Sanford Girls Take Part In Water Event

Several Sanford girls including Martha Page, Audrey Beck and Mary Ann Wheelock took part in a water pageant sponsored by the American Red Cross yesterday afternoon at Camp Chocoma near Green Cove Springs.

The script for the pageant called "Neptune's Court for Pirates" was read by Mrs. Page. The story of the pageant was centered around the canny of pirates, who do not believe in swimming, and King Neptune and his court. The pirates occupied the end of a swimming pool in a place decorated to represent a pirate's cove. King Neptune's Court was arranged to represent the underwater kingdom.

The Sunday pageant for the Red Cross brought to a close the second session of camping at the wewah.

Holt Does Not Favor Roosevelt 3rd Term

WOODSTOCK, Conn., July 22.—Dr. Hamilton Holt, president of the League for Peace and Democracy, yesterday issued a statement calling against a third term for President Roosevelt as a step toward peace.

Dr. Holt said that the President's qualifications did not enter into the question, that he might be the best qualified American for the job, but that more than 100,000 men in the European Army who, if drafted would be capable of meeting the highest standards required of an American President, and that it is imperative in action under a system of universal education.

Dr. Holt said: "If a sixth term was a crown prince? There must be more than 500,000 men in the European Army and more than 1,000,000 men in the British Army who, if drafted would be capable of meeting the highest standards required of an American President, and that it is imperative in action under a system of universal education."

Straight And Slim Dresses Conquer World Of Fashion

The straight and narrow silhouette has conquered the fashion world.

The quick victory surprised, even fashion experts, who had felt that the new line would not be accepted generally until Fall.

First introduced in Paris mid-season last April and May, the straight and narrow women's dress, approved by way of preparing for Fall acceptance, a few American stores presented experimental slim fashions in summer linens and sheer crepes. The moment they appeared the public gobbled them up.

The very women who've been heard to protest against the return of tight skirts are among the first to buy them. When a salesgirl showed a New York style slender, full-skirted print, she blurted: "But it looks so much like last year's dress. Haven't you something new?"

A slim crepe dress with a stungy little bit of fullness confined to the center front pleased her and she bought it. Now slimlines are everywhere. Unless you haven't bought yours yet.

This new silhouette is reminiscent of the styles of 1928, with a touch of chemise-like slowness, with an raser, straight look through the waist, with the waist line dropped an inch or two, and with seamings and pockets placed well below the belt.

Mrs. Barron is house mother at the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity house at Emory University, where John Morgan attended college.

Floating Balloon Creates Trouble Around New Jersey

LAKEHURST, N. J., July 22.—Four naval officers drifted over the New York and Connecticut countryside in a duck-tail balloon tonight kept aloft by a state of nervous excitement about a night filled with apprehensive reports from suspicious residents of the area.

There was, for instance, the parable of a man of Guisborough, a Hearst Major and a man who was walking home at 3 A.M. when he heard a voice just over his head. Then a light flashed down on him from the sky.

He blinked at the light and saw a balloon its basket just 40 feet over his head.

"Are you in trouble?" he inquired.

"No trouble," an earnest reply nonchalantly. "Just floating around."

Then the balloon rose, adding to the confusion of the night and quite out of anything, the balloon headquarters, where Patrolman B. B. was in the middle of a telephone call.

But the telephone began to ring and B. B. who had lead through Ocean Walk, Mass. in various parts, decided that he would go to do his duty. He found that the balloon was floating around frightening innocent people out of their wits. He reported the balloon was "harmless" and its occupants had held "conversations with a citizen."

There was a considerable state of police activity a little later when reports came in that the balloon was headed toward a Jersey farm which contained 100,000 gallons of New York City's water supply.

Everything turned out all right when the balloon finally landed at Millford, Conn., where the occupants explained they came down to avoid being blown into Long Island sound. The occupants were Lieut. W. A. Hanger, commander, and three young pilots in their first long distance training flight. Lieut. J. Haronowski, Ensign H. E. Jackson and Ensign Frank Buckley.

The balloon took off from Lakehurst naval training station at 9:20 A. M. on a routine training flight, but during the night it drifted 80 miles.

Britain To Fight Until Freedom Is Again Made Secure

Holland (two British bombers) were shot down and four fighters were lost.

The air ministry said the Saturday night bombers met violent opposition, but nevertheless penetrated to their objectives and bombed the Wilhelmshaven dock yard as well as oil refineries at Hamburg and Bremen, and aircraft factories, airframes and oil depots in the Ruhr, Holland and Belgium.

The air ministry's bulletin, describing the RAF bombing of the German oil tanks at Vlaardingem near Rotterdam, said yellow smoke rose 1000 feet from the burning tanks.

Direct hits were registered by the leader of the British squadron and caused explosion and fires immediately. Fortunately for

Strategic Location Makes Florida Figure Prominently In Defense Plans

The importance of the national preparedness program, the Florida peninsula soon will point its strong finger toward the United States fleet in hemisphere.

Approval of defense expenditures already total more than $100,000,000 with the prospect of $200,000,000 more.

Florida's important strategic location makes it an important place for defense as a base for defense against air attacks, submarines and other necessary facilities.

When a year, it is expected, a fully equipped air field in Florida will be used in army, navy and marine pilot.

The navy's part in the preparedness picture so far has been on the arm of the United States navy because of this strategic location and climate.

Florida is only the home of the Panama Canal, but it is an important part in the United States air and navy. It is a strategic point in the Caribbean area and Latin America.

It is far south as Buenos Aires and other demonstrations of their ability to give speedy protection to American interests, particularly in the canal.

Because of its year round good weather, Florida also will have an important part in training pilots for the navy.

Orlando Nationals Collide With Seminoles Here Tonight

Stunt Night To Precede Game With Rampaging Orlando Team

Jimmy Beck Edges Jodie Howington, 1-0, In Duel Yesterday Afternoon; Kennedy, Hudson Hurl Here

Jodie Howington threw a three-hitter at Orlando yesterday afternoon at Tinker field, but an untimely run in the first inning proved enough to beat the Seminoles as Jimmy Beck turned in an equally impressive mound performance to win 1-0.

There will be plenty of action at Municipal Ball Park here tonight when Sanford and Orlando collide again. Yesterday's defeat was the fourth straight hung on the Nationals by the Seminoles. Lefty Frank Hudson will be the mound for the Seminoles, while Kennedy is expected to be manager Butch 'Onis' starting second choice.

Before the game, a special stunt will be held. Players of the two teams will match their skills in a stunt night in being conducted by Charley Morrison.

Tonight is also Lake Mary night. Lake Mary fans, who have been rained out of their scheduled night, are bound to see the ball game when these two rivals meet. Tickets for the game must be secured at Lake Mary.

Sanford's defeat yesterday narrowed their league lead to four games as second place Daytona Beach after winning the first game, had their winning streak broken at 13 games by Deland, in the second tilt. By splitting with Sanford was losing, Daytona Beach advanced half a game, while Alabama Smith gained a walk the first, went around to third

All-Star Game To Be Played Aug. 30; Fans Pick Team

The Florida State League's third annual All-Star game will be played on Friday night, Aug. 30 on the grounds of and against the team leading the league on Aug. 15. It was decided at St. Augustine yesterday morning at a call meeting of the league's directors.

Orlando may be the site of the All-Star for the directors voted also that if the league leader on Aug. 15 did not want the affair, it automatically would be assigned to Orlando.

As was the case last year, fans throughout the league will have a hand in choosing the All-Star. Ballots will be handed out Aug. 12 upon which they can cast their vote for eight players, two right-handed and two left-handed pitchers, a manager and batboy.

Fans attending games at Deland, Leesburg, Jacksonville and Orlando on Sunday, Aug. 11, those attending games at St. Augustine, Deland, and Daytona on the All-Star team roster will be announced Sunday, Aug. 18.

Last year's All-Star tilt, held at Daytona July 11, attracted 4,482 paid admissions, the largest crowd ever to see a Class D baseball game in Florida. The league's only other All-Star venture, played in Daytona in 1906, drew 365 paid admissions.

Directors voted that all Shagbushes played off Florida in the full nine innings or be declared "no contest."

Motion covering this point was offered by Director Brinkley of Daytona Beach after he recalled that Sanford won the 1929 Shagbushes play-off from Daytona in a foul game that was called by rain on the sixth.

Faced with a date revealing 27 rained-out games through last night, the directors voted that all clubs must complete the regular 140 game schedule unless rain or other weather conditions prevented.

President Gray put all clubs on notice that the home club is responsible for the scheduling of dates upon which rained-out games are to be played. Failure to schedule or attempt to play any rained-out game, the directors ruled, will result in the automatic forfeiture of the game to the visiting club.

President Gray also ruled that while the league is operating under the National Association "book" under which no financing may start after 11:50 o'clock at night, if the two managers are in agreement and the umpire is notified before the start of a game, the rule can be waived.

There were 1,377,792 revenue-paying passengers carried on U. S. airlines in 1939.

Florida Gridders Ready Themselves For 1940 Season

GAINESVILLE, July 22—With Coach Tom Lieb in California, and most of the varsity squad members in or near their respective home towns, it is definitely quiet on the Gator football front.

Just go to the home towns of the Gator football men, and you will most likely find them without any trouble, for this summer they haven't strayed far afield. In and around Jacksonville are Charlie Tate, John Piombo and Tom Scott. St. Petersburg folks see Hubie Houston, Bob Bauers and Hootie Horner every day. Archie Bagwell and Bill Cowan are at Daytona Beach. Bill Robinson is in Orlando; Frankie Ferguson at Stuart; Frank Smoak and Sidney Parnell at Punta Gorda; Peanut Holt at Plant City. At Blountstown, near the home city of Tallahassee is Carl Mitchell, and his brother, Fendren, who will be a soph this Fall, is working with him.

In about a month a number of the out-state boys who have played on the varsity will start to gather from Pennsylvania; John Smith, College Park, Pa.; Cleaveland, Conshohocken, Pa.; Mike Bacha, Bridgeport; Ralph Nelson, Tuscarora, Pa.; Red Mack, Columbia. Pat Reen will come in from New York City, Paul Ellet from Chicago, Emerson Vetter and Chubby Ferrigo will arrive from New Brunswick and Hillside, N. J., respectively, and Leo Cahill will come down from Watertown, N. Y.

Butch and Buddy, Universal's two mischievous kids, are busy. They're working in two pictures—Deanna Durbin's "Spring Parade" and Gloria Jean's "A Little Bit of Heaven."

Keep Hands Off, Warring Nations Told

U. S. Lays Before Pan-American Plans For Economic And Military Solidarity

Wall Demanded Fifth Columnists

Joint Mandate For Foreign Powers Is Proposed

The United States warning warring powers to keep hands off of European possessions in the Americas, and before the Pan-American conference today a proposal of economic independence and military solidarity for the Western Hemisphere.

The Pan-American conference, which is being held in Havana, Cuba, today is an important event in the history of the Americas. It is the first time since the signing of the Montevideo Declaration in 1933 that all the American states have met in a single conference.

The United States has proposed a joint mandate for foreign powers in the Americas. This mandate would require all foreign powers to refrain from interfering in the internal affairs of any American state. It would also require all foreign powers to refrain from establishing military bases in the Americas.

The United States has also proposed a plan for economic solidarity in the Americas. This plan would require all American states to refrain from imposing trade barriers on each other. It would also require all American states to refrain from discriminating against the products of any other American state.

WHEW! SUMMER'S HERE!

The weather bureau today promised the county no relief from the heat which, in many areas, has held away for a week.

Scattered showers brought a temporary respite to some sections but with them came increased humidity and greater discomfort.

Since the hot spell set in 25 persons have died from the heat. In 19 states and 122 have been drowned while seeking respite from the blazing sun and the dense humidity in 31 states.

Virtually all of the nation east of the Rocky Mountains and in some spots west of that report of hotter weather today than at any time this summer. There were a number of reports of 100 degree temperatures.

U. S. Forecaster A. J. Knorr at Chicago said there was no relief in sight. He predicted continued heat and warmer weather generally from the Plain States to the Atlantic seaboard.

It was so hot at Washington, D. C. that most of the non-air-cooled government buildings were closed at mid-afternoon Monday.

The Acting Secretary of Agriculture notified all his employees that it was considered dangerous to work in such heat. The temperature there was 99.

At Chagrin Falls, Ohio, Marshall A. Smith reported that Florida alligator which his sons have had for two years, died from the heat when the temperature reached 90 degrees.

The hottest sections in the nation were in New Mexico, the Dakotas, Montana and Nebraska. Las Vegas, N. M., had a temperature of 104. Aberdeen, S. D., 103. Fort Worth, Texas, 102. San Francisco reported a temperature of 95, and Boston 88.

Churchill Affirms British "Fight To Finish" Resolve

BRU OPENS CONFERENCE OF FOREIGN MINISTERS

President Federico Laredo Bru of Cuba (standing) is shown at Havana opening the conference of American foreign ministers. United States advocacy of a joint trusteeship for threatened European colonies in the New World was set forth by the U. S. spokesman, Secretary of State Cordell Hull, in an address at the second meeting.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill today affirmed Great Britain's "fight to the finish" resolve against the Nazi conquest. By avoiding comment today during the question period in the House of Commons, Churchill indicated that the Empire's last word in reply to Hitler's appeal for a Nazi-dictated peace had been spoken yesterday by Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax.

Authoritative quarters in Berlin previously had said that Hitler would hold off the "four hour" for Great Britain's destruction only until after Halifax and Churchill had spoken.

Even as Churchill thus ended all talk of peace, German planes showed fire-bombs on British cities in widespread attacks and the Nazis in Berlin declared that "the dice are cast" for a Blitzkrieg against Great Britain.

The staggering cost of the war to Great Britain was highlighted when Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Kingsley Wood announced a one-shilling increase in the British income tax to eight shillings six pence per pound—a basic 14.6 per cent.

Sir Kingsley presented the emergency war budget to meet the expenditures of about $3,600,000 a day.

Hitler's high command said that Nazi warplanes had bombed the cities of Edinburgh—capital of Scotland and the ancient seat of Scottish kings—Aberdeen, Chatham and Sheerness, and had attacked the airbases near Forthmouth and the Bristol Channel.

With German raiders dropping across the Channel throughout the night, dropping bombs on shipping and the countryside, British fighters were described as "continually racing out to sea" to drive them back.

A dozen swastika-marked planes flew over Wales at one time—the biggest sky attack there since the war started—but they fled, dropping many of their bombs in open fields, in face of hot anti-aircraft fire.

D. N. B. official German news agency said that British bombers had killed civilians in Bremen, Hamburg, Wismar and Schwerin, while other attacks were directed at Kassel, Hanover, Pilsener, Paderborn, Hagen and Bochum.

Authorized Nazis said that Germany now is stepping up the tempo of its air and naval bombardments against Great Britain daily, preparing for a general offensive with the wholesale landing of troops on English soil.

French fliers, who repudiated their government's surrender to Germany, have participated in British bombing attacks on German aircraft factories, large concentrations, naval bases and oil depots in the Reich, the air ministry reported last night.

For the second time within 24 hours waves of British bombers roared into Germany, France and the Low Countries in attacks which were described as among the most extensive of the war.

The French fliers were said to have piloted bombers into northwest Germany where they heavily bombed aircraft factories and airbases.

The authoritarian Press Association, meanwhile reported that British defense forces and fighter planes had shot down more than 2500 German planes at the start of the war—an average of eight planes a day.

The air ministry reported that British planes successfully bombed oil depots at Gelsenkirchen in northwest Germany and at Lardam in the Netherlands.

Docks and oil tanks bombed at the Nazi port of Hamburg, the air ministry said, and the raiders then were ordered to return to their bases.

At Hamm and Bonn.
