Aims, Principles Of Legion Aux. Outlined To Girls

Members of Junior Auxiliary of American Legion Unit 55 received a better insight into the aims and principles of the Senior Auxiliary when they were addressed by the senior group's president, Mrs. Betty Luecker, at the home of Mrs. Theo. A. Riller. Mrs. Luecker charged the girls with becoming more familiar with all aspects of the senior activities and stressed that they prepare themselves for the day when they will be received into the senior group. "There is a trophy presented annually by the Department of Florida in recognition for the most active junior group," said Mrs. Luecker. "So, as long as we are becoming familiar with our duties, let's work for that trophy!" She encouraged the young women to adopt the following schedule of participation in order to qualify. Learn the pledge of allegiance to the American flag, the history of the flag, and the history of the "Star Spangled Banner"; send scrap books, comic books and bound books to crippled children's hospitals in Florida that are sponsored by the American Legion and Auxiliary; help with Poppo Day, make bean bags and dolls for the crippled children's hospitals; work with various organizations during fund-raising campaigns, give baskets to the needy at Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter, send cards to shut-ins, and learn First Aid. "Participation in these activities and I feel sure that your efforts will be rewarded with that trophy," she assured the girls.

Mrs. Luecker concluded with an invitation to the Juniors to attend the next Unit 55 meeting when the girls who attended Girls State will make their reports on their trip to Tallahassee this summer. Plans also have been made for the Juniors and their families to have a picnic at Rock Springs on Aug. 20. Miriam Hamlin and Tequila Cheaser are co-chairmen of the telephone committee for the event.

Produce Garden Ok'd By Council

UPPER DABBY, Pa. (AP) — A move to ban front-yard vegetable gardens here has been shelved by the township commissioners. The ban was discussed after neighbors of Sotrios Travlos complained that his vegetables didn't look right growing next to their well-manicured lawns. The commissioners decided against the ban after receiving a "great amount of opposition."

$2.85 Million Budget Given Tentative OK

By DOTIE AUSTIN Seminole County school administration offices were crowded to capacity Thursday with worried but well-mannered taxpayers, who gathered at a public hearing to probe the necessity for a 4.65 mill increase in county ad valorem taxes for the 1966-67 school budget. After hearing all those who wished to speak, the board unanimously passed the $2.85 million budget, which provides $1 million in pay increases for teachers and supporting school personnel. First to be heard was a former county commissioner, Vernon W. Dunn, who asked for "a lot of fat trimming."

H. D. SHINN, Longwood's new police chief, received the oath of office from City Clerk, Onnie R. Shomate, following his appointment and unanimous confirmation by the city council Thursday evening.

Longwood Names Shinn Police Chief

Longwood has a new police chief — but after Aug. 31 will have no patrolmen. Horace D. Shinn, formerly of the Maitland police department, was appointed chief of the Longwood police by Mayor B. E. Black at meeting of city council Thursday evening and unanimously confirmed by the board. Following the appointment and confirmation, Shinn and his wife, Mrs. Shinn, moved to Longwood on Aug. 31. Shinn's salary was set at $450 per month retroactive to Aug. 1 and he immediately assumed the duties of his new position. The oath of office was administered by City Clerk Onnie R. Shomate, notary public, when the mayor refused to administer the oath. Before announcing Shinn's appointment, Black made one last effort to name Patrolman Jack L. Bushor as chief of police and requested council to confirm the appointment, but the board took no action on the request. On two previous occasions, the board had refused to confirm Bushor's appointment with the explanation that Bushor lacked experience. In other police business, Council agreed to raise the salary of Patrolman Robert Bailey from $300 to $350 per month effective Aug. 1. Bailey, who had requested pay increase to be retroactive to May 1, resigned effective Aug. 31. Bushor also resigned effective Aug. 31. Both men's resignations were accepted with request with letters of commendation to be written for each officer.

Hearing Set For August 23

By DONNA ESTES Total budget of Seminole County expenditures during the 1966-67 fiscal year will be $2.85 million and, if approved, will raise the millage to 20.89 mills from 16.82 mills, or an increase of 4.07 mills or 23 per cent. This tentative budget will be approved subject to a public hearing at 11 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 23, at the County Commission chamber in the courthouse. John Alexander, County Commission chairman, in a press conference this morning, reported the board of county commissioners has held its millage for operation of county government, including the Port Authority, at 6.2 mills. The request for $900,000 more for Seminole Memorial Hospital, however, will raise the hospital millage from 1.2 to 1.53 mills, thus bringing the total millage for county expenditures to 6.82, he advised. This tentative budget will be approved subject to a public hearing at 11 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 23, at the County Commission chamber in the courthouse. Seminole Schools Open August 29

Program and schedules for under 15 years of age and no freedom of choice form has been filed, he will not be permitted to attend school until this is done," Richey explained. "If no freedom of choice form is filed, the student will be assigned to a school outside the regular bus run, the parents are responsible for the transportation of the student to and from school," Richey explained. School hours will be the same as last year in most instances with junior high and high school students going to school at 8 a.m. and being dismissed at 2:45 p.m. Elementary school students will go to school at 9 a.m. and be dismissed at 3:30 p.m. in most cases. Reason for the different hours is to avoid overcrowding of buses as much as possible. Richey said that in the case of students 15 years old or older, the student will be permitted to fill out his own freedom of choice form on the first day of school, if this has not been done previously. "However, if the student is Now, from the White House comes the guideline figure of 5.2 per cent as a "non-inflationary" raise. That is, in everything but wedding expenses. And, oh yes, airline mechanics pay jumps as proposed by the unions. Gary Gibson, president of the Seminole High School nature club, said that the school board last year and a state representative has called an important meeting of the chapter members for 7 p.m. Monday at the SIS vocational agriculture building. Contributions to the Heart Fund, nationally, broke the $30 million mark for the second time in history and may be on the way to a new record with reports still coming in. American Heart publication reports Seminole County's share was approximately $9,000. Parents can probably look for an increase in the cost of school lunches this year, as the price of milk goes up. Milk bids will be opened August 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the school administration office. Also, some school lunchrooms fell way below the break-even point last year in being able to pay their bills and may have to go up. Prices of lunches are not the same at all schools. They are kept as low as possible in order to encourage as many youngsters as possible to eat a hot lunch every day.

Charles Roberts Named Principal

Charles Roberts, Goldsboro school teacher, has been named principal of Roper School, replacing L. R. Eubanks, deceased. Appointment was made by the county school board, Thursday, Roberts has been teaching for 15 years. In other action, the board heard a report from Dr. Earl Weldon, president of Seminole Junior College on progress of building of temporary classrooms on the campus.

Saturday Is Luci's, Pat's 'Big Day'

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was church rehearsal day for Luci Johnson and Patrick J. Nugent on the eve of their wedding. Following their rehearsal walk down the aisle, there's one more dinner-dancing celebration tonight for members of the wedding including Luci's parents, President and Mrs. Johnson. Behind the scenes, many persons will be working late into the night to get things ready for Saturday's high-spoon nuptial Mass at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception and reception to follow. Later the huge church will be decorated with bouquets of white flowers, willyow greenery and potted trees. Pews and kneelers will be marked and decorated with greens, ivy and white blooms. The White House will be decked with flowers in the pink event. The 150-member men and boys choir held its final practice session Thursday night. The carillonist, Robert Grogan, 26, of Washington, was ready for his hour-long concert of religious music on the wedding day. The shrine director, Msgr. Thomas J. Grady has briefed just about everyone on what's going to happen at the Roman Catholic, double-ring ceremony that unites the young couple. Among the busiest today will be the Secret Service and police responsible for security precautions over a vast area on the wedding day. The threat of picking by peace groups still remains. Another remaining detail is the installation of telephones and equipment for the more than 200 news media representatives who will cover the event. Some television cameras have been installed on special platforms outside the church. No live television coverage will be permitted inside the church. Luci and Nugent have attended a party every night on this last week before their marriage. It was a Texas-style cookout Thursday night at the suburban Maryland home of a friend. Rain finally forced everyone indoors after the hamburgers, hotdogs and barbecue fare had been served on paper plates. It was casual style, with the young men in slacks, Western hats and red kerchiefs. Luci wore slacks, in a fancy combination of red and white polka dots and checked. After the rehearsal, the big party tonight will be a candle-lit dinner dance given by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard P. Nugent of Waukegan, Ill.

Luncheon Fetes Miss Crable, Bride-Elect Of W. L. Kirk, Jr.

Miss Nancy Crable of Winter Park, bride-elect of William L. Kirk, Jr., whose marriage will take place Saturday, Aug. 6, in Winter Park, was guest of honor at a luncheon Aug. 3 at the Park Avenue home of Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith. Wedding bell motifs were carried out throughout in the dining room decor and dessert.

Adorning the chandelier were white net pom-poms tied with satin ribbons and wedding rings, which were presented to the bride and groom. Centering the handsome arrangement of white table, which was covered in an Army-Navy cloth, were a lovely arrangement of pink roses in a hand-painted China bowl. The elegant place settings featured heavy antique silver and matching pieces of hand-painted China. Miss Crable was attired in a hand-dyed yellow polka dot kimono complemented with white accessories. She received a beautiful set of glass vase from the bride's mother, Mrs. Hugh L. Nesbitt, of Winter Park, and the warm hospitality of the Smith home with the bride and groom. Mrs. Kirk, mother of the groom-to-be, Miss Jane Hicks and Mrs. Kenneth A. Myers of Orlando, and Mrs. E. S. Taft of Daytona Beach.

MISS NANCY CRABLE, bride-elect of William L. Kirk, Jr. was guest of honor at a pre-nuptial luncheon Wednesday at the Park Avenue home of Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith. Shown around beautifully appointed table are, from left, Mrs. Smith, Miss Crable, honoree, her mother, Mrs. Hugh L. Nesbitt of Winter Park, and Mrs. William L. Kirk, mother of the groom-to-be. ## Mrs. Joan Brooks Guest Of Honor At Shower

Mrs. Joan Brooks was honored recently with a stork shower at the home of Mary Sharp in Loch Arbor with Jean Gonzalez acting as co-hostess. Appropriate baby games were played for the occasion. Winning the Mother Goose game was June Warner and a very clever game of drawing an elephant blind-folded was won by Phyllis Richardson. An elaborate sheet cake, decorated in colors of pink and blue and centered with a pair of baby shoes, was served to the guests with sparkling punch, nuts and mint. Those attending with the honoree, Joan Brooks, were Mrs. Isabel Grant, her mother, and Mrs. Ronald Brooks, June Warner, Dinah Brumley, Jan Vihlen, Linda Beck, Gayle Richardson, Mrs. W. E. Jennings, Mrs. Glenn McCall, and hostesses, Mary Sharp, and co-hostess, Jean Gonzalez.

Twilight Ceremony Unites Miss Orseno And R. L. Bevel

Miss Suzanne Dorothy Orseno, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph William Orseno of Sanford, and Richard Leonard Bevel, son of Mr. John Raybon of The Rock, Ga., and George L. Bevel of Holy Maturity in a beautiful twilight, double ring ceremony, Saturday, July 29, 1966, at the First Presbyterian Church of Sanford. The Rev. Virgil Bryant was the officiating clergyman who blessed the altar which was banked with baskets of white gladioli and mums, spotted palms and flanked on either side by four seven-branched candelabra burning tall white tapers. White satin ribbons, fashioned into large clusters, identified the pews. Mrs. George Touhy, minister of music, played preludes by Tilmont, Fletcher, Faure and Purvis. She accompanied Robert Crumley, soloist, who sang "Abide with Me" by Vulpius and "Wedding Benediction" by Lovelace. "Communion" by Dubois and "The Lord's Prayer" by Bevel. The bride and groom played as background hymns during the ceremony. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a floor length tier-on-tier imported gown designed with a scalloped neckline embellished with sequins, which were also scattered over the tiers of the veil, to form the voluminous bouffant skirt. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a coronet of seed pearls and crystals and carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of white carnations, lily of the valley and trailing ivy. Miss Nikki Morgan attended the bride as bridesmaid. The bride's bouquet was a mix of white carnations and lily of the valley. The groom wore a tuxedo with a white carnation boutonniere. The ceremony was held at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of Sanford. The bride and groom were accompanied by their parents and other family members. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph William Orseno, 1234 S. Orange Ave., Sanford. The bride and groom will be on their honeymoon in the Florida Keys.

Right To Bear Arms Questioned

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — When the early Americans wrote into the Constitution's Second Amendment the right of the people to bear arms, they could hardly have imagined what was going to happen.

The FBI reports that 96 per cent of the 278 police officers killed in line of duty since 1960 were killed with firearms and that of the 9,850 homicides last year, 57 per cent, or 5,614, were committed with firearms.

Shortly before Charles Joseph Whitman was killed by Joseph Monday in Austin, Tex., after he had killed 15 people and wounded 31, all but one of them with guns — a book was published on the problem of firearms.

In this book, "The Right to Bear Arms," the author, Carl Bakal, wrote: "A strange and peculiarly American plague has long swept our land — a plague of guns. Every year firearms claim more and more lives in this country."

"Since the turn of the century this plague has brought death to the astonishing total of more than 250,000 Americans — men, women and children — a figure based on official though incomplete government figures."

A year ago Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, speaking for President Johnson's administration, called for a law putting some federal controls on the sale of firearms.

He gave a congressional committee some figures, saying: "Eighteen others involved in these murders were under 20."

Mr. Miller explained what showed up in a search of the records of 4,069 persons who had purchased guns from three California mail-order firms.

Of these 4,069 persons, 848 had an arrest record of some kind. Thirteen of the 848 had been arrested for murder, 38 for robbery, 42 for burglary, 111 for various types of assault, 83 for carrying concealed weapons, and 11 18-year-olds.

over 200 had been arrested for other crimes, including larceny, gambling, resisting arrest, causing a disturbance with a gun, narcotics investigation and sex offenses.

In his study of crime and guns Bakal said the United States can "claim the dubious distinction of being perhaps the most lawless nation on earth."

A very mild — some would call it feeble — bill to put some controls on the sale of firearms, particularly by mail, has been approved by a Senate subcommittee.

But, although Johnson has called on Congress for a strong control bill, it has a long and tough way to go before Congress does anything about it.

There is encouraging word, however, that some skilled and thoughtful people — other than those in the harassed government bureaus — have been trying to keep pace with this phenomenon, which is spreading rapidly.

These are the educators. One of the outstanding ones, John A. Barr, dean of Northwestern University's School of Business, recently put into words some encouraging thoughts with which most of the public should be acquainted.

"The primary requirement for economic success and social progress over the years ahead," says Barr, "will be found in the quality of the human resources. Atypically, however, he gave up one of the nation's top business jobs, that of Montgomery Ward board chairman, to take up this new career in education."

It is only since 1881, with the establishment of Wharton School of Finance and Commerce at Pennsylvania University, that any real consideration was given to education for business. After the turn of the century, there was a vigorous growth of business schools, but these were filling the need for teaching special skills, usually to high school graduates already working on jobs.

Barr points out that from this beginning we have progressed to the point where universities like Northwestern

It was only a comparatively short time ago that most businesses were owned by individuals or families. The proprietor, in the morning, could greet all his employees by their first names.

Today's business isn't like that now. Some firms are so big that they have trouble keeping track of their current units and brands they own. The public has only a vague idea with whom they are dealing. Ownership is purely figurative when thousands of stockholders are the real owners.

This great and tangled forest has grown up in our front yards with most of us being barely conscious of it. There is encouraging word, however, that some skilled and thoughtful people — other than those in the harassed government bureaus — have been trying to keep pace with this phenomenon, which is spreading rapidly.

That's because you have added the word to your vocabulary and thus have a new mental "hook."

For words are thus like hooks on a trotline. The more hooks on your trotline, the more likelihood of catching fish.

So encourage your children to develop a big vocabulary, not just words to use in school, but words to use in life.

Earlier this year, she tramped over our Indiana farm with me while we were hunting sponge mushrooms in May.

And Debbie never stopped her constant stream of chatter from the moment we left the house till we returned 20 minutes later.

But you husbands should be grateful. For we psychologists have found that children brought up in homes where there is a lot of conversation, actually "hook" their wits thereby.

If You Do Not Want To Be Drafted: Then Volunteer

By ELTON FAY
There is an alternative to being drafted—you volunteer. You don't board can put the finger on you at any time from age 16 1/2 through 26.

As a volunteer, you will have the same six-year total military obligation as a draftee, but your active duty may range from a few months to six years. And, unlike a draftee, you will be able to choose your service.

You should shop around to see what each of the armed services offers in the way of regular or reserve enlistment.

Army
The pay will be all the same, but you may find that one service seems better than another as to how and where you would like to work off your six-year military obligation.

Where do you go if you want to do some comparison shopping? Well, you can start off with the recruiting office or officer located in most cities, at the post office or in their own offices. The recruiting officer (often a noncommissioned officer with service stripes up to his elbow) has been around a long time.

In the larger recruiting office there will be a representative of each service, but in many one man talks for all the services. He has pamphlets full of information too.

Navy
Once he has received his order to report, the draftee volunteer no longer may volunteer for National Guard or reserve units. But the door to enlistment in the regular Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Air Force is still open until he actually begins the process of involuntary induction.

To help you choose, here is how the programs stack up: Regular Army: age limits 17 to 34; enlistments for three, four, five or six years. If you want to try for the graduate specialist program which provides upwards of 100 classroom courses to help you along in education while in service, you must be a high school graduate.

If you qualify through aptitude and physical examinations, you also have a fair choice in vocational training in such fields as electronics, radar, missiles, automotive repair and other subjects.

In combat arms, the Army gives a choice of service in the infantry (which includes airborne troops), armor (tanks) or artillery. You can request overseas assignment (in many cases they won't wait for you to request it).

Army Reserve Forces: age limit 17 to 26. If you have not

Quotes

These kids have been taught that America does not care. I think we do, but we are not doing a job of making them realize it.

—Douglas Stewart, executive director of the National Urban League, discussing Omaha's racial disorders.

I spend a good part of my time in the congressional press galleries on the top floor of the Capitol. If as Stewart indicated, a booming noise can cause a cave-in I figure I'm in danger every time Sen. Wayne Morse makes a speech.

At one point, I considered applying for hazardous duty pay. But I now have reason to believe the danger may have been exaggerated.

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Every vibration knows that sudden vibrations caused by a slamming door, a thunderclap or a kangaroo on the roof can cause a cake to fall.

Last year it was reported that the west front of the U.S. Capitol is similarly vulnerable to vibration.

Testifying in support of his controversial plan to rebuild the west front, Capitol architect J. George Stewart said an airplane breaking the sound barrier or shock waves from an explosion might cause the wall to collapse.

Perhaps I'm just being a nervous Nellie, but ever since Stewart made that statement I have lived under a cloud of fear.

I went along on one of the trips and measured the wind currents produced by the rotating blades. Then I went to the Senate chamber and measured the gusts of oratory produced by debate on the bill to end the airline strike.

Then I checked the west wall to see how much it was vibrating.

Here is my conclusion: Unless the wall was built with cake mix there is nothing to worry about.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a young married police officer. I direct traffic at a busy intersection every morning at the same time in a "hot" Chevy. She always smiles and waves, and I smile and wave back. I would like to meet her and get to know her better. How do I go about it?

DEAR INTERESTED: I am sure she is much too pretty to driving around Boston without police protection. And if that doesn't open the door, you can cite her for resisting an officer.

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister who is 24, beautiful and very well built. After she graduated from high school (with high marks) she went to modeling school. She has modeled dresses, coats, cosmetics, handbags, etc. She was asked to pose for an artist who specializes in nude. She did. Then was hired by a photographer who did several photographs of her. Then a photographer hired her for a series of pictures for a magazine. My question: Why was she considered "art"? She posed in the nude, in practically the same position for the same time in a "hot" Chevy. She always smiles and waves, and I smile and wave back. I would like to meet her and get to know her better. How do I go about it?

DEAR INTERESTED: I am sure she is much too pretty to driving around Boston without police protection. And if that doesn't open the door, you can cite her for resisting an officer.

Jacoby On Bridge

Our guess is that most players would succeed in being set at today's three new contracts. They would play a four diamond from dummy at trick one. East would win with the queen and return the suit and eventually declarer would lose four diamonds and either a club or a heart. There would probably be a few contracts about fitness not working and the next hand would be dealt. An expert would go right up with dummy's ace of diamonds. Then he would lose the heart finesse. But no harm would be done. The diamond suit would be blocked and declarer would make his contract with three spades, three hearts, and one diamond and two clubs. This is such an important case of an exception to the rule

We The Women:

You had a satisfactory vacation — You were able to forget about the small worries and the frustrations that were plaguing you at home. You didn't plan to give so far or do so much that you were constantly trying to keep on schedule just as you do the rest of the year. You learned some interesting things, through observations and conversation and studying up on the places you visited. You were treated courteously by the people who served you along the way.

DEAR POLLY:—I accidentally discovered the answer to the problem of making a freezer of ice cream without standing in water and without so much stooping. Set the freezer in your wheelchair. Instead of standing in a mess you can empty it all at once in the proper spot when you are finished. This really facilitates the cleanup and makes the job much easier.—HELEN

Hog Is Fine, Fox Is Out

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Louis M. Gebler has given up his long and bitter battle to change the name of the street he lives on—Hog Hollow Road. Neighbors objected when Gebler proposed advertising a substitute, complaining that he was the first person to find Hog Hollow Road objectionable. Gebler said he realized that "little did I realize that I was about a name." Gebler said he would like to see it changed to "Hog Hollow Road."

Beauty after Forty

By Edith Thornton McLeod

DEAR EDITH THORNTON McLeod: I have been out of the business world for 20 years. Now that I'm widowed, I must take a living for myself. I have neglected myself as my husband was ill; he had little money and we couldn't go anywhere. Do you think I might be able to do something for myself as a hairdresser? I am 44 and overweight.—NELL

FRUSTRATED DADDY: Your signature is the most homely part of your letter. It is YOU who are frustrated. You don't like the idea of your son calling another man "daddy."

Teacher Wants To Teach

BY SUSAN LIGHT Newspaper Enterprise Assn. DEAR MRS. LIGHT: Recently, a teacher was quoted as saying: "If I had wanted to become a social worker, I would have done that. THAT instead of a teacher."

This "lofty" statement denied the speaker responsibility for correcting improper social behavior in children. AN ANSWER: Don't forget those first five years when children spend approximately 43,284 hours in their parents' care, awake or asleep. During that all-important period, the child is usually set and the school can only make the most of it. Although the teacher you mentioned was quoted in your column, I can see her point. There's a limit to what a teacher can accomplish, and her main concern is with the academic side of a child's development. Naturally, she tries to promote acceptable social behavior, and encourage high moral and ethical values. But she can't undertake ALL the responsibility of the home and

Do It Yourself: Wall Cracks Easily Repaired

By Mr. Fix

Houses settle, floors sag, wood shrinks and expands, and cracks in walls and ceilings. Or a piece of furniture is jammed up against a wall and a hole is left. Larger cracks should be filled with plaster. These cracks are easily repaired by the homeowner. It's a job that is absolutely necessary before you start a wall if you want a finished job.

Use patching plaster, a ready-mix powder that only needs the addition of water. Use this plaster. Allow to stand for about an hour and then fill and level off after again wetting down the surface. Use a trowel to smooth the surface.

If you score the surface of the first coat of plaster, using the trowel to make criss-cross lines, the succeeding coats will adhere better. This is particularly true of large areas rather than small cracks. These are done and then sand the job smooth with a fine sandpaper. The clear white shellac or glue is used to seal the surface. When using patching plaster remember to mix only what you will need immediately. Brands vary so the patching plaster can set anywhere from 15 to 30 minutes.

Budget For Future

HEALTH—7 per cent, for medical and dental bills not covered by insurance. SAVINGS—ideally 10 per cent of all income. INSURANCE—10 per cent of income for medical and life insurance to start with. The remaining three per cent of income should be set aside for taxes and miscellaneous needs. Once a budget is set up using the percentage guidelines, it is easier to shift money from one area to another for investing in stocks, bonds or mutual funds. The key is to plan for the future while enjoying the present.

Your Dental Health

After much consideration, Mrs. M. had all her teeth out, or what was left of them, and had a complete dental check-up. What's so remarkable about that? It was done in one operation by a method generally referred to as "Immediate Denture Technique." About two weeks before his dental impressions were taken, Mrs. M.'s teeth were put in stone models were cast in place. These upper and lower stone models were then mounted on an instrument that duplicated natural positions and movements of patients' jaws. Teeth were then cut from the stone models, and as each tooth was removed an artificial one was put in its place. On completion upper and lower artificial teeth were same size, same position in the jaw, and with same general contour. With patient's own teeth. The finished dentures were made from these models.

'Stagecoach' At The Ritz

With a cast that is truly all-star and in CinemaScope and in Luxe Color, Martin Ruckin's production of "Stagecoach" for 20th Century-Fox comes to the Ritz Theatre on Sunday. Filmed high in Colorado's Rocky Mountains in a setting never before used for a motion picture, "Stagecoach" stars Ann-Margret, Red Buttons, Michael Conners, Alex Cord, Bing Crosby, Bob Cummings, Van Heflin, Slim Pickens, Stefania Powers and Keenan Wynn. Directed by Gordon Douglas, the picture mirrors a dramatic episode in the American West around 1870, with an authentic stagecoach—which played such an important role in the development of that territory—sharing stellar honors with the ten stars. Joseph Landon wrote the screenplay which is based on a screenplay by Dudley Nichols from a story by Ernest Haycox. The story delineates the reactions of a wide spectrum of characters under the exterior pressures of Indian attack and the interior one developing among the passengers. In its telling, the tragedy is relieved by humor; the unpredictable response by the expected; suspense by action; and the film's dramatic group into a brilliant America's most famous illustrator, was commissioned by producer Ruckin to create a series of material for advertising and exploring "Stagecoach" and, as a result, accepted a small part in the film. He is one of the townsmen gambling with Michael Conners in the film's second sequence.
