and coastal defense exercise dubbed "Northern Edge" and "Cope Thunder."

For Hawes and his fellow service members it was the ultimate training experience, putting man against the elements and each other. The goal of both exercises was to sharpen their skills in support of air, ground and sea operations in an extreme cold weather environment. Hawes supported the exercise as an aircraft electrical and environment systems specialist.

"The main focus of my job is to troubleshoot any electrical malfunctions that occur on the E-3 Sentry command and control aircraft," said the 2000 graduate of Seminole High School. "Other things I do include repairs on the aircraft landing gear, and cockpit pressurization and temperature controls."

Some of the exercise scenarios took place in an area larger than some of the lower 48 states. The tremendous land mass of Alaska — equal to one-fifth of the continental U.S. — allowed for the employment of weapons, tactics and drills not possible in populated areas, giving the participants valuable cold-weather operations training.

During the two combined exercises, aircrews were subjected to every conceivable threat, while naval and ground forces provided coastal and land defense including anti-terrorism training.

Photo submitted
Air Force Airman 1st Class Elliot C. Hawes performs maintenance on an E-3 Sentry command and control aircraft electrical system during exercise Northern Edge/Cope Thunder, Alaska's military. The two-week exercise, from April 22 to May 3, encouraged joint operations, techniques and procedures to enhance interoperability between the services.

"This exercise has been good because it creates realistic situations and it tests out skills," said Hawes. "It made us better at our jobs, and helps out unit improve as well."

Weather had an enormous effect on the exercise. About 25 percent of the scheduled combat flights were canceled, making the troops feel the harsh effects of northern tier training. The exercise was a challenge and an educational event that showed Hawes why Alaska is viewed as one of the last great frontiers.

"Being stationed in Alaska has been a great experience," he said. "It's a state with mountains, tundra, lots of wildlife and access to the coast — all right at your front door. It's been a real eye-opener."

Hawes and his fellow service members may not be at the end of the Earth, but one thing they will bring away from the training they received in this frigid, isolated practice ground is the ability to fight war there if they are ever asked.

Movie Star Fights Arthritis

HOLLYWOOD — Frankie Avalon almost didn't make the movie Back to the Beach with Annette Funicello. Frankie was experiencing pain in his fingers that was so intense, he couldn't work.

His doctor diagnosed his condition as osteoarthritis, but nothing the doctor gave him relieved the pain. Because of the side effects, Frankie couldn't take steroids or injections.

On the advice of a friend, Frankie visited an herbalist who introduced him to a product now called ZERO PAIN. "That visit certainly changed my life for the better," says Frankie, a former spokesperson for the Arthritis Foundation.

ZERO PAIN is a natural herbal roll-on pain reliever that provides deep penetrating warmth through a patented Lipocutical® delivery system, along with an ingredient that, according to a leading consumer magazine, when applied continuously actually blocks the pain signals being sent to the brain.

"I've tried other creams and lotions but nothing relieves my pain like Zero Pain. Some people are calling Zero Pain a medical miracle, but I believe breakthrough is more precise," says Frankie. www.zeropain.com

Caribbean tourism group honors Seminole's Jim Pepperdine with lifetime achievement award

Jim Pepperdine, executive vice president and co-founder of Yesawich, Pepperdine and Brown, Orlando, one of Florida's largest marketing service firms, has been named one of three recipients for 2002 of the Caribbean Tourism Organization's (CTO) Lifetime Achievement Award.

Pepperdine was honored in a ceremony conducted during the 2002 Governments of the Caribbean State Ball at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York on May 31. Highlighting the ceremony was the presentation to Pepperdine of a one-of-a-kind globe, symbolizing his role in building the region's tourism marketing program. CTO Secretary-General Jean S. Holder presented the award to Pepperdine, who is the first American-born person to be honored with the CTO Lifetime Achievement Award.

Pepperdine was lauded for his role in fostering the growth of tourism throughout the Caribbean region. From 1972-1974, Pepperdine served as president of the Caribbean Hotel Association, followed by a two-year term as Executive Director of the Caribbean Tourism Association.

In 1974, Pepperdine created and produced "The Caribbean, a World of its Own" the first-ever promotional film about the entire region. The award-winning film portrayed the region as a complete vacation destination, accented by a rich history and culture.

Some of the other achievements for which Pepperdine was honored include:

- Creation of Caribbean Tourism Organization chapters, based on an already successful Pacific Asia Travel Association (PATA) chapter program
- Extension of the Caribbean region's marketing efforts beyond North America, including the establishment of an office in Europe

- Innovative marketing leadership, including the introduction of special Caribbean-themed supplements and inserts in consumer and travel trade magazines.

The Caribbean Tourism Organization is the Caribbean region's tourism development agency, comprised of 31 member governments and a myriad of private sector companies. It is headquartered in Barbados and has marketing offices in New York, London and Toronto.

Yesawich, Pepperdine & Brown (YP&B), for whom Pepperdine is executive vice president, is America's leading marketing, advertising and public relations agency specializing in serving travel and leisure-industry clients. The company's offices—Orlando, New York, Honolulu, Los Angeles, Mexico City and London—serve more than 50 clients worldwide.

Pepperdine and his wife Noemi reside in Heathrow.

Harkins to build new industrial facility in Sanford

Harkins Development Corporation, a Lake Mary-based general contractor and design-builder, has secured a new contract for an 8,300 square foot office/warehouse building. Developed for a private investor, the project will be leased upon completion.

Located on a 1-acre site in the North Star Industrial Park, Sanford, Florida, the steel and masonry block building was designed by Michael Penny, R.A. The project is expected to break ground in early July and be completed in five months.

Industrial projects on Harkins Development Corp.'s resume include: Tailored Foam Warehouse, Sub-Zero Refrigeration, Taylor Corp. and Encompass Electrical Technologies (Tri-City Electrical Contractors).

Founded in Central Florida in 1974 by C. William "Bill" Harkins, Harkins Development Corp. provides design build services, planning, land acquisition, land development and general contracting.

The company's Residential Division builds luxury custom homes. The company employs nine at its headquarters in Lake Mary, Florida. For more information visit www.harkinsdevelopment.com.

SCHOOL NEWS

School Notes

Twelve local African American students, including Shanetta Little of Winter Springs High School, received $1,000 college scholarships from the Ronald McDonald House Charities® and McDonald's Central Florida Co-op at the McDonald's Annual Scholarship Awards Luncheon June 11.

The African American Future Achievers scholarship program is designed to assist youth who face a widening education gap. The goal of Ronald McDonald House Charities® is to provide scholarships in communities that will result in greater opportunities for youth to access higher education.

The program awards scholarships to local graduating high school seniors entering a post-secondary education program at a college of their choice. Scholarship recipients are screened through a written application and essay. Awards are granted based on attendance, grade-point average, community service and personal statements.

"We are dedicated to impacting the lives of young people in the African American community," said Leo Lopez, local owner/operator and President of the Central Florida McDonald's Co-op. "We are proud to recognize their outstanding accomplishments."

Recently 67 Indian Trails Dividend volunteers were honored at Keeth Elementary for having donated more than 2,700 volunteer hours at Keeth.

The students volunteered at Keeth prior to beginning their own school day. Eight of the students volunteered more than 100 hours each.

The students worked with kindergarten students on developing needed skills and helped the teachers with class preparation. Other students assisted with setting up and installing technology at the school.

The elementary students benefited from these eager volunteers and the middle school students acquired leadership skills and experienced community involvement and civic engagement.

The breakfast was sponsored by Cici's Pizza.

Becky Elliott, Winter Springs High School 10th grader, was recently presented with a $5,000 savings bond for being the top 10th grade winner for her essay entitled "What Memorial Day Means to Me". The Fleet Reserve Association, which is a national organization for retired naval personnel, sponsors the contest.

Students in grades seven through 12 are eligible for the essay contest, which is held to promote Americanism among the nation's youth and provide students with an opportunity to succeed.

Essays were judged on the local level and the top essays from each FRA branch were forwarded to the regional level. From there, the top essay in each region was sent to the national level to be judged. More than 11,000 students participated in this year's contest. The Grand National prize is $15,000 with prizes for each school grade of $5,000.

For the second year in a row, Elisabeth Gilbert, eighth grader from Millennium Middle School, has won the National IFA Reflections Program Award of Excellence.

IFA Reflections is a contest promoting the arts nationwide. Students from Pre-K to high school write stories or poems, create marvelous designs, take photos, or compose musical compositions all within a theme.

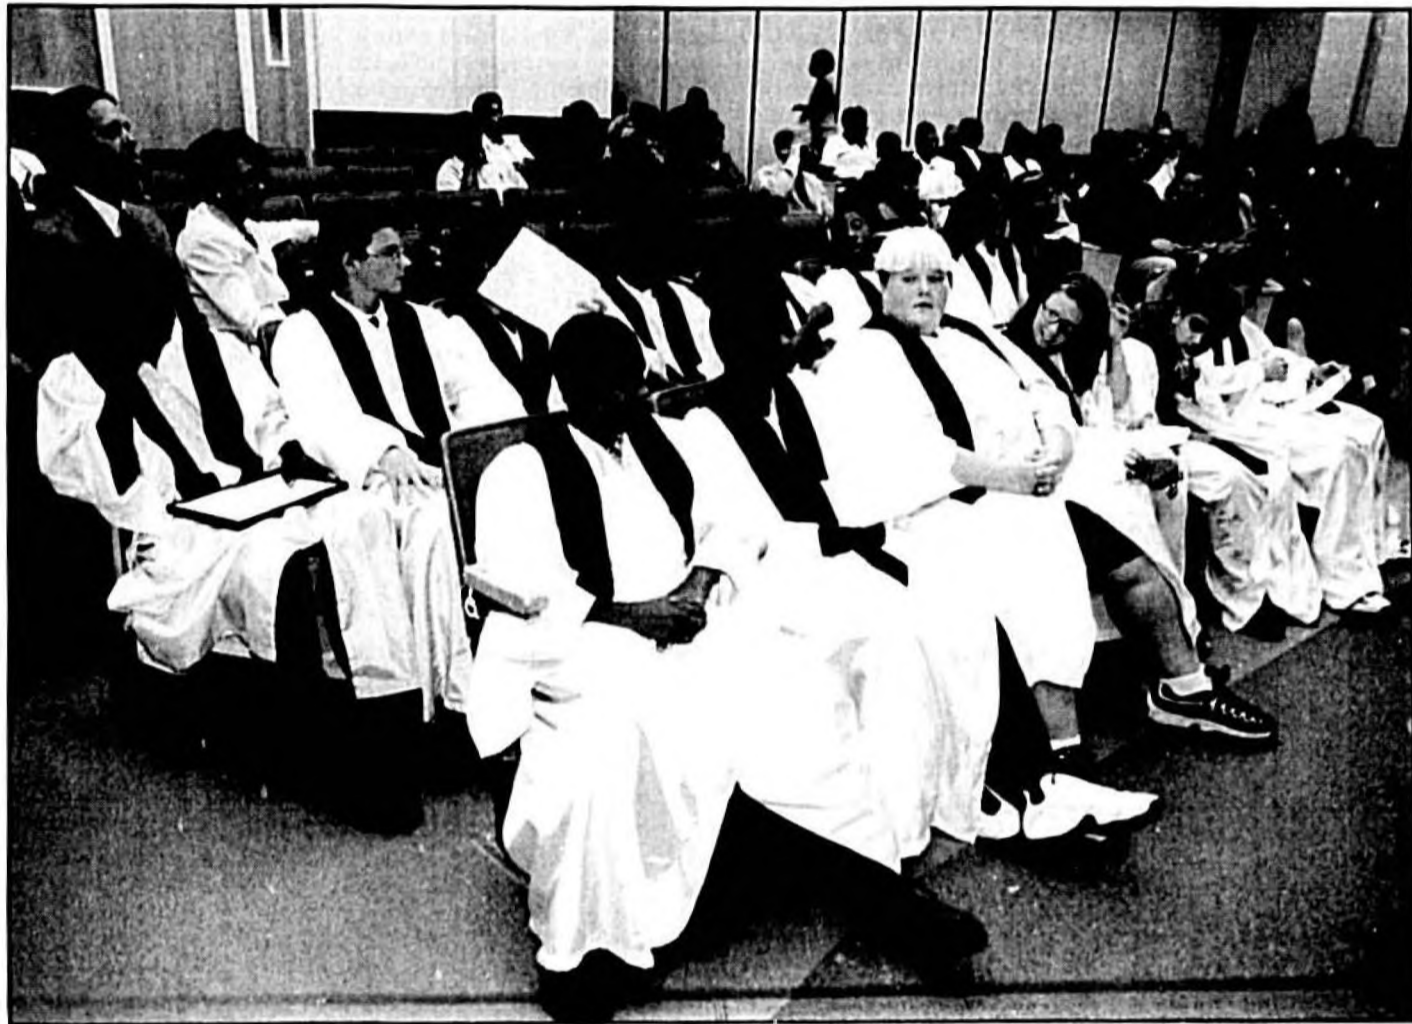

Seminole County Public Schools took three of the top 16 state awards, and for the second year in a row Gilbert won at the state level.

Devon Charter Middle School math teacher Thomas Cole was the special guest speaker during the school's recent awards and graduation ceremony. Thirteen students this year graduated from the school, which is located in Sanford. The ceremony was held at the Seminole County Education Support Center.

Millennium receives ACE Arts recognition

Only one school in Florida, Seminole County's Millennium Middle, has been awarded the 2002 ACE Arts Achieve Award by Arts for a Complete Education/Florida Alliance for Arts Education.

The award will be presented by Florida First Lady, Columba Bush at the ACE Summer Leadership Conference to be held in Orlando at the Downtown Marriott Hotel on June 24.

The following is the criteria for selection of the Arts Achieve Award:

- Incorporates academics into the arts
- Incorporates arts into the academics
- Involves the majority of the students in the arts
- Arts program is supported by the district
- Has certified personnel in the arts
- Program has statewide appeal

Millennium Middle is the Fine Arts and Communication Magnet for Seminole County Public Schools.

For more information regarding the award or the program call Millennium Middle at 407-320-6550.

Seminole High team competes at Master Open

Members of Seminole High School's Academic Team, coached by Jane Cooper, recently competed internationally in the Knowledge Master Open for the second time this year.

At the end of an exhausting two hours of competition, the team members were frustrated and discouraged, thinking that perhaps smaller groups were more effective or that more preparation of group strategy might have been beneficial. However, Seminole competed so well, the team had actually moved up in the standings. SHS had two more correct answers than in the fall competition for a score of 1410. (The score is awarded based upon both accuracy and speed.) SHS topped the Florida mean score of 1227 and the overall mean, national and international, of 1189.

Seminole moved from seventh place among Florida schools to fifth, and up 10 places in the overall standings. Furthermore, Seminole scored significantly higher than all international entrants.

Students competing in this event included Harry Madhanagopal, Lindsay Griffin, Clarence Stephens, James Miller, Dana Almond, Funto Olayinka, Kevin Chan, Kellie Chan, Anthony Colombo, David Hurley, Justin Valentino, Michael Hypes and Ben Hubbard.

Areas of improvement included math, biology, earth science, health & psychology, fine arts, and recent events. Seminole scored an astounding 100 percent on questions in the fields of biology, earth science, fine arts, recent events, economics & law, and useless trivia.

From this same group came Seminole Orange, who won this year's championship at the SCC Battle of the Brains, and Seminole Black, the runners-up; the regular season Seminole High School Academic Team, which won the county championship; and three members and the coach of the Seminole All-County Academic Team.

Graduating members of the group are hoping to attract the interest of other Seminole High students for the coming year's competitions. Any student may attend practice, announced soon after the beginning of the 2002-2003 school year. Meanwhile, anyone may access the Knowledge Master site to view results and example questions, available at www.greatauk.com

Pre-K Program registration continues during summer

The Seminole County Public Schools Pre-K Program is registering children who will be 4 years old on or before Sept. 1, 2002, for the upcoming school year.

Parents must be working full-time and meet certain income guidelines to qualify for Pre-K services. Families must also reside in Seminole County.

The registration will take place at the Pre-K office located at the Educational Support Center Annex at 1722 W. Airport Blvd. in Sanford. The office window has the following words on it: "Extended Day Services," Exceptional Student Services,

Early Intervention Pre-K."

Parents may register Monday through Friday throughout the summer, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For more information call the Parent Information Hotline at 407-320-0414 for English or 407-320-0415 for Spanish.

ladder, working as a teacher, vice principal and principal.

In the mid-1980s, Page Private School President Charles Vaughan and Luna traveled to Central Florida to research property for a Florida campus. Luna didn't realize that a few months later, she would be moving to the area.

"I told him what I thought about the property and he said, 'Great, when can you move here,'" Luna said. "I called home to my family and told them we were moving to Florida. The only questions my kids asked were if Florida was in the United States and whether it had a McDonald's."

In June 1986, Luna became the director of the Airport Boulevard campus. In 1989, when the University campus opened in Orlando, she became the superintendent for Page Private School's Florida campuses, which now includes the Towne Center campus that opened six years ago.

Serving more than 1,200 children in pre-kindergarten to eighth-grade, Florida's Page Private School has made huge strides since the first campus opened more than 15 years ago. Today, the school has received accreditation from five different organizations, including the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the Florida Council of Independent Schools, the Commission on International Transregional Accreditation, the Florida Kindergarten Council and the Association of Independent Schools of Florida (AISF).

"This is really exciting to us," said Luna, who was recently named first vice president for AISF. "I think we are the only school in Central Florida to receive accreditation for all five groups."

Luna credits the accomplishment to the dedicated faculty and staff at the school and their innovative approach to education. Page Private School was one of the first schools in Florida to have an international modern hook-up with schools in Russia, Puerto Rico and Argentina.

"Twenty to 25 years ago, we were telling parents computers were the wave of the future," Luna said. "It has been a natural progression. As early as 1986, we had beginning programming classes for our first-graders."

As for the future, Luna sees only growth at her school. And, she has no regrets about leaving her native California.

"Coming to a different state was definitely a growth experience," she said. "The warmth the area has given us reinforces how important education is to all of us."

if they decide to run for another office.

"I'm running for congress and that's my focus," McLain said. "My wife has a mind of her own and ideas of her own. She's owned her own business for 20 years. She's deeply committed to maintaining the high quality of life we have here in Seminole County. Barbara is considering public office. It's her decision to make."

Breder and Carey had mixed responses to Barbara McLain entering the District 5 race.

"Certainly it seems like an attempt to keep it all in the family," Breder said. "It's a bit selfish seems like to me."

"I hadn't heard Barbara was running," Carey said. "I welcome the competition."

When he announced his intention to run for congress, Daryl McLain said would endorse a candidate in the race to succeed him. Both Breder and Carey said they don't believe McLain should publicly support a candidate.

"I think the fair thing would be for Daryl not to endorse anybody, but how do you not endorse your wife?" said Breder, a Lake Mary City Commissioner.

"I'm not sure it's fair for any candidate to endorse, name or anoint their successor," Carey said. "I think it's up to the voters of Seminole County to decide who Daryl's successor is going to be."

The deadline to qualify for federal elections is noon Friday, July 19. If McLain qualifies by the July 19 deadline, he is required to resign his county commission position.

"The 'resign-to-run' law says he would have to submit an irrevocable resignation no later than the deadline date to qualify for federal office," said Sandra Goard, supervisor of elections for Seminole County.

Goard said McLain's resignation would become effective Nov. 19.

"If an elected official qualifies for federal office, the resignation takes effect on the date the official would take federal office — if elected — or the date his successor takes office, whichever is earlier," Goard said.

Because primary and general elections are scheduled for this fall, Goard said there is no need to set a special election to fill McLain's seat.

Should McLain enter the federal race by July 19, anyone considering a run for McLain's seat would have a week to decide whether to enter the race because local qualifying begins at noon Monday, July 22, and ends noon Friday, July 26.

The primary election is Sept. 10, with the general election on Nov. 5.

Anthem. Invocation was given by Rev. Benjamin Adams. Melvin Philpot, co-chairman of the MLK Jr. Steering Committee, gave the purpose and introduced Mayor Brady Lessard, and Chief Deputy Steve Harriet. These officials and community leaders gave words of encouragement to the young people of our community.

The lesson strengthens the African American community and brings unity to all races in the community. We give honor and respect to those forefathers who helped to lead and worked to bring us to this point in the success of our community. Let's continue to education and be united, and we will have a successful city and community.

Greetings from the Goldsboro Community were given by Goldsboro Front Porch Council, Inc., co-chairman Kenneth Bentley. Linda Medlock extended greetings from the City of Sanford MLK Jr. Steering Committee. Ann Hoffman gave words of greetings on behalf of the...

Carlton Edge of the MLK Jr. Committee gave words of the Juneteenth History to the youth of the community.

vast improvement with six of seven earning an A or a B. Lake Howell and Lyman posted B's this year after three straight year's of C's. Lake Mary also improved from last year's C to this year's A. The remaining schools received the same grades as last year with Lake Brantley, Winter Springs and Oviedo receiving A's, while Seminole High received a C.

Florida began grading schools in 1999 as part of Gov. Jeb Bush's "A-Plus" reform plan. The grades are based primarily on school scores on the Florida Comprehensive Assessment Test (FCAT), which includes exams in reading, writing and math. Other criteria include the percent of eligible students tested and improvement or decline in reading scores of the lowest performing students.

Statewide, the number of A and B schools increased for the third year, from 21 percent in 1999 to 41 percent in 2001.

Education Commissioner Charlie Crist said he was impressed by the four-year trend of improvement in student performance.

"Our hard-working public school teachers, students, parents and administrators get credit for these accomplishments," Crist said. "The number of A and B schools has increased, and the number of D and F schools has decreased."

Schools that earned an A or increased student performance enough to move up at least one letter grade are eligible to receive a reward of $100 per student as part of the state's School Recognition Program.

Schools have 30 days to appeal their grades prior to final grade assignment.

Sanford Heritage Festival moves to September to honor of city's anniversary

The Sanford Heritage Festival has announced new dates for the 2002 annual music event.

Recognized as Sanford's signature event, the Heritage Festival will move from November to the last weekend in September to help launch the City's yearlong 125th Anniversary Celebration. Sanford was officially incorporated as a municipality Sept. 29, 1877. The annual waterfront street festival in historic downtown Sanford will be held Sept. 27, 28 and 29.

The music event is produced to showcase Sanford's historic downtown and beautiful waterfront. Besides moving dates, Sanford's signature event will introduce a new look. The festival will be staged along Park Avenue from First Street to Seminole Boulevard designed to bridge Sanford's beautiful waterfront with the historic downtown shopping area.

This year's festival will again feature national talent along with some local talent. Previous festivals presented such legendary names as Chubby Checker, Percy Sledge, The Charlie Daniels Band, Lee Roy Parnell, Loverboy and Lonestar.

The family event will again include midway rides, street entertainment, arts, crafts, antiques, local heritage, and the popular authentic Bahamian Marketplace direct from Eleuthera, Bahamas.

The historic downtown area of the event will feature fine arts, crafts, antiques, and collectibles, Saturday and Sunday from noon until 6 p.m. The art, craft and antique show will offer free admission. As with previous festivals, admission to commercial exhibits, main stage entertainment and midway rides will remain $5.

Sponsorship of the Sanford Heritage Festival offers a unique and affordable target marketing opportunity for regional and local corporations, agencies, suppliers and service business. With little doubt, event sponsorship has become one of the hottest marketing trends, outpacing all other forms of media advertising.

Seeking a broader exposure, corporations, agencies, suppliers and local business realize that special events such as the Sanford Heritage Festival offer the perfect opportunity to boost awareness of their products and services and enhance their relationships with the communities they serve. Sanford heritage Festival "Sponsorship Marketing Opportunity" Brochure is now available and includes sponsorship opportunity levels and event specifics.

Past Presenting sponsors have included; Massey Cadillac Oldsmobile, Bahamas Ministry of Tourism, BellSouth Mobility, Budweiser, Central Florida

Regional Hospital, City of Sanford, Florida Lottery, Freschetta Frozen Pizza, Fox 35 WOFL, K92 FM, Pepsi-Cola, Seminole Herald, Seminole County Convention and Visitors Bureau, Star 94.5 FM, Sunbelt Rentals, Uncle Bob's Self Storage, Diamond Glass, Arts and Ends Antiques, Monroe Harbour Marina, William Howard's Jewelers, Eller Media, Enterprise Rent-A-Car, Infinity Outdoor, Potopas Concessions, Seminole Community College, Baldwin Fairchild and Lake Kathryn Estates.

Food vendor and exhibit space applications are now available. Through direct sales/product awareness the Sanford Heritage Festival provides exhibitors exposure to boarder segment of consumers. For additional information on festival exhibit space, sponsorship, or local entertainment opportunities please contact the Sanford Heritage Festival at 407-321-8111.

Military Notes

Marine Corps Pfc. Jason J. Murray, son of Gail P. and Earl C. Murray of Sanford, recently completed the Basic Food Service Course.

During the course with Marine Corps Detachment, U.S. Army Quartermaster Center, Fort Lee, Va, students are taught basic food preparation, management and food services. Studies also included nutrition, meat carving, menu planning, baking, kitchen health and sanitation procedures.

Murray is a 2001 graduate of Seminole High School of Sanford and joined the Marine Corps in July 2001.

Marine Corps Pvt. Kyle D. Williams, son of Jo Ann W. Williams of Sanford, recently completed basic training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

Williams Successfully completed 12 weeks of training designed to challenge new Marine recruits both physically and mentally.

Williams and fellow recruits began their training at 5 a.m. by running three miles and performing calisthenics. In addition to the physical conditioning program, Williams spent numerous hours in classroom and field assignments which included learning first aid, uniform regulations, combat water survival, marksmanship, hand-to-hand combat and assorted weapons training. They performed close order drill and operated as small infantry unit during field training.

Williams and other recruits also received instruction on the Marine Corps' core values—honor, courage and commitment, and what the words mean in guiding personal and professional conduct.

Williams is a 2001 graduate of Seminole High School of Sanford.

"It all started because of safety and the lack of sidewalks," Morris said. "It's a safety hazard to have school kids walking in the streets because there aren't enough sidewalks or trails. Same for those who exercise."

The county agreed to work with Lake Mary, Morris said, and he continued to push for more enhancements when he was elected to county commission. Voters in 2000 approved a $20 million natural lands program that will protect important environmental areas and build 68 miles of paved and 20 miles of unpaved trails.

"What you got to remember is that $20 million is the local portion," Morris said, "we also get a $20 million match in state money."

McLain noted that the natural lands referendum passed overwhelmingly, indicating that Seminole residents value the trails program.

"The trail system has increase property values," McLain said. "When we first proposed the trail system, we had some opposition from home owners. Now I would venture to say that almost 100 percent of the property owners see a value in the countywide trail system."

Certainly the residents along Rinehart Road see the value in the trails. Five home owners' associations — Hills of Lake Mary, Timacuan, Woodbridge Lakes, Manderley and The Forest — have pledged to raise $500,000 to make improvements to the Rinehart Trail.

"We're going to do the grass roots thing," said Darrell Jarvis, former president of the Manderley Home Owners' Association. "We're going to secure 10 business sponsorships of $25,000 and raise the rest through citizen participation."

Jarvis said the money would be used to improve the aesthetics of the Rinehart Trail.

"Over the years the associations and the residents agreed to share information so one subdivision isn't pitted against another — which can happen," Jarvis said. "As a group, we had approached the city on other issues. The city has been good to work with, so our idea was 'What can we do along Rinehart Road to help the city.'"

McLain said the associations' fund-raising drive shows that residents "believe trails are an important quality of life issue."

An artist's drawing of what the new pedestrian bridge will look like.

"Residents understand how the trails are important to mobility and recreation in the county," McLain said.

While the partnerships between the residents, county, municipalities and state agencies were key to developing the pedestrian bridge project, Morris singled out two for special praise: The Pizzuti Companies and the United States Postal Service. Both entities provided property at no cost for the "landing areas" pedestrians will use to access the bridge.

"That was a big help and certainly keep the total cost of the project down," Morris said. "If we had to pay for the landing areas, it would have been much more expensive."

The pedestrian bridge will be part of the Cross Seminole Trail, which is part of the Cross Florida Trail, a nationally recognized trail system.

new additions. Billy Boy's new location is the former Super Discount Beverage Store. Wells and Signorelli decided to combine the convenience of a local market with the tasty tradition of chili dogs and hamburgers.

"This was originally a beverage store, so we decided to keep the convenience," Signorelli said. "If someone needs to pick up a six-pack of Coke, they can do it when the stop by to get a chili dog."

Now that Billy Boy's has overcome the hassle of relocation, expansion is in its future. In just a few weeks, Billy Boy's Apopka will open at the corner of state roads 441 and 436.

Signorelli said Port Orange might also one day be the home of another Billy Boy's.

As the 20-year old business continues to expand into new markets, Signorelli hopes the original will continue to thrive in Sanford. He's even planning a celebration for the Fourth of July to welcome new customers.

"Everything happened so fast, we really didn't have time to do something about the new location," Signorelli said. "We want to try something for the Fourth. We would like to get with the city and have some kind of fireworks show in the parking lot. That would be great."

College football games on TV

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO — This summer Sunshine Network, the Florida cable home of University of Florida, Florida State University and University of Central Florida athletics, is providing football fans a chance to relive some of the most exciting moments from the 2001 college football season.

There will also be an added treat in store for Gator football fans this summer as Sunshine Network premieres a special television series tomorrow (Thursday).

Produced by Target Sports Media/UAA, "Gator Football Flashback" takes a look back at some of the most memorable plays and players from past seasons of Gator gridiron glory.

"Gator Football Flashback," premieres Thursday at 7 p.m., with the first edition profiling the '90 and '91 seasons. The series will air statewide to over 5.7 million homes throughout the summer exclusively on Sunshine Network, the Florida cable home of Gator athletics.

Each edition in the new series includes highlights from each season as well as interviews with coaches and those players integral in each team's success. Fans will be able to relive former head coach Steve Spurrier's first and last seasons, with players such as Shane Matthews, Heisman trophy winner Danny Wuerffel and Rex Grossman, as well as the school's 1996 National Championship season.

The season highlight videos have been produced as part of the Gators Home Video Series. For more information, log on to Gatorsvideo.com.

Sanford's Nate Williams overcame many obstacles to graduate from Fairfield University.

Determination wins out

Coaching on and off field leads to degree for Williams

By Nancy Habetz
Special to the Herald

FAIRFIELD, Conn. — Nathaniel Williams was an athletic standout at Seminole High School, leading his football team to victory in the Seminole Athletic Conference with the most tackles and earning Most Outstanding Defensive Player status. In wrestling he was a two-time state qualifier.

But it's in tackling problems in everyday life and in the classroom that his success really shines.

On Sunday, May 19, at Fairfield University in Connecticut, Nathaniel was awarded a Bachelor of Science Degree in Information Systems with a minor in mathematics, having overcome obstacles that would have slowed a less determined person.

Along the way, he says, several people helped him to stay on track with his dream.

His grandmother, Rose Lee Williams, who was on hand to see him graduate, has always shared a special bond with Nathaniel. So when he needed a stable environment in the fourth grade, he went to live with her. From the beginning, he says, she encouraged him to read and taught him that homework had to come first. In no time at all his grades improved.

In high school, football and wrestling coach Bill Caughell, now the head football coach at Lyman High School, stressed the importance of maintaining good grades.

When Nate, as his friends know him, lost a wrestling match, Coach Caughell used the moment to teach him that anger can destroy your focus. That lesson helped him to win a second match after losing in the first and taught he a valuable life lesson.

"He'd always tell us, 'Life is always going to give you a lot of obstacles; it's how you handle these obstacles that determines the man you will be,'" Nate recalls.

Best in boys basketball

Witherspoon, DuPre top SAC All-State picks

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — With Central Florida being loaded in boys basketball this year, it was no wonder that the Florida High School Athletic Association (FHSAA) All-State Teams were dominated by players from this area.

When the FSWA (Florida Sports Writers Association) released the list, four of the six players on the Class 6A All-State First Team were from either Orange, Seminole or Volusia counties.

Making the team for the second straight year was the defending Class 6A Player-of-the-Year, Shawn Witherspoon from Oviedo.

Other Central Floridians joining the 6-foot-5 forward on the team was 6-foot-3 DeLand guard E.J. Gordon, 6-foot-10 Amare Stoudemire from Cypress Creek and 6-foot-7 Yusef Baker from Evans.

Stephen Cowherd from Stoneman Douglas High School and Alonzo Shivers from Santaluces, rounded out the First Team.

Making the Third Team in Class 6A was forward Robby DuPre from Seminole. The 6-foot-6 shooting forward, who was a four-year starter for Coach Bob Traina, will be attending Campbell University in North Carolina.

Seminole County was well represented with each of the seven Seminole Athletic Conference schools getting at least one player recognized.

Joining Witherspoon from Oviedo were 6-foot senior guard Jake Pickett and 6-foot-5 junior center Grant Herren, both of whom made Class 6A Honorable Mention.

Also being named to the Class 6A Honorable Mention squad from Seminole was 6-foot-6 senior forward Marcus Robinson, who teamed with DuPre to give Arrow Force X one of the strongest front courts in Florida.

Oviedo's Shawn Witherspoon (No. 22, above) and Seminole's Robby DuPre (white uniform, right) were the top two picks out of 10 players from Seminole Athletic Conference schools to make the FHSAA All-State Boys Basketball Teams as selected by the Florida Sports Writers Association. This was the second straight year that Witherspoon has made the Class 6A All-State First Team. As a junior the 6-foot-5 forward was the Florida Class 6A Player of the Year. DuPre, who will be attending Campbell University in North Carolina in the fall, was a four-year starter for Coach Bob Traina and became one of the best outside shooters and rebounders in the state.

All-Conference Boys Lacrosse Teams named

OVIEDO — What a race. Lake Brantley claimed the 2002 Seminole Athletic Conference Boys Lacrosse Championship in one of the tightest battles for an SAC title in the league's history. The Patriots had to go undefeated (6-0) to edge runner-up Oviedo (5-1) by a game. Winter Springs was just another game back, going 4-2 to finish third. Lake Howell (3-3), Lake Mary (2-4), Seminole (1-5) and Lyman (0-6) complete the standings.

Following the season, Dave Shrum, head coach of the championship Lake Brantley squad, was named Coach of the Year in a vote of the coaches.

In another special award, the Oviedo Lions, under coach Eddie Norton, were given the Team Sportsmanship Award.

Six of the seven schools also had players make First Team All-Conference led by three from the Lions, defenseman Nik Holmes, midfielder Tony Morin and attacker Bryan Von Dohlen.

Lake Brantley and Lake Mary each had two representatives, defenseman Chris Hamilton and midfielder Paul Georgelos making it for the Patriots, and defenseman Kyle Cooper and attacker David Sloan being tabbed from the Rams.

SANFORD — If you are in need of a basketball fix now that the NBA season is over, why not head on out to the Salvation Army tomorrow.

A titanic battle is scheduled to take place in the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Spring Adult Church Basketball League at 7:30 p.m. between co-leaders New Life Word Center and Providence.

Providence will enter the game as the favorite, having edged New Life Word Center, 69-67, in their only previous meeting on May 16th.

The game will decide the regular season championship, as this is the regular season finale for the two quintets.

In other games this week, House of Refuge takes on C.H.O.P. at 6:30 p.m. and Grace Apostolic battles God of Prophecy at 8:30 p.m.

Not including games from June 13th, New Life Word Center and Providence are tied for first with 6-1 records and are followed by C.H.O.P. at 3-3, Grace Apostolic at 2-3, God of Prophecy at 2-5 and House of Refuge still looking for that elusive first win after six games.

The results of games played thus far are:

APRIL 25
New Life Word Center 61, God of Prophecy 38.
C.H.O.P. 58, Providence 57.

MAY 2
Providence 65, God of Prophecy 48.

In the classroom, Seminole High teacher Miss Ackerson, played a key role in raising Nate's academic goals. He studied AP calculus with her and she recommended he take a geometry honors course over the summer, giving him a boost for his future studies in mathematics at Fairfield. His work in honors classes in chemistry and physics prepared him, he says, for the challenges of college.

Recruited to play football at Fairfield University, ranked one of the top academic universities in the north by U.S. News & World Report, he underwent knee surgery during his sophomore year that ended his college football career.

He found the same strong academic support at Fairfield that he had experienced at Nate gives a lot of the credit for his success to his grandmother, his grandmother, Rose Lee Williams.

Seminole High. Dr. Ed O'Neill, associate professor of mathematics and computer science, was "always there," and "always willing to help." He recalls going to work with Dr. O'Neill even as late as 10 o'clock at night.

"Because of that I was able to excel in math," Nate comments.

Dr. Winston Tellis, assistant professor of information systems and operations management, brought a humanitarian aspect to his classes, telling students about his own experiences in Haiti and Nicaragua and the micro finance program he was involved in.

"He brought everything back to full circle," Nate says.

One more hurdle took place this year when Nate needed to have glaucoma surgery in November on his left eye.

In December, after an all-night session to finish a history paper, he was rushed to the hospital for emergency surgery for cataracts on the same eye.

Fortunately, he has recovered fully and is ready to get on with his future.

SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT

The 2nd Annual Dustin Kendall Benefit Softball Tournament is scheduled for Saturday, June 29th at Pinehurst Park with proceeds going to help send Dustin, and others if enough money is raised, to Camp Challenge for a week.

The double elimination tournament costs $100 to enter plus two official ASA softballs. The deadline to register a team is Sat., June 22nd.

Team trophies will be awarded for First, Second and Third place and the concession stand will also be open.

For more information, call Jessica or Shawn Kendall (phone: 407-324-1087; email: jwilks6027@aol.com) or Greg Richards (phone: 407-688-1901; email: Gregnval88@aol.com).

"BEAT THE HEAT" GOLF

Magnolia Plantation Golf Club will play host on Wednesday, June 26th to the inaugural golf tournament planned to benefit the State of Florida Chapter of Beat The Heat, Inc.

In its 10th year as a non-profit organization with chapters across the country and in Canada, Beat The Heat, a racing for education, "Cops & Kids" organization, strives annually to reach youths throughout communities with its strong and serious educational platform.

That platform consists of educating young people about the serious problems of drug/alcohol abuse, the horrors of drug/alcohol impaired driving, and the many dangers in street grad racing.

In addition, Beat The Heat, Inc. holds events throughout the year to establish a better understanding between law enforcement and the communities they serve.

"With our cars and various other programs we can help break down barriers that exist between youth and authority figures," said Ryan Bruce, an investigator with the Longwood Police Department who is sponsoring the Florida Chapter. The tournament is open to the public. For information regarding player information, sponsorship opportunities and tournament details, please contact Betsy Nein, Tournament Director at 407-831-9991 or email CNein@aol.com.

All-State

The final two Honorable Mention selections in Class 6A went to two players who were outstanding for teams that had less than stellar seasons. Super shooter Frank Gooch, a 6-foot-4 senior forward, had a great season for Coach Steve Jucker at Lake Brantley, while super phenom Darryl Merthie, a 6-foot guard, was one of the best players in the area despite being just a freshman.

Making Honorable Mention in Class 5A were Isaac Codrey, Ryan Exter and Dan Vermiglio.

Codrey, a 6-foot-7 senior forward, led Lake Howell to its first ever District Championship as the Silver Hawks came within an overtime loss to eventual State Champion Haines City of going to state.

The son of veteran Lake Howell girls coach Dennis Codrey, Isaac will be attending Rollins College.

Exter, a 5-foot-10, junior, guard, was one of the top outside shooters and leading scorers in all of Central Florida for Winter Springs.

The final pick was Dan Vermiglio of Lyman. The 6-foot-3 senior guard was not a great scorer most of the time, instead turning his talents to trying to run the offense for an extremely athletic Greyhound squad, and also concentrating on rebounding and covering the opponent's best offensive player, no matter what size he was.

Commission zips through budget hearing

By Nick Pittman Staff Writer

The Seminole County Commission held what was possibly a record budget hearing Thursday.

With last year's hearings lasting four days, and previous budget hearings taking a week or more, Thursday's meeting was over in less than the time planned — in one day.

The meeting got under way 15 minutes late (8:45 a.m.), with the Sheriff's Office, Environmental Services, Administrative Services and Information Technologies scheduled to be heard in the morning hours. Not only were the presentations quicker than had been planned, but the commissioners also heard presentations from Public Works and Planning and Development, scheduled for the afternoon, and ended the morning session 15 minutes earlier than planned.

The purpose of the budget hearings was to hear specifics from each department, generally on those matters that have to be added to their previously submitted budget. No decisions were to be made. Those will come only after public hearings during the regular commission meetings in September. The department with the most additions to the previously submitted budget was the sheriff's budget, presented by Sheriff Don Eslinger.

Previously, Sheriff Eslinger had requested $56,982,270, which had been trimmed to $56,450,705. Thursday, the sheriff requested additional money. Sheriff Eslinger is now requesting an additional $314,000.

Fake checks land six in county jail

From Staff reports

Six of eight persons accused of being responsible for the manufacturing and passing of counterfeit business checks in Central Florida have been arrested. All eight are residents of Winter Haven in Polk County.

The leader of the group produced counterfeit business checks using the legitimate account numbers of local businesses. Other members of the group would then cash the counterfeit checks, "split" the deposit among them, or deposit them and immediately withdraw the money from the various banks.

The 39 count indictment included charges of racketeering, conspiracy to commit racketeering, grand theft and/or uttering a forged instrument. The investigation by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement and the Office of the Statewide Prosecution documented a total fraud loss of $43,000. Additionally, the investigation revealed that approximately six businesses had been targeted by the organization.

The six persons who have been booked into the Polk County Jail include Catherine Groover, 44, Rhea Franklin, 23, April Howard, 37, Precious Groover, 37, Deborah Wilson, 35, and Ceresia Lewis, 19.

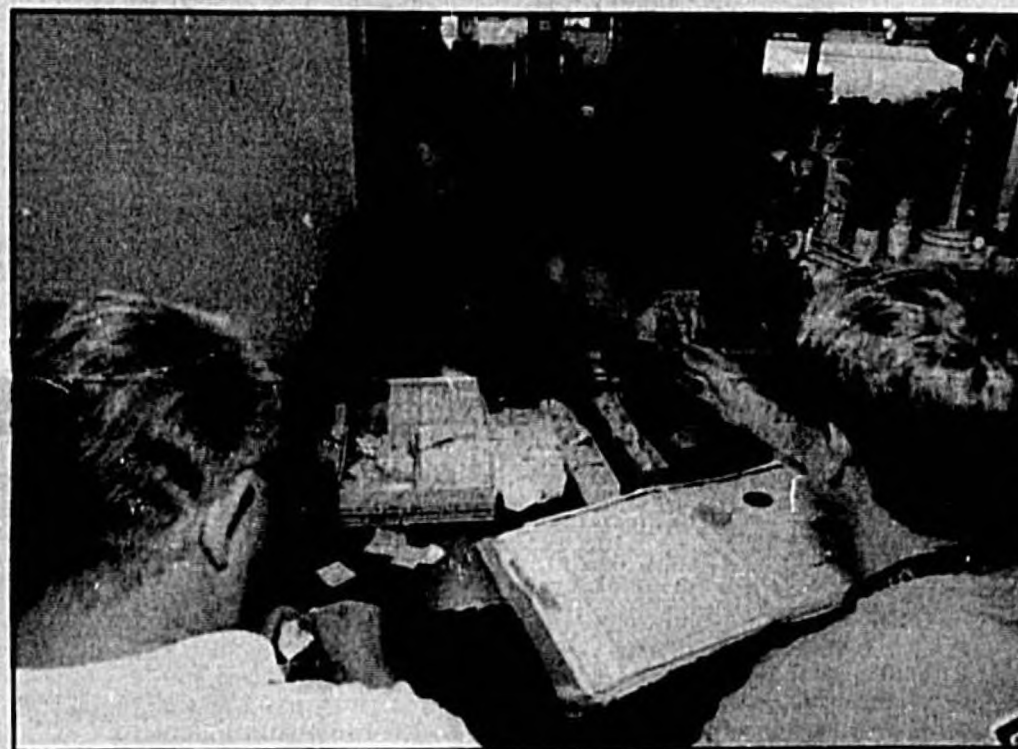

The arrests are the result of lengthy criminal investigations that were conducted through Operation LEGIT (Law Enforcement Getting Identity Thieves). The operation is a statewide taskforce that consists of members of the Florida Department of Law Enforcement, the Florida Highway Patrol and the office of Statewide Prosecution. The taskforce is designed to target major fraud organizations that facilitate their criminal endeavors through identity theft. The investigation is continuing and is expected to result in further indictments and subsequent arrests.

Although initial reports indicate all of the counterfeit activities were in the Polk County area, it may have been spread to other areas of Central Florida.

Anyone with information regarding this matter in the Seminole County area is urged to contact Richard Morera, FDLE Tampa Bay Regional Public Information Officer at 813-878-7300 or Lisa Akhavan, FDLE Orlando Regional Public Information Officer at 407-245-0888.

Coin connoisseur

Numismatist Kenneth Dittmann looks at a rare coin to determine its value and rarity. Dittmann recently opened a showroom in downtown Sanford.

Kenneth Dittmann discusses a coin collection with customers Frank Leister and Don Bonser. Dittmann is a coins, currency and estate jewelry dealer who buys and sells rare items of history.

Sanford's new numismatist loves old money

Michelle Jeria Managing Editor

Kenneth Dittmann likes money. In fact, Sanford's newest numismatist doesn't care if it's a nickel or a greenback — if it's got history, he's interested.

Dittmann's downtown store reflects his passion. Inside glass cases, the Stetson graduate showcases some of his latest rare finds. Currency that has been out of circulation for years can be found next to an old gold cameo discovered by chance in someone's attic.

A numismatist by trade, Dittmann deals in coins, currency and estate jewelry. On most days, he can be found buying and selling pieces of history with his regular clients. "That's what I like most about my job,"

Kiwanis establish Weldon memorial

By Michelle Jeria Managing Editor

SANFORD — The memory and spirit of Dr. Earl S. Weldon is being kept alive through a new college scholarship created by the Kiwanis Club of Sanford.

Earlier this week, the club presented Seminole Community College President E. Ann McGee with a $50,000 check in honor of Weldon. The money will be used to establish a scholarship in Weldon's name, which will help current and future SCC students in their educational endeavors.

"The Kiwanis decided to do this to honor Weldon's service to the Kiwanis and to the community," said Sanford Kiwanis Past President Ron Jernigan.

"We thought it was a great idea to put the money back into the community and to do something that Earl would have liked us to do."

Ron Jernigan Kiwanis Club of Sanford past president

Weldon, who died in May 2001, was the founding president of SCC. In 1965, the Seminole County School Board selected the 36-year-old Florida native to establish the state's 23rd junior college.

During his tenure as president, Weldon saw the school grow from 600 students to more than 30,000, with 600,000 passing through the college's doors during his 30 years as president.

Weldon, however, was known throughout the area for more than just his academic service. He was an active member in the community and was a 38-year active club member in the Sanford Kiwanis club. He was also board chairman and member of Central Florida Regional Hospital, past president and board member of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, and a member of the Presidents Council

State Sen. Jones plans Sanford stop to open headquarters

State Sen. Daryl Jones will be in Sanford Sunday, June 23, to open the Jones for Governor headquarters.

The grand opening will take place Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Seminole County campaign headquarters, located at 2557 Park Avenue.

Local activists, supporters and business leaders will be on hand for the event. The public is invited. Afterward, Jones will campaign in a nearby precinct.

Seminole Herald wins eight Better Weekly awards

From Staff Reports

The staff of The Seminole Herald earned eight awards, including general excellence, in the Florida Press Association's 2001 Better Weekly Newspaper Contest.

Competing in the circulation under 7,000 category, photographer Tommy Vincent, a 28-year veteran of the Herald, won a first-place award in spot news for his picture of an animal control officer capturing a rabid dog.

Vincent also won a third-place award for feature photography for his picture of workers painting the giant flag pole at Memorial Park on the lakefront in Sanford.

Former staff writer Christopher

Patton took home two honors: third place for a feature story detailing the work Seminole County counselors performed in New York City following the Sept. 11 tragedy; and honorable mention in the in-depth reporting category for his articles regarding the problems Sunland Estates residents faced with the development of the Wyndam Place Apartments.

Sports Editor Dean Smith won a third-place award for his story "Dreams do come true" about Sanford natives Tim Raines and Tim Raines Jr. making baseball history by becoming the second father-son duo to play against each other in a Major League game.

Herald staffers won third place in the special issue category for "The Golden Herald," a week-long, daily publication featuring the athletic feats of senior citizens in the Golden Age Games.

The Herald also won a second-place award for front page layout and third place for general excellence.

"Our staff has worked hard to produce a quality newspaper for the community," said Editor Dan Ping. "These awards are nice, but we can't become complacent. We must continue to improve with every issue to deliver a quality newspaper for the citizens of Seminole County."

Judged by the North Carolina Press Association, the contest received 2,113 entries from 91 Florida newspapers.
