FTU's Expansion In 70s Pictured

A peek at how Florida Technology University's campus will appear by the end of the present decade shows a network of four-lane roads winding through and around five Village Center areas, a 27-acre recreation lake, separate complexes for each college in the university, and parking areas to serve more than 20,000 commuting students.

Campus Planner James Schroeder, who previewed the changes for FTU administrators and faculty, noted that the plans hinge upon the availability of funds, a condition that already has slowed down projected construction on campus.

Hopefully, said Schroeder, work can be started early next year on the third construction phase. Estimated cost of that phase is $6.8 million. Included in the third phase package are a humanities building, a biological sciences building, an addition to the present Village Center that would double its size, six new parking lots for 1,100 autos, two four-lane roads into campus from FTU Boulevard and Alafaya Trail, and initial work to transform Lake Clair into a recreational site.

Schroeder noted that some funds have been recently released for architectural planning prior to letting bids to mark the beginning of third phase construction.

The first two phases of construction at FTU account for an investment of approximately $18 million.

Only as a favor to friend and assistant SJC Basketball Coach Tony Bagley... that we offer to correct "somebody else's printed mistake... BUT they don't play North Florida Junior College tonight.

The Raiders kick-off their season TOMORROW at 8 p. m. at the Seminole High School gym. See today's sports page.

And while we're on the bouncing ball... all of Florida Tech's hoop games will be played at the Oviedo High School gymnasium.

For what it's worth... one of Sanford's better known and frequented eating places will have a change of name soon.

How do you figure it? A month ago, Eastern Airlines filed a pilot who refused to dump excess fat fuel in the air. Now, a federal pollution agency is stop jettisoning the fuel. Wonder if he'll be rehired now?

You have any idea of how many gallons of fuel are dumped in this manner? Two Million Gallons... and then they complain about the gunk that's dumped into the stream... how about the atmosphere?

Many thanks to Bill Bauman of WTRB for accepting the joint responsibility to handle the deluge of calls. We called it the "Rumor Control Center" and you just can't possibly imagine some of the utterly fantastic statements many of these callers made this week.

I'm hoping that it never presents its ugly face again, but... if it should—please don't repeat some of those stories. Our line is always open... for the facts.

On Sunday, Nov. 15, Seminole Junior College will be the featured participant, with Dr. Earl Weiden, president of the college as a special guest on WEBB'S "On Campus" seen on Channel 2 at 11:30 a.m.

An auction will be held tonight at 8:30 at the Sanford Civic Center to benefit the half-way house in Sanford now known as "The Gas House." Proceeds will go to better equip the center to be used for the rehabilitation of drug users.

Local merchants and residents have donated merchandise to be auctioned. Others with items they would like to contribute may contact Dr. Louis Perez, Everett Trepanier, or Frank Phillips.

In the long run, we shape our lives, and we shape our selves. The process never ends until we die. And the choices we make are ultimately our own responsibility.

By BILL SCOTT

Rathel asked for the time extension of the City Commission on providing all air services at an earlier meeting with Page representative indicated the city would expect the operator to provide all fixed base services in accordance with the contract signed with the city, other leased structures and this received unanimous endorsement from the five board members present at the session.

The City Commission cannot take action on approving the lease extension until its next meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday.

The consultant said he could not disclose his reasons for but it would mean jobs in an air-oriented facility.

Rathel commented that Page had just about completed work on providing all air services at an earlier meeting with Page representative indicated the city would expect the operator to provide all fixed base services in accordance with the contract signed with the city, other leased structures and this received unanimous endorsement from the five board members present at the session.

Commission turned down both requests and stated its intention to prevent any fixed base operators from moving into the airport at the present time.

PURPOSE REVEALED
This morning's convalescence around the breakfast table was called by the City Commission with the industrialists view concerning the establishment of an airport authority with revenue bonding provisions at the airport.

Mayor Lee P. Moore explained to the group that it had been determined by the commission that the best approach to an authority would be by a legislative act, and a Nov. 24 breakfast session has been scheduled with the newly elected legislative delegation to discuss the objectives of the proposal.

City Attorney W. C. Hutchison said a charter amended method to create an authority would impose limitations on the "next week"

Hattaway Inspection Ordered

By MARION BETHEA

Road Supt. J. C. Lavender has been requested by the County Commission to inspect conditions on Hattaway Drive in Altamonte Springs, relative to giving a report at next Tuesday's commission meeting.

Lavender is to ascertain whether there has been total restoration of road shoulders as required by laying sewer lines on the street.

The situation has been under discussion many times since last March, and it has been stated that holes in the road still remain unfilled. The problems have arisen due to the work done by the contractor in laying sewer lines on the street. The contractor had agreed to mulch and seed the street as part of the restoration, and Lavender is to not whether this seeding has been accomplished.

Lavender has advised the commission that when the work was completed, the contractor was supposed to call him, but this was not done.

Commission Chairman John Alexander said that resolution of the continuing matter may necessitate the action of the commission in calling the bond.

In another matter, the consolidation study proposed by the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce was postponed until a later date, pending contract with this board. It was a $20,500 budget allowance for out-of-county traveling.

On a motion by A. P. Keith, board member, the educators unanimously accepted the proposal, which allows $2,000 for the board and superintendent; $4,000 for the instructional supervisory staff; $4,000 for principals; $2,000 for instructional personnel and $1,500 for trips to be made by the personnel director to other states in a teacher recruiting campaign.

Under the approved expenditures for this year, all out-of-county and out-of-state requests for travel allowances must be recommended by the department head to the superintendent for approval.

Out-of-state trips requests must be recommended by the department head to the superintendent and submitted to the School Board for approval.

After adopting the measure, the Board approved sending Clem Boyer to an Atlanta mathematics seminar.

In another action, the Board approved allowing one fund-raising project for each middle school in order to raise money for the middle school band program.

Board member A. F. Keith, in moving to allow one campaign specified this was for middle school bands funds only and not for the schools themselves.

Longwood OKs Road Paving

By ANN RILEY

LONGWOOD - It came to light at Thursday night's meeting of the City Council that City Supt. Ralph Fisher had overhauled funds approved for paving and resurfacing by $1,046. He stated several "little" items came up raising the cost to $5,625. Council approved payment.

Fire Chief Carl Lommeler appeared before council with two requests. He asked for donations for Longwood's annual Christmas party for the children. Council allotted $50 for this purpose. He also asked permission to purchase a radio-cable TV system for the fire department and council instructed him to ask for sealed bids.

Jack Bradshaw from Seminole Cable TV appeared to present his program, but the new council takes over in January.

Wilson Knotts requested annexation into the city for 57-acre first addition to Sleepy Hollow subdivision. "I am unfortunately caught in the middle of the Seminole County ordinance change. I am proud of what I've done in Sleepy Hollow and I want to continue the progress. If I'm forced to comply with county regulations I will have to cut down the size of my lots." He now has three quarter and one-acre lots. Knotts claimed to have the best type of arterial system of septic tanks allowing 20,000 square feet for each tank, a recharge system and cul de sac.

Councilman Sandra Thompson said, "I'd rather see us get a subdivision ordinance before we get into anything like this," and made a motion it be tabled for further study. The zoning board is presently working on a subdivision ordinance for Longwood.

George Wilmer, attorney for B. J. Connor, requested B.J. Connor in order for his clients to build a professional building on SR 434 and it was tabled.

Area School Plans Win High Honors

By LARRY NEELY

The architectural design of the proposed Walter Teague Middle School and the existing Idylwild Elementary School have been selected by the American Association of School Administrators to be exhibited at its week-long convalescence in February in Atlantic City, N. J.

The two Seminole County schools were designed by Eoghan Kelley, of Sanford, and were among some 400 schools considered for the honor. The State Department of Education recently selected three of Kelley's school designs for travel allowances to be sent to school systems contemplating construction of new facilities.

The designs were selected by a panel consisting of four educators and four architects. The panel studied the entries Monday and Tuesday of this week. The entries were judged on how well they responded to educational needs and cost restrictions as well as on esthetics.

But we are not yet in the clear. The Friendly Season

By: Fred Van Pelt

To the girls of the "suffragette" at Dett's luncheon! Your vote of peace and its "cargo" duly received. Contents especially noted and will be duly dispatched. Please be reminded that this column never has published anything really adverse about your champion...

When retiring U. S. Sen. Spessard Holland relinquishes his seat at the close of the 91st Congress in early January, another chapter will end in congressional history.

The master politicians are burning the midnight oil these days... and not over the Sanford city commission election next month. The rumors are flying so fast it is difficult to find the start.

It probably starts with the Sanford Industrial Commission, members of which are about to resign en masse - according to reports - because the Sanford City Commission has clipped their wings, removed much of their power.

The SIC members are unhappy because the City Commission wants to set up a self-appointed Airport Authority to operate Sanford Airport. The SIC has been working amply since it replaced Don Rathel with David Kelley. It has been working smoothly... until now.

The word is that Rathel, recently named Sanford representative for Page Airways at the airport, will be named to the Airport Authority and when it is enacted into law, this, too, is making the SIC members unhappy.

There's another rumor about Rathel, too. There are no answers forthcoming to questions about this rumor... no answers, only smiles.

And the rumor is that Don Rathel is Sanford's next city manager.

W. E. Knowles, at the last City Commission meeting, asked for the three-week vacation due him. And it was granted. He plans to visit the Great Northwest. And that is where he'll do some time ago - he would like to make his home next. He came to Florida from his native Massachusetts via Maine.

It is surmised that City Manager Pete Knowles is going to the Far Northwest to check about a new job. And that the master politicians are grooming Don Rathel to take over Rathel's job when he leaves.

Sen. Edward J. Gurney left Saigon today after a two-day investigation of allegations of corruption in the operations of military post exchanges and service clubs.

Gurney is on a two-week tour of Southeast Asia which is part of a continuing investigation by the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations. Hearings by the subcommittee during the last session of Congress brought out charges of wrongdoing in service clubs in West Germany and South Vietnam.

Gurney is being accompanied on his tour by staff members of the subcommittee. He met with American and South Vietnamese officials, one of whom was President Nguyen Van Thieu.

The father of a corporate capital stock tax bill stillborn in the 1970 Legislature says it is waiting in reserve should Gov-elect Reubin Askew's corporate income tax program run into trouble.

"I would prefer the income tax approach, but if we couldn't use that then we could use the capital stock tax," said Rep. Ralph Turlington (D-Gainesville).

"I contended all along that the income tax approach is fairer but the capital stock tax is one that could be followed within the existing constitution," he said.

Turlington said he proposed the capital stock tax approach in the Legislature because it would not require a constitutional amendment, and he felt it would be easier to enact.

Askew's proposal would require that the people vote to remove the prohibition of corporate income taxes that they approved with passage of the 1968 Constitution.

The tax would be based on a certain percentage, which would be determined by the Legislature, of a corporation's net income, with possible inclusion of other features such as a minimum exemption.

Barge Canal Is Ridiculed

STATE FIRE Marshal's office sponsored a demonstration at Sanford Airport on how to control and extinguish liquefied petroleum gas fires. Units in the Seminole County Firemen's Association participated as well as guests from Volusia County.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—The Florida Defenders of the Environment are prime opponents of the canal, which is estimated to cost at least $170 million.

Ban Is Proposed For Citrus Fires

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A bitter cold wave races down the Florida Peninsula, as winter winds whip up the citrus groves.

every three years, citrus growers fire up their smudge pots over the Florida Peninsula, as winter winds whip up the citrus groves.

A dense black smoke hangs over the center of the state on those nights, and it's one of the things that would be stopped by a proposed statewide ban on open burning is adopted.

Because of the limited citrus areas in which firing occurs, and because of the material damage in the individual climatic conditions in local situations, it could very well be grossly unfair to jeopardize the individual's welfare by making rigid, all-encompassing regulations.

Such a move, Faircloth said Thursday, might increase voter interest and assure a larger turnout at primaries.

Gurney is on a two-week tour of Southeast Asia which is part of a continuing investigation by the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations.

"What is so sacrosanct about Tuesday? Or Wednesday? Or any day?" Faircloth asked in his monthly report, "For the Record."

"I would prefer the income tax approach, but if we couldn't use that then we could use the capital stock tax," said Rep. Ralph Turlington (D-Gainesville).

"I contended all along that the income tax approach is fairer but the capital stock tax is one that could be followed within the existing constitution," he said.

Turlington said he proposed the capital stock tax approach in the Legislature because it would not require a constitutional amendment, and he felt it would be easier to enact.

Askew's proposal would require that the people vote to remove the prohibition of corporate income taxes that they approved with passage of the 1968 Constitution.

The tax would be based on a certain percentage, which would be determined by the Legislature, of a corporation's net income, with possible inclusion of other features such as a minimum exemption.

Turlington's capital stock tax approach was based on removing the present $2,000 ceiling and taxing corporations a certain percentage of their net worth.

"When somebody tries to fight Governor Askew's program by saying it's unconstitutional, you can always rattle the capital stock tax because it is constitutional and is under existing law," Turlington said.

A point that both Askew and Turlington have made repeatedly is that major corporations are paying Florida only a small percentage of the taxes they pay to states with corporate income or capital stock tax laws.

'Hogwash,' Says Spiro Of Campaign Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) - Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has dismissed as hogwash complaints about Republican campaign tactics. If any mistake was made, he said, it was "that we understood our message."

Agnew, the administration's leading campaign, said Republicans nationally accomplished their overriding and critical election-day objective by improving President Nixon's "provisional position in the United States Senate."

"The vice president, talking to a GOP fund-raising dinner Thursday night, said Nixon will win two to four votes better off in the new Senate, and that 'is a revolutionary revolution.'"

"Republicans actually gained 20 seats in the Senate while losing nine in the House, where, Agnew noted, the average off-year loss to the party of a president has been 37 seats."

"In the 92nd Congress, President Nixon will fare better on foreign policy, better on national defense, better on crime and law and order, and at least somewhat better on fiscal responsibility," Agnew said.

"That's the main of Election '70. No thinking Republican should let professional detractors in or out of office brainwash him into thinking otherwise."

Agnew said he wished Republicans could have won more. He said he was sorry at the GOP loss of statehouses. Democrats gained 11 governorships.

"But, he said, 'in sum, I feel satisfied' the party and the administration 'did all that could have been fairly expected.'"

The dinner, billed as a salute to the vice president, was sponsored by the District of Columbia and the national Republican committees. More than 1,100 tickets were sold, at $150 a plate.

Among Agnew's salutes: President Nixon, who sent a telegram from Paris saying Agnew has brought "new force and distinction to the vice presidency; Martha Mitchell, who introduced him, talking into a fake red telephone; some 20 members of House Democrats who signed a scroll attesting to his prowess as a campaigner.

"In the heat of the campaign, a whole bevy of Democrats who spent the last three years coughing up radical dissenters turned tail and ran, unslashing the lists in their frantic rush to middle ground," Agnew said.

"No matter, though, say our critics, that this climactic victory for reason and order in America was forced by the Republican party. No, the Republicans were crude and inconsiderate to press the point, and our adversaries were admirably clever to change their spots so swiftly, so convincingly."

"Well, my friends, for all that I have just one word: hogwash," said Agnew.

The vice president said what he did as a campaigner was call the roll of politicians "who can live day and night to hinder, to block, to delay these efforts of our President."

On the Republican side, Doie and Sen. Howard H. Baker of Tennessee have been mentioned as possible challengers to Minority Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

Among the Democrats, popular Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana appears safe from challenge but a battle may be brewing among his two assistants, Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia.

Kennedy has set it known that he wants to keep the No. 2 post of party whip which he wrested from Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., a year ago on a close vote.

But there have been persistent reports during the congressional election recess that the conservative Byrd, No. 3 Democratic Conference, may seek to move up.

A spokesman for Byrd says any such talk would be premature, although he didn't rule out the possibility of a challenge.

Party Fights Looming In Lame Duck Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) - Next week's lame duck session may provide the battleground for fights over who will be the Republican and Democratic Senate leaders when the 92nd Congress convenes in January.

"In fact, the wadsworth situation may be the only thing that is resolved during the session," Sen. Robert J. Doie, R-Kan., said Thursday.

On the Republican side, Doie and Sen. Howard H. Baker of Tennessee have been mentioned as possible challengers to Minority Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

Among the Democrats, popular Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana appears safe from challenge but a battle may be brewing among his two assistants, Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia.

Kennedy has set it known that he wants to keep the No. 2 post of party whip which he wrested from Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., a year ago on a close vote.

But there have been persistent reports during the congressional election recess that the conservative Byrd, No. 3 Democratic Conference, may seek to move up.

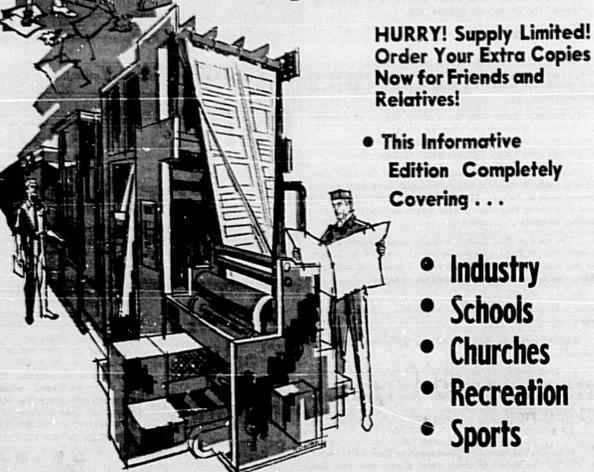

A spokesman for Byrd says any such talk would be premature, although he didn't rule out the possibility of a challenge.

A FACULTY recital featuring "The Pegasus Trio" from the Florida Technological University Department of Music will be presented at 8:30 p.m., Monday, Nov. 16, in the Science Auditorium. The group is composed of Arpad Somorjai, cello; Richard Collins, violin; and Leonidas Sarakatsanis, piano. The public is invited and there is no admission charge. (FTU Photo)

DO YOU KNOW any citizens who have lived in the same houses all their lives? Thought such souls to be rare in this day. But a government report contends 3 per cent of the population can make that claim. And 15 per cent, it's said, have lived in the same county all their lives.

OUR LOVE AND WAR MAN does not usually attempt to find romantic partners for clients. However, exceptions crop up. At hand is a letter from a feminine Californian who says: "I'm a genuine woman who keeps a full grown Canadian lumber wolf, six black widow spiders and four black cats for pets on my ranch. But I can't seem to find a compatible male companion. Any advice?" There's got to be some certain man, maybe an animal trainer, who's just right for this girl. But where?

LIP READERS don't just read lips. They read the face, hands, torso, the whole speaker. In tests of numerous exact lip readers, researchers showed cleanness of form of actor with masks over their eyes. Then head and shoulder shots without the mask. Finally full-length pictures. The lip readers were only able to pick up a little of the conversation in the close-ups. Somewhat more in the head-and-shoulder shots. But virtually all in the full-length movies.

Likewise, but that's wrong, evidently. One Dr. Fred Obley contends the night air is not just colder and damper, but it has more pollen in it than day air. AM ASKED IF it's true the police's bill will hold more than its belican. No, but who cares? When D. L. And you know what old Will Rogers said: 'A comedian can only last till he either takes himself serious or his audience takes him serious.'"

AN ART TEACHER asked each student in an advanced class of painters to draw and draw some image to show the passing of time. Interesting assignment. They handed in sketches of the Rock of Gibraltar, a couple in a doorway embrace, geese in flight, a line of Army tanks, Greek heads, a flame-breathing dragon, an unattractive man, a cuckoo clock, a nude witch with the figures of a starlet, and a skylark flying within human bodies. What would you draw to signify the passing of time? I'd draw, if I could, which I can't, the great breakers white and black along the Oregon coast.

Throw-Aways Banned By Maryland City

By BILL STOCKTON, AP Science Writer

BOWIE, Md. (AP) - When the Bowie City Council passed ordinance last July banning sale of beer and soft drinks in throw-away containers, most surprised were the students who worked for adoption of the ordinance.

"There was a prevailing pessimism among the kids that this thing was doomed to failure," recalls Don Murphy, a high school government teacher who sponsors a student ecology group.

"The night the City Council passed the ordinance, it was great. There was a tremendous feeling of euphoria among the kids. They had set out to do something for the environment through conventional channels and succeeded."

The ordinance, which goes into effect April 1, bans sale of beer and soft drinks in nonreturnable containers within the 16 square miles of this suburb outside Washington and in the rolling hills of Maryland. Violators will face fines and jail sentences.

Bowie is believed to be the first local government in the country to attempt to stem the rising tide of solid wastes by banning nonreturnable beverage containers.

Bowie's action is a tiny gesture in the face of mounting heaps of rubbish that scientists warn could become a greater blight on the environment than air and water pollution. But the public concern behind adoption of the ordinance is an encouraging sign as the nation puzzles over what to do with the 250 million tons of domestic refuse generated each year, including 43 billion beverage containers.

The ordinance might mean Americans are already beginning to realize they may have to alter their lifestyles, finding alternatives to the conveniences of throw-away living. The alternative most often mentioned is recycling of refuse-retaining salvageable material to the economy.

Banning nonreturnables, backers of the idea believe, will force increased use of returnable containers, cutting consumption of natural resources and reducing littering. But it's not that simple.

In Bowie's case, only about 15 retail liquor outlets and grocery stores will be affected. Sixty-four of a mile from a busy liquor store in a fashionable, highest Bowie shopping center.

just across the city line, a liquor store can offer, without impunity, all the nonreturnable beverage containers it wants.

"It's discriminatory," grumbled the Bowie liquor store operator.

"The housewife will tell you to buy returnable bottles, but when the time comes to buy something, she goes for convenience."

So altering American lifestyles to conquer solid wastes probably won't be done voluntarily.

"People will have to be induced to do certain things," said Hans Landsberg, an economist with Resources for the Future, a Washington-based non-profit organization.

The inducement must be offered through regulation and economic incentives, he said.

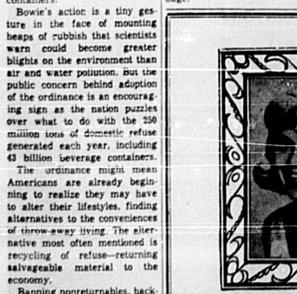

Paper, for example, is easily recycled once it is separated from other refuse. So why not have housewives segregate their waste paper?

Regulation would be the only way to make that system work, Landsberg said.

"You would just run random surveys on what the housewife is throwing away," he said.

"Suppose you found some paper in a housewife's garbage. You would just tell her once more and we won't pick up your garbage."

Lake Rena Dredging OK'd By County Commissioners

By MARION BETHA

County Commissioners in four public hearings voted to continue three and to approve one. An appeal against a decision of the Board of Adjustment granting a special exception to install and operate a sewage treatment plant north of Sanlando Springs was continued until Dec. 1. The delay was granted at the request of John McCintock of Frontier Management, who told the board that more time was needed to obtain additional engineering information.

Also continued until Dec. 1 was an appeal against a decision of the Board of Adjustment granting a special exception for a borrow pit located on 28 acres on the east side of 14. This matter was the object of much discussion when it was cited that the site and reclamation plan had only been accepted verbally by the Adjustment Board.

Attorney S. J. Davis representing several area residents stated that the county regulations provide that applicants provide a reclamation plan. Davis said that when the matter was brought up at the Adjustment Board meeting the applicant Earl Leffer did not have such a plan. Leffer maintained, Davis said, that he would abide by rules and regulations, maintain roads, post a $100,000 performance bond, provide street drainage, install a fence, and meet set backs. However, Davis continued, there was no place in the event with plans for reclamation.

AN EVENING

Davis maintained that the borrow pit would be an eyesore on I-4, where the county should "put its best foot forward." Davis remarked that the county should not be interested in "promoters and fast buck operators" who do not "put into the county . . . but take out."

Davis feels that the pit should be put in an isolated area, and not adjacent to a residential section. He went on to question the damage to roads in the 23 year operation, and said that the performance bond was a negligible asset since bonding companies often "have not come through." Davis said that Leffer wants to take fill from one piece of property to another to make money which, in Davis opinion, was legally and morally wrong by destroying adjacent property.

Several residents appeared in opposition with the contention that the road is in bad condition now, and heavy trucks would compound the problem. Mack Cleveland, representing the applicant, told the board that his resolution upon borrow pits does not state the form of the reclamation plan, but that if a written plan is desired, given ample time, the applicant will comply. Cleveland went on to say that the road will be restored into better condition.

Commission Chairman John Alexander questioned whether the bond will cover the reclamation and said that the board may require an additional road

DREDGING PERMIT

The board approved an application for dredging permit in Lake Rena to Lake Juniper. Further stipulations was the approval of property owners.

Borings were taken of the lake bottom, and it was found to be clean with little silt. It was recommended by the advisory commission that dredging be limited to a maximum depth of 18-20 feet. It was stated that the applicant, R. E. Thornton, did not intend to dredge that deep, but that he could not provide the weir, contending that it was not feasible financially.

Zoning Director Robert Brown told the board that a letter had been received from the lake bottom owner, Mrs. Inez Meredith, stating no objection to the dredging.

Commissioner Greg Drummond inquired that borings will now be a way of life in such matters, to which Alexander noted that he would go even further by saying that future County Commissioners may refuse dredging permits in the county entirely.

An application for a dredging permit in Lake Markham was continued until Dec. 8. The Water Advisory Commission requested the delay to obtain additional information and test borings.

W. W. Brown appeared in objection with the statement that he lived near the lake and that the dredging was "bad for ecology." He said that the applicants could dredge "in their little lakes."

Alexander questioned the residue as to specifics of the dredging effects on the ecology, to which Brown replied that it affected fishing, bathing and the content of the water.

Commissioner Sid Vihlen, Jr. asked Brown if it were not true that the lake is a spawning bed for broom and bats, and received an affirmative reply.

'Big John', 'Bombers' Looking For Eighth Win

By GREY BOYLES
Herald Sports Staff
"Big John" and the "Bombers" will be looking for their eighth win in Ocala tonight seeking their eighth straight win of the season and it is Friday, the 13th, and Homecoming for the Forest team of Ocala. "Big John" is the Seminole offensive team that is third in Central Florida scoring and the top scoring team in the Class AA team in Mid-Florida. The offense has scored a total of 284 points for an average of 46.4 points a game. The Seminoles have picked up 128 first downs and an average of 18 a game. In rushing yardage the offense has gained a total of 2,121 yards for a game average of 304.4 a game and this is tough running in any league. The passing yardage is 1,000 yards total and this averages out to 142.8 yards a game. The "Bombers" are fifth in Central Florida in points scored on them and are second only to Lake City in the District 3-A-A. The defense will be trying to keep their record intact against the rush by not allowing a rushing play for a score and the secondary plans to lower their pass defense record but they will be really put to the test by a team that loves the pass. Ricky NeSmith won the "Head Hunter Award" for secondary play in the Lynn game and John Beasley and Mike Hardin won the award for the linemen. Mike Sweeney won the "Haltethet Man Award" for offensive line blocking and Chris "Body Loan" Malby won the blocking award for backs.

The "Year of the Seminole" will get a big mental test tonight in Ocala. Are the Seminoles that good? Will they let up after the big Lynn game? Will they start reading their news clippings and get fat-headed? Forest is 9-2 on the season and pushed Daytona to the end before bowing 14-9. They only lost to Oak Ridge by the score of 14-7 and Oak Ridge defeated Edgewater 13-6 for the only loss of the season for Edgewater. Forest defeated Titusville 20-0 and Colonial 14-13 so they have the talent to be a spoiler and the Seminoles should remember the Southern Mississippi vs. Ole Miss game and the fact that no team likes to look had on Homecoming.

Forest will run from the spread formation with two wide ends and two slot backs and will sometimes only have one slot back. They run six plays, sweeps and do a lot of passing especially slant in passes to the ends and slot backs. The left end appears to be the favorite target on pass plays. The Seminoles can also expect to see a lot of screen pass to cut down on their hard rush. On defense the Forest team will run a basic six man front with a wide tackle six defense and they also will put two linebackers on either side of the center and this is called the Split Six defense. Also, they will drop their ends off the line and make a 4-4 defense. The defense jumps around a lot and this may create problems for the Seminoles offensive line if they are not careful. The Seminoles plan to take the game to Forest and they have the horses to do just this. Coach Tom Perrin and his staff can only hope that they have prepared the Seminoles for this last away game of the 1970 season and in a few short hours all will know.

KEVIN SPOLSKI boosts the ball during an extra-point attempt for Seminole High while Tommy Barks holds the ball. Spolski is 26 for 32 on conversion attempts. Much of the credit goes to the line and his capable ball holder. The line has done a good job of holding the defenders back all season and Barks takes the ball from the center and gets it on the tee in a fraction of a second.

Lyman At Home Tonight

By CLAY HARTSOE
Herald Sports Staff
The Lyman Greyhounds are much in the same position this week, that the Florida Gators were last week. They suffered a lopsided defeat last week, and a victory tonight, over Oak Ridge, would put them in a good position for a possible Bowl Invitation. Lyman now has a record of 6-2, a victory to night and a winning effort next week against Winter Park, would give the Hounds a very respectable 8-1 record. Tonight's game might well be a battle of the defenses. Oak Ridge has only allowed more than one touchdown scored on them in one game, that being their only loss of the season, 21-14 to Bishop Moore. The Pioneer defense has limited their opponents to a total of 83 points in eight contests. Although their offense has lagged down at times, Oak Ridge scored 24 points in an impressive win over Winter Park last week. Lester Payton, the Pioneer's leading ground gainer, is always a threat to break open the long runner. Payton is thought by many to be the best running back in the area. Oak Ridge's offense has scored a total of 105 points in wins over Boone (15-0), Evans (12-6), Colonial (15-8), Ocala Forest (14-7), Edgewater (12-6) and Winter Park (24-7). Their loss to Bishop Moore (14-21) and a tie with Jones (0-0) rounded out their season thus far.

Action Hot In NCAA

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Writer
Everyone's ganging up on Texas lately. Baylor did last weekend, holding the mighty Longhorns to a hard earned 21-14 victory. Then the pollsters dropped Texas from first to second and Coach Darrell Royal expects more of the same from Texas Christian on Saturday in Fort Worth. "You just don't go running roughshod over people when they put up a stubborn resistance," Royal said of the Baylor game, in which Texas was a lopsided favorite. "They played defense better than we did." Royal predicted Texas Christian would bunch up on the line of scrimmage as Baylor did to stop Texas' Washburn-T running attack. But, he added, "We'll still basically try to move the ball by running." Revenge is on TCU's side, though. Last year Texas scored the most points in Southeast Conference history with a 69-7 rout. But Texas has a 27 game winning streak. "I said before the season that there would be several games that would be close," Royal reminded, "and we've had two of them. You can take a gun and put one bullet in it, spin the chamber and the odds are good it won't go off. But you sure get nervous knowing it's up there somewhere." Notre Dame, the team that replaced Texas at the top of The Associated Press poll, enters tonight's game with No. 4 Nebraska and No. 5 Michigan all have big games on tap.

Oviedo Treks To Mt. Dora

By LARRY NEELY
Herald Sports Staff
Homecoming contest in the Bulldogs 20-13. Last week Crescent City handed Oviedo a 28-9 loss and earlier in the season the Bulldogs played Mt. Dora in a 4-4 standstill. The Hurricanes run an offense similar to that of Oviedo. The Hurricanes will travel to the Lake County city tonight in hopes of nailing down their third win of the season. To Lions can get together a consistent rushing defense they will fare better than they have. Statistically it is highly probable that Mt. Dora will be having their homecoming tonight, but if they do it could spell trouble for the Oviedo Lions. Oviedo will travel to the Lake County city tonight in hopes of nailing down their third win of the season. To Lions can get together a consistent rushing defense they will fare better than they have.

Vast Improvements Slated For Talladega Speedway

TALLADEGA, Ala. — A full-scale improvement and construction program at the 2.66-mile Alabama International Motor Speedway here will create a "new look" at the world's fastest race track for the 1971 season, according to AIMS General Manager Don Naman. Naman plans to announce during a Birmingham press conference Monday afternoon that the entire trioval racing surface will be covered with Jentit J-16, an asphalt treatment that fills up the pores in the asphalt. The treatment is absorbed into the track and makes the racing surface smoother and gives it a much more uniform texture. "We are adding the treatment to the track at the advice of the engineers," said Naman. "The engineers tell us that we actually have too much traction in the turns and there's no 'give' on the tires. After we apply this new asphalt treatment we should have the same adhesion limits that we have at the Daytona track. We have an excellent race surface now... we're just making it better." Other improvements at the two-year-old $6 million facility are being made in the control tower area. The Henry McLemore and Benny Marshall press boxes will be enclosed and heating and air conditioning will be installed. An additional floor will also be added to the east box, creating new spaces for the broadcast crews and control tower personnel. Moss-Thurston Construction Co. of Leeds, Ala., will begin the winter-long improvement program at AIMS later this month.

BILLY MEEKS returns a punt in Lyman's game with Sanford last week. Greg Wallick moves up to help block for Meeks. Lyman faces Oak Ridge in their Homecoming Game tonight.

Scouts On Hand At Game

MIAMI (AP) — Scouts from the Gator and Orange bowls will be on hand Saturday with possible bids to the football extravaganza as national powers Nebraska and Air Force become eligible for post-season invitations. Nebraska is at Kansas State and Air Force plays Stanford. The Orange Bowl also will have representatives watching the Notre Dame-Georgia Tech, Auburn-Georgia and LSU-Mississippi State contests. In Jacksonville, the Gator Bowl said its scouts also would be on hand at the LSU-Mississippi State, Auburn-Georgia, Arkansas-SMU, Florida-Kentucky, Texas-TCU and Wake-Furman (Chattanooga) games.

Seminole Jr. College Opens Cage Season

Tipoff 8 P.M. Saturday

By JIM RICKENBACKER
 The Seminole Junior College basketball team opened its season Saturday night, November 14, 1970—two Junior College powers will clash in what should prove to be an exciting and certainly an exciting battle.

The two teams are Coach "Red" McQuinn's Seminole Junior College Raiders and the surprising quintet from North Florida Junior College.

North Florida has been quite a surprise in the Junior College world this year. Last Saturday night proved to be no exception to the rule.

The men played their weekly double yesterday at Mayfair. The J.C. Raiders, coached by Andy Carraway, Tommy Todd and Pete Kostum, as the foursome teamed up and carried a net 61 for first place.

Very few eagles are recorded at the second hole at Mayfair. I witnessed one last week, though, when Rick Shreve hit a driver, a three wood and then calmly sank a 15 foot putt.

The Sky Is The Limit For FTU's Wrestlers

By HENRY CUSH
 "I dare you to reach for the stars."

The above statement was issued to Florida Tech wrestling candidates by head mat coach Gerry Gerzely.

Facing near impossible situations in the field of wrestling is nothing new to Gerzely who served as a shining example for his present pupils.

Coming out of Kemoore High School in Western New York, Gerzely went to the University of Buffalo where he participated in football, baseball, and wrestling.

Football came easy to Gerzely since he played halfback at Kemoore but it was a little different in wrestling since his high school alma mater did not have a wrestling program.

A fullback on the 1958 Buffalo University grid team which went 8-1 and won the Lambert Cup, Gerzely first took up wrestling to keep in shape for football.

Wrestling like a fish takes to water. He was the Gene Hiller Award as Buffalo's most outstanding matman during the 1958-59 season.

Upon graduation from Buffalo, Gerzely became wrestling coach at Grand Island High School near Buffalo. Four years later he returned to Buffalo as assistant football coach and head wrestling coach.

While Buffalo had a wrestling program for many years the matches had not been able to attract many fans. "When I took over only 50 or so fans were coming out for the matches," Gerzely said.

"Who knows? You may be surprised at what you can get up with and effort. So get up, pick the ends out of your pants and take one more step."

"I dare you."

While far from being a mass-appeal sport, Gerzely's program has become a success story. Gerzely's program was really growing. The 1970-71 schedule at Buffalo was the toughest in the state's history.

Gerzely's program was really growing. The 1970-71 schedule at Buffalo was the toughest in the state's history.

Reach For The Stars

In what might be referred to as his bid to stir up spirit at Florida Tech, Wrestling Coach Gerry Gerzely offered the following "dare" to those who wish to compete in the sport.

"I dare you to reach for the stars."

"I dare you to have your hair cut and not wear the usual 'dreadlocks' of your so-called friends. I dare you to clean up your language. I dare you to honor your mother and father. I dare you to go to church without having to be compelled to go by your parents. I dare you to unselfishly help someone less fortunate than yourself and enjoy the wonderful feeling that goes with it. I dare you to become physically fit. I dare you to read a book that is not required in school. I dare you to look up at the stars and down in the mud, and set your sights on one of them that, up to now, you thought was unattainable. There is plenty of room at the top, but no room for anyone to sit down."

"Who knows? You may be surprised at what you can get up with and effort. So get up, pick the ends out of your pants and take one more step."

"I dare you."

While far from being a mass-appeal sport, Gerzely's program has become a success story. Gerzely's program was really growing. The 1970-71 schedule at Buffalo was the toughest in the state's history.

The dinner at the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Beverly Hills, Calif., is scheduled in conjunction with the major league meetings here Nov. 28 through Dec. 4.

Hope will be master of ceremonies for the presentation of seven awards in these categories:

"Healthwise, I'm sound as a dollar," said Murtaugh, who was previously a forced to step down because of heart troubles. "The reason for the delay in reaching my decision is because I had to do a lot of soul searching to decide if I could help the Pirates as much as a lot of people said I last year."

Murtaugh Decides To Return

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—To the surprise of no one, Dan Murtaugh has decided to return for another season as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Murtaugh, the Pirates' manager longer than any other man except Fred Clarke at the turn of the century, made his announcement Thursday.

It came a little more than five weeks after Pittsburgh, the National League's Eastern Division champion, was eliminated by the Cincinnati Reds in the playoffs.

"Healthwise, I'm sound as a dollar," said Murtaugh, who was previously a forced to step down because of heart troubles. "The reason for the delay in reaching my decision is because I had to do a lot of soul searching to decide if I could help the Pirates as much as a lot of people said I last year."

Long Hair, Manly Chest And Money Needed For 'Peacock Revolution'

By HELEN HENNESSY

NEW YORK (NEA) — The fine British hand of Hardy Amies has cropped up all over the fashion lot.

He is Treasurer to HERB

Hardy Amies

exclusive line of ready-made clothes for women. He designed suits for King George VI and last his own means wear line. In 1967, he became menswear consultant for Genesee.

What is the Hardy Amies look?

"Well," said Amies, "I believe a man should look as though he had bought his clothes with intelligence, put them on with care and then forgotten all about them. The aim, six-foot designer looks that way himself.

Hardy views the slow change over the years in men's fashions with very amusement.

"That great elephant ball called the men's apparel industry," he quipped.

"But the peacock revolution is under way now. And it has only just begun."

As he passed between the terrace and living room of his New York apartment, he talked animatedly about the changes to come.

His sense of a new year ago with the question, "Can I wear a pink shirt?" Now the question is, "Am I going to wear a shirt at all?" And there are shirt suits that make a shirt an unnecessary encumbrance.

"We are reaching the stage where everything goes to fashion, Hardy feels.

series reflect the trend toward mixing patterns with shirts in jacquards and ties in solid color silks. The outerwear features fur collars combined with woven worsteds in mid-length topcoats.

There are also a long hair piece in the line. And Amies must surely hope every man won't decide to bare his manly chest. What about his marvelous line of ties and shirts?

Since Hardy was a women's dress designer long before he got into the menswear business, it was too good a chance to miss getting his opinion on the burning question of the longer hemline. Here it is:

"Women who say they can't wear the mid because they aren't tall and willowy should realize that they shouldn't wear the mini either. 'In not tall and willowy' usually means 'I'm too fat.'"

"As for the comment that the mid is 'instant age,' that would be a truer summing up of the mini for women over 30."

"The first thing I learned when I studied dressmaking under Molyneux was THE when a woman has passed the first phase of youth, you cover her up."

"Undress if you want to, dress if you want to. All that matters is how the waistline and torso look."

"Any mistake a chap makes in his choice of clothes would look less like a mistake if he had been at the gym more often."

A drastic change in a man's attitude toward what he wears or leaves off, according to Amies, is imminent.

"All one needs now to join the 'peacocks,' he said, "is long hair, a hot comb, a manly chest and money."

However, Hardy Amies designs clothes, not hot combs, and so one would assume he might take a dim view of the trend toward "undressing."

His current collection includes a group of business suits in bold woven-geometric fabrics and sporting ideas in suede and leather. His accessories

Lively Leg Up On Fashion

Legs Are Alive And Kicking High

By HELEN HENNESSY
 NEW YORK (NEA) — The new lowdown on hemlines is not a blast from the dreary past. If you know how to handle it, it can smack of the modern '70s and mingle easily with minis and pants. And the mini is not the only acceptably length. The woman who knows what is right for her won't wear it unless it does some thing for her. Even for those who like the longer hemline, it can be part, but need not take over all of their wardrobe.

Never have women had a greater variety of fashion from which to choose. And never before have they had to call upon imagination and fashion sense with such confidence. Correct proportion is the keyword.

While word has it that "the leg is dead," women know that's far from true. Legs are alive and kicking. They provide the pivot point around which minis, longuettes, updated minis and asymmetric hemlines turn. Leg fashion plays a leading role. And a provocatively clad leg is far more interesting than blatant leggings.

Actionwear pantyhose of nylon provide miracle comfort and fit for women on the move. They can be misapplied — a wash of color on the leg that creates total harmony from hem to shoe. There is a complete palette of such luscious shades as cadet blue, in the hemline hop, especially if it's a high climb back to the skirt and matching long vest.

The miniskirt is updated by a meeting it halfway up with and longuettes. They are a comfortable and cool substitute for the boot.

Legs are alive and kicking up fashion excitement underneath the hemline highs and lows. Black braid bands the top proportion of a gaucho hat. Actionwear pantyhose draws attention to the strong stonage of the mid (left) and pulls the look together with "Tuxedo" from Berkshire. The playful skirt (right) hits a highpoint in fashion lengths. Supporting the high climb, Christian Dior puts a signature on high-rising socks which meet the hemline halfway.

The mini skirt still has its place in the hemline hop, especially if it's a high climb back to the skirt and matching long vest.

The miniskirt is updated by a meeting it halfway up with and longuettes. They are a comfortable and cool substitute for the boot.

Queen Looks On While Royal Ladies Experiment With Holiday Hairdos

LONDON (UPI) — From has a large wardrobe of hair pieces, from single pony tails to complete wigs all matching her own fine dark, brown hair which needs regular permanents to keep it manageable.

Queen Elizabeth looks on all these notions with interest but can't join in. She must always remember those tiaras and diamonds she has to wear. Her hair naturally curly thick, brown hair must be long enough and full enough to support them.

Princess Alexander's brown hair with the Auburn lights touched in is now brushed straight back from her face and ears, swept up behind then curled at the ends. It makes her look younger than her age, 34, on Christmas Day.

Twenty-year-old Princess Anne currently is experimenting with several new hair styles but hasn't decided which she prefers. A lot depends on the reactions of her escorts.

When the Princess had her official portrait painted by Bernard Hutton, he suggested that her dark blonde hair flow loosely but Anne declared she looked her best when it's on top, though eventually she did compromise with a curl over each shoulder.

Princess Margaret rings the changes in coiffure according to her mood at the time. She

Sorority Plans Charity Ball

Mrs. Charles (Deenie) Bartlett, president of Theta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, presented the forthcoming sorority projects to the members at a recent meeting of the chapter.

Among the events coming up for an exciting year is the annual Valentine and Charity Ball in February at which time a queen will be selected from one of the "Valentine Girls", presented by each chapter prior to the big night.

As an added attraction this year, a king will also be selected by popular vote to reign with the queen during the festivities.

Further enhancing the annual ball will be the appearance of a name band for dancing and also a V.I.P. will be on hand to crown the new queen.

Proceeds from the annual glittering gala will benefit Mental Health Association and a good time is promised by all . . . so watch for further developments.

63rd Year, No. 55 Price 10 Cents

BY JOHN A. SPOLSKI

Maybe it's an indication of better things ahead, insofar as the judicial system is concerned . . . about drugs, I mean, since the first narcotics dealer in New York's history to be sentenced to life in prison. He was convicted of possessing $340,000 worth of heroin and cocaine.

Now let's just hope that he doesn't get paroled after a couple of years, and further, that it'll make the appropriate impression on others who might have been tempted to follow this character's path in life.

Pass a little salt, please . . . some crew has to be consumed. I was being facetious following last week's Gator victory over Georgia and made mention of those overheard comments about a bowl bid . . . sure enough they went out and stuck-it-to-Kentucky this past weekend over in Tampa . . . and now? Well, quarter-back John Reeves summed it up rather well: "I want to go to a bowl . . . any bowl that will invite us."

It's contagious . . . FSU's Seminoles, now 6-3, kept their paper-thin bowl prospects alive with their rout this week of the Goblbers.

And you did know, didn't you, that our own Seminole High grid eleven is being pursued by a number of bowl bids? However, there's this week's home game against Leeburg, and then Deland the following Wednesday . . . and before you can say it . . . WE'RE STATE FINALISTS!

Wednesday is the deadline for qualifying to run for the Sanford City Commission opening. The fee for seeking the post is $90 and according to Henry Tamm, city clerk, only two persons, former City Commissioner Earl Higginbotham and Dennis Brunsman are the only persons qualified.

Any local pigskin fans who would like to get their hands on a pair of ducats to the Florida-Miami game next weekend should get in touch with Lamarr Williams, 222-7847. He has two tickets and won't be able to use them.

And now that we're on a favorite subject . . . football . . . just watch me crack through on some very thin ice . . . the Marketing Seminoles of Seminole High School.

What is the world ever happened to their full dress uniforms? Here they have one of the finest high school football teams in the entire state . . . AND THEY ALSO HAVE ONE OF THE SHODDIEST LOOKING AGGREGATIONS, too.

No, I'm not blaming the kids . . . everyone knows how hard they try. Nevertheless, it's a disgrace to see some of the band members without any semblance of a uniform . . . not to mention that this is the only organization I've seen this year that doesn't have some sort of head gear.

Do we have to start a collection . . . or will the boosters accept the challenge?

Cabinet Will Give Answer Police Academy Decision Tuesday

By BILL SCOTT

"The third time it's a charm!"

With that old adage in mind a trio of Sanford and Seminole County officials will appear for the third time tomorrow at the meeting of the Florida State Cabinet to seek placing the State "Police Training Academy at Sanford Airport."

Sheriff John Polk, Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore and Industrial Director David P. Kelly will explain the city's proposal to lease at $20,000 a year a three-story airport facility to be used by Florida Law Enforcement authorities to train state lawmen in advanced techniques of crime fighting.

William Reed, in previous statements, has indicated his desire to place the academy on a site just outside Tallahassee but the Sanford argument hinges on the economics of obtaining a first class facility at far less than the cost of constructing a new building.

Members of the State Cabinet have toured the airport at various times since the first move to gain the academy was made nearly four months ago and several have expressed interest in having the state secure the facility.

CONNER IMPRESSED

Doyle Conner, Agriculture Commissioner, after viewing the structure, stated his desire to have the state acquire the building for some use, even if not for the academy.

At the present time, police training of the type that would be carried on at the airport is being conducted in a rented portion of a state building but Commissioner Reed has continued to push for a Tallahassee location so he can have facilities near other state crime fighting apparatus including a computer.

Members of the Orange-Seminole legislative delegation also have sent their support to the acquisition and have written letters to cabinet members and other officials to gain additional support.

Rep. E. Pope Bassett joined with Mayor Moore and Sheriff Polk in the first visit to the state capital and has used his influence toward the city's request.

GUNTER ENDORSEMENT

Just this week a letter from Sen. Bill Gunter to each Cabinet member was made public, in which the legislator pointed out the advantages and savings to be made by the state in obtaining a Sanford academy location.

Senator Gunter stressed to the Cabinet members the savings of an estimated $50,000 to $55,000 a year in interest alone to the taxpayers if the local site is chosen, plus the extra time that could make the facility operational a full 90 days before such a facility could be built.

At least two other areas, including Revere and Palm Beach Counties, are expected to have representatives at tomorrow's hearing.

IN CASE YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Three Youths Held On Dope Charges

Sanford police struck a hard blow toward area narcotics during the week-end when three Lake Mary teenagers were arrested on possession of illegal narcotics charges and a quantity of marijuana and mescaline was confiscated.

Jailed in lieu of $2,000 bond was Susan Lynn Jackson, 18. Two 16-year-old juveniles were placed in detention.

Det. Sgt. William Foster reported the trio was arrested at the Royal Castle restaurant parking lot, located on French Avenue at the 27th Street intersection.

Foster reported seven match boxes of marijuana and mescaline tablets were found in an auto after a long surveillance of the area. Assisting in the investigation were Patrolmen Gary Swain, Jack Petrucci and Foster.

A 62-year-old Longwood bulldozer operator has been arrested on child molestation charges and is being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Wilbourne B. Hall, 524 East Church Avenue, was charged Friday night by Deputy R. G. Wingo, who made the arrest, according to records at the sheriff's office.

GRIM REAPER CLAIMS 4th VICTIM AT I-4

ACCIDENT VICTIM James L. Price's body was removed from a ditch by ambulance attendants and Florida Highway Patrol investigators after a Sunday night accident at the Deltona exit of I-4. Price was the fourth death from automobile accidents to have happened within the past 30 days in the area between two bridges at the interstate exit. (Staff Photo)

Two Men Are Killed In Traffic Mishaps

A Sanford man was killed when his automobile was struck by a train at Apopka. A Jacksonville man was killed when his car left Interstate 4 at the Deltona interchange, the second fatality in a week and the fourth in a month at that general area.

Linwood Lee, 41, of 311 Tucker Drive, Sanford, was killed Saturday after his car was struck by a Seaboard Coast Line train at the Sheeler Avenue crossing in Apopka.

According to police reports Lee was killed immediately when his car was struck and dragged several hundred feet down the track. The train was reportedly on route to Wild wood when the accident happened.

Jimmy Leon Price, a 23-year-old Jacksonville man, was killed when a car, borrowed from a friend at a Baker County hunting camp, plunged off I-4 at the Deltona exit. The car, according to Florida Highway Patrol Trooper Tommy Tomlinson, fell down a concrete embankment and landed under the interstate.

The man's body was thrown clear of the wreck and found by investigators in a nearby ditch. Price's death is the fourth fatality to occur in the area within the last month and the second within a week.
