PEOPLE COME FROM EVERYWHERE to the County Fair Flea Market. Mrs. Carl Miller (left), a resident of Baldwin, Michigan and Ruby Sjoholm (center), from Lake Mary, look over a vase while Jay Warnick, owner and operator of the County Fair, urges them to make an offer. The County Fair is located at the Sanford Airport, and is the ideal place to find a Christmas present at a real bargain.

JUAN FALCON, owner and operator of FALCON & SON AIR CONDITIONING, HEATING AND REFRIGERATION oversees the construction in the office he will be moving into in less than two weeks. A big grand opening will be held December 15 at his new office. Try Juan "You won't be sorry."

Falcon & Son Moves Upstairs

"I'm very reasonable. Try me! You won't be sorry." That's the motto of FALCON & SON AIR CONDITIONING, HEATING AND REFRIGERATION. Located in the lower level of the Deltona Corporation Realty Company building, FALCON & SON is now in the process of moving to a larger office. The volume of business over the last four months has caused the need for this move. They will be moving into a larger office in the upper level of the same building. When you deal with Juan Falcon, owner and operator of FALCON & SON, you deal with a man who has over five years of experience in the business. Juan moved to Deltona four months ago from Island Park, Long Island, New York, and he opened his business in Deltona the same week. For nine years Juan was the owner and operator of Falcon Air Conditioning, Heating and Refrigeration in New York. But Juan saw the opportunity in Florida and set- tling community of Deltona that attracted him, and he now re-

Three County Men Win Appointments

By FRED VAN PELT

Appointment of three Seminole County residents to various governmental bodies by Gov. Claude Kirk was revealed today: George C. Harden Jr., Sanford, to the Seminole County Port Authority; Thomas E. Gibbs Jr., of Altamonte Springs, to the 18th Judicial Census Commission; and Forrest I. Green, Altamonte Springs, to the Seminole County Housing Authority.

Harden succeeds James Ryan on the Port Authority. Ryan resigned as a board member to accept appointment as administrator of the Port Authority. Harden is a fruit and vegetable grower, cattleman and specializes in quarter horses.

Gibbs also is a member of the County Board of Adjustment. He is employed by the Central Florida Drum Company, of Oviedo. The 18th Judicial Census Commission will make a study to determine whether or not two more Circuit Court judges should be appointed for the district (Seminole and Brevard Counties). There are presently five judges. Volle A. Williams Jr., a resident of Seminole and the other four in Brevard County.

Green, a real estate broker, was named to the County Housing Authority to replace Edwin J. Stewart. The authority is practically inactive at this time, according to Commissioner Greg Truwood, having jurisdiction over minimal public housing in Oviedo.

Moore, Higginbotham Face Run-Off Skop Challenges Entire Vote

By BILL SCOTT

Lee P. Moore and Earl Higginbotham will face each other in a run-off election on Dec. 16 for mayor-commissioner of Sanford. Canvassing board early this afternoon counted 19 absentee ballots; Moore, 10; Higginbotham, 8; and Skop, 1. Moore missed by five votes winning yesterday's election by a majority.

A defeated candidate in Tuesday's municipal election raised the question today whether the voting was legal since the City of Sanford failed to publish a sample ballot as required by law. An adverse decision also could invalidate the municipal elections held Tuesday at Altamonte Springs, Casselberry and Longwood.

Harry Skop, low man of three running for mayor-commissioner of Sanford, cited paragraph 101.20 (2) of the election laws of Florida, which reads, in part: "Upon completion of the list of qualified candidates, the board of County Commissioners shall publish in a newspaper of general circulation, in the county at least seven days before any primary or general election of whatever nature, a sample ballot form..."

Sanford Run-Off Set Dec. 16

Skop was presenting his argument before the Sanford vote canvassing board early this afternoon at City Hall. Unofficial count gave incumbents Lee P. Moore 363 and Earl Higginbotham 297, and Skop 276. Moore lacked 11 votes to tally a majority plus one to clinch the election. Canvassers were making the official count, plus 19 absentee ballots. Moore needs 15 of the 19 absentee ballots to avoid a run-off with Higginbotham on Dec. 16.

A disappointing 2,028 persons, or less than 40 per cent of registered city voters, chose a Sanford insurance man to run in the election.

Altamonte 'No New Taxes'

Altamonte residents are pleased with accomplishments during the last nine years with "no new taxes," returned Mayor W. Lawrence Swafford to office for his fifth consecutive term with a 177 vote majority. With 19 absentee ballots remaining to be canvassed, the tabulation stands at 432 votes for Swafford and 273 for his Republican contender, John Falkenberg Jr.

Incumbent councilman, Keith Nixon, from District 1, also won handsily over his opponent, Kenneth Plank. Nixon gathered 629 votes to Plank's 288. Mrs. Helen Keyser, unopposed candidate for the District 2 seat presently held by William Nichols, received 388 votes.

No apathy existed in the election, with 729 of Altamonte's 875 registered voters going to the polls, exceeding all expectations at 83 per cent.

Swafford was the object of considerable controversy in the weeks. Council authorized city attorney, S. Joseph Davis to collect a sum of $306 incurred in out-of-town expenses by Swafford. If the amount was not collected Davis was authorized to institute suit for recovery.

Swafford was also the target of criticism in an audit by State Auditor, Ernest Ellison in which several expenditures were in question. In both instances Swafford contended that expenses were legitimate and that he had no intention of re-imbursing the city.

Longwood 'Mother' In Politics

Longwood voters, some 651 strong out of the city's total registration of 1,262 eligible voters, turned out yesterday and voted apparent solid approval for the city's incumbent mayor and two incumbent councilmen.

In the majority race, incumbent Curtis Blow faced opposition from real estate broker Raymond Morris and service station operator Arthur Lego. Lego was a former Casselberry city councilman and was bidding for re-election after an absence of two terms.

In the race, Blow overwhelmed his two opponents by receiving 255 votes compared to second running Morris who garnered 181 votes while Lego tallied 126 votes.

In the city council race, incumbent chairman Dr. Edith Duerr proved to be the city's top vote-getter, netting 459 votes. She was followed by incumbent councilman and barber shop operator William Grice, who tallied 245 votes and was also returned to his office.

Dr. Duerr and Grice faced opposition from youthful Stuart Thompson and William Meyerhofer. Thompson rolled up 231 votes in his initial election bid while Meyerhofer picked up 137 votes and ran fourth in the council race.

During the city campaign, Mayor Blow pointed to several projects which had been started under his administration and asked for the voters to return him for completion of these projects. These projects included the proposed city utilities takeover by Casselberry and a joint animal control proposal that could be used in four of South Seminole's municipalities including Casselberry, Longwood, Altamonte and North Orlando.

The two incumbent councilmen, Dr. Duerr and Grice, pointed to their records of watching tax dollars and being the people's voice in all city matters.

This will mark Dr. Duerr's third term on the council while Blow and Grice will be returning to the city body for their second terms.

Casselberry Incumbents Win

Casselberry voters, some 651 strong out of the city's total registration of 1,262 eligible voters, turned out yesterday and voted apparent solid approval for the city's incumbent mayor and two incumbent councilmen.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

You tell me... cause I certainly can't understand it. The south end of the county, faced with equally important problems as was Sanford, turned out in such large numbers that it made you feel proud to know that there were people interested in their government.

Altamonte is an excellent example with 85 per cent voting... and here in Sanford?!

It's like the lady who called and "wanted me to stop the streets around 25th and Park..." "those holes are just being filled with more dirt!" "what are we in, a horse-and-buggy town?" "streets next to it without any houses on it are all paved!" "Did you vote yesterday?" "No, 'cause I was shopping in Orlando and didn't get back 'till after 7."

O.K., so she had an excuse (certainly not a good one)... was everybody else out shopping, too, and didn't get back in time to vote?

I submit to our legislators... introduce a new bill making it mandatory to publish the names of all those who don't vote! (That ought to cause a few wheels to start spinning, I'll betcha.)

Joint committees of Congress yesterday included $20,000 in a public works bill to finance a survey for realignment of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal to bypass the shad spawning grounds between Lake Monroe and Lake Harris, Canal District Chairman John Krider was advised this morning.

Penn State alumnus Gil Pilegar says he can get four tickets to the Orange Bowl (Penn State vs. Missouri) on New Year's... he won't be able to attend and if anyone is interested in having him order 'em for you, give him a buzz at 322-9410.

Nursing Home Buy Is Hit

A Sanford doctor has opposed the purchase of Seminole Lodge nursing home by Seminole County for use by Seminole Memorial Hospital as an annex and holding center for mentally ill patients awaiting transfer to state hospitals for treatment.

Dr. W. Vincent Roberts, Sanford obstetrician and city commissioner, is a strong proponent of the purchase. He said he had prepared a statement for a joint meeting of the hospital board and trustees last night, said he felt the reported $126,000 selling price for the nursing home should be applied to the hospital addition.

"If the hospital trustees and the County Commission are considering additional hospital beds, then I maintain that it should be in the best interest of the future and all the citizens of Seminole County that these facilities be added as an addition to present hospital or development of a second hospital in the southern part of the county or both," Roberts stated.

The physician said he could not see the expenditure of this large amount of money for an initial purchase followed by additional money for renovations, equipment, etc., so that "we can go into the nursing home business."

Dr. Charles Park Jr. indicated that the expenditure of this amount will be held in two weeks when a decision from doctors on prospective purchase will be required.

Schirard said the proposed transaction was waiting on the doctors' opinion before proceeding with purchase. He indicated the nursing home acquisition might not proceed unless there is an overwhelming doctor approval.

It's Spelled Out No More Delays In School Cases

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has spelled it out for its six Southern states — no more legal delay in school desegregation cases.

"The new modus operandi is to require immediate operation as unitary systems," the court said Monday. "Suggested modifications to unitary plans are not to delay implementation."

The court's ruling came Monday as it ordered an immediate start on a two-step desegregation plan in 16 districts scattered across the six states in the circuit — Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

In outlining the plan, the court said immediate desegregation cases involving Mississippi school districts and "it must likewise be effected in all districts and all other school cases now being or which are to be considered in this circuit."

The 16 districts directly involved in Monday's ruling were told the first step must be finished no later than Feb. 1 and must include all that is "necessary to conversion to a unitary system as the merger of student bodies."

In the second step, the court said, the school districts have until the start of the school year next fall to merge the student bodies.

For now, the major emphasis is on desegregating facilities and some facilities—such as school buses.

"Despite the absence of plans, it will be possible to merge facilities and staff, transportation, services, athletics and other extracurricular activities during the present school term," the court said.

One requirement, to be met by Feb. 1, is that the teaching staffs be reassigned so that "in no case will the racial composition of a staff indicate that the school is intended for Negro students or white students."

The ruling said the school district, if necessary, must make acceptance of reassignment to another school "a condition of continued employment."

Other requirements which would apply generally in each district included:

- Teacher assignments, dismissals, demotions, promotions, hiring and salary must be made without racial discrimination.
- A student may transfer within the district if he goes from a school where his race is in the majority to one where it is in the minority.
- School superintendents and boards must "completely re-examine" bus routes to insure that no racial discrimination is practiced.
- A student may transfer within the district if he goes from a school where his race is in the majority to one where it is in the minority.

Search Continues
Seminole County authorities are searching for three men who robbed Hawk Stop Market yesterday of an undetermined amount of cash.

The store located just inside Seminole County on Bear Lake Road at the railroad crossing was one of the four holdings of convenience type stores that occurred in adjacent Orange County by a trio answering the description of the men who James Gleason, manager, said held a gun in his stomach while an older man wearing a plaid uniform took the cash.

There were no customers in the store at the time the hold-up occurred, authorities reported.

The three are believed to have escaped in an auto located near the store.

Cash Registers Ringing A Happy Tune

The cash registers ring out the tune of a happy holiday season. The shoppers' feet are ringing, and the store clerks look like an ad for aspirin. It's Christmas time in Seminole County!

It's a delightful dilemma for the shop owners and managers. To hire more help or to pay overtime pay for the period, again, to save time needed in training new help.

Montgomery Ward, in Seminole Plaza is the vacationing students' delight! Dan Goodson, store manager, has hired about 25 extra salespeople. Many of his temporary helpers are college students, but most are housewives who want to pick up some extra Christmas money.

Chris Eason, store manager of Penney's since April, has hired a few extra clerks. He says he will hire more as the need arises. But his "short hand" people will have their hours extended before new help is added. That will save those previous hours needed to train new people.

McCrory's in Sanford Plaza also has a new store manager, Vern Hahn. He says he has hired three clerks for temporary work through January 15. He'll keep his extra salespeople to help out during the inventory which will follow the holiday season. Hahn will probably add three more. Most of his employees will earn overtime pay for the period, again, to save time needed in training new help.

Roads Must Not Become A Political Casualty!

Hopes for any proper consideration of long-range road plans by the special session of the Florida state legislature have been dashed, perhaps destroyed, by the opening days of 1970.

One need not be a partisan, to recognize that the reception and treatment of the Republican Governor by the Democratic leadership of the legislature was rude, to say the least.

Here was a critical issue — proper road planning and funding — being presented. Here were the elected representatives of the Florida public. This situation alone demanded close attention.

But from the time that the unusually mild Gov. Claude R. Kirk, Jr., stepped to the podium, the manner of his reception and the attitude of the unusually aroused Senate President John Mathews clashed, the "fat was in the fire."

We are distressed by this. We are not surprised at the hostility between the Republican who seeks re-election and the Democrat who wants to return the Mansion to its traditional Democratic occupancy as on record.

We do not underestimate the friction which already exists between the adversaries in the gubernatorial election year of 1970.

We expect it to become hotter and even more violent. But we believe that the issue of road construction is entirely too grave, too important for the future of Florida, to become a burnt offering on the altar of political ambition.

Sometimes, it is true, the people in Seminole County might regard this controversy over the adoption of the 16-year road plan, devised by the County State Road Board, as having very little meaning to the neglected roads needs of our county.

A more complete analysis of the standing of our county on the current debates in Tallahassee, their specific requests for changes in the few highways deemed critical, and their in-depth study of the plan will become available in the near future.

This while Seminole County may not have as much at stake as more favored areas in the 16-year plan, yet this does not mean that voters here should be no more than a passive audience in Tallahassee which is needed.

This is not to imply that all legislators are opposed to the plan nor are remaining silent. Take Senator Bill Gunter (D) of Orlando.

He pointed out that here in Central Florida, "the economic windfall of Walt Disney World and Florida Technological University and all of the accompanying growth, mandates more roads for Central Florida."

"The governor has underlined these needs and the highway needs of all Florida. I concur that it would be short-sighted for the legislature to sit on its hands."

With this we are in agreement.

But we would go even further and ask that the Seminole-Orange legislative delegation act especially, by the Seminole County Commission update the plans to include the real needs which were not known when the 16-year plan was prepared. That was pre-Technological University Florida and Walt Disney World days.

It might be well to keep in mind also, that all of the seats in the Florida House of Representatives will be up for grabs in the general elections next November.

Thus it could be that the political motivation and ambitions of legislators in the lower house could be turned into a very proper channel, as roads become a guideline for vote appeal in 1970.

Once more citizen-voter pressure, properly exerted, is needed!

Anyone reading that sentence who did not know better would assume that the U.S. had priority in the Vietnam war for the Feb. 13-14, 1945, mass fire-bombing of Dresden, Germany.

If David Irving, author of a book on that raid, is even roughly correct in his estimate that 250,000 civilians were killed, the most devastating in human history. He guesses that 135,000 persons, mostly German civilians, but some foreign slave laborers, were killed in an indescribably destructive fire storm. The city's normal 630,000 population was swollen to 1,300,000 by refugees streaming westward away from the advancing Russian front. Our fire-bombing of Tokyo a month later, costing nearly 100,000 Japanese lives, was probably the next worst.

But the Dresden attack was Great Britain's and the U.S. combined. Our fire-bombing of Tokyo a month later, costing nearly 100,000 Japanese lives, was probably the next worst.

Casselberry!!

Casselberry is on the move and so is its city council that creates these moves.

Within the last four months the thriving young South Seminole city has seen fit to adopt a complete, and probably one of the most up to date zoning ordinances in Florida.

The new ordinance is some 104 pages long and spells out zoning measures to take care of the city's growing pains.

Another "giant step" is also in the works for the growing municipality, that of taking over the present privately owned South Seminole Utilities Company and making it into a non-profit corporation that could later be turned over to the city.

With this move, Casselberry is seeking to safeguard its residents and also insure an orderly and progressive growth pattern in this "boom area."

This week the council also showed its feelings toward a progressive and thriving future as all city functions including the police and fire departments were moved into a spanking new city hall-municipal complex valued at $250,000.

The attitude of the Casselberry city council could be a guiding light to other city, state, and national governmental agencies. The words that spell this orderly process are those of "working together."

That's exactly what Casselberry is doing, working together toward an orderly and desirable future with an eye on progress and development.

These steps must be noted, considering that Casselberry is a tax-free city, one that has no ad valorem taxes and one that apparently feels like most city's should; the citizen always comes first.

Political Notebook: Responsibility For Accuracy

By BRUCE HOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — One big trouble with press and television news coverage today is that neither has its midst enough guardians of perspective — people who either "remember" like it was, or care enough to find out.

Much of the error and inaccuracy which creeps into the honest endeavors of hard-working, conscientious media people is a consequence of this lack.

It is not that the media are more vulnerable than it might be to blunders like those of the "New President Agency." Indeed, even as television and press rose in high dudgeon against the excesses of his attack, new errors were being committed in the name of balance and reporting.

One of the new big stories of the year was the Vietnam war with an alleged U.S. Army atrocity against hundreds of South Vietnamese villagers in March of 1968.

Much energetic, imaginative, dedicated labor is going into the digging out of the story by newspapers, magazines, and television. But gross shortcomings in this effort have already appeared.

A Newsweek magazine story illustrates in at least three ways how the individual who reports the story is responsible for its accuracy.

One of the new big stories of the year was the Vietnam war with an alleged U.S. Army atrocity against hundreds of South Vietnamese villagers in March of 1968.

Domestic Comment: War Protests Boomerang

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Evidence is growing that more Americans are becoming increasingly impatient with the anti-war protests — peaceful or violent — and that the reaction to violence is particularly strong.

Some indication of this anti-protest feeling is spreading even among those who may sympathize with the aims of the protesters.

In the news is a Gallup poll taken during the massive Washington San Francisco and assorted Metropolitan-Mobilization anti-Vietnam demonstration of mid-November. In Gallup's sampling (which, of course, may or may not be accurate), 68 per cent approved of the way President Nixon is doing his job, up from 56 per cent a month before.

His poll Nixon slightly ahead of President Eisenhower — the same stage in the presidency.

Now this is very curious. Indeed, Eisenhower had a great deal more chaos than Nixon. He had, by November of his first year in office, made good progress in ending "the war" (Korean then, as compared with Vietnam now). The Korean armistice had been signed July 27, 1953. Inflation was under better control. Consumer prices had moved up a mere 1 per cent between January and October, 1953. In short, very well indeed for Eisenhower.

But Eisenhower did not have massive numbers of people demonstrating against him in

Too Much, Indeed

A municipal judge in Camden, S. C., has ruled that women as well as men will have to park parallel along two blocks of main street, even if the women don't like to park that way.

Crane's Worry Clinic:

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D. M. D.

CASE 1-375. Lena, aged 18, is a college freshman.

"Dr. Crane," she asked, "I am tongue-tied when I meet a new boy and can't do it. I keep up my end of the conversation."

"For when a long pause occurs, I feel so embarrassed that I can't think of a thing to say."

"You lost a couple of boy friends already because I am too quiet and they also don't know how to carry on conversation, so we are both miserable."

In such cases, the victim feels like crying out, "Help, Help."

So use that very word "Help" and you can't then develop any conversational skill.

Break it down into its 4 letters, and employ each one as the opener for a new field of discussion.

"H" stands for hobbies. "L" can usually vent the dialogue around in the collecting of stamps, autographs, old coins, etc.

But the best way to enlist your companion in dialogue is to throw him a cue in the form of a question.

"Bob," Lena can begin, "Did you ever try to collect autographs of famous people, such as baseball stars?"

Usually this "H" topic will enlist his eager participation for his young fellows have been collectors of match made or marbles, bottle caps, trading cards, etc. In their early grammar school years.

Remember, launching a conversation is much like starting an automobile in cold weather. There is much inertia at the outset, so the auto requires that you get the car into low gear, then shift upward to 2nd and high.

Applied to gay dialogue on a date, the first speaker should start the conversational machinery by a question. Then his companion should pick up her cue and finally turn the discussion back to him with another question.

By the time you figuratively get into high gear and reach a momentum like the old 4 mile

Lynn Sherr Says:

By LYNN SHERR
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Once it took fig leaves to make the world's great art works acceptable to a prudish public. Then came centuries of social change, and the fig leaves were dropped away from the likes of Adam and Eve.

Now, author-humorist Dan Greenberg thinks the bodies ought to be covered up again.

With tongue planted morally in cheek, Greenberg, best known for writing "How to Be a Jewish Millionaire," recommends clothing naked paintings and statues in the interest of decency. And he does it, not with fig leaves, but with painted-on clothing.

Greenberg's book, "Porno-Graphica: The Shame of Our Art Museums," is a super put-on which is really more of a "take-it." It consists of 18 reproductions of the world's naked art works, demurely captioned beneath each one with a word or two that suggest modesty and cardboard cutouts in the style of the original artist.

Venus de Milo wears a toga to cover her armpits torso. A Medici nude sports a gilly net around her neck. Michelangelo's Adam and Eve, together with the snake, are attired in bright-hued robes.

And Botticelli's Venus sails along over her half-shell with yards more golden hair than the real Venus.

All the cover-ups are removable — to expose the works as nature.

Even the $2.95 price tag peels off from the book cover.

"I used to sit there in my spare time — as a joke," Greenberg says, "and I wanted to clean them up." And I'm not kidding. There were a lot of old-fashioned or filthy pictures in the house and so I cleaned them up, too."

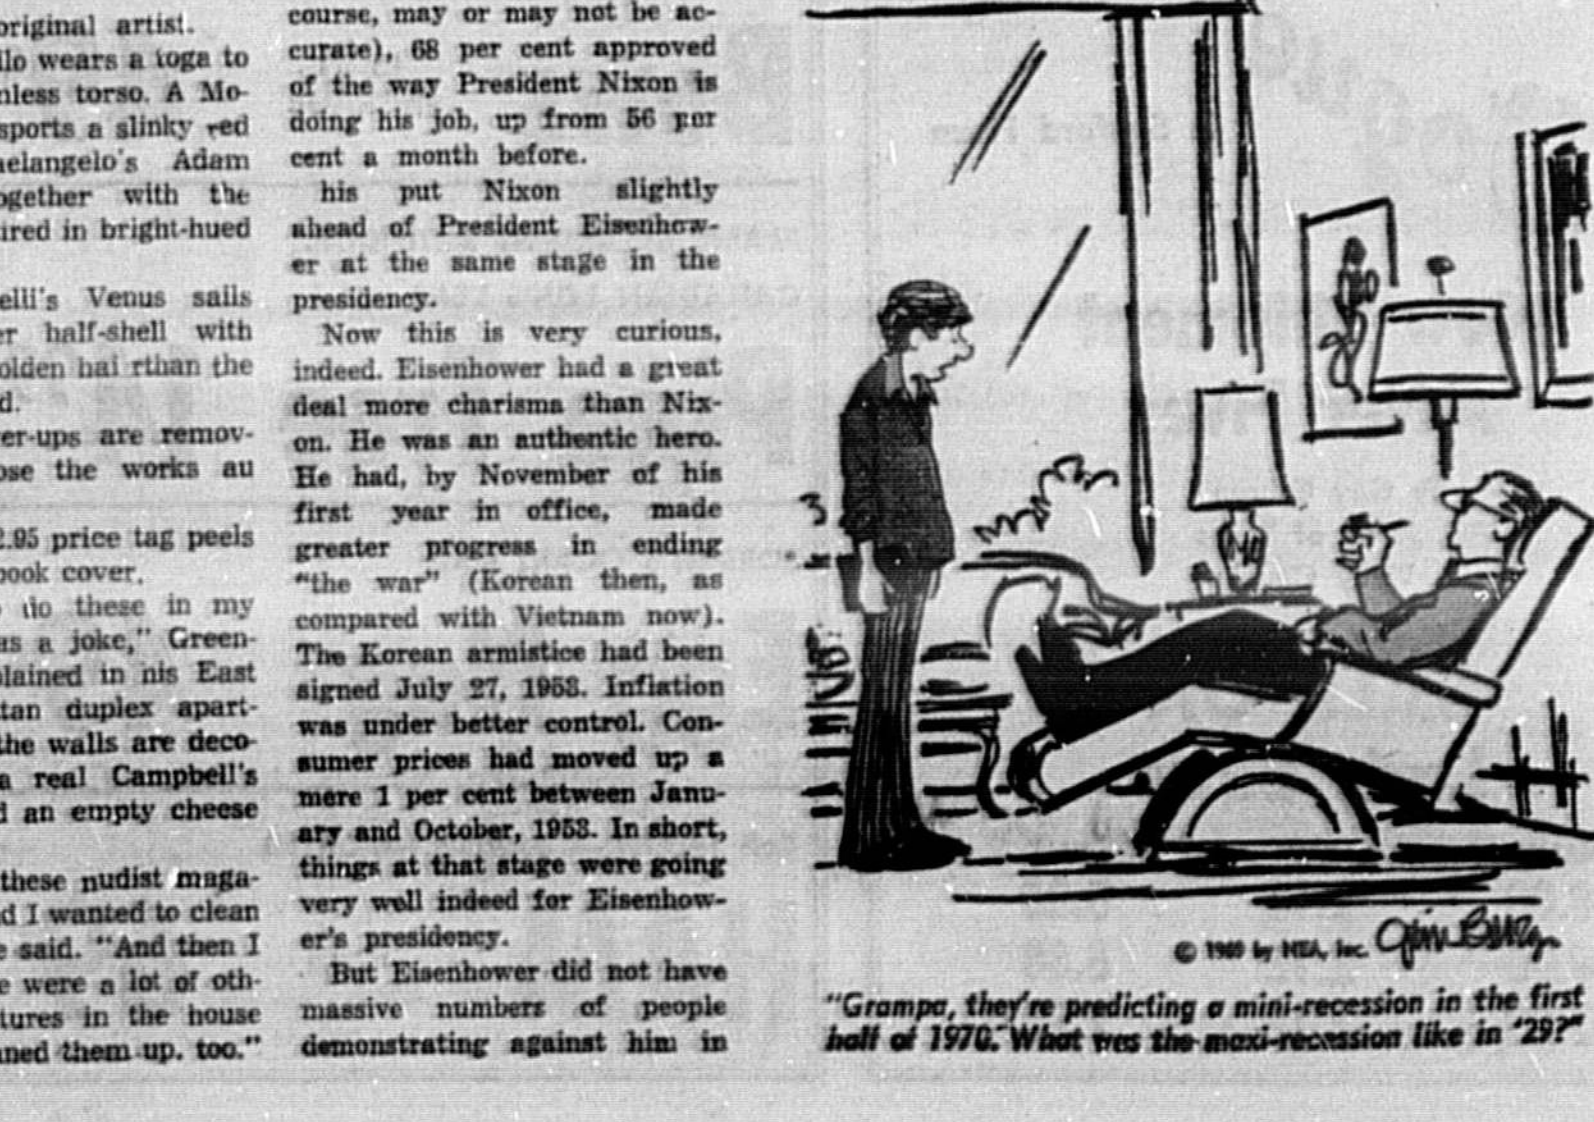

War Protests Boomerang

—yet subjected to what seems to be an unconscionable amount of harassment—they jump to a man's defense whether or not they are in agreement with him. A tendency among most people is to want to give a man a decent chance.

They have perhaps put Nixon in the role of the underdog and win him sympathy among those who were previously anti-war.

The summer before last, a great wave of violence swept big-city states. This year, the major cities had relatively little extreme protest violence.

Strikes And Spares

Don't let 'em kid you that lightning doesn't strike twice in the same place. It did here at Jet Lakes on the past two successive Saturdays and by the same bowler Charles Elberry.

Well, this past Saturday, "chucking" Charles rolled the ball and left the 4-6 split. (Would you believe that of these two pins still standing at that time, they were both colored pins—WORTH A PRIZE YAWF IN ITSELF!)

And here in Sanford we have this clown Elberry make it look so easy... and the same will be true of the upcoming prep basketball season. Upcoming battles will see Oveido, Lyman, Crooms and Seminole battle among themselves.

First Of Many Battles Crooms At Seminole Highlights Openers

Inter-county and inter-city battles highlighted the 1969 prep season, and the same will be true of the upcoming prep basketball season. Upcoming battles will see Oveido, Lyman, Crooms and Seminole battle among themselves.

Seminole JC Hosts Rugged Stetson Here

The only bowler to make the 4-6 split twice in a row, Charlie Elberry.

BOWLERS OF THE WEEK had an unusually small turnout with only six bowlers, three men and an equal number of ladies, competing for the honors.

On hand were Dan (Slim) Miller, Gil Flegler, his wife Frances Flegler, Mary Miller, Phyllis Walsh and the ultimate winner, Ward Murray going 26 pins over average.

Joe Brister of the young hantam's division of the Moore League had one of his better Saturday mornings when he shot a 163-96 net.

Later in the day (1 p.m.) in the Senior Division, Kevin Spisak got back into the strike column with his 202-97 series and had a couple other outings in the top spot this week.

Earl Weaver had a good night for the Sandra Fabians Mixed League as he collected a 182-338, Don Morrison shot a 188, Agnes Butcher four pins lower at 184.

Since we've missed out on the free lessons these past two Saturdays (rain hunting didn't have a thing to do with it either, we just took our own for a walk, the other day we promise that it'll be my pleasure to help you out... 11:30 a.m. This is for beginners as well as the more advanced who may have gone into a slump, and of course, we want all of the new and interested to be here, and, too.

Marston Named Captain

RICHMOND, Ind.—Cam Marston, junior offensive lineman for Earlham College, recently was elected co-captain of the 1970 Quaker squad along with Dave Whiting, junior quarterback.

Marston, who lettered for his third year in last year, saw a good deal of action on defense in addition to holding down his starting offensive tackle post for the Quakers.

Cam is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Marston of 10 Woodland, Sanford. He is a 1967 graduate of Wayne High School in Dayton, O.

Earlham, located in Richmond, Ind., completed its ninth winning season in ten years. The Quakers tied for third place in the Hoosier College Conference with a 3-3 record and a 5-4 overall season record for 1968.

Seminole is averaging 111 points per outing while allowing its opponents only 87 points per contest. So far this season Seminole has tagged Jones College, Embury-Riddle, Vance, North Florida, Brunswick, and St. Joseph's College with defeats.

Coach Joe Sterling and his assistants Jay Bergman and Tony Bogley have been hard at work during the past week getting the Raiders into shape for tonight's game with Boston University's JV squad.

Sterling will probably call on super-sophomore Slim Harper, the team's leading scorer with an 18 point per game average, to start tonight along with "find" Jim Gilchrist who has proved to be the Raiders key rebounder. Harper will probably take a forward post while Gilchrist, who stands 6'4" will be at center.

Glittering Blues, Greens To Sparkle At Champagne Ball

BERTA HALL, local professional interior decorator, and her talented committee will transform Sanford Civic Center into a Holiday Fantasy-land for Saturday's Champagne Ball. Brilliant blues and greens will be used for the dramatic decor which includes huge six-foot wreaths. This year, the red carpet will be rolled out for mildy hand for Saturday's Champagne Ball. A message of vivid blues and greens will deck the halls at Sanford Civic Center Saturday night when Champagne Ball revelers do their own thing at the annual gala.

Sponsored by Seminole Mutual Concert Association, the annual ball formally ushers in the Holiday Social Season. Overall chairman of this year's gala is Mrs. Egan Kelly who has a staff of capable assistants working with her.

An exotic buffet dinner will be served at 8 p. m., preceding dancing. The champagne hour, from 9-11, will take on a new twist this year, as will all the othering ball decorations.

Heading the committee to decorate the vast center is Mrs. Berta Hall, a local professional interior decorator. Pretty and talented Berta attended New York School of Interior Design and has years of experience in the decorating field. So why wouldn't this ball be the most lavish and ornate of them all?

Assisting Berta on the committee are Mrs. Charles Collier, Mrs. Robert Bessner, Mrs. Robert Jackson, Mrs. William Yelton, Mrs. Andrew Speer and Mrs. Arthur Lee.

Decorations this year will be large and dramatic with unusual lighting enhancing a festive mood. Huge, sparkling wreaths, from four to six feet in diameter, will be placed along the windows in the auditorium.

The stage area will feature colorful Christmas trees decorated in blue and green ornaments and gold bows.

 CAMELLIA CIRCLE

On Wednesday, Nov. 19, the Camellia Circle of the Deltona Garden Club enjoyed a trip through the Florida Federation Garden Club Headquarters at Winter Park. The ladies were given a tour through the beautiful building and through the surrounding gardens.

Following the tour the group met at Seaside House for lunch and a business meeting. It was agreed that in lieu of members exchanging Christmas gifts within the circle, all would bring good used sweaters and a monetary gift at the next meeting to be presented to the residents of the Orange City Nursing Home.

CARNATION CIRCLE

Nineteen members and four guests attended the meeting of the Carnation Circle of Deltona Garden Club at the home of Mrs. M. S. Henderson on W. Barclay Circle. Guests included Mrs. J. K. Boyette, Mrs. Frances Golden, Mrs. Rose Goetsch and Mrs. Edgar Harding. Miss Margaret Howland showed colored slides of luxurious hors d'oeuvres. This year's ball program can expect the ultimate in elegance at the dramatic evening designed exclusively for the distinctive generation.

ROBERT FERRANTE, new principal of Lake Mary Elementary School, was introduced to a gathering of parents and personnel of the Seminole County educational system by Mrs. Margaret Manfre, assistant principal. A reception in Ferrante's honor was given by the faculty and staff of the school. (Marion Bethea Photo)

MRS. JOSEPH ROGER PAQUETTE Andrews-Paquette

Nuptials Spoken

By MELEND CASSELLBERRY

Miss Barbara Jeanne Andrews and Joseph Roger Paquette were united in Holy Matrimony Saturday, Nov. 29, 1969, at 4 p. m. at St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church in Altamonte Springs.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard H. Andrews of 131 Hattaway Drive, Altamonte Springs, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Paquette, Apopka.

Rev. Joseph Nolan was the officiating clergyman at the double ring ceremony. The altar was adorned with baskets of chrysanthemums and gladioli with fern.

Given in marriage by her father, the radiant bride wore a formal gown of chastity lace and silk organza over peas de soie. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a sash and neckline and tapered sleeves which terminated in Culla points at the wrists. Tiers of organza ruffles bordered in lace, highlighted the skirt from which was framed a modified lace train in the back.

A cluster of lace flowers held her bouffant veil of imported silk illusion and she carried a cascade of white orchids.

Mrs. Paula Martinez attended her sister as matron of honor wearing a floor length Juliet.

For her going-away outfit, the bride wore a white knit sleeveless dress topped with a green and yellow plaid coat. White accessories and the orchid corsage from her bride bouquet complemented the bridal costume.

Out-of-town guests included Robert Paquette, Melbourne; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Christiansen, Titusville; Miss Judy Andrews, Tallahassee; and Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Martinez, Tallahassee.

The newlyweds will make their new home in Gulfport, Fla.

Alumnae Club Needs Party Reservations

The Orlando-Winter Park Alpha Chi Omega Alumnae Club will hold an informal couples party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Linn, 203 Flame Ave., Maitland, Dec. 6 at 8 p. m. Chile and light refreshments will be served during the party. Those wishing to make reservations may call 831-3861. Mrs. Linn or Mrs. Easterling at 454-7234.

'Slot-Machine Fashion Is Next,' Says Creator Of Miniskirt

By NADANE WALKER
 Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — "I think the next thing will be clothes from vending machines and the end of boring shops," says Mary Quant.

"We've already got slot machines that sell stockings and surely the tendency is for all clothes to get more like stockings, all in one and stretchy, with no fitting problem. I'm all for letting machines do the boring jobs and set people free."

The creator of the miniskirt says she has been misquoted as saying that body cosmetics will eventually replace clothes.

"With semitransparent clothes, body cosmetics and jewelry are becoming more important. Clothes are no longer primarily to keep us warm, and they're no longer prestige, status or class symbols either. People don't dress to show they've got a million dollars anymore."

"Now that women can be any shape they want to be, clothes are for decoration and entertainment. They're fun."

At 35, and after 13 years of marriage, Mary is expecting her first baby next March. She and her husband Plunket Greene, Alexander Plunket Greene, say they definitely will not be permissive parents, because "every child needs firm discipline it will not feel loved."

Mary says, "I don't agree that today's society is permissive, or that the miniskirt has promoted permissiveness." She concedes, however, that "I may have contributed to doing away with some neurotic inhibitions and hypocrisies."

Mary is tiny, thin-faced, with a close fitting cap of dark hair, deep brown eyes and an air of nervous quicksilver energy. Her husband is as tall as she is small, as fair as she is dark. He affects Southern plantation style clothes and a courtly manner. They met at Goldsmiths Art College in London when she was 16 and he was 18.

Mary, who says she always wanted children, hopes to carry her baby everywhere on her back, like a papoose.

"The heavens take don't say that," cries Greene, clapping a hand to his forehead in a stricken manner.

"Well, I saw Jane Fonda doing that, and I think it's a good idea, as long as it doesn't annoy anybody else."

The only thing that bothers Mary about having a baby is that it takes too long. "I quite expect that science will find a way of shortening the time," she says. "Already they can keep premature babies alive in incubators, and that's the first step."

Since she opened her first brasserie in Chelsea in 1955 and shortly thereafter became queen of ready-to-wear, Mary Quant has spread her design network over the western world. They say at least seven million women have the Quant label in their wardrobes. Besides dresses, she also turns out lights, underclothes, shoes, jewelry, accessories, cosmetics and even

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Now please don't get me wrong. I am not knocking my trials. I am only telling you this so you can make a fair judgment. Before Mary (not her real name) and I were married, we stayed together in plenty of motels over the weekends and like that. She seemed to be satisfied with me, but right after we got married, Mary decided that my morning drive her nuts, and she couldn't sleep in the same room with me. So now I have to go to sleep on the couch in the other room. This is not like I pictured married life.

We can't afford a two-bedroom apartment as yet, but Mary says that is the next step. Maybe I'm wrong, but if my morning didn't drive her nuts BEFORE we were married, how come it drives her nuts now? SLEEPING ALONE

DEAR SLEEPING: Mary "drove her nuts" before you were married, but not quite "nuts" enough for her to send you to separate sleeping quarters. Lessers seem able to tolerate far more than married folks.

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 and just got out of prison. I pulled my time, but none of my so-called friends will have anything to do with me.

Horoscope Forecast

By BEATLE BAILEY

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Important and influential news are now willing to give you attention. Their efforts can mean a great deal to you but it is necessary that you make a special point to let them know what you have in mind. Also, make it clear that you want to do what you can in return. Back their goals and they will back yours.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): You have to adopt a new attitude toward an important supporter if you are to gain your aims at this time. If you take some hope toward you, you get excellent results. Be happy with the one you love in the evening.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): Show co-operation that you appreciate being together and will do your utmost to make your present association even more worthwhile. A good day to do some early Christmas shopping, also. Think first of those who mean the most to you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Getting together with your favorite associates and mutual friends is your good purpose is fine. Your ideas for greater success are fine, so give them expression. This can lead to excellent results in the near future.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Do your work at home in such a way that you make an excellent impression on others. Be sure that you take the time to eat properly so that you maintain health and vitality.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Get a spiritual lift by dressing up and being with persons you admire and vice versa. Come to a better understanding with everyone. Show that you are charming and intelligent.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Seek out clever and business-minded persons who can assist you in those practical matters that are uppermost in your mind. Cancelling some investment you may have made would not be a bad idea. Show interest from your savings, also.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): If you state your aims to a good friend, you will get the favor that you want from this person. Show gratitude, however. Know what your aims are, then you can go after them positively.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21): You want to put personal aims across, so be sure to get the assistance of bigwigs for best results. You have more romantic appeal in P.M. To have a delightful evening with the one you love. Be happy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): You are able to gain your finest aims through the good auspices of a pal and a new acquaintance, so contact them. Get into the social whirl and make new friends. Be courteous and dress neatly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Try a new approach to present responsibilities and get better results. Put these ideas in operation. Show that you are an A-1 citizen. Be with closest ties for a happy and entertaining evening.

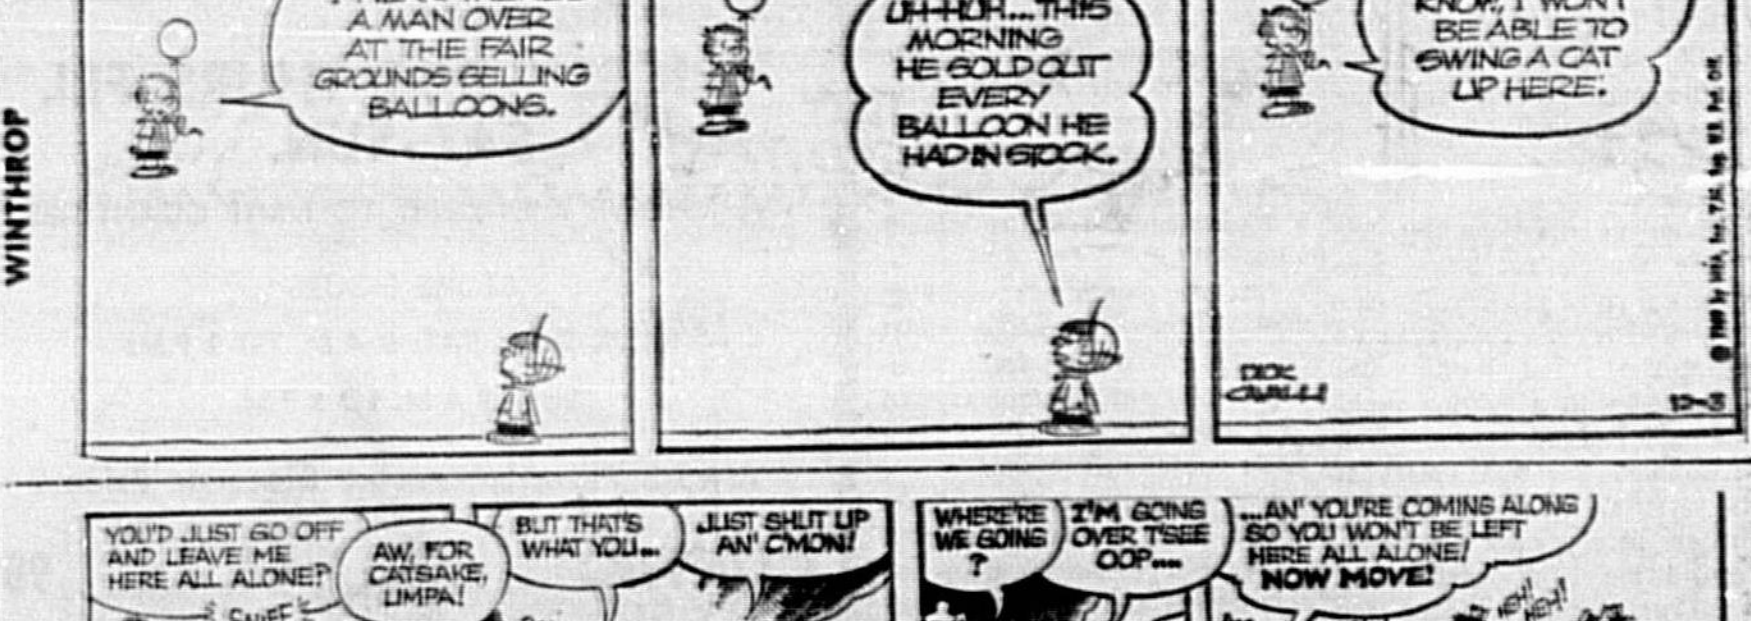

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Whatever will lift your spirits is wise now. Be willing to take a small amount of risk. Get advice from an expert for some plan you have in mind.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Get those duties ahead of you done in such a way that some plan you have in mind. Higher-ups approve and bring you fine results. You then become a specialist in your own field. Use your intuition so that you become a perfectionist. Be happy.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY: He or she will be one of those young people who will get along well with others. This child will get results when others fail. Stand the education along business or managerial lines. The personality here is attractive and others will naturally be drawn to your son or daughter. Give college education.

"The Stars Impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

BEK & MEEK

Jacoby and Son

The sad fate of the man who forgot to pull trumps has been described so many times that certain dealers even get the trump as soon as they get the lead.

This isn't how a policy. At least they will do better than the dealer who never leads trumps. But there is a happy middle ground. Just call trumps as soon as you can afford to do so, but no sooner.

South was one of those trump pullers. East 19 spades forced his ace. He resisted that trump-pulling desire, but he got rid of his ace losing spade from his hand.

After that he could resist the urge no longer. He led dummy's nine of hearts and let it ride for a finesse. West was on lead with the king and led a diamond to dummy's king and East's ace. East led a third round of trumps. That left South with the queen and two more diamonds. The queen was good, he could ruff one diamond with dummy's last trump, but the other one became his fourth losing trick and you can't lose four tricks and make a major suit game. South had started out the play beautifully but he should have resisted the urge to pull trumps at all. Once this was made clear, East would have no way for East and West to keep him from trumping both his losing diamonds. West led back the deuce of trumps and he would have won the rubber.

Jacoby and Son

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY — Carol could remove the creases from your trousers with warm water, over the iron, and dry. — POLLY

Polly's Problem: Does anyone have a good method for removing creases and folds in sweaters that have been stored for quite awhile. Learning makes them look flat and worn, so I do not want to do that. I have tried covering them with toothpaste, letting it dry and then wiping it off with clear water. It could even be wiped off before it dries. I wish you could give me the following, which is very practical. Lay a beach towel or a clean cloth on a table or the floor, stretch and pat the rug (wrong side up) smoothly on the towel. Put another towel, dripping wet with warm water, over the rug. With that trusty old rolling pin, roll hard, from the center out, all around until the water has been squeezed from the rug and absorbed by the rug. Remove the wet towel and let the rug dry where it is lying. When dry, it is bleached and ready to use. This method also has worked well for limited sweaters and crocheted dolls. — ASSEL

First Honors Convocation

Florida Technological University will conduct its first honors convocation at 11 a.m. Wednesday, out-of-doors on campus near the learning resource building. Recognized will be 102 students who have been on the dean's list three out of the first four quarters at the university.

Honorary degrees will be presented to two outstanding Florida citizens and the principal speaker will be Chancellor Robert Maize, of Florida State University. Maize will be provided by the Lyman High School band which will come to New York.

There are, of course, plastic surgeons who do not work for "cosmetic" beauty, but are concerned only in rehabilitating broken bodies, replacing hands and muscles and rebuilding faces injured in war and industrial accidents and other kinds of accidents.

If you need plastic surgery (face-lifting) in recent years, it is remarkable what can be done, and of course, it is expensive. Expensive in dollars, but not what it does for a woman's beauty treatments. Tomorrow: "From My Nose to a Beautiful Face."

Beauty after Forty

"I read your column every day. Please discuss face lifting. Does it do any good? How expensive is it? I want your column very much." D. B.

Thank you, and I have discussed plastic surgery many times and often the request of many readers.

First, a plastic surgeon can be found in small towns. There would not be enough "business" for the man to live. Plastic surgeons of true standing, ethical men approved by hospitals and medical people, are usually found in large cities. Women who wish plastic surgery prefer to go to the surgeon and spend time in the hospital, returning home looking "rejuvenated."

There has been a tremendous advance in Plastic Surgery (face-lifting) in recent years. It is remarkable what can be done, and of course, it is expensive. Expensive in dollars, but not what it does for a woman's beauty treatments. Tomorrow: "From My Nose to a Beautiful Face."

Valuable Herd

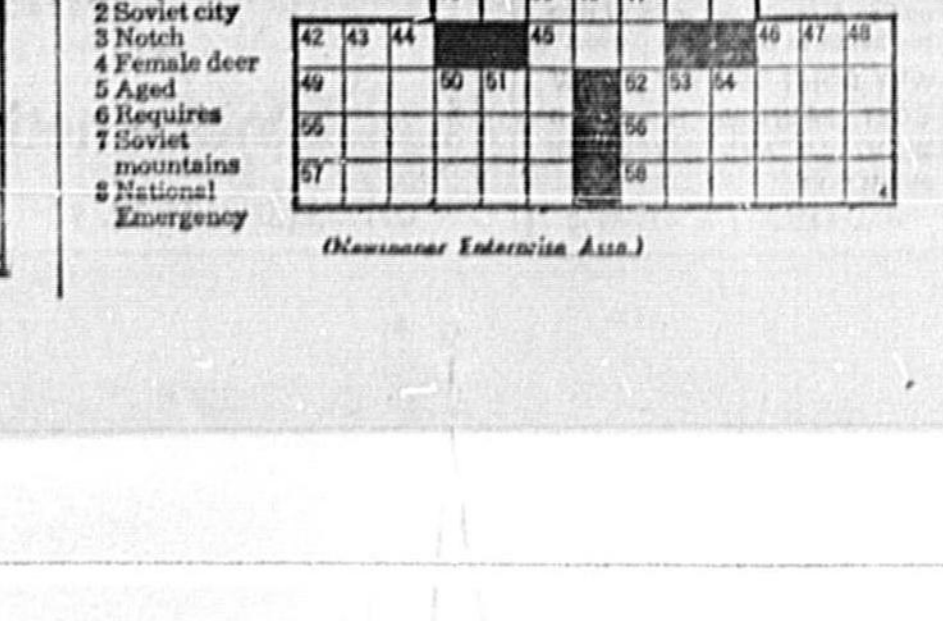

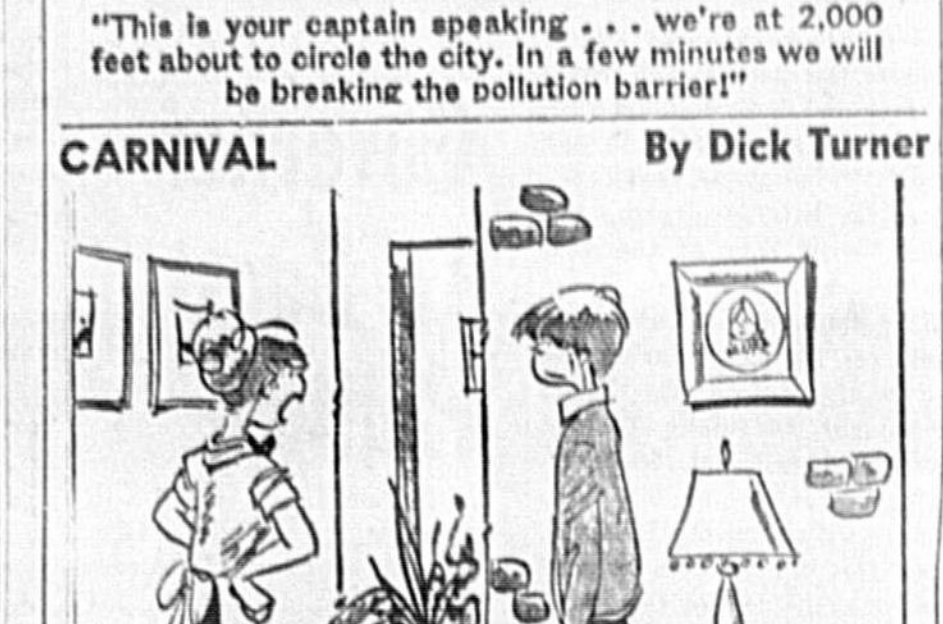

GANGTOK, Sikkim (AP) — Five Tibetan refugees crossed into northern Sikkim with a herd of 70 yaks. The Chinese said it was unusual for the refugees to get away with so many of the animals which are so highly valued by the Chinese.

It is worth the effort. But, you can do much for your dry skin and wrinkles by using some beauty treatments. Tomorrow: "From My Nose to a Beautiful Face."

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

We The Women:

Enough time has now passed to have given parents ample opportunity to judge how they like the film ratings system. I, for one, am more than happy with the results. Most of the parents with whom I have talked agree. In fact, not one of them had any complaints. (There was one instance where an X-rated film was double-billed with a G picture, but that was a mistake in copy sent to the newspaper was common sense or, at the most, a telephone call.)

Even though they took the chance of being labeled censorious, some needed to give out. I admitted what they liked most about the ratings system was the fact that appearance of a symbol in a newspaper set an immediate end to some argument about the house. An X guarding

Highlights

WED., DEC. 3, 1969

7:30 p.m. NBC, The Virginian. "A Touch of Hands." (Color) Trampas (Doug McClure) returns with a girl he has known from childhood. They fall in love and become engaged, although the girl, Peg, (Belinda Montgomery) is more enthusiastic than Trampas. Her father objects because a cowboy isn't good enough for his little girl. The show also features a country western singer and composer Billy Mine as one of Peg's WOULD BE BOYFRIENDS.

9:30 p.m. NBC, Special. "Jack Benny's New Look." (Color) It's new in the sense that Benny opens the show dressed in a mod Edwardian suit, and that his guests include "Now" performers Nancy Sinatra, plus Plunkett and the Union Gap. But, fortunately, that's about all that's new. The timeless old tight-wad gags abound, and helping deliver them are George Burns, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson and Lucille Ball. Best of all, middle-aged movie superstar Gregory Peck is on hand, making his TV debut in teaming with Benny and Burns as the two Bushels and a Peck Vandellite act.

10:11 p.m. NBC. "Then Came Bronson." "All the World and God." (Color) The strong, silent hero motorcycle into a rural area where he tries to help a nurse (Lois Nettleson) cure her own problems. Depressed over the death of a doctor friend, the girl wants to quit her job, but can't bear to leave her patients. It's just a daytime medical soap transposed to prime time.

Gourmet, Groundhog Rum Cake

WEDNESDAY FOOD PAGE BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
COMPANY DINNER
This delightful, recipe, tested in our kitchen, comes from a new Pennsylvania cookbook, "Gourmets and Groundhogs."
Browned Chicken
Green Peas
Salad
Orange Rum Cake
ELAINE LIGHT'S ORANGE RUM CAKE

1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
3 egg yolks
1 cup dairy sour cream
Grated rind of 1 orange
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
2 egg whites
Orange Rum Syrup
Cream butter and sugar till fluffy. Beat in egg yolks, sour cream and rind. Sift dry ingredients and add. Beat egg whites until stiff and carefully fold in. Bake in an oiled and floured nine-inch tube pan. Bake at 325 degrees one hour or until cake tester comes out clean. Let stand in pan about 10 minutes. Turn out on plate with rim. Pour hot Orange Rum Syrup slowly over top of cake.

ORANGE RUM SYRUP
In a saucepan combine juice of 2 oranges, juice of 1 lemon, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ cup light rum and dash of salt; boil gently three to four minutes.

PLEASANT LUNCH

This canned soup combination is different and delicious:
Oyster Corn Soup
Meat Turnovers
Beverage
FRUIT
OYSTER CORN SOUP
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed oyster stew
1 can (8 1/2 ounces) cream-style corn
1 cup milk or light cream
¼ cup loosely packed minced parsley
Pepper to taste

Into a one and a half quart saucepan turn the oyster stew, corn and milk. Bring to a boil, stirring often. Add parsley and pepper. Serve at once. Makes four servings.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Under the Federal Social Security Act, even though you have not yet reached the age of 65, you may collect monthly benefits if you are too "disabled" to work.
But suppose your only disability is pain. Must you quit your job and continue to work, or may you stay at home and expect a government check?
In the first place, since pain is hard to measure, the law takes a close look at the surrounding circumstances to decide just how bad your pain really is. Consider this case:
A telephone operator tried to collect disability benefits on the ground that a pelvic injury had left her in pain. However, in a court hearing, the government pointed out that the pain was not bad enough to keep the woman from doing the usual household chores—without wearing any kind of supporting garments.
Thereupon the court turned down her claim, saying the evidence simply did not add up to a pain that was truly disabling. Furthermore, pain that would keep you from doing heavy physical labor may not qualify you as disabled if you are trained to do less strenuous work.
Thus, a market manager was denied disability benefits even though he was having back trouble. The court said his skills in management, being mainly mental, could be put to good use without any great physical distress.
Nevertheless, the law does, ordinarily give a claimant the benefit of the doubt. When a manual laborer with trembling hands tried to collect as a disabled person, the court upheld his claim even though it is not literally impossible for him to work.
The judge commented: "The notion that pain must be endured, no matter how severe or overpowering, in contrast to disability provisions of the Social Security Act, which were intended to ameliorate some of the rigors that life imposes."

Breaded Stuffing With Fish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
SATURDAY DINNER
Bread stuffing is perfectly delicious with fish.
Stuffed Fish Francess
Potatoes
Zucchini
Jelly
Beverage
STUFFED FISH FRANCES
1/2 pound (1 stick) butter
1 1/2 cups (2 medium) chopped onion
1/2 cup diced celery
3 cups herb-seasoned bread stuffing (from an 8 ounce bag)
1/4 cup water
1/4 cup sliced pimento-stuffed olives
1/4 cup chopped dill pickle
4 1/2 pound whole fish (such as whitefish), boned
Paprika

In a 19-inch skillet saute the onion in the butter. Add remaining ingredients, except the fish, and mix well. Stuff into body of fish; sew up or skewer closed. Rub top of fish with oil and sprinkle with paprika. Bake on oiled foil in shallow roasting pan in a preheated 400-degree oven until flesh is opaque through—40 to 60 minutes. Makes six servings.

SUNDAY DINNER
Marinating pork before roasting adds piquant flavor.
Marinated Pork Roast
Potatoes
Broccoli
Salad Bowl
Fruit Compote with Sherbet
MARINATED PORK ROAST
1/2 pound rolled boneless pork roast
1/4 cup soy sauce
1 tablespoon honey
2 large cloves garlic, crushed
2 small scallions (green onions), chopped (green part included)
1 1/2 cups pork and open flat; cut away any large pieces of fat from inner surface. Place pork, flat, in a shallow container; mix remaining ingredients and pour over pork; marinate six hours or overnight, turning a few times. Remove pork from marinade; roll up and tie. Roast in a 325- or 350-degree oven until meat thermometer registers 110 degrees—35 to 45 minutes per pound; baste with marinade toward end of roasting time.

FAMILY DINNER
This colorful relish adds tang to a main course.
Baked Potatoes
Carrots
Broccoli
Relish
Fruites
Gingerbread with Applesauce
BROCCOLI RELISH FRANCES
1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped broccoli
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 cup diced sweet red peppers in vinegar (from large pieces of pepper in a 1 1/2 pint jar)
Cook the broccoli according to package directions omitting the salt; drain. In a shallow container with a fork beat together the vinegar, salt and sugar; mix in broccoli, then peppers. Chill for several hours before serving. Makes six servings.

FAMILY DINNER
A touch of spice adds interest to buttered noodles.
Beef Stew with Onion,
Celery and Carrots
Caraway Noodles
Green Salad
Apple Pie
Beverage
CARAWAY NOODLES
8 ounces medium-wide noodles
1/4 pound (1/2 stick) butter
1 tablespoon caraway seed
Cook the noodles according to package directions; turn into a colander to drain. To the clean saucepot in which the noodles were cooked add the butter and caraway; melt butter over low heat. Add the noodles and toss thoroughly. Serve at once. Makes six average servings.

GUESTS FOR DINNER
The food editor of "House Beautiful" has kindly contributed her fine recipe for prunes to serve with pork.
Pork Roast
Oven Potatoes
Helen McCully's Baked Prunes
Salad Bowl
Bread Tray
Coffee
Jelly with Custard Sauce
HELEN McCULLY'S BAKED PRUNES
1 package (1 pound) extra large prunes
1 small bottle (4 1/2 pint) chablis or other dry white wine (about 1 1/2 cup)
Into a one-quart casserole turn the prunes; add the wine. Cover and let stand at room temperature for 48 hours; stir several times. Bake, covered, in a preheated 225-degree oven for two hours, stirring several times. Serve warm or hot. Makes eight servings.

Coffee Sponge Candy

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

SATURDAY NIGHT
You'll enjoy serving home-made candy because it always makes a hit. Cheese Tray with Crackers and Breads.
Coffee Sponge Candy.
Fruit Bowl.

COFFEE SPONGE CANDY
1 tablespoon cold vinegar
2 teaspoons instant powdered coffee
1 cup sugar
1 cup dark corn syrup
1 tablespoon baking soda
Lightly grease a 13 by 9 by 2 inch pan. Mix together vinegar and coffee. In a heavy three-quart saucepan stir together the sugar, corn syrup and vinegar mixture.
Over medium-low heat, stirring until sugar dissolves, bring to a boil. Continue cooking, without stirring, to 300 degrees on a candy thermometer or until small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads that are hard and brittle. Remove from heat. Quickly stir in baking soda, mixing thoroughly.
Pour into prepared pan. Do not spread or texture will be spotty; candy will spread itself. Cool; break into pieces. Makes about one pound.

THE BRIDE COOKS DINNER
This meat loaf slices well so the leftovers can be used for sandwiches.
Phyllis' Meat Loaf Potatoes Broccoli Stewed Tomatoes Fried Cupcakes Beverage
PHYLLIS' MEAT LOAF
1 egg
1/4 cup warm water
1 slice bread, crusts removed
1 pound mixed ground beef, pork and veal
1 tablespoon instant onion
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 to 2 teaspoons mixed herbs for taste
In a medium mixing bowl beat egg slightly; add water and bread; mix well so bread disintegrates. Add remaining ingredients; mix thoroughly with fork or hands.
In a greased 11 by 7 by 2 inch pan shape meat mixture into a loaf that is about 7 inches long and 4 inches wide. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for one hour.
BAKED HAM PONTALBA
14-cup ham baked
4 cups shelled pecans ground
1 onion chopped fine
1 small can truffles cut in pieces
4 bay leaves
2 sprigs (1/2 teaspoon dried) thyme
2 teaspoons dried sage
2 teaspoons ground cloves
1/4 teaspoon cayenne
1 cup Madeira wine
1 apple
1 cup cane syrup
Brown sugar
Fine dry bread crumbs
Ask your butcher to bone the ham. If a dry, smoked ham is used, this ham must be soaked in cold water for 12 hours. When soaked, cured ham is used, soaking is unnecessary.
To make the stuffing: cut out about 1/2 lb ham to make a cavity and work the ham through a food grinder.
Blend thoroughly with pecans, 1 chopped onion, truffles, 2 bay leaves (crumbled), thyme, 1 teaspoon sage, 1 teaspoon ground cloves, cayenne and Madeira.
Pack into ham cavity, sewing or skewering it securely. Put these seasonings in the ham: 1 chopped onion, 2 bay leaves, 1 teaspoon sage, 1 teaspoon ground cloves, cayenne and Madeira.
Roast in ham cavity, sewing or skewering it securely. Put these seasonings in the ham: 1 chopped onion, 2 bay leaves, 1 teaspoon sage, 1 teaspoon ground cloves, cayenne and Madeira.

Roast Beef Leftovers A Delicacy

WEDNESDAY FOOD PAGE '71
By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Food Editor

THE BRIDE COOKS DINNER
This is a fine way to use leftover roast beef.
Beef with Mushrooms and Onion Rice Green Beans Stuffed Bowl Ambrosia Beverage

BEEF WITH MUSHROOMS AND ONIONS
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup frozen chopped onion
1 can (5 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms, drained with liquid reserved
1 chicken bouillon cube
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 1/2 cups rare cooked roast beef strips (1/4 to 1/2 inch thick)
1 teaspoon instant-blending flour
1/4 to 2/3 cup commercial sour cream
In a 10-inch skillet melt the butter; add onion and mushrooms. Cook gently, stirring often, until liquid has evaporated and onion is wilted; push to one side of skillet. To free side of skillet add 1/4 cup of the reserved mushroom liquid, the bouillon cube and the Worcestershire. Stir over very low heat to dissolve cube without evaporating liquid. Add mushrooms and beef; remove from heat.
In a small bowl gradually stir the sour cream into the flour. Add to skillet; mix all ingredients well. Over low heat stir constantly until thickened and very hot. Makes three servings.

FAMILY DINNER
Broccoli has extra flavor when prepared this way.
Biscuit Beef Red Parsley Sauce Savory Broccoli Stuffed Bowl Fruit Cookies

SAVORY BROCCOLI
1 bunch broccoli
1/4 cup boiling water
1 chicken bouillon cube
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons olive oil
Wash broccoli. Cut florets from broccoli halving or quartering any large ones to make uniform; add salt. With a paring knife or swivel-blade vegetable peeler remove outer fibrous covering from broccoli stalks and cut away a thin slice from bottom end; slice crosswise into 1/4-inch thick slanted pieces.
In a 10- to 12-inch skillet over low heat dissolve the bouillon cube in the water; add salt. Add the broccoli stalk pieces; place florets on top. Bring to a boil; cover and boil until tender—about 10 minutes. Drain; return to very low heat; sprinkle with oil, mixing gently. Add extra salt if desired. Makes six healthy servings.

LOW CALORIE DINNER
Serve cooked chicken breasts with colorful vegetables.

3 or 4 chicken breasts, cut in half with keel bones removed
1 cup water
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 large celery top
1 medium onion, peeled and quartered
Arrange the chicken breast halves; skin side down, in a large saucepot or Dutch oven (four to five quarts). Add the remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil; cover and simmer, turning chicken breasts sideways and reversing their position, until tender—about 25 minutes. Remove skin (and rib bones if you like); serve hot or cold. Use one or two halves for each serving. Strain the broth; chill; remove fat hardened at top; use as desired.

EASY BRUNCH
Take advantage of ready-to-heat freezer food when you want to sleep late over the weekend.
Orange Juice Pancakes and Sausage Patties Escalloped Apples Coffeecake PANCAKES AND SAUSAGE WITH APPLES
1 package (12 ounces) frozen escalloped apples
4 packages (each 4 1/2 ounces) frozen pancakes and sausage patties
Remove frozen escalloped apples from package and remove lid from container. Place in a preheated 425-degree oven for 10 minutes; add sealed foil containers of pancakes and sausage patties. Continue baking for 20 minutes. Arrange pancakes and sausages on four individual plates and add a helping of apples to each.

Artichoke Salad For Diet Watchers

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor. Here's an artichoke dish for diet watchers.

The artichokes are cooked and the inner leaves and thistle portion (choke) removed. After chilling, they're stuffed with cucumbers, vinaigrette.

In buying artichokes, don't worry if the outer leaves are marked with brown. That's the nature of the artichoke, that is available in fall and winter.

If you have not already begun eating artichokes, allow me one note about eating these. Both fingers and fork are in order here. Use your fingers to pull off the outer leaves one at a time and draw the end of the leaf through your teeth to scrape off the fleshy edible part. Discard the leaves mostly at the side of your plate! As you enjoy a leaf, use your fork to help yourself to some of the cucumbers vinaigrette. Then when you get down to the solid heart or bottom of the artichoke, that is easily cut with a fork. Finish it with the rest of the cucumbers.

This is a prepare-ahead salad. The cucumbers vinaigrette develops flavor after an all-day or overnight stay in the refrigerator. And the artichokes may also be cooked and prepared a day ahead of using and be ready in the refrigerator.

ARTICHOKE WITH CUCUMBERS VINAIGRETTE

2 tablespoons olive oil
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 clove garlic, minced
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

2 cups sliced cucumber
1/2 cup minced sweet onion
2 tablespoons minced parsley
2 dried apricots
6 cooked and prepared artichokes, see below

In a one-quart bowl, with a fork, thoroughly beat together the oil, vinegar, salt, garlic and Worcestershire. Mix in cucumber, onion and parsley. Cover and chill six hours or overnight to allow flavors to blend. Fill each cooked and prepared artichoke with about 1/4 cup of the cucumber mixture. Serve at once. Makes six average servings.

Note: You'll need 1 1/2 cucumbers (each about 7 inches long) to make the amount called for.

ARTICHOKE

6 medium artichokes
Boiling water
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons olive oil
Trim the artichokes just before cooking so cut surfaces will not darken on exposure to air. Wash under cold running water. Cut off the stems at the base and pull off the small bottom leaves so the artichokes will stand flat. On a cutting board with a sharp heavy knife cut off, straight across, one inch from top of artichokes. With a kitchen scissors clip off the tips of the leaves.

Stand artichokes upright in a saucetup into which they will fit snugly. Pour in enough boiling water to come up about 2 inches. Boil gently, covered, until the base can be easily pierced with a fork—30 to 40 minutes. Replenish water if necessary.

Drain off water. Turn artichokes upside down to finish draining.

No-Cook Fruit Relish And Pork

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor. Here's a no-cook fruit relish made with little sugar. We think the recipe is worth passing along to you.

The main part of the relish is made with dried apricots, raisins and onion. The marinade contains curry powder, salt, sugar, red wine vinegar—and that's about all. It's simple to make and adds excellent flavor and color. Old-fashioned cooks used to steam prunes in use and that's what inspired my friend.

This relish is fine to serve with a pork loin roast. And here's where you'll find it in a menu that government cooking and research specialists now tell us that pork loin needs only to be roasted to 170 degrees to be safe to eat. The recommended temperature used to be 185 degrees, so you can cut down on roasting time. A pork loin roast that weighs 3 to 5 pounds and is at refrigerator temperature can be roasted at 325 degrees to a temperature of 170 degrees for 2 to 2 1/2 hours.

CURRIED DRIED FRUIT RELISH

1 package (11 ounces) tenderized dried apricots
1 cup raisins
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 tablespoon curry powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup sugar
2 cups boiling water
3 lemons
1/4 cup red wine vinegar
1/2 cup olive oil
1/2 cup red wine vinegar
1/2 cup olive oil

Into a medium bowl mix apricots into five or six pieces each. Add raisins, onion and currant. Sprinkle with mixture of curry powder, salt and sugar.

Fill out center leaves including the small paralytic ones, use a teaspoon to scoop out thistle portion (choke) being careful to leave as much of the heart as possible. Sprinkle with mixture of curry powder, salt and sugar.

Prepare A Swedish Ham For Holiday

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor. Swedish cooks have a fascinating way of brining a fresh ham for four to six weeks and then cooking it. They serve the ham cold for a Christmas or New Year celebration.

If you feel adventurous, you'll be interested in this recipe. It is absolutely authentic—the work of a young Swedish woman and her neighbor, an American home economist.

SWEDISH HOLIDAY HAM

30 to 15-pound fresh ham
1 tablespoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup peppercorns
3 carrots, pared and sliced
Coating, see recipe below
3 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs

Place ham on a V-shape rack in a shallow roasting pan. Bake in a 325-degree oven until golden-brown—2 1/2 to 3 hours. If time does not permit, broast it with a little bottled gravy coloring.

Thursday, December 4, 1969 — Sanford, Florida, $2711
62nd Year, No. 73 Price 10 Cents

1,420 Acres Sold; Price $829,800

A land transaction first reported May 20 in The Sanford Herald disclosing the option to buy 1,420 acres of Seminole County property near Geneva by Mackle Brothers Corporation was confirmed yesterday with an announcement from Miami that deal had been completed.

According to information from county courthouse, the completed transaction cost Mackle Brothers a reported $829,800 and was handled by Florida Ranch Lands of Orlando for the developers.

Purchase was made from a New York union retirement fund known as 1968 Pension Fund.

Laying north and west of Buck Lake off SR 45, the property was first rumored for a mobile home city but, according to reports, the firm decided to locate the trailer park at St. Augustine after receiving preliminary indications that county zoning board would not approve an application for special exception to locate the mobile home city on the site.

Local Mackle sources say they have no information what use the firm plans to make of the acreage but discount a mobile home city.

Robert Brown, county zoning director, said neither Mackle Brothers nor any representative had approached county with a mobile city plan.

He stated belief the transaction was for investment purposes only, and indicated zoning board would not look with favor on any plan to put a trailer complex on the property.

Next zoning meeting is scheduled for Dec. 10, and Brown said an application for zoning change would be too late now for Wednesday's session.

Next board meeting is Jan. 14, and Brown advised this would be the earliest date that board could take up the matter, if requested.

An Open Letter To Citizen Who Didn't

My very dear friend,

I just heard the results of the election in Sanford today and I am very disappointed—disappointed, bitter and sad because you have forfeited your city, your county, and your country. Only 31% of the eligible voters of Sanford took a few minutes of their time to express an opinion in this election and they were the ones who elected the people who are going to run your city, spend your money, decide in your name what is best for you. And you?—you did not care who was elected to do this for you.

Did you realize that because of your apathy, your negligence, your astonishing indifference, you are giving up and practically losing a fundamental right under a democratic government? Do you think for one minute that this is a democratic government of the majority? It is, in fact, the majority of a minority and the figures are there to prove it. How are you going to explain to your son or daughter that you acted as a good citizen and expect them to believe you and respect you?

Half of the world is willing to die, in fact, are dying at this moment just to conquer the right to vote; and through this expression of freedom have the right to determine their future. We did fight, are fighting, and will fight wars to preserve this right for ourselves, for all people of the world. Generations after generations of your youth have died and our women have suffered because of our belief in this right to vote. Today, I tell you again that you have forfeited that right and in so doing, you have betrayed one of the basic principles for which your country stands.

Yes, dear friend, I am disappointed, bitter, and sad for you, for me, for our children, and for our country.

Sincerely,
Luis Perez, M. D.

Local Family Is Stalked By Endless Poverty

By BILL SCOTT

Just west of Sanford in the picturesque community of Lake Monroe, a small dirt road travels from a paved highway to a small frame house inhabited by a man, his wife and seven children.

A traveler uncertain of his bearings might pass the two-bedroom structure and any number of large women and see a woman caught up in the vortex of poverty that stalks this family like a disease with no foreseeable cure.

This would be Fern Boston, a woman caught up in the vortex of poverty that stalks this family like a disease with no foreseeable cure.

Indeed, a reader of Erskine Caldwell's stories might unconsciously search for the faces of Jester Lester, Ada, his wife and Dede, his son, when staring at the old run-down front porch complete with empty rocking chair moving forward and backward keeping time with the swish of a small breeze.

The Boston family is an example of the unending poverty syndrome known as the working poor. Because George Boston works he is penalizing his family $100 a month.

State Election Law Not Binding On City

Sanford City Attorney William C. Hutchison says under recent charter city is not required by law to publish a sample ballot as indicated yesterday by defeated city mayor candidate Harry Shop.

Hutchison answered Shop's charges before a vote canvass of the City Commission held Wednesday afternoon at commission chambers, and later informed The Herald that Section 101.20 of state election laws quoted by Shop in questioning the legality of city's Tuesday elections has no application in the city election.

Paragraph two of the section states: "Upon completion of the list of qualified candidates, the board of county commissioners shall publish in a newspaper of general circulation, in the county at least seven days before any primary of general election, of what nature shall be, a sample ballot form."

Hutchison insisted that city is not covered under this section and is only required to publish a proclamation in a general circulation newspaper, which was done preceding the election.

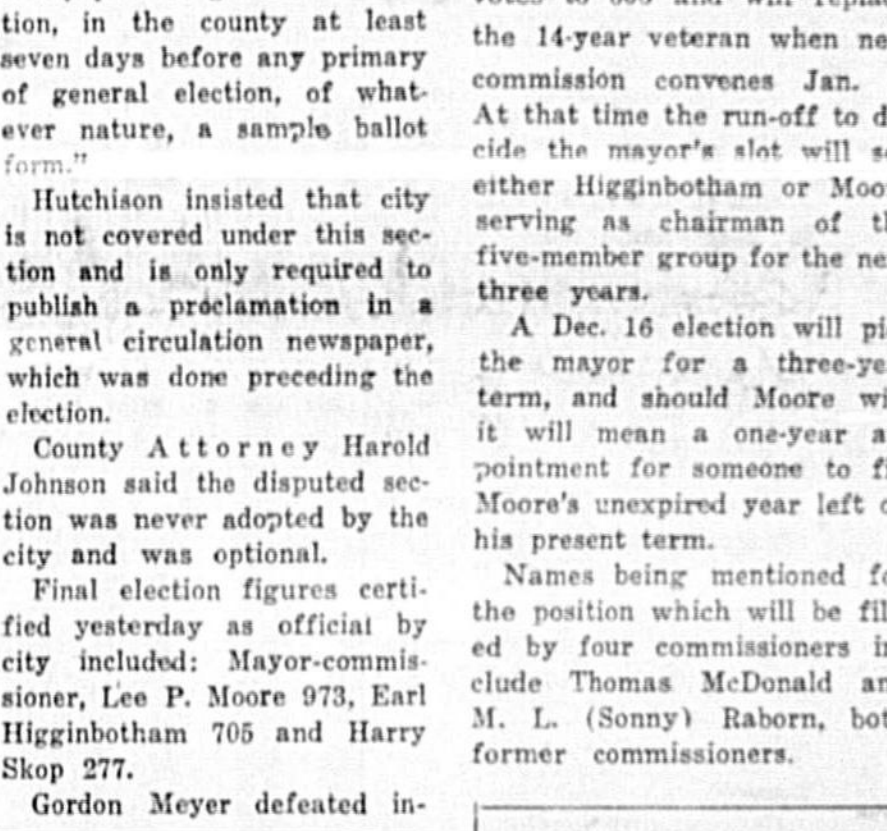

County Attorney Harold Johnson said the disputed section was never adopted by the city and was optional.

Final election figures certified yesterday as official by city included: Mayor-commissioner, Leo P. Moore 973, Earl Higginbotham 705 and Harry Shop 277.

Gordon Meyer defeated incumbent A. L. Wilson 1,145 votes to 661 and will replace the 12-year veteran when new commission convenes Jan. 6. At that time the run-off to decide the mayor's slot will see either Higginbotham or Moore serving as chairman of the five-member group for the next three years.

A Dec. 16 election will pick the mayor for a three-year term, and should Moore win, it will mean a one-year appointment for someone to fill Moore's unexpired year left on his present term.

Names being mentioned for the position which will be filled by four commissioners include Thomas McDonald and M. L. (Sonny) Raborn, both former commissioners.

Honors Convocation Held At Fla. Tech

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

Florida Technological University bestowed two honorary degrees at its first honors convocation Wednesday.

Two outstanding Central Floridians instrumental in locating the university in this area honored, were Dr. Kurt Debus, director of the John F. Kennedy Space Center for NASA, receiving an honorary doctorate of engineering science, and William H. Dial, president of First of Orlando Corporation and chairman of the board of First National Bank, who was given an honorary doctorate of commercial science.

A special citation was presented to Fred E. Clayton, director of the physical plant at FTU, who has been granted a leave of absence to go with Vietnam where he will be in charge of the construction of the new University of Saigon.

Principal speaker was Chancellor Robert Mauts, of the Florida state university system. Music was provided by the Lyman High School band.

Among the 100 students who were recognized as having been on the dean's list (B average) or better for at least three of the four quarters during FTU's operation, were: Sanford, Charles E. Brabant; Altamonte, Carole H. Brown and Patricia H. Likens; Casselberry, Lois Lockyer, Ellen K. Niblack and Sally W. Succi; Chuluota, Cathy A. Corbett; Fern Park, Geoffrey B. Schwartz and Corinne D. Tessari; Oviedo, Thomas M. O'Mara; Maitland, Linda Bell, Harry Burridge, Sarah Chapman and Pamela H. Larson.
